'Alas, Babylon', On Soap Opera Level

By FRED DANZIG

NEW YORK (UPI)—Having trouble with your marriage? According to Sunday night's "Playhouse 90," translation of "Alas, Babylon," if all-out thermonuclear warfare ever comes, true love will bloom again under that mushroom cloud.

While Pat Frank's novel was basically concerned with showing how the people of Fort Repose, Fla., staggered to their feet after being clobbered by nuclear warfare, the CBS-TV production concerned itself with reconciling an estranged couple, played by Don Murray and Barbara Rush. The holocaust of war was almost eluded.

The editorial sieve through which adapter David Shaw sifted Pat Frank's novel managed to grab all the stereotyped, sharp-edged blocks of action and emotion in the book and reject all the subtleties. Shaw's rewrite also sprinkled the proceeding with vid-squinted fallout in the form of pompous, obvious dialogue which served to magnify the artificiality of his characters and the sketchiness of their general behavior under stress conditions.

The TV play's affirmation of mankind's destructibility was on the soap-opera level. Readers of the novel will understand that.

The very subject of Frank's book cries out for the memorabilia, moving TV scenes. The CBS-TV production had them, but they were at a minimum. One scene that had some impact showed Murray being rocked out of bed by a distant bomb blast and then, with a small family about him, watching from a patio as a fireball blossomed on the horizon. The big vivid scene depicted a riot in a supermarket with general-looking hysteria.

But it was in effectively capturing how the people of Fort Repose, Fla., staggered to their feet after being clobbered by nuclear warfare, the CBS-TV production concerned itself with reconciling an estranged couple, played by Don Murray and Barbara Rush. The holocaust of war was almost eluded.

that TV will rarely see her.

The Channel 52 artist replacing "Troublemakers" on NBC-TV starting Friday, June 11 is a new audience-participation show, "Head of the Class," with Gene Rayburn as emcee.

The full-hour detective-mystery series that replaces "The Garry Moore Show" on CBS-TV starting Tuesday, July 5, will be called, "Diagnosis: Homicide." No emcee as yet. The series will be taped "On Location" in New York, with Bob Banner as producer.

If present plans work out, composer Gian-Carlo Menotti will have a new opera debut over CBS-TV on Easter Sunday, 1961. CBS-TV also is in the process of deciding whether to commission a Jerome Robbins-Leonard Bernstein ballet version of the folk story, "The Dybbuk."

"Children are People" described by NBC-TV as "the first major network show presented entirely with children under 12," will star Jay North, Jerry Mathers and Angela Cartwright on Easter Sunday.

It seemed to me that Miss Grimes and Albert were putting out some wonderful songs in a classy, tasteful and simple production. Miss Grimes, with the voice of melted custard and the hairdo to match, is a completely captivating performer. She's TV's brightest star right now and I suppose she'll soon be so busy

'Men Into Space' Star Avoids Youth

RADNOR, Pa. — Since he took the role of an astronaut on "Men Into Space," William Lundigan has had good reason to avoid youngsters.

As TV's Col. Edward McCauley, Lundigan manages to reflect the proper anxiety when pressure drops on the hydrastina tanks or moonquakes cut off communications, although he admits he doesn't know a logarithm from a rocket sled. But when he meets a pack of hero-worshipping youngsters, Lundigan in "old TV Guide" magazine, he's in real trouble. "I can't answer the questions they ask," says Lundigan. "I excuse myself and pretend to answer the phone. Or else I wind up asking the questions. And sure enough, the boys know the answers."

Gonsavles Top Choice In Bout

OAKLAND, Calif. (UPI) — Veteran Johnny Gonsavles, a new light gleaming in his eye under the influence of hypnosis, is a 7-5 favorite to whip Young Bobby Scanlon in their scheduled 10-round battle at the Auditorium tonight.

The two lightweights, fighting for a spot in the national rankings, go into the battle with a "win or else" edict ringing in their ears.

Savings in the 107 associations of the Florida Savings and Loan League now amount to $2,445,480,000. November savings increased by over $38 million during November to set a new record for that month.

Flood Dangers Spread To Northeastern Areas

By United Press International
The rising Mississippi and Missouri rivers threatened more devastation in Illinois and Missouri today and hundreds of New York and Connecticut residents fled their homes before one of the Northeast's worst floods since the 1930's.

The Mississippi River rose to new crests in hard-hit western Illinois, but observers doubted that any more levees would be broken. Army engineers said the river would crest at 24.3 feet today at Quincy, Ill., and 23.4 feet Thursday at Hannibal, Mo., birthplace of Mark Twain.

But the runoff from two earlier levee breaks near Quincy was expected to raise the pressure on other sudden flows along the angry river.

Work on the levees went on through the night from Quincy to Louisiana, Mo., in an effort to shore up the dams before the new crests strike.

National Guard and volunteer rescue workers raced from crisis to crisis along the Missouri River as the Big Muddy cracked dozens of small dikes and flowed over hundreds of acres of Missouri bottomland.

The Missouri flowed a mile wide between Glasgow, Mo., and the state capital at Jefferson City, carrying green winter wheat and freshly plowed loam soil with it as it headed toward its confluence with the Mississippi near St. Louis.

Officials said river towns were well protected, but feared that thousands more acres of rich river bottomland would wash away before one of the worst midwestern floods subsided.

Meanwhile, Connecticut and upstate New York residents faced the worst flood since the hurricane Diane deluge in 1955, and their second worst in 22 years.

Emergency crews threw up a sandbag barrier along the rapidly rising Connecticut River, but other swollen streams flowed over their banks to black roads and inundate thousands of farm acres.

Nearly 600 persons left their homes in the face of flooding today as the water crested in the Connecticut, the Mohawk, the Hudson and dozens of tributaries.

At least 200,000 acres of Illinois and Missouri farmland were under water and the figure mounted hourly as new breakthroughs were reported in small, badly weakened dikes.

News Briefs

Folk Festival May 6

WHITE SPRINGS (UPI) — The eighth annual Florida Folk Festival will be held at the Stephen Foster Memorial here May 6, it was announced today.

$2 Million On Hand

TALLAHASSEE (UPI) — Brewery Director L. Grant Peoples said today cigar tax collections for the month of February amounted to $2,640,197. He said that amount $984,822 will go to the state general revenue fund, and the rest, $1,655,375, will be distributed to incorporated communities.

Seminole Get Land

TALLAHASSEE (UPI) — A land grant to the Seminole Indians, the war against the fire ant, and pay raise policy for state employees were among items concerning the State Cabinet Tuesday. The cabinet set aside 141,000 acres of Everglades for Seminole use. The cabinet board of commissioners of state institutions will administer the tract.

Mayo In Hospital

OCALA (UPI) — Agricultural Commissioner Nalvan Mayo, hospitalized Monday night for bronchial trouble, is expected to be discharged here under care for four or five more days. It was the third time in recent weeks that Mayo, 53, has had to enter a hospital for bronchial treatment. He was listed in satisfactory condition Tuesday.

Milk Hearing Set

TALLAHASSEE (UPI) — The Florida Milk Commission today set a public hearing here for April 26 to investigate milk problems in marketing areas under the commission's control. Administrator Howard Walton said items for discussion would include assignment of producers to distributors, and whether the distributors could be forced to take the milk of producers so assigned.

Qualifying Open For Judge Post

The secretary of state has opened qualifying for the position of county judge until noon Tuesday, a telegram to Circuit Court Clerk David Gatchel said today.

Any candidates for the office left vacant by the death of Judge Wilson Alexander will not begin until 11 a. m. Bandmaster Ernest Cowley announced today.

The concert at Ft. Mellon Park was originally scheduled for 7:30 p. m., but many of the band members have Wednesday night church obligations so the performance has been set back 45 minutes, he said.

First Atom Bomb Blamed In Death

HIROSHIMA, Japan (UPI) — A high school girl, Hiroko Kajiyama, died Tuesday of leukemia which doctors said was caused by the atomic bomb dropped on this city 15 years ago.

Miss Kajiyama was 30 months old when the bomb was dropped. Her parents said she appeared to be in good health until she complained of a dizzy spell last month.

Snark Is Fired

CAPE CANAVERAL (UPI) — A snark guided missile with a dummy warhead was fired on an intercontinental range flight down the Atlantic missile range today.

Residents Offer To Pay For Drainage Project

Representatives of property owners in the Crystal Lake Chain area today offered to raise approximately $9,000 to build a 1,500-foot pipe line from Lake DeForest through Country Club Road into the Smith Canal to prevent future flooding in that area.

The property owners presented their proposal to three members of the County Commission.

Commission Chairman John Krider said he would call a special meeting of the whole board for 10 a. m. Thursday to vote on the proposal or offer "a counter-proposal."

Krider explained that he felt that the cost of the project would be more than the $9,000 figure. Representatives of the area at the meeting voiced the opinion that a special tax district would just mean resentment among many property owners in that area and would take too long a time to establish.

"We need immediate relief," one property owner said.

County Engineer Robert Davis said that if the county did the work it would take from 30 to 60 days to complete.

Krider said "we have levied a road millage and are using too much of that money for drainage and not building roads."

The Crystal Lake Chain area includes Loch Arber, Lake Mary and Lake Emma.

J. O. Gregory, spokesman for the group, said that a definite health hazard is involved. He explained that approximately 50 percent of the homes in Loch Arber are having septic tank trouble.

Krider said he realized the group has problems but said these problems exist throughout the county.

The group heard engineer William Laffer explain the complete improvement program which would cost $45,000 and would include laying pipe on Vihlen Road and purchasing needed easements and manholes.

The group agreed that they could not possibly raise that much money and Krider said there is no money in the budget for such a large program at this time.

Another solution was offered by Davis - building a dike west of the concrete bridge near the Lake Mary Road. However, the group turned thumbs down on this plan as a temporary relief measure because it would affect property owners on the other side of Lake Mary.

Kennedy Wins Primary

MILWAUKEE, Wis. (UPI) — Sen. John F. Kennedy rode a tide of big city votes to victory in Wisconsin's weathered primary election.

The Massachusetts senator gained momentum in his drive for the Democratic presidential nomination by capturing six out of 10 congressional districts, a big majority of the state's convention delegates and a fat plurality of a record popular vote.

Kennedy's edge in Tuesday's popular vote was about 100,000 over Sen. Hubert Humphrey. He took about 59 percent of the total vote cast, while Humphrey got an estimated 31 and Vice President Richard M. Nixon, 30. Nixon was the only Republican candidate.

The part Wisconsin's large Catholic population played in Kennedy's victory is likely never to be known for certain. The Catholic vote was heavy for Kennedy but wasn't the sole reason for his victory over Humphrey, a Protestant.

Humphrey won early strength from rural areas as the vote count began. But Kennedy forged into the lead on the strength of big majorities in the larger cities, including Milwaukee and Kenosha. With 3,000 of Wisconsin's 5,400 precincts tallied Kennedy had 463,963 votes, Humphrey 392,000 and Nixon 398,420.

Equally as important as the popularity contest was the race for Wisconsin's 31 convention delegates. Kennedy won 20 delegate votes and Humphrey 10.

One vote was assigned to the state's Democratic national committee and committeewoman. It was split between Kennedy and Humphrey. So the final score was: Kennedy, 294; Humphrey 104.

Judge Alexander Funeral Services To Be Thursday

Funeral services for Judge Wilson Alexander Jr. will be held at 11 a. m. Thursday at Brison Funeral Home.

Members of the Seminole County Bar Assn. have been asked to serve as honorary pallbearers. The body will be taken to Danville, Ky. for burial.

Judge Alexander, who died Monday, was a native of Sanford, Ky., and moved to Fern Park in 1930. Before his appointment as county judge and reelection, he served as city attorney for Altamonte Springs. He graduated from the University of Miami in law after attending Centre College and the University of Kentucky. He was a veteran of World War II and served overseas in the Air Force.

A member of the Prairie Lake VFW and American Legion posts, was a director of the Seminole County Chamber of Commerce and a member of the Casselberry Lions Club and the Sportmen's Assn.

Judge Alexander helped organize the Seminole Juvenile Assn., Inc., and served with mental health and other civic groups. He also was county juvenile judge.

