FORMAL STEP TO DROP INSURGENTS TAKEN IN SENATE

Action Comes Following Hot
Debate of Five Hours; Democratic Leaders Keep Out;
Stanfield Succeeds Ladd

WASHINGTON, Mar. 10.—Formal approval of the denunciation of the LaFollette insurgents from their rank on the standing committee was given Monday by the senate.

The vote was 64 to 11 and came after five hours' debate, confined largely to the republican side. Democratic leaders interrupted occasionally but mainly to reiterate their desire to keep clear of the row within the republican ranks.

The real test as to whether the majority party was to complete organization of the senate according to a program determined upon immediately after the 1924 elections came on the proposal to remove Senator Ladd of North Dakota, one of the insurgents, from the chairmanship of the public lands committee.

Senator Stanfield of Oregon, the majority candidate, was elected receiving 30 votes to 13 for Ladd and 12 for Senator James (D) New Mexico Senator Wheeler (D) Montana, La Follette's running mate on the independent presidential ticket last November, and Copeland (D) New York, supported Ladd, while Senator Bruce (D) Maryland, voted for Stanfield.

Twenty-five democrats voted present, as did Ladd and Stanfield. The roll call follows:
For Stanfield: Republicans: Bingham, Butler, Cameron, Cummins, Curtis, Dale, Deussen, Dupont, Ernest Fess, Gillett, Guff, Gooding Hale, Harrell, Jones of Washington, Keyes, McKinley McLean, McNary, Means, Metcalf, Moses, Odell, Pepper, Pine Road of Pennsylvania, Sackett, Schall, Shortridge, Smoot, Spencer, Wadsworth, Watson and Willis. Total 35.

Democrats: Bruce, Maryland, Total 36.
For Ladd: Republicans: Borah, Bookhart, Guzman, Fernald, Frazier, Howell, Johnson of California, McMaster, Norbeck and Norris. Total 10.

Democrats: Copeland and Wheeler—2.
Farmer-Labor: Shiptend, 1. Total 13.
For James: Democrats: Bleasie, Hefflin, and Walsh of Montana, total 3.

Senators Ladd and Stanfield voted "present" as did twenty-five democrats. Senator Jones of New Mexico was absent.

Convinced by this roll call that their fight was a losing one, the republican insurgents on the other hand made no further effort to upset the organization program, but some of them did voice their protest at the selection of Senator Watson of Indiana as chairman of the Interstate Commerce committee over Senator La Follette of Wisconsin, who outranked the Indiana senator.

On the roll call on final approval of the committee staffs, republican and democratic, seven republicans, three democrats and the farmer-labor senator, Shiptend, of Minnesota, voted in the negative. The republicans were Borah, Bookhart, Frazier, Howell, Ladd, Norbeck and Norris, and the democrats were Bleasie, Walsh of Montana, and Wheeler.

Coolidge in Accord
WASHINGTON, Mar. 10.—President Coolidge fully supports the action of senate republicans in replacing insurgents on important committee places with regulars and considers the question at issue one of making it possible that his party govern the country.

BORGLUM MUST CONTINUE TASK McLEAN PLEADS

Says That Necessity of Completing Memorial Must Rise Above Partisan Passion; Issues Statement Last Night

Petty Grievances Should Be Buried
Expresses Belief That Georgia People Will Not Allow Work To Stop Because of Dispute

RALEIGH, N. C., Mar. 10.—Declaring that it was his opinion the Stone Mountain memorial to the Confederacy "must" be completed by Gutzon Borglum, Governor Angus W. McLean of North Carolina issued a statement Monday night in which he stated that the necessity of completing the monument "must rise above the partisan passions of the hour."

Lay Aside Petty Grievances
The governor, after asserting that the "face of Lee" looking toward the city of Atlanta will be a constant reminder to the people of Georgia that petty differences should be allowed to thwart the completion of the memorial as it was conceived in the mind of the sculptor, added, "I have faith that the people of Georgia will lay aside the petty controversies and demand that the work shall proceed."

"If it is not completed," declared the North Carolina executive, "the design face of Lee will soon be turned into a face of pity for those who would prevent the carving of his generals and armies which should surround him on Stone Mountain."

Following is the text of Governor McLean's statement:
"Public Opinion to Judge
"Public opinion and a high sense of patriotism will compel that this great memorial be completed; and it is necessary that Gutzon Borglum will complete it."

"The necessity of completing a great work of this kind must rise above the partisan passions of the hour. The face of Lee, as it is it is now completely shrouded now completed, looking toward the city of Atlanta, will be a constant reminder to the people of Georgia that petty differences should be allowed to thwart the completion of the memorial as it was conceived in the mind of the sculptor."

"If it is not completed the benign face of Lee will soon be turned into a face of pity for those who would prevent the carving of his generals and his armies which should surround him on Stone Mountain."

Generations Will Ask
"If it remains in its present uncompleted condition, generations unborn will ask where is Lee's horse? Where is Jackson? Where is Forrest? And where are Lee's legions?"

"Not only the people of the South, but the people of America and the world will inquire why the work was not finished."

"The memorial will be completed and become one of the greatest shines in America. It

Couzens Gives Out Challenge to Action Of Treasury Heads

WASHINGTON, Mar. 10.—Chairman Couzens of the senate committee investigating the internal Revenue Bureau, has challenged a move by the Treasury Department to reopen his 1919 income tax as an attempt to "discipline him because he persisted in endeavoring to eliminate rottenness in government departments."

Disclosure that the department had notified him of its intentions to re-examine tax valuations on a sale to Henry Ford of his minority stock holdings in the Ford Motor Company, was made by the Senator late yesterday after a series of late charges and counter charges following the publication of testimony in committee investigation.

Resumption next Monday of its inquiry into the tax settlements was determined upon today by the senate committee. Couzens said that committee's decision was made without reference to his charge yesterday in senate that the Treasury is seeking to "discipline" him.

The senator said Internal Revenue Commissioner Blair personally had presented to him a written notice that the Treasury intended to re-examine the facts with respect to the tax he had paid on his sale to Henry Ford of his minority holdings in the Ford Motor Co., although the tax had been paid on the basis fixed by the Treasury during the Wilson administration and the matter had been closed for three or four years.

Since the period in which action may be taken under the statute of limitation expires next Friday, the Senator was asked to sign a waiver of limitation, but he announced he had declined to do so. Secretary Mellon subsequently announced that the tax he had paid on his sale to Henry Ford, "it will probably be necessary to make an arbitrary assessment," which will serve to hold open the case.

ETHICAL CODE IS ADOPTED BY CITY REALTOR'S BODY

To Seek to Place Real Estate Business on Higher Plane Is Object of Body; Rules For Methods Are Drawn Up

A code of ethics, formulated at a recent meeting of the Sanford Real Estate Board to place real estate dealers on a higher plane, was made public Tuesday morning. The Real Estate Board of Sanford is affiliated with the state and national associations.

