HOROSCOPE

By BERNICE BEDE OSOL

For Wednesday, April 15, 1981

YOUR BIRTHDAY April 15, 1981
Success in your chosen field is likely this coming year, but you may have to work harder than usual in order to attain it. Be prepared to pay the price. ARIES (March 21-April 19), Coworkers are likely to have their own problems today, so be careful not to lay any extra burdens on them. Yours may be the straw that breaks the camel's back. Find out more of what lies ahead for you in the year following your birthday by sending for your copy of Astro-Graph. Mail $1 for each to Astro-Graph, Box 489, Radio City Station, N.Y. 10019. Be sure to specify birth date.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20) Don't take too seriously today things meant to be fun. Making a few bum shots in tennis shouldn't be allowed to spoil your whole day. GEMINI (May 21-June 20) Your staying power may not be up to par today. Too many distractions will get you off-course and inhibit your will to finish what you start. CANCER (June 21-July 22) Stand up for what you believe in today, but don't deliberately introduce controversy into your discussions. The less said the better. LEO (July 23-Aug. 22) Normally you are very generous, but today you may not be too eager to share with others things they had a hand in helping to bring about. VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22) Be very careful today businesswise and financially, especially with persons you feel have stung you in the past. LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 23) For one who is usually tactful and diplomatic, you could find yourself in frustrating situations today because of a failure to use these assets. SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 22) Serious responsibilities should not be shelved today in hopes they'll care for themselves. That which you neglect may compound itself and cause new complications. SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23-Dec. 21) In social situations today it may prove unwise to appoint yourself chairman of the entertainment committee. Friends won't like to be told how to have a good time. CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19) Competitive situations aren't likely to be your cup of tea today. If at all possible, try to avoid them. Let challenges be taken up by others. AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 19) Be careful today when dealing with persons who hold equally strong views. They won't appreciate your trying to make them over into your own mold. PISCES (Feb. 20-March 20) Even if things have been running pretty smooth financially up until now, don't take matters for granted today. There may be a fly in the ointment.

South wasted no thought on trick one. He knew that aces were invented to take kings and he took his ace of diamonds.

There was considerable thought before the play to trick two. Finally, South ruffed a diamond and led a spade to his queen. West produced the ace and played his ace of trumps and cashed two high diamonds.

"You had the wrong hand, partner," said South.

"Not exactly," replied North. "I had the wrong partner."

North was right. South must make an unusual play at trick one and refuse to take it.

If West leads a trump, South can clear the trump suit while still in control of diamonds and may even get an overtrick if West doesn't take his ace of spades.

If West leads a club at trick two, South wins in his hand, ruffs a low diamond in dummy and plays a spade to his queen and West's ace. Eventually, South will get to chuck his last low diamond on the king of spades or a high club and lose just the first trick and two aces.

If West leads a second diamond, South ruffs in dummy and leads the spade. Once more he will be able to discard his last low diamond.

B-12 Essential To Prevent Anemia

DEAR DR. LAMB — I am taking folic acid and my doctor prescribed B-12 shots with it. I have read a report by the American Medical Association that B-12 wasn't necessary for people of advanced age, that B-6 is more essential, as are the other B vitamins. Could you please enlighten me?

DEAR READER — I feel fairly confident that members of the American Medical Association would rapidly disassociate themselves from your quote. We all need B-12. We should get it in sufficient quantities in our diet not to need anymore.

But, if your system does not absorb B-12 you must have B-12 shots or you will develop pernicious anemia. A frequent reason for failure to absorb B-12 is an absence of intrinsic factor. This substance is manufactured by the stomach. In some people, particularly as they get older, the stomach does not produce enough intrinsic factor and B-12 absorption is inadequate. By taking a B-12 shot the medicine is absorbed into your circulation and you are not dependent upon the action of the stomach.

We all need an appropriate amount of all the B vitamins. Again, it is best to get these from a good nutritional program. Those who do not eat a proper diet, whatever the reason, or who cannot absorb food or have increased demands because of illness will need supplements.

Your prescription of both folic acid and B-12 suggests your doctor is concerned about the possibility of your having pernicious anemia. I strongly recommend that you follow his advice.

To help you understand the full consequence of this, I am sending you The Health Letter number 4-5, Vitamin B-12, Folic Acid, Pernicious Anemia. Others who want this issue can send 75 cents with a long, stamped, self-addressed envelope for it to me, in care of this newspaper, P.O. Box 1551, Radio City Station, New York, NY 10019.

Finally, when you feel sleepy I hope you can be physically active. Physical activity stimulates your biological system and helps keep people alert. That is why I recommend that people should not exercise shortly before going to bed if they are having a problem sleeping.

The first thing is to be sure you have a definite regular sleep pattern that cannot be interrupted during your off duty hours. That helps readjust your cycle.

The second is, while you are trying to stay awake at night to use coffee then. The caffeine in coffee is a brain stimulant and if used sensibly could be a help. I'd rather you use that than take pills. Vitamins won't help.

DEAR DR. LAMB — I am a policeman and was recently assigned to work the midnight shift on a permanent basis. I have a very hard time trying to stay alert and fresh. Are there any type of vitamins I can take or beverage I can drink to help keep me awake? I took No-Doze tablets but they nauseated me.

DEAR READER — It is habit and your body has established a rhythm. You can change it and may have succeeded by the time you hear from me.

Columbia Landing Gets Shuttle Off The Ground

Thousands Cheer Successful Flight

EDWARDS AIR FORCE BASE, Calif. (UPI) The space shuttle Columbia dove down from space so fast it seemed to materialize like magic just above the dry lake bed, awing thousands of spectators whose delighted cheers rang for miles across the barren Mojave Desert.

From the man-in-the-desert to the celebrities in their special tent, from Roy Rogers to "Mr. Spock" of the "Star Trek" TV series, they hailed the landing as an American victory, the beginning of a new age.

"Eat your hearts out, Russians," was the slogan on a T-shirt worn by one female spectator.

Although TV cameras picked up the shuttle 100 miles away, it was moving so fast, more than 200 mph, most spectators did not sight the Columbia until it loomed overhead, nose down and diving for the surface of hard packed dry mud, just seconds before landing.

Cheers filled the air as the rear wheels touched, raising a trailing plume of dust. In Houston, jubilant over the space shuttle Columbia's near-perfect performance on its shakedown cruise, project officials quickly picked a two-man crew to fly its next mission, possibly in September.

Just hours after John W. Young and Robert L. Crippen glided in to the softest of landings on the California desert Tuesday, it was announced astronauts Joe H. Engle, 48, and Richard H. Truly, 43, will be next to take the world's first reusable space ship up.

Today, Young and Crippen start filling in shuttle managers on what they learned during their 54½-hour, 36-orbit mission — an exhaustive process that will take eight to nine days.

That information, along with an inch-by-inch inspection of the spacecraft, will determine how quickly Columbia can be "turned around" for another test flight aimed at putting the shuttle into operation as "the space workhorse of the future," as test chief Donald K. Slayton put it.

Crippen, arriving with Young to a rousing welcome in Houston Tuesday evening, summed up how everyone connected with the program now feels about the shuttle's future: "We are really in the space business to stay."

"The space shuttle Columbia is a phenomenon," Young told the cheering crowd of thousands on the astronauts' arrival at Ellington Air Force Base near the Houston space center.

"Any time you can take something that big and launch it into space and land it, you've done nothing short of a miracle, I believe. I think Americans are going to get their money's worth out of this baby."

Crippen, whose sheer joy at being weightless during the voyage was seen by millions on television, said:

"As the rookie of the group, I can say that waiting 12 years to get my flight in space was well worth it. And I'll stand in line for another 12 years if that's what it'll take — but I don't think it will."

From their breathtaking blastoff Sunday at Cape Canaveral, Fla., until Young babbled Columbia onto the sand runway at Edwards Air Force Base, Calif., at 1:21 p.m. EST Tuesday, the astronauts were bothered only by minor malfunctions aboard. Afterwards, only some discoloration of the shuttle's heat shield was noted by ground crews.

A crowd estimated at up to 350,000 people, including everybody from local residents to celebrities like Roy Rogers and Leonard Nimoy of TV's "Star Trek" series, watched the 80-ton shuttle glide to Earth and hailed it as an American victory, the beginning of a new age of space travel. President Reagan issued an invitation to the astronauts to visit the White House soon.

The "100 percent" success, as test boss Slayton called, blew away the frustration built up over 2½ years as problem after problem cropped up in development and construction of the shuttle.

Project managers obviously were anxious to take quick — but careful — advantage of the breakthrough and develop a system with ships like Columbia regularly shuttling between Earth and space, carrying people and supplies up and bringing people and broken or obsolete material back.

The selection of Engle and Truly to be the next crew was announced by flight control chief M.P. Frank.

Engle, from Abilene, Kan., and Truly, of Fayette, Miss., acted as backup crew for Young and Crippen. Both are Air Force test pilots but neither has flown a spacecraft before, although Engle has been to the fringes of space in the X-15 rocket plane.

The Columbia set a batch of firsts with its flight this week:

It was the first spacecraft to be tested in space the very first time with men aboard.

It was the first to hurtle into orbit with the aid of solid-fuel rockets.

It was the first to return to Earth without the aid of parachutes; the first ever equipped with wings, so it could come back and land like a plane.

It will be the first to make more than one trip to space. And that ability is the key to America's pushing ahead of the Russians in space, since re-use will cut the cost of operations immensely.

Guided virtually all the way by computers on board — the ones whose failure to communicate with each other caused the flight to be scrubbed with just nine minutes left in the countdown Friday — the craft followed its flight plan precisely.

It landed within a minute of the scheduled time. And despite the fact it's as big as a DC-9 jet, but has no engines to help adjust its landing approach, it smoothed onto the sand with less of bump than most airline passengers experience.

The one big worry about the Columbia's searing return through the atmosphere was dispelled by a post-landing inspection.

The insulating tiles on the nose and underside of the craft withstood the jolt and buffeting of launch, and during re-entry successfully deflected heat predicted to reach up to 2,600 degrees.

But in light of the fact some of the tiles on the upper aft section of Columbia were knocked off under the stresses of Sunday's blastoff, the entire insulation system is certain to get a thorough going-over.

Christopher C. Kraft, director of the Houston space center and an old hand in the space business, had a wary summation of what the Columbia's sterling performance meant:

"We just became infinitely smarter."

Meanwhile, Defense Secretary Casper Weinberger today rejected Soviet charges that the space shuttle's main mission is military, saying such uses are "really secondary" to civilian and scientific applications.

"It has a great deal of scientific goals that can be translated into civilian applications of great value," Weinberger said of the reusable shuttle.

Spacecraft Set Many Records

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (UPI) — The space shuttle Columbia is the world's first reusable spacecraft, but that's only the latest of its half a dozen space firsts.

When it was launched Sunday morning from Cape Canaveral, the Columbia became the first spaceship to carry a human crew on its maiden flight. All previous manned spacecraft have first been tested in Earth orbit without humans aboard.

The Sunday launch also made the space shuttle the world's first spacecraft to ride piggyback on its main fuel tank — until the 154-foot-tall cylinder was jettisoned into the Indian Ocean just before reaching orbit.

The Columbia's twin booster rockets, blasted loose from Columbia and parachuted into the Atlantic Ocean to be recovered and reused, were the first solid-fuel rockets ever used for a manned space flight.

They also were the biggest solid-fuel rockets ever used in the space program, with a total thrust of 5.3 million pounds.

Columbia also became the first winged spaceship, with a wing span of 78 feet and a tail 46.3 feet tall.

The space shuttle is about the size of a DC-9 airliner and has a cargo capacity about 1½ times as great as an Air Force C-130 cargo plane. The entire package that blasts off stands 184 feet tall and, counting fuel, weighs 2,227 tons.

Although the shuttle's two-deck cabin is built to accommodate a crew of seven astronauts, it could carry as many as 10 in an emergency. The 60-foot-long cargo bay is big enough to hold a Greyhound bus.

Renovation, No Expansion For Sanford Library

By DONNA ESTES
Herald Staff Writer

Seminole County applied today to Secretary of State George Firestone's office for a $50,000 grant to aid in the renovations of the county branch library in downtown Sanford.

The county's application for the money, which was set aside by the Legislature for library construction or renovations for Seminole County a year ago, is expected to be approved and forwarded to the county in the next 30-60 days, Commission Chairman Bob Sturm said today.

Actual construction is expected to begin in late September or early October, Sturm said. He said after receipt of the funds, an architect will be selected to prepare plans for the renovations and then bids will be let for the construction.

The majority of the commissioners Tuesday opted for renovations to the 1917-vintage building at a cost of $110,000 to $140,000.

The former U.S. Post Office building serving as library is leased to the county under a long-term arrangement with the city of Sanford.

The commissioners considered several options for renovations and expansion of the facility ranging from renovations alone at $110,000 to renovations and expansion by building a two-story facility on a lot adjacent to the 64-year-old structure at a cost of $762,000.

The options were contained in a special study done by the Altamonte Springs architectural and engineering firm of Greenleaf-Telesca. That study was turned over to the county on Monday and discussed during a work-shop Monday afternoon. Cost of the study was $5,000.

Commissioner Robert G. Feather voted against spending any additional county money on the library service now.

He said he prefers to wait until voters decide in a future referendum whether they want more county money spent on libraries. He said considering the other priorities for county funding, library service is a "frill."

Commissioners Sandra Glenn and Bill Kirchhoff said their preference was to renovate the current facility and to construct a two-story building on an adjacent lot, owned by the city of Sanford, but offered to the county at no cost.

Kirchhoff and Mrs. Glenn said they felt the best course with the adjacent building would be to build a two-story building but to provide interior finishing for only one of the floors.

Neither believed the second floor space is necessary now and neither was sure that administrative office space, warehousing and binding operations for library books should be located in Sanford. But, both said constructing the building now would save money when the building does need expansion.

Kirchhoff said such a plan removes the necessity of removing a roof to expand a one-story building later to two-floors.

Asked if any county money would be available for a $400,000 project — renovation and construction of the additional building — Eleanor Anderson, management and budget director, said the county has $50,000 set aside for library capital reserves. This money is to be used to match the state grant.

In addition, she said, the county has another $142,000 set aside for capital improvements and none of this money is currently designated for other projects. She said the county also has some $118,000 in federal revenue sharing funds which are unspent.

Ms. Anderson, cautioned, however, if the county uses this fund for library construction the county will have to abide by rules which can be expensive — such as a requirement to pay union wages to persons used in the construction work.

Kirchhoff argued against the idea a Sanford library should be in a more central location. He said another study shows that library patrons from all over Sanford, Lake Mary and from as far away as Geneva and Oviedo use the Sanford library at its current location.

Kirchhoff said it would be more cost effective to expand the current downtown library than to build a new one in another location. He and Mrs. Glenn said the city of Sanford and the citizens of Sanford had indicated strongly they wanted the facility to stay downtown.

"The people of Sanford have given a lot of support," Mrs. Glenn said. "The people have indicated what they want done."

Winter Springs Manager 'Outstanding'

By BRITT SMITH
Herald Staff Writer

Winter Springs City Manager Richard Rozansky got his report card Tuesday night and was rated 'outstanding.' As a reward, the city council gave him a pay raise.

While councilmen gave Rozansky high marks for his overall job performance, what in common terms would amount to a 'B' (he could have received the one higher rating of 'Superior'), they were somewhat hesitant to couple the pat on the back with more money.

Rozansky, who has been the Winter Springs city manager for two years, currently earns $20,000 annually, a sum councilmen Wilfred "Hap" Arnold and Maureen Boyd thought was sufficient.

But council members John Torcaso, Jim Hartman, and Martin Trencher said the city has to keep its salaries competitive with those paid in other similar-sized municipalities in order to attract and retain competent employees. They went along with Mayor Troy Piland's recommendation that Rozansky be given a $1,500 merit increase and a 10 percent cost-of-living raise.

Even with the extra money, Trencher said Rozansky will still be underpaid, noting that the average salary paid city managers in cities the size of Winter Springs is $25,000 a year.

Also Tuesday, the council gave unanimous final approval to rezoning changes for three separate parcels of land from a rural or residential classification to commercial.

