

So. Vietnamese Losses Second Highest In War

U. S. Battlefield Deaths Climb To New Heights

By GEORGE ESPER
Associated Press Writer
SAIGON (AP) — Fighting in Cambodia and South Vietnam boosted American battlefield deaths last week to their highest level in more than eight months and South Vietnamese losses to their second highest in the war, official casualty summaries disclosed today.

The U.S. Command said 160 Americans were killed in action in Southeast Asia last week. It gave no breakdown for Cambodia and South Vietnamese losses.

The command also reported that, through Wednesday 119 U.S. troops have been killed in Cambodia since the fighting started there they were launched April 29 to destroy North Vietnamese and Viet Cong base camps and supply dumps used for staging attacks into South Vietnam.

South Vietnamese military headquarters reported that 603 government troops were killed in action last week.

Headquarters said nearly 400 South Vietnamese troops have been killed in Cambodia in the past two weeks, but the de-

U.S. Command gave no breakdown for the past week.

The U.S. and South Vietnamese commands claimed that allied forces killed 2,800 North Vietnamese and Viet Cong troops last week, the highest every day in more than 14 months.

The commands said 6,212 North Vietnamese and Viet Cong troops have been killed during the 16-day offensive into Cambodia territory.

The South Vietnamese Defense Ministry announced that new drive had been launched into Cambodia, 10 miles across the border from Pleiku Province in low central highlands.

A brief announcement said the new drive involved troops of the South Vietnamese 22nd Infantry Division, tanks and armored personnel carriers.

It is in the same general area where troops of the U.S. 4th Infantry Division are operating about 30 miles west of Pleiku City. A task force of about 2,000 American troops had been originally committed to the operation, but about 1,000 were pulled out Wednesday.

In fighting Wednesday, South Vietnamese forces supported by U.S. helicopter gunships engaged the enemy at two points inside Cambodia south of the provincial capital of Svay Rieng, government headquarters announced.

The South Vietnamese military command claimed that its forces killed 190 of the enemy and seized 100 weapons and hundreds of mortar and rocket rounds. The battles raged all day Wednesday five miles south and 10 miles southeast of Svay Rieng, which is 30 miles west of the border on Highway 1.

The command said 18 South Vietnamese soldiers were killed and 45 wounded, but gave no other details of the action.

The U.S. Command said American helicopter gunships and advisers supported the South Vietnamese troops in the operation. One American was reported wounded.

The action centered from 30 to 60 miles west of Saigon in the southern half of the Parrot's Hook, a long-time sanctuary for North Vietnamese and Viet Cong forces.

Nixon Ignores Senate Bid For Rare Meeting

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon has never directly responded to the Senate Foreign Relations Committee's two-week-old request for a rare face-to-face meeting on Cambodia.

Senior committee members interpret silence as rejection.

"We have had no reply," said Sen. J. W. Fulbright, D-Ark., the chairman, "but I believe he considers the other meeting to be a reply."

The other meeting was a May 4 briefing when Nixon and several administration officials met members of the Senate panel and the House Foreign Affairs Committee.

Fulbright said there was no opportunity then for real consultation with the President.

"That was hardly a conference," said Vermont Sen. George D. Allen, senior GOP member of the committee. "Apparently the White House was not receptive to the request," he said.

"It looks as though the President felt that we wouldn't approve of what he was planning to do anyway," Allen said in an interview.

Fulbright said he did not plan to renew the request; the committee made of Nixon in a letter May 1, the day after the Cambodian decision was announced.

There were complaints elsewhere in the Senate about communications difficulty with Nixon or his top aides.

One of them came from a source close to the GOP leadership. "We aren't getting through to the White House," this source said. "We have the same problem getting to Nixon with his suggestion, that the administration demonstrate more concern about American youth.

Planning Council Enters Altamonte Controversy

ALTAMONTE SPRINGS — The planning council, in a letter to Consulting Engineer William Palm, stated that a letter from Palm clarified "some of the concerns of the committee."

The letter continues that Palm's letter "confirms that the facilities you intend are not adequately described in the project application," and that it "adequately reflect the scope, an addendum to that report would be warranted, noting modifications described to the council" and "that you seem to have accepted in your discussion with the State Board of Health."

The letter, above the signature of Gordon Wagner, executive director of the East Central Florida Regional Planning Council, continued that the committee would review a letter from Palm setting forth technical information pertaining to the water pollution control facilities, and the application as now developed, but that in Wagner's view, comments would necessarily have to appear all the materials involved.

Wagner suggested an amendment to the 1969 engineering report.

The letter continued that "we will look forward to the next meeting to your response to the request for an appraisal of the site for on-site disposal based on deep borings."

Into Fighting For Cambodia

Navy, Air Force To Follow Army

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon announced today that limited military actions to block North Vietnam's reconstruction of sanctuaries in Cambodia after his June 30 deadline for withdrawal of all U.S. forces.

Secretary of State William P. Rogers said a news conference Wednesday he expects joint U.S.-South Vietnamese naval patrols to continue off the Cambodian coast, and he would not rule out continuing American air activity over the tiny Southeast Asian nation after June 30.

The naval patrol, dispatched a few days ago, has the task of intercepting North Vietnam's reconstruction of sanctuaries in Cambodia and any South Vietnamese troops resupplying arms, ammunition and other stores destined for the Cambodian interior near the South Vietnamese border.

The continued air activity presumably would be reconnaissance in nature at the outset but if supply centers were spotted conceivably could lead to bombing attacks, Rogers however, gave no details whatever.

Rogers also said under questioning he expects the United States will take part in arranging military cooperation between Cambodia and any South Vietnamese troops remaining after the current operation ends.

Other information brought out at the Rogers news conference indicated the administration intends to prevent the movement of new enemy supplies into Cambodia as much as possible within its announced policy—the

June 30 withdrawal deadline and the 217-mile limit on American troop penetration.

Rogers emphatically ruled out any U.S. troop support for the new Cambodian government of Premier Lon Nol, or any other regime in Phnom Penh.

He said that was the point he was trying to make when he said a closed House committee meeting April 23 that more involvement of U.S. troops in Cambodia would defeat the administration's program of withdrawal from South Vietnam.

Protesting Residents Lose Zone Fight

By MARION BETHA

The comments and advice in the audience, which have been characteristic of previous meetings of the county Planning and Zoning Board, were in evidence last night when a request was made by Ray Tompkins for a zoning change from A-1 agriculture to CN-commercial on property at the intersection of SR 48 and Winter Woods Boulevard.

Tompkins was represented by attorney E. K. Van der Burg, who told the board that the change was requested to build a development encompassing a convenience store, pharmacy, butchers and professional offices building. According to Van der Burg, there would be no building fronting on SR 48; all would front Winter Woods Boulevard.

Several other residents objected to the project and a minor controversy ensued over petitions which were circulated in Tanglewood and Winter Woods, one of which was allegedly gotten by Tompkins 48 hours in advance of last night's meeting. Several persons maintained that

Tom Davis told the board that there were eight convenience stores and five pharmacies within a mile radius of the Winter Woods area, and that the architect's rendering of the project was a large store all conveniences stores "look alike, and not like those in the drawing."

At this point, when Tompkins was restrained from making a comment by his attorney, Tuck said that "the questioning of Tompkins' integrity is the opinion of individuals and not the opinion of the Winter Woods Homeowners Association."

Zoning Director Robert Brown offered an opinion that there were enough service areas in the district to accommodate the needs of the people.

A motion was entertained to reject the proposal to the county commission but failed. A subsequent motion, was made to recommend to the County Commission that the zoning change be approved, and was passed.

Disident residents, even when told by Chairman Glenn McCall that they had the right of appeal, were obviously disgruntled when leaving. Comments that "you gentlemen should be ashamed of yourselves" were audible to all present.

needed to raise the property to a 10 foot elevation, and whether access and egress could be obtained from property owners. Conklin answered that no problems existed.

Several residents of the area appeared to favor the zoning change, and a petition was read from an additional 22 persons as proponents.

treatment plant disposal of effluent by percolation and evaporation. Conklin said that the soil was "not the best" and that the lower part would have to be filled to a 10 foot elevation as being 9.4 feet.

