Deputy Court Clerk Jailed After Probe

By TONY YARBOROUGH
Herald Staff Writer

Suspended Seminole court deputy clerk Mary A. Knight has been charged with practicing law without a license, tampering with witnesses, and attempted evidence tampering in the case that erupted several weeks ago when a Sanford woman told a county judge the clerk prepared legal documents and charged her $180 for the work.

Ms. Knight, 34, of 3644 Main St., Sanford, was jailed at about 10:30 a.m. today and was being held on $5,000 bond pending a bond hearing before County Judge Alan Dickey at 1:30 p.m. today, jail officials said. She is charged with tampering with witnesses, which is a third-degree felony charge, and two misdemeanor charges including unauthorized practice of law and attempted tampering with evidence, officials said.

Ms. Knight has vigorously denied the accusations that she prepared legal documents, gave legal advice or charged for the work but declined further comment concerning the matter.

Ms. Knight, a deputy clerk and clerk's office Microfilm Department supervisor, was suspended Aug. 24 without pay pending the outcome of an investigation by the State Attorney's Office (SAO). Upon notifying Ms. Knight of her suspension, Clerk of the Court Arthur H. Beckwith Jr. said his office also will review the accusations against Ms. Knight to determine if any action should be taken against her in connection with her duties as a clerk's office employee.

According to prosecutors, the eight-year clerk's office veteran could face up to five years in prison and a $5,000 fine if convicted of the felony charge.

Douglas Huth, SAO Consumer Fraud Division investigator, began probing the accusations after Circuit Judge S. Joseph Davis Jr. told him of claims made by Beatrice Lee Baker of 2411 Granby St. in Midway during divorce hearing proceedings, that a woman, identified as Ms. Knight, prepared her divorce papers. Mrs. Baker added she paid the clerk $180 for the work, Davis said.

According to Beckwith, no one except a licensed lawyer is permitted to offer legal advice or prepare legal documents on another's behalf for profit.

Ms. Knight is not a licensed lawyer, Beckwith said.

"She did my divorce papers and she did the papers for my daughter in Longwood," Ms. Baker said. Ms. Baker said that even though her daughter decided not to go through with the divorce, "she still had to pay the $180."

Ms. Baker said Ms. Knight also "handwrote" instructions for her telling Ms. Baker what she was to say to Davis during the divorce hearings.

"In a tentative analysis of those notes and samples of Ms. Knight's handwriting, it appears she is the author of the courtroom instructions," Huth said.

"However, based upon the handwriting expert's analysis and other evidence in the case, including Ms. Baker's statements and those of others involved, we feel confident that the evidence supports her arrest."

Ms. Baker also said she and her daughter, Mary Daugherty, were offered $50 by Ms. Knight to destroy the handwritten notes and disavow their claims. "Monna wouldn't take the money, but I did," Mrs. Daugherty said. "I figured she took enough from Monna and she owed us something."

Mrs. Daugherty gave Huth the $50 which she said Ms. Knight paid her along with a piece of paper allegedly torn from Ms. Knight's personal check, bearing her unlisted home telephone number.

"We were supposed to call her at home that night and let her know that the instructions on the two papers had been destroyed," Mrs. Daugherty said.

Beckwith, Ms. Knight's supervisor, said he had been informed of Ms. Knight's pending arrest but he did not know when the arrest was to take place. "But even after her arrest, we still operate on the premise that she is innocent until proven guilty and this office will not take any action, other than continue her suspension without pay, pending the outcome of any court action," Beckwith said.

"If she is found innocent of the criminal charges and our investigation as to whether she acted incorrectly as a member of this office turns up nothing, then she can always be reinstated to her position and the pay which she did not receive during the suspension time could be given to her," he said.

Beckwith said his decision to suspend Ms. Knight without pay was based on the recommendation of the clerk's office labor attorney.

Immunization Flood Turns To A Trickle

By MICHAEL BEHA
Herald Staff Writer

Things are back to normal for personnel at the Seminole County Health Department, following the torrent of students who have come into clinics in Sanford and Longwood for inoculations the past two weeks.

"Only 12 have showed up for shots today in Sanford, and only 10 have needed the forms," said Bernice Duncan, community health coordinator.

"I don't know what happened to the other 2,000. Their mothers must have come up with enough information to get them into school," she said.

The clinics have been inundated during the past two weeks to immunize and provide proper records for 6,000 students who did not have them, in compliance with a state law requiring all students to be protected against a battery of childhood diseases.

More than 2,000 students were turned away from Seminole County schools on Monday because they did not have proper immunization records.

The health department clinics immunized more than 1,000 of those students Monday and Tuesday and many have returned to school with the proper forms.

"The schools have reported that everything seems to be running smoothly," said Marion Snell coordinator of health, education and health services for the school district.

More than 500 students who did not have the proper records on Monday returned to school with them Tuesday, administrators at several county high schools reported today.

More students have been coming back today but no official count was made this morning.

Mrs. Snell said some students have returned to school without the records, "but have been sent home again."

She expects nearly all the students who were rejected for admission Monday to be back in school by the end of the week.

For several students, such as children whose families have moved often, a lack of records has caused them to undergo the entire battery of shots for polio, measles, mumps, diphtheria, whooping cough and tetanus.

"We do have some parents whose records haven't arrived from out of state and they don't have a local doctor who can verify that their children have received the shots," Mrs. Snell said.

"If they can't document that they've had the shots, there's not much else they can do except start the whole series over again. It doesn't hurt the student too much," she said.

Despite the problems, Mrs. Snell said, "All in all it has gone better than we expected."

She said there will not be an annual problem of the magnitude which has faced school officials this year.

Students will have to have immunizations, "but all these kids will already have them. Only transfers and new students will have to get the shots," Mrs. Snell noted.

Mrs. Snell said other counties in Central Florida had fewer problems with the opening of school because they had a deadline for immunization last spring.

"They set their deadline last May," she said. "We discussed it but didn't want any seniors to miss their final exams."

Those counties which had a May deadline had the same kind of problems that Seminole school administrators have had this week, she said. "It's about six of one and half a dozen of another."

