Reds Refuse To Tell Of Prisoners

Commies Will Agree To Troop Rotation If U. N. Accepts Red Truce Plans

By ROBERT B. TUCKMAN
UNSAN, Korea (AP)—The Reds flatly refused today to lift the curtain of secrecy surrounding their prison camps, but said they would say the rotation of 5,000 troops a month if the Allies accept other Communist terms for enforcing a Korean truce.

The limited rotation plan was part of a new six-point Communist proposal which made little impression on Allied negotiators. An official U. N. communique made no mention of rotation and said the proposal showed "little significant departure from the unacceptable proposal of Dec. 3."

In Stockholm, the Swedish Foreign Office said the U. N. had asked if Sweden would join a neutral inspection commission to help police Korean truce. It said Sweden has made no decision.

Negotiators have not agreed on how an armistice would be enforced. The Allies have indicated they might accept a Communist proposal to use representatives of neutral nations for behind-the-lines inspections.

Red delegates said international Red Cross inspection of Communist prison camps was "out of the question."

They again refused to turn over lists of Allied prisoners unless the U. N. Command first accepts the Communist idea of exchanging all prisoners. Rear Adm. R. F. Lihby wanted to know why, he asked, "if it because our list contains just a handful of names and you are ashamed to give it to us?"

The Reds complained the great majority of prisoners held by the U. N. would not be returned if an armistice is signed.

Teletype Increases Production

The Sanford Herald this week joined the Associated Press new Florida teletype circuit, begun last July, the second in the United States, as a means of increasing production and publishing a larger volume of late news. Left, Robert Tausch of the Teletype Corporation inspects the new equipment, as the Herald foreman, right, looks on, while the new Blue Streak Comet is seen in actual operation, without a human hand touching it, by means of the tape seen emerging from the Restorator at the right.

Joan Bennett's Husband Shoots Hollywood Agent

Wanger Accuses Him Of Trying To Break Up His Family Life

BEVERLY HILLS, Calif. (AP)—Movie producer Walter Wanger was ordered released today on $5,000 bail in the shooting of his wife's agent, and District Attorney Ernest Holl told reporters: "I can't yet say whether he will issue a complaint."

By GENE HANDSAKER
BEVERLY HILLS, Calif. (AP)—Film star Joan Bennett's husband Walter Wanger, who shot down a Hollywood agent "because he broke up my home," goes to court for arraignment today.

The victim, Jennings Lang, 39, was killed Thursday night by two bullets in a parking lot across the street from the police station and is in serious condition.

Miss Bennett, who said she was discussing her plans for a television show with Lang when the shooting started, denied she was romantically interested in him.

Wanger, prominent film producer, was booked on suspicion of assault with intent to commit murder. Police said a formal complaint will be issued later today charging either assault with intent to commit murder or assault with a deadly weapon.

Lang underwent surgery lasting an hour and a half Thursday night. One 36 bullet penetrated his groin and came out through the rear of his left leg, Chief Anderson said.

The other slug tore through Lang's clothes and grazed his hand, but didn't break the skin, but it ripped through the left front fender of Miss Bennett's green Cadillac convertible. She was sitting in the car when the bullet struck, she said.

Chief Anderson quoted Miss Bennett as saying she told Wanger "get away and leave us alone."

She told the police chief that (Continued on Page Seven)

Russia Is Asked To Settle With Tito's Regime

Assembly Will Hear Russia's Charges Against America

PARIS (AP)—U. S. Ambassador Philip C. Jessup told the United Nations Political Committee today the Western powers will open disarmament negotiations with Russia "with the flag flying and hope that they will result in agreement."

Explaining the revised Western disarmament proposals, Jessup said it was obvious that fundamental differences remained between the Soviet Union and the West.

PARIS (AP)—The United Nations General Assembly today called on Russia and her satellites to settle their differences with Yugoslavia peacefully in accordance with the spirit of the U. N. Charter.

The vote was 12 to 3 (Soviet bloc with two abstentions (Afghanistan and Iran)).

Today's action gave full Assembly backing to the action taken previously by its special political committee.

Yugoslavia which broke away from the Kremlin's domination in 1948, charged in the committee that Russia and other eastern European countries were putting diplomatic, military and economic pressure on his country in order to force it back into line. Russia replied that Yugoslavia had turned itself into a "springboard" for aggressive Anglo-American activity against the Soviet Union.

The General Assembly also agreed earlier today to hear Russian charges that the U. S. is trying to foment rebellion against the Kremlin.

The vote, which the Assembly accepted by a recommendation from its 14 nation steering committee, was 25 to zero with two abstentions (New Zealand and Cuba).

U. S. Delegate Frank A. Cross told the assembly the U. S. had no objection to a public airing of the charges, which he said the U. S. would dispute. He suggested, however, that the debate be taken up directly by a plenary session of the Assembly without prior committee debate.

Pakistan's Sir Muhammad Zafrullah Khan objected to this procedure and Gross thereupon withdrew the suggestion.

The Russian charges are based on interpretation of the Mutual Security Act, which Congress passed this fall, by which the Russia claim that U. S. has appropriated 100 million dollars to pay "traitors" on Russian soil.

Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Y. Vishinsky presented the Russian charges today.

Assessment Amount Said In 6 Figures; Tax Lien Slapped On H. Grunewald

WASHINGTON (AP)—Rep. Cecil King (D-Calif.), chairman of the House committee investigating tax scandals in the government, conferred for 35 minutes with President Truman today. He declined afterward to tell White House reporters anything about the meeting or even to say whether it was himself or the President who initiated it.

