

HOOVER VIEWS U. S. BUSINESS AS SATISFYING

Fine Array Of Favorable Factors Are Disclosed During Conference Of Tycoons

By George R. Holmes
International News Service
Bluff Correspondent
WASHINGTON, Nov. 22.—President Hoover and those who have been aiding him in the job of rebuilding national confidence in the immediate business future—a confidence severely shaken by stock exchange gymnastics—viewed the situation with considerable satisfaction today.

The series of business clinics which Mr. Hoover has been conducting with railroad heads, manufacturers, industrialists, merchants, bankers and men of large affairs generally, has resulted in bringing forcibly to public attention an imposing array of favorable factors which support the view that business conditions are basically sound, and that prosperity is still a part of the national picture.

Briefly summarized, these factors, as developed by the White House conferences, are:
1. The great railroad systems of the country are planning to spend $1,000,000,000 during the next year for equipment and in expansion activities.
2. The utilities interests are warring for an expansion program for next year greater than they carried through this year. An indication of what this means may be gleaned from the fact that the American Telephone and Telegraph Company alone spent some $600,000,000 this year.
3. Henry Ford is going to raise wages in his plants. His experts are now working out the plan for percentage increases in all lines of employment, and the history of such increases has been that industry generally follows an example to higher levels.
4. Steel manufacturers have assured the President their prospects are good for the next year, and that instead of retrenching they are going ahead with plant extensions and replacements.
5. Automobile manufacturers informed Mr. Hoover that while production this year may drop off somewhat from last year's abnormally high figures, they are counting on normal production and normal expansions.
6. The outlook is for easier money conditions, as reflected in lower discount rates, and the diversion of an enormous amount of cash heretofore going into stock speculation in the channels of productive business, large construction.

The President considers this latter factor a most important one. It was emphasized in the statement to which the President and his score of "big business" callers subscribed at the conclusion of their conference.
"It was considered," said the statement, "that the absorption of capital in loans on the stock market had postponed much construction and that the flow of this capital back to industry and commerce would now assist the new construction."
One of Mr. Hoover's pet theories is that when any country is building houses and factories that country is a prosperous country; for the ramifications of the construction industry extended onto every line of business. Hence his particular interest in encouraging construction activity at this time.
The government itself, at his direction, has enormously expanded its own building plans for the next year.
Out of the conferences which the President has held this week and which he will continue next week, has developed, also, a definite policy of close co-operation between ordinary business and commercial agencies and those the government maintains.

NOTION OVERRULED
COLUMBUS, Nov. 22.—(INS)—A motion for a new trial for Dr. James Howard Bannock, confessed slayer of Miss Theresa Hill, his 23-year-old co-ed sweetheart, was overruled today by the county appellate court. Attorneys for the former Ohio State University professor, announced they would appeal to the state supreme court.

LOCAL MARKETS RECEIVE STOCKS FOR TURKEY DAY

Prices For Necessary Dinner Ingredients Are Reported Lower

While Thanksgiving Day is still six days away, local grocery stores and meat markets have already begun to receive shipments of turkey, chicken and duck. It was learned this morning after a checkup of the various stores in the business section. In most instances the heavy buying for the "turkey day" dinner has not begun, but some of the grocers to just that order are coming in for food-stuffs, to be delivered next week.

The prices of the various articles needed for next Thursday's tempting meal were found to be slightly less than last year. A local representative after investigating the prices found that the approximate cost of a dinner party around a six pound turkey would cost about $6.

Turkey, which is generally considered the most important part of the meal, costs from 45 to 55 cents per pound, while chicken can be bought for 40 or 45 cents per pound. Very few orders have been placed for duck, and none have been known so far, for geese.

Cranberries, the essential of making that delicious sauce appearing on practically every Thanksgiving table can be purchased for as low as 25 cents per pound. Fresh tomatoes sell for 15 cents a pound, and a head of lettuce, according to the size and quality, will be delivered for 10 or 15 cents a head.