The purpose of the organization is to maintain through fair dealing a reputation that will obtain the confidence of strangers who contemplate investment in Sanford real estate. The organization is of exclusive nature, being limited to and open to such real estate men as already have made such a name. None except members of the Real Estate Board may use the title "Realtor."

Among the rules adopted to govern transactions of members is one that property listed with one realtor for sale is his exclusively for 48 hours only. When this period has expired, the secretary mails listing to all members and any member of the board may sell it. This regulation will greatly expedite the sale of property, it is believed.

Splitting of commissions with others than licensed real estate dealers is prohibited under the penalty of expulsion. The cutting of price through reduction of commission either in part or whole is prohibited likewise.

According to the provision for splitting commissions, five per cent goes to the board, 70 per cent to the individual making the sale and 25 per cent to the listing agent.

In cases the listing agent sells the property, he gets 75 per cent of the commission.

Commissions are limited to five per cent on city property and five per cent on improved farms outside of the city. An allowance of 10 per cent on unimproved land or acreage outside of town is made.

Following is a list of real estate men who compose the Sanford Real Estate Board:
C. L. Britt, A. P. Connelly, Leo A. Connelly, J. D. Chitenden, H. C. Dillrose, N. H. Garner, George W. Knight, E. F. Lane, J. B. Lawson, H. B. Lewis, R. C. Maxwell, H. H. McCall, D. L. Thrasher and W. H. Wright.

U. S. Arbitration Accepted.
The United States was selected in 1922 to act as arbitrator of the difficult, both sides agreeing to final. It has been generally understood that the finding would be announced in Washington previous to the inauguration of President Coolidge.

The quarrel arose out of certain unfulfilled stipulations of the treaty of peace, known as the Treaty of Ancon, concluded in 1893 and of the war between Chile on one side and Peru and Bolivia on the other and in a struggle entirely victorious for the aggressive forces, Chile was, after four years of hostilities, in possession of Lima, the southern provinces of Peru, including Tacna and Arica, and about 100 miles of Pacific littoral formerly belonging to Bolivia.

Special Edition Of Sanford Herald Planned for Publication March 21

The progress made by Sanford during the year past and a sketch of the progress which The Sanford Herald believes Sanford is going to make during the coming 12 months, will be embodied in a special edition to be published on Mar. 21. Preparations are now being made to publish an issue of 32 pages which, on this day, will have a circulation in excess of 5,000.

Since the period in which action may be taken under the statute of limitation expires next Friday, the Senator was asked to sign a waiver of limitation, but he announced he had declined to do so. Secretary Mellon subsequently announced that the tax he had paid on his sale to Henry Ford, "it will probably be necessary to make an arbitrary assessment," which will serve to hold open the case.

COOLIDGE SIDES WITH CHILE IN PERU QUARREL

President Hands Down Award in Tacna and Arica Arbitration Case Determining Contention Between Nations

No Compromise Is Included in Opinion
Sovereignty of Two Countries Must Be Finally Decided By A Popular Vote

WASHINGTON, Mar. 10.—President Coolidge handed down his award in the Tacna and Arica arbitration case Monday, determining the major contention between Chile and Peru in favor of the Chilean viewpoint, that the question of permanent sovereignty of the two territories must be finally decided by popular vote.

The arbitrator lays down, however, specific conditions as to the ultimate plebiscite which cover the question of voters and also that of supervision of the plebiscite by a special commission set up for the purpose consisting of three members, one to be appointed by Chile, one by Peru and one by the United States.

A brief, semi-official summary of the decision follows:
Not a Compromise.
The opinion and award is not wholly favorable to either party, but it is in no sense a compromise. It is a clean-cut decision on the merits of each of the three questions submitted to the arbitrator.

The first question, plebiscite or to plebiscite, is decided in favor of Chile, in its contentions that the ultimate disposal of Tacna and Arica should be determined by popular vote. The second question, namely, the conditions of the plebiscite, involve the determination of a number of important matters such as qualifications of voters and the supervision of the plebiscite. Some of these matters are decided in accordance with conditions made by Chile, others in accordance with conditions made at one time or another by Peru. All of them are decided in the interest of a free and fair selection which will truly represent the will of the people of Tacna and Arica.

Peru Favored on Boundary.
The third question which concerns the northern and southern boundaries of Tacna and Arica and Arica is decided outright in favor of Peru as far as it concerns the northern boundary, including the province of Tarata. The dispute regarded the southern boundary is remitted to a special commission for a report upon the location of all Peruvian inter-provincial boundary lines. Matters that the most important boundary question involved has been decided in principle in favor of Peru.

Disputes as to the possession of the provinces of Tacna and Arica have gone on between Chile and Peru since 1894, straining international relations not only between the two countries immediately concerned, but also between neighboring states which, more or less openly and consciously, were led to take sides in the quarrel. With the passing of the years national feeling concerning the matter grew more and more heated, until its solution was considered imperative for the peace of South America.

BRIAND OFFERS FRENCH VIEWS UPON SECURITY

French Are Insistent That Germany Be A Full-Fledged Member of The League

Protocol Will Be Shelved For Time

France Suspicious Of Alliance Because Of England's Position

GENEVA, Mar. 10.—Conversations between British Foreign Secretary Austen Chamberlain and former Premier Briand of France Monday afternoon disclosed fairly definitely the French position with respect to the most important matter before the council of the league of nations—the Geneva protocol.

Before further consideration of the five-power alliance, France insists that Germany become a full-fledged member of the league. Secondly Premier Briand has assured Palatal, Czechoslovakia and Roumania, that it is the intention of France to stand by the principles by which the Protocol was negotiated under the supervision of the league.

Admits Sea Control.
While France admits the British navy controls the sea, she considers her military power on the continent is equally important, and has no intention of entering any combination or alliance which leaves Great Britain in the position of having the balance of power in future conflicts. France, it is understood, Britain in forming the Chamberlain, does not reject the proposed agreement with Germany, Belgium, Italy and England, but it must not be outside of the league nor supersede the principle behind the protocol drafted by Foreign Minister Benes of Czechoslovakia.

Foreign Minister Skrynski of Poland has arrived in Paris in a decidedly optimistic frame of mind and intimates a revision of the Versailles treaty, or boundary changes involving the present status quo, are for the time being improbable. Mention is also made of marking time pending the arrival of Belgian Foreign Minister, Hymans and Swedish Foreign Minister Under.

Secretary Chamberlain will present a 3,000 word resume of the views of Downing Street on Thursday after which it is practically certain the protocol will be shelved until the assembly meets. In the meantime separate negotiations will continue and perhaps the protocol will be redrafted unofficially in an effort to make it acceptable to all of the league groups.