A few problems with buses cropped up on the first day of school, Transportation Supervisor Woodrow Burnsed said. Most of those problems have been worked out and he believes all of the problems will be solved within a couple weeks.

The biggest problem is providing transportation for special education students, Burnsed said. Because not all of the students were on the district's list, some were left off of routes Monday. Routes for the 53 buses which transport special education students may have to be changed to accommodate those extra students, he said.

The department's problems were magnified because of an interruption in phone service Friday afternoon and Monday morning, Burnsed said.

The food services department, which is responsible for getting meals from the nine kitchens to the schools, had no problems in the first two days, the director said.

Charlotte Whitmore said, "We've had a very smooth opening. There are usually some problems which happen but we haven't had any yet."

"We were well prepared. Our trucks were serviced, our machinery was serviced and we were ready for school," she said.

She said estimates of how many students are buying school lunches won't be available until next week. However, those figures won't be indicative of the number of students who will participate in the lunch program since many were denied admission.

Controversy Surrounds Possible Move

Attendance, Space At Issue

By BRITT SMITH
Herald Staff Writer
(Fourth in a Series)

The sign at the front entrance reads: "Central Florida Zoological Park."

It doesn't say anything about Seminole County, or Sanford. It's Central Florida's zoo, a regional facility, not a purely local one.

At least that's how zoo officials think of it. That's one reason they're considering moving to Orlando's Turkey Lake Park from their present site just outside Sanford.

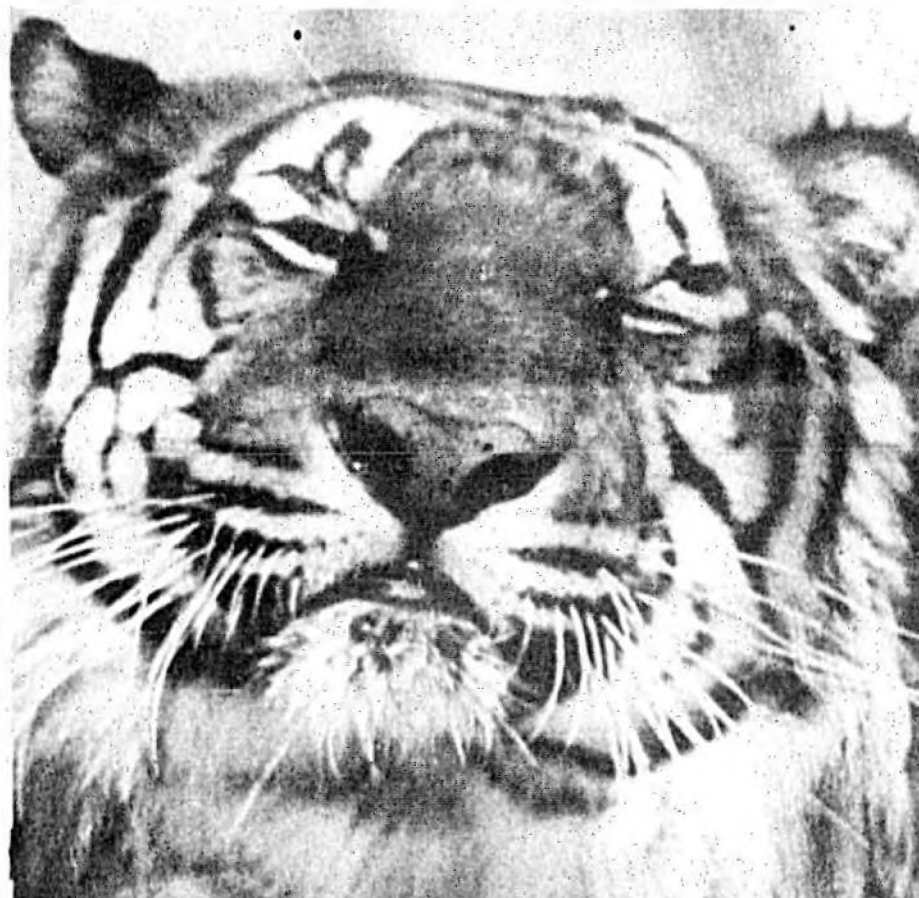

Oh, sure they say they are grateful for all the help local folks gave in getting the zoo started and keeping it going over the years.

And if they make the proposed move, they say they will leave with much regret and more than a few fond memories.

But by the same token, they're not going to let sentiment as well as personal and geographic loyalties deter them from doing what they feel is best for the zoo.

"If we get the proverbial offer that can't be refused, we'll take it," said Newman Brock, president of the Central Florida

Move Study Contracted?

By DONNA ESTES
Herald Staff Writer

Some $30 million may be the key to whether the Central Florida Zoo at Sanford moves to Turkey Lake Park in Orlando.

"We're not interested in relocating at our own expense to Orlando or another site. But if the city of Orlando or Orange County or Central Florida businessmen will come up with $20 million to $30 million over the next five years, it could happen," says Al Rozon, executive director of the zoo.

At this point, however, Orlando is not prepared to commit large sums of money for construction or maintenance of a zoo. "That's not the case right now," said Todd Parsons, administrative aide to Orlando Mayor Bill Frederick.

Right now decisions hinge on the results of a feasibility study on the possible move by a University of Central Florida department.

While the Central Florida Zoo Society has its share, $2,500, of the cost in hand, a donation from a private foundation, approval of the second $2,500 awaits the nod of the Orlando budget review committee on Tuesday.

The $5,000 will pay expenses of the study.

DO IT YOURSELF

Carol Letchworth of Idyllwilde subdivision in Sanford works with some of her neighbors to clean up and repair a sidewalk children in the neighborhood ride over on their way to school. "We decided to clean it up ourselves rather than call the county or city to complain about it," Mrs. Letchworth said the group thought the job would take just a few minutes but the work stretched into several hours as they cleaned dirt and branches from the walk and trimmed tree limbs.

Winter Springs Woman's Death Still Mystery

The murder of a 31-year-old Winter Springs woman found dead in her home Tuesday morning remains a mystery to police investigating the crime today.

