

Bailey Says English Has Had Progressive Term In School Office

TALLAHASSEE, Dec. 1. (Special)—When State School Supt. Colin English turns over the reins of the State Department of Education on Jan. 4 "he will have completed a 12-year term noted for its great progress in education in Florida," Superintendent-elect Tom Bailey said today.

"Although many factors enter into the improved educational picture in Florida," Bailey said, "English should receive much of the credit for providing the necessary and spirited leadership."

"As Florida's state superintendent of public instruction since 1936 he has led the state school system through some of its most trying days. And from a system rated as one of the lowest in the nation, he has helped it grow into one of the best in the country," the superintendent-elect declared.

Bailey said Florida's system of public education is now the pattern for many other states and the state's reputation for an excellent education system is now nationwide.

In a summary of English's 12-year term as Florida's top school man the State Department of Education has listed four major gains made in the last 12 years. These are:

1. The quality of classroom instruction has improved. The state school department says the courses now offered Florida school children are more comprehensive and the teaching methods are better.

2. Better "supporting facilities" such as school buildings and training aids are in use in the schools. Expansion of the school bus, school lunch, and school building programs are named by the department as "great education gains."

3. Educational funds are more wisely spent, according to the school department. Money for education is spent where it will do the most good, they say.

4. The Minimum Foundation Program enacted into law by the 1947 legislature represents the greatest single gain in Florida education history, the school department declares.

The bill, based on the principle of "equal opportunities for all school children," raised the state's contribution to education from $18,000,000 a year to a top of $40,000,000 for 1947-48 and a top of $42,000,000 for 1948-49.

The department says all these resources of the State Department of Education were thrown into the Citizens Committee program. But, they point out, the greatest credit for the bill goes to the legislature, the civic groups and the newspapers of the state who joined in the fight.

In addition, the department reports, no major program of education presented in the last 12 years has been defeated.

And Florida now has two "firsts" in education. Florida's teacher salary average of $2,682 leads the south and ranks 18 in the nation, according to a survey made by the Missouri State Teachers association.

"Florida teachers, aided by the 'learn more-earn more' provisions of the new school bill, are now among the best trained in the south and in the nation," the department reports.

The Goodyear blimp "Mayflower" is scheduled to make an overnight stop at Sanford today. W. B. Ellerbe, of Rocky's Tire Shop announced this morning. The blimp is enroute from its home base at Akron, Ohio, to its Miami winter base. Plans call for the ship to make at the Sanford Municipal Airport where it will be available for public inspection after 3:00 P. M.

Berlin Attacks

Brasilia's latest procedure for establishing a general administration in the Soviet sector claiming jurisdiction over the entire city.

"The three Western Powers cannot agree that they should be bound to submit to all Soviet measures which add to and intensify the Soviet blockade or which interfere with the city administration while the Soviet remains uncommitted to any restraint," the note declared.

"The three governments therefore repeat the reservation of their right, declared to the Security Council when the Berlin question was submitted to that body, to take such measures as may be necessary to maintain in these circumstances their position in Berlin" pending the outcome of further efforts of the president of the Security Council.

The note gave no hint of what counter-action the Western Powers might take and delegation officials had no comment on possible steps.

In accepting the proposal to establish a committee of neutral experts to study Berlin currency and trade problems, the Western Powers made a further reservation.

Suchow's Capture Claimed By Reds, After Big Battle

City Was Nationalist Hub For Defense Of Nanking, Capital Of China's Government

WASHINGTON, Dec. 2, (AP)—Madame Chiang Kai-shek has asked for appointments with President Truman and Secretary of State Marshall to press for urgent American aid to the Chinese government in its fight against Chinese communists.

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 2, (AP)—The Chinese Communists today claimed the capture of Suchow, big Nationalist base 200 miles northwest of Nanking.

The Red radio, in a broadcast monitored by the Associated Press in San Francisco, said the city fell to its armies yesterday. There was no immediate denial.

(Pilots dropping rice to the isolated city reported in Shensi that the Red forces were within a mile of Suchow, abandonment of which was ordered by the Chinese government earlier in the week.)

TOKYO, Dec. 2, (AP)—A South Korean army of 100,000 men is present here—was recommended to allied headquarters today.

An immediate increase was urged by Col. M. Preston Goodfellow, unofficial representative of President Syngman Rhee of the South Korean Republic. Goodfellow said that in addition to the army of 60,000 South Korea has 30,000 armed police.

The army was organized and equipped by U.S. forces occupying South Korea. Russia has created a Korean army estimated at 200,000 in the north, and the Communist regime in the north has openly threatened destruction of the South Korean Republic.

Goodfellow, owner of the Pusan (Udahn) Tribune, served in 1945 as military attaché and political adviser to Lieut. General John R. Hodge, then U.S. occupation commander in Korea.

Don Lee Reid Takes Own Life In Ohio

TROY, O., Dec. 2, (AP)—Don Lee Reid, 28, who changed from a girl to a boy at the age of 18, shot and killed himself last night, corner Charles Kelfer reported.

Reid was convicted in April, 1947, of stabbing to death his father, John, 51, in a drunken argument.

In the trial he disclosed that he was reared as a girl until he began experiencing a physical transformation at the age of 18. Medical testimony substantiated his story.

BRITAIN'S FOG LIFTS

LONDON, Dec. 2, (AP)—One of the most persistent fogs in a generation lifted from Britain and most of Western Europe today.

For six days the choking murk had tied up British air and sea transport. From the Baltic to Portugal, air traffic had been fouled up since last weekend.

Flattening Out Of Prices Is Seen By ECA

Dr. Nourse Tells Truman Price Situation Appears To Be Getting Brighter In US

WASHINGTON, Dec. 2, (AP)—President Truman's Economic Advisory Council informed him today that there has been a "brightening" out of some prices.

"Dr. Edwin T. Nourse, chief of the council, called at the White House to give Mr. Truman a report on the group's studies."

Afterward, he told reporters he advised Mr. Truman that the price situation appears to be brightening.

"They type of thing seem to be jumping through the cracks."

The chairman of the council, Council Secretary E. M. Truman, to head a subcommittee on price control.

Nourse said the council's report on the price situation, which the president will receive next month.

Nourse came from Mr. Truman's office carrying a batch of charts and graphs on the price situation. He said he had gone over them with the president.

Nourse said the charts reveal a "surprising advance" in the price of wheat, but show "that has not moved down as much as some other prices."

As for clothing, he said there has been a "substantial gain" in the price of wool.

Law Enforcement Agencies Move In To Aid Factories

KALAMAZOO, Mich., Dec. 2, (AP)—Law enforcement agencies moved in force today in the protection of two struck factories in the Shokopee company.

Approximately 75 city and state police and sheriff's men flung a guard around the plants, but early yesterday by an organized band of 300 rioters.

Authorities said they were taking the step as a precaution despite the absence of any threat of renewed trouble since yesterday's dawn raid the scene had been relatively quiet.

