

Registration In State Tops 2.5 Million

TALLAHASSEE (UPI) — The secretary of state's office has disclosed that Florida has a record 2,500,000 voters eligible to participate in the November election for president and governor and other races. That is an increase of 275,000 since the spring primaries and is nearly a half million more than were registered the last time the country elected a president.

Of the total new vote, 2,008,700 are Democrats and 491,300 are Republicans. The other 25,500 are Independents.

This represents an increase in registered Democrats since April of 200,532 and a jump of 61,371 in GOP voters.

The increase since the 1960 general election, when Florida gave its vote to Republican Richard Nixon for president, is 333,355 Democrats and 119,216 Republicans.

The secretary's office compiled the registration from figures sent in by the voting supervisors of the 67 counties.

Dade County (Miami) led the state with a total registration of 408,183 which included 400,820 Democrats and 62,162 Republicans.

Largest concentrated GOP registration was, as expected, in Pinellas County which listed 161,906 in the GOP fold and 116,785 Democrats. Broward County also had a large GOP registration, 62,785, but it was offset by 127,255 Democrats.

Sarasota continued as the only county where registered Republicans outnumbered registered Democrats, but the margin was small—22,970 Republicans against 21,503 Democrats.

Duval County held on to second place in total number of registered Democrats — but Pinellas (St. Petersburg) outdistanced Duval in total registration.

Pinellas had a total registration of 224,138 of which 116,785 were Democrats and 101,996 Republicans. Broward has 185,687 total of which 127,255 are Democrats and 62,785 Republicans.

Duval—with 178,278 Democrats and 14,296 Republicans—and some Independents listed a total eligible voting list of 194,555.

Others in the so-called big 10 of voting included Hillsborough with a total registration of 183,187, Orange 118,645, Palm Beach 135,286, Polk 84,018 and Escambia 73,691. Volusia, running neck and neck with Escambia, had a total registration of 72,028.

Representing the city of Sanford Monday and Tuesday at the Florida League of Municipalities annual convention in Jacksonville will be Mayor A. L. Wilson, Commissioners Joe Baker and M. L. Raborn and City Manager Warren Knowles.

The annual meeting of the Seminole County Juvenile Council will be held Monday at 8 p.m. in the courtroom of the county courthouse, Bill Tanner, president, has announced. Members will see a film entitled "Youth and the Law." Officers will be elected and the public is invited.

For fun and frolic you are invited to the Pinecrest PTA's School Carnival Saturday from 5 to 9 p.m. Rides, games and all kinds of food will be available for youngsters and adults, too.

We've often heard of "rolling out the red carpet" but never actually saw one until the opening of the Public Supermarket in the Sanford Shopping Center, Thursday. They really had a red carpet, leading from the curb, right up to the entrance door for their "royal customers."

Democratic headquarters on the corner of First Street and Magnolia Avenue is planning an election party Nov. 3, with a tote board, three television sets and plenty of refreshments. Everyone is invited.

Those big searchlights at the Sanford Shopping Center really light up the area. A Herald staff member returning from Pierson Wednesday night said he could see them just after he passed DeLand.

Civilians will be all over downtown Sanford tonight, selling their Halloween candy. Buy some — it's for a good cause — children who won't be able to go out trick or treating. They are the students at the Little Red Schoolhouse.

Lyman Bandmaster John Blair reminds us that all the band members are selling subscriptions to all the leading magazines to raise funds for the purchase of more uniforms. They will be happy to take renewals as well as new subscriptions and if you are not contacted you may call Lyman and one of the band members will be glad to call on you.

Want a turkey for Thanksgiving? Well, have fun shooting for one. Red Muffley has announced that the Disabled American Veterans Chapter 30 will stage a "Turkey Shoot" Sunday at 1 p.m. at the Chapter Home on 17-92. The public is invited to attend.

The American Legion Fair, an annual event of fun and general interest, is scheduled to start Nov. 2 at the Legion Grounds. It'll be open to all throughout the week.

Concert Drive Is Extended

Due to lagging sales, officers of the Seminole County Mutual Concert Series agreed Thursday to extend the membership drive for two more weeks.

"We're a little over halfway to our goal of 600 memberships and urge that persons not contacted yet, call Mrs. Troy Ray, Jr. or Mrs. B. W. Satholomew, co-membership chairmen, Judge C. Varnon Mize, president of the Association said today.

Pupils Can See President

Seminole County school children will be excused from classes Monday if they wish to attend the Orlando activities planned for President Johnson's visit Monday.

Demos Plan LBJ Motorcade

Plans for a motorcade from Sanford to Orlando to hear and see President Johnson Monday morning are being made by local officials.

Dr. W. Vincent Roberts, head of the LBJ for the USA Committee, said bumper stickers and other material will be available for those planning to visit Orlando for the occasion.

Dr. Roberts said he will be in Orlando shortly for a meeting to firm up plans for the visit and asked "those interested in seeing and hearing the President of the United States to take advantage of this opportunity."

"It's a rare opportunity for Sanford and Seminole County residents to see the President," he said in urging a large attendance.

Dr. Roberts said persons interested in joining the motorcade can receive further information by contacting the Democratic LBJ Headquarters at 322-7166.

Canal Directors OK Budget Of $86,000

An $86,000 budget was adopted and officers re-elected for the coming year at a meeting of the directors of the St. Johns Indian River Canal District Thursday at Titusville.

Officers are John Krider, Sanford, chairman; Ransom Downes, Orlando, vice chairman; R. C. Brady, Titusville, treasurer, and S. O. Shiholser Jr., New Smyrna Beach, secretary. John Brumley, Sanford, is the fifth director.

D. W. Wiggert, of the engineering firm of Reynolds, Smith and Hills, Orlando, reported that levels have been run on the proposed right-of-way for the canal between the St. Johns and Indian Rivers.

However, the survey west of the St. Johns has been delayed because of high water. Test borings are in progress.

Krider predicted that actual construction will be commenced in three years and that the St. Johns-Indian River Canal will be completed before the Cross State Canal, connecting the St. Johns River with the St. Johns River at Palatka.

The chairman also stated that the canal will improve fishing by providing deep water during drought and "will not interfere with the sandbars and the shad fishing."

He pointed out that the canal will provide a through waterway for commercial and pleasure craft on the St. Johns since it will tie in with the Inland Waterway in the vicinity of Oak Hill.

Ground Broken For Addition At HLH Plant

Ground was broken today for a $67,200 addition to the million dollar H. L. Hunt food processing plant at the Lake Monroe Industrial Park off French Avenue.

Plant superintendent Everett Biggs turned the first spadeful of earth with a golden shovel as city and county officials, Chamber of Commerce Industrial committee members and other dignitaries looked on.

The new warehouse, a 140 by 240 foot structure to be built by LeRoy Robb Construction Company will double present storage space at the Hunt plant. Work is expected to begin next week.

In addressing the group at the groundbreaking ceremony, Biggs said that he is "pleased with the operation here and appreciates the cooperation and assistance of local officials and the industrial committee."

"We feel very much at home here in the Sanford area because of the warm friendly spirit that has been extended to us," he added.

The plant presently employs an average of 150 persons the year round, and this figure is expected to increase next year.

Before and after the ceremonies, which were emceed by Charlie Morrison, Chamber public relations director, coffee and donuts were served by Florida Power and Light Home Economist Margaret Quarles.

Joining Biggs in the symbolic shoveling were Walter Blevins, plant manager, Virgil Vaughn, office manager, and Sanford Mayor A. L. Wilson.

Also officiating in the ceremonies was Scott Burns, chairman of the C. of C. industrial committee.

Fire Call

City firemen were called to the home of Dan Fielder, 1301 W. 12th St., this morning at 9:12 when a blaze broke out in the concrete block structure. Damage was extensive and firemen were still on the scene at a late hour this morning.

Conservation Exhibits Readied

Florida Conservation Week opens here Monday and the weekend is expected to see exhibitors readying their places for the week-long event.

Static and active displays will be placed at the Lake Monroe Industrial Park off French Avenue.

Secretary of State Tom Adams will officially open the week with a luncheon and speech at Jim Spencer's starting Monday noon. He will also present several conservation awards to area officials who have shown exceptional interest in conservation practices.

Miss Priscilla Scharrer of Hollywood, Miss Florida for 1964, will also be present to open the festivities and greet visitors in behalf of the Florida Development Commission, co-sponsor of the week with the Sanford Chamber of Commerce.

Special events are scheduled each day through the week with activities held at the Civic Center and the industrial park site.

Estimates vary as to the number of visitors to the city but Conservation Week officials say there will be several thousand.

Organizations from throughout the state and many points in the nation have registered to participate in the program.

Hoover Moved To Capitol

NEW YORK (UPI) — Herbert Clark Hoover, statesman and friend of mankind, left forever today the city he adopted and loved to return to the Capitol for final homage from a grateful nation.

The black-draped catafalque built for the funeral of Abraham Lincoln and used twice within the past 11 months was placed in the center of the Capitol Rotunda awaiting the arrival of the body of the 31st President of the United States.

7 Hoover, who rose from the humblest of beginnings to the highest office in the land, died Tuesday at the age of 90.

The weather was clear and crisp and mourners stood on Park Avenue in front of St. Bartholomew's Church with bowed heads.

The body will lie in state in the Rotunda until Sunday morning when it will be removed with military honors and flown to West Branch, Iowa, Hoover's birthplace, for interment.

Utility Rate Charge Eyed

TALLAHASSEE (UPI) — Miami Mayor Robert King High was asked Thursday to send the Public Utilities Commission here a report which charges that two huge utilities in the state are making excessive profits from rates they charge customers.

Bassett Makes Voter Appeal

E. Pope Bassett, Republican candidate for Seminole County commissioner, today said he is "a little alarmed at the lack of interest in what some refer to as candidates for minor office."

Bassett continued, "Let me assure you there are no minor public offices, every public office has a function vital to your interests, and you should weigh the qualifications of candidates with great care."

Still No Chief For South Viet

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (UPI) — The high National Council disclosed today that it still has not chosen a new chief of state to bring about a transfer of Viet Nam's government from military to civilian control.

With an Oct. 27 deadline approaching, the 17-member council thus failed to meet optimistic predictions that it would be able to announce the name of the new chief of state by today.

The disclosure was made at a news conference as a potential new crisis arose with neighboring Cambodia. The Vietnamese Defense Ministry flatly charged that Cambodians captured a U. S. Army Special Forces officer Thursday during a battle between South Vietnamese troops and Communist Viet Cong guerrillas.

Ex-Premier Seen Riding In Moscow

MOSCOW (UPI)—Nikita S. Khrushchev has been seen in his chauffeur-driven limousine in Moscow streets twice since his ouster, witnesses said today.

The reports showed that Khrushchev's personal status remains unchanged despite his fall from political power—at least for the present. Soviet sources this week denied reports he was under house arrest.

The witnesses said Khrushchev was spotted in his black Chaika limousine near Moscow University on one occasion and in another part of the city on another. He was riding in the front seat with the chauffeur, as was his custom. Women—believed to be members of his family—were in the back.

Another witness reported seeing Khrushchev strolling Thursday evening near Moscow University. He said Khrushchev, in a dark overcoat, was unsmiling.

Authoritative Soviet sources said Khrushchev quit his post voluntarily last week and was the most surprised man in the Kremlin when his resignation was accepted.

They said Khrushchev tried to use the resignation as a means of getting his way when called before his party lieutenants and criticized. He had done this at least once before, last February.