The White House wouldn't say, either, informed sources said in advance, however, that King undoubtedly would offer advice on the drastic action promised by Mr. Truman to put the Administration's house in order well before next year's election campaign.

WASHINGTON (AP)—Charles Oliphant linked the name of "Mystery Man" Henry (The Dutchman) Grunewald with another big tax case today and quoted Grunewald as saying he was "helping" Sen. Bridges (R-N.J.) on it.

Oliphant, resigned chief counsel of the Internal Revenue Bureau, told House tax investigators that Bridges himself made an inquiry about the case involving a partly assessed amount against Hyman H. Klon of Baltimore.

The amount of the assessment was not brought out here, sources were told it was "at least six figures." Many other aides also were left hanging temporarily amid hints the investigators were building up for new revelations.

For the second day, Oliphant was in the witness chair before the House ways and means committee investigating tax irregularities.

In highlights:

Oliphant acknowledged that he let a tax deficiency prosecution against a Washington meat firm drop because Rep. James H. Murray (La.) had indicated himself in the case. He said he let it drop despite instructions from George Schoonenman, then commissioner of investigation, that it should be prosecuted.

Oliphant admitted he tipped U. S. Senator Frank A. Cross (Ia.) that he was William H. DeWitt was looking into Grunewald's income tax returns.

Oliphant and Rep. James H. Murray (La.) disputed whether it was a conspiracy to raise taxes (Continued on Page Seven)

Vote Recorded By Garden Club Against Removal

Most Florida Crops Will Record Drops In National Trend

Women of the Sanford Garden Club today voted unanimously against removing the five Bahai palm trees in the city of Sanford, Fla., at 15 votes to 3.

The club, which the city had considered removing on the ground that the trees obstructed the view of places of business nearby, had earlier voted to retain the trees, declared that years ago, before the Garden Club became interested in beautifying the triangle, it was an eyesore.

She pointed out that low shrubbery, planted there, proved to be a traffic hazard, and the palms were taken out and the palms donated by the Garden Club were planted there. She declared that the triangle is the "city emblem" of the city, and stated that it took the palms a long time to grow there.

"My interests are in Sanford and in the city," she said. "What concerns the beauty of Seminole County," she added.

Mrs. A. W. Epps said that she had conferred with Highway Patrolmen who expressed the opinion that the trees do not constitute a traffic hazard. It is our only beautification at the entrance to the city, she stated. She added that at least two years ago the Garden Club had asked the City Commission to co-operate in a plan of civic beautification.

A. F. Kamyay, Florist, suggested that the trees might be a traffic hazard, and that the whole triangle should be moved. He received smilingly under a "barge" of objections and "voted five results" from the women.

Mrs. Spencer announced that the following circles of the Garden Club had voted in favor of retaining the trees: the Minnie Circle with 15 votes; the Rose Circle, 23 votes and the Dint Garden Circle, 24 votes. Mrs. H. M. Papworth said that she favored retaining the trees, but if they do not interfere with traffic.

Present were Mrs. Spencer, Mrs. George Harden, Mrs. Gulletti, Mrs. Papworth, Mrs. J. N. Asarallo, Mrs. H. H. Coleman, Mrs. Epps and Mrs. B. B. Crumley.

Vegetable Crop Will Dip 8 Per Cent For 1952

Most Florida Crops Will Record Drops In National Trend

ORLANDO (AP)—A number of winter vegetable crops in the United States for 1952 are expected to average eight per cent less than 1951, the U. S. Department of Agriculture and the Florida Agricultural Experiment Stations report.

The Florida winter crop will be five per cent less than last year's small crop of 63,000 tons.

Cabbage production in four states is expected to be 17 per cent off. Florida's expected cabbage crop was 142,000 tons, 12 per cent lower than last year. California's expected crop was 82,000 tons, Arizona, 15,000 tons, each down considerably.

Pre-winter carrot production in California, Arizona, Texas and Louisiana is 22 per cent less.

The winter crop in Florida, California and Arizona is estimated at slightly below 1951's 7,800,000 crates, of which Florida is expected to produce 3,000,000.

Florida's escarole and chicory crops are expected to be less than 1951's 2,374,000 bushels, and indicated lettuce production is 128,000 crates against 140,000 in 1951.

Green pepper acreage reported for harvest this year is 17 per cent below last year's 1951's 1,100,000 acres.

Early Irish potato production in Texas and Florida is 2,628,000 bushels, 18 per cent higher than 1951's 2,228,000 bushels.

Indicated in the statistics and other Florida areas but planting reduction is indicated in the Texas lower valley. Florida's 1951 winter crop was 2,125,000 bushels and the spring crop was 4,000,000 against Texas' 10,000 winter and 120,000 spring crops.

Reported Florida strawberry acreage for winter harvest was 4,800, 20 per cent below 1951.

Herald Installs New Linotype; Joins AP Teletypesetter Circuit

Tourist Building Fund Raising Goal Is Set At $10,000

The Sanford Herald this week became the sixteenth newspaper in the state to join the Associated Press Florida teletypesetter circuit by which type is set automatically. The Florida circuit, inaugurated last July 2, was the second AP teletype circuit in the United States, though other circuits have been placed in operation since that time.

The Herald's teletype circuit, which is a central control point to provide reformed tape in newspaper offices at widely separated locations. This tape when fed through a Teletypesetter Operating Unit attached to linotype machines produces without manual operation justified lines of type as they appear in the newspaper and at a maximum rate more than twice that of normal production.

