Groundbreaking for Oviedo school is July 21

A groundbreaking ceremony for the new John W. Evans Elementary School, located at the corner of Alafaya Trail (State Road 434) and Chapman Road, will be held on Wednesday at 9 a.m.

The 800-plus student school will be a two-story, red brick building, with primary students located on the first floor and intermediate students on the second. The cafeteria and Media Center are located off the main lobby for easy access for after-hours community use.

A covered physical education pavilion will be provided with restrooms, offices and storage. The parent pick-up area will be in a serpentine design to provide maximum on-site stacking. Construction cost for the 112,000 square foot building is $8.8 million, and will open in August, 2000. The total cost of the project is more than $10 million.

The school is named for Oviedo pioneer John W. Evans, who served on the Seminole County School Board as chairman for eight years when Seminole Community College was established.

The public is invited to the groundbreaking. For more information, call DeDe Schaffner, Director of Community Involvement, at (407) 320-0176.

Longwood reverses course on charter

By Joe DeSantis
Staff Writer

LONGWOOD — A week's time has made a world of difference in how the Longwood City Commission views 14 proposed changes to the city charter.

At Monday evening's regular meeting, commissioners voted 3-0 to eliminate a number of amendments dealing with the appointment process to fill a commission vacancy, requiring a super majority to hire and fire key city personnel such as the city administrator, city clerk and city attorney, and limiting the authority of the city administrator to appoint department heads.

The complexion of the board vote differed dramatically Monday from last week's special meeting. A week ago the board voted 3-1 to allow all 14 amendments to go before voters in November.

Mayor Paul Lovstrand cast the lone dissenting vote while commissioner Steve Miller was absent.

Last night, with commissioners Annamarie Vacca absent and Rusty Miles arriving an hour into a flip-flopped agenda, Lovstrand, Miller, and commissioner Dan Anderson voted unanimously to undo what had been done a week before.

"I am philosophically opposed to several of the amendments," said

Lovstrand.

"The commission alone is responsible and accountable for what goes on the ballot," he added. "If we don't do our duty it sends a message to the people of Longwood. I can not in good conscience condone these recommendations. I think they'll hurt the city if passed."

Last night's vote struck down significant proposed changes in the city's government.

Ertel leaves county job to run for Oviedo Council

By Russ White
Staff Writer

SANFORD — Mike Ertel, asked to halt his efforts to be elected to the Oviedo City Council or leave his job as Seminole County Community Information Officer, has resigned his $37,000-a-year county position.

On Friday, Ertel gave two weeks notice to County Manager Kevin Grace. He also accepted what Deputy County Manager Cindy Coto said was a 1-month "other paid leave" package.

Grace, who recently became county manager, informed Ertel that his seeking office in Oviedo constituted a conflict of interest and impaired his work efficiency.

Grace cited remarks Ertel made at a recent Oviedo Council presentation that on the basis of his position with the county "may have been interpreted as a county position and not a personal view."

Noting that the county places a "high priority" on fostering and maintaining good relationships with the cities, Grace told Ertel, "that a conflict of interest exists and that your effectiveness in your position is diminished and impaired as a result of your candidacy."

Grace was unavailable to comment Monday on his demands to Ertel or why he found Ertel's comments as a conflict. Coto said that she concurred with Grace that when Ertel criticized sitting members of the Oviedo Council and the city of Winter Springs those comments were detrimental to the county.

"We're trying to build community relations in those cities," Coto said. "Mike made negative comments that were counter productive to the county's efforts."

Ertel said Monday that the comments he made were prudently phrased with a personal story about his embarrassment as a 5-year-old being made by his sister to wear girls' clothing. "I then said the City of Oviedo should not be embarrassed by something its sister city (Winter Springs) was trying to do."

"That was a personal thought," Ertel said. "It had nothing to do with my job as the county's information officer. I don't see how anyone could interrupt it that way."

Ertel, 29, worked a year and a half for the county. He had previously been a Sergeant in the U.S. Army and did public information work for the Army in Germany. He's a product of See Ertel, Page 8A

Residents protest Housing Authority

Sanford Housing Authority tenants on Monday participated in a march organized by a group known as Sanford Tenants Organized for Reform of Management. The march was held in front of Lake Monroe Terrace. One key point of contention between tenants and the Housing Authority is a proposal to demolish 170 units as part of a federal grant. The tenants would have the option of receiving rental vouchers to leave public housing or of choosing to remain in public housing. The Department of Housing and Urban Development is considering the Housing Authority's grant application.

Oviedo appoints traffic committee

By Bill Kerns
Staff Writer

OVIDO — The Oviedo City Council on Monday appointed an advisory committee to review plans that would ease congestion on State Road 434 by re-routing traffic along certain residential streets.

The council in June agreed to form the advisory after citizens protested the city's plans to route traffic along Division Street.

City and County officials are looking to establish a more effective road network in the northwest sector of the Oviedo. The council has approved a priority list for areas to re-route traffic, and will receive $4.9 million in funding from the county in October 2001.

City Manager Gene Williford said the advisory committee should include both residential and business interests. In addition to 10 representatives from various areas of the city, there will also be one See Oviedo, Page 5A

Estry brothers claim national business award

By Joe DeSantis
Staff Writer

SANFORD — How do you get exotic toads from the mountains of Venezuela to the United States and still turn a profit? Easy. Let brothers Daniel and Jonathan Estry hop on the project.

The siblings have developed a business plan called Pipa Shippa International for exporting exotic animals. Their hard work and business savvy has led to a national award. The brothers, sons of Karen and Daniel Estry, were selected for top honors in the middle-school category of the Young Entrepreneur Business Plan Competition co-sponsored by Kennesaw State University and KidsWay Inc.

