

TEXAS SENATE VOTES TO CALL LONG A LIAR

Amendment To Dress Up Longage Used In Resolution Defeated By Vote Of Body

AUSTIN, Texas, Sept. 17.—(A.P.)—Shortly after the Texas house of representatives overwhelmingly defeated a bill embodying the principles of the "no rotten" plan of Gov. Huey P. Long, of Louisiana, the senate last night adopted a resolution terming the state executive a "consummate liar."

The senate resolution contained by asserting Governor Long's statement that members of the Texas legislature had been bought was "a lie made up of the whole cloth."

After defeating an amendment to reach the resolution in "more decent language," the senate adopted the declaration by a vote of 11 to 7. Supporters of the defeated amendment said Governor Long's statements were untrue, but they thought the wording of the resolution should be changed.

The senate action followed a purported Long statement alleging that members of the Texas legislature "have been bought like a sack of corn to vote against the cotton prohibition plan" and that "they have paid them off like a slot machine."

Senator Walter Woodruff of El Paso said he was for the resolution because "Long is a liar and afraid to come to Texas," and "this is the only way we can teach him."

The overwhelming strength of opponents of the plan for a complete 1932 cotton planting bill, was demonstrated by the house vote of 92 to 35 which killed the measure.

The house was sitting on a committee of the whole on the vote unexpectedly developed. It was preceded by lengthy oratory.

Sponsors of a cotton curtailment program followed their victory over the Long forces by a second vote which placed the house on record as favoring the Olsen bill, embodying a plan for one-third acreage reduction. The vote on this motion was 95 to 35.

House placing the Olsen bill on the special order of business this morning were carried by large majorities. Its passage in the house today appeared to be a foregone conclusion.

No vote on any cotton program has been taken in the senate.

A further shift of Southern sentiment against the Long proposal also was noted today. South Carolina senators in debate, an anti-Long speaker in debate, and approval of the plan "by a large majority" were noted.

A substitute bill proposing acreage reduction was introduced.

ENGLAND ACTS TO END TROUBLE IN NAVY SQUADRONS

Britons Are Shocked To Hear Of Unrest Among Bluejackets

LONDON, Sept. 17.—(A.P.)—Demonstrations by members of the Atlantic fleet against pay cuts, which have shocked Britons to whom naval tradition is sacred, yesterday set in motion government machinery to alleviate hardships that may result from the new economy plan.

Sir Austin Chamberlain, first lord of the admiralty, announced in the House of Commons to the accompaniment of jeers and taunts from the labor side that an investigation will be conducted into the bluejackets' complaints. The board of the admiralty, he said, will propose readjustments when the inquiry is completed.

Sir Austin also informed the house that the fleet, which has been concentrated at Intergordon, Scotland, in preparation for maneuvers, has been ordered dispersed and each vessel directed to proceed to its home port.

In his statement he gave no details concerning the extent of the unrest or the manner in which it had been manifested.

From other sources, however, some information has reached London and the man in the street is talking about "strikes" and "mutiny" instead of "grievance," the term used officially to describe the trouble.

Preliminary Steps Taken In Florida's Part In World Fair

DELAND, Sept. 17.—(A.P.)—Detailed preparation of Florida's exhibit for the world exposition at Chicago in 1933 as a "centennial task," Earl W. Brown, who was appointed to the position of manager of the exhibit Saturday, has already taken under consideration preliminary steps in connection with the establishment of a publicity bureau which, he said yesterday, will be in active operation soon.

It is contemplated, Mr. Brown said, that Willis Powell, widely known Florida newspaperman and publicity expert, will have charge of state publicity under the direction of Nathan Mayo, chairman of the publicity committee, and himself as manager. Mr. Powell is well known locally having handled publicity for the Volusia County Fair Association for several years past. He will divide his time between the Tallahassee and Deland offices, it was said.

No state in the union, it was pointed out, has the diversity of products—citrus fruits, agriculture, live stock and miscellaneous—possessed by Florida and Mr. Brown expressed himself as being convinced of the incalculable value of the Chicago exhibit to the state in view of the fact that the Middle West, being in a measure unimpaired as to Florida's possibilities, offers virgin territory for the development of new markets and tapping of sources of tourist revenue hitherto untouched.