In addition, the sale of liquor was banned by state order in this city of 60,000 people. This move is seldom made except in the case of an emergency.

ACCUSES HUNGARY

WASHINGTON, Dec. 2, (AP)—The United States officially accused the Hungarian Communist government of using false evidence as a basis for taking over $250,000,000 of American-owned oil properties in Hungary.

It accuses the Hungarian Reds of forcing false confessions from two American officials of the oil company to provide a propaganda basis for putting the properties under state control.

First Results Of Atom Energy For Farms May Be Ready In '49

By ROBERT E. GEIGER
WASHINGTON, Dec. 2, (AP)—The first major results of atomic energy experiments on farm products probably will be available to farmers in time for the 1949 growing season.

This was announced today at a meeting of 40 farm scientists, most of them from state agricultural colleges. They came here to prepare a 1949 farm research program using new atomic "tools."

Scientists have hinted farmers may expect new information concerning the use of phosphorus fertilizers. That's where atomic energy enters the picture.

Dangers Of Government Spending, Control Told At NAM Meeting

NEW YORK, Dec. 2, (AP)—The nation's industrial leaders warned today that government spending and control of economy may bring unemployment, insolvency, socialism and even destruction to the United States.

Two businessmen told the 53rd annual Congress of American Industry, sponsored by the National Association of Manufacturers, that what they feared federal interference in the national economy had left the country deep in political uncertainty.

At the same session of the NAM's first national assembly since the Democratic election victory last month, Rep. Brown (R-Ohio) limited that the Post Office Department is one of the chief targets of the bipartisan committee now studying government regulation.

The three-day NAM meeting will tomorrow night when Secretary of Commerce Sawyer will speak. Sawyer hinted in Washington that the steel he would speak for the industry in the House.

All-Time High Price Brought By Angus Steer

Wealthy Texas Hotel Man Pays $10.75 Per Pound For Bull

CHICAGO, Dec. 2, (AP)—The grand champion steer of the International Livestock Exposition was sold today for an all-time high price of $10.75 a pound. The highest previous price was $10.50 at the 1946 show.

The 1,900-pound steered, Aberdeen Angus, "Old Gold," which won the grand championship for C. E. Yoder and Sons, Muscatine, Ia., was bought by Glenn McCallister, president of the Shamrock Hotel, Houston, Tex.

McCallister, wealthy Texas businessman, said the steer will be served customers for the opening of the new hotel May 17.

Cattle buyers at the ring side said the steer had weighed such a long time before the auctioneer, Col. Roy Johnson, Bolton, Mo., started the sale with an initial bid of $1 a pound. It progressed slowly to $12 1/2 where it remained for some time while Johnson attempted to stir up greater interest.

After much coaxing, Johnson succeeded in getting a bid from McCallister. After a long time, Johnson placed a bid for $10.75 a pound, a price which was accepted by the buyer.

McCallister said the steer will be served customers for the opening of the new hotel May 17.

Labor Group To Seek $1 Wage Floor

Conference Votes To Try To Get Minimum Wage Set In Each Of 48 States

WASHINGTON, Dec. 2, (AP)—The labor department's conference on state labor legislation voted today to seek a $1-a-hour minimum wage floor in 48 states.

The 148 delegates representing unions and labor unions also voted to ask the states to help workers in setting living standards by setting a minimum wage floor.

The minimum wage proposal was included in a report submitted by a committee headed by John F. Dulley, secretary of the California Federation of Labor.

In addition, the conference voted to support a minimum wage floor of $1-a-hour in 48 states.

The delegates also asked for a minimum wage floor of $1-a-hour in 48 states.

Postmaster Joel Field Urges Early Mailing Of Cards, Packages

Postmaster Joel S. Field today appealed to local residents to plan to mail all Christmas greeting cards and gift packages "just as early in December as possible."

An even heavier flood of Yuletide mail is expected this Christmas than during the record-breaking 1947 holiday season, when the local post office cancelled 354,600 pieces of mail.

"If you postpone mailing to the last minute this year," the Postmaster warned, "you risk disappointing your friends. Your holiday messages and gifts may be caught in the rush and perhaps not delivered until after Christmas."

All packages should be mailed before Dec. 10 to assure delivery before Christmas Day, he said. Christmas cards for out-of-state delivery also should be mailed by Dec. 10 and cards for local delivery at least a week before Dec. 25.

Early Christmas mailing is extremely vital, the Postmaster said, because handling the Christmas mail load is divided into three phases. First, the mail for out-of-town must be collected and dispatched by rail and air. Then, delivery of Yuletide greetings being exchanged locally becomes the big job. Finally, there is the last-minute flood of cards and packages from out-of-town to be handled.

Berlin Overthrow Is Another Broken Agreement Of Reds

U. S. Sector Head Asserts He Doubts Wisdom Of Trying To Make New Pact

PARIS, Dec. 2, (AP)—The Security Council sidetracked today Israel's urgent request for immediate membership in the United Nations. The United States and Britain were in sharp conflict in the council before the issue was referred without a formal vote and without opposition to a membership committee.

By HAROLD CALLELY
BERLIN, Dec. 2, (AP)—The American sector commander in Berlin today said the Russians have broken security agreements he doubts the wisdom of trying to reach a new one in the German zone.

The statement of Col. Frank Howley was made at a news conference in which he called the Communists' set-up a Rump parliament in the Soviet sector.

Howley said the action was taken with full Russian accord and marked "just one more step in a long line of broken agreements."

The Colonel said that for two years the Russians systematically have broken all the solemn agreements made by the four occupation powers.

"It is only worth all the effort to try to get a new agreement with them," he said.

Questioning whether efforts to reach a new agreement to mediate the Berlin blockade crisis are "a waste of time," Howley said: "Discussions on the high level are never a waste of time. Daily we try to reach some agreement with the Russians. But any new pact must be from the man who imposed it."

Howley said the Russians created an artificial crisis in Berlin, that would be removed with one word from the man who imposed it.

Disclosure was made yesterday that state expenditures this year will exceed revenue by about $16,000,000.

5 Months Expenses Of U. S. Revealed

WASHINGTON, Dec. 2, (AP)—In the last five months, the government has spent $1,430,000,000 more than it has taken in.

The treasury said today expenditures, totaling $15,548,000,000, exceeded income by that much through November of this fiscal year which began July 1.

On the treasury's books, the deficit is recorded at only $285,880. This is because the figure leaves out $14,400,000 spent in the five months on the European Recovery Program.

Rumors On Mayfair Manager Are Denied

Rumors that a change is contemplated in the management of the Mayfair Inn have no foundation, and Lewis Day will remain in charge as manager, it was announced this morning by Charles Marston, agent of the hotel.

"It is the intention of the Florida Inn to make the Mayfair Inn an outstanding success, and to accomplish this, the continued cooperation of Sanford citizens is requested," he asserted.

"People from all over the country have made reservations to stay at the Mayfair from its opening through May, Mr. Marston revealed. A number of conventions have been booked.