"We hope today's winners will be tomorrow's successful entrepreneurs," said KSU faculty member Jim Herbert, executive director of the competition.

You might say the Sanford-based youngsters have a "jump" on the competition.

In their project that was three months in the making, they split the work and developed a business plan that overcame astronomical shipping charges to transport the rare aquatic toads to the U.S. As Jonathan explained it, "We had to come up with a way to have a profit margin."

Their business challenge was complicated by living in such a rare location. Members of Sanford-based New Tribes Mission, the Estry family has resided in the Betijoque region of Venezuela, snuggled in the foothills of the Andes mountains for the past two years, living and working as missionaries.

The Pipa toads, rare aquatic creatures who live their entire lives in water, and breed by having the mother toads carry eggs in a protective pouch on her back, are relatively cheap to buy in South America. They cost about $1.50 in Venezuela. In the United States they can be purchased for a whopping $95.00 each, much of the markup attributable to costly shipping charges.

Prior to the Estry boys developing their business plan, the cost of shipping just one toad ran as high as $60.00. Jonathan and Daniel worked out a business, advertising and marketing plan where they hit upon a formula to ship 200 toads at a cost of only $100.00.

"They put a lot of work into the project," said a proud mom Karen.

It's hard to say where ESPN, which has reinvented sports journalism, is going with its 50 Greatest Athletes of the Century.

The network's ninnyes already have a horse on the list.

Horses weigh 2,000 pounds and have four legs. They can't talk, sign autographs, renegotiate contracts nor wear sports bras. Surely, they're not role models.

If ESPN's effort has any merit, it'll decide that Jack Roosevelt Robinson is NO. 1 and that No. 2 - man or woman - is two legs back.

Jim Thorpe, Babe Zaharias, Mohammed Ali, Jesse Owens, Pele, Michael Jordan, Wayne Gretzky, Bob Gibson and Satchel Paige on my Top 10 List. Babe Ruth, Joe Louis and Jim Brown are close but no cigar. Billie Jean King did her thing well, too.

Jackie Robinson did just about everything. At UCLA, he excelled at track, football, basketball and baseball. If he tried hockey, Robinson would have melted the ice. If he boxed, Robinson would have stood up to Louis and Ali. That's right.

It was Robinson's deeply ingrained mission to meet any challenge. He was the son of a sharecropper who brought up five children by herself and fought for them to have a place in the world. This example carried into Robinson's life.

He was a risk taker, a smart and intuitive athlete who opened the doors of SportsWorld for black Americans. The first black Organized Baseball, Robinson overcame horrible insults and threats to become a member of the Brooklyn Dodgers.

Robinson played first-base in 1947, helped the Dodgers to the pennant and was Named Rookie of the Year. He moved to second base in 1948. He later played third base and left-field. He wielded a huge bat. He ran wild on the bases. He was elected to the Hall of Fame.

Before Robinson arrived, Jim Thorpe was the most remarkable of athletes. A great combination of the Chief Black Hawk, Thorpe was an Olympic Games decathlon and pentathlon winner, All-American football player, Major League baseball player, swimmer, basketball player and golfer. He was honored in the 200s.

Babe Dr. Robinson Zaharias was a genuine American woman. A phenom in her own right, she strength-trained her boy her age, excelled in sports, track, basketball, baseball, boxing and golf.

Jesse James was the man of the West. He was the No. 1 outlaw in the 1930s. He was a better shot than any other man in the world. Image of a man and Carl Lewis of the 20th generation. Just a few of the as if Bo Jackson was going to make a strong case for being one of the best all-time athletes. He made All-Star squads in Major League Baseball and the NFL. He was a Heisman winner. His careers were cut short by a bone injury and condition.

Today's athletes are stronger and faster and better than ever. Mark McGwire made mincemeat of the home run record. Pete Rose collected more hits than Ty Cobb. Roger Bannister broke the 4-minute mile in 1954. Schoolboys now beat his time of 3:59.4. All those swim records Mark Spitz set have been broken.

As the 20th Century ends and we've seen - and rubbed elbows with - the most incredible athletes in the history of the world, one stands a rung above the rest. Jack Roosevelt Robinson. And to think this man of extraordinary courage and unflappable dignity wasn't allowed to play baseball on a Sanford diamond 53 years ago or to stay at a hotel with his white teammates.

Russ White's column appears Tuesday through Saturday in the Seminole Herald.

The way we were

Who's who in Sanford in 1933?

We continue today with more biographies from the April 29, 1933 edition of the Sanford Herald.

J.R. Kennedy

J.R. Kennedy was a veteran in the field of construction with experience as a developer of the Sanlando Golf and Country Club and as the supervisor of the building of the race track at Longwood. He was also a manager of the Eckerson Fruit Cannery Sanford plant.

Mr. Kennedy came to Sanford in 1925 and resided at 606 East 14th Street with his wife, the former Frances Locke, and children, Frances and Joseph, Jr.

He was born in Georgetown, Colorado, but attended schools in Denver. He continued his studies at Regis University also in Denver.

Mr. Kennedy was a member of the Knights of Columbus and the Seminole County Chamber of Commerce. He enjoyed watching baseball and playing golf.

Ernest Brotherson

Ernest Brotherson was a native of Sanford and had attended local schools. Since completing his education, he had been employed in various lines of business before becoming connected with Bryan Cycle Company, which was located on East First Street. This business later became Sanford Sporting Goods, and he was its general manager.

He was a member of all branches of the local Masonic Lodge, the Seminole County Chamber of Commerce, the Sanford Tennis Club at First Baptist Church.