Barbara A. Gilmore of 60-37 Sheeah Blvd. was found shot in the head and back and lying in a pool of blood at her Highlands condominium at 9:30 a.m. Tuesday after her employer went to her home after she failed to report for work, police said.

Detective Robert Butler today said, "I have two or three good leads" in the case. He said some action in the investigation could happen within a couple of days.

Police said Mrs. Gilmore, who was separated from her husband about a year ago and was employed at Dittmer Architectural Aluminum of Longwood, appears to have been shot with a .22 caliber handgun.

Police said it does not appear she was shot during a burglary attempt because everything in her home appears to be intact. Police added that a sliding glass door was found open.

Mrs. Gilmore's employer, Pete Rector, discovered the body when he stopped by her home after she failed to show up for work, and attempts to reach her by telephone failed.

Police said Mrs. Gilmore was a native of Holland, Mich. She moved to Winter Springs about nine months ago and, according to neighbors, she was a private person, keeping pretty much to herself. She had no children, police added.

Police said they believe the woman was shot at about 2 a.m., about the same time a neighbor reported hearing loud noises.

FLORIDA IN BRIEF

Another FHP Official Loses Job In Scandal

TALLAHASSEE (UPI) — Maj. A. P. Floyd is the fifth Florida Highway Patrol official to become caught up in a scandal over the use of FHP airplanes or vehicles and the only one to fight to keep his job. Floyd, fired by acting department of Highway Safety and Motor Vehicles director Jim York last week as deputy inspector for field operations, will argue before a panel of law enforcement officials Thursday there was no basis for his being terminated. York said he decided to dismiss the 29-year patrol veteran because Floyd would not answer questions about his travel and respond to allegations that he falsified state travel vouchers, submitted unwarranted claims for travel reimbursement and failed to report his involvement in a traffic accident while in a state car.

Judge Getting Tough

JACKSONVILLE (UPI) — Angry at parole boards that free violent criminals who are likely to rob or kill again, a circuit judge is sentencing repeat offenders to nearly two centuries in prison. "It is an established fact that 50 percent of all crimes in the U.S. are committed by persons on parole, probation or bond," Judge R. Hudson Olliff said. "Yet, the parole of felons who have been convicted of violent crimes proceeds apace — as if the statistic were irrelevant or did not exist." Olliff handed his second 199-year jail term in two months to Leroy Reed of Jacksonville Monday. Reed was convicted July 9 in the second-degree murder of his wife, Denise Cherry Reed. Reed was released Oct. 6, 1981, after serving less than seven years of a 75-year sentence for armed robbery, Olliff said.

Day Care Center Sued

ORLANDO (UPI) — The father of a 3-year-old boy who drowned this summer while on a nursery outing has filed a $250,000 negligence suit against an Orlando day care center. Thomas O'Hara filed the suit on behalf of his son, Heath, who drowned in a pond in east Orange County on July 22. The toddler drowned during an outing supervised by counselors from Nanny's Nursery and Day Care Center of Orlando. The suit, filed this week in Orange County Circuit Court, charges the nursery's owner, Sunbelt Child Care Centers Inc., and American States Insurance Co., its insurer, were negligent in providing supervision to the youngster while he was on a field trip to the artificial pond.

Gunmen Rob Longwood Shoe Store

By TONY YARBOROUGH
Herald Staff Writer

Police are continuing their search today for two men who held up a Longwood shoe store at gunpoint, bound and robbed two store employees, then fled with about $435 at 8:25 p.m. Tuesday.

According to Seminole County sheriff's deputies, two men, armed with pistols, walked into the Fayva Shoe Store, 2403 State Road 434, ordered the store clerk to "stay quiet and don't be stupid," then robbed the store safe and cash register.

Cara Lynn Baker, assistant manager of the shoe store, told deputies that one of the robbers ordered her to the rear of the store to open the safe while the other gunman held an unidentified clerk at bay.

After the men were given the store's money, they bound the employees' hands and feet with adhesive tape and placed tape over the workers' mouths, deputies said.

The gunmen put the clerk in the ladies' restroom and locked Mrs. Baker in the men's restroom, deputies said. The clerk, thinking the robbers had left the store, attempted to free himself of the bonds but his efforts were interrupted when a robber returned to steal his wallet, deputies said.

The clerk told deputies the gunman tied his hands and feet and stole his wallet containing personal papers but no cash. The gunmen fled the store and Mrs. Baker, who was able to free herself shortly after the robbers left, notified deputies.

Deputies said the thieves also stole a set of keys to the store but that the store management has since changed the locks on all doors.

CASSELBERRY WOMAN SUES NASA

Charging that water she drank at NASA's Vehicle Assembly Building at the Kennedy Space Center made her sick, a Casselberry woman has filed a negligence suit against NASA in U.S. District Court in Orlando.

Cheryl Ann Burt and her husband, Larry, are charging that NASA, Boeing Services International Inc. and its insurer, along with Rockwell International and its insurer, were negligent in maintaining the quality of drinking water at the Space Center when she visited there in 1980. In her suit, she said that after drinking from a water fountain at the center she became ill and required hospitalization claiming that the water contained parasites which made her sick.

Mrs. Burt's husband is also filing suit, saying he lost the services, companionship and comfort of his spouse because of the incident.

A NASA spokesman said Mrs. Burt's claim is a product of speculation and offers no proven link to the space agency.

In the world of high political finance, union-affiliated political action committees are the heaviest spenders on candidates and causes but business-based groups — four times as numerous — have a significant edge over labor in total expenditures. Federal Election Commission figures cover the 15-month period from Jan. 1, 1981, through March of 1982. They show both business and labor PACs giving more lavishly to incumbent candidates than challengers. Republicans enjoy a slight edge over Democrats in business contributions, but union spending favors Democrats 10 to one.

PACs: Buying Influence

By DONNA ESTES, Herald Staff Writer

Thousands of dollars from both in-state and national political action committees (PACs) are being channeled into local political campaigns for state and federal office. And the PACs represent all types of special interests from school teachers and ERA supporters to liquor dealers, doctors and chiropractors to builders, developers and banks. Contribution range in size from $200 to $1,000.

But just what does this PAC money buy? "Access to the public officials," says Seminole Democratic State Committeeman Bill Wack of Longwood.

