One of our Clock Winders is being plagued by several alligators at his home on Lake Kathryn in Casselberry. Someone suggested that he anchor a sturdy pole, drop a line with a hook baited with fresh meat and the next morning he'd be sure to have a 'gator.

To which the Clock Winder replied, "I'm right back where I started. You don't expect me to take a live 'gator off that hook, do you?"

Finally someone made a most sensible suggestion—call the game warden. A phone call to Bob Johnson of the Game and Fresh Water Fish Commission was all it took to make arrangements for Johnson to look into the situation.

Our Clock Winder said he didn't mind swimming with a couple of two and three-footers but when five and six-footers start sunning themselves in his backyard something's gotta be done!

By the way, Johnson reported that the Game and Fresh Water Fish Commission, meeting in Fort Lauderdale the other day, closed the Triplett chain of lakes in Casselberry to the use of trot-lines during daylight hours.

"This means," explained Johnson, "that trot-lines can't be set until after sunset and they must be removed before sunrise."

Many Sanford residents whose Herald's were delivered for years by Alfred Berner will be interested to know that he is now at the Orange City Nursing Home. Several years ago, Berner—one of the top Herald carriers—suffered a stroke.

Mrs. Margaret Morrison of Longwood would like to register a strong protest against the practice of those people who pick almost completely isolated areas to drop off unwanted pets. Just by chance last week, she said, a litter of half-starved kittens were found wandering in their orange grove and could have starved to death there before finding their way out.

This is another reason why The Herald hopes R. T. Johnson and his associates are successful in getting a Seminole County Humane Society organized.

Among odd bits of information gathered during his recent European tour, Mrs. Ludille Snyder of Fern Park, a fourth grade teacher at English Estates Elementary School, tells of the manner in which husbands in medieval times took care of nagging wives. On display in the tower of London is an iron mask which clamps the nagging tongue! Although it's safer for the "little woman" today, wonder how many husbands look back to the middle ages with a touch of envy?

During a recent meeting of the National Nature Conservancy, held at the University of Illinois at Urbana, week-end sessions were held on the Florida Conservation Week program which was proposed by the Sanford Chamber of Commerce and adopted by the State. The observance will be held in October.

Like to try something tasty? The Herald's society editor came up with a recipe for beef roast. Take any cut of roast, sprinkle on a package of dry onion soup mix, pour on a can of mushroom soup, complete wrapping it in foil and bake for three hours at 350 degrees. One of our Clock Winders tried it. Result: "Wow! It's out of this world."

What president was the youngest to serve in office? No, it wasn't John F. Kennedy. Theodore Roosevelt was only 42 years of age when he succeeded assassinated President William McKinley.

Avery Lauds Jessup Study For Flood Water

Engineers Get Congress Okay Over Proposal

By Julian Steinbrun, Associate Editor
County Commission Chairman James P. Avery this morning hailed a report from Washington that Army Engineers had been given approval by Congress to study the feasibility of Lake Jessup being used to store the increased runoff of water from the Econlockhatchee basin flood control project being carried on by Orange County.

Avery said that the County Commission had asked Florida's Congressional delegation to make a study of the Lake Jessup and St. Johns River at the request of the Central and South Florida Flood Control District.

The board, Avery explained, unanimously adopted the suggested resolution asking Congress to take this action. He pointed out, "I'm gratified that Lake Jessup has been included and that the way is now open for the study."

Use Of Land Given Canal

The St. Johns - Indian River Canal District succeeded in acquiring 12 miles of right-of-way for the proposed waterway and adjoining highway during a meeting of the district's board of directors held Tuesday in Orlando.

John Krider, chairman of the District's board, said this morning that the Miami Corporation and Lauderdale Theaters, Inc., presented the committee with signed agreements for the right-of-way which he estimated to be valued at $200,000.

Two Sanford Navy fliers escaped injury late Tuesday when they parachuted from their twin-jet Vigilante RA-5C reconnaissance bomber after it developed trouble in the hydraulic system.

Lt. Cmdr. James F. Bell, 33 of 2453 Palmetto Ave., the pilot, and Chief Petty Officer Colin Pemberton, 34 of 113 Laurel Drive, bombardier-navigator, ejected after notifying the NAS control tower of their difficulties.

The plane crashed minutes later near the Wekiva River Fish Camp in Volusia County and off Highway 17-92.

Both men were attached to RVAH-1. The RA-5C is a long-range tactical reconnaissance attack aircraft which entered fleet operations less than a year ago.

Just before Lt. Cmdr. Bell reported that they were leaving the aircraft at 3,000 feet, he reported to the control tower that the hydraulic system had failed, and he would be unable to land the plane.

Dora Explodes Into Full Hurricane

SAN JUAN, P. R. (UPI) — Growing tropical storm Dora became a hurricane today and thrashed westward in the Atlantic with 75 mile an hour top winds.

Hurricane hunter planes fixed its position this morning considerably more north than that estimated during the night. The San Juan Weather Bureau said the center at 11 a.m. (EST) was about 800 miles east of San Juan, near Latitude 17.0 north, Longitude 54.0 west. It was moving toward the west-northwest at about 20 MPH. The position was about 1,350 miles east-southeast of Miami.

"Highest winds are estimated to be about 75 MPH over the sea."

NORFOLK, Va. (UPI) — The Washington Weather Bureau said today that hurricane Cleo is a hurricane again.

The storm, with winds of 90 miles an hour, was 315 miles east of Cape Hatteras, N. C. and moving out to sea.

A small area near the center and gale force winds extend outward 150 miles to the north and about 75 miles to the south," the midday advisory said.

Dora, the season's fourth tropical storm and second to become a hurricane, generated in the tropical Atlantic near where killer hurricane Cleo was spawned. But Dora's position today was well north of the track Cleo took in aiming a deadly punch at the Caribbean.

"All interests in the Leeward Islands should keep advised of the latest information on tropical storm Dora," the advisory said. Small craft in the Leewards and northern Windward Islands were cautioned not to venture far from port.

Dora boiled up Tuesday with 60 m.p.h. winds slightly north of the spot hurricane Cleo formed 13 days ago. Before Cleo fizzled out, it killed at least 125 persons in the Caribbean and created a $200 million "mess" during its rampage up the Florida East Coast.

Cleo was last reported swinging out across the Atlantic off the North Carolina coast after sideswiping Virginia and leaving three persons dead.

Paratroopers Leap To Fray

KUALA LUMPUR, Malaysia (UPI) — Thirty Indonesian paratroopers jumped from a U. S.-made transport into Malaysia's Johore state before dawn today. Government troops killed one and captured "several."

A government spokesman said the guerrilla-trained paratroopers landed about 2:30 p. m. in the jungle near Labis, about 70 miles north of Pontian where 30 or more Indonesian guerrillas came ashore from motorboats Aug. 17.

Local copsmen sighted the invaders and called for help, the spokesman said. Troops and police rushed to the scene. One Indonesian was killed and three were captured in the first clash between the opposing forces, the spokesman said, and "several more" were captured later.

No Malaysian casualties were reported.

Hit-Skip Attackers Get Blame In Riots

PHILADELPHIA (UPI) — The violent, three-day riot by more than 2,000 Negroes in the "Jungle" section of North Philadelphia was instigated by a small group of conspirators who waited several days for an appropriate incident and fled immediately, police said today.

The rampaging mobs, who vandalized and plundered about 200 stores last weekend, caused damages estimated at several million dollars. About 850 persons, more than 100 of them police, were injured and more than 600 men, women and children were arrested.

Mayor James H. J. Tate said Police Commissioner Howard R. Lary informed him that the identities of the principal instigators were known and police were gathering "admissible evidence" against them.

The mayor emphasized that premature disclosure of the identities of the suspects and the information collected against them "could severely hamper our activities in getting all evidence required for successful prosecution."

Johnson Gains Brisk Boost As Labor Joins Voting Bid

By William J. Malen
WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Johnson pointed toward the election campaign today with unprecedented backing from organized labor and a peace-progress-prosperity theme to woo voters.

The Chief Executive held out hope of record-breaking economic advances during the next four years if the nation holds to its present course and rejects "four-filled slogans."

He also pledged not to neglect the "poor, the sick, the aged." Johnson made the statements late Tuesday in accepting the unanimous endorsement of the AFL-CIO General Board, top policy-making body of the 18 million-member labor federation.

Addressing the labor leaders in the East Room of the White House, Johnson said the United States had never wavered in the defense of freedom or the pursuit of peace since the end of World War II.

"As a result, we are closer than ever to making the Second World War the last world war," the President said.

At home, he said, the American people had enjoyed uninterrupted prosperity since the late President John F. Kennedy took office in 1961. He said the average American family of four earns $1,200 more a year than it did three years ago while unemployment has dropped to 4.9 per cent.

"We are on the edge of an abundance which can tower over all the gains of the past," Johnson said. "I predict, if we continue on our course, the growth of the next four years will be the greatest in all our history."

The President did not mention Republican presidential nominee Barry M. Goldwater by name in his remarks to the union officials but he outlined his Program in a way to contrast with views of the Arizona senator.

"Medical care for the old, increased minimum wages, the war on poverty are parts of a program with a single goal: to give every American a place of dignity in our national life," the President said. Goldwater has opposed administration proposals for legislation in each of these areas.

Plush Luxury Plane Faces Safety Crash

PHOENIX, Ariz. (UPI) — A four-engine Constellation that once flew global passengers in plush luxury stood poised today for its last trip—a 30-second plunge down a booby-trapped runway in a dramatic air safety experiment.

The scientifically controlled crash was scheduled at a small airport on the outskirts of Phoenix. It had been postponed once. It was the second in a series of government-industry tests to determine exactly what occurs inside and outside an airliner in a low-speed, so-called "survivable" accident, and what can be done to increase survival chances.