"We want the people of Sanford to feel that this is their hotel as well as that of the guests and is available at any time for meetings, banquets, parties and dances," he announced.

Higher Postal Rates

The increased postage rates approved by Congress last summer will go into effect for most kinds of mail Jan. 1. Welcome exceptions will be regular first class letters and post cards, the rates for which will remain the same. Second class also will be unchanged, but that means little to the individual.

No doubt the application of these higher rates, with recollection of other increases since the days of the two-cent letter, will lead to discussions of the fact that the Post Office Department always seems to be losing money, for one immediate cause or another. This time the increased rates are to help meet the cost of higher pay for postal workers.

It would be wrong to conclude that red ink on the books is in itself an indication of poor management in the Post Office Department. There is at least one piece of poor business practice, but nobody in the Department can do anything about it. This is the free mailing privilege for government agencies and officials.

If postage were paid on all the great volumes of material mailed out by congressmen and government bureaus, the Post Office Department would show a tidy profit. Moreover, the volume of government mail might decrease if allowance for postage had to be provided in agency budgets and congressional pay.

Meaning In Names

The British Labor Party is by no means exclusively a party of labor. This conclusion is drawn by R. B. McCallum, an English professor, who has just published a study of the British election of 1945, which put Churchill and his party out and Labor in.

Surveying the occupations of the members of parliament he finds, it is true, that 156 workmen are among the Labor representatives, and none among the Conservatives. On the other hand Labor also has far more teachers and physicians. And while the Conservatives lead in the number of business men in Parliament, Labor has two thirds as many. The only groups in which the Conservatives have a strong lead are ex-army officers and persons living on their income but without special occupation. Even in these groups Labor is not without representation.

Probably the name has misled Americans, who forget that party names are often more traditional than accurately descriptive. One of the most important French parties is the Radical Socialist, whose members are neither radical nor socialist, but decidedly conservative. And our Republicans are not exclusively republican, any more than our Democrats are exclusively democratic.

More Clothes For Men

No husband has been willing to believe the Labor Department statement that in the average city household the husband spends more money on clothes than his wife. The cost of arraying him runs from $128 to $169 a year; she walks in beauty at a figure ranging between $11 and $139. Or so says the Department.

She buys a heavy wool coat every four years, and four dresses and three pairs of shoes a year. He gets one heavy wool suit every three years, and five shirts and two pairs of shoes a year. Nothing is said about hats.

Most people get the impression, which perhaps they are meant to get, that the lady of the house has lots of clothes. Probably that is because she makes changes in her garb more often, while the man is content to stick to a limited variety of daily appearance. Women, too, frisk up old dresses to look new. Men's suits are not so flexible.

Anyway, it may be time for women in general to be cleared of the charge of extravagance in clothing.

Postmaster Urges

 layed," the Postmaster declared. The post office is already making emergency preparations to meet the Christmas rush. The Postmaster said they are training extra mail clerks and carriers, oiling up the stamp-cancellation machines, and planning new service windows.

"We would appreciate it if people would stop in this week and purchase the extra stamps they're going to need," the Postmaster said. This is one phase of Christmas shopping that everyone can complete early and thus avoid the last-minute crowds at post office windows.

The Postmaster pointed out that parcel post packages cannot be accepted unless stoutly wrapped, and advised shoppers to lay in supplies of heavy cardboard, sturdy outer paper, heavy cord and printed Fourth-Class labels. Packages are limited to 70 pounds in weight, and must not measure more than 100 inches in length and girth combined. The address should be repeated inside the outer wrapping.

The Postmaster also suggested checking and revising Christmas card address lists this week. When the Christmas cards are purchased, they should be addressed and stamped at once and stacked in a convenient place for mailing at the proper time, thus preventing last-minute overights, he advised.

Santa And The Snow Man

By LUCRECE HUDGINS

Chapter I
 Once upon a time there lived a little boy named Danny. I guess he was the most lonesome boy in the whole world because—well, because of a lot of reasons.

For one thing, he had no home. And he had no friends, with him, or brothers or sisters.

But that wasn't the worst of it. No, the hardest thing of all was that he had a twisted leg.

His leg didn't hurt him, you understand, but because it was crooked he couldn't run like other boys and girls. He couldn't kick a football or skate or ride a bicycle or play tag.

The other children, not knowing how truly lonely he was, laughed at him and teased him and never even tried to be friends with him. So you can see he really didn't have a very happy time.

Well one night in the winter-time—in December, to be exact—there was a big, big snow storm. The next morning there was such a heap of snow on the ground that the schools didn't open. "Let the children play today," said the teachers. "After all, it isn't often we have so much snow."

So all the boys and girls got out their sleds and their skis and their snow shoes and spent a glorious day playing together in the snow. All except Danny who couldn't sled or ski or walk on snow shoes because the other children laughed at him and teased him away.

Most of the day he stood behind a birch tree and peeped at the others having fun. But along about mid-afternoon he got an idea.

"I can make a snow man!" he thought. "No one can stop me from doing that. I certainly don't need two good legs to do it."

He set to work right there. First he rolled a great round body. When it was good and solid and stood on top of the ground he made two fine feet and fitted them under the body.

He rolled two wonderfully round arms with perfect hands and joined them to the body. Then he made the head and set it carefully on top of the shoulders. He got some coal and rolled two tiny dots with these he made the nose and eyes and mouth.

Oh, it was a lovely face—fat and smiling with bulging cheeks and crooked lines all around the mouth.

"Gee," whispered Danny as he stood off and looked at his snow man. "You look real—like an honest-to-goodness real man!"

He was so pleased he wanted the other kids to see his snow man. They wouldn't believe he could make such a thing, he thought. They might even ask him to show them how to do it.

He started off to call the boys who were "skidding" on a nearby hill. But when the boys saw him they started throwing snow balls at him—hard ones, mixed with ice. Danny wasn't a coward but he had learned long ago it was pretty useless to fight a whole crowd of kids when one of your legs is crooked and no good to you at all.

So he ran back to his snow man and sat down on the ground with one arm around the snow man.

"Oh, I wish you really were real!" he said. "If you were I'd have one friend, anyway." Then he shut his eyes and he must have gone to sleep because he had a dream. Maybe it was his Imagination or maybe it was real. Just don't know. But, anyway, while he sat there with his eyes closed, the sun came out and shone in a steady beam on his snow man.

Suddenly, a lovely fairy, carrying an enormous package, slid down that sun beam and landed at the snow man's feet.

And the fairy said, "Danny, I am going to make your snow man real!"

Spending Dangers

 details of the anti-inflation program President Truman intends to lay before Congress in January.

Lane D. Webber, Los Angeles utility official, said at this morning's session that continued federal spending on the present scale, "not to mention proposed increases, will surely produce insolvency, destruction of private enterprise, confusion and insurrection—resulting in some form of socialism."

"If only the people could know our country is infested with sizable elements who strive to degrade us into socialism by government spending, taxation and inflation—the inseparable trinity of tragedy," said Webber, who is vice-president of the Southern California Edison Company.