"PACs are indicating support for the candidate with their contributions and they hope the contribution will mean they'll have a fair hearing by an elected official on issues of importance to them," Wack said.

Fred Streetman, Seminole GOP State Committeeman, agrees with Wack's assessment, adding that PACs feel their possibilities of access are enhanced with a contribution and "in many cases I suspect this is so."

"In addition to trying to help someone who they judge shares their position on the issues, the PACs are trying to get that person elected," Streetman said.

Republican County Commission Chairman Robert Sturm of Lake Mary is seeking reelection this year and is doing so with very little PAC money. While Sturm agrees that PACs expect to buy access with their contributions, he emphasized, however, that as an elected official, he has always been accessible to the public. "My door is always open," he said.

State Rep. Dick Batchelor, Democratic candidate for Florida's 5th district seat in the U.S. House of Representatives, sees PACs in a different light.

Batchelor, who is running against incumbent U.S. Rep. Bill McCollum, R-Altamonte Springs, says "political Action Committees have become a multi-million dollar business of legalized influence peddling."

"In 1980, these committees spent over $50 million on congressional races, and it is expected that they may spend $100 million this year," Batchelor said.

Streetman sees PAC contributions as beneficial.

"The money PACs have is simply an accumulation of contributions by individuals. Those individuals by participating in PACs can increase their own impact on government," Streetman said.

Wack, however, pointed to one clearly dangerous result of PAC financing.

By allowing large contributions by state and national PAC organizations, candidates are beginning more and more to rely on those contributions to fund their campaigns. At the same time, they are relying less and less on local contributions from local business members and other citizens," Wack said.

"This is particularly true in races from the congressional level up. Very large sums of outside money are impacting local campaigns. I don't think that's healthy for the political process," Wack said.

Guardian Ad Litem Volunteers Honored

By TENI YARBOROUGH, Herald Staff Writer

A well-known columnist once wrote that volunteers are like yachts — they're both part of an aristocratic era that is disappearing from the American scene. They're both a luxury.

The First Annual State Guardian Ad Litem Awards Ceremony was held Friday at the Seminole County Courthouse to honor such "luxury" volunteers who have served as guardians to represent the best interests of abused and neglected children who find themselves in court.

The keynote address was delivered by State Sen. John Vogt, D-Cocoa Beach, commending the volunteers for their efforts. State Rep. Dick Batchelor, D-Orlando, Bill Lockhart, of the Office of the State Courts Administrator and Seminole Circuit Judge S. Joseph Davis Jr. also attended the ceremony.

Among those people recognized for outstanding service to the program were Gail Barley, Alternese Bentley, Brad Black, Sue Boardman, Newman Brock, Armita Carter, Leon Cheek, Jane Connell, Kathy Cook, Mary

Daly, Tom Greene, Irving Gussow, Sandy Hawkins, Shari Hodgson, Sonya Hubbard, Janet Hofer, Claudette Holden, Lois Jackson, Ned Julian, Bill Leffler, Mary Leffler, Jill Lewis, Delia Liggins, Eileen Mack, Gary Massey, Ginie Nix, Jacqueline Palmer, Emily Peacock, Anita Perlman, Gerald Hutberg, Winnie Scott, Martin Schneider, Jim Sloan, Linda Smith and Frank Walden.

Awards for special service to the program were presented to Carol Haase, director of the child protection team, Orlando Regional Medical Hospital, and psychologist Dr. Stephen Jordan.

Also honored at Friday's ceremony were the program's lawyers, who work closely with guardians in presenting the victimized child's case. Among those lawyers recognized for their work were Harvey Alper, Jim Sloan, Gary Massey, Frank Walden and Ken McIntosh, chairman of the program's board of advisors.

Florida's Latin Population Is Booming

MIAMI (UPI) — Florida's burgeoning Latin American minority already an 8.8 percent slice of the state's population may nearly triple by the year 2000, a newly released survey shows.

By the turn of the century there will be 2,235,000 Latins living in Florida, compared with 857,898 in the state in 1980, according to the study completed by the Population Reference Bureau in Washington.

In comparison, the white non-Latin population of Florida, counted at 7.46 million in 1980, will grow to about 10.38 million by 2000. The black population will increase from 1.34 million to 2.31 million by 2000.

The result will mean that by the end of the century, the state will have a population that is 14.8 percent Latin, 15.3 percent black and 68.7 percent non-Latin white.

The bureau arrived at its figures based on current fertility and immigration rates for the various ethnic groups over the past five years. "These are not predictions," Dr. Leon Bouvier, the bureau's immigration specialist, said Monday. "All that we are saying is that this is what it'll look like if the present trends continue. I think it's a reasonable and conservative estimate."

The former head of Florida's Commission for Hispanic Affairs, Leslie Patin Sr., said the estimates seemed correct.

"More and more Hispanics are coming down from the North and outside the country," he said. "The numbers will at least double, considering many were not counted (in the 1980 census)."