Motive For Slaying Is Believed Found

HAMPTON, Va., Sept. 17.—(A.P.)—Coroner George Vanderlivo said in circuit court today he believed the motive for drowning Mrs. Jenny Graham Kane was revealed in a letter signed "E. H. D." suggesting that Professor Edna Kane of the University of Tennessee set off by his wife. He said he received the letter had written by Betty Dail and that it probably had been destroyed.

The coroner, appearing in opposition to bail for the professor who is held for murder, didn't explain how the contents of the letter became known to officers, who the woman was, or why he identified her as the writer of the letter. He said, however, that other letters of the same signature suggesting travel in cut of way places in Europe and of doing other unusual things are in his possession.

DENVER, Colo., Sept. 17.—(A.P.)—A denunciation of a "growing divorce menace" was voiced yesterday at the fifth convention of the Protestant Episcopal Church, as a point commission prepared to submit a proposed canon liberalizing rules for the remarriage of divorced persons.

The Rt. Rev. Michael Bellon, Episcopal Bishop of St. Albans, London, England, said that "those who are convinced that Christian marriage is God's law for man, the alarming increase in the number of divorces and of the causes for divorce is sinister enough."

Bishop Furse, school superintendent Sunday by Presiding Bishop James De Wolf Powys of Rhode Island, who opposed the liberalization of church laws against divorce.

In his sermon, the English chaplain said: "But for more sinister is the attitude toward the whole sorry world, who profess the faith of Christ, and who, even officially by some Christian communions, an attitude either of acquiescence and condonation and some times a wrong those who care for the sanctity of marriage an attitude of almost hopeless despair."

Bishop Furse said that while Christians look with horror on the anti-fundamentalism in Soviet Russia, similar conditions exist in the rest of the world through the indifferent attitude toward the fundamentals of Christian life.

"The four objectives on which the attack has been launched by the Soviet government of Russia are: first, and foremost, the home and the Christian idea of marriage; secondly, the teaching of the Christian faith to young and old; thirdly, the public worship of Almighty God; and fourthly, those who are set to teach that faith and minister in that worship."

Citrus Importance Stressed By Dawe In Deland Speech

DELAND, Sept. 17.—Before a representative group of Deland business and professional men, assembled at a special dinner in the dining room of the Putnam Hotel, Governor Dawe, sometime editor of The Nation's Business and author of The Florida Industrial Survey, demonstrated last night the incalculable importance of the citrus industry to the business and industrial life of Florida and cited statistics to show the effect upon business of every additional dollar brought into the state through the marketing of citrus fruit.

To stress the tremendous investment, annual turnover and the dependence of the homes of Florida upon this industry, Mr. Dawe quoted figures published by the Florida Times-Union, Jan. 9, 1931.

Other speakers of the evening included Karl Lehmann, secretary of the Seminole County Chamber of Commerce, who acting upon the invitation of the Citrus Growers Clearing House Association, has arranged a series of conferences for the consideration of the citrus industry and its problems; Mrs. Edna G. Fuller of Orlando, representative in the legislature from Orange County; and James C. Morton of Auburndale.

Mr. Fuller pointed out, in the course of his talk, that physicians and dietitians are directly and indirectly helping the citrus industry, in explanation of which she quoted the modern day proverb of which she is said to be the author, that "An orange a day keeps the rickets away."

WOMEN SMOKE MORE
LONDON, Sept. 17.—(A.P.)—An increase of 13,000,000 pounds in the annual consumption of tobacco in Great Britain during the last two years was ascribed to an increase in smoking by women, in an address to the house of commons yesterday by Maj. W. E. Elliot, financial secretary to the treasury.

NAVY HOLIDAY PLAN WINNING FAVOR OF U. S.

State Department Is Sympathetic With Suggestions Made By Grandi And Borah

WASHINGTON, Sept. 17.—(A.P.)—A sympathetic attitude toward a naval holiday plan was expressed today by the State Department in a report to the House of Representatives.

Who says there is a "naval holiday" in the Navy Department is not for the first time. For the first time, however, it was made official by the State Department in a report to the House of Representatives.

The report, which was made by the Grandi and Borah committee, says that the plan is "winning favor of the U. S. Navy."

Important Details In Collings Case Being Kept Secret

HUNTINGTON STATION, New York, Sept. 17.—(A.P.)—Major and Captain Fred M. Collings, who were shot down in the Philippines, are being held in a secret place, according to a report from a source in the military establishment.