McCall also asked if a dredging permit had been ascertained, when Conklin stated that 600,000 yards of fill would be needed to raise the property to a 10 foot elevation, and whether access and egress could be obtained from property owners. Conklin answered that no problems existed.

The Role Of The Press In A Troubled Society

Which News Media?

Before discussing the future of journalism, it would seem appropriate to comment on the journalism of today...

Well, no rational person would deny his "right of reply" but that right quite as precious to the individual who disagrees with Mr. Agnew?

Eternal Vigilance

The role of the press vis-a-vis the government is essentially that of eternal vigilance.

For my pains, I was assailed as an un-American appeaser and a pro-Communist sympathizer for the next 12 years.

Now, Cambodia

We come now to Cambodia, where thousands of American troops are searching for what the President has called "a major Communist staging and communications area."

We hold the suspicion that the massive 150-plane bombings of the weekend would not have been made public had not Robert S. Boyd, who was in North Vietnam, witnessed a 50-minute raid and reported it.

It is now admitted by our government that areas in Cambodia had been bombed months ago.

Conversely, the student's freedom does not convey the right to tyrannize those who may not agree, to disrupt by force, to translate aversion into anarchy.

Yet it is grossly unfair, as so many are doing, to brand today's youth generation as a mass of irresponsibility.

Quite to the contrary, today's youth is not only better educated and more perceptive than their elders but put the gray beard generation to shame in their concern over the stresses and strains of our society.

And even from those who bring about so much turmoil and most thoughtful leaders of tomorrow as well as today.

The Safeguard

Finally, I see the role of a free press in a democratic society as a commitment to total involvement in and dedication to the problems which beset that society.

As with all of us, a free and responsible press should invest its faith in that greatest of all government documents — the United States Constitution — which provides ample safeguards against tyranny and injustice.

JOHN S. KNIGHT

Branding Unfair

No, this is not the way. The impetuosity of the revolutionary cult defiles our democratic society and revolts every freedom loving citizen.

And, ironically, the anarchists

Washington Window: Presidential News Performance

By EUGENE V. RISIGER WASHINGTON (UPI) — Live, televised news conferences are always ordeals for a President.

Pen and pencil journalists are becoming more accustomed to this electronic intrusion into what formerly had been exclusively their domain.

He also must take into account the diplomats and experts who will be listening to his words, looking for subtle changes in emphasis that foretell policy shifts.

And finally, he must provide a credible and satisfactory response to the newsmen who make their living by knowing and probing the weak spots in policy and conflicts in government.

Warning On Worn Tires!

Car "B" on the other hand is wearing the same kind of tires after they have been driven for 75,000 miles inside the crater of a live volcano.

At the drop of a checked flag by the chief engineer, two drivers wearing crash helmets leap into the cars and speed off down the test track, which is strewn with railroad crossties, twisted sticks, crocheted needles and other obstacles.

Car "B" goes a total of 18 feet before the right rear tire blows out. Car "A," however, continues to circle the track for 40 days and 40 nights.

The engineers all have clipboards upon which they are recording this data. At the end of the test period, the raw figures are fed into a computer which makes a statistical correlation.

While awaiting the computer print-out, which will give the final outcome of the test, the engineers place bets among themselves as to what the results will be.

Upon disclosure that the new tires are less likely to have flats, the engineers who bet on the bald tires throw themselves across the test track and are impaled on swizzle sticks.

It is true that the chances of having a flat are greater with worn out tires than with new tires? I asked.

That's right, he assured me. "I know it's hard to believe, but the Tire Industry Safety Council has the figures to prove it."

DAVID SMITH new president of the Pinerest School PTA, receives favor from outgoing president, Mrs. Martha Payne, who will serve as first vice president.

Borrow Pit Rules Studied

A resolution amending the Seminole County zoning regulations relative to borrow pits was authorized for public hearing by the county commission.

The resolution states, in part, that no excavations or removal of earth in excess of 20 yards may be made except as is provided in the resolution.

Entire property shall be enclosed with a fence at least six feet high, with entrance gates to be secured when the pit is not in operation.

Business Mirror

More Trouble Looms In Economy

By JOHN CUNIFF AP Business Analyst NEW YORK (AP) — So pervasive is the present state of the nation's financial balance that some of the rare good news for ordinary Americans in recent weeks could mean more trouble for the economy.

Summed up, a lot of Americans are receiving more spending money than at the beginning of the year. This could lead to more demand. And increases in demand could—well, almost certainly would—lead to higher prices.

The question is this: Will consumers bank it or spend it? That is, will they add to inflationary demand by buying cars and furniture and appliances? Or will they mark time until price increases begin to slow?

Millions of Americans recently received pay increases among them, Social Security recipients and government employees. And millions more are about to increase their take-home pay, if you can judge by the number of union contract negotiations set for this year.

Moreover, payrolls are going to be increased somewhat by the termination on July 1 of the charge, the surcharge, if you remember, was meant to be an anti-inflation device, but it's hard to measure its contribution.

In addition, millions of Americans are already finding sizeable increases in their paychecks because they have completed their annual contributions to Social Security.

On the basis of 4 per cent of the first $7,800 earned, a figure that is much of America's middle class is now approaching. It can mean $50 or more in monthly take-home pay for many workers.

Now here's the problem: These increases in disposable personal income could be turned into tremendous sales pressure. If Americans decide to spend this money, then you can be sure prices will continue upward.

This is what is termed demand-pull inflation, to differentiate it from cost-push, which means that prices are pushed up by higher operating costs, including that for labor.

While awaiting the computer print-out, which will give the final outcome of the test, the engineers place bets among themselves as to what the results will be.

Upon disclosure that the new tires are less likely to have flats, the engineers who bet on the bald tires throw themselves across the test track and are impaled on swizzle sticks.

Letters To The Editor

City Commission Is Taken To Task

(Editor's note: Following letter was addressed by Howard H. Hodges, as chairman of the industrial committee, Greater Sanford Chamber of Commerce, to the Sanford City Commission and submitted to The Herald for publication.)

The City Commission

City of Sanford, Florida 32711 Attention: Mayor Lee Moore Gentlemen:

It was most distressing to read yesterday that the City Commission is unhappy about the Greater Sanford Chamber of Commerce attempting to recruit industry and commercial enterprises into the city.

I have been under the apparent mistaken impression that it was the duty of civic minded citizens of a city to further our City Commission's progress by actively soliciting sound growth in the form of payroll, with the goal of creating prosperity for our environment for the good of our existing businesses and tax structure.

Apparently, the City Commission looks upon the Chamber of Commerce as competition in this endeavor, and obviously wants to discourage the efforts of people other than themselves in this direction. Apparently this feeling is so strong that one commissioner was led to state "if this commission decides to stick to its guns and let the industrial Commission handle projects, it is in the realm of power that this commission not give them any more money."

This statement certainly gave us pause. Without the City funds and City support, how are we going to accomplish our goal of community betterment?

For many years the City Commission has awarded the Chamber $10,000 annually. Last year total expenditures of Chamber funds amounted to $25,000. Therefore, the city contributed 17 per cent of the funds disbursed, with the other 83 per cent donated by private groups and individuals.

Last year a total of $1,036,019 in industrial and commercial enterprises entered the city. I have been under the apparent mistaken impression that it was the duty of civic minded citizens of a city to further our City Commission's progress by actively soliciting sound growth in the form of payroll, with the goal of creating prosperity for our environment for the good of our existing businesses and tax structure.

Apparently, the City Commission looks upon the Chamber of Commerce as competition in this endeavor, and obviously wants to discourage the efforts of people other than themselves in this simply by withdrawing its financial support. Financial support can be withdrawn but spirited support by civic leaders will not be withdrawn, because of the very fact that people interested in the prosperity of their environment will not cease their activities. Their very nature is to continue to work for the community despite any opposition or obstacle.

Harry A. Blackmun

It took almost one year to a day for the vacant chair on the United States Supreme Court to be filled.

That it has now been done and will be occupied by such a nominee as Federal Judge Harry A. Blackmun from Minnesota is something for which all who wish to see this highest court in our land restored to the position of respect that it deserves can be grateful.

