

MIAMI BANDITS ROB GUESTS AT GAMING HOUSE

Holdup Occurs While Police Are Raiding Exclusive Club On Island Not Far Off

MIAMI, Jan. 26 (AP)—Two unidentified bandits, carrying sawed-off shotguns, held up 75 guests at a gambling house in a residential section here early yesterday morning and escaped with $9000 they scooped up from the wheels and gaming tables.

About the same time Miami Beach police were raiding the gambling games of the exclusive Palm Island club across Biscayne Bay. They carried warrants charging gambling and hauled off all the paraphernalia as an indication that the lid was to be clamped down at the island resort.

Both the bandit and police raids were made about 3 o'clock when both places were enjoying a large patronage.

The holdup was not reported until several hours later and then by a newsboy who was in the place selling Sunday morning papers. Police visited the place immediately, but said they found no information that might lead to the arrest of the bandits.

The two gunmen entered the place when play was highest at all the games, and lined the players and attendants against a wall. Working calmly, they cautioned everybody not to spread the alarm, and methodically scooped up the money on the tables. Police reports indicated that none of the guests was molested.

Refusal Of Man To Give Money Results In Murder Of Wife

NEW YORK, Jan. 26 (AP)—A patrol from its cage in the bedroom window squeaked its monotonous, "Hallo, Polli, hello, Polli."

Nearly, in a bed, her arms rigid above her head as though to resist a blow, lay the body of Mrs. Frank Vitkos, 46 years old.

Beside the bedside lay an ax. There was blood on it.

It was Sunday morning in the Vitkos' two-room apartment in the Cherry Hill section of the lower East Side. Police got the call from the woman's husband, Frank Vitkos, known to them as "a real tough guy" in a part of Manhattan which is "real tough" itself.

"My wife is sick," he telephoned at 8 o'clock yesterday morning.

She was not sick; she was dead. One wrist had been cut, probably by the ax. Loss of blood caused her death.

Vitkos was arrested. His brother Peter, whom he had called before the police, was held as a material witness.

Vitkos said his wife had been killed by "two Italians" when he refused her demands for money. He said he had given them $15 to leave, and that he had then gone to sleep. He awoke to find his wife dead.

Once Distinguished Judge To Begin Term

HUNTSVILLE, Tex., Jan. 26 (AP)—John W. Brady, former distinguished member of the Texas court of appeals, arrived here yesterday to begin a sentence of three years for the slaying of Miss Leola Blumhagen in a drunken frenzy in 1920.

The white-haired former justice came without guard and as a consequence from Dallas had not arrived today at 11 o'clock. He was with him through all the details of his two trials, was with him.

When Brady refused to admit Brady until trial of conviction.

He stayed in a pretty badly furnished room at the Windsor. He was not to show it and he was not to show his friends.

Resolution Seeking Probe Into Dry Law Report Is Put Aside

WASHINGTON, Jan. 26 (AP)—Tyding's resolution proposing a Senate inquiry into the "contradictory recommendations" of the Wickersham commission was laid aside today in the Senate after it encountered outspoken opposition. Tyding questioned why there were last minute changes in the Wickersham recommendations and urged an inquiry into such "gossip." However, Chairman Norris of the judiciary committee opposed the resolution as useless and expounded the view it might be offensive. The resolution was put aside after a brief debate.

REALIGNMENT OF HOUSE WILL NOT EFFECT CHANGES

Assurance Given That Reapportionment Is Not To Be Taken Up

By CECIL B. DICKSON.
WASHINGTON, Jan. 26 (AP)—The reapportionment of House representation as announced by President Hoover in November on the basis of the 1930 census will go into effect Mar. 4 unchanged. Definite assurances were received from congressional leaders yesterday that the house would not be reopened on House or Senate floors. Speaker Longworth said "There will be no reapportionment legislation at this session."

Although efforts are being made by members of states losing representation to have the 7,000,000 voters eliminated from the reapportionment count, they admit their chances are remote. Hearings before the House judiciary committee on the Hoch resolution to eliminate the aliens are to be resumed Wednesday. The proposition is believed to have enough committee votes to have it reported but with the legislative calendar crowded they have little hope for further action.