Tax Deadline Is Midnight

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Americans have until midnight to file their 1980 income tax returns or face the possibility of being assessed a penalty by the Internal Revenue Service.

Any taxpayer unable to file a return by the deadline may have a 90-day extension for the asking, but it is not exactly a free ride. They must file Form 4068, estimate their tax bills and pay today.

The extension is for filing out the return, not for paying the tax.

WORLD IN BRIEF

Polish Officials Retreat From Rationing Statement

WARSAW, Poland (UPI) — Polish authorities said today an announcement of drastic food rationing was premature and the Solidarity union labeled the move a government retreat in the face of labor opposition.

One day after the official news agency announced emergency rationing of butter, flour, rice and other cereals starting May 1, a spokesman for the government said the "information spread by the mass media was a simple misunderstanding" and had not yet been approved.

In Moscow, the Soviet media criticized the Polish situation for a third straight day, singling out Solidarity as a force of instability. It was the most concerted attack since Soviet President Leonid Brezhnev indicated last week Poland would be left to solve its own problems.

Solidarity had issued a communique from its headquarters in Gdanek after the PAP announcement complaining bitterly that the rationing was announced without consultation. The rationing is the first since World War II.

"Maybe they tried to surprise us, thinking that if Solidarity does not react, then that means they agree to it," a Solidarity spokesman said. "We issued our communique to all regional union branches and that is probably why the government changed its mind like that."

Coke Invades Mainland China

PEKING (UPI) — The guest raised red paper cups of Coca-Cola today to mark the opening of the American soft drink's first bottling plant in the People's Republic of China.

"To Sino-American friendship," the toasts rang out. The American guests, including Coca-Cola Chairman of the Board Roberto C. Goizueta and Charge d'Affaires J. Stapleton Roy, downed the Coke with gusto — straight from the 6½-ounce bottle.

The Chinese, still strangers to the American soft drink, took cautious sips.

"It's okay," said one food official. "Not bad," another Chinese remarked politely.

Despite the potential market of 1 billion people in China, the 48 million bottles of Coke that the plant is capable of producing yearly will initially be sold almost exclusively to foreign visitors.

Suicide Helper Charged

LONDON (UPI) — A court charged a member of the voluntary euthanasia society EXIT with murder for helping a 90-year-old woman commit suicide by giving her brandy and sleeping pills and putting a plastic bag over her head.

Prosecutor Roy Amlot said Tuesday EXIT member Mark Lyons, along with the group's Secretary General Nicholas James Reed, also faced charges of aiding and counseling suicides or conspiring to do so in the deaths of eight other people.

Amlot said Lyons was charged with killing Isabella Ward, 90, by giving her brandy and sleeping pills and then putting a plastic bag over her head.

Reed allegedly referred Mrs. Ward and eight other suicides to Lyons, who, often using false names, used his "suicide kit" to help them take their own lives, officials said.

No Hassles For Recruits

But Can Marginal Soldiers Win Wars?

By TOM TIEDE
(Last of Two Parts)

U.S. Army recruits today are guaranteed seven hours of sleep a night, and spit-shined boots are no longer necessary. Knee bends have been dropped from the physical training activity, and the men may wear moccasins. The recruits are even allowed pastiches to "facilitate the military socialization process."

The Army says it does not want basic training to discourage trainees. That's why all activity must now be modified, or halted, when outside temperatures get too hot or too cold. One training commander has told his men to treat recruits with the dignity they would give members of their own families.

This means no harassment. No "unnecessary stress." It also means severely limited penalization. Drill sergeants are not allowed to "curse or defame" recruits, or tough them in any way. If a sergeant orders a trainee to do pushups, he must make sure it is not done on rocky or otherwise injurious soil.

And worldwide the sergeant who disciplines Capt. Barlotta says recruits at Fort Jackson once received questionnaires on which to grade their cadres. Basically, the trainees were asked if they liked their drill sergeants, and the answers were then passed on to the training school's commander.

Barlotta says the questionnaire was insane. And others here think that such nonsense destroys authority and moral. "A leader has to be in control," says Drill Sgt. Ricky Gibson, "but we no longer are in this Army. I don't think there is any way we can train good soldiers under these conditions."

So here is the nut of it. The Army may no longer be training good soldiers. The Pentagon insists the average recruit — 5 foot 8, 150 pounds, 11.6 years of schooling and almost 20 years old — is bigger, better educated and more mature than ever before, but, sigh, does he know what he's doing?

Sam Nunn is one who thinks not. He's a U.S. senator from Georgia, a Democrat who says flatly that many people trained in the modern Army are turkeys. He claims almost 35 percent of the people who enter service drop out before completing their enlistments, and many of those who stay in are no prizes either.

Nunn says that the Army's own figures for troop efficiency are "appalling." In 1979, for instance, the results of the Army Skill Qualification tests indicated that 43 percent of those examined failed as combat engineers, 67 percent failed in communications, and 83 percent failed at transportation.

Overall, Army statistics suggest that 45 percent of its recruits are just barely able to pass qualification testing. This means that in recent years, almost half of the basic trainees going into the regular service are marginals, and Sen. Nunn says marginals aren't the people who win wars.

Many officers here agree. One tells of commanding a unit in Europe where "every other troop was out of condition, and most of them lacked some of the skills they needed to fight. I remember with horror that 10 to 20 percent of my men and women did not know how to properly zero their rifles."

Win wars? The latter officer says his European command could not beat an all-elf orchestra. "They just weren't motivated. They wanted higher pay and less work. You had them something on Friday, then you had to repeat it on Monday, because they forgot it over the weekend. Really. It's bad."

He had in fact that the Army may at last be trying to do something about it. Late in 1980 the training and doctrine command added one week to basic training, and ordered more physical testing. Also, the command said training would in the future include more marching, marching and obstacle testing.

But most of the changes will not be made immediately. The Pentagon thinks it will be at least a year before all units can become involved. And anyway, many critics of the system say the changes will not be enough, even when fully implemented, to stay the decline of the Army's rank and file.

Thus Jerry Anderson will likely continue to get angry when he visits the base here. And he adds that he'll pray there is no war. "These people today, they aren't soldiers, they're clowns. Look at them. It makes me nervous. I see the Russian soldiers on television, and there is no comparison."

Capt. Barlotta: "The U.S. soldier has no idea of self sacrifice, national pride or dedication. They do not wear their uniforms properly, they show no respect for public places, and they condone the use of drugs. I submit that these people cannot begin to understand the importance of their profession."

"Like I said," Anderson adds, "it's a mob. They are aimless, they don't have goals, and they don't care about anybody but themselves. I have my old uniform in the attic, and I've always wanted to be buried in it. But not now. It doesn't seem to mean as much anymore. I'm very sad about that."

Because the Army does not want basic training to discourage trainees, all activity must now be modified, or halted, when outside temperatures get too hot or too cold. Capt. Sam Barlotta, who has been in the drilling cadre, says the primary goal of modern recruit training seems to be to avoid hurting anyone's feelings.

World Watches Shuttle's 'Unforgettable' Landing

By United Press International

In the European evening and the middle of the Asian night, the world gathered around television sets to watch a new era in space exploration dawn with the return to Earth of the Columbia space shuttle — "the first covered wagon on a new American frontier."

"Touchdown!" an Italian commentator shouted as Columbia's wheels met the California ground Tuesday. "A stupendous landing. Unforgettable, incredible images. A perfect conclusion."

Most of the world agreed. Live TV coverage was carried across Western Europe and much of Asia. Newspapers splashed their front pages with pictures and headlines hailing America's triumph.

Viewers of the Japan Broadcasting Corporation's "space show" from Edwards Air Force Base at 2:30 a.m. heard a commentator chortle, "The success of space shuttle resembled Lindbergh's first flight across the Atlantic."

Australians saw the Columbia land at 4:20

a.m. and stations ran saturation coverage through the morning peak viewing period, with one Sydney station showing the landing four times in an hour.

"The first covered wagon on a new American frontier," The Australian Sun said of the world's first reusable space ship, "just like the Old West."

In Japan 800 would-be adventurers were so enthused they formed the Society of Shuttle Friends and started saving money to realize their dream of joining a space trip. China's official Chinese news agency Xinhua called the flight a "historic voyage."

The excitement was not completely lost in the East bloc as East Germany reported the landing nine minutes after touchdown, much faster than its usual reporting.

In Western Europe, viewers were given live coverage of the shuttle mission from delayed launch Friday to the return Tuesday.

"Oh, fabulous," a British television commentator cried as Columbia touched down. "Just fabulous."

Baffling Case Closed

Death Ruled Suicide

The case baffled Casselberry police from the very beginning: a classic whodunit.

They had a 26-year-old woman shot to death at her 1501 Carlisle Drive home and no apparent motive. At the time of the shooting, the woman's 71-year-old husband of eight months lay in a hospital bed with a malfunctioning pancreas.

The death weapon — a .32-caliber pistol containing only one cartridge — was discovered under the mattress of the bed where the victim was found by officers who were admitted to the mobile home by a 24-year-old male friend of the dead woman.

In a supreme bit of understatement, Casselberry Police Chief George Karcher described the circumstances surrounding the slaying as "very peculiar." But after nearly four months of probing the Dec. 28 death of Louise Poe, Karcher is closing the case as a suicide. "There is no evidence to suggest foul play," he said today.

There was no suicide note, "but in the face of her own statement — she said something like 'I shot myself,' or 'I did it' — there was nowhere else to go with the case," Karcher said. "It could have been suicide or an accident. We have nothing to prove otherwise."

The decision to close the case did not come easy. Disturbed by the peculiarities of the case — "we still haven't figured out how that gun got under the mattress" — Karcher requested the State Attorney's office enter the investigation in February "to make sure we had left no stone unturned."

"We turned them all over, but nothing crawled out," he said.

INVESTIGATION CONTINUES

Police are continuing their probe into the shooting death of a 76-year-old Lake Mary man who was found on his living room floor with a bullet wound in the head.

14. David Higginbotham said Lake Mary police have been unable to find any apparent motive for the slaying, adding that there were no signs of forced entry to the house.

Dead is George H. Armbruster of 756 Sun Drive whose body was discovered about 5 p.m. last Tuesday by his wife. Armbruster's .22-caliber pistol was found under his body.

BEEFY HEIST

The Arby's restaurant at Interstate 4 and State Road 434 in Longwood was broken into early Monday and robbed of $900. Seminole County sheriff's deputies said the bandit(s) entered the restaurant after cutting a lock on the drive-through window.

Once inside, they pried open the office safe and stole an estimated $900 cash.

Thunderstorms pelted the Southwest from Texas to Arizona and Utah. At midday Tuesday, the mercury fell to 27 degrees at Sault Ste. Marie, Mich.

Richard Kleindienst Indicted For Perjury

PHOENIX, Ariz. (UPI) — Former U.S. Attorney General Richard Kleindienst, who resigned at the height of the Watergate scandal, was indicted on 14 counts of perjury for statements he made to a Bar Association committee investigating his dealings with a convicted racketeer.

Kleindienst, former President Richard Nixon's law enforcement chief for 14 months until May 1974, could be sentenced to up to 14 years in prison on each of 14 felony counts handed down Tuesday by a Maricopa County grand jury.

In 1974, Kleindienst became the first federal attorney general to plead guilty to criminal charges for giving false testimony to a Senate committee investigating an International Telephone & Telegraph payoff scandal.

The indictment Tuesday alleged Kleindienst lied in appearances before state bar committees investigating his ties with a convicted racketeer.

Atlanta Officials Ired

ATLANTA (UPI) — FBI Director William Webster's remarks at a Washington press lunch on the investigation into Atlanta's 23 child murders have incurred the wrath of the police, the mayor and the City Council, who viewed them as an "attack on the credibility of our government."

As a small crowd gathered Tuesday to bury Larry Rogers — the 23rd victim and second consecutive mentally retarded black youth slain, Mayor Maynard Jackson fired off an angry letter to Webster.

The FBI director's remarks the day before seemed to indicate the FBI had "substantially solved" three or four of the killings — each an isolated case. It was not reported, however, Webster and investigators in Atlanta have been saying that for months.

Agent Backs Webster

ATLANTA (UPI)—Four of the 23 Atlanta black children found slain were killed by their parents because they were "nuisances," an FBI agent claimed Tuesday night.

Agent Mike Twibell told a Macon, Ga., civic club that his boss, FBI Director William Webster, was correct Monday when he said there were suspects in four of the slayings. Twibell said some of the children were from broken homes and that their slayings were domestic killings.

Miner's Reject Offers

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The nationwide strike by 160,000 soft coal miners, now in its 20th day, is expected to drag on without progress until at least Friday.

After five hours of new negotiations Tuesday, United Mine Workers President Sam Church Jr. said industry officials "rejected everything we gave them."

"There's been no progress," said chief industry negotiator Bobby R. Brown, president of Consolidation Coal Co. The two sides agreed to return to the bargaining table, but not until Friday.

Bradley Wins Again

LOS ANGELES (UPI)— Mayor Tom Bradley won a landslide victory Tuesday to a third term as chief executive of Los Angeles and moved into an excellent position for a possible race next year to become the nation's first black elected governor.

Defeating former Mayor Sam Yorty by a 2-1 margin, Bradley, one of the nation's highest ranking black officials, became the first mayor in Los Angeles history to win a third term without being forced into a run-off election.

Hostage Workshops

WHITE SULPHUR SPRINGS, W. Va. (UPI) — America's publicity-shy former hostages enjoyed horseback and tennis at their reunion at the posh Greenbrier Hotel but on today's agenda are workshops about such possible legacies of their ordeal as marital stress.

Workshops dealing with such subjects as marital stress and encountering another hostage crisis were planned for today.

FLORIDA IN BRIEF

Prison Escapees Are Gunned Down

ZEPHYRHILLS, (UPI) — A dash for freedom took one inmate just a few feet from the 10-foot-high fence of the Zephyrhills Correctional Institution and another about a quarter of a mile, prison officials say.

Guards with shotguns downed both Wayne Emory, 28, and Vincent Figley, 22, as they tried to flee Tuesday night. Both were treated at the Dade City Community Hospital, a hospital spokeswoman said.

Vernon Bradford, Florida prisons system spokesman in Tallahassee, said the men made a run for the chain-link fence, topped by barbed wire, while walking in the prison yard after dinner.

Another Robbery

MIAMI (UPI)— Another Briton fell victim to Miami's crime Tuesday while area tourism officials worried about losing 360,000 British tourists this year because of four assaults this month on British tourists.

In the attack Tuesday afternoon in the restroom of a beachfront park, Neville Ash, 40, of Wembley-Middlesex, England was robbed at knifepoint.

Police say a young white man walked up behind Ash and said "Ok buddy I have a knife in your back — give up your wallet — I'll not hesitate to kill you." Ash surrendered an undetermined amount of cash and the assailant fled.

Casselberry Approves $50-Per-Day Race Track Tax

By SYBIL MITCHELL GANDY
Herald Staff Writer

Casselberry City Council voted unanimously Monday night to impose a $50-a-day tax on the Seminole Greyhound Park as expected, but continued the maximum building height controversy at least until May 4.

A motion which supports lowering the city's building height ordinance from 100 feet to 35 feet, would have obviously passed with a majority vote from Councilman Frank Schutte, Tom Embree, and John Leighty.

But a minor technicality in the language of the amended ordinance prevented its formal adoption. City Attorney Kenneth McIntosh will rewrite the document and submit it for vote at the council's regularly scheduled meeting on May 10.

Mayor Owen Sheppard, who has adamantly opposed the amended ordinance, said he expects passage in formal vote whenever it is put before council.

"I'm not in favor of building high-rise

Rampaging Rodents

ORLANDO, (UPI) — Hungry rodents are ignoring poison and invading new residential neighborhoods a few months ahead of their usual August invasion in search of fruit, dog food and other food.

Royce Roberson, director of the Division of Pest Control in Orlando, said Tuesday the rats are ignoring poison left by Orange County Health Department workers and have ventured into the neighborhoods in Orlando and Winter Park.

"The freeze earlier this year played havoc with the fruit," Roberson said. "It destroyed the early and mid-season fruit that the rats love."

One Court To Another

TALLAHASSEE, (UPI) — Attorneys for 120 prisoners facing execution in Florida hope to get the U.S. Supreme Court to chastise the state Supreme Court for its review of capital cases.