The Florida circuit, operated out of Jacksonville, now consists of the Bradenton Herald, Clearwater Star, Deland Sun News, Fort Pierce News Tribune, Jacksonville Journal, Lakeland Ledger, Ocala Star-Banner, Panama City News Herald, Pensacola News, St. Petersburg Independent, Sarasota Herald Tribune, Tallahassee Democrat, West Palm Beach Times, Melbourne Times, Orlando Evening Star, and the Sanford Herald.

One operator in Jacksonville provides the tape in all these widely separated newspaper offices which in turn operate a linotype machine in each one of them. But because mechanical operation is faster than manual operation, the tape operated Com Linotype machines produce 12 lines of type per minute as compared to six lines a minute as the maximum capacity of the old manually operated machines.

The Herald's new Com Linotype was installed a month ago. It is the Mergenthaler Linotype Co.'s model, developed primarily for speed and use with teletypesetter circuits. The number of the Herald's machine is 494 which means that there are only 893 of them in all the rest of the world, since the first new machine was numbered 100. It can be operated either by tape or manually merely by turning a switch.

Lawyer Asserts Tallulah Granted Check - Approval

Personal Check Is Waved In Front Of Jury By Attorney

NEW YORK (AP)—The defense today admitted that Tallulah Bankhead's former personal secretary and maid raised sums on the actress' checks, but claimed Miss Bankhead authorized it.

Fred G. Moritt, counsel for 59-year-old Miss Evelyn H. Cronin, waved a check in his hand and told the jury: "I tell you now that it was Miss Cronin who raised this check. She raised all these checks."

Mrs. Cronin, an ex-vaudeville dancer who worked for Miss Bankhead until the check-biting case exploded last year, is accused on 32 counts of forgery and grand larceny.

Moritt's statement came while he was cross-examining Bernard (Continued on Page Two)

Memorial Services For Departed Elks Are Held At Lodge

Impressive Memorial Services For Departed Elks Held At Lodge

Impressive memorial services for departed members of the Elks lodge were held last night at Sanford Lodge 1241, B.P.O.E. Robert A. Bennett, local in a program added greatly to the ritual with his singing of "Above the Hills of Time" and "The Lord's Prayer."

Charles Huggins, building committee chairman, showed E. J. Moughton's blue prints and specifications of the proposed Elks recreation and civic center building, and announced that bids from six contractors had been received. Final action on the project is contingent on the approval of the Elks' Grand Lodge.

Howard R. Davis, Grand Exalted Ruler of the Elks Order, congratulated the local lodge for its outstanding work along charitable, social and fraternal lines. He said that this information had been reported to him following the recent visit by District Deputy Willis V. McCall of Euclid.

Mr. Davis stressed the importance of the Elks' Blood Bank campaign in securing one million pints of blood by next spring for use by the armed services.

It was announced that the Pilot Club had again pledged its co-operation in furnishing toys for the Elks annual Christmas party for the underprivileged children of Seminole County. Appreciation for the amount given by the Elks to "The Celery Crate" local youth organization was expressed by officers of that group.

Plans of the Charity Ball Committee for an outstanding Elks dance at the Davfair Inn tomorrow night were announced by Robert H. Hillelmer, committee chairman and Esquire of the Lodge.

Pensacola Bond Issue Is Granted By Supreme Court

U. S. Supreme Court Today Granted Bond Issue For City of Pensacola

TALLAHASSEE (AP)—The Florida Supreme Court today granted a $100,000 bond issue for the city of Pensacola, but ruled invalid an amendment to which the city planned to help retire the bonds.

The court said the Legislature had given the city no authority by tax amendments.

The opinion, by Chief Justice John Dickinson of St. Petersburg sitting as an associate justice, said "The field of amusement taxes clearly falls within the field of excise taxes, which field has long been reserved by the state as a special field of taxation for itself."

The city also had pledged tobacco tax revenue and revenue from operations of the auditorium to retire the bonds. However, it was not expected the auditorium revenue would do more than maintain the building as it was and considered an important backing for the bonds.

The amusement tax was attacked by the Paramount Gulf Theaters, Inc. The theater lawyers contended it was unfair and discriminatory for the city to put a tax on privately operated amusement to build and support a place of amusement.

But the Supreme Court, having ruled the city levy was an invasion of the state's excise taxing power, said it was unnecessary to decide whether the tax was discriminatory. Validity of the tobacco tax was not questioned in the case.

"When a Christian grows older," Doctor Bonar once remarked that he could tell when a Christian was growing. In proportion to his growth in grace he would elevate his Master, talk less of what he was doing, and become smaller and smaller in his own esteem until,
like the morning star, he faded away before the rising sun. Jonathan was willing to decrease that David might increase; and John the Baptist showed the same spirit of humility."

Assurance that complete reliance on God brings constant protection will be given in the Lesson-Sermon read in all Christian Science churches next Sunday.
The subject is: "God The Preserver
Of Man."
One of the Psalms of David provides the Golden Text: "In God is my salvation and my glory;
the rock of my strength, and my refuge, is in God (Ps. 62:7)." Bible passages include: "The eternal God is thy refuge, and underneath are the everlasting arms" (Deut. 33: 27 to 31).
The theme of God as the preservator of man will be carried out in correlative passages from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy, including: "They are not power apart from God. Omnipotence has all-power, and to acknowledge any other power is to dishonor God" (p. 228).

