Longwood Drops Plans To Build Sewer Plant

By Jane Casselberry
Herald Staff Writer

Spurning the advice of its finance director, city attorney, and consulting engineer on the financial feasibility of hooking up with the Seminole County sewer system, the Longwood City Commission Monday night, by inaction, dropped the option of building its own 600,000 gallons-per-day capacity Grant Street Sewage Treatment Plant in favor of joining the county system.

Longwood commissioners were up against two deadlines:

- A Jan. 20 bank-imposed deadline for deciding how money borrowed for building a new plant was to be used if the plant wasn't built — with a $300,000 penalty if the deadline is missed; and

- A Jan. 22 deadline for acceptance of a construction bid on the proposed new plant.

Sun Bank loaned the city $2.5 million to build and operate the new plant. When the city signed a contract with the county to wholesale the sewage treatment instead, which will cost more than building and operating the plant, the bank wanted assurance there would be revenue enough to meet the debt.

City Administrator Ron Waller said, "If we don't get approval from Sun Bank, we can't go forward (with joining the county) without it."

Parents Jailed For Alleged Child Abuse

By Susan Loden
Herald Staff Writer

A former Sanford couple charged in connection with alleged abuse of their daughters, ages 3 and 2 years, remained in the Seminole County jail today, following a Tuesday move from the Volusia County jail, where they were arrested Friday.

The father of the victims, Christopher Bauder, 25, Orange City, has been charged with four counts of aggravated child abuse and two counts of child abuse.

In October 1986, when the family resided at 212 W. Fourth St., Sanford, Bauder was charged in connection with the abuse of his daughters.

According to the initial Sanford police arrest records of Bauder, he is accused of depriving his daughters, Charina, 3, and Charissa, 2, of their parents' love and affection. It had been reported that he sometimes beat them with his fists, striking up to 20 blows at a time.

A witness to the alleged abuse told Sanford police the girls would "scream so hard they had trouble breathing and then they would be spanked again for screaming."

According to records of the Brevard/Seminole State Attorney, the latest arrests are in connection with the alleged abuse in Sanford.

This time the arrest also included the girls' mother, Nancy Bauder, 22, who Friday was charged with one count of aggravated child abuse and two counts of child abuse. The Bauders were being held in lieu of $8,000 each.

The latest arrests were spurred by tips to officials that the couple was planning to move from Volusia County. The children have been in foster care, following the initial reports to authorities of the alleged abuse.

Sanford Police Chief Steve Harriett said today that initially, on Oct. 16, Bauder was charged by Sanford police with one count of child abuse. Following that arrest Bauder was released from the Seminole County jail on Nov. 3, 1986, with the abuse charge apparently having been dropped.

Seminole County Sheriff's Department records show that Bauder was released without posting bond. He was not given a court appearance date and the case was labeled "discharged."

Harriett said apparently the state investigators have upgraded and added to the charges against Bauder and added the charge against Mrs. Bauder, as a result of a continued probe. Harriett said Assistant Seminole County State Attorney Jeffrey Deen ordered a warrant for the arrest of the Bauders. The upgraded arrests were made by Volusia County sheriff's deputies and the suspects returned to Seminole County to face the charges.

Bauder is accused of locking the lots in their Sanford apartment and leaving them without supervision for up to four hours at a time. He also allegedly beat Tamar for wetting her pants and at times made her sit on a toilet for up to three hours. She would have to wear her wetted underpants for several days sometimes, the police report said.

The state department of Health and Rehabilitative Services participated in the investigation and took custody of the girls.

2 Oviedo High 911 Pranksters Nabbed

Two pranksters making false 911 emergency calls at Oviedo High School were caught Tuesday and one has been suspended from school for 10 days.

The pranksters' pick-up followed more than two dozen false emergency calls from pay phones at the school. The calls, starting in October when the emergency system became operational, ranged from obscene calls to those falsely reporting a murder. Until Tuesday, only one student had been caught.

Carole Andrews, communication supervisor for Oviedo Police, said the kids were nabbed by a cooperative effort by students, school officials and police.

"Now that we've shown 'we can catch you' we may have stopped the calls," she said.

When the 911 number is called, the computerized system tells dispatchers where the caller is phoning from and in whose name the phone is contracted. An officer is then sent to the address.

Officers believe the major problem with the prank calls is that they tie up officers who may be needed elsewhere.

Besides catching the two students, Oviedo hopes to reduce the chances of such calls by installing a recording system in February, so the recorded voices can be matched to suspected students. If the problem continues after that, the school could ask the phone company to remove the pay phones.

In Sanford about a dozen calls have been made from Seminole High School and a few from the lower-grade schools since the 911 system went into effect. The county's sheriff's department has had no problem with prank calls.

Refuse Pick-Up Firms May Face City Fee

Sanford is considering charging private refuse collectors fees for permission to operate within the city.

The city could collect about $100,000 a year by setting up the non-exclusive franchise with these refuse collectors in its commercial and business zones, according to City Manager Frank Falsion.

Commissioners began discussing the franchise Monday in work session and directed Falsion to come back with further details next month.

Falsion said the $100,000 was a "conservative" estimate of annual earnings from a non-exclusive franchise. He also said establishment of the franchise ordinance would give the city a better chance to monitor private refuse operations, some of which are presently damaging property during collections.

Falsion said he will continue collecting data, on both exclusive and non-exclusive franchise arrangements. An exclusive agreement would give one refuse company the city territory, while a non-exclusive arrangement would open the area to several companies. Falsion said there are four or five private companies "operating in a non-regulated environment" in the city's business and commercial districts. One city crew also picks up refuse in these areas, which lie along U.S. Highway 17-92 and surrounding First Street in downtown Sanford, he said.

The city crew would be transferred from the commercial pick-up to the residential refuse division if the franchise ordinance is adopted, Falsion said. Refuse in the city's residential areas is picked up by Sanford crews and there are no plans to change the arrangement, he said. Commissioners also indicated Monday they were satisfied with the city crews continuing to handle residential collections.

City crews allow more latitude to customers than private companies, which set strict guidelines in terms of the number of cans and the amounts of refuse that can be placed for collection, said Public Works Director Bob Kelly.

Under the business and commercial franchise, the private companies would set their own pick-up price and the city would charge for the territory they collect in. Falsion said he recommends the non-exclusive arrangement, allowing "open, free enterprise competition," rather than one firm handling the entire area.

Either franchise would also give the city better opportunity to monitor the collectors' methods of operation, Falsion said.

The opportunity to "police" the companies would cut down on damage he said some of the trucks are causing in the business and commercial zones. Falsion showed commissioners photos of torn lawns and cracked curbs to illustrate his point. He said the damage was caused by refuse trucks the city isn't able to adequately monitor.

Sanford Debates Value Of Well Site

By Karen Talley
Herald Staff Writer

A well site Sanford recently purchased has become focal point for a city commission debate over its value as a land holding and potential use as a recreation facility.

Commissioners' deliberations also include a staff proposal for a city employee to move into an abandoned house at the site.

The 16-acre parcel lies west of Sanford, in unincorporated Seminole County. Commissioners agreed to pay $400,000 for the site last fall.

As proposed, the site will be used for three to four wells and possibly a recreation facility for western Sanford, when the city's borders reach that area. City staff are also saying an employee should be allowed to rent the site's abandoned home, which is subsequently proposed to serve as headquarters for a municipal recreation facility.

A city commissioner seated after the purchase said Monday he feels the home and two acres surrounding it should be sold. He said the sale would garner between $150,000 and $200,000 and this money could be used for "immediate" recreation needs of "inner city youth."

"I didn't realize we were on such a long term plan for recreation," Commissioner Whitey Eckstein said

Monday when told of projected plans for the site. "I think it's something we should deal with here and now."

Eckstein's proposal for sale of the home was not supported by three of his colleagues. The city's fifth commissioner was not present for Monday's work session.

The commission majority said the parcel is too valuable a holding to consider selling, even in part. The site lies north of County Road 46A, near the city's Oregon Avenue well field.

Commissioner A.A. McClanahan, also seated after the parcel's purchase, said the entire tract should be held by the city because land values in the area are increasing, as is the city's growth.

He said a 70-acre parcel near the well site is on the market for $7 million. He also said, "I see the city's limits going to I-4 eventually — I don't know how many lawsuits it will take — and I would not like to turn loose any of the well property at this point."

A number of Sanford's western annexations are being challenged in court by the county. The city expands its borders through annexation of unincorporated county land. The acquisitions are the result of

Suspect In Burglary Of Fern Park Home Charged

Seminole County sheriff's deputies reported charging a 19-year-old Altamonte Springs man in connection with the Jan. 3 burglary in which goods valued at $1,400 were stolen from a home at 207 Maid of the Mist Drive, Fern Park.

Some of the goods stolen have been recovered and Rufus Morse of P.O. Box 923 Lake Howell Road, charged with burglary and grand theft after questioning at the Casselberry police station at about 3 p.m. Monday. He was being held in lieu of $1,000 bond.

Deer, Fish Theft Suspect Caught

An 18-year-old Sanford man has been charged with burglary and petty theft in connection with the theft of three deer and a case of catfish from a cooler on the property of Raymond Parker, 4200 State Road 46, Geneva.

Blood from the deer carcasses was reportedly found in the trunk of the suspect's car. Arrested at 9:25 a.m. Monday at the Seminole County jail was Jeffrey M. King, of 942 Country Club Road. He has been released on $1,000 bond to appear in court Feb. 9.

Driving Under Influence Arrest

The following person has been arrested in Seminole County on a charge of driving under the influence:

—Paul E. Berger, 45, of Winter Park, was arrested at 5:05 p.m. Monday on Tangerine Avenue near Casselberry. He was also charged with careless driving.

Burglaries And Thefts Reported

Hubbard H. Button, 68, of Columbus, Ind., reported to Seminole County sheriff's deputies that $250 was stolen from his van while parked at Sylvan Lake Park, Lake Markham Road, Paola, between Jan. 16 and Sunday.

About $220 worth of tools with a tool box were stolen from the car of Jef Alan Laroche, 21, of 551 E. Semoran Blvd., D-19, Casselberry, while the vehicle was in an impound lot at Mike's Fina, Fern Park Blvd., Fern Park, between Jan. 14 and Monday, a sheriff's report said.

Rowdy Drug Suspects Arrested

Two men who were allegedly disturbing neighbors with their loud cursing outside Building 30 Moree Loop, Winter Springs, were arrested on charges of possession of marijuana and disorderly intoxication.

Winter Springs police reported smelling marijuana smoke in the suspects' car. The men were ordered out and police reported finding marijuana and a beer can used for smoking in the car. Police said both men were apparently intoxicated.

Arrested in the case at 4:54 a.m. Sunday were Gregory Andrew Sutherland, 18, of 807 Buckle Drive, Winter Springs, and David Charles Tuell, 18, of 30-43 Moree Loop, Winter Springs. They were being held Monday in lieu of $500 bond each.

4 Linked To Auto Burglaries

Seminole County sheriff's deputies who questioned four suspects, including two boys, a 16- and 17-year-old, reported spotting their car stolen goods taken from four cars in the Creek Bend subdivision.

The four were each charged with four counts of burglary at 8 a.m. Sunday after having been stopped on Wekiva Springs Road, Longwood.

The boys were charged as juveniles and they were arrested along with Robert Vincent DeVore, 20, of 811 Mason Ave., Apopka, and Randle Lee Davis, 18, of 2114 Sheeler Ave., Apopka. The adults have been released on $1,000 bond each to appear in court Feb. 2.

Sanford Burglaries and Thefts

Sarah Luther, 81, of 202 S. Jessamine Ave., Sanford, told police that a man walked up behind her, grabbed her tote bag and knocked her down, then ran away. The incident occurred at 1:15 p.m. Friday.

The parking lot of Sun Bank, 200 W. 1st St., Sanford, was the scene of a robbery at 11:05 a.m. Friday. Marshall Waddle, 51, of 1305 Sanford Ave. told police that he was getting into his car in the parking lot when a man grabbed him by the arm and hit him in the forehead causing a laceration. The robber reached into Waddle's car, grabbed his bank bag, then fled on foot.

Carling Keltz, 37, of 1000 Holly Ave., Sanford, reported to police that about $800 worth of tools were taken from his shed at 8 a.m. Saturday.

Tools valued at $840 were taken from a van at 1229 W. 13th St., Sanford, at 7:30 p.m. Saturday, according to police. Mack W. Gamble, 33, of 503 Mattie St., the owner of the van, told police that unknown persons entered his van and took the tools.

Maurice D. Isbell, 44, of Sanford, reported to sheriff's deputies that a $1,000 saw belonging to Joseph V. Silvestri, 60, of Sanford, was stolen from the bed of his pickup truck at the Post Time Lounge, U.S. Highway 17-92, Longwood, around 1 p.m. Wednesday.

About $250 worth of tools in a box were stolen along with a $30 camera from the home of Danny C. Jacobs, 38, of 1639 Tiffany Woods Circle, Oviedo, Saturday, a sheriff's report said.

A microwave oven valued at $500 and a television were stolen from Gerber Children's Center, 295 Oxford Road, Fern Park, Saturday or Sunday, a sheriff's report said.

The 1978 AMC Pacer of Aggie Hardern, 30, of 2200 Airport Blvd., Sanford, was reported stolen Sunday. Deputies said the vehicle is valued at $1,500.

Cop Trial Jury Out

MIAMI (UPI) — Jurors in the Miami River cops trial today are deliberating for the 11th day and defense attorneys say recent actions by the court may have prejudiced the panel.

Defense attorneys Tuesday said split verdicts returned Friday and the jury's inability to reach a verdict since then indicated the panel is hopelessly deadlocked. They want U.S. District Judge Kenneth Ryskamp to accept the unanimous verdicts the jury has reached and retry the other defendants.

Hostage Torture, Murder Confirmed

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Vice President George Bush has confirmed that William Buckley, the CIA's station chief in Beirut, Lebanon, was tortured and murdered by his Islamic Jihad kidnapers.

The vice president, speaking to a conference on terrorism Tuesday night about the Iran arms-Contra aid scandal, said Buckley, seized off the streets of Lebanon's anarchic capital March 16, 1984, was murdered.

Bush, the first administration official to confirm Buckley's murder, did not give any further details. Buckley's Islamic Jihad kidnapers announced in October 1985 that Buckley had been killed because he was a CIA agent.

The CIA has never claimed Buckley as one of their own, but it reportedly was his situation — and that of four other Americans held hostage by pro-Iran extremists — that at first prompted the administration to pursue its arms-for-hostages deal with Iran.

Bush touched on the frustration felt within the administration over the prolonged detention of the American hostages in Lebanon and the determination to "explore every channel, run down every lead."

He said President Reagan opposes trading arms for hostages but, "At the same time you should know the concern that the president feels, that we all feel, when an American in terrorist hands is tortured, and in the case of William Buckley, killed."

More Protesters In Court Today

TITUSVILLE (UPI) — Twelve people arrested last week for trespassing on federal property and being held in jails in Orange and Seminole counties will appear today before U.S. Magistrate Donald Paul Dietrich in Orlando.

Three anti-nuclear activists who were arrested last week for trespassing on property at Cape Canaveral Air Force Station during a week-long protest against the Trident missile were freed Tuesday.

Dietrich granted the three, who identified themselves, a "pre-trial diversion" for a six-month period. The activists must report to an official who is similar to a probation officer for six months, and charges will be dropped if they are not arrested during that period.

Officials reported that a total of 58 people were arrested throughout the week on the air station prior to Saturday's massive demonstration.

Joan Heller, a spokeswoman for the Brevard County Sheriff's Department, said 128 people were arrested Saturday when they climbed over the air station's fence. A paperwork error resulted in reports that 138 people had been arrested during the rally, which was not violent.

Of those, 103 remained in the Brevard County Jail in Titusville Tuesday.

Rain, Haze Hit Seminole County

Staff and wire reports: Chilly air, rain and haze greeted folks in Seminole County this morning as the long threatened showers began falling. Varying from mist to actual rain, the amounts also varied, from a trace to fractions of an inch.

The next few days should continue on the same theme, cloudy with temperatures ranging from lows in the 50s to highs in the 60s and 70s. Weekend temperatures should dip into the 40s as a front from the west crosses the peninsula.

Snow, sleet and rain fell from New Mexico to the Gulf Coast today, as hundreds of Navajo families remained stranded by an earlier snowstorm and Texas cattlemen struggled to feed snowbound herds.

National Guardsmen delivered food, medical supplies and blankets to isolated communities in New Mexico Tuesday and tow truck crews in west Texas said they had pulled 36-hour shifts clearing abandoned cars from snow-covered roads.

The snow was expected to taper off in New Mexico and Texas early today as the storm spread rain and sleet across Mississippi, Louisiana and Florida, the National Weather Service said.

Flooding from earlier rainfall kept about 60 families away from their homes today in Laurel, Miss., authorities said.