Joseph Morrel Dodge of Detroit, former president of the American Bankers' Association, said that because of increased government control over the American economy, the country is plagued by a shortage of risk capital.

"During a time when the need for resources for investment to expand production has been greatest," Dodge said, "government has been using far too large a part of the total resources of the community for too long a time for its own purposes, and proposes to do even more."

Risk capital is lacking, Dodge said, because of a declining savings rate, an artificially low interest rate and the absence of new equity capital."

Asked whether the current situation added up to a more encouraging picture of the price situation, Nourse replied:

"I think so."

He added, in reply to another question that Mr. Truman "was very much gratified" by his report "because he is deeply concerned" by the price situation.

In fact, Nourse added, it is "his very first concern."

Nourse also said that if military spending in the next fiscal year should be pushed up beyond the proposed $15,000,000,000 that would increase inflationary pressure.

THE WORLD TODAY

By DEWITT MACKENZIE AP Foreign Affairs Analyst

We seem to have reached the climax of one of the great dramas of our time—the life-or-death stand by Chiang Kai-Shek before the gates of his capital in the path of the attacking Bolshevik armies.

The generalissimo's forces are heavily outnumbered—something like two to one—by the Chinese Communists, who are receiving material aid from Russia. Authoritative Chinese quarters say that the rebel ranks are swollen by Japanese prisoners of war and Mongolians provided by Moscow.

The capital city of Nanking, on the bank of the mighty Yangtze, is being shelled by the Communists. Government headquarters are to be moved further south, preparations to meet such an emergency are going forward. However, Nationalist forces are being deployed to meet the expected Red onslaught from the north.

Nanking authorities have been speaking of the recent fierce fighting in this theatre as decisive. One uses that term guardedly for it connotes a finality, but the battle could be decisive.

If so, it might mark the beginning of a new epoch in China's long history. It could spell the end of the present Nationalist regime and the inauguration of a Red government in Nanking. Certainly it doesn't call for any stretch of imagination to foresee control of North China by the Communists, with the Nationalists huddling on in the South by their teeth.

Should such a division of the country come about, we might well see the Communists renew their demand for a coalition government—Nationalist and Communist.

That is common Communist practice in all countries which they are in the process of trying to Sovietize. The coalition in the entering wedge which eventually gives the Reds complete control. We've seen that happen in numerous European countries.

Obviously any coalition with Communists is utterly folly. Communism not only has nothing in common with any other ism, but is out to destroy everything which clashes with Bolshevism. The Reds will participate in a government coalition—or a trade union coalition—only until they can wreck the organization and take over themselves.

As this great battle of Nanking boils up, Madame Chiang Kai-Shek is in Washington as the generalissimo's envoy extraordinary to ask for aid. Well, so far as the present offensive is concerned there would seem to be nothing America, or anybody else, could do in time. The battle is virtually joined already, Chiang will have to stand or fall by what he can muster from his present resources.

The generalissimo has a tough row to hoe. He is being heavily criticized for not reorganizing his government and inaugurating economic reforms as a prelude to dealing with the Reds. But nobody yet appears to have shown him how he can achieve a wholesale politico-economic reorganization while the war is going full blast.

Instructive Play Is Advised For Child

AP Newsfeatures
Playtime is growing time.
So says Dr. Helen C. Dawe, professor of home economics and director of the nursery school at the University of Wisconsin.
Writing in the National Parent-Teacher, Dr. Dawe points out that play is the ladder up which the child climbs to successful and satisfying adult life. It is the duty of parents to make sure the ladder is sound—to help junior choose play patterns that mean advancement, play materials that are truly creative, and play attitudes that make for friendliness, fairness and understanding.
"Play is actually necessary for a child if he is to grow whole-omely, not only in stature but in skills, in understanding, in ability to get along with other people and with himself," she says.
For example, not quite two-and-half Ricky is out in his back yard. Cautiously, step by step, he climbs up a wide board propped against a low packing box. He reaches the box and with a squeal of delight jumps to the ground. Twenty-three times, by actual count, he repeats his performance. "Repetitious? Simple? Yes. But he will be hungry for his lunch and ready for his nap. His family has wisely provided him with a simple toy suited to his needs. They have given him other equipment, too—a wagon, a swing, a ladder and some big blocks—that encourages him to practice using his whole body. "Ricky will learn many motor skills; he will be sure-footed and erect; he will move with precision and ease," Dr. Dawe says.
Then, there is Dora. The nursery school playground is filled with action and sound, yet Dora has no part in it. Though she will be four years old in a few weeks, she comes down the porch steps one foot at a time. She watches the children on the smallest teeter-otter but is afraid to join them. She won't play in the sandbox, and she certainly won't sail boats in the pool.
Circles of the Woman's Auxiliary of the Holy Cross Episcopal church will meet at 3:00 P.M. as follows: St. Agnes Chapter with Mrs. George D. Bishop, 1916 Hibbins Drive; St. Ann's Chapter with Mrs. H. H. Coleman, 461 Mellonville Avenue, Mrs. Joe Saunders as co-hostess; St. Catherine's Chapter with Mrs. St. Clair White, 2229 West First Street; Mrs. George Shipp as co-hostess; St. Mark's Chapter will meet at 8:00 P.M. with Mrs. Troy Ray at 610 Magnolia Avenue.
TUENSDAY
The Sanford Garden Club will sponsor its annual plant sale and bazaar at Deere's Store at Second Street and Magnolia Avenue. This will be an all-day event with displays being made up of plants, waxes and handicrafts.
The Daughters of Wesley Class of the First Methodist Church will have their annual Christmas party at the home of Mrs. Tom Sullivan, Cameron Avenue, at 8:00 P.M. Hostesses for the party will be Mrs. Sullivan, Mrs. O. R. Estridge, Mrs. R. G. Hickson, Mrs. Donald Dunn, Miss Vera Woodard, Miss Thelma Hammond and Mrs. Z. B. Ratliff.
The Fidelis Class of the First Baptist Church will meet at the home of Mrs. R. E. Elsberry in San Lanta at 8:00 P.M.

Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Hofmann left yesterday for Jacksonville where they plan to spend several days.
Mrs. M. A. Callaway left yesterday for visits in Alabama where she will visit relatives for some time.
Mr. H. M. Sweeney has returned to his home in Hamilton, Ont., after visiting for some time with his son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Sweeney at their home on West Sixteenth Street.
Mr. and Mrs. Tom Bolt, Mrs. Ruth Scott and Joe McCaslin plan to leave on Saturday for Bradenton where they will attend the marriage of Miss Catherine Laricy to Bruce Bolt of this city. They will be accompanied to Bradenton by Mr. Bolt where he will be joined by his brother Capt. Jack Bolt of Santa Ana, Calif., who will serve as his best man.
The big tub because she might splash her ruffly silk dress. Poor unhappy, timid Dora. She has been told time and time again by an anxious and ever watchful mother, "Be careful or you'll fall." "Look out; you might get hurt," and "Don't play there; you'll get dirty."
At the nursery school, Arthur shoves Ann and threatens to hit her "good and hard" if she doesn't give back his choon-choo. The teacher calmly watches and yet does nothing to interfere. Within two minutes Arthur and Ann are happily playing train again. Arthur has the choon-choo and Ann, despite her sex, seems to be chief construction worker on the new railroad track. The explanation is simple. At last Arthur is beginning to defend his rights. He needs to quibble sometimes in order to learn how to share.
Says Dr. Dawe: "Small children's squabbles are usually brief affairs, and if an adult steps in too often the children are not learning through their own experience but are merely subjected to adult dictation and control. To be sure, the adult does have to step in at times. But when small children have opportunities to play with others their own age, they teach each other how to share, how to follow, how to lead in an acceptable manner. Their play becomes education in growing up socially.
"By providing good play equipment, by respecting children's play, by understanding how it can contribute to their knowledge, their skills, and their social and emotional satisfactions, and above all by watching their play for clues to their needs, we can indeed we must—help every child to grow straight and strong in body and in mind," concludes Dr. Dawe.
There are few things children like better than parties, provided they are properly planned and executed. To help the parent who wants to run successful parties, Hart Publishing Company has just issued two inexpensive books ($1.50 each) called "A Treasury of Parties for Little Children, Age 3 to 6," and "A Treasury of Parties for Boys and Girls, age 7 to 12."

Woman's Club Holds Annual Shower Party

All departments of the Sanford Woman's Club joined in holding an annual Christmas party yesterday afternoon at the Woman's Club house. About 120 members were present and each member brought a gift or money which will be sent to the Children's Home in Jacksonville.
The meeting opened with a luncheon at 12:30 o'clock with hostesses being Mrs. H. B. Crumley, chairman, Mrs. H. A. Montleth, Mrs. H. W. Goodspeed, Mrs. S. C. Graham, Mrs. L. T. Doss, Mrs. Robert Cobb and Mrs. Robert H. Reely.
Decorations in the club house carried out a Christmas theme and were under the direction of Mrs. J. A. Young of the Civic Department. On the small tables were graceful arrangements of Brazilian pepper and aborigine. Baking the mallet wren red berries and figs which were used in large artistic arrangements at each side of the stage. The staircase was entwined with ligustrum and bright red poinsettias and on the stage was a lighted Christmas tree under which were placed the gifts contributed by the members.
The meeting was opened with the singing of Christmas carols led by Mrs. A. M. Phillips accompanied by Mrs. B. C. Moore. The meeting was presided over by the club president Mrs. Oscar M. Harris. Taking part in the operation were Mrs. P. J. Chasterton, Mrs. W. R. Warner and Mrs. H. J. Lehman and the Christmas Story from the Bible, Luke II, was read by Mrs. Francis E. Bolz.
Three new members were welcomed into the club and were Mrs. Roy Partin, Mrs. J. Chasterton and Mrs. Roy W. Hiscock. The group voted to purchase a bond for the Tuberculosis Association and to contribute to the Salvation Army.
At the conclusion of the business meeting the Christmas comedy entitled "What Will We Give Dad" was presented under the direction of Mrs. J. Brailey Odham, drama chairman of the Fine Arts Department. Those taking part were Mrs. Robert Hiscock, Mrs. J. Chasterton, Mrs. Bolz, Mrs. Clyde Ramsey, Mrs. William Stempier and Miss Carol Stone.
Following the play several progresses of bridge and games of Chinese checkers were enjoyed. In charge of the games was Mrs. C. J. Fisher, chairman, and assisting her were Mrs. J. Ross Adams and Mrs. W. B. Brinson. After the scores were tallied the high prize was awarded to Mrs. Charles Ward and other prizes were won by Mrs. Raymond Bass and Mrs. R. H. Davis. Floating hostesses for the party were Mrs. Edwin Shinholser, Mrs. D. B. Watkins, Mrs. J. W. Hall and Mrs. Ralph Austin Smith.
Sandwiches for parties may be frosted on the outside with mayonnaise or softened cream cheese. The filling for the loaves may be varied: egg salad for one layer, chopped ripe olives for another, and watercress and salad dressing for a third, for example.
In running a spatula around the edge of a cake to loosen it before turning it out on the pan, make sure that the spatula touches the bottom of the pan.

Hollywood

HOLLYWOOD, Dec. 2, 1948—Liza Minnelli, who tops before the camera in her film debut to day, has a better chance for success than most movie newcomers. Her Ma is named Judy Garland.
Liza is all of two and a half years old now, but don't expect her to become a film favorite quite yet.
"Let her be to be an actress if she wants to," explains her father, director Vincente Minnelli and mother both agree. They teach her every day to a play called "The Tender".
Liza began to get the acting bug when she watched her mother come off with a fancy costume. It broke her into the open when she watched her record some songs.
She is just through the first number. During the second, she began to squirm and when I finished she broke out a loud, long-sounding cackle. "A rendition of 'The Farmer in the Dell' she just looked, straight forward and kept singing.
The first opportunity for Liza came when MGM asked Judy of Liza could play a small part in "Anne Get Your Gun". Judy remembered that the daughters of

Students At U Of F Demand Renewal Of Wolf's Contact

Campus Leaders Circulate Petition; Gator Mentor To Be Presented Watch

GAINESVILLE, Dec. 2. (AP)—A student move to salvage the coaching job of Ray (Howe) Wolf was under way today at the University of Florida.

An open letter, addressed to "the Board of Control of the State of Florida" and a petition asking the mentor's retention as coach here, was being circulated on the campus.

This action followed quickly on the heels of a petition signed by 44 members of the varsity squad last night, requesting that Wolf's contract be renewed.

The mentor's three-year contract expires this year and rumors have run riot throughout the state that he would be replaced as coach.

Campus leaders, who got their move under way late last night, said they expected to have over 1,000 signatures on the petition before the day is over.

The drive, campus leaders said, will reach its climax this afternoon with a rally at which time Wolf will be presented a watch, bought by contributions from the students and inscribed "To Ray (Howe) Wolf, A Great Fellow - A Great Coach. From the University of Florida Students."

The presentation will be made by Glinton.

Today, as students entered their classrooms they found a huge "We Want Coach Wolf" inscribed across the blackboards. Also tacked to the board was one of the letters to the board of control and a petition ready for any signature missed in last night's effort.

The letter itself was written by a group of student leaders.

"Signed, 'the student body of the University of Florida (largest annual contributor to the University athletic fund)'. It was stated that the letter and the signature attached will be carried to Orlando and presented to Board Chairman Thomas Gurney tonight.

Commenting on the steady improvement of the Wolf coached teams, the letter said "this improvement and the financial interest greater improvement next year was done without the wholehearted support, financial or otherwise, of an alumni association which other great football teams in this country have found great essential to greatness."