But last week, his colleagues on the Central Committee voted about two to one to accept his resignation, the sources said.

Foreign Communist criticism of the way Khrushchev was forced from power continued today. The Italian Communist party, most powerful in Western Europe, announced it is sending a delegation to Moscow to learn the facts about Khrushchev's ouster.

"The sudden character of the decision and the method used to carry it out cannot fail to bring into discussions more general problems regarding the development of debate and political life in Socialist countries," the Italian party leadership said.

Take A Text

Ministers still use texts but one does not hear the word as much as he did at one time. We picture the old country preacher beginning his sermon by saying, "Today I take my text from . . ." and he would proceed with his sermon.

Maybe it isn't true, but I believe that in former times more people had favorite texts of the Bible. They would memorize them and when asked what their most loved one was would quote it. Some people had different ones to satisfy various needs. Some were to give courage, some to present purpose, others to supply according to ones need.

Let us not consider this the practice of the immature. When we look back into history we find that some of our great leaders had texts that meant much to them. Martin Luther who sparked the reformation, as far as a human agent is concerned, had his life turned on the text, "For therein is the righteousness of God revealed from faith to faith; as it is written, the just shall live by faith." Romans 1:17.

Prior to his election as a general superintendent, he was president of Eastern Nazarene College, Wollaston, Mass., and also served as a pastor and district superintendent.

The program will be in charge of the district superintendent, Dr. John L. Knight, Orlando.

Women's Role Discussed By UPW Circle

By Frances Wester
The October meeting of Circle Two of the U. P. W. of the Community Presbyterian Church of Lake Mary was held at the home of Mrs. Harry E. Sandusky, Tuesday night, with Mrs. Fannie Laffler as her co-hostess.

The devotion was given by Mrs. Sandusky, John 12:25-32 was the Bible reference. Mrs. Alice Warner was in charge of the program, which was on a report of the Tri-annual Convention held at Purdue. Her subject was, "Why Purdue?"

The report centered around women and the fact that they are important persons, as mothers, wives and church workers. Many decisions are made by the women. They are a "measuring stick" for their families, churches and the community.

They should keep in close harmony with each other, and when decisions arise they should take these to the Highest Power and ask Him to help them make the right decision at all times. This is why church work and the women's organizations in it are so very important.

The meeting adjourned with the Friendship Circle and the Mizpah Benediction.

Refreshments of pumpkin pie topped with whipped cream, coffee and nuts were served by the hostesses during a social hour that followed.

First Candidate Files In Longwood Race For Mayor

By Donna Estes
The first candidate to qualify for the office of Mayor of Longwood, presently held by Mayor A. R. Lormann, is David Wentworth of East Lake Ave.

Longwood voters will go to the polls for the municipal election on Dec. 1.

Wentworth says that although he has no animosity and no axe to grind with the present city administration, he feels that the coming of age of the city's progress and advancement has grown to the point where it needs a full-time mayor.

He is married, has 10 children and 29 grandchildren, and has been a resident of Longwood for the past five years as well as three years in the 1950's.

Wentworth retired from the U. S. Air Force in 1957 after serving actively in both World Wars and the Korean War. He is a member of the World War I Vets and the American Legion.

He feels his 25 years experience in administration and organization of personnel both in military and civilian life well qualify him for the office of mayor.

If elected he states that since he has no business interest he will not be obligated to anyone and can devote his full time to the office. He promises that he would administer the law honestly, justly and wisely without prejudice or partiality and would work for anything that would benefit the city providing it would benefit all the citizens and not just a select group.

Seminoles Invade Winter Park For Tilt Tonight

Sanford Given Slight Edge In Wildcat Game

By David Higginbotham
Herald Sports Writer

The Sanford Seminoles will play the Winter Park Wildcats there tonight under the lights at Ward Field at 8 p.m.

Winter Park hasn't won a tilt this season but put up a stiff battle in the first half against the Metro leader, Edgewater, last week. The Seminoles tied the home Braves in a scoreless tilt last Friday giving them a record of two wins, two ties and one loss.

It looks as if Sanford will have the edge on the Wildcats, but according to Coach Dick Williams the squad may not be at full strength. Williams said, "Buddy Burton hasn't been able to workout at full speed due to an injured leg received in the game last Friday and it looks like we'll be missing Bernie Barbour due to the flu."

"The boys are ready for the game and their spirits are high, but we know that Winter Park can be tough because they played three good games against Edgewater last week."

Williams said Thursday, of the home affair, "We played a real good ball game but we didn't score and the boys seem to be real hungry to win this game."

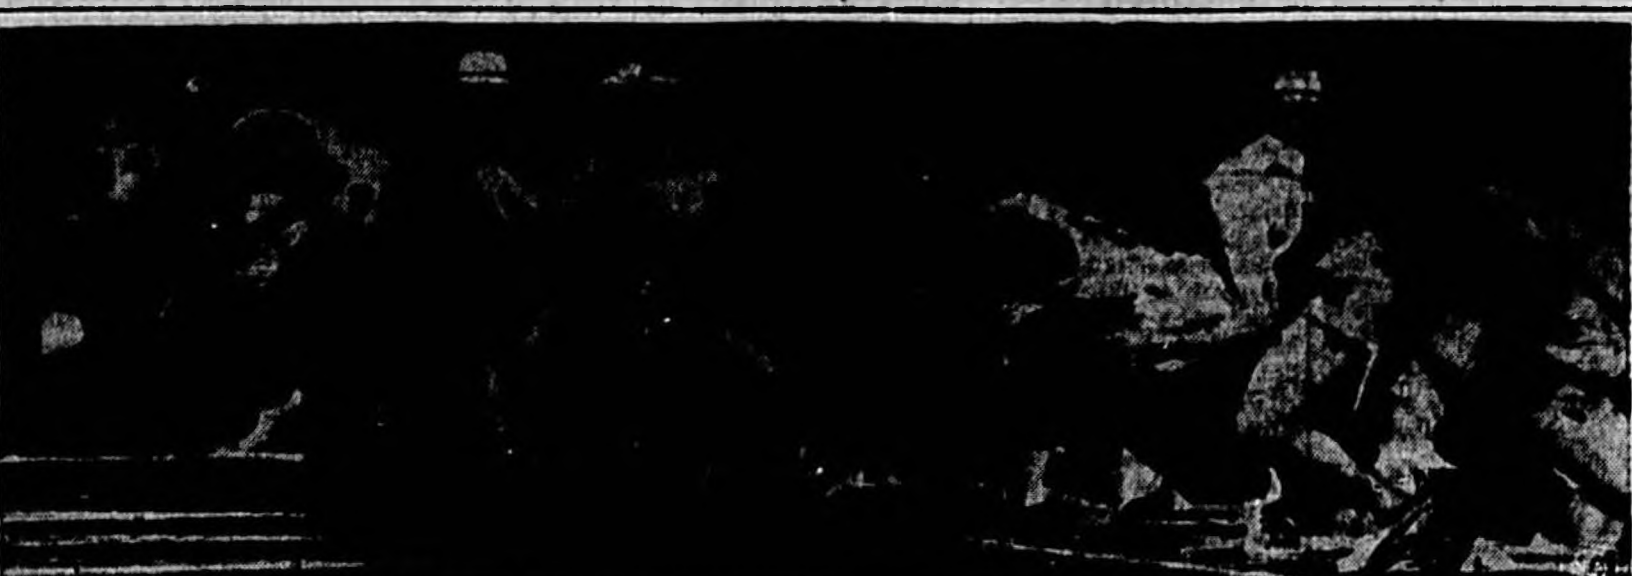

Coach Jim McCoy has been working the line on offense and defense most of the week and heching the squad all the way. McCoy said, "We're tired of playing these real good ball games and not coming out on the win side so tonight we hope we can have a real good ball game and come out with a victory. We worked hard this week, and long, trying to correct offensive mistakes as well as defensive mistakes and we feel like we have improved our offense."

Tribes Fourth Win Of Season; Stand 34-1-1

By David Higginbotham

The Seminole High's Jayvees racked up a 20 to 0 victory Thursday night over the Baby Trojans of Evans High, Orlando.

The win was the Baby Tribes fourth of the season against a single loss to the Boone High Baby Braves.

Head Coach Ralph Stumpf's crew now has a record of 34 wins, one tie and one loss in their past 36 outings.

Terry Echols broke Sanford into the scoring ranks about midway in the second period on a pass from Buddy Stumpf right over center that covered 17 yards.

The Baby Tribesmen made a spectacular 90-yard march picking up five first downs with a final five yard crash over the middle by Ron Dudley for the second S115 TD. Greg Shively was right on the mark and added the extra point. The March was started with a 46 yard punt return made by Truby Kinnard followed by a 16 yard run by Echols and another Stumpf pass to Greg Ganas for seven yards.

Late in the third quarter Stumpf connected again with Ganas for 38 yards and another Sanford TD. Shively split the uprights giving the Baby Tribesmen a 20 to 0 lead starting into the fourth quarter. Coach John Colbert began substituting in the fourth quarter to give some of the younger players experience for next season.

The Sanford defense allowed only 122 yards on the ground and 17 in the air while picking up 174 yards rushing and 90 yards in the air on nine attempts.

Horace Johnson led the squad in number of tackles with six and Chuck Pigott and Ganas tied for second with five each. Roy Dunn, Shively, Echols and Mike Kimsley took the third place honors with four each. Kelly Odgen, Jimmy Williams, Kinnard, Dudley, and Stumpf each made three.

The Baby Seminoles picked up 10 first downs and were penalized 20 yards while the Orlando squad picked up eight and was penalized 20 yards.

South Seminoles Lose By 7-6

By Jim Beecham

Herald Sports Writer

St. Cloud's Jayvees edged South Seminole Junior High School at the St. Cloud field last night, 7-6, in what Coach Jim Clark pegged as the South Seminoles' "best game of the year."

"Our boys stayed with them all the way," Clark asserted, "as they played an older, more experienced team. We had no single hero; it was a team effort and I'm proud of our boys."

In the fourth stanza, a fired-up South Seminole team intercepted a St. Cloud pass when Tackle Greg Damko leaped for it on the St. Cloud 45 and returned it to the 8 yard line. Halfback Dennis Garrett carried to the 5 and Johnnie McDermott in the other halfback spot carried it over for the TD.

McDermott tried to run for the extra point but was stopped.

St. Cloud tallied 120 yards rushing to South Seminoles' 135.

The host team made 30 yards in completing 2 out of 4 passes with one interception. South Seminole was content with a ground attack and tried no passes.

St. Cloud had 6 first downs to South Seminoles' 7. The host team was penalized 30 yards and the visitors 20.

Ronnie Skeen carried for 48 yards from the Seminole fullback spot; McDermott tallied 39 yards rushing and Garrett 29.

Indian Given Favorite Role In Miami Tilt

By United Press International

Alabama says star quarterback Joe Namath will be operating at about three-fourth capacity in the crucial Florida game Saturday.

Namath is not completely healed from a knee injury suffered in the North Carolina State contest two weeks ago. The Crimson Tide rehearsed its game plans Thursday and coach Bear Bryant commented, "I think we know them pretty well."

Florida wound up its secret sessions Thursday and coach

Ray Graves said the Gators were "ready to play." One sour note in the Gators' preparation is fleet halfback Jack Harper, listed on the doubtful list with a twisted knee.