With his family, he resided at 2004 Sanford Avenue. He was married to the former Anna Acten and they had a son, Ernest Jr. aged 7.

Mr. Brotherson's father, Thomas A. Brotherson, was a pioneer resident of this city.

GRACE SINGMASTER

The Way We Were

Correspondent

As the manager of a sporting goods store, he naturally was interested in all kinds of sports, but he especially enjoyed fishing. Another favorite pastime was solving jigsaw puzzles with his family.

A.J. Peterson

A.J. Peterson, local agent for the Seaboard Oil Company and a partner in the Seminole Tire Shop, was an avid baseball fan. His interest in the sport had its beginning when he played sandlot baseball and was increased by his attendance at games throughout the country during his many business trips.

This former manufacturer who came to Sanford in 1927 was a native of Chicago and attended various business schools. He had one of the largest one-stop service stations in the city.

Mr. Peterson resided at Monroe Corner, three miles west of Sanford, with his wife, the former Sara Lauree Deason. There he was often found caring for his small garden, which produced many choice products for the Peterson home.

He was a member of First Baptist Church and Masonic Order.

Sanford Doudney

Sanford Doudney, a life-long resident of Sanford, was employed in the office of the Seminole County Tax Assessor as Alexander Vaughn's chief assistant. He had held this position since graduating from Rollins College.

Mr. Doudney was born here Jan. 27, 1898, and for many years lived with his family on South Park Avenue. Several years after the death of his father, Alfred Cecil Doudney, Mr. Doudney's mother married Alexander Vaughn.

He was married to the former Lucille Rines, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. F.P. Rines, also of this city. They lived in Fort Red with their two children, Erma Lucille and Alfred Cecil.

His favorite sports were hunting and baseball, but for recreation he chose moving picture shows and bridge. He also enjoyed working in his workshop. He was a member of the Sanford Kiwanis Club and attended Holy Cross Episcopal Church.

Heyward Walker

Before the World War, Heyward Walker managed the Clemson College Creamery in South Carolina, but his vocation was interrupted when he enlisted in the army in 1917. After the war he operated creameries in Selma and Talladega, Ala. before coming to Sanford in 1925. He purchased the Seminole Creamery in East First Street and also owned an egg hatchery which produced some of the best eggs in the county.

Mr. Walker was Mason and had served as Eminent Commander of the Taylor Commandery. He was also president of the State Dairy Products Association, Secretary/Treasurer of the Sanford Dairy Association and senior warden of Holy Cross Episcopal Church.

He lived with his wife, the former Mary Ellen West, at 2049 Washington Avenue.

He attended grade and high schools in Beaufort, S.C. and then studied at Clemson.

His chief hobby was his interest in raising fine poultry.

Oviedo

at-large member.

"Transportation effects not only the residential communities, but it greatly effects the business community," Williford said.

Members of the committee representing a business will not need to be Oviedo residents.

"If you run a business in the city, you have an interest in transportation," said Council Chairman Tom Hagood.

Councilman John Benson, who opposes forming the advisory committee, provided the lone vote against the proposal. The measure was approved 4-1.

"This is a policy decision," Benson said. "If we appoint a committee, and this is not to shut off debate or contributions from the citizens, but we put off our responsibilities to make a decision ourselves."

Benson said the council should review the transportation proposals in workshops, and invite citizen input at the workshops.

Gary Gotwalt and other members of the council said seeking advice from residents still leaves the final authority with the council.

"It does not hurt to have people review the options," Gotwalt said. "It does not hurt to listen to them. Participation is a good thing."

In other action, the council approved by a vote of 4-1 an amendment to the preliminary development plan for the Oviedo Marketplace to incorporate a 113,350 square foot Sears Department Store and a 9,421 square foot Sears Tire, Battery and Auto Center.

Bob Dallari provided the only vote against the amendment, saying he didn't think environmental concerns were properly addressed. Staff and other members of the council said the plan is consistent with the Oviedo Marketplace development agreement.

The entire preliminary development plan will be updated before the final inspection of the Sears Department Store or development of a fourth anchor store.

In addition, the council also tabled until Aug. 2 consideration of amendments to the development agreement for River Oaks planned unit development, located on 727.3 acres east of Lockwood Boulevard, owned by Richland Seminole Ranch, Ltd.

The developer was seeking to build a stucco, Mediterranean-style wall. However, the city's land development code only allow for brick walls.

"Our code allows plain-Jane flat brick," said councilman George Veile. "This is going to be ugly."

Veile, Hagood, Gotwalt spoke in favor of the developer's plans to build a Mediterranean-style wall.

"I think this is beautiful," Bruce said of the proposed wall. "We are getting a lot of brick walls around town, and some diversity would be nice."

Benson and Dallari said the council should not allow River Oaks to vary from the land development code because it would set a precedent that would make enforcement of the code in other developments more difficult.

"We have a good code that is working," Dallari said.

Hal Kantor, an attorney representing Richland Seminole Ranch, said that the developer would build a community that the city could be proud of no matter what the council decides about the proposed wall.

"This project is not going to be ugly," Kantor said. "No matter what happens, we just think this is an enhancement."

Oviedo resident Tony Marimi, who lives near the proposed development, said he is angry that the council failed to deny the developer's request.

"This is the most gutless display I've ever seen," Marimi said. "This city has sold its soul in the name of development, in the name of progress."

Longwood

emerging document. The board voted to eliminate a total of six amendments and altered language in three others. If Monday's vote holds up under two public hearings, the current charter would remain largely unaffected.

Key amendments that were eliminated include striking a required super majority of four-fifths to hire and fire the city administrator, clerk, and attorney; the appointing power to name an acting or temporary city administrator; forcing the city administrator to get commission confirmation of all department heads; and issues dealing with the annual evaluation process of the city administrator.