Prominent Persons Said To Have Been Victims Of Swindle

CHICAGO, Jan. 26 (AP)—Reports that Mrs. Myrtle Tanner Blackledge, former internal revenue collector was one of many recent prominent victims fleeced out of large sums of money by a ring of confidence men, were circulated today.

The Herald and Examiner said that three groups of swindlers had robbed victims of more than $250,000.00 in the last six months. An unnamed United States senator, the paper said, lost $68,000.00 in the racing racket while David Tinkham, Englishman, gave up $33,000.00 in a stock swindle. Another victim, a Chicago business leader whose identity was not revealed, was swindled out of $90,000.00 but regained $82,000.00 in a compromise with the swindlers who invaded him in a faro game racket similar to the one in which Mrs. Blackledge reported she lost $50,000.00 borrowed from Edward Litsinger, prominent Chicagoan.

Julius Frank German lost $50,000.00 and a dozen other prominent men lost sums ranging from $1000.00 to $40,000.00.

British Liquor Boat Seized By Guardsmen

NEW LONDON, Conn., Jan. 26 (AP)—With a full load of liquor, the British motor vessel Transpanda from St. Johns, New Foundland, was captured today near here by a coast guard patrol boat after a one-pound shell tore through the fuel tank aboard the rum vessel and caused the engine room to be flooded with gasoline. The prize which was brought here will be surrendered at New York when investigation is completed.

NOTED HOSTESS DIES

LONDON, Jan. 26 (AP)—Lady St. Heller, one of the most noted hostesses of the late Victorian era and of King Edward's reign, died yesterday at the age of 82. She was famous not only for the brilliance of her entertainments but for indefatigable social work in behalf of the poor.

EXTRA SESSION IS DEPENDING ON TWO ISSUES

Red Cross Relief And Veterans Insurance Loom As Obstacles Which Must Be Met

WASHINGTON, Jan. 26 (AP)—Two issues—Red Cross relief and cash payments on bonus insurance certificates—loom as obstacles to be hurdled by administration leaders before they turn into the home stretch in the race to avoid an extra session.

Although none of the big annual supply bills have become law, congressional circles were optimistic yesterday over their progress last week. Seven had been passed by the House and four by the Senate.

There are 11 to be passed by both branches to avert a special assembly.

Hearings are to open today before the House Appropriations Committee on the Senate's $25,000,000 Red Cross relief fund with Secretary Hyde and other government officials called as witnesses. Red Cross officials are to state their position Tuesday with Colonel Arthur Woods of the Hoover unemployment commission to follow.

While Chairman Smoot of the Senate Finance Committee planned to begin hearings on a proposal to cash veterans certificates as a depression relief measure, Senator Watson of Indiana, Republican floor leader, is inclined to postpone them due to the Utah Senator's illness. Watson believes action must be initiated in the House because the proposals involve revenue raising legislation.

Chairman Hawley of the House Ways and Means Committee is expected to submit the proposition to his group within a few (Continued On Page 4)

Coast Guard Seen As Doing Its Duty In Stopping Rum Boat

WASHINGTON, Jan. 26 (AP)—After a White House conference, Assistant Secretary of the Treasury Lowman issued a statement today saying the coast guard was "performing its statutory duty in the prevention of smuggling" in the capture of the Josephine K. off the New Jersey coast Saturday. The captain of the rum boat was killed.

"It is regrettable the captain lost his life but it simply was an incident in the transaction, I feel sure the coast guard did not fire with intention of taking a life but to prevent the rum runner escaping. Apparently the Canadian rum runner was violating the laws of the United States which are the duty of the coast guard to enforce under mandates from Congress."

Lowman said the coast guard cutter caught the rum runner transferring a cargo of liquor to a scow and motor boat within the 12-mile limit just outside New York harbor. He said the Josephine K. was a notorious rum runner and had been sought for a long time. No request for information has been received from the Canadian government regarding the capture and killing.

Island Disappointed Over Prince's Visit

HAMILTON, Bermuda, Jan. 26 (AP)—Bermuda was disappointed yesterday to learn that the Prince of Wales and Prince George, on the liner Grosvenor bound for South America, will not arrive here until 11 o'clock P. M. Tuesday and will continue toward Havana at 6 A. M. the next day.

