HIGHLIGHTS CONVENTION

By VOLIE WILLIAMS, JR.

CHICAGO, Ill. (Special)—The power politicians pulled all stops last night in an effort to prevent the seating of the Virginia, South Carolina and Louisiana delegations, and failed. It was a close test of strength between the South allied with the conservative Democrats in opposition to the liberal and pseudo-liberal branch of the party.

Aligned together were the forces of Stevenson, Barkley, Russell and Kerr on one side and Roosevelt, Humphrey, Kefauver and Humphrey on the other. For a while during the voting on the seating of Virginia, it looked as though the Kefauver-Humphrey-Harriman group would win, but before the results were announced, there was a sufficient number of states changing their votes to alter the final tally.

While it is true that television viewers get a better all around picture of the convention than do the delegates, there are certain aspects of strategy which can be recognized only by attendance at the convention. As an example, tonight when Senator Hubert Humphrey was nominated, he received one of the biggest four demonstrations accorded any candidate; however, as former Governor Doyle Carlton and members of others of an outgroup of states changing their votes to favor supporters, 16 percent were Harriman supporters, a goodly number had finished demonstrating for Governor Williams of Michigan, and there were, of course, the state of Minnesota.

Such tactics are designed to impress the voters—not with the expectation that Humphrey will receive the nomination this time—but to leave an impression upon the minds of delegates and future delegates that "this man Humphrey must be a good man, look at the demonstration he received."

When the Kefauver-Harriman crowd lost the Virginia matter, they then moved to adjourn—trick logic in use in political maneuvering. They wanted time to regroup their forces and time to handle wavering delegates. They lost this motion, however, ever, an agreement was reached between the opposition factions and the convention was adjourned at 3:00 a. m. to reconvene at 11:00 a. m. today.

Russell's Florida delegates are "aflicking with him until he releases us," said Congressman Ed Jim Haley last night. "Boyd and Governor Carlton confirmed this statement. The Herald inquired if Russell released them, would they then support Governor Stevenson and the answer was "very likely, however, it will not be unanimous."

One of them who would not be quoted stated that in view of Kefauver's desertion of the South and Tennessee's failure to vote with the South on procedural matters, it was extremely doubtful if Florida's Russell delegates would support Kefauver in the event Russell were nominated. The placing of Alben Barkley's name in nomination last night might have some effect on the outcome of the Democratic nominee also. Although the CIO members are too old, there are numbers of other delegates and citizens who feel that he is the one man who possesses the background and ability to win against General Eisenhower in November. I would like to devote the remainder of this, my last column from this convention, to the expression of some personal opinion. (Continued on Page Four)

Burned Freed On Charges Of Driving Drunk

Accident Took Place May 31 When Truck Went Into A Ditch

The case of Charles E. Burnsed, charged with driving while under the influence of an intoxicating beverage to the extent that his normal faculties were impaired, ended in an acquittal in County Court yesterday.

Prosecution witnesses H. H. Martin, C. W. McCoy, Robert G. Dell Hurford, and R. P. Harrison, state highway patrolman, testified that Mr. Burnsed, whose pickup truck went into a ditch on May 31, appeared to be intoxicated after the accident occurred. Mr. Martin's testimony revealed that he was 75 to 80 feet from the scene of the accident, that he observed Mr. Burnsed get out of the truck, walk off, and return later with Mrs. Burnsed and a tractor. At this time, according to Mr. Martin, he advised Mrs. Burnsed that she had better drive the tractor because Mr. Burnsed was too intoxicated to drive it. Mr. McCoy was sitting on his porch nearby at the time of the accident and testified that Mr. Burnsed appeared to be intoxicated when he came into his yard and asked to borrow his automobile to pull the truck out.

Mr. Burnsed testified that he assisted Mr. Burnsed to remove the truck from the ditch and that he was intoxicated at that time. Patrolman Harrison revealed that when he arrived at the scene of the accident, he smelled low on the ground and that he appeared to be intoxicated. "Patrolman Harrison also said that Mr. Burnsed told him that he had gone in the ditch because of a blowout but that when the truck was removed from the ditch, inspection of the tires failed to reveal any evidence of this."

Canal Project To Be Considered At Meet On Tuesday

Group of Interested Citizens of the St. John's River Valley Will Meet Tuesday in Sanford to Discuss Plans for the Proposed Titusville-Sanford Canal

A group of interested citizens of the St. John's River valley will meet Tuesday in Sanford to discuss plans for the proposed Titusville-Sanford Canal. E. E. Breck, bridge manager of the chamber of commerce, said today.

The steering committee of the group will meet at 10:30 o'clock in the City Hall and the whole body will convene at 2:30 in the afternoon. The meeting is planned to set up an active organization to promote the canal project and to work with any group or organization interested in linking the St. John's and the Indian Rivers. Scheduled to speak at the meeting are Henry Fozzard, U. S. C. G. A. Joe Earmann of the Central and Southern Florida Flood Control District, Earl Brown of DeLand and Col. A. G. Matthews of the State Conservation Division.

Members of the committee include L. P. Boyle, Earl Brown, Harry Fozzard of Jacksonville, Al Lee, C. C. McClean, of Palatka, Dr. J. J. L. Hurford, of Jacksonville, Lester Bush of Palatka, Capt. C. D. Anderson of Welaka, Capt. Harlow Merryday of Palatka, Ed Goodwin of Titusville, and Roy Carpenter of Titusville. Also at the steering committee meeting will be David Howard of Jacksonville, editor of the Sanford Magazine. The group is interested in the proposed Titusville-Sanford canal and includes people from throughout the St. John's River valley area.