The big Lockheed transport was crammed with impact-measuring instruments, dummies, various types of air-liner seats including rear-facing models, anti-impact fire devices, experimental seat and cargo restraint harnesses and indestructible cameras to record the destruction.

Like the DC7 demolished in a similar experiment here April 24, the "Connie" is being wrecked mainly to provide data on what up to now have been mostly theories — the precise stresses and strains encountered in a crash, the exact path and pattern of fuel spillage, and the effects of vio-

Crews Repair Road Washout

County Engineer William Bush reported this morning that a washout on the southern section of Winter Park Drive was corrected by county road department personnel in time for school buses to use it for transporting pupils in and from South Seminole Elementary and South Seminole Junior High Schools.

"I hate to blame it on Clon," said Bush, "but the little rain it did bring caught us at a bad time."

Storm Clouds

A storm center deepened over the Northern Plains today while warm air pushed into Nebraska and South Dakota. Heavy showers drenched the Rocky Mountain area.

Temperatures in the Central Plains were 10 to 15 degrees higher than Tuesday but the mercury fell into the 30s in Idaho.

'Squeaker' Seen For Ballot On Health Care Bill

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Both supporters and opponents predicted a "squeaker" today as the Senate prepared to vote on the administration's health care for the aged program.

A crucial vote was set on a compromise proposal to provide hospitalization and nursing care benefits for 18 million elderly persons financed through higher Social Security taxes.

Senate Democratic leaders pinned their hopes on freshmen liberals to swing the tide in favor of the program. In 1962 the Senate defeated, 52 to 48, a similar medicare plan. Since then at least four liberal

LYNDON JOHNSON ... faces tests

pro-medicare Democrats have taken their Senate seats. The test vote was on the first part of a package proposal, the medicare plan. The second part would finance these benefits plus provide a $7-a-month increase in cash benefits for Social Security pensioners.

Other congressional news: Appalachia: The times were drawn in the house for a sharp political fight over President Johnson's $1 billion plan to revitalize the 11-state Appalachian area. A Republican leader said there would be "overwhelming Republican opposition," but an administration leader predicted victory "if everyone shows up to vote." The bill would authorize the federal government to spend $237.2 million over the next five years to develop the area's natural and human resources.

Baker: The Senate appeared headed for a second political explosive Bobby Baker investigation. But there was no indication it would come soon enough to intrude into the presidential campaign. Democrats for a renewed investigation came after Sen. John J. Williams, R-Del., charged that Matthew McCloskey, former U. S. ambassador to Ireland, had funneled a $25,000 "payoff" to the Kennedy-Johnson campaign in 1960 through former Senate aide Robert G. Baker.

Pesticides: A $5 million-a-year study of wildlife hazards in use of pesticides and fungicides was approved by the House Tuesday despite objections that such investigations are already underway.

Reapportionment: Senate Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen, Ill., said he would seek to invoke cloture next week to cut off a liberal filibuster against his efforts to delay court-ordered reapportionment of state legislatures.

Experts Study Final Minutes Of Titan Test

CAPE KENNEDY (UPI) — Scientists today studied the final utterances of the new Titan-3A military space rocket to find out what shattered Air Force hopes for a full success on the maiden flight.

The 124-foot rocket's previously untried third stage quit from one to 10 seconds too early Tuesday and failed to give enough push to send its 3,750-pound dummy lead payload into orbit.

However, project officers said they were satisfied with the new rocket's over-all performance — particularly the third stage's first six minutes of operation.

Brig. Gen. Joseph S. Bleymler, the project manager, said the shot met 95 per cent of its test objectives including perfect performance by the rocket's first and second stages.

Foes Stiffen Against Khanh

SAIGON, Viet Nam (UPI)—Opposition was stiffening today to the return of Premier Nguyen Khanh to power despite continued U. S. support.

First Deputy Prime Minister Nguyen Ton Hoan resigned Tuesday night. He issued a statement this morning saying he and Gen. Khanh had failed to get along from the start of the present government last Jan. 30.

Hoan is a chief of the secret and influential Dia Viet (greater Viet Nam) party, the largest non-Catholic party in Viet Nam.

Khanh had indicated earlier that the feeling was mutual. He had told interviewers last weekend that Hoan put party interests ahead of national interests.

Students and Buddhists, whose rioting for two weeks caused Khanh to take a leave of absence, have promised to refrain from further demonstrations for the next two months. But they were tightening up their organizational structure today.

U. S. Ambassador Maxwell D. Taylor visited Khanh's mountain retreat at Dalat, 148 miles north-east of Saigon. Taylor said Khanh would return to work in a "few days."

But Khanh received reporters at Dalat Tuesday and said it would be more like a couple of weeks.

Escapee From Red Camp Wings Way To U. S. Home

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (UPI)—The family of Navy pilot Lt. Charles Klusmann, 30, who escaped from his Communist captors in Laos, today anxiously awaited his return to the United States.

U. S. authorities in Bangkok, Thailand, said Klusmann no longer was in Thailand. He was believed to be en route to the United States.

"The minute he puts his foot down on American soil and stays there for any length of time—I'll be there to meet him."

This was the promise made Tuesday night by Mrs. Sara Klusmann, 30, brown-eyed, brunette wife of the Navy flier who made his way to Thailand following his escape.

In a news conference in the Klusmann home, the attractive mother of two said she first learned of her husband's escape when reached by tele-

City Manager Back At Desk

Mrs. Mary Harkey, Sanford's first woman city manager, was back at her secretarial desk today, after an eventual two day reign last week.

"It's hard enough to try to fill Mr. W. E. Knowles' shoes, without having a hurricane to complicate things," Mrs. Harkey told The Herald.

"However, I wish to thank the City Commissioners for putting their trust in me. I feel very complimented. Also, I would like to thank the city personnel for their cooperation and help while I was serving as city manager," said Mrs. Harkey.

Training School Rescheduled

By Mrs. H. L. Johnson The officers training school of the Seminole County Home-makers Council, postponed last week due to the hurricane, has been rescheduled for Thursday, Sept. 10.

The school will be held at the Agriculture Building on Highway 17-92 and will begin at 10 a. m. New officers of the various clubs will hear reports from the two delegates who attended the State Short Course held at Tallahassee in July.

Plucky Youth Follows Order In Grim Rescue

FREMONT, Calif. (UPI)—A 3-year-old boy, who followed orders explicitly, was pulled safely Tuesday night from a 100-foot deep abandoned well where he had been trapped for nearly two and one-half hours.

The youngster, Jerry Betencourt, who suffers from asthma was lifted from his perch about 24 feet down as a rescue force of more than 60 men was digging a parallel shaft next to the well.

Jerry blinked as he was lifted into the glare of the bright lights surrounding the well and said quietly to his rescuers, "I want to go home."

Instead he was taken to a nearby hospital where doctors said he was "in very good shape," except for a few bruises and a slightly twisted ankle.

At the hospital Jerry's mother recounted her fears when playmates had told her the youngster was trapped. "I looked at the well... and I was very scared," she said.

UAW Eyes New Industry Offer

DETROIT (UPI) — The United Auto Workers union today waited for an improved economic offer from Chrysler Corp., hoping to prevent a crippling auto strike at the firm at 10 a. m. Sept. 9.

UAW President Walter P. Reuther Tuesday repeated his prediction there "will be a strike come September 9" if Chrysler does not improve the economic package placed on the bargaining table Aug. 17.

Chrysler administrative Vice President John D. Leary said flatly, "We've got what we think is a favorable economic proposal. We're ready to discuss it in greater detail at any time."

Chrysler and the other two members of the industry big three — General Motors and Ford — last month presented nearly identical offers to the UAW which included increases, longer vacations, earlier retirement and higher pensions, an additional paid holiday, improved insurance coverage and other changes.

The union rejected the offers as being inadequate and issued a strike warning. The present contract ran out at midnight Aug. 31 but the companies and union extended the

Dredging Bids Under Estimate

JACKSONVILLE (UPI) — The Army Corps of Engineers got a $22 million surprise Tuesday when it opened bids on two dredging jobs.

The apparent low bids for dredging a 9.5-mile section of the cross-Florida barge canal and a 16-mile section of the Kissimmee River were a total of $22 million below the government estimates for the jobs.

Rev. Watson Given Tribute At Service

REV. AND MRS. N. A. WATSON

By Robert B. Thomas
288-5738

William L. Hamilton, principal of Midway Elementary School, paid tribute to the Rev. N. A. Watson in his message Sunday Aug. 30. He emphasized repeatedly of Rev. Watson's greatness. Without challenging parents, his message would have been incomplete. "Parents should rededicate themselves and instill within their children a desire to succeed," he said.

Others appearing on the program were H. L. Nease Jr., W. C. Curry, L. Stallworth, James Davis, Thomas Lawson Jr., Cleve Gibson and Morell Debose of the Singing Kings of Joy, L. R. Eubanks, S. T. Muller, John L. Bryant, John Daniels, D. C. McCoy and Mrs. D. A. Thomas. The Singing Kings of Joy gave a beautiful rendition of "The Lord's Prayer," the most efficient Gospel Chorus of Saint Paul Baptist Church, under the direction of E. E. Minott gave a soul-stirring performance.

The members of the Community Committee and others who contributed to the Appreciation Day program for the Rev. Nathaniel Watson are to be commended for their efforts. The ladies of the committee, realizing that "Behind every man of stature, there is a woman," paid tribute to Mrs. Watson also. Gifts were presented to Rev. and Mrs. Watson.

It was most difficult for the Rev. and Mrs. Watson to hide their emotions. To say that most of the audience felt the impact of the very emotional situation would be a fairly accurate assumption.