There is one important thing to remember. Six council members signed the protocol—Brazil, Uruguay, Czechoslovakia, Belgium and Spain. Of the others Great Britain opposes and Sweden is sympathetically neutral. The French position is somewhat paradoxical inasmuch as the feeling exists that Briand is playing a political game seeking to justify his Cannes policy. He might even sacrifice Premier Herriot if the opportunity offered. Briand's reiterated argument is the French thesis—"No new treaties until the French aims are enforced." On the question of a large commission to eventually replace the allied military control, Briand is reported to have told Chamberlain that France insists upon permanent control of the Rhineland under the direction of the league in order that any move by Germany to militarize might be reported and acted against.

New Tombs Not Those of Kings, Says Reiser

BOSTON, Mar. 10.—Dr. George A. Reiser, curator of the Egyptian Department of the Boston Museum of Fine Arts and professor of Egyptology at Harvard, who heads a joint expedition which has been conducting explorations in Egypt for 18 years, Monday night imputed the newly discovered tombs to some lesser personage than Kings Seneruf or Cheops although it will not minimize the importance of the find to knowledge of history.

Scene of the new find of within 100 yards of the great pyramid of Cheops and within 300 yards of the sphinx where tourists pass. Ninety feet of shaft is 50 feet square. The work is on the same plateau with all great pyramids. The plateau is old rock covered with debris.

The expedition for 20 years has been patiently clearing strip after strip then testing rock for openings packed with debris almost solid.

DAD CAMPS FOR INCORRIGIBLES IN GANG NOW OPEN

Measure Is Taken To Care For Men Who Prove Intractable Under Present Camp Rules; Provides Treatment For Ill

TALLAHASSEE, Mar. 9.—Two camps are to be established by the Florida prison department for incorrigible convicts. It has been agreed at a conference between the Board of Commissioners of State Institutions and officials of the State Road Department, that the camps will be for white prisoners and the other for negroes.

The action was taken on the recommendation of Nathan Mayo, commissioner of agriculture, in charge of prison affairs. The camps will be designed to deal with men who are leaders of all the trouble making, and who refuse to obey the regular rules of the regular camps. "These men," stated Mr. Mayo at the conference, "care nothing for the welfare of the other man so they care for the present method of enforcing discipline. To establish a special camp for this class of criminals, and select specially qualified men to handle them, would, in my opinion, not only place this class where they could induce other prisoners to disobey the rules, but would be an incentive to them to do their best in order that they would not be placed in the 'incorrigible' camp."

As soon as the prisoners who are sent to incorrigible camps show that they have determined to obey the rules, they will be transferred back to a regular camp, it was decided.

It was further agreed that the road department, in an effort to check the numerous escapes, designate one man to do all the work of transferring prisoners from the state farm to the camps. The plan heretofore followed has been that of permitting guards or captains from the various camps to go after the prisoners when they were ready to be placed on road work.

Under the terms of the agreement the road department in the future also is to pay $1.25 a day, for convicts sent back to the state farm for hospital treatment, for a period of 60 days, and during recuperation 50 cents a day. The latter clause was inserted to place the cost of upkeep where it properly belongs in the state's book-keeping, it is said.

Austrians Begin To Teach 'Safety First' To Mountaineers

VIENNA, Mar. 9.—Reared in a country whose mountain ranges rival and even surpass the peaks of Switzerland, the youth of Austria, both boys and girls, are enthusiastic mountain climbers. But this is often a dangerous pastime, and each year the Alps take heavy toll of young and valuable lives.

To protect these venturesome youngsters there has been organized a mountain-climbing school, with facilities for 400 students. The instruction is to embrace theoretical lectures and practical training. The lectures will treat of meteorology and weather prediction, and will further deal with the comparative value of various textures for articles of wear and equipment for mountaineering. Then first-aid and transportation up and down gradients in case of accident, methods of sheltering from wind, avalanches, rain and snow, and lastly nutrition and physical endurance, will likewise receive attention.

The practical training will be equally diversified. It will demonstrate the best ways of conquering the many hindrances which place themselves in the climbers' path, methods and utility of roping and the harnessing of rocks in rescue work and ascending and descending the sheer face of precipices. Lastly comes the correct handling of picks, axes and alpenstocks. A second course will deal with the uses of skis and snowshoes in Alpine tours.

Like United States, Finland Has Worry From Prohibition

HELSINGFORS, Mar. 9.—Finland, like the United States, has its prohibition difficulties and as a consequence a meeting of representatives of the larger towns was held here recently to discuss means of averting some of the evil consequences of the prohibition law.

The principal speaker summed up the situation by saying that "in Finland everybody drinks except the president," whereas a few years ago Finland was one of the most sober countries in the world. It was also declared that the well-organized smuggling traffic unlimited quantities of liquor to the most remote parts of the country, leading to increased drunkenness among both men and women. Even women and children, it was asserted, were taking to habitual drinking, and the moral standard was rapidly declining, resulting in increased criminality. It was decided to invite the authorities to take more stringent measures to enforce the law.

In Helsingfors some restaurants and clubs have been closed for offense against the prohibition law. Sanford—Work to start April 15 on $500,000 tourist hotel.

SEEKS TO STOP SALE OF 'FAKE' STOCK IN STATE

Attorney General Buford To Introduce Bill To Amend Present Law On Securities

TALLAHASSEE, Fla., Mar. 9.—Sale of "wildcat" securities in Florida will be made practically an impossibility, if the next legislature, which convenes next month, enacts a bill which Attorney-General Buford forecasts will be introduced, asking amendment of the present laws governing the operations of stock, bond and other security salesmen in this state. Not only will they be required to put up bonds in sufficient amounts to reimburse purchasers in full for any losses due to false or fraudulent representations made in disposing of securities to Floridians, but the salesmen will be required to post additional bonds guaranteeing delivery of stocks sold here.

Prior to being granted the privilege even of posting these bonds, however, persons who would seek to sell such securities in Florida must file detailed statements showing the plans of business operations. It then would be the duty of the attorney-general and the state comptroller to examine the documents and statements so filed and determine whether or not

New Cunard Liners Are Put In Service

LIVERPOOL, Mar. 9.—The Cunard Company will commission three new liners during the coming spring and summer, the Carinthia, Alaunia and Ascania. The Carinthia, 20,000 tons will carry first, second and third class passengers and is intended for the Liverpool-New York service, with her first sailing in August. The Alaunia and Ascania each of 14,000 tons register carrying cabin and third class passengers, will enter the company's Canadian service.

FIREMEN MEET

GAINESVILLE, Mar. 9.—The Florida State Firemen's Association will convene here Mar. 11 for its second annual meeting, with an attendance of around 100 delegates.

The application should be granted to agents to do business in the state.

If the present statutes are amended according to the terms of the bill which the attorney-general believes will be introduced, all permits that have been heretofore granted by the Foreign Investment Company Board would terminate next June 30. It then would be required that new permits be obtained under provisions of the amended act.