Survivors include his wife, Mrs. Vivian B. Alexander, a son, Peter Michael, and daughter, Mrs. Dana Lee Johnson, all of Altamonte Springs; his mother, Mrs. Cleda K. Alexander, Danville, Ky., and a brother, S. C. Alexander of Danville.

Construction Firm Rejects Road Pact

The County Commission was informed Tuesday by the State Road Department that the R. B. Tyler Co. of Louisville, Ky., has rejected the contract to pave a mile and half of secondary road in Seminole County.

William B. Killian, chairman of the SRD in a letter to the board said that the paving company has canceled its contract to pave Sanford Ave. from 25th St. to Ginder's Corner because of the long delay in obtaining the right-of-way for the project.

The Tyler Company was awarded the bid Nov. 19, 1959. The company was the low bidder for the project at a cost of $300,318.

However, Killian recommended that the board accept the second low bidder, the C. A. Meyer Paving Co. of Orlando to do the project at a cost of $314,330.

The board agreed that the work must start as soon as possible and voted to accept the Meyer proposal.

County Commission Chairman John Krider said it would not pay to re-advertise as "we may get trapped with much higher bids."

He cited that the Meyer Company would start the project immediately.

Longwood Rally At 8 P. M. Today

The third county Democratic political rally will be held in the open air tonight.

The meeting is scheduled for Sunshine Park in Longwood. It is sponsored by the County Democratic Executive Committee, in event of rain the meeting, which is slated to start at 8 p. m., will be held in the Longwood Community Center.

Offices To Close For Services

The courthouse will be closed from 10:30 a. m. until noon Thursday for the funeral of County Judge Wilson Alexander. Circuit Court Clerk David Gatchel said today.

Gates Illness Short

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Defense Secretary Thomas S. Gates Jr. was back at work today after having been slightly ill at a White House reception Tuesday night.

Armed Troops Jail 300 In New African Outbreak

JOHANNESBURG, South Africa (UPI) — Armed troops and police backed by armored cars seized an African hostel near Durban today and arrested about 300 natives.

Officials said natives had taken control of the S. J. Smith hostel near Lamontville, which houses about 4,500 Negroes, when agitators and intimidators forced white police officers to leave the premises. Police surrounded the hostel in the early morning hours today and advised those who wanted to leave to do so. The inhabitants were warned that gunfire would be used if necessary to force them out.

But the guns were not used. Police said about 300 Africans were arrested and a search of the hostel turned up a large number of weapons, including hammers, hatchets and clubs with knobbed ends.

Negroes were reported fleeing Lamontville and other native settlements near Cape Town, some in search of food and others to seek refuge in tribal homes to avoid new beatings by club and whip-wielding South African police.

The native settlements were reported quiet but tense today, a national holiday.

Grandma Halts Runaway Heiress' Plans Again

DILLON, S. C. (UPI) — Runaway heiress Gamble Benedict and her Roman-born lover fled their South Carolina hideaway today under threats from homes that "all necessary measures" will be taken to break up her elopement.

Gamble, 19, and Andre Porumbescu, 35, got safely to Dillon, S. C., Tuesday only to be identified as they applied for a marriage license that would have been effective this afternoon.

At midmorning one of the couple's escorts arrived by plane and withdrew the birth certificate Gamble had deposited with Probate Judge Walker Allen. The tall, blonde young man flew off with the document at once.

It appeared Gamble and Andre might be headed into another state to launch their wedding formalities once more—this time in seclusion.

The South Carolina wedding license would have been valid anywhere in this state after a 24-hour wait. News items were pouring in by the dozen. It appeared likely Gamble and Porumbescu feared legal moves to halt a South Carolina ceremony.

In New York, the attorney for Gamble's grandmother and guardian, Mrs. Henry Harper Benedict, 76, left no doubt that all possible steps would be taken to halt the match.

Charges Begin To Fly As Political Rally Series Continues

The battle among candidates for political office in the county broke out in earnest Tuesday night at Lake Mary with a number of candidates taking verbal pokes at each other.

Charges of "lies" and "deals" were heard as opponents in the District 3 County Commission race spoke.

Incumbent Lawrence Swiford said that a "deal has been made in Lake Mary." He said one resident in the district has said in public "I will get what I want if a certain candidate is elected."

Swiford said that this same man has made demands upon him time and time again to build a road through his property "and I have refused."

"Now it seems a deal has been made," Swiford said.

Candidate James Avery, one of Swiford's opponents, said that Swiford was referring to him. "The incumbent is an unmitigated liar," he charged.

Avery declared that he entered the race on "my own two feet and I have made no promises to any individual or group."

"I have even turned down campaign contributions," Avery said.

Tax Assessor Richard McCann said that his opponent, Mrs. Mary Earle Walker, had come out at an earlier political rally in favor of a high level assessment and "now she is silent when questioned on the subject."

Mrs. Walker said at the rally that if she is elected she will favor changing the "lawful, unbalanced appraisal."

Candidate for Sheriff J. Q. Gallowsy said there are beverage rules being violated by "a certain few in the county" and if elected he would crack down on all violators and not show any partiality.

Sheriff J. L. Hobby asked voters to check his record. He said he was the first to start county patrols, 24 hour service and uniformed deputies.

Circuit Court Clerk David Gatchel answered an earlier political rally charge by his opponent, Arthur Beckwith Jr., that "this is no popularity contest and that there is no substitute for experience."

"I didn't just come out of nowhere," Gatchel said.

Beckwith urged voters to investigate both candidates' qualifications.

"You will see who is the best man. The governor appointed my opponent and now let the people decide," he said.

District 5 County Commissioner Homer Little said that the County Commission has come a long way in careful planning for the county's growth. He said that the board sponsored a drainage committee and "today they turned over a long range plan to relieve flooding in the county."

His opponent, John Fitzpatrick, said he was behind the full tax evaluation, but realized it is far from perfect. George Bell, another opponent in that district, said he was not supported by any group or person, and would work toward improving roads and schools.

Candidates in the District 1 commission race, T. V. Brown and Don Bales, said they would work to solve the drainage problem in the county.

J. C. Hutchinson, also running in District 1, said he wanted more varied crops in the county, new industry and a better economy.

Candidates for District 3 commissioner J. D. Cordell and J. H. Van Hoy said they would run on their past business records and cited the need for leadership in the county.

Ed Williams, another candidate in that race said he had a plan to eliminate flooding that would not be an extra cost to taxpayers.

District 3 Commissioner candidates A. B. Laraman, said that the most important job of the commissioners from District 3 should have the ability to "think for himself and know the value of the tax dollar."

Ed Zimmerman, also running for that post said he favored a "pay as you go" attitude and said that voters in Lake Mary voted a firm district by a large majority and are willing to pay for it, but have received no help from the present commission.

Candidates for the supervisor of registration post, Mrs. Camilla Bruce and Mrs. Katherine Reynolds both cited the important job of the Registrar's Office. Mrs. Reynolds said she would keep the registration office open longer as an added service to the people.

Mrs. Bruce said that "it would take an act of Congress to keep the office open any longer than it is now."

Phone Study Asked In North Orlando

North Orlando residents may soon be asked whether they want Sanford or Winter Park telephone numbers.

Charles Bigelow, of 70 S. Cortez Ave., told the village council last night that it was time for a survey to see how many people in North Orlando want Winter Park exchange instead of their present Sanford numbers.

Mayor Roy Liddicott told Bigelow to draw up a rough draft of a survey form that could be revised as necessary.

Liddicott, Councilman Joe Jackson and Bigelow agreed that if the majority of the people in North Orlando want Winter Park exchange, everyone in the village will have to have that exchange or not have a phone at all.

The council agreed to let the Florida Railroad and Public Utilities Commission decide how many village signatures should be required for a change.

Oviedo May Get New Fire Truck

Oviedo will be getting a new fire truck in the near future.

Mayor Leo Gary authorized Fire Chief T. L. Lingo Jr. to investigate the cost of a new truck and report back to the town council.

At the present time the fire department has two fire trucks. Gary reported that the council is investigating the possibility of purchasing a telephone alarm system for the fire station.

DeBarry Auxiliary To See Pictures

Frank Sparrow will show slides of his travels at the DeBarry American Legion Post Women's Auxiliary meeting Thursday night.

Miss Gail Holloway, whom the auxiliary is sending to Europe this fall, also will be present at the 7:30 p. m. meeting in the Community Center.

President Okays Missile Boost

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Eisenhower today approved plans for bolstering the Atlas and Polaris missile programs. Some continental defense programs, including the Super-Sage and Bomarc projects, will be cut back.

This action was taken in a conference with top defense officials at the White House.

Minimum Farm Wage Advocated

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Labor Secretary William P. Mitchell advocated today a minimum wage for all hired farm workers but expressed strong doubt Congress will pass such a bill in an election year.

Castro Charges U. S. Inciting Cubans To Oppose His Regime

HAVANA (UPI)—Premier Fidel Castro charged Tuesday night that the United States is inciting Cubans to oppose his revolutionary regime.

Castro, addressing "people's masses" in a San Julian air base, charged specifically that Cubans who recently "murdered a soldier and kidnapped his family... found shelter here"—obviously referring to the United States.

At the same time, a spokesman for the United Fruit Co. confirmed the semi-official announcement that the Castro regime is taking over another 173,000 acres of UFC farmland.

about 943,000 acres, more than a third of the 2,167,000 acres Americans own in Cuba.

Antonio Nunez Jimenez, working boss of Castro's land reform institute, said in his first annual report that nearly four million foreign-owned acres eventually will be taken over.

So far as is known, the 30-year bonds with which the government is supposed to pay for the property it seizes have not yet been printed. Some American cattlemen have accepted five-year bonds in payment for ranches taken over by the government.

The spokesman said that now all of the approximately 173,000 acres of Cuban land owned by the company has been or is being seized by the government.

The latest seizure—first announced at the opening Monday night of a big Communist convention here—increased the total of American-owned land taken over by Castro's land reformers to

Dr. McDaniel Is Improving

Dr. T. F. McDaniel of Sanford is reported improving at Jackson Memorial Hospital in Miami. Mrs. McDaniel said the doctor would welcome cards and letters from Sanford residents. He is in room 1210 at the Miami hospital.

Around The Clock

Mrs. Peter Schaaf of Orlando will direct play at another session of the City Bridge Club at 7:30 p. m. Thursday at the shuffleboard club in Ft. Mellon Park.

The Pinescrest P-TA executive board meeting will be held at 8 p. m. Thursday in the school cafeteria.

The regular P-TA meeting will be at 7:30 p. m. Friday. The program will include presentation of the musical dance revue by the fourth and fifth grade chorus, with Mrs. Pina Harrison directing.

The Ethel Root Circle of the Congregational Church is preparing a cook book for distribution. Members of the circle have collected "old family" recipes for the book and are now collecting data on desserts.

The Sanford Kiwanis Club will have a Ladies Night dinner Thursday, Russell Cole, district governor of the Kiwanis will speak at

French Atomic Sources Say More Atom Blasts In The Works

BY PHIL NEWSON
UPI Foreign Editor

French atomic sources have indicated they have enough plutonium for three or four fairly small bombs. At the moment, the experts are concentrating on getting the French devices down to a manageable size. The first two French blasts were set off on the surface, but the next one likely will be dropped from a plane.

Western intelligence circles in Berlin are checking still-unconfirmed reports that East German Communists are training special army units for partisan activity behind the West's lines in the event of war. The units reportedly are composed of 18 soldier volunteers, one non-com and one officer, all speaking perfect English. They would be dropped behind the lines wearing Western uniforms. This is a technique reminiscent of the Nazis' "operation grief" during the Battle of the Bulge in World War II.

Relations between West Germany and the Arab states are deteriorating and will get worse before they get better.

The Arab states are furious about the meeting in New York between West German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer and their sworn enemy, David Ben-Gurion of Israel. Making matters worse is a report — still unconfirmed — of an Adenauer economic aid offer to Israel.

On the other side of the coin, Adenauer's government is fed up with Arab states trying to pressure it by threatening to recognize the government of Communist East Germany.

The Communists are getting ready to stage one of their world peace council meetings, this time in Sofia, Bulgaria. Some insiders believe the council meeting will be a front to camouflage a skull session of Communist leaders from the Balkans. Moscow is said to be unhappy about "independent" tendencies in the Balkan satellites. The peace council is scheduled for later this month.