Georgia coach Vince Dooley warned the Bulldogs again Thursday that Kentucky has "a very explosive offense." In addition, Dooley said, the Wildcats are "very fast and tough on defense too." Kentucky takes its full squad to Athens, Ga., with the exception of Jim Komara, suffering a shoulder separation.

'Move' Contract Inked Years Ago?

MILWAUKEE (UPI) — A source close to Atlanta officials said today representatives of the Braves had signed a contract to move to the Southern city more than a year ago.

"You don't think they would have started to build that stadium if things weren't signed, sealed and about to be delivered," he asked.

But, he was asked in turn, would such a contract be void because of a previously signed rental contract with Milwaukee county?

"I'm no lawyer, but I suppose so," he answered. "All I know is it didn't bother Mayor Ivan Allen or Arthur Montgomery chairman of the Atlanta Stadium Authority.

Legal Snarl Delays Braves Atlanta Bid

NEW YORK (UPI) — National League President Warren C. Giles and Milwaukee Braves officials were confident today the way soon will be cleared for the club's transfer to Atlanta.

A decision by club owners on the shift had to be tabled Thursday because of a restraining order issued by a Milwaukee court that prevented an immediate vote of approval.

The Braves, however, lost no time in establishing "rights" to territory in Georgia. They filed with baseball Commissioner Ford Frick's oflice a notice of intention to draft the Atlanta area from the International League.

"A temporary restraining order issued by a Milwaukee court without notice to the Braves prohibits officials of the team from visiting Atlanta at this time," announced Braves General Manager John McHale after a three-hour and five-minute meeting.

"However," McHale quickly added, "counsel for the Braves has been instructed to proceed immediately to have the restraining order lifted."

Mississippi State concentrated on pass offense, goal line offense and defense Thursday in closing out preparations for Houston.

Mississippi held a kicking drill and reviewed offense and defensive strategy for the Vanderbilt game. Tulane held a light workout emphasizing Georgia Tech formations.

Tennessee brushed up its passing attack in hopes that sophomore Art Galiffa can overwhelm Louisiana State Saturday. The Bengals also worked on passing.

Oviedo Facing Heaviest Line From Clermont

By Marshall Lago

Herald Sports Writer

A hulking wall of humanity will face the Oviedo High School squad tonight at John Courier Field when they play host to a rugged Clermont 11 starting at 8 p.m.

Clermont—with a team so heavy they should be carried in two buses—boasts a line averaging 300 pounds per man and the shortest being a mere 6 feet tall.

The invader's defensive strategy is led by Dave Catling who stands 6 feet and carries 230 pounds. Clermont uses a tricky wing-T form offense led by Pat McDonald at quarterback and Paul McGuire at halfback.

Oviedo carries a 4-0-1 record into the field tonight having beaten Zephyrhills in the opener, then Crescent City, tied Umatilla and beat Ocoee and Crystal River.

To compare records Clermont lost to Umatilla while Oviedo came up with a tie game 6-6.

Tonight's Oviedo lineup will start Jim Courier, quarterback; Billy Miller and Bruce Dowlen, halfbacks; Ted Bell, end; Ardie Arndt, halfback; Harley Cox and Tim Colbert, tackles; Paul Lukas and Wayne Jacobs, guards; and Charlie Beasley, center.

Lyman brings a 1-3 record with it for tonight's contest and is using sophomores to a great extent.

Leading the running attack will be Jack Blanton at quarterback, Phil Perrault, Paul Lambert and Larry Lotz sharing the halfback assignments.

Starting lineup for Lyman will have Ronnie Toole, center; Ron Greene and Chuck Wagner, guards; Dave Matis and Ivan Rakyta, tackles; Larry Miller and Gene Winkelman, ends; Blanton, quarterback; Terry Toole, quarterback; Perrault and Lambert, halfbacks.

Lakeview Player Picked As 'Best'

Jerry Daughtry, a senior halfback for Lakeview High School, Winter Garden, has been selected as "Player of the Week" for his work in the game with Kissimmee Sept. 23 and will be presented a "Sandler Trophy" tonight.

Jerry was picked as a candidate for the award by all participating high school coaches in Orange and Seminole Counties.

In addition to the trophy, Jerry is now eligible for a $500 scholarship, good at any school of his choice, from Sander Homes of Winter Park. The recipient will be chosen at the end of the current football season.

Eldridge Leads In Yardage

Lyman Halts Apopka 11

By Jim Beecham

Herald Sports Writer

Halfback Bob Eldridge, a take-charge guy for Lyman's Jayvee squad, juggled the ball for 206 yards in 13 carries last night to lead his team to a 31-0 victory over Apopka.

The Lyman invaders made the hometown team adopt a total defensive attitude as they scored in all but the fourth quarter when Coach Dick Silvers inserted his second stringers.

Even the second stringers offered a threat in the fourth quarter when they carried the ball to the Apopka 8-yard line as the game ended.

Eldridge opened the Lyman lights on the first time the club had the ball in the first stanza and scampered 68 yards for a TD. The score came in the first six minutes of play. The kick failed.

In the second quarter, Jim Chambers intercepted an Apopka pass and scurried to the Lyman 38. Bob Eldridge later ran 26 yards to score his second TD.

Larry Baker faked a kick and ran for the extra point.

Eldridge got the ball on an Apopka kick and again dodged his tacklers in running 70 yards for the touchdown.

At halftime, Eldridge had 186 yards rushing.

In the third quarter Lyman recovered an Apopka fumble on the host team's 28. Baker ran for 14 yards and the touchdown. The kick for the extra point was no good.

Baker intercepted an Apopka pass in the third quarter on the Apopka 23-yard line and Mike Warren, Lyman fullback, dashed 77 yards for another six-pointer.

Coach Dick Silvers noted after the game that "my boys are real happy. They did a fine job."

Lyman tallied 443 yards rushing with Eldridge leading with 236. Warren got 91; Baker, 63, and Smith, three, for the first stringers.

The second team play was led by Mike Lego rushing 34 yards from halfback and his counterpart, David Straughn, garnering 17 yards.

Lyman has one game to go—that against New Smyrna Beach next Wednesday night.

Sanford Braves Aim For Trip To Palatka

By David Higginbotham

Herald Sports Writer

The Sanford Junior High Braves will travel to Palatka Saturday night for their fifth contest of the season with the tilt starting at 7:30 p.m.

The Braves now have a record of two wins, one tie, and one loss to the South Seminole Hurricanes.

The Braves have drilled hard in preparing for Saturday's affair, but according to Head Coach Dan Pelham the squad is short on depth due to injuries and grades.

Pelham said, "We're missing about eight boys due to injuries and grades and this lack in personnel may have some bearing on the game. We're running second and third team players in the first team positions which will have a definite bearing on the game."

The two teams have never met on the gridiron before and the Palatka squad has had less tilts this season giving them the odds on injuries.

Pelham plans to run a different offense this week instead of the single wing that proved effective against the Oviedo Lions last Saturday. According to Pelham the squad will run a double wing making them a greater threat in the scoring.

The Braves will play this same ball club against next week for the final tilt of the season and the annual Peanut Bowl game on Halloween night.

The tilt this week will give the coaches a chance to look over Palatka and be ready for the following game in the Peanut Bowl.

Sonny Opens Final Training For Clay

BOSTON (UPI) — Challenger Sonny Liston began his final training for a rematch with heavyweight title king Cassius Clay today and chose as his tune up camp a well-known resort within eight of a picturesque Cape Cod.

Clay, who prefers to be known by his Black Muslim title of Muhammad Ali, is due in Boston next Tuesday and will conduct his final three weeks of training for the Nov. 16 Boston Garden title fight in a city gymnasium. The bout has been boycotted by the World Boxing Association WBA.

Liston said his preparations before the rematch differed from his earlier fight workouts in that "I have better, much smarter, sparring partners. No, they are smarter and they keep me on my toes."

IN BLAKE EDWARDS' "A Shot in the Dark," now showing at the Seminole Plaza Cinema, through United Artists release, Peter Sellers plays a bumbling policeman. Elke Sommer stars as the murdering maid in this Mirisch Corporation presentation in Color by Deluxe and Panavision.

Comedy At Plaza

Blake Edwards' "A Shot in the Dark," starring Peter Sellers and Elke Sommer, is now playing at the Seminole Plaza Cinema Theatre. The Mirisch Corporation presentation for United Artists release, is a free-wheeling comedy about a bumbling French police inspector, a beautiful blonde and a string of murders.

George Sanders and Herbert Lom are co-starring in the movie, which was filmed in Color by Deluxe and Panavision on location in England and France. The film was produced and directed by Edwards from a screenplay he wrote with William Peter Blatty based on the plays by Harry Kurnitz and Marcel Achard. "Movie" is by Henry Mancini.

In "A Shot in the Dark," Sellers portrays Inspector Jacques Clouseau, continuing the comedy role he created in "The Pink Panther," also a Blake Edwards Production for the Mirisch Corporation and United Artists. In the current film, he is called upon to solve a series of murders of which the prime suspect is a saucy, blonde French maid, played by Elke Sommer, whose obvious charms distract and delight the indomitable inspector. The murder chase leads through the Parisian mansion of a French millionaire, played by Sanders, a nudist colony and a variety of Parisian night spots.

Herbert Lom plays Sellers' superior in the Surete, who is driven to madness by the unorthodox detecting methods used by his assistant, Tracy Reed, in a prominently featured role, is the uninhibited wife of the philanthropic millionaire. She recently was seen with Sellers in "Dr. Strangelove."

The film's producer, William Alland, had this to say: "Props in movies are often called inanimate actors but these sure aren't. Some of them go 400 miles an hour!"

Sharing honors with the unusual cars in "The Lively Set" are James Darren, Pamela Tiffin, Doug McClure, Joanie Sommers, Marilyn Maxwell and Peter Mann. Except for Miss Maxwell, all have been no picture.

Three of the 25 major automobiles appearing in the romantic drama — filmed in color — with a racing car background are: A $50,000 dragster fashioned out of a surplus J-47 jet engine; a $150,000 gas turbine made available by the Chrysler Corporation; and a $250,000 land speed record car, Challenger II, owned by internationally famous race driver Mickey Thompson, who also drives and plays himself in the exciting motion picture.

'Marnie' Opens Sunday

Alfred Hitchcock remains Hollywood's unshackled iconoclast. He says that in working with actors he has preference for those who come to him untrained.

The outspoken film maker, whose "Marnie" opens Sunday at the Movieland Drive-In Theatre, has a convincing argument.

"Beginners have an enormous advantage over those with experience, for the most obvious reasons—they have nothing to unlearn."

"Marnie" stars Tippi Hedren and Sean Connery and plays through Tuesday night at the Drive-In Theatre.

Another Hitchcock thriller, "Vertigo," shares the screen and stars James Stewart and Kim Novak.

Wednesday and Thursday adult entertainment is planned with "Under the Yum Yum Tree" featuring Jack Lemmon. Co-featured is "The Running Man" with Lawrence Harvey.

"TIPPI" HEDREN, a compulsive thief, is caught by Sean Connery as she attempts to rifle the safe in Connery's publishing firm, in Alfred Hitchcock's suspenseful sex-mystery, "Marnie," in Technicolor for Universal release. This starts the chain of strange events involving the two co-stars.