A coalition of 84 lawyers, including some of the country's leading opponents of capital punishment, couldn't convince the state court it violated the U.S. Constitution by reviewing confidential reports on the inmates when deciding whether to uphold their convictions and death sentences.

Wrongful Death Bill

TALLAHASSEE, (UPI) — The Senate has sent the House a liberalized wrongful-death bill and warned that it won't accept too much tampering with it.

The wrongful-death bill SB 150 by Sen. Paul Steinberg, D-Miami Beach, would allow relatives of a person killed in an accident to file suit even if they were not financially dependent on the victim. It would also raise from 21 to 25 the maximum age for parents to sue for the loss of a daughter or son.

condominiums in Casselberry, but I am opposed to lowering the maximum building height to 35 feet. Such action closes our options in looking at other projects that may be beneficial to us in the future," Sheppard said.

Joined by council members Bill Grier and James Lavigne in denouncing the proposed amendment, Sheppard denies favoring construction of the 100-ft. condominium structures proposed by Bonair.

In the last few weeks, the Casselberry building height ordinance has become a major issue with city officials since they rejected the Bonair building project.

With the unanimous adoption of the $50-a-day tax on the Seminole Greyhound Park, the general fund will collect $50 per racing day from the track effective on the scheduled opening, Monday, May 4.

Council acted on a Florida statute that gives any city or municipality in the state the right to impose a tax on racing facilities within their boundaries. Tax on dog racing "is not to exceed $150," according to the ordinance.

Natural Mom Turns Him Down

Leukemia Patient Needs Bone Marrow

MIAMI (UPI) — Maria Pinon is 16 and James George is 33, and both must have a bonemarrow transplant from a blood relative if they are to conquer their leukemia.

The difference is, Maria's sister is willing to be her donor, and businessmen in Tampa have come up with the money to pay for the operation. But George — an orphan given up for adoption by his unwed mother — cannot find any relatives willing to donate their bone marrow.

George heard from his natural mother Tuesday for the first time in his memory — through a Kansas City judge who forwarded to her affidavits from George's doctors saying his best chance to survive leukemia is a bonemarrow transplant from a genetic relative.

The judge refused to break Missouri law by opening his adoption records, but passed on a message from George asking his mother to let him contact his half-sister, who doctors say would be the most compatible donor.

His mother, in a letter to the judge, said she couldn't cooperate.

"The letter said she had a very difficult decision to make, and had decided not to cooperate because people would be hurt if she did," George said.

"I don't know what to think. It's sort of a combination of understanding that it could be a messy situation, and she could be making what she thought was a correct moral decision. But I don't know the other side of it. I don't know what she thinks is the problem, who would be hurt. I'd like to know, so I could make my own decision."

"I don't want to hurt people, but it's in everybody's hands but my own. It's in the hands of the Missouri Legislature, it's in the hands of the judge, it's in the hands of my mother. But it's my life."

George, a computer systems accountant who lives in Miami Shores with his wife Marilyn and two young sons, said he will now set out to find his father. The problem is he doesn't even know if there is a father listed in his sealed adoption records.

"He could have 18 children with another woman," George said. "They would be half-siblings. If they all say no, than I will start living my life differently."

George's disease is dormant now but could erupt at any time, his doctors have told him — either ravaging his body itself or destroying enough protective white blood cells that some other disease would kill him.

Kick The Iranians Out, Say Florida Legislators

TALLAHASSEE, Fla. (UPI) — Two legislators said today 1,200 to 1,300 Iranians should be kicked out of state colleges and universities to protest the holding of the 53 American hostages in Iran.

Rep. Ted Ewing, R-Sarasota, and Sen. Dick Langley, R-Clermont, said they have introduced bills banning Iranians from public educational institutions.

The proposal (HB 935) would force between 1,200 and 1,300 Iranians to drop out of state colleges and universities, Ewing said. He doesn't know how many Iranian children are attending public schools, but doesn't believe the number is high.

"We see no reason why the taxpayers should continue to underwrite and pay for the education of students from a nation that has treated American citizens in such a shameful manner," the two men said in a statement.

"Many of us endured the disgraceful treatment of American hostages in silent anger, knowing full well that this Iranian action against American citizens ... was, in fact, symbolic of their hostile feelings toward all of us as Americans, and our nation."

The proposal no doubt will face substantial opposition in the Legislature from lawmakers who don't think it is constitutional. If the bill does become law, it certainly will be challenged in court and probably will withstand the challenge, Ewing said.

"I don't see any reason why the Legislature can't do this. We set policies for education," he said. "It's constitutional until the appropriate court says it is not."

The proposal probably should be worded so that Iranians who have fled their country and want to become American citizens can attend public educational institutions, according to Ewing.

"I'm sure some provision could be made for a genuine refugee. It is not our intent to ban genuine refugees, people who don't want to go back."

Thousands of Cuban and Haitian refugees have fled to Florida in recent months, straining already overcrowded public schools. Gov. Bob Graham and other officials are complaining bitterly about the federal government's failure to provide money to help Florida handle the refugee influx.

Joy Mixed With Sadness

NEW YORK (UPI) — The staff of the Charlotte (N.C.) Observer celebrated their 1981 Pulitzer Prize for meritorious public service with champagne and cheers but Thelma D. Toole, the mother of the fiction award winner, marked the moment with bittersweet memories of her dead son John.

"This is just exquisite and at the same time I am experiencing a great deal of despair and sadness," Mrs. Toole, 79, said.

Her son, New Orleans-born John Kennedy Toole, committed suicide in 1969 at 32 — 11 years before publication of his Pulitzer-winning comic novel, "A Confederacy of Dunces."

"He yearned for recognition," Mrs. Toole said. "He killed himself when he couldn't get it published. He was so distraught."

The Charlotte Observer won the 1981 Pulitzer Prize gold medal Monday for its series on the failure of government and industry to fight "brownlung" disease in the nation's textile mills.

Three awards went to newspapers owned by the Knight-Ridder organization — the Observer, the Miami Herald and the Detroit Free Press — and two went to The New York Times. The 1981 prizes won by Times staffers John M. Crewdson for national reporting and Dave Anderson for commentary, bring the total number of Pulitzers won by The New York Times to 48.

Winning teams gathered in their newsrooms for champagne celebrations and at the Observer, after speeches and cheers, a belly dancer performed in the city room.

In New Orleans, however, Mrs. Toole quietly recalled how she took her son's manuscript to publisher after publisher — all of whom rejected it.

"I tried eight publishers and died each time they returned it to me because I believed in it. And I thought to myself, 'These stupid publishers,'" she said.

Finally she got novelist Walker Percy to read it. Percy persuaded the Louisiana State University Press to publish it in 1980.

Critics have since called it a "rollicking, foot-stomping wonder" and "a masterpiece of comedy."

Two reporters from the Arizona Daily Star in Tucson

— Clark Hallas and Robert B. Lowe — were selected from a record field of 159 entries for a Pulitzer for investigative (special local) reporting. The pair uncovered irregularities in the University of Arizona Athletic Department that led to the resignation of the head football coach and his indictment on 88 felony counts stemming from an airline ticket fraud.

Detroit Free Press photographer Taro Yamasaki, 35, won the feature photography award for a series of pictures taken over a 10-day period at the state prison in Jackson, Mich. Shirley Christian of the Miami Herald won the Pulitzer for international reporting for her dispatches from Central America. The Longview (Wash.) Daily News won the award for distinguished local reporting for its coverage of the eruption of the Mt. St. Helens volcano.

Mike Peters of the Dayton (Ohio) Daily News was awarded the Pulitzer for editorial cartooning. In the criticism category, Jonathan Yardley of the Washington Star won for his book reviews.

In feature writing, Janet Cooke of the Washington Post won for the story about an 8-year-old heroin addict.

In arts and letters, winners were:

—Drama, Beth Henley for "Crimes of the Heart."
 —History, Lawrence Cremin for "American Education: The National Experience, 1783-1876."
 —Biography, Robert K. Massie for "Peter the Great: His Life and World."
 —Poetry, James Schuyler for "The Morning of the Poem."
 —General non-fiction, Carl E. Schorske for "Fin de Siecle Vienna: Politics and Culture."

For the first time since 1935, the Pulitzer board did not give an award for editorial writing and for the first time since 1965, no award was given for music.

Job Reading Books And A Pulitzer, Too

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Washington Star book editor Johnathan Yardley says he's lucky to be getting paid to read books and it's doubly nice that he won a Pulitzer Prize as well.

When notified of his selection Monday for a Pulitzer in criticism, Yardley said, "It's fabulous."

Yardley has been a book reviewer for 16 years and said, "I guess I'm one of those few people who gets paid to do what I want to do. As a friend of mine who's in the same business once said, 'It's quite extraordinary to be paid to read books.'"

Yardley said his greatest pleasure in reviewing is finding new writers, "discovering people who are good and helping them gain recognition through my writing."

The author of "Ring: Biography of Ring Lardner," Yardley said he is now in the early stages of preparing a biography of H.L. Mencken. His area of special interest and expertise is contemporary American fiction, "more narrowly southern fiction. But as a book editor on a general circulation newspaper, I have to touch base on a lot of different writers and styles."

Yardley said he drifted into criticism while working as an editor on the Greensboro Daily News in North Carolina. He later was a book critic for the Miami Herald before coming to the Star 2 1/2 years ago.

Yardley said he may buy some furniture for his front porch with the $1,000 dollar prize that accompanies the award.

Back In Business

PEOPLE IN BRIEF

Jacqueline Kennedy Onassis 'Queen Of Decadence'

By GLENNE CURRIE
Jacqueline Kennedy Onassis has been named New York's "Queen of Decadence," by Shop Magazine. Publisher Nick Monjo's tongue-in-cheek, 10-most-decadent list also includes Lauren Bacall, Regine and Florida Vanderbilt.

Martha Raye A Rag Doll?

Martha Raye is being mentioned as a possibility for the leading role in a new Broadway musical. The show is "Rag Dolls," — what the fashion world calls runway models — by Chris Anderson and Sharon McGeehan. The main character is a model agency boss named Rosalind Rosenberg. They're talking about a $1.5 million production for Broadway in the fall with Joel Grey directing and Oleg Cassini designing the costumes for the fashion show within the show.

Tribute To Stanwyck

The Film Society of Lincoln Center held a special $125-a-head gala benefit Monday night to mark Barbara Stanwyck's 50 years in show business. Miss Stanwyck, now 73 and living in semi-retirement, made 85 films in a career that began in 1930. She caught a couple of Broadway shows while in New York for the Avery Fisher Hall benefit, also attended by her old friend William Holden.

Miss Stanwyck never remarried after divorcing Robert Taylor in 1950. But she says, "Sing no sad songs Stanwyck. Whatever I had, it worked, didn't it?"

Most Respected Women

Nancy Reagan, Margaret Thatcher and Mother Theresa were among the "10 Most Influential Women in 1980," reports a poll of 1,500 members of the University of Southern California Panhellenic Council.

The USC students also placed on their list Los Angeles Rams owner Georgia Frontiere, actress Goldie Hawn, Princess Grace of Monaco, former Congresswoman Barbara Jordan, psychologist Irene Kassorla, Imelda Staunton of the Philippines and actress Barbra Streisand.

"They share one thing in common," says Erin O'Brien, president of the group representing all USC sororities. "All are trendsetters whose activities present women with new options."

New Stars Born — In Space

Shuttle astronauts John W. Young and Robert L. Crippen became hot television stars this weekend — choosing to transmit their space premiere from all places, a spot more than 170 miles above Hollywood. As the Columbia passed the California coast and whizzed by Hollywood at 17,500 miles an hour, shuttle pilot Crippen turned on his TV camera Sunday.

Millions of earth-bound viewers were treated to a spectacular view of the shuttle's flight deck, with sun pouring in the windows.

Superstars Dance Together

Ballet superstars Mikhail Baryshnikov and Rudolf Nureyev danced in the same ballet for the first time Tuesday evening. They were joined by Hermione Gingold and Gwen Verdon. The occasion was a gala performance at New York's City Center to benefit the Paul Taylor Dance Company.

The two Russians have danced previously in works by fellow choreographer Taylor, but this was the first time they've appeared in the same ballet. It was Taylor's comic "From Sea to Shining Sea," which has opportunities for guests whether they can dance or not. Ticket prices for City Center's 3,817 seats were $18 to $50, plus another $100 for anyone wanting to join the stars at a party afterwards.

Hero Describes Feat

Secret Service agent Timothy McCarthy said he moved in front of President Reagan when the president was shot March 30 in a "kind of mindless reaction I had been trained for ... I reacted to the sound where the shots were coming from. I knew we were being fired upon and, I was pretty sure, by one person," says the nine-year Secret Service veteran. McCarthy was shot in the stomach and fell to the ground.

He says he didn't lose consciousness until he was anesthetized at George Washington Hospital before surgery to remove the bullet that passed through his liver.

'Titanic' Worth Gigantic

Millionaire Texas oilman Jack Grimm has even more reason now to mount his search for the ill-fated Titanic. The only piece of china to be removed from the giant ship before it sank on that "Night to Remember" in 1912 is valued at about $30,000. But the small saucer was stolen in Los Angeles over the weekend during an annual remembrance of the disaster.

Grimm, however, thinks more Titanic artifacts will be found from the ship's watery grave in the icy North Atlantic. He has already sunk $1.25 million to finance efforts by a team of crack oceanographers to locate and photograph the ship. He says he hopes his quest will be achieved this summer and said the recovered artifacts alone should repay the costs.

The Name's The Thing

Latest movie to start shooting in Hollywood, with Donald Pleasance as star, is "Hollywood II." It's being produced by Pumpkin Pie Productions. Does Limousine know about this?

Quote Of The Day

Joe Kerwin, a physician who spent 28 days in space aboard Skylab, says in Omni magazine of the space shuttle Columbia: "I think of the shuttle as a railroad, but we sorely need a station at the other end."

Jerry Lewis Is 'Hardly Working'

By DAVID HANDLER
NEW YORK (NEA) — The signs are all there. His hotel suite is hopping, crammed with assistants, cases of photo equipment, sound equipment, jars of jelly beans, dishes of hard candy and the French cigarettes he chain-smokes, novelty lighters, a mammoth electric typewriter, piles of stationary. Tom Snyder is calling. The dog is barking.

Jerry's back. Fresh from an audience with the president of the United States — his eighth. After a 10-year absence from the big screen, an admitted addiction to prescription drugs, a busted marriage, bankruptcy — Jerry's back. Decked out in a black silk monogrammed shirt, black slacks, black boots, slick black hair and pancake make-up — Jerry Lewis at age 56 is back in business.

"Hardly Working," the film he directed and starred in for a Florida combine and released last year in Europe, is being distributed here by 20th Century Fox now. In June, he starts filming "The King of Comedy," director Martin Scorsese's new film in which he co-stars with Robert De Niro. The big time.

Not that Jerry Lewis would tell you that he's ever been anywhere but on top of the heap. Not that he'd ever tell you that sharing the screen with Dean Martin had anything to do with that string of box office winners in the 1960s. Or that the string of critical and financial flops Lewis wrote, starred in and directed after he established his solo career had anything to do with self-indulgence. Or that his career for the past 10 years has been confined to nightclubs, talk shows and his annual muscular dystrophy telethon.

But he knows he's been out of circulation. "Hardly Working," a low-budget comedy about an unemployed clown who finds true love and happiness in the U.S. Postal Service, opens with a five-minute compilation of his funniest bits from his old films — "The Bellboy," "The Errand Boy," "Cinderella," "Who's Minding the Store," "The Palay." Quick bits of the young Jerry, the hyperactive burrhead, the innocent moron, the kid who could spend 10 minutes trying to get out of a pullover sweater and keep you howling with laughter the whole time.

"It's very important to re-establish Jerry after a 10-year absence," he explains into the tape recorder. His tape recorder. He has every interview he's ever given on tape — some 25,000 cassettes, along with an archive of 15 million feet of film, every newspaper story, every photograph. "Jerry has to come on correct right away. I also figured I've got a lot of young people out there who don't know that fella. So I established his demeanor fast. And the circus is right for him. Any time I can create Jerry in a clown setting it works. He'll excel.