"Scofflaw Would Dissolve Pearl Government In Liquor,"—W

WASHINGTON, Mar. 9.—Many members of Congress, first and last, have been accused of patronizing bootleggers, but Tom Blanton of Abilene, Texas, is the only member on record as having been held up by officers of the law on suspicion of being one.

It happened while Blanton was on a recent auto trip up into Pennsylvania. As he was coming down one of the long, precipitous inclines in the Cumberland mountains a couple of men in uniform stepped out into the road and signaled him to stop.

"At first I thought they were chauffeurs," said Blanton, in telling of his experience. "Anyhow, they looked like chauffeurs' uniforms. But when they said 'stop' I stopped, as well as my rakes would enable me to do on the steep hillside.

"As the men moved toward the car the brakes began to slip and the car started ahead.

"Stop that car or I'll blow your tires out with this gun," one of the men said, dragging a .45 out of its holster. I stopped.

"Then the men said they were prohibition officers and wanted to see what I hid aboard.

"I said 'All right, help yourselves. I'm with you on that proposition. I'm a prohibitionist, too.' "Humph!" grunted one of the men. "We're not going to offer particularly strict penalties for motorists who knock down pedestrians in the of Columbia. Wayne B. Wheeler, League leader, is developing an epigram. ## BRITISH LOSING IN STEEL TRADE BY HIGH COAL COSTS

Are Outbid by Even Germans And Belgians, Department of Overseas Trade Declares In Recent Report Issued

LEEDS, Eng., Mar. 10.—British steel manufacturers have found difficulty in selling steel in their own territory, India, because they have been outbid by the Germans and Belgians, it was announced here by A. M. Samuel, parliamentary secretary to the Department for Overseas Trade, addressing the Leeds Chamber of Commerce.

The situation which brought this about, said Mr. Samuel, was the high price of coal. The price of steel, which was largely dependent on the price of coal, was so high today that it paid to import steel from abroad. Two or three shillings per ton off the price of coal, he suggested, would make all the difference to the prosperity of British trade, and the existing high price of coal was doing harm which extended much farther than to the 100,000 men who were out of work in the coal fields.

Mr. Samuel, however, was quite optimistic as to the future for British trade generally. With the exception of coal, steel and shipping, he believed that the clouds of trade were breaking, and that there would be reawakening of prosperity for all, and particularly the workingman. With about 1,250,000 men unemployed there was much misery, but through the whole policy of existing government ran the motive of getting the people back to work. He could see in trade today a greater spirit of confidence.

Stowaway On R-34 Now Is Pilot In Air Service Of England

LONDON, Mar. 10.—William Ballantyne, who was a stowaway on the R-34 when she flew to America in July, 1919, has at last been successful in obtaining his "wings," or in other words his pilot's certificate. After his escapade on the dirigible, Ballantyne was sent back to Howden in Yorkshire, where he remained until the airdrome closed down and was then transferred to Egypt. Here he studied for the Royal Air Force pilot's certificate. He passed his tests and is now pilot-sergeant in one of the air mail planes between Cairo and Bagdad, a desert journey of 700 miles each way.

Ballantyne was an original member of the crew of the R-34, but it was found necessary to leave him behind. He was bent on making the trip, however, and, two hours before the craft left Scotland, he hid himself in the rigging. When the airship was about 60 miles out, he was discovered, lying sick and feverish among some gas bags to which he had crept from the rigging. After treatment by the staff physician he worked his way across for the rest of the voyage.

GERMANS REGAIN ITALIAN TEXTILE MILLS CONTROL

Combination of Skilled German and Cheap Italian Labor Yields Handsome Profits, In Imitation Silk Goods

MILAN, Italy, Mar. 10.—Germany, which exercised a decisive economic influence in northern Italy before the war, is rapidly regaining its ground in at least the textile industry. It is understood that the numerous spinning mills in the neighborhood of Milan are again mostly in the hands of German capital, and that a system of cheap Italian and skilled German labor on the product has been worked out by which cotton and imitation silk goods yield handsome profits.

The arms about Milan import their cotton from America and the yarn is spun by cheap Italian labor. The partly-finished product is then sent to textile concerns of middle Germany, chiefly in the neighborhood of Chemnitz, where certain processes requiring skilled labor, such as dyeing, are applied. Then the almost-finished product wanders back once more to Italy, which where it is sold. The combination of cheap Italian and skilled German labor enables the manufacturers to set up prices that can compete successfully with those of other countries.

A large part of the product goes to Yugoslavia. The fact that the exporting country is Italy is an especially favorable circumstance for the German owners, since Italy has a treaty with Yugoslavia by which her textiles enjoy advantages which are not extended to Germany.

BIBLE THOUGHT FOR TODAY.

PROCLAMATION OF PEACE:—Glory be to God in the highest, and on earth peace, good will toward men. Luke 2:14.

ADVICE TO ALL.

There's one thing that we all should learn; That this big old world is not all our own. But just that little part that we may earn. By labor hard, or by deeds of kindness seen. So, when you see a brother in dire distress, Do not blame him just because he's down. Often in the heat and struggle of this life, You'll see a poor, foolish wretch, like me, Struggling hard among the worldly strife. To gain his footing for once—don't you see? Then just lend your hand once or twice— Try it, and see what God will do for thee! Then, later on, in the evening of life, I'll say— As down the hill near the end of your trail, When your ebullient locks have turned to gray, Look back, and see if there was one you had failed to use, and note that day— We settle all claims at the end of each trail. 'Tis better that we use all our strength and power, While we can use it for good, and when it is needed most, than wait till some later hour, And say we were sorry we did not do it then. When you see an old man working, out of power, Why not lend a hand a while to help such men? —Ned Gray.

Miami Life says, "A sheik in the hammock is worth three on the desert."

Hollywood has begun work on a $15,000,000 harbor. Nothing seems to daunt them.

North Carolina has passed an anti-flirting law but we doubt if anyone in Asheville has heard about it.

They have schools for the deaf, dumb and blind, but what they need most are schools for the just plain dumb.

SHOOTS MAN AND HORSE ESCAPES.—Headline in Macon Telegraph. Another case of horse sense.

Because they were razor backs, some hogs in Iowa thought they could successfully digest some safety razor blades, but they died after convulsions.

Isn't it funny that when a man brings in a poem to which he has been inspired, or a novel he has dashed off, or some other literary effort he has finally achieved, and asks you what you think of it, and you are perfectly honest and tell him it's absolutely rotten, he gets sore as Hell?

More than twenty-five per cent of Rhode Island automobile drivers are women and in the number of accidents reported the feminine drivers figure in not more than one per cent," says Chief Clerk George Wellington of the Rhode Island State Board of Public Roads. Does anybody know how the Florida women compare with the drivers of the northern state?