"Pointing out the slow but steady awakening, the letter continued: 'Suddenly this year, an awakened alumni have begun to pay the foundations for the support that is obvious at other southeastern universities. The financial interest is beginning to wake up and realize that money to build a great football team is money back in advertising...'

"For the first time in years the state's high school coaches and alumni are actively working to send the state's finest high school athletes to Florida, and are suc-

BOSTON — Dr. J. H. Burnett has a prescription to reduce football injuries, put a doctor on the players' bench.

And then give the doctor the full say on who is fit to play, and who isn't.

For 24 years, Dr. Burnett has been giving support at high school games in Boston. In that time, there has never been a fatal injury. One boy suffered a broken neck, but recovered completely.

With the right safeguards, football is no more dangerous than many other sports, and the risks aren't greater than the hazards of accident in normal play, says Dr. Burnett, instructor in surgery at Boston University School of Medicine, and visiting surgeon at Boston City Hospital.

Every team should have a doctor attending its players, he declares. Preferably, the doctor should have played the game himself, or be a fan who knows it well. For years Dr. Burnett was an official in high school and college football games.

"No coach should ever be allowed to cover up an injury, or to let a player play when he is injured," he declares.

Another Burnett rule is to "take out of the game any boy who is limping. This is one of the best protections against knee injuries, and knees account for the high percentage of permanent injuries among athletes. If a boy hurts his knee or ankle slightly, he's more likely to suffer serious injury if he hangs it again soon."

Properly done, taping of the ankles is a good insurance against injury.

Players who are stunned or knocked out temporarily must be judged carefully before being permitted to continue playing, or to play again the same day, Dr. Burnett adds. He never tries to revive a player artificially.

A substitute is better for the team and its chances than an injured star," he insists, and the star doesn't risk serious harm by playing on when he's tired or slightly hurt.

Dr. Burnett approves the free substitution rule, particularly for high school football. But, as a fan, he objects to coaches' using it to send in messengers with signals for the next play. He'd like to see substitutes forbidden to speak to anyone but the referee until after one play, unless an entire team is substituted.

Players today get about as much protection as possible from shoulder pads and other aids. Dr. Burnett says. Broken collarbones were common 25 years ago. But now not more than three boys of 700 on his high school teams suffer broken collarbones or noses in an average year.

Any injured player is given immediate hospital and X-ray care as needed, and complete follow-up care. Good physiotherapy is a tremendous help in overcoming the effects of injuries, whether from football or a fall from a bicycle.

Dr. Burnett would like to see funds provided to athletic department budgets to pay for such care for injuries on school teams. Many families of injured boys couldn't afford the costs.

Sandlot or unorganized football, something else. Boys play with out good equipment, often with no supervision, on any kind of field, and may not be in the best physical condition. Injuries are far too common.

It may sound like heresy to some football fans, but Dr. Burnett sometimes calls off or postpones a game because of rain or mud.

"For high school players, it's only common sense," he explains. "The risk of injury on a wet field is too great. And there's no sense in making pneumonia or other diseases in boys who have to sit on the bench in a pouring rain."

"On a Sunday afternoon during the playing season, the Boston City Hospital accident floor is actually swamped with boys brought in either in ambulances or private cars.

Florida Gators Play Before 215,071 Fans

GAINESVILLE, Dec. 2. (Special)—Florida's Gators came through a five-win-five loss football season this year before the largest gross audience the Gators have played to in 41 years of football. A total of 215,071 people saw the Floridians in their ten games.

In six "home" scraps—four in Gainesville, one in Tampa and one in Jacksonville—Florida drew 123,071, while a total of 82,000 folks saw the Gators play at Georgia Tech, Furman, Kentucky and Alabama.

The largest single crowd, some 34,000, saw Georgia's 20-12 win in Jacksonville, while the smallest audience of about 6,000 witnessed Florida's 30 to 14 win over Furman in Greenville.

First three-goal hat trick of the U. S. Hockey League season was scored by Billy Warwick, right wing of the Ft. Worth Rangers, against Tulsa.

Joe Grzibowski, first-string entry for Syracuse University in No. 5' units on the varsity shell during the spring.

Only six scrubs are listed on the University of Alabama's 46-man football squad. Twenty-six are sophomores and 14 are juniors.

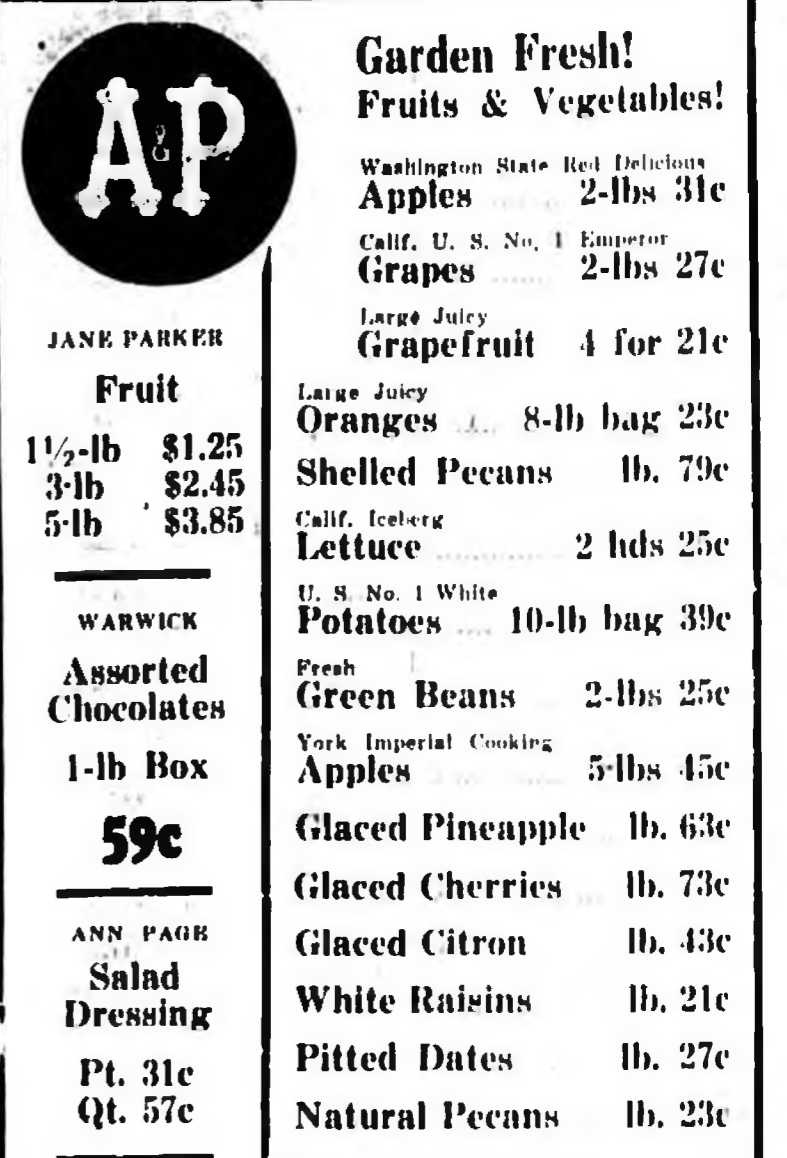

First team to win the World Series in four straight games was the Boston Braves of 1914.