"I have a great love for clowns. There's a sadness that pervades their lives. I've studied that whole world. We actually know so little about it. The Barnum and Bailey clowns once let me make up with them and go on with them. It was a great honor. I appeared in front of 75,000 people and they didn't know who I was." Lewis made another film about a clown in 1972, the last film he made before "Hardly Working." It's called "The Day the Clown Died." He says: "It's about a concentration camp in World War II and children. I play a has-been clown who's 78 years old. It's the proudest work I've ever done."

The film was never released. "It's still sitting in Sweden. I'm not alone. Bergman has two films stuck on the shelf there, Godard has one too. "I wanted to release 'Hardly Working' over there first to pay them back for being my fans," he says. "They've sustained my cinematic career in Europe.

Jerry Lewis in "Hardly Working," a low-budget comedy about an unemployed clown who finds true love and happiness in the U.S. Postal Service. "I have a great love for clowns. There's a sadness that pervades their lives ... we actually know so little about it."

'...More Fun Than Just Hiding Eggs'

MARKSVILLE, La. (UPI) — While the rest of the nation dyes gaily colored Easter eggs and readies jelly bean trails leading to baskets of chocolate bunnies, French-speaking Avoyelles Parish prepares for Easter by laying bets of $100 and more on the annual eggknock.

Thousands will gather around the Marksville courthouse square Easter Sunday morning to "knock eggs," a tradition traced back to their French ancestors.

Once an Easter morning ceremony for children in the home, egg-knocking has gone big time in organized contests with stiff competition, wagering and prizes for adults.

"It's more fun than just hiding eggs," said Brent Scallan, organizer for this year's knock. "We're like kids again. I wouldn't miss one if I had to."

The idea of egg knocking is to find a chicken egg hard enough to survive a knock from a competitor's egg without cracking. The pastel-colored eggs are boiled and knocked point-to-point until the weaker one cracks.

At the contest in Marksville, Scallan said three rounds of 50 contestants each will knock-off Easter morning until a winner is found in each group. Then the three finalists knock for first, second and third prizes.

Contests also are scheduled for a knock-off of guinea eggs — smaller and harder than chicken eggs — and a match for children.

Forgotten People Helped To Survive Without Preaching

By DAVE SCHWEISBERG

DETROIT (UPI) — The forgotten people line up in the late afternoon amid the dingy shadows of industry, awaiting the man whose free beans and bread will help them survive another week.

The men wear ragged overcoats and stubbled beards. The women, some with children in tow, wear stained kerchiefs and anguished expressions.

They wait each Saturday on a corner in a rundown factory neighborhood of Detroit, clutching dog-eared bags and boxes. They are unnoticed by most passers-by and quickly forgotten by everyone else.

Everyone, that is, except the man they know only as Tom. Tom always remembers.

He shows up every Saturday, as he has for the past six years, to hand them perhaps their only good fortune of the week — food, free of charge with no sermons.

"I used to eat at the mission, but I couldn't stand all that religion stuff," said a wizened woman who is a regular at the corner. "But Tom don't put us through that. He just gives us our food."

"I don't know if I could make a go of it without him."

The Good Samaritan is Clarence M. Dunkle, 76, a World War II veteran and retired steelworker who likes to be called just "Tom."

"I used to just help the alcoholics, help them get something to eat now and then or find a place to sleep, oh, maybe 20 or 30 years ago," Dunkle recalled. "But it really became an obsession. Once I started, I had to keep at it."

With classic humility, Dunkle dislikes discussing himself. And when he does, he is deliberately contradictory.

He believes in Christ, but does not call himself a Christian. He is a fervent Bible reader, but shuns organized religion. He will not admit to being "born again," but describes an Epiphany he experienced years ago as a "mind resurrection."

He allows he served in the artillery in Europe during the war, and toiled in a Great Lakes Steel mill for 39 years until he retired in 1971.

But then he retreats. "The Good Book says you should give to the man that asks without hoping to receive," Dunkle explained. "It isn't that I'm a wealthy person, but I have enough to get by. And this gives me peace of mind."

What brings the people doesn't matter much to Dunkle. Some drink too much, others work too little, but most are just down on their luck.

"If they'll stand in the cold for what little I can give them, they've got to be hungry," he said.

Raider third baseman Vince Riva (13) goes high in the air to snatch a throw from catcher Jimmy Mee. Valencia loaded the bases, but could only score once as second baseman Bob Parker gunned a runner down from short right field to complete a double play.

Parker Chop Scores Two In 8th

"I guess we don't start playing until the eighth inning."

Once again, Jack Pantelias' Seminole Community College's baseball crew felt out its prey before delivering the knockout blow in the eighth round. A three run rally helped the Raiders to their 16th TKO in their last 18 bouts as they dumped Valencia 6-4 at home Tuesday afternoon.

The win marks the 11th division victory in a row for SCC, who is now the number one contender in the division for the title. The Raiders have already earned a slot in the state JuCo tourney in a couple of weeks.

"I'm really proud of 'em; they've fought back all year," said winning trainer Pantelias whose fighters have knocked out 21 opponents in 36 outings including Valencia three out of four. "I felt like we'd beat 'em if we'd stay close."

The Raiders were even on the scorecard until the seventh when Matador first baseman Larry Hernandez answered reliever Steve Birchmeier's fastball by lining it off the scoreboard over the right field fence for a solo home run and a 4-3 Valencia edge.

Seminole catcher Jim Mee answered the bell for the eighth round by drilling a curve into left field for a single off loser John Fawbush.

Mee moved to second on an infield out before designated hitter Tom Clarke tied the game with an RBI single to left-center.

Pinch hitter Mike Ripa sent Fawbush to the showers with a single, and right-fielder Jim Melland greeted reliever Jack Dietrich with an infield hit to load the bases for lead-off hitter Bob Parker.

Parker chopped a one hopper to second base, but the speedy redhead forced Valencia shortstop Jeff Keith to throw the ball away trying to turn a double play scoring pinch runner Loren Levy and Ripa with the winning runs.

"We almost threw the game away," Pantelias said afterwards. "It's not like us to throw the ball around the way we did today."

inching when Mee moved Scott Matthews into scoring position when his pickoff attempt sailed into right field. A two-out single up the middle by catcher Ron Bunnell gave Valencia an early 1-0 lead.

SCC answered in the bottom of the inning when Mee led off with a walk before Clarke belted a two-run homer over the left field fence.

With two on and no one out in the Matador sixth, Mee pounded on a sacrifice attempt in front of the plate but his throw to third was high loading the bases. Keith tied the game for Valencia with an RBI fielders choice, but Birchmeier came on in relief of starter Kevin Smith and shut down the rally.

Clarke's two-hit, three-RBI day led the SCC attack. Melland and third baseman Vince Riva each had two hits in four trips while Hernandez and leftfielder Jim Opie had a pair of hits each for Valencia.

Triple I Sinks Flagship To Forge 3-Way Deadlock

Triple I.I.I. Trucking pounded Flagship Bank 16-6 Tuesday night, and in the process threw the race for first place in the Sanford Little American League into a three-way tie.

Atlantic Bank topped Butch's Chevron 8-4 and Seminole Petroleum ripped Jack Prosser Ford 5-2 in other Tuesday games.

Triple I.I.I. Trucking, Atlantic Bank and Seminole Petroleum are all 3-1, while Flagship Bank is 3-2.

In today's action in the Sanford Little American League, Sanford D.A.V. plays the Railroaders at 5 p.m. at Fort Mellon Park, while Cardinal Industries plays Sunland Corporation at the same time at Westside Field. Poppa Jay's plays Clem Leonard Shell at 7 p.m. at Fort Mellon Park.

After falling behind 3-0, Triple I.I.I. scored three runs on three hits in the bottom of the second to tie the score. Flagship Bank bounced right back with three runs in the top of the third, but the Truckers charged into the lead with a four-run third inning.

Triple I.I.I. then pushed seven runs across the plate in the fourth while winning pitcher Mike Edwards blanked Flagship the rest of the way.

Edwards and Keith Denton led the winners with three hits apiece and they each hit safely in the second, third and fourth frames. Denton finished the game with a home run and double and Edwards had a double.

Anthony Davis pounded a pair of doubles for the losers.

Clay Hickman pitched no-hit ball for the first four innings against Butch's Chevron, while he and his teammates were piling up eight runs.

The Butch's Chevron bats finally came alive in the last two frames, but the four hits was too little, too late. Three of the four hits were for extra bases.

Hickman, who finished with a dozen strikeouts, also paced his team at the plate with a home run and single.

Steve Warren homered for Butch's Chevron, while teammates Ronnie Hayes and Gary Derr legged out triples.

Seminole Petroleum broke open a close game with three runs in the top of the fourth and edged winless Jack Prosser Ford behind the hitting of Tommy Mitchell and Rodolfo Orsini. Both had a single and double.

Marvin Killingsworth was the winning pitcher, with relief help from Mitchell. They climbed for 12 strikeouts, including five by Mitchell in the last two innings.

In tonight's other game, Rotary and Elks tangle at 7 p.m. Regardless of which team ends up in the tie with Kiwanis, it won't last for long. Kiwanis plays Moose at 5 p.m. Friday and then meets Knights of Columbus at 7 p.m. Monday.

Louis Punch Brought Blacks, Whites Together

NEW YORK (UPI) — As long as I live, and as long as I can still remember, I'll never forget how one young man turned an entire city upside down and brought blacks and whites completely together in less than three minutes.

Joe Louis, only 24 at the time, managed this remarkable accomplishment on June 22, 1938, by knocking out Germany's Max Schmeling in 2:04 of the first round at Yankee Stadium.

Television was practically unknown then. Everybody listened to the fight on the radio.

Louis was defending a lot more than merely his world heavyweight title; he was, in a sense, defending the national honor as well as his own. Hitler was on the march in Germany and Schmeling, quite possibly unfairly, had been portrayed as a Nazi sympathizer. All the ingredients were there, especially since Schmeling had put the only stain on Louis' record by kayling him in 12 rounds two years before.

"I came to find out Schmeling was a pretty decent fellow," Louis would say later, "but that second fight with him was the biggest kick I ever got out of the ring."

Referee Arthur Donovan had hardly signified the fight was over when people throughout New York City began celebrating. It looked like New Year's Eve in Times Square, and Harlem went absolutely crazy. I was only 18 when that happened but I still remember all the joy and delight that spilled over into the city's streets.

It all came back to me on Sunday when I heard Joe Louis had died of a heart attack in Las Vegas at 88. One of the things I thought about was what an uncommonly generous and giving person Louis was.

Milton Richman

UPI Sports Writer

Louis was an easy mark everywhere he went. I recall interviewing him once years ago backstage in Harlem's old Apollo theater where he was making a one-week appearance. There was a knock on his dressing room door. When he opened it and saw who was standing there, he went into his pocket and fished out a bill without a word.

"The guy is a moocher," a friend of his in the dressing room grumbled to Louis. "He keeps coming around every day and you never turned him down."

"That's OK," Joe shrugged it off. "I started out givin' 'im 10 and now I got him down to five."

He simply didn't know how to say no. Freddie Sommers, a boxing publicist and one of Louis' closest friends, arranged to have Schmeling visit this country to referee some bouts in 1934. It was Schmeling's first trip back here since Louis had flattened him 18 years before.

Seeking to effect a reconciliation, Sommers brought the former German champion to Louis' home in Chicago. When Louis who had been out playing golf, returned, Sommers got up to greet him and inform him Schmeling was in the living room.

"I don't wanna talk to him," Louis said. "Get rid of him."

"Joe, the war is over," Sommers reminded him.

Two minutes later, Louis was shaking hands with Schmeling and making arrangements for a big dinner together in a Chicago restaurant to celebrate Max's visit after all those years. They were good friends at the end.

Few people I ever met in sports were more honest than Louis.

He had his opinion of the modern day fighters but generally kept it to himself and rarely downgraded any of them. The best fighter he ever saw, he told me, was Henry Armstrong, who won three different titles, and he also said Jack Dempsey was his idol.

Louis thought Muhammad Ali was an outstanding fighter. I don't think he thought Ali was better than he was, and having seen them both, I know I would pick Joe Louis.

One of the saddest sights I ever saw in connection with Louis was the way he was knocked out by Rocky Marciano in 1951 when he was 37. He was just a punching bag for the tough-fisted 28-year-old Marciano and shouldn't have even been in the same ring with him.

"Of all my fights, that one gave me the least pleasure," Marciano told me.

Louis had not complained of feeling poorly before his death last Sunday. On the contrary, he seemed to be doing well after having had a pacemaker implanted four months ago. So well, in fact, that Sommers, dropping by his house in Las Vegas a week or so ago, had said to him:

"Champ, you look so good, when are you gonna make a comeback?"

Sitting in his wheelchair, Joe flashed that familiar smile of his, the one he used when he didn't want to let anyone know what he was really thinking.

Rockets Launch 3-2 Series Edge

Mighty Mite Murphy Dusts Off Spurs

By United Press International
Calvin Murphy who skeptics said would be drummed out of the league in a few years on being selected on the second round of the 1970 NBA draft, scored 36 points to lead the Houston Rockets to a 123-117 victory over San Antonio Tuesday night.

All-Star center Moses Malone added 34 and the Rockets now have a 3-2 lead in the Western Conference playoff. Murphy, 32, the smallest and oldest man on the court, gave a dazzling performance, hitting 16 shots from the floor and 4-of-4 from the free throw line, where he shattered Rick Barry's consecutive streak earlier in the season.

Murphy, who sports a 20-point career average in post-season play, credited his teammates for giving him shooting space. "They set such great picks for me tonight," Murphy said. "We stopped their fast break and George Gervin's not getting 30 points does not hurt at all."

Houston dominated the final three quarters despite a sellout crowd of 16,114 at San Antonio's HemisFair Arena. Rookie forward Reggie Johnson kept the Spurs close, hitting 25 points, but Gervin, the league's third-leading scorer, was held to 23. Mark Olberding added 21 for San Antonio.

Murphy, who has never played for a championship team in 10 previous pro seasons, earned the respect of San Antonio Coach Stan Albeck.

"He had his rhythm and he's a tremendous pro," Albeck said.

In the other Western Conference semifinal, the Kansas City Kings can eliminate the Pacific Division champion Phoenix Suns with a victory in Phoenix Wednesday night.

The Kings finished the regular season under .500 and their 3-1 lead in the series is even more startling considering Kansas City is playing without its starting guards, Otis Birdsong and Phil Ford.

In the East, the Atlantic Division champion Boston Celtics, having rudely dispatched the Chicago Bulls in four straight, await the winner of the Milwaukee-Philadelphia brawl. The 76ers and the Midwest Division champion Bucks are tied 2-2.

Reynolds Stocks Lake Mary Pond

By SAMCOOK
Herald Sports Editor

"Everybody's going to have to sing and dance the first year."

The fiddler calling that tune is Lake Mary High School Principal Don Reynolds, whose job it is to stock the Lake Mary staff pond.

Reynolds' problem is, he has a large, complete school with just 900-1000 students, but must offer a complete curriculum of activities.

The Lake Mary staff will be made up of 24 teachers for its initial year.

Twenty-one of those instructors will come from Lake Brantley (11), Seminole-Crooms (five) and Lyman (five).

Because of the transfer of students, the teacher reduction at those three high schools is Lake Brantley (15), and Seminole-Crooms and Lyman five each.

With the smallness of the staff nobody's going to do just one thing," said Reynolds. They'll have to sponsor clubs or coach a sport or two.

"It presents a problem of getting everything done. We've got 13 or 14 sports to cover. That's over half the faculty coaching a sport," pointed out Reynolds.

Thus far, to stock the pond, Reynolds has shown an inclination to lead toward younger coaches who have not had the opportunity to coach at a varsity level.

Roger Beathard (33), Willie Richardson (34), Don Smith (34), Cindy Henry (25) and Mike Gibson (31) were appointed to coach football, basketball, baseball, girls sports and track and cross country respectively.

"I really don't have a philosophy as far as age goes," countered Reynolds when queried on the staff similarity. "If Roger (Beathard) had been 25 or 80, I'd have given him the shot."

Reynolds likes coaches who have put in their time or paid their dues at the junior varsity level. He doesn't feel its necessary to hire a veteran varsity coach.