Quotable Quotes

By United Press International

MILWAUKEE, Wis. — Wisconsin Republican Chairman Claude Jasper, in a telegram of congratulations to Vice President Richard M. Nixon, who was unopposed in the GOP column and ran third in the two-party primary.

"Many Republicans, having set aside a 30-year urge to be king-makers in the Democratic primary, will now concentrate on a complete Republican victory in November."

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Colombian President Alberto Lleras Camargo asked Congress today to help Latin America quickly before economic backwardness causes a shift to dictatorships or communism.

Lleras warned there was grave risk if the United States were "too late or with too little" in helping Latin America emerge from poverty.

He said in an address to a joint session of Congress that South Americans might turn their backs on their democratic leaders unless help is sent soon. This, he said, could become "a retreat, a rout, an historical disaster."

The Colombian chief executive, on a four-day state visit as a guest of President Eisenhower, delivered a speech which was moderate in tone but unmistakably clear regarding Latin America's need for economic aid.

Lleras declared Latin America does not want charity or outright grants. What it seeks, he said, is loans which will be repaid.

Quick Aid To Latin Nations Is Urged

SPENCER, Ind. — County Sheriff Charles F. Douglas, describing a 13-year-old boy and a 12-year-old girl whose plans to elope were thwarted when the boy ran his brother's car into a ditch:

"They were a couple of good-looking, well-dressed kids, but they were a bit smugged up when I found them."

BELMAR, N. J. — A Belmar tavern owner, commenting on a judge's decision striking down a law banning jazz, five, jam session and community singing in taverns but upholding a law prohibiting short shorts and bathing suits in taverns after 7 p. m.:

"I would rather see the shorts and the heck with the music."

Biggest Display Of British Goods Coming To N. Y.

NEW YORK (UPI)—The most comprehensive display of British goods ever seen outside Britain will be exhibited at New York Coliseum June 10-20.

The importance to Britain of the exhibition is underscored by the willingness of Queen Elizabeth II and President Eisenhower to serve as its official patrons.

Britain already is the largest exporter to the U. S., selling more than $1 billion in 1959. But the British are determined to raise this total and increase the number of items they sell to Americans.

English Cathedral Gets Drama Head

COVENTRY, England (UPI)—Coventry Cathedral, a Church of England archbishopric, has appointed a full-time drama director.

Raymond Cox, who will occupy the post, plans to stage his first production at Christmas. His work will cover all aspects of church drama, from poetry readings to major productions.

Cox, a graduate of the Royal Academy of Dramatic Art, also will present short plays in the cathedral's great porch for lunch-time audiences and will commission plays for special festivals.

Eastport, Maine, is the easternmost city in the United States.

Damages $1,400 In Two Accidents

A 16-year-old Altamonte Springs boy escaped injury Tuesday night when he apparently lost control of his vehicle on Sealands Springs Road and overturned, the Highway Patrol reported.

The youth was identified as Peter Alexander. Damage to his car was estimated at $800.

In another accident Tuesday night, a car driven by Harold L. Smith ran into a vehicle parked on the pavement of South Sanford Ave., Trooper J. L. Sikes said. Damage to both cars was estimated at $900.

BRL Tryouts Slated Thursday

Tryouts for the Sanford Babe Ruth League will be held at 3:30 p. m. Thursday.

All boys who will be 13 by Sept. 1 and not over 15 by that date are eligible for tryouts.

Players from last season do not have to attend the tryouts to be held at the Seminole High School baseball diamond.

Commission Agrees To Add Auditorium To Health Center

The County Commission Tuesday agreed on the need for an auditorium for the health center now being constructed and authorized advertising for a budget amendment of $12,500 to make the funds available for Shoemaker Construction Co. to include it in the project.

When the Sanford Company was awarded the low bid to construct the center, commissioners accepted an alternate bid which would eliminate the auditorium in the rear of the building.

Commissioner Vernon Dunn said Tuesday that an auditorium, or "meeting place," is a must for any health center. Board Chairman John Krider said that the auditorium could be used for a meeting place for civilian defense officials.

The Shoemaker Construction Co. was awarded the contract for the project in February on a base bid of $85,000. However, with equipment and the auditorium the cost would be approximately $120,000.

Hill-Burton federal funds will contribute $31,000 for the project. In other business during the meeting, the board agreed to hold a joint session with the County Zoning Board to iron out final details of a comprehensive zoning regulation.

The meeting will be at 7:30 p. m. April 20. The date of a county-wide hearing on the new proposal has been set for May 5 at 7:30 p. m. in the courthouse.

The board also awarded the bids on gasoline, oils and grease. Gulf Oil Co. was the low bidder on the oil and grease, while Texaco was the low bidder on fuel oil.

Commissioners deferred action on awarding a bid for a pick-up truck for the county road department until next week.

Board members also authorized County Engineer Robert Davis to employ engineers to work on construction details for an access road to the new Seminole High School on Lake Jennie.

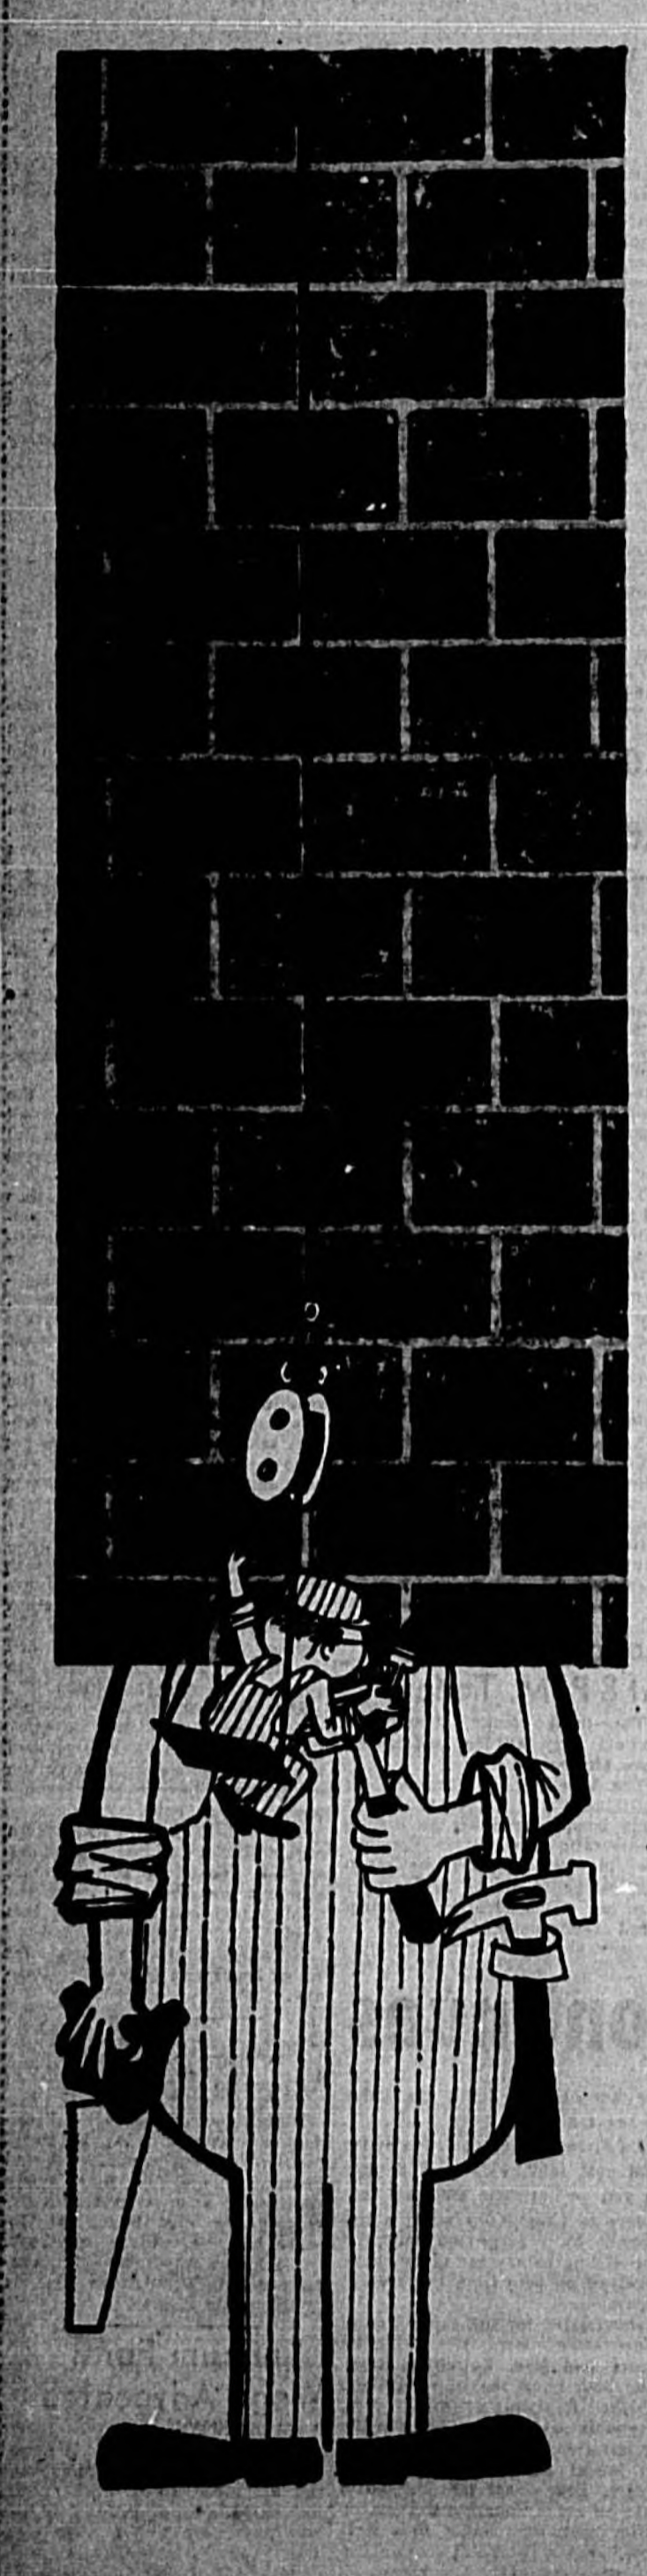

The county and school board will share the cost of the project. The road will run from 16th St. to the school grounds.

Homer Barrage Stuns Grapefruit Loop

United Press International
The greatest home run barrage of a single day, left would-be major league pitchers stunned today and probably blew a few of them back to the minors.

Top dramatic clouts were supplied Tuesday by Daryl Spencer of the St. Louis Cardinals, whose two-run homer in the ninth inning helped beat his old San Francisco Giant teammates, 9-3, and Bob Skinner of the Pirates, whose three-run homer with one out in the ninth beat the Phillies, 7-5.

Bob Allison of the Washington Senators, striding the thunder from teammate Harmon Killebrew, was the only man to hit two homers.

But the sluggers held away just about everywhere in the sunny climes. The only game that failed to produce a homer was the Milwaukee Braves' 5-3 victory over the Cincinnati Reds and that also was the only night game on the schedule.

There were five homers in the Cards-Giants game, five in Kansas City's 13-3 rout of Washington, four in Cleveland's 8-4 victory over Los Angeles, three in Boston's 12-9 slugfest over the Chicago Cubs, three in the Detroit Tigers' 14-4 drubbing of the Baltimore Orioles, two in the New York Yankees' 9-3 triumph over the Chicago White Sox and five in the Phils-Pirates game.

Spencer's two-run blow off Stu Miller broke a 4-4 tie at 7:05 p.m. and opened a five-run, ninth-inning rally for the Cardinals. Ellis Burton also round-tripped for the Cards while Jim Davenport, Orlando Cepeda, and Willie McCovey connected for the Giants.

The Pirates seemed on the way to their seventh straight loss when Skinner saved their bacon at Port Myers. Bob Clements had a three-run homer earlier for the Pirates, but homers by Ed Bouchee, Bobby Del Greco, and Pancho Herrera had given the Phils a 3-4 lead going into the last of the ninth. Victim of the game-winning blow was Humberto Robinson.

The Red Sox batted 18 hits in beating the Cubs, including homers by Haywood Sullivan and pitcher Jerry Casale. But Ernie Banks' homer led the Cubs' counter-attack and relief pitcher Alan Worthington had to croak off a ninth-inning Chicago rally to save the game.

