Deputy Injured In Roadblock

By BOB LLOYD
 Herald Staff Writer

A 10 mile high speed chase by a state trooper ended in a collision early today on West First Street in Sanford that hospitalized a fleeing suspect and a Seminole County sheriff's deputy.

Florida Highway Patrol Trooper T.R. McIntyre said he chased a car driven by a 27-year-old Georgia man at speeds up to 110 M.P.H. on Interstate Four and SR 46 before the suspect's car smashed into the side of a Sheriff's patrol car driven by Sgt. Ed Fagan at a roadblock on West First Street at Olander Avenue.

Sanford police patrolman Herb Shea charged Ted Haston Pace, 27, Chiro, Ga., with aggravated assault, driving under the influence, reckless driving and no driver's license. McIntyre said state charges are also pending against Pace.

Pace and Fagan were admitted at Seminole Memorial Hospital. A hospital spokesman said today Fagan was listed in "good" condition and being x-rayed for possible back injuries. Pace was admitted for observation for possible internal injuries.

Sheriff John Polk said the damage to the sheriff's car was estimated at $3,000. "I'm thankful the men weren't more seriously injured. You can always replace a car but not a life."

"The chase started two miles south of Lake Mary Boulevard on I-4," McIntyre said, "after I tried to pull over a car that was weaving to both sides of the highway."

"I pulled alongside the car and the driver refused to stop and made an obscene gesture and fled. He ran me off the road at least three times and exited onto SR 46."

Sheriff's deputies and city police, alerted by radio, set up roadblocks in Sanford. Officers said Sgt. Fagan had blocked the eastbound lanes of West First Street (SR46) at 12:41 a.m. when the fleeing sedan swerved and crashed into the right side of the county patrol car with blue lights flashing.

McIntyre said he was able to stop his FHP cruiser without striking the wrecked vehicles. Impact of the roadblock collision hurled the sheriff's cruiser off the street onto the parkway on the south side.

McIntyre said preliminary investigation identified Pace as unemployed and indicated he had been living in his car in the central Florida area.

POLICE CHECK FLEEING DRIVER After car crashed at roadblock

The Sanford Herald

 66th Year, No. 65 Price 10 Cents

By John A. Spolki

(Editor's Note: Today's column is written by David Bryant for John Spolki, who is attending his father's funeral in Pennsylvania.)

Tuesday is the day! Six of Seminole County's seven municipalities are holding elections.

It's up to all of us—you and me—to put into effect the most qualified persons possible, and the only way we can do that is to get out and VOTE! See that to the polls.

Sheriff John Polk called today to clarify something. He said he has not endorsed any political candidate, and doesn't plan to.

Ken Brown, former Longwood mayor, called to clarify something. He said he is not the former mayor who is waging a mud-slinging campaign against a candidate for office in that city.

I wonder if Judge John Sirica will extend his investigation further into the White House to find out who really erased 18 minutes from one tape. Especially so since Rosemary Woods, Mr. Nixon's secretary, claims she couldn't have obliterated all of the sensitive conversation between Mr. Nixon and his former aide, Bob Haldean.

Reports from around Seminole indicate a soaring number of cars are running out of gas, while parked overnight in front of homes. One policeman mentioned that the "poor man's credit card" (a siphon hose) is making a good comeback. We also note reports of lock-type gas caps are rising.

He added, however, he will be meeting with a representative from Hammock-General Associates which is under contract with the city to maintain the facility, to correct the odor problem. "Possibly it can be corrected by changing the amount and duration of air pumped through it," Adair said.

Adair said he will also be getting with Mayor Eugene Jackson to advise on the steps which should be taken when the plant ownership was

Trio Abandons Jet, Releases Hostages
 DUBAI (AP) — Three Palestinian hijackers, in command of a Dutch jumbo jet since Sunday night, released their exhausted hostages and gave themselves up today after getting a safe passage guarantee from Dubai, the airline KLM reported.

A KLM spokesman in Amsterdam said the hijackers and the hostages — 10 crewmen and KLM vice president A. W. Withold — were taken to the airport VIP lounge in this Persian Gulf sheikdom, then to a hospital for a checkup.

There was no immediate indication where the hijackers wanted to go, or the conditions of their agreement with the Dubai officials.

The crew members were reported in good condition after their three-day ordeal, during which the hijackers forced the jet to roam around the eastern Mediterranean and Middle East.

Officials also said the $7 million jet apparently suffered no damage.

City Proposes Transit
 ALTAMONTE SPRINGS — City councilmen nodded approval Tuesday night to board member Dan Dorfman's proposal to acquire a mass transit system for the South Seminole area to relieve traffic problems and keep county shoppers from traveling to Orange County to spend their money.

Dorfman said he received encouragement from officials in the Washington office of the mass transportation authority early this week and information was sent on to the East Central Florida Regional Planning Council to assist in the project.

He said a meeting will be held by the county commissioners Tuesday night to discuss the plan. Dorfman said he expects to produce $300,000 for the school board to pay for a four-lane of SR 434, and "possible" modifications of the 14 interchange.

The planning council and the state Department of Transportation were severely criticized by commissioners Tuesday for inadequate road information, Neiswander called the state's failure to prepare data on 14 "astounding."

The school site hassle, and lesser arguments over road impact, drainage, recreational facilities and built-out schedules, threatened to delay approval, thus holding up final plat approval for the 2,700-unit project abutting Wekiva Springs State Park.

"Final approval is necessary before building permits may be issued, and Huskey fought for DRI passage Tuesday, rather than a delay, telling commissioners the county's tight money situation could hamper the county's participation in the Middle East unless Israel withdraws from all occupied Arab lands. In a final declaration, the leaders declared that until Israel evacuates all occupied territories and restores the rights of the Palestinian people, an unstable and explosive situation and renewed battles" will continue in the Middle East.

Correction Promised For Sewer Facility
 By DONNA ESTES
 Herald Staff Writer

Corrections will be made in the operation of Longwood's Skykrak sewer package plant north of the city cemetery and the plant compound is now chained off, state and county pollution control officer, Langley Adair said today.

Adair said he checked into complaints of odors at the plant at 1 p.m. Tuesday afternoon and determined that the operation is "not as good as it should be."

He added, however, he will be meeting with a representative from Hammock-General Associates which is under contract with the city to maintain the facility, to correct the odor problem. "Possibly it can be corrected by changing the amount and duration of air pumped through it," Adair said.

Adair said he will also be getting with Mayor Eugene Jackson to advise on the steps which should be taken when the plant ownership was transferred to the city and notified the city to apply for a full operating permit.

At about 5 p.m., city crews chained off the sewer plant compound, Adair said.

Tuesday neighboring property owners on Hamilton Avenue complained that playing children climb the ladder at the package plant and expressed fears that a child would tumble into the effluent tank and drown.

The Skykrak plant, 100,000 gallon per day capacity, is one of three which will be operated by the city. The second, a 300,000 gallon daily capacity plant located on a three-acre parcel on Longwood Hills Road and is currently controlled by Trim Development Co.

Another, a 100,000 gallon per day capacity plant is under construction in the development bounded Fairy Lake, Columbus Harbor.

Arab Talk Ends With Warnings
 ALGIERS (AP) — Arab leaders closed a three-day summit today with a warning of renewed battles in the Middle East unless Israel withdraws from all occupied Arab lands. In a final declaration, the leaders declared that until Israel evacuates all occupied territories and restores the rights of the Palestinian people, an unstable and explosive situation and renewed battles" will continue in the Middle East.

All speakers at the closing session called for maintenance of Arab unity and warned Arab nations to be prepared for new fighting if the peace talks fail.

The final declaration, however, did not explicitly refer to the talks, tentatively scheduled to open in Geneva on Dec. 18.

In a backstage compromise, the kings and presidents attending the conference earlier averted a split over the status of Palestinian guerrilla leader Yasser Arafat and opened the way for Arafat's participation in the proposed talks.

The summit reaffirmed Arafat as spokesman of the Palestinian people, but took no step toward the creation of a Palestinian exile government that would have challenged King Hussein's sovereignty over Jordan.

Weather
 Considerable cloudiness with showers or thundershowers likely. Gradual clearing and turning cold tonight and Thursday. High in the upper 70s to low 80s. Lows in the low to mid 50s. Highs Thursday in the upper 60s. Mostly southerly winds 10 to 20 m.p.h. shifting to northwesterly. Some gusty winds likely in thundershowers.

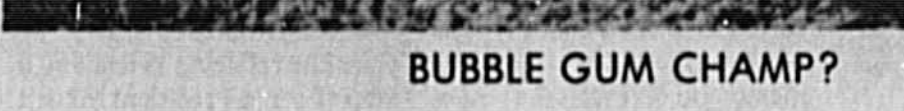

Although the city's zoning ordinance does not have any category which permits sewer plants, the city property on which the Skykrak facility is located is zoned residential in Columbus Harbor.

James Turbow was not sure whether the Trim Tric land is zoned residential or multiple family district. The zoning ordinance expressly forbids sewer plants in apartment zoned lands.

At about 5 p.m., city crews chained off the sewer plant compound, Adair said.