A blast of Arctic air swept out of Canada and across the northern Plains today, dusting parts of Montana and the Dakotas with snow early today. The snow was expected to move into Minnesota and traveler's advisories were posted for accumulations of 1 to 5 inches.

The weather service said snow, sleet and freezing rain could extend as far south as the Carolinas, and winter storm watches were posted for tonight for the mountains and foothills of both states. Extreme cold stretched across the country. In California, frost warnings were posted today in San Diego County, and four nights of record cold in Los Angeles prompted the City Council to open up City Hall to the homeless Tuesday.

An overnight low of 15 degrees below zero was recorded at Hibbing, Minn., and temperatures in the single digits and teens stretched across from the northern Plateau and southern Rockies across the nation's midsection to New England.

The latest storm that moved out of the Southwest into the Gulf Coast followed a giant winter storm that swept the Rockies a week ago and ripped across the country, killing 43 people in 14 states before it passed off the East Coast.

At least 7 inches of snow have fallen at Corona, N.M., and the mountain areas east of Albuquerque since Monday, adding to last week's snowfalls, the weather service said.

An estimated 500 families remained snowbound today on the Navajo Indian Reservation, about 150 miles northwest of Albuquerque, where they awaited emergency airlifts of supplies, tribal officials said.

National Guardsmen using four- and six-wheel vehicles and two helicopters to deliver food and supplies to isolated families in four southwestern New Mexico counties already declared disaster areas by Gov. Garrey Carruthers.

Snow in the Texas panhandle made it difficult to feed livestock and was keeping herds on their feet, both factors that could cause the animals to lose weight, said Jan McElhaney, manager of Sugarland Feed Yards Inc., in Hereford.

First Street Repaving, Beautification To Begin

After having her picture taken for winning a downtown merchants coloring contest prize recently, Kelly Foster, who turns 6 today, turned the tables and took the photographer's camera to snap a photo of her dad, Sanford's downtown business district is to be enhanced with $65,000 worth of city commission-approved road work.

The projects, it is hoped, will begin next month. They call for repaving of First Street, from Park to French avenues, and expanding its Streetscape landscaping from Park to Oak avenues.

The road plans were endorsed by commissioners in work session Monday. Funding proposals will be worked up by staff, hopefully in time for presentation to commissioners in regular session next week, said Planning and Engineering Director Bill Simmons.

The First Street efforts are part of commissioners' road rehabilitation program, which uses local option gas tax accruals and supplementary city funding for projects all over Sanford.

Commissioners' originally planned for First Street to be rebuilt from Park to French, but the plans were dismissed Monday when staff said low bid for the work came at $175,000, around twice the anticipated cost.

Commissioners agreed with staff's recommendation for repaving, rather than rebuilding, in light of the cost. The repaving is to provide a one-inch thick overlay for about $30,000. The covering will also level the road and should last at least five to 10 years, Simmons said.

The $30,000 repaving cost will be added to $35,000 in planned Streetscape spendings, Simmons said.

Cost for the Streetscape breaks down to about $20,000 for a private contractor to install new curbing and headers and $15,000 for city crews to install brick work and plantings, he said.

The city will close one side of First Street and then the other during the projects, but two way traffic will be maintained by prohibiting parking in the affected areas, Simmons said.

BEIRUT, Lebanon (UPI) — An anonymous caller today told a Western news agency in Beirut that his group kidnapped a second West German citizen, but Lebanese police sources said the man left the country Tuesday.

The West German Embassy in Beirut first confirmed the reported kidnapping, but was not available for comment on the police report that the man had already left the country.

The anonymous caller identified the man as Alfred Schmit and claimed his group — which he did not name — snatched him from outside a seaside luxury hotel Tuesday.

The Summerland Hotel, where Schmit was staying, said he had disappeared and said, "German Embassy officials came to see him this morning but they could not find him."

The Christian radio station Voice of Lebanon also said Schmit had been kidnapped from Moslen, west Beirut.

PLO Retaliation Threatened

WASHINGTON (UPI) — American law enforcement officials say they are working to prevent any terrorist attacks in retaliation for a formal U.S. request for the extradition of a Palestinian hijacking suspect from West Germany.

The stepped-up security measures both in the United States and abroad were taken as the Justice Department delivered its formal extradition request Tuesday for Mohammad Ali Hamadel, accused of air piracy and murder in the June 1985 hijacking of TWA Flight 847 and the death of a Navy seaman on board.

The West German government said Tuesday the Sunday abduction of German businessman Rudolf Cordes in Lebanon was linked to Hamadel's arrest, and a report from Bonn today indicates his captors intend to execute him if Hamadel is extradited.

Abdullah Frangi, Bonn representative of the Palestine Liberation Organization, in an interview published in the Bild newspaper today warned, "Hamadel's extradition to the U.S.A. would be a death sentence for Cordes."

Basra Battle Continues

United Press International

An Iranian missile fired at the headquarters of Iraq's ruling Baath Party slammed into a Baghdad neighborhood, killing an unreported number of people, as Iranian forces continued their siege on Basra.

The reports from Tehran and Baghdad could not be independently confirmed. Both sides have frequently exaggerated claims of battlefield operations since the war erupted in September 1980.

In Washington, Defense Department spokesman Robert Sims said up to 25,000 Iranian troops — many of them teenage revolutionary guards — have been killed since Iran launched its latest offensive into Iraq on Christmas Eve.

Immigration Law Guidelines Set

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The government, expecting up to 4 million illegal aliens to apply for U.S. citizenship under new landmark immigration law, plans to bar those who qualify from most financial aid programs for five years.

The Immigration and Naturalization Service, which released its first tentative guidelines Tuesday for implementing the law, also would require both Americans and aliens seeking jobs in the United States to produce proof of their eligibility to work within a day.

Mark Everson, executive associate commissioner of the INS, told a news conference Tuesday the agency expects up to 4 million illegal aliens to apply for U.S. citizenship, at a cost of $150 to $250 for each applicant.

The tentative rules are the first indication of how the government will implement the Immigration Reform and Control Act of 1986, signed Nov. 6 by President Reagan and meant to stem the flow of illegal immigrants into the United States.

Silencing Late Night Chit Chat

Think the unthinkable: An American television talkshow host with no one to talk to. However unlikely in this nation of open ears and open mouths, the celebrity talkshow is in crisis, and not because there's nothing left to say.

There has been an incredible increase of talk shows in recent years. Johnny Carson, Joan Rivers and David Letterman head up the popular late-night shows. But dozens of similar programs have entered national and regional markets during other time periods.

One reason for the increase is that second to talking, Americans like to listen, whether it be to a superstar entertainer or to the executive director of the World Kazoo Congress.

Another reason for talkshow eminence is that besides being simple, talk is, well, inexpensive. The production fees for a one-hour TV talk show are only $100,000, about a tenth of what a supercharged "Miami Vice" episode costs.

But gabbing does have its price, and in this case it is bullish hosts in a bearish guest market. "There's nobody left to talk to," said Jack Paar when he left "The Tonight Show" in 1962.

Perhaps he was exaggerating. But a limited celebrity pool does make things rough for the talk show talent scout. As intimidated by one, Vince Calandra, you can always get Charles Nelson Reilly, David Brenner, Charo or a Gabor sister. But the real coup in the competitive talk show markets is in landing bona fide superstars like "Redford, Eastwood, DiNiro" says Mr. Calandra. In other words, those persons who rarely appear on talk shows.

One way to beat the guest drought is practiced best by two popular daytime hosts. Oprah Winfrey and Phil Donahue have achieved a kind of cult status by taking the show off the stage and into the laps of the studio audience. There, they usually receive a dose of refreshing, down-home spontaneity.

This pulse-of-America route could well become all the rage. But in the meantime, the crisis continues. "All you need for a talk show," once joked a former host, Steve Allen, "is an empty room, a couple of cameras and a person who speaks in sentences and owns three suits." Enough said.

Wrong's Wrong

Brian Bosworth, the provocative University of Oklahoma linebacker, says that a doctor prescribed anabolic steroids to help him recover more quickly from a muscle injury. After traces of the steroids showed up in a pre-Orange Bowl drug test, Bosworth was banned from the game.

Bosworth hasn't identified the doctor or produced a written prescription to document his story. Nonetheless, if his version of how the drug got into his system is accurate, it points up one of the reasons that steroid use by young athletes is a growing problem.

Athletes pay the price, but what about the coaches, trainers and others in college and professional athletics who provide the steroids or look the other way? They are just as much to blame.

Athletes take anabolic steroids — man-made versions of the male hormone testosterone — to help them accelerate growth. But steroids also have been linked to liver tumors, prostate cancer and heart disease. In women, steroids can cause growth of facial hair, baldness and sterility. In men, steroids can cause the development of female characteristics.

Bosworth said, "I deserve my right to give my body the ultimate challenge and be as healthy as I can be."

Steroids have legitimate medical uses. They are used to help recovery in burn patients and to treat anemia and chemotherapy patients. Considering the risks, however, using them merely to speed a football player's recovery is a questionable practice. Using them just to make a player bigger and stronger reflects misplaced values.

Now, A Look Ahead Into The 21st Century

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Judging from the year-end articles I have seen, a lot of seers are predicting what will happen this year.

It is, however, fairly easy to foresee a few months ahead. The real trick is peering all the way to the next century, which at last count was roughly 13 years in the future.

I take my hat off to the "14 great minds" assembled by Omni magazine. In the January issue, they look forward 20 years.

So I don't necessarily agree with Omni as to what constitutes a "great mind." There is no gainsaying that we stand on the threshold of the Age of Information, just as we once stood, palpitating and perspiring, at the dawning of the Age of Aquarius.

Nor is there any denying, as one computer whiz predicts, that "a lot of things are going to vanish," including credit cards and bank checks. I may even disappear myself.

Still, I found the Omni article strangely lacking in prescience. Here, based on current trends, are some of the things I believe will happen at some point during the 21st century:

—A single airline will fly all U.S. routes, foreign and domestic. It will be called Trans Dogpatch in honor of the late cartoonist Al Capp and will be conglomerated by Ivan Boesky.

—Wall Street will require an extra digit, making five as opposed to the four currently in use by Dow-Jones, to report stock market averages.

—First lady Nancy Reagan will run for president and will be elected although there will be widespread speculation that it actually is her husband, Ronald, who is making policy for the administration.

—Male hats, which were pretty well done in the 1960s when President Kennedy insisted on turning up at state affairs bareheaded, will make a fashion comeback.

—Already, some television commentators are wearing hats to football games. By next century, I predict, no self-respecting male fan would be caught dead at a sporting event without a hat.

From the stadium, or arena, it is only a short distance to covering one's pate at all levels of society.

—Cloning will become scientifically possible, rendering moot the question "are men necessary," raised by another magazine writer.

—Heaven Fisher of the American Museum of Natural History asks: "What are men good for?" in this century?

—A trip to the Caribbean, perhaps some extra hands around the house," she concludes, answering her own question.

—As she points out, when Charles Darwin referred to "the survival of the fittest," he wasn't measuring "your bank account" or "your turbo-powered Porsche."

—He was counting your children," Fisher opines, and since the average woman lives a longer and healthier life than the average man, who needs "to dilute their genes with those of the male?"

—Cloning is the answer. But females in the next century may miss all those trips to the Caribbean. Particularly if, as predicted in Omni, bank checks vanish.

Foreign Investors Costly

WASHINGTON — In a brilliant essay in Journal of International Law and Politics, Dr. John M. Culbertson of the University of Wisconsin explains that "the United States has gone quietly into economic decline, with little thought to the causes and the implications." He warns that the U.S. is "unable to provide its younger generation with the income levels that have prevailed."

One of the causes of decline is a mistaken notion about the effect of foreign investment in the United States. An official of an auto parts company recently provided me with the draft of a speech he was giving at a college in the Midwest. He pointed out that the Reagan administration encourages foreign investments to help our enormous budget deficit; state governments want foreign investment to create local jobs. Indeed, he said, 20 states maintain offices in Tokyo, not for promoting American exports but rather to encourage Japanese businessmen and manufacturers to locate facilities in these states.

In addition, hundreds of millions of dollars have been set aside by state governments to fund incentives for foreign investments. These provide for direct loans and loan guarantees, interest subsidies, property, corporate profit and inventory tax statements, industrial training, foreign trade zones, research and development, and dozens of other generous handout programs.

New jobs are attractive to local communities, but consider the economic effects of these policies on American industry and on the number of American jobs. For example, the communities of Flat Rock, Mich., Marysville, Ohio, and Smyrna, Tenn. are delighted to have Mazda, Honda and Nissan locate assembly plants in their communities. Hundreds, perhaps thousands, of new local factory jobs have been created with the subsequent mushrooming of opportunities for grocery clerks, bowling alley attendants, and other service employees.

These communities also welcome the influx of Japanese managerial staffers and their families, who add an important new cultural element to the area. But as employment goes up in Marysville, Smyrna, and Flat Rock, employment goes down in Flint, Detroit, and Toledo.

Anti-Khomeini Rebels Gain Strength

By Jack Anderson
And Dale Van Atta

WASHINGTON — Opposition to the Ayatollah Khomeini is bubbling inside Iran — but not from the "moderates" that President Reagan's eager emissaries went looking for. Unbeknownst to most Americans, a determined group of anti-Khomeini rebels is actually fighting the ayatollah's conscripts inside Iran and along the Iraqi border.

These unsung warriors are the People's Mojahedin, and they form the largest, most effective Khomeini opposition inside or outside Iran. Their charismatic leader, Massoud Rajavi, was anti-American during the days of U.S. support for the shah, but he proclaims himself neither for nor against the United States now. Rajavi's politics are best described as nationalistic at home and socialistic in his world view, with a Moslem cant.

Last June Rajavi was expelled from exile in France in a secret deal with Khomeini for the release of some French hostages. Rajavi found

SCIENCE WORLD

Doctor-Patient Talk

By Gayle Young
UPI Science Writer

NEW YORK (UPI) — A generation ago, the women who patiently sat in Dr. Harry S. Jonas's waiting room were largely ignorant of obstetrics and not inclined to question his diagnosis, let alone treatment.

Their children's generation is not quite so docile.

They read medical reports in the popular press and view the latest surgical techniques on television.

"They are much more informed than they were a generation ago, even 10 years ago," Jonas, president of the American College of Obstetricians and Gynecologists, said in an interview.

"They ask informed questions and want informed answers," he said. "Most of them don't want the old 'whatever you think best, doctor' kind of treatment."

A virtual explosion of medical news in the popular media has created tension in the doctor's office and changed — probably for good — the way the medical profession and patients view each other, doctors said in interviews.

Recent polls show the majority of patients feel doctors do not spend enough time answering their questions, while doctors overestimate the time they spend talking with patients.

In a poll released this month, most doctors surveyed said their patients want more information and most admitted they don't communicate that information very well.

"There's real change going on," Jonas said. "Most think it's a good thing, as I do. But I imagine there are a few older-fashioned physicians who are having trouble adjusting."

The major problem today between doctors and their patients may be the amount of time they spend together talking, said doctors who study the health field.

In a recent study conducted at the University of California Medical School at Irvine, doctors overestimated by nine times the amount of time they actually spent providing information to their patients.

The study, conducted by Dr. Howard B. Waltzkin, who teaches medicine at the school, also showed that doctors spend more time talking to women than men and more time with upper class, well-educated patients than with those perceived to be of a lower class.

But the study indicated all patients, no matter what their income or education level, wanted more information from their doctors and were equally frustrated by their inability to get answers to their questions.

Waltzkin said studies have shown a vast majority of patients from all walks of life have always wanted more information from their doctors — it is just in the past decade they have been aggressive about demanding it.

Doctors may be aware there is still a communication problem, according to the results of a recent survey conducted by Miles Pharmaceuticals of West Haven, Conn.

Almost two-thirds of 300 doctors who responded said they did not communicate very well with their patients and half of those believed it was because they did not have adequate time to spend answering questions.

The solution may be for doctors to give their patients more information via pamphlets, books and even videotapes.

VIEWPOINT

Deficits Imperil Nation

By William R. Hawkins

The Mobil Corporation has been running editorials in support of free trade as a part of its paid advertising. A recent ad attempted to use history to support the thesis that "world trade and national greatness" were synonymous.

Unfortunately, the Mobil ads fail to distinguish between types of trade. This error reveals Mobil's focus to be trade rather than national greatness. Great powers usually have been major players in world trade, but weak and minor powers have also been involved, often with great powers in relationships that confirmed or established an imbalance of power.

The ad's historical examples taught broader lessons than Mobil realized. In Ming China, in 1405-1433, Chinese fleets plied the Indian Ocean and Persian Gulf. Chinese merchants were active from Africa and Arabia to Java and the Philippines. Shipbuilding stimulated new technology. Chinese commercial colonies expanded throughout the "southern seas." However, when emperor Yung-lo died in 1424, the isolationist Confucian bureaucrats, who feared both contact with foreign religions and the new wealth of the merchant class, moved to end this economic expansion. This was a major strategic blunder from which China has yet to recover.