'Lively Set' At Ritz

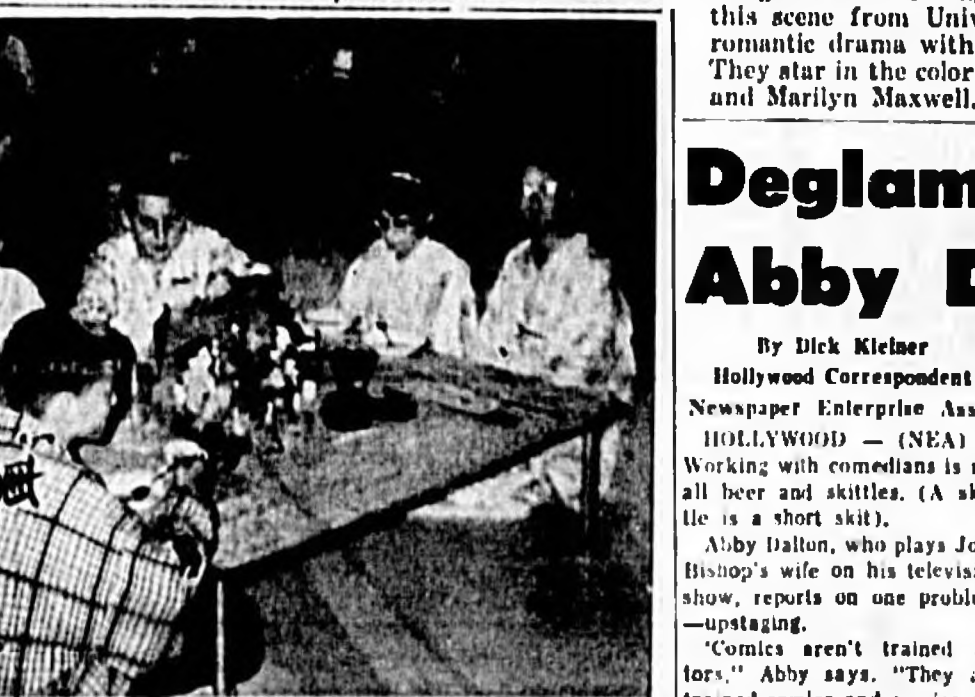

The importance of props in making movies is pointed up graphically in Universal's "The Lively Set" which opens Sunday at the Ritz Theatre.

The film continues through Wednesday night.

A half-million dollars worth of props were used in the filming of "The Lively Set," and without them there would have been no picture.

James Darren and Pamela Tiffin starred previously in "For Those Who Think Young"; Doug McClure is still starring as a regular in Revue's TV series, "The Virginian"; singer Joanie Sommers is making her first picture since the birth of her baby daughter; and Peter Mann recently completed his second Hollywood movie, George Stevens' "The Greatest Story Ever Told" in which he portrays the Apostle Nathaniel.

"One thing is certain," commented director Jack Arnold, "I've got the fastest-moving set of young stars in Hollywood!"

Deglamorize Abby Dalton?

By Dick Kleimer

Hollywood Correspondent

Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

HOLLYWOOD — (NEA) — Working with comedians is not all beer and skittles. (A skittle is a short skit).

Abby Dalton, who plays Joey Bishop's wife on his television show, reports on one problem — upstaging.

"Comics aren't trained actors," Abby says. "They are trained comics and comics are trained to be always on. So they are always upstaging you."

"Joey doesn't have a mean bone in his body, so I know he doesn't do it maliciously. But it happens every time."

Maybe Joey's manipulations will capture some viewers' attention, but most men will continue to keep their eyes on Abby. And there may be more and more of them, because The Joey Bishop Show has improved considerably.

"We've finally found our groove," Abby says. "We're acting like real people this year. You know, it's easy to fall in a trap on a television show, and have the husband and wife fight all the time, like the Dickersons. And that's what we did for a while—we were caricatures. But now our scripts are more realistic."

Abby has changed some this year, too. She's gone through a deglamorizing process, with Abby, that's like trying to shrink the Eiffel Tower.

"I made a mistake when the show started," she says. "I'd been in uniform for three years on Jackie Cooper's show. When I got this part with Joey I went wild—I got all sorts of very glamorous dresses. It just wasn't right for the show."

"But when they told me they were going to deglamorize me, at first I didn't like the idea. Then I realized they were right."

"It was funny when all these men, including Joey, sat around discussing what I was to wear. They didn't want slacks—Joey doesn't think they flatter girls, and anyhow, they didn't want it to look like we were copying Mary Tyler Moore."

Buy Cloth; Have Suit Made

By Jerry Sheehan
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

NEW YORK — (NEA) — There are easier ways to buy a suit than the one advocated by Ben Solomon, but there are few more satisfying.

His suggestion: buy your own cloth and take it to a tailor. Sounds extravagant, but it need not be.

Solomon has been in the cloth biz for about 40 years. His customers range from Nikita Khrushchev to Dean Rusk, from Jerry Lewis to Frank Sinatra. His fabrics—mostly 100 per cent wool—range in price from $10 to more than $100 a yard. As president of Herbert Gladson Ltd., he operates shops in Chicago and Los Angeles as well as his home base, New York. He is the largest importer of British wool suiting cloth, which appears in 2,000 tailor shops. So much for credentials.

per yard that will satisfy the most determined male. A suit will need from 3 to 3½ yards of material, a sports jacket takes about 2. Hundreds of colors and weaves are available.

Then comes the tailor. If you buy from a fabric house, the salesman probably can supply you with the names of tailors and their usual fees. (Solomon has a list of 400 in New York alone). But most fabrics can be selected from swatch books at the tailor shops.

The needlework starts at about $45 for an uncomplicated suit. You can spend lots more—but you can on anything.

If you add it up you have spent less than $100 for your made-to-measure suit. And you have the satisfaction of saying, "The fabric? I picked it out myself."

A ritual with a good fabric house is the checking of every inch of newly arrived bolts. Here, Ben Solomon, surveys a rich Glen plaid, just off the boat from England.

If you just want a "suit" suit, something to get by, you are better off with something "off the rack" in your local department or men's store, according to Solomon. If you want something a little better, you can actually save money by having it made to measure (not to be confused with a custom-made suit which requires many fittings and up to $100 per garment).

A good worsted wool cloth can be selected for about $13

Dear Abby: By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: How do you feel about a woman who is married and a mother returning to high school to complete her education? I understand in some states it is allowed if she is under 18. A 16-year-old mother (shotgunned) wants to return. The other girls will undoubtedly accept her and make a fuss over her and, by so doing, will appear to approve of her past behavior. She, in turn, can instruct them well in married life. I feel for the girl, but I also feel for the good girls who have been raised with high moral standards. I think if such a girl wants to complete her education she should go to a school outside her district. What do you think?

DEAR ABBY: Why don't you ask his wife (and "keep your distance" when you do)?

DEAR ABBY: I am an 11-year-old girl and I love to draw. Especially horses. My piano teacher is a very good artist and that is what I want to be. If I have a good piano lesson my teacher teaches me how to draw horses and I like that a lot better than playing the piano. I asked my father if I could quit piano and take drawing lessons instead, and he looked at me like I was crazy or something. I can spend hours drawing, and never get tired, but when I practice the piano for half an hour I am worn out. How can I get my father to let me quit piano and take drawing?

please print this and do a lot of people a big favor. We have a neighbor who lives alone except for her two dogs and we don't know how many cats. Her house stinks, her furniture is filthy, and there is cat hair all over the place. She complains that her friends don't want to visit her any more. She has always been a very nice person and we don't want to hurt her, but we just can't go into that house. Abby, the odor is unbelievable. Even her relatives don't visit her any more. If you print this, she might see it and take the hint.

FRIENDS BUT NOT VISITORS
DEAR FRIENDS: The poor soul needs more than a "hint," she needs professional help. Call one of her relatives and ask them to look in on her. If this doesn't bring results, your county Board of Health should be notified.

UPSET IN PENNA.
DEAR UPSET: If the girl is legally entitled to return to school in the district of her residence, that's that. As for the commotion she might cause, that would depend on her behavior and that of the other girls. The school authorities are capable of judging fairly. Give the girl a chance.

DEAR ABBY: Is it okay to go out with a married man if you keep your distance?

LOVES TO DRAW
DEAR LOVES TO DRAW: Stick with your piano lessons and draw on the side. If you have a real talent for art, perhaps your piano teacher will speak to your father in your behalf. But first talk it over with your teacher. HE managed to become a pretty good musician and draw for fun, didn't he?

DEAR ABBY: We are at the end of our rope, so

Fake Snake Lives In Can

By Helen Hennessy
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

From coats to jewelry, fashion has a "come-alither" look this fall. It's the year of the reptile: alligators; crocodiles, lizards and snakes have left the jungle to come to town.

The trouble with these beauties is that they are dear little things—they cost a heap of wampum.

And so the style-conscious working girl with an average salary may have to forego the genuine article. But she can nonetheless indulge in reptile mania.

There's one little reptile on the market which doesn't know the jungle from the North Pole. He lives in an aerosol can. One push of the button on top releases him and he will spray a textured pattern of reptile on shoes, bags, belts or jackets. The pattern won't wilt in the rain or scuff or wear off. And it out-fashions the real McCoy by coming in 12 colors.

When first applied, it appears as a solid color, but don't get nervous. As it dries, the pattern appears and is completely finished in 10 minutes. You can use the spray on leather, suede, fabric or straw.

Old shoes and purses get a new lease on life. Last year's black pumps and bags, for example, can be sprayed with brown reptile for an up-to-the-minute look.

Some arrows can take the tread further by first spraying synthetic leather, then making it into a snake, cobra, vespertail or hat.

We can be trimmed from head to toe without putting a hole in the budget.

Of course, this synthetic reptile will never have the beauty of the genuine article. But it is an attractive substitute. Like fake fur, it must be worn with a flair rather than an apology. So spray now and plan alligator later.

Please send your fashion problems to Helen Hennessy in care of The Sanford Herald. While she cannot answer each letter personally, letters of general interest will be answered in this column.

Build For Future Sale

Use your head rather than your pocketbook when planning to build a new home, a Chicago businessman advises.

Gene Dreyfus comes from a family of home builders and estimates he has been in on the building of more than 5,300 homes.

Taking the quirks of a married couple into account, he suggests certain tricks of the trade to future home builders to help them get a home they can enjoy but with good resale value.

Three years ago he started a home planning service. The aim: to get the contractor and the potential home owner together. He provides, among other things, suggestions to the builders on materials to use for homes of varying price levels. The consumer can draw on the resources of 15 designers to select color schemes, fabrics, tiles and such for the new home. This eliminates confusing trips to subcontractors. A one-page form lists 131 essentials for the home and an eight-page "bible" for the builder lists specifications and standards of materials and equipment.

Such a service comes at a time when the consumer is more sophisticated about what he wants in the way of a home and its furnishings, Dreyfus says. But he still needs guidance.

For example Dreyfus says, a ranch-style house doesn't offer the most space for the money and a two-story house should be designed for expansion. Proper co-ordination of roofing and siding can add to resale value by making the house look architecturally better than its design.

He also points out the value of trend information for the new home builder to consider. For example, the pantry is making a comeback and glamorous baths and bedrooms built as suites are gaining importance. He also recommends designing of closets to get maximum use of space top and bottom. Built-in furniture is another home trend to consider when planning a new house.

A fault of many new homes that planning can eliminate without too much extra cost, he says, is zoning or creating the proper traffic pattern of rooms.

For example, an attractive brick house has been on the market for nearly two years while neighboring homes for sale were snapped up. The reason: guests practically walk into the bathroom when they enter the house or go from living room to kitchen. The design was an economical one but isn't paying in the long run.