Herald Teletype
which automatically operates the keyboard and runs the machine.
It consists primarily of a tape feeding and a selecting mechanism and contains a transfer device, code bars and related parts which aid in translating the code signals, punched as holes in the tape, into positive mechanical actions on the linotype. Special devices attached to the machine automatically stop it in case of trouble, thus preventing any possible damage.
Holes in the tape are punched by electrical impulses transmitted over the telephone wire from Jacksonville to a small machine known as a Repeater. Following this operation the tape appears very much like the music roll of a player piano reduced in size to one-tenth its width.
Inasmuch as it is impossible to read the news stories coming in on the tape, it was necessary to provide another machine translating the perforated tape into written words for the benefit of the editors who must select the stories they want to use before they are set into type. This machine is known as the Monitor and is almost identical with the AP printers which have been in use for some time.

Tallulah's Maid
Dolgin, an accountant in the district attorney's office.
The lawyer asked the court to instruct the jury that check-raising is "forgery unless it is done under the authority of the person who issues the check."
The court refused to do so.
Miss Bankhead, expected to be called as the next prosecution witness, skirted a crowd of bystanders at the courthouse, slipped in a side entrance, and took up her wait in the district attorney's office.
Moritt questioned Dolgin closely about a statement, placed in evidence, in which Mrs. Cronin said that $40 was spent one evening in which "Bill and Miss B." were together, and $20 for another evening during which "Miss B. and Bill" went to a club.
The lawyer repeatedly asked the witness if it was "Bill Langford" to whom the statement referred, but Dolgin said he didn't know. He said he didn't recall that name ever being mentioned in questioning.
(William Langford played with Miss Bankhead in a recent stage production of Noel Coward's
"Private Lives.")
Dolgin read a statement in which Mrs. Cronin explained that she had been asked to raise the $27.50 after Miss Bankhead originally made it out for $27.50, was purportedly spent as follows:

Millionth Car Death Seen One Day Later

CHICAGO (U)—Here is a box score on the approach of the 1,000,000th automobile death:
 Death total as of last week...998,100
 Death total as of today...999,000
 Deaths short of one million...1,100
 Expected date of millionth death...Dec. 22
 The National Safety Council last week forecast Dec. 21 as the day of the millionth death would occur. The date was moved back one day because of fewer traffic deaths during the first two weeks of December than had been expected on the basis of statistics.
 The council said the difference between the current total of 998,100 and last week's 998,100 represents adjustments due to delayed deaths from injuries suffered earlier, to delayed reporting of deaths and to addition of deaths occurring the week of Dec. 7 to 13.

Korean War

 exchange were made on a man-for-man basis as the Allies want.
 A U. N. spokesman called the Communist's remark a slip.
 SEOUL, Korea (U)—Red anti-aircraft guns shot down three Allied planes today while MIG-killing American Sabre jets destroyed one Communist jet and damaged three.
 The U. S. Fifth Air Force said all the Sabres returned safely from their two jet fights over Northwest Korea.
 So did two reconnaissance F-80 Shooting Stars that were jumped by six Red MIG-15s near the North Korean capital, Pyongyang. The F-80s outmaneuvered and outflawed the Red pilots in the much faster MIGs.
 In unrelated actions Red flak brought down a Shooting Star, an F-84 Thunderjet and an F-51 Mustang. All three fell in Communist territory.
 Fifth Air Force planes flew 663 sorties up to 6 p. m., chopping up Communist transport lines.
 In a 25-minute battle Friday morning between 48 Sabres and more than 100 MIGs, one Red jet was shot down and two damaged. Another Red was damaged in an afternoon scrap.
 The Friday morning flash of action emphasized the current leading role of the air in the Korean War.
 Warships and carrier planes hammered at the edges of North Korea. But the ground troops stuck closely to their defense lines.

FOUR ANGELS... and their Shepherds

They certainly don't behave like angels most of the time!
 But when you hear them singing the beloved carols, you can't help thinking that it couldn't have been sweeter music the night the angels sang in Bethlehem.
 And if one of them is your child, you sort of feel like one of the shepherds "keeping watch over their flocks by night."
 And the next thing you know—you're wishing you could go to the Manger and "see this thing which has come to pass, which the Lord has made known unto us."
 Then, Sunday morning, you take the whole family to Church. And in a quiet moment of meditation or prayer you realize suddenly that all the years and all the miles haven't separated the angels and shepherds of Today from the Child of Bethlehem.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL...
 ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake (2) For his children's sake (3) For the sake of his community and nation (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

EXPIATION
 (From The Kansas City Star)
 Poor, untaught Eve, whose brief,
 Persuaded sinning Brings still upon her head the stern disdain
 Of heavy-domed philosophers, the grinning
 Sly knowings of fools, and all the pain;
 And even sometimes, too, a sense of hurt
 And disapproval by her numerous brood
 Of daughters—is there no one to assert
 That earth's all-mother merits gratitude?
 She squandered Eden, but with all her might Sought to rebuild it with two burdened hands;
 And from her eyes there never faded quite
 The light they carried in the blessed Lapis;
 So that her children, though wrong made entire,
 Share her regrets for Paradise.

 were 14 percent more for the year than for the same period in 1950.

In addition to the eight billion dollars a year which the federal and state governments spend on welfare each year, more than four billions is contributed by individuals in voluntary gifts as charity. That makes a grand total of some 12 billion dollars which goes to the poor and underprivileged in this country, far exceeding in generosity anything that is done in any other country in the world.

Sanford Jaycees are going out after the money with which to build a new Tourist Center for Sanford's winter visitors. This is a most commendable activity and the Herald earnestly solicits the support of merchants and all others toward making the drive a complete success. Tourists have made practically every city in Florida that has grown and prospered during the past 25 years. They can do the same for Sanford.