Tuesday neighboring property owners on Hamilton Avenue complained that playing children climb the ladder at the package plant and expressed fears that a child would tumble into the effluent tank and drown.

Mideast Negotiations

The meeting scheduled today between Israeli and Egyptian generals negotiating to fix cease-fire lines along the Suez Canal has been postponed until Thursday, U.N. spokesman in Cairo and Jerusalem announced.

The spokesman in Cairo said the meeting was delayed at Israel's request because of "consultations" by both sides.

Other U.N. sources in the Egyptian capital said the consultations were taking place in Tel Aviv, Cairo, Washington and at U.N. headquarters in New York. "These are quite active consultations," one source commented.

Pioneer Near Jupiter

MOUNTAIN VIEW, Calif. (AP)—Scientists are waiting for tiny Pioneer 10's plunge into the magnetic field of distant Jupiter. Scientists at the Ames Research Center here where the 570-pound spacecraft is being controlled said it might enter Jupiter's magnetic field sometime late today or early Thursday. The spacecraft is scheduled to swoop within 81,000 miles of Jupiter on Dec. 3.

Offshore Oil Drilling

SACRAMENTO, Calif. (AP)—Spurred by the energy crisis, California is expected to lift a ban on offshore oil drilling imposed following the Santa Barbara oil spill of 1969. The three-member State Lands Commission is expected to vote Dec. 11 to approve a staff recommendation that the moratorium against drilling on state leases be lifted. The leases hold under reserves of 200 million-300 million barrels, state experts said. The Santa Barbara disaster stemmed from a well being drilled on a federal lease outside the state's three-mile jurisdiction, but the state suspended all offshore drilling as a precautionary measure.

Cambodian Fighting

PHNOM PENH, Cambodia (AP)—Heavy shelling and several ground attacks were reported against the southern defenses of besieged Takeo, 30 miles south of Phnom Penh. Seven government soldiers were reported killed and 12 wounded by shelling in the past three days. Action lessened on Highway 4, Phnom Penh's supply route from the coast, with light mortar shelling reported at Mohasing village, 38 miles southwest of the capital, and a clash at a nearby Buddhist pagoda in which five government troops were killed and 12 were wounded.

Irish Violence

BELFAST, Northern Ireland (AP)—Three more persons were killed in Northern Ireland as bombs and suspected bombs exploded more than 30 roads in the province and stopped rail traffic between Belfast and Dublin. A man and a woman were killed when their car crashed into a truck in which a bomb had been planted, and British troops killed a masked man trying to steal a car in which he presumably wanted to plant a bomb. The confirmed death toll in more than four years of communal warfare rose to 917.

National News Briefs

Kissinger Travels

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of State Henry A. Kissinger will hit the road again next month for a NATO ministers meeting in Brussels and possibly another swing through the Mideast to boost chances for a productive peace conference in Geneva.

He also is likely to wind up in the Swiss city to see the talks through their opening phase, officials said. The Brussels visit, Dec. 10 and 11 is considered essential to promote Kissinger's proposed new three-sided relationship between the United States, western Europe and Japan.

Fuel Shortage

WASHINGTON (AP)—The fuel shortage has begun taking its toll on jobs, putting thousands out of work before Christmas in the first of an expected series of major layoffs that may push unemployment up sharply. Layoffs are reported in the auto, chemical, construction and textile industries.

Black Front Men

WASHINGTON (AP)—A congressional investigator says wealthy white businessmen are recruiting blacks to front for them in getting loans and government contracts reserved for minorities. Curtis Prins, chief investigator for the House Banking Committee, said, "To use a phrase, they are franchising blacks."

U.S. Steel Price Hike

PITTSBURGH (AP)—U.S. Steel Corp., the nation's largest producer, has announced plans to increase steel prices Jan. 1 by about 4% per cent on half of the industry's product line.

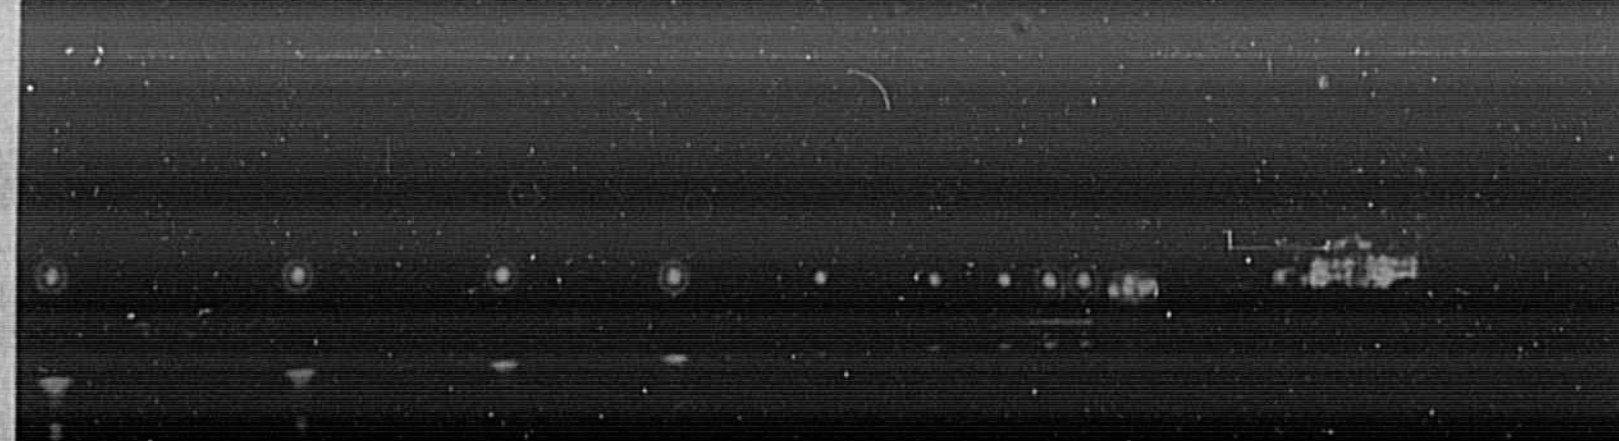

The increases would cover such steel products as rods, wire, bars, semifinished steel, plate, structural, tubular and railroad products.

LIGHTS BLACKED OUT TO SAVE ENERGY

DOWNTOWN HOLIDAY lighting in Sanford (above) won't twinkle again until the Dec. 6 Christmas Parade, city commissioners said this week as they ordered the decorations extinguished to save energy. The U.S. 17-92 "whiteaway" lighting from 1-4 to the city limits, furnished by the city, also was blacked out shortly after the photo below was taken. Lights in the upper right are the Florida Power and Light Company Sanford generating plant on the St. Johns River.

Another twister injured three persons in Vinemont, about 36 miles south of Huntsville, where several houses were damaged. A marina at Smith Lake, about 15 miles west of Callahan, Ala., was destroyed.

At least three tornadoes touched down in Tennessee, at Birchwood and in Maury and Henderson counties. Fifteen persons were reported injured at Birchwood.

Also in Tennessee, the Harpeth and Duck rivers went over their banks and officials said the Harpeth would crest at five feet above flood stage, the highest since flooding last spring caused millions of dollars in damage.

Tornadoes, Floods Hit Humid Dixie

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

A fast-moving cold front smashed into hot, humid air covering Dixie and touched off tornadoes and flash floods which killed three persons and injured more than 100.

Three other persons were reported missing at Southaven, Miss.

At least nine twisters spiraled down out of driving rain-storms and cut paths of destruction in southern Louisiana, northern Alabama and Tennessee Tuesday night and early today. Flooding was also reported in portions of West Virginia.

The storm system moved into Georgia and the Carolinas during the night and portions of the three states remained under a tornado watch until 5 a.m. EST.

Hundreds of houses and trailer homes were destroyed or damaged.

One of the twisters ripped into an elementary school at Southaven and sliced the roof from the main building where 1,400 pupils huddled in hallways. Six of the children were among the 62 persons injured in the Southaven area.

The tornado also destroyed three portable classrooms, smashed 56 mobile homes in a nearby trailer park, damaged 71 others and left wide damage in another trailer park.

At Huntsville, Ala., at least 42 persons were injured when a tornado ripped through the Huntsville-Decatur Jetport and nearby trailer park. The National Weather Service said it clocked winds at 94 miles an hour before the instruments broke.

Also in Tennessee, the Harpeth and Duck rivers went over their banks and officials said the Harpeth would crest at five feet above flood stage, the highest since flooding last spring caused millions of dollars in damage.

Sanford Council Actions

Sanford city commissioners have authorized City Atty. Vernon Mize to enter negotiations with attorneys for Seminole County and the City of Lake Mary on intergovernmental agreements on studies, planning and application for federal funds for a regional sewer system to serve the north Seminole area.

Commissioners acted on the recommendation of commissioner John Morris who is a member of an advisory committee made up of representatives of the three local governments. The committee is acting as a "sounding board" for consulting engineers who have completed 70 per cent of the first step required by federal agencies that handle regional sewer programs.