The source, who is a high-ranking official in the military establishment, said that the details of the Collings case are being kept secret for the purpose of maintaining the morale of the troops.

End Of Truck License Row Is Believed Near

CHATTANOOGA, Sept. 17.—(A.P.)—An end to controversy between several southern states over truck license tags will be sought here tonight at a conference of motor vehicle commissioners of various states.

SWOPE OFFERS PLAN TO AVERT LABOR'S GRIEF

Industrialist States Co-operative Management Would Do Away With Trouble

NEW YORK, Sept. 17.—(A.P.)—A co-operative management-employee plan he said would help eliminate unemployment, stabilize business, and remove the worker's fear of idleness, illness and old age, was offered yesterday by Gerald Swope, president of General Electric Company.

Addressing the National Manufacturers Association, Swope warned industry it must act to forestall legislation which he said threatens the fundamental structure of American business and society.

"Industry exists basically for serving the needs of the people," he said, "and therefore production and consumption must be coordinated. Shall we wait for society to act through its legislatures or shall industry recognize its obligation to its employees and to the public and undertake the task, co-ordination of production to the possible under our present laws."

He plan calls for compulsory pensions, unemployment disability and life insurance, and workmen's compensation, protection, the cost to be borne equally by employer and employee.

Under the plan the employer would be none of the actual benefits of such protection by switching from one company to another. If he went into business on his own, he would receive back all he had paid in, plus interest.

The stabilization of industry would be brought about through the compulsory formation, by law, of trade associations in virtually every industry and business in the country.

These groups would have broad powers under Swope's proposal. They would seek to coordinate production and consumption by controlling each industry's output on a broader more intelligent basis, thus tending to regularize employment.

"The psychology of fear must be removed," Swope said, "and this cannot be done unless the workers have reasonable expectation of protection for their families in case of the breadwinner's death, protection from old age, and protection against unemployment. By protection I mean protection they themselves help provide."

COACH BACHMAN SEES LEAN YEAR FACING HIS TEAM

Hopes Of Florida Are Resting On Promising Sophomore Crop

GAINESVILLE, Sept. 14.—(A.P.)—Football hopes at the University of Florida this year will rest on the "shock troops" of 1933 and a few promising sophomores.

Coach Charles Bachman openly and apparently justifiably forecasts one of the leanest years Florida has ever experienced.

Graduation, scholastic difficulties and other causes took an even denser letter-men from the coach's squad. The line was shot to pieces from tackle to tackle and only one regular backfielder is available.

The only beautiful part of the picture is that we have no prima donna," Coach Bachman says. "However, the spirit is the best I've ever seen here and the sophomores are willing. Maybe they'll surprise us."

Building for the future, is the way Coach Bachman expresses his 1933 work. He confidently believes he will have a conference leader in a year or so. That's why he is driving this out-of-season through such a hard first season. He wants them to be ready for later battles.

Bachman's biggest task is the making of a line. Jimmy Steele and Bill McKee, guards; Carlos Hunter and Dale Waters, tackles; Ben Closson and Frank Clark centers, all are gone. But the checks are not worrying him. Joe Hall, Ed Parnell and Spurgeon Cherry, all veterans, are back.

Jenkins, who played fullback last season, has been converted into a tackle. Guy Tapp and Charles Phil, reserves in 1932, and Bill Ferruzzi, a sophomore, are the other tackles.

Bachman is fairly pleased with J. D. Williamson and Don Foster, his guards. Bill Ramsey, who saw some service last year, probably will play center.

The backfield will be built around a junior, Al Rogers. It will do the passing and kicking, although there are several other backs who can pass and punt well.

TRUCK GROWERS SWAMP ORLANDO OUTFIT 24 TO 12

Moss Goes On Batting Rampage To Score 4 Home Runs, Single

By R. H. CULLUM.
Going on a batting rampage in the second inning and continuing it throughout the game, the Sanford-Oviedo Truck Growers diamond ball team defeated the Vitaras team of Orlando last night 24 to 12.

Johnny Hodge pitched for the Truck Growers and for the seven innings he was in the box held the Orlando team to eight hits, for a run, striking out eight. In the first inning, after G. Wright, first up, had singled, he struck out Wimberly, Hathaway and L. Wright in a row to end the inning. W. Kinlaw, another south-paw went into the box in the sixth and yielded up three hits good for four runs. The three runs made in the 9th inning by the Vitaras were directly due to errors.