"Everybody's got to have a shot at it sometime," said the personable principal. "These people have earned their shot."

"I've had coaches that have got out and wanted to come back. They've had their shot, let someone else have one.

"It would be very, very disheartening to work real hard, do a tremendous job and not get a chance to be a head coach because you'd never been one before," concluded Reynolds.

Beathard served under Reynolds at Seminole for eight years. Smith worked as a junior varsity coach at Lyman for nine years.

Richardson served his apprenticeship at Lake Brantley as JV boys basketball coach for five years and girls varsity coach one year. Gibson was at Lake Brantley since its inception and built a solid track and cross country program.

Henry has been at Lyman for three years. She has coached girls volleyball, softball and basketball.

Lake Mary will have a 10-game freshman and sophomore football schedule next year.

"We'll play a junior varsity schedule against the county schools the first year," informed Reynolds.

The Rams will play small 3A and 2A schools the next year and "hopefully" move into the Five Star Conference when the school has all four classes.

Reynolds does not feel this situation will hamper his selections. "We've got a lot of excellent teachers in Seminole County," said Reynolds. "We've been flooded with applications.

Once Reynolds receives an application, a negotiating process begins with the county principals.

"Another principal might say, 'Don, if you take this guy, you're going to kill me,'" said Reynolds about the negotiating. "I'll have to reconsider if another principal can't afford to lose a teacher.

"It's kind of like a chess game, but a number of good people have applied, so I'm not worried about getting good people," insisted Reynolds.

Valenzuela Victimizes Giants On 4 Hits

Berenyi Plate Leaves Padres Famished

Los Angeles Dodgers' Rookie Fernando Valenzuela continued his fine spring work by beating the San Francisco Giants 1-1 Tuesday. The young left-hander is 2-0 for the year and has been a solid replacement for Don Sutton who opted for free agency and signed with the Houston Astros.

By United Press International
Bruce Berenyi found the plate Tuesday night — and sent the San Diego Padres home famished.

Cincinnati's young righthander, whose only question mark was control, tossed a masterful two-hit shutout in helping the Reds to a 4-0 triumph in San Diego. He struck out four and walked four, yielding only a line single by Terry Kennedy to open the third and a seventh-inning infield hit by Luis Salazar.

One frustrated observer, who knows a little about hitting himself, thought the Reds have themselves a true phenomenon.

"Based on what I saw, barring injury, he's got a helluva future in baseball," said San Diego Manager Frank Howard. "Overall I'd say it's about as fine a pitched ballgame as you're likely to see."

"In the past, control's been my problem," Berenyi said. "I feel I have the stuff to get these batters out if I can get it over the plate."

The Reds struck early with three runs in the first inning off loser John Curtis, 0-1 as Dave Concepcion hit a two-run double and Ron Oester clipped in with an RBI single. George Foster's second homer of the season made it 4-0 in the third inning.

Astros 8, Braves 2
Joe Niekro, continuing his role as stopper, tossed a seven-hitter to lead the Astros to their initial 1981 victory in five games. He also knocked in two runs with a single in winning his first game in two starts. Bob Walk, making his Atlanta debut, absorbed the loss. Dodgers 7, Giants 1

Rookie left-hander Fernando Valenzuela pitched a four-hitter and Giant-killer Ron Cey drove in three runs with a double and a sacrifice fly, enabling the Dodgers to extend their winning streak to five games. Vida Blue, 0-1, took the loss.

Fisk, Luzinski Support Socks

With the likes of Carlton Fisk, Greg Luzinski and Ron LeFlore in the lineup, the Chicago White Sox are expected to be one of the stronger offensive teams in the American League this season and Tuesday they demonstrated their potential.

Sparked by Fisk's grand slam, a two-run single by Luzinski and three hits by LeFlore, the White Sox hammered the Milwaukee Brewers, 9-3, before a Comiskey Park home-opening crowd of 51,560.

Tigers 6, Royals 5

Rick Peters' opposite-field single scored Lou Whitaker from second base in the ninth inning to give the Tigers their victory and spoil the Royals' home opener.

Indians 7, Rangers 1

Cook Of The Week

Working Mom: 'I Find It Hard To Cook'

By JANE AKERS
Herald Correspondent

"As a working mother, I find it hard to cook. There just aren't enough hours in the day," says Pat Shaver. "I have to plan and schedule in order to provide good meals for my family."

This is the era of working women—who have husbands, children, and interests of their own. Pat Shaver is no exception.

Pat and David Shaver have a 15-month-old son, Geoffry, both work and both have interests and hobbies of their own.

Like most young women, Pat keeps herself busy. She is employed by Seminole County where she is secretary to the county librarian. Pat is a member of Theta Epsilon Chapter of Beta Sigma Phi sorority where she is vice-president elect.

As a member of the First Presbyterian Church of Sanford, she is kindergarten Sunday school teacher. Her hobbies are plants, sewing and family.

Pat does a lot of meal preparation ahead of time. "I set things out I need for breakfast the night before," says Pat.

When possible, she says she prepares meats and vegetables in the morning and places them in the refrigerator. After work, she just slide them into the oven. The crock pot is a great way to prepare a meat and main vegetables while at work, Pat says.

"David usually gets home before I do," admits Pat. "So he sets the table and gets things started."

When two people work, it takes team work. "David and I like to enjoy ourselves, hobbies and each other. If we work together we have more time for the things we enjoy and love, especially Geoffry."

Pat suggests the following recipes and most can be prepared ahead of time.

LASAGNA

1 lb. ground beef
Small onion
Salt, pepper
2 cup Ragu sauce with meat
6 oz. can tomato paste
1 carton (1 lb.) ricotta cheese
1 lb. sliced Mozzarella cheese
Parmesan cheese
Lasagna noodles
Brown beef with chopped onion, salt and pepper. Mix Ragu, tomato paste and ricotta cheese with meat and simmer until hot. Meanwhile: cook ½ lb. lasagna noodles. When ingredients are hot, grease 9x13 pan. Reserve 1 cup Ragu. Add in layers — noodles, sauce with meat, thin slices Mozzarella cheese. Repeat until all ingredients are finished. Pour 1 cup Ragu over cheese and sprinkle with parmesan cheese. Bake at 350 degrees for 25-30 minutes.

BARBECUED SPARERIBS

Place 3 lbs. spare ribs in baking pan. Bake 350 degrees for 30 minutes. Pour off fat. Meanwhile, combine 1 cup tomato sauce, ¼ cup vinegar, ¼ cup Worcester sauce, ¼ cup brown sugar, 2 tsp. salt, and 1 tsp. celery seed. Baste spare ribs with half of sauce. Bake 1 hour uncovered. Turn, baste with rest of sauce and continue baking 30-45 minutes or until tender.

'Curry' Leftover Pork, Apples

All cuts of pork are reasonable buys. But, what does one do with leftover pork?

Turn it into a very special curried pork with apples. To do this you'll need merely a cup of cubed, cooked pork.

Combine this with apple wedges, green beans and cream of chicken soup, plus seasonings for a special dish to serve with rice. Add such condiments as toasted coconut, chopped pepper and sliced green onions to pass.

For a light dessert, serve fresh fruit and almond cookies.

CURRIED PORK WITH APPLES

½ cup sliced onion
¼ cup diagonally sliced celery
1 tablespoon curry powder
2 tablespoons butter or margarine
1 can (10½ ounces) condensed cream of chicken soup
½ cup water
1 cup apple wedges
1 cup cooked cut green beans
1 cup cubed cooked pork
1 teaspoon lemon juice
Cooked rice
In saucepan, cook onion and celery with curry in butter until tender. Add remaining ingredients except rice. Heat; stir occasionally. Serve over rice. 4 servings.

Pat Shaver prepares Black Bottom Pie.

MACARONI BAKE

¼ cup chopped onion
2 tablespoons margarine
1 can tomato soup
½ cup water
1 cup shredded cheese
2 cups cooked macaroni
2 tablespoons butter
Bread crumbs
In pan, cook onion until tender. Stir in soup, water ¾ cup cheese. Heat until cheese melts. In qt. casserole, mix sauce and macaroni. Top with bread crumbs and rest of cheese.

Curried Pork

COCONUT LEMON BARS

4 tablespoons butter
2 tablespoons lemon juice
4 tablespoons shortening
½ teaspoon salt
½ cup brown sugar
1 cup coconut
1 cup sifted flour
1 cup nut meats, chopped
2 eggs
½ cup raisins
1 cup brown sugar
Mix butter, shortening, ½ cup brown sugar. When well blended, add flour and blend into crumbs. Sprinkle over 9x13 pan, pressing evenly. Bake 350 degrees for 10 minutes. Cool. Then spread with topping made by combining remaining ingredients. Bake 25 minutes longer until topping is set.

APPLESAUCE CAKE

1 cup unsweetened applesauce
1 teaspoon soda stirred in applesauce
1 teaspoon cinnamon
1¼ cup flour
½ cup butter
1 cup raisins
1 cup sugar
2 eggs
Mix. Bake at 350 degrees for 1 hour.

BLACK BOTTOM PIE

Crust:
1 cup vanilla wafer crumbs
6 teaspoons melted butter
Blend together. Line 9" pie plate. Bake 300 degrees 10 minutes, then chill.

Chocolate Layer:
2½ teaspoon Knox gelatin
1 1-3rd cup milk
2 tablespoons cold water
3 egg yolks
½ cup granulated sugar
1½ square bitter chocolate
2½ tablespoons cornstarch
¾ teaspoon vanilla
salt
Sprinkle gelatin on cold water and let soften 5 minutes. Scald milk in double boiler. Beat egg yolks lightly, stir in sugar, cornstarch, salt. Slowly stir in milk. Return to double boiler, cook, stirring over hot, not boiling water until custard coats spoon. Remove from heat, add gelatin and stir until dissolved. Melt chocolate, remove from heat. Stir in slowly half of the custard, add vanilla. Beat until smooth. Cool until little custard drops from spoon mounds. Pour into crust. Chill.

RUM CUSTARD LAYER

3 egg whites
¼ cup granulated sugar cream of Tartar
2½ teaspoons rum
Beat eggs with cream of tartar until moist peaks are formed. Add sugar gradually. Beat until stiff. Carefully fold in rest of custard and rum. Pour on chocolate as much as will hold. Chill. Add rest of rum custard. Top with shaved bitter chocolate.

WIDOW AWARDED
'MAN OF YEAR'

It's not everyday that a pretty lady receives a "Man Of The Year" award. But Vincent Butler, president of the Lake Mary Chamber of Commerce makes this presentation to Mrs. Shirley Ripp in honor of her late husband, Ronald R. Rippe Sr. Mr. Rippe, a retired fire department lieutenant from the New Orleans area, is the immediate past president of the Lake Mary CC. In making the posthumous award Butler said Mr. Rippe earned the award for his "outstanding work in the chamber of commerce. He was a very dedicated man for the chamber and we all appreciate what he did."

Gigolo Service More Than Dance Partner

DEAR ABBY: I'm curious. How many hundreds of letters have you received from gigolos protesting your hurting their business by telling folks that gigolos do not provide sexual services?

FRED M. IN HONOLULU
DEAR FRED: None so far. But I've heard from plenty of readers who hastened to advise me that I was wrong. Read on.

DEAR MS. VAN BUREN: I was amazed to read your reply to JUST WONDERING, the 15-year-old girl who asked why a gigolo wasn't considered the same as a hooker. In fact, they are quite similar. The Random House Dictionary of the English Language describes a gigolo as follows:

"1) a man living off the earnings or gifts of a woman, esp. a younger man supported by an older woman in return for his sexual attention and companionship; 2) a male professional dancing partner or escort."

While a gigolo might be defined as the latter, as you informed JUST WONDERING, the former definition is far more prevalent. I feel that a 15-year-old should be told the entire definition, as I believe that a gigolo is just another name for a male prostitute.

INFORMED IN HOUSTON
DEAR ABBY: You missed it with IRKED, who is irked when a child answers the phone and keeps saying, "Who is this?"

People who place calls and do not have the sense or courtesy to say "This is so-

Dear Abby

and-so calling" are the ones who irk me!

IRKED IN PALO ALTO
DEAR IRKED: Let's hear it from the East Coast:

DEAR ABBY: IRKED IN EDEN, N.C., complained about people who let their youngsters answer the phone when all they say is, "Who is this?"

When that happens to me, I always say, "This is Santa Claus!"

That always brings a grownup to the phone quickly with plenty of commotion.

OTTO IN CLIFTON, N.J.
DEAR ABBY: What is your opinion of a person who helps a man cheat on his wife by carrying messages and acting as a go-between for a couple of back-street lovers?

DISGUSTED
DEAR DISGUSTED: He (or she) probably looks upon it as doing a friend a favor. I'm reminded of something my father used to say: "Never look for an honest person to help you with a crooked deal."

interested in them, as most were from friends and relatives I knew before they were born. Some were from very distinguished people whose literary style was quite wonderful.

GEORGE FROM GEORGIA
DEAR GEORGE: If your children aren't interested in these letters, perhaps their children or grandchildren will one day appreciate them. To burn such letters is to destroy a part of history. Offer them first to someone in your family. If you have no takers, give them to any interested friend.

CONFIDENTIAL TO J. IN WACO, TEXAS: To paraphrase an old Jewish saying, "From constantly rubbing up against a rich man, a poor man will get a hole in his sleeve."

Prescribed Reading

By MEDCO

The Harvard Medical School Health Letter recently reported on several studies which have indicated a potentially dangerous link between alcohol ingestion and the pain and fever-reducing agent commonly used in popular aspirin substitutes. That agent, acetaminophen, and alcohol apparently produce a reaction to each other within the liver which, according to researchers, has the potential of increasing possible hazardous side-effects of the aspirin substitute compound. Research suggests persons consuming large or continuous amounts of alcohol should be cautious to restrict the intake of aspirin substitutes containing acetaminophen. Check with your doctor as to how much restriction is advisable.

Surprise: 'Come As You Are'

About 7 a.m. Saturday, members of the Social Committee of Xi Theta Epsilon Chapter of Beta Sigma Phi in two teams of 2 began ringing door bells of their sisters to gather for a

"come as you are" coffee. When planning the social calendar last August something appropriate for an April Fool's theme seemed in order, according to Ruth Gaines, and the desire to plan a uniquely different social from others held each month during the year.

In the fun-filled April Fool's mood members joined others in a variety of early morning attire, for chatter, laughs, and a buffet of breakfast rolls, orange juice and coffee at the Winter Springs home of Norma Wood.

Ms. Early Morning Xi Theta Epsilon was crowned and presented a gift. The crown of gold foil and the gag gift a small book on appearance. Members voted by paper ballot nomination and a three-way tie was broken by a second balloting.

Everyone had a fun time, Mrs. Gaines said, and understood why the social committee, at the April 1 meeting, indicated the social printed in the Yearbook for April 11, 7 p.m. had been postponed "until probably sometime in May".

Those attending were social chairman Sherry Taack, social committee members Al Kurtz, Ruth Gaines, Norma Wood, members: Tina Bojanowski, Mary Johnson, Linda Dunn, Diane Gazil, Vicki Hall, Linda Morris, Becky Molenaar and Ginny Hagan. Only three members missed the social.

Girl Scouts Honor Adult Volunteers

At its Annual Meeting on April 11, the Citrus Council of Girl Scouts honored three members by presenting them with the highest award given to adults in Girl Scouting.

This award, the Thanks Badge, is given only for recognition of the most outstanding service. It is used to honor adult members of the movement whose service has been so significant that no other award would be appropriate.

This award requires approval of the council's volunteer Board of Directors before presentation. Receiving the award were Harriet Bolin, Deland; Doris McCormick, Winter Park; and Martha Grimes, New Smyrna Beach.

Harriet Bolin is currently an adult Training Coordinator for Volusia-Flagler counties and a member of the DeLand Service Team.

Doris McCormick is presently serving her second term as a member of the council's Board of Directors and chairing the Girl Scout committee working with the Lady Citrus Golf Tournament.

Martha Grimes is currently serving as the council's First Vice-President and is the leader of a Cadette troop in New Smyrna Beach.

Also awarded at this meeting were appreciation pins to Penny Cunningham, Orlando, and Karen Helin, Cocoa. Receiving engraved plaques for service were Sidney Easterling, College Park, and Diane Young, Melbourne.

