

Fatal Accident Has Good Ending For Parents

SAN LEANDRO, Calif. (UPI) — The telephone rang twice in the home of Frank and Katherine Wallace Saturday.

The first call was from a friend, who reluctantly told the Wallaces that their 17-year-old son, Frank III (Butch) had crashed his motorcycle into the side of a train and was seriously injured.

The Wallaces rushed to Fairmont Hospital in nearby Oakland only to learn that the boy had died. Wallace senior did not look at the boy in order to spare his wife the shock.

Grief-stricken, they returned home. A quarter of an hour later the second telephone call came. It was their son.

Young Frank called to say he had lost his motorcycle to a friend, Michael Owen, 18. After the fatal accident police identified the boy as Frank because of the motorcycle's registration.

"I called as soon as I heard of the accident," the boy explained.

Their relief was mixed with sympathy for the parents of the other boy. "I know what they are going through," said Wallace.

VOL. 56 United Press Lensed Wire Established 1908 TUES., DECEMBER 31, 1963 SANFORD, FLORIDA NO. 94

By Julian Steinström
This is it for 1963.

Although hectic, especially when you consider accomplishing a move from California to Florida and getting resettled, it was a good year for us. We hope it was a good year for you, too.

According to all reports from local business and professional firms it has been an outstandingly good year for them. We can only hope that the trend will continue in 1964, which, by the way, could be the year of Seminole County's greatest potential.

The year 1964 should be one of the most exciting years, too, from the political point of view. One county office holder, Tax Collector John Galloway, has announced he will not run for reelection. We understand there will be others who will not seek reelection.

Aside from the county political scene, the national political picture will be enhanced by the great political conventions and after that another presidential election later in the year. Yes, sir, it ought to be a tremendous year!

A DISGRUNTLED and drunken customer "opened up" the DeLuxe Bar off 18th Street early Tuesday. Sheriff J. L. Hobby reported Gilbert R. Shaw, Negro, left the bar, entered his car with New York license plates and drove through a brick wall into the bar. One Negro customer told Herald staff photographer Bill

Vincent Jr.: "I raised my glass of beer . . . and there went a Pontiac whizzing by!" Frank Jones, wrecker driver, is pictured ready to remove the car from the bar. Sheriff Hobby said Shaw was arrested for driving while intoxicated and having no driver's license.

16 Die In Fires; 11 Children

United Press International
Fires claimed the lives of 16 Americans, including 11 children Monday. Four members of a Wisconsin family died in one blast and a young sailor's three children in another.

Clarence E. Hansen, 27, his wife, Frances, 28, and two of their four children were asphyxiated when fire swept their spacious home at Pleasant Prairie, Wis.

The children were Clarence, 2, and Kenneth, 3 months. Firemen said Mrs. Hansen helped save two daughters and a babysitter before succumbing to smoke inhalation herself.

The fire was apparently started by overheated Christmas tree lights, authorities said.

The three children of a sailor burned to death when their house trailer at San Diego, Calif., burst into flames while they slept. Their mother, Mrs. Clodette Pike, 22, was awakened by the children's cries.

The bodies of the children, Robert Eugene, 3, Marvin Lloyd, 3, and Valera Sue, 3 months, were found in their charred bunk.

Three children died at Danville, Ill., when fire swept their home and a neighbor with a back ailment was unable to drag them from their flaming rooms.

Dead were Clifford, 4, Derrick, 2, and Michelle, 1, children of Mr. and Mrs. James Kelly.

The children's mother was not at home at the time of the fire.

Two children died when fire destroyed their frame home at Sandusky, Ill., but their brother and sister managed to escape. The dead were Lucille Kimble, 2, and Lillian, 3. The children's mother was visiting a neighbor when the fire started.

In other fires, the bodies of Obie Goetz 47, and his daughter, Caroline, 7, were found in the flame-charred ruins of their South Side Chicago home; Carl Sullivan, 78, an invalid, burned to death when a stove apparently started a fire in his home near Nelsonville, Ohio; and Mrs. June De Annabal, 43, died of asphyxiation when fire swept her Steubenville, Ohio, home.

Galloway To Retire At End Of Present Term

J. L. GALLOWAY

The political ball for 1964 in Seminole County commenced rolling today when John L. Galloway announced he will not be a candidate to succeed himself as county tax collector, a post he has held since January 1947.

Two other county office-holders have stated, but not for publication, they, too, will not be candidates to succeed themselves. Mrs. Mary Earle Walker, county tax assessor, this morning denied rumors that she will leave office after this term. "I'd be surprised if my name were NOT on the ballot," Mrs. Walker said.

Present state representatives from Seminole County are S. J. Davis Jr. and Jan Fortune. Under the reapportionment law passed by the 1963 Legislature only one representative post will be open in the 1964 elections.

Seminole County electors will vote on members of the electoral college, to choose a president and vice president, and for state and county offices. Party primaries will be held the first Tuesday after the first Monday in May, with the second primary three weeks later. General election will be held the first Tuesday after the first Monday in November.

County candidates have between March 3 noon and March 17 noon to qualify.

Galloway, an employee of the Atlantic Coast Line Railroad for 30 years, came to Sanford in 1929 as chief clerk in the ACL superintendent's office. He is a native of Brunswick County, N. C. He served a year with the Revenue Cutter Service, predecessor of the U. S. Coast Guard. He saw action as an Army officer in France in World War I and was an officer in the Florida State Guard in World War II. He is a member of Holy Cross Episcopal Church, Masons, Veterans of Foreign Wars, American Legion, 40 & 8, Chamber of Commerce and Kiwanis Club.

In announcing his retirement this morning, Galloway issued the following statement:

"In January 1947, I was appointed by the Governor as tax collector of Seminole County to fill the unexpired term of the late John D. Jenkins and in 1948 was elected for a full term having opposition. After this I was elected for three more terms without opposition.

"I am deeply grateful for the honor conferred upon me by the people of Seminole County; and mindful of the fact that at the close of the present term in January 1965, I will have 18 years of service and eligible for retirement; and mindful of the fact there may be someone who would like to run for the office, but would not oppose me; and with pride in the record which the tax collector's office has established for excellent service to all citizens alike, I am announcing my retirement from public office at the end of the present term and will not be a candidate to succeed myself as tax collector of Seminole County in the 1964 Democratic primaries."