Detroit staged the biggest single inning of the spring—12 runs—in trouncing the Orioles. Seventeen Tigers went to bat in that big frame but the "slugging" included only five hits along with six walks, a hit batsman, and two errors. Rookie southpaw Steve Barber was trampled in the melee and relief pitcher Was Stock, already ticketed for the minors, gave up homers later in the game to Neil Chrissy and Steve Bilko. Jim Bunning, who yielded a homer to Ron Hansen, was the winner with a five-hit, seven-inning job.

Dodgers Duke Snider, John Roseboro, and Larry Sherry socked homers in their game with the Indians, but Rocky Colavito's homer and double led Cleveland.

The Yankees teed off for 13 hits against four of the White Sox' second-string hurlers and won easily behind Jim Costes and John Gabler. Bob Richardson of the Yanks and Al Smith of the Sox homered.

Pitcher Ray Herbert of the A's, had a day to remember when he hurled nine innings and socked a grand-slam homer. Dick Williams and Pele Daley also homered for the A's.

Qualifying Starts Saturday For Golf Tournament Here

Qualifying for medalist and championship flight play for the G. W. Spencer Memorial Golf Tournament will be held Saturday and Sunday.

The tourney is open to all members of the Mayfair Country Club and personnel at the Sanford Naval Air Station. Entry fee will be $5 and must be posted by Monday.

Harold Ring, tourney chairman said today that golfers who have established handicaps need not qualify and will be placed in proper flights by the handicap committee.

This will be a match play tournament in flights of eight. Prizes will be awarded to winners and runner-up in each flight. The winner of the championship flight will receive a prize awarded by Jim Spencer.

All first match play must be played between April 15 through April 20. Second match play must be played between April 21 through April 27. The final in all flights will be played May 1.

A point system tournament will be played May 1 by all finalists in the tourney. After the tourney a "bring your own stick" play will be held at 7:00 p. m. May 1 at the country club.

Snead May Be Dark Horse In Masters Opener Thursday

AUGUSTA, Ga. (UPI) — Arnold Palmer, golf's leading money winner this year, was installed a 3-1 favorite today to win the Masters tournament which begins Thursday.

But for every three who liked him, there was one who felt that Sammy Snead could upset the odds and become the first four-time Masters winner. Snead himself was thinking along the same lines although he was third choice in the betting.

Mike Souchak was the second choice at 5-1 followed by Snead at 6-1.

Imagine Bowling An 89 In World's Top Kegler Play

TOLEDO, Ohio (UPI) — Some 12,000 bowlers already have gone to the line in the annual American Bowling Congress tournament but the hero of them all—thus far—has to be a Toledo salesman name Robert Gilbert.

Gilbert isn't going to win any of the coveted 10-pin prizes being fought for on the slick, polished lanes where 30,000 entrants from 43 states will struggle until this a. m. — splitting convention closes May 22. He isn't even going to finish second.

But Gilbert did roll his three games out to the bitter end — despite a startling game of 89. His courage and fortitude deserve some sort of acclamation. Under similar circumstances, there are athletes of note who would have taken either an axe or a blow torch to the establishment.

One who comes quickly to mind is a gent named Tommy Bolt. If this had happened to Bolt, a fellow who has destroyed more golf clubs than all the lady golfers in existence, the tournament would be over. No more alleys.

Gilbert began his long-awaited chance at bowling immortally with six straight misses. In one frame he picked off three pins with the first ball and then got two more on the second ball. When it was over he had his 89. Gallantly he steadied himself to follow up with games of 191 and 118 which, while it didn't break any records, is considerably better than 89.

Even so, that 89 isn't the low score shot in the ABC. Last year a gentleman who shall remain nameless, rolled a 67, somewhat akin to failing to break 100 in the U.S. Open golf championship or striking out every time at bat in the World Series.

Palmer Favored

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — Arnold Palmer of Ligonier, Pa., is the early favorite for the $40,000 Tournament of Champions at Las Vegas, Nev., May 5-8. Palmer, star of the winter golf trail, was installed as a 2-1 favorite in the opening odds. Defending champion Mike Souchak of Grossinger, N. V., and Gene Littler of San Diego, Calif., were listed at 4-1.

Palmer, who already has won $28,700 in 1960, won the Masters in 1955 and was tied for the lead after three rounds last year. He wound up third behind Art Wall and Cary Middlecoff. Because of injuries and illness Wall will not be able to defend the title.

Snead, admitting Palmer would be tough to beat, liked his own chances if weather conditions do not improve. The 6,900-yard Augusta National course was playing long after two days of rain. It was so water soaked that three holes — the 11th, 12th and 13th — were closed for Tuesday's practice rounds and no golfers were allowed to tee off until 1 p. m.

"I've got a real good chance," reasoned the 47-year-old Snead. "If the course keeps playing long and soft," Snead has been under par for each practice round, but as he pointed out "this doesn't mean too much."

A strong wind began drying off the course late Tuesday, but Snead said it still was playing so long that "some of the boys are having trouble getting home in two."

Snead, who won his first Masters title in 1940 and then picked up all the marbles again in 1953 and 1954, predicted that "scores are going to run high if they're not able to cut these fairways before all the shooting starts."

All agreed that the course was ideal for the power hitters like Palmer, Souchak and Snead.

Ingo To Tour

GOTEBORG, Sweden (UPI) — Heavyweight boxing champion Ingemar Johansson, who meets Floyd Patterson in a June rematch, intends going on a two-year boxing schedule after that title bout. Johansson said he would like to meet light heavyweight champion Archie Moore as his first opponent if he wins his return fight with Patterson.

Bout Promoter's Dream Comes True

MIAMI BEACH (UPI) — A promoter's dream comes true tonight for Chris Dundee when Jay Fullmer and Gayle Kerwin clash in a nationally televised 10-round welterweight fight which will be staged at the plush Fountainbleau Hotel.

Dundee had no worries about empty seats. All tickets were purchased in advance and will be given to tobacco distributors attending a convention at the hotel. It will be a "blowout" in private, with the public able to see the fight only on television.

Former heavyweight champion Rocky Marciano, who lives in nearby Fort Lauderdale, will referee. The ring and some 4,800 seats will be set up in the hotel's grand ball room.

The fight itself, though staged in fashionable surroundings, has little meaning in the flat world. Most outstanding credentials brought by the principals is that Fullmer is the brother of middleweight champion Gene Fullmer and Kerwin is the welterweight champ of Canada.

Off-Season Deals Making Giants A Contender For NL Crown

PHOENIX, Ariz. (UPI) — Well, can the San Francisco Giants win it this time?

Last season they led the National League for almost 10 weeks, then collapsed in the late stages and finished third when the pitching staff ran out of gas.

New Manager Bill Rigney, who only has a one-year contract this time, has been neatly placed on the spot by a pair of off-season deals which make the team look sharper than ever. On paper, that is.

The pitching staff was strengthened by the acquisition of southpaw Billy O'Dell (19-13) and Billy Lee (6-7) from Baltimore.

And the club also got Don Blasingame, one of the league's best second basemen, from St. Louis.

"I'd think they'd win the pennant now," Johnny Temple, the former Cincinnati second baseman, recently said at the Cleveland training camp. "They got two good pitchers which they needed and gave up nothing for 'em."

Rigney, naturally, isn't saying anything like that.

"All I feel is that we'll be a contender," the team manager declares. "The experience of last year helped us and our defense is better. Our pitching is deeper. But we still need a stronger bench."

O'Dell figures in Rigney's plans as an extra starter or middle-inning pitcher. Erratic Lee, it is hoped, will be the late-inning rally-stopper. That means that the Giants now have a premium starting staff which includes Sam Jones (21-14), southpaw Johnny Antonelli (19-10) and Mike McCormick (12-16) and right-hander Jack Sanford (11-13).

George Zverink, former Baltimore right-hander now on a "look" from the Miami Marlins, also has shown well in spring games and might give the staff added depth.

The infield could be the best in the league. Willie McCovey, who batted .354 last year while winning the Rookie of the Year award, is installed at first base. His hopes to have a better all-around season, which means that his fielding still needs some improvement.

Blasingame, a sharp leadoff man, is at second and much is expected of him. Ed Bruscoud is at shortstop and Jim Davenport, the little master of the big play, holds down third.

In the outfield, the big question mark is in left field where Orlando Cepeda will open his first full season at that position. Winner of the 1959 Rookie of the Year award as a first baseman, he was bumped off the job last July when McCovey checked in. Cepeda has had limited outfield experience.

"We'll try to correct any weaknesses Cepeda might have," Rigney said. "And don't forget, there is Willie Mays in center to help him."

Elect W. R. (Buster) Hancock

and may miss opening day. Bob Schmidt, who had the job in 1958 but lost it to Landrith last season, will take over. Schmidt is a longball hitter but not as good a receiver as little Hobie.

Andre Rogers, who failed to make the grade as a shortstop last year, now is being tried out at third and first base as a possible utility man.

Hobie Landrith was listed as the Giants' starting catcher, but broke a finger in spring training

ABC Scoring 'Lull' Is Broken

TOLEDO, Ohio (UPI) — The Cleveland, Ohio, Casey Market team broke the scoring lull in the American Bowling Congress tournament Tuesday night but it still wasn't enough to crack the top five leaders.

The Ohioans rolled a 3,020 series to take seventh place in the open team division standings.

Leadoff man James Blair fashioned a fine 679 series to spark the Cleveland scoring attack with anchor man Martin Loschlave contributing 639.

The team missed a good chance to overtake the leading 3,000 rolled by A & A Asphalt team of Birmingham, Mich., but team members Joseph Rini and Richard Cellura ran into trouble in their third game.

Rini had a finishing 144 after opening with 221 and 214. And Cellura contributed a weak 135 after he scored 168 and 244 in his first two games. Their poor showing left the team with a 965 final game after it opened with 989 and 1,008.

'Cooz' Back In Form; Celtics Inch Closer To NBA Championship

BOSTON (UPI) — "The Cooz is back."

Big Bill Russell of the Celtics summed up the general feeling after Boston's easy 127-102 win over the St. Louis Hawks here Tuesday night.

The victory gave Boston a 2-2 edge in games, with the action sixth game in their National Basketball Association championship playoffs Thursday night. A Celtics triumph would give them their second straight NBA crown.

Russell's four words meant that veteran Bob Cousy of the Celtics was back in form again after a disappointing series. And with "Cooz" in form the Celtics are hard to beat.

Even Ed MacAuley, coach of the Hawks, admitted that: "The difference was Cousy." He said, "That's for sure. He played a real good game. When he goes like that the Celtics are a hard team to stop."

However, MacAuley wasn't conceding a thing to Boston as far as the future was concerned. "If we can win at home tomorrow night and get it down to a one-game series anything can happen," he said.

Asked if he thought the crucial fifth game defeat meant it was all over, Easy Ed shot back: "Not by a long shot."

The seventh and deciding game, if necessary, will be played here Saturday afternoon. The scrap will be televised.

Tommy Heinsohn, who connected on 16 of his 25 shots from the floor in a brilliant performance, led both teams with 34 points. But Heinsohn also gave all the honors to Cousy.

"Give the credit for tonight's game to Cousy," he said. "He made all the clutch shots and he set me up on numerous other occasions. That guy doesn't even have to score. He's still the big cog just being out there and playing the way he does."

Mr. and Mrs. Benny Lax, of Savannah, Ga., announce the engagement of their daughter, Deloris Ann, to Dr. Ronald Smith Garner, son of Dr. and Mrs. Wade H. Garner Sr., of Sanford.

Miss Lax is a graduate of Savannah High School and Georgia Baptist Hospital School of Nursing in Atlanta. She is employed at Memorial Hospital of Chatham County.

Dr. Garner is a graduate of Seminole High School, Sanford, and received his premedical education at the University of Alabama. He was a member of Phi Kappa Phi social fraternity.

He received his M. D. degree from the University of Miami School of Medicine and while there, was a member of Phi Chi medical fraternity. He is now serving his internship at Memorial Hospital of Chatham County.

Mr. and Mrs. Morris Fete Miss Stemper At MQ Ranch Party

Miss Marty Stemper, a member of the Seminole High School graduating class, was honored with a Western party, this weekend, by Mr. and Mrs. Herman E. Morris at the MQ Ranch.