When the United States Supreme Court first began litigating on reading the Bible in public schools, such did not register with many of us, I am sure. Now, it has been ruled unconstitutional. This is one thing I find most difficult to comprehend. What is going to happen to those children whose parents do not teach spiritual and moral values in the home?

To drive down 13th Street is most frustrating. It is impossible to avoid running in some of the many, many holes in this road. Those of you who travel this hole infested route will agree with me on that statement.

Miss Phyllis Lyons, E. R. Van Camp Exchange Vows In Church Ceremony

By Jane Casselberry
Miss Phyllis Ann Lyons, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Lee Lyons, Sr., Longwood, and Edwin Ray Van Camp, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edwin B. Van Camp of Charlotte, N.C., were joined in Holy Matrimony Saturday, August 29, 1964, at 4 p.m. in Casselberry Community Methodist Church with Rev. Delmas Copeland officiating at the double ring ceremony.

The church was decorated for the occasion with garlands of asparagus plumose fern, baskets of white chrysanthemums and gladioli and anemones.

Special music was provided by Miss Barbara Ferrell, organist, and two soloists, "I'll Be Loving You Always" and "O Perfect Love" by Mrs. Annabelle Wagner and her daughter, Becky.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, was lovely in her traditional gown of satin with chapel train and full skirt re-embroidered with lace and seed pearls. The gown had finger-tip sleeves and fitted bodice with the tulle insert in the sweetheart neckline trimmed with tiny pearls. Her full silk illusion veil was attached to an unusual crocheted tulle adorned with pearls and beads.

The bridal bouquet of cascading white carnations was centered with an exquisite yellow throated white orchid, which later formed the corsage for her going away ensemble.

The maid of honor, Miss Sharon Lord, of Frostproof, wore a sheath dress of brilliant blue peau de soie with overskirt and scoop neckline. She wore a blue peau de soie bow hat with blue net veil and matching shoes. She carried a bouquet of white carnations.

Wearing gowns and accessories identical to those of the maid of honor were the three bridesmaids, Lucy Moon, and Karen and Marsha Lyons, sisters of the bride.

The best man was Richard Suddreth of Charlotte and ushers were Lee Lyons, brother of the bride, Roger and Bobby Mobley, and Carl Swoford.

The candles in the chandeliers were lighted by the bride's sisters, Fran and Kim and another sister, six year old Hollie Bee, made a demure flower girl scattering rose petals down the aisle. All three wore matching dresses of light blue taffeta brocade. Another sister, Brenda Kay, kept the bride's bouquet at the reception.

The mother of the bride wore a three piece copen blue lace suit with a white feather hat and a corsage of white carnations. The groom's mother wore a pink lace suit, pink straw hat and carnation corsage.

A reception was held in Weaver Hall following the ceremony. Assisting were Mrs. A. B. Nutter, sister of the groom, Mrs. Fred Lyons, Mrs. Doris Lyons, Mrs. James Nutter, aunts of the bride, Mrs. Mary Mobley, and Miss Kay Moon. The lovely three-tiered wedding cake was decorated with pale blue roses and topped with a miniature bride and groom. Sherbet punch, mints and nuts were also served. A floral fan and centerpiece of pink gladioli and carnations decorated the serving table.

For her going away outfit the bride chose a three piece suit of pink linen and blouse of floral print, and white accessories.

The newlyweds left following the reception for a short wedding trip to Daytona Beach. They will make their home at 1341 Durwood Drive, Charlotte, N.C.

Out of town guests for the wedding included the parents of the groom, his cousin, Miss Pamela House, Mr. and Mrs. Alvin B. Nutter and daughter Vicki, (doubly related as he is uncle of the bride and she is sister of the groom), and Mr. Arthur Hammonds of Charlotte; Mr. and Mrs. Earl Reynolds and son, Bill, of Eau Gallie; Mr. and Mrs. Joe Falkner and children of Cocoa; Mr. and Mrs. Joseph E. Van Camp, Winter Park, and Mr. and Mrs. John Barrow of Winter Haven.

The Garden Gate

By Hibiscus Circle
Cleansing up after Cleo seems to be our first chore for September gardens. We are very fortunate that this consists mainly of gathering up fallen moss, palm fronds, broken twigs and some broken limbs. When this clearing is done, we can see that our lawns and plants are ready for their fall application of fertilizers. 6-6-6 is the favored formula for lawns, and it may be applied in split doses about six weeks apart, or all at once, using about 4 lbs per 100 sq. ft.

Roses in particular, like to rest during the hot months of July and August, but will now respond to pruning and cutting out of all dead wood. Then food every two weeks with 6-6-6 or 2-10-2 to start them in to fall growth and bloom.

Do not fertilize azaleas or camellias at this time, as the new growth thus produced might knock off buds already formed. The normal time to fertilize these plants is directly after flowering and again in June. But do give lots of water, after making sure that the drainage is good.

Slow up on watering Thanksgiving and Christmas cactus, until buds have formed, giving only enough water to keep plants from shriveling.

It is to be hoped that you have been pinching back your poinsettias and also chrysanthemums all summer to make them nice and bushy. Now is your last chance to pinch the poinsettias and still hope to have the colored bracts this fall. When the colored bracts appear, an application of 4-12-4 fertilizer will be beneficial.

Sun loving plants such as crotons and hibiscus do better if the sunny location includes shade from trees or such to keep the early morning sun off until the frosted shrub has a chance to thaw out. The plants may be killed up with dirt to protect the main stalk; but sometimes the safest procedure is to take off cuttings and place them in a jar of water where they will usually root during the winter and can be planted in pots in spring.

Caesarean Birth Patterns Reflect In Monkey Study

NEW YORK (UPI) — A study of 28 newborn monkeys lends support to the belief that Caesarian delivery affects behavior patterns of human infants, "Medical World News," a publication for doctors, reports.

The study, by Dr. Gilbert W. Meier of the Laboratory of Perinatal Research at San Juan, Puerto Rico, showed less reactivity, less vocalizing, and greater lethargy among 13 infant monkeys delivered by Caesarian section. The others in the study were delivered normally. The monkey infants were tested on each of five consecutive days. Dr. Meier believes that the greater responsiveness of normally born infants may be traceable to an unknown chemical agent absent in Caesarian delivery.

Mrs. Ashby, Mrs. Shepard Co-Host Bridal Luncheon For Miss Nichols

Miss Deanna Nichols, popular bride-elect of Lt. Norman R. Frucci, was a recent honoree guest of a bridal luncheon at Jim Spencers Restaurant.

Co-hostesses for the delightful luncheon were Mrs. John Shepard and Mrs. Martha Bishop Ashby, with the guests assembling at the Oak Avenue home of Mrs. Shepard to depart for Spencers in a group. A pink and white color scheme was used in the private dining room decor. Tropical foliage adorned the table which was centered with a lovely arrangement of pink sweetheart roses accented on either side by tall pink tapers in crystal candle holders. Dainty bridal cards marked the places and an attractive and delicious salad luncheon course was enjoyed by the guests.

Mrs. Shepard and Mrs. Ashby presented the honoree, who was stunning in a champagne beige and cocoa brown, with a gift of silver in her chosen pattern.

Luncheon guests were Mrs. M. L. Nichols, mother of the bride-elect and Sherlene Shepard, Niki Ashby McKibbin, Pat Smith, Frances Strickland Bowden, Rosemary Southard, Barbara Bradley, Debbie Sherrill, Ethel Lee Walker, Anne Crapps and Rose Krattert.

Look Out! Those Yankees Are Back In Contention Again

Berra's Boys Only 2 Tilts Behind Birds

By Fred Down
UPI Sports Writer

Yogi Berra may yet enjoy the first laugh of the American League race.

Unruffled while the New York Yankees staggered around in a fog last month, the rookie manager has been saying right along that the defending AL champions will make their big move in due time.

That time appears to be right now — because the Yankees have won four straight games and seven of their last nine to move within two games of the first-place Baltimore Orioles and 1 1/2 of the second-place Chicago White Sox.

The Yankees picked up a full game on both the other contenders when they beat the Los Angeles Angels 4-1 Tuesday night while the Minnesota Twins defeated the Orioles 2-1 and the Detroit Tigers scored an 8-0 triumph over the White Sox. The Orioles have lost six of eight games and the White Sox have dropped four of their last six.

The Orioles ran afoul of Harmon Killebrew's bat and were held to four hits by the combined pitching of Jim East and Al Worthington. Killebrew produced both Minnesota runs with his 52nd and 44th homers and Worthington closed out the game in style by striking out Sam Bowers and Earl Robinson with the tying run aboard in the ninth. Mickey Lolich pitched a three-hitter to win his 14th game for the Tigers behind an eight-hit attack that included a three-run homer by Don Wert and a two-run homer by Jerry Lampe.

Elsewhere in the AL, the Boston Red Sox nipped the Kansas City Athletics 3-2 and the Cleveland Indians beat the Washington Senators 3-0.

Musial Stricken At Card Contest

ST. LOUIS, Mo. (UPI) — Former St. Louis Cardinal all-time baseball great Stan Musial was hospitalized today suffering from what a hospital spokesman described as "dehydration." He was reported in fair condition.

Nurses at St. Louis Jewish Hospital said Musial was resting comfortably and was being given fluids intravenously. He was under close observation.

"He was dehydrated," a nurse said. "That's what happened."

The 43-year-old Musial became ill during the eighth inning of Tuesday night's game at the Milwaukee Braves at Busch Stadium. He was helped to the Cardinal clubhouse, where his wife, Lillian, said he was sick for about two hours.

Musial was taken by ambulance to Jewish Hospital about 1 a.m. CDT today. "He talked to me," Mrs. Musial said.

"He's tired," a spokesman for the hospital, asked if Musial was all right said. "I wouldn't say that. He is only fair. He is under observation and we have to take tests."

He was being attended by Dr. L. C. Middleman, the Cardinals team physician.