Florida supporters of General
 Eisenhower for President are reminding their efforts to get him to run and to carry this state for him if he does. Kirk Landon, Miami insurance man, wires "like that he is regarded as America's greatest asset; a leader whom they (the people) would wholeheartedly follow; and, given the opportunity, would even elect you as president of a United States of Europe". However, he adds, "Heaven's, I feel that your own country needs you even more than Europe".

We are glad to see that the President "has no home" with any-where in his administration, but disappointed that he cannot see the members of the committee to the administration, to give him some clear direction in government.
 The President has only one home in the world,
 and that is in the hearts of the people of the United States. Let us hope that the President will be able to see the members of the committee to the administration, to give him some clear direction in government.

Peace In A Treaty

Treaties of peace should be what they sound like, instruments to make and keep an atmosphere of peace among nations. The one with Japan appears to have a fair chance of being such an instrument over a period of years. The treaty with Italy, made while the passions of war were still hot, contains condemnation and punitive restrictions which are not the stuff of which an atmosphere of peace is made. It is small wonder that these parts of their treaty have already begun to gail the Italian people. The denunciation and restrictions are reminders of the bitterness of war. If allowed to remain, they would become more and more repugnant until they might be made the basis for a new aggressive militarism, as happened in Germany after the First World War.

The matter-of-factness and generosity of the Japanese treaty are more likely to engender a lasting desire for peaceful membership in the family of nations. If something of the same qualities can be transplanted now into the Italian treaty, its permanent values should be greatly enhanced. It is not only that the Italian people deserve a more enlightened treaty.

All Europe deserves a chance to build a more enlightened society of nations, and that could not be done on the basis of the shackling of a nation which was defeated in war. All the peoples of Europe are important to each other; they have common problems, common responsibilities and common desires. These should be recognized in treaties of peace.

"Aggie And Tish"

Everyone who ever read one of Mary Roberts Rinehart's famous "Tish" stories will be delighted that they are to be put on the screen sometime in 1952. If half the humor and humanity which made them so thoroughly enjoyed and looked forward to, as they appeared in magazines, can be transferred from the page to the screen they will make a new name for themselves.

Not often are stories so characterized by keen knowledge of human foibles, by wholesome fun and the suspense of well-constructed mystery drama as these of the middle-aged ladies and their adventures. They could always be read aloud to Grandma, or to Aunt Sarah Jane who belonged to the Mayflower Society, without a qualm and with certainty of giving pleasure. The only disadvantage was that the reader's voice was apt to give out in the middle of a sentence because he had to laugh. It didn't matter too much, however, because the listeners were pausing in their knitting while they, too, rocked with laughter.

Rinehart's "Tish" stories have become classics of American literature. Americans who know them will be awaiting the screen versions eagerly. Others will take them happily as they come—if, of course, they are as well done as they deserve to be.

Evolution Of Dolls

Parents who study the bewildering array of dolls on the toy counters with an eye to selecting one for a daughter may be interested to know that 25,000 years ago cave dwellers were making dolls. They were fashioned of chiseled stone and must have been the product of considerable labor. Apparently the cave man, like his modern counterpart, was willing to go to great lengths to please his children.

Through the centuries the making of dolls evolved into a fine art. The ancient Egyptians, Greeks and Romans created elaborate models. An old Egyptian one cried with the aid of a tiny concealed bellows. In Germany, France and other European countries the manufacture of dolls became an industry which supported whole communities.

Times have changed since man dwelt in caves, and life has become much more complex. But little girls have probably not changed much in their regard for dolls. Possibly the little girl in the cave slept a bit more contentedly because of the stone doll beside her, even as our little girls are comforted by their more fancy toys. In America over fifty million dollars is spent every year for dolls. A parent who sees the delight that children get from them can understandably believe that the money is well spent.

Wild Man Loose, Kills Father And Shoots Brother

DAYTONA BEACH—A man police described as probably "a maniac" robbed and shot his father to death here Thursday night and critically wounded his brother. Sheriff Alex Littlefield said Sam Grossman, 35 to 38 years old, shot his brother Herman, 21, and pushed him out of his car about 12 miles north of here, then returned and killed his father, Harry Grossman, about 60, at the latter's apartment.

Herman Grossman was reported in critical condition with a 22-caliber bullet wound behind his ear. Sheriff Littlefield said police had been alerted from here to New Jersey but that he believed Grossman was "holed up down here somewhere."

He said Grossman's 14-year-old daughter was with him and it was feared he may have killed her and himself. Sheriff Littlefield told reporters Grossman was driving a green two-tone 1946 Chrysler club coupe with a New York or New Jersey license. He said the shootings apparently occurred over a family argument.

He said Grossman is armed and dangerous and is believed to be a maniac. Grossman was visiting here from Holbrook, N. J.

The elder Grossman moved here five years ago from Newark, N. J., and operated a poultry business. His wife died here three years ago. Herman Grossman was a mechanic at a sales agency here, but quit his job Monday.

Joan Bennett

her relations with her agent were purely business. Walter thinks there is any romance between us," she was quoted by the chief, "he is wrong."

Sid Holtzman, manager of a service station on the parking lot, drove Lang to his doctor's office on Wilshire Boulevard in Miss Bennett's car. She went along. Lang was later removed to a hospital.

Two policemen took 57-year-old Wanger into custody on the parking lot.

Miss Bennett, 41—one of the movie's "glamorous grandmas" like Marlene Dietrich and Gloria Swanson—was quoted by Chief Anderson as saying:

About 2:30 p. m. she went into the nearby Music Corporation of America building to see Lang, her agent for 12 years.