BANK OFFICIAL IS GRILLED BY LOBBY GROUP

Fred Kent Reiterates Statement That Senate Tariff Attitude Caused Stock Break

WASHINGTON, Nov. 22.—(INS)—Fred I. Kent, director of the New York Bankers' Trust Co., today reiterated his statement before the Senate lobby investigating committee that the Senate's attitude on the pending tariff bill was partly responsible for the recent crash in stock prices.

He asserted the failure of the Senate to make progress on the bill because of the opposition of the insurgent Republican Democratic coalition, "had had a psychological effect on business generally."

"Are you accurately quoted as attributing the crash to the Senate debate?" Senator Walsh (D) of Montana, asked.

"I didn't attribute it wholly to that."
"However, you gave it as a reason?"
"Partly."
"What other reasons did you give?"
"That the capital gain tax had increased the value of securities. The increase in the issuance of new securities in 1929 was another reason."
"Securities that have any real substance back of them?"
"I didn't say that."
Kent began here to explain his reasons but was interrupted by Walsh.

"I don't want you to attempt to justify your reasons," Walsh said. "We want to hear your reasons."
At this point Senator Glass (D) of Virginia, formerly secretary of the treasury, entered the debate. He said he came in to uphold the integrity of the federal reserve system.

"Did you omit from your reasons the statement that 70 per cent of the speculators were as much gambling as if they were betting on the turn of a wheel?" Glass asked.

"That was a matter of universal conviction wasn't it? Do you think a title of the people who speculated in or have the remotest idea of their earnings?"
"A tremendous number do. But the balance were influenced by the psychology of the others."
"Any other reasons?" Walsh queried.

HELP IS RUSHED TO AREAS HIT BY BIG TIDAL WAVE

Food, Supplies Being Hurried As Thousands Are Helpless

ST. JOHN'S N. F., Nov. 22.—(INS)—A fleet of relief and medical supplies, government vessels were steaming at full speed for the south coast of Newfoundland today to bring aid to thousands of helpless by a gigantic tidal wave which killed 26 persons and destroyed miles of waterfront property.

"Tribbled communities today still prevented a complete check-up of the damage wrought when the huge wall of water rose up from the sea after a violent earthquake shock on Monday, inundating towns and hamlets on the coast and obliterating valuable fishing property."

As a word was received of the disaster the government steamer Meigs was dispatched to the full brunt of the tidal wave. Other steamers in the vicinity are rushing to the scene.

Wireless communication with Burn was re-established today for the first time since the earthquake shock and the subsequent tidal wave. Operator at the Burn station sent a graphic account of the tidal wave to International News Service here.

ENTZMINGER IS NAMED TO FILL EVANS' PLACE

New Commissioner Of County Believes In Having Chamber Of Commerce In County

"I am in favor of the creation of a chamber of commerce for the county," said W. S. Entzinger, in speaking of his recent appointment as a County Commissioner. "and I believe that the county should lend its support to a county chamber of commerce. The interests of Sanford and Seminole County are sufficiently aligned so that two separate bodies, would result in an overlapping of effort, but one such organization, working for the combined good of both Sanford and the county towns, would be of inestimable benefit."

"It has been my impression that the County Commissioners have entirely done away with the old vesting fund out of which appropriations for the roads, bridges, have previously come. It is my opinion that if this policy is continued, and if publicity is given to the outside world of the wonderful wealth and climate of our county, and an organization is formed to work for the upbuilding of our various communities, the county will soon drop out of sight and will become unknown in the outside world."

Mr. Entzinger also spoke of the work of the plant board for which he has for the past two months been an inspector. "I am fully satisfied that there has been no graft in connection with any of the operations of the plant board, and believe that they have done a near to getting a dollar's worth for every dollar spent as a reasonably possible. They are thinking the process, and the day the last installation will be found a satisfactory one."

Mr. Entzinger was appointed by Gov. Carlton to take the place of Frank Evans, who resigned recently, and found most with the popular approval of football fans who like the "football" atmosphere in which he has been working. Mr. Entzinger said he was not sure whether Mr. Evans would return to Lake Mary this year or not, but did not expect him before the first of the year.