Europe also expanded in the 15th century, and, eventually, European merchants reached China. By the 19th century, China was dominated by the world economy; foreigners divided the country into territorial markets. This time, trade was associated with weakness and exploitation, rather than with power and greatness. Instead of Chinese business penetrating overseas markets to sell, invest and make money, European interests were controlling China.

It is not trade or commerce but the balance of trade and control of markets that is decisive. In his two-volume work, Tide of Empires, in which Mobil's example is studied in detail, the distinguished British historian Peter Padfield concluded that the policies of a successful nation were "concerned almost exclusively with control of the largest possible markets for its own exclusive use... sea power, wide markets, industrialization are, therefore, all parts of the same system."

refuge in Iraq — a "defection" to the enemy that Khomeini carefully did not publicly exploit to discredit his most serious rival.

He had good reason: Khomeini was afraid that if Iranians knew Rajavi was just across the border, military deserters and others disillusioned with Khomeini's tyranny would rush to join the Mojahedin. In fact, according to sources in Iran and Iraq, Khomeini held a special session of his cabinet within days of Rajavi's expulsion from France to discuss its effects.

"I hope the day won't come when we regret asking France to kick Rajavi out," one minister reportedly said at the meeting. A direct result of the strategy session was to allocate six of the few operational Iranian aircraft for bombing missions against a Mojahedin base on the Iraqi border.

Recently Dale Van Atta flew to Baghdad to assess the People's Mojahedin efforts. He was the first journalist to meet with the organization's top officials inside Iraq.

Nader Rafinejad, the group's international secretary, gave a briefing on the situation as Iranian bombs dropped on the city. Rafinejad said the Iraqi government has been supportive, partly because Rajavi and Iraqi President Saddam Hussein have agreed to end the war (now in its seventh year) if Rajavi eventually takes power in Tehran.

"There are no Iraqi restrictions to our operations along the fronts," Rafinejad said. "Incursions into Iran are a daily affair for us. The principal aim is to go to the towns and cities, where our strategy is based on overthrowing the Khomeini regime through massive operations." The main concentration of Mojahedin fighting forces is in Iranian cities, Rafinejad explained. Rajavi is leading the Mojahedin's military forces personally, operating mainly in Iranian Kurdistan. The Kurds have fought many battles against Khomeini's army, both on their own and in temporary alliance with the Mojahedin.

Rafinejad acknowledged that Ra-javi is not pro-American but insisted that the Mojahedin are not Marxists.

Noting that Khomeini tries to discredit the Mojahedin as "American hypocrites" for seeking aid from the West, Rafinejad said: "But it is very important to realize what the Iranian people think. They have seen Khomeini, and they know how he acted when he came to power. In the first few days, 6 million people came out to cheer him. Now they are arresting people in movie lines to send them to the front."

Rajavi has promised elections within six months of Khomeini's overthrow. The Mojahedin executive committee felt it would take that long to stabilize the country. Acknowledging that power corrupted both the shah and Khomeini, Rafinejad said this couldn't happen with Rajavi — because the people wouldn't stand for it. "Really," he said, "the Iranian people cannot wait for democracy any longer. The glue that sticks us all together is this conviction for the freedom of Iran."

Iran Arms Question: Why Did 'Doomed' Policy Continue?

By Dana Walker
 WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Reagan's former national security adviser warned him twice to scrap a failing policy of arms sales to Iran — a policy Vice President George Bush says the president is "certain to this very day" had not become an arms-for-hostages swap.

Congress is not so certain, however, and lawmakers called Secretary of State George Shultz and the acting CIA director to Capitol Hill today to answer more questions about the policy even GOP loyalists say was "doomed to failure."

Former national security adviser Robert McFarlane, frustrated at the failure of his secret May 1986 mission to Tehran to free U.S. hostages in Lebanon, said early today he advised Reagan upon his return to halt the arms sales.

In an interview on ABC's "Nightline" that went past midnight, McFarlane said he could not explain why the deals continued until their exposure in November.

McFarlane, who said he was forced to leave his Iranian contacts a plane load of U.S. military "spare parts" he brought with him to exchange, had told Reagan once before he doubted the policy would work — in December 1985, based on meetings with other Iranian contacts and Israeli middlemen.

Reagan at that time "seemed to concur," McFarlane said, and he resigned that month as national security adviser assuming the policy was dead. He was tapped for the mission in May by his successor, Vice Adm. John Poindexter.

"If you spend as much time as you can talking to these people ... you develop some ability to come back and report to the president that 'Yes, there is some promise in this' or 'No, there isn't,'" McFarlane told ABC.

"I came away (from Tehran) convinced that there was not," he said.

Bush issued his defense of the president Tuesday night to a conference on terrorism. Without delving deep into the issue, he asserted the administration now has a chance "to restore the credibility of our policy."

Bush was the first administration official to admit "mistakes were made" in the Iran arms sales that spawned the scheme to divert profits to Nicaraguan Contra rebels. Tuesday he acknowledged, "A widespread perception exists that this administration traded arms for hostages, thereby violating our own strong policy of making no concessions to terrorists.

"When all the facts are out," he said, "the American people can make up their own minds on that key question. But the American people should also know that the president is certain to this very day that he did not authorize arms for hostages."

Amtrak Chief Blames Crew With Crash

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The head of Amtrak assailed a Conrail crew's "outrageous behavior" Tuesday for the crash of an Amtrak train and a Conrail locomotive that killed 16 people, alleging the engineer and brakeman

The Jan. 4 catastrophe north of Baltimore also injured 175 people and paralyzed Amtrak's heavily used Northeast Corridor between Washington, New York and Boston.

In testimony to a Senate panel investigating the tragedy, Amtrak Chairman W. Graham Claytor placed sole blame on the "outrageous conduct of the Conrail crew in violating not one but a whole series of important" operating procedures.

Sen. Frank Lautenberg, D-N.J., the chairman of the Senate panel, noted during the hearing that U.S. railroad engineers are not required to hold driver's licenses.

"We need federal licenses for railroad engineers," Lautenberg said. "Today, no license of any sort is required. They don't even need a driver's license."

Federal investigators also believe the primary fault may lie with the Conrail crew, said to be disregarding several warning devices, including a stop signal.

"Amtrak was the victim, not the perpetrator of this accident," Claytor testified.

Tests revealed evidence of marijuana in the blood and urine of the Conrail engineer and brakeman.

Plane Crash Kills Five

An Army brigadier general was among five people presumed killed in the crash of a military plane and a private craft in sunny skies over Missouri, a short time after two small planes brushed each other near a Rhode Island airport but landed safely, officials said.

Brig. Gen. David Stem, commander of the Military Police School at Fort McClellan, Ala., was one of three people on the Army plane that collided with a Piper Navaho with two people aboard about 12:30 p.m. CST Tuesday at 7,000 feet over Independence, Mo., an Army spokesman said.

The debris fell on the grounds of a privately owned ammunition plant 45 miles southeast of Fort Leavenworth, Kan., but did not hit any buildings, and there were no injuries on the ground, Maj. Bill Auer said.

The military plane, a twin-engine Beechcraft King Air based with its crew at Anniston Army Depot in Alabama, was on its way to Fort Leavenworth. Details about the private craft were not immediately released.

CLASSIC CLASH

Merthie Returns Home, Anxious To Flash Skills

By Beaton Wood
Special to the Herald
Why would a kid want to leave his hometown to play community college basketball at Daytona Beach?

Better surfing? A bigger town? Spring break? All of the above?

"Maybe they have better coaching" Seminole Community College coach Bill Payne said.

Sanford's Darryl Merthie, who played four years of varsity basketball at Lake Mary High School, could have decided to stay home and play basketball for Payne and the Raiders.

But Merthie said he wants to continue playing hoops — not just for two years, but for four. And who knows after that? He said although he has great respect for Payne and the SCC program, that it would be in his best interests to play at Daytona Beach.

"I wanted to get away from home to see how it is outside of Sanford," Merthie said. "I've been in Sanford my whole life, and I know what it's like there."

"Besides, I have a girl friend and a kid there. If I would have stayed home I wouldn't have got anything done," he added. "I go home almost every weekend now as it is. But I can concentrate more on basketball and school over here."

Tonight, though, Merthie will play in Sanford as Daytona Beach invades the SCC Health Center for a crucial Mid-Florida Conference encounter. Tipoff is 7:30 p.m. There is no charge for admission.

Merthie has worked hard on his game. At 6-foot-1, Merthie had to adjust from playing power forward in high school to guard at the JuCo level. Furthermore, he has to learn to play point guard and shooting guard if he intends to play major college basketball next season.

The numbers are good for Merthie and the Scots. The sophomore guard is averaging 19.7 points and four assists per game. He has filled both shooting guard and point guard roles. The Scots are 22-1, ranked No. 5 in the nation and No. 1 in the state. They lead the Mid-Florida Conference with a 6-0 record.

Off the court, his 2.4 grade-point-average doesn't qualify for any all-academic teams, but it is a mark he is proud of and won't keep him from attending a major college next year.

But he said he wants to improve on the court and in the classroom this year in order to attract scouts into offering him a basketball scholarship to a major university.

"A lot of people have seen me play, and they know I'm good," Merthie said. "But I know I can still improve my game. I have improved my jump shot since last year, but I have a lot of work to do on handling the ball."

"I think if I can improve as much in that area as I have in shooting, and if I keep bringing my grades up, I will definitely be able to play somewhere next year."

Ridenour said Merthie was labeled when he came to Daytona. "Everyone said Darryl was a great athlete — and he is," Ridenour said. "But because of his size no one knew what to do with him."

Ridenour said he prepared

No. 1 Daytona Invades SCC Gymnasium Tonight

By Sam Cook
Herald Sports Editor
Seminole Community College's Raiders and Daytona Beach's Scots get together at the SCC Health Center tonight in a Mid-Florida Conference basketball game which should be a spectator's delight. Tipoff is 7:30 p.m.

There is no charge for admission, but there should be tonight. This classic clash brings together two of the best teams and two of the best coaches in one of the best rivalries in the state.

The names and numbers alone justify a packed house.

Daytona Beach, 22-1, is ranked No. 1 in the state and No. 5 in the nation. The Scots were a unanimous choice for the former. They have won 18 consecutive games. They are atop the MFC with a 5-0 record.

Seminole, 21-2, is ranked No. 4 in the state. The Raiders have been as high as 14th nationally. The Raiders have won seven consecutive. They are tied for second place in the MFC with a 4-1 mark.

DBCC's Ray Ridenour and SCC's Bill Payne are an evening's entertainment in themselves on the coaching sidelines. Ridenour becomes disheveled in a hurry, shirt-tail, tie, hair and glasses all going different directions. Payne is not as active but demands and beseeches in an imploring manner of his players and the officials.

Darryl Merthie, a Sanford native and Lake Mary High standout, is one of the Scots' stars. The sophomore guard is averaging 19.7 points and four assists per game. He performed superbly in last year's battle at SCC.

Malcolm Houston, a 25-year-old freshman from the

Basketball

Raiders, is coming off a 41-point performance. He is averaging 22 points. Houston first wanted to go to Daytona Beach, but Ridenour said he thought it would be better if he stayed closer to home since Houston is married. "After seeing how he's played, I wouldn't be so worried about his marriage now," Ridenour quipped about the prolific 3-point shooter.

The Raiders are in a must-win situation. Two losses — both at home — would be a devastating blow in the MFC race and to hosting the MFC Playoffs after the regular season.

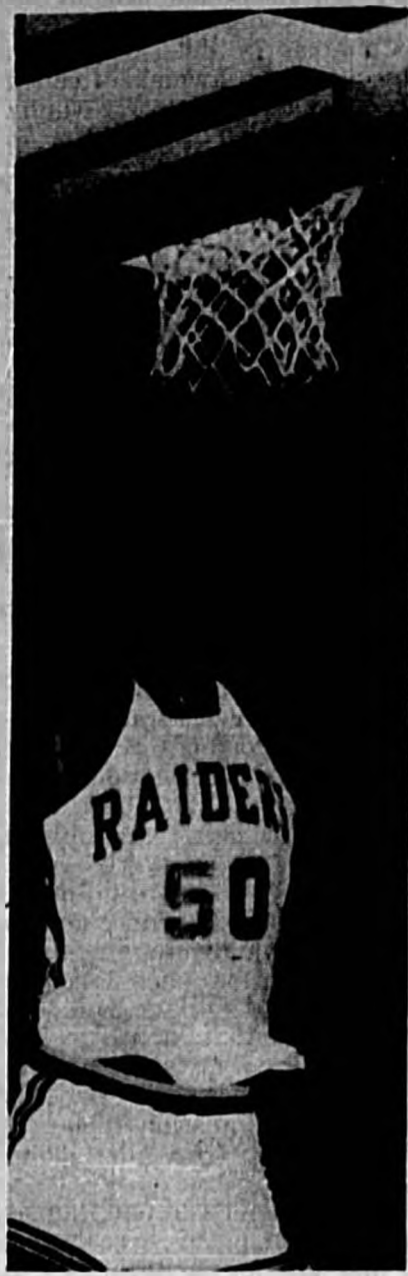

The Scots have never won at SCC under Ridenour despite always playing well in Sanford. Ridenour hopes this is the year they play well enough to take snap the jinx.

Darris Gallagher, SCC's slick point guard, is playing as well as any player in the state, according to both coaches. The 5-7 sophomore is handing out 11 assists and scoring 13.9 points while handling all defensive pressure and applying much of his own.

Leveritt Williams, DBCC's two guard, is considered one of the best outside shooters in the state by both coaches. The 6-1 sophomore is averaging 21.0 points per game. He can flat fill it up.

Vance Hall, SCC's 6-8 center, is considered the best center in the state — regardless of division — by Payne. Hall is averaging 16.8 points and eight rebounds per outing. Ridenour calls Hall the key to the game.

SCC's Vance Hall slams home two. Hall's inside attack is a key for the Raiders tonight.

185-pound freshman, gives Daytona an unaccustomed scoring punch in the paint. Dunbar is averaging 14.5 points per outing for the usually guard-oriented Scots.

It is a game which has each coach gloating over the other team's strengths and promoting

Mikler Induction At Halftime

Legendary Oviedo High basketball coach Paul Mikler, who was voted into the Seminole County Sports Hall of Fame in November, will be inducted tonight at halftime of the Seminole Community College-Daytona Beach Community College basketball game at the SCC Health Center.

The ceremony will take place at approximately 8:30 p.m. Mikler, a 1935 Oviedo graduate, coached the Lions to a Class A State Basketball championship in 1957. He finished his career with 314 victories and 126 losses.

Mikler becomes the 11th member. He joins Tim Raines, Joe Sterling, Red Barber, Buddy Lake, Emma Spencer, Larry Castle, Mary Rose, Whitney McClucas, Davey Johnson and Al Latimer.

Mayfair Tees Up For Open

By Sam Cook
Herald Sports Editor
Brian Merena, who had a bag under his arm and two more under his eyes in last year's Mayfair Open, vows the same thing won't happen again.

"I had just gotten back from a tournament in Arizona," the Mayfair Touring Pro said earlier this week about last year's tournament. "I was all right the first day, but I fell apart the next day."

A well-rested Merena, popular Seniors Tour player Walt Zembriski and defending champion Joe Kruczek will be among the favorites as the 27th annual Mayfair Open begins play Thursday at 7:15 a.m. The second round of the 36-hole tournament begins at 7:15 a.m. Friday. Merena will tee off at 11:30 a.m. Thursday while Orlando's Zembriski is set for 12:10 p.m. and New Smyrna Beach's Kruczek for 12:20 p.m.

Kruczek's 131 was a two-stroke winner last year over Jim Hallett and Keith Parker. Merena, whose highest finish is fourth in 1981, was way back at 148. Kruczek won $1,800.

"We're expecting 184 players and it might be 192," Mayfair Club Pro Mark Lesniak said. "It will all depend on the weather if we go to 192."

Lesniak, who also must be considered among the favorites, has pronounced the course in excellent shape. "The people who have been around here for a while say that it is in the best shape ever."

An overseeding of the greens in late November brought them around, according to Lesniak. "The greens are soft and rolling well," he said. "They are medium fast."

Merena, a Connecticut native, said the greens could hold the key to the tournament. "I figure 10-under should win it," he said. "But if someone gets his blade (putter) going, it might be lower than that."

PRO-AM — Today's Mayfair Pro-Am began with a 1 p.m. shotgun start. Lesniak said 120-150 players would participate.

Valle's Decision Nips 'Noles

Al Valle came up with the biggest win of the night as he pulled out a one-point decision over Seminole's Randy "Pork" Bryant at the 223 pound weight class to lead Lake Howell's Silver Hawks to a 37-32 victory over Seminole High in prep wrestling action at Lake Howell High.