They took a drive around Beverly Hills and Hollywood in his car, discussing a proposed television show for her. She returned to the parking lot about 5:20.

She and Lang got out of his car and walked over to hers. She got in, he stood beside the door. They talked a few minutes. She had turned the motor and lights on when the gun flashed and roared and she saw Wanger standing nearby.

Police said Wanger tossed the gun into his wife's car. The shooting—across the street from the city's towering, gleaming Christmas tree—left an irregular, five-foot-long pool of blood on the parking lot's asphalt paving.

The veteran producer of many films, including "Stage Coach," "Foreign Correspondent" and the financially ill-fated "Joan of Arc," was questioned at length and fingerprinted.

Chief Anderson quoted Wanger as saying he warned Lang last January, in New York, that he'd shoot anybody who might break up his home.

The hint of discord between the couple was as shocking to Hollywood as the sudden burst of gunfire.

The producer said he noticed his wife's convertible parked in the he as he drove past about 2:30 p. m. A half hour later, Wanger was quoted, he again saw the car here and stopped to talk with the returned.

Lang, the father of two children, is head of West Coast Television operations for Music Corporation of America.

His wife, Pam, was driven to the hospital by Actress Jane Wyman, who said she is a close friend of Miss Bennett.

An involuntary petition to liquidate Wanger's assets was filed in the Bank of America for $375,000. To satisfy unpaid loans to Wanger, the bank moved last September to foreclose on the couple's $450,000 home in fashionable Hollywood Hills. The producer's money troubles were blamed by him on complex nervous breakdown because of business arrangements.

Music Program Set By Presbyterians

The evening service at the First Presbyterian Church next Sunday will be made up entirely of music, the pastor, the Rev. A. G. McInnis announced today. It will begin at 7:35 o'clock when Christmas carols will be played on the chimes and will symbolize the season's joyous event, the birth of the Savior.

Mr. McInnis said that this annual service has been attended by increasing numbers each year and because of this and the splendid program that has been arranged, he anticipated an overflow congregation. Special chairs are being provided for the latecomers, he added. He asked that everyone be seated by the time the service opened.

The hour of worship has been prepared by the Chancel choir of 22 voices under the direction of the Minister of Music, Mrs. George Touhy, and the choral singing of this group will make up the majority of the program, according to the announcement. However, solo portions in the ninth anthem will be sung by Mrs. Charles Wilke, Mrs. Harris Folsie, Mrs. Clara Ginn, Stanley Brumley, Dick Aiken and Robert Brown.

The order of worship is as follows: Christmas Chimes (beginning at 7:25 P.M.); Lighting of the Candles; Preludial Music: In Dulci Jubilo (Bach), Ave Maria (Schubert), Christmas in Sicily (Voni); Processional Hymn: Oh, Come All Ye Faithful; Invocation; The Nativity: Cherubim Song (Hornbunsky); What Can This Year? (Staley); Only a Manger (Merritt); Lullaby in the Manger (Vardell); Gifts For The Savior: Pastors (Bach) Organ solo; Christmas In Portugal; Little-ten of Braga (arr. Gault); Christmas In Lapland (arr. Dickinson); Christmas In America; Christmas Carol Fantasy (arr. Gilbert); The World Rejoices: Beautiful Savior (arr. Christiansen); A Christmas Prayer: Hoax Shall I Fly Meet Thee (Hassler-Bach); Christmas in Lapland (arr. Dickinson); Silent Night.

Loyalty Board Reopens Check On 565 Cases

New Rule Of "Reasonable Doubt" As To Loyalty To Be Applied To Everyone

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Loyalty Review Board today reopened the cases of 565 federal employees for recheck under the new rule that a "reasonable doubt" of loyalty is sufficient to bar employment.

That is the rule under which John R. Service, veteran diplomat who had been cleared repeatedly under former procedures, was fired by the State Department last week after an adverse finding by the review board.

Until President Truman revised the rules last spring a showing of actual disloyalty was required for discharge.

In Service's own case the review board emphasized that there was no finding of disloyalty—only "reasonable doubt" (in that regard) it reversed findings of the State Department's own Loyalty and Security Board.

Announcement of the reopening of the 565 cases was made by the review board after it had taken a new look at 8,880 cases. It said those were "all that could possibly have been affected by the new loyalty standard which went into effect last May 1 by order of President Truman."

The announcement from the board, which operates under the Civil Service Commission as a sort of appeals court over the separate boards within government departments, directed the individual agencies to make the recheck on the 565 cases.

It referred to Mr. Truman's order which it said "changed the standard of ineligibility (for federal employment) from 'reasonable grounds for belief that the person involved is disloyal' to a 'reasonable doubt as to the loyalty of the person involved.'"

It said that permits "borderline cases," lacking clear-cut evidence of disloyalty, "to be reviewed in favor of the government."

Of loyalty cases investigated by the FBI from the beginning of the program on Oct. 1, 1947, 8,880 were "declared favorable under the old standard."

The number represents system loyalty cases decided in favor of the government. There have been many others which got only routine check.

Besides the 565 cases, which are under review, which were on the federal payroll at the time the loyalty program began in 1947, the board told the government agencies to take a new look at the records on 215 persons who applied for and were given jobs after that date.

The 574, the review board said, got clearance under the old standards.

Last May, soon after Mr. Truman made the change, the board said:

Sheriff Reports Over $400 Stolen From Middleton's

More than $400 in cash was stolen from Middleton's Store on Geneva Avenue, one block east of Boardwalk Avenue, Friday night, according to Sheriff F. A. Mero.