Chance Meeting With Shaw Led To Play

It was only a chance meeting with George Bernard Shaw, but it changed the course of Jerome Kilty's life.

Kilty, whose play about Shaw, "Dear Liar," starring Jane Alexander and Edward Herrmann airs on PBS tonight, tells it this way.

"During the war, I was a navigator in the U.S. Air Force stationed north of London near Shaw's cottage. Shaw was then near 90 and on a whim one day, a buddy of mine and I bicycled over to his house and knocked on the door. We were told he liked Yanks."

An ancient gentleman with a walking stick and a long white beard, wearing plus-fours and a Norfolk jacket, appeared.

"He took us around back to show off his studio," Kilty remembers. "It was a portable shed on wheels that could be rotated to face the sun as it moved across the sky. It reminded me of a gypsy caravan."

Kilty described the interior as an austere, little cell with a high window. Shaw told the visitors he preferred a window without a view because he hated to be distracted.

Kilty admits he knew little about the famous playwright and critic at the time — "he was someone from another planet" — but he made an impression on the 19-year-old serviceman.

Their meeting was the first in a series of events that led Kilty to write his best known play, "Dear Liar," the story of the correspondence between Shaw and Mrs. Patrick Campbell, the woman he loved and the actress for whom he wrote "Pygmalion," later popularized as "My Fair Lady."

"During the war I met the woman who had smuggled the correspondence between Shaw and Mrs. Pat out of France in a hatbox just days before the German occupation. I thought the letters were very dramatic."

The letters were eventually returned to Mrs. Patrick Campbell's heirs, but in the early '50s, they were published and Kilty got the idea of writing his play.

It took a lengthy court battle, but Kilty was finally given the rights to produce "Dear Liar."

Kilty and his wife performed readings of the work in progress at first. Later he mounted a bigger production of the play at the Studebaker Theater in Chicago.

But when Katharine Cornell read the script, she called Kilty and said, "I've read your play and I'm going to do it." Cornell and Brian Aherne toured in it for one year including a three month run in New York.

Since then "Dear Liar" has played all over the world, including 40 different productions in Russia where it's still in the repertory of the Moscow Art theater.

"In Russia, they say the play illustrates the tragic situations in which we let our artists deteriorate in capitalistic countries," Kilty quips.

This special production of "Dear Liar," made possible by a grant from Hallmark Cards Inc., was produced by David Susskind in conjunction with WGBH-Boston.

Jerome Kilty reviews the script of his play "Dear Liar."

"Dear Liar" is a dramatic adaptation of the intimate, impish, legendary 40-year correspondence between master playwright George Bernard Shaw and celebrated actress Mrs. Patrick Campbell (shown above). Playing the two are Edward Herrman and Jane Alexander (below), renowned for their television portrayal of Eleanor and Franklin Roosevelt.

Easter Is A Time Of Worship, Feasting

Easter is a movable feast and ranks in the Christian world with the celebration of Christmas.

Centuries ago, conflicting calendars (lunar and solar) led to our current problem of when this most holy of times will be observed.

The pagan tradition dictated a festival of spring at the vernal equinox, March 20. The Passover or Jewish Pasch is also celebrated during this season of the year.

And it was during the feast of Passover that Jesus, a Jew, was crucified and rose from the dead.

The Christian calendar does not follow the Jewish calendar. There were ancient disputes over ecclesiastical authority, and we learn that the Christians wanted a Holy Week beginning with Palm Sunday, proceeding to Good Friday and ending on Easter Sunday commemorating the resurrection. Thus, Easter may fall anywhere between March 22 and April 25.

However Christian the worship services may be in churches throughout the world at Eastertide, pagan elements linger. These are a bow to spring and rebirth following the winter months. The bunny rabbit comes to the forefront as a non-religious symbol at Easter representing, from ancient times, fecundity, and eggs "colored like rays of the returning sun" abound.

In many families, the baking of the "hot cross bun" repeats the Christian symbol, the "boon distributed among the faithful," and it would not be Easter without such a bread.

Easter is a time for looking forward. A time of feasting... and one that calls for a gathering of family and friends for a traditional Easter feast, following worship services heralding "Christ is Risen."

MARINATED BEAN SALAD

- 1 package (10 ounces) frozen cut green beans, thawed
- 1 cup canned chick peas, drained
- 1/2 cup thinly sliced sweet red pepper
- 1 small red onion, thinly sliced
- 1/4 cup olive oil
- 1/4 cup cider vinegar
- 1 tablespoon prepared mustard
- 1/2 teaspoon flavor enhancer
- 1/2 teaspoon sugar
- 1/4 teaspoon salt
- 1/4 teaspoon crushed dried mint leaves
- 1/4 teaspoon pepper

In a medium bowl, combine green beans, chick peas, red pepper and onion. In a small bowl or cup, combine oil, vinegar, mustard, flavor enhancer, sugar, salt, mint and pepper; mix well. Pour over vegetables and toss lightly. Cover. Chill 1 hour before serving. This kitchen-tested recipe makes 6 servings.

NO-COOK APPLE RELISH

- 1 tablespoon Dijon-type mustard or seeded mustard
  - 3 tablespoons olive oil
  - 1/4 teaspoon paprika
  - 1/2 teaspoon salt
  - 1 tablespoon sugar, or more to taste
  - Juice of 1 medium (3 ounces) lemon
  - 1 1/2 teaspoons cider vinegar
  - 3 to 4 tart apples, peeled and grated
- Place mustard in a 3-cup mixing bowl. Gradually beat in olive oil with fork or wire whisk. Stir in remaining ingredients. Taste and adjust seasoning.

Refrigerate in a tightly covered container if relish will not be served at one, but bring to room temperature before serving. It will keep at least 2 months in the refrigerator, but the flavor is best when used within 1 month. This kitchen-tested recipe makes about 2 cups, depending on size of apples used.

HERBED OIL AND VINEGAR DRESSING

- 1 cup corn oil
  - 1/4 cup cider vinegar
  - 1 teaspoon salt
  - 1 teaspoon dry mustard
  - 1 teaspoon paprika
  - 1/2 teaspoon dried tarragon leaves
  - Dash pepper
- In small jar with tight fitting lid, place corn oil, vinegar, salt, mustard, paprika, tarragon and pepper. Cover; shake well. Refrigerate.

Shake thoroughly before serving. Serve on assorted salad greens. This kitchen-tested recipe makes 1 1/4 cups.

ASPARAGUS VINAIGRETTE

Follow recipe for Herbed Oil and Vinegar Dressing. Place 1 1/2 pounds fresh asparagus (about 38 stalks), cleaned, cooked in shallow dish. Pour dressing over asparagus. Cover; refrigerate 2 to 3 hours. Remove from dressing and serve on lettuce-lined plates. This kitchen-tested recipe makes 6 servings.

(Note: Recipes may be doubled.)

GLAZED HAM

- 3/4 cup dark corn syrup
- 1/2 cup firmly packed brown sugar
- 1 smoked whole ham (12 to 15 pounds) fully cooked, with bone in

In small bowl, stir together corn syrup and brown sugar. Line large roasting pan with foil. Score ham about 1/2-inch deep. Place ham on rack in prepared pan. Insert meat thermometer in thickest part of ham making sure thermometer does not touch bone. Roast in 325-degree oven 4 to 4 1/2 hours or until internal temperatures reaches 160-degrees. About 30 minutes before ham is done, brush frequently with corn syrup mixture. Serve warm or cold. This kitchen-tested recipe makes about 28 to 34 servings.

(Note: 1 smoked whole cook-before-eating ham (12 to 14 pounds) may be substituted for fully cooked ham. Prepare as above, but roast about 3 1/2 to 4 hours or until internal temperature reaches 140-degrees.

PUFFED POTATO PUDDING

- 3 medium Idaho potatoes
  - 1 teaspoon salt
  - 1/4 cup margarine
  - 1/2 cup minced onion
  - 1/2 cup chicken broth
  - 3 eggs well beaten
  - 1/2 teaspoon salt
  - 1/4 teaspoon pepper
  - 3 tablespoons chopped parsley
- Wash potatoes and cut into squares. (Cut into uniform-size pieces if potatoes vary in size.) Place potatoes in large saucepan with 1-inch cold water. Add salt. Bring to a boil, cover, reduce heat, simmer 20 to 25 minutes until potatoes are tender. Drain; peel potatoes. Meanwhile, in small skillet, melt margarine; saute onion until soft. In large bowl of electric mixer, beat potatoes until they are smooth and free of all lumps. Add chicken broth, eggs, onion, parsley, salt and pepper; mix well. Pour mixture into greased 1 1/2-quart casserole. Bake in 350-degree oven 35 to 40 minutes until top is puffed and lightly browned. This kitchen-tested recipe makes 6 portions.

HERB VEGETABLE BAKE

- 1 package (10 ounces) frozen artichoke hearts
- 1 cup thinly sliced carrots
- 1 cup small whole mushrooms
- 1 cup very small white onions
- 1 cup thinly sliced zucchini
- Herb and Lemon Sauce

Parmesan Crumb Topping

In small amount of boiling water, separately cook and drain artichoke hearts, carrots, mushrooms and onions. In 1 1/2-quart casserole, toss together cooked vegetables and zucchini. Pour Herb and Lemon Sauce over vegetables. Sprinkle with Parmesan Crumb Topping. Bake, uncovered, in 350-degree oven 30 minutes or until zucchini is tender. This kitchen-tested recipe makes 4 servings.

HERB AND LEMON SAUCE: In small saucepan, gradually stir 1 cup milk into 1 tablespoon corn starch until smooth. Add 2 tablespoons margarine, 1/4 teaspoon salt, 1/4 teaspoon pepper. Stirring constantly, bring to boil over medium heat and boil 1 minute. Remove from heat. Stir in 2 tablespoons lemon juice, 1 teaspoon dried dill and 1 tablespoon chopped parsley. This kitchen-tested recipe makes 1 1/3-cups sauce.

PARMESAN CRUMB TOPPING: In small bowl, stir together 1/2 cup soft bread crumbs, 2 tablespoons chopped fresh parsley, 2 tablespoons grated Parmesan cheese and 1 tablespoon melted margarine. This kitchen-tested recipe makes about 2-3rd cup.

Low Sodium Dish High In Taste Appeal

Table salt, chemically sodium chloride, is about 40 percent sodium. While it plays an active role in many important physiological functions, many health professionals believe Americans consume far too much sodium.

In the past year, the U.S. Department of Agriculture and the U.S. Department of Health and Human Services issued joint dietary guidelines advising Americans to "avoid too much sodium." The Senate Select Committee on Nutrition and Human Needs proposed a dietary goal of 5 grams of salt per day, the equivalent of 2 grams of sodium. Americans currently consume 8 to 18 grams of salt per day, much greater than the physiological need.

Cutting down on our sodium consumption does not mean that our diet will become bland and lifeless. Judicious use of spices, herbs and other low-sodium ingredients means that we can keep the sparkle in our meals.

The Cashew Chicken recipe suggested here is a good example of a low-sodium dish that is high in taste appeal. Dry roasted unsalted cashews add their own distinctive flavor to make Cashew Chicken anything but bland.

CASHEW CHICKEN

Makes 4 servings

- 2 eggs
  - 1/4 cup unsifted flour
  - 1 tablespoon sugar
  - 1 tablespoon water
  - 2 teaspoons dry sherry
  - 2 whole chicken breasts, skinned, boned and divided
  - 1 cup finely chopped dry roasted unsalted cashews
  - 1 cup peanut oil
- Beat eggs slightly. Add flour, sugar, water and dry sherry; beat until smooth.

Dip chicken pieces in egg mixture and then coat with chopped dry roasted unsalted cashews. Place on wax paper. Chicken may be covered and refrigerated until just before serving.

Heat peanut oil in a large skillet over high heat to 375 degrees F. Brown chicken in hot oil for 2 to 3 minutes, or until lightly browned. Drain on paper towels. Transfer to shallow baking pan and bake at 325 degrees F. for 20 to 25 minutes, or until done.

DUCKLING GRECIAN STYLE

- 3 lbs. fresh lemon juice
- 1/2 tsp. ground cumin seed
- 1/2 tsp. salt
- 1/4 tsp. ground black pepper
- 1 Wisconsin duckling 4 to 5 lbs.
- 3 lbs. olive oil
- 12 oz. dry red wine
- 13 oz. long grain rice, uncooked
- 1/2 tsp. coriander
- 1 pkg. frozen peas

Blend lemon juice, cumin, salt and pepper. Brush duckling with mixture. Cover with foil. Leave at room temperature 3 hours, or refrigerate for six. Heat oil. Brown duck rapidly over high heat in Dutch oven. Add wine. Simmer for one hour or until tender. Remove duck and strain stock. Return 1 1/2 pints of liquid to pan and bring to boil. Stir in rice. Return to boil. Reduce heat. Cover. Simmer 20 minutes. Stir in coriander, peas and additional salt and pepper, if desired. Arrange duckling on top of rice. Cover. Return to heat for 10 minutes (to warm duckling through). Serve with green salad and fresh fruit. Serves 4.

Pears team well with skillet chicken.

Bosc Pears Add A Tang To Entree

There are many ways to prepare chicken and it makes an excellent base for a one-skillet dish.

A different lemony chicken is made with Bosc pears added in the last few minutes of cooking. In this way the pears remain crisp-tender and juicy and add a tang to a simple chicken entree.

Make a sauce from the drippings to spoon over the chicken and fruit. Serve with rice or noodles and a green salad. The russet-toned Bosc are an excellent choice for this dish and for baking since they hold their shape well.

LEMON-PEARED CHICKEN SUPREME

- 1 (2 1/2 to 3 pound) chicken fryer, cut up
- 1/2 lemon
- Salt, as needed
- 1/4 cup butter or margarine
- 1/2 teaspoon grated lemon peel
- 1/4 cup sherry (or chicken stock or water)
- 1 Western Bosc pear, cored and sliced
- 1 or 2 teaspoons flour
- 1/4 to one-third cup water
- Paprika, if desired

Rub chicken with lemon, squeezing juice onto chicken; sprinkle with salt to taste. Let stand 15 minutes. In skillet, brown chicken well in butter or margarine. Drain excess fat; pour sherry over chicken. Simmer, covered, 30 to 40 minutes or until chicken is tender; turn once during simmering. Add pear, simmer, covered, 5 to 10 minutes or until pear is cooked but firm. Remove chicken and pear to warm serving platter. Blend flour into drippings; cook until thickened. Add water to desired consistency. Spoon sauce over chicken and pear; sprinkle with paprika, if desired. This kitchen-tested recipe makes 3 or 4 servings.

Set The Passover Table Proudly

Dietary Rules Limit Foods But Not Imagination

The eight-day Passover holidays, which this year begin with sundown April 18 and end April 26, challenge the most creative in Jewish cookery.

This Jewish celebration, commemorating the liberation of the Hebrews from Egyptian slavery more than 3,000 years ago, is unique in its emphasis on the table.

Even with strict dietary rules, some of the most beautiful of Jewish religious ceremonies take place around the dinner meal. This makes times preceding the holidays busy for those planning and preparing the Seder and accompanying meals.

Despite these dietary observances, each Passover table is set proudly with an array of tempting dishes. Many will include the traditional gefilte fish (ground fish), tzimmes and potato kugel or pudding during the lovely Passover gatherings.

SPINACH BORSCHT OR SCHAV

- 1 pound fresh spinach
- 6 cups water

- 1 onion, cut in half
- 1 teaspoon salt
- 3 tablespoons freshly squeezed lemon juice
- 1/4 teaspoon sugar
- 2 eggs, lightly beaten
- 1 cup sour cream (optional dairy)

Suggested Garnishes:

boiled potato, diced hard-cooked-egg, diced-cucumber, sliced scallion, chopped radish
Wash and trim spinach; chop coarsely. In large saucepot or kettle, combine spinach, water, onion and salt. Bring to a boil; simmer 10 minutes. Add lemon juice and sugar; simmer 15 minutes longer. Remove from heat. Remove onion. Add small amount of hot soup to eggs, stirring constantly; return mixture to kettle; mix well. Serve immediately or chill and serve cold. Garnish with sour cream, if a dairy meal, and any or all of the suggested garnishes. This kitchen-tested recipe makes 6 to 8 servings.