Musial closed out an illustrious 22-year career in the majors — all with the Cardinals — when he retired as an active player at the end of last season. He remained with the Cards in an executive capacity.

Musial also currently heads President Johnson's physical fitness program.

During his playing career, the Donors, Pa., native amassed more than 50 National League and major league records.

He played in 3,028 games and rapped out 3,630 hits for a life-time batting average of .331 during his career in the majors.

Musial started with the Cardinals organization as a $65 a month pitcher in 1938 at Daytona Beach, but became one of the game's all-time great hitters, earning $1,368,777 in salaries from the Cards before hanging up his spikes.

YAT, At 38, Is Still Considered Best Quarterback In Pro Ranks

By Milton Richman
UPI Sports Writer

FAIRFIELD, Conn. (UPI)—All good things must come to an end and that goes for Y. A. Tittle, who is putting in what undoubtedly is his last year with the New York football Giants.

The Giants don't wish to talk about that bleak prospect and the seemingly indestructible, 38-year-old Tittle doesn't even like to think about it although he knows he will have to in four more months.

"It's difficult to say right now," he said following Tuesday's practice session. "I'll make my decision immediately after the last game of the season."

Those close to Tittle claim he's made that decision already and this year will be it.

Even his own teammates marvel at the way he somehow manages to bounce back after the tremendous physical beating he keeps taking each Sunday during the season.

No one, of course, laid a hand on him Tuesday as he went through some past patterns during an hour-and-15-minute workout.

Y. A. was really something to behold. Employing that typical Tittle lurch, he repeatedly hit Del Shofner, Aaron Thomas, Joe Morrison and R. C. Owens with short and long passes alike and gave unmistakable evidence that he had shaken off a recent knee injury which had all the Giants holding their breath.

Parnelli Files Appeal Of Fine

INDIANAPOLIS (UPI) — Former Indianapolis 500-race winner Parnelli Jones has filed an appeal on an $1100 fine imposed on him last week.

The fine was levied on Jones after a 500 winner, for disregarding the yellow caution light during the recent 200-Mile race.

"I can still feel it a little," Tittle suffered the injury during last Saturday's exhibition victory over the Philadelphia Eagles in Princeton, N. J. Even though his understudy, rookie Gary Wood, came in on tossed three touch-down passes there was considerable alarm in the Giants' camp because Y. A. injured the same knee which forced him out of action in the title game against the Chicago Bears last December.

"He looks perfectly all right again to me," said head coach Al Sherman. "I was debating whether to play him in our final pre-season game against Detroit this Saturday and now I think I will."

Although Tittle draws the most acclaim for his passing, he's also a student of opposing defensive maneuvers and continually works on counter-plays to defeat them.

"You just can't beat him," said Morrison, watching Tittle walk toward the field house. Shofner nodded.

"He's the best there is in the game today."

Navy Wives End Summer Bowling Loop Schedule

The McRobert's Navy Wives Bowling League wound up its summer season with the RV-All-8 Bowlers claiming the championship with a record of 44 wins and 24 losses.

In second place was the VAIL-7 Juggernauts with 41 victories against 27 losses and the float Owls claimed third place with 40 wins and 28 setbacks.

During the season's final action, Verna Bolton's 180-502 was good enough for high game and series. Susy Reno's 187/487 game and series took second place honors. Other marks were Margaret Betts' 179/474, Pat Siple's 179/452, Isabel Goshorn's 173 and Margie Field's 170/463.

Susy Reno grabbed the only turkey and also picked up the 2-7 and 3-10 splits. Jo Watson had a busy morning in converting the 4-7-10, the 5-4, 5-7 and the 3-10 splits. The 5-7 was knocked over also by Colleen Samblin, Verna Bolton and Isabel Goshorn, while the 3-10 baby split fell for Colleen Samblin, E. La Rocca, Pat Willis, Betty Lillis and Joan Adams.

Familiarization Day for the Fall season at Jet Lanes has been scheduled for Sept. 4 at 10 a.m. At 9:15 a.m., trophies and prizes will be distributed to the summer season bowlers.

About Sports Thinking Out Loud

By Julian Steinman

"My first two backfield units could be fair," was the statement made by Lyman High's head football coach, Dick Copeland, as he did a bit of tongue-wagging with us yesterday about the Greyhounds' outlook for the forthcoming season.

The 'Hounds will embark upon one of the toughest slates in Lyman's grid history. But it doesn't seem to worry Copeland too much.

"The best way to improve the football status of a school is for it to have a schedule of strong opponents."

But back to those first two backfield units, Copeland wanted it made plain that even here they've got a lot to learn. But he did admit that the boys comprising those two units are working as hard as they can and that he was satisfied with their progress.

Looking at the line, "My gosh," said Copeland, "we lack depth sure enough. Let me explain it this way: From last year's starting seven up front, we've got just two boys back, Gene Winkleman and Chuck Wagner. Our center last year was Wagner but we've had to move him to a guard slot."

Copeland said he had 45 boys out for the squad and he seemed to be pleased.

What about some of that South Seminole Junior High talent we saw last year?

Copeland: "We've got three of their boys who look like they'll make fine ball players. There's Danny Overton, Larry Lott and Paul Lambert. These boys have the potential and we're going to do all we can to get it out of them. They could help this team."

Lyman will have a junior varsity eleven this year for the first time. Copeland said they'd play four games, two with New Smyrna Beach's Baby Barracudas, one with the DeLand Bullpups and another with the little Blue Darters of Apopka.

"The JayVee program," said Copeland, "will begin to provide our varsity with talent who've gained not only junior high but also JayVee experience."

Copeland didn't say it in so many words but we got the idea that he is convinced that within a couple of years the Greyhounds will be able to hold their own in the fast OBC conference.

The 'Hounds are replacing Seminoles in the Orange Belt league this season.

"We'll improve with the opposition," is Copeland's philosophy and he's expecting plenty of opposition.

"We'll run into gobs of it this season, especially from Titusville and Leesburg," he declared.

And here's a note to SHS gridgers: Boys you better believe what Jim Pisoul and your other coaches will be saying to you — Titusville will be tough.

"If we don't get hit with injuries like we did last season," Copeland said, "we could come up with a pretty fair eleven."

What Copeland meant was that last season after the Titusville game he had six of the eleven starters on the bench — out with injuries. He didn't win another game.

Dallas Obtains Another QB

Clark Preps 'Canes For '64 Grid Slate

By Jim Beeches

"Right now we aren't sure who any of our starters will be," declared Head Coach Jim Clark of the South Seminole Junior High Hurricanes.

"Today we have 11 boys wearing the red shirts which designate the starting eleven," he said, "but tomorrow it could well be that 11 completely different boys will be wearing them."

This is what Clark also told his youngsters before a workout Tuesday afternoon at the Casselberry school.

Now in their second week of practice, the S. S. Hurricanes are beginning to find themselves.

The boys have been wearing pads for a few days and are beginning to get accustomed to the added weight. Clark and his assistant, Dave Miller, have assigned temporary first unit status to 11 of the squads members. Each is more or less set in a position. However, there is still a lot of work to be done and numerous changes to be made, as Coach Clark pointed out.

With only a little more than three weeks before the home opener against the Sanford Junior High Braves at Lyman Field, Sept. 24, the Hurricanes face much hard work and concentration in order to be fully prepared for the curtain raiser.

Gene Rogero Is Top Bowler In Ball And Chain

Gene Rogero's 224/544 claimed high game and high series in the Wednesday p.m. Ball and Chain Bowling League. Bill Fox had a 191/528 and Ferrell Farris a 180/507.

Verna Bolton was high with a 187/479 for the women while Eve Rogero had a 184, Barbara Swecker a 175/460, Barbara Voigt a 178, Susy Reno a 167 and Mark Meek a 161.

At Phillips, Bill Fox, Carol Kerr and Verna Bolton rolled turkeys. Verna Bolton converted the 5-8-10, Puggy Dooley the difficult 3-7, Ron Meier the 4-9 and Susy Reno the 4-5-7.

The affair was originally slated for last Thursday night but Hurricane Cleo's activities took precedence.

Initial Rebel Drill Marred By Tragedy

OXFORD, Miss. (UPI) — Mississippi sophomore half-back Richard Ellsey died Tuesday after collapsing on the practice field during opening 1964 workouts.

A funeral home spokesman in Ellsey's hometown of Meridian said Tuesday night an autopsy would be performed to determine the cause of death.

The 195-pound football candidate collapsed about five minutes after the afternoon practice session started. He had taken part in a light "conditioning drill" in the morning and showed no ill effects prior to falling to the ground unconscious, officials said.

Billy Gates, sports publicity director at the university, said the victim had no body contact with other players before passing out.

Artificial respiration was administered on the field, and Ellsey was rushed to the Lafayette County Hospital. Gates said the practice session continued, and Ellsey's teammates did not learn of his death until the drill ended.

Majorettes Are Named For SHS After Tryouts

By David Higginbotham
Herald Sports Writer

The Seminole High Twirling Seminoles held tryouts Tuesday for the 1964 majorette corps with 17 young ladies participating.

According to Seminole High's band master, Ernest Cowley, the twirlers are judged on ability, appearance, showmanship, smoothness, poise, speed, variety and coordination. They are also appraised on the three main phases of majorette, twirling individually, marching and twirling with the rest of the corps in a group.

Judges for the competition were Mr. and Mrs. Cowley and Mr. and Mrs. Pete Bukur. Bukur is the band master at Sanford Junior High and his wife teaches math and twirling.

Each contestant went through the same routine and all of the marching portions of the tryout as well as working as a group.