The road to this unanimous vote of approval bestowed on the professionally respected and personally attractive Judge Blackmun by the United States Senate has been rocky and rough.

The seat became vacant on May 14, 1969 when Justice Abe Fortas resigned under fire for what was being charged as ethical conduct not in keeping with the standards of the Supreme Court.

President Nixon had held a firm conviction, so firm that it now is seen as a leading to the troubles which beset him in the succeeding months, that a judge must be found who would be a strict constructionist and who came from the south.

The stories of the unhappy times when Judge Clement F. Haynsworth of Greenville, S.C. and Judge G. Harrold Carswell of Tallahassee, Florida, were nominated and failed to win senate approval are too recent and too well-known to require any repetition.

Now we look to the future. Now we feel that this successful nomination and approval of Judge Blackmun has cleared the way for the highest court in our land to operate at full strength and full speed.

In these days of crisis in our national life, restoration of the United States Supreme Court to its historic place of honor and respect from which can stem a more universal confidence in this government by laws and not by men is now within reach.

Japanese Arms Quandary

By AL KAFF TOKYO (UPI) — Communist China loudly protests what it described as a revival of militarism in Japan, a charge Prime Minister Eisaku Sato calls a "regrettable distortion" of the facts.

Japan's third five-year defense plan will be completed by the end of 1971. Studies already are being made to determine what the fourth five-year plan should include and how much it would cost.

With the backing of business leaders who stand in profit from a defense buildup, the conservative Sato government hopes to make Japan's armed forces a little bigger and a lot better despite vigorous opposition from the left.

What Japan can do militarily is sharply limited by the peace constitution imposed by the United States after World War II. That unique document outlawed war as a means of settling international disputes and limits Japan to defensive force.

Japan's army, navy and air forces have a total of 250,000 men, all volunteers. For the world's third greatest economic power, that could hardly be considered a mighty military machine.

Sato and his Liberal Democratic party colleagues believe the time is ripe to sell the people on a bigger defense budget. It won't be easy. There are a lot of Japanese who think their nation should have no military force at all.

The liberal Socialist party, for example, advocates a national policy of unarmed neutrality. But Sato may be encouraged by the fact that the Peking-lining Socialists have suffered severe setbacks in recent elections.

Don Oakley Says: Franco-German?

By DON OAKLEY, NEA Editorialist On display at an air show in Hanover, West Germany, this month was a new version of a Messerschmitt-Bölkow-Blom jet trainer.

There was a time—two times—in living memory when the world itself it, if that world is to endure, the day must come when the two powers whose symbols are a white star and a red star will have to learn the lesson of Europe.

KIDS CLEAN UP
SYRACUSE, N.Y. (AP) — Concern with the environment is leading to a group of young people active in scouting here.
Nearly 300 Boy Scouts' Girl Scouts, Cub Scouts and Brownies recently took part in a cleanup of Elmwood Park on the city's south side for the fifth consecutive year.
Armed with rakes, shovels and lots of energy they cleaned up litter, disposed of broken tree branches and dead trees. Their reward was refreshments provided at the end of the job.

State Budget Picture Rosy

TALLAHASSEE, Fla. (AP) — Revised revenue estimates showing a better-than-anticipated picture gave impetus today to legislative efforts to come up with a 1970-71 budget for state government.
But whether the budget could be balanced was another matter.
"I think we'll move along, probably by the end of the month," said Senate President John Mathews, D-Jacksonville, who said the estimates released Wednesday will now speed work up.
Gov. Claude Kirk reported that newly released state revenue collections were running less than one per cent lower than previous predictions.
Estimated receipts will be $1.18 billion, $9 million below the previous estimate, Kirk said. He said this means a balanced 1970-71 budget and no new taxes.
"Gobble'dygook," was the comment from House Speaker Fred Schultz, D-Jacksonville, who said, "We are going to have to have some additional revenue."
Rep. Marshall Harris, D-Miami, said the House Appropriations Committee has increased the budget prepared by Kirk by a total of $15 million—$8 million in additional education spending that Kirk has spoken against.
Harris said the new revenue estimates were not consistent with legislative estimates of what license fees and cigarette taxes would bring in next year. He said it appeared the figures had been manipulated to stay within the limits recommended by Kirk in his budget.
"I see no basis for their doing so unless you say their goal was to stay fairly close to what the governor had projected in his budget," Harris said.
The House Appropriations Committee could vote on the budget prepared by Kirk by the end of the month, he said.
The Senate Ways and Means Committee, faced with a similar task, scheduled weekend meetings to speed up work.
"We're going to work all week," said committee member Sen. William Beaufort, D-Jacksonville.
Mathews, meanwhile, coldly told Kirk for not submitting to the Legislature proposed bills which would implement one of the governor's major budget recommendations that license fees charged by various agencies be raised.
Kirk said originally recommended sweeping increases in fees, saying this would require an extra $9 million.
Kirk said Nixon told governors in their closed meeting that he believed in the domino theory; if Vietnam fell, it would be followed by another nation, and another and another Japan and the Philippines will fall victim to communism.

Kirk Totes Message To Nixon

By RICH OPEL
Associated Press Writer
TALLAHASSEE, Fla. (AP) — Gov. Claude Kirk told 120 Florida State University students Wednesday night that he had conveyed their distrust for government to President Nixon and advised him to keep his word on a Mid-June pollout of U.S. troops in Cambodia.
"It told the president that, in my opinion, there is a confidence factor. If you say you are going to pull out, and do, then you have the confidence of the students. They may not like what you do, but they will believe you."
Kirk said he told Nixon he had learned from FSU students that there was a distrust for government built up because of broken promises from state and federal officials. Only a politician's actions could break the distrust.
Kirk returned to FSU's Landis Gymnasium at 7 p.m. after his all-night listening vigil in the same spot, to report on the White House governor's conference. He said he came back at the invitation of students who sat with him the first night.
The Republican governor, his hair brushed across his forehead in a new Princeton cut, partially revealed plans to institute high officials. Only a politician's actions could break the distrust.
Kirk said he would include apprenticeship in decision making jobs in state agencies and institutions, and also some "involvement in the city's that has got to be new."
In the group of students was Lou Beller, gubernatorial candidate of New Party, a leftist splinter group. The Miami Beach attorney unsuccessfully attempted to draw Kirk into a debate on foreign policy.
"As soon as you become a student, fine. I want to visit with the student," the governor told him. Beller left after 30 or 40 minutes.
The budget calls for $4.3 million to continue construction of most of the ecological effects of the canal has the concurrence of both governmental units that have made recent ecological studies of the project—the Florida Game and Fresh Water Fish Commission and the Florida Department of Air and Water Pollution Control.
He quoted the author of the latter report as concluding: "In summary, I cannot view the Cross-Florida Barge Canal as anything but what it could be—the most devastating project ever undertaken in Florida."
Roberts challenged the economic rating of the project as presented by the Corps of Army Engineers, noting that last month the cost estimate was $185 million but that now the estimate is $210.7 million.

Canal 'Not Economically Justified'

WASHINGTON (AP) — A House Appropriations subcommittee was told Wednesday that the Florida Cross-state barge canal would damage the ecology of the area and that it was not economically justified.
An hour-long hearing of the Environment, Friends of the Earth and the National Audubon Society opposed the project.