City, County Set Holiday Schedules

Seminole County was getting ready for the New Year's holiday Wednesday.

Most business houses will be closed, excepting some restaurants and bars. Financial institutions will be closed, as will City Hall and the courthouse. Post offices will be on a holiday schedule, with only collections and special deliveries.

City Commission was to meet at 4:30 p. m. today to determine whether bars may remain open tonight after the usual midnight closing hour. Sheriff J. L. Hobby said he had not been apprised of any change in hours for bars in the county.

The Sanford Herald will go to press early Wednesday to permit staff members to have a half-holiday with their families.

Busy Season At Courthouse To Begin Thursday

Thursday opens the busy season at Seminole County courthouse.

Tax Collector John L. Galloway will place 1964 automobile license tags on sale, continuing through Feb. 20.

Tax Assessor Mary Earle Walker will commence receiving applications for homestead exemptions.

Mrs. Walker said 12,500 forms for homestead exemptions and 30,000 forms for personal property exemptions will be placed in the mail Wednesday.

First-time applicants for homestead exemption should take their recorded deeds or contracts to Mrs. Walker's office between Jan. 1 and March 31. Her office is open 9-5 daily Monday through Friday.

Tag Increases Range Up To $13

TALLAHASSEE (UPI) — Florida motorists will dig deeper beginning Thursday when 1964 automobile license tags go on sale at hikes ranging from $3.50 to $13 over the 1963 price.

Biggest increase in the tags, which must be purchased before Feb. 20, is for the WW tags for heavy vehicles, up from $25 to $37.92 this year.

The W tag will increase from $20 to $29.79, the plain tag from $15 to $21.87, and the D tag for small cars from $10 to $13.54.

But the new plates will be good for 13 months since the 1963 Legislature passed the hikes with an eye toward more state revenue and getting it at a more opportune time. By 1967, under the new 13-month setup, tags will be renewed in July instead of January.

Tag money represents a big chunk of the state's revenue and legislators said they wanted the state to get that money during the summer when other sources of income and taxes are on the lean side.

The new tags will expire March 20, 1965.

Prices have been raised also on buses, trucks and trailers in addition to cars for 1964.

Motorcycle tags are up from $5 to $10.38. The QU tag for antique cars and the P or G tag on citrus and farm vehicles is up from $5 to $8.12.

Smoking Rises Despite Scare

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Americans smoked a record $23 billion cigarettes in 1963—despite recurring reports of blaming smoking as a cause of lung cancer and other ailments.

The 1963 cigarette total was almost 3 per cent more than the total for 1962—308.2 billion cigarettes—and marked the seventh consecutive year that smoking has increased in the United States.

The Agriculture Department noted that the increase between the 1962 and 1963 total was significantly more than the 1 per cent increase between 1962 and 1961. From 1955 to 1960 the rate of increase in cigarette consumption averaged 4 per cent a year.

The department noted that most Americans preferred "tailor-made" cigarettes to the "roll-your-own" variety in 1963. The output of tobacco for pipes and roll-your-own cigarettes was about 70.5 million pounds, slightly less than in 1962.

But this was the only tobacco category, outside snuff, which declined this year. All the others, including chewing tobacco, showed increases.

Donald Christensen, 16, of 1122 Hunt Road, Longdale, was being given medical examination at 1 p. m. today at Seminole Memorial Hospital after being knocked from his bicycle by an automobile on Highway 17-82 at Longwood, sheriff's deputies reported.

East-West Plans For Peace Talks Shape Up

LONDON (UPI) — Communist and Western plans were beginning to take shape today for peace talks in 1964, with the first round scheduled for the Geneva disarmament conference Jan. 21.

Diplomatic sources warned that despite the optimism generated by Soviet Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev's New Year's message, no quick or easy solution appeared in sight.

Khrushchev, in a statement to United Press International in Moscow Monday, outlined a five-point plan for easing the cold war.

The Western plan is now under discussion among the Allies and is expected to be completed shortly, the sources said.

Both aim at easing international tension by taking up cold war issues and trying to negotiate settlements. But neither Khrushchev's program nor the known details of the Western plan appeared to offer any startling change from previous positions, the sources said.

Khrushchev listed a slowing down of the arms race, cuts in armed forces and military spending, a NATO-Pact non-aggression agreement, reduction of foreign troops in other countries, and a ban on the spread of nuclear weapons as his major points for the tension-easing talks.

In the past, Moscow has attached conditions to some of these points which made them unacceptable to the West. Khrushchev gave no indication of any change. But diplomats in Moscow welcomed his willingness to proceed step by step instead of demanding immediate agreement on sweeping general disarmament measures, as he has in the past and which the West considers unrealistic.

Stolen Plants Are Recovered

Hal Cornell, Maitland, last week reported to the sheriff's office he discovered a man loading his camellias in a truck but the culprit drove off before Cornell could read his license tag.

This morning Moore, driving near Sanlando Springs, noticed car tracks leading off through weeds to a wilderness. The deputy checked . . . and found the stolen plants.

A. H. Clark, 103 Sunland Drive, reported the theft of a television set from his home. Lyman High School told the sheriff's office that the school offices had been ransacked. M & R bar reported to police a burglary with small loss.

Maybe They All Had Better Come To Florida

Fishing So Bad Liars Didn't Catch Any

BURLINGTON, Wis. (UPI) — Even the worst fishing conditions could not be as bad as those described by Richard Burlin, of rural Chatham, Mass., the Burlington Liar's Club decided today.

Burlin was named "World's Champion Liar for 1963" for this fishing tale:

"Fishing around here was so bad sometimes this summer that even the biggest liars didn't catch any."

Another tale which won honorable mention in the 23rd annual competition for the world's tallest story of the year was sent in by Rondal Johnson, Seattle, Wash., who said: "It was so cold here one winter that we all took steam baths by crawling into the refrigerator."

George Lowrey, McIntosh Falls, Vt., claimed: "It rained so hard for the last two weeks in Vermont that the Connecticut River was four feet higher than on the New Hampshire side."

A complaint about mail service by John Zepczyk, Phillips, Wis., also won honorable mention. He said: "I hope this arrives in time for the 1963 contest for liars, but the mail is so slow here that all of the mailmen have moss growing on the north side of them."