Casselberry Case Expected To Go To Jury Late Today

Defendant Testifies Wife Called Liar By Man Attacked

The case of the State vs. Elmer Casselberry, charged with assault and battery, is expected to go to the jury late this afternoon. Judge Douglas Steinhilber presided.

Mr. Casselberry testified this afternoon that he attacked the victim of Casselberry after the latter shook his finger in his face and said, "You are a liar." According to Mr. Casselberry, he and his wife entered the town of DeLand, and he began to speak to Mr. Casselberry about a water hydrant near Mr. Gibson's property which Mr. Casselberry recently had sealed. Mr. Casselberry said that while this conversation was going on, he heard Mrs. Gibson say to her husband, "That's a fabrication," and at that time Mr. Casselberry struck him with his finger in Mrs. Gibson's face and said, "I know I tried to choke him, and I do it again tomorrow."

In answer to questions from the prosecution, Mr. Casselberry testified that he had brought about an agreement to end the steel strike and that he was ready to stamp the country for the Democratic nomination in matter which he had promised to do. Mr. Casselberry also testified that he had brought about an agreement to end the steel strike and that he was ready to stamp the country for the Democratic nomination in matter which he had promised to do.

Truman Flies To Convention To Raise Hell

Plane Takes Off In Washington As His Alternate Casts His Vote For Stevenson

CONVENTION HALL, Chicago (Special)—President Truman will delay his scheduled 9 p. m. ENF address to the Democratic National Convention if a presidential nominee has not been picked by that time.

WASHINGTON (Special)—President Truman took off for Chicago today to cap the fiery democratic convention with a "give 'em hell" speech against his favorite foes, the republicans.

The president left national airport in the plane the independence of 141 p. m. ENF, still mulling over the speech he hopes will help lead the democratic victory in the presidential election. Mrs. Truman accompanied her husband. There was a flurry of excitement a half hour before Truman departed, the news wheel turned that for some unknown reason it was quickly repaired.

The presidential timing was remarkable. At the exact moment that he was boarding his plane, Thomas J. Egan of Kansas City, his convention alternate, was casting Truman's ballot at Chicago. It was for Gov. Adlai Stevenson of Illinois.

Truman will speak from notes on addressing the convention at 9 p. m. ENF tonight. He is at his oratorical best when he is not reading from a prepared text and he was telling no one just what he intended to say.

There were two doubts, though, that the President was expected to face. He had brought about an agreement to end the steel strike and that he was ready to stamp the country for the Democratic nomination in matter which he had promised to do.

Stevenson Smiles As Boom Grows

Steel Strike Is Brought To End By Compromise

By HOWARD TAYNS, JR. WASHINGTON, July 25.—The longest and costliest steel strike in American history is expected to resume next week.

The striking U. S. Steel workers' union was considered verbally ready today to accept a strike end agreement reached at the White House after President Truman personally demanded and got a settlement.

It was not a clear-cut victory for anyone concerned. The union industry in the government. There was give and take on all sides. The end of the crippling 53-day strike was announced late today by the President himself with the President Philip Murray and U. S. Steel Chairman Benjamin Fairless standing beside him.

Calling new men into his own office a rare occurrence, Mr. Truman told them Murray and Fairless a "peace" agreement on important basic issues" after a long conference, and predicted a "speedy resumption of steel production."

National Guard To Leave For Camp

About 80 members of Sanford's National Guard regiment will leave Sunday afternoon for two weeks of summer training camp at Fort McClelland in Anniston, Ala. It was announced today by Capt. David M. Gatchel, commanding officer for Company I of the 121 infantry regiment.

The company will leave the Atlantic Coast Line depot at 5:00 p. m. return on Aug. 10 at 9:00 a. m.

Barkeley Supporter Sees Death Of Stevenson As Unlikely After Bad Bail

CONVENTION HALL, Chicago (Special)—With the first ballot roll called through Oregon, the official count for the Democratic presidential nomination stood:

Stevenson 181
Truman 150
Kerr 62
Russell 40
Stevenson 181
Office 141

Barkeley, a supporter of Stevenson, said that Stevenson's chances of winning the nomination were slim. He said that Stevenson's support was concentrated in the West and that he would have a hard time competing with Truman in the industrial states.

Criminal Sought By FBI Captured After Wild Ride

MIAMI (Special)—A Georgia fugitive, charged with the murder of a state trooper, was captured today after a wild ride in a stolen car.

The capture and release of the fugitive followed a bullet-riddled chase which ended at the police station. The fugitive was captured after a wild ride in a stolen car.

Florida Delegates Hoping For Second Spot For Russell

CHICAGO (Special)—Georgia and Florida delegates planned to return to the Democratic convention and lobby for a second spot for Alben Barkley in the vice-presidential race.

JUST HOW MATURE ARE YOU?
"Measure your maturity by these guideposts:
Have you learned what it is you like best to do?
Have you learned that in service there is the greatest degree of happiness?
Have you learned the three characteristics of maturity?
They are the three R's of modern life:
1. Responsibility. Can you assume it?
2. Reliability. Can you be relied upon?
3. Reverence. Do you have respect and affection for worthy things?
If you can answer affirmatively to all these, you have outgrown your immaturity, and have become a full-grown individual."

The great verity that God heals today, as in Jesus' time, when He is fully trusted and understood is stressed in the Lesson-Sermon to be read in all Christian Science churches next Sunday when the subject is "Truth".

A verse from 1 John 10: 6 provides the Golden Text. "It is the Spirit that beareth witness, because the Spirit is truth."
The following from Matthew 9: 24 is in the Lesson. "Neither can serve two masters; for either he will hate the one, and love the other; or else he will hold to the one, and despise the other. Ye cannot serve God and mammon."
Among correlative citations from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy is the following: "Drugs and hygiene cannot successfully usurp the place and power of the divine source of all health and perfection... Only through radical reliance on Truth can scientific healing power be realized" (p. 167).