Anti-aircraft guns proved their ineffectualness in tests last Saturday at Fort Monroe. Targets were towed by Martin Bombers at an elevation of three thousand to six thousand feet and out of thirty-nine shots fired not a single one took effect. Guns and shooting like that would be of tremendous help in case of a foreign aircraft invasion.

A Pretty Bum Sport.

Time was when the young man disappointed in love would whine, "Well, if I can't have her, nobody else can." He would then grab his trusty forty-four, blow out her brains and take his own life.

Nowadays we look upon that sort of fellow as rather a bum sport. Modern Americans greatly prefer the man who can say, "well, the best man won. Please accept my congratulations and best wishes." In fact, nowadays, that is considered the only thing to do. There is no alternative and the man who sulks over something he has lost, whether it be in love, horse races or real estate, simply isn't there any more.

So it looks as if Gutzon Borglum were a pretty bum sport. Working on what might have been the finest piece of sculpture in the history of the world, Borglum had created models of almost incomparable excellence. He was generally recognized as a genius of unusual artistic ability and his models for Stone Mountain were considered among the best he ever produced.

Yet as is so often the case with men of genius, he lacked to an almost total degree all business judgment. According to the Stone Mountain Memorial Association's statement he was miserably incompetent as an administrator of a great project. Hence it became necessary for the Association, which was responsible for the expeditious application of the funds contributed for the memorial, to remove him.

But Borglum, instead of taking the situation like a sport, instead of recognizing his own deficiencies as a business administrator as well as his own ability as a creator of models, instead of yielding to a man who might better complete the work of the Memorial Association and present to the South a superb monument for all time, bucked, kicked over the traces, got mad and wouldn't play any more. He acted like a naughty child that has been spanked and throws himself on the floor tearing his hair. He said, "if I can't complete the memorial and get all the credit for myself, nobody else can use my models," and he promptly destroyed them.

Pretty bum sport. Father probably spared the rod when Borglum was a boy. "Now he says he will 'rot in jail' if he must uphold the principle of 'an artist's right to his own creation.'" But it is not jail that he needs; what he needs is a good spanking by a man big enough to take him across his knee.

Exploring Asia

It's in the blood. It is with interest that the world at large reads of the intention of the Roosevelt brothers to visit the innermost portions of remote Asia in quest of rare specimens of mammals and birds for the Field Museum. The world has become accustomed to the sound of the Roosevelt name in connection with such missions.

The exploits and achievements of the elder "Teddy" in Africa, Cuba and South America in the hunting field and on the field of battle are well known to Americans and all readers of history, natural and military. For years Colonel Roosevelt was a common name on the front pages of America's newspapers, as he captured some unusual animals of the "Dark Continent" or discovered some unknown land in South America.

His sons seem to have inherited this tendency for exploration of wild and unknown places. During the recent gubernatorial campaign in New York, Colonel Roosevelt, the younger, is said to have remarked that the two places on this earth he was most anxious to visit were Northern Siberia and the Gobi desert, both remote lands far from any centers of population.

Now one of these desires is about to be granted. On the fifteenth of April he and his brother, Kermit, who has had considerable experience with his father in expeditions of this kind, are to sail to explore sections of the Himalayan region of Southwest Asia. Here few men in all time have traveled. The world will watch with interest the results of the explorations of the Roosevelt brothers.

AN OKLAHOMA ATTORNEY testifying in a disbarment proceedings admitted that he was "as nearly perfect as a man can be" and added "I do not smoke, chew, drink or swear."

How long will people continue to think that mere abstinence from bad habits constitutes goodness? All of the habits he mentioned are undesirable and carried to excess might prove wicked but the mere fact that a man—or woman—does not use tobacco nor violent language does not necessarily make them good. There must be some positive virtues, kindness, gentleness, courage, generosity to constitute goodness. All bad habits show a lack of self-control and if indulged bring weakness but a man may have nothing but good habits and still be in colorless, useless member of society.—Knoxville Sentinel.

FOUR-LEGGED PESTS

BRADENTON HERALD

Despite the local law that makes it a felony for any owner of livestock to turn it loose anywhere in Manatee county between the Manatee river and the Gulf of Mexico, cattle still range unmolested between Bradenton and Palma Sola.

Beautiful homes are being built west of the city, and many of the home builders and makers of fine subdivisions desire to keep their premises free of unsightly and costly fences; yet because the cattle owners persist in breaking the law, property is suffering damage and development retarded.

A former sheriff, in seeking to enforce the law, found himself footing a big bill for impounded cattle because the law makes no provision for this other than what the sheriff may collect either from owners who may redeem their cattle or the remote possibility of selling that scrubby wild stock at auction for enough to pay the bills run up. Because of the result of his effort making it necessary for the sheriff to go down into his own pocket to foot the bill he naturally enough stopped impounding the roaming livestock.

MARRIAGE AND WEALTH

ST. AUGUSTINE RECORD

Miss Abby Rockefeller, daughter of John D. Jr., and supposedly heiress to an immense fortune, is marrying a man rated as poor in comparison with her own family. And as far as the Rockefeller family is concerned, that is perfectly all right. Only the new branch of the family, to be headed by David M. Milton Jr., will be strictly "on its own."

The young couple will live in a modest apartment with one servant, and Mrs. Milton, will do part of her own housekeeping. She had training for taking care of a home and knows how to keep accounts. There will be no car until the two feel able to afford it. This is not unfriendliness at all on the part of John D. Jr., and John D. Sr., but merely family policy. Personal relations are recognized as one thing and money as another. The Rockefeller children are severely trained to know the value of money, and get it only when they need or deserve it. As the father of this girl says, there will be trust funds available upon which his children "can draw in accordance with the merit they can show and the ability to handle large enterprises."

Here is a "plutocratic" example that might well be followed in many families of much wealth. Who can doubt that it is better for the young couple themselves? It not only puts them on their feet but does the country a service in suggesting that large wealth is a public trust, to be wisely administered.

72 Oranges for 25 Cents. The Horse Was the Star. Above the Knee, Please. 20 Million Feet a Day.

BY ARTHUR BRISBANE (Copyright 1924)

Los Angeles, Mar. 6. WHO IN the cold East will believe this?

You drive from Los Angeles to Hollywood, here in Southern California, and along the road are wagons filled with yellow, ripe oranges, with signs that read: "Six dozen oranges for twenty-five cents."

And that is not a misprint. You buy a dozen oranges for five cents, six dozen for a quarter.

WHO, IN Florida or California, will find a way to squeeze out, transport and deliver to homes in the North pure orange juice, with the vitamins in good working order?

The steel monoplane may arrange that. The dashing young man will have his orange juice route, instead of his milk route. A thousand pounds of orange juice would supply many families.

AS INTERESTING as the price of oranges are stories of moving picture success, and humble starting. For instance, take Miss Norma Talmadge, in real life Mrs. Joseph Schenck. Now she is all dressed in fine spun, knitted green and gold silk, held together, here and there, with big diamonds.