Lovestrand expressed serious concerns about proposed amendments that would require the commission to move in a vote of 4-1 to hire or fire the city administrator.

"It's bad for several reasons," he said.

"As written it really does not allow for removal of the city administrator in the event of a first degree misdemeanor such as public drunkenness or withholding a public document. Under this amendment even a super majority could not dismiss the city administrator even if he or she were accused of a felony. We would have to wait to see if there was a conviction. Under these conditions to city administrator could work for a year or two while a trial was going on. There's also no provisions for poor performance. The city administrator could wear a bathing suit to work."

Commissioner Steve Miller commented that in an extreme case, the city commissioner could be out on bail on a first degree murder charge and still be drawing a paycheck while the city commission was powerless to remove him from office.

"This is a well intentioned amendment," said Anderson. "But it had serious holes in it."

Anderson reversed his stand of a week ago on several of the proposed charter amendments. At last week's special meeting he consistently sided with Dacca and Miles in a collective voice to send the proposed changes to Longwood voters on Nov. 2.

The first of two public hearings on proposed charter amendments is scheduled for Aug. 2. The second hearing will take place Aug. 16.

In other board action Monday, commissioners voted 3-0 to approve a tentative millage rate of 5.0601, and authorize the city administrator to complete the Certificate of Taxable Value and submit it to the city's property appraiser.

Commissioners removed from last night's agenda action on reconsidering completion of resolution 99-990, which considered the possible removal of Jim Dally from all city boards and considered recommending to the Longwood Historic Preservation Board that they remove Dally from the Founder's Day Committee.

In June the commission failed to get a motion on the issue following a public hearing. Lovestrand had kept the controversy alive by consulting a registered parliamentarian on the failed motion. He was advised the motion could be brought back for a closure vote with either a yes or no vote to remove Dally or allow his continued participation in city matters.

A week ago Dally suffered a heart attack and underwent multiple bypass surgery. He remains in intensive care.

Several options available for charter changes

Mayor says comment about 'too much democracy' was a mistake

By Joe DeSantis
Staff Writer

LONGWOOD — What happens next to proposed changes in Longwood's city charter is anybody's guess.

A week ago commissioners voted 3-1 to allow voters to decide the fate of significant changes in the document. Last night they reversed course and voted 3-0 to eliminate key amendments and alter the language of several others. As a result, one of three outcomes is likely.

Public hearings on the board's action are set for Aug. 2 and Aug. 16. During those public hearings, residents can provide comments and testimony that will either accept the boards' latest version of eliminated and amended amendments for the fall ballot, compel the board to reverse last night's reversal vote, or convince commissioners of some type of compromise.

A fourth alternative would require citizens to mount a grass roots petition drive, forcing the commission to place all 14 amendments on the ballot without alteration for a vote on Nov. 2. A petition drive, if mounted, would require a minimum of 10 percent of the city's registered voters to agree by their signature that voters should have the right to decide the fate of all proposed charter amendments.

The composition of the board's two divergent votes was dramatic. A week ago commissioners Annamarie Vacca, Rusty Miles, and Dan Anderson voted 3-1 to allow all 14 amendments to go before voters. Mayor Paul Lovestrand cast the lone dissenting vote, while commission Steve Miller absent.

Last night, with Vacca and Miles absent, Anderson reversed his position on a number of amendments he voted for, and sided with Lovestrand and Miller, bringing about a 3-0 vote to eliminate six amendments from the fall ballot and alter the language in parts of three other amendments.

In other developments from last night's meeting, Lovestrand publicly commented on a newspaper editorial last week critical of his statements and behavior at July 12's special meeting dealing with proposed charter amendments.

"I probably misspoke last week regarding my remarks about too much democracy," said Lovestrand. "What I meant to say was that we are a representative republic, where citizens elect public officials to make certain decisions for them. In the past I have seemed heavy-handed, I will try to do better. I will do my best to see that you are heard."

Reclaiming the thrill when the thrill is gone

Question: My husband and I have been married for 16 years and I have been unhappy for at least the last five. He used to be very romantic and considerate but now he has become distant and very snappy towards me. I ignore how it infuriates me until I snap back at him and then we end up arguing. We have three children but they don't seem to be a problem. I feel like I'm the same person I've always been. I asked him to go to marriage counseling but he is resistant. What can we do to improve our marriage? Lake Mary time, couples grow comfortable with each other ("Oh, I don't care if you used my toothbrush"). Life activities begin to lose their spontaneity ("Clean the bathroom? Oh, yeah, I forgot it was Tuesday night."). Being comfortable with each other is fine, but when there is little passion or spontaneity in a marriage the relationship can grow stale. Don't be afraid to try new activities together. Surprise each other at random times with cards or compliments.

The building block of any healthy marriage is good communication. Couples that grow distant often experience a breakdown in the amount of thoughts and feelings that they share with each other. I wonder if somewhere along the way, you and your husband have stopped communicating effectively with each other. Maybe your communication styles are conflicting in some way. Are you being open and honest with each other or holding feelings in? If so, anger, frustration, and resentment are not far behind.

Another possibility for your husband's distant behavior may be that he is suffering from depression or anxiety. People who have difficulty handling their own problems have trouble finding the energy to deal with their marriage.

With three children, I imagine it must be tough to have time for just the two of you. It is very important that couples find the time to be together without the pressures of parenting. Find a baby-sitter you trust and try to go out at least once every week or two. When you're out don't talk about work or the kids. Talk about your thoughts, feelings, and dreams. You'll likely find that you still have a lot in common.