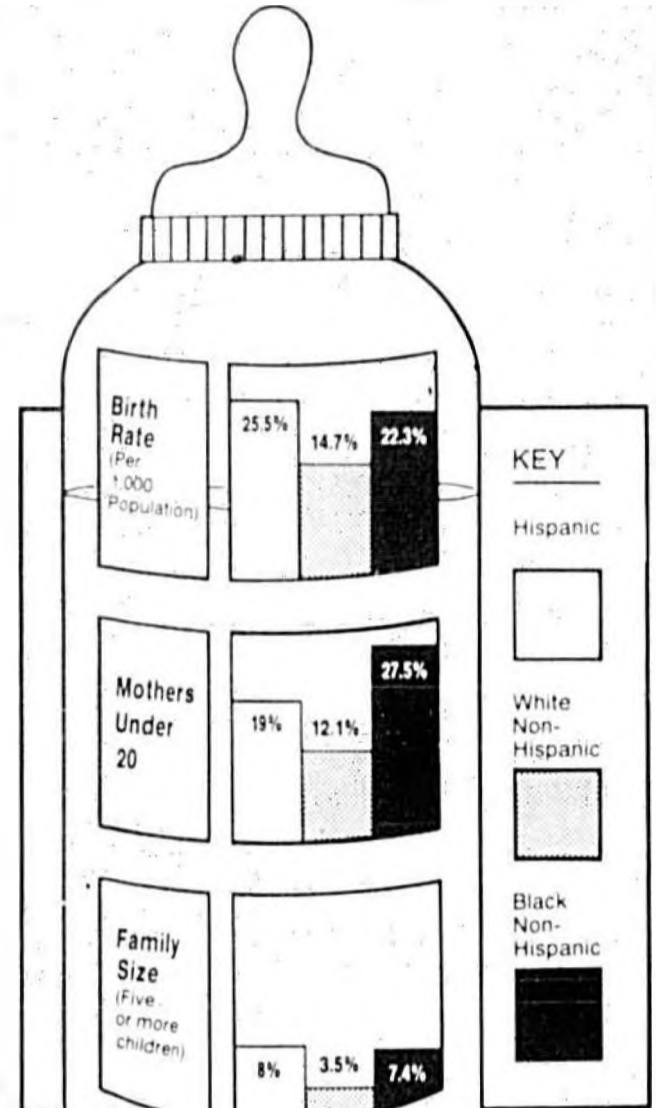

Bouvier said the study, which also examined the growth of populations in California, New York, Texas and Illinois, can be used by government agencies and private institutions to plan for social change.

"You can look at this two ways," he said. "Let's be calm and plan for the future — or keep these people out."

"The way I look at it, there is no question the U.S. will always be on the receiving end. The question is how do we adjust, if we do."

The report was partly paid for by the Federation for American Immigration Reform, a national lobby group for stronger control of U.S. borders.

"Social planners can't ignore this," said federation spokesman Gary Imhoff. "This proves what we have been saying (about the need for tighter control)."

Cubans Release Suspected Spy

MIAMI (UPI) — A Massachusetts computer-company executive freed after four months in a Cuban jail declared himself "alive again" during a joyful reunion with his wife and a three-month-old daughter he had never seen.

Celia von Mering-Suarez, the wife of Cuban-born Miguel A. Suarez, wept silently when she learned her husband had arrived Tuesday night at Miami International Airport from Havana, Cuba.

Suarez had been arrested on charges of espionage in May while visiting his hospitalized mother in Cuba.

"First I feel proud of my daughter. Second I am concerned about all of you people crowding over her," Suarez told reporters who met his plane. "And third I'm very pleased to see my wife." Their baby Isabel wailed under the glare of the hot lights used by television camera crews.

Suarez was released Tuesday after 22 U.S. senators, including Sen. Edward Kennedy, petitioned Cuban President Fidel Castro to release him.

Women of Hispanic origin have the highest birth-rate in the American population, supporting predictions by census experts that Hispanics will overtake blacks as the nation's largest minority group by the end of the century.

1 Vote Could Make A Difference

By DONNA ESTES
Herald Staff Writer

Florida's Secretary of State George Firestone, the state's chief election officer continues to plug away pleading, enticing and inviting the people of the state to vote.

Noting that primary elections are coming up Sept. 7 and Oct. 5, and a general election Nov. 2, Firestone effectively knocks down the argument that one vote doesn't count.

And he lists the following examples:
— In 1649, England's King Charles I literally lost his head when the vote to behead him was 67 against and 68 for — the ax fell, thanks to one vote. One vote also placed George I on the throne in 1714.

— In the 1800 U.S. Presidential election, Thomas Jefferson and Aaron Burr tied in electoral college votes, throwing the election to the U.S. House of Representatives. After 36 separate ballots, Jefferson finally won the election — by one vote.

— In the 1824 presidential race, none of the four candidates running received an electoral majority. The election was again thrown into the House of Representatives where John Quincy Adams defeated front-runner Andrew Jackson by one vote.

— By a margin of just one vote, Texas, California, Oregon, Washington and Idaho became states in 1845, 1850, 1859, 1889 and 1890 respectively.

— President James K. Polk's request for a Declaration of War against Mexico in 1846 was approved by the U.S. Senate by a margin of just one vote.

— The Alaska Purchase of 1867 was ratified by just one vote, paving the way for the eventual annexation of America's largest state.

— Military conscription was enacted in 1941 when Congress approved the war-time draft by one vote.

— If Thomas E. Dewey had gotten one more vote per precinct in Ohio and California, the presidential election of 1948 would have been thrown into the House of Representatives where Dewey enjoyed more support than his rival, incumbent Harry Truman. As it was, Dewey was expected to win the general election by a landslide so most Republicans stayed home. Only 51.5 percent of the electorate voted. Truman defeated Dewey.

— In local elections in Huron, Ohio, in 1955 and in Rose Creek and Odin, Minnesota in 1959, city mayors were elected to office by exactly one vote.

— In the presidential election of 1960, one additional vote per precinct in Illinois, Missouri, New Jersey and Texas may have altered the course of America's modern history by denying John F. Kennedy the presidency and placing Richard Nixon in the White House eight years sooner.

— In gubernatorial elections in 1962, Maine, Rhode Island and North Dakota all elected governors by a margin of one vote per precinct.

— One of the greatest political trials in America's history ended in May, 1868, when impeachment vote in the U.S. Senate against President Andrew Johnson failed by just one vote.

— One vote made France a republic in 1875 — and ended it in 1940.

— In 1875 when Florida's U.S. Senators were still elected by the state Legislature, Democrat Charles W. Jones of Pensacola was elected to the Senate by a one vote majority.

— The presidential election of 1876 resulted in Rutherford B. Hayes defeating Samuel Tilden by one electoral vote. When Tilden's party protested the tabulation and demanded a recount, Congress established a 15-member electoral commission to again count the electoral votes and declare the result. By an eight to seven margin — again one vote — the commission affirmed the count and gave the election and the presidency to Hayes.

— In 1885, two members of Florida's House of Representatives waged a friendly but close contest for speaker of the House. Robert W. Davis Green Cove Springs defeated Gen. Ernest Yonge of Pensacola by one vote.

— If Presidential hopeful Charles E. Hughes had received one additional vote in each of California's precincts in 1916, he would have defeated President Woodrow Wilson's reelection bid.