No butterfly could look better. How did she begin? She tells you.

"IT'S A simple story that gave me my first moving picture chance. I was discovered kissing a man under a photographer's black cloth, the kind they use to cover a country camera.

"Was I the star of that picture? No; the horse was the star, and had his name in big letters. I was not mentioned, but I got three dollars a day and my lunch.

"And it was a start, which is all anybody can ask for."

NOW MISS Talmadge is paid ten times as much as the people pay their President, and the horse is no longer the star in her picture, "From Log Cabin to White House" is financially speaking, mild in comparison with movie success—sometimes.

BUT, YOUNG ladies on farms and in small cities, do not come crowding to Hollywood unless you bring money enough to last for three months, at least, plus enough to take you home again. Of a hundred that come, not more than ten even secure places as supernumeraries, at two or three dollars a day. Many bitter disappointments and sad stories are here.

Success is hard always, and harder in moving pictures than in other work. Merely being pretty and ambitious, with curly hair, is not enough.

PARIS RULERS of fashion say to women, all over the world: "Wear your skirts above your knees, and paint your ears red."

And the pathetic fact is that millions of women will wear skirts so short as to be silly, and paint their ears without loss of time. Also the eyelids are to be stained dark brown or blue, the eyelashes curled, and the inside of the nostrils stained bright red.

THE SHORT skirt, in reason, is sensible, a step toward common sense, and away from microbes. Red ears, when natural, indicate good blood condition. But for women to wear skirts that would look foolish on a child, paint artificial health on their ears, curl their lashes and color their eyelids, that seems too much. However, back of it all there is divine wisdom, undoubtedly. Woman is on her way to some grand destiny. Let us observe and admire, but not criticize.

WE CAN estimate the wealth under ground in this country. The Marland Oil Company strikes a new oil well in its Colorado territory. The roar of the gas, rushing out, twenty million feet a day, can be heard for six miles. If gas were worth one dollar a thousand, which is called "a cheap, consensatory price," how much would that well yield in money?

AND THE wealth in the ground is perhaps less than the wealth in the air. Floating above every farm, waiting to be taken out and used, is enough nitrogen to fertilize many such farms. We buy nitrogen hauled all the way from South America, and there are billions of tons of it above our heads.

AND WHAT is the wealth below the waters of the oceans, seas and lakes, that cover the greater part of the earth?

Here and there, along the Pacific Coast, you see oil wells out in the ocean. Where the ocean now is, dry land once was, and vice versa.

Men eventually will explore the ocean's bed, as they now explore Alaska, or Africa, and give to the world the nitrogen they need. Henry Ford would do it now, if he had Muscle Shoals.

"YOU ARN'T THE ONLY ONE THAT IS TIRED OF WINTER"

A NEW DAY

MACON TELEGRAPH

Theodore Roosevelt remarked when he was elected by the people to succeed himself after he had filed out the unexpired term of William McKinley, "I am no longer a political accident." Today, Calvin Coolidge becomes in his own right the President of the United States. The memory of that day when an Oregon delegate placed the name of the Massachusetts Governor before a wearied and frenzied convention, upsetting the plans of the party bosses for the vice presidency, was wiped out in the Republican flood tide of last November.

By the largest majority ever given a candidate for that office, the people of the United States have delivered into the hands of Calvin Coolidge, the chief responsibility for the destiny of this nation for the next four years. It became a man who has fallen heir to such power to pray the prayer of Solomon, to ask for wisdom above all things and to trust that courage and strength shall be added unto him.

The President has many perplexing problems confronting him. The test of his genius to govern lies in the manner in which he solves them. The people have given him a distinct advantage in that he has a Congress of his own party, a Congress that must be handled, however, with tact and patience and firmness.

Our foreign relations must be improved and a definite policy, which we now lack, established. As we now stand, we are neither in the matter of a foreign policy, fish, fowl nor good red herring. We are "unofficial" observers in the settlement of world affairs. We made a separate peace with Germany; we have not joined the World Court or the League of Nations. Bills toward that end lie dormant in our Senatorial committees. A new minister of foreign affairs takes office today; a new chairman of our Senate Foreign Relations committee took office only a few weeks ago. The President has until now continued the Harding foreign policy of meeting questions as they arise, without a broad general attitude toward other nations. We have had a patchwork foreign policy, adding to it from day to day and week to week. We must make some disposition of the World Court question and of the League of Nations protocol establishing that court. A moral duty and justice to ourselves as a nation demand that we define our attitude. We must either recognize, or refuse to recognize the government that has been existent for seven years in Russia. We must dispose of the French claims for spoliation of her lands by our armies; we must restore, in that four-year period the property and securities seized during the war from aliens within our borders. We must make provisions for a new codification of international law so that the statutes may be clarified and no nation again may be evasive of those statutes. We must make arrangements for the payment of post-war debts of other nations to the United States. We shall consider, under the policy outlined by President Coolidge, a further reduction in armaments. At home, the President has equally as many difficult problems to consider and to solve. His administration is to be brought within the rigid bounds of economy he prescribes for himself and for the government. The rates of our protective tariffs must be adjusted to meet the changing conditions. The inheritance and income taxes must be abolished, or reduced, to that point where they no longer Socialistic. The Muscle Shoals property, into which the government has poured millions of dollars, must be disposed of. More enlightened and more beneficial laws for agriculture must be written into our statute books. The President has announced his intention to further the consolidation of our railway lines into a few systems for more efficient service. That policy must be worked out and adapted to our laws and to economic conditions. The country wishes for the new President as he stands at the eve of his own great day, a most successful administration.

AMERICANISE

NEW YORK SUN

The woman took the little Pennsylvania German boy, brought up on the farm his ancestors had tilled for some two hundred years, into the city's most luxurious and pompous fruit shop. At the theater, in taxicab or the subway, before going to bed at night, he had wanted nothing but oranges, more and more oranges. For, true to an age-long inheritance of frugality, the boy's father allowed no fruit on the table at home but apples from the farm. So the woman planned to give the boy a feast of oranges.

The boy made his choice from the tiers of fruit, golden rich luscious, and then we spoke for the first time.

THE BOY FROM THE HICK TOWN

TAMPA TRIBUNE

The so-called hick town has lately become a source of great inspiration to our professional humorists.

A hick town, say the various users of this convenient formula, is a place where a backfire is never mistaken for pistol shot; where bedtime is orthodox; where woodpeckers eat up the depot; where central can tell you whether it was a girl or a boy; where the neighbors will supply you with a conscience if you lack one; where there is no parking problem, where a curfew disturbs the resident's rest; where fine cut tobacco is no handicap socially, and so on and so on.

With no intention of becoming terribly heavy over the matter, we want to add that a hick town is a place where 26 of our 29 presidents were born and where seven out of 10 of the immortals in New York's national hall of fame originated. A hick town and didn't have a name produced Lincoln. Hick towns gave us most of our great literary figures of the past and practically all of those now living. Hick towns produce our Edisons.