A New York City schoolgirl, Sara Barbosa, writes that she knows a "girl in our neighborhood whose mouth is so small that in order to say 'three,' she has to say 'one, one, one.'"

Finally, this story about weather by W. Y. Brown, Brenson, Mo.: "It has been so dry here in the Ozarks for so long that we have frogs two years old that don't even know how to swim yet. Yesterday, I saw two men cleaning a string of fish with a whisk broom."

Miss America Ill; Will Miss Orange Parade

MIAMI (UPI) — The annual King Orange parade, marred by the illness of Miss America and a good chance of a soaking, steps off for its 31st showing tonight.

Miss America, Donna Azum of Eldorado, Ark., had been scheduled to appear on one of the floats. But a doctor confined her to bed today and said she was suffering from burns of the nose and throat and chemical tracheo-bronchitis as a result of the Roosevelt Hotel fire at Jacksonville Sunday.

She was expected to be up and around again in a few days. The doctor, Robert Farrington of Miami, said the illness was "not serious in itself."

A Weather Bureau spokesman said after a full day's rain Monday that it would "rain most of Tuesday and the odds are only 50-50 that it will end by parade time" at 7 p. m.

But no one was returning tickets and the parade was a sellout with half a million holiday fans expected to line the route which includes world-famous Biscayne Boulevard.

The Orange Bowl game between Auburn and Nebraska Wednesday is also a sellout. But weathermen say it will be played under clear skies.

Johnsons Have Austin Reunion

AUSTIN, Tex. (UPI) — It was Lyndon Johnson's day for a reunion with the home town folks.

Home town, in the sense that in these wide open Texas spaces Austin is as much the President's home as his ranch 65 miles away.

"Austin is the city that we love," the President said. "For Mrs. Johnson and me, our public life began here. I have kept Lady Bird happy through the times past by promising that someday we would return to Austin to live—and we shall."

Those were the Chief Executive's words Monday night at a dinner dedicating the Agudas Achim Synagogue in the Texas capital.

Wing Installed On Titan Two

WASHINGTON (UPI) — A wing of 18 Titan II intercontinental missiles has been installed at Little Rock, Ark., to bring the nation's total of operational ICBMs to 331.

The Pentagon said the Little Rock installation completed the Atlas and Titan programs, but an additional 650 Minutemen ICBMs are still scheduled for deployment.

The U. S. ICBM force, installed and ready to fire, includes 128 Atlas, 54 Titan I, 54 Titan II and 300 Minutemen missiles.

Nativity Sheep Found At Home

MANITOWOC, Wis. (UPI) — The sheep which vanished Sunday from the Nativity scene in downtown Manitowoc has been located.

Police found the sheep Monday on the farm of its owner, who explained that he visited the display and found the sheep had given birth to a lamb. He took both animals back to the farm for shelter against the sub-zero cold.

Freeze Strikes Gulf Area As West Basks

By United Press International
Arctic cold chilled the nation today, dropping temperatures below freezing as far south as the Gulf states, while record warmth continued in Southern California.

Chicago ran its string of subzero days in December to 12, five more than the record set in 1905 and tied three times since.

Milwaukee, Wis., had its 13th sub-zero day this month, breaking a record of 10 set in 1876 and tied in 1916.

Temperatures well below the freezing mark were posted as Dallas, Tex., and Atlanta, Ga. The mercury plunged to near zero at St. Louis, Mo., and Louisville, Ky.

However, the U. S. Weather Bureau promised some relief from the cold for the Midwest later today.

More light snow fell along the east shore of Lake Michigan, where Muskegon, Mich., had more than 2 feet on the ground. There was another belt of light snow in the northern plains.

In Detroit, telephone company officials blamed the weather for an overload on suburban phone circuits, claiming the cold was keeping people at home.

San Diego, Calif., reported its second successive day of record heat when the temperature reached 82 degrees, 5 degrees above the mark set in 1881. Authorities predicted large crowds at the beaches for New Year's Day from Los Angeles southward.

In the Pacific Northwest, light rain began falling and winds mounting due to a storm approaching the coast.

At Madison, Wis., Gov. John Reynolds announced that the Agriculture Department has agreed to supply government grain to farmers in eight drought-stricken counties.

Investigators made a floor-by-floor search of the Roosevelt Hotel and questioned employees today in hopes of learning why 11 persons died in a fire.

Thick smoke from the first floor fire filled the 14-story hotel, packed with Gator Bowl football fans, Sunday morning.

Police Inspector E. E. Alton said much of the smoke traveled through the air conditioning ducts into the rooms.

Among some 60 persons treated at hospitals for smoke inhalation was Miss America, Donna Axum, of El Dorado Ark. Miss Axum was released today to continue on her way to the Orange Bowl at Miami.

Representatives of the State Fire Marshal's office, the National Board of Fire Underwriters, the National Fire Protective Association, the Mutual Investigation Bureau and the City Building Department joined city Fire Marshal E. C. McDermott in the investigation.

McDermott refused to predict when a report on the fire would be released.

Assistant Fire Marshal C.D. Banks said the group first checked the first floor, where the fire was confined. "We were looking for the cause and to see how it burned," Banks said.

Banks said the men then went to the top of the building and worked their way down floor-by-floor. "We checked how the smoke and gases traveled, and the structure of the building," he said. "You have to look at everything on something like this."

McDermott said the best anyone could do yet in giving the cause of the fire would be "an educated guess." He said there was no suspicion of arson. "There's no suspicion that anything was wrong."

Alabama Girl Cotton Maid

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (UPI) — Sue Meredith, a hazel-eyed charmer from Andalusia, Ala., who likes refurbishing old furniture, reigns as the 1964 Maid of Cotton today.

The new maid won out over a field of 20 pert young girls from cotton-growing states here last night to claim a new car, an all-cotton wardrobe and a global trip in her new role as cotton's fashion ambassador.

The new maid's alternates are Carolyn Adair, a 20-year-old blonde from Memphis, first alternate, and Loren Ormand, a 21-year-old Forest, Miss., coed, second alternate.

Sue, 21, a home economics major at Alabama College, wore a St. Christopher Medal for good luck.

She gasped "Oh no, it's me!" when the panel of seven judges announced the winner.