Born in Edgefield, S. C., Mr. Entzinger was educated in the South Carolina Educational Institute, located at Edgefield, and the South Carolina College at Columbia. He came to Florida in 1902 and has resided at Longwood continuously since 1922. He is chairman of the school board of Longwood, and has been engaged in farming and the turpentine business practically all his life.

Mr. Entzinger is a brother of Charles Entzinger, who represented this county in the legislature during its last session. Mr. Entzinger, the evangelist, is another brother. The Entzingers have long been prominently identified with the growth and development of Longwood and other parts of the county. W. S. Entzinger received his appointment as County Commissioner on Nov. 20 and was notified of the fact in the following letter from Gov. Carlton:

November 20, 1929
Mr. W. S. Entzinger,
Longwood,
Florida.
Dear Mr. Entzinger:
I am glad to advise you that you have been appointed Member of the Board of County Commissioners in and for Seminole County, in recognition of Mr. Frank Evans.

Famed Stetson Band Will Play Tonight Before And During Football Contest

The famous Stetson University band of 45 pieces, happily attended in spirit and span new uniforms, left off by the traditional "Stetson" Varsity from which the University boys take their name, "Hunters," and led by a juggling, flutist, music-making drum major will take Sanford by storm tonight about 7:30 o'clock. The band plans to give a concert and parade on First Street at Magnolia Avenue before proceeding to the field where their music will be used as an incentive to "Hunt" Stetson's grid warriors in their clash with the Southern College, Belg. Missions. Before the game has been given that the band will not only play during the game, but also will give a concert and play before the game.

Killer In Insurance Plot To Spend Rest Of Days In Prison

O'CONNOR, Nov. 22.—(INS)—Convicted of the "insurance plot" murder of Harry Loving, Huntington, W. Va. ditch-baker, Harry K. Blythe, 36, of an old South Florida family, today was sentenced to serve the remainder of his 12-month prison term.

Notwithstanding an appeal for a new trial was given by Blythe's counsel after the jury, which had deliberated for 29 hours, brought in a verdict of guilty with recommendation of mercy. Judge R. E. Eberth supported a life sentence.

Blythe and James Hoover, football and basketball player, were indicted along with Blythe, were released from their prison confinement with the understanding that they would return here to testify in court. A new trial is granted the defendant.

It was understood that the release of the Hoovers meant the dropping of the charges against them on the testimony of Blythe, but did not mean that they were being released. The state contending that Blythe murdered Loving and then "sniped" a first cousin insurance on his own life.

'TIGER' IS NEAR DEATH AS HOPE IS ABANDONED

Clemenceau Whispers To Friend He Abhors National Funerals; Demands Simplicity

PARIS, Nov. 22.—(INS)—Former Premier Clemenceau's condition apparently took a further turn for the worse this afternoon when his son, Michel, rushed from the Clemenceau home and ordered his chauffeur to obtain electrical ozone machine with all possible speed.

Scores of journalists surrounded the "Tiger's" son for a statement but the latter said only that his father's condition was "unchanged." Nevertheless, the hurried call for a machine to administer oxygen was taken as a bad sign. Oxygen is usually administered only as a last resort.

Belief that Clemenceau is slowly sinking was expressed by Emile Pons, playwright, and composer, upon leaving the Clemenceau home.

"It is certain he can't last long," Pons said. "M. Clemenceau is even now discussing his own funeral arrangements. While I was in there he drew my head down close to him and whispered to me: 'I don't want a national funeral. I won't have it. I depend upon you to arrange for the immediate transportation of my body on the first train to St. Vincent, where I am to be buried with the utmost simplicity.'"

Three doctors assembled at the 88 year old Tiger's home this morning after Clemenceau had spent the night in sleep induced by injections of morphine. He had suffered agonies of pain throughout the night, and the injections were given him to allow him the peace of sleep.

The physicians were frank in declaring that his hope was held out for his recovery, although he was fighting a valiant battle against death. Scores of reporters gathered outside the house were greeted with the following bulletin at 8:30 A. M., signed by Professor Landry, and Drs. Degeannes and Gissel:

The conditions of M. Clemenceau is serious on account of the advanced age of the patient. We are holding another consultation later in the day.
The grave demeanor of the physicians told the story more eloquently than words. It seemed impossible that the aged statesman, who often lived beyond the end of the year, could hold out much longer against the "ravages" of pain and illness.
His entire family, assembled at his bedside this morning, there were his two daughters, his son, Michel and his grandson, Georges. They took over the vigil kept all through the night by Clemenceau's faithful valet Albert.