The advisory committee will consider alternatives to be advanced by the $15,000 Water Quality Management Study commissioned by the city of Sanford. The area under study is roughly the north 40 per cent of Seminole County. The study region is designated by federal agencies. A regional sewer system would not necessarily serve the entire study area.

The city-owned log cabin and lot on Seminole Boulevard at Myrtle Avenue to the Veterans of Foreign Wars Post 10108 for a dollar a year. Post Commander John D. Benke said his group will vacate the location on 30 days notice if the city should sell the property.

The VFW will furnish liability insurance on the property and plans to beautify it for family use by the post, which has over 100 members and a 60 member ladies auxiliary.

The log cabin has been vacant since before May when the city took it off the sale market when an Orlando builder who bid $40,000 for the property as an office building site failed to post a 10 per cent binder.

At Monday's meeting commissioners voted to lease a city-owned log cabin and lot on Seminole Boulevard at Myrtle Avenue to the Veterans of Foreign Wars Post 10108 for a dollar a year. Post Commander John D. Benke said his group will vacate the location on 30 days notice if the city should sell the property.

Commissioners denied a request for annexation of acreage on the north side of Lake Mary Boulevard and west of U.S. 17-92 after two of nine property owners involved said they are opposed to being included in the city.

The owners opposing the proposal did not sign annexation petitions but their property was included in an area in which five of the nine owners signed petitions for annexation.

Commissioner John Morris made the denial motion, saying he feels it isn't fair to force the two owners into the city against their wishes. Their property was the "contiguous link between the city limits and a tract reportedly proposed for condominium development.

Commissioners accepted an offer of $1,000 each for two city-owned lots from Mrs. Bertha E. Nix of 909 Celery Avenue.

Mrs. Nix said she will use the lots, on Hickory Avenue north of East 14th Street, for expanding parking space for a business. The lots are zoned multi-family and parking is permitted under that designation.

The owners opposing the proposal did not sign annexation petitions but their property was included in an area in which five of the nine owners signed petitions for annexation.

Commissioner John Morris made the denial motion, saying he feels it isn't fair to force the two owners into the city against their wishes. Their property was the "contiguous link between the city limits and a tract reportedly proposed for condominium development.

Commissioners accepted an offer of $1,000 each for two city-owned lots from Mrs. Bertha E. Nix of 909 Celery Avenue.

Mrs. Nix said she will use the lots, on Hickory Avenue north of East 14th Street, for expanding parking space for a business. The lots are zoned multi-family and parking is permitted under that designation.

Saigon Claims Outpost Fighting

SAIGON (AP)—South Vietnamese rangers today retook Dak Song, one of three government border posts in the Central Highlands overrun by North Vietnamese forces early this month, government military sources reported.

The sources said a number of North Vietnamese tanks crossed the Cambodian border at dawn and were reported about two miles west of Dak Song, which is 125 miles northeast of Saigon.

South Vietnamese aircraft and artillery were striking at the tanks, the sources said.

The rangers reportedly moving into Dak Song from three directions and generally encountered only light resistance. But at a few points they battled hand-to-hand with small teams of North Vietnamese guarding the approaches to the camp, the sources said.

The North Vietnamese from Dak Song were believed to have retreated toward Cambodia or south to Bu Prang and Bu Bong, the other two posts they captured.

Dak Song and the other two posts were the last links in a 40-mile supply route the North Vietnamese and Viet Cong established along the Cambodian border from North Vietnam to Loc Ninh, the Viet Cong administrative capital northeast of Saigon. It was the Communists' first all-weather highway system entirely inside South Vietnam.

Dak Song's recapture responded the main supply highway between Quang Dug, the provincial capital, and towns and villages to the north in the province. A convoy of more than 30 trucks left Duc Lap, one of the northern district towns, and headed south despite sporadic fighting in the area.

Other petroleum fuels, the administration's crisis strategy called for a 30 per cent gasoline cutback.

Washington (AP)—Gasoline rationing is looming a step closer as President Nixon's Cabinet-level energy group has soured on fuel-saving tax ideas.

"Almost everybody is leaning toward rationing," an administration source said, describing the attitude expressed in a meeting Tuesday of the Emergency Energy Action Group assigned by Nixon to recommend energy-crisis policy.

The source said even Treasury Secretary George P. Shultz, the strongest advocate of a gasoline tax to avoid rationing, was "not all that firm" for taxes in the meeting.

But the group has not yet made up its mind and was to discuss the issues again Thursday, the source said.

"What Shultz really would like to do is take the light right off gasoline prices," the source related, but he said neither Shultz nor anyone else thought this should be done as long as there is a gasoline shortage.

Unlimited prices, he said, would only open the way for oil companies to roll up windfall profits by overcharging customers in a shortage market.

The notion of imposing a tax of 30 to 40 cents per gallon, to discourage unnecessary gasoline use had some appeal, but the source said the Cabinet group appeared to be reaching the conclusion a tax would take too long to clear Congress and would set too slowly to cut gasoline use.

At the same time, Morton announced he is ready to issue a permit for construction of the Trans-Alaska oil pipeline, delayed by an environmental lawsuit since 1970.

He asked the Justice Department to take the remaining steps to clear the way for official issuance of the permit, including a court-imposed requirement to give the environment groups who brought suit 14 days official notice of the action.

Morton also ordered the activation of 250 petroleum industry executives in a reserve pool to join the Emergency Petroleum and Gas Administration and help administer federal energy emergency programs.

State Developer Stabbed

PALM BEACH, Fla. (AP)—Harry B. Helmley, one of the country's largest real estate developers, and his wife, Leona, were attacked and stabbed in their apartment here early Sunday morning, police reported today.

The 64-year-old millionaire suffered a stab wound in the right forearm when a lone intruder entered their luxury apartment in the Palm Beach Towers at approximately 1:30 a.m. and surprised the sleeping couple, according to police.

Helmley was treated and released at the Good Samaritan Hospital in West Palm Beach. Mrs. Helmley, 42, who was stabbed once in the left chest during the brief attack, was listed in serious condition at the same hospital early today.

A night supervisor said, "she is improving" she is doing much, much better."

Helmley also owns two other houses in which the incident occurred is located near the center of the exclusive resort community and overlooks Lake Worth, the intracastal waterway that separates Palm Beach from the mainland.

Palm Beach authorities refused to disclose further details surrounding the incident. Helmley, the president of Helmsley-Spear, Inc., began in the real estate business at the age of 16 as an office boy and is now reported to control roughly $3 billion of real estate holdings.

His private worth is estimated in the hundreds of millions of dollars.

U.S. To Lease Land For Oil Shale Work

WASHINGTON (AP)—Interior Secretary Rogers C. B. Morton today announced plans to lease federal lands in three Western states for commercial production of oil from shale.

Morton said leases on six federal oil shale tracts in Colorado, Utah and Wyoming will be offered at competitive bid, one at a time between Jan. 8 and June 4.

Morton's long-expected announcement could lead to the opening of a vast new oil resource much larger than the nation's known reserves of conventional oil.

At the same time, Morton announced he is ready to issue a permit for construction of the Trans-Alaska oil pipeline, delayed by an environmental lawsuit since 1970.

Fuel Crunch Helpful? Highway Bill May Improve Mass Transit

COPLEY NEWS

A drastic fuel crunch may be the best thing that ever happened to mass transit. Along with the recently enacted highway bill in Congress, it could be just what is needed to get millions of Americans off the roads and onto the rails—into improved bus systems that are not 30 years behind the times.

Americans have become so used to the convenience of the family car that only drastic pressures will bring about a change in life-style so far as personal transportation is concerned. Empty fuel tanks and $1-a-gallon gasoline could do the trick.

Through the $23 billion federal highway bill, approved by President Nixon last August, significant sums of money will be available to cities and states to make a meaningful attack on highway congestion and air pollution. The bill takes on a much broader significance now that the nation faces the hard realities of a fuel shortage and prepares for stringent fuel economies. It finally opens up the sacrosanct Highway Trust Fund, which a protective Congress has been mother-henning for many years, for partial diversion to mass transit.

It provides that some of the money earmarked for highways can be used by the cities and states for mass transit. It makes $200 million available for new buses starting in July, 1974, and grants $800 million for rail systems and other forms of people moving en masse, starting in July of 1976. It permits $5 billion now earmarked for various interstate highways to be eventually used for mass transit if the states so desire.

Created in 1956, the Highway Trust Fund brings in at least $5 billion a year, mostly from the four-cent-a-gallon federal tax on gasoline. This fund has financed the vast Interstate Highway System, which is scheduled eventually to span some 40,000 miles at a cost of $60 billion. Prodded by the highway lobby, Congress is already talking about extending this network with thousands of miles of federally financed feeder roads.

Only a person with blinders, a patch over one eye and limited sight in the other could fail to see the economic waste of private car commuting in the nation's urban centers. Clock the cars that roll into downtown business sections from the suburbs in the 8 a. m. freeway push and you'll be lucky to find one out of five with more than one occupant. Here, obviously, is a tremendous waste of fuel, not to mention a wasteful use of valuable land and the encouragement of a costly, unsightly concrete sprawl.