The theft was discovered Saturday morning by Robert Middleton, son of the owner of the grocery, Mrs. Ruby Davis.

Following circumstances surrounded the theft and Sheriff Mero today expressed the opinion that the intruder must have hidden in the store when it was locked for the night.

It was indicated by the fact that the cash was taken from a back door which had been bolted inside. The front door was double locked, and no windows had been broken.

Sheriff Mero is happy about the "cash lifting" being given to his office, which he said, was taken from the ceiling in places, and the main had peeled from the rest of the ceiling. Repeating of the ceiling and other improvements, including the installation of new cabinets, are now taking place.

The cabinets will serve for the fitting of records, and in one section will be a place where auto guns and other equipment for trials can be safely stored.

Sheriff Mero stated that he had been advised of the occurrence of the theft, which he said, was taken from the ceiling in places, and the main had peeled from the rest of the ceiling. Repeating of the ceiling and other improvements, including the installation of new cabinets, are now taking place.

Red Radio Claims Communists Take Two More Isles

SEOUL (AP)—The North Korean Red Radio tonight said Communist troops Sunday recaptured two yellow sea islands off the west coast of Korea.

A communique broadcast from Pyongyang, the Red capital, and mentioned here said Communist troops had recaptured or captured 172 U. N. soldiers in the amphibious operation.

There was no confirmation from U. N. sources.

The broadcast said the islands are Cho, off the Chinnampo Peninsula, and Yuk, near the Ongjin Peninsula.

The Reds took three other islands off Northwest Korea about two weeks ago. The U. N. Command confirmed that.

The North Korean broadcast said "our air force today shot down four of enemy planes which attacked the western and eastern coasts of North Korea." The U. N. made no confirmation.

Heavy weather had reduced aerial activity Monday.

PUSAN, Korea (AP)—Two South Korean army officers yesterday were convicted of the mass slaying of 181 civilians at Koechang behind United Nations lines last spring.

Col. Ik Kyoon, regimental commander, and his aide Han Dong Suk, battalion commander, were sentenced to life in prison at hard labor.

The prosecution had asked the death penalty.

They were convicted and sentenced by a general military court at Taegu.

The two were accused of killing 181 civilians on the ground the townspeople were Communist collaborators. They were officers in a division that was fighting guerrillas.

The court convicted Col. Kim Chong Won, former assistant provincial marshal known as "Tiger Kim," of preventing a government investigating team approaching the site of the mass killings. He was sentenced to three years in prison.

MUNSAN, Korea (AP)—Truce negotiators haggle over issues of change and armistice supervision again today. A United Nations spokesman said results were "absolutely negative," said the U. N. communique.

Only 10 days remain before the provisional cease-fire line across Korea expires.

Brig. Gen. William P. Nuckolls, U. N. spokesman, said the Reds have not asked for an extension beyond their Dec. 31 deadline. Neither have the Allies.

DeBary Nursery School Becomes Important Part Of Community

By KAY HENNINGER

Two months ago we told you about the nursery school which had been organized in DeBary and we promised to visit again soon to report on its progress. Last week one day we called, and found the progress they had made, nothing short of wonderful. But let me tell you first about the adults who have come to help.

The first Thursday in November parents and friends of the children met to organize a P.T.A. The enthusiasm was most gratifying. It was decided to call the school the DeBary Kindergarten and to make it a permanent institution if a month's trial proved successful.

Instead of electing a president and the conventional "roll of officers" the group thought it would be well to select people to serve on various committees. Kathleen Guichard, in whose home the Kindergarten meets, was elected chairman and was given charge of accounts. Dorothy Brenner is chairman in charge of telephone and transportation. Each day, one of the mothers assists the teacher, and if the mother assigned is unable to be there, Mrs. Brenner will attend to getting a substitute. Kathleen Guide was chosen to be substitute driver. The chairman of

Three Automobile Accidents Occur In Sanford Area

Mrs. C. L. Butner Is Badly Bruised By Hit-And-Run Driver

Three automobile accidents, two of which involved injuries, occurred in Seminole County over the week-end.

Mrs. C. L. Butner was severely bruised last night at 7:30 o'clock by a hit-and-run driver who was later arrested on a charge of leaving the scene of an accident, said Highway Patrolman R. D. Harris.

At the time of the accident, Mr. Butner had gone to the aid of Mrs. Butner, whose automobile had become stalled on Highway 116 one mile east of Celery Avenue. Mrs. Butner was standing on the road when the hit and run driver, Benny Miller, Sanford Negro, drove by in his Chevrolet, the right front fender of which hit Mrs. Butner in the legs, badly bruising them.

Mr. Butner at once gave chase in his pickup truck and succeeded in identifying Miller's auto last night. He reported this to Patrolman Harrison, who arrested Miller at his home at 1704 West Twelfth Street.

Returning Sunday morning at 9:30 a. m. from an investigation of a robbery at Middleton's Store, and during a rain, Sheriff P. A. Mero noticed two automobiles passing him on Celery Avenue at rather high speed. As soon as he got to his office, he was notified of a wreck near the home of Betty Miller.

Investigating, he found that the cars which had passed him had been driven by two Negroes, who in attempting to race side by side became involved in the accident. One automobile, a Pontiac, hit the other, a Buick, smashing into a light pole. Arrested.

Cold Prevails In Nation, Killing 129 In Four Days

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

The cold wave which has taken at least 129 lives in the last four days drove the mercury to new seasonal record lows in the East today.