After the competition was completed, Cowley announced the judges' decision. Cowley named the "A" corps with the remainder to be on the "B" corps for more experience. The 1964 "A" corps majorettes are Pat Mackall, Maureen Moughton, Donna Peters, Vickie McArdle, Bettina Vale, Sharron Drum, Linda Jarmagin, Susan Stein, Michele Malbon, Sylvia Williams, Freddie Berryhill, and Donna Beswichein. Members of the "B" corps are Laura Watson, Patsy Foy, Sharron Ball, Sharon Ganas, Connie Colvin, Susan Kelly and Debbie Whitley.

Officers are Sylvia Williams—captain and head majorette, Sharon Drum—first lieutenant and assistant head majorette, Sharon Ball—second lieutenant and "B" corp head majorette, Donna Peters—first sergeant majorette property officer, and first sergeant and majorette secretary—Freddie Berryhill.

Death Follows Tots In Icebox

DALLAS (UPI) — Charles Farrow, 5, and his brother, Roger, 4, were audited by the death of their father two weeks ago in an auto accident. But little boys recover and forget quickly and Charles and Roger had a lot to discover in their new Dallas home. Tuesday they crawled on top of a chair and into an old refrigerator on the back porch of the home. The door slammed shut. Mrs. Farrow had left for about 15 minutes to make a telephone call and when she returned she could not find her sons. After a five minute search, she found them suffocated in the refrigerator.

Joneses Given Model Lesson

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — "I didn't want to just keep up with the Joneses—I wanted them to try to keep up with me." This was the explanation offered Tuesday by Richard Oliver Pew, 29, an accountant for the Roman Tools Co. of nearby Van Nuys, who was accused of stealing $11,000 from the firm while he managed the office from June, 1963, to June, 1964. Pew said he took $6,500. "They threw cash and checks at me, and all that money coming across my desk was just too much of a temptation," said Pew. "I wanted to live the good life and I did." Superior Judge Joseph A. Warner sentenced Pew to one to 10 years in prison after the defendant pleaded guilty to grand theft.

Turkish Youths Flay U. S. On Cyprus Crisis

ANKARA, Turkey (UPI)—More than 5,000 Turkish students led by an Army general marched through the streets of Ankara Tuesday to demonstrate their displeasure with the role of the United States in the Cyprus crisis. They carried banners reading, "Yankee go home" and "You can't buy freedom with dollars."

The march was led by Gen. Cemal Turali, the new commander of Turkey's land forces. He and the students ignored a public appeal by Premier Ismet Inonu for an end to the demonstrations. Despite Inonu's plea, the students asked for and received official permission to march. But police and troops guarded the approaches to the Greek and American embassies.

The United States has tried to find a peaceful solution to the Cyprus crisis, which at times has brought Turkey and Greece to the brink of war. Both countries are members of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization (NATO) and the United States, along with Britain, is anxious to avoid a split in the alliance.

Mrs. Jackman Is Guest

By Mrs. Ritchie Harris Mrs. Irene Jackman of DeLand, an employee of the Florida Methodist Children's Home, was guest speaker for last Sunday's services at Barnett Memorial Methodist Church in Enterprise. The minister, Rev. Wight Kirtley, and his family have been on vacation.

Forrest Nutt, church lay leader, filled in the second Sunday the minister was away. Hopscotch The "scotch" in the word "hopscotch" merely means "scratch" and, in playing the game, the contestant must hop over lines scratched in the ground.

Interstate Inroads Recognized

U.S. 17 Backers Plan Campaign

By Julian Stenstrom, Assistant Editor

Cognizant of the effect that the completion of Interstate 4 and connecting expressways will have on businesses along U. S. 17, the U. S. 17 Improvement Association is making an effort to obtain suggestions any interested person or group may have concerning ways and means of improving Highway 17 and attracting through traffic from the Georgia border into Florida on the route.

The group discussed the need of proper markings of the highway north of Orange City and better pavement and island markings in Casselberry.

Anyone having suggestions to make concerning the improvement of U. S. 17 are urged by Woodhams to contact him in Casselberry.

More than 75 county representatives attended a recent meeting at DeLeon Springs. They came from Duval, Putnam, Volusia and Seminole counties.

The principal project of the group is to promote the four-laning of U. S. 17 from the Georgia line south and to work for the highway's improvement and increased travel.

The association heard reports that a contract was to be let in Clay County for resurfacing 10.2 miles from Black Creek Bridge north to the Duval County line. In Duval, plans are being projected to six-lane two miles of Roosevelt Boulevard north of San Juan Avenue, and a contract is to be let this year for $800,000 intersection of Roosevelt Boulevard and Edgewood Avenue.

Also in Duval, funds are in the current budget to four-lane 4.2 miles of Highway 17 from the Clay County north. In downtown Jacksonville it was reported that the Riverside viaduct and the paving of adjacent streets have been completed and that the resurfacing of Bay Street was in the current budget.

In the Jacksonville airport section, it was reported that a contract should be let for the four-laning of about 2 miles from Herkshire Drive north to Eastport Road.

During the meeting Ritchey Green, district engineer for the Fifth District at DeLand, pointed out that in his area the State Road Department had followed the policy of not considering four-laning any highways until the traffic count reached 5,000 vehicles per day.

In Clay County funds have been set aside to acquire additional rights-of-way from Orange Park to Green Cove Springs and it was hoped that funds could be obtained to widen several narrow bridges.

Putnam County representatives said that money was available and plans were ready to acquire rights of way between the East Palatka Wye and San Mateo and that the SRD had been asked to survey the possibility of an additional bridge over the St. Johns.

Frierson reported that in DeLand the number one project was the complete four-laning of U. S. 17 in Volusia County. In Seminole, John R. Alexander told the group that the only section of 17 not four-laned was the four-mile stretch along Lake Monroe and that nothing was programmed at this time.

Touring Teacher To Brief Class On Geography

By Jane Casselberry What school teacher does not dream of enriching her experience by traveling in a foreign country? This dream came true for Mrs. Lucille Snyder of Fern Park and as a result geography will come alive for her fourth grade class at English Estates Elementary School this fall. Mrs. Snyder enjoyed a three weeks tour of seven European countries as guest of her journalist son, Bill, who was covering the tour for his paper, the Youngstown (Ohio) Vindicator, which co-sponsors the tour. The group flew Air France from New York to Paris where they met their tour guide who spoke fluently in six languages. They spent two and a half days in Paris seeing both modern and historic sections of the city. Two of the highlights were a visit to the Louvre, where they saw the priceless "Mona Lisa" and a trip down the Seine River at night to see the Notre Dame Cathedral lighted and reflected in the water. They proceeded by train to Nice on the French Riviera where they spent a day and a half and found the Mediterranean as beautiful as advertised but the beach covered with pebbles and people in bikinis. She visited the tiny principality of Monaco but was not impressed by the famous Monte Carlo gambling casino and Princess Grace was away at the time. Next they went to Italy by bus to visit the historic old cities of Genoa, Pisa, Assisi, Florence, Venice and Rome. They toured the Vatican and St. Peter's and saw Michelangelo's incomparable Sistine Chapel ceiling. Mrs. Snyder was particularly impressed by the fabulous Tivoli Fountains when there was a water shortage in Rome and she was yearning for a glass of water, something unattainable in Europe. Highlight of their visit to Florence, treasure house of renaissance art, was the 87 room Pitti Palace where they enjoyed a moonlight symphony concert conducted by the conductor of the Miami Symphony Orchestra. A high hill in Florence was pointed out as the place Leonardo da Vinci launched his ill-fated flight several hundreds of years ahead of his time.

In Venice, they visited the glass works and the acquired some examples of craft for which the city is so famous. The gondoliers, however, failed to live up to her romantic expectations as they were so occupied with their lively feud with the motor launch drivers that they had no time to sing ballads for their tourist passengers. Then, too, they found that there is a "certain air" about Venice because of the garbage and other wastes that are dumped into the canals. The most thrilling hair-raising part of the entire trip proved to be traveling by bus over the 9,600 foot St. Gotthard's Pass over the steep narrow alpine roads into Switzerland. They visited beautiful Lake Lucerne and rode an electric railway 7,000 feet up to the top of Mt. Pilatus descending by cable cars over the valleys providing a breathtaking view. She had a close up view of the real life "Heids" tending the cows and goats grazing on the high slopes. As souvenirs of her Swiss visit naturally Mrs. Snyder brought back some watches, music boxes and woodcarvings.

From there they drove through the Black Forest of Germany stopping overnight in Heidelberg to visit the castles and student inns which, though picturesque, provided a touch of plomaine. In Amsterdam, Holland, they visited the museum which boasts several original Rembrandts and were given a demonstration of diamond cutting in the diamond exchange. An interesting footnote to the Nazi occupation during World War II is the burned out Jewish Ghetto left just as it was 20 years ago as a grim reminder of man's inhumanity to man. They visited a typical Dutch farm house to see how the delicious Edim cheese is made and found their reputation for cleanliness extends to the barn, which is attached to the house. The cow sheds each boasted fresh curtains at the window and a rug. They were shown part of the massive effort to reclaim land from the North Sea. Mrs. Snyder was amazed to learn that apartment windows facing the main street are all equipped with "busy body" mirrors which allows persons inside to keep track of what is going on without revealing themselves by sticking their heads out. After a visit to The Hague they crossed the English Channel by steamer for a visit to London, which included the usual tourist musts such as the changing of the guard, both houses of parliament, and the Tower of London. In St. Paul's Cathedral they saw the memorial chapel which honors the American dead of WW II. Mrs. Snyder also learned quite a lot about Czechoslovakia, which just recently started to allow tourists to visit from her roommates who visited relatives there and brought back reports of what life is like in this Communist satellite country which sound like pages from an Orwell novel. Mrs. Snyder says that she has acquired a new appreciation of what it means to live in America with all of the freedoms and conveniences we so often take for granted. As a witness to the speed of the jet age, on the return trip she got up in the morning in London, flew to Kennedy Airport, transferred to a jet to take her to McCoy Airport, and went to bed that night in her own home.