In your situation, it seems that marriage counseling would be ideal in helping you work through any anger, resentment, or communication difficulties. Encourage your husband to go with you to rebuild the bond that you once had. If he continues to refuse, seek counseling on your own to help you deal with your own feelings of unhappiness.

Dr. Marcell is a Licensed Psychologist with offices in Lake Mary, Winter Park, and Tavares. Reach him at 407-644-2000 or at RichDoc777@aol.com.

Answer: This is a somewhat typical kind of problem that may creep into a marriage. Things are all wine and roses for a few years and then one or both partners become "distant." Let's take a look at what may be causing the distance in your marriage.

In the early years, couples are still learning about each other ("Oh, you collect Star Wars posters and you'd like to hang them in the living room? You always surprise me."). Over

Know-it-all in-law hasn't been there and done that

DEAR ABBY: I cannot believe I'm writing to you, but this problem has been festering for 13 years and I'm at the end of my rope. It's my sister-in-law, "Ethel." She's a hypochondriac who feels that she must be the center of attention. Regardless of the situation, she has always "been there, done that, I know how you feel."

My father has lung cancer and underwent six weeks of exhaustive radiation. My mother and I are watching him die and have spent many sleepless nights with him. Ethel sounds like a broken record, repeating that she knows how he feels, knows how we feel, etc. I want to say to her, "Unless you have watched a father die, or watched a husband die, then you cannot 'understand' what Mother and I are going through!"

Her kids are brats, and I'm not the only one to say so. She leaves them unattended to go to a job that she does not need. My brother has a terrific job and makes excellent money. I cannot figure out why he tolerates her. People can't stand to be around her and make fun of her every chance they get. She's always "sick" because it's her way of getting attention. I'm sick of biting my tongue and I'm itching to tell her off. Should I?

ITCHING ON THE EAST COAST

DEAR ABBY: When I saw the letter from "Eileen" about "Mary Helen," who was criticized because her efforts to save her brother "Bill" were futile, I had to write. I had a heart attack from a condition that I, like Bill, thought was the flu. I collapsed at work and was essentially dead when I hit the floor. Three to five minutes was all that was necessary for my death to be complete. Fortunately for me, three of my co-workers knew CPR. After calling 911, they immediately started to work on me. They kept me alive until the paramedics came to take over. My doctors have told me that only one person in 10 recovers as I did.

Later, one of my rescuers confessed to me that she had used the wrong cadence in performing the chest compressions and that she was afraid she would hurt me or break a rib if she pressed too hard. I replied that she should not have worried. I was grateful for her efforts because even an injury was better than the alternative!

If Eileen and her friend, Mary Helen, had done nothing, death was a guaranteed result. Bill's only hope for life was that Mary Helen do something, and she did — to the best of her ability. I can guarantee Mary Helen that Bill was grateful for her attempt, as I am thankful for those who saved me.

GRATEFUL IN SEATTLE

DEAR GRATEFUL: Heartfelt congratulations on your recovery. I'm sure "Mary Helen" and "Eileen" will appreciate your having shared your personal experience. It highlights that any CPR is better than no CPR at all.

CONFIDENTIAL TO "YOUNG WORKING MOTHER": You are not alone in feeling overwhelmed and without enough time. Malcolm Forbes once said, "Unless you are serving time, there is never enough of it."

HOROSCOPES

Circumstances in the year ahead could draw you into a more advantageous alliance with someone with whom you already have firm bounds. Collectively you'll do great things together.

CANCER (June 21-July 22) Trying to be all things to all people never works and it could even cause you to feel frustrated or inadequate. Just be yourself and you'll get a lot farther ahead. Cancer, treat yourself to a birthday gift. Send the required refund form and for your Astro-Graph predictions for the year ahead by mailing $2 and self-addressed stamped envelope to Astro-Graph, c/o this newspaper, P.O. Box 1758, Murray Hill Station, New York, NY 10156. Be sure to state your Zodiac sign.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22) It's far more important that you strive for quality and satisfaction rather than speed today concerning a critical matter that could have far reaching effects. Don't be too hasty.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22) If possible

today, try to avoid someone with whom you recently had cross words. Chances are both of you still have chips on your shoulders and could say things to widen the chasm.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 23) Your budget can be improved upon today if you start off your day on the right foot. Sort out your financial affairs and trim what you can of your expenses.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 22) Should you get involved in a competitive development today, don't underestimate your adversary. This individual could be far stronger than you think.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23-Dec. 21) Unless you strive to keep all of your testy endeavors as basic and simple as possible today, you could have a tendency to further complicate the situation.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19) Although normally you're a reasonably cautious individual who usually isn't prone to taking big, uncalculated risks, your discipline might be at a low point today. Be careful.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 18) Taking scattering pot shots at a variety of targets today won't improve your marksmanship. Only when you aim for meaningful objectives will you have a chance at hitting the bull's-eye.

PISCES (Feb. 20-March 20) Don't let poor judgment on your part reopen an old wound today. There's a possibility you could repeat the mistake that caused the injury in the first place.

ARIES (March 21-April 19) There's no way you're going to be able to simply go window washing today, so unless you have ample financial wherewithal, it's best to leave your credit cards home.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20) The line between being your own person or being a team player might be rather delicate today. Unfortunately, the former might dominate over the latter. Try to reverse that.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20) Ruminations from the powers that be regarding responsibilities or duties you've messed up on or have been neglecting could get quite loud today, unless you get on things bright and early.

WIN AT BRIDGE

Play it again, Slam

Phillip and Robert King have published their fifth book, "Play It Again, Slam" (Batsford). This one contains three pastiches: a parody of Somerset Maugham (who was an avid bridge player), their version of "Casablanca," and a tale in the style of a spy story. If you've read any of the earlier books, you'll know to expect text that is cleverly written, but these tales progress slowly. However, there are some excellent bridge deals, many featuring deceptive plays.