Dorr And Mrs. O'Brien Face Murder Charges With Death of Mr. O'Brien

CHICAGO, Nov. 22.—(INS)—Samuel Howard Dorr, "perfect" husband, and Mrs. Genevieve O'Brien, abused wife, faced almost certain charges of murder today for the death of Genevieve's husband, William J. O'Brien, who was shot and fatally wounded in the duplex Dorr-O'Brien home Wednesday morning.

Dr. Herman N. Bundesen, coroner, summoned a jury to meet today, to hear the strange story of the murder which evolved from a love tangle rivaling the notorious Rath Snyder case of a few months ago.
O'Brien, a hard working street car conductor and insurer's clerk, fought a losing battle with death since he was killed by a volley of revolver shots in his own apartment.
He died last night shortly after police had obtained confessions both from Mrs. O'Brien and Dorr. They told of an illicit love affair which finally broke into flame in the form of a plot to murder the woman's husband, reflect on an insurance policy which Dorr himself had sold the victim and run off together.

Amelia Earhart Sets New Airplane Record

METROPOLITAN AIRPORT,
LOS ANGELES, Cal., Nov. 22.—(INS)—Amelia Earhart today set a new speed record for women pilots when she flew a special monoplane at 184.17 miles an hour over a measured course. Joe Nikrent, timer for the National Aeronautical Association supervised the timing.
Miss Earhart's top speed was 197.8. She flew in a stiff cross wind. Tests of yesterday were repeated because one of the stop watches failed to function. The clocks will be tested before the record is allowed.

Five Persons Die And 50 Are Injured In Disastrous Washington Explosion

WASHINGTON, Nov. 22.—(INS)—Five persons are dead and 50 others are suffering injuries today following the disastrous explosion on downtown Seventh Street yesterday. Three of the injured are expected to die.

At the peak of the moon luncheon and shopping period, when the streets in the vicinity were thronged with shoppers and office workers, a boiler in the basement of a store let go, hurling a section of the sidewalk and its human burden far into the street.
Investigators today attributed the cause to a faulty safety valve on the boiler. It failed to release the surplus steam causing the turbine boiler to explode.
The bodies of the men, women and children were strewn in Seventh Street for a half block or so. The dead: Mrs. Annie Cockrell, 41; Mary Ann Cockrell, two, 16, daughter; Mrs. Killy Cullinan, 15; Mrs. Cockrell's aunt; Mrs. Elizabeth Dawson, 38; Charles Jacobson, 60.

But After Taking Theodor's Black-Draught, Ledy Says She Feels Fine.

Wofford, Ky.—Mrs. Orpha M. of this place, says: "I think Theodor's Black-Draught is the very first medicine I ever knew anything about. When I was a child, if I did not feel well, or if I had a cold, my mother gave me Black-Draught."

"When I was married, it became a family medicine in my own home, as it was in my mother's. I take it for headache, and especially for constipation."

"When I get bilious, my skin gets yellow and I have a very bad taste in my mouth, and a drowsy feeling all during the day. My eyes burn and I get dizzy, or my head is swimming."

"When I take Black-Draught, it seems to drive the impurities out of my system, and I feel fine."

"My children are grown now, and Black-Draught still has its place on my medicine shelf. I am seldom without this old, reliable remedy. I certainly recommend it."

Market Put Under Selling Pressure In Today's Trading

NEW YORK, Nov. 22 (INS)—The market today was under selling pressure at the week end, locking the market to higher price levels by means of the speculative favorites. A drop in call money rates to 3 1/2 per cent in the outside market, competing with the 1 1/2 per cent rate quoted on the floor of the stock exchange, reflected the $3,000,000,000 advance in brokers' loans which has been effected in the last six weeks.