If we may, then we would like to suggest that a hick town is a place where a boy has an excellent opportunity to lay the foundation of future greatness.

ENGLISH GIRLS REFUSE WORK LIVE ON DOLES

With 300,000 Women And Girls Out of Work, Domestic Servants Are as Scarce And Hard to Get As In U. S.

Many Women Go Out To Dominions

Tragic Preponderance Of Women Over Men Said To Be Cause of Situation

LONDON, Mar. 9.—Great Britain's surplus of women combined with the unemployment problem, there being approximately 300,000 women and girls out of work, has brought about a strange situation in the servant shortage which experts for months have been endeavoring to straighten out. American women living in London say that it is more difficult to obtain the services of a cook or housemaid than it is in most of the cities of the United States.

Authorities disagree as to cause of the scarcity. Some contend that a great many women who have been receiving unemployment doles from the government prefer to exist at that level than to work where they are virtually on duty all day long. Their pay here averages from $150 to $300 a year with board and room, but in many instances maid servants or general cooks in large households receive a good deal more than this. The London newspapers are filled daily with advertisements for cooks and maids of various kinds, many of the housekeepers offering some sort of inducement to attract the attention of the eligibles. One of these which appeared recently read:

"Servants bonus—A $15 reward will be paid to any one finding a really reliable cook general, apply Lady—"

Another advertisement, which ran for several days, was as follows:

"Wanted—A truthful, happy, willing girl, trained for general housework—if there is one."

The government has under consideration an investigation of the system of doles which, it is contended in housewives' circles, should be tightened up a bit so that girls and women, and men too, would not be able to draw a regular allowance from the state treasury unless they were willing to work, and were compelled to show documents sought a task of one kind or another.

Incidentally it is related that twice as many young women as young men were sent to the overseas dominions last year under the auspices of the Salvation Army, which, in the opinion of Commissioner Lamb, is "a matter for congratulation in view of the tragic excess of females over males in the British Isles."

Sanford Chamber Thanked By Writer For Crate Of Celery Sent "Liberty"

Profuse thanks from himself and the whole staff of Liberty, one of the country's better known weekly publications, for a crate of Sanford celery sent by R. W. Pearman, secretary of the Sanford Chamber of Commerce, has been received in Sanford from Paul L. Kinkead.

Mr. Kinkead, who is author of an article that appeared a short time ago under the caption "Overnight Millionaires in Florida", describes the reception of the crate with all of the originality that has made him one of the most widely known writers in the country. Following is Mr. Kinkead's letter:

"My Dear Pearman: I thank you, Liberty thanks you, and the whole staff thanks you for that wonderful Sanford celery which arrived yesterday and which everyone on the staff divided. The first bite converted each one to a Sanford celery booster. It had all the crispness of the sound of a masher shot when you hit the ball just right, and all the joyous noise of a young girl's freshly starched skirts in the days when they wore them.

"Being a Chicagoan, raised on Kalamazoo celery, one of the chief griefs of my life has been to be forced to live in New York and chew disconsolately upon weeny,

Germis In the Nose Cause that Cold

Head colds are caused by germs in the membranes. Combat those germs locally. Don't wait the slow results of internal remedies. Apply Ely's Cream Balm in the nostrils and breathe it. Force the antiseptic fumes through the air passages. The head is cleared at once, the misery is ended. The cold soon departs. Don't suffer another hour from that stucciness. Ask your druggist for a bottle of Ely's Cream Balm. Your head will be as clear as a bell.—Adv.

droopy celery, as sad and as bent as an old man's shoulders, as tough and stringy as a St. Petersburg flapper, for as you know, anyone under 50 is a flapper over there. "Once a year I have made a pilgrimage to Chicago and reviled in crisp celery, with each bite champagne glasses raised in a toast. And now you of Sanford have revealed to me the fact that it is possible to get crisp celery elsewhere in the world than Kalamazoo. I owe you much for the discovery and always shall love Sanford and always shall love celery, and while life and teeth last, will demand it at every table." PAUL L. KINKEAD.

MIAMI HIGH WINS CAGE TITLE FROM DUVAL'S QUINTET

East Coast Outfit Wins Out In Final Five Minutes Of Play By 18-17 Score; Crafty Little Forward Is a Hero

GAINESVILLE, Fla., Mar. 10.—Within the final five minutes of play the 1925 Florida State High School basketball championship changed Monday night, Ralph Fossey, crafty Miami high school forward slipping under the basket and sending in the field goal that snatched the title from Duval High School of Jacksonville. The score was 18 to 17 and brought to a spectacular and thrilling finish the greatest basketball tournament in history of the state.

A gallery such as has never packed the University of Florida gym jammed their way tonight to see the brilliant Miami quintet eliminate the mighty Duval Tigers when pre-game predictions favored the Jacksonville athletics to win.

Coach Henrie Sieler's Magic City combination jumped off to a 6-0 lead. Duval tied it at 6 all at the end of the first half, but Miami retired at the intermission commanding a 12-7 lead. The third quarter found the state champions still ahead, 10 to 11.

Marshall's scrapping Tigers knotted the score at 14 all with seven minutes to play. Four minutes later Duval had forged ahead for the first time, 17 to 16, and until the last five seconds, the title was Duval's and would have so ended, had not Fossey tossed his championship basket.

Miami played wonderful ball to win. They outplayed the driving Tigers in the opening half, the little lead they maintained until the finish kept them calm, but they always fought and played with ease and fitness that made them dangerous for Duval, and popular with the crowd.

If ever men fought, Marshall's Tigers fought tonight. They bowed their red and white in glorious defeat—and had a title snatched from them with more rapidity than could hardly be realized. Games will come and games will go, but Miami's conquest of the 1925 state flag will long be remembered in the annals of Florida.

Tilden Captures 2 Matches Monday Palm Beach Courts

PALM BEACH, Fla., Mar. 10.—William Tilden, II, National tennis champion, romped through two matches Monday in the man's singles championship of Florida on the Palmetto Courts in the first tournament in which he has appeared in this state.

After playing an exhibition in the morning with Manuel Alonso, fiery Spanish Davis cup star, Tilden stepped out on the court early in the afternoon and disposed of G. P. Crandell, 6-0, 6-1, and went out on the court later to eliminate Searles Barnett at 6-1, 6-0.

Tilden did not uncover his most with clubs and cuts and working for accuracy.

Alonso uncorked a dazzling play of tennis in defeating Ashton B. Freshner, 6-3, 6-1 and then dealing out a setback to George O'Kell 6-1, 6-0.

Vincent Richards, second only to Tilden; Takeichi Harada, Japanese Davis cup player; S. Howard Washell, New York and Dr. William Rosenbaum, New York, will arrive tomorrow night to play in the tournament.