The Interstate Highway System has con-

Clean Air To Come Massive Transit Shifts Take Years

COPLEY NEWS

Since air purity standards for American cities were laid down in the Clean Air Act of 1970, we have learned that achieving it, so within the time envisioned by the Act would turn some of our cities into disaster areas as far as transportation is concerned. A massive shift away from the private automobile toward alternate forms of transit simply cannot be carried out in the space of a few years. While the Clean Air Act is providing a spur to cities and counties to get down to business in transit development, no law can accelerate the process of planning and construction needed to equip a city with a new transit system. Congress, which does not like to admit it made a mistake, is faced now with relaxing the timetable for demanding compliance with the air standards it had hoped to see enforced by the mid-1970s.

The standards themselves, however, must remain as a goal which the nation cannot abandon. Congress must continue to keep the pressure on all segments of industry and agencies of local government which are responsible for seeing that the standards eventually are met. The relaxation must be slight. We can thank the Clean Air Act, for instance, for prodding Detroit into an investment in engine technology which auto manufacturers would have been reluctant otherwise to make. The controversy still surrounding the use of the sumed more than 500 million barrels of cement, plus millions of tons of sand, rock, steel, timber and other supplies—a voracious appetite fed at a highly profitable pace by contractors, concrete purveyors, equipment makers and other suppliers.

Another aspect of the federally funded highway program has gone almost unnoticed...the displacement of people. According to President Nixon's Council on Environmental Quality, highway construction has forced 60,000 people a year to vacate homes and businesses.

The worldwide oil shortage promises to have both a plus and a minus effect in easing air pollution. On the one hand, the higher prices in prospect for gasoline promise to do as much as any direct government action.

Refugees Flood Country U.S. Doors Open To Cuban Exiles

COPLEY NEWS

A new — although temporary — flood of Cuban refugees to the United States is expected shortly. The U.S. government announced that it will grant visas to some 25,000 Cuban anti-Communists waiting in Spain, as well as to about 5,000 in other countries.

It is estimated that the refugees will soon start arriving in the United States at a rate of approximately 3,000 per month. This will be the largest influx since Cuban dictator Fidel Castro cut off the regular "freedom flights" to Miami from Cuba last year.

The freedom flights had brought in refugees at a peak rate of 800 to 900 persons a week. Once this airlift was stopped, Cubans wishing to flee Cuba had limited possibilities to do so.

They chose between a dangerous sea voyage in small craft or flying to Spain via commercial aircraft. This often entailed long waits for seats and considerable red tape. Despite these obstacles, each month some 1,100 Cubans flew to Spain. Virtually all of them hoped to come to the United States, but they were held up by U.S. immigration regulations.

Whereas Cubans who had come in aboard the freedom flights were not subject to immigration quotas, those in Spain were restricted. Only some 800 were allowed to come to the United States monthly.

The plight of the Cubans in Spain, many suffering acute economic distress, was the subject of lobbying by the increasingly politically potent Cuban colony in Miami.

In announcing that visas will be granted to the refugees, acting Atty. Gen. Robert H. Bork stated, "It is still an important aspect of our foreign policy to show our strong interest in the Cuban people."

By his statement, Bork took the matter out of the purely domestic realm and placed it within the context of American foreign policy. At a time when Venezuela is exploring the possibility of restoring diplomatic relations with Communist Cuba, the United States is still expressing friendship for anti-Castro Cubans.

The move also will serve the administration well in Florida. At a time when President Nixon's friend C. G. (Bebe) Rebozo, who is of Cuban descent, is under investigation for his handling of campaign funds, and Sen. Edward Gurney, the state's sole Republican senator and the administration's main defender on the Watergate Committee, also is under investigation regarding alleged political payoffs, the granting of visas to the refugees may solidify Cuban support for the administration.

Demand is rising, productivity lags

By Ray Cromley

WASHINGTON (NEA) — This research in question is the product of untold millions of man hours in the nation's universities, in the space program, in defense and in other government and private laboratories throughout the land.

In some cases, the work was done in the interest of science with no application in mind. In most cases, however, the research was accomplished for a specific program and for that program — and the knowledge not applied elsewhere.

We are not talking about the need for expanded research, which is another problem. We are talking about research already done, waiting for users.

From time to time, in one administration or another, officials have developed plans and set up bureaus to translate this store of research into usable terms and to advertise its existence among potential users. These programs usually get bogged down in red tape.

Yet the need is there. From time to time one of my engineer friends makes a study of this industry or that, or digs that a study by some team attempting to find out why productivity and production aren't increasing as they might.

Some states have attacked this problem head-on. A team sponsored by the state university system of Pennsylvania has an active program for finding out why productivity is lagging with information on already developed research required to improve their products or their efficiency. Or if that research cannot be found, the inquiring firm is put in touch with specialists who can carry it out. There have been some surprising results.

Butz's Bungles

by Jack Anderson

WASHINGTON — Many factors have combined to send prices skyrocketing in the supermarkets. But the biggest blame falls upon Agriculture Secretary Earl Butz, who has handled the delicate farm controls like the operator of an erratic tractor crashing through a cornfield.

This is the whipsaw view of Agriculture Department economists, who speak privately of his farm failures as "Butz's bungles." These range from the Russian wheat deal to faulty crop estimates, which have had disastrous results.

The tragedy is that the poor are paying the most for Butz's follies. Buried in his files are grim statistics, which show supermarket inflation has affected basic necessities far more than the luxury items only the affluent can now afford.

Butz's biggest bungle of course, was the Russian wheat deal. His poor appraisal of the world demand for wheat led him to sell one-quarter of the U.S. crop to Russia for $1.63 a bushel. By the time the last bushels had squeezed through the clogged transportation system, the price had soared to nearly four dollars a bushel.

Inflation Impact The vacillating farm policies also had an inflationary impact upon prices. Rumors that price regulations would be implemented at the farm level discouraged production and the resulting cutbacks sent prices up.

When controls were slapped on beef prices, livestock producers with their beef from the market and caused a price rise. The Administration also threatened to curb exports, then decided against it, all to the detriment of consumer prices.

Substitutes like fish have also been priced beyond the pocketbooks of the poor. Perch fillet has gone up 36 per cent.

In startling contrast, the meats favored by the affluent have risen only an average 25 per cent in price. Fancy cheeses have drifted up 11 per cent. Porterhouse steak has risen 17 per cent. Lobster tail prices have gone up only slightly.

Other staples have registered sharp price increases. Flour is up 36 per cent, potatoes 32 per cent, rice 20 per cent.

A comparison of 13 items reveals that economy foods jumped an average of 31 per cent from September 1972 to September 1973, as compared to an average gain of only 21 per cent for their luxury counterparts.

While margarine increased 24 per cent, for example, the market up for the "high priced spread" was only 15 per cent. The reasons for the price rocketing of courses are complex. But economists, who work for Butz, lay the heaviest blame on his inept handling of the agricultural economy.

Faulty Estimates All year long, for example, the Agriculture Department has put out inflated crop estimates. The economists suspect the faulty estimates have been influenced by the Administration's eagerness for good news.

But the eventual result has been bad news. The high esti-

Briggs Steps Down

JACKSONVILLE (AP)—U.S. Atty. John Briggs says he excused himself from a special grand jury investigation of the Federal Housing Administration in Florida because he didn't want it to appear the probe was influenced by his desire for reappointment.

Briggs' four-year term expires Dec. 17. His reappointment depends on the recommendation of Sen. Edward Gurney, as the Republican senator from Florida in a Republican administration.

It was the first time Briggs even obliquely indicated Gurney may be linked to the investigation.

FPL, Union Meet

MIAMI (AP)—Negotiators have agreed to meet in Washington Friday in an effort to end a 28-day-old strike against Florida Power & Light Co., but a union leader says he is not optimistic.

W. J. Urey Jr., director of the Federal Mediation and Conciliation Service, said the meeting was necessary to avert what he termed a work stoppage made "critical in view of the energy crisis."

"I am not hopeful or optimistic," said Jim Niles, chief negotiator for the International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers. "I don't know what the purpose of the meeting will be or what the outcome will be."

Building Halt Asked

TALLAHASSEE, Fla. (AP)—Gov. Reubin Askew and the Cabinet should halt construction of the new high-rise Capitol to save Florida taxpayers money and energy, two Republican state senators say.

Sens. David McCain of Tampa and Walter Sims of Orlando sent a letter to Askew Tuesday requesting the halt because of the energy crisis.

"It has been estimated that Florida may lose $200 million in revenue next fiscal year as a result of the gasoline shortage and restrictions on the sale of gasoline," said the senators who have opposed the construction since it was first proposed.

Growers Seek Probe

VERO BEACH, Fla. (AP)—A group of Central Florida citrus growers is seeking a federal investigation into allegations large supermarket chains are "beating down" the price of frozen orange concentrate.

The group, calling itself, "The Bulldogs of Vero Beach," took out a half-page newspaper ad Tuesday urging Florida's 16,000 growers to start a letter writing campaign to convince the Federal Trade Commission to investigate the allegations.

"I think it's a flagrant abuse of the chains buying power when they mount campaigns to beat down the wholesale price and then never lower prices to the consumers," said Vero Beach grower John Morrison, a spokesman for the group.