Considering the distance covered by a store or more of the favorites this week, stock thrown on the market today were well absorbed and in many cases sharp rebounds from the low prices of the day were recorded in the final period. United States Steel dropped off 3 points to 196 3/4 and Anaconda Copper, on rumors of a cut in the red metal to 17 cents a pound, reacted about 5 points to 80 1/4.

Industrial alcohol held the spotlight for the high-priced specialties, jumping 10 points to 144 1/2 in the late trading. American and Foreign Power was a favorite around 78 and American Water works at 85, up 4 1/4. Columbia Gas Consolidated, Standard Gas and other popular utility stocks held their interest to the close of the market. Motor stocks were reactionary, with General Motors down 2 1/2 points to 60 1/4.

Jack Craft Murder Mystery To Stand As Unsolved Case

NEW ORLEANS, La., Nov. 22 (INS)—The word "unsolved" today was scrolled into the court records beside the entry of the Jack Craft murder mystery, and a romance between two of the chief figures in the case seemed blasted once and for all. John McGouldrick, against whom a charge of murdering the New York pressman and adventurer was dropped yesterday, planned to leave immediately for New York where he will spend Thanksgiving with his family. The freed prisoner plans to return to his post as second efficient in the coast watch at New Orleans. His body was hurried into the Mississippi after he had been murdered.

Meantime, Gloria Rouzer, traveling companion of Kraft who said she was engaged to marry McGouldrick, prepared to accompany her mother on a trip to San Francisco to visit a brother.

Miss Rouzer, who for weeks after her arrest concealed her identity under the name pseudonym "Gloria," was released from the Point-A-La-Hache jail a few days ago. She had been held as a material witness.

Lawful 'Unenforcement' Of The Law.

In a recent issue of the Florida Times-Union is published an ably written editorial under the caption, "Unlawful 'Unenforcement' of the Law", by which is meant unlawful methods in apprehending and punishing offenders of the peace. Our editorial we have chosen to call, "Lawful 'Unenforcement' of the Law", for it seems to us there is as much of one as the other, both extremely detrimental to the public's interests and unbecoming testimonials against law enforcement officers and the courts.

There can be little doubt, as the Times-Union says, that occasionally an officer, overzealously trying to enforce the letter of the law in an effort to gain the applause of the community, oversteps his rights as a peace officer and commits as serious an offense against the laws of the land as has the man whom he would arrest. As the Times-Union quoted from the Nashville Tennessean, "There have been entirely too many men killed in this country by officers of the law. This not only involves a great threat to our institutions, but it will surely provoke a demand for the repeal of the most salutary legislation."

It has seemed to us, however, observing casually without statistics to prove what we say, that usually when the law is enforced with overzealousness, that is, when a man is killed in an attempt to arrest him for a minor offense, some insignificant person, a negro or a white nonentity is involved. A black boy is seen shooting craps and during the effort to arrest him, he draws a knife on the officer who always shoots in self-defense. Or if it is in the courts, a nineteen year old clerk who has embezzled five hundred dollars to take care of his losses at poker, is sent up for fifteen years.

We have never read that the law is enforced with overzealousness against millionaires, or that undue roughness is resorted to in making arrests where prominent citizens are concerned. We did not read that the official who arrested Congressman Michaelson used his black jack on him, nor would Harry Sinclair have been shot to death if he had drawn a knife on his arresting officer. Nor was he sentenced to a long prison term for his part in the attempt to defraud the government out of many millions of dollars worth of oil leases, but rather for contempt of the Senate.

It seems to us that it is as highly important to get away from the "Lawful 'Unenforcement' of the Law" as to prevent "Unlawful 'Unenforcement' of the Law". We cannot see where there will ever be any respect for the law as long as a million technicalities can always be found by shrewd lawyers to protect their wealthy clients, while the poor dog in the streets who steals a banana and can't afford to hire a skilled attorney must serve his time.

When racetracks open in Florida this winter and officers of the law announce that they cannot make arrests because the laws are against gambling, and that buying in picture of a horse for two dollars and then participating in the profits in case that horse wins, is not gambling, we will have another illustration of the "Lawful 'Unenforcement' of Laws" in Florida. When banks are robbed, or bombed, and the funds in government treasuries dissipated, and officials say nothing can be done about it, and the courts apparently back them up, we have another illustration.