Practice Games Started By Brewers' Team Here Two Men Are Still Out

(By M. S. PAGE)

A week of monotony in chasing files, batting practice and other activities which all players believe all managers invented solely to annoy them, the Milwaukee Brewers got their first 1925 taste of baseball this afternoon when Manager Harry Clark declared a six inning game in order. The first contest of the season was welcomed with an enthusiasm that presages a strenuous fighting spirit among the Milwaukee players when Clark Griffith, Walter Johnson and Stanley Harris, et al, arrive for their game next Friday afternoon.

The calling of a game, though it be for only six innings, indicates that the team is rapidly whipping into shape. This is true with all of the team except Alex McCarthy, the regular third baseman, and "Dixie" Walker, one of the pitchers in whom Otto Borchert is placing his hopes for a pennant in the American Association next year.

Alex has been sick in bed since the team arrived in Sanford, suffering from what has been diagnosed as influenza. He made an effort to get up Monday morning but had to return to bed. Walker is suffering from a knee that, after being broken last spring, obstinately refuses to heal. It is probably that Dixie will shake the sands of Sanford from his good foot and return North unless some marked improvement in the injured member is shown.

Lance Richbourg, a Florida product, who began his career at the University of Florida and later played in the Florida State League, arrived and put in his first workout yesterday. Lance was unable to come sooner due to the illness of his mother. In his first work-out he stood the rather stiff pace with steadiness that indicates very good condition. Along with Richbourg came Bob McLin, a south-paw pitcher of Hazelgreen, Ky., who is the heavyweight of the club, tipping the beam in the vicinity of 220 pounds. A third recruit, Ross Kinney, an outfielder who began chasing files on a sand lot in Ohio has reported for duty.

All of the recruits are showing up well, particularly the three Franks, Walzac, Stanzac and Bailey, all of whom are of Waukegan, Ill. Manager Clark is allowing each man to work for the position he most desires. Throughout the practice sessions heretofore infield man have been changed with frequency, thus keeping fast and peppy during the greater part of the time. The same schedule, beginning practice at 9 o'clock in the morning, lunch on the field, and practice again about 3 o'clock, is being followed.

Members of the squad, from the first day they appeared in uniform, looked like real ball players. As the time passes little kinks are being ironed out and the players are appearing more and more business like in their work-outs. All of the players are fine fellows, many of them are college men. Quite a penchant for golf has been developed and as Harry Clark appears to regard this sport as excellent training, the links are being used more and more.

York," but he added, "I believe Dempsey will fight this summer in California."

"All this apropos of the New York commission's announcement that it's 24 hour ultimatum to the champion to accept or reject Harry Will's challenge was a mistake and that Dempsey had 15 days in which to think over the Will's matter. Kearns reiterated his previous declaration that Dempsey already had accepted Will's challenge. Dempsey's manager said that he

MIAMI FAILS TO PLACE A MAN ON ALL-STATE TEAM

Duval High Captures 2 First Places as Does the Lakeland Team; Center Position Goes To Campbell of Seabreeze

GAINESVILLE, Fla., Mar. 10.—Miami, 1925 basketball champions, did not place a single man on the first official all-state team as selected by a dozen coaches tonight. Duval High with two firsts and two seconds, and Lakeland, with two firsts, featured the selections. Miami, however, placed two men on second all-state.

Charles Hardin of Lakeland, the most outstanding player in the tournament, and one of the greatest high school basketball artists the state has ever produced, was unanimous selection by the coaches and is captain of the first five with 24 votes. Lakeland's other first man was Harrell, center, while Jack Hyde and Abe Rothstein were the celebrated Duval Tigers being honored.

Two captains, Bryan of Duval and Fairfield of Orlando won berths on the second state. Honorable mentions was accorded fourteen players:

Official First All-State Team: Hyde, Duval, forward; Campbell, Seabreeze, forward; Harrell, Lakeland, center; Hardin, Lakeland, guard (captain); Rothstein, Duval, guard.

Official Second All-State Team: Mizelle, Miami, forward (captain); Fairfield, Orlando, center; Moseley, Pensacola, forward; Bryson, Duval, forward; Bryan, Duval, center; Towne, Miami, guard; Felson, Duval, guard.

Honorable mention: Melton, Lakeland; Black, Mont. Verde; Freeman, Williamston; Viel, Sea Breeze; Perrine, Miami; Hawkins, Kustis; Vansickle, Gainesville; Moseley, Pensacola; Johnston, Sea Breeze; Wilcox, sea Breeze; Cheatham, Mont. Verde; York, Mont. Verde; Phillips, Lakeland; Thurston, St. Petersburg.

was leaving Wednesday for New York to appear as a witness in the Federal action against Teddy Hayes, trainer for Dempsey, and others, in connection with the Interstate Transportation of the Dempsey-Carpentier fight films.

PLAYERS STILL LEADS AFTER 14 YEARS SERVICE

Brooklyn Infielder Conditioning Himself For Another Big League Campaign At Dodgers Clearwater Camp

NEW YORK, Mar. 10.—The wear and tear of 14 years of major league baseball has left its mark upon the battle-scarred frame of Tommy Johnston, Brooklyn infielder, but he is still a youngster in playing ability. Johnston, one of the most versatile performers in Uncle Robbie's roster of pastimers, is now conditioning himself for another big league campaign at the Dodgers' camp in Clearwater, Fla. He was crippled most of last season and his absence was costly to the team, but now he is rounding into shape again.

Johnston started his baseball career as an outfielder, but back in 1919 he came in to play first base. Later the Robins needed a keystone guardian and Johnston accepted the nomination. From here he was shifted to shortstop and third base, all of which he played with equal ability, while hitting above a .300 level.

Seventeen seasons ago, Johnston opened his baseball career at Keewanee in the old "Three-Eye" League. And a peculiar fact about his beginning was that the Kewanee manager, after a two year's trial, told Johnston he was not fast enough for that company.

It is doubtful if any man in the major leagues has had a more varied career than Johnston. He went to Portland of the Pacific Coast League after his "Three-Eye" training. Then he went to Seattle, at that time in the Northwestern League. He hit only .195 for Seattle. Back again he was sent to the Three-Eye League, this time to Ottumwa. The Chicago Americans drafted him in 1911 but farmed him out immediately to Birmingham of the Southern League. After two years he drew his release and drifted back to the Coast League with San Francisco. Then the Chicago Nationals bought him for a reported sum of $3,200 and after a short trial sent him to Oakland. Brooklyn bought him in 1916, but shortly after he was traded to Newark of the league. When the Philadelphia Phillies blew up, Johnston was traded to Brooklyn, and he has since played for the Flatbush tribe ever since. Johnston was born in Tennessee, 35 years ago, and show the strain of the campaigns through the years in many ball games. He has a wife and three children, but at heart he is still a youngster with all the ambition of a star just breaking in.