This will necessitate a complete change in the plans for their reception. The travelers will be unable to play golf as scheduled and to attend an afternoon reception at the Government House, for which 400 invitations had been issued.

The last was a particular blow to the women who purchased new gowns for the occasion.

GANDHI WILL BE EDUCATORS RAP HANDS RELEASE MODERN WAY OF FROM INDIA JAIL TEACHING PUPILS

Action Is Giving Authorities Worry As To Its Possibilities

POONA, India, Jan. 26 (AP)—Mahatma Gandhi, 61-year-old leader of Indian nationalists, was released from prison today. Officials took him out the back way and secretly loaded him into a closed automobile and drove him to a small railway station near here where he was put on the train for Bombay.

POONA, Ind., Jan. 26 (AP)—Once again India's future destiny appears to rest upon the caprice or determination of the frail and mystical ascetic known as Mahatma Gandhi.

At New Delhi yesterday Vice-Lord Irwin declared the unconditional release from prison of Gandhi and other members of the working committee of the all-India national congress, to take effect probably today.

But the question agitating the officials of Yeroda prison here last night was:

Will Gandhi accept? The respected little leader (Continued on page four)

Dealer Leaves By Air To Get Automobiles

Volie A. Williams, local Buick dealer, and Dwight D. Smith, bookkeeper for the concern, left Sanford this morning in W. A. "Bill" Alexander's cabin plane for Jacksonville where they will secure two new model Buicks and drive them to Sanford this afternoon.

Mr. Alexander was flight commander of Squadron "A" of the 40-plane air circus which visited Sanford Friday, and is well-known locally. His Bellanca cabin plane was seen in the air on passenger carrying flights during the afternoon, and he plans to return to the city within a few days for the purpose of assisting members of the Lions Club in the construction of runways, hangars and other needed equipment at the recently dedicated airport on South Sanford Avenue.

Reed Smoot Added To List Of Flu Victims

WASHINGTON, Jan. 26 (AP)—Senator Reed Smoot of Utah, who was 60 this month, has been added to the congressional list of sufferers from influenza.

The veteran legislator, who became dean of the Senate after Mar. 4 with the retirement of Senator Simmons of North Carolina, was stricken yesterday and today was under strict orders of his physician to remain in bed until cured.

Senator Smoot has been working doggedly this season with other Republican leaders to get the necessary appropriation bills through to avoid an extra session.

HIGH TRIBUNAL MODIFIES WRIT AGAINST CITY

Supreme Court Makes Order Conform To Agreement Reached With Bond Holders

According to press dispatches from Tallahassee yesterday, the sixteenth point in the recent articles of agreement signed by members of the bondholders' Protective Committee and the Sanford City Commissioners, has been carried out by attorneys for the Committee. The Supreme Court on Saturday issued an order modifying a previous peremptory writ of mandamus which ordered the city to levy taxes sufficient to pay the interest on its bonded indebtedness. The order stays for one year the peremptory writ already issued, but orders the Commissioners to do the following:

First, appropriate $163,240 for payment of past due interest on outstanding bonds and certificates of indebtedness, except bonds issued for construction and improvement of municipal waterworks.

Second, appropriate all net earnings of the waterworks, excepting necessary operating expense, for the retirement of past due interest on waterworks bonds.

Third, appropriate 60 percent of all revenues of the city, excepting revenue from current taxes and net earnings of the waterworks, to be applied toward the retirement of bonded debts. To make these terms possible, the Commission was ordered to levy not less than 18 mills on all real and personal property in the city limits, the sum realized to be applied universally for debt payment purposes.

The sum of $163,240 mentioned in the first requirement represents (Continued On Page Four)

Probes To Be Held On Unemployment Insurance Question

ALBANY, N. Y., Jan. 26 (AP)—Governors and representatives of seven Northeast industrial states have decided on a series of meetings to consider the proposal of unemployment insurance.

The conferes, from New York, New Jersey, Pennsylvania, Ohio, Rhode Island, Connecticut and Massachusetts, made it clear, in their present conference here on deciding on the meetings, that unemployment conditions had taken no action either commanding or condemning the proposal.