MISS ZVORYKIN

French Class On Schedule At Lake Mary

Classes in conversational French will be presented at the Lake Mary Elementary School starting at 7 p.m. on Sept. 17, according to E. S. Douglass, director of vocational education for the Seminole County Board of Public Instruction.

Douglass said that the instructor will be Miss Irina Zvorykin of Longwood. Miss Zvorykin came to Longwood in 1951 and holds an associate degree from Orlando Junior College in foreign languages.

Students must purchase their text and pay a small registration fee, Douglass said. Classes will meet twice each week from 7 until 10 p.m. and meeting nights will be determined when the classes are organized.

Persons interested, Douglass said, should report to the Lake Mary school at 7 p.m. on Sept. 17. Further information can be obtained by contacting Douglass at the School Administration Building in Sanford.

VFW Auxiliary Has Meeting In DeBary

By Mrs. Frank White
Members of the Auxiliary Unit to DeBary VFW Post 8093 elected a new trustee and heard regular reports during a brief business session held following the August combined meeting of the Post and Auxiliary to welcome District Eight Commander Robert L. Taylor, Senior Vice Commander Vince McGourty and Adjutant Peter Bowan on their official visit to DeBary.

Named as the new trustee for a three year term was Mrs. George Zellar.

Ann Morrison, rehabilitation chairman, reported on cheer cards sent to veterans and to Past President Francanna Howard during her confinement in Seminole Memorial Hospital.

Announcement was made that the Auxiliary had been credited in the amount of $81.10 for clothing and other articles donated to the Lake City Veterans Hospital. The group voted to donate $5 to the District Eight Pipe and Drum Corps which is planning to enter competition at the National VFW Convention in Cleveland, Ohio.

It was agreed to change the regular meetings nights of the unit from the third Thursday of each month to the third Tuesday of each month with the next meeting to be held Sept. 15 at the Firemen's Recreation Hall.

Candidates Need Cash

No matter which method of accounting one prefers, the First Family is far from being in financial straits.

The Lyndon Johnsons are reportedly worth from $3.5 million to $14 million. (The difference is between the actual "book" value and potential market value of their holdings.)

The Johnson family's financial disclosure follows that of the Barry Goldwaters, who are worth about 1.7 million.

As in the President's family, most of the Goldwater wealth belongs to the feminine half. The senator's personal fortune is around a half million dollars, about the same as the President's.

There is no surprise in the news that we have, and not for the first time, two rich men running for the highest office in the land. If there be an issue in this, then let the candidates make the most of it.

The only issue, of course, could be one of improprieties (if any) involved in the amassing of and employment of wealth by a candidate or incumbent—not whether a man in public office is or ought to be rich.

There is one other pertinent question suggested, however, one that has been asked often enough before: Has the American society reached the stage where only rich men can run for political office?

But a quick glance at history reminds that our first president was, if not rich, at least a landowner and gentleman farmer of substantial means—an aristocrat in the best meaning of the word. Indeed, as historian Charles Beard pointed out many years ago, the Constitution itself was written by wealthy merchants and landowners. For a time, voting was conditioned in many of the states on the basis of personal worth (though the requirements were modest). The first president who could be considered one of the "common" people—Andrew Jackson—attained the status of the landed gentry.

There have been presidents who came to office with modest enough means, and at least one—U. S. Grant—who left office to return to poverty. But a good share of our chief executives have been rich by any standards, and a few have been real plutocrats.

Yet while history shows that wealth has never been a hindrance to the seeking of high office in this democracy, it also shows that, with a few exceptions, it is not the money that made the man but the man who made the money.

That is, able, successful, accomplished men—or men with the potentiality of being so—are fortunately often attracted to politics and government. Financial success is a frequent sign of their general ability to administer, to direct, to lead (but not the only sign, as witness Abraham Lincoln).

Undeniably it takes money, and a great deal of it, to run for any office today, even that of city councilman. The cost is going up every year. Plenty of this money has to come out of a candidate's own pocket.

But though the political parties are constantly seeking both attractive candidates and loaded donors, the two are certainly not necessarily one and the same.

Washington, not to mention 50 state capitals and thousands of city and town halls, is full of ex-farmers and ex-newspaper boys, and the last one has not yet sat in the White House.

Thought For Today

Now therefore fear the Lord, and serve him in sincerity and in faithfulness; put away the gods which your fathers served beyond the River, and in Egypt, and serve the Lord. Joshua 24:14.

No man can produce great things who is not thoroughly sincere in dealing with himself.—James Russell Lowell.

Lyle C. Wilson Says:

Backlash Coming?

President Johnson has polls to support his confidence that the so-called white backlash does not much mar his election chances. He has polls and other evidence to support his confidence to support his confidence that Sen. Barry M. Goldwater will be hard hit by a Republican voter bolt from his presidential candidacy.

LBJ calls that the frontlash and he invites White House visitors to talk and to write about it.

But this essay will be more about the backlash because it appears that the President is not reading widely enough in his pursuit of backlash information. LBJ should keep on top of the school news from New York. For him, it is not good.

New York state judges are busy — busy ruling that little white kids can be shifted from neighborhood schools to elsewhere on a racial basis. The method is to pair elementary schools, one largely Negro and the other largely white. By shunting the little white kids out of their largely white school to the other school, the school authorities explain that they overcome a racial imbalance. This racial imbalance exists when there is a substantially more than a majority of little Negro kids in an elementary school.

White parents don't like this system. They go to court in protest and they lose. To an on-looker from the outside it would appear that this is an efficient system of creating white backlash resentment against Negroes and against the political authorities who want to shunt the little white kids around.

In New York, of course, the municipal authorities are Democratic. It is a fact that the state Office of Education is about as much involved in this pairing system as are the local Democratic officials. New York state, of course, is controlled by the Republicans. But Republican candidate Goldwater probably would not suffer too greatly for the sins, real or imagined, of Republican Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller's New York state administration. Rockefeller and Goldwater are not very friendly enemies, at best.

The little white kids lost a case last week before state Supreme Court Justice Nicholas M. Pette. The Parents and Taxpayers Coordinating Council (PTCC) sued to prevent the pairing of two Brooklyn schools. Counsel for PTCC argued that this pairing would be against public policy because of a stipulation in the 1964 Civil Rights Act which said:

"Desegregation shall not mean the assignment of students to public schools in order to overcome racial imbalance."

The New York City Board of Education previously had won two such cases. The courts are taking a firm position on the shuffling around of the little white kids because they are white. It is argued by the courts, also, that educational factors are involved. It cannot be argued that the shuffling around is not in large part on racial grounds. If Negroes were so shuttled the shuttlers would seem to be in danger of prosecution under terms of the Civil Rights Act. But, maybe not. The law is complex.

However that may be, the parents of the little white kids are unhappy. They picked the Democratic National Convention asking for a platform plank in their defense. They didn't get it. If they don't spin off into a backlash, it will be a wonder.

The Lighter Side

WASHINGTON (UPI) — For the next several years political analysts and historians will be clarifying the 1964 Democratic National Convention.

The main question to be answered: What finally swung the presidential nomination to Lyndon B. Johnson?

From my vantage point, lying in bed watching the proceedings on television, it appeared that Wednesday night's big demonstration turned the tide in Johnson's favor.

I have been observing Democrats for many years and I have noticed they are almost totally unable to resist balloons.

Johnson's floor lieutenants astutely had a large number of balloons in readiness and at a moment carefully timed for maximum strategic impact, released them. After that LBJ had the nomination in the bag.

I realize, however, that television doesn't always give you the big picture. On my act, for instance, the picture is only 18 inches wide. Therefore, I called up a colleague who was on the scene in Atlantic City to see if he confirmed my analysis.

"You couldn't be more wrong," he told me. "The demonstration had little or nothing to do with Johnson's winning the nomination. Those co-nominating speeches were what put him over."

"If there had been only one nominating speech, plus the usual quota of seconding speeches, he would never have made it.

"Even with two nominating speeches, the outcome was in doubt right down to the seventh seconding speech. Had they stopped after six seconding speeches, it would have been a different story."

Well, that's one man's opinion. Another colleague of mine believes the turning point came when Lady Bird, Lynda Bird and Luci Baines entered the Convention Hall just before the Wednesday session began.

"I haven't checked the record on this," he said, "but I believe it will show that neither party in modern times has nominated a presidential candidate who did not have his family in the gallery."

"By showing up when they did, Lady Bird, Lynda Bird and Luci Baines saved the day for Lyndon."

And so it goes. Other analysts undoubtedly will claim that Carol Channing's rendition of "Hello, Lyndon" pulled it out of the fire for him.

The true perspective can only be obtained by pinning down the delegates as to what swayed them to Johnson. And that will be difficult to do because many of them were preoccupied with other matters at the time.

They were caught up in the great web of suspense over whether Hubert Humphrey could be persuaded to accept the vice presidential nomination.

Peking Infiltrates Africa

By K. C. Thaler
United Press International
LONDON (UPI) — Communist China, which has chosen Africa as the key area for its drive to capture the leadership of the underdeveloped world, is pushing a major infiltration campaign in the continent.

Peking is doing this by a combined diplomatic, ideological and economic offensive. To all appearances, it has already made sizable inroads.

In record time China has set up 16 embassies throughout Africa, representing about one third of her total diplomatic representation worldwide. Most of them are manned with key personnel.

The offensive is two-pronged: It is directed against the so-called imperialist West and equally against Russia whose influence Peking appears determined to undermine and oust wherever possible.

All indications suggest Peking has chosen Africa as a major battleground in the fight for leadership of the world Communist movement.

The growing importance which Peking attaches to Africa was spotlighted earlier this year when Premier Chou En Lai chose to tour African states in a sustained effort to make friends and cement the newly won friendships.