— On Nov. 8, 1923, members of a recently-formed revolutionary political party met at a beer hall in Munich to elect a leader. By a majority of one single vote, they chose an ex-soldier named Adolph Hitler, a man whose evil destiny was to set the world on fire.

The importance of every vote is seen often in city elections in Seminole County.

Nearly a year ago, Ray Ambrose won the mayor's office in Altamonte Springs over the incumbent by three votes.

— Harry Terry on re-election to the city council in Lake Mary by one vote.

— Several years ago, a ballot question concerning whether the city should have a full time mayor failed by one vote. A city official and his wife, both supporters of the issue, were out of town that day and didn't vote.

— A city councilman some years ago in Longwood lost his re-election campaign by one vote. His wife and nephew failed to vote.

Condo Evacuated

FORT LAUDERDALE (UPI)—Firefighters Tuesday evacuated hundreds of residents from a 29-story condominium on the city's luxurious Galt Ocean Mile after an electrical fire extensively damaged the basement of the building.

No one living in the 360 units at Plaza, Del Mar condo was injured seriously enough to be hospitalized, but several elderly people with heart conditions had to be handled with "kid gloves," Fort Lauderdale Fire Commander Robert Root said.

He said several firefighters were treated at the scene for smoke inhalation.

Root said it took up to 115 firefighters more than two hours to locate the origin of the fire and control it. The fire was reported at 6:15 a.m. and was under control by 8:30 a.m.

No damage estimate was available, Root said, and the exact number of residents evacuated was not known. But he said the building was filled with people in the early morning hours. It was completely evacuated by 9:30 a.m.

Root called damage to the basement electrical room, the size of a three-car garage, "extensive." But little damage occurred elsewhere, he said.

"We don't know exactly how it got started, but when it did it got the whole (electrical) room going."

Replacing an inefficient air conditioner is no longer a wrenching experience.

We'll help you pay for it.

Our Watt-Wise™ financial incentive could pay you several hundred dollars towards replacing a money-wasting air-conditioning system. Save through lower operating costs and FPL's financial incentive program by replacing your old inefficient air-conditioning system with a new energy-efficient central air conditioner or heat pump. The FPL incentive plan applies to qualifying customers whose homes were constructed prior to October 1, 1980.

To be eligible for the incentive, the new installation must have been completed on or after January 18, 1982 by a participating contractor.

Following on-site verification by FPL that the new system meets high-efficiency standards, a Watt-Check™, made payable to you for the amount of your incentive, will be mailed.

Will everyone benefit from Watt-Wise incentives?
Yes.

These incentives are less costly than the oil necessary to generate the electricity wasted by inefficient homes. Every 600 kilowatt-hours of electricity not used is a barrel of oil no one has to pay for. This also helps us postpone the building of expensive power plants. The less oil we use, and the less new building we have to do, the more we can help hold the line of everyone's electric bill.

For more information on how to qualify for the Watt-Wise incentive, send us the coupon or call the Watt-Wise Line at 1-800-432-6563.

The Watt-Wise Products Program. Another way we're working hard at being the kind of power company you want.

I'd like more information on the following Watt-Wise incentives:

WORLD IN BRIEF

Polish Authorities Claim Victory Over Solidarity

WARSAW, Poland (UPI) — Hundreds of people were arrested in clashes with riot police in nine Polish cities and martial-law authorities claimed victory over Solidarity, saying the outlawed union failed to bring workers into the streets en masse.

The official news agency PAP reported hundreds were arrested, including Zbigniew Romaszewski, director of the clandestine Solidarity Radio who had been in hiding since martial law was imposed last Dec. 13. Officials said injuries had been reported but gave no details.

The violence in Warsaw and at least eight other cities marked the second anniversary of the birth of Solidarity — the Eastern Bloc's first legalized free trade union which is now suspended under martial law.

U.S. Aid For Lebanon?

United Press International

The last Palestinian guerrillas in Beirut made their farewells today and Lebanese leaders prepared to discuss their war-torn country's future with U.S. Defense Secretary Caspar Weinberger.

Israeli television, quoting a spokesman for the U.S. Marines in Beirut said the 800 Marines participating in the tri-national, peace-keeping force in the capital will leave next week. It said the United States was satisfied the political and military situation in Lebanon had stabilized.

Weinberger was due to arrive in Lebanon on a fact-finding visit in which he expects to discuss military and economic aid for the battered nation. He then will visit Israel and Egypt.

Midway Woman On Trial For Murdering Husband

By TENYARBOROUGH Herald Staff Writer

The murder trial of a Sanford woman accused of killing her estranged husband continued today while the trial of a Casselberry man charged with carrying a concealed weapon ended before it began because of a courthouse fire drill.

Gloria Jean Neal Harrison, 2901 Dollar Way in the Midway section west of Sanford, is on trial for the shooting death of Ronald "Doc" Neal, 34, formerly of State Road 46, Midway, on Dec. 26, 1981 at the Club Two Spot bar, Bernice Golden, 46, of Broad Way, Midway, who was a patron in the bar on the night of the shooting, was also injured during the incident.

Prosecutors contend that Mrs. Harrison entered the bar that night with a friend and argued with Neal. Neal punched Harrison's male friend when he intervened in the argument which Assistant State Attorney Steve Plotnick said involved Christmas presents for the couple's children. Neal then hit Mrs. Harrison, knocking her to the floor on top of the other man, Plotnick said.

After helping her friend out of the bar, Mrs. Harrison threatened to kill Neal and returned to the bar about "20 or 30 minutes later with a gun," Plotnick said.

Plotnick said Mrs. Harrison pointed the gun at Neal and shot at him. Neal grabbed Mrs.

Golden and pulled her in front of him as a shield resulting in the shooting of Mrs. Golden, he said. Hospital officials said the bullet passed through Mrs. Golden's wrist and lodged in her hip.

Plotnick said Mrs. Harrison chased Neal as he tried to flee, fired her gun twice more and killed him. According to the county medical examiner's report, Neal died after a bullet perforated his lung and liver.