As I See It!

by Gary Taylor
Well, looks like I picked a winner. Hal King, the young catcher for the Atlanta Braves, has really been hitting that ball. He won a game the other night with a big seventh-inning home run. The night before he had a pair of hits and was intentionally passed in both the eighth and ninth innings.
Hal was born in Oviedo and is a Cross High graduate. Manager Luman Harris is using Hal to catch all right-handed pitchers. Bob Tillman is catching the south pass and Bob Didier gets the assignment when knuckleballers Phil Niekro and Hoyt Wilhelm are on the mound.
King is hitting well over .300 and has a pair of round trippers to his credit. I just can't wait until vacation time, because I plan to go up to Atlanta and watch my Braves and check in on Hal. He is leading the majors, and at this writing (Wednesday afternoon) had a streak of hitting in 20 consecutive games. The "big boy" has hit safely in every game since he went hitless opening day (knock on wood). That is quite an accomplishment. The Hal Brave record is 37 consecutive games and of course, the major league record is that 56-game streak by DiMaggio.
Speaking of Braves that are flat hitting that ball, what about Hammering Aaron? With a good Wednesday. With a good Wednesday night performance, he could have reached the 3000 hit mark by the time we read this. If not, he will certainly have it by the weekend.
The Braves are all hitting the ball good and as the first of the week, they were leading the National League in team batting average.
Man, Oh man was there a gold mine at Tinker Field this past Wednesday through Sunday. A gold mine of talent that is. That was where the 1970 Region Eight Florida Junior College baseball tournament was held.
Talk about scouts, there were scouts there. Every major league team and the Central Scouting Agency had scouts there. Zack Taylor, Birdie Tebbits, Zim Beck and the whole elite gang was on hand.
The Seminole Junior College Raiders lost their first two games and were thus eliminated from the tournament. Rumors had it that Coach Yager was walking around with a smile on his face the next day singing something about next year.
Yes, with the number of freshmen on the team and the boys that he has signed over the past two weeks, the Raiders should be strong contenders next year.
Seems that Bergman has ventured into Orlando and signed some of the top high school players in Central right out from under the nose of Valencia coach, Tom Garcia.
Way to go Bergman, keep up the good work. Bergman will be the guest speaker at the Seminole High Spring Sports Banquet tonight and I couldn't think of another person that I would rather listen to.
Well, football practice is in full swing at all the area high schools. Yes, you heard it right... football practice. Spring practice that is.
Lynan, Oviedo, Cross, Seminole and Sanford Naval are all hard at work getting the Raiders in shape before the Summer holidays and seeing just what will have when they come back in the fall.
With the squad divided up into four teams at Seminole, they are currently going through scrimmages. Of course, the climax of this will be the annual spring game.
We see the usual few coaching changes at all the high schools around Seminole County. Looks as if we'll have a new track coach at Seminole Junior College... understand the old one is accepting a position with a four-year college. We have no word officially on this as of yet and no rumors as to who the replacement would be.
Gator basketball coach Tommy Bartlett anticipates a near full enrollment for both seasons of his basketball camp held during the summer at Bolles School in Jacksonville.
The Bartlett Camp will be conducted in two one-week camp held at Bolles.
"Due to the large number of campers last season, we have added another session," said Bartlett. "We are pleased with the progress and improvement the campers have shown over the last three summers and we will continue to use ideas and innovations, both new and old, and in teaching and development of each individual."
Along with Bartlett the staff includes former Gator Greats, Gary Keller, Mike Leatherwood and Mike McGinnis. Keller was an All-SEC center for the Gators in 1965 and 1966 and played two years with the Miami Floridians of the ABA.
Leatherwood starred on the Gators' NIT team of 1969 and will begin his first year coaching at Indian River Junior College next fall. McGinnis played on the Florida NIT team and is presently a highly successful coach at Santa Fe High School.
Joe Dean, a former All-American at LSU and a representative for Converse shoe company will visit the camp and put on his nationally famous one-day basketball clinic. Dean is considered one of the top teachers of the game and travels throughout the nation during the summer speaking at basketball camps.
"It's great having Keller, Leatherwood and McGinnis with us again this summer," added Bartlett. "They are tremendous teachers of the game and work exceedingly well with younger boys."

Fish Like Colored Lures

By HENRY SAVAGE
PROVIDENCE, R.I. (UPI) — A psychologist from Brown University has a suggestion for fishermen: Use colored lures.
"Fish can discriminate color," said Dr. Dean C. Yager, an assistant professor at the Ivy League school. "I'm not certain if they are attracted to any certain color."
Yager said in an interview he has been using fish in his studies of color vision because fish and humans have similar retinal structures.
Yager has trained goldfish to strike a target with their noses only when the target contains a noticeable amount of colored light. He has found the fish continue to strike the target even when the colors are dim or very pale.
Psychologists say this tendency indicates presence of normal color vision—or what they call trichromatic vision—which is the mixing of the three primary colors of red, green and blue to obtain the full color spectrum experienced by those with normal vision.
Yager's fish undergo a training regimen that would make any weight-conscious woman wince.
"The fish are deprived of all food for a week before they start their initial training," he said. "Then an automatic feeder delivers up to 50 food pellets a day into the tank at irregular intervals for several days."
"Vibrations in the water and cue light" announce the delivery of each pellet and soon the fish eat the pellets as they fall into the tank," he added.
Yager said the experimental equipment was programmed so a food pellet dropped into the tank whenever a fish struck either of two illuminated triggering devices.
"Within a few hours," he said, "the fish learned to peck at these devices—I call them keys—for food rewards several times a minute."
Later in the experiments, the two stimulating keys became operative except when the fish hit a third key in the rear of the tank.
When this key was struck, the two stimulating keys became operative and illuminated, and the fish could again obtain a food pellet by striking either one.

Sports Banquet Tonight

The Seminole High Spring Sports Banquet is set for tonight at 6:30 p.m. at the Seminole High cafeteria. The meal will be served at this time.
After the meal, the banquet will be moved to the auditorium, where coach Jay Bergman will be the guest speaker. Bergman is the head baseball coach at Seminole Junior College and is also assistant basketball coach.
Bergman has built the Seminole Junior College Raiders into a baseball power and has put the county on the baseball map. He has had many of his players go on to four-year colleges on full scholarships and has had one pro signing.
Following the speech by Bergman, which is sure to be an interesting one, awards will be presented. There will be awards for basketball, baseball, track and swimming.
Various letters and other awards will be presented and the cheerleaders will be recognized.
The highlight of the evening will be the presentation of the "Most Valuable Athlete Award." This award goes to the top athlete, all sports included, and usually goes to a person who has started in more than one sport. Last year's recipient was Bill Bracken.

Jockey Predicts A Win In The Preakness

By RON TURCOTTE
Written For The Associated Press
NEW YORK (AP) — The 89th running of the Preakness at Pimlico in Baltimore Saturday will be a more truly run race than the Kentucky Derby.
"It's hard to eliminate any of the colts."
The Derby had 17 horses, including some who didn't belong while the Preakness will have about 12. There will be no need to battle for positions such as at Churchill Downs in Louisville two weeks ago.
I think I'll be riding the winner in Naskra, who is 10-1 in the pre-race odds.
He ran fourth in the Derby, the only time this year he was out of the money in nine starts. In the Derby stretch, he passed Silent Screen as though the 2-year-old champion of 1969 was standing still.
John Rotz, who will ride Silent Screen, thinks Naskra is the horse to beat and I think Silent Screen is the one to beat now that he will wear blinkers for the first time.
Silent Screen has a habit of bearing out and the blinkers might prevent this. Drifting out is costly and no rider can do justice for such a horse.
I go by a horse's action and I think I know where I'm going with Naskra.
Because of his speed, he can be tried anywhere in the race.
Braulio Baeza likes Naskra, not so much of his Derby race, but of the Blue Grass at Keeneland.
Braulio thought Naskra would win this race by 10 lengths until they were 150 yards from the wire.
It seems that when Naskra threw a shoe and lost all his action in the Derby, he shouldn't be worse than third. He could be better than that.
That Commander—The Derby winner by five lengths. He starts slow but has marvelous action when the going gets tough.
High School—Jockey Larry Adams likes this one because he runs big at the end. When he's stopped or out cut, he's the horse to beat.
My Dad George—He ran big in Florida and was a good second in the Derby. He shouldn't be worse than third. He could be better than that.
Buckshot—This is a horse with good bite foot. You may be hearing about this one in the 1 1/2 mile Belmont.
I'm sure this will be a better run race than the Derby. I just hope I can win it with Naskra. He was fourth in the Derby. Tom Rolfe was third in the Derby. Don't you see I won the Preakness with him.
Maybe that's a good omen.