The capacity crowd's favorite, the new maid wore a regal looking white cotton sash gown with lace and tiny pearls.

"This is one time in my life when words fail me," she said.

"I consider the position of maid of cotton one of honor, dignity and responsibility," she said.

Representing the poise and personality needed to sell cautious buyers cotton fashion the world over, Sue stands five feet eight inches tall and weighs 130 pounds.

Asked by the judges what to do if by mistake she made dates with two boys on the same night, the new maid replied, "I would go with the first boy that asked me no matter how hard it might be."

But the new maid said she has been "going steady" with the same boy for eight years.

The future holds 12 months of hobnobbing with international names for Sue, but her first duty as the new maid will be appearance in Dallas, Tex., New Year's Day at the Cotton Bowl football game.

From there cotton's super saleslady will go to New York to be fitted for her wardrobe.

Her parents, Mr. and Mrs. M. C. (Clyde) Meredith could not attend the judging. Her father was at home recuperating from a recent heart attack.

"We are real proud of Sue's triumph," Meredith said when told she had won.

Limit Extended On Farm Loans

WASHINGTON — Senator Spessard Holland, a ranking majority member of the Senate Agriculture and Forestry Committee, announced today that the U. S. Department of Agriculture has extended for one year—from Dec. 31, 1963 to Dec. 31, 1964—the deadline for eligible farmers in Seminole County to apply for initial emergency loans under Sec. 321, Public Law 87-128.

This law, stated Holland, was enacted to provide federal credit assistance to farmers in all types of agriculture who have not sufficiently recovered from losses sustained in the December, 1962 freeze.

The Florida legislature was advised of the extension of the application period by Howard Bertsch, Administrator of the USDA's Farmers Home Administration.

Rep. Passman Already Honing Ax For 1964

WASHINGTON (UPI) — If President Johnson thinks he had headaches with the foreign aid bill this year, just wait until 1964.

Rep. Otto E. Passman, D-La., already is looking forward to cutting next year's program by at least half a billion dollars below the $3 billion that Congress finally voted for the current fiscal year.

This is right in line with Passman's step-by-step strategy to chop the foreign aid program down to proper size, which in his view is about $2 billion.

The $3 billion aid bill approved by the Senate Monday before Congress adjourned its longest session in 22 years was a far cry from the $4.5 billion that President Kennedy asked.

Informed sources said that Passman, chairman of the House foreign aid appropriations subcommittee, would be shooting for a $2.5 billion program in the new session, with the hope he could reach the $2 billion mark in 1965.

President Johnson knows the fight is brewing. He ordered a top-level review of the objectives and organization of the U. S. foreign aid program. The five-man White House group has been instructed to report to him by Jan. 15.

The group's recommendations will serve as the basis for the President's foreign aid message to Congress, expected late in January or early in February.

Passman regards the appointment of such groups as part and parcel of the annual battle. Every President since the program started 15 years ago has ordered a similar "hard look" at foreign aid. Passman has labeled such studies as "whitewash."

Judge Ponders Race Issue At Auburn

MONTGOMERY, Ala. (UPI) — A federal judge deliberated today whether Negro graduate student Harold A. Franklin is entitled to a dormitory room when he enters Auburn University Saturday.

Franklin complained at a hearing before Judge Frank M. Johnson Jr. Monday that he was denied a room because of his race. Johnson took the case under advisement and indicated he would make a ruling quickly.

Attorney G. Harold Flannery of the Justice Department accused Auburn officials of "changing the rules of the game" by denying Franklin a room after Johnson ordered his admission to the all-white university.

"Franklin, through the court order, has the constitutional right to have housing on the Auburn campus," Flannery said. "Auburn officials cannot deny Franklin's right by denying the rights of all students."

Negro attorney Fred Gray said the school authorities would not give Franklin, 31, of Montgomery, housing because of his race and color. Gray contended 22 graduate students already had been given rooms and said school officials admitted there were 1,132 spaces available, while only 792 students had been given rooms.

James J. Carter and Thomas D. Sanford, attorneys for the university, said Franklin was denied a room on the ground that the specific dormitory was for freshmen rather than graduate students. They said a regulation was adopted Dec. 1 putting a lid on the number of graduate students to be housed in Magnolia Dormitory.

The lawyers also contended Auburn did not consider Franklin a qualified student because he did not graduate from an accredited school.

Elder Springs HD Club Has Luncheon

The December meeting of the Elder Springs Home Demonstration Club, held at the Center on 25th Street in Sanford, featured a Christmas luncheon.

Miss Myrtle Wilson, agent, informed the group that a Dry Cleaning Clinic will be held at the Center on Jan. 16 and will be open to the public. She also announced that an Officers Training School will be conducted for the Home Demonstration Clubs on Jan. 24.

A demonstration on the making of Christmas salads was presented by Mrs. W. Martin, food leader, with some of the salads being served for the luncheon which was enjoyed by 13 members and three guests.

Welcomed to the club at this time were Mrs. James Anderson, Mrs. S. M. Plekens and Mrs. W. W. Cunningham.

Mrs. Cunningham shared several Christmas gift ideas with the club.

3,500 In Japan Coming Home

TOKYO (UPI) — The United States announced today it will withdraw 3,500 airmen and 2,000 dependents from Japan in the coming year, along with 78 fighter, bomber and troop transport planes.

The withdrawal will mean a cut of less than eight percent in the U. S. forces assigned to Japan under the United States' defense treaty.

Lt. Gen. Maurice A. Preston, commander of U. S. forces in Japan, pledged that the move will mean no change in the United States' intention of defending Asia from Communism.

"The United States assured the government of Japan that it continues to have every intention of fully meeting its mutual defense commitments in Japan, elsewhere in the Far East, and throughout the world," he said.

There are presently about 46,000 U. S. military men and 54,000 dependents stationed in Japan.

Nation Set To Celebrate

By United Press International

Americans collected hats and horns today for that most roisterous of holidays — the welcoming of the New Year, arriving at midnight.

The millions of celebrations will have one thing in common — noise.

Many Americans will greet the New Year in ballrooms, restaurants and night clubs. Many others will await the event at private parties. Some will attend special church services. A few will spend the evening quietly at home, perhaps sharing vicariously in the frivolity by means of radio or television.