Trellis Mae Says Convention Ought To Be Stuffed As Proof To Posterity

Editor's note: Trellis Mae Peelle, America's most average wife, is a casualty of the most exciting session of the National Democratic Convention. She tells about it in the following letter to her husband:

By HAI BOYLE
CHICAGO — Dear Wilbur, There is only one thing to be done with the 31st National Democratic Convention. It ought to be stuffed — delegates and all — then covered with wax and put on permanent exhibit in the American Museum of Natural History. Otherwise, posterity will never believe it really happened.

some Michigan Democrats who were huffing and puffing like mad trying to spread the flames and set fire to the South Carolina delegates, thus hoping to save further voting.

Well, Wilbur, it was then that I sat down — kerplunk — on the point of a big Harriman button somebody had tossed on my chair. I need not tell you how painful it was — and is.

Mr. Petrol gallantly helped me from the hall as the dazed delegates finally voted to keep South Carolina and Louisiana in the tribe. What nonsense all around!

As I say, Wilbur, as far as I am concerned they ought to take the entire Democratic National Convention — and stuffed wife, Trellis Mae.

Your worried wife,
Trellis Mae
P. S. My womanly intuition says: Admit on the first ballot today.

Electric Services Growing In Sanford

Despite defense restrictions on construction, more new buildings were completed here during June of this year than in June of last year, according to figures on new electric services connected, released by Florida Power & Light Company.

The number of new electric services connected is considered a reliable index to the number of new buildings completed. H. H. Coleman, division manager for Florida Power & Light Company, stated:

"During June of this year," Coleman said, "we connected 78 new electric services in our Sanford district, a 21 percent increase over the 64 new connections during June of last year. This increase reflects favorably on our area here. Most of our new electric connections have been to residences, indicating that local families are expanding their electric needs by buying new homes."

Florida Power & Light Company's researchers estimate that the state's population will continue to grow rapidly during the next ten years. With present population at approximately 2,800,000 the state's population is expected to reach 4,000,000 by 1962.

To serve the growth in its service area which comprises about two-thirds of Florida, the power company expects it will be called upon to build ten big generating units and plant additions which will probably triple present system generating capacity. Florida Power & Light Company expects these plants and other expansion projects will cost it more than $322,000,000.

OBSERVATION TRIPS were made by Eisenhower as commander of the Supreme Headquarters, Allied Powers, Europe (SHAPE) to his scattered forces. In 1951 he traveled in a helicopter with Admiral Robert H. Carney to watch Mediterranean maneuvers of the 6th Fleet. (Another strip of pictures on Eisenhower's life will appear tomorrow.)

Harriman-Kefauver Coalition Routed By Stevenson Forces

Threat Of Bolt Results In Seating Of Delegations From 3 Southern States

By JACK BELL
CONVENTION HALL, Chicago — Weary, squabbling Democrats deployed for their payoff battle over a presidential nominee today with hastily assembled stop-Stevenson troops dug in on defense.

Supporters of Gov. Adlai E. Stevenson—now somewhat less reluctant to become the party standard bearer than he has been before—carried the attack to 10 opponents seeking the top nomination.

The Illinois governor's legions were rolling swiftly forward, spurred on by two skirmish victories Thursday night and early today over the combined forces of Sen. Estes Kefauver of Tennessee and W. Averell Harriman of New York.

The Stevenson men were credited with bringing back into the convention fold bolt-threatening delegations from Virginia, South Carolina and Louisiana.

They won a clear-cut, though narrow-margin victory in keeping the delegates at work in a 14-hour session but they had to surrender finally and allow adjournment in the early morning hours because of what had all of the early earmarks of a filibuster by the Kefauver-Harriman coalition.

With the start of balloting only a few hours away, the Associated Press tabulation of known first-ballot standings was:

Kefauver 272 1/2
Stevenson 215
Sen. Richard Russell of Georgia 207
Harriman 107 1/2
Others 247 1/2

Uncommitted 179 1/2
Needed to nominate 615 1/2

Working together in what they have styled a "liberal" combine which has attracted supporters of some other candidates, Kefauver and Harriman took a 615 in 825 seeking in efforts to prevent the 26-vote Virginia delegation from balloting on presidential and vice-presidential nominees.

It was the first time such a coalition has formed in an important caucus since the early days of the late Franklin D. Roosevelt.

The result might prestage a swing toward a more conservative type of campaign. Stevenson emerges as the winner—especially if he gets Southern support in the nomination drive being put on for him.

The Virginians had refused to subscribe fully to a new loyalty pledge put across by the K-H combine which would require delegates to go to work to place his convention's nominee on their state's November ballot, under the Democratic label.

In the 2-hour wrangle that followed the test vote, Rep. John McCormack of Massachusetts, filling in temporarily for Convention Chairman Sam Rayburn of Texas—rattled the pro-Kefauver South Carolina and Louisiana delegations back on the roll from which they had been stricken when they refused to take the loyalty pledge.

The net result was to leave the three delegations in a position to cast a total of 64 convention votes for the South's champion, Rep. Russell.

Then, if they didn't like the eventual nominee, they could go home and name their own candidate for President in state conventions. All they appeared to be pledged to do, as Gov. James F. Byrnes of South Carolina explained it to the delegates, was to give the national party a show of their state ballot.

Byrnes was in the center of an unscheduled bit of excitement when a newspaper caught fire near him while he was speaking. Television viewers saw Rep. Corley, Boston, an assistant sergeant of arms, seize the microphone from Byrnes and shout: "Don't get panicky. It's only a newspaper. It will be replaced in a minute."