The first meeting will be held in New York City in the near future. Representatives of the states will be asked to examine the subject of unemployment insurance from the viewpoints of European experience, voluntary unemployment insurance in America and variations adapted to American industry.

An investigation also will be conducted into existing public and private employment agencies, with view to improving the system. In this connection, the states also will conduct a joint study of a plan to establish a central clearing house for labor statistical information, to be utilized in unemployment problems.

Metropolitan Club In Capital Is Robbed

WASHINGTON, Jan. 26 (AP)—The exclusive Metropolitan Club, home of Gen. John J. Pershing, was held up by a lone bandit early yesterday and the cashier robbed of the day's receipts.

Six holdups and elevator men were lined up and forced to hold their hands over their heads while the robber compelled John F. Miller, club cashier, to hand over the money in his possession. D. G. Shanks, club manager, later said the loss was between $600 and $700.

The club is located at Seventeenth and H Streets Northwest, two blocks from the White House. President Hoover, most of the cabinet members and many other notable are members.

CHAUNCEY DEWEY DIES

Former New Jersey Governor Is Suicide

JERSEY CITY, Jan. 26 (AP)—Edward L. Edwards, former governor of New Jersey and former United States senator, committed suicide. Edward's son said his father had been ill for some time and despondent. The former governor was alone in a room at home here when he shot himself last night, dying today. Until a few years ago Edwards was a power in politics and finance in New Jersey. In 1924 he was defeated at the anti-prohibition drive for the Democratic presidential nomination. He was defeated for reelection in 1928 to the Senate.

RAIL OFFICIALS SURVEY WRECK IN QUEST OF CAUSE

5 Killed And Scores Are Hurt As Southern Hurdles Tracks

CHATTANOOGA, Tenn., Jan. 26 (AP)—Railroad officials and engineers yesterday surveyed the wreckage strewn roared of the Southern railway near Helenwood, Tenn., in an effort to determine the cause of the derailment Saturday of the Florida-bound Swanee Special, which resulted in the death of five persons and injury to more than a score.

The wreck occurred shortly after noon on a curve in a mountain pass. Passengers said they believed the engineer was trying to make the time, but Southern officials declined to comment on the cause of the accident, or to estimate at what speed the train was traveling when it left the rails.

The line, a single track at the point of the wreck, was partially cleared soon after midnight to permit passage of trains, some of which had been delayed nearly 12 hours. Wrecking crews were still at work yesterday removing debris scattered along a quarter of a mile of track which seven of the nine steel coaches (Continued On Page 4)

Yacht Mayflower Is Swept By Blaze At Naval Yard Dock

PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 26 (AP)—The former presidential yacht Mayflower, upon whose deck have walked many world figures of her day, lies fire-ravaged and sunk in more than 20 feet of water at the Philadelphia navy yard.

The once proud ship, whose career includes that of millionaire's pleasure yacht, gunboat, flagship, patrol boat and presidential yacht, was swept by fire Saturday night. Tons of water were poured into the ship until she settled on the river bottom at her dock.

Her stern was submerged, her bow but a few feet above high tide. The presidential suite and officers' quarters, where the flames raged, were ruined, as were other quarters in the stern of the famous old yacht.

Whether it will be worth while to reconstruct her interior for further useful service remains for naval experts to determine.

Ordered decommissioned in 1929 by President Hoover as too expensive to maintain as a presidential pleasure yacht, the Mayflower was last month ordered recommissioned when no satisfactory bid for her sale was received. She was to be conditioned as gunboat and assigned as flagship of the special service squadron in Central American waters.

Senate Votes 8 To 3 On Walsh Resolution

WASHINGTON, Jan. 26 (AP)—The Senate judiciary committee voted eight to three for the Walsh resolution requesting the district attorney here to institute proceedings testing the right of three disputed members of the power commission to retain office. A Senate coalition of Democrats and Republican independents are standing firm on the insistence of the right to reconsider the nominations of the three commissioners despite the refusal of President Hoover to return their names.

SUMMERALL IS GUEST OF CIVIC GROUP TODAY

Retired General Gives 15-Minute Talk At Luncheon Of Chamber Of Commerce

The Sanford Chamber of Commerce was today the host to one of Florida's most distinguished native sons, General Charles P. Summerall, recently retired chief of staff of the United States Army, and for more than half an hour, 55 members and guests listened with interest to an address which drew prolonged applause and complimentary remarks from several local residents who were heard briefly after General Summerall's talk.