The guests were all dressed in Western attire and arrived at the ranch at 6:30 p. m. for a Western dinner.

Several games were played including a scavenger hunt. The guest of honor and her partner for the evening, Lin Risner, won the prize for the scavenger hunt. For achieving this feat, Lin was appointed "sheriff."

The entire group gathered around the fire in the cookhouse and were entertained by Mr. Morris, who told a fascinating Western story.

Those attending were Marty, Lin, Faye Garner, Charlie Boggs, Carolee Osterholm, Gary Montgomery, Marilyn McDaniel, John Lovelace, Frances Strickland, David Leonard, Judy Asenon, John Smith, Dee Hargrave, Henry Schumacher, Jean Southward, Charles Oravetz, Kay Ivy, Ronnie Lindsey, Coleen McFarlin, Robert Peters, Mr. and Mrs. William H. Stemper, Billie Stemper and Donnie Sipes.

Box Social, Dance Very Successful

The box social and dance, sponsored by the Ladies Auxiliary of the Lake Mary volunteer fire department, was a big success according to the chairman, Mrs. Kay Sassen.

A large crowd gathered at the boxes were auctioned off. Winners of the cake walk were Buddy Soback and Whitney Schwickert. Door prizes were won by Phyllis Howell, Ed Schwickert and Ralph Abell.

Mrs. Willis Jones won the stole, which was made and donated by Mrs. Sassen. All items were sold at the Seminole County Fair this year.

Dancing was enjoyed for the remainder of the evening to the music of the Toppers. This is a local group including J. A. Peckham, Harry Wester and Dave Shannon. Song duets were called by Jay Sasser.

Everyone seeing the Morrison home for the first time gasps in astonishment! Barbara, known for her love of a black and white decor, came up with a surprise combination of blues, purples and golds for her new home... and its all done in an oriental flavor.

The entrance hall in the split-level house has a stone planter filled with foliage and to the right of this is a dramatic array of exotic butterflies, mounted as in flight, across a white wall. The living room, spacious and with a lake view, has a brilliant blue sofa, two purple chairs, a white oriental rug and "Far East" accessories with the right accent of color. A large tapestry, hand-painted by Barbara, and other such personal touches, makes the room excitingly different.

The most popular spot in the house is the recreation room which is in bright blue and has TV, a Hi-Fi set, bar, and the latest purchase, a spinet piano which is being greatly enjoyed by the family.

MILDRED AND BILL STEMPER had as their weekend guests, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Turner, and four children, of Pittsburgh. Mr. Turner is with the Pittsburgh Pirates.

Lutheran Church Plans Smorgasbord

Plans for the smorgasbord-type meal being given by the ladies of the Lutheran Church of the Redeemer, are progressing favorably according to Mrs. James Ekern, chairman of the dinner. The event being held from 5:30 to 7:30 p. m., April 23, will be served in the church building at 103 W. 25th Place.

Food for the smorgasbord, a "test your capacity" type meal, is being prepared in great quantities by some of Sanford's best cooks headed by Mrs. John Benkarik, Mrs. Morris Hodges, and Mrs. Claude Romgardner. The menu which consists of a great variety of dishes includes Swedish meat balls, ham, cold cuts, macaroni-tuna casserole, baked beans, cole slaw, cheese cupcakes and this year's specialty, fresh fruit cups.

A homemade candy table with Mrs. J. Marion Harman in charge, will be a special feature. Door prizes will also be given. They will be announced at a later date by Mrs. Ekern.

Proceeds from the dinner will be used for the program carried on by the church.

MRS. EULA DAVIS, front, was guest of honor at a birthday party, given by her daughter, Mrs. Ted Jones, this weekend. She was celebrating her 81st birthday anniversary. # Mrs. Eula Davis Honored At Party On 81st Birthday

Mrs. Eula Davis celebrated her 81st birthday with a party at the home of her daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Ted Jones, 616 West First St. Her birthday was Friday (April Fool's Day) but the party was arranged for Saturday, so more members of the family could attend.

Thirty-four relatives gathered for a delicious buffet dinner and later grouped around the piano, sang familiar songs and had a good time visiting.

The house was decorated in a yellow and white color scheme and the buffet table held an artistic arrangement of yellow roses, yellow candles and gold sprinkled greenery.

Debbie Celebrates Birthday

Debbie McLain celebrated her ninth birthday with a party at the Guy's and Doll's Nursery school, Sunday afternoon from 1 to 3 p. m. Hostesses were Debbie's mother, Mrs. Ralph McLain and Mrs. Anne Markham.

The party room was decorated with pink and white streamers and colored balloons hanging from the ceiling. The long table was lined with small chairs, pink and white carnations were placed in the center, and individual place mats and ballet dolls place mats were at each place setting. Pink and white hats were given to each guest.

The children played games and rode Trigger the shetland pony, during the afternoon. Prizes were won by Vicki Hardin and Patsy Thompson.

Boat And Ski Club To Meet Thursday

The Sanford Boat and Ski Club will meet Thursday at 8 p. m. in the little green hut on East First Street.

Debbie's grandmother made a two tiered birthday cake and decorated it with pink and white plastic ballet dolls. Ice cream was served along with it.

After refreshment time the group enjoyed singing and playing the rhythm band accompanied at the piano by Mrs. McLain. Miss Jeanne Markham led the party.

Sen. Symington Shoots For Middle Of The Road Vote

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Sen. Stuart Symington, tailoring his appeal for middle-of-the-road voters, is fitting his Democratic presidential campaign around a "good business management" theme.

The Missouri Democrat stressed his business background in political speeches in Pennsylvania and Maryland earlier this week. He takes off Thursday on a swing into Nebraska, North Dakota and South Dakota.

The idea that Symington is a "liberal who has met a payroll" — a tag applied by one newspaper — appears to be fundamental in his campaign. Symington backers think it spells political magnetism which would draw pro-Eisenhower Democrats and independents — and some Republicans — into his corner.

"I have spent most of my life in management," Symington reminded his Democratic audience Monday night at Mechanicsburg, Pa. He said the waste he sees in government, as one with management experience, is "truly appalling."

"It came to government out of business," Symington told a Jackson Day Democratic Dinner in Salisbury, Md., Tuesday night. "I believe that good business management can save in this year's budget, many billions a year."

Before becoming Air Force secretary in the Truman administration Symington made his mark in both the steel and electrical manufacturing fields.

Now, his associates say, he intends to hit hard the idea that the nation needs a "dynamic economy" and should approach summit conferences in a position of relative strength which goes beyond military power.

That includes economic, technological, psychological, and spiritual strength, Symington believes.

NAS Commander Inspects Cubs

Cubs of the First Presbyterian Church Park 346 are inspected by real "top brass" at their recent meeting.

Captain Robert W. Slys, commander of the Sanford Naval Air Station, inspected the junior ranks and awarded the pack banner to dens one and five.

Newly formed dens two and four were welcomed into the pack and a new den mother was introduced. She is Mrs. James H. Bryant of 214 Tangerine Dr.

Den Five presented a brief skit entitled "Your Home State." Den Chief Randall Chase Jr. directed the play.

Awards went to Jimmie Buckler, who received a gold arrow; Hugo Mahke, wolf badge and one year pin; Tim Nickelson, webelo badge and two year pin; Robert Goldstein, two year pin; Dale Hancock, one year pin and Eddie Small, wolf badge. Clifford McKibbin made the presentations.

The six new "bobcats" introduced into the pack were John Bryant, Clifton Gaines, Andy Chevalier, Allan Whitehead, Richard Whitehead, and Kenneth Cannell.

FBI Adds Knife Wielder To List
WASHINGTON (UPI) — William Mason, a knife-wielding fugitive with a murderous, cut-throat temper, was placed today on the FBI's list of 10 most wanted criminals.

Mason, a burly 34-year-old Negro, fled Detroit after a tavern brawl in which he killed one antagonist and critically wounded another.

The FBI said Mason may be suffering from a mental disorder and must be considered armed and extremely dangerous.

Washing Socks Not So Simple

PITTSBURGH (UPI) — Albert (Poppe) Thomas, 61, promised police the next time he washes his socks he'll take his shoes off first.

Thomas' trouble began Tuesday night when he popped his socks into a laundromat washing machine. His shoes, his feet and the rest of him went in too.

Thomas couldn't get out. Rescued by police, Thomas explained casually: "I wanted to wash my socks."

Police jailed him for being drunk and disorderly.

Univac Has The Brain, But Mother Nature Is Best For Matchmaking

By DICK WEST

WASHINGTON (UPI) — You don't have to tell me what a young man's fancy lightly turns to thoughts of in spring, but I never knew old Univac felt that way too.

I never knew, that is, until I saw Univac playing the mating game with the 1960 cherry blossom princesses and their military escorts. Heaven only knows what those electronic brains will think of next.

The princesses, one from each state, are here for the cherry blossom festival which is being held this week in honor of our blooming trees. At least we hope they will bloom before the festival is over. At this point it is more of a cherry bud festival.

Be that as it may, the festival sponsors lined up a group of young military officers to serve as escorts for the princesses and that is how Univac got into the picture.

I don't mean that Univac has been drafted or anything like that. It was called into service to decide which officer should escort which princess. This is no easy job.

In the past, the festival sponsors matched up the couples according to height and let it go at that. But this year they decided to do things scientifically.

Each princess and escort was asked to fill out a questionnaire giving vital statistics, background and interests. This datum was fed into a Univac computer, which was supposed to match the right boy with the right girl.

Among other things, the participants were asked to state whether they would prefer single or double beds after they were married in certain military circles, this caused some eyebrow-lifting.

The Air Force, which is our youngest and therefore our most demure armed service, blushed, dug its toe into the rug, muttered "ah shucks" and refused to let its officers answer the question.

Possibly this statistical gap hampered Univac's electronic matchmaking. At any rate, despite its instructions to make sure the escorts were five inches taller than the princesses, one willow blonde wound up with a Marine lieutenant whose crewcut barely reached her eyebrows.

While waiting around for Univac to decide their fates, the princesses and their escorts mingled around a punchbowl and listened to an accordionist and a left-handed guitar player line out "It Looks Like Rain in Cherry Blossom Lane."

They were beginning to find a spirit of togetherness when Univac stepped in and reshuffled. After seeing the results, I am inclined to think it would have been better to let nature take its course. And I suspect some of the princesses and their escorts agree.

Junior College Growth A Boon To Florida, Governor Says

OCALA (UPI) — The junior college program is one of the finest things that has happened to education in Florida, Gov. LeRoy Collins said Monday at dedication ceremonies for Central Florida Junior College here.

Collins said in establishing 12 junior colleges in the past five years, the state has made it possible for hundreds of young people to attend college who might otherwise have had to miss an education.

At the same time, he said, quality education has not been sacrificed.

Transfer students from junior colleges have done well at the universities, he said. A study at Florida State University showed that transfers did as well or better than students who begin at the university as freshmen.

Ten years ago, Florida had only five junior colleges. Today, there are 23 and in the past five years, enrollment has jumped by more than 600 percent—from 5,300 to more than 14,000.

By 1970, Collins predicted, there will be 87,000 students enrolled in Florida junior colleges.

The junior colleges here, which serve Marion, Citrus and Levy counties, has been open since the fall of 1958.

GINA LOLLOBRIGIDA is one of the stars in the $6,000-000 Biblical epic, "Solomon and Sheba" coming to the Ritz Theatre Thursday. Yul Brynner is the other star in the drama which has been called one of the most spectacular motion pictures ever produced.

Former Boxer Lou Nova Says Acting Harder Than Fighting

HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — Lou Nova, comic puncher turned comic actor, got whacked in the eye with a chair playing a TV western bartender recently and concluded that boxing took less of a toll on his kisser than dramatics.

"I left boxing because I didn't want to get my Robert Taylor looks damaged," the former heavyweight title contender said sadly as he rubbed a battered right optic. "I've suffered more facial injuries acting than I ever got from fighting," claimed Lou, who trained on a steady diet of yogi exercises when a contender for the crown. Nova had a knack for ducking, usually, against such as Joe Louis and the late Max Baer in his boxing days, but all his ring acumen went out the window when a chair came flying through air aimed at Scott Brady, star of "Shotgun Slade," during filming of a fight scene.