It was put out in about 10 minutes, but there was some blurring of the smiling crowd as delegates tried to get on with the session.

Stevenson movement, since votes for Barkley will come largely from pro-Stevenson areas.

The vote on the Virginia seating test indicated Stevenson could carry off the prize anytime he could enlist Russian support behind him.

Russell's backers had nowhere to go except to Stevenson or Barkley.

Stevenson, who has insisted that he doesn't want the nomination and is seeking only re-election as governor, showed more interest after his name formally had been placed in nomination.

The governor watched on television while Gov. Henry F. Schrick presented him to the convention as "the man we cannot permit to say 'no.'" Gov. Elbert N. Carvel of Delaware made a con-nominating speech.

Stevenson sent reporters a statement through an aide in which he said:

"I had hoped they would not nominate me, but I am deeply affected by this expression of confidence and goodwill."

Earlier in the day word had come to party leaders from the White House that President Truman prefers Stevenson. It also became known that the President's convention alternate, Thomas J. Gavin, Kansas City, would cast his vote for Stevenson.

Mr. Truman himself is scheduled to arrive later in the day to present the new party nominee to the convention tonight—if the meeting can get back on schedule.

Rayburn ruled out the possibility of any resumption of hickering over the participation of the three challenged state delegations, telling the 7,000 delegates that had been seated and balloting was in order.

In between the parliamentary rows, speakers succeeded in offering in nomination the names of Stevenson, Kefauver, Harriman, Russell, Barkley, Sen. Robert S. Kerr of Oklahoma, William Fulbright of Arkansas, Hubert Humphrey of Minnesota, Gov. William Lloyd Pate of Mississippi, and Fred Vinson of Ohio, secretary of the national party.

Sen. J. B. Conner of Florida was mentioned by Mr. Truman's name but never called because he said the President said he shouldn't be mentioned in a possible nomination race for Stevenson, if

Engineers Say Main Florida Highways Suffer As Money Goes To County Roads

TALLAHASSEE — A New York engineering firm says Florida's main highway system is suffering while millions are being spent on a "sprawling, unconnected, disintegrated system" of county roads.

It recommended in a report to the State Road Department that the seventh cent of the tax on each gallon of gasoline — about 10 million dollars a year which now is spent where county commissioners say — should be given to the state agency for unrestricted general use.

The recommendation was in the fourth installment of an engineering study report made for the State Road Department by Parsons, Brinckerhoff, Hall and McDonald.

The engineers also recommended:

1. Establishment of a plan for developing a state arterial highway system of most traveled primary roads pointing toward population centers. It outlined 2,254 miles of state primary roads that can be expected to have a daily traffic volume of 3,000 or more vehicles a day in 20 years. Most of them are on the present primary road map.
2. Adoption of a sufficiently rating method of programming road improvements on a priority basis.
3. High priority attention to elimination of urban bottlenecks in the main road system.
4. Transfer of about 200 miles of best traveled highways from the present primary system to the secondary system.
5. Transfer, by plan over 20 years, of about 1,000 miles of present secondary roads to the primary system.
6. A movement to have schools built a few blocks from arterial highways as a means of cutting down the number of stop-and-go routes.
7. Establishment of "safe speed" limits by Road Department engineers for various sections of highway with complete enforcement by the State Highway Patrol.
8. Elimination of highway and railway crossings at the busiest intersections.

The engineers said the Road Department's 1949 agreement with county commissioners to spend the state's 80 per cent share of the seventh cent gas tax where the counties say is resulting in "a sprawling, unconnected, disintegrated system of improved county roads which serve isolated areas."

"About 12 of the 67 counties have established some kind of short range but fairly specific program for the development of secondary roads within their borders," the report said.

"As far as can be determined no two or more adjoining counties have evolved a program which attempts to give some semblance of secondary road inter-relationship."

"A major portion of the Road Department's 80 per cent share of the seventh cent gas tax and a good portion of the department's 80 per cent share of the second gas tax (the surplus after state payments from the fifth and sixth cents) is now being budgeted for secondary roads," the report said.

"Aside from the fact that these expenditures are being made despite the lack of sufficient funds to properly improve the primary system, it must be remembered that the revenues from these sources must be allocated to the counties on a formula which 'automatically precludes any coherent or logical development of the secondary system based on actual requirements,' recommendation that the seventh cent gas tax, as a separate impost, be abolished, and the first cent tax increased from four to five cents.

"Primary and secondary road expenditures would then be made on a state-wide basis from the first gas tax, leaving the 80 per cent surplus of the second gas tax to be used for additional improvements most necessary to better the primary and secondary systems within the individual counties."

The six year old Florida River had been scheduled to be in the electric chair here on Aug. 4 for his part in the death plot.

Collage's fight for life had been rebuffed by the local federal court. Mr. Truman, the man believed to kill you by the source of electricity.

Collage was wounded and a companion, Gerardo Torralba, was killed but Collage's attorney said it was "barely a scratch" which should be healed.

However, the lawyer said, another fellow in a number of states who has refused to sign the loyalty pledge had been sentenced to death by a court of law. He said that he and Collage did not intend to kill anyone but simply wanted to demonstrate to the half of Florida that an individual

Trend Of Weather In U. S. Towards Relief

By The Associated Press
The weather trend today showed some comfortable temperatures but some heat, heat and heat.

The Weather Bureau said today, according to the Northern Plains states, was expected to move eastward and southward accompanied by scattered thunderstorms.

Thirteen many cities in the Northern Plains as well as the Southern Plains reported temperatures around the 100-degree mark.