New York's largest celebration — and perhaps the largest in the nation — will be in the giant Grand Central railroad terminal, where 3,000 guests were expected to pay from $35 to $100 to dine and dance to the music of Guy Lombardo in a mental health benefit. Private railroad cars will shuttle the socialite guests from the suburbs to the affair, which will be televised.

Elsewhere in New York, Delmonico's Restaurant of famed dinner, dancing and entertainment for $50 and Hawaii Kai scheduled a luau at $17.50.

San Francisco's St. Francis Hotel offered dinner and dancing for $25 a couple and to insure that no one would miss the significance of the occasion, scheduled a parade of waiters bearing letters carved in ice and spelling out "Happy New Year 1964."

At Dallas the Statler-Hilton prepared to greet 500 revelers with a $20 a plate dinner, dancing and a floor show headlined by flamenco expert Jose Greco. But the city's biggest party will be in the Grand Ballroom of the Sheraton Hotel, where the Cotton Bowl Association prepared for 700 guests.

Tucson, Ariz., reported its nightclubs lowered their prices from previous New Year's Eve levels, offering dinner, dancing and entertainment for as little as $7.50 a couple. Prices in neighboring Phoenix ranged from $5 to $15 a person.

The National Safety Council estimated that from 140 to 180 persons would die in traffic accidents during the 30-hour holiday period, beginning at 6 p.m. local time today.

Cramer Charges Politics With OAS Position

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Republican congressman William C. Cramer of Florida Monday charged the administration of "playing politics" in waiting to appoint a U.S. representative to the Organization of American States (OAS).

Cramer said Democratic leaders are waiting around for the outcome of the governor's race in Louisiana to accommodate candidate De Lesseps Morrison, former ambassador to the OAS.

"Through the recent crisis in Latin America, particularly in Chile and Venezuela, where Americans have been kidnapped and where terrorists have attempted to upset Democratic elections, our chair at the council has remained vacant," Cramer said. "How can the United States exert the necessary leadership in this explosive area without representation at the Council of American Nations?"

Forest City Party Is Success

By Elsie Kowalski

The Forest City Merchants Association sponsored its first Community Christmas Party for children of the area on Dec. 21 in the Forest City Shopping Center.

Turnout for the event was wonderful and children had loads of fun. Free rides on the merry-go-round were enjoyed and each child received a bag of goodies and a toy.

Miss Barbara Forward, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Allen Forward, won the first place cash award for the best decorated vehicle in the hike, wagon and buggy parade.

Mrs. E. H. Cox of Orlando won the free red wagon given by Harry's Barber Shop.

Special guests at the party were Santa Claus and Christmas Carol.

Two Men Held In Robbery

MARATHON (UPI) — Two Florida men were held on $10,000 bond each today in connection with a Key West loan company robbery after they were arrested while speeding north on the Overseas Highway — the only land route away from Key West.

Curtis Adams, 32, of Port St. Joe, and John Clifford Anderson, 21, of Copeland, were arrested at a road block on the south end of Seven-Mile Bridge on U. S. Highway 1 near here.

Police said the exact amount of the robbery had not been determined.

Ex-Diplomat Given Death For Spying

VIENNA (UPI) — A Communist court in Sofia today sentenced to death former Bulgarian diplomat Ivan Assen Georgiev for allegedly spying on behalf of the United States, according to the Bulgarian news agency BTA.

BTA called the verdict "final and without the right of appeal." It said the Bulgarian Supreme Court decreed Georgiev should die by firing squad.

Previous Communist news agency reports from Sofia indicated the former diplomat in effect had invited the death penalty for his crimes, which he was supposed to have committed to pay for mistresses on both sides of the Iron Curtain.

Georgiev, 56, went on trial for treason on Thursday. BTA had reported previously that he made a full confession the first day and said that Monday state prosecutor Ivan Vachkov demanded the death penalty for him.

Western observers had predicted he would get the death penalty.

Radio Sofia, in broadcasts monitored here, said Vachkov called Georgiev "a traitor to the homeland, a spy of the American intelligence." Even the former diplomat's defense counsel was quoted as saying his guilt was "irrefutable."

But the defense asked the court not to give Georgiev the "heaviest penalty." In Bulgaria execution usually is by firing squad.

BTA said the handsome diplomat, former No. 2 man in the Bulgarian delegation to the United Nations, testified he turned over military, economic and political information to agents of the U.S. during a seven year period.

Kachkov claimed Georgiev admitted the CIA spent more than $200,000 "on him and his paramours." Communist news agencies have quoted him as saying the CIA supplied him with Parisian and Bulgarian mistresses while he worked in New York.

American officials have handled the proceedings a "show trial." A few Western newsmen in Sofia attended the trial but they were barred on several occasions on the ground that state secrets would be discussed.

DeBarry Legion Post To Hear Talk On State Boys Ranch

By Mrs. Adam Muller

Volusia County Sheriff Rodney Thursty will be guest speaker at Thursday's meeting of the DeBarry Legion Post to be held at 7:30 p.m. in the Community Center.

Commander Peter Koppelaar will preside at this first meeting of the new year which will stress Community Service. Thursty's subject will be the Florida State Boys Ranch which is patterned after Father Flanagan's famous Boys Town and is supported by the Florida Sheriff's Association.

The Ranch, which was started with $5,000 and a prayer in 1937, is located on 700 acres along the Suwannee River 11 miles north of Live Oak. At the end of three years, there were 15 boys enrolled and the Ranch represented an investment of $100,000. Ultimate goal is to provide facilities for the enrollment of 1,000 boys.

The Ranch has farm buildings, residence cottages, playgrounds, dining hall, recreation hall, swimming pool and a vocational training center. Bus transportation is provided to and from the boy's churches each Sunday.

Thursday's meeting has been opened to members of the Post's Auxiliary Unit and to the public to hear Thursty's talk which is scheduled for 8:30 p.m.

The entertainment program will be under direction of Second Vice Commander Alfred Newell.

Goldwater To Reveal Plans

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Sen. Barry M. Goldwater meets with Arizona Republican leaders at his Phoenix home Friday to announce whether he will seek the GOP presidential nomination in 1964.

The Arizona senator, who celebrates his 55th birthday Wednesday, will make known to his state's GOP chiefs whether he will run for the Republican presidential nomination or drop out of the race and seek re-election to the Senate in 1964.