The chair was tossed while I was behind the bar," Lou said. "I didn't duck so the thing whacked me right in the eye." Lou was asked why he didn't sidestep the missile. "I was watching the fight and didn't notice the chair coming," he explained. "It sure was a good battle and I enjoyed it until the chair landed on my head."

However, enough of violence, Nova insists he's known more as a thespian than a pugilist these days. Anyway, that's the way he prefers it. "Directors are starting to thank me for my acting work," he insisted, and not a voice was raised in debate. "I never used to be that way though because I was known as Lou Nova the fighter, not the actor."

In fact, Lou is quite touchy about talking on any roles as a prizefighter. "I've turned down parts as a fighter because I didn't want to get typed," he said.

Documentary Gets Freedom Medal

HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — The documentary motion picture "Land of Liberty," Part 3, has been awarded the George Washington Honor Medal Award by the Freedom Foundation at Valley Forge. The film was written and produced by Henry S. Noerdlinger, former assistant to the late Cecil B. DeMille, for Teaching Films Custodians, Inc. The first of the series was produced by DeMille. Part 3 covers the years 1939 to 1959.

Film Awards Show Goes From Short To Long With A Year's Practice

By FRED DANZIG NEW YORK (UPI) — The motion picture people may be slow learners when it comes to the mysteries of television, but they're learning nicely.

In one short year, they went from an NBC-TV Academy Awards special that was 20-minutes too short to one that ran 20-minutes over.

Geographic Unit Has Plentiful Goodie Supply

By DICK WERT
WASHINGTON (UPI) — Thrust a man and a woman into a tense situation and what happens? The woman weeps and the man develops an ulcer.

If you doubt this, ask any doctor. And send the bill to the National Geographic Society. They won't pay it but they may put you on their mailing list.

I am on the society's mailing list and I receive all sorts of goodies. It is weird for the society, I wouldn't have known that the earth's rotation is slowing down at the rate of about one-thousandth of a second every hundred years.

Forewarned is forearmed. I always say, and I am grateful to the society for tipping me off about this rotational slippage. It may help me get an ulcer.

The latest National Geographic "news bulletin" to fall into my hands is a treatise on the origin of tears. Since everybody knows that a good cry makes you feel better, I thought I would pass along its findings on the chance it might brighten your day, so it did mine.

The society seems to be depicting the tendency of males to regard tears as unmanly, pointing out that lachrymation can be of real therapeutic value.

In outlining the reasons why men should cry on the water works, the society leans heavily on Ashley Montagu, who, as you may have guessed from the name, is a British anthropologist.

Montagu offers the theory that babies in the long ago signaled their need for a dry join cloth, or whatever they used for diaper duty, by means of dry sobs. The sobbing dripped into baby's nose and moistened the membranes which retained a bacteria-killing secretion. This worked so well that all babies have done it ever since.

Leaving Montagu's theory sinking slowly into the brine, we now take our way to the chemical composition of tears.

Tears are not just salty water, you know, but a complex solution that changes in formula according to the emotions that produce them. More than that, the weeping of tears is relaxing.

I don't know about you but I feel better already. So get in there, weep, and cry!

Scot Actor Is Cost By Disney

HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — A member of the MacPherson clan has been named to portray the role of Highland chieftain Chief MacPherson in Walt Disney's "Kidnapped."

Philip Currie, an internationally-known actor, began his career as an organist in Edinburgh and was a friend of the Robert Louis Stevenson family. "Kidnapped" is Disney's film version of Robert Louis Stevenson's book.

The Auto Show Is Good Effort

Sanford has experienced a lot of "firsts" lately as the community has taken hold of some new opportunities to grow and diversify and another is at hand today.

The Sanford automobile dealers have scheduled their first Auto Show at Ft. Mellon Park and will combine efforts to give the public a leisurely look at all the new cars in one big exhibit. This is another example of cooperative effort to give our residents a little something extra in salesmanship and it's bound to create interest.

Everybody likes to look at the new automobiles and the show is bound to attract viewers from all over this area. That gets townpeople out and brings others into Sanford to join them—and they're all prospective purchasers. This means business for the hometown—and we're for that in all forms.

We congratulate the automobile dealers on promoting this free entertainment for the public and we know there will be a big response.

WORRY CLINIC by Dr. G. W. Crane

Molly is like millions of Americans who are growing suspicious and neurotic—all because of their own fault. Their false pride makes them shun the very simple remedies that would avoid this withdrawal from social events. Many of them lose jobs as well as sweethearts because of Molly's trouble. Send this column to a friend who needs to be prodded!

And that is doubly desirable, from the medical angle, for an organ that is not stimulated regularly, tends to grow more defective.

If you folks with only 50 percent hearing thus fall to cultivate your 50 percent, it may soon fall to 40 percent or even 25 percent.

But if you stimulate your 50 percent with the modern hearing devices, then your hearing not only does not drop as rapidly, but may actually rise to some such figure as 60 percent.

You readers are probably familiar with this fact from the simple "watch test."

If a person holds a watch across the room, you cannot hear it. As he brings it closer and closer to your ear, you may find that when it is two feet away, you first detect the ticking.

Now contrast that sluggishness of the non-stimulated ear, with the greater acuteness of the stimulated sense organ.

For if you start with the watch against your ear and then listen for the ticking as it is moved farther and farther distant, you may find you can hear the very same ticking even at four or five feet distance.

So you know means keep your sense organs (eyes and ears) in top-notch order so they will get more stimulation. Wear the modern hearing aids.

And if you are sensitive on that point, employ the type that is hidden in the temple bar of your eye glasses. WEAR THEM!

(Always write to Dr. Crane in care of this newspaper, enclosing a long 4 stamped, addressed envelope and 20c in cover, typing and printing costs when you send for one of his booklets.)

"Dr. Crane," she began, "my classmates seem to shun me. And I am positive they make fun of me behind my back, for they whisper so I can't hear and then laugh a lot."

"Yet I want to be friends with them. And I really try to smile and ignore their gossip. What else can I do?"

Millions of Americans grow suspicious like Molly.

And it is because of their ears! Oh, I don't mean they have large or protruding ears that provoke laughter and ridicule.

No, indeed! Their ears may be pretty. So how do those ears produce their supposed unpopularity? Here's the tragic answer: those ears are partly hard of hearing!

Often a person like Molly doesn't realize that partial deafness is making normal conversation sound like "whispering behind my back."

It is typical of a partially deaf person to grow suspicious, just because he can't hear ordinary conversation.

Thus, when he sees folks laugh together, he soon imagines the joke is at his own expense.

That is partly due to the fact that when a joke is told and the rest of the crowd laugh, while he doesn't, the others look at him curiously, wondering why he didn't laugh.

So the hard-of-hearing person will notice the eyes of other folks turned upon him at the very moment they are laughing. Thus, he feels doubly convinced that his associates are poking fun at him.

Nowadays, most cases of partial deafness can be relieved a great deal by the ingenious modern hearing aids.

Case E-421: Molly M., aged 20, is a university student.

"Dr. Crane," she began, "my classmates seem to shun me. And I am positive they make fun of me behind my back, for they whisper so I can't hear and then laugh a lot."

"Yet I want to be friends with them. And I really try to smile and ignore their gossip. What else can I do?"

WASHINGTON CALLING by Marquis Childs

WASHINGTON — Seeing Adlai Stevenson at the center of a glittering government reception in the course of his Latin-American tour, surrounded by those eager to talk with him, one of his traveling companions later asked him if he had any formula for solving the kind of social dilemma that frequently entraps the visiting lion.

What do you do when you are caught by two or three persistent bores and the conversation runs thin? Yes, said the resourceful Stevenson, he did have an answer. You tell them you are interested in such-and-such a problem and is there anyone in the room who can give you information on it. With this they must in all courtesy lead you away to someone else.

As in every part of the world he has visited since 1952, Stevenson was received on his 12-nation Latin-American tour not only with courtesy and elaborate official protocol but with remarkable interest and curiosity. Twice defeated for the presidency, holding no public office for nearly eight years, he has nevertheless remained a symbol of what American leadership can mean in intellect, idealism and courage.

It is because he has continued to symbolize these same qualities for millions of Americans that, despite all his disclaimers, he must still be considered a candidate for the Democratic nomination for president. Little or no Stevenson organization exists today—certainly none with his sanction. But even the old pros in the party, who are mostly in opposition to him, agree that by a kind of spontaneous combustion, organization would quickly come into being if he were to emerge anew as a likely compromise choice of the convention in Los Angeles.

For this reason the speeches he is to make in the weeks ahead hold more than ordinary interest. The first is on April 12, Founders Day at the University of Virginia. He speaks under the auspices of the university and the Thomas Jefferson Memorial Foundation. Given the setting, Stevenson's admirers are looking for a literary-political triumph that will spark a new flame.

Ten days later he addresses the American Society of Newspaper Editors in Washington and a month after that he is the speaker at the centennial observance of Northwestern University's law school. Of the requests to speak that pour into his office in Chicago he accepts perhaps one out of a hundred.

If Stevenson were to be nominated for a third time he would be the second man in history to receive this uncertain honor from a major party. The two-time loser bogey is the one most often raised by the professional politicians opposing him.

The thought of Adlai Stevenson following in the footsteps of William Jennings Bryan, whom the Democrats chose to make a third and vain try for the presidency, has come overtones. The two could hardly be more opposite: Bryan was impassioned, forsworn, solemn, puritanical, forbidding, rustic, declamatory even in small gatherings. Stevenson is urbane, humorous, fun-loving, modest, friendly, sophisticated, witty, understated even in his public addresses.

Last summer one of his friends and business associates, William Benton, publisher of the Encyclopedia Britannica, chartered a 100-foot yacht to take a party of friends cruising for six weeks in the western Mediterranean. While the company changed from port to port Stevenson was aboard for most of the cruise enjoying himself hugely. Toward the end he regaled a dinner party by putting on a side-splitting imitation of Benton and no one laughed harder than the host.

It is characteristic of Stevenson that instead of returning to this country as his Latin-American trip ends in Caracas, Venezuela, he has chosen to spend five days of relaxation with his old friends, Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Tree of London and New York, at their beautiful place in the Barbados. Sir Winston and Lady Churchill, now mostly in opposition to him, agree that by a kind of spontaneous combustion, organization would quickly come into being if he were to emerge anew as a likely compromise choice of the convention in Los Angeles.

For this reason the speeches he is to make in the weeks ahead hold more than ordinary interest. The first is on April 12, Founders Day at the University of Virginia. He speaks under the auspices of the university and the Thomas Jefferson Memorial Foundation. Given the setting, Stevenson's admirers are looking for a literary-political triumph that will spark a new flame.

Two campaigns have demonstrated, he is much more interested in the company of witty and charming women than in Carmine DeSapio or Harry Truman.

After a big rally in Madison Square Garden, when a close huddle with the old warriors was called for, Stevenson would be enjoying himself with congenial friends in Mrs. Albert Lasker's drawing room.

He has changed surprising little in the 12 years since he was, to his own great surprise, elected governor of Illinois by a majority of nearly half a million. Beneath the urbane surface he is the same serious thinker profoundly concerned for the future of mankind in a world of nuclear armaments.

ASSIGNMENT WASHINGTON by Ed Koterba

WASHINGTON — Once a year the press corps of Washington calls a moratorium on all needling of their most coveted targets, the members of Congress. And guess what the newsmen do?

They take their victims to the Press Club for a big dinner with all the high-class trimmings. And then they pick up the check.

My guest was an old friend, Jim Quigley of Pennsylvania, who by all odds is the congressman closest to the President of the United States. Mr. Eisenhower is Quigley's constituent at Gettysburg.

Figuring I had a good pipeline to the White House at my elbow, I asked whether he'd ever gotten any special favors from his well-known constituent.

"No," Quigley replied. "But when we first met, the president was quite cordial to me. He said to me, 'You never know, I may want an appointment as postmaster someday.'" What makes this even more intriguing is that Quigley is a Democrat!

At the next table, Rep. Oren Harris (D., Ark.) was attracting a cold, nervous eye from the stage. Harris is head of the payola committee which is frowning on rigged TV shows.

The shabby chap on the stage was Efram Zimbalist, Jr., star of TV's "77 Sunset Strip." First he saluted Harris with a nervous wave of the fingers, and then he came through with a soul-searching confession.