Soviet Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev considered this ostensibly alarming enough to counter with a trip in May to Cairo which he made the base for his appeal to Africans.

Communist China's strategy is designed to win support of Africans by offering backing of their struggle against colonialism and neo-colonialism. It proposes a policy of aggressive and militant revolutions, as opposed to Russia's co-existence line. It appeals to anti-white racialism.

Peking operates its campaign from several key centers in Africa. Cairo and Algiers are the operational bases for north Africa and the Middle East. Mali and Guinea are the bases in west Africa, and the Congo for central Africa.

Ghana and Tanganyika also are important key points, the latter notably because of its proximity to Northern Rhodesia and Portuguese Mozambique.

The 15 Chinese embassies in Africa presently—against a total of only 11 in Asia—are in Somalia, Zanzibar, Tanganyika, Kenya, Uganda, Burundi, Congo—Dravaville, Sudan, Ghana, Guinea, Mali, Morocco, Algeria, Tunisia and Egypt.

The degree of Peking's progress in Africa is difficult to measure. But experts claim it already has outdone Russia and in many places has virtually ousted Russian influence.

Dr. Crane's Worry Clinic

Joan and her new boy friend went through the proper motions of jolly dates, including movies, concerts, picnics, and attendance at church together. Soon that mysterious chemical magic called "love" developed. So word for the Marriage Tests below and use them to prevent divorce!

CASE T-663: Joan J., aged 24, is the teacher who has corresponded for several weeks with a school principal in a neighboring city.

"Dr. Crane, he is a good looking man and writes very interesting letters. "But I have no feeling of love for him. So how is it possible for romance ever to develop?"

LOVE FORMULA
Romances (and marriages) are not made in heaven.

They develop because of intentional (or accidentally) meetings of two people who are potential romantic possibilities.

Thereafter, if both of them go through the proper motions of love, they will soon begin to feel the corresponding emotions.

That's an axiom of Applied Psychology. IT NEVER FAILS! But rule your behavior more by your head than your heart. For you can always develop love, even out of blind dates or if you were paired off by your parents as used to be done in China.

Beware, however, for true love and sexual infatuation give you much the same physical reactions.

In both, you may have butterflies in your tummy, plus pounding pulse, breathlessness, etc.

So don't mistake these symptoms and thus believe mere physical magnetism is true love.

Instead, analyze yourself and your escort.

Is the focus of your interest on your own selfish pleasure or on the ultimate welfare of your sweetheart?

Many a selfish girl will thus want her escort to elope, even though it means his dropping out of school before he is prepared to earn a living.

Obviously, such a girl is not feeling true love, but mere selfishness!

She wants to flaunt a wedding ring. Or feel delighted to have a willing slave.

Or she wishes to avoid feeling left "out" when all the other girls in her age group or high school class are engaged and soon to be married!

Sometimes she simply wants to get away from her parents.

Or she feels so unwanted and unloved at home, that she ignores all warning signals by thus rushing into an obviously unwise marriage.

Girls are likely to want an early wedding for many EXTERNAL or social reasons. Men may rush into quickie marriages for INTERNAL or sexual reasons.

A girl usually relishes an elaborate wedding, plus her picture in the newspaper, as well as her ability to flash a diamond ring and wedding band.

And she enjoys the "Mrs." in front of her name, for then she gains entrance into the elite category of married women.

None of those factors has much weight with a man. His motives are usually internal; not based on society columns or social acceptance. Joan and her new boy friend were well suited to each other.

When they started dating and enjoying dinners, movies, concerts, etc., together, they automatically began to create a "current" called love, which lit them up and made them ecstatic.

They were soon engaged and are now happily married.

So send for my "Tests for Husbands and Wives," enclosing a long stamped, return envelope, plus 20 cents. Rate yourselves thereon and avoid divorce!

(Always write to Dr. Crane in care of this newspaper, enclosing a long stamped, addressed envelope and 20 cents to cover typing and printing costs when you send for one of his booklets.)

Editor, Herald:

About all the meaning I could get out of Catherine (Gahr's) contention that there is no such thing as a Democrat for Goldwater, is that she believes a real Democrat who refuses to vote for a phony in Democrat clothing should not vote at all.

Or else she thinks that we real Democrats have no right to brag about the fact that we are all for Barry!

Or maybe she has forgotten that no political party is bigger nor more important than the voters in this country? Party or not, we real Democrats heartily endorse Goldwater.

It is difficult to write an intelligent column for a mail service that will not be published for several days after it is released.

Right now for example I am up to my ears in the Democratic convention but by the time this reaches print the political orgy will be over. We will know who the vice presidential candidate will be, what Mississippi and Alabama delegates did and what happened at Pearl Mesta's party.

After all the fireworks are over I doubt if there will be much change in the situation. No more than after the San Francisco convention. We will still have to choose between Johnson and Goldwater and there will still be picket lines, strikes, juvenile delinquency, demonstrations. Americans will continue to die in Viet Nam, the United Nations will still be broke, Greece and Turkey will still be at each others throats over Cyprus, Castro will still be Papa Bear in Cuba, the Congo will still be a grand and glorious mess. The State Department will still be telling us everything is coming up roses. The Pentagon will still be assuring us that we are stronger than Ajax. Politicians will froth at the mouth and call each other double-dyed liars and the merchants will be reminding us that there are only so many days before Christmas.

The Beatles will still be extracting wild squeals from teenage admirers. DeGaulle will still be looking down his nose at the rest of the world and dreaming of France as a dominant world power. Khrushchev will be issuing threats and warnings one day and making peace overtures the next. Our so-called allies will continue to sell trucks and other equipment to Cuba, Congress will continue to nurture missionaries, Bobby Baker will continue to bank good cold cash. The Mets will continue to gain publicity as the world's worst baseball team. Women will still be arrested for following fashion's dictates and appearing on our beaches in topless bathing suits. Jimmie Hoffa will still be appealing and teamsters will still be footling the bill. Poverty will still be what it has always been. Unidentified landlords will continue to raise rents on sub-standard living quarters and contribute to human misery and the rising crime rate; but like juveniles, political bosses will see to it that their names never appear in print and nothing will be done to make them give even token improvements in the slum housing they wax fat on.

American taxpayers will continue to be taken for more and more, and their contributions will accomplish less and less. Uncle Sam will continue seeking friendship by throwing money from hell to break-fast. Sukarno and Nasser will take all they can get and then laugh like Little Audrey as they switch to Iron Curtain countries for more of the same. The Sphinx will continue to wear his inscrutable smile and the Coast Guard will continue to capture anti-Castro arms and ammunition from Cuban patriots who are seeking to overthrow Castro while the CIA provides arms and ammunition to other Cubans who hope to accomplish the same end.

The Supreme Court will continue to throw monkey wrenches in the machinery and politicians will go stark, staring mad in an effort to please their constituents and at the same time stand firm for law and order.

The average citizens will go about his business, muddled and confused. He is living from day to day in hopes that everything will work out all right. Maybe he will vote, if it doesn't rain, or nothing else interests.

The next skipper of the aircraft carrier, the USS Saratoga, will pay a one-day visit to Sanford Naval Air Station Friday getting briefed on NASC program. Capt. J. M. James of Cecil Field near Jacksonville will make the tour of the base.

An evening of social activities and dancing will be held by members and guests of the Fleet Reserve Association Friday starting at 6 p.m. The event will be staged at the lakefront hut.

Well, some of them don't give up too easily. A United Press International report the other day from Guam said U. S. Marine patrols were searching for two scantily-clad men believed to be World War II Japanese army stragglers. The men, one carrying a gun, were sighted near a garbage dump.

If you're light-fingered and bent on swiping a car or assorted parts, better steer clear of National Repossessions on Sanford Avenue. Chances are their reward offer of $500 for arrest and conviction of thieves working that area will spur additional "watchmen" at the scene. They've made this offer after a host of burglaries on their lot, according to the manager, Jack Martin.

The Pinecrest PTA will meet at the school at 7:30 p.m. Tuesday. A 30-minute business meeting in the auditorium will precede a 30-minute period when teachers will open their classrooms for meeting parents. Between 8:30 and 9 p.m. refreshments will be served in the school cafeteria. Mrs. J. L. Horton is the PTA president.

Television is being used to teach teachers how to use educational television, the Florida Institute for Continuing University Studies said today. Two series of televised lessons are being used for the first time by Florida school systems to aid their teachers in making the best use of educational television. The series was produced at Tampa Educational Television Station WEDU by the Florida Institute.

The Ginderville Volunteer Fire Department will meet jointly with the Ladies Auxiliary at their regular bi-monthly meeting, tonight at 7:30 at the Ebenezer Chapel. Final plans for a fish fry to be held at the Farmer's Auction Market, Sept. 25, will be made. Special guest at the meeting will be Miss Vickie McArdle who represented the Ginderville Volunteer Fire Dept. in the Miss Flame contest in Longwood.

How about this for growth: Florida's mushrooming population has moved the state from No. 10 to No. 9 spot in census bureau listings. In 1950, the men, women and children in the state numbered 4,951,560. And as of this week it is 5,705,000, or a jump of more than a quarter million in four years.

California leads the nation with 18,084,000. Others are: 2, New York, 17,915,000; 3, Pennsylvania, 11,450,000; 4, Illinois, 10,480,000; 5, Texas, 10,397,000; 6, Ohio, 10,100,000; 7, Michigan, 8,000,000; and 8, New Jersey, 6,682,000. Filling out the top ten is Massachusetts with 5,338,000.

Giant Rocket Shot Planned Off Cape Pad

CAPE KENNEDY (UPI)—The United States tonight plans to orbit its largest scientific satellite to study space and its hazards to manned voyages to the moon and planets.