The Silver Hawks, 9-1-1 in dual meets, and the Seminoles, 6-3, now direct their attention to the Seminole Athletic Conference Championships Saturday at Lake Mary High School.

The Seminoles came back from an early deficit to pull within striking distance and needed a win from Bryant to keep their chances alive. Bryant did everything he could but Valle came away with a 14-13 victory in what turned out to be the deciding match for the Silver Hawks.

Lake Howell got off to a strong start Tuesday as it won the first three matches. John White took a 13-8 decision from Titus Manning at 101 pounds. Mike Oudshoff followed with a pin at 108 and Marcel Demaria outscored Thomas Brendle, 19-6, at 115.

Seminole came back with two victories as Larry Nathan dominated Todd Miller, 16-1, at 122 and Don Sellers outlasted Jimmy Kress, 12-10, at 129.

A key match for the Silver Hawks came at 135 pounds where Dave Figler claimed a 9-4 decision over Seminole senior Sheraton Mays. Sean Kobia followed with another close win, 8-5 over Seminole's Tim Tennon, at 141 as Lake Howell built up a big lead.

In a match between two of the top wrestlers in the county at 148 pounds, Seminole's Tracy Turner downed Chris Cina, 10-3.

Nate Hoskins kept the Hawks in control as he pinned Keith Redwine in 3:10 at 158 pounds, but Troy Turner kept Seminole within striking range as he blanked Jose Collazo, 12-0, at 170.

Lake Howell then sewed up the win, though, with consecutive victories at 188 and 223. At 188, Henry Heim stuck the Tribe's Keith Denton in 2:26 and Valle then outfought Bryant.

Seminole closed out the match with consecutive pins by Julius Bennett and Derrick Butler. Bennett stuck Marty Golloher in 51 seconds at the heavyweight division and Butler pinned Jack Benedict in 53 seconds at unlimited.

Broncos Face Heaviest Task

PASADENA, Calif. (UPI) — The Denver Broncos, who have defeated 13 teams heavier than themselves this season, will take on their "biggest" challenge in Super Bowl XXI.

The Broncos are the NFL's lightest team. Their Super Bowl opponents, the New York Giants, are the heaviest. The Giants average 229.5 pounds per man and Denver 222.4, according to their listed weights.

The difference is larger along the teams' offensive and defensive lines.

The Giants' offensive line averages 271 compared to the Broncos' defensive line of 256.7 pounds. New York's defensive line outweighs Denver's offensive front, 269.3 to 263.2 pounds per man.

The weight difference is by design. The Giants' coaches like size and power while the Broncos' staff emphasizes brains and quickness, bringing about an interesting brains vs. brawn battle.

Players on both sides agree the Giants are 10-point favorites because of their 11 straight victories and 16-2 record rather than their weight advantage.

"There's a lot of teams bigger than the Broncos but they've won a lot of games," said Lawrence Taylor, part of the Giants' four starting linebackers who average 238 pounds compared to 226 for Denver linebackers.

"You know in this league, there are a lot of great athletes and everybody's big," Broncos quarterback John Elway said, downplaying the size of the Giants.

Broncos defensive coordinator Joe Collier likes to shift his players to different positions and the movement often takes place just before the ball is snapped. The Broncos are known as a "multiple front" defense. Denver defensive end Rulon Jones said they have 200 fronts.

"The people we have fit into our system well," Karl Mecklenburg, Denver's 230-pound linebacker, said. "I'm sure we couldn't go out and play their style of defense and they couldn't play ours."

The Giants' offensive linemen

are hardly anxious to press their weight advantage against the quick Broncos.

"They like to move around and shift, and they exploit confusion more than most teams," Giants guard Chris Godfrey said. "If you stop and hesitate and think, they'll run by you."

"They're the lightest team in the league on purpose," Giants center Bart Oates said. "They want small, quick guys. They don't want two-gappers like we have on defense."

You have to make the odds of making mistakes increase."

Denver outside linebacker Jim Ryan, a mere 218 pounds, said the Giants refrain from bullying teams around despite their size and strength.

"They're big but a finesse team," Ryan said. "They try to shoulder you more than knock you down."

That is news to Giants Coach Bill Parcells, who considers his offense a power attack. The Giants like to get powerhouse 5-foot-7 running back Joe Morris a head of steam and run him behind 265-pound Godfrey, 245-pound tight end Mark Bavaro and 225-pound blocking back Maurice Carthon.

"I would say we're more of a traditional team," Parcells said. "We like to run the ball with power if we can. We like to be dominant on defense."

DITKA TO HONOR PACT

CHICAGO (UPI) — Chicago Bears coach Mike Ditka has dampened speculation that he won't be back as coach for 1987.

For now, Ditka insisted Monday he would honor his contract and that he could work "with anyone," including President Michael McCaskey. Ditka did concede he told his assistant coaches "in the heat of emotion and anger" that 1987 would be his last season with Chicago.

"Of course, I mention a lot in the heat of emotion and anger. I'm not sure everything I said would stay that way," Ditka told WBBM-TV.

Ray-Albert Combo Trims Trinity, 2-1

By Sam Cook
Herald Sports Editor
Matt Albert drilled home a perfect pass from Chris Ray as Seminole tripped Orlando Trinity Prep, 2-1, in prep soccer Tuesday night at Trinity Prep.

The victory improved Seminole's mark to 3-6-1, one more victory than coach Carlos Merlino's club had last year. Trinity dropped to 3-7-5. Seminole returns to Seminole Athletic Conference play Thursday at home against Oviedo.

"I'm getting the process that I thought I could," Merlino, a second-year coach, said about his 'Noles. "Sometimes I expect too much. Right now, I got three guys out with injuries and it is tough to go in with only 14 guys. "But I'm real pleased with those 14. They give it all they got all the time."

Merlino had to wait through a scoreless first half for one of his most pleasant surprises. With seven minutes elapsed in the second half, Seminole's Marc Dixon, a junior midfielder, took the ball down the left side, beat one defender and left-footed the ball between the pipes for his first varsity goal and a 1-0 lead. "Marc has only been on the varsity three games," Merlino said. "He made a great shot." Four minutes later, though, Trinity Prep knotted the score when Brent Smith got a breakaway.

The 1-1 deadlock held up until Ray and Albert worked their magic with 9:57 left to play. Setting up for an indirect free kick, Albert broke just at the right time while calling out to Ray who dished it off to the right.

Albert boomed the ball into the left corner for a 2-1 lead. Seminole turned it over to the defense who kept the Saints away from the net for the rest of the game.

"That was a perfect play," Merlino said about the Ray-Albert combination. "It was like you see in the movies."

Merlino cited fullbacks John Stewart and David Hall along with keeper Sean Sundvall for their defensive play. Sundvall finished with four saves. Trinity's Mike Tuazon had 10 saves. Each team had 12 shots on goal and five corner kicks.

Farrelly, Pakovic Push Seminole By .500 Mark

By Chris Fister
Herald Sports Writer
Seminole High's girls soccer team took another step forward Tuesday night as it broke the .500 mark for the first time in two years.

Tracey Farrelly and Vicky "Spuffy" Pakovic scored two goals each as the Lady Seminoles improved to 8-7-2 for the season with a 6-0 rout of DeLand's Lady Bulldogs at Seminole High.

The Lady Seminoles return to action Friday at 5 at Oviedo in a Seminole Athletic Conference match.

"It took us a while to get warmed up, but then the girls played really well," Seminole coach Suzy Reno said. "Our two leaders (Cindy Bengel and Sherri Rumlir) didn't play much and the other girls did an outstanding job filling in their positions."

DeLand's tough defense held Seminole scoreless most of the first half, but Farrelly broke the ice for the Lady 'Noles as she scored on an assist from Melissa Shuckman with 4:29 left in the half. Less than a minute later, Shannon Sundvall gave Seminole a 2-0 lead when she scored on Farrelly's assist.

Seminole took 25 shots on goal compared to three for DeLand and the Lady 'Noles had six corners to DeLand's zero. Seminole goalkeeper Kim Walsh had eight saves and registered her fifth shutout of the season and third in a row.

PRICE CASHES IN
Opportunistic senior Kelly Price took advantage of a defensive mistake to score the game's only goal Tuesday as Oviedo's Lady Lions trimmed Trinity Prep's Lady Saints, 1-0, at Oviedo High.

The Lady Lions, 5-8-3 overall, return to Seminole Athletic Conference play Friday at 5 p.m. at home against Seminole.

Oviedo took 34 shots on goal Tuesday compared to eight for the Lady Saints but Trinity goalkeeper Christine Emery made 24 saves to keep the Lady Lions at bay. Oviedo keeper Lori Blackburn made four saves in recording the shutout.

Nichols Kicks Lyman To 3-1 Upset Of No. 4 Bishop Moore

By Chris Fister
Herald Sports Writer
Brian Nichols scored one goal and assisted on another Tuesday night as Lyman's Greyhounds upset fourth-ranked (Class 3A) Orlando Bishop Moore's Hornets, 3-1, in prep soccer action at Lyman High.

Lyman, 8-3-4 overall, returns to Seminole Athletic Conference play Thursday at Lake Mary. Bishop Moore now stands at 11-3-2.

"The guys came out tonight and played their best game of the season," Lyman coach Ray

Sandidge said. "We got a couple of breaks early and that gave us some more confidence."

Bishop Moore had a chance to take the lead five minutes into the game but missed a penalty kick and Lyman came back two minutes later to take a 1-0 lead when a Todd Luke unloaded a shot that deflected off a Bishop Moore defender and into the goal.

Lyman made it 2-0 later in the first half when Nichols controlled a ball that was knocked out of the penalty area and popped in his first goal of the season.

Soccer

Bishop Moore pulled within 2-1 at the half on Eric Ross' penalty kick.

Lyman, which outshot Bishop Moore, 14-10, got an insurance goal in the second half when Chris Graham scored off a throw in from Nichols.

"We lost a few players to grades so Brian (Nichols) got a chance to start and did an excellent job," Sandidge said. "Everyone played well tonight."

Defensively, Chad Weinkauff, Kevin Smith and Shaller Bowers led the way for Lyman while midfielders Tom Sells, Gerard Mitchell, Luke and Brett Wortham kept Lyman in control for a good part of the game.

"The main thing we did that stopped them (Bishop Moore) at midfield," Sandidge said. "The guys did a good job preventing them from coming forward."

CORRECTION — Bishop Moore's record was incorrectly listed with an extra tie in the Class 2A-3A State Soccer Poll Tuesday. The Hornets are 11-3-2.

'CRABS BLANK BRANTLEY
Benji Fricke scored three goals Tuesday night to lead Seabreeze's Sandcrabs to a 5-0 rout of Lake Brantley's Patriots at Daytona Beach.

Brantley's winless streak was extended to seven as the Patriots fell to 5-7-4 overall. The Patriots have a big Seminole Athletic Conference game Thursday at ninth-ranked (Class 4A) Lake Howell. Lake Brantley's last victory was against Lake Howell in the Pizza Hut Tournament. Seabreeze now stands at 10-3-3.

"Seabreeze was up for the game and outthawed us," Lake Brantley coach Jim Brody said. "Our guys weren't willing to do the work. I just hope they guys can come back with a positive attitude in practice tomorrow."

Seabreeze took a 2-0 lead at halftime and tacked on three second-half goals. Brett Stoner added one goal for the 'Crabs while the fifth goal was an own goal.

The Sandcrabs took 17 shots to Brantley's 12. Brantley goalkeeper Scott McCullough made 11 saves.

Oviedo Netters Look For 'Solid' Season

"Solid" is the only way to describe Oviedo High School tennis. Year after year the Lions come up with quality teams.

The boys have won the Orange Belt Conference for the last three years but the league has folded. Now the main goal of the teams at Oviedo is to do well in Seminole Athletic Conference and District 3A.

Last year, the boys team was runner-up in the district and the girls were district champions and finished fifth in the state. Impressive records for both the girls and boys teams over the past few years and it seems that that record of success will continue this year.

Enthusiastic and energetic boys coach Dan Gustafson lost three important employees off last year's fine team. Gone are Jeff Goen, Brian Kramer and Greg Gaul. These young men were good players and will be missed but Oviedo has some fine young players coming along to take up the slack.

In fact, coach Gustafson believes that there are some truly outstanding newcomers to the team that could more than take up the slack. Returning at the No. 1 position will be senior Greg Lampke. Lampke was runner-up at No. 1 in district play last year and it looks like he is ready for another great year. Lampke is also a super doubles player and was runner-up in the state last year while teaming with Greg Brick.

Larry Castle
SANFORD HERALD TENNIS WRITER

The No. 2 spot will be handled by senior Brick. He will come out for tennis late because he is also a super soccer player and is involved with that team at the present time.

Pat Schuerman, although only a sophomore, will step in at the No. 3 singles spot. Schuerman was on alternate on last year's team, but has worked very hard over the summer and looks like a much improved player. Other outstanding prospects for this year's team are senior Tony Teano and sophomore Scott Lugering.

The Lady Lions, coached by Louie Tulp, had a really great year in 1988. The No. 1 player, Elena Evans, have graduated and they will be greatly missed.

Tulp said if the younger girls mature rapidly on the court it could be another fine year for the girls. Right now it is simply a wait and see situation. Five girls return from last year's team. They include No. 3 Adrienne Wood, No. 4 Mandy Ehrhart, No. 5 Ashley Ehrhart, No. 6 Lisa Frangipane and No. 7 Chris Meyer.

All of these girls had very good seasons in 1988 and, indeed, were either champions or runners-up at their positions. The problem facing the Lady Lions will be the fact that most likely all will be forced to move up at least two positions.

Tulp said the hopes are high, though, that this can be done successfully and that the hard work the girls have put in during the off season will pay off. One new player will make an immediate contribution to this year's team. Cindy Wood is this impact player and looks to have the type of tennis ability and background to give lots of immediate help.

This year's team, although being hurt a lot by graduation, will nonetheless be right up there in conference and district play and will carry on Oviedo's fine tennis tradition.

SCC Stuns Rockland

By Mark Blythe
Herald Sports Writer

Seminole Community College used the play of power forward Lisa Starks and guard Pam Jackson to upend New York's Rockland Community College, 65-58, at the SCC Health Center in front of 33 fans. It was Rockland's first setback of the year.

The Lady Raiders upped their record to 12-6 including five consecutive and will host nationally-ranked Florida Community College-Jacksonville and former Seminole star Mona Benton Thursday. RCC fell to 12-1.

Starks capitalized on the weak inside play of the Lady Rockets, scoring a team high 20 points. Jackson was hitting from the perimeter, adding 19 points to pace the Lady Raiders.

After a lethargic start, SCC pulled away with the play of Jackson and Starks scoring the last eight points of the half taking a 35-24 lead.

"We played just well enough to win," coach Ileana Gallagher said. "We didn't come out ready to play and never really got in the game."

Paula White started things off right for the Lady Raiders in the second half with a nice inside move.

SCC outrebounded Rockland 35-19. Starks pulled down a game high 12 boards and Aileen Patterson snared 10 more.

Basketball

Jackson upped the SCC lead to 14 with a short jumper with 17:35 remaining.

Jackson and Starks then warded off the red-hot shooting of Rockland with their play inside and on the break to keep SCC in control.

King who finished with 12 points and six assist aided the Lady Raiders with clutch outside shooting down the stretch as the Lady Rockets could come no closer than seven, though forcing Gallagher into calling a pair of time outs.

"We weren't taking the ball to the basket," Gallagher said. Seminole will face a major task Thursday when FCC-J, the sixth ranked team in the nation, invades for a Mid-Florida Conference clash.

The Lady Stars are unbeaten and ripped the Lady Raiders in their last meeting at Jacksonville.

Capitals' Mourning Period Over, Win Streak Zooms To 4 Games

United Press International
The Washington Capitals' period of mourning is over. Beaten by problems for the first three months of the season, the Capitals languished in last place in the Patrick Division until two weeks ago. In their last seven games, however, they have looked like the team that has challenged for division supremacy the last two seasons.

Tuesday night, Washington extended its winning streak to four straight with a 6-3 victory over the New Jersey Devils and moved past the Rangers into third place, five points behind the second-place Islanders.

"We built our whole team around two centers and they're gone," Capitals Coach Bryan Murray said of Bengt Gustafsson, who chose to play in his native Sweden this season, and Bobby Carpenter, traded to the Rangers Jan. 1 after a feud with management.

"Imagine if somebody took (Mike) Bossy and (Bryan) Trottler from the Islanders. Look at Quebec; what happened when they lost their top two players (Peter Stastny and Dale Hunter to injuries)."

In other games, Boston whipped Quebec 5-3, Calgary tripped the New York Islanders 3-1, and Minnesota shut out Buffalo 5-0.