Hallett started the game for the Vitaras and was not at all effective against the heavy hitting of the Truck Growers, the Growers putting over 20 runs during the five innings he lasted. Rex Williams relieved Hallett in the sixth and for the last three innings allowed the Sanford boys only four hits for four runs.

Moss, the erstwhile first baseman for the Sanford-Oviedo boys certainly had his batting eye with him, getting five out of five, a single and four home runs. This is a record for home runs by one player in any single game. Eddie Bender and W. Kinlaw were the other heavy hitters, Bender getting three out of four and Kinlaw three out of five. Hodge and Thurston also hit for the circuit. Hodge's blow coming in the second and Thurston's in the fourth.

Tomorrow night there will be a double header, the first game at 7:30 between St. Ivesburg State Champion girls team and the Sanford girls. The second game will be the third, a deciding game of the championship series.

On Friday night a benefit game will be staged for Stinson Kinlaw, who had the misfortune to get his right leg broken Monday in football practice.

Gold Being Sought On Wrecked Vessel

SAN PEDRO, Cal., Sept. 14.—(A.P.)—Upon the wreck of a cat and dog, the only living creatures aboard the wrecked Panama Mail liner, Colombia, which went in a storm depends the legality of claims to gold bullion worth $250,000.00 reported held in the strong room of the liner.

Under Mexican law a ship is not formally abandoned until every living thing has been taken off. Captain Theodore Oaks, skipper of the Colombia, left the cat and dog aboard to establish his company's claim to the wreckage which lies off the coast of Lower California. Meanwhile a salvage tug is speeding to the wreck to retrieve the bullion.

Leading Pros Of Nation Are Beaten In Opening Rounds

Providence, R. I., Sept. 14.—(A.P.)—Four of the outstanding members of the Professional Golfers association including Sir Walter Hagen, yesterday came to grief in the opening 36-hole matches of that body's championship play on the cramped and difficult Wannamoisett course.

Hagen, whose summer campaign includes but one important victory, the Canadian open, could not combat the accurate putting of old Pete O'Hara, who migrated to Verona, Pa., many years ago after winning the Irish championship.

The Irishman's opening round against Walter, who won the P. G. A. title five times when he was at his peak, was a neat 75 that gave him a three-up lead. Hagen, trying desperately to rally, only succeeded in doubling his drives as O'Hara one-potted him to death, winning in 187 holes. Hagen was better in the afternoon, but merely had to play safe to sail home with a 4 and 3 win.

Leo Diegel of Detroit, P. G. A. champion in 1928 and 1929, gave Wild Bill Mehlon, of New York, a bang-up battle for the late hole. Bill stepped his streak by sinking a pair of long putts for birds to clinch his 3 and 2 decision.

Johnny Farrell, of Mamaroneck, N. Y., successful yesterday morning in what started out as a five-covered play-off for a single match play berth, bowed out on the 26th green to Jim Foulis, of Chicago, 2 up. Farrell, needing that hole to square matters, trapped his tee shot and was over-cautious with a 20-foot putt. Foulis, on in two, holed out his second for a par four.

Cyril Walker, of Ridgewood, N. Y., subdued Ed Dudley, Concordville, Pa., 3 and 4. Dudley recently won the western open from Valparaiso, Ind.

Play in the lower half of the draw will pit Corey against Burke, the open champion, Al Espinosa, Chicago, against Mehlon, Shute and Foulis and Armour against Walter Murray, former public links player from Valparaiso, Ind.

Tommy Armour, defending champion, after being held even for 18 holes by Joe Kirkwood, trick shot apart from Chicago, cut loose in the afternoon with some par golf that enabled him to defeat the transplanted Australian, 2 and 1.

This year's open title, Billy Burke, of Greenwich, Conn., was not pushed by Dave Hackney, of Lowell, Mass. Burke had a two up lead at lunch, and managed to end the matter on the 32nd hole, where he sank a birdie stroke to become five up and three to go.

Gene Sarazen, another two-time P. G. A. winner and the leading contender for Armour's title, played the same kind of golf against Al Espinosa, Chicago, that he did Monday when he won the medal with a 36-hole total of 115. The Long Island Italian was a stroke over par 70 on his morning round, which put him three up on Espinosa, and on the second trip he won five of the outward holes before his opponent gained one at the turning green. The match ended on the 28th, where Gene gained a par four to become nine up.