However, Mrs. Harrison's attorney, Assistant Public Defender Marlene Alva, argued that the killing was not premeditated as the prosecution claims and that it was a "crime of passion." She argued that Mrs. Harrison never left the bar property but got the gun from her car and came in waving it wildly without singling out Neal.

Plotnick said he expects the trial will go to the jury Thursday.

Meanwhile, a 28-year-old Casselberry man, accused of carrying a concealed weapon, was granted a mistrial Monday before the jury was ever picked to hear his case.

Circuit Judge Dominick Salfi granted the defense request for a mistrial on the ground that prospective jurors may have been biased toward Robert Rocco Salvatore after they saw him handcuffed outside the courthouse during a fire drill.

Salfi reset the trial for Sept. 27.

Winter Springs Still Needs To Trim Budget

With little public input on Winter Springs' tentative 1982-83 $2.3 million budget, City Manager Richard Rozansky has been left with the task of cutting $81,000 from the record spending plan.

After Tuesday night's public hearing, the City Commission instructed Rozansky to make his recommendations on how to trim the city's largest budget ever at the commission's Sept. 7 workshop.

Rozansky said he would review this year's financial report before making his recommendations, but indicated that some of the money would probably come from capital projects.

Commissioners want the cuts in order to reduce the utility tax from four to two percent. The one-cent increase in the state sales tax will mean a 12 percent decrease in city property tax, Rozansky said.

The property tax rate has tentatively been set for $1.195 per $1,000 assessed property evaluation. The public hearing on the final budget is scheduled for 7:30 p.m. Sept. 14 at City Hall, 400 N. Edgemont Ave.

Fall Buffet

Call A Gathering Of The Clan

Family reunions are back in style...more and more families are getting together to recall their roots, renew family ties and have fun. Here's a great fall activity...time for reminiscing, picture taking and baby watching. Send out your invitations to cousins, grandparents, aunts, uncles, brothers and sisters in plenty of time for the big event. Plan a simple program of games for the children, announcements of marriages, new births and accomplishments. Above all prepare plenty of hearty food.

Take the easy route with off-the-shelf, out-of-the-freezer foods that turn out super looking and tasting with scarcely a turn of the hand. Beef ravioli in a rich tomato sauce from the can and a cheese pizza mix from the package offer the solid starters for this family fun fare. Add a frozen prepared pie, dressed up in its Sunday best along with frozen chicken nugget appetizers. This glorious buffet takes merely minutes.

PANZAROTTI

- 2 tablespoons butter or margarine
- 1 package (15 1/2-oz.) complete cheese pizza mix
- 1 egg (separate, reserve white)
- 1/2 cup hot water

THREE CHEESE FILLING

- 1/4 cup Ricotta cheese
  - 1 egg
  - 2 tablespoons chopped parsley
  - dash ground nutmeg
  - canned grated cheese from pizza mix package
  - 1/4 cup chopped Mozzarella cheese
- Cut butter into pizza flour mix with knife or pastry cutter. Combine egg yolk and hot water. Combine with pizza flour mix. Mix about 25 strokes. Cover and let rise in a warm place for five minutes. Turn dough out on well-floured board. Knead 50 times, until dough is smooth and satiny. Roll out 1/8-inch thick. Use coffee cups as pattern; cut around with sharp knife to make three- or four-inch dough circles. Spread one teaspoon of filling on half of dough. Fold in half. Seal with fork dipped in flour. Fry or bake. Serve with hot pizza sauce, from package. Makes 12 appetizers.

TO FRY: Heat approximately one inch oil or fat (2 to 2 1/2 cups) in a skillet over medium heat. Fry pies until golden brown, turning once. Drain on absorbent paper.

TO BAKE: Arrange on cookie sheet. Brush with reserved egg white. Bake at 425 degrees for ten minutes, or until golden brown.

BACON WRAPPED CHICKEN APPETIZERS

- 1 package (12 oz.) frozen chicken nuggets
  - 20 slices bacon, cut in half
  - stuffed green olives
  - cheese cubes
  - cherry tomatoes
  - green onions, cut in 1-inch pieces
- Wrap each nugget with a piece of bacon, securing with a toothpick. Bake on cookie sheet in 400 degree F oven for 10 minutes. Turn nuggets and bake an additional 5 minutes, or until bacon is crisp. Pierce center of nugget with toothpick. Serve bacon wrapped nuggets with olives, cheese, tomatoes, and onions for "make-your-own" appetizers. Makes about 40 appetizers.

ORIENTAL CHICKEN KABOBS

- 2 green peppers, blanched and cut into 1-inch pieces
  - 1 package (12 oz.) frozen chicken nuggets, thawed 20 minutes
  - 1 can (20 oz.) pineapple chunks, drained
  - 1/4 cup soy sauce
  - 1/4 teaspoon cayenne pepper
- On toothpicks, alternately place green pepper pieces, nuggets, and pineapple chunks, using one of each on each toothpick. Combine soy sauce and cayenne pepper and brush on kabobs. Bake on cookie sheet in 400 degree F oven for 5 minutes. Turn kabobs and bake an additional 5 minutes, or until heated through. Makes about 40 appetizers.

GARDEN RAVIOLI

- two-thirds cup chopped onions
- two-thirds cup chopped celery
- 3 tablespoons butter or margarine
- 1 package (10 oz.) frozen broccoli spears, cooked and drained
- 1 can (40 oz.) beef ravioli in sauce
- 1/4 teaspoon pepper
- 1/4 teaspoon garlic powder

Healthy Drink For Breakfast

Are there breakfast skippers in your home? Do they give the excuse that they just do not have time?

Then try one or all of the Georgia Egg Commission's ideas for breakfast in 5 minutes or less. Since they are mixed and served in a glass, these recipes are quick and easy. In addition, they are packed with protein.

Try tempting those breakfast skippers tomorrow with a Banana Breakfast Soda, Tropic Nog, or an eye opening Coffee Cackle. Breakfast is the most important meal of the day and should become a habit for young and old alike.

For additional summertime recipes, send a self-addressed, stamped envelope to the Georgia Egg Commission, State Farmers' Market, Forest Park, Georgia 30050.

All beverages are at their best when served immediately.