How would you plan the play in four hearts after West has led the club queen?

As this is a book from Britain, where the weak-no-trump opening rules (showing 12-14 points), South's rebid described a strong no-trump. Hence North's game-forcing three-heart rebid.

There appear to be four guaranteed losers: two spades, one diamond and one club. How could declarer, the curvaceous and four-times-married Myra Bellingham, possibly succeed?

Hoping for a 3-3 club split, she ducked the first trick in both hands. Suitably duped and failing to note that East had dropped the lowest missing club spot, West continued with another club. Myra won with her ace, drew trumps, cashed the two club tricks, discarding a spade loser, and claimed.

The text concludes: Bolkonsky (the dummy) gazed at her with open admiration. "Absolutely breathtaking," he said.

"Thanks, Ivan, darling," Myra replied coquettishly. "But what did you think of my dummy play?"

The book is $22 postpaid from Baron Barclay Bridge Supplies. Call (800) 274-2221 to order.

ASK DR. GOTT

Gallstones may be related to fat

DEAR DR. GOTT: What causes gallstones and gallbladder problems? Are they aggravated by a high-fat diet?

DEAR READER: Most gallstones are composed of cholesterol deposits that gradually build up in the body's bile reservoir, the gallbladder. Some patients are particularly prone to gallstones, probably because of genetic influences leading to high cholesterol concentration in the bile, coupled with a deficiency in the ability to excrete uncrystallized cholesterol molecules. There appears to be a relation between blood cholesterol and gallstones, so dietary fat may play a role in stone formation.

Classically, gallstones are said to occur in fat females over forty, and to some extent this is true. However, anybody is entitled to gallstones, which typically cause right upper-abdominal pain after eating.

Gallstones tend to rub against the gallbladder lining, causing irritation and spasm. Sometimes small stones may become wedged in the duct leading from the gallbladder to the small intestine, leading to excruciating colic, blockage of the duct, jaundice and liver inflammation.

Most patients with repeated attacks of gallstones are delighted to have their gallbladders (and the stones) removed. Although such surgery is uncomfortable, it can be simply performed through a tube (laparoscopy) as a "Band-Aid" operation with minimal convalescence. There are prescription medicines that, when taken for months, can dissolve gallstones. However, until the day when medical science discovers a universal antidote, the best way to avoid gallstones is to watch the fat in your diet, stay slim... and put off reaching 40.

To give you related information, I am sending you a copy of my Health Report "Gallbladder Disease." Other readers who would like a copy should send $2 plus a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope to P.O. Box 2017, Murray Hill Station, New York, NY 10156. Be sure to mention the title.

DEAR DR. GOTT: I suffer from severe hay fever in the spring and fall. For the last 10 years, I've taken over-the-counter remedies at those times. Will this habit cause me to die a horrible death? I'm not eager to get allergy shots.

DEAR READER: Seasonal allergies are, as you point out, usually caused by reactions to the pollens of growing plants. The use of non-prescription antihistamines will not harm you and, if you are helped by them, I suggest continuing them. You should know, however, that new non-sedating antihistamine drugs are now available by prescription, so you ought to talk to your doctor about Allegra, Claritin or Zyrtec.

As an additional option, desensitization injections could solve your problem. Administered by an allergist after extensive testing, these shots may enable you to overcome your allergies, without the need for antihistamine drugs. Also, the allergist would be able to suggest other anti-hay fever treatment.

Brothers

down into bits and pieces, shared the work in different stages and then put the plan together," added an equally proud dad, Daniel senior. They were handsomely rewarded for their efforts as well. Jonathan and Daniel picked up a check for $2,500 for their first place finish. Sponsoring teachers also collected $2,500 and schools received trophies for their efforts. In this case, the Estrys were double winners. They are home schooled in Beljioque in affiliation with Bethel Christian Academy-Centro de Formacion Misionera. "We're really excited to win," said 14-year old Daniel. "We both intend to start businesses," claimed 12-year old Jonathan. The Estrys brothers still have some unfinished business to attend to before becoming full-fledged entrepreneurs. Jonathan wants to become an astronaut and be the first man on Mars. Daniel's game plan has him first becoming a veterinarian, then a lawyer, and then president of the United States. With "Socks" and "Buddy" already in the White House, we may some day have the nation's "first load" thanks to the Estrys brothers.

Ertel

Seminole Community College and the University of Maryland. "Mike was good at his job," Commissioner Randy Morris said Monday. "He filled a valuable role — exactly what we wanted when we began to talk about the position several years ago. Kevin Grace was one of those who proposed the position." Morris said Grace told him about the conflict he saw in Ertel's wanting to run for the city of Oviedo job and was told the decision Ertel was allowed to make. "And he made that choice," Morris said. "My decision boiled down to one of principle," Ertel said. He said that his wife, Suzanne, supported the decision. He said he is considering beginning his own public relations business, working first from his home in Oviedo. Ertel is one of four candidates for the Oviedo City Council. The election is Aug. 31. Keith Britton, Lawrence Wright and Chris Jepson are the other candidates. "I am proud of the accomplishments made since the inception of the Community Information Office," said Ertel, the first to hold the position. Deputy County Manager Cindy Coto said that the county will advertise for a replacement.