Flanked on either side by Sanford's continuation to the military life of the nation, to whom he referred at times, General Summerall delivered an address which centered upon the impressions of his native state of Florida which he had gained since his arrival at Eustis some weeks ago following his retirement from active service after more than 45 years as a military figure. He recommended highly those who assisted in the development of the agricultural background which surrounded Sanford, and asserted his belief that, despite all the hardships and privations which the citizens of Sanford have endured in connection with bonded debts, they would one day be praised by those who follow them, for their vision and courage in building the foundation of a great factor in the development of our state.

General Summerall's address followed closely upon the transaction of several business matters by the trade body. Resolutions and rising votes of thanks were extended to several individuals, firms, and organizations which have recently figured in local matters. The Lions Club was publicly thanked for the successful air meet which it sponsored. The City Commissioners were thanked for their successful handling of the City's present financial difficulty.

Geo. W. McRory, representative from Seminole County, was publicly thanked for his efforts in behalf of States Road Number Three. The Sanford Herald was accorded a rising vote of thanks for the part it played in "Restoring confidence, assisting the public to a realization of the fact that it owed an honest debt, and bringing close harmony between the people and the Commissioners."

Mayor T. I. Dumas introduced General Summerall to the members, after extending him a hearty welcome on behalf of the City. Others who were heard during the luncheon were Maj. J. C. Hutchison, Capt. W. H. Williams, Lieut. George DeCottas, Capt. A. W. Knox, and Geo. G. Herring.

General Summerall's address is as follows:

"Your very gracious introduction merely enhances the sense of 'belonging' that has been with me since I entered the city but a short while ago. It is quite true that there is an inseparable bond of friendship between you and all my associations.

"In one sense, my return to Sanford today recalls to me very forcibly the story of Rip Van Winkle. I feel, myself, as he must have upon his return to his former home. If I remember correctly, it was in 1879 that I first came up the broad St. Johns River when it was traversed by a beautiful fleet of boats, the like of which I do not think has ever been equaled anywhere in the world. Sanford was then the terminus of the route, and its name was on every tongue. I remember distinctly that one of the trimmest boats of the fleet was the "City of Sanford," which I was aboard that day.

"This community began with its discovery as a haven for health of those persons in other parts of our great nation who were afflicted with ailments which failed to respond to the rigorous climates of the northern and eastern sections. Pioneers had gone down into the heart of our forests and woods in search of curative properties, but no successful medicinal herbs had been found for many of the scourges which were prevalent in the early days of our country.

"If ever there was a more powerful cure by nature for a healthful mind, this part of our land answered the (Continued On Page Four)

RUTH, JACK
MURPHY SWAP
PLACES OF SPORT

Masters Of Maul
Converse Together
In Hospital Clinic

By ALAN GOULD
Associated Press Sports Editor
NEW YORK, Jan. 24—(AP)—
"Hello, Babe, how's the old man?"
The two masters of maul, Jack Murphy and Babe Ruth, surveyed each other in a room on the tenth floor of the polyclinic hospital—one a temporary patient, the other a well-wisher and associate of the great business of furnishing sport personality to the American public.

For inspection, Dempsey's inflamed and badly swollen left hand was produced from its encased bandage. They compared notes on operations, the Babe exhibiting the star left from the accident that damaged his left hand and sent him out of action last season.
They kidded each other about getting old.

"You're younger than I am, why don't you get a sock or two like some of these birds they call weights nowadays?" asked Dempsey.

"With that left?" retorted Dempsey. "But say, you are getting pretty old. Why don't you go into the wrestling racket?
I'd be a great stuff for you after you're through with baseball."

"Can't lose, partner. Bill you as I can lose Ruth, the terrible Babe. Be a riot. You got the best kid, but you look to be in good luck."

A nurse—Miss Dempsey—took the ex-champion's blood count. The doctor, boasting of a "miraculous" victory over Dempsey with a stethoscope, examined the swollen hand while telling Ruth about his boy striking out 11 kids in a ball game. Dempsey turned to a secretary, lit a cigar, and the two great hitters became amplified. They lifted the cover of the "good old days."