ANTIPASTO VERDE

- 2 Granny Smith Apples, unpared, cored, sliced into wedges
- 1 zucchini, unpared, cut into 3-inch strips
- 1 cucumber, sliced
- 2 cups raw broccoli flowerets
- 1 large green pepper, seeded, cut into strips
- 1 small bunch scallions, cut into 3-inch lengths
- 3 ribs celery, cut into 3-inch sticks
- Fresh-parsley sprigs

Arrange apple wedges and vegetables on large serving platter. Garnish with fresh parsley. Serve chilled. This kitchen-tested recipe makes 6 to 8 servings.

SAVORY APPLE CHEESE DIP (Dairy)

- 1 package (8 ounces) cream cheese, softened at room temperature
- 1/2 cup sour cream
- 3 tablespoons minced scallions
- 2 tablespoons minced parsley

2 tablespoons lime juice
1 Granny Smith apple, pared and shredded
Beat cream cheese until fluffy; beat in sour cream, scallions, parsley, lime juice and salt. Fold in shredded apple. Cover. Chill 1 hour before serving. This kitchen-tested recipe makes about 1 1/2 cups dip.

BEEF RELISH

4 medium-size fresh beets
1 cup apple cider vinegar
1/2 cup sugar
1/4 cup chopped onions
2 teaspoons prepared horseradish
1/2 teaspoon salt
Wash beets; cut off tops. Cook beets in boiling, salted water 35 to 40 minutes or until tender. Rinse beets in cold water; peel off skin. Shred beets on coarse grater. You should have about 1 1/2 cups. In a medium saucepan, heat vinegar; add sugar and stir until dissolved. Add onions, shredded beets, horseradish and salt. Boil 10 minutes. Chill thoroughly before serving. This kitchen-tested recipe makes 1 1/2 cups relish.

STUFFED SEDER CHICKEN BREASTS

2 cups small pieces broken matzoh
1/2 cup orange juice
1/4 cup pareve margarine divided
1/2 cup chopped onion
1/2 cup chopped celery
2 eggs, beaten
1/4 cup finely chopped fresh parsley
1/4 teaspoon salt
4 large whole chicken breasts, boned, split
Orange Sauce
Place broken matzoh in large bowl; add orange juice; set aside. In a large skillet, over medium-high heat, melt 2 tablespoons margarine. Sauté onion and celery until tender; add to matzoh mixture.

Add eggs, parsley, and salt, mix well. Place chicken breasts, skin-side-down, between two sheets of waxed paper. Pound until 1/4-inch thick. Place about 1/4 cup matzoh stuffing in center of each breast. Fold sides over and fasten with food picks. Melt remaining 2 tablespoons margarine in same skillet, sauté chicken breasts until lightly brown. Place in shallow baking pan. Cover with aluminum foil. Bake in a 350-degree oven 40 to 45 minutes or until tender. Remove food picks. Serve with Orange Sauce. This kitchen-tested recipe makes 8 servings.

ORANGE SAUCE

2 tablespoons pareve margarine
1-3rd cup chopped onion
1/2 cup orange juice
2 tablespoons potato starch
1 can (13 3/4 ounces) chicken broth
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/4 teaspoon paprika
3 oranges, sectioned
In medium saucepan, melt margarine; sauté onion until tender. Combine orange juice and potato starch, stir into onion mixture. Add chicken broth, salt and paprika. Bring to a boil over medium heat, stirring constantly. Boil 1 minute. Add orange sections. Serve immediately. This kitchen-tested recipe makes about 3 cups.

CARROT SOUFFLE

2 cups lightly packed grated raw carrots
2 tablespoons matzoh meal
1/2 cup sugar
8 eggs, separated
1/2 cup potato starch
Grated rind of 1 orange
3/4 cup orange juice
In a large bowl, mix carrots, matzoh meal, sugar, egg yolks, potato starch, orange rind and juice. In a small bowl, beat egg whites until peaks form that are stiff but not dry. Fold egg whites into carrot mixture. Turn into a well-greased 3-quart casserole and bake, uncovered, in 350-degree oven for 40 minutes, until a knife inserted in center comes out clean. Serve hot or cold. This kitchen-tested recipe makes 6 to 8 servings.

GOLDEN TZIMMES

2 cups sliced carrots
1 cup pared, cubed white potatoes
1 cup peeled, cubed winter squash (butternut, acorn or Hubbard)
1 1/2 cups peeled, cubed sweet potatoes
1-3rd cup frozen concentrated orange juice, thawed, undiluted
1/4 cup honey
1/4 cup water
1/4 cup pareve margarine, melted
1/2 teaspoon ground nutmeg
Dash ground cinnamon
In large saucepan, steam carrots and white potatoes 10 minutes in 2-inches boiling salted water. Add squash and sweet potatoes; steam 10 minutes longer. (Add more water if needed.) Drain vegetables; arrange in a 2-quart casserole. In a small bowl, combine concentrated orange juice, honey, water, margarine, salt, nutmeg and cinnamon; pour over vegetables; mix well. Bake in a 350-degree oven 50 minutes. Baste often with orange mixture during baking. This kitchen-tested recipe makes 6 servings.

SWEET POTATO AND PRUNE TZIMMES (Makes 8 servings)

1 package (12 oz.) pitted dried prunes
2 cups boiling water
3 tablespoons peanut oil
2 pounds lean beef cubes
3/4 cup chopped onion
3 1/2 cups water
1 1/2 teaspoons salt
1/2 teaspoon ground black pepper
1 1/2 pounds medium sweet potatoes, peeled and quartered
1/2 cup honey
2 whole cloves
1/4 teaspoon ground cinnamon
1 tablespoon potato starch
Place prunes in a small bowl. Cover with boiling water; set aside. Heat 2 tablespoons peanut oil in a Dutch oven over medium high heat. Brown beef cubes, in several batches, removing from pot when done. Add remaining oil to pot and sauté onion until tender. Return meat with water, salt and pepper to Dutch oven. Bring mixture to a boil; cover, 1 1/2 hours more, or until meat is tender. Remove 1 cup broth from stew and combine with potato starch until smooth. Return mixture to pot; cook and stir until stew is thickened.

This fresh-as-spring salad won't wilt your budget, either. That's because the main ingredient — eggs — are always an economical protein buy.

If you want to save both time and money, prepare Make-Ahead Dinner Salad tonight... and enjoy it tomorrow!

MAKE-AHEAD DINNER SALAD

- 1 can (11 oz.) mandarin orange segments
- 1 1/2 cups mayonnaise
- 2 teaspoons curry powder
- 1/4 teaspoon ground coriander
- 4 oz. fresh spinach, washed and drained (about 4 cups)
- 8 hard-cooked eggs, sliced
- 1 medium cucumber, peeled, halved lengthwise and sliced 1/2 cup chopped red onion
- 1 can (8 oz.) sliced water chestnuts, drained
- 1 1/4 cups chopped cooked chicken OR 2 cans (5 oz. each) boned chicken, undrained
- 1 package (10 oz.) frozen peas (separated by rapping on counter)

Drain oranges, reserving 2 tablespoons of syrup. Set aside. Blend together mayonnaise, curry powder, coriander and reserved syrup. Set aside. Tear spinach into bite-sized pieces and place in 13 x 9 x 2-inch casserole or serving dish. Reserve 1 center egg slice for garnish. Layer remaining ingredients over spinach, ending with egg layer. Spread reserved mayonnaise mixture evenly over salad and garnish with reserved orange segments and egg slice. Cover and refrigerate several hours or overnight. For each serving, serve a portion of all layers.

To hard-cook, put eggs in single layer in saucepan. Add enough tap water to come at least 1 inch above eggs. Cover and quickly bring just to boiling. Turn off heat. If necessary, remove pan from burner to prevent further boiling. Let eggs stand covered in the hot water 15 to 17 minutes for Large eggs. (Adjust time up or down by about 3 minutes for each size larger or smaller.) Immediately run cold water over eggs or put them in ice water until completely cooled. To remove shell, crackle it by tapping gently all over. Roll egg between hands to loosen shell, then peel, starting at large end. Hold egg under running cold water or dip in bowl of water to help ease off shell. YIELD: 8 servings.

Mushroom Sauce Tops Fish Dishes

"Fish dinners will make a man spring like a flea," went the line of a 17th-century song once dear to Sir Henry Morgan's buccaneers.

The buccaneers were on the right track, because fish protein can make a diner feel energetic. Savoring such homemade delicacies as fish turbans with mushroom celery sauce or fish steaks with mushroom caper sauce may not have you bounding up the Matterhorn immediately, but fish is an important ingredient in a healthful diet.

These are practical dishes since both the fish and the sauces cook quickly. Use fresh or canned mushrooms; in either case they're cooked in a couple of minutes, ready for completing the sauce. If you like, you may add other vegetables such as peas, diced zucchini or diced eggplant. If capers are not readily available in your area, substitute a finely diced sour pickle for that extra tang.

FISH TURBANS WITH MUSHROOM CELERY SAUCE

- 1 pound fresh mushrooms
  - 6 tablespoons butter or margarine, divided
  - 1/4 cup chopped onion
  - 1 cup diced celery
  - 1 can (8 ounces) tomato sauce
  - 1 1/2 teaspoons salt, divided
  - 1/4 teaspoon ground black pepper, divided
  - 1 pound fish fillets
- Rinse, pat dry and slice mushrooms (makes about 5 1/2 cups). In a large skillet, melt 4 tablespoons of the butter. Add onion and celery; saute until tender, about 3 minutes. Add mushrooms; saute until golden about 5 minutes. Add tomato sauce, 1/4 teaspoon of the salt and 1/4 teaspoon of the black pepper. Bring to boiling point; reduce heat and simmer, uncovered, for 5 minutes.

Preheat oven to 350-degrees. Sprinkle fish with remaining 1 teaspoon salt and 1/4 teaspoon black pepper; dot with remaining 2 tablespoons butter. Roll up; secure with toothpicks if necessary. Spoon half of the tomato-mushroom sauce in bottom of a greased 10-by-6-by-2-inch baking pan. Place fish rolls on top; pour remaining sauce over fish. Cover and bake until fish flakes easily when tested with a fork, about 20 minutes. (If a thicker sauce is desired, bake uncovered for last 10 minutes.) Serve with rice and bread sticks. This kitchen-tested recipe makes 6 portions.

MUSHROOM CAPER CAUSE FOR FISH STEAKS

- 1 pound fresh mushrooms
  - 6 individual fish steaks (cod, halibut, etc.)
  - 4 tablespoons butter or margarine, divided
  - 1 1/2 teaspoons salt, divided
  - 1/4 teaspoon ground white pepper
  - About 1 cup milk
  - 3 tablespoons flour
  - 1 tablespoon capers, drained
- Preheat oven to 350-degrees. Rinse, pat dry and slice mushrooms (makes about 5 1/2 cups); set aside. Place fish in a greased 12-by-8-by-2-inch baking pan. Dot with 1 tablespoon of the butter; sprinkle with 1 teaspoon of the salt and the white pepper. Cover and bake until fish flakes easily when tested with a fork, about 30 minutes. Pour fish stock from baking pan into a 2-cup measuring cup. Add enough milk to the fish stock to make 2 cups liquid. Cover fish and keep warm.

In a large saucepan, melt remaining 3 tablespoons butter. Add sliced mushrooms; saute for 3 minutes. Add flour; cook and stir for 1 minute. Blend in fish stock mixture, capers and remaining 1/4 teaspoon salt. Bring to the boiling point. Cook and stir until sauce is thickened, about 1 minute. Pour over fish steaks; serve with lemon wedges, if desired. This kitchen-tested recipe makes 6 portions.

This time-saving salad is a colorful collage of hard-cooked eggs, chicken, a variety of crisp vegetables, Mandarin orange slices and zesty curry dressing.

Create An Edible Wagon For Easter

We all enjoy spring with its special symbols. Daffodils, crocuses and azaleas burst into bloom; Easter bunnies appear everywhere along with new spring wardrobes. Children especially relish a chance to enjoy sweet treats. Here's an edible Easter wagon sculptured from popcorn. We've used the easy pop-in-the-pan kind, then filled it with popcorn, raisins and colored coconut. . . everything is edible and delicious.

EASTER WAGON

- 1 pan (5 oz.) popcorn
- 1 cup sugar
- 1/2 cup corn syrup
- 1/2 cup water
- 1 to 2 tablespoons butter or margarine
- 1 cup dry raisins
- 1 cup dry roasted peanuts
- 1 can (3 1/2 oz.) flaked coconut
- green vegetable dye

Prepare popcorn according to package directions. Save out two popped cups; pour remainder into large bowl or pan. Heat sugar, corn syrup and water in saucepan to 245-degrees - 250-degrees F. or until a drop of syrup forms a hard ball in cold water. Save some syrup for attaching decorations; pour remaining syrup over popcorn and mix thoroughly with two large spoons.

The coated popcorn is now ready to form into a wagon. Grease the insides of a 5"x9" baking pan. Grease hands also. Pack the popcorn around the insides of baking pan to form a 1" thick shell. Form a handle by rolling popcorn into a rope, curving slightly. Allow popcorn to sit for 15 to 20 minutes. Meantime, follow directions on can for coloring coconut. Allow coconut to dry. Remove wagon from baking dish. Attach jelly rings for wheels. Place dyed coconut in bottom to resemble grass. Mix remaining popcorn, raisins and peanuts. Pour over coconut.

Lemon Glaze Tops Banana Cheesecake

Cheesecake, for some reason, is thought of as an Italian delicacy. Actually, it stems from a traditional dish of 17th and 18th century Britain and Ireland. Open tarts were made with pastry filled with a blend of cream, egg yolks, lemon or orange juice or pureed fruit, and were all referred to as "cheesecakes." The homemade version soon gave way to pastry shop versions in later eras. Sound familiar?

Homemade cheesecakes today are made quickly with a shell or crust that is not baked. This version has bananas folded into the body of the cake and bananas used as a topping. The cheesecake is topped with a special lemon glaze.

BANANA CHEESECAKE SUPREME

- 1 cup graham cracker crumbs, divided
- 2-3 cup sugar, divided
- 3 tablespoons butter or margarine, melted
- 2 envelopes unflavored gelatin
- 2 eggs, separated
- 1/2 cup milk
- 2 teaspoons lemon juice
- 1 teaspoon grated lemon rind
- 3 cups (24 ounces) cottage cheese
- 5 medium bananas, divided
- 1 cup heavy cream, whipped
- Combine 3/4 cup cracker crumbs and 2 tablespoons sugar; blend in butter. Press mixture evenly on the bottom of a 9-inch springform pan. Chill.

Mix gelatin and remaining sugar in medium saucepan. Beat together egg yolks and milk; stir into gelatin mixture. Stir over low heat, until gelatin is completely dissolved, about 5 minutes. Remove from heat, stir in lemon juice and rind. Beat cottage cheese on high speed of electric mixer until smooth, 4 to 5 minutes; gradually beat in gelatin mixture. Chill, stirring occasionally, until mixture mounds slightly when dropped from a spoon. Beat egg whites until stiff, but not dry; fold into gelatin mixture. Peel 2 bananas and dice; fold into gelatin mixture. Fold in whipped cream. Pour into prepared pan. Chill until firm, about 3 hours. Remove sides of pan. Press remaining 1/4 cup crumbs around sides of cake.

Peel 3 bananas and cut into slices; dip in Lemon Glaze. Arrange slices in rings on top of cheesecake starting at outside rim of cake and working toward the center. Chill 30 minutes before serving. This kitchen-tested recipe makes 12 servings.

Lemon Glaze

- 1-3 cup lemon juice
- 1/2 cup sugar
- 1 teaspoon cornstarch
- 1/4 cup water
- Combine lemon juice and sugar in medium saucepan, cook over low heat until sugar is dissolved. Mix cornstarch with water; stir into saucepan. Cook, stirring constantly until mixture boils and thickens.

Bananas make cheesecake supreme.

This Cornbread Needs Kneading

There is no mystery involved in turning out loaves of crusty, fragrant bread, just a little time and practice. Once your kitchen takes on the aroma of homemade yeast breads, and after you've sampled that first tender bite, you may never go back to store-bought again.