"We will talk to some nearby cities who have information officers," Coto said. In recent weeks, Ertel and several other county employees were concerned their positions might be eliminated in 1999-2000 budget adjustments. On one occasion he was told not to include information in his press releases that might lead to negative news reports. He was also forbidden to summarize agenda items as he had initiated. Ertel told Grace that he did his best to "tell, not sell — and to be an unbiased facilitator of information 24 hours a day." He thanked Grace for the opportunity to serve what he called "My hometown — Seminole County." Last week in Altamonte Springs, Ertel drew a standing ovation from the Executive Committee of the Republican Party for a speech on Freedom. He closed the speech with these words: "There are those in this room who will bruise my wallet, some who may tatter my resume yet there is no one who can hijack my liberty." Coto said that Gil Backenstoss, a development review manager in the County's Planning Division, is also leaving. She said Backenstoss's contract provision was evoked.

Co-Ed crown goes to Quinn

Arthur Barnes managed yet another team to a championship Monday night, guiding Lillie Quinn, D.D.S. to the Sanford Spring Co-Ed Slow Pitch Softball League title with an 8-2 victory over Beer :30 at Pinehurst Park.

Eight-run inning more than enough for Lillie Quinn, D.D.S. to upend Beer :30 in Championship Game

By Dean Smith
SPORTS EDITOR

SANFORD - For five of the six innings in which Lillie Quinn, D.D.S. batted at Pinehurst Field Monday night, they did virtually nothing.

But they more than made up for it in an eight-run fourth inning as Lillie Quinn, D.D.S. rallied for an 8-2 victory over Beer :30 in the winner-take-all Championship Game of the City of Sanford Recreation and Parks Department Spring Co-Ed Slow Pitch Softball League.

Beer :30 had beaten Lillie Quinn, D.D.S. both times they played during the regular season, 12-11 in April 26th and 13-3 on June 7th, but where it counted in the standings the two teams ended with 8-2 records.

Beer :30 took a 1-0 lead in the second inning as consecutive singles by Paula Ritchey, Dave Coss and Cathy Lynn loaded the bases ahead of a sacrifice fly by Joe DiBartolo.

Bret Mollie led off the fourth inning with a long home run to give Beer :30 a 2-0 lead.

But then came the faithful bottom of the fourth inning.

With one out, Tracey Mitchell doubled and Craig Merkerson singled ahead of a game-tying double by Lori Poe.

Ray Hartsfield and Brenda Hartsfield followed with singles to load the bases and Duke Roberts and Gina Green both walked to plate Poe and Ray Hartsfield with the go-ahead for good runs. Myriel Reid then capped the big inning with an inside-the-park grand slam to give Lillie Quinn, D.D.S. an 8-2 lead.

Except for the fourth inning, Lillie Quinn, D.D.S. went in order in the first, second, fifth and sixth inning.

The only inning in which they got a runner on, except for the fourth, was in the third inning when Roberts led off with a triple but was thrown out at the plate on a short fly ball by the next batter than turned into a double play.

Beer :30 did not have a lot of scoring opportunities either, but did leave runners on second and third in the second inning and left the bases loaded in the sixth inning.

The final standings were: Lillie Quinn, D.D.S. (9-2), Beer :30 (8-2), David Weekley Homes (6-4), Siemens (4-6), Air Masters/Big Leagues (2-8) and M.J.G. Corporation (1-9).

Doing the damage for Lillie Quinn, D.D.S. were Myriel Reid (one grand slam, one single, one run scored, four RBI), Duke Roberts (one triple, one run scored, two RBI), Lori Poe (one double, one run scored, two RBI) and Tracey Mitchell (one double, one run scored).

Also contributing were Craig Merkerson, Ray Hartsfield and Brenda Hartsfield (one single and one run scored each), and Gina Green (one RBI).

Also playing for the champions were manager

Industrial League up for grabs

By Dean Smith
SPORTS EDITOR

SANFORD - The Wayne Densch B-53's breathed new life into the City of Sanford Recreation and Parks Department Spring Industrial Slow Pitch Softball League at Pinehurst Park Friday night.

Cory Mann, Howard Jerrott and Trey Brasseur all scored on a one-out outfield error in the bottom of the seventh inning as the Wayne Densch B-53's rallied to upset league-leading Datamax, 5-3.

The upset, coupled with forfeit victories for Briar/BBM Corporation and Invacare left two teams one game out of first place, another team two games out of first place, two more teams two-and-a-half games back and the final team only three game behind.

Monday night at Pinehurst Park, in a make-up game, Myers Tree Service kept its championship hopes alive and denied Bundy/S & H Corporation an opportunity to close to within a half-game of the lead, using a 17-run second inning to win 21-6.

Despite the upset, Datamax is still in first place with a 5-2 record. Trailing the leaders are Invacare and the Wayne Densch B-53's (both 4-3), Bundy/S & H Corporation and Myers Tree Service (both 4-5), Vantare (3-5) and Briar/BBM Corporation (2-5).

This Friday at Pinehurst Park, the Wayne Densch B-53's will battle Bundy/S & H Corporation at 6:30 p.m. and Briar/BBM Corporation will play a doubleheader against Myers Tree Service at 7:30 p.m. and Datamax at 8:30 p.m.

The league will attempt to finish up next week, weather permitting, playing doubleheaders on Monday and Tuesday night's and a tripleheader next Friday (July 30th).

If necessary, a playoff/or playoffs would be played on August 6th.

Last Friday, the Wayne Densch B-53's took a 1-0 lead in the bottom of the first inning as Jon Christian reached on an error and later scored on an error.

Datamax scored all three of its runs in the top of the second inning as Donny Cerce singled, moved over to third on a double by Ron Wojtaszek and scored on a single by Lewis Armstrong. Bill Michaels followed with a double, plating both Wojtaszek and Armstrong.

The Wayne Densch B-53's closed to within 3-2 in the bottom of the third inning as Christian singled with one out

Friendship established at Roy Holler Jr. Field

By Dean Smith
SPORTS EDITOR

SANFORD - It was billed as the 1st Annual Friendship Tournament and no one should have gone home upset.