Pill Promoters Plead

NEWARK, N.J. (AP)—Two operators of a mail-order pill company have pleaded guilty to selling phony anti-smoking tablets.

Julius Diamond, 46, of Lauderhill, Fla., and Anthony Puccio, 36, of Las Vegas, Nev., owners of the Taines Research Corp., entered the guilty pleas Tuesday in federal court.

Officials said the firm collected $47,800 from customers who sent $5.98 to a Brooklyn, N.Y., post office box to obtain Smok-Stop Tablets.

State Session Is Predicted On Fuel Conservation Steps

TALLAHASSEE, Fla. (AP)—House Speaker Terrell Sessums, D-Tampa, says the Florida Legislature probably will be called into special session Dec. 12 if Congress delays action much longer on national fuel conservation measures.

Sessums, a Tampa Democrat, told House members Tuesday to "maintain a flexible posture and a little extra gasoline" in case they are called to the Capitol.

The Florida Energy Committee, meanwhile, is pressing ahead with fuel conservation measures Gov. Reubin Askew could decree if and when the legislature grants him emergency powers to deal with the fuel shortage.

The committee is meeting tonight and Thursday. Among the possibilities is priority distribution of fuels, probably focusing on heating and industrial fuels but possibly including gasoline.

"We ought to be considering broad categories of priorities and putting them into effect before we get into a situation where we run out of fuel," declared Republican leader Jim Tilman of Sarasota at a House energy briefing.

Wallace Henderson, state fuel allocation officer, said, "priorities will have to be considered because we know the time is going to come when we will not have enough fuel to give everybody a minimum amount to get by on."

Pedal Power Office

MIAMI (AP)—The phone never stops ringing as tax consultant Paul Indaner pedals his bicycle along Miami highways.

Indaner, 43, got rid of his car last week and installed a portable telephone and a garage door opener on his bicycle's handlebars.

"This is one of my contributions to helping the energy crisis," Indaner said Tuesday. "It is great. I have more time to make and take telephone calls now because it takes me longer to get to work on the bicycle than it did by car."

Indaner said the portable phone cost $150 dollars and he pays $30 a month to operate it. "I had a bracket put on the bike and the phone sits on top of it," he said. "During the two-mile ride from my home to the office I make and receive about six phone calls."

Indaner estimates he saves about four gallons of gasoline a week by not using a car to get to work.

Gurney Will Try To Clear His Name

WINTER PARK, Fla. (AP)—Sen. Edward Gurney, R-Fla., claiming he has done nothing wrong, says he will go on statewide television to clear his name against what he called unfair and inaccurate charges of political corruption.

"I will build on the support I have among the people of Florida and with that support I will win re-election in 1974," Gurney told a Republican women's club here in his home town Tuesday.

Gurney said he had been subjected to hatchet job reporting and "trial by headline" regarding allegations of a $300,000 fund raised in his behalf.

He pledged to "meet the media head-on" in a live televised news conference. Later a spokesman for WJXT television in Jacksonville said Gurney's news conference would be carried on that station and stations in Orlando, Tampa and Miami on Dec. 6 at 7 p.m.

The spokesman said Gurney would be questioned by various newsmen about the published allegations. Meanwhile, Larry E. Williams, 29, of Orlando appeared in Jacksonville before a special grand jury which is investigating allegations that Williams solicited but failed to report contributions for Gurney.

When questioned by reporters outside the grand jury room, Williams maintained he was working for Gurney, a claim Gurney has denied.

In his speech, Gurney said the federal government had been investigating the Federal Housing Administration, both nationwide and in Florida, for some time.

Out of that investigation, Gurney said, news stories began to run in The Miami Herald saying his name had been used by others in large-scale, questionable fund raising.

Gurney said after the stories appeared he immediately contacted Henry Peterson, head of the criminal division of the Justice Department, to request "a full and speedy investigation of these allegations involving my name."

Author Dies After Attack In Hospital

MIAMI (AP)—Mary McDougall Axelson, 82, poet, playwright and artist, died Tuesday, 22 hours after she was beaten in her hospital bed, police said.

Police said they were seeking Mrs. Axelson's daughter, Mary Axelson Cropper of New York, for questioning.

Mrs. Axelson wrote the Broadway play, "Life Begins," which was later made into a film starring Loretta Young. Her other plays included "Strange Reprieve," "Dump Heap," "Answer," "Angel Barn," and "Life Guard." Her first novel, "A Child Is Born," was published in 1940.

Joseph McAlon, administrator at Doctor's Hospital, said Mrs. Axelson was admitted Nov. 11 suffering from leukemia.

On Monday, McAlon said, Mrs. Cropper visited her mother then left the room abruptly. Mrs. Axelson called for an aide who found her bleeding badly from the mouth, McAlon said. She died the next day.

An autopsy by the Dade Medical Examiner's Office showed Mrs. Axelson died from a brain hemorrhage caused by a blow to the head, said Dade County Metro Det. Charles Mussoline.

Mussoline said Mrs. Cropper was being sought for questioning but no charges had been filed.

According to McAlon and Jack Douglas, a Coral Gables police officer, Mrs. Axelson told them before she died that her daughter had beaten her.

McAlon said when Mrs. Cropper arrived to see her mother on Monday, a private aide employed by Mrs. Axelson was sent out of the room to obtain "something special for lunch."

A nurse, who was not identified, told police that there had been a discussion between Mrs. Axelson and her daughter about a $1,500 check so that the daughter could return to New York.

Mrs. Axelson is survived by her daughter and two sisters.

Commission Calls Probe Of Area Garbage Firm

By CHRIS NELSON
Herald Staff Writer

Officials of the Seminole County Disposal garbage collection firm today said they did not appear at Tuesday's county commission meeting, which voted a de-certification hearing against them, because they were not notified.

The officials also denied any illegal changes in rates or pickup procedures, saying customer complaints stem primarily from misunderstandings which are already being cleared up.

The commission Tuesday called a 7 p.m. hearing Jan. 8 to investigate the company's notice to customers they must pay a three-month, $12 bill in advance, and put all garbage in curbside, effective immediately.

County ordinance requires a 30-day notification period before any rate change or pickup change may go into effect.

The commission Tuesday heard road chief J.C. Laverder, whose department oversees the county's non-exclusive garbage franchises, say the Altamonte Springs firm, in operation since July 1, had been notified of the hearing by registered mail.

Today, however, company treasurer and attorney Leonard Reim, and company vice president Shelton Polakoff said no such letter had been received, but admitted a "postage due" letter has been sitting in a post office box since Saturday. The letter has not been picked up.

Commissioner Dick Williams, noting he first raised the matter in October, Tuesday said the company was told in a Nov. 6 letter the apparent fee changes were illegal. Today, Polakoff said the Nov. 6 letter did not mention a hearing, and that he has drafted a letter to the firm's 3,000 customers explaining the situation.

Reim said he would "of course" have attended Tuesday's meeting if he had known of it, and that he could have cleared up matters.

Reim said customers who received the notice of $12 billings, instead of $8, in the past, did not realize they were being asked for three months in advance, at $4 per month.

On the roadside pickup, Reim said commissioners and customers must blame "the fuel crisis." We can't afford to take the time to go into backyards, and this is something you'll be seeing all over the U.S., not just in Seminole County.

The officials said they would attend a planned meeting between the county and the refuse collector's association, and will endorse plans for exclusive or consolidated routes, rather than the present non-exclusive routes allowing competing firms into the same neighborhoods.

Reim said the firm has taken over three old routes since July 1, and has spent $140,000 in new equipment.

Retail Beef Prices Lower In October

WASHINGTON (AP) — Retail beef prices dropped last month for the first time in over a year, as part of an over-all decline in food prices, the Agriculture Department reports.

The department's monthly computation of a hypothetical family marketbasket of farm-produced food showed an 18-cent-a-week decline in grocery bills in October.

The Economic Research Service statistics released Tuesday showed that the annual retail cost of the marketbasket items for a family of 3.2 persons fell 0.5 per cent.

The decline, second in two months after a year of record climbs, could have been 2.4 per cent if middlemen had passed along the full drop in farm prices instead of again boosting the farm-retail spread, the figures showed.

The spreads increased sharply, a spokesman said, for dairy, bakery, cereal and fats-and-oils products while decreasing—depending on the comparison—for most products, fresh fruits and poultry.

The computed cost for the full year was $1,626 in October—a rate 2.4 per cent higher than October 1972. In weekly terms, it means that a grocery-yopping trip cost $31.15 a week in October, $31.33 in September, $31.79 during the August peak and $25.46 in October 1972.

On the other hand, as farm value dropped $28 in a month, the spread between that and supermarket prices went up $29.

Annex Fee To Be Set By Council

WINTER SPRINGS — City council at its 7:30 meeting tonight is expected to adopt an ordinance setting annexation fees to defray the costs of taking in new properties.

Councilmen two weeks ago were surprised when Mayor Granville Brown revealed that land developers annexing land are not charged for legal, advertising and other costs involved in annexations.