Kansas Pulls Out 71-70 Victory

United Press International
Kansas is either quite foolish or supremely confident. The No. 20 Jayhawks trailed Missouri by 7 points with seven minutes remaining, and by 4 with just over a minute to go. After their 71-70 Big Eight victory, they said the outcome was never in doubt.

"I don't think it ever entered our minds we weren't going to win," said Chris Piper, who hit a free throw with five seconds left Tuesday night to lift Kansas to its 42nd consecutive home victory since Feb. 22, 1984.

"We don't get beat here," said Danny Manning, who rebounded Piper's miss on his second free throw to ice the victory. "I looked up (with seven minutes left), and I knew there was plenty of time left. We've been in a lot of tight ballgames this year and I knew it was time to perform."

Missouri's Derrick Cheivous finished with 29 points. Kansas improved to 11-5 overall and 3-1 in the Big Eight. The Tigers dropped to 12-7 and 2-1.

America's Cup: Battle On Land

FREMANTLE, Australia (UPI) — Stars & Stripes and Kookaburra III fought a land battle Wednesday for the allegiance of New Zealand, with each camp convinced a fiberglass ally is a strategic key to winning the America's Cup.

New Zealand syndicate chief Michael Fay met with Stars & Stripes Chairman Malin Burnham and then rushed to the Kookaburra III camp, where the newly-crowned defender urged Fay to help them keep the prized trophy in the southern hemisphere.

Fay, a 37-year-old banker, said he will announce his choice Thursday. Fay has received telephone calls and telegrams from members of the K27 Supporter's Club urging him to "back Australia."

Wilson Earns HM All-America

Oviedo High graduate Dave Wilson was an honorable mention selection to the 1986 NAIA Division I All-American football team.

Wilson, a 6-2, 240-pound senior center, was a three-year starter on the offensive line for Evangel College in Springfield, Mo. Wilson was also honored with first-team status on the all-district team.

Wilson played for Oviedo High during its glory years in the early 1980s and was a Sanford Herald First Team All-County selection as well as an All-Orange Belt Conference First Team choice. Wilson graduated from Oviedo in 1983.

Pats Host JV Wrestling Jan. 31

Lake Brantley High School will be the site of the Patriots Junior Varsity Wrestling Tournament on Saturday, Jan. 31, Brantley coach Kevin Carpinger announced Tuesday.

The tournament is being sponsored by the Seminole Optimist Club.

Saturday's tournament will begin with weigh-ins at 8-9 a.m., followed by a seeding meeting at 9-10, round one on 10-12, semi-finals from 12 noon to 1 p.m., wrestle backs from 1-2, consolation from 2-3 and finals from 3-4.

For more information on the tournament, contact coach Kevin Carpinger at Lake Brantley High at 862-1776 (ext. 43).

Morris Wants $1.85 Million

DETROIT (UPI) — Jack Morris wants $1.85 million to pitch for the Detroit Tigers next season, and the team is willing to pay him $1.35 million.

Thus are the battle lines drawn. Between the Tigers and Morris reach a compromise, an arbitrator will choose one of those figures sometime in February.

LAKE MARY UPENDS WINTER PARK

Lake Mary's Rams ran their dual meet record to 4-0 Tuesday night with a 48-29 victory over Winter Park's Wildcats at Winter Park High.

The Rams have a big dual meet Friday at fourth-ranked (Class 3A) Orlando Bishop Moore.

"We wrestled extremely well tonight after coming off the trip from Georgia," Lake Mary coach Doug Peters said. "It was a good win going into the Bishop Moore match."

Peters said the key performers for the Rams Tuesday included Robert Doniero at 101 pounds, Enrique Carbia at 129, Rob Richards at 135, Shane Stanley at 141 and Tad Roman at 170.

Doniero came through with a major decision over Bill Lampe, 15-7 and Carbia totally dominated Jeff Cato, 18-0. Richards, who has won every match by pin this season, kept his unbeaten record intact as he pinned Robert Moore in 5:45.

Peters said Stanley's win, a pin at 5:59 over Barry Gordon, was the match of the night for the Rams.

"It looked like he (Stanley) was going to lose," Peters said. "But, with 10 seconds left, he used a head and arm throw and pinned Gordon with one second left."

Roman, a first-year wrestler, won his second match in a row at 170 pounds as he pinned Mark Bromfield in 3:24. The quickest pin of the match Tuesday was turned in by Lake Mary's Bill Richards who stuck Jim Grant in 25 seconds.

BISHOP MOORE ROUTS LYMAN

Orlando Bishop Moore, ranked fourth in the state in Class 3A, overpowered Lyman's Greyhounds Tuesday night, 58-9, in prep wrestling action at Lyman High.

Lyman picked up only two victories on the night, the first by Gregg Hunziker who decisoned Brad McKechnen, 7-4, at 135 pounds and the second by David Caligiuri who pinned Todd Morgan in 3:57 at 223 pounds.

The Greyhounds, 1-8, return to action tonight at home against Seminole.

...Merthie

Merthie to accept both guard roles. He brought Merthie along slowly last season and didn't force him into the starting lineup until the 18th game of the year. Merthie responded by averaging 12.5 points, 3.4 steals and 3.0 assists per game.

"Darryl is the most improved player on our team," Ridenour said. "I didn't realize he could turn into such a great passer. UCF really wants him and I think Darryl would like to go there."

"I'm still surprised, though, that he hasn't had more offers. He's had a tremendous year."

Merthie's biggest contribution to Daytona Beach is he adds the fast break dimension to its offense. Merthie admittedly operates best in the open court, and if the Scots can keep their opponents off the offensive boards, Merthie will usually be found at the other end of the floor for a layup or three-point play.

"If I can't get the fast break going for us, we're not going to run," Merthie said matter-of-factly. "When we play some of the better teams, I know we are going to need the fast break to win."

Ironically, one of the teams standing in Daytona Beach's way this season is Seminole.

"Seminole, Florida Community and Central Florida are all tough, but Seminole has the best team I've seen," Merthie said. "It's going to take a great effort to beat them. I'm looking forward to going home to play them more than any other game this year."

After all, it will be his chance to show everyone at home he made the right choice.

Hughes Powers Oviedo's Win

By Mark Mythe
Herald Sports Writer

Robb Hughes, a 6-4 senior, came through on his transfer from wing to power forward with a game-high 21 points as Oviedo downed Wymore Career Education Center, 62-57, Tuesday night at Eatonville.

Oviedo improved to 9-4 and will host Seminole Friday in Seminole Athletic Conference action. Wymore fell to 12-5 on the season.

"We slowed things down and held on to our lead in the second half," Oviedo coach Dale Phillips said. "We put Hughes inside and he came through well, our entire inside game was good tonight."

Oviedo held a 31-22 lead at the half and Hughes caught fire with eight third-quarter points which boosted the lead to as high as 14 points. Oviedo also used the inside play of Chris Griffith who came out of a scoring slump with 13 points for the Lions.

Basketball

"They're a real quick team," Phillips said. "We did a good job of keeping the boards."

Another key performer for Oviedo was Roby Bowers who came off the bench and scored eight clutch points down the stretch. Rodney Davie led the way for Wymore with 13 points. Anthony Nichola added 12 and Ben Herman added 11.

"We're happy with the win, it makes practice a lot easier," Phillips said.

LAKE HOWELL TUMBLES

Guard Rick Kelly scored 18 points leading the way for Mount Dora who used a strong third quarter for to topple Lake Howell 59-48 Tuesday night at Mount Dora.

Lake Howell fell to 3-7 and will host New Smyrna Beach tonight at 8.
"The intensity was there we just gave them (Mount Dora) too many unearned points," Lake Howell coach Greg Robinson said. "We turned the ball over to many times and they capitalized." Mount Dora was aided by the woeful 18 of 85 shooting, a 33 percent performance from Lake Howell on the night.

After a 20-20 deadlock Mount Dora came out and outscored the Silver Hawks, 21-12, in the third quarter for a 41-32 lead going into the final eight minutes.

Alonzo Robinson led the way for the Silver Hawks with 16 points. Steve Johnson, Phil Clark and Randy Keller chipped in eight apiece.

MOUNT DORA (59) — Jackson 4, Bell 10, Dease 8, Smith 7, Stewart 10, Kelly 18. Totals: 26 14-20 59.

LAKE HOWELL (48) — Clark 8, Keller 8, Johnson 4, M. Johnson 4, Gibson 2, Gammons 2, Robinson 10. Totals: 18 12-17 48.

...Daytona

ing his own weaknesses. Payne, a successful prep coach at Colonial and Seminole, would like nothing better than to beat Ridenour. Ridenour, who apprenticed under Gene "Torchy" Clark at Central Florida, would like nothing better than to beat Payne.

"The truth is we are just not that good," Ridenour said Tuesday afternoon via telephone from his Daytona office. "We just blew by Florida Junior at the end. Heck, we were trailing Eckerd JV."

Payne, of course, is the first to disagree. "The 12 coaches who vote on the poll should know what they are talking about," he said Wednesday morning. "There has not been a unanimous pick in a long time."

Payne said more depth this year for the Scots' could be the key, too. "I still kind think their strength this year is in numbers," he said. "They have eight or nine kids who can do job. In the past, it was five or six."

Cedric McCoy joins Merthie and Williams in DBCC's three-guard alignment. Dunbar and 6-6 Tony Bates form the front line. The bench gets bigger with 6-8 Derrall Dumas from Jacksonville Ribault and 6-6 Derrick Jones, a Stetson transfer.

They have been better than us," Payne said. "They compare somewhat to FJC (Florida Community at Jacksonville), but they are better. They are very, very big and strong."

Gallagher and Houston join Hall, 6-7 Claude Jackson and 6-3 James Morris for the starting five. Jackson is averaging 11.3 points while Morris is contributing 9.5 a game. Barry Dunning, a 6-7 freshman, is the front line relief with 8.6 points. Rob Williams, a 6-6 enforcer, Holly Keller, a 6-4 swingman, and Kenny Gordon, a 6-1 shooter, provide more depth.

Daytona's only loss is to North Broward (82-80), but Ridenour said he is worried to death about Wednesday. "We've never won at Seminole, so why would a person be interested in going there?" he asked. "I want to play on a neutral court."

The only thing neutral may be the talent. Both teams love to run. Both like to score points in a hurry. Long passes may become the rule and not the exception on fast breaks tonight.

Ridenour said he used to know how to beat Seminole, but the 3-point goal — along with Houston and Gallagher — has changed that. "We used to be able to play a zone and pack it in," he said. "But they are so much bigger and they have that outside rocket launcher (Houston). With the 3-point goal, you can't afford to do that."

Ridenour pointed quickly to the game's two factors. "The game will boil down to Vance Hall and Gallagher," he said. "We have to stop Hall inside and it would be nice to guard Gallagher. He means so much to them."

SCC assistant Dean Smith agreed. "Teams know the key to beating us is to take Gallagher away from us. Malcolm gets a lot of points but he gets him the ball."

Although Ridenour has put a lot of emphasis on the inside game, Smith said the Raiders are worried about Daytona's quickness.

"Their quickness is comparable to ours. Handling the pressure will be important," Smith said. "We ask Darris to do a lot. It might be better to give him some help."

The Raiders are still waiting for third guard Erem Brooks to clear up his eligibility status. Brooks needs to pass an "exit test" to regain his eligibility.

Payne said, however, that Brooks would not play tonight even if he became eligible.

Record Rise May Falter

NEW YORK (UPI) — Prices opened lower today in active trading of New York Stock Exchange issues.

The Dow Jones Industrial average, which gained 1.97 Tuesday, was down 10.83 to 2093.64 shortly after the market opened.

Declines led advances 940-223 among the 1,537 issues crossing the New York Stock Exchange tape.

Early turnover amounted to about 15,498,000 shares.

Most stocks managed weak gains Tuesday, giving the Dow Jones Industrial average a small increase and an unprecedented 13-day winning streak.

The session was the New York Stock Exchange's seventh-busiest, but the market ceased throughout the day.

IBM reported its fourth-quarter earnings fell to $2.28 a share from $4.36 a year earlier.

Dollar On Rise As Gold Falls

By United Press International

The U.S. dollar opened higher on major world money markets today as the United States and Japan prepared for talks on stabilizing the dollar.

The price of gold continued its decline, which began in Tuesday in New York.

Market players also waited for the outcome of a meeting between U.S. Treasury Secretary James Baker and Japanese Finance Minister Kiichi Miyazawa, who flew to Washington earlier Wednesday. The Baker-Miyazawa meeting has been set for Thursday morning.

In earlier trading in the Far East, the dollar strengthened substantially against the Japanese yen in active trading on the Tokyo foreign exchange, closing at 153.60, up 1.35 from Tuesday's close of 152.25.

Dealers in Tokyo said market participants turned to buying dollars following news reports from Washington that the Reagan administration would cooperate with Japan in stabilizing the dollar-yen exchange rate.

In European trading, the dollar opened in Frankfurt at 1.8507 German marks, up from Tuesday's close of 1.8386; in Zurich at 1.5505 Swiss francs, up from 1.5400; in Brussels at 38.825 Belgian francs, up from 38.50; and in Amsterdam at 2.0820 Dutch guilders, up from 2.0685.

The dollar began the day in Paris at 6.1875 French francs, up from 6.135, and in Milan at 1.315.50 lire, up from 1.305.70.

In London, the pound opened at $1.515, compared to Tuesday's close of $1.519.

since the city asked for bids in October 1986. Since there is no meeting before then Jan. 22 and commissioners took no action Monday night, the bids will expire automatically.

Finance Director Barry Weeks projected a $1.5 million cost overrun with the county and a $1.2 million cost overrun if the city built its own plant. He said there is no guarantee the county will not raise rates to the city, which will have to make up the difference in some way.

Waller, who recommended going with the county even though it will cost more, was instructed to have all of the figures necessary at the Feb. 2 meeting on what the city will have to do to make its contract with the county financially acceptable to Sun Bank and the bonding company.

Deputy Mayor June Lormann said in view of disagreement among city staff, the commission should hire the city's auditing firm of Kane & Shuck to review the contract and Longwood's financial capability in order to make a recommendation to the commission by the Feb. 2 meeting.

Inflation Rate Creeps Up

WASHINGTON (UPI) — America's inflation rate crept 0.2 percent higher in December 1986 to conclude a year in which prices rose just 1.1 percent — the smallest increase in a quarter century, the Labor Department reported today.

A 19.7 percent fall in energy prices takes almost all the credit for the 1.1 percent difference in the Consumer Price Index between last month and December 1985.

Without that decrease — brought on by the recently ended OPEC oil price war — inflation for the year actually would have risen 3.8 percent, government statistics revealed.

Food prices rose 3.8 percent from December 1985 to December 1986 and shelter costs increased 4.6 percent.

The 1.1 percent increase in the annual inflation rate compares with increases near or at 4 percent since 1982. It was the smallest jump since 1961, when prices rose just 0.7 percent.

The Consumer Price Index reflects the average change in prices for food, clothing, shelter and other common items needed for day-to-day living in the United States.

The commission voted unanimously on a motion by Commissioner Harvey Smerison to hire the auditor to do the independent study.

An ordinance to increase Development Assistance Fees for new sewer hookups was tabled until all the rate information is in so that it will contain whatever will be necessary to meet the shortfall.

Criticizing Weeks for what he said were conflicting figures at different times, Mayor Ed Myers at one point suggested the city get a new finance director.

"I'll never vote to build our own sewer plant...." Myers said. "We have a million dollar piece of property and I want it made into a park."

In December, before going out of office after losing his reelection bid, former mayor Larry Goldberg signed the contract with the county, pending approval by the bank. Under the agreement the city would initially purchase 325,000 gallons-per-day treatment capacity at the rate of $5.75 a gallon, or a total of $1,868,750, and subsequent capacity at a rate equal to $1 below the county's capacity fee at the time of purchase, up to the 600,000 gallon-per-day reserve capacity.

In addition, Longwood is required to build a master lift station at the estimated cost of $220,000 to pump waste water from the city to the county collection system. The associated transmission pipe line cost is incorporated in the county's capacity fee. The master lift station would be located at the Skylark Treatment Plant site, which would be dismantled along with Columbus Harbour's treatment plant and percolation ponds.

The agreement with the county requires Longwood to pay $1.50 per 1,000 gallons of sewage monthly treatment charges. It guarantees Longwood's rates will stay equivalent to the lowest wholesale treatment rates the county charges for the 10-year term of the contract. This does not preclude the county raising rates at any time.

NASA To Equip Shuttles With Bail Out System

WASHINGTON (UPI) — In a major philosophical change prompted by the Challenger disaster, NASA has decided to give astronauts parachutes and a way to bail out of a disabled space shuttle to avoid a potentially fatal ditching at sea.

The escape system would not work, however, for a launch failure like the one that doomed Challenger and killed its seven crew members Jan. 28, 1986.