Goldwater was a strong front-runner for the Republican nomination in the public opinion polls before President Kennedy's assassination, but since that time has slipped somewhat. Whether the slippage was enough to discourage him remained to be seen.

The senator has been recuperating at his home from minor surgery for a bone spur on his right heel. Along with other Republicans, Goldwater had observed a moratorium on politics during the 30-day period of national mourning for Kennedy. That period ended a week ago Sunday.

Making Most Of 1964

One question is naturally foremost in our minds today: "What will the new year bring?"

What will it bring the world, our nation, our communities, our families and ourselves as individuals?

The question is natural because we so often seem to think of the future as an unfolding of events that remain hidden until the appointed hour for them to occur.

Perhaps that is why many are fascinated by those who claim to be able to peer beyond the veil of the future; why there are probably more fortune tellers in the 20th century than at any previous time; why when something happens, people so often say, "Ah, yes, it was fated."

On the other hand, we may be thoroughly rationalistic and take little comfort from a view that has everything foreordained, fore-doomed. Yet there may still be the tendency to wonder: "What will the new year bring?"

The question should be: "What do I intend to bring the new year?" This is more than a mere catalog of resolutions having to do with personal habits or attitudes towards those around us. It involves more than a course of personal ethical behavior, good though that is.

It has to do with the very purpose of our existence, whatever we may conceive that purpose to be. It is the difference between a negative acceptance of whatever comes and a positive determination to shape the future closer to the heart's desire.

This positive outlook should function both in our most immediate and closest relationships, right on up to our duties as citizens of local and national communities.

The question was stated in another way by the late President Kennedy in his inaugural address: "Ask not what your country can do for you; ask what you can do for your country."

This is a question we should ask ourselves regularly, and especially on this first day of a brand new year. What do we intend to make of 1964?

Dr. Crane's

Worry Clinic

Claude mentioned the rationalized arguments which many lay folks cite in order to avoid trying to break their bad habits. So follow the plan below and declare a revolution against your 5th columnist habit. In a few weeks you can be free from tobacco and liquor habits!

CASE R-444: Claude P., is a science teacher.

"Dr. Crane," Claude began, "what is the proper attitude to take concerning self-improvement?"

"For example, should a person make a set of New Year's Resolutions each year, even if he knows he will very likely fail to live up to them?"

"Or should he drift along without making new resolutions so he can thereby avoid deflating his morale by failures?"

Imitate Churchill

Winston Churchill showed splendid psychological insight when he said: "England always wins the last battle!"

This shrewd statement indicates that England has engaged in many conflicts where her armies were defeated.

In both World War I and World War II the usual outside spectator would probably have thought England couldn't survive.

But in each case she won the last battle!

That was also true when Napoleon was overrunning Europe. For at Waterloo, England again won the last battle.

Even though she apparently lost at Yorktown, since then she has cleverly made us her vassal via multi-billion dollar unpaid loans.

We psychologists strongly urge you to make new resolutions that can serve as road maps to happier and healthier living.

Don't even wait till December 31st to do so.

Take a monthly inventory of your personality. Weed out your bad habits, for they are 5th columnists, always sabotaging your success.

Encourage new habits that will help you move forward toward your goals.

"Not failure but low aim is crime," said Lowell.

So aim high!

If you fall short, set a new goal and start again.

To get rid of your 5th columnist bad habits, do this:

(1) Publicly announce your intention to quit tobacco or liquor or over-eating, etc.

This public statement makes you feel honor-bound to try harder.

(2) Avoid the places or people or things that tempt you to revert to your former nuisance habits.

"Look not on the wine while it is red," states the Bible, which means you should physically move away from your former temptations.

(3) Get some friends to join you in your dieting plan or your break-off of cigars and liquor.

(4) Substitute some other wholesome act that will channel your former bad habits in a better and substitute outlet.

For instance, carry candy coated gum so you can reach in the same pocket for the package; then shake out a piece and lift it to your mouth.

The chewing will help drain off nervous tension much as the waving of your hand in the former act of smoking relieved your pent-up energy.

Send for my booklet "How to Break the Tobacco and Liquor Habits," enclosing a long stamped, return envelope, plus 20 cents.

(Always write to Dr. Crane in care of this newspaper, enclosing a long stamped, addressed envelope and 20 cents to cover typing and printing costs when you send for one of his booklets.)

The prairie dog is a heavy-bodied, short-tailed ground squirrel of the western United States named for its barking voice. Some prairie dog species live in large colonies or towns. Their burrows are well-engineered, having raised funnel-shaped entrances which keep out water.

Political Notebook

WASHINGTON (WPA) — Thomas C. Mann, now presidential assistant — who will double in top brass as assistant secretary of state for Inter-American Affairs and as head of the Alliance for Progress — has gone back to Mexico City for the holidays and to wind up his ambassadorship.

He will report for confirmation to the Senate and go to work after New Year's.

His first headache will be how to give more and better aid to Latin America for less money. Congressional authorization has cut Alliance funds from the requested $600 million to $700 million.

It's an impossible job, even with the White House wind-down-dressing and added status.

But Texas lawyer Tom Mann, having been assistant secretary of state for Latin America in the Eisenhower administration, knows his way around Central and South America as well as the foreign economic and political offices in Washington. He has served in Uruguay and Venezuela and as ambassador to Guatemala, El Salvador, Mexico.

Back in Washington, Mann will still have the invaluable services of Theodore Mosocco, who has been co-ordinator of the Alliance for Progress from its start.

Mosocco's job has been described as the third-toughest in Washington. The President is first, AID Administrator David E. Bell is second.

The new move is expected to lighten Bell's load a little and dump the overburdened Mann. Whether Mosocco can pass some of his frustrations onto his new boss and what Mann can do about them is the question. He may end up having the second-worst job in Washington.

Meanwhile, at much lower levels, the Peace Corps is preparing to double its volunteers in Latin America from 2,000 in 1963 to more than 4,000 in 1964.

Peace Corps director Sargent Shriver has in recent months been personally visiting college campuses in the Southwest and Puerto Rican communities in New York to recruit Spanish-speaking young Americans. He is getting terrific response.