The 1,078-pound orbiting geophysical observatory (OGO) is set to be rocketed on an orbital path that will take it one-third of the way to the moon. Launch time is from 9:24 p.m. EDT to 10:09 p.m. EDT.

Launch director Robert H. Gray said Wednesday hurricane Dora could pose a problem if it threatened the tracking station on Antigua in the Leeward Islands, but he said it was not likely to delay the shot.

OGO, first of a $210 million series of six large standardized spacecraft, is called a "streetcar satellite" because it carries 20 separate experiments as passengers—more than any other U. S. moonlet.

Most of its delicate instruments are designed to study space radiation, magnetic fields, space dust and radio noise from the sun and Jupiter.

Project scientist George H. Ludwig said OGO has several experiments to study and help predict the occurrence of solar flares—great bursts of deadly high-energy radiation from the sun that could endanger manned spaceflights.

OGO, which is 59 feet long and 50 feet wide with its solar panels, booms and antennas extended, will be hurled into the sky atop an Atlas-Agena rocket—the same model that fired the successful Ranger-7 picture-taking probe to the moon July 28.

Khanh Returns To Viet Nam Job

Premier Bows To U. S. Plea, Resumes Post

SAIGON, Viet Nam (UPI)—Premier Nguyen Khanh returned unexpectedly to Saigon today in apparent acceptance of an American suggestion that he return as soon as possible.

After Khanh stepped down from the presidency last week-end following two weeks of riots and went to sick leave, U. S. Ambassador Maxwell D. Taylor said Khanh "expects to return to Saigon in the next few days and resume his normal duties as head of government."

Khanh said Tuesday it would be more like two weeks because he needed rest. He was staying at the mountain resort of Dalat, 145 miles east of Saigon.

But today Khanh, who is 36, flew into the capital without announcement.

Neither acting Premier Nguyen Xuan Oanh, a civilian economist, nor Maj. Gen. Duong Van Minh, one of Khanh's major rivals, were in Saigon. Oanh and Minh had flown to the central Viet Nam city of Hue, 425 miles north of the capital, to try to convince student and Buddhist holdouts there to end their highly vocal opposition to the government.

Fifty miles south of Hue, at Danang where some of last week's worst riots occurred, Buddhists were still holding a kidnapped Roman Catholic army lieutenant, raising fears of more riots.

The government that Khanh was returning to thus was confronted with trouble on all sides.

Cape Facilities Visited By City Kiwanis Club

Thirty-five members of the Sanford Kiwanis Club and several guests took the VIP tour of the 16,000-acre Cape Kennedy-Merritt Island space flight area Wednesday.

The bus trip, which was arranged by Henry Decker, protocol officer of NASA, took the group through the launch sites of the famous space rockets, beginning with the Mercury Redstone launch site, where Astronauts Alan Shepard and Gus Grissom set out on the first two flights into space.

After viewing the launch sites, including that of the Saturn rockets, which will carry the men of the Gemini project to exploration of the moon in 1969, the group toured the initial layout of the space museum, which is now in process of being completed.

One of the highlights of the trip was the visit to the Merritt Island Saturn moon-exploration site, where the largest building in the world is being constructed to house the Saturn rocket in controlled-climate atmosphere.

This phase of the moon exploration project will launch the Apollo lunar landing spacecraft which will carry men to the moon and back to earth.

Decker traveled with the Kiwanis group, explaining the historical and future activities of the various spacecraft and the behind-the-scenes planning and construction that are carried on at the nation's space center.

Dora, Cleo Swing Out To Ocean, Watch Lowered In Island Area

CHASH INJURES four persons when the car in which they were riding rumbled a tree on the Old Orlando Highway shortly before midnight Wednesday. Being at Seminole Memorial Hospital are Shirley Diane Stevenson, 17, of Winter Garden; Judy Ellis Abston, 18, of Ocoee; Susan Ann McQuillen, 17, of Winter Garden; and Leon Stevenson, 19, of Miami. 2 Hurricanes Churn Atlantic To Wild Frenzy

SAN JUAN, P. R. (UPI)—Giant size hurricane Dora turned toward the northwest today to aim its 115 mile an hour winds over the open ocean.

A hurricane watch was discontinued in the islands fringing the northeastern Caribbean but the San Juan...

TALLAHASSEE (UPI)—Gov. Farris Bryant urged the President today to declare parts of Florida hit by Hurricane Cleo a major disaster area and allocate an immediate $200,000 in federal funds for emergency work.

Bryant announced following a meeting with Civil Defense authorities that damage from Cleo was estimated at $115 million of which $11.5 million was to public facilities and the rest to private structures.

Weather Bureau warned residents of the Leeward Islands to stay away from low-lying beaches to escape the hurricane backwash of heavy seas and rough surf.

More than 1,000 miles to the north, hurricane Cleo also whipped harmlessly away from land with winds up to 100 mph. The Washington Weather Bureau located Cleo at 11 a. m. (EST) about 280 miles north-northeast of Bermuda, near Latitude 37.4, Longitude 62.2. It was moving toward the east-northeast at 20 MPH.

The San Juan Weather Bureau centered hurricane Dora at 11 a. m. (EST) about 400 miles east-northeast of San Juan, near Latitude 19.2, Longitude 68.7. Turning to a northwest course, Dora slowed down in forward movement to about 12 MPH, forecasters said.

"Present indications are that hurricane Dora will pass to the north and east of the Leeward Islands this afternoon and tonight," the mid-day advisory said. "Northwesterly winds of 25 to 35 MPH and rough seas and heavy surf will be experienced in the islands."

AMA Chief Felled By Brain Damage

JACKSON, Wyo. (UPI)—Dr. Norman A. Welch, president of the American Medical Association, stricken Wednesday night with a massive cerebral hemorrhage, was reported in critical condition today at St. John's Hospital here.

Doctors said Welch "took a turn for the worse" at about 2:30 a. m. MST today and at 5 a. m. underwent brain surgery. The operation lasted 1 1/2 hours.

Dr. Brendan P. Pihbas of Casper, Wyo., head of a team of physicians attending the stricken 62-year-old AMA president, said it was believed the hemorrhage was caused by a tachycardia, a speeding up of the heart.

The operation early today was performed by a Casper brain surgeon, Dr. Frank Sorroah.

Welch had flown here from his home in Boston, Mass., to address the annual banquet of the Wyoming State Medical Society at Jackson Lake Lodge. He was stricken in his room, shortly before he was to leave for the banquet.

Check Slated On Tax Rate

Glenn Stephenson, member of the Altamonte Springs Town Council, Wednesday night obtained the approval of fellow board members to compare the town's tax roll figures with those of the Seminole County Tax Assessor's office so that any apparent inequities can be analyzed.

Stephenson asked Town Attorney, Joe Davis, to prepare a resolution which the councilman presented to the board Wednesday evening.

After adopting the proposal the Council agreed to convene for a special meeting Sept. 9, to discuss the analysis and if necessary to employ professional appraisers to reassess properties so designated by the board.

'Safe Driver' Hunt Planned By Pilots

A "Safe Driver of the Month" program has been established by the Sanford Pilot Club, according to an announcement today by Vola Lambertson, chairman of the Public relations committee of the local organization.

The club will honor each month a student driver selected by Mr. and Mrs. Albert K. Campbell, new student driver instructors at Seminole High, the Florida Highway Patrol, the Seminole County Sheriff's Department and the Sanford Police Department.

Each month's winner will receive a citation from the Pilot Club and also a tank of gasoline free from a local service station.

The program has been approved by Andrew Bracken, principal of Seminole High. It was termed by Mr. and Mrs. Campbell as a great stride forward in safety by encouraging all students to be doing their utmost to drive safely not only during the period of competition but at all times.

Nikita Nearing End Of Chat With Slavs

PRAGUE, Czechoslovakia (UPI)—Soviet Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev, nearing the end of his 10-day visit to Czechoslovakia, arranged today to visit an aircraft factory.

Khrushchev toured Czech collective farms Wednesday dispensing advice on chickens and corn to farm workers and managers.

Today's schedule also included further conferences with his host, President Antonin Novotny. It was believed they were discussing ways of easing tension with West Germany, Czechoslovakia's neighbor to the West. Khrushchev wants more trade with West Germany and plans to visit there next year.

Khrushchev told Czech agricultural workers during his visit to a model poultry farm Wednesday that they could learn a lot from American methods.

"The capitalist world has shown an example of large-scale poultry farming," he told them. "This must be acknowledged. I am not afraid of being criticized for praising capitalism for its production of eggs and meat. It is achieving good results."

Khrushchev was scheduled to leave for home Friday. He arrived here last Thursday to take part in 20th anniversary celebrations of the Slovak uprising against the Nazi German occupation.

Parents Map Strategy Over School Bus Ride Feud

By Jane Casselberry
 The annual battle of the school buses is on once more and 30 irate Casselberry parents whose children attend South Seminole Elementary and Junior High Schools made plans Wednesday night to attend the Sept. 10 meeting of the County School Board, en masse, to protest the elimination of bus service to those living within the two mile limit.

The parents, who live in the area east of Highway 17-92 in Casselberry, gathered at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Lovelace, 1556 Oakwood Lane, to discuss their common problem. Together they represented some 43 school children estimated to be only approximately one-third of those affected by the new policy in this area. The children have been transported as courtesy riders since the opening of Altamonte Elementary School five years ago.

Robert Dyart of 220 Mockingbird Lane acted as chairman of the group which is circulating petitions to present to county school officials. It was consensus of opinion that it is too far for the younger children to walk since many of the youngsters live just under the two-mile limit. Conditions are hazardous due to heavy traffic going to and from the school and there are no sidewalks.

Support on behalf of the Casselberry parents has been offered by Mayor Owen Anstey, Marshal Gus Sawyer and Representative Jan Fortune.