BACKFIELD WILL BE CHIEF WORRY OF VOLS' COACH

Big And Experienced Line To Be On Hand To Help Tennessee

KNOXVILLE, Tenn., Sept. 14.—(A.P.)—A "mystery" backfield—probably the best during the Neyland regime—is the pre-season football outlook at the University of Tennessee.

Head Coach Bob Neyland isn't worrying over the line. It will average over 190 pounds. There is plenty of reserve strength. Only one regular, Harry Thayer, scrappy guard, is missing.

But the worry end of the Volunteer machine, Neyland admits, is a big question mark.

While a half-dozen huskies are sweating through early practice up in the mountains of East Tennessee, the coaching trio, Neyland, blasted out a 3 and 2 victory over Henry Cuiet, Stratford, Conn. Horton Smith, Detroit, defeated Walter Bemish, Genesee, N. Y., 7 and 6.

In the second rounds today Sarazen will oppose Paul Runyan, White Plains, N. Y. Macfarlane will engage Smith, Walker will play Johnny Golden, Norton, Conn., and O'Hara will try to out-putt Tom Cravy, of Albany, N. Y.

Harman Hilkman, 220-pound guard, holds an undisputed place in the line. Captain "Skeet" Mayer is having competition for center. Malcolm Aitken and Ray Saunders, regular tackles, have a couple of sophomore rivals, Al Austella, 210 pounds, and Bob Stafford, 220 pounds. The end positions are well protected. The Vols, with a five-year record of 43 wins, two losses and three ties, open the season Sept. 26 against a small nearby school, Maryville college.

Dodd, who did the passing, punting and "thinking" for the Neyland teams, is gone. Out of a wealth of backfield material no one seems fitted to take over his job. With Dodd went Hackman, who was on the receiving end of the Dodd-Hackman passing combination of last year.

Gene "Wild Bull" McEver, sensational back of 1928 and 1929, is back after a season's layoff with an injured knee. If he can hit his old stride, part of Neyland's backfield problems will be solved. McEver, well-versed in the Neyland style, may become team general.

Although Neyland has indicated he will depend upon a running attack, early practice has been spent in a flock of experiments to find a passing and receiving pair. A baffling aerial attack is Neyland's haunting forte.

Betty Feathers and Breezy Wynne are two fine sophomore backs who would fit into any running game. Then there are Ty Dunne, Shack Allen and Charley Kahlhase, backs of experience.

In Quest Of Knowledge

Throughout the whole United States at this time of year youngsters from six to sixteen and young men and women as old as twenty-two are dropping the work of the summer, or are turning from the pleasures of the past few months, and are directing their steps, as well as their thoughts, to schools, colleges and seminaries. School teachers are back at work and the classroom is again the scene of concentrated studies.

During the past few years—in fact, since the World War—a new realization of the importance of education seems to have made itself felt among the younger, as well as the older generations. It is not only in Florida, which has seen such amazing growth in population during the past decade, that schools and colleges have increased in size by enormous proportions, but also in practically every state in the union. Our educational facilities have apparently increased more in the past ten years than in the preceding century.

Young men and young women have come to realize that if they are to compete successfully with educated men and women they too must have the advantages of scholastic training. Whereas in other years the more quickly one could make his way into the world of business and begin the task of earning his daily bread, the more readily he was apt to be regarded as a happy prospect; nowadays the more persistently one pursues scholastic training, the brighter his chances in life are regarded. It is no longer considered unusual to continue in school or to go through college; it is simply the thing to do.

Unfortunately, however, remaining in school and obtaining diplomas is not all that is necessary in acquiring an education. There are too many young people these days who are being turned out from schools and colleges with little better education than some who have remained on the outside. In some instances we believe this is the fault of the educational system, but more often it is the fault of the student. If a person's desire for knowledge is really keen, he can learn in spite of educational systems.

Those who have no such desire are far better off at work in the fields or in business offices. There is no greater waste of time than attending classes with the mind left at home. There is no knowledge which a teacher can impart to a child whose thoughts are outside the classroom.

The Herald hopes there will be little of such time wasted in Sanford schools.