At St. Louis, the mercury climbed to 102 at Augusta, Ga. Other highs included 105 at Birmingham, Ala., 102 at Fort Smith, Ark., 103 at Fort Worth, Tex., 104 at Gila Bend, Ariz., and 105 at Akron, Colo.

Comparatively cool temperatures prevailed, however, in the North and Northwestern United States. Readings were in the 70s and 80s from New England into the Great Plains during midday Thursday.

Elder Workers

Participation of older workers in the labor force is much more frequent than is popularly believed, the Metropolitan Life Insurance Company said today, on the basis of unpublished data made available by the Bureau of the Census.

In the 65-69 age group, 56 percent of all men are still working, and another 8 percent are looking for work. Even at ages 70-74 about 40 percent are still gainfully employed, and not until past 75 does the proportion drop below 20 percent.

The proportion of men employed in old age varies according to occupation. Non-agricultural workers begin dropping out of the labor market in appreciable numbers not long after age 60, while the proportion engaged in agriculture does not lessen until age 65. The self-employed also tend to stay active to later ages, and in jobs requiring experience and craftsmanship the proportion of older men remains high.

On the other hand, older men rapidly drop out of hazardous occupations and those requiring strenuous physical exertion, but many find employment in lighter work, either on a full-time or part-time basis.

These figures show that there is still a sizable reservoir of skilled workers among the older age groups from which employers can draw experienced men, the company points out.

Very few women remain in the labor force after 65. About 76 percent of women in the 65-69 age group are neither working nor looking for work. This figure rises to 94 percent in the 70-74 group, and to more than 97 percent in over-75 group.

"The reason why older workers leave the labor market are varied," the Metropolitan adds. "Falling health and physical infirmities; retirement, voluntary or mandatory; and inability to secure suitable employment. Yet many older people continue to contribute to the nation's productive power. In the opinion of many investigators, employment opportunities for older workers should be widened so that their skills and experience are not lost to the economy."

Presidential Ghost

The retirement of William Hassett as presidential aide focuses attention on the fact that many public figures employ "ghost writers" to help them with their public speeches and letters. Hassett, a newspaperman of many years experience, assisted both the late Franklin D. Roosevelt and President Truman with their letters. Many of the phrases credited to these men may have been authored by Hassett but it seems likely that history will pay him little heed.

The use of ghost writers was once deplored by many people who felt that important men should be capable of writing themselves. But it has become increasingly important for public figures to make themselves clear in their letters and speeches. A man who rises to high office may have great executive ability but lack of convincing or adequate style in which to phrase his ideas.

More Beef

A late news release from the American Meat Institute tells a beef-hungry country more steaks will fill our stomachs next year than ever before. The report says that our cattle population will expand from a conservative 88,000,000 to a stampeding 98,000,000 within the twelve-month period. That is about four or five million more cattle.

So we can believe there is a lot of beef on the hoof somewhere in the United States and more steaks, roasts and stews coming along all the time, faster than we can eat them. The high price may perhaps be a deciding factor in the dropping bovine mortality rate. Of that no one can yet be sure.

Bethany College Is Declared To Be Not "Accredited"

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Federal Trade Commission announced today it has ordered Bethany College and Divinity School to stop representing itself in its advertising as an accredited educational institution.

The commission's announcement referred to the institution's address as "formerly at 122 Eighth St., North, St. Petersburg, Fla."

The commission said its order was directed also at Carl M. Kilmer and Lulu M. Kilmer, described as officers of the institution.

The announcement said the school owned no buildings and "had never had a permanent location," and added that the commission had found that the school "fell far short of meeting the minimum requirements for an institution of higher learning, and that the enterprise was not an institution of higher learning or a college but essentially a correspondence school."

WOMAN RED CAPTURED

IPOH, Malaya (AP)—Police today announced the capture of a gun-toting Chinese woman said to be the highest ranking female leader in Communist guerrilla forces.

She was identified as Leo Meng, whose activities as a guerrilla leader in the tin-mining state of Perak resulted in the government offering $40,000 reward for her arrest.

In a post-midnight raid on an IPOH house, police seized her and three other women and confiscated a number of Communist documents.

OPENING THE DEMOCRATIC National Convention with a bang, two unidentified braverists mix it up in Chicago's Palmer House as a California caucus is crashed by fellow-Californians who had failed to have the chosen delegate unseated. The invaders, backers of Dr. Gen. Herbert Holidige, claimed the caucusing delegates, pledged to Sen. Estes Kefauver, were selected illegally.

Last Defense Plea Is Made For Couple In Brutal Slaying

TAMPA (AP)—The defense made its last plea this morning for John and Alice Cliffe, accused of killing her small son.

The first degree murder case was expected to go to the Circuit Court jury early this afternoon.

State Attorney J. Rex Farrior demanded the death penalty in his final argument immediately after Joseph Greene finished for the defense.

The Cliffes are accused of punishing a 4-year-old Wayne Doham until he died.

The state says the couple made the boy go without food for three days and suspended him from a raft in night. Prosecutors say the boy starved while he collapsed from hunger, exhaustion and injuries after beating.

Puerto Ricans Are Glad Over Having New Independence

SAN JUAN, Puerto Rico (AP)—Puerto Ricans joyfully assumed their new role as a self-governing "free commonwealth" associated with the United States today — exactly 54 years after American troops landed on the Caribbean island during the Spanish-American War.

Flags of the new commonwealth were to flutter over all the island's public buildings at noon today, signaling the adopting of the new Constitution under which the 2 1/2 million Puerto Ricans will administer their own affairs.

Volte Williams

Ions of mine formed since I arrived at this convention.