Pitch, Hit And Throw Competition This Month

Time is running out for boys 9-12 to register for the Pitch, Hit and Throw contest scheduled for later this month. The contest is sponsored by the Phillips 66 Company, the American League and the National League.
There will be two qualifying contests, one in the north end of Seminole County and the other in the south end of the county. All boys in the south section of the county will participate at Cooper Field at 2:30 p.m., Sunday, May 17. Boys in north end will compete at the Fort Mellon Little League Field at 9 a.m. May 23.
The top five scorers in each age group at both sites will meet May 31 at 2:30 p.m. at Cooper Field for the Seminole County Finals. The top scorer in each age group will advance to the next level of competition, set for Orlando.
The winner in Orlando, in each age group, would compete in Atlanta, and the winners there would compete at the All-Star game. The winners, in addition to receiving a large trophy, would visit the Hall of Fame in Cooperstown, New York and have his name inscribed there.
May 16 is the last day to enter the contest. The boys must be accompanied by a parent or guardian (for age verification) when he signs up. Entry blanks are available at any Phillips 66 station.
Everyone that participates will receive a patch for his uniform or jacket. The winner and the runner-up, in the county final, will receive warm-up jackets. Plaques will be awarded the winners in Orlando.
To enter the contest, they must be 9-12 on July 1, 1970. Parents must verify the age of the child. Coaches and winners will be required to present proof of age before going on to higher competition.

MIKE FERRELL has been selected to play on the All-Star team that will meet the state champions, Miami-Dade South, this Saturday at 2 p.m. His coach, Jay Bergman, will be an assistant coach on the team. Bill Frasier, the coach of Gulf Coast, will be the head coach of the All-Star team. (Gary Taylor Photo)

Ferrell Selected For All-Star Team

Mike Ferrell will complete his successful Junior College career this weekend as he plays on the first All-Star team. The team, selected from the first, second and honorable mention selections to the All-Star team, will meet the Florida champions, Miami-Dade South, on the Dade South campus at 2 p.m. Saturday.

This is the first such All-Star team, and was started to give the champions a team to play during their idle week before meeting the winner of the Georgia-Alabama game.

During his sophomore year, Ferrell batted .293. He came back this season to hit at a .309 clip for a two-year average of .301.

He tied a school record for his two-year stay at the school as he drove in 41 runs. This tied the old record set by Carl Shumaker, now playing for Jacksonville University.

During his sophomore year, Ferrell batted .293. 66 hits, with ten two-baggers and five home runs. During his two years in the field, he committed only four errors.

After Steve White was injured, Ferrell moved in from center field to play second base. The former high school second baseman did a fine job and didn't commit an error. He was named to the All-Conference team this year, along with several other Raiders. Ferrell is also the President of the Fellowship of Christian Athletes at Seminole Junior College.

His coach, Jay Bergman, has been selected as one of the assistant coaches for the All-Star team. The other assistant coach is Dick Martini, the coach of the Miami-Dade North team. The head coach of the team is Bill Frasier. Frasier is the head mentor of the Gulf Coast Commodores. Gulf Coast defeated the Raiders in the first round of the state tournament and then fell to South. They came up through the loser's bracket and tied the finals as they blasted South. They fell in the final game of the tournament.

If Dade South can beat the winner of the Alabama-Georgia game, they will represent the South in the nationals later this week.

Bergman Signs Standouts

Seminole Junior College baseball coach Jay Bergman found the pot of gold at the end of the rainbow, even if he did have to go into Orlando to get it.

"We've circled three of the four top baseball players, statistically wise, in the Metro Conference, and we expect to sign the fourth this weekend," commented Bergman.

Three of the players come from Edgewater High. Bergman is signing mainly left-handed batters, and commented that he could have as high as six or seven left-handed batters in the lineup at one time next year.

In signing these players, Bergman went into Valencia territory and took them right from under the nose of Tom Garcia.

The three from Edgewater include Dick Brink, Mike Coombs, and Eddie Colburn. Brink is a second baseman who batted .309. According to Bergman, if he doesn't steal 30 bases next year, it will be because he has a cast on his leg. He bats from the left side.

McCollum is a south paw who had a 4.2 record on the mound last season. He was selected to the All-Metro team. Coombs, a catcher who also bats from the port side, batted .347 and was named All-Metro. He can also play in the outfield.

Another player signed is Gary Jacobs, a short stop that Bergman expects to convert to an outfielder. He was hampered with injuries this past season, but has never batted under .300 at Colonial. He led the Metro Conference in batting in his sophomore year.

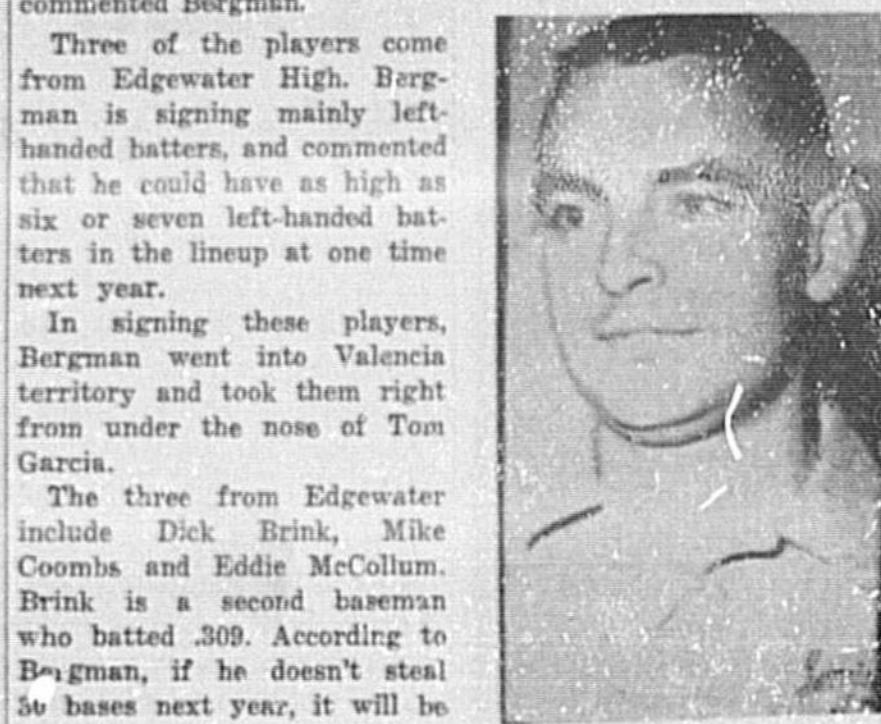

Bergman expects to sign

Ricky Sparkman this weekend. Sparkman is also from Colonial and can play any place in the infield. Bergman is still looking for a sixth man more player, and his eyes are on some more Orlando talent.

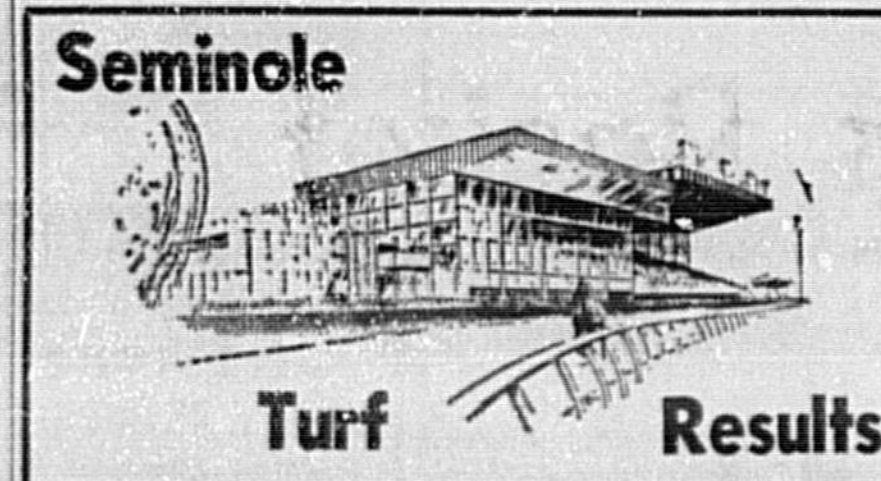

A worthy big addition to the team is Tom Varn. Varn went one semester to the University of Florida and then transferred to Seminole. He will be freshman eligibility and Bergman expects to play him in right field. During his senior year at Hernando, he batted over .500 and was named All-State.