"I really don't solve those crimes on television," he said grimacing. "My writers do. I just act the part." And a pause. "In fact, you can't even call it acting."

Our men of Congress were so taken with freeloading off their adversaries that they really let their hair down.

At one point, Dorothy Sarnoff, star of the Broadway hit, "The King and I," conned our stately gentlemen into clinking glasses merrily to the rhythm of one of her operatic-voiced jazz tunes.

This clinking cacophony seemed out of character, for this hall of dignitaries held such distinguished gentlemen as Senate Majority Leader Lyndon Johnson of Texas and Sen. Francis Green (D., R. I.), Washington's political party prince and the oldest man ever to serve in Congress.

At the conclusion of the song, Miss Sarnoff cooed in to the mike: "You're the best bunch of clinkers I've played to all year."

Contrary to popular notion, members of the Lower House and the men of the Senate often are complete strangers. I found senators surreptitiously asking reporters to help identify congressmen in the crowd.

At one point, Rep. Bill Ayres (R., Ohio), one of Washington's gregarious giants, nudged me. "Is that Senator Symington?" he asked. It was Sen. John Marshall of Maryland. I introduced these two veteran Republicans.

To make small talk, Ayres told the senator: "I have something in common with your state. A number of years ago I opened the Montgomery Ward store in Baltimore while going to law school."

"No kidding!" Ayres exclaimed. "I was in charge of putting in the plumbing at that store." Butler was ecstatic. "You don't say! Are you still in the plumbing business?"

Which proves that newsmen ought to get our legislators together more often.

Proves His Point

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—It's a bird... It's a plane... No, it's a Marine private.

He sat atop a tower on the Golden Gate Bridge, 556 feet above the cars and 746 feet above the water, grinning down at his three buddies.

Pvt. Dan E. Smiley, stationed at the Concord, Calif., ammunition depot, said he and his buddies were walking across the graceful suspension bridge Sunday when one of them dared him to climb the tower.

"He said, 'I bet you can make it,' the buddy said.

Leatherneck to the core, Smiley hauled himself up the three-foot thick cable to the top of the tower, the height of 65-story building.

Smiley's buddies were impressed. "The police weren't."

They looked him on a misdemeanor charge of "trespassing on a portion of a public bridge not yet open to the public."

Happiness Through Health Are You Aiding Your Enemy?

(By DR. F. LEO KERWIN)

Time is your worst enemy when it comes to matters concerning your own health. Time can convert a curable cancer into a fatal growth. The passing of only a day or two can make the difference between a sore throat a far advanced diphtheria. A very short time can transform a function into a serious organic heart disease.

Every minute that passes after the beginning of disease increases the odds which the doctor must fight. There are numerous methods of diagnosis and treatment available today which were unknown a few years ago. Yet well-equipped as he is, with all these newer methods of fighting disease, your doctor is often handicapped by his worst enemy, time.

Your spine does much more than help you hold upright.

Its most valuable function is protection of a vital part of the nerve system. That is why even a slight spine failure is to be most carefully guarded against. When there is any degree of spine failure the result is that some body tissues are being deprived of the necessary nerve control or influence they need to function normally.

Are you or anyone in your family aiding your worst enemy, TIME, by saying, "I'll wait and see how I feel tomorrow." For tomorrow or next week or next month, TIME may have piled up tragic obstacles to your recovery.

Are you a Chiropractic case? One of a series of articles published in the public interest to explain and illustrate the practice of scientific Chiropractic, written by Dr. F. Leo Kerwin whose office is located at 201 S. French Ave. and his telephone number is FAirfax 2-7442.

Drivers Must Follow Rules To Get Good Mileage With Any Car

Good gas mileage can be obtained only if a driver practices a few basic rules of "economy" driving.

Like fingerprints, no two drivers are alike and thus no two cars will give the same identical gas mileage. Engines are specifically designed to give excellent gas mileage along with top performance, but it still remains for the driver to operate his car to his best interest.

Good mileage and lower operating costs can easily be achieved by learning and following certain careful driving habits.

1. Develop the constant speed habit. Best fuel economy is achieved on most cars at a constant speed of 35 to 40 miles per hour.

2. Avoid high speed driving since conservative speeds require far less fuel. At high speeds gas consumption is greater because of increased wind resistance and engine and tire friction. Under normal traffic conditions high speeds are difficult to maintain without excessive acceleration and braking. A 40 mile per hour average speed can be maintained while seldom exceeding 50 miles per hour, but to maintain a 50 mile per hour average requires driving whenever possible at 70 miles per hour.
3. Suppress that desire to surge away from stop lights and save fuel. Many people who complain about poor fuel economy are the same ones who are most proud of their car performance and who find it necessary to have their brakes adjusted most often.

4. Watch the road ahead and try to avoid congested traffic and stop lights. When a stop is unavoidable, coast to a stop. Whenever the brakes are used, energy (and thus fuel) is being wasted.
5. Avoid leaving the car standing with engine running. On a cold morning it may be well to let the engine run briefly before getting under way, but every needless revolution is wasting gasoline.

Selection of a new car and car care are two very important factors in realizing fuel economy. In making his selection the prospective car buyer must choose the kind of car that will offer the desired degree of fuel economy and at the same time provide a satisfying amount of eye appeal, comfort, handling ease, performance and safety.

In caring for the car in the interests of lower fuel bills, the owner should maintain proper tire pressure, have brakes adjusted so as not to drag, have the car lubricated at regular intervals and use motor oil of the recommended grade.

Items vitally affecting fuel economy and which should be handled by trained service men, include setting ignition timing, cleaning and adjusting distributor points and spark plugs, adjusting carburetor idle speed, accelerator pump, and mixture settings, checking choke and manifold heat control functioning.

Primaries Do Serve Useful Purpose, Sen. Humphrey Says

By HUBERT H. HUMPHREY
Written For UPI

Wisconsin's spirited Presidential primary campaign is drawing to a close. It has served a useful purpose for good government and democracy if it has stimulated people to think — to think beyond the outer tinsel of excitement such a campaign engenders; to think in terms of the vital issues of our time.

Elections in a democracy should and must mean more than a test of popularity; they are the opportunity provided our citizens to express their views on the kind of a country they want, the kind of a government they want.

They can only do so, however, if the candidates presenting themselves make clear where they stand on the issues — and are willing to place their records of public service and past policies on the line for approval or rejection as a guide to what the people want in the way of policies for the future.

That's why I have tried to talk issues in this campaign, and invite public scrutiny of the records of each of the contenders.

The purpose of a primary, as differentiated from the general election, is to help guide each party in the selection of its nominee for the final election in November.

As a Democrat, I have felt that the task of fellow Democrats is to decide which candidate has a record best exemplifying what we want the Democratic Party to stand for — and which has a record, and the ability to support it, from which we can best challenge the Republican contender in November.

As an American, I have felt the obligation of all candidates is to make clear what they believe, what they stand for, what they want to do for the country, and why they believe they are qualified to lead their party — so that the voters are given a choice that is meaningful.

More important than who wins, is what we win for.

I have thoroughly enjoyed these weeks of campaigning in Wisconsin, and I look forward with confidence to the result of the election. I deeply respect the judgment of Wisconsin's citizenry.

Motorists Making Car Stealing So Easy It's Big Business Now

Stealing cars is big business — and business is booming.

Quoting the National Automobile Theft Bureau, carelessness tops every list of factors contributing to car theft, with keys left in the ignition making many of these thefts ridiculously easy.

The brochure, prepared under the direction of E. J. Krause, Buick's general service manager, lists seven ways to help protect your car against theft.

1. Never leave your keys in the ignition, regardless of where you park.

2. Always close all windows and lock all doors when you park even for a short stay.
3. Be sure the numbered center section of your keys are punched out and keep the numbers, along with any duplicate keys, in a safe and easy-to-remember place.

4. Never leave your car registration or driver's license in the glove compartment.
5. Don't leave packages, luggage or other valuables in plain sight, even in a locked car. Remove temptation by locking such items out of sight in the trunk.
6. Avoid leaving your car for long periods in one location. Check frequently to make sure it is still there and safe. Avoid parking on dimly lit streets or lots.
7. Always demand a claim check from parking lots, for without it you never could prove you parked your car there.

Don't Forget — Cars Need Spring Cleaning Too

Just as a tidy housewife insists on an annual spring cleaning, the motorist should prepare his car for the increased miles and higher speeds of warmer weather.

Springtime is an appropriate time for a mechanical checkup, because cold weather is particularly hard on many components of your automobile.

Vital ignition distributor points, for example, are subject to a higher current flow which tends to accelerate point surface damage.

Cables and wiring should be checked for corrosion, fraying, wear or other damage to insure that the basic electrical system of the car is up to par.

Spark plugs tend to accumulate deposits during slow winter driving necessitating cleaning, gapping or replacing for maximum efficiency.

Because the battery has been subjected to high current loads the regulator setting should be checked to guard against over-charging during the warmer months. A light lead battery check will quickly reveal the condition of the battery and indicate whether it should be serviced or replaced.

For summer economy and performance, the carburetor should be in top shape. Cleaning and adjustment may be necessary due to moisture or dirt accumulation during winter operating conditions.

To complete the fuel system check, fuel pump operation should be inspected and gasoline filters cleaned or replaced.

When anti-freeze is drained, a suitable rust-inhibitor should be added to the cooling system. Radiator hoses and the fan belt should be inspected and replaced if necessary.

It should be pointed out that special attention should also be paid to the thermostat which controls engine temperature. For top efficiency and fuel economy, it is equally important that the thermostat operate properly in the summertime as well as in wintertime.

Shock absorbers are often overlooked. Not only do shock absorbers affect riding comfort, but they also can make vehicle handling unsafe if they are ineffective due to leaks or wear.

Similarly neglected, he added are the front wheel bearings. Adjustment and lubrication should be checked to avoid the possibility of overheating and damage which can be responsible for repair bills and an unsafe vehicle.

Brakes, of course, should be checked for excessive pedal travel and to determine whether brakes grab or pull unevenly.

Shift Eyes In Car, Driving Is Safer

NEW ORLEANS (UPI) — When driving, the most important shift in your car is in your eyes.

This is the theme of a safety bulletin issued to the employees of the Wescon Co.

"Build a strong habit of shifting your eyes every two seconds," the bulletin advises. "Keep glancing near and far ahead and into the rear mirror. This habit is restful to your eyes, and it forces you to adjust your speed to visibility traffic and weather conditions."

Why Wide-Track works wonders with wagons

Easiest handling wagon in all the world is the Pontiac Safari. Wide-Track is the reason. It grips the road more securely under all of a wagon's varying load conditions. It is resistant to cross winds. And it takes the curves and turns with less lean and sway, even with full cargo. If you're in a station wagon mood, make no decision before driving a Wide-Track Pontiac Safari!

Wide-Track widens the stance, not the car. With the widest track of any car, Pontiac gives you better stability, accurate control, less lean and sway.

Youth To Take Over Oviedo Church Programs

Following the services Sunday morning the Reverend Jack T. Bryant of the Oviedo Baptist Church turned the services for the remainder of the week over to the young people for the Youth Week program, including the Sunday evening services.

On Friday, Saturday and Sunday the Youth Revival Team from Stetson University will be present to help present special programs at 7:30 p. m. on Friday and Saturday nights and again all day on Sunday. Those from Stetson to appear on this program are Max Hall, serving as preacher for the student group; Carol Hahn, musician with the singer to be announced when recruited.

A Fellowship Hour for the Youth will follow each service on Friday, Saturday and Sunday evening. Everyone is invited to attend these services and to support the young people of the Church. From the local church those serving this week will include: Albert Myers, preacher; Jan Mays, special speaker; Sandie Mays, church clerk; Billy Robbins, church treasurer; Danny Gam-mage, chairman of Deacons; June Fleming, choir director; Julie Gore, pianist; Walter Hill, Supt. of Sunday School; John David Beasley, Training Union director; Beasley Fleming, WMU president and Carl Hill, Brotherhood president.

Joe Malcolm, Tommy Parlin, Jimmy Jones and Bonnie Arnold will serve as ushers. The Social committee consists of Yvonne King, chairman; Gladys Alford, Marilyn Mathers and Clyde Dunk-lee. Jan Mays will act as Supt. of the Young People's Sunday five.

School Dept., while Linda Harris will be Supt. of the Intermediate S. S. Dept.