Basically, yeast breads contain six simple ingredients; yeast makes the dough rise; flour provides the structure; liquids give moistness and a warm environment for dissolving the yeasts; sugar provides food for the yeast to grow; salt slows down the action of the yeast and adds flavor; fats give bread its tenderness, taste and moist texture.

From those basic six ingredients, a whole host of breads can be prepared by simply changing the proportions and type of flour used. Add extra ingredients such as herbs, spices, cheese, nuts, seeds, dried fruit or ripe olives, and the variations are endless.

HEARTY OLIVE CORNBREAD

- 1 1/4 cups very hot water
- 1/4 cup butter or margarine
- 3 tablespoons sugar
- 1 1/2 teaspoon salt
- 1 package active dry yeast
- 1 1/2 cups pitted ripe olives, drained
- 1 4-ounce can chopped green chilies
- 1/2 cup yellow cornmeal
- 4 1/2 to 5 cups all purpose flour
- In large mixing bowl, add hot water to butter, sugar and salt. Stir until butter melts. Let mixture cool to about 110 degrees, then stir in yeast; cover and let rise in warm place until bubbly, about 15 minutes.

Chop olives coarsely. Stir in olives, chilies, yellow cornmeal and enough flour to make a thick dough (about 3 cups). Turn dough onto heavily floured board and knead until dough is smooth and elastic and has lost most of its stickiness (10 to 20 minutes), adding more flour as needed. Shape dough into a ball, place in greased bowl, cover and let rise until double, about 1 1/2 hours.

Punch dough down; knead several times. Shape into two loaves and place each in a greased 9x3-inch pan. cover, let rise in a warm place until almost doubled, about 45 minutes.

Bake in 375 degree oven for 30-35 minutes or until loaves are browned and sound hollow when tapped. Cool on racks before serving or storing. Makes 2 loaves.

Variation: Add 1 cup shredded cheddar cheese to yeast mixture along with olives and chilies.

Irregular Period Common In Teens

DEAR DR. LAMB - My daughter is 16 years old. She has never had sex or been involved with pills. She has had her period since she was 14, but all of a sudden it stopped. She hasn't had it for three months.

My daughter refuses to have any more examinations. Will her periods begin again anyway? What kind of treatment would the doctor give her? I don't want her to get involved with pills as I understand most pills are cancerous.

DEAR READER - There are many reasons for a young woman to stop having menstrual periods. It is common for a girl to be irregular at the beginning of sexual maturity.

You were correct in having an examination. Sometimes a hormone imbalance will cause this. Depending upon the nature of the imbalance, the doctor may want to prescribe some hormones.

I can't say if she needs them. She may not. Many young girls stop menstruating or delay the onset because they are too thin.

Please review The Health Letter number 17-2, Female Reproductive Function, that I am sending you.

Crash diets and unwise fad diets are a frequent problem in young girls these days. I hope you have encouraged your daughter to learn to eat properly and not to have a misconception about the need to be thin.

DEAR DR. LAMB - I have dark circles under my eyes. I understand this results from being thin skinned.

DEAR READER - I get this question rather often. It always makes me wonder. Many women use eyeshadow for makeup, but others are upset if nature gave them a little natural eyeshadow.

The condition can be caused from a thin skin that permits the large amount of bluish venous blood in this area to affect the color.

If hearts and clubs were going to break 3-2, it wouldn't matter which suit South started on.

South led a fourth club. West knew that East held the diamond 10, so West chucked his last diamond.

South made the last three tricks with the ace-king of spades and his fifth club.

Airman's Medal For Heroism Given Former Sanford Man

By SYBIL MITCHELL GANDY
Herald Staff Writer

A former Sanford resident has become the latest hero in Washington after his daring attempt to save a man whose truck had just plunged 50 feet from a bridge into the Potomac River.

And last Tuesday's award ceremony to present Staff Sergeant Peter J. Stankiewicz with the U.S. Air Force Airman's Medal For Heroism was just one in a constant stream of honors and distinctions he's received since the March 17 rescue.

Residents in the nation's capital will long remember how Stankiewicz endangered his own life in an attempt to save Arthur B. Wright, a 56-year-old truck driver.

Stankiewicz was driving to work that morning when a tractor-trailer suddenly jack-knifed through the safety rail of the Cabin John Bridge, sending the cab of the truck and its driver plunging some 50 feet into the Potomac River.

Stankiewicz was near the Great Falls, Va., side of the bridge, going in the opposite direction when he stopped his car and scrambled down the river's embankment, initiating a four-man rescue attempt to save Wright's life. The truck driver was trapped and unconscious in the partially submerged cab. With winds of 28 to 46 miles per hour, Stankiewicz was the first rescuer into the 35-degree water, officials said. Three unidentified motorists who had also stopped on the bridge, followed Stankiewicz down the embankment, and the four worked Wright free of the wreckage in minutes.

But the driver, who was submerged at the time rescuers got to him, never regained consciousness, despite efforts by Stankiewicz and the others to revive him with mouth-to-mouth and cardiopulmonary resuscitation methods. Stankiewicz continued efforts to revive Jackson after the others had given up. He was later admitted to the emergency room of a local hospital to be treated for exposure and exhaustion.

Mr. and Mrs. John Stankiewicz Jr., of 119 Oakland Avenue, Sanford, Peter Stankiewicz's parents, returned Tuesday from the Air Force ceremony in Washington. John Stankiewicz, a retired master chief petty officer of intelligence in the U.S. Navy, was stationed here in Sanford when his son Peter was two years old. As an active member of the Boy Scouts, the Air Force hero learned safety procedures and swimming while still a young boy.

PETER J. STANKIEWICZ

Peter attended All Souls Catholic School in Sanford before his father was transferred to Japan in 1967. Born in Portsmouth, Va., Stankiewicz and his wife Kathleen make their home in Galthersburg, Va.

Calls are still coming in from all over the nation from truck drivers and their families who want to send money to the couple, Stankiewicz's mother said. He is accepting gifts of money for the Wright family, she said. Wright was the father of nine children.

Stankiewicz does photography and photo-processing for Air Force Defense Intelligence.

EGGS OUT COMPETITION

Katherine Williams, 6, of Sanford, proudly displays her first prize for finding more eggs, (32 of 'em) than anyone else in her age group during an Easter egg hunt held for families of Seminole Memorial Hospital employees. Sixty dozen eggs were hidden for the hunt staged for children 1 to 10-years-old. Prizes were given those who found the most eggs or a silver egg and each child received a candy-filled plastic egg. ## 15 Trapped By Explosion

Rescuers Trying To Reach Miners

REDSTONE, Colo. (UPI) — Rescue teams fighting to reach 15 miners trapped more than a mile underground by a violent mountain coal mine explosion were reported making slow progress and were still at least 1,400 feet away from the accident site shortly after dawn today.

The blast, believed caused by methane gas at the MidContinent Resource Inc. Dutch Creek No. 1 Mine, occurred shortly before the end of the day shift late Wednesday afternoon.

Seven other miners walked out or were rescued.

"There really isn't much new to report at this time," said mine accountant Jeff Lyle at 9 a.m. (EST). "The situation is progressing. The last we heard, the rescue teams still were about 1,400 feet away."

Miné officials said the work of the rescue teams had been extremely slow because of the need to restore ventilation as they moved down the tunnel. There have been no signs of life from the missing miners since the explosion, and authorities have refused to speculate on the men's chances.

"They're rotating crews and working their way slowly to the place where the accident occurred," said company spokesman and attorney Bob Delaney. "They're restoring ventilation as they go and that's what is taking so long."

The miners who were able to escape were all closer to the surface when the blast occurred. Three were taken to Valley View Hospital at Glenwood Springs, about 30 miles to the north, where one was in serious condition.

Delaney said there was no apparent cave-in caused by the explosion, but said the main worry for the missing miners — if they survived the blast — was the possibility of asphyxiation by deadly methane or carbon monoxide gas. He said methane is common in mines in the area.

"Those are very gassy mines," Delaney said, explaining the company uses large fans outside the mine to suck gases from the tunnels.

The explosion occurred near the end of the day shift at the mine, which slopes at a 15-degree angle into a low mountain in the scenic Crystal River Valley of western Colorado.

"The most probable cause was methane, but that is something that will have to be ascertained," Delaney said.

David Chiarello, a miner working 4,100 feet inside the tunnel — about 2,000 feet from where the miners were trapped — said the force of the explosion from deep inside the mountain felt like "a little hurricane."

He escaped serious injury and was able to walk out of the mine as well as help bring the first three injured miners to the surface.

"It knocked off my hat, but it didn't knock me over," he said of the explosion. "The first thing I did was try to find out if somebody needed help."

The three men he aided were semi-conscious and "real disoriented" when he found them, he said.

State Can Block Land Development Without Buying Property, Court Says

TALLAHASSEE, Fla. (UPI) — The Florida Supreme Court said today the state can block the development of private land to protect valuable wetlands and prevent water pollution without having to condemn and buy the property.

The court overruled the 1st District Court of Appeal, which ordered the Cabinet to approve the construction of a multibillion-dollar condominium city on a mangrove-wetlands area near Fort Myers or purchase the property.

The justices did order the Cabinet to take another look at the case and tell the developer, Estuary Properties Inc., exactly what it could do to minimize environmental damage and proceed with construction.

Attorney General Jim Smith, during oral arguments before the high court a year ago, called the case one of the most critical ever in its possible impact on efforts by Florida government to protect the environment.

Regulations prohibiting massive dredge and filling operations and other protection measures would become useless if the state had to purchase the land each time they were used, Smith argued.

Opponents of the condominium project compiled substantial and convincing evidence that the development and destruction of about 1,800 acres of black mangroves would pollute the waters of Estero and San Carlos Bays, the court said.

"Once there is sufficient evidence of an adverse impact, it is neither unconstitutional nor unreasonable to require the developer to prove that the proposed curative measures will be adequate," the court said in an opinion written by Justice Parker Lee McDonald.

"Protection of environmentally sensitive areas and pollution prevention are legitimate concerns within the police power (of the state)."

Heathrow On Lake Mary Agenda

It's on the agenda, but there's no guarantee an ordinance to annex the 1,600-acre Heathrow planned unit development will come up for discussion at the Lake Mary City Council meeting tonight.

The matter was set for a vote at the council's March 12 and 26 meetings, but was tabled when City Attorney Gary Massey asked for a delay, but would not publicly reveal his reasons for so doing.

The city lost its initial effort to annex the property when a circuit court ruled the move would create enclaves — pockets of county land surrounded by city property — which are prohibited by state law. That case is under appeal.

The Jeno Paulucci family, principal Heathrow landowners, is also fighting annexation and have threatened suit if the city gives final approval to the annexation ordinance.

Also tonight, the council is scheduled to rearrange the city's water rate structure, a move which could result in slightly higher water bills for some users.

And Seminole County Administrator Roger Neiswender will outline plans for the widening of several roads in and around Lake Mary.

The council will meet at 7:30 p.m. in city hall, 185 E. Crystal Lake Avenue.

Officials Pampering Panda Pair

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Ling-Ling, the National Zoo's female panda, was too tired Wednesday night to meet her London lover, Chia-Chia, so matchmaking zoo officials said they would try to bring the two together today.

Ling-Ling is ready for mating and zoo spokesman Michael Morgan said she may stay in heat for only another 24 hours or so. He said it would be necessary "to make hay while the sun shines."

Morgan said Ling-Ling was too tired

Wednesday to even leave her den, which disappointed zoo officials who hoped the pandas "would pick up where they left off (Tuesday) and maybe get a little farther."

The two growled and cuffed at each other in their first encounter Tuesday.

Chia-Chia was brought over from the London Zoo this spring, because Ling-Ling and her American partner, Hsing-Hsing, had failed to produce a cub after six years of trying.

County Will Make Park Improvements

Construction is to begin immediately on a water plant and two sports fields at Sylvan Lake Park south of W. State Road 46 off Lake Markham Road in the Paola area.

County Commissioners agreed to spend $40,000 in budgeted county funds to build the water plant and the ball fields with the hope that a federal grant will reimburse the county for half the cost.

County Administrator Roger Neiswender said today the work has to begin immediately if the fields are to be in operation by fall. "For the fields to be useable, grass has to be planted and for the grass to grow we had to have available water," Neiswender said, explaining the need for the water plant.

The county administrator said a grant to pay a good portion of the costs of this work and for development of about 90 acres of the 120 acre site as a nature park has been approved by the state already.

"The grant is approvable by the federal authorities, but is currently hung up in the freeze on federal funding in Atlanta," he said.

"Our problem is not knowing whether the freeze will be lifted or when. The county commission had to make a decision whether it wanted to wait and not provide active recreation at Sylvan Lake Park. It decided to move forward," Neiswender said.

"If the federal government won't reimburse for the expenditure, so be it," Neiswender said. — DONNA ESTES

Judiciary Needs Entire Courthouse, Judges Say

By DONNA ESTES
Herald Staff Writer

The entire Seminole County courthouse at Sanford, including the old jail, parking areas and grounds, will be needed exclusively for county and circuit court functions and the offices of the courts' clerk, the state attorney and public defender by October, 1985.

Seven of the county's eight resident county and circuit judges sent to the county commission a resolution citing this need.

In the interim four years the judges are asking the commissioners to hire an architect or planning group to determine whether the space which is available is suitable and adequate for conversion of:

— Existing county commission chambers to a jury trial courtroom with jury room, conference room and two witness rooms.

— Remaining space to a two and possibly three judge suite with chambers, hearing rooms, secretarial rooms, a shared waiting room and offices for court administrative personnel.

The entire east side for the orderly move of the clerk's present personnel and uses from this area to the same or additional areas on the first floor of the north wing. Judicial needs here would be either the law library or domestic relations commissioner's office, the trial clerk's office and official court reporter.

— The area now occupied by the law library, Judge Joe Davis' chambers and the trial clerks' office to an additional jury trial courtroom and judge's suite with chambers, hearing room, secretarial room, waiting room and provisions for receptionist, access, passageways and toilet. Law library to space in the old jail.

— The area in the old jail which was occupied by the kitchen to a grand jury room, offices for court personnel, juvenile coordinator, juvenile secretary, criminal division secretary, juvenile arbitration coordinator, guardian ad litem coordinator.

In the resolution the judges declared the conversion of the entire courthouse to judicial functions and renovations in the interim are "determined to be necessary for the operation of the circuit and county courts of this county."

The judges submitted their recommendations as part of the on-going hearings the county commissioners have been having with various county departments where each department was asked what it believes is a first priority in their area.

The commissioners have taken all the recommendations under advisement, and are to make decisions on whether the items can be budgeted in the 1982 fiscal year.

When construction of the new county courthouse was planned in the mid and late 1960s, an architect said the structure should be adequate for 10 years.

However, construction was delayed while the project was the subject of a lawsuit.

The lawsuit questioned whether Sanford was the legal county seat. In 1971 the lawsuit was resolved with a Florida Supreme Court ruling that Sanford is the county seat and the courthouse had to be built in Sanford.

In December, 1972, county and court offices were moved into the courthouse.

Clerk of the Court Arthur H. Beckwith Jr. pointed out today that two events after the new courthouse opened had devastating results as far as space in the facility was concerned.

First article V of the Florida Constitution went into effect consolidating the court systems into two tiers — circuit and county — placing all responsibility for providing space for the restructured system on county government. Secondly, he said, Seminole's population grew by 115 percent between 1970 and 1980.

Signing the resolution were Circuit Judges Kenneth M. Leffler, chief judge; S. Joseph Davis Jr., Vernon Mize Jr. and Dominick J. Salfi and County Judges Alan Dickey, Wallace Hall and Harold F. Johnson, all resident judges in Seminole. Only Circuit Judge Robert A. McGregor did not sign the resolution.

Leffler said today the need for additional space for court functions has been there for some time. He pointed out that currently new Judge Vernon Mize Jr. has only a hearing room and does not have a chambers.

"When Judge Davis and I determined not to participate in sentence negotiations with criminal defendants, the result was that we were compelled to try more cases. The case load has been building," Judge Leffler said.

"We would like to switch some other judges to trying criminal cases, but we do not have the courtrooms to do this," Leffler said.

Commissioners have discussed moving county administrative operations to the Five Points area.