For the second straight year, Bergman has led his team to a 20-win season. It's the fourth season and they have an 83-42 overall record. Only the first season, when they were 6-5, did they post a losing record.

With the number of returns, it looks as if Bergman will field one of the top teams in the state, and just could make that trip to the nationals next year.

Ernie Banks Spoils Gentry's Bid!!

By HERSCHEL NISSENSON
Associated Press Sports Writer

The difference between 1-for-27 and 1-for-29 is four runs . . . that is, it is.

The Chicago Cubs went 1-for-27 Wednesday — Ernie Banks' two-out single in the eighth inning their only hit—and came out on the short end of a 4-0 score to the New York Mets.

Pittsburgh's Al Oliver is 1-for-29, but that hit was a guard slam homer that powered the Pirates past the St. Louis Cardinals and Bob Gibson 5-1.

In other National League action, Tito Fuentes drove in all the San Francisco runs with a triple and home run as the Giants whipped Montreal by Philadelphia 7-6 and Houston held off Los Angeles 6-5. Atlanta and Cincinnati were not scheduled.

American League scores were Minnesota 5, Baltimore 4 in 10 innings; Kansas City 1, Cleveland 0 in 12; Milwaukee 3, the New York Yankees 1; California 5, Boston 3 and Oakland 8, Washington 1. The Chicago White Sox and Detroit were rained out.

Gilbert Fills Pocket With First Tour Win

By BOB GREEN
Associated Press Golf Writer

FORT WORTH, Tex. (AP) — It's been a hectic life for Gilby Gilbert since he came from nowhere and won the Houston Champions International Golf tournament in a playoff with Bruce Crampton.

"I haven't been able to sleep," the haggard, 29-year-old Gilbert said today, before his first round in the $125,000 Colonial National Invitational, "my wife almost had a baby and my sister almost went into shock."

Gilbert, a club pro at Hollywood, Fla., had been on the tour this time—only for a couple of months when he scored his first victory and picked up the $23,000 first place check at Houston Sunday.

"I still can't really believe it," he said. "I really believe I can't sleep."

"I can't sleep," said the dark, drawing young man. "I keep replaying every shot in my mind. I could understand why I'd do that if I met, but I won. So why do I keep going over it in my mind? I just don't know."

Gilbert, who made a couple of brief, unsuccessful appearances on the tour in earlier years, said he "won about $100,000 in some little tournaments in Florida last winter, was playing pretty well and decided I'd give the tour another try." He started at Doral the last week in February, finished in the top 10 and has picked up $34,143 since then.

Joe Sterling Signs Ohio's Dale Lambert

An Ohio high school star, Joe Sterling, has signed a four-year contract with the Cleveland Indians. Sterling, who will graduate in June from Young Valley High School in Ashville, Ohio, will attend SJC on a basketball scholarship, Sterling announced today.

Lambert scored an average of 33 points per game last season, while hitting on 83 per cent from the free throw line. Lambert was named to the All-Conference team, the All-Central Ohio District team and was named honorable mention All-State and honorable mention All-American.

Bergman commented, "He will definitely strengthen the Raiders guard position and we are looking forward to having him work with us and attend SJC."

Lambert is the third signer for next year's team. Also signed were Seminole High stars Larry Kearns and Bill Corso. Larry, one of the greatest players in the history of the school, set many new records under coach Joe Mills. Corso was a fine player and made the Seminoles a strong team on both offense and defense. Sterling feels that these two will be far ahead of most signees, due to the expert coaching of Mills. Mills stressed defense in his team's play.

Four players will be missing when the Raiders crank up a new season this fall. Gene Ar Simon Harper and Ben Below. Both have signed scholarships with fine four-year colleges.

Steve Richardson and Greg Harris will be ineligible for various reasons. Richardson was the tallest player on the team last season, though he was used as a reserve.

Some players who are expected to really shine this year are Harry Lee, Jim Gilchrist and Larry Ward. Ward was a big surprise this season as he played excellent ball.

Ward can put out on offense and Gilchrist can be the longest player in the history of the school. The tall Gilchrist is capable of out-jumping his tallest opponent. Lee is a fine all-around forward and does a good job on both offense and defense.

With this added talent, it looks as if Sterling has himself another winner lined up for next season.

N. Y. Drug Problems Reach Plague Levels

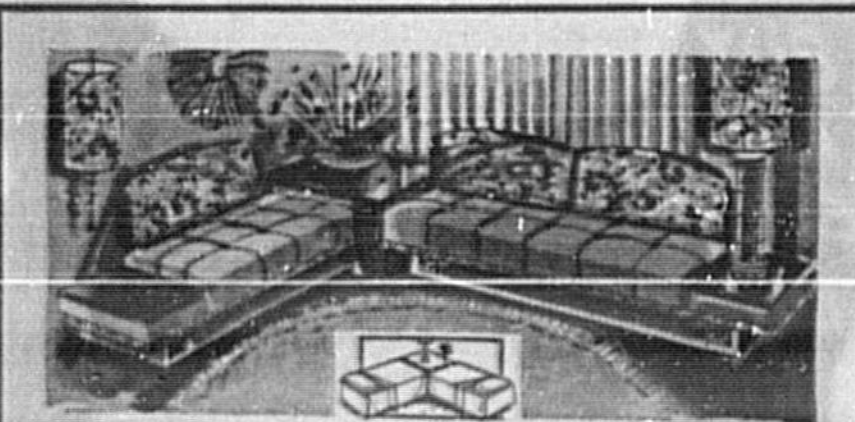

By CARL C. CRAFT
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — Leading New York political figures from both parties have launched a joint effort for more federal help to stave off a drug problem they say has reached plague levels.

Republican Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller, emerging from a private strategy meeting with members of his state's congressional delegation, said Wednesday the fight against drug abuse "has spread to the schools and even from the high schools

Nixon Supporters Counter War Move

By CARL P. LEUBSDORF
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senate supporters of President Nixon's decision to send U.S. troops into Cambodia are countering a move to prevent deeper American involvement in that country.

A countermove by GOP Sen. Leader Hugh Scott and others is aimed at stopping an amendment by Sen. John Sherman Cooper, R-Ky., and Frank Church, D-Idaho, barring funds for retaining U.S. troops in Cambodia and limiting future aid for air strikes.

Scott has proposed amending the Cooper-Church amendment to authorize U.S. Cambodian operations if the President decides they are necessary to protect Americans in Vietnam.

The Cooper-Church amendment, the first in a series of proposals dealing with U.S. action in Vietnam and Cambodia, is attached to a military appropriations bill. The Senate formally opened debate on the measure Wednesday.

Rockefeller said he would seek President Nixon's backing for a new funding approach aimed at pumping bigger doses of federal drug-fighting cash into hard-hit cities including New York, Los Angeles and Miami.

The governor also said he agreed with Democratic Rep. Edward I. Koch who told newsmen heroin addiction has become a plague in New York City with 100,000 addicts.

Rep. Emanuel Celler, a Brooklyn Democrat, said attempts also would be made to discourage importation of drugs from other nations.

Koch said the delegation argued that "countries like France, Turkey and other countries that are the suppliers of heroin that comes into the country" be held responsible.

"And when the foreign aid bill comes up," he added, "we're going to think of some way where we can impress upon those countries they can't be the recipients of money from this country when they are selling poison to the kids in this country."

Rep. Shirley Chisholm, a Democrat and the only black woman in Congress, said the drug problem "now has penetrated just about every class and every ethnic group in our society."

Koch said more than money "we need real enforcement on the part of the police officials, we need to involve the communities... and we've got to get across the educational aspect."

Meanwhile, Democratic Rep. Bertram L. Rodgers, of Brooklyn, said drug addiction costs the American public $5 billion a year in crime because many addicts need to support their habit. He called for $200 million for drug centers to offer a wide range of services for heroin addicts.

He also introduced a resolution calling on the United Nations to buy the world's heroin supply at its source.

in a discussion that likely will occupy it until July.