The Peace Corps has caught on in Latin America even if the Alliance for Progress hasn't. When the United States broke diplomatic relations with Honduras and Dominican Republic because of military coups in those unstable countries, the Peace Corpsmen stayed on by popular demand and were welcome.

When the four Americans were held as hostages by the Bolivian tin miners, this was passed out: "The Peace Corps guy, Bob Ferguson, is the coolest of all—a real good man. Tell them to promote him to group leadership rank."

When Communist agitators demanded that Peace Corps

volunteers be expelled from Aracajó, Para, as U. S. special representatives of the 50,000 Barricade slum dwellers with whom the Peace Corpsmen were living demonstrated and came to their defense. And the city fathers bestowed a medal on them.

Peace Corpsmen have penetrated Cuba slums in Carmona, Venezuela, where Vice President Nixon was stoned. Peace Corpsmen are working on a TVA-type project affecting 5,000,000 people in the 2,000-mile-long San Fernando Valley of Brazil's poverty-stricken northeastern states.

Numerous stories like these come from all the 17 Latin American republics where the Peace Corps is at work. Only Argentina, Paraguay, Haiti and the Guianas have not asked for volunteers. And Cuba has nothing like a Peace Corps.

"The Peace Corps will not solve all our problems," said a newspaper editor in Quito, Ecuador. "But consider this—its efforts are almost immediate. It reaches the masses and the very foundation of government."

Perhaps the biggest criticism of the Alliance for Progress is that it didn't touch the illiterate masses whose standard of living it is supposed to raise.

Alliance bank loans to finance machinery imports from the United States or for currency stabilization to fight inflation are fine. Water and sewer projects, housing developments, schools and highways are needed. But these are projects in which there should be more Latin-American capital investment.

Maybe a shift to more Peace Corps-type operation would remove the "Yanqui NO" inscriptions from the walls and change "Cuba SI" to "Yanqui SI." It would be a return to President Truman's original Point Four concept. And it would certainly be a lot cheaper.

To The Editor

Editor: Herald

To the People of Sanford: a challenge!

I would like to issue a challenge to the people of Sanford. I dare you to drive on our streets and highways for just one week at the exact speed limit, no more, no less, just what the roadways are posted. . . . If it is 25 mph, then drive that exact speed, and see how soon it is that you have traffic stacked up behind you and how many will shoot out and around you, giving you a nasty look as they pass, and for what? For observing the local law!

think you will be amazed at the number that will pass you.

I am not trying to point a finger at anyone specifically. I am pointing my finger at all whom this fits. How many times have you been the one that passed that slowpoke ahead of you and never gave it a thought that he might have been the one in the right?

And to our city officials, I invite you to cruise around a few of our busier streets during the day in your own car and take notice of the amount of traffic that passes you while you are doing exactly 25 mph.

I say let's do one of two things, either enforce the present speed limit or raise it and enforce the new law. What good is a law if the majority of the population breaks it! This is only teaching disrespect for law to our teenagers who watch the speed limit signs go by saying 25 mph and there goes Pop at 35 mph or even more.

Give this a try, very faithfully for one week. I think you will be ready to ask for either a new set of speed limits or strict enforcement of those we have. Try it. I dare you to prove me wrong.

QUICK QUIZ . . . ED PG. A

Q — What is the maiden hair tree?

A — Its other name is ginkgo. Neither a fern, a pine tree, nor a hardwood—it is a combination of all three. This is one of the two trees that have survived to our day from the coal age. The other is the cycad, which is halfway between a fern and a palm.

Q — Is there any home tree that can be grown from coast to coast?

A — Yes, the trembling aspen. No other tree grows naturally from Maine to California.

Bottle, Throttle Don't Mix

If you drive, don't drink. If you drink, don't drive.

You may be tired of that perennial admonition. You might think it's unrealistic. You may even consider it for the birds. You might even be convinced that two or three drinks never hurt anyone behind the wheel.

But don't you believe it! Traffic officers and safety experts know better and can easily prove that you are wrong.

They know, too, that the drinking driver problem is tougher than ever over the year-end holiday season.

The National Safety Council, estimating that traffic accidents could take between 200 and 250 lives over the New Year's holiday period, reminds us that more than half the drivers involved in fatal accidents during past holidays had been drinking.

This should prove to everyone's satisfaction that drinking and driving do not happily mix. If it doesn't, then perhaps a report from the chief medical officer of Dade County, Dr. Joseph H. Davis, will provide convincing evidence. He says that half of the drivers who were killed on Dade County roads and highways during 1963 had been drinking and that 45 per cent of the pedestrians killed had been drinking.

So, for everybody's sake, including your own, says Seminole County Sheriff J. L. Hobby, don't drink if you are driving and don't drive if you have been drinking.

This is one contribution toward a happy New Year anyone of conscience and good will can cheerfully make.

The best death recipe we know of is combining the bottle and the throttle.

Botulina Poisoning

One person had died and several others were ill in Canada as a result of eating canned liver paste infected with botulina toxin. Since Sept. 28, eight other people are known to have died and eight more ill, as a result of eating a Michigan brand of smoked whitefish (not canned but firm-wrapped). Last spring, two persons died from eating tuna fish tainted with the same poison.

Perhaps it is now time to consider taking steps to inform the public what this menace is and how to combat it on the household level.

First: What is botulina poisoning? Botulina is a condition, resulting in death more than 50 per cent of the time, that comes from eating food that has been invaded by a certain bacteria, Clostridium botulinum. The bacteria excretes an extremely poisonous substance, botulina toxin. Cobra venom, curare, arsenic and other known poisons are mild by comparison. One one-billionth of a gram of pure toxin will kill. Botulina toxin is so potent that it's got a number-one priority for consideration in so-called germ warfare.

Once eaten, the toxin is absorbed sluggishly by the intestines, but when it does get into the bloodstream, its action is swift. The poison blocks normal communications between nerves and muscles, causing paralysis. Breathing muscles are the first to be affected, then the heart.

How widespread is botulina poisoning? Despite this year's rash of cases, it is extremely rare. Before last spring's tuna cases, the last known case of botulina poisoning involving commercially produced food was in 1923.

How can it be prevented? At some stage of the trip from raw product to consumer, the bacteria enters the package and multiplies there at warm and moderate temperatures (the ordinary refrigerator's 40° is not cold enough to stop the process) and in the absence of air.