The board will also adopt a resolution to the School Board asking that construction begin as soon as possible on the new elementary school planned in the city and urging that the school be named Winter Springs.

Annex Question Raised In Altamonte

By DONNA ESTES
Herald Staff Writer

ALTAMONTE SPRINGS — The question of whether the original 240-unit Spanish Trace Apartments was annexed by error was dumped into City Council tonight by Mayor Lawrence Swafford Tuesday night.

Davis was asked to research the annexation ordinance for the Spanish Trace addition to the complex, which is located on Highway 246 in the City of Fern Park.

Swafford said while the city annexed the addition, it was not intended to take in the original buildings. An attempt to have voters living in the complex purge from the city's voter rolls has been unsuccessful, he said.

He said the county tax assessor's office insists the property, according to ordinance 145-72, is part of the city. "We have never given those people any service and they cannot vote," he said.

Swafford also doubted the accuracy of the 3,300 registered voters in the city being credited with having insisted a total of 2,500 would be more realistic.

He added that voters residing on Jupiter Lane and Prairie Lake Drive are included on the voting list and neither street is in the city.

In other action, the council agreed to lower the speed limit on Glen Arden Way to 15 miles per hour.

The lone bid on a tractor-mat build hoe at $5,376 from Maitland Tractor Co. was accepted. Public Works Director Donald Bundy said the city's voter rolls has been unsuccessful, he said.

He said the county tax assessor's office insists the property, according to ordinance 145-72, is part of the city. "We have never given those people any service and they cannot vote," he said.

FIRE PROBE CONTINUES

DEPUTY STATE FIRE Marshal Hugh Bethea (dark glasses) consults with Sanford fire and police officials before removal of two cruiser hulls from west basin of city-owned marina. The boats were destroyed in a $25,000 pre-dawn explosion and fire Saturday. The hulls were dry-docked Monday as investigators sought clues to the cause of the inferno that briefly blocked pier A at the marina. Bethea said all possibilities will be explored in the investigation.

Lecture Series Begins

By FANNETTE EDWARDS
Herald Correspondent

DELTONA — The first of a series of four lectures will be given Thursday, Nov. 29 at 7:30 p.m. at the Deltona Woman's Club House on Normandy Boulevard, sponsored by the Deltona Women's Club.

"Changing Pattern of American Life Style" will be delivered by Dr. Burton Wright, assistant professor of Sociology at Florida Technological University.

Dr. Wright did his undergraduate and graduate work at Florida State University. He is editor and senior author of a forthcoming book, entitled, "Perspective—An Introduction to Sociology."

His lecture will highlight the difficulty in attempting to predict what will take place in the future. It will take cognizance of the fact that we are living in an era where groups live together in their own element rather than living in family groups as in the past.

Anyone desiring tickets for the series or individual lectures, may contact Mrs. John Hall, ticket chairman, 789-2387, or Mrs. Paul Munk at 789-2463; or Mrs. Richard Slowe, 789-2754.

These lectures are being conducted by the Education Committee of the Deltona Woman's Club, with Mrs. Wayne Fuller as chairman. This is a "first" for the Woman's Club and Mrs. Fuller is in hopes that it will be a successful one. She asks that all adults interested in the future welfare of their children attend.

Fern Park On Hydrant Valve 'Hunt'

Fern Park Fire Lt. David Halstead today said his area's "possibly catastrophic" fire hydrant situation is in the "correcting" stage, with only Green Meadows Apartments remaining as an area of major concern.

Halstead Tuesday called the Green Meadows situation a possible "catastrophe," noting the large development houses 272 units, including many small children.

"If the situation isn't fixed, something will have to be done — even if they have to close down the whole Green Meadows," he said.

Halstead said half of the 12 inoperative hydrants discovered since his Oct. 1 survey of Fern Park's 37 hydrants have been brought up to standards, and that Green Meadows four hydrants simply need someone to turn on the water pressure.

"This is a matter of someone finding out where the main valve is," Halstead said, noting he planned to call the apartment manager at luncheon to see if the master valve has been located.

Green Meadows' four hydrants were fully operative at the time of a March 15 insurance inspection, but since then, said Halstead, someone shut the main valve off — and no one can find it.

Halstead said he and an Indian Hills Utilities worker tried to find the valve, but couldn't.

Fern Park is not a city, and falls under county jurisdiction, Halstead said. There are no local ordinances governing fire hydrants, and this is why he called county utilities administrator Bob Parmelee for help.

Halstead said if his phone call to Green Meadows today is not satisfactory, he will be forced to go "higher up."

Tuesday, State Atty. Abbott Herring said he knew of no legal violations involved in the Fern Park situation, but that if Halstead or others came to him with affidavits showing possible illegalities both he and the grand jury could be interested.

"I assume Green Meadows didn't put the hydrants out there just for the dogs," Herring said.

Also indicating possible interest was newly-appointed county fire chief Gary Kaiser, who said the Fern Park situation underscored the necessity for an overall county ordinance governing fire fighting water supply, including hydrants and sprinklers.

While the county is currently drafting a hydrant ordinance, Kaiser said, the version he saw three months ago lacks sufficient detail, and he is working on a broader water supply measure.

Kaiser said a strict measure will cost developers and builders money on-site, but will produce drastically lowered fire insurance rates, since 39 per cent of the rates are based on water supply facilities.

Kaiser said his suggestions will include requirements that hydrants be fully operative as soon as any construction is begun, and not allow developers to wait for occupancy.

"If a building is lost during construction, we still have to go out and try to fight the flames, and the consumers still have to pay the resulting increase in the area insurance rates," Kaiser said.

70th Wedding Anniversary

By ELDA NICHOLS
Herald Correspondent

Mrs. Harry (Mary) Watson, recently celebrated her 70th wedding anniversary.

A native of Cleveland, Ohio, Mrs. Watson has no trouble adjusting to the modern generation, but she said, "I feel sorry for the coming generation, because they raise so much without tradition. Young people today have their own way too much, and they sort of skip the old traditions."

Living with her grandson, and his wife, Mr. and Mrs. William H. Watson, in Altamonte, Mrs. Watson loves to read, watch TV and does gardening. Her husband is presently in a nursing home and is retired from General Motors, in Cleveland.

"We lived in Lake Helen for 17 years, after retiring and I had such wonderful friends and neighbors that I really had to leave."

One of Mrs. Watson's goals in life is to attend a live wrestling match. She never misses a match on TV, and keeps up with such wrestler, she can name them all and tell you about their wrestling record.

"I want to see a real match and see if it is fake or not," she said.

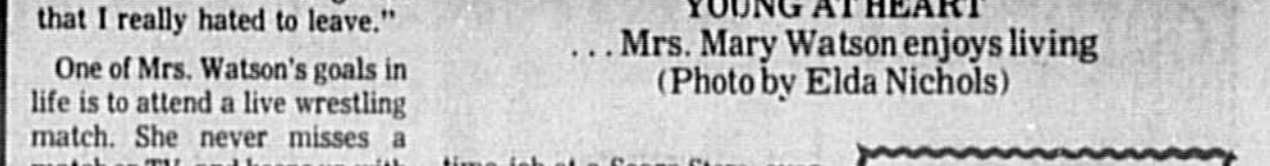

She and her great-grandson, Bill, a student at Milwe Middle School, often watch American Bandstand on TV. "I really enjoy watching the youngsters dance," she said, "even though some of it is quite ridiculous!" But apparently there's no generation gap here.

One interesting experience Mrs. Watson enjoys talking about, was being a jurist in a trial in Cleveland. "We had to stay at a hotel for a month," she said. "We didn't mind, because we could order anything we wanted to eat, and I also learned a lot."

In the '40s, she had a part-time job at a Sears Store, over the objections of her husband. "Women were independent then, also!" she said.

Bright-eyed and alert, Mrs. Watson is interested in the world around her. The traffic situation worries her some, and she recalled her husband coming to court her in a horse and buggy.

"I've seen a lot of changes," she said with a smile.

Cookie-Making Time Here Again

By Aileen Claire
NEA Food Editor

It's creative cookie-making time — either for eating at home or to wrap as gifts for friends and relatives.

Here is a cookie dough which is pliable enough to take any shape and hold its form during baking. Many doughs puff up or spread during their oven visit and the shapes become unrecognizable.

The secret ingredient in the dough is light molasses which makes the mixture plastic and moist, gives rich color and good keeping qualities. This year make cartoon characters, a bird of peace, fancy Christmas tree or handsome wreath.

CREATIVE CHRISTMAS COOKIES

1 cup butter or regular margarine
1 cup firmly packed brown sugar
4 eggs
1-1/2 cups light or dark molasses
8 to 10 cups unbleached all-purpose flour

2 teaspoons baking soda
1 teaspoon salt
2 tablespoons ginger
2 tablespoons cinnamon

In a large 4-quart bowl, cream butter until light and fluffy. Gradually beat in brown sugar. Beat in eggs one at a time. Stir in molasses. Add 2 cups of the flour, baking soda, salt and spices. Stir until mixture is smooth. Gradually stir in remaining flour until dough is stiff and pliable like clay. Wrap dough; chill 2 hours.