Sen. James O. Eastland, D-Miss., joined the counterattack by announcing today he will seek to bar enforcement of any limit on funds until the North Vietnamese release all American prisoners of war.

"We are solemnly obligated—legally, morally and in the name of honor and decency—to stand by these men even as they stand by America," Stearns said in disclosing his plans.

Church told the Senate Wednesday his amendment is still going on.

Although President Nixon has said all U.S. troops will be out of Cambodia by June 30, Stearns said "I just don't think anyone can foresee just when they can carry out a mission."

He also said President Nixon might have to send American troops into Cambodia again.

Nixon has insisted South Vietnamese troops could handle a second attack, if needed.

"I don't want to shut him off from hitting these sanctuaries again," Stearns said.

Miss Cheryl Johnson Honored At Graduation Tea

The Jefferson Ave. home of Mrs. Lewis Wilkins was the setting for a graduation tea Sunday afternoon, May 3, honoring Miss Cheryl Johnson, a member of the Seminole High School graduating class. Honored were Mrs. Wilkins and daughter, Debi.

The lovely Wilkins home was decorated in keeping with the yellow and white color theme of the senior class. Among the floral arrangements in the party area were two large ones of yellow and white snapdragons, one in a formal container and the other in a beautiful green glass vase.

The oval refreshment table was overlaid with a white linen cloth with lace border. The centerpiece was an arrangement of white daisies with yellow centers and greenery in a milk glass container, flanked by tall yellow tapers in matching holders with miniature daisies encircling the base of the tapers. A large crystal punch bowl and silver appointments completed the table decor.

Gingerale fruit punch, assorted tea, cookies, nuts and milk were served to those attending. Assisting the hostesses with the serving were Mrs. Mildred Peters and Mrs. Jan Korgan.

Miss Johnson greeted the guests wearing a light beige linen double breasted 4-line dress with orange scarf, gold and white buttons, matching accessories and the matching corsage. Her mother, Mrs. Clifford Johnson and her grandmother, Mrs. W. L. Hiers. The hostess gift to Miss Johnson was a pair of ivory and yellow earrings and a graduation gift of a linen.

"The Ages of Woman" was the theme of a fashion show which highlighted the annual Mother-Daughter Banquet at Casselberry Community United Methodist Church held Saturday night in fellowship hall. Models ranged from infants in arms to grandmothers and the lovely young and summer fashions which they wore were all made at home.

Mrs. Sandy Lenzen served as mistress of ceremonies for the popular annual event and Mrs. Bonnie Werley was the fashion commentator.

Piano background and accompaniment were provided by Mrs. Jane Christopher and Mrs. Olive Pierce. Mrs. Phyllis Donnelly sang two numbers. The invocation was given by Mrs. Judy Baker and a reading "The Mearest Mother in the World" was given by Mrs. Leola Putnam.

Mrs. Werley gave readings dedicated to daughters and granddaughters. Rev. Delmas Copeland gave the benediction. Flowers and planters were presented to Mrs. Elizabeth Telo, oldest mother; Mrs. Nancy Palmer, youngest mother; Mrs. Mary Frances Lyons, mother with most children present.

Mrs. Valerie Bibler, youngest mother; Mrs. L. C. Tinley, mother who came the farthest distance. Demonstrating just what can be created with a small investment of time, talent, and money the models included Donna and Lori Deppen. Sandy Lenzen's Sheila Van Warner and daughters, Vicki and Sherry; Mary Boone and daughters, Robin and Kristi; Mrs. Florence Dyland, Linda Gage, Jane Idings, Wanda Markstony and daughter, Sharon; Jana Mart, Cathy Casselberry, Patricia Messick, Caroline Daugherty, Vi Segrest, Reba McClain, Alice Pringle, Marge Deppen, Genevieve Brown, Bess Wragett, Laurie and Judy Andrews. Providing comic relief were John Lenzen, little girl; Martin Neiswander, "leeny-bopper"; Robert Williamson, young man; and Bob Miller, elderly man.

The tables were brightly decorated with colorful set, but-terfly and fabric covered program booklet at each place. The dinner was served by the mistress of the church.

Reception Honors Mrs. Lula Moran

By LIZ MATHIEUX

Mrs. Lula Moran was recently honored with a reception at the beautiful Oakwood Drive home of Mr. and Mrs. Boyd Gaines in Casselberry by her co-workers, the first grade teachers of English Estates School.

The Gaines home was appropriately ornamented throughout with floral arrangements. The formal dining area featured a round table overlaid with a dainty white imported linen cloth and was centered with an arrangement of Spring flowers. All crystal and silver appointments were used. Punch was poured from a footed punch bowl. Near punch, assorted cookies and finger sandwiches were served as accompaniments to the punch.

MRS. LULA MORAN is pictured above with John Angel, Superintendent of Public Instruction for Seminole County and Joseph E. Mathieux, a former student (in the first grade of the Geneva Elementary School) at the reception site where "Miss Lulu" was honored upon her recent retirement after having taught school for more than 45 years. Poison Proof Your Home

BERKELEY, CALIF. (UPI) — Seven simple steps to "poison-proof" a home:

- Keep household products and medicines out of reach and out of sight of children.
- Store medicines separately from household products. Never put cleaning materials or other toxic products in cups or soft drink bottles.
- Be sure that all products are labeled properly, and read the label before using.
- Always turn the light on when giving or taking medicine.

— Since children tend to imitate adults, avoid taking medicine in their presence.

— Never call medicine "candy." When left alone, children may take you at your word and swallow the contents of a bottle.

— Clean out the medicine cabinet periodically. Get rid of old medicines by flushing them down the drain, rinsing the container in water, and then discarding it.

These steps were listed by Dr. Louis F. Bayler, California Public Health Director.

Also Mrs. Helen Adams, Mrs. Susan Woods, Mrs. Doris Lyons, Mrs. Carlotta Merckerson, Mrs. Bette Walley, Miss Ann Bandy and Caren Gager.

Mrs. Moran was presented with a "Wanted Poster" which was a charcoal bust of her done by J. E. Mathieux especially for the occasion and used as a part of the background. She received a wishing tree with good wishes from the faculty and a book "Leaves of Gold."

Deltona Sportsmen Enjoying Fish Trip

The May meeting of the Deltona Sportsmen's Club was attended by 119 members and guests with Mr. and Mrs. Ray Sirgerling, Mr. and Mrs. Holly Day, Mr. and Mrs. Harvey McKay and Mrs. Dorothy Ulin accepted as new members.

Plans for a fishing trip to Lake Fish Camp at Oak Hill on May 14 were outlined. Those planning to go should call 688-6967, 688-6955 or 688-6770 so that arrangements can be made with Bud Deves of the camp. All will meet at the Plaza at 7 a.m. instead of 8 a.m. as announced at the meeting.

On May 22, club members will attend the Deltona-Daytona Beach ball game at Conrad Park in Deltona. This is children's ball game and no boys or girls not having transportation should contact any club officer. The group will leave the Plaza at 6:30 p.m.

A letter of resignation from Charles Dugan, secretary, read by President Sherertz was accepted reluctantly. Charles and Madeline Dugan were presented with certificates in appreciation of their untiring efforts for this club. The retiring secretary was given a standing ovation by those present. He said they will miss the fellowship of the club members when they meet to the East coast.

President Sherertz appointed Ray Sirgerling as secretary to fill out the term. Ray, a newcomer from Rockford, Ill., was greeted by the members and wished success with the cooperation of all officers and members.

Date prizes were won by two past presidents, C. Thomas and Vert Packman. Retirees were served by Nora Wheeler, Ann Connell and Emily Deffenbach.

Loffredo President of CTP

By JANE CASSELBERRY

Officers for the coming year were installed by the Council of Teachers and Parents of Casselberry School at the May meeting with Mrs. Mary Ellen Loffredo taking over as president.

Other officers installed by the principal, Christy M. Hays, were Joe Quisenberry, first vice president; Mrs. Lillian Phelps, third vice president; Mrs. Donna Charnick, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Marilyn Pfland, recording secretary and Mrs. Vonelle Burnham, treasurer. The office of second vice president is yet to be filled.