Jacoby On Bridge By Oswald Jacoby

South's one spade rebid was correct even though his hand also met the requirements for a one-no-trump rebid. It is always best to show a suit at the one level when you can do so.

Subsequent bidding was rather automatic and the final contract of three no-trump was correct.

Unfortunately for North and South, declarer did not bother to count to nine tricks and managed to get himself set.

He won the opening heart lead with the king. This was a poor false card, because East was bound to know that South, not West, held the queen.

South led the ten of diamonds at trick two and let it ride. East won with the jack and led the deuce of spades. South's false card at trick one had shown East that there was no future in the heart suit.

South's jack of spades lost to West's ace. Spades were continued, and eventually the defense cashed three spades and two diamonds.

Had South taken time at trick two to ask himself, "How can I surely make this hand?" he would have gone up with dummy's queen of diamonds. East would probably win with the ace and lead a spade. In that case, South would be sure of one spade, one diamond, three hearts, and four clubs.

If any other line of defense were adopted South would simply keep after the diamonds and eventually make at least two diamond tricks.

Record Shop America Embraces Sergio

Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

NEW YORK (NEA) — It didn't take long for the American public to discover and embrace singer Sergio Franchi. Neither did it take Italian Franchi long to embrace the United States.

On September 1, he became the proud possessor of the first papers necessary in the steps towards American citizenship.

"I have been out of Italy for 14 years, not counting visits back there," he said. "But, until now, I have never wanted to change my Italian citizenship."

Presently Sergio, his wife and their two children are settling down in an apartment in New York near Central Park. "Our furniture is due," and he looked at his watch, "right this minute."

Franchi, whose latest RCA Victor album is "The Exciting Voice of Sergio Franchi," is so busy with club dates, television appearances and record sessions, that he has very little time for leisure pursuits. But when he has time, he pursues his activities with the same fervor he brings to every song he sings.

His conversation indicates that he regards cooking and skin-diving as favorites. "I do a lot of cooking. I cook scrambled eggs that are delicious. I cook a tomato sauce first; it takes two hours to simmer it. Then the eggs go in. I also do a fine Veal Milanese. I like to know how to cook everything. You never know when it comes in handy," he said.

As an experienced scuba diver, Franchi knows the waters of the world so well he can one-up anyone with remarks like "The Red Sea is a paradise for diving."

Now that Sergio has settled into a home in New York, he thinks that maybe a role in a Broadway show would be a pleasant experience.

"I would do a straight play, if there is a role that needs my kind of accent. But if I do a musical, there better be good songs in it. There is so much to say with a song. When you have a beautiful phrase to say, and you add music to say it, how much more beautiful it becomes. 'What kind of fool am I?' is a beautiful phrase, but when you sing it—you get goose pimples."

Album of the week—Walt Disney's "Mary Poppins" (Buena Vista) is a "superlative, fragrant, delicious" (last name) experience. Julie Andrews with her clear, lovely voice, and Dick Van Dyke, with a Cockney accent, have some lulling tunes to sing. "Chim Chim Chere," "Feed the Birds" and "Stay Awake" are standouts. And so is "I Love to Laugh" with Ed Wynn giggling his way through the song, with help from (hee-hee) Julie and (ha-ha-ha) Dick (ho-ho-ho-ho).

Vocal—easy albums—"Belafonte—Ballads, Blues and Boasters" (RCA Victor); "Buddy Greco—On Stage" (Epic); Nancy Wilson's "How Glad I Am" (Capitol); "A World Without Love" (Capitol) featuring English lads, Peter and Gordon; Johnny Rivers' "Go, Johnny, Go" (United Artists).

Instrumentals—"Lullaby" (Colpix), the original movie soundtrack with music by Kenyon Hopkins; "Nothing But the Best" (Colpix), an amusing score for the British movie, composed by Ron Grainer; "Broadway Marches" (Mercury), with the Fenell Symphonic Winds playing everything from "There Is Nothing Like a Dame" to "76 Trombones."

We The Women: By Ruth Millet

Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

Don't be too quick to dub your husband "stingy" if he complains about household expenses. He may be just trying to save money for a rainy day.

Before you accuse him of being a miser, give some thought to how he manages his own money.

If he spends money freely on himself or wastes it in other ways while begrudging you everything he has to give you for running the house, then he is stingy.

But if he is trying to build up a little security for the family with the money he holds on to, then it's a different matter. Probably all that is needed is for you to sympathize with his aims and let him know you want to try to help. Possibly he isn't aware of the high cost of living.

Once you have convinced him of that you can probably also educate him a bit about the cost of running a home. Take him marketing with you. He may still grumble about the cost, but he won't blame it on your extravagance.

Generosity is a quality in a husband on which women sometimes put too high a value. The husband who never puts any curb on his wife's spending may be doing her a real injustice if by indulging her today he fails to provide for their future.

Real concern about money doesn't always stem from stinginess. Your husband may simply be trying to protect his family should he ever be temporarily unemployed or have to meet the expense of a long illness.

The Doctor Says: Is Nicotine Habit-Forming?

By Wayne G. Brandstadt
M. D.

Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

Can cigarettes, pep pills, tranquilizers and sleeping pills be physically habit-forming? Is opium and cocaine? Some medical authorities fear they may be.

In spite of some dissenting opinions, there is some evidence that nicotine is habit-forming. For example, it has been shown that small doses of nicotine injected into the blood of a smoker deprived of his tobacco relieved his craving for a smoke. If smoking is not just a psychological habit, but a drug addiction, this would explain why so many smokers find it hard to give it up.

Recently, two Public Health Service doctors made a survey to determine the extent of drug abuse and addiction among patients of Boston City Hospital. They defined abuse as the daily use of a drug for one month or longer when there was no medical reason for taking it. As was to be expected, all of the addicts found were users of opium derivatives, but in addition there was almost an equal number of drug abusers.

These persons were taking: (1) sleeping pills, such as glutethimide (Doriden), bromides, ethchlorvynol (Placidyl) and various barbiturates; (2) pain killers, such as meperidine (Demerol) and propoxyphene (Darvon); (3) tranquilizers, such as meprobamate and chloriazepoxide (Librium); (4) several kinds of pep pills; (5) an inhaler (Valo).

This is not a complete listing of habit-forming drugs. Their use is now felt to be much greater than was thought. Anyone who takes these drugs regularly for one month is very likely to develop a dependency that cannot be readily shaken off.

Q—Can vitamin B-12 be absorbed by the body when taken by mouth, or does it have to be given by injection? Does this vitamin stimulate the appetite?

A—All vitamins are readily absorbed when taken by mouth, but alcohol destroys vitamins of the B complex. If for this or any other reason a severe vitamin B deficiency exists or if a person has pernicious anemia, the vitamin is given by injection to insure prompt action. Muscular cuts (red meat) are a rich source of vitamin B-12. The vitamins of the B complex do stimulate the appetite to a limited degree.

The Spelling Problem

By Susan Light
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

DEAR MRS. LIGHT: I am appalled at your reply to the mother whose fifth-grade son sent home a weirdly misspelled letter from camp. The spelling situation among our youth is unbelievably serious, and our schools are unquestionably to blame. Employers are desperate for secretaries who can spell decently and have a reasonable knowledge of grammar.

The basic cause of a great deal of this situation arises from the way reading has been taught in most American schools for the past 30 years. It is the so-called "look-say" system. Children are expected to learn a whole word at a time. Some children can get well into high school without ever having learned the alphabet. Consequently, they cannot use a dictionary.

Instead of cavalierly telling the mother that all is well with her child's schooling, I suggest you advise her to get in touch with the Reading Reform Foundation (36 West 44th St., New York, 36, N.Y.) so they can tell her where her son can find the help he so obviously needs. —Spellbound Reader

Answer: First, let's see where we agree. I believe that (1) spelling is important; (2) secretaries who can spell are invaluable; (3) the "look-say" system of reading is not particularly conducive to good spelling.

But, schools are NOT "unquestionably to blame" for poor spelling. Having observed, substituted, and taught in a number of schools during the last 15 years, I know from experience that schools do stress good spelling and proper use of the dictionary. Some children are poor spellers in spite of good teaching. The "look-say" system as the sole method of teaching reading has been dying for a good many years. This year's crop of seniors in our local high school, for example, learned to read 11 years ago with a combination of phonics and sight reading.

Personally, I'm glad that the pendulum has swung back toward the phonetic method of teaching, but I believe the "look-say" system and other methods still have their place in an elementary reading program. Some children respond to one method, others, to another.

Please send your school problems to Susan Light in care of The Sanford Herald. While she cannot answer each letter personally, letters of general interest will be answered in this column.

Hints From Old Homemaker

By Polly Cramer
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

DEAR POLLY: The hints are all wonderful. I would like to remind brides and all new homemakers of some of the things we older ones do from habit.

A pan of hot water in the sink soaks "almost clean" those baking dishes which accumulate so rapidly.

First rinse in cold water those dishes in which flour and water have been mixed.

Wash a food grinder immediately after using and dry in a warm oven. If left for any length of time it is harder to clean.

Do rinse or soak, after using, such hard-to-wash items as egg beaters, sieves and potato mashers.

When cleaning a room, have a large paper bag and a tray or cookie sheet handy. The bag collects household litter and the tray collects items to be returned to other rooms.

Put small "dust catchers" (knickknacks) in a sieve or colander for washing. Use sudsy water, rinse and let dry on a paper towel. This is the easiest way I now for "dust catchers" are just that. —ESTHER

DEAR POLLY: I do hope my hint brings joy to plant and flower lovers. An elderly friend told me how to make an unusual planter using three or four graduated mixing bowls, pails or clay flower pots. Fill the containers with dirt to within an inch and a quarter of the tops. Pyramid the bowls or pots with the largest on the bottom and the smallest one on the top, pushing each one firmly into the dirt below. Put a bushy plant in the top container and trailing plants or vines around the rims of the other tiers and have an unusual planter that will hold many plants and still take little shelf or table space.—Mrs. A. W. B.

GIRLS: This seems like a wonderful idea for repotting all those plants that will have to come inside or else die when the cold weather comes. All sorts of interesting arrangements could be made and many plants accommodated in one pyramid. Think I will try this idea for raising herbs indoors this winter. —POLLY

Both, LBJ, Barry To Make Southern Pitch

United Press International President Johnson returns to the Southland Saturday and next week in an effort to swing several doubtful states his way.

The President flies to Memphis, Tenn., Saturday for an address and will make a brief airport appearance at Chattanooga on his way to Baltimore.

Johnson will be followed in Memphis by a Republican "truth squad" of four congressmen. The congressmen will view Johnson's address on television and then make public comments afterward.

The President will come back South Sunday and Monday with visits at Boca Raton, Miami and Orlando Sunday. He will spend Sunday night in Orlando and make a "major address" there Monday morning, according to state Democratic officials.

Later Monday, Mr. Johnson will visit Jacksonville, Augusta and Macon, Ga., and wind up with an appearance at Columbia, S. C.

South Carolina Democrats said Johnson agreed to speak in Columbia after being informed that a presidential visit was essential to hopes of carrying South Carolina for the Democrats.

GOP presidential candidate Barry Goldwater will make a Southside television appeal for votes from Columbia Halloween night, appearing with Sen. Strom Thurmond, R-S. C.

Thurmond, campaigning in Dixie for Goldwater, told a

GOP rally at Orangeburg, S. C., Thursday night that the Supreme Court possibly could be revised with Goldwater as president.