It was 30 degrees below zero in Houlton, Me., in the early morning.

Sub-zero minimum temperatures were reported in the northern states from the Rocky Mountains to New England. There were scattered below zero readings in the Appalachian Mountains.

Some moderation was reported in the Southeast after temperatures went as low as 5 above zero in the North Carolina mountains and 65 degrees on the Seaboard in South Carolina.

Temperatures went upward somewhat in Pennsylvania and from the Ohio Valley south; and it was milder in the west gulf and central plains regions.

But a new storm was developing just east of the Rockies. It was expected to bring new snow eastward and draw a new wave of intense cold southward from Canada.

The bitter weather took a heavy toll of suffering, damage, and myriad minor troubles for individuals among the millions in the nation's eastern half. It forced overhauling of heating systems, with hundreds of resulting fires. Overworked firemen faced heroic difficulties skidding to blazes, battling ice formation from their own steam, and enduring added risks and exertion.

Hendrix Refuses To Comply With Money Reports

Question Of Enforcement Of New Law Is Left Up In Air

TALLAHASSEE (AP)—Bill Hendrix, Tallahassee Ku Klux Klan leader, and candidate for governor today advised the Secretary of State he no longer will comply with the law which requires weekly financial reports.

Hendrix had paid his service to the law by submitting reports every Monday since his assuming his candidacy. But he has declined to list the true names and addresses of contributors as required by the law and has listed as expenses such things as payments to the "Jackass Detective Agency."

In his report today, Hendrix said he has been advised that in March "I have to pay $500 to qualify as a candidate for governor and that until I pay to be a candidate I cannot get on the ballot, so in my opinion my opinion is as good as anyone else's" right now I don't have to make these reports until I pay to be a candidate.

"When I pay to qualify, I will comply with the law. Until then I will make no more reports."

Attorney General Richard Egan told Hendrix that after a man formally has announced his candidacy he must, under the new law, file regular reports of expenditures and contributions. One of the penalties for non-compliance is a fine.

Jaycees Take Orphans On Shopping Tour

Fifteen little children from the Lutheran Haven home at Slavia will go Christmas shopping in Sanford this afternoon to buy presents for friends and teachers as part of a nation-wide Jaycees Orphans Christmas Shopping Tour.

Sanford Jaycees will give each of the youngsters three crisp new dollar bills and the kids will spend it any way they want. The children will break up into three groups of five each accompanied by a chaperone from the home and a Seminole County Jaycee.

The local Jaycees raised funds for the project by the sale of balloons at the Christmas parade and the Kiwanis benefit football game. Surplus cash from the balloon sale will go into a special fund from which the youngsters may buy records. Jaycee President Tim Crawford says he hopes to see the project adopted as an annual affair.

Investigation Will Check Into Other Tax Irregularities In Empire State

WASHINGTON (AP)—The government has more than 65 special agents investigating reports of big tax "shake downs" and other irregularities in New York State. The inquiry centers in New York City where wealthy individuals and corporations pay billions to the federal treasury every year.

John R. Dunlap, Commissioner of Internal Revenue, told a news conference today of the inquiry. He would not give any details as to the charges and reports which led to it.

At the White House there was no indication when President Truman would announce the "drastic action" which he hinted last Thursday he was about ready to take against wrong doers in government. "I haven't anything to tell you about that," Joseph Short, the presidential press secretary, told reporters.

Short would not even confirm what reporters learned elsewhere that U. S. Judge Thomas F. Murphy of New York has accepted from Mr. Truman the assignment of directing a clean up commission. Murphy, a Democrat, is an old hand at investigations.

There were reports not confirmed that John A. Carroll of Denver, a former Democratic congressman and member and once a crime busting district attorney, might be given a role in the inquiry and that J. Edgar Hoover, head of the FBI, would have a key role.

One government official—Jesse Larson, head of the General Services Administration put out word he had got rid of his "modest office."

A spokesman said Larson did so because of Mr. Truman's declaration that government officials should not have outside activities which might lead to conflicts of official duties. He also said Larson had had a private telephone removed from his office. Larson has said he used the telephone in connection with his matter.

Dunlap, the top federal tax collector, described the New York inquiry as presenting some "exceptionally tough problems" to the government.

"It covers the entire waterfront," he said in a generally meaning it was broad enough to go into all phases of the situation in the nation's biggest city and biggest tax paying community.

Dunlap was asked whether the inquiry involves Daniel Boleff, former Assistant Revenue Commissioner. (Continued on Page Three)

Relatives Try To Identify Mangled Victims Of Crash

ELIZABETH N. J. The first white faced relatives of the 31 victims of Sunday's plane crash were allowed into the morgue today to try to identify the mangled bodies laid out like so much blackened bird wood.

Police ringed the Haines Mortuary. Elizabeth's mortuary and kept reporters and photographers out.

The morgue couldn't handle the mangled bodies last night and some were placed in a garage. James Stepanelli, Newark, arrived to identify his brother, listed as J. Stepanelli of 138 Ridge St., Newark, N. J.

Grief was printed on his face as he came out of the morgue and paced up and down the sidewalk, fighting for control of his emotions. He went in again and came out with a handkerchief to his eyes. He did not say whether he had found his brother.

Living Rubenfeld came to look for his sister, Doris Ruby, Queens, N. Y.

A few other saddened relatives came. Red Cross workers helped them. Two identification experts from the city police force were on hand.

Authorities said many of the bodies are so mutilated identification probably cannot be made except by jewelry, personal effects, dental work and fingerprints.