We too believe that a policeman errs in shooting at a motorist who fails to stop at a red light, or that a deputy sheriff is taking drastic action when he kills a bootlegger over a pint of corn, but it strikes us that if they would turn their guns on some of the big crooks, the boys who get away with the millions, and not leave it up to the courts, the purposes of the laws would be as well served as at present.

What this country really needs is "Lawful Enforcement of the Laws".

THE TAX CUT

NEW YORK WORLD
The difference between $10.27 and $5.62, a saving of $4.65, or 56 2-3 per cent, is what the proposed cut in Federal income tax rates means to a taxpayer whose net income is $5,000 and who, as a married man or head of a family, is entitled to a personal exemption of $3,500.

The difference between $101.25 and $52.50, a saving of $48.75, or more than 48 per cent, is what the proposed cut in Federal income tax rates means to a taxpayer whose net income is $10,000 and who, as a married man or head of a family, is similarly entitled to the regular $3,500 exemption.

Here is something the individual taxpayer can grasp in a jiffy. And directly he grasps it he sees that Secretary Mellon's recommendation to Congress carries a lot more than merely comfort for corporations. The latter will be happy enough in the prospect of having their tax rates reduced from 12 per cent to 11 per cent. This concrete proof and measure of the Government's confidence in the sound progress and expansion of business and industry ought to put to flight a thousand chimeras of a disordered stock market. But even better is the Government's confidence that it can afford further to ease the burden of the Federal income tax for each and every individual taxpayer—and to make the relief substantial. That should hearten the whole country at a moment when it needs heartening.

Take a look at what the proposed reductions will do for taxes on net incomes ranging from $5,000 to $10,000. First, where the personal exemption is $3,500:

Table with columns: Income, Tax, Pres. Prop., Tax, Saving. Rows for $5,000, $6,000, $7,000, $8,000, $9,000, $10,000.

Second, where the personal exemption and exemption for two dependents make a total of $4,200:

Table with columns: Income, Tax, Pres. Prop., Tax, Saving. Rows for $5,000, $6,000, $7,000, $8,000, $9,000, $10,000.

These are no piecemeal cuts. On the other hand, remember the United States Treasury is no rabid optimist. It does not put on rose-colored spectacles when it figures. It does not propose tax reductions on the bare chance that its income may, after all, prove adequate. It sticks grimly to facts.

What overwhelming testimony, therefore, to the underlying soundness of American business, present and prospective, is this carefully considered recommendation to Congress! What welcome and reliable good news it carries to the individual taxpayer! That Congress will make the cut is certain. That the country will be encouraged by the confidence of its own Government to shake off its fears, ought to be equally certain. It's about time to discount the stock market and its tantrums. Take a good look at realities—including a refreshingly real tax cut.

It's as big as the heart of the West. Famous as one of the greatest of American stage dramas. Now Vitaphone brings it to you with colorful scenes, beautiful natural settings, a chorus of one hundred trained voices, gigantic dance ensembles. A love story as enchanting as a Western sunset.

ToNight MILANE

See and clear the gorgeous dancing and singing spectacles at a Mexican fiesta. "Si, Si, Senor" and "The End of the Lonesome Trail," the beautiful theme songs sung and played throughout the picture.

GUM-DIPPED

MAXIMUM MILEAGE

GUM-DIPPING saturates every fiber and strand of every cord with pure rubber, serving the same purpose as that of a rubber wadding his throat... prevents friction—and multiplies strength. This extra strength multiplies mileage. Firestone Tires are known everywhere as the tire that gives Most Miles per Dollar.

for the PRICE of a

SLICE of BREAD!

Do you know that for the price of a single slice of bread, you can toast twelve slices or a whole loaf of bread? Each slice a delicious, crisp, golden brown that is appetizing. You never lose a slice of bread when using an Automatic Electric Toaster and it toasts perfectly.

Again... think of the cost per slice, just one-twelfth of the cost of a loaf of bread. It will always pay to toast the electrical way!