"Trouble with baseball, like baseball, it's got kind of tame," remarked Dempsey.

"Why say," agreed Ruth,
"things are getting so polite out there on the ball field now, I expect we will have to put on stiff collars and ties next."

"The boys are hustling but the hustling spirit has cooled off.
You're liable to get tossed out of the game now for looking cross and at an umpire."

"Say, I remember a game back in Detroit when things were good, I had the Tiger's trimmed, about 10 to 9. Ehmske was pitching and Cobb, then managing the club, also was in center field. Ehmske dastard off. I yelled at him and he blasted me. Bob Meusel, next up, knocked in the runs and made a dash for Ehmske. I left first base and headed for Cobb. In no time, Coblands were out on the field and surrounded Cobb and myself.
Next day, the park was packed and there must have been 400 cops to keep order. The fans like a strap in any sport."

Rollins Rat Quiltet
Defeats Local Five

The strong and far more experienced Rollins Rat basketball quintet proved too much for Coach Leonard McLucas' Seminole High school outfit last night in a game played at the Rollins College gymnasium, winning the local five by a score of 42 to 31.

The Seminole quintet was unable to gather the speed and precision which has added in winning three out of their past five games, and the season record now stands at three wins and three losses.

Rollins, Courrier, Moye, Kirlaw and Heater started the game for Seminole. Tuesday night the Department court will be visited, and Coach McLucas has called for a practice session Monday which is scheduled to iron out all the season's weaknesses which have crept up.

TROTTER RACES AT LONGWOOD TO GET UNDER WAY

Plans Are All Set For Opening Day Slated
On Next Wednesday

With the arrival of Judge Joseph McGraw from Washington, Penn., and Racing Secretary Tom Gahagan from Detroit, Mich., the personal of officials is complete for the light harness horse race meeting which opens at Seminole Park near here next Wednesday and continues three days each week until March 14.

Judge McGraw is the recognized authority of harness racing in the United States and Canada and officials as presiding judge at all of the meetings in the Grand Circuit which is the major league of racing. Mr. Gahagan is one of the best known writers on trotting subjects and is also known as a peer in his chosen profession.

Superintendent Len Wilson of Seminole Park has the track and grounds in fine condition and some great speed should be displayed when the star trotters and pacers get into action. Already over 200 bluebloods of the turf are quartered at the track receiving their final preparation for the festivities which start next Wednesday.

Mary names widely known, are listed among the owners and the drivers who will participate are the leaders of the turf and include Tommy Berry, Fred Egan, Ben F.
White, William C. Crazier, Mary Hrennar, Dick Rogers, float Jolly, Harry Stokes and many others equally as well known.

Great preparations have been made for the opening afternoon's program. Many visitors for the winter in nearby towns are asking for reservations on the initial day and people famous in the political, social, financial and sporting world will be in attendance.

Numerologist Will Be Heard Over Big
'Old Gold' Network

NEW YORK, Jan. 24.—Lorna Fentim, the numerologist who conducts the Old Gold Character Readings broadcast, will, commencing Jan. 27, be heard over the Columbia network of 66 stations, each Tuesday 8:15 to 9:30 and Thursday 9:15 to 9:30 Eastern Standard Time. The later period on Thursday is designed to bring the program to the coast stations during the dinner hour.

Miss Fentim, a leading practitioner of numerology, "the science of the number themselves," has fascinated her public with her analyses of the name and birth of stage and screen stars, and with discussions of such topics as "Do you click or clash with your business associates?" and "Does your married life click or clash?"
The same type of program will be carried out over the larger network, in her new series of broadcasts.

Miss Fentim's analyses of results after major or minor changes in the name one habitually uses, have attracted wide interest. Many people historically or currently prominent, and others of lesser station in life, have won new victories, or in some cases a first success, following the change in name or signature.

THRONGS VIEW A I R CIRCUS OF THIRTY PLANES

From an educational point of view, every spectator had an opportunity of seeing the last word in airplane construction. Every type of plane was represented in the exhibit, and the pilots of each ship courteously explained the intricacies of the various pieces of mechanism. The Monarch Food plane, completely outfitted as a grocery store, was visited by awestruck crowds all afternoon long, while the sportster which was tucked underneath its huge wing was almost lost from view by admiring boys milled about it, questioning pilot Bayles.