Special music for the program being planned is by the committee consisting of Carol Beasley, Jackie Pandaris and Carol Alford. Invitations are extended to all officers and team members to at-tend all planning meetings and all services for the entire week.

Most of the young people of this group will comprise the special choir for this occasion.

DeGaulle Urges Removal Of 'Fear'

LONDON (UPI) — President Charles DeGaulle told the combined houses of British Parliament today France would be "happy" to quit developing atomic bombs as soon as the other world powers destroy their nuclear weapons.

"Peace can only be attained if the general fear of sudden annihilation is first removed," the visiting French leader said in a rare joint session of Lords and Commons.

Usually only the Queen speaks at a joint parliamentary session.

By implications, DeGaulle rejected the attacks on West Germany made by Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev during his recent tour of France.

"The peace France and Britain are striving to build should not widen divisions or poison wounds... including those suffered by the Germans, who were yesterday our enemies but today are a vital part of the West and our common ally," he said.

DeGaulle as he strode into the ancient hall of Westminster adjoining Parliament.

A dark business suit was draped over his 6-foot, 4-inch frame. He contrasted with the brigadier general's uniform—symbol of his World War II stay in London as leader of Free French forces—which he has worn at most of his appearances here.

In slow deliberate French, DeGaulle delivered an eloquent plea on behalf of world disarmament.

"France," he said, "wishes above all for stocks of nuclear weapons to be destroyed. The installations where they are to be made to be used for different purposes, the rockets and aircraft carrying them, as well as the fixed or floating bases from which these vehicles of death can be launched to be placed under surveillance."

The French President said he had a "rational hope" that some understanding on critical issues might be worked out between East and West at the Paris summit meeting next month.

"I declare that at this important juncture France stands shoulder to shoulder with Britain," he told the parliamentary assembly.

DeGaulle's meeting with Sir Winston Churchill Wednesday was a moving demonstration of how disagreement on issues does not really mean anything when two parties who basically respect one another get together.

Both leaders sharply criticized each other in their published wartime memoirs. But when they met at tea they grinned at each other and chatted happily like old friends that they are.

New Airlines Drive

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The nation's airlines have opened a new drive to eliminate as an air safety threat. The Air Transport Association, representing the scheduled airlines, announced Wednesday it had asked a scientific research firm to study the problem of detecting explosives.

Emergency Landing

CHICAGO (UPI) — A big jet airliner with 82 persons aboard lost part of its braking system on a flight from San Francisco to Chicago but made a safe emergency landing at O'Hare International Airport early today. The big United Airlines DC-8 landed without incident at 1:30 p. m. and was towed to the airport terminal. None of the passengers was injured.

Overworked

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — Fifty per cent more doctors would be needed in the United States if the nation's present physicians each worked only 40 hours a week. Dr. Mark S. Blumberg, a Stanford research analyst, Wednesday told delegates at the annual conference of Blue Cross medical insurance plans that the average U. S. doctor now works 80 hours each week.

Still Dry

JACKSON, Miss. (UPI) — Mississippi — where it is estimated that more than a million dollars is spent annually on 800,000 gallons of liquor and wine — today remained the only legally dry state in the nation.

The House of Representatives Wednesday night defeated, by a 218-197 vote, a Senate-approved local option bill and ended a serious threat to legal prohibition.

By United Press International

The Chattanooga, Tenn., school board is set to meet today to study a plan to meet the integration of Negro parents seeking racial integration of city schools. Commissioner S. Dean Peterson, head of the Department at Chattanooga, who was named as one of the defendants, said the board will be called together at the earliest convenient time... to discuss the suit and to determine the procedures to be followed.

Trapped Sanford Man Is Rescued

A Sanford Construction worker was listed in their conditions today as being trapped in the cab of his overturned truck for over an hour Tuesday afternoon.

DeBary Constable O. D. Pappas said Herman Yates, driving a pickup truck on the Old Enterprise Road apparently lost control of his vehicle, hitting a soft shoulder turning the truck over. Pappas said that Yates was pinned inside the cab of the truck an hour and a half before rescue workers could wedge him out.

Yates received a fractured hip in the mishap.

Floridians Asked To Back Adlai

MIAMI (UPI) — The head of a Florida "Adlai Stevenson For President" group said today the group's aim is to "get at least 100,000 signatures for Stevenson on a petition" to send to the Democratic convention at Los Angeles this summer.

Miami attorney Philip E. Heckler said that many people in Florida voted for Stevenson in 1956.

"We're sending out mimeographed petitions now all over the state asking people to support Stevenson," said Heckler. He said the Florida group will send the signatures to California and they will be presented at the convention "through Eleanor Roosevelt."

FDR Aide Dies

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Lowell Mellett, nationally known newspaperman and a wartime aide to President Franklin D. Roosevelt, died here Wednesday night of a heart ailment. He was 76.

Senate Defeats Civil Rights Amendment

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Senate defeated today a major southern attempt to knock out of the civil rights bill the key provision setting up federal referees to protect Negro voters.

Rejected was an amendment by Sen. Allen J. Ellender (D-La.) that would have the same fate as a previous series of amendments offered by southerners and liberals to change the bill as it now stands.

Despite the defeat of the Ellender amendment, there was a growing possibility the referee provision might be modified because of objections raised by Sen. Richard B. Russell (D-Ga.), leader of the southern bloc.

Supporters of middle-of-the-road legislation who have taken command in the Senate fight conceded that Russell's arguments had merit, and some modification might speed final passage of the legislation.

Russell said the disputed section as passed by the House would "discriminate against white voters" because they could not register as late as some Negroes. He called the provision "monstrous" and said it demands correction. He told newsmen he thought his plea would "appeal to the sense of fairness of the Senate if they understand it."

Republican Leader Everett Dirksen of Illinois told newsmen he talked with Justice Department officials about the Russell proposal and expected an opinion later in the day.

If adopted, Dirksen said, a modification "would take the steam out of the debate" and expedite final action.

African City Tense As New Violence Erupts

CAPE TOWN, South Africa (UPI) — Troop-supported South African police poured into the native compound of Nyanga today and resumed beating blacks who refused to go to work.

It was the biggest display of force yet at the black township outside Capetown which has been a center of protest against a white law requiring Africans to carry passbooks.

The chief of police, Col. Terblanche, reported the situation inside the compound "very tense." He declined to give details.

Natives reached by telephone inside Nyanga told United Press International that a new wave of police beatings had erupted.

Terblanche merely said he had sent patrols into Nyanga this morning for "certain operations" designed to "protect law-abiding Africans from agitators and intimidators."

The violence resumed after a national holiday Wednesday in which there were no police beatings. Because business was closed down Wednesday there was no need for police to try to force Africans to work.

Many Africans have been engaged in a massive stay-home demonstration against the passbook law.

Start Afresh, Reds Tell Arms Meet

GENEVA (UPI) — The Soviet Union proposed today that the disarmament conference abandon further efforts to agree on rival Western and Communist plans since each side has given flat rejections.

Instead, the Russians said, the conference should start afresh on the basis of the United Nations General Assembly resolution of Nov. 20, 1958, calling for "universal and complete disarmament under effective international control."

Soviet Delegate Valerian A. Sorin threw the proposal on the table at the 18th session of the disarmament conference. It lasted two hours.

Western delegation sources said the proposal seemed "neither particularly exciting nor new" in an early study.

At the West's request, the formal session of the nuclear conference for today was canceled and an informal meeting of the chief delegates from the United States, Britain and Russia was scheduled in its place.

Absentee Ballots To Be Ready Soon

Absentee ballots will be available next Wednesday and applications for them can now be made at the Supervisor of registration's office in the Chamber of Commerce Building.

The ballots must be returned by 5 p. m. May 3 to count in the May 3 Democratic primary. Mrs. Camilla Bruce, supervisor of registration said today.

Mrs. Bruce said she expected approximately 400 absentee ballots to be filled out this election.

Kimball Nominated To Labor Post

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Eisenhower today nominated Arthur A. Kimball, now staff director of the President's Advisory Committee on Government Organization to be a member of the National Labor Relations Board.

Kimball, a 51-year-old Republican and native of the District of Columbia, has been in government service since 1938 when he went to work for the Commerce Department.

Middle West Flood Threat Easing

By United Press International

The worst flood danger in the water-lagged Middle West appeared over today, even though flood threats persisted on the swollen Mississippi and Missouri rivers.

The Mississippi had stopped rising near Quincy, Ill., where earlier this week the nation's mightiest river burst through its levees and flooded 30,000 acres of rich farmland.

But authorities warned the dike holding back the Mississippi was dangerously soft and could give way unless the river level began to drop in the Quincy area.

Downstream, some flooding was expected at the confluence of the

House Plans To OK 'Influence' Curb

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Legislation to outlaw influence-peddling by retired officers on the payroll of weapons makers seemed assured today of House passage.

The House called up for its second day of debate a bill providing for the court-martial of officers who take selling jobs with the defense industry within two years after they retire.

A related vote on ending the measure to the Senate was expected by nightfall.

Rep. F. Edward Hebert (D-La.) and a bloc of House members were waging a verbal battle for an amendment carrying specific criminal penalties for officers and contractors who violate the law.

Indications were however, that the Hebert amendment would never come to a showdown vote. Its opponents planned to try to sidetrack it by arguing that under the House rules it was not germane to the bill.

Chairman Carl Vinson (D-Ga.) of the House Armed Services Committee, which drafted the bill, told the House it was not a "powderpuff" measure as some have claimed.

Vinson said its provisions included:

- Forfeiture of retired pay for two years for any officer violating the two year "no-selling" ban, in addition to court-martial for bringing discredit on the armed forces.

Health Insurance Plan Introduced

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Seven GOP senators introduced a new voluntary public-private health insurance plan for the aged today tailored to meet at least some of President Eisenhower's objections to a Democratic proposal.

Sen. Jacob K. Javits said it would provide up to $10,000 in health care insurance to a subscriber for a maximum premium cost of $2.10.

The GOP plan, to operate under existing private or special state agencies, would cost a subscriber from 30 cents to $13 a month, depending on his income.

Any difference between a subscriber's share and the total cost would be shared by the state and the federal government. The federal share would be based on a formula and would range from three-fourths to one-third.

Javits said that assuming 70 per cent of those eligible would join the plan, the average annual cost to the government would be about $400 million, the cost to the states, $640 million, and to the subscribers, $400 million.

Man Who Robbed Aulin, Caught

A 30-year-old Orange County man was arrested Tuesday night and charged with robbing Orlando Justice of the Peace Theodore Aulin.

Billy Fletcher was arrested by Constable George Kelsey and brought to the sheriff's office about 9:30 p. m. Fletcher was charged with being the man who asked the 30-year-old peace justice to perform a marriage ceremony Monday, took him to a point near Aulin and robbed Aulin of $66 at knife point.

Pollution Control Lag Is Stressed

TALLAHASSEE (UPI) — Florida is 30 years behind in combating air pollution, State Sanitary Engineer David B. Lee told a meeting of zoning officials Wednesday.

Lee said new methods were needed to study the delayed effects of chemicals released into the air.

He said placing 350 houses on 100 acres of land is like doubling the amount of rainfall there. If septic tanks are included, the effect is like tripling the rainfall, he said.

The replacement of trees, shrubs and turf by roof tops, streets and driveways is responsible, he said.

Florida's industrial development, he predicted, "is going to depend on the quality of water."

Castro To Change Laws As Desired

HAVANA (UPI) — Premier Fidel Castro's revolutionary regime served notice Wednesday night it felt free to rewrite Cuba's laws any way it sees fit.

Capt. Antonio Nunez Jimenez, working boss of Castro's land reform institute, said in a televised statement that any law adopted by any previous Cuban government which "interferes with the advance of the revolution" must be changed.

Observers here speculated an early target of any legal reform would be the Supreme Court, which in two recent instances has reversed land expropriation awards in favor of the U. S. companies concerned.

Doctors To Air Lung Cancer Study

PITTSBURGH (UPI) — Doctors were scheduled today to testify under oath for possibly the first time on whether there is a link between smoking and lung cancer. They were to be called to the stand in a cancer victim's $1,125,000 federal court suit against a cigarette company.

Andrew J. J. Stankovic was the right to call medical witnesses over defense objection. He said he would begin calling them today.