Thurmond said five justices including Chief Justice Earl Warren, are eligible for retirement and Goldwater would select their successors if they stepped down during his administration.

Elsewhere in the South: Cherokee, Miss.: Coahoma County prosecuting attorney Thomas H. Pearson said Thursday he would quit the Democratic party and become a Republican.

Richmond, Va.: State GOP chairman Robert Corber said Thursday the Republican national committee was letting Virginia slip through their fingers by not bringing Goldwater into the state.

Macon, Ga.: Agriculture Secretary Orville Freeman said Thursday the retirement income of persons under social security would be jeopardized if Goldwater were elected president.

Charlotte, N. C.: The Charlotte Observer, without "great enthusiasm," Thursday endorsed President Johnson.

Tampa, Fla.: The Tampa Times Thursday called for the election of Goldwater, stating the United States must remain strong to meet the threat of Communism.

Montgomery, Ala.: For the first time in history, Alabama has more than one million registered voters. More than half of them live in 11 urban counties.

Projects For Casselberry WSCS Studied

By Jane Casselberry
The Casselberry Community Methodist Church WSCS heard a program Tuesday afternoon at the church by Mrs. H. T. Crittenden on "A Look at Ourselves As Christian Women."

Projects proposed during the business meeting conducted by the president, Mrs. Phil Casselberry, were the purchase of lightweight tables for the Sunday School rooms and roof drains to put over the church entrance.

Secretary of Children's Work, Mrs. Clara Balmer announced plans for the annual "Trick or Treat" for the UNICEF drive by the children of the Sunday School on Halloween night to collect funds for the United Nations Children's Fund. The WSCS will sponsor a party for the children at 7:30 p. m. at the church, at which time the money collected for food and medicine for children around the world will be counted.

Refreshments were served by the hostesses, Mrs. Paul Engleman, Mrs. E. C. Vanice, Mrs. Minnie Zimmerman and Mrs. Effie Thompson.

No Evidence Jenkins Violated Security

WASHINGTON (UPI) — An extensive FBI investigation of Walter W. Jenkins has turned up no information that the former presidential aide had ever violated security or been blackmailed because of his arrests on moral charges.

But FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover's report to President Johnson said that Jenkins, a 46-year-old father of six, admitted "having engaged in the indecent acts for which he was arrested" on Jan. 15, 1959, and against last Oct. 7.

Jenkins, a top Johnson aide for 25 years, resigned his White House post Oct. 14 after disclosure that he had been arrested on a morals charge the previous week. The president ordered an immediate FBI investigation of Jenkins and the circumstances surrounding his arrest to see if there had been any security violations.

In an eight-page statement Thursday night, Hoover said that many of those interviewed during the investigation—and Jenkins himself—said the two incidents for which he was arrested occurred during periods of "extremely intense emotional strain and physical exhaustion."

Jenkins also told the FBI that he had been "enticed" by the arresting officer in the 1959 incident. On both occasions Jenkins was arrested in the basement men's room of the Washington YMCA. The room, described by city police as a gathering place for sex deviants, has since been closed.

Jenkins now is undergoing treatment in a Washington hospital for "extreme fatigue" and high blood pressure. The FBI interviewed him at the hospital and also talked with more than 300 other persons, tracing his background from boyhood to the present.

Rev. C. C. Dees Jr. Moved To Lakeland

Establishment of a church at Lakeland is the new duty assigned to Rev. C. C. Dees Jr., pastor for the last 8 1/2 years of the Missionary Alliance Church here.

The Southeast District of the Christian and Missionary Alliance Church has appointed Rev. Dees to locate property and build an edifice at Lakeland.

He will terminate his appointment to the local church with his Sunday morning service on Nov. 1.

Rev. and Mrs. Dees have been residing with their three children at 139 Pinecrest Drive. Their children are Leah Jane, 5; Charles Timothy, 3, and Emily Elisabeth, nine months.

A native of Charlotte, N. C., Rev. Dees was graduated with a bachelor of arts degree in missions from Toccoa Falls Bible College, Toccoa Falls, Ga.

Prior to coming to Sanford, he had established a Missionary Church at Jacksonville. He had studied for missionary work in New Guinea (now West Irian) but was denied this field of endeavor due to a chronic illness of his elder daughter.

Rev. Dees had been an officer in the Ministerial Association for the last two years, had just been appointed campaign chairman of the TB Association and was an active member of the Sanford Lions Club.

"I have greatly enjoyed my ministry here in Sanford," said Rev. Dees, "and I appreciate the many courtesies of the people, plus their friendships."

Palatka Paper Backs Barry

PALATKA (UPI)—The Palatka Daily News has endorsed Sen. Barry Goldwater for president in an editorial calling for a return to basic principles.

"It may be old fashioned, out of step with the times or just plain foolish, but we believe that this country has had all the socialism and paternalistic government it needs and that it is time to slow down the trend toward even more of those political philosophies," the editorial in yesterday's edition said.

"Barry Goldwater's election can help this country return to some of the basic principles that long have endured and which should be preserved," the newspaper said.

Would The Plan Stop?

A major amendment to Florida's constitution appearing on the Nov. 3 ballot is the proposition which would enable Sarasota County to alter the application of homestead exemption in that particular county.

Although the proposal applies only to Sarasota County, it must be acted upon all Florida voters and deserves a most complete examination. The amendment provides that the first $2,000 of assessed valuation of tax exempt homestead property shall be taxable for school purposes only, and that the next $5,000 assessed valuation — or from $2,000 to $7,000 — shall be exempt. The amendment does not seek to change the $5,000 homestead exemption from taxation for other than school purposes.

Initially, the proposition sounds as if it were a logical step toward providing adequate funds for school purposes. But this raises a number of questions.

Would the plan stop at that point? The Herald is of the opinion it would not and that the next step would be for other counties to seek legislative and constitutional approval to do the same thing. Once this was accomplished proponents of other tax-supported causes would attempt to encroach on homestead exemption.

The Herald contends that homestead should continue to be uniformly applied in all counties rather than through a patchwork of constitutional amendments for each of the 67 counties.

Where does the problem of financing education really lay?

The Herald believes the solution is not in changing the application of homestead exemption but in applying 100 per cent full just value assessments in all counties.

For example, Railroad Assessment Board figures reveal that of Florida's 67 counties only Osceola, Sumter and Okaloosa levy taxes on 100 per cent valuation.

Seminole levies at 90 per cent but county officials say the method utilized is equivalent to 100 per cent. Washington County's percentage is the lowest as 27.44 per cent while Sarasota, the county in question, levies taxes at 69.99 per cent.

It would appear that perhaps the best way for Sarasota County to meet its financial needs for its schools is to levy taxes on a valuation percentage commensurate with most of the other counties.

For years Florida has encouraged people from other states to reside here and has pointed to the homestead exemption law as an advantage. Hundreds of thousands of people, including a majority of elderly, have built or bought homes here and adjusted their living standards to their social security, pension and other retirement benefits.

The Herald does not believe that one of the major reasons for the state's present welfare and economy should be endangered by the passage of this amendment.

Surely Sarasota County's school board follows a procedure almost identical with other counties in obtaining school funds.

Here, for instance, Seminole's school board calculates how much it will cost to operate the schools on a per capita basis, estimates the number of pupils and arrives at the number of dollars required to operate the system for a given year.

The board has no other choice but to levy the necessary millage to obtain the needed income.

The Herald is convinced this method is better than attempting to make inroads upon homestead exemption.

Finally, the sole effect of the amendment would be to shift the tax burden to those least able to pay.

For these reasons The Herald recommends the defeat of the proposed amendment.

Lyle C. Wilson Says:

Electoral Plan Rapped

United Free International The American Good Government Society (AGGS) and the National Small Business Association (NSBA) have teamed up to put some money and muscle into the effort to reform the presidential Electoral College. Each has budgeted $50,000 for the job.

Sen. Karl E. Mundt, R-S. D., passes the word that petitions are being circulated in Delaware asking the state attorney general to challenge in federal court the method by which electoral votes are allocated. The system now is based on winner-take-all.

Thus, when Richard M. Nixon won California in 1960 by a margin of less than 1 per cent of the votes cast he won all of the state's electoral votes. It was the same as though California had voted unanimously for him instead of giving John F. Kennedy almost half its votes.

And when Kennedy in 1960 carried New York by a mere whisker he got all 43 New York electoral votes. Nixon got none.

"How many of you think that is right," Mundt asked the Senate the other day. "How many of you think that is fair. The Electoral College system is inequitable, inequitable, unjust."

"The rottenness incorporated in the present Electoral College system comprises the taproot of all of the evils that plague the desires of free men to remain free in America today."

"How many of you think that we can rescue freedom from the pressure groups of the metropolitan areas of this country with an unjust, unfair Electoral College voting system such as that?"

"I hope that the state of Delaware will go through with its plan to carry into the federal court, within the next few months, a lawsuit challenging the constitutionality of the Electoral College system."

But the winner-take-all aspect of the Electoral College is only a part of Mundt's objection to the system. Electors run at-large in each state and each state has as many electors as it has members of Congress. For example: New York has 43, two senators and 41 representatives. Delaware has three, two senators and one member of the House.

Each New Yorker votes for 43 electors; each Delawarean for three, of which Mundt says:

"This is a system which grades an American's capacity to vote on his post office address and by accident of geography. The states should have this extra vote power but not the individual citizen."

Mundt calculated that one New York citizen would have about 14 times as much voting authority as another individual in Delaware purely by accident of geography.

"We talk about civil rights," Mundt said. "What happens to the civil rights of the individual in Delaware?"

That is the question AGGS and NSBA want to raise with the U. S. Supreme Court in an effort to prove the Electoral College system unconstitutional. Another sparkplug in the movement is Hugh Matlock, director of the Electoral College Reform Committee (ECRC), PO Box 388, San Antonio, Tex.

AGGS Secretary J. Harvie Williams recently wrote Matlock that:

"A dramatic move of tremendous national importance for Electoral College reform is in the making. A suit will be brought in the U. S. Supreme Court against the 45 states that have more than one member of the House in Congress. The Supreme Court has original jurisdiction."

Helped Translation After her retirement from nursing, Florence Nightingale assisted Benjamin Jowett in the translation of the dialogues of Plato and she compiled a book of extracts from the Christian mystics, according to the Encyclopaedia Britannica.

Worry Clinic

Here is a pertinent follow-up for George Stuart's observations about vandalism. Discuss these cases in school for "forewarned is forearmed" and morality needs to be fastened to specific cases. Vandals tend to be goose-steppers, not brave independents. They are Coyotes; not lions!

CASE U-411: Yesterday I mentioned the shrewd comments on vandalism that were made by Editor George Stuart of the Tarentum (Pa.) News.

Vandals usually travel in packs, like timid coyotes. They haven't the courage of the lion, which travels alone in hunting prey.

And vandals are usually hungry for power. They are the folks who didn't make high grades or rate membership on their school teams or the debating and glee clubs.

When our oldest son, George, was taking his naval air training at Pensacola, he would rent a boat during his spare time and cruise up and down the bayous.

One day he found a beautiful old plantation in excellent repair. Nobody lived in it, but the caretaker took George through the mansion. It was still furnished with furniture from the pre-Civil War era.

Antique dealers would have been thrilled just to view all those furnishings. Even the cellar was still stocked with canned goods in glass jars.

Since George had an artistic bent, he was delighted just to feast his eyes on this old mansion.