W. L. Case, pilot of the St.
Louis Robin, the endurance ship which is now owned by the Gulf Refining Co., had his hands full shortly after his landing as crowds surrounded the ship to such an extent that he had difficulty in parking it for the night.
Everyone had a look into the interior of the cabin and read with interest the various autographs and inscriptions which lined the walls. The costly airport tender of the Gulf Refining Co., brought by H. B. Odham, local agent, was the "filling" station on wheels which ditched about the field providing gasoline and oil, and its gleaming polished walls and instruments were scanned by hundreds.

The flight was under the direction of V. L. Johns, with W. G.
Stewart as adjutant, and Lew Snyder as referee. J. R. Williams, an aviation agent of the tour, was delayed in arriving owing to having made a hurried trip to Tallahassee yesterday morning together with Miss Antonia Strassman, H. P. Henning, and Jimmie Hal-lin, where they had lunch with Governor Doyle E. Carlton. Department of Commerce Inspector J. R. Pickett, and Mrs. Pickett, accompanied the tour in an advisory capacity.

PROHIBITION PUT
ON MAT IN HALLS
OF U. S. CONGRESS

Thorough Threshing
Out Of Controversial Issue Is Seen
Slated For Senate

WASHINGTON, Jan. 24.—(AP)—
Prohibition was put on the mat in the Senate last night and a thorough threshing out of this controversial issue is ahead.

By a vote of 39 to 23, the Senate agreed to make the Howell bill establishing a drastic enforcement act for the District of Columbia the order of business.

Already amendments are pending to authorize a per cent beer
and to provide life imprisonment for dry law violators. Wets are planning to use the measure as a vehicle for testing many propositions including some recommendations of the Weberman Commission, but they concede they are hopelessly outnumbered.

A prelude to the prospective prohibition outburst was heard
last night as Senator Howell, (R. Neb.), the author of the measure, pictured a flow of rum

OF U. S. CONGRESS

Thorough Threshing
Out Of Controversial Issue Is Seen
Slated For Senate

WASHINGTON, Jan. 24.—(AP)—
Prohibition was put on the mat
in the Senate last night and a
thorough threshing out of this
controversial issue is ahead.

By a vote of 39 to 23, the Senate agreed to make the Howell
bill establishing a drastic enforcement act for the District of Columbia the order of business.

Already amendments are pending to authorize a per cent beer
and to provide life imprisonment
for dry law violators. Wets are planning to use the measure as a vehicle for testing many propositions including some recommendations of the Weberman Commission, but they concede they are
hopelessly outnumbered.

A prelude to the prospective
prohibition outburst was heard
last night as Senator Howell,
(R. Neb.), the author of the measure, pictured a flow of rum
into the capital in asking consideration for his bill.

Senator Tydings, (D. Md.), told Howell that if his bill were put to a vote of the people in the capitol they would reject it three to one. It was Tydings who proposed, amid laughter, that provision be made for life imprisonment of dry violators.

Senator Bingham, (R. Conn.), offered the amendment to increase the alcoholic content of beer from one-half of one per cent to four per cent.

Senator Watson, of Indiana, the Republican leader, voted against taking up the Howell measure which had been given privileged status by the Republican steering committee. He said he saw no opportunity for its passage at this session.

While the wets generally voted against considering the bill, such prohibitionists as Senators Borah of Idaho and Sumner of Utah, joined in the opposition. They urged that the Senate proceed to relief legislation.

Declaring Washington police were now without adequate authority to enforce the prohibition law, Howell said the chairman of an entertainment committee for a recent convention in Washington ordered 1,000 quarts of liquor.

"Hundreds of thousands of quarts of liquor are brought into the city annually on diplomatic permits," continued the Nebraska.
"I learned that from one foreign distributor 13,000 quarts of diplomatic liquor had come into Washington in three months, enough to provide 20 quarts for every diplomat and member of his household down to the maids and janitors."

Howell noted Justice's of violation of the law which he had enforced. He said he had been informed by the District Attorney here that he would not prosecute any person for carrying a pint of liquor.