Syracuse University's football squad lost only eight members by graduation for next season.

Chuck Hunsinger Is Not One To Rest On Laurels

GAINESVILLE, Dec. 2. (Special)—Charles Hunsinger, the Florida Five who played left half back for the Gators this season, is a guy who prefers not to rest on his laurels.

When told today that he was definitely chosen for the mythical All-Southeastern Conference team (Associated Press) prior to the Florida-Alabama game in Tusca- loosa last Saturday, Hunsinger merely said:

"Well, I'm glad I was able to live up to the honor in the last game."

In "living up to the honor," Hunsinger scored three of Florida's four touchdowns in a 26-21 loss to the Crimson Tide. He registered his first on a 77 yard run from scrimmage, the second on a five yard pass from Doug Belden, and the third on a 30 yard kickoff return.

The six teams in the National Hockey League will play 60 games apiece during the 1948-49 season.

Tulane and South Carolina have met twice on the gridiron in 1932 and 1948—and the Tulane squad has won both contests.

George Tucker Writes Few Words In Defense Of Man's Best Friend

By GEORGE TUCKER

NEW YORK. (AP)—There are those who say dogs came to their present position in society through hand-licking and flattery. This is a wicked lie. The literature of dogs is loaded with actions of courage and loyalty, and history proves them closer to man than any other animal.

Dogs give him companionship and devotion. They wear their hearts in their eyes. They accept constant neglect without recrimination. I wish I could explain how dogs got that way.

Once I knew a red terrier who followed his master into suicide. He jumped off a building. There was a setter whose heart broke, and he died, when the man who owned him never came home from a duck hunt. Ever hear of a cow grieving to death?

Five years ago in Sicily a dog named Chips, a mongrel in the Army's K-9 corps, won a Silver Star by capturing an enemy machinegun nest. He leaped for the gunner's throat, and the gunner, suddenly very white, threw down his gun and surrendered. Three others threw up their hands. A general recommended Chips for the Distinguished Service Cross.

After that, the War Department said medals couldn't be given to dogs. But Chips got his. They riveted it to his collar. Later, when eight other K-9s were killed in the southwest Pacific, the Army posthumously awarded them certificates for outstanding performance of duty.

There are dogs like Chips everywhere, and like the red terrier who committed suicide, and the setter who died of a broken heart. Their lives are a running story in the daily newspapers. Having risen from the status of a beast of the field, without any rights, dogs now legally partake of many of the rights of humans. They can be brought into some courts and tried as criminals, as in the recent case of a dog named "Scout" who was tried, convicted and executed for biting people.

It was the British who gave first recognition to dogs as personal property.

In a moving commentary, Blackstone, patron saint of law students, found:

"As to those animals which do not serve for food, and which therefore the law holds to have no intrinsic value, as dogs of all sorts, and other creatures kept for whim or pleasure . . . very high pecuniary penalties of a long imprisonment and whipping . . . may be inflicted by two justices of the peace on such as steal, or knowingly harbor a stolen dog, or have in their custody the skin of a dog that has been stolen."

There are no federal laws affecting dogs in the United States, but most states have passed specific laws for their protection. Mistreatment of dogs everywhere is punishable by imprisonment and fine. Only recently a man in New York was sent to jail for 150 days for torturing a dog. The supreme court of Georgia has noted:

"The dog has figured very extensively in the past and present. In mythology, as Cerberus, he was entrusted with watching the gates of hell, and he seems to have performed his duties so well that there were but few escapes. In the history of the past, he was used extensively for hunting purposes, as the guardians of persons and property, and as a pet and companion . . . sometimes he is greatly praised, and at others greatly abused . . . few men have reserved, and few men won, higher praise in an epitaph than the following, which was written by Lord Byron in regard to his dead Newfoundland:

"Near this spot are deposited the remains of one who possessed beauty without vanity, strength without violence, courage without ferocity, and all the virtues of man without his vices. This praise, which would be unmeaning flattery if inscribed over human ashes, is but a just tribute to the memory of Boatswain, a dog born at New-

White House Puts Lid On Budget Talk

Truman Sends Out Instructions To Armed Forces To Use Caution On Information

WASHINGTON, Dec. 3. (AP)—President Truman has ordered all government departments and agencies to "exercise extreme caution" in discussion of next year's military budget.

The White House said today that Mr. Truman sent out instructions to that effect in a letter dated Nov. 30. The action was said to be aimed at preventing budget information from leaking out prematurely.

The presidential order was described as "not a gag" on the departments and agencies. The White House called the action routine.

The White House move came in the wake of publication of views of the separate armed services on the effect of the proposed $15,000,000,000 ceiling for the military budget.

Mr. Truman said in his letter that the purpose is to "prevent any premature announcements." He then called on department and agency heads to "exercise extreme caution" in discussion of the budget.

The president was described as anxious to prevent budget information from coming out piecemeal.

As a result of the presidential letter, the Armed Forces have ordered all personnel to stop talking about the effect on the military of the proposed budget for the fiscal year beginning next July 1.

Mr. Truman's action was disclosed through a statement issued by the Air Force which said:

"The Air Force is circulating to all Air Force personnel the letter from President Truman which directed that extreme caution be exercised in statements on items which may be included in the budget and legislative programs."

"It was further stated that similar instructions to personnel under them."

Meanwhile, President Truman is going to make no change in his (Continued on Page Six)

Arab Nations, Joined In War With Israel, Nervously Eye Each Other

By ASSOCIATED PRESS
Arab nations, joined in a war against Israel, are casting nervous glances today—at each other.

Syria is in a state of turmoil and under virtual martial law. Lebanon seems highly nervous about the events in Syria spreading to that neighbor nation. Syria, Lebanon and Egypt view apprehensively the ambitions of Abdullah of Trans-Jordan to take over Palestine for himself.

Abdullah, the warrior monarch of the state created by Britain, serenely awaits developments. The example his Arab Legion set by putting up the real fight in Palestine has infected dissident elements in the other Arab states with a high state of restlessness. These elements are demanding now that either the war be prosecuted to the fullest or that peace be made.

About 10 persons have been killed and scores have been injured in Syrian cities this week in riotous public clashes with the army. The demonstrators were angry at the monotonous succession of Arab defeats in the war with Israel.

Premier Jamiul Mardam Bey's government fell, and the crisis deepened as none of Syria's political forces seemed big enough to take over and soothe the dissident elements.

The army in Syria has taken over, imposed a curfew and forbidden public assemblies. Apparently this means martial law for the Syrians.

Events in the Middle East are clouded by censorship, but apparently they are heading for a climax.