So he told the caretaker that the next time he was free, he wanted to bring a couple of his aviator pals along to see the old home.

Alas, when they arrived a few weeks later, the caretaker shed tears.

For some teenage vandals had broken into the old mansion. They had smashed the glass fruit jars and thus scattered jams and jellies all over the basement.

Then they went upstairs and smashed the legs of the antique chairs, and then they broke the old-fashioned mirrors, and then built bonfires in the middle of the living room rug.

These fires partly gutted the old home and ruined the rugs with soot and flame. This is a typical case of wanton destruction, but typical of mobs.

Even a trained sheep dog will revert to wolf pack behavior if it gets into a group of stray canines. Then they may kill an entire flock of sheep just for sport.

Editor, The Herald: Question: If approximately the first two years of the four year term is required for a full-time county commissioner of average education and intelligence, attending all official meetings and conferences with other departments, traveling several thousand miles throughout the county keeping informed on all county problems, etc. to become seventy-five per cent efficient, how many years would be required for a part time commissioner of above average education and intelligence with a probable twenty-five per cent attendance to county business to become fifty per cent efficient?

Or—is the employment of a county manager being contemplated instead of a deputy clerk to county commissioners?

Cracker Fuller Warren Says:

Neighbors Being 'Took'

EDITORS NOTE: Here's your second column by Fuller Warren, former Governor. In his inimitable way, this Northwest Florida "cracker boy" discusses a subject which will be the basis of a series of speeches when he tours the State in the near future. We believe you will find his viewpoint interesting.

By Fuller Warren (Former Governor of Florida) I have always admired the sagacity of the West Florida Cracker. I think he is a pretty smart fellow — probably because I am a West-Florida-born Cracker.

So I am more than a little puzzled over news from my old Blountstown stand that the GOP is burning the woods over there by planting the belief that their boy is a candidate who is against Civil rights. In short, I fear my old neighbors are "being took."

All of which — and let's stop kidding oneself about it — would give the GOP boy a big leg up in West Florida. Moralize and philosophize on this subject all you will, it's still a sticky topic over in my old end of the state.

I am now adjusting my personal affairs so that I can make a trip back to this familiar ground before Nov. 3. I want to tell my onetime neighbors the truth on this matter. I want to show them what an integration wolf looks like in segregation clothing.

Completely without debate on the merits or lack of merits in his stand, let's look carefully at the record of this head of the Republican Party. Let us see if his highly publicized vote against the Civil Rights bill of 1964 was a vote of the heart — or whether it was a vote carefully calculated to pick up some badly needed prestige in the Deep South. I maintain that was a coldly calculated vote inspired entirely by the then imminent Presidential campaign.

Here is the record that proves my point:

Barry Goldwater had publicly admitted that he was a dues paying and card carrying member of NAACP, the oldest and most aggressive organization for civil rights.

Barry Goldwater ended segregation in his family department store in Phoenix, Arizona, long ago.

Barry Goldwater helped to end segregation in the Phoenix Schools. Barry Goldwater helped to end segregation in Phoenix restaurants.

Barry Goldwater ended segregation in the Arizona National Guard.

In 1953 Barry Goldwater co-sponsored in the United States Senate the FEPC measure proposed by the NAACP.

In 1957 Barry Goldwater announced he was for the Civil Rights act.

Barry Goldwater is now a member of the Urban League, an ardent advocate of Civil Rights.

Now on one challenges the right of Senator Goldwater to vote as he sees fit, and to join the organizations of his choice. But we do question the amazing speed with which he now changes hats.

So now will the real Barry Goldwater please stand up? If my old West Florida neighbors actually are going to vote for this fellow believing he is a segregationist there will be a loud crash and a shaking of the earth on election day.

It will be caused by their Daddies and their Granddaddies turning over in their graves.

Phil Newsom Says . . .

China Exploits Nations

UPI Foreign News Analyst WISTON HOUSE, Sussex, England — In the unlikely setting of a country manor house in the rolling hills of Sussex, now yellow-green in the early fall, two Asians and two Africans discussed whether the color of men's skins eventually would divide the world.

The question arose because Red China has launched just such a campaign now that its split with the Soviet Union has shed the trappings of an ideological dispute and emerged as an open struggle for world power.

It should be emphasized that this was not soap-box oratory but rather a discussion among men whose positions in government for elsewhere made it possible for them both to assess or mould public opinion within their own countries.

Among the four from Nigeria, Uganda, Pakistan and Malaysia there was agreement that in a simple choice of communism, the Chinese stood the better chance of success among colored nations.

In the Nigerian view, color ranked above communism as a world problem.

"There is no use even tying it to communism," he said, "because many don't even know what communism is."

And he asked bluntly: "If Red China is a threat, what is the West going to do?"

The discussion ranged beyond color. For, while it is a fact that most of the new nations are brown, yellow or black, their frustrations arise from a belief that the wealthy Western nations exploit them for their raw materials, and their own impatience to bridge a gap of centuries in their industrial development. And this Red China seeks to exploit.

The discussion arose as part of the Wilton Park conferences held on this ancient estate whose land titles go back to William the Conqueror. The objective of the conferences, sponsored by the British Foreign Office with some outside support from the Ford Foundation, is greater understanding of world events.

Rightly or wrongly, the under-developed nations have accepted wholeheartedly the Soviet charge that GATT, the General Agreement on Tariff and Trade is a rich man's club.

Said the Uganda speaker, "The rich get richer and the poor get poorer. It was not exactly a new concept but it was echoed in more concrete terms by the Pakistanis."

The fall in the price of raw materials, he maintained, has cost the under-developed nations more than all they have received in loans and that, unless world raw material prices are stabilized, "you will have Cubas all over the place."

The Africans saw little danger in the world population explosion but exhibited a dream-like quality in how their own peoples should be fed.

It is this attitude which refuses to accept step-by-step developments and which leads them to demand industry being able to manage the tools. But there is nothing dream-like in the implicit threat that if communism takes over the new nations, it will be because the West failed to meet what they believe is its responsibilities.

You can read many things in the human face. It is often the mirror of our emotions. It is sometimes the reflection of our character. But almost never does the face reveal the needs of the human soul. Like some artificial mask it can look satisfied when the soul is starving. It can look calm when the soul is troubled. It can look content when the soul is restless and yearning.

How then can we read our soul's needs?
 THE CHURCH FOR ALL - ALL FOR THE CHURCH
 The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and read your Bible daily.

Sunday	Monday	Tuesday	Wednesday	Thursday	Friday	Saturday
Genesis 4:1-7	I Samuel 16:6-18	Psalms 42:1-11	John 6:25-34	John 8:35-51	1 Corinthians 5:1-10	1:16-21

We can read them in the Bible. And in the centuries of man's universal reaching for God, in the prayers that a hundred million lips have framed, in the hymns and psalms that generations have echoed. God alone fully understands the needs of a human soul. He who created us knows what is essential for His creatures. And when we come to His House, trying to understand these deep spiritual needs... all the while He is supplying them, satisfying the hunger of the soul.

State Farm Expansion Wins Nod

A $128,000 expansion program for the Central Florida Experimental Farm, on Celery Avenue, including new buildings and land acquisition, has been approved by the State Board of Control, it was learned today.

In a lengthy report and survey by the seven scientists assigned to the experimental station (and fully reported in the agriculture-industry and county sections of today's Progress Edition), farm officials requested an appropriation of $282,180.

This request was directed to the experimental station's parent organization, the University of Florida, at Gainesville. The university pared the request to $128,000 and forwarded it in the school's overall budgetary request to the State Board of Control.

The budget request must now be approved by the State Cabinet and the 1965 Legislature.

The experimental station on Celery Avenue is divided into two sections, the "office" just off Maitland Avenue, at the base of Sanford Naval Academy, and the "farm," 1 1/2 miles further east on Celery.

The budget request, if approved by the State Cabinet and Legislature, will include $117,000 for a new office building and laboratories, $40,000 for new land for the cultivation and redevelopment, primarily of peaches and ornamentals, and $31,000 for a greenhouse and headhouse. (It was explained a "headhouse" is the supply or work shop for the bobhouse.)

TALLAHASSEE (UPI) — Gov. "A Woods Full of Question Marks." For those of us who do not understand the problems of the hard of hearing, this story will help answer the questions when it appears tonight on the Ben Casey television show.

A Clock Watcher who has a child with such a handicap let us know of this the other day. She said she has a child attending a special school in Orlando for the hard of hearing. Three other county children are also attending the school, she said, and the progress of her child is "remarkable."

Children actually having the difficulty will be used on the show, according to our informant.

To newcomers to Sanford for the Florida Conservation Week event: Welcome. We feel you'll find us a friendly bunch and hope you'll have a pleasant stay. Enjoy yourself, and if we can be of any help, let us know.

George Bell, president of the Westside Volunteer Fire Department, is urging all electors who are residents of Precinct 3 to vote favorably on Nov. 3 for the proposed fire district. "If it passes," says Bell, "the fire department will be reformed after the Lake Mary Actup."

A week more and all the electioneering bellyboo will be over. A week from tomorrow night and most of the nation will be going to bed late. The next morning some'll be richer; some'll be poorer; some'll be happier; some won't.

U.S. Flags flying at half staff reminds many of 11 months ago when they were displayed in the same manner. This time it's for former President Hoover; the last time was for one of the blackest days in American history: The assassination of President Kennedy.

The delivery of seedling plants to Seminole County's Forest Ranger Service office will begin Dec. 1, according to Farm Forester Terrell Davis. He said that slash, sand, loblolly and longleaf seedlings—one year old and about 18 inches in length—will be available at $4 per thousand plus 35 cents delivery charge.

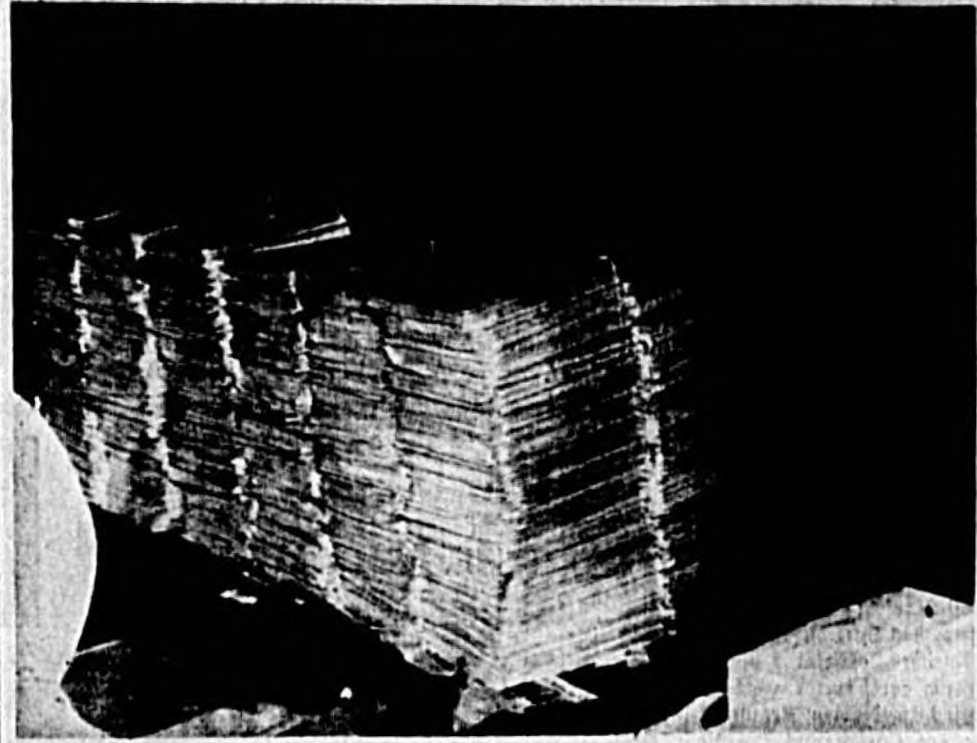

All of these will grow in Seminole but the sand and longleaf are best suited to dry, or sites while the slash and loblolly are more adaptable to water soils. The slash and loblolly are the principal trees in this county.