If the bacteria entered before heat processing (or before smoking, in the case of the whitefish), presumably the heat would kill them. In the tuna cases, the bacteria apparently entered damaged cans after processing. In the whitefish and liver - paste cases, the cause so far is unknown. It would seem, however, that the bacteria again entered the product after processing.

In the whitefish case, perhaps the heat of a heat-sealing process set off the rapid multiplication of the organisms, though this is only conjecture.

The point is that heat will render the toxin harmless. Keeping food at 212 degrees for five minutes, or 150 degrees for 15 minutes will do it. This is the main point on which the public should be reassured. Heating before eating will eliminate all chance of illness or death from botulina poisoning.

Epsilon Sigma Alpha Sorority Holds Holiday Ball

The gaiety of the holiday season continued in full swing Saturday night as the young and the younger of Seminole County society joined the dancing and merriment at the annual inter-fraternity Christmas Ball, sponsored by the Epsilon Sigma Alpha sorority at the Mayfair Inn Ballroom. The dance floor of the French-styled hotel ballroom was crowded as winter visitors joined young men and women home from college of the service for the holidays, and all mingled with the most enthusiastic dancing couples of the local scene.

Many out-of-towners joined the gala throng as couples in town for the reunion of the Class of 1963 of Seminole High School made their way to the evening of fun at the Mayfair.

Ever popular short formal and the new high-style long, slinky, sheath gowns attracted much attention on the ballroom floor as the famous Gene Fernet orchestra from the Ramada Inn in Cocoa Beach played for the swinging and swaying.

Dear Abby: By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: I know plenty of women who have nothing on their minds but money, but my husband is the only man I know who thinks about business and money night and day. He even DREAMS about money. All night long I can hear him buying and selling stocks in his sleep. Is this normal?

ROSE: DEAR ROSE: It's normal. Be glad your husband is preoccupied with "figures" of a business nature. Count your blessings while he's counting his shares. And don't sell him short.

DEAR ABBY: One day last week I went into my garage to do a little work, and there I found two neighborhood children playing INSIDE an old refrigerator I had stored there. They were three and four years old. When I think of the tragedy that might have occurred if that refrigerator door had accidentally slammed shut on those little tots, my blood runs cold. I gave them a long lecture on how they had no business in my garage (the door was closed), and then I gave them a few whacks on their behinds so they'd remember it. The next thing I know, I got a call from one of their mothers telling me it was against the law to lay hands on another person's child and I would be hearing from her lawyer. Who is crazy?

GOOD NEIGHBOR: DEAR NEIGHBOR: I am not a lawyer, so I can't tell you who broke what law. Neither am I a doctor, so I can't tell you who is crazy, either. But I can tell you that you should have kept your garage door LOCKED, or stored the "attractive" nuisance elsewhere.

DEAR ABBY: We had a very fine photographer take our children's pictures in color, so I suggested to my husband that we have them made up and give them to his parents as a gift. (Nicely framed, of course.) My husband said that giving a picture as a present is in very poor taste. I say he is wrong. He told me to write to you for your opinion.

MRS. C.: DEAR MRS. C.: A picture is the one thing a person can't go out and buy himself. I have yet to see grandparents who didn't appreciate pictures of their grandchildren.

DEAR ABBY: I never knew love songs were out of place at a wedding ceremony. "Oh, Promise Me" and "Because" were sung at our wedding 26 years ago. Had I known what the future held in store for me I would have requested, "I Can't Give You Anything But Love, Baby."

Jacoby On Bridge By Oswald Jacoby

During the course of 1963, I played with a great many new partners. A new partnership will get along pretty well when the opponents aren't mean enough to throw curves at you. When they do, a new partnership is apt to become confused.

East's three club opening was one of those curves. All pre-emptive bids are calculated to make it difficult for the opposition and this was no exception. It worked beautifully against my new partner and me.

Sitting South, I had a choice of bids against that opening. I might have doubled and had I done so this article would not be written because my partner might have passed the double. In that case a diamond opening and continuation would have given us two diamonds, two diamond ruffs, two hearts and the ace of trumps for plus 500. Or partner might have made some strong heart bid. Against a heart contract arrived at this way East would probably have opened the king of clubs, whereupon my partner would have made six for plus 900 had we bid the slam or plus 400 had we played four or five.

However, I bid four spades and my partner certainly was entitled to make some strong move. He bid five clubs and East doubled. This gave me a chance to pass. Obviously I had no reason to be pleased by the fact that he held the ace of clubs.

The bid came back to him. He bid five hearts and now I made one of the worst decisions of the year. I jumped to six spades on the theory that my partner's bids showed a tremendous hand with a spade fit. The theory turned out to be wrong and the result was a flat zero score.

We The Women: By Ruth Millett

Among a list of things the ideal husband should do, expressed by women polled in a recent survey, was this wifely desire: that a husband should know how to pull his wife out of the dumps when she gets into them.

Grown women ought to know better than to expect that kind of intuitive understanding of another's moods and what to do about them from a man - just because he happens to be a husband.

For the ability to sense when another person is in a low mood and the willingness to try hard to bring the person out of it is a feminine, not a masculine, asset.

A truly feminine woman is well attuned to a man's moods. If she cares about him, she seems to know instinctively how to cope with them. She knows whether she should be quiet, or try to get him to talk out a problem, or whether to leave him alone or to think up something to take his mind off his troubles.

But a man reacts differently to a woman's moods. If he happens to notice that she is downhearted, he wants a quick answer to his blunt, "What's the matter with you, anyhow?"

When he is told, he expects any simple solution he offers to take care of the matter.

Polyandry Polyandry is a familial system under which a woman is married to several men at the same time. Personal relationships with polyandrous families often are remarkably free from jealousy, according to the Encyclopedia Britannica.

7:30-8:30 p.m. NBC. Mr. Novak. "He Who Can Does." Good emotional conflicts on several different levels make this absorbing entertainment. A Pulitzer prize-winning novelist addresses Jefferson High literary students and creates havoc by advising some of them to quit school. And he turns out to be an old flame of the assistant principal (Jenna Bell) and wants to renew the romance. He also wants Mr. Novak (James Franciscus) to quit his teaching post and become his literary secretary. Very colorful as the odd-ball novelist is Edward Mulhare.