Abdullah's Hashimite ambitions are well known. The Hashimite family rules Iraq and Trans-Jordan. The dream is of a greater Syria, and Abdullah pictures himself on the throne of such a state.

Obviously Syrian leaders would view this sort of ambition with a little nervousness and suspicion.

Abdullah now may be ready to take a long step toward realization of his dream. He has called general Palestine Congress a group of Palestine Arabs has asked him to make himself king of the Holy Land. Sheik Mohamed Ali Jabari, the head of this group, said today the decision may come within a week. The decision probably will be favorable to the idea (Continued on Page Six)

Coroners Probe 'Gang' Death Of Belle Glade Man

BELLE GLADE, Dec. 3. (AP)—A coroner's jury probing the death of Robert H. Bacon, 37, small loan man here, adjourned while officers investigated reports today that he might have fallen under a gangland gun.

Sheriff John Kirk asked a bank at Pahokee and another at Mobile, Ala., to examine Bacon's accounts to throw some light on his tangled financial affairs.

The sheriff, at West Palm Beach, reported he and his deputies were probing testimony given before the coroner's jury declaring that Bacon had been threatened by a gambling group with headquarters in Miami unless he paid $10,000 owed it.

Mrs. Wendell Harris, a friend of the dead man, testified before Justice of the Peace George Tedder and the six-man jury that Bacon went to Jacksonville six weeks ago to borrow $45,000 from the gamblers. Bacon was sent to Philadelphia, where he got $35,000, and the balance was to be forwarded by the Miami headquarters, she said.

Mrs. Harris said Bacon was recruited from Philadelphia to Jacksonville with the $35,000, then went on alone. At Stuart a stranger car sidetracked him, and at 20-mile bend on the road to Pahokee the same or a similar car pulled alongside Bacon's vehicle and three bullets (Continued on Page Two)

New Rule Set For Lobbyists In Legislature

Proxy Voting Will Be Restricted In Next State Session; Committees Reduced

MIAMI BEACH, Dec. 3. (AP)—Lobbyists and proxy voting will be restricted in the 1949 Legislature. Rules for the new House of Representatives adopted at the caucus of Legislature today provided:

That lobbyists register themselves and their employers, and registered lobbyists be denied the right to testify before legislative committees.

That proxy voting in committees be restricted to named proxies.

That the number of House committees be reduced from 55 to between 22 and 30.

That the authority of the chief clerk be increased.

Members adopted the rules in 15 minutes with the longest discussion over an amendment offered by Rep. Mabry Carlton of Jacksonville. Carlton would deny newspaper and radio correspondents the right to the House floor during election voting on bills. He said he had heard rumors that some newspapers had lobbied while bills were being voted upon, and his amendment would dispel the rumors.

Rep. Jerry Collins moved that Carlton's amendment be tabled. The motion carried, with Carlton casting the lone vote against it.

Speaker-designate Perry W. Moore, of Frostproof, asked for rules. "I can proceed to make preparations to organize," he declared.

Capt. James E. Dunn of the Orlando Air Base outlined the organization of the government's defense program at the luncheon of the Seminole County Junior Chamber of Commerce at Tootie's cafe.

One of the chief problems, the unified defense command to stay abreast of the times, as well as by other nations in planning war.

Talmadge said he would forward documents presented by Goldwasser to the sheriff of Toombs County, R. F. Gray, and the solicitor general.

Talmadge told Goldwasser: "If this had happened in your home town of Cleveland it would have been forgotten in a day. It is unfortunate that it happened in Georgia and has been relied upon by hostile press in its campaign to destroy state rights not only in Georgia but in all of the forty-eight states, through the civil rights program."

Mallard was slain from ambush near Lyons, Ga., Nov. 30. The governor greeted the press at his regular conference with the question "where's the gentleman from Ohio?" Goldwasser stepped forward and the two held a private conference.

The governor promised full cooperation in every respect.

Morrison Is Elected Mayor Of Altamonte

ALTAMONTE SPRINGS, Dec. 3. (Special)—J. D. Morrison, railway express agent and retired Navy man, defeated E. E. Brown, contractor, in the election for Mayor here yesterday. Morrison received 127 votes and Brown, 28.

The latter had served as acting Mayor following the resignation of J. E. Matthews a few weeks ago. Morrison will take office at the next council meeting.

STATUE TO SAIL
ROME, Dec. 3.—(AP)—A Michelangelo statue of David will sail aboard the U.S. Cruiser Grand Canyon next Friday, from Naples on its first trip outside Italy. It will be shown temporarily at the National Art Gallery in Washington.

The statue is not the great 18-foot masterpiece completed by Michelangelo in 1503, as an Italian Foreign Ministry spokesman first announced. It is the smaller work, not quite life size, made by Michelangelo for his own tomb.

Mme. Chiang Visits Marshall To Discuss Aid For China; Reds Try To Scare Berlin

Soviets Say, Without Foundation, U. S. May Withdraw Men From Blocked City

BERLIN, Dec. 3. (AP)—Communists launched a 40-minute campaign today to try to keep Red forces from voting Sunday.

Their newspapers excited, without foundation, that the U. S. might withdraw from Berlin by spring and that Washington might recall General Louis D. Clay, the U. S. military governor.

The Russians seized a Communist Party government as the only legal regime for Berlin and pledged full support. The regime was formed by the Communists, assisted by a number of Western and city officials, and are trying to get Germans to boycott the voting.

The U. S. remained without tribute to the puppet regime in the blocked city since the Communists pulled out their troops from the city in 1948.

Russian agents of the Communist regime, they shifted surprised moves.

These steps in the Russian bid for control of Berlin were announced by the Soviet-sponsored ADN news agency last night.

The news agency said it was reported by Communist agents that the Soviet government had approved a communist plan of officers to take over the city of Berlin.

The communists will meet at a building only 200 yards from the radio-controlled radio station, which the Russians have maintained on an island inside Berlin territory since the joint occupation began in 1945.

From the Berlin radio station, Communist propaganda was broadcast to the Western Forces and Communist Germany. Soviet army gunners stand guard in the territory.

Meanwhile in Moscow, the Russian Navy's newspaper, Red Star, described the Japanese naval base at Yokosuka as a "hazardous danger" to the peace of Asia.

Erasmus, in the signed editorial, asserted the base is being rebuilt and modernized for general use by the U. S. Navy.

The editorial alleged that U. S. occupation authorities are encouraging "reconstruction" of Japanese militarism and plan to use the (Continued on Page Six)

Maritime Strike On West Coast Officially Ends

PORTLAND, Ore., Dec. 3. (AP)—The West Coast maritime strike officially ended today, as longshoremen and stevedores returned to work.

The longshoremen's union and the International Longshoremen's Association agreed to a three-year contract.

A labor official said that the longshoremen's union and the International Longshoremen's Association agreed to a three-year contract.

The new contract will provide for a 10% increase in wages and a reduction in the work week to 40 hours.

The contract also provides for a new grievance procedure and a new arbitration board.