Davis will assist landowners in any technical problem concerning planting. His office is located in the Seminole Agricultural Center on U. S. 17-92. He is available each Tuesday. The seedlings — by the way — may be ordered through the Farm Forester or the County Ranger at Loogwood.

Fisherman Drowned In Lake Monroe

A Winter Park fisherman was drowned Saturday afternoon when the boat in which he and two others were riding capsized in choppy Lake Monroe.

Dead is O. C. Beacham, 61, of 330 West Comstock Avenue, Winter Park. The death was ruled by Coroner W. Hugh Duncan as accidental drowning.

Another fisherman, Wesley Glenn, was treated at Seminole Memorial Hospital for exposure. A third, James Goodman, was uninjured, according to Constable Bob Carroll.

Sheriff's deputies launched a rescue boat to save the men but they were picked up by civilians in the area. Reaching Goodman were Claude E. Isbell and Ray Gazel while Tom Wade saved Glenn.

According to Constable Carroll, the three had been fishing about 300 feet out in the lake when the wind churned the water into heavy waves, capsizing the boat.

Conservation Week Starts Here Today

Secretary of State Tom Adams was due in Sanford early this afternoon to launch the Florida Conservation Week activities as proclaimed by Gov. Farris Bryant.

Adams was the principal speaker for the opening festivities in the Civic Center. He was joined earlier at a Jim Spencer Restaurant luncheon by Miss Priscilla Schnarr of Hollywood, Miss Florida for 1964.

Miss Schnarr was listed as the official hostess for the day and she was on hand to greet visitors from throughout the state.

Florida Conservation Week is being sponsored jointly here by the Sanford Chamber of Commerce and the Florida Development Commission.

Sanford was selected as the pilot city for what is expected to be held annually in various cities throughout the state.

Exhibits are in place at the Lake Monroe Industrial Park and Civic Center and today's special program involves demonstrations of fire-fighting techniques and tree planting.

The demonstrations will be held at the park following Adams' speech in the Civic Center. After the talk, he is scheduled to present a number of conservation awards to top state officials.

Continuous movies will be shown at the Center after the formal program.

Special events are scheduled for each day with a host of speakers, exhibits, demonstrations and field trips planned.

Wednesday will see a number of speakers on the Civic Center program as they hold a seminar on conservation.

The weeklong program concludes Saturday with a Children's Day event at the Center.

Jury Selection Delays Start Of Citrus Trial

Whether or not a list of jurors was drawn according to law delayed opening arguments today in the Circuit Court trial of Ralph W. Alderman and Billy Lamar Hammond.

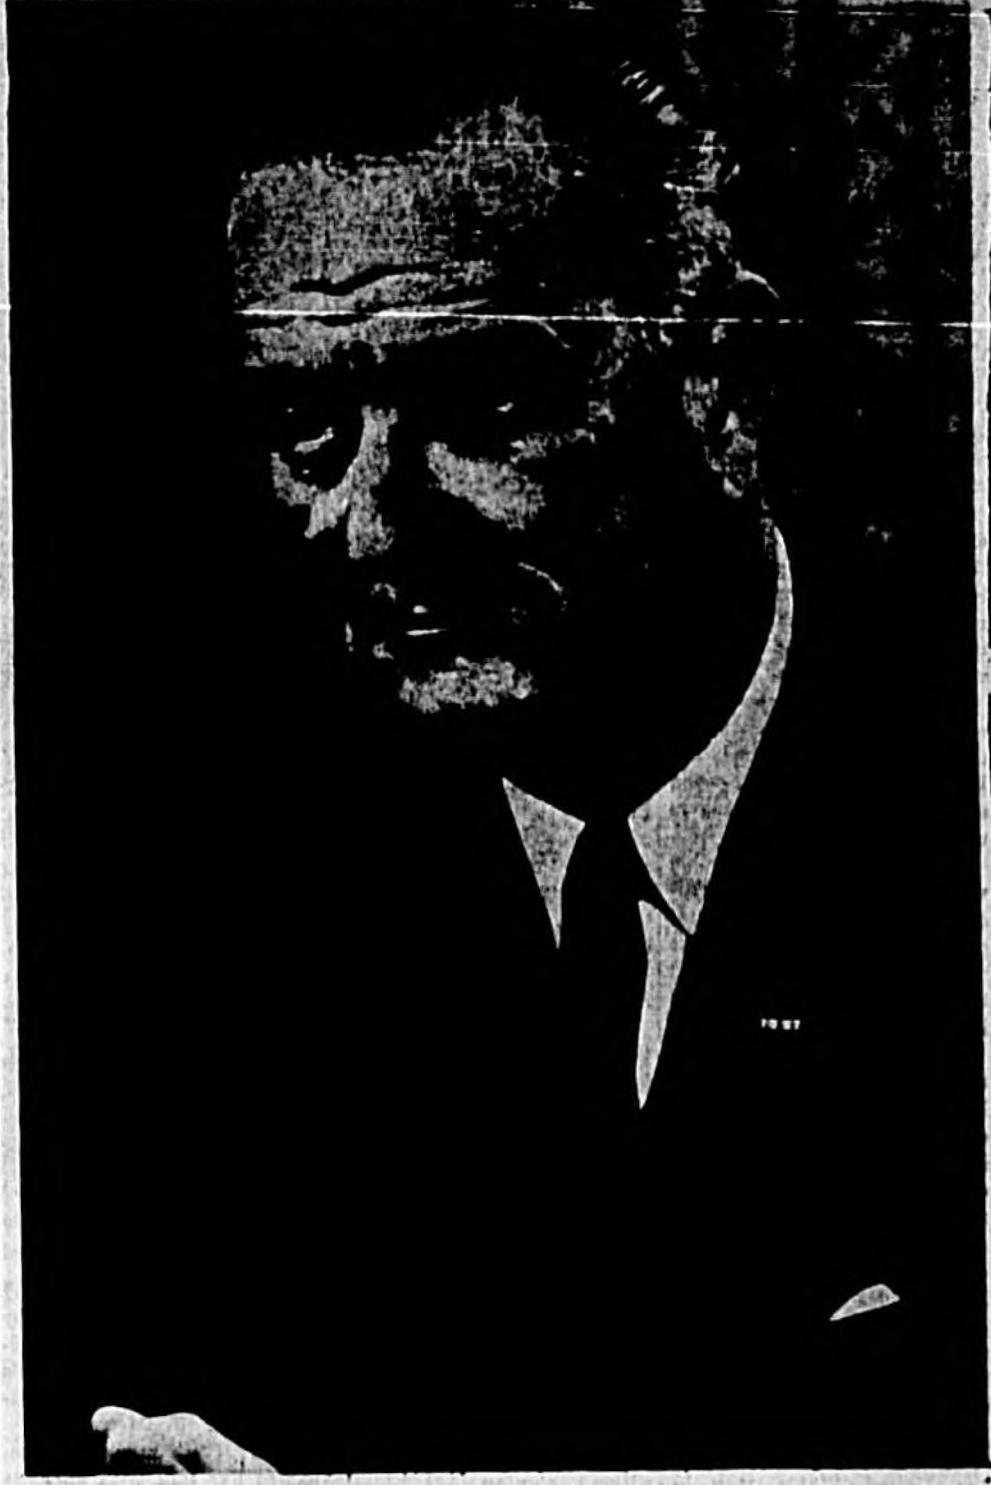

Alderman and Hammond are charged with grand larceny in connection with an alleged $200,000 swindle from Hi-Acres Concentrate, Inc. of Seminole County.

The delay came when Dominick J. Saffi and J. Russell Hornsby, Orlando attorneys who are representing Alderman, raised the question of proper juror selection procedure during a lengthy examination of County Clerk Arthur Beckwith who was on the witness stand.

During the questioning of Beckwith Judge Thomas A. Bensley of DeFuniak Springs, ordered recesses to permit Beckwith and his staff to check certain jury lists.

Alderman and Hammond face trial on seven counts of grand larceny.

Prosecuting the case for the State of Florida is State's Attorney A. L. "Mike" Steed of this circuit. He is being assisted by William D. Hopkins, a state's attorney from the second judicial circuit in Tallahassee.

. . . President Johnson Gets Rousing Welcome . . .

President Aims Remarks At Florida's Retirees

By Dottie Austin
City Editor

ORLANDO — Tens of thousands of Central Floridians jammed Colonial Plaza and the parade route today to see and touch President Lyndon B. Johnson.

The President obliged the screaming crowds by alternately walking and riding along the parade route, popping out of the car to shake hands with everyone he could reach. He smiled and greeted thousands.

Arriving at Colonial Plaza about 30 minutes late, President Johnson looking somewhat hot and fatigued, took an unprecedented pause before mounting the platform and disappeared into a trailer parked near the speaker's stand. He remained there about 10 minutes while the crowd waited impatiently and chanted "we want Johnson."

The tremendous pace of campaign is apparently wearing on the President as he pushes for next Tuesday's election victory.

Paraphrasing Goldwater's statement, Johnson said "In your consciences you know what is best for your country."

In contrast to Goldwater's charges about the moral decay of American people and the American way of life, Johnson said "You have the intelligence to determine that the man who answers the hotline must be a man of experience and responsible leadership."

Aiming his remarks at the Florida retirees, Johnson promises the Social Security program would be continued and said Social Security is not charity and not a hand-out, "It is insurance paid for by your hard labor."

"This prosperous nation has an obligation to the people who labored to build the country; for the veterans who fought in our wars," he said. He urged that older citizens be given a chance to contribute to the progress of the nation. "Let's not tear down all we have built up," he counseled.

Referring to the space center at Cape Kennedy, Johnson called Florida the space state and said the "space work you are doing in the State of Florida is essential to our survival. We cannot be second in space and first in the world."

Signs, placards, banners were seen from these counties: St. Lucie, Marion, Volusia, Seminole, Brevard, Hillsborough, Lee, Lake, Polk and Alachua.

The crowds began arriving at the Plaza and lining the route at 6 a.m.

Johnson was introduced by

Sen. Spessard Holland and after accepting the introduction, Johnson said, "I'm sure you are going to continue that fine old Florida habit of returning Sen. Spessard Holland to the Senate."

Present on the platform with the President, beside Holland and Sen. George A. Smathers, were Gov. Farris Bryant, Sen. Mack N. Cleveland and Rep. Joe Davis, Democratic gubernatorial candidate, Haydon Burns; Secretary of State Tom Adams, Mayor Robert S. Carr of Orlando, and a host of other Central Florida dignitaries and political figures.

Negro Magazine Endorses LBJ

CHICAGO (UPI) — Ebony magazine has endorsed President Lyndon B. Johnson for election.

Ebony, a national Negro monthly, said in its November issue that the presidential election involves not only civil rights but also federal aid to help Negroes "climb a little higher."