Tired, yes. Disappointed, no. Saturday afternoon on Roy Holler Jr. Field at Ft. Mellon Park, a group of players from the City of Sanford Recreation and Parks Department Babe Ruth Baseball Minor League (9-10 year olds) welcomed a team from the Sunrise/Plantation (just north of Miami) Play Ball League for a doubleheader.

The two ballclubs battled for nearly six hours with Sanford, playing as the Athletics, winning the opening game 10-4 and Play Ball claiming the nightcap, 11-10, in seven innings.

The doubleheader was put together by Sanford Recreation and Parks Department Supervisor Tom Kelly after an inquiry from the Play Ball League and Greg Hardy, a coach in the Sanford Babe Ruth Minor League, and his assistants got the team to

RAINES GAUGE

Tim Raines is a Sanford native and Seminole High School graduate now playing for the Oakland Athletics. His statistics for the 1999 season is in the first column, personal-best season totals in the second column and career totals (including 1999) in the third column.

The post-All-Star Game schedule started well for Raines as he was 2-for-5 with two runs scored, an RBI and a stolen base as the A's beat the San Francisco Giants 11-9 Thursday night.

But things started to go bad after that as Raines was 0-for-1 as a pinch-hitter in a 4-2 victory over the Giants on Friday, 0-for-4 in a 7-2 loss to the Giants on Saturday and 0-for-1 before leaving Sunday's 3-2 victory over the Colorado Rockies with flu-like symptoms.

gether and practiced them for a week in preparation for the doubleheader.

A large crowd gathered on the hot afternoon that was interrupted three times by fast-moving rain showers.

Athletics lead-off batter Greg Hardy Jr. gave Sanford the early lead in the first game, leading off the game with a walk and coming around to score.

Play Ball tied the game in the top of the second inning on a booming double by Michael Frankel, who eventually scored during a run-down later in the inning.

The Athletics took the lead for good in the second inning without the benefit of a hit as John Salco, Cody Fields and Matt Underwood all walked and later scored to give Sanford a 4-1 lead.

Michael Hummel led off the third inning with a walk and later scored to give the Athletics a 5-1 lead.

Play Ball battled right back into the game, scoring four runs in the top of the fourth inning with Frankel, Kiall Hill, Anthony Skibo all reaching and scoring and Richard Stern rapping an RBI single to make the score 5-4 Sanford.

But the Athletics put the game out of reach in the bottom of the fourth inning, scoring the maximum five runs.

David French Jr. led off the inning with a single, Sanford's first hit, and Mark Layton Jr., Lorne Merthie, Salco and Nicholas Danilla followed with consecutive walks (and all five scored) and Cody Fields capped the inning with an RBI single.

Doing the damage for the Athletics were Cody Fields (single, run, RBI), David French (single, run), John Salco (two runs scored) and Greg Hardy, Mark Layton, Lorne Merthie, Nicholas Danilla, Matt Underwood and Michael Hummel (one run scored each).

Providing the offense for Play Ball were Michael Hummel (double, two runs scored), Kiall Hill (single, run scored), Richard Stern (single, RBI), Greg Sakoff (single) and Anthony Skibo (run scored).

In the second game, Sanford took a quick 3-0 lead in the top of the first inning with Hummel singling and scoring on an RBI double by Mylar Neal, who in turn scored on a double by Merthie. Merthie also scored later.

Play Ball came back with a pair of runs in the bottom of the first inning. With two out and no one on, Greg Sakoff singled and Tommy Cook walked and both scored on a throwing error.

The Athletics increased their lead to 5-2 in the top of the second inning as Hardy walked and scored and Salco walked with two outs and scored on a double by Danilla.

Sanford tacked on another run in the top of the third inning as Fields singled and scored on a single by Hummel.

Play Ball got three runs back in the bottom of the third inning as Greg Sakoff singled and Hill and Skibo both walked and all later scored, one on a bases loaded walk to Nick Sakoff.

Both teams scored two runs in the fourth inning with Neal walking and Merthie doubling and Matthew Hoelster hitting an RBI grounder for Sanford and Matthew Bledsoe walking and Robbie Blanton singling and both scoring for Play Ball, leaving Sanford ahead 8-7.

Neither club scored in the fifth inning, but the Athletics increased their lead to 10-7 in the top of the sixth inning as Underwood and Chris Sellers both walked and later scored.

Play Ball came back to force extra innings in the bottom of the sixth inning, however, as a double by Blanton and a single by Greg Sakoff led to two runs and Skibo later reached on an error and scored on an RBI double by Eliecer Teheran.

Play Ball then got the split as Nick Sakoff led off the bottom of the seventh inning and getting hit by a pitch and later scoring the winning run.

Carrying Play Ball to victory were Greg Sakoff (3-for-3, three runs scored), Robbie Blanton (double, single, two runs scored), Eliecer Teheran (double, single, RBI), Matthew Bledsoe (single, run scored), Nick Sakoff (run scored, RBI), Anthony Skibo (two runs scored) and Tommy Cook and Kiall Hill (one run scored each).

and later scored on a single by Ron Plummer, setting the stage for the amazing finish.

Monday, Eric Morris scored on three errors to give Bundy/S & H Corporation a 1-0 lead in the top of the first inning.

But the lead was short-lived as Luke Dunning led off the bottom of the first inning with a single and scored ahead of a Wayne Bemaska inside-the-park home run.

Myers Tree Service would add two more runs in the inning and then turned the game into a blow-out, sending 21 batters to the plate and collecting 12 hits to score 17 runs.