Rear Adm. Richard Truly, the associate NASA administrator for space flight, announced Tuesday the three remaining shuttles will be modified so their cabin hatches can be jettisoned by explosives in an emergency.

But Truly said there may not be time to modify the shuttle Discovery in time for the first post-Challenger launch, still scheduled for Feb. 18, 1988.

He also noted that he and other officials have not decided yet whether to provide astronauts with tiny rockets that would pull them away from a disabled ship. Engineers are concerned the "extraction rockets" might create more hazards than benefits.

Astronauts fear that by merely jumping out of a shuttle, the 200-mph-plus wind speed would carry them into the wing or a rear control rocket pod.

"One of the problems with simply jumping out the hatch right now is you're probably going to run into the wing or the OMS (orbital maneuvering system) pods," said astronaut Bryan O'Connor in a recent interview. He was the astronaut representative in a NASA study of crew escape possibilities.

Truly said he and other officials "do not feel comfortable at this time" in ordering installation of a rocket extraction system. It is still under study.

Astronauts Frederick Hauck, Richard Covey, George Nelson, John Kounge and David Hilmers are assigned to the milestone 1988 mission. Covey said Thursday he and his colleagues place "a very high priority" on a bailout system.

Truly, a former shuttle commander and Navy test pilot, said every effort would be made to provide a bailout hatch for the first flight.

"I have every hope and we'll do everything in our power to make the first flight," he said. "If we can make either the first flight or the second flight, that's what I want to do. The crew knows that's what I want to do."

Before the Challenger accident, National Aeronautics and Space Administration officials did consider that an escape system was necessary because they said the shuttle was designed with fail-safe backups. The Challenger accident proved the fallacy of that assumption.

A crew could only parachute out of a shuttle if it were in a controlled glide, such as should occur in the event of an engine failure after the two booster rockets are jettisoned. Astronauts would bail out between altitudes of 20,000 feet and 10,000 feet.

A way to bail out in gliding flight is required, Truly said, because studies indicate a crew would not survive if a shuttle ditched in an ocean at 200 mph.

O'Connor said when astronauts practice computer-simulations of a ditching, they stop when the imaginary shuttle is down to 25,000 feet above the ocean.

"That's the point," he said, "where we all kind of look at each other and say, 'Well congratulations, you got us this far but we all know we're going to die anyway, what was the use of trying so hard?'"

The emergency escape hatch could also be useful in landing accidents.

"We really don't have a good way to get out of the vehicle if we have a crash landing," O'Connor said in the interview.

property owners' requests to be included within the city.

Commissioners haven't decided whether they want to lease the abandoned home to a city employee or place it as a rental on the open market.

The employee, street superintendent Jerry Herman, would rent the home for a nominal fee in exchange for the on-site security he would provide, according to staff's proposal.

Seminole County's government and school board have made similar arrangements with employees for rental of "remote facilities," said City Planning and Engineering Director Bill Simmons.

City Manager Frank Falson said he supports the rental to Herman, for security reasons and to avoid extensive upgrades that would be necessary before the home could be rented on the open market. The city would plan only to make the home "habitable" for Herman, Falson said.

Herman was the only city employee who expressed an interest in living at the site, city officials said.

Falson said he'll look into overall restoration costs and report back to commissioners in regular session next week.

Microwave Magic

Seafood Ideal For 'Lite' Diet

To continue our series on the use of the microwave oven in aid in the preparation of food for persons on special diets or just wanting to reduce caloric intake and eat "lite" this column is about microwaving of fish and seafood.

Seafood is an excellent source of low fat protein. There is little or no waste and when using the microwave for the preparation no additional fat is needed. Cooking time is very short, approximately 3-4 minutes per pound, or until the fish flakes easily or becomes opaque. Avoid overcooking because the product becomes tough.

My favorite fish is grouper and then red snapper. One pound can serve four nicely and is so easy and quick.

MICROWAVE GROUPEL OR RED SNAPPER
1/2 teaspoon tarragon
1/2 teaspoon black pepper
1/2 teaspoon onion powder or 1 teaspoon fresh chives, chopped
1 pound grouper, or red snapper
6-8 slices of lime or lemon
Dash of paprika

Combine tarragon, pepper, and onion powder. Arrange fish in 8x8 inch baking dish with thickest portions to the outside of the container. Sprinkle with seasoning mixture. Cover with wax paper, microwave on 100% power 3 minutes, rearrange pieces and top each with a slice of lime; cover. Microwave on 100% power 3-4 minutes or until fish flakes easily.

Makes 4 servings.
Prepare the vegetable and fish in the same container. It's a low caloric meal in one.

FISH FLORENTINE
2 packages (10 ounce each) frozen chopped spinach
2 tablespoons dry minced onion
1/2 teaspoon grated lemon peel
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/2 teaspoon pepper
1/2 teaspoon dry mustard
2 tablespoons grated Parmesan cheese
1 teaspoon parsley flakes
1/2 teaspoon paprika
1 pound fish fillet — such as sole

Place spinach packages in oven. Microwave on 100% power 6-7 minutes or until packages are no longer frozen. Drain spinach well and place in an 8x8 inch baking dish. Stir in onion, lemon peel, salt, pepper, and dry mustard. Spread spinach mixture evenly over bottom of dish.

Combine Parmesan, parsley and paprika. Set aside. Place fish on top of spinach mixture. Cover with wax paper. Microwave on 100% power 4 minutes; rearrange and sprinkle with Parmesan mixture. Cover. Microwave on 100% power 2-6 minutes or until fish flakes easily.

This recipe makes a good luncheon salad that is a little different than the ones usually found.

HOT TUNA SALAD
2 ribs celery, chopped
2 green onions, chopped
1 1/2 tablespoons lemon juice
1/4 teaspoon dill weed
1/4 teaspoon tarragon leaves
2 cans (7 ounces each) tuna, drained
1 (2 ounce) jar chopped pimiento, drained
2 tablespoons mayonnaise
2 cups alfalfa sprouts
1 large tomato, cut into wedges

In a 1 quart casserole combine celery, onion, lemon juice, dill and tarragon; cover. Microwave on 100% power 3-5 minutes or until heated. Stir in mayonnaise. Serve over sprouts with tomato wedges.

A pound of shrimp can serve four when it is used in this easy Creole dish. In Louisiana this is often Friday night supper.

SHRIMP CREOLE
1 can (16 ounce) whole tomatoes, or stewed tomatoes
1 medium onion, chopped
1 green pepper, chopped
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/2 teaspoon pepper
1/2 chili powder
1 medium bay leaf
1 pound fresh shrimp, shelled and deveined

Combine all ingredients, except shrimp in 1 1/2 quart casserole, breaking up tomatoes with spoon; cover. Microwave on 100% power 8-12 minutes or until green pepper is tender and sauce is bubbly, stirring once. Stir in shrimp cover. Microwave on 100% power 3-5 minutes or until shrimp is just opaque, stirring several times. DO NOT OVER COOK. Let stand 3-5 minutes. Remove bay leaf. Serve over rice.

MICRO-COOKED RICE
1 cup long grain rice
2 cups water
1 teaspoon butter
3/4 teaspoon salt
Measure rice, salt and fat (butter) into a 3 quart casserole. stir in hot water. Cover and

Cook Of The Week

Romanian Refugee Recalls Happy Childhood In Austria Before Family Moves To America

By Dorothy Greene
Herald Correspondent
All in a day's work is something Wanda Peltzer takes in stride, whether it's homemaking or helping to run the family owned business at home. Our Cook of the Week is a petite bundle of energy with a quick smile and a charming accent that she describes as "southern-German."

From her spacious home, deep in the woods of Lake Mary, Mrs. Peltzer reflects on a time when she was a child and her family fled their homeland of Romania to escape the Russian army during World War II. "We lived in Austria for seven years," she says, "but things are not as bad to you as a child. You don't worry about things as an adult would. My mother had to worry about feeding us. Right after the war, there was very little to eat, my dad had to work away from home, and we lived with 21 people to a room."

Happier times are foremost in her thoughts, though, as Mrs. Peltzer recalls, "I had a very happy childhood. I remember relatives baking things for us, the children, because my mother worked in the store and didn't have too much time to cook or bake. I have aunts who brought us goodies, and I'd go over there and they always cooked my favorite meal. At that time, I liked Crepes Suzette and chestnut puree, which is unheard of here, but one aunt made that for me with whipping cream and I always requested that. She made unusual dishes, and anything I wanted, I got."

Along with her parents and brother, Herbert, young Wanda came to the United States in 1951. "We lived with my mother's sister in Minnesota until my dad built us our own home," says Mrs. Peltzer. After high school, she attended the University of Minnesota and became a lab technician, working in the hematology lab of a local hospital. Mrs. Peltzer's brother now lives in Vermont and is a computer analyst. "We see each other about twice a year," she says.

Mrs. Peltzer enjoys visits to Vermont especially during the winter. "It's beautiful there," she says. "When I visited there, it was supposed to be snowy but it wasn't, and I just loved it. Even without the snow, they think it's so bleak, but it looked beautiful. I paint; I do water colors, and for that, you have to look at it with a different eye. But I love it here, and I love Minnesota, too. Every place I have lived so far, or visited, is great."

When Mrs. Peltzer met her future husband, Erwin, she recalls, "He was a good dancer." They met at a soccer club attended by various Europeans who were all fans of the sport which was not yet popular in the U.S. The club was formed by new immigrants from all over Europe explains Mrs. Peltzer. "The St. Paul-Minneapolis area had a lot of clubs going at that time," she says, "and I met a lot of people. We all had things in common, because we had all come to the United States just recently and there were all different nationalities. We had dances, and it was a lot of fun."

Marriage and a family came next, and the Peltzers are the proud parents of five children. Michael, the oldest, is married to Barbara and they have a 5-month-old daughter, Holly Ann. "She is our first grandchild," says Mrs. Peltzer, proudly. Daughter Heidi was recently married to Mark Bell, and theirs was a festive holiday wedding. Two more sons, Paul and Kurt, and another daughter, Christi, complete the family circle. "They all know how to cook," says Mrs. Peltzer. "They can survive. The boys are good breakfast cooks more than anything, but they do cook, because they hunt and they cook all their own game."

For her daughter's recent wedding on Dec. 27, Mrs. Peltzer prepared such inviting delicacies as ham served with cherry sauce, smoked turkey and pasta salad. "A friend made bean salad," says Mrs. Peltzer, "and another friend made a salad of Kiwi fruit from California. Other friends brought dips and cheese balls and things like that." A relish tray and vegetable tray along with cookies and a traditional wedding cake, but the finishing touches to the occasion. The bride and groom exchanged vows in front of a beautifully decorated Christmas tree in the Peltzer living room which was ablaze with poinsettias. It was truly a memorable day for the wedding party and nearly 150 guests.

Filled with admiration for her 89-year-old mother, Mathilde Franzen, Mrs. Peltzer relates that she is still a very active lady in the kitchen and still bakes homemade bread for the family every week. "My mother taught me the basics of cooking when I was a teen-ager," says our cook, "and when we came to this country, she cooked many of the things she remembered from home."

One of the most rewarding hobbies a person can have is the personal expression of beauty through art, and Mrs. Peltzer does this with watercolors. Landscapes and florals are her forte and she finds this hobby a relaxing respite from her daily schedule. "Right now, I'm letting my paintings accumulate," she says, "but some day I hope to enter them in an art show." At the moment, her beautiful paintings are gracing the walls of her home for her family's enjoyment. "I went to North Carolina on a painting holiday this year with a group of artists," she says. "It was a beautiful occasion. It was just for artists to sketch together, and I did charcoal sketches and brought them home and painted them in watercolors. It was nice and I hope I get another chance like that."

During the day, Mrs. Peltzer is kept quite busy handling phone calls and appointments, among other things, for the Peltzer Construction Co. "I am mainly involved in the business," she says, "but I do like to swim in the summer time and walk in the winter. That's about the extent of my sports," she laughs. "I love to entertain," she says.

They're Similar, Yes, But Not The Same

Dr. Gott

DEAR DR. GOTT — Is it true that men can develop a condition in their penis similar to fibrocystic breast disease in women? What can be done to treat it?

DEAR DR. GOTT — There is no exact male counterpart to fibrocystic breast disease in women. However, men can develop a condition called Peyronie's disease, which is a growth of fibrous material in one of the two erectile cylinders of the penis. This affliction is somewhat similar to fibrocystic disease, since it causes discomfort and results in gristle-like replacement of normal tissue. It may be helped by vitamin E or cortisone, but, like fibrocystic disease, it has no recognized cure. Although the two conditions share certain elements, they are distinctly different.

DEAR DR. GOTT — A friend had 58 gallstones removed during surgery. Is this an abnormal number? He still has vomiting and diarrhea.

DEAR DR. GOTT — Fifty-eight gallstones is a lot — unusual, but not any more abnormal than two or three. Since he had that many gallstones, one might have become wedged in the bile duct and could be causing continuing symptoms. Your friend might be more comfortable if the surgeon had removed 59 gallstones. Perhaps an ultrasound exam could identify the presence of a remaining stone.

DEAR DR. GOTT — My granddaughter, 8, swells up on her right side — arm, thigh, leg and foot — during the day. It goes away at night. One doctor said it was fallen arches. Another said it was because she has an undeveloped vein on that side. Support hose used to help, but no more. She's had this since she was 1 year old and has not outgrown it yet. What could be causing this?

DEAR DR. GOTT — I don't know — but I'm sure it has nothing to do with fallen arches. The type of swelling you describe may be due to an unusual congenital condition that impedes the return of lymph fluid or blood from one side of your granddaughter's body. She should be examined by pediatric specialists at a medical center.

DEAR DR. GOTT — I had villous adenoma removed from the lower part of my colon. Every six months, my doctor does a complete colonoscopy. Just what is this condition?

DEAR DR. GOTT — Villous adenoma is a slow-growing, spongy tumor of the large intestine. Although most adenomas are benign, some are pre-malignant (that is, they can lead to cancer). Once a patient has had a villous adenoma removed, he or she must be periodically checked to make sure that no new growths have appeared. Your doctor's approach is appropriate in order to save you from more serious trouble in the future.

WIN AT BRIDGE

By James Jacoby
Sometimes an unblocking play is needed for a reason other than simply taking tricks in the suit. Unblocking can create additional entries to the dummy, for example. When dummy's seven of spades was played at the first trick, East played low. Declarer also played low, unthinkingly, and then took the A-K of diamonds. Now he played the 10 of spades, intending to finesse the jack and play the diamond queen. But declarer's carelessness had given West an opportunity to exercise some ingenuity. Realizing that declarer might just need two entries to dummy and hoping that declarer had not started with a four-card spade suit, West put up the spade king smartly. Declarer could now take dummy's spade ace and try the queen of diamonds. When the jack of diamonds did not fall, he could not come to nine tricks before the defenders took enough tricks to set the contract.

Declarer gained nothing by his play to trick one. It's easy to see that either defender might have started with four diamonds to the jack. If that is the case, it is imperative for South to win the opening lead with his spade queen. That way, he cannot be deprived of two entries to dummy and will easily make his contract, even with the unfortunate diamond distribution. The lesson is simple — plan the play before playing to the first trick.

HOROSCOPE

What The Day Will Bring...

YOUR BIRTHDAY

JANUARY 22, 1987

In the year ahead you may be a bit impatient and tempted to abandon ventures before they fully mature. However, if you stick things out, your rewards will be substantial.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 19) There is a fine line between assertiveness and aggressiveness in career situations today. Stepping over the line could have negative effects. Get a jump on life by understanding the influences which are governing you in the year ahead. Send for your Astro-Graph predictions today. Mail $1 to Astro-Graph, c/o this newspaper, P.O. Box 91428, Cleveland, OH 44101-3428. Be sure to state your zodiac sign.

FISCES (Feb. 20-March 20) Guard against tendencies to make mountains from molehills today. Trivial mishaps must be kept in perspective.

ARIES (March 21-April 19) Proceed cautiously with any new business contact you make at this time; don't get too closely tied to someone who isn't all you'd hoped.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20) Too many overlapping interests could complicate life for you today. Be sure what you undertake you can serve satisfactorily.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20) Be prepared to cope with your own problems today where your work is concerned. People on whom you were counting may have other involvements.

CANCER (June 21-July 22) A speculative venture may sound good when you first hear of it today, but before you take the plunge, you'd be wise to investigate it more thoroughly.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22) An old issue which caused discord between you and your mate may be resurrected today. If it does pop up, don't let it get out of hand.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22) Instead of being your usual helpful self, you may turn down a request for assistance today because it is demanded of you rather than asked politely.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 23) Desires for instant gratification could cause you to spend funds thoughtlessly today. Think of tomorrow's needs, not just immediate ones.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 22) If you show the same consideration toward the family that you show outsiders, everything will be harmonious on the homefront. If not, be ready to duck.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23-Dec. 21) Responsibilities which you leave unattended at this time will weigh heavily upon your mind and thus spoil what could have been a happy day.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19) Participation in frivolous activities today could end up costing you a bit more than you counted on. Having a good time may prove expensive.