- 1/4 cup grated Parmesan cheese
  - 4 ripe olives, sliced for garnish
- Saute onions and celery in butter; add drained broccoli reserving several florets for garnish. Add remaining ingredients except ripe olives Cover; simmer gently for 10 minutes or until thoroughly heated. Pour into warm serving dish or casserole; garnish with broccoli florets and ripe olives. Makes 6 to 8 servings.

Microwave A Complete Family Meal

No matter what the season, a meal that features tender, moist chicken is sure to be a family-pleaser. And, because it's so easy and quick to fix in a microwave oven, it's sure to be a mom-pleaser, too.

The wide range of microwave oven-safe platters, dinnerware, and glass or glass-ceramic cookware further enhances the convenience of microwave cooking.

Another real convenience is a recipe that uses ingredients that are staples in most kitchens. These delicious recipes do just that, including your favorite breakfast cereals to add interesting texture, flavor and nutrition.

Lemony Drumstick Barbecue, a tangy chicken taste treat, can be accompanied by Stuffed Eggplant Italiano and Wilted Spinach Salad to make a delicious as well as nutritious meal. If desired, the chicken and eggplant recipes can be prepared ahead of time and simply reheated for serving.

The Peanut Butter Clusters or Caramel Crisp Squares make a tempting finale to any microwave meal. Kitchen-tested recipes such as these can become family favorites for any day of the year.

STUFFED EGGPLANT ITALIANO

- 1 medium-size eggplant (about 1 lb.)
  - 1 cup sliced fresh mushrooms
  - 1/2 cup chopped green pepper
  - 1/4 cup chopped onion
  - one-third cup morsels of wheat bran cereal
  - 1/4 cup grated Parmesan cheese
  - 2 tablespoons margarine or butter, melted
  - 1 small clove garlic, finely chopped
  - 1/2 teaspoon basil leaves
  - 1/2 teaspoon salt
  - Dash pepper
  - one-third cup shredded mozzarella cheese
- Cut eggplant in half lengthwise. Place cut side down in 10-inch glass-ceramic cooker with built-in rack. Microwave at High for 4 to 5 minutes or until almost tender. Cool slightly. Scoop out pulp, leaving 3/8-inch shell. Chop pulp coarsely. Combine with mushrooms, green pepper, onion, cereal, Parmesan cheese, margarine, garlic, basil leaves, salt and pepper. Fill eggplant shells. Place in cooker. Cover. Microwave at High for 4 to 5 minutes or until vegetables in filling are tender. Remove cooker 1/2 hour after 2 minutes. Sprinkle with mozzarella cheese. Microwave uncovered at High for 1 minute or until cheese is melted. Cut each half into 2 pieces to serve. Yield: 4 servings.

CARAMEL CRISP SQUARES

- 1 pkg. (14 oz.) caramels
  - 1/4 cup margarine or butter
  - 2 tablespoons water
  - 1/4 cups oven-toasted rice cereal
  - 1 cup dry roasted peanuts
- Unwrap caramels and place in 2 1/2-quart heat-resistant glass bowl. Add margarine and water. Microwave at High for 3 to 4 minutes or until melted and smooth. Stir after each minute. Add cereal and peanuts, stirring until evenly coated. Press evenly into buttered 8-inch square glass cake dish. Let stand until firm. Cut into squares. Yield: 36 squares.

LEMONY DRUMSTICK BARBECUE

- 1 egg, at room temperature
  - 2 tablespoons margarine or butter, melted
  - 1/2 cup cornflake crumbs
  - 2 teaspoons firmly packed brown sugar
  - 1/2 teaspoon powdered mustard
  - 1 teaspoon chili powder
  - 1 teaspoon finely grated lemon peel
  - 8 chicken drumsticks, rinsed and dried (about 1 1/2 lb.)
- In shallow dish, beat egg slightly. Stir in melted margarine. In a second shallow dish, stir together crumbs, brown sugar, mustard, chili powder and lemon peel. Dip drumsticks in egg mixture. Roll in crumbs mixture. Arrange in 10-inch glass-ceramic cooker with built-in rack with thickest parts toward outside of cooker. Sprinkle some of the remaining crumbs mixture over drumsticks. Cover with paper towel.

Microwave at High for 13 to 15 minutes, rotating cooker 1/4 turn after every 4 minutes. Chicken is done when tender and juice runs clear. Yield: 4 servings, 2 drumsticks per serving.

  - 3 tablespoons vinegar
  - 10 oz. fresh spinach, torn into bite-size pieces
- In 10-inch glass-ceramic cooker with built-in rack, microwave bacon, covered with paper towel, at High for 10 to 11 minutes or until crisp. Crumble bacon and set aside. Reserve drippings, adding oil, if necessary, to make 1/4 cup. In 4-quart glass salad bowl, stir together croutons and 2 tablespoons of the drippings. Microwave at High for 1 1/2 minutes or until crisp. Remove croutons and set aside. In salad bowl, stir together remaining 2 tablespoons drippings, sugar, onions, tarragon leaves, pepper and vinegar. Microwave at High for 1 1/2 minutes or until mixture boils. Immediately add spinach and toss. Cover tightly with plastic wrap and let stand 5 minutes. Sprinkle with bacon and croutons. Serve immediately. Yield: 4 to 6 servings.

Pancakes From Instant Potatoes

Dehydrated instant potato flakes and onion soup mix are the basis for a campfire potato pancake feast. Make these for breakfast to go with the freshly caught fish — or skillet bacon if the critters are not biting.

CAMPFIRE POTATO PANCAKES

- 3/4 cup Idaho dehydrated instant potato flakes
  - 1 egg, lightly beaten
  - 1/2 cup flour
  - 1 teaspoon baking powder
  - 1 package (1/4 ounce) dehydrated onion soup mix
  - 3 tablespoons butter or margarine.
- Prepare potato flakes according to package directions; beat in 1 egg. In small bowl, combine flour, baking powder and onion soup mix. Stir into potato mixture. Melt butter in large skillet. Drop potato mixture by scant 1/4 cupfuls into skillet; press lightly with spatula to flatten. Brown on both sides. This kitchen-tested recipe makes about 8 pancakes.