I came to Chicago in a completely open frame of mind with regard to possible nominees. If anything, I think I favored Senator Kefauver more than anyone else—however, his conduct, and the conduct of the whole Harriman-Kefauver combine, convinces me that we voters have very little to do with the selection of our candidates. Now, more than ever before, we need that bill introduced in the Congress by Senators and House members, which would allow us, not a group of self-anointed king-makers, to select the nominees of our party.

Marine Uses Buddy As Decoy To Claim New Rifly Mark

WITH U. S. FIRST MARINE DIVISION, Korea (AP)—A shartshooting sergeant using a fellow marine as a decoy shot a perfect but highly unofficial record — nine Chinese snipers killed with nine bullets.

But the company commander put a stop to the bizarre tactics. The Marines today released the story.

Egt. John E. Bolntoot, Chicago, a medal-winning marksman, and Pfc. Henry A. Friday, Nekosa, Wis., were stationed on an outpost far forward of the Marine division's main line of defense.

Husband Dares His Wife To Shoot Him, She 'Takes Him Up'

MT. CLEMENS, Mich. (AP)—A 30-year-old housewife was held here today for investigation of the fatal shooting of her husband who she said showed her how to operate his shotgun and dared her to shoot him with it.

Mrs. Alberta Brazelton was arrested early this morning by state police shortly after her husband, Frederick, 42, was killed by a shotgun blast in the head.

"We were both laughing and kidding each other when the gun went off," Mrs. Brazelton told police, claiming the shooting was accidental.

Mrs. Brazelton said she and her husband had been on a round of Detroit area bars Thursday and started quarreling in one of them. The quarrel continued after they reached their home Thursday night near Utica, Mich.

Russians Asked To Lend Influence On Chinese, 'Koreans'

WASHINGTON (AP)—The United States has appealed to Russia to ask the Chinese and North Korean Communists to provide better treatment for United Nations prisoners of war in Korea.

The appeal, sent also to the International Red Cross, was announced by the State Department Thursday in advance of the opening at Toronto Monday of a world-wide meeting of Communist resistance will be represented.

The timing was regarded here as significant.

First, if there is any real hope of success in this field, now may be the best time for trying.

Second, the appeal is a good propaganda maneuver in offset an expected Red attempt to use the Red Cross meeting as a forum for attacks on the United States and its allies.

Canning Industry Declared Saved By Strike Settlement

PITTSBURGH (AP)—Charles W. York, executive secretary of the Pennsylvania Cannery Association, said today the steel strike ended just in time to prevent a disaster in the country's canned food industry.

York said railroad cars will be waiting at mill gates to load stored tin plate the minute plants open.

"It is still so early to predict how much damage will be done to the canning business," he said. "It depends on too many ifs, such as condition of the stored tin plate. How fast it can be delivered to can manufacturers and how quick can deliveries be made to canners."

What is the best investment which a person can make in this day and time when inflation is liable to destroy all fixed assets and atomic bombs demolish what is left? There are certainly intangible values which cannot be destroyed by war or by political intrigue. One is the knowledge of how to do, that is how to make things, perform services, fill a job satisfactorily to one's self and one's neighbor. Blues Win 3rd In Row On Corrales' Shutout Over Palatka

Seninoles Are Now Two Games Out Of 2nd; Play DeLand Here On Saturday

By KENT CHILLAN
Chico Corrales kept last night's Seninoles blank with a sterling 8-0 shutout over the Palatka Braves in Memorial Stadium. It marks the 10th victory in the last 21 outings for the unprecedented Seninoles baseball machine and Corrales' 12th win of the season.

The Seninoles' eighth shutout from Memorial Stadium comes in the last four games of a one-game lead in the Florida International League. The Seninoles' victory in the first game of the doubleheader from Memorial Stadium on Friday night, the first four games of the doubleheader, but a one-game lead in the Florida International League. The Seninoles' victory in the first game of the doubleheader from Memorial Stadium on Friday night, the first four games of the doubleheader, but a one-game lead in the Florida International League.

The Blues opened up their scoring machine early on Alcazar, getting the Pennington by tallying three runs in the first frame on only two hits, an error and a pair of passes. Sanford nicked Pennington for three more runs in the second and added two in the third to drive the full-blood Cherokee to the showers.

The veteran Cecil Hutson blanked Sanford the remainder of the distance on his famous slow ball. The Seninoles will have to give their two-game set and have their three straight wins.

After a well earned rest for the All-Star tonight the Seninoles will return to the ball game in Memorial Stadium Saturday night to play their winning machine against the Blues for the championship DeLand. The Seninoles' victory in the first game of the doubleheader from Memorial Stadium on Friday night, the first four games of the doubleheader, but a one-game lead in the Florida International League.

Frank Smith opened the first frame by leading off with a single to Merritt Smith who threw over Hernandez's head to permit Smith to go to second. After John Imbra and Pep Lambert went out, Parise walked and Aleno was hit on the back on lead the sacks. Dusty Rhodes drew a base on balls to force Smith in with the first run of the game. Cavallaro looped a flyball single to right center scoring both Parise and Aleno.

The second inning assault was launched by Smith's heading out a single, which was followed by Imbra's single to left and Rambert's single that brought Smith in. Parise's long fly pushed Imbra a across. Aleno was safe on a high throw.

Frank Smith by Sondermeyer, Rambert going to third. Rhodes slapped a single to left that scored Rambert with the third run of the inning and sixth of the game.

The two-run third stanza was highlighted again when Smith led-off with a triple into the right field corner that was followed by Imbra's triple to right center pushing Smith across the plate. Imbra came home on Parise's high fly to center for the final run.

Manager Chuck Aleno was forced back into the lineup because of a leg injury to Paul Eskew and George Kenia's sore arm. This necessitated a new lineup that found Rambert at first, Parise moving to right and Aleno on the hot corner.