Words For TV Baiters

A fellow came up to me at a party the other day and said he never watches TV. He reads this column, he said, to find out what he's not missing.

That's nice for me, but it's not really fair to TV. The bad television is so spectacular, so wondrously awful, that the good is often overlooked. But there's plenty of it.

Ted Koppel performs superb journalistic legerdemain on "Nightline" Monday through Friday. Bill Cosby still makes family life look like fun. "St. Elsewhere" proves that weekly dramatic series don't have to be boring and predictable.

The people on "Washington Week In Review" do a fine job sorting out the news. The people on "The McLaughlin Group" and "Agronsky and Company" do an equally fine job arguing about it. "Our World" provides keen historical perspective about a culture that is treated by some as disposable.

"Growing Pains" and "Who's the Boss?" evoke laughter without too much accompanying guilt about watching TV. "Fee Wee's Playhouse" entertains kids (and, be quiet about this, some older folks) without moralizing or waving guns around. "Our House," too, is pleasant viewing for children.

"Nova" makes a scientific subject understandable and interesting each week, even to someone like me who once considered dropping out of school rather than trying to memorize the periodic tables.

"Crime Story" occasionally pumps life into the old gangster format. Even "Miami Vice," a series nobody ever suspected had much to say, was capable of

Guy MacMillin

"Stone's War," a brilliant episode about U.S. ties to the contras in Nicaragua. It was first broadcast last October, before the recent unpleasantness, and was rerun Dec. 26.

Then there are special events. "J. Edgar Hoover," running this month on Showtime pay TV, is a fascinating docudrama about the life of the late FBI director. Surprisingly, he's portrayed as a sort of ACLU civil-liberties advocate who was corrupted by a security-obsessed Franklin D. Roosevelt. By the end of his reign, this TV Hoover has become a vulgar, blackmailing, dishonest, racist fruitcake.

In other words, you won't confuse this film with the 1959 FBI movie starring Jimmy Stewart.

Then there's music. "One Voice," Barbra Streisand's first live concert in years, has been running on HBO. Streisand gave the stirring $5,000-a-couple performance last September to raise money for liberal political candidates. Now conservatives and people who don't have $5,000 can watch.

So give credit where it's due, TV-baiters. Anyone with a reasonably good cable system or a satellite dish should be able to find at least a few things worth watching on TV once in a while.

Incidentally, later at that party I mentioned, the fellow who said he never watches TV put a pizza cardboard on this head and sang all three choruses of "The Brady Bunch" theme song.

Waitress-Turned-Actress Changes Soaps

By Nancy M. Betsworth

NEW YORK — Beginning yesterday (Jan. 20), Cassie Callison on "One Life to Live" has a different look now that Holly Gagner has taken over the role vacated several months ago by Ava Haddad.

Holly is well known to "Day of Our Lives" viewers for her two-year stint on that show as Ivy Jennings. Because Holly was working on a non-contract basis for "DOOL," she was free to accept the role of Cassie, which she did without hesitation. "DOOL" does not plan to recast the role of Ivy.

Holly's acting career beginnings are made of the same fabric as a soap opera plot. The story goes like this: Holly was working as a waitress. She just happened to serve lunch to Hollywood agent who told her she ought to pursue an acting career. The agent sent Holly on an interview; Holly won guest-starring role on "Quincy" and her career has been off and running ever since.

SHORT TAKES: ANNE SWARD, who plays nurse/nightclub singer Ly Montgomery on "As the World Turns," helped to make this past holiday season pleasant for nearly 3,000 American Indian children in South Dakota.

For several months before the holidays, Anne collected near 700 gifts from her "ATWT" co-workers and personnel at the CBS Broadcast Center in Manhattan. Anne and her "ATWT" castmate, Lisa Brown (Iva Snyder) then flew to South Dakota to distribute the gifts. With a little help from a boy company, Anne had enough gifts for all of the children who arrived to greet her and Lisa.

Lisa, by the way, will journey to Albuquerque, N.M., in February, where she will be one of the judges for the Miss U.S.A. Pa-cast.

SOAP OPERA BUTTS have probably already realized that Anthony Ponzini is the actor portraying Detective Borelli on "All My Children." "One Life to Live" fans fondly remember Anthony from his 7-year run as Vinnie Wolek. Anthony, as Vinnie, was one of the first daytime soap actors to inject humor into his story lines.

EILEEN DAVIDSON (ASHLEY Abbott on "The Young and the Restless") and Hillary Bailey

Smith (Marge Hughes on "ATWT") are signed to co-star in the CBS-TV movie "Sharing Richard." The romantic comedy is slated to air by the end of 1987.

ANN MARCUS has taken over as head writer on "General Hospital" in the wake of Pat Falcken-Smith's departure from the job.

Food for Thought

by Bill Painter

A warm kitchen is ideal for raising dough. Kneaded over is too warm, and dough will rise before flour and leavening are developed. One alternative — put dough in a warm, not hot (fringe in hot water, dry) and place in oven near the pilot light.

Leftover potatoes? Cut up boiled potatoes for hash browns. Cut baking potatoes into wedges, brush with garlic-scented oil, and roast until brown.

Try chicken livers a different way: saute with red pepper strips, sliced scallions, and sliced water chestnuts (or whatever's left over in YOUR refrigerator). Add salt and pepper and — just before serving — a splash of balsamic vinegar.

A warm knife cuts smoothly through frozen mousse or ice cream cake. Dip knife in hot water and dry before slicing.

Low-calorie "cream" sauce for pasta calls for a cup each of low-fat cottage cheese and low-fat milk, buzzed together with an egg yolk. Warm before tossing into noodles.

"We used to have large dinner parties, but it's gotten smaller. I have a lot of friends dropping in, and customers, so we have small dinners now." Some of the things Mrs. Peltzer likes to serve are favorites of her guests, such as Rolladen or roast pork. "It depends on how much time I have," she says. "I really don't spend that much time preparing and cooking. I try to make good meals that take the least time."

Below is a list of easier-than-you-think dishes you will want for your collection:

ROLLADEN

Ask the butcher to cut your beef for Rolladen, usually round steak. Using one slice of steak per person, add the following to EACH slice:

- 1/2 slice bacon, raw, chopped
- 1 teaspoon chopped onion
- minced garlic, to taste
- 1/2 teaspoon prepared mustard, spread on steak
- salt and pepper
- parsley
- small slice of dill pickle (optional)

After spreading prepared mustard on each slice of steak, add above ingredients. Roll each slice up carefully, securing with toothpicks. Brown in a little oil. Remove meat from pan and place in baking dish. Add one can cream of mushroom soup and about 1/2 can of water to drippings in pan. Stir until well blended. Pour over Rolladen in baking dish and place in a slow oven, 300 degrees for about 2 hours. Meat will be tender and gravy is delicious. A can of mushrooms may be added to the gravy before pouring over meat. Serve with wild rice, or white/wild rice mixture.

BREADED PORK CHOPS

Using one large pork chop per person, either center cut or butterflied, season with salt and pepper and pound to flatten. Dredge lightly in flour, then dip in beaten egg, then in bread or corn flake crumbs. Fry in hot oil. If preparing a large amount, place fried chops on cookie sheet and cover lightly with foil. Place in warm oven while frying remaining chops.

SAUTEED CHICKEN BREASTS

Using two boneless chicken breasts for four people, cut raw chicken into cubes
Garlic to taste
1 bunch green onions
flour
fresh mushrooms
1/2 cup white wine
1 cup heavy cream or half and half

Dust chicken cubes with flour. Brown in butter or margarine. Add garlic. Add chopped green onions along with sliced mushrooms. Add wine and simmer gently, covered, for about 10 minutes. Just before serving, add cream and heat through. Add salt to taste and serve over hot, cooked rice.

COTTAGE FRIES

For each person, use one medium to large potato. Leaving skins on, slice into wedges. Wash, dry and salt the slices. Toss slices in melted butter, about 1 stick per pound of potatoes, until well coated. Place in baking pan and bake at 375 degrees for 1 hour until nicely browned. Can be baked along with your Sunday chicken.

SAUERKRAUT—MY WAY

3 cans (16 ounces) Bavarian sauerkraut
1 small head of cabbage
1 large onion
1 clove garlic per can of sauerkraut, crushed
1/2 cup white wine
Kielbasa sausage, about 3 rings

Slice onions and cabbage. Add crushed garlic, canned sauerkraut, and white wine. Combine all in a large pot and bring to a boil. Simmer for 2 hours. Transfer to a large glass baking dish. Slice Kielbasa and place on top of sauerkraut. Place in a 350 degree oven for about 15 minutes until nicely browned. May be placed under broiler to brown, also, about 5 minutes. Good with cottage fries. Serves 10 to 15.

microwave on 100% power for 5 minutes, reduce power to 50% and microwave for 10-12 minutes; fluff with fork. Allow to stand 10 minutes (covered) and it is ready to serve, or be used in any recipe that calls for cooked rice.

MICROWAVE HINT: Use a large enough container to allow for the "bubble up" that occurs when cooking rice. 4-6 servings.

A colorful and nutritious way to prepare fish.

A Toast To New Officers

Sanford Daybreakers Toastmasters Club installed the following officers to serve during 1987: Herman Schroeder, from left, Sergeant-at-Arms; Dot Waller, secretary-treasurer; Elisabeth Koll, Ad. vice president; Leigh Horton, Ed. vice president; Kathy Sundvall, president; and Nancy Edwards, area governor. The club meets every Tuesday, at 7:17 a.m., at Christoo's, 107 W. 1st St., Sanford. Guests are welcome.

Smoking Habit Gets A Big Kick During 1986 Smokeout

DEAR READERS: The Great American Smokeout of 1986 broke all records for participation, with an unprecedented 23.8 million smokers trying to kick the habit for 24 hours.

Through a Gallup survey, it was learned that 43.7 percent of the nation's 54.5 million smokers took part in the 10th annual Smokeout on Nov. 20, either by avoiding cigarettes completely or by cutting down.

Of the participants, 7 million smokers were able to make it through the day without lighting up, and another 16.8 million cut down. The survey findings confirm that smokers want to quit.

For smokers who need help quitting, the American Cancer Society offers the quit-smoking course, "FreshStart," through its local divisions and units. The course is also available on audio and videocassette, as well as in paperback. If you need help quitting but can't find the time to attend a course, the tapes and book give you the freedom to take advantage of FreshStart at your own leisure. The tapes, produced by Simon and Schuster, are sold at many bookstores and retail outlets.

For more information on FreshStart classes, call your local American Cancer Society. To order the FreshStart audio and videocassettes, call (800)

ABBY

DEAR ABBY: Thank you for printing the list of questions thoughtless and insensitive people should not ask the parents of internationally adopted children.

I, too, am the mother of two beautiful children (a boy and girl) adopted from Korea.

Please add one more question to that list: "Are your children sister and brother?" I have been asked this question many times, and I always respond emphatically, "Yes, they are!" and would you believe that some people have had the nerve to continue probing further with "...but I mean, are they real brother and sister?"

LUCKY MOTHER IN CANADA

DEAR LUCKY: Read on. You may even want to clip it and carry the next letter with you. It speaks volumes:

DEAR ABBY: We have eight children, five domestically adopted. They don't look like us (there are four races among us), but some people do ask the cruelest questions.

Here are a few definitions for people who ask about adopted children who look Chinese, Korean or whatever:

Natural child: Any child who is not artificial.

Real parent: Any parent who is not imaginary.

Your own child: Any child who is not someone else's.

Adopted child: A natural child, whose parents are not imaginary, chosen by us and is now ours.

RITA LAWS, HARRAH, OKLA.

DEAR ABBY: My co-workers and I have a supervisor I'll call John Smith. To make a long story short, John got a graduate degree by correspondence. It took only a short period of time, and to my knowledge the college (in California) is not accredited.

Anyway, there is now a diploma on the wall in John's office that says: Doctor of Philosophy in Small Business Management. He is beginning to introduce himself to new clients and in correspondence as "Dr. Smith." So far, he hasn't asked any of us to address him as "Doctor"; but what should we do if he requests it?

G.R. IN NORMAN, TEXAS

DEAR GR: Since he is your supervisor, should he ask you to call him "Doctor," though it may be a hard pill to swallow, call him "Doctor."

DEAR ABBY: My 58-year-old husband has a habit of sitting sideways at the table when we are eating. He always has turned his chair sideways, and now the children, ages 27, 22 and 19, are doing exactly the same thing.

This is especially annoying when we have company for dinner.

Would it be wrong to tell my family to please sit the proper way, or leave the table?

E.A.K.

DEAR E.A.K.: Yes, it would be wrong. However, you could tell them before your guests arrive to please sit properly at the dinner table. And by the way, if your husband has always sat that way, your chances of breaking that irritating habit are slim. But you could work on the 19-year-old.

Gung Hay Fot Choy

After Super Bowl Sunday, Roll In Chinese New Year Jan. 29 With Gala Celebration

It's doubtful that anyone will gather around the piano and sing Auld Lang Syne, or don funny hats and kiss a partner at the stroke of midnight. Just the same, it's time to celebrate New Year's again.

Forget 1987 this time, however. Think Year of the Rabbit. And instead of greeting friends with Happy New Year, wish them Gung Hay Fot Choy.

Jan. 29 is the Chinese New Year, based on the Chinese Calendar. It is to the Chinese something akin to Christmas in the Western world, not in the religious sense, but in terms of the celebration.

Families and friends gather for the occasion. There is always a lot of food. Not turkey and dressing, of course, but probably chicken (for prosperity) and oysters (for longevity) and maybe seaweed in a steaming soup (for good health). The children receive toys and decorated "good luck" envelopes containing a coin or two.

You may not be Chinese, but that's no reason to miss a party. Why not throw your own Chinese New Year's Celebration? And if you are busy on the 29th that's okay, the Chinese celebrate for 10 days straight.

Decorate with some rabbits here and there (the Chinese will), brew up some tea and warm the rice wine. You also might want to have some dry red wine on hand, since the Chinese serve red wine on most happy occasions.

Unless you're an accomplished Chinese cook, opt for simple finger foods. The following appetizers for example, include some easy made-from-scratch dishes and others that rely on prepared foods from the freezer case. Your guests will love them!