The Howell bill includes a provision permitting search and seizure in homes under conditions to which Attorney General Mitchell has objected.

RABBIT LEAPS TO DEATH

Many Basketball Outfits Of South Will Engage In Contests

ATLANTA, Jan. 24—(AP)— In a fortnight's rest from the season's competition following their two contests over Tulane, Sewanee's Tigers to enter the long age warfare tonight against their state rival, Vanderbilt.

The Nashville Commodores have broken even in their four games, winning two from Florida and losing to Georgia Tech and Kentucky. These two teams, whose football competition for many years thrilled the South, do not meet at the gridiron now, and their annual game last night is the season's rivalry by a long way.

Alabama, 1939 champion, faces Tulane again in New Orleans, before ending its tour of Louisiana.
Auburn moves into Columbia to try conclusions with South Carolina. Carolina will be all set to revenge the surprising defeat it took from Auburn in football last fall. Auburn's first loss, victory by four points.

Duke will look to improve its standing by meeting South Carolina State at Durham. The Raleigh Yellow Jackets have been strengthened by the addition of star forward, Duke's Washington and Lee's Virginia champion, and the Old Dominion season will close the conference with Virginia at Lexington.

Other prominent basketball for next week's closing program include Virginia Tech at Davidson at Davidson, Louisiana colleges and Louisiana Tech and Shreveport, Mississippi and Mississippi State Teachers at Jackson, Newberry and Wofford at Spartanburg, Kentucky, Westham, and Western Kentucky at Bowling Green.

Off to a poor start, Georgia Tech's career, have shown remarkable reversal of form in the past week in losing their conference average to 500. The Tech Yellow Jackets dropped the opening pair of games to South Carolina and Florida, but headed to down Vandербит.

Although playing gallantly all the way Tech was no match for the Old Dominion Bulldogs. Two times this week with Florida in Tennessee, found the Tech in the long end of the score.

Bill Would Abolish 10 Institutions of Learning in Georgia

ATLANTA, Ga., Jan. 26—(AP)—Abolishment of 15 state educational institutions was sought in extra session yesterday in a bill introduced by Representative Arnold of Henry County.

The schools, named in the bill include the eight district agricultural and mechanical institutions and six other units of the university system.

The bill specifically names the following to be abolished along with the district schools: Georgia Normal College, Stateboro; Georgia State College for Men, Tifton; Bowdon State Normal and Industrial College, Bowdon; South Georgia State College, Douglas; State Agricultural and Normal College, Americus; and the Georgia Military College, Milledgeville.

The district colleges are located in the Fourth, Fifth, Sixth, Seventh, Eighth, Ninth and Tenth Districts and at Forsyth.

The bill for abolishment of the schools is in the nature of an amendment to the appropriations act of 1929, which would eliminate all 1931 appropriations for these schools, saving $534,000 to be applied to unpaid appropriations.

The Arnold bill also provides for the sale of the property of the schools to the counties at $1 each.

Death Warrant of Southworth Signed By Doyle Carlton

TALLAHASSEE, Jan. 26—(AP)—Governor Carlton yesterday signed a death warrant for the execution of T. Southworth, convicted of the first degree murder of Horace Wells at a West Palm Beach dinner party robbery in March, 1929. Southworth's execution was set for the week of Feb. 9. He now is in jail at West Palm Beach.

From his cell, Southworth has written letters to Governor Carlton, Attorney General Davis and other state officials, protesting at delay in carrying out his execution and urging the officials to do him a "favor" by speeding up the process of justice.

Southworth's counsel appeared his conviction to the state supreme court, which upheld the trial judge's verdict.

Efforts of several welfare bodies and other organizations to obtain clemency for Southworth only met his disapproval.

Southworth, alias Harry E. McConey, shot and fatally wounded Wells, automobile dealer of Southampton, L. I., during a holdup of a fashionable dinner party in West Palm Beach, at which Wells was a guest.

WEST PALM BEACH, Jan. 24

T. Southworth, condemned slayer, was told last night he would be electrocuted on Feb. 9.

"That's swell," Southworth responded quickly, grasping the hand of a reporter who had brought him the information.