DeLand Maintains Its 5 1/2 Game Lead Over Other Clubs

By F. T. MacFEELY
Associated Press Staff Writer
The Florida State League interrupted its regular schedule for the annual All-Star game in Sanford tonight.

League officials and the host city are hoping to draw 5,000 fans to see their new Sanford Stadium and the four southern cities.

Orlando's George Klarman is scheduled to be the starting pitcher for the South against Jacksonville Beach's Tom Mills for the North. Coming up to the All-Star game, DeLand's Red Hats are still way out in front of the second half standings. They polished off Corona 7-5 Thursday night and remained 7 1/2 games ahead.

Newport's Luxury Area Wins Battle Against Progress

NEWPORT, R. I. — Newport's Bellevue Avenue millionaires have won a victory in their fight against invasion of their exclusive residential neighborhood "for commercial purposes." The Newport Board of Review Thursday night rejected a petition of Miss Edith Newlin, Palm Beach, Fla., for the conversion of the mansion "Scavenger" to an apartment hotel. The petition was opposed by Bellevue Avenue residents.

Steel

The plan was agreed upon. No wage or other terms were announced at Thursday's White House session, but it was widely learned the agreement included conditions: A wage boost of 16 cents an hour for 430,000 basic steel workers; highly modified form of union shop which allows present non-union members to stay out and gives new employees a 15-day escape period during their first month of employment; six paid holidays; three weeks vacation after 15 years service; a 2-year contract ending on June 30, 1933, with a wage resurvey next June 30. These concessions come at a total of just over 21 cents an hour for each worker. Pre-strike pay averaged slightly over $2 an hour. The strike, longest in the nation's steel history, will have cost more than 21 million tons of the defense vital metal by the time full production is resumed. It has imperiled the defense program and stopped altogether the production of some high-priority items like 105-mm shells.

McMahon Dies Of Cancer At Capital Today

Connecticut Senator Played Key Role In Developing Atomic Power Of Country

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Brian McMahon, 48, a Connecticut Democrat with a passion for peace and a key role in the nation's atomic energy program, died today of cancer.

Death came at 10:10 a. m., EST, with members of his family at his side in Georgetown Hospital, where the senator went in June for an operation.

Dr. Philip A. Caulfield, McMahon's personal physician, said the senator was stricken with cancer of the lung which had spread to his back and pelvis.

Illness prevented his campaigning as a candidate for the Democratic presidential nomination. Friends from Connecticut gave him 16 votes anyhow at the Democratic National Convention last week.

From his hospital bed, McMahon ordered his name withdrawn.

McMahon was a brand new senator in 1943 when the first atomic bomb devastated Hiroshima. Awe-struck, he decided this time his life must be given to the cause of civilization, and dedicated his life to that goal.

Despite his relative inexperience, he became chairman of the Senate House Atomic Energy Committee and the voice of Congress on all atomic affairs, the highest lay authority on the subject.

He first won fame as chief of the Justice Department's criminal division in 1937. He was personally moved into bloody Harlan County, Ky., during a war between coal mine operators and union labor.

McMahon was shot at from ambush but only two of his key witnesses were slain and the homes of two others were dynamited, but the New Englander restored law and order after spectacular trials for terrorism.

Rep. Carl T. Durham, North Carolina Democrat, is vice chairman of the Senate House Atomic Energy Committee and automatically takes over the helm until a successor is elected.

Board Of Health Favors Sanford Disposal Plant

Deploying a report by Robert M. Angus, consulting engineer, of Jacksonville, employed by the City to study Sanford's sewage disposal needs, to the effect that no disposal plant is necessary at this time, David B. Lee, director of the Florida State Board of Health, declares it is the policy of the State Board of Health to allow the establishment of sewers without adequate treatment facilities.

In a public statement Saturday Mayor W. H. Stemper said that the Angus report on sewers has not yet been accepted by the City, that the supplementary report is being prepared giving further details, and that the City Commission is still studying the situation. "In the final analysis," he declared, "it is up to the people to decide what is to be done since they are paying the bills."

"It is unfortunate that your consulting engineer would make such a report since he is quite familiar with the policy of the Florida State Board of Health and the endowments of this State Health Department and all other state health departments, as well as the Federal Health Agency in removing pollution from our water resources in Florida, as well as from the nation as a whole," the Board of Health letter declares.

"We are sure that your City officials are familiar with the policy of the Florida State Board of Health that no extension of sanitary sewers are allowed without adequate treatment facilities. In other words, no new pollution may be added to our already polluted streams. We should like to refer to your letter as a publication from the Federal Security Agency entitled, 'Southeast Drainage Basins,' in which they state that Sanford needs a new sewage treatment plant.

"This office has advised Sanford that the new sewage treatment plant has been approved for some time and it is difficult to comprehend any recommendation in this modern civilization of allowing more pollution to our streams. Every provision to our knowledge, in the United States is pointed toward eliminating raw sewage and incineration of sludge.

A. C. Stines Attend Hardware Convention

Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Stines returned Sunday from Washington, D. C., where they attended the National Hardware Association's 53rd Congress which convened in the Hotel Statler last Tuesday through Thursday.

Mr. Stines, first vice president of the Florida Association, who served on the nominating and resolutions committees, stated that the 1953 convention site will be Miami with Florida serving as the main host assisted by other members of the Third Region including Georgia, Alabama, North and South Carolina and Tennessee.

Main speaker for the opening event was Earl Muntz and Rep. Sid Harling gave the opening address for the Thursday morning session. Mr. and Mrs. Stines left Washington for Charleston, W. Va., where they visited with their son-in-law and daughter, Dr. and Mrs. George Miyahara and their grandson, Andy, before returning home.