ORIENTAL BITES

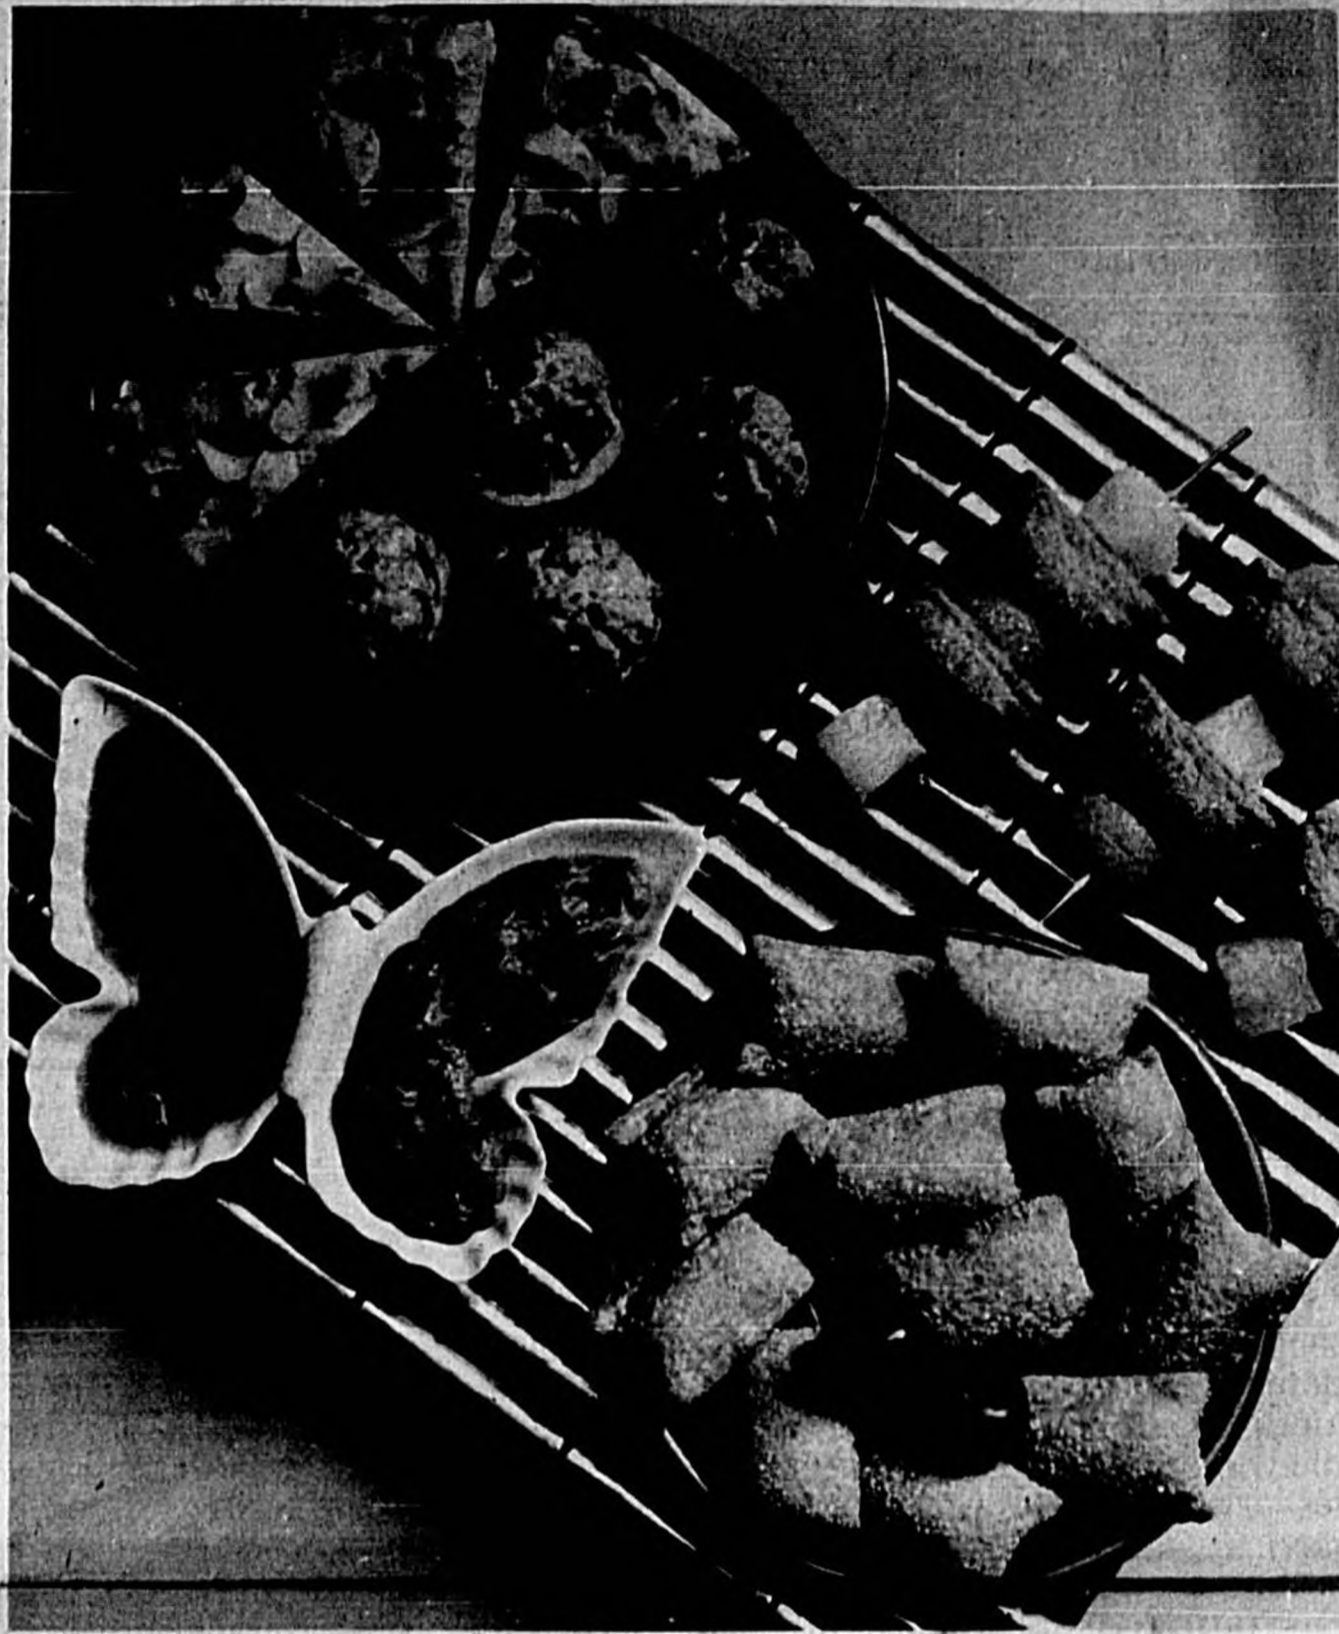

WITH PEANUT SAUCE
2 packages (7.25 ounces each) frozen prepared chicken egg rolls

¼ cup water
½ cup peanut butter
2 tablespoons soy sauce
¼ teaspoon hot pepper flakes
1 cucumber, sliced
1 sweet red or green pepper, cut into strips

Prepare egg rolls according to package instructions. Meanwhile, in small saucepan, combine water, peanut butter, soy sauce and hot pepper flakes. Stir over low heat until smooth. Serve warm as dip with egg rolls, cucumber and red pepper. Makes 6 servings.

CHINESE ALMOND OMELET
3 tablespoons butter or margarine

1 medium onion, thinly sliced
1 rib celery, thinly sliced
¼ pound fully cooked ham, cubed
10 eggs
1 tablespoon soy sauce
½ teaspoon ground ginger
½ cup sliced almonds
Preheat broiler. In large

Quick and easy finger foods — Oriental Bites with Peanut Sauce, Chinese Almond Omelet, Stuffed Zucchini Cups and Sweet 'n

Sour Kabobs — are perfect fare for a Chinese New Year's party. Decorate with rabbits in keeping with the symbol.

oven-proof skillet, melt butter. Sauté onion, celery and ham until vegetables are tender crisp. Meanwhile, in medium bowl, combine eggs, soy sauce and ginger. Pour mixture into skillet. Cook, stirring occasionally, over medium heat, for 1 minute. Cover and cook an additional 5 minutes. Sprinkle with almonds. Wrap skillet handle with foil and place 6 inches from broiler. Broil 1-2 minutes or until almonds are golden and eggs are set. Cut into wedges. Makes 12 servings.

STUFFED ZUCCHINI CUPS

½ pound ground pork
3 tablespoons finely chopped celery
2 tablespoons soy sauce, divided
2 green onions, thinly sliced (about ¼ cup)
1 tablespoon + ½ teaspoon cornstarch, divided

¼ teaspoon ground ginger
Dash ground pepper
3 zucchini, cut into 1-inch slices
¾ cup hot water
¼ cup chicken broth
In medium bowl, combine pork, celery, 1 tablespoon soy sauce, onion, 1 tablespoon cornstarch, ginger and pepper. On one cut side of each zucchini slice, with tip of spoon, scoop out about ¾ inch of pulp to form a cup. Fill each with 1 tablespoon pork mixture. In large skillet, arrange filled cups. Add water. Bring to boil and heat, covered, 12 minutes or until zucchini is tender. Meanwhile, in small saucepan, combine broth remaining 1 tablespoon soy sauce and ½ teaspoon cornstarch. Heat over medium heat until mixture is bubbly and slightly thickened. Brush on tops of zucchini cups. Makes 18 cups.

SWEET 'N SOUR KABOBS
1 can (11 ounces) Mandarin oranges, drained
4 packages (7.25 ounces each) frozen prepared chicken egg rolls, thawed 20 minutes
1 can (8 ounces) pineapple chunks, drained
1 cup apricot preserves
¼ cup ketchup
¾ cup soy sauce
3 tablespoons cider vinegar

On small bamboo skewers, alternately place one orange segment with two egg rolls and one pineapple chunk. In small saucepan, combine preserves, ketchup and vinegar. Brush apricot mixture on kabobs. Bake on cookie sheet in 425°F oven 8 minutes or until hot, turning once. Serve with remaining apricot mixture. Makes 24 kabobs.

Tasty Chicken low in cholesterol.

Potpourri

Wheat Germ Adds Crunch To Chicken

By Aileen Claire
NEA Food Editor

Chicken baked in the oven using a no-cholesterol oil makes a lower-cholesterol entrée. For extra flavor and crunch, prepare a special coating in which to dip the chicken parts. Remove the skin before baking for an even lower cholesterol dish. Serve with a mixed green salad dressed with a zippy topping and baked potatoes with low-fat cottage cheese.

HONEY-WHEAT GERM CHICKEN

1 cup toasted wheat germ
1 teaspoon ground cinnamon
¾ teaspoon salt
¾ teaspoon grated lemon peel
¼ teaspoon garlic powder
¼ teaspoon ground black pepper
¼ cup safflower oil
¼ cup honey

¼ cup fresh lemon juice
3 pounds chicken parts (skin removed, if desired)
Preheat oven to 350 degrees. In a pie pan or shallow bowl, combine wheat germ, cinnamon, salt, lemon peel, garlic powder and black pepper. In another pie pan combine safflower oil, honey and lemon juice.

Dip chicken in safflower oil mixture and coat with wheat germ mixture, shaking off excess. Place skin side up on a well-oiled shallow baking pan. Repeat with remaining chicken. Spoon remaining safflower oil mixture over chicken.

Bake until chicken is golden, about 45 minutes. Cover with foil. Continue baking until chicken is tender, about 10 minutes longer. This kitchen-tested recipe makes 4 portions.

CREAMY MUSTARD DILL SALAD DRESSING

¼ teaspoon powdered mustard
¼ teaspoon warm water
1 tablespoon flour
¼ cup safflower oil
1 teaspoon salt
1/16 teaspoon ground black pepper

2/3 cup water
1 teaspoon dill weed
½ teaspoon paprika
2 tablespoons cider vinegar
In a cup, combine mustard and warm water; set aside for 10 minutes for flavor to develop. In a small saucepan, combine flour and safflower oil. Cook and stir over low heat until bubbly. Stir in salt and black pepper, mustard mixture and 2/3 cup water. Bring to a boil. Reduce heat; cook and stir until thickened, 2 to 3 minutes. Remove from heat.

Stir in dill, paprika and vinegar. Set aside until cool. Refrigerate in a covered container until serving. Stir with a wire whisk before serving over salad greens or mixed fruit and greens. This kitchen-tested recipe makes 1 cup.

TEX-MEX PICKLED PEPPER HERO SANDWICHES

1 medium avocado, peeled and mashed
1 tablespoon chopped pickled pepper
1 tablespoon lemon juice
1 tablespoon grated onion
¼ teaspoon hot pepper sauce
4 individual hero bread loaves, cut in half lengthwise
¼ pound sliced Monterey Jack cheese

½ pound sliced roast beef
8 romaine lettuce leaves
2 medium-size tomatoes, sliced
8 pickled peppers, drained and sliced
Mix avocado with chopped pepper, lemon juice, onion and hot pepper sauce until well blended. Spread over bread bottoms. Layer cheese, beef, romaine and tomatoes over avocado mixture. Arrange pepper slices evenly over tomatoes. Place bread tops over peppers. Garnish with pickled peppers, if desired. This kitchen-tested recipe makes 4 sandwiches.

Passion Fruit Might Prove To Be 1987 Craze

By John DeMers
UPI Food Editor

NEW YORK (UPI) — What has a dusty purple rind, resembles a partly deflated rubber ball that has been left out in the rain — and just might prove one of the hottest new food products in 1987?

It is the passion fruit, actually named in reference to the crucifixion of Christ but now being marketed with numerous references to the sensuality of the tropics.

While the fruit may seem a bit too exotic (and expensive) to munch on like an apple, it is turning up in every imaginable type of dish served in America's restaurants and is mixed with cognac in a new liqueur from France.

What kiwi became a few years back and raspberry was in the past 12 months, diners can expect the passion fruit to be in the new year — despite its hefty price tag.

"Most recipes I have read come from places where the fruit is grown on a large scale," said Elizabeth Schneider, author of the recently published "Uncommon Fruits and Vegetables" (Harper and Row, $25).

"They begin, 'Take a cup of pure, strained passion fruit pulp.' Today, in the United States, that could cost $25."

The good news is that passion fruit works best as a flavoring, like vanilla extract or cognac. A little bit of pulp can indeed go a long way, and even the seeds in the proper dish can add a pleasurable crunch.

Home cooks looking to chefs for inspiration are tipping the exotic essence into aperitifs, fruit cups, sorbets, glazes, mousses and souffles — and even adding it to barbecue sauces and toppings for sauteed veal or chicken breast.

Passion fruit is thought to be Brazilian in origin, but it has grown successfully all over the Caribbean, South America, New Zealand, Australia, Taiwan and Hawaii for longer than anyone can remember.

Sadly, experiments at cultivating the fruit in Florida and California — a move that would have wrestled the price down — have been victimized by bad weather and lack of wholesale demand.

Another sure sign of passion fruit's popularity is that the French have started turning it into a drink.

The people who make Grand Marnier already offer a clear cordial called La Grande Passion. Even newer is Alize, a blend of natural passion fruit juices and cognac. It has just been introduced in New York, Washington, Boston and Florida by Kobrand Inc.

The drink, which can be chilled and drunk straight or used in a host of culinary preparations, is supposed to capture "the sensual taste of the tropics." Well, it may be advertising, but that notion is what the romance of passion fruit is all about.

Here are two classy recipes using the taste of passion fruit to great advantage. The first is from "Uncommon Fruits and Vegetables," while the second comes from the importers of Alize from France.

CHICKEN BREASTS WITH PASSION FRUIT SAUCE

2 chicken breasts, halved and deboned
2 Tbsp corn oil
4 Tbsp butter
Salt and freshly ground black pepper to taste
2 scant tsp sugar

4 Tbsp light rum
4 tsp fresh lime juice
Pulp and seeds from 4 passion fruit

Remove any cartilage from the chicken breasts and pound the meat, flattening each "supreme" to about ¼ inch thickness. In a heavy skillet, heat the corn oil and 2 tablespoons of the butter over moderate heat.

When the mixture foams, add the chicken breasts and brown, adjusting heat to prevent too-quick darkening. When richly browned, remove the breasts to a cutting board and season generously with salt and pepper.

Pour the fat from the skillet, then add the sugar, rum and lime juice. Stir over low heat to dissolve all the browned bits. Stir in the passion fruit and barely heat through. Remove from the heat and stir in the remaining butter. Taste the sauce for seasoning.

Immediately, slice the chicken in diagonal ¼ inch slices. Fan out on warmed plates. Spoon the sauce evenly over each portion and serve at once. Serves 4.

CROUTE A LA NORMANDE

4 Tbsp butter
4 medium tart apples, peeled, cored and thinly sliced

4 Tbsp sugar
2/3 cup Alize, divided
2 eggs, lightly beaten
½ cup milk
1 tsp vanilla extract
¼ tsp salt
4 ½-inch slices stale challah bread
Toasted sliced almonds for garnish

In a large saute pan, melt the butter over medium high heat. Add the sliced apples and saute for about 2 minutes. Sprinkle with sugar and continue cooking, stirring frequently until golden, about 3 minutes more. If necessary, cook in batches. Don't overcrowd the pan.

Add 1/3 cup Alize and continue cooking until the liquid has evaporated, about 2 minutes. Turn off heat.

In a mixing bowl, beat the egg, milk, vanilla and salt until well combined. Dip the challah slices into the egg mixture and brown both sides on a hot, well-oiled griddle.

Reheat the sauteed apple slices. Add the remaining Alize and cook just until heated through. Serve over the grilled challah slices and garnish with sliced almonds. Serves 4.

WILTED CABBAGE AND SAUSAGE

2 slices bacon, cut into ½-inch pieces
Water
6 tablespoons cider vinegar, divided
1 pound red cabbage, coarsely shredded
3 tablespoons brown sugar
1 teaspoon salt
¼ teaspoon pepper
1 medium onion, sliced
12 ounces fully cooked bratwurst, cut into 1-inch pieces
1 medium pear, sliced lengthwise

Cook bacon until crisp; drain and reserve. Bring 2 quarts water with 2 tablespoons vinegar to a boil. Stir in cabbage and cook 1 minute; drain well and reserve. Combine onion, remaining ¼ cup vinegar, ¼ cup water, brown sugar, mustard, salt and pepper in large frying pan. Cook and stir over moderate heat 3 minutes. Add bratwurst and pears; cover and cook slowly until heated through. Add reserved cabbage, stirring lightly to combine. Sprinkle with bacon and serve immediately. This kitchen-tested recipe makes 4 servings.

1/4 INCH TRIM

In the Publix meat department you'll find professional meat cutters who take extra steps to make sure you take home the LEANEST CUTS POSSIBLE. Our steaks and roasts, pork and lamb are trimmed to not over 1/4 INCH AVERAGE. That saves you money. Because less fat means more value for your food dollar. Look for "NUTRIFACTS" brochures and displays in your Publix meat department. They'll tell you how to choose delicious meat meals that are low in fat, cholesterol and calories—but high in taste and nutritional value. And look for your favorite cuts of Publix meat—always lean, always the best.