It was reported that a profit of $525 was realized from the spring festival sponsored by the CTP in April bringing the balance on hand in the treasury to $1,247.

The members voted to pay for fencing in the bicyclic area as there has been vandalism done to the children's bikes. A musical program was presented by the fifth graders and an open house followed the meeting so that parents could view the art displays in each of the classrooms.

'Little Green Swallows' First Air Hostesses

By LINDA DEUTSCH Associated Press Writer LOS ANGELES (AP) — In the chill dawn of May 15, 1938, eight pretty girls in identical green capes swept into an air strip ready to make aviation history.

"And then the motor went haywire," recalls Harriet, then one of the eight. "It took them three hours to fix the plane while we sat in the grassy open across the street, drinking coffee."

"It's funny," she adds, "but we didn't get cold feet. We weren't scared."

When they took off, the ladies launched a new career for women. They called themselves stewesses.

Now, on the 40th anniversary of that flight, some 30,000 young women work at the occupation, which has changed drastically since Harriet's flight in the Boeing 80A trimotor.

"Being a stewardess couldn't be as exciting," says the Glendale housewife, now in her 60s. "Don't forget we were landing in cow pastures when the weather was bad."

They were also doing chores foreign to today's ministrated stewardesses—such as cleaning the plane's chemical toilets, hauling baggage and, when the plane broke down, baby-sitting with it until mechanics arrived.

The first stewardesses flew just days a week—sometimes seven—and were paid $13 a month. When stranded out of town, they got $6 a day for expenses.

But there was glamor. "We had such pretty outfits," sighs Mrs. Ida. "The suits had green capes lined in gray silk. They called us the little green swallows."

Mrs. Ida and the seven other girls were hired by Boeing Air Transport, which later became United Air Lines. A Boeing executive, Steve Stimpson, hatched the stewardess idea after taking a bumpy flight on which he wound up serving sandwiches and coffee—normal for the cockpit's job.

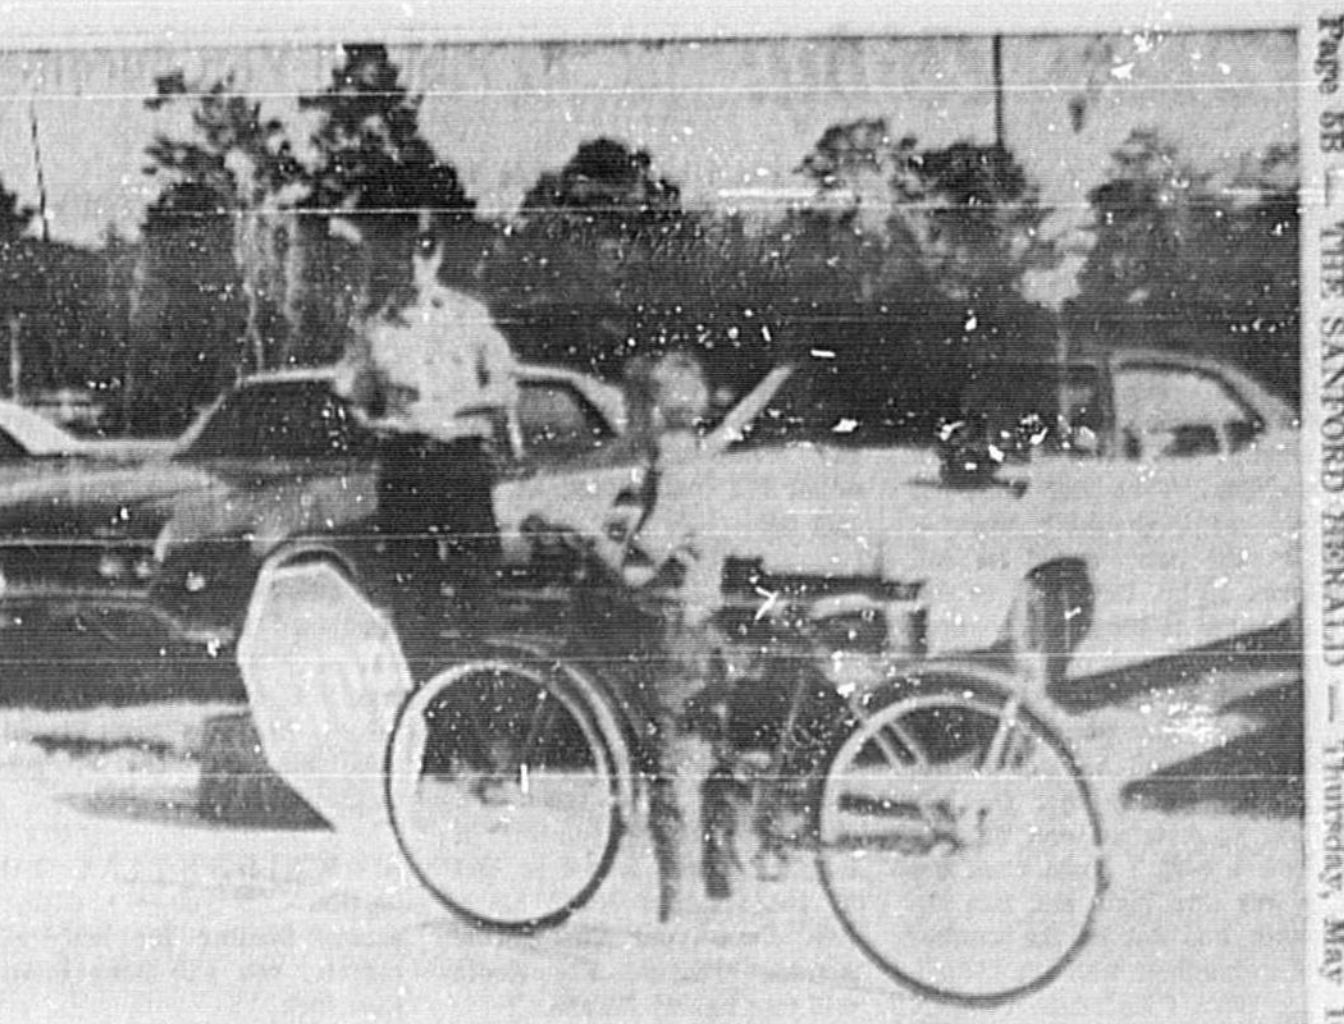

He still has a copy of the memo he wrote to a Boeing vice president outlining his idea. "Imagine the psychology of having young women as regular members of the crew," Stimpson wrote. "Imagine the national publicity we would get from it, and the tremendous effect it would have on the traveling public."

It makes a valuable find, and most of this material quietly disappears into private collections before the state ever sees it.

Claussen said the amount of money the state loses is "greatly overrated. We're not losing nearly as much as many people think."

"But it's not true that you can't get a lease," he says. "Some of the people who yell the loudest have never even written us asking how you can get a lease."

Claussen said there are 1,200 to 1,800 shipwrecks in Florida, and the tremendous effect it would have on the traveling public.

Industry Controls U.S. Rolls

By G. C. THLEN Jr. Associated Press Writer WASHINGTON (AP) — Industry has been allowed to veto prospective members of at least two major government scientific advisory committees in the past five years, Secretary Robert H. Finch of Health, Education and Welfare has acknowledged.

Involved were votes over petitions the surgeon general's committee on smoking and health and the surgeon general's committee on behavioral effects of television violence, Finch said.

"In each case, members of the affected industries were given a long list of potential candidates for the committee and were invited to indicate any doubts they might have concerning the scientific impartiality of any of the individuals on that list," Finch said in a letter to Sen. Lee Metcalf, D-Mont.

"When the surgeon general selected members for service on these advisory committees, he did not select individuals to whom there were objections raised by members of the industry," he wrote. "The government was looking for individuals without a previous commitment to one side of the controversy or another."

Finch said the broadcasting industry objected in seven of 38 candidates for the television violence committee. No indication was given of the number of smoking and health manufacturers vetoed by cigarette manufacturers.

Antismoking forces and critics of television violence were not given similar veto powers, HEW sources said. Furthermore, Finch's April 22 letter was the first public acknowledgment of the veto practice.