8 Persons Die, Many Hurt At Eva's Funeral

Thousands Are Given First Aid As Crowds Seek To View Body Of Argentine Idol

By STANFORD BRADSHAW
BUENOS AIRES, Argentina.—Eight persons were reported dead and scores injured in the crush today as thousands crowded up to pay last homage to Eva Peron.

Doctors manning improvised first aid stations near the Ministry of Labor, where the body of Argentina's first lady was lying in state, said some deaths resulted from trampling, others from heart failure. They said thousands were given first aid, but most of these had only fainted. Many, however, suffered fractured legs or arms.

Crowds hurried in during the morning to help police control the crowds as they lined up four abreast in mile-long queues for a 20-second walk past the bier of President Juan Peron's wife and political partner, who died Saturday night after a long illness. Many waited eight hours for a glimpse of the body.

Just before noon, police issued a casualty bulletin, counting four dead and 2,500 injured, but public health ministry doctors said the numbers were higher than that.

Mrs. Peron's death in her early 30's was generally attributed to cancer although there had been no official announcement of the nature of her illness.

The blonde wife of President Juan Peron lay in state in the hall of the labor ministry, in glass-topped casket of mahogany draped in white orchids awaiting a full military funeral Tuesday at 10 a. m. Tens of thousands of mourners packed the hall and overflowed into the streets outside.

Peron spent much of Sunday bedside and personally arranged the placement of the bier. After a private funeral mass, attended only by government ministers and intimate friends, he ordered the restless crowds admitted. They had shouted to see the body and once broke a police line to get closer to the casket.

The mournful viewing of the body was accompanied by an unexpected death. Gen. Juan Esteban Uriburu, director of the army's superior school, suffered a heart attack while visiting the bier Sunday night and died shortly after.

Peron's decision still was being kept on his wife's permanent body place.

Temporary interment, at his own request, will be in the hall of the 6,000-member General Labor Confederation (CGT). She is the unofficial head of the CGT and her following among its members made her the nation's most potent political force after Peron himself.

At the age of 30—according to her official card—the beauty was regarded as the most powerful woman in politics in the world.

Stevenson And Sparkman Talk Over Campaign

CHICAGO, Aug. 2.—Gov. Adlai E. Stevenson returned today to Springfield and a tumultuous welcome from the Illinois capital, to prepare himself for the role of Democratic standard bearer in the 1952 presidential campaign.

He will pick up, but only temporarily, the reins of the job he had repeatedly said he wanted for four more years—governor of Illinois.

Then he will resign to devote himself to the role "I did not want" candidate for the President of the United States.

The Democratic nominee spent the week end conferring with party leaders on campaign plans. Among them was Sen. John Sparkman of Alabama, whom the Democratic National Convention chose as Stevenson's running mate as candidate for vice president.

Frank E. McKinney, Democratic national chairman, told reporters the party high command had agreed on a "hard-hitting" campaign of no more than 90 days. It will begin on Labor Day.

McKinney said the party's big four speaking team will be President Truman, who advised the department, as well as the Federal Vice President Alben Barkham, an unsuccessful candidate for the top spot on the 1952 ticket, Stevenson and Sparkman.

The chairman said the team will carry the campaign into every part of the nation, and President Truman has promised a repetition of his 1948 whistle stop speaking tour that salvaged victory over a generally predicted defeat.

Besides Sparkman and McKinney, other Stevenson visitors Sunday included Gov. Paul A. Dever of Massachusetts, Averell Harriman, Sen. Robert Kerr of Oklahoma and Mrs. Julia Edwards, vice-chairman of the Democratic National Committee.

A reporter called Kerr's attention to his own campaign literature which had said Stevenson was not emotionally fitted for the presidency, and the senator replied the statement was "a minor thing of no importance."

It was disclosed that Dever had persuaded Harriman to withdraw in favor of Stevenson after the second ballot at the convention Friday. A reliable source said Harriman planned to delay his withdrawal until the sixth ballot, but the Massachusetts governor per- (Continued on Page Two)

J. P. Hart Found Guilty Of Charge

J. P. Hart, charged with driving while intoxicated to the extent that his normal faculties were impaired, was found guilty by the jury in the County Court Thursday afternoon.

Witnesses for the state included George A. Kelsey, constable, and Thomas H. Daniels, Jr., while witnesses for the defense were Mitchell Roland and the defendant.

Sentence was withheld by Judge Douglas Stenstrom pending a possible appeal for a new trial.

The jury consisted of Columbus T. Kent, John A. Brown, Cecil E. Flowers, William L. Harvey, Jr., James A. McGrath, and Joseph R. Wells.

The court was not in session today, but will continue tomorrow with the cases of Calvin McKinney, charged with aggravated assault, and Charles E. Jordan, assault and battery.

Tragic Shooting With Small Rifle Marred Boyhood Of Adlai Stevenson

Editor's note: This second of a 3-part series on the life of Adlai E. Stevenson, Democratic nominee for President, covers his career from boyhood to World War II.

By ROGER F. LANE
SPRINGFIELD, Ill.—A tragic episode marred the boyhood of Adlai E. Stevenson in his 13th year.

A rifle he had discharged on a cousin by marriage, Ruth Mary Merwin, on Dec. 26, 1912. The death was ruled accidental at a coroner's inquest the next day.

This is what happened.

A teen-age party was arranged for friends of Adlai's older sister, Elizabeth. Adlai was given an early supper but permitted to join the guests afterward. Meantime, the parents left the house to call on neighbors.

One of the guests was a student at military academy home for the Christmas holidays. Adlai was sent to get out a .22 caliber rifle, and the academy youth proceeded to entertain the others by demon- (Continued on Page Two)