On a floured surface, with a floured rolling pin, roll out 1/4 of the dough to 1/4-inch thickness. Using the tip of a sharp knife, dipped into flour from time to time, cut out desired cookie shapes. Place cookies on greased cookie sheets. If cookies need reshaping, after placing on cookie sheets, shape with fingers. Mark designs on the cookies using a variety of materials — toothpicks, graters, meat mallets, forks, glasses, beer can openers, etc. (The design will hold during the baking.) Bake in a preheated 350-degree oven for 12 to 15 minutes or until cookies are firm to the touch. Small cookies will require only 8 to 10 minutes baking. Cool on sheet. Remove to wire racks. To decorate cookies, use canned prepared vanilla frosting in a pastry tube placed V-shaped strips into V to fill whole outline. Roll a log of dough for the trunk of the tree; roll small frosted cookies in tiny silver or gold balls, colored sprinkles, coarse sugar crystals or red or green sugar. Bake as above.

Octopus Is Protein Source

HONOLULU (AP) — With meat prices skyrocketing, housewives are turning to cheaper protein sources, such as cheese, fish and even horse meat.

But if you suggested octopus, they'd probably turn up their noses, says marine biologist William F. Van Heukelem, even though the eight-legged mollusk isn't the huge, slimy, deep sea villain many believe.

On the contrary, Van Heukelem said, the octopus is generally small, very shy, surprisingly tasty and is popular as a food in much of Asia and in Mediterranean countries.

The main drawback to Americans and North Europeans is the appearance of the animal and the stories they've heard about him. To them it's like eating insects," Van Heukelem said. "Of course, I suppose you could chop it up like hamburger or cut the tentacles off, but the idea would still be there."

Van Heukelem is pursuing research aimed at making commercial raising of octopuses feasible. Getting the American public to accept octopus as a meal will take time, he admits.

Working at the University of Hawaii's Institute of Marine Biology on Coconut Island in Kaneohe Bay near here, Van Heukelem recently succeeded in bringing a Mexican species of octopus through a complete reproductive cycle in captivity, a scientific first.

When compared to beef, pork or other animal sources of protein, the octopus' reproduction and growth rate and proportion of edibility seem fantastic.

Van Heukelem, 31, who has been researching the octopus for nearly 10 years, said it is "an extremely efficient food converter. It converts 50 per cent of the food it eats to protein," compared to 10 to 15 per cent for most other animals.

The octopus reaches a marketable weight, one pound, in five and a half months and reaches a more profitable five-pound weight in just two more months, he said.

Van Heukelem said octopus is 85 per cent edible, low in fat and high in protein. The only part of the boneless animal discarded is the intestines.

Octopus has a mild taste, something like tender scallops. A female of the Mexican species lays 500 to 3,000 eggs. She broods the eggs for about six weeks, until they hatch, and then she dies, Van Heukelem said.

Increasing the water temperature in the laboratory tanks ten degrees warmer than the ocean environment caused the octopuses to grow three times faster than they would normally, he said.

Toyko Chief Doubles As Artful Butter Sculptor

TOKYO (AP) — Take 80 pounds of butter, mix well with flour and spread thickly on a base of polystyrene.

Not very appetizing, perhaps, but when Chef Kenichi Shimamaki of Tokyo's Imperial Hotel concocted this little masterpiece, it wasn't diners' taste buds he was out to capture. It was their eye for art.

For two hours a day he stood over his mixing bowl, working with the dedication of a true artist. And in 10 days it was complete — the figure of a lion, nearly six and one-half feet long, its features sculptured in all their ferocious glory in creamy golden butter.

The lion, a leading department store's symbol, was made to decorate one of the hotel's banquet halls for a reception held by the store here.

The lion now stands in a storage room in the hotel's hors d'oeuvre kitchen along with 20 or so other butter sculptures used periodically as banquet hall decorations.

If roast beef is being served and something is needed to enliven the table, a butter cow might be brought out. If fish is on the menu, a life-size fisherman, complete with net, may well make an appearance.

Neptune, the Arc de Triumphe, and an intricately carved Japanese castle are among the other sculptures kept in storage to be brought out for the appropriate occasion.

The castle, which was displayed at a reception for a singer to recover her latest record, will, like the lion, probably never be used again. But being taken two weeks and much skill to create, it too is considered beyond destruction.

The sculptures can be held for long periods of time, because they are worked from a special, malleable kind of butter, made exclusively for this type of decoration. Because it tends to stick to the hands, it is treated with flour before use. But no other preparation is required.

While the special butter will not turn rancid nor melt, even if left at room temperature, the sculptures cannot be on permanent display because they may get dusty. And butter isn't the easiest thing to use a vacuum cleaner on.

BUTTERKNIFE CARVING — Chef Kenichi Shimamaki of Tokyo's Imperial Hotel carved this model of an ancient Japanese castle, which stands 40 inches high and is 24 inches across, from 30 pounds of butter.

For smaller table decorations, the chefs now have special sets of tools, similar to those used for oil painting and sculpturing.

"As chefs, our first love is cooking," said Shimamaki. "But if you've been intimidated by those stir-fried dishes are actually a whole mystique has been built around its techniques. To the homemaker, it may seem as if it's a producer of Oriental foods, constantly while it cooks to prevent burning. You can stir-fry in a Chinese wok—a cooking pan that looks like a coolie hat — or in a heavy frying pan, prepared in advance, or from Chinese woks even come in electric models nowadays.

When you want to serve a good side dish, frozen egg rolls can be heated in the oven while you cook the main dish. From beginning to end, cook-to-go into the pan.

Ready? Now heat your pan a little and add a mixture of cornstarch, water, soy sauce, and a pinch of sugar. Cook briefly until the sauce mixture is thickened and clear.

If your children think peanut butter and hamburgers are gourmet treats, it's time to broaden their horizons.

It's not difficult if you make an adventure out of it. For a Chinese dinner, hang Chinese lanterns, use red chopsticks and have chopsticks on the table. Then serve an authentic Sweet and Sour dinner—easy to make with a packaged skillet-quick dinner from the grocery shelves.

A skillet-quick Sweet and Sour dinner from La Choy, for example, is an interesting combination of tangy sauce and meat. The package contains the sauce mix and breadings for the meat. You add one pound of lean pork or cooked ham, sliced very thinly. Slicing is easier if you freeze the meat very slightly first, for about one hour.

Coat the meat first in lightly beaten egg and then with the breadings. Heat one-half cup of oil in a large skillet and fry the meat, a few slices at a time, until golden brown. Drain on a paper towel and pour the oil out of the skillet.

Put the meat back in the skillet and stir in the sweet and sour sauce, plus one-quarter cup of water. Simmer until hot, stirring constantly. Now, if you like, you can add your own variations. Oriental food experts of La Choy Food Products suggest you try tomato wedges, orange segments, or sliced canned peaches with a pinch of ginger.

The rest of your menu might include hot cooked rice, Chinese celery, cabbage salad, chilled mandarin oranges, and tea. Fortune cookies delight children of all ages.

When everyone's at the dinner table, show the kids how to use chopsticks. Place one chopstick between the tips of your ring and middle fingers. Hold the second one between thumb and forefinger. Both should be held near the pointed end. Then move the upper chopstick against the lower one to pick up food.

The kids will probably catch on right away—but have forks handy for the grownups.

Sweet And Sour Of Chinese Cuisine Revealed

Turkey Dressing

What's for dinner? If it's Thanksgiving, your family does not have to ask. Year after year, there's turkey with dressing, baked sweet potatoes, cranberry sauce, and pumpkin pie. You probably wouldn't have it any other way.

But within the traditions, why not try something just a little bit different?

For instance, here's a recipe for Herb Water Chestnut Stuffing, featuring the aroma of sage, thyme, marjoram and parsley, with the added texture of water chestnuts and bamboo shoots. Created by home economist of La Choy Food Products, Herb Water Chestnut Stuffing may be the start of a new family tradition.

HERB WATER CHESTNUT DRESSING
(Yield: About 15 cups, enough to fill a 16 to 18-pound turkey-to-cook "roster")

- 1 cup chopped onion
- 1 cup chopped celery
- 1/2 cup (1 stick) butter
- 1 cup sliced La Choy Water Chestnuts
- 1/2 cup halved La Choy Bamboo Shoots
- 1/2 cup chopped parsley
- 1 cup chopped cooked giblets
- 1/2 cup giblet broth
- 1 cup light cream
- 2 teaspoons salt
- 1/2 teaspoon freshly ground pepper
- 2 teaspoons sage
- 1/2 teaspoon ground thyme
- 1/2 teaspoon ground marjoram
- 1/2 cup toasted white bread cubes

Cook onions and celery in butter until tender. Combine with remaining ingredients. Bake extra stuffing in a shallow baking dish with turkey during last 30 minutes of roasting time.

Eating National Pastime

By Gaynor Maddox

Today our nerves and our digestions are under heavy strain.

"People turn to eating when they feel angry, sexually excited, apprehensive or ashamed. It is as though eating protected them from feeling too much" according to psychiatrist Dr. Walter Hamburger, Strong Memorial Hospital, Rochester, N.Y.

Others turn to the bottle. They believe drinking can dull the aches of frustration and bitterness.

At this point in time, our world is wrought with threats, suspicions and doubts, both politically and internationally. We all live under great strain.

But there is a manageable solution get out of your chair more often and nibble less.

Eat and enjoy good food but not quite so much of it. Get some exercise every day. It will tone your muscles and brighten your outlook. Then you will be more able to face the swiftly changing world.

Any flexing of the muscle is exercise. As used here, it means moderately active daily exercise. A mile walk every day, or even a half mile, will be more effective than digging up the garden or two afternoons of sandlot baseball with the youngsters.

So attain the habit of daily exercise, rather than strenuous "play" over the weekend. You will be surprised at your increased sense of well-being.

Most Americans eat more food than they need. We are so rich we have lulled ourselves into the habit of over-indulgence. But if men and women today, under the pressure of modern threats, would eat a little less they would find it easier to cope with daily life.

A wise provision is this: limit yourself to one serving from each dish served even though you might crave a second or a third. Eat while you adjust to this habit. It pays dividends in bodily easement since you will leave the table without any sensation of being stuffed.

The idea behind restricting your food intake is simply to make your body more efficient. Consider your nibbling habits as adding to your total intake.

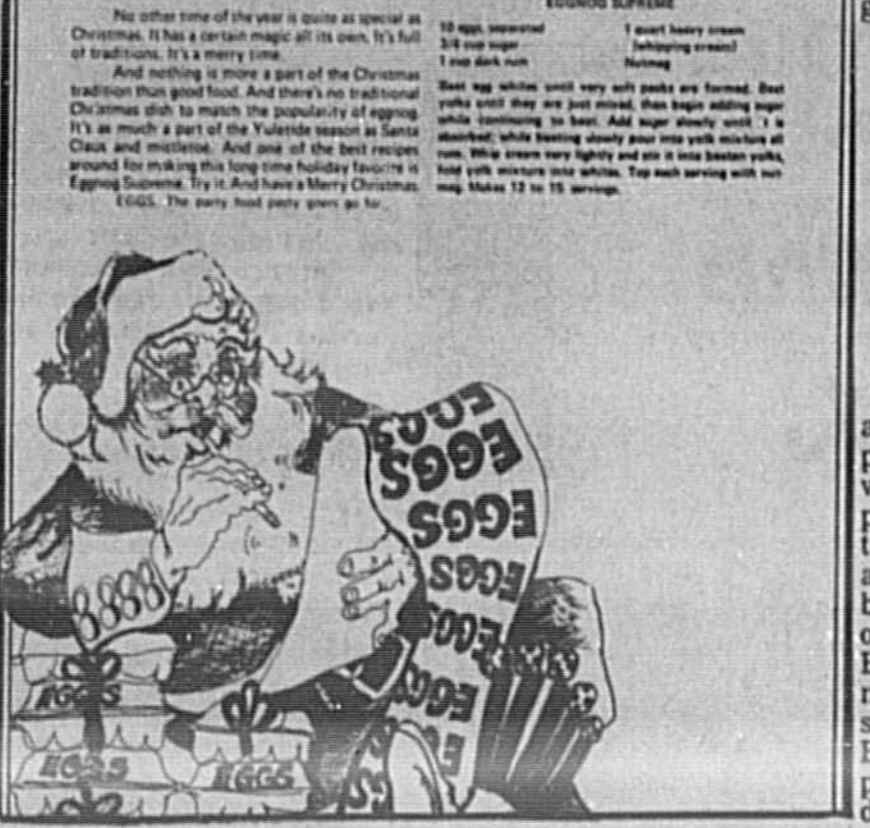

Many physicians, nutritionists, and chefs have given this matter serious thought. They have come up with meals adjusted to 20th century man's needs that will please and nourish but not overburden him. The American Heart Association recommends dinners like the following, as good eating and good for the heart:

Lamb chop platter, walnut broccoli, glazed carrots, spinach-avocado-orange toss, herbed biscuits, apple pie.

For the holidays: Christmas tree relish tray, whipped cottage cheese dip, roast turkey with apple dressing, whipped potatoes, broccoli with mustard dill sauce, creamed onions, cranberry-orange mold, cornbread muffins, watermelon pickle, pumpkin chiffon pie.

Don't cook eggs in the shell in an aluminum pan because the metal will darken bodily. Use a stainless steel, enamel or glass pan when you are preparing soft or hard-cooked eggs.

Eggs help put the merry in Christmas.

Apple Surprises

Fresh, orchard-picked apples are at their height now and make nutritional, refreshing eating for the holiday season. A Saucy Apple Surprise at first glance may sound like a dessert but it is good for breakfast or as a snack after school with a glass of milk.

Saucy Apple Surprise
 8 medium baking apples
 1/4 cup butter or margarine
 1/2 cup firmly packed light brown sugar

1/4 cup raisins
 1/2 teaspoon cinnamon
 1/4 cup Grape-Nuts Bran Cereal
 1/2 cup bran flakes
 (*Or use 1/2 cup honey.)
 Core apples. Remove peel about 1 inch from top of apples and cover lower half with aluminum foil. Place apples in baking dish. Melt butter; add brown sugar, raisins and cinnamon and stir until blended. Add cereals to half of sauce and use to fill apples. Bake at 350 degrees for 45 minutes. Reheat remaining sauce and pour over apples. Bake 5 minutes longer. Serve plain or with cream, if desired. Makes 6 servings.

Vary That Meatloaf

By CECILY BROWNSTONE, Associated Press Food Editor

If you are always on the lookout, as we are, for ways of varying that old standby, meat loaf, you may be interested in the following spanking-new and good recipe:

Instead of stirring minced or sautéed onion into the meat mixture as is usually done, this recipe calls for adding a layer of thin onion rings and one of pimientos between two layers of meat. The onion rings stay slightly crunchy and offer pleasing texture contrast. The pimientos offer additional flavor and attractive color.

When we tried this recipe, we served baked potatoes and a cooked green vegetable with it. But you might like to team it with baked beans and a crisp green salad.

PIMIENTO-ONION MEAT LOAF

2 eggs
1 1/3rd cup milk
1 jar or can (4 ounces) pimientos
2 teaspoons salt
1 teaspoon pepper

2 teaspoons prepared mustard
1 teaspoon Worcestershire sauce

2 cups fresh bread crumbs
1 medium-small onion, thinly sliced and separated into rings

Into a medium mixing bowl, beat the eggs and milk. Drain and add the liquid from the pimientos; reserve pimientos. Add salt, pepper, mustard and Worcestershire. Beat to combine. Add bread crumbs; mix well. Add beef; with your hands, knead until blended.

Divide meat mixture in an ungreased 8-inch square baking dish. Sift pimientos and onion flat; arrange over meat mixture. Place onion rings over pimientos. Pat remaining half of meat over top.

Bake in a preheated 350-degree oven for 45 to 60 minutes. Let stand about 10 minutes. Pour off liquid in baking dish. Cut into squares; remove with a wide spatula or server and serve at once.

Makes 6 to 8 servings.

Note: If you like, you may parash the meat loaf with slices of pimiento and paper-thin onion rings.

PIMIENTO-ONION MEAT LOAF—Tastes good with baked beans, a green salad and crusty rolls.

Dill Bread
Elsie Whitman's Grapefruit Compote

Great after a substantial main course:
3 large grapefruit
1 cup sugar
1 cup water

With a swivel-blade vegetable peeler, cut away some of the rind (yellow part only) from a grapefruit; silver enough of this rind to make 2 tablespoons. Boil the silvered rind with the sugar and water until syrupy - 8 to 10 minutes. Pare all 3 grapefruits so no white membrane remains; cut away sections from dividing membranes; save any juice. Pour syrup mixture over grapefruit sections and juice. Chill for 24 hours to blend flavors. Makes 6 servings.

HAWAIIAN CHICKEN
Still another version of a well-received dish.
1 cup soy sauce
1 tablespoon minced fresh ginger
3 chicken breasts (about 1 pound each), split
1/2rd cup coriander
1 cup butter

1 can (1 pound, 4 ounces) pineapple chunks in unsweetened pineapple juice

In a shallow container in the soy sauce and ginger marinate chicken; cover and refrigerate for 3 hours, turning chicken a few times. Drain chicken, saving marinade, and coat with coriander. Preheat oven to 425 degrees and in a shallow 3-quart baking dish melt the butter; arrange chicken, skin side down, in one layer in dish. Bake until skin side is brown - 30 minutes. Turn. Mix marinade with pineapple and its juice and pour over chicken. Continue baking for 15 minutes. Makes 4 to 6 servings.

Apple Pie Beverage
TOSSED ARTICHOKE SALAD

1 1/2 quarts torn romaine
1 medium or large cucumber, pared and thinly sliced

Seasoning salt to taste

Into a salad bowl turn the romaine and cucumber; cover tightly and chill. Just before serving, cut the artichoke hearts into lengthwise slices and add with marinade from jar to the bowl. Toss with seasoning salt. Makes 8 servings.

If cucumber seeds are large, cut cucumber in half lengthwise and scoop out seeds, then slice thin.