The Charity Racketeer

As the fall and winter months approach and the usual hordes of tramps from northern states make their way into Florida there will be a greater and greater play upon the charitable instincts of our people to give nickels or dimes for a cup of coffee, or a piece of pie at the back door to someone who claims to be starving to death, a victim of the depression.

Not all of such people, we are informed by Mrs. Helen Morse, Seminole County welfare director, are deserving of sympathy. Many of them are professional beggars who, when they ask for a dime, are in reality richer in this world's goods than the person asked. The Welfare Board investigates all cases of destitution and furnishes relief where relief is needed. Sanford citizens should assist the Board by notifying Mrs. Morse of cases of extreme poverty and by directing beggars to her office.

This problem is not peculiar to Sanford and is described in the Daytona Beach News Journal as follows: "The annual trek of the horde of professional winter 'tourists' with ingenious stories of hard luck has started Florida. These are the bums, panhandlers, thieves and non-producers who hope to avoid the snows and ice of northern regions, and get their living off the public in one way or another from begging to burglary."

"Perhaps the reason why these itinerant parasites thrive so well is because of the back door handouts and quarters that well meaning people give them. All social agencies are trying to use the 'work test' on them, to investigate their worthiness and to give them constructive help. Their work is often spoiled by such unwise relief methods.

"Everybody ought to understand that there is now a far-flung, highly efficient 'charity racket.' It takes every sort of form, so long as sympathetic people 'fall for the pitiable appeals, on streets and in house to house canvasses. The communities cannot hope to wipe out vagrancy, panhandling and the charity 'racketeer' who lives well on what he gets.

"During the past year, several cities have established bread lines. After two or three months, they have all been abandoned, because it was found that they were only encouraging the situation they were designed to relieve. Organized social agencies have protested such methods of relief, for they have been tried years ago and found wanting.

"In a Saturday Evening Post article, some time ago, it is reported that Mrs. E. H. Harriman, after receiving 6,000 appeals for help in one year, asking for a total of 22 million dollars, conducted a survey of the appeals with the Bureau of Municipal Research of New York and found that almost invariably there were ample resources in the city or town from which the begging letters came that were available for the needs of the beggars. The gist of the Post's article was that he giveth beeth who investigateth most."

TEN YEARS AGO TODAY

Repeal of the income surtax of 1 per cent on net incomes of more than $5,000 and less than $6,000 was agreed upon yesterday by the Senate finance committee. Reductions also were made in a number of brackets up to the maximum of 32 per cent, previously agreed upon.

Retail food prices increased on an average of 4.3 per cent in August compared with July prices, according to figures made public today by the Department of Labor. Statistics compiled are from reports of fifty-one cities. Prices increased four per cent in Jacksonville.

Declaring that intention "to stand on our constitutional rights of free assembly and free speech," organizers of the Ku Klux Klan in Louisville today are preparing to seek an injunction restraining Mayor Smith from carrying out his announced intention of preventing the meeting scheduled for tonight. Reverend C. C. A. Miller, prominent Baptist minister of Louisville, is scheduled to speak in the interest of the Klan.

IF IT PAYS TO ADVERTISE APPLES—

FLORIDA TIMES-UNION

If it pays to advertise apples, and it does, then why cannot the advertising of other agricultural products be made to pay? This is a question for farmers and stock growers, cattle, poultry and swine raisers, and others, to answer each for himself, or herself.

The answer to the question above propounded may be made more easy to answer after reading the following, from the Spokane-Review, published in the Northwestern section of the United States, where apple growing has become an enormous and very valuable industry, built up and promoted in its present proportion by means of liberal advertising followed by proper marketing of orchard products. The Spokane newspaper said:

Virtue may be its own reward, but virtue alone will not move a commodity in large quantities. There is less truth today than there once was in the declaration that the world will beat a path to a man's door, even in the forest wilderness, if he makes a better mouse-trap than any other man in local distribution of a product made by hand and limited in output, that might have been true. But where a State produces each year 40,000 carloads of a product, the bulk of which must be sold outside the State and a large amount in foreign countries, merit of the product alone is not sufficient to move it quickly at profitable prices. Washington apple growers, chiefly in the Wenatchee district, have learned that they must advertise in a big way, if they are to market their fruit successfully.

The announcement that they have signed up nearly 100 pages back of an advertising appropriation that runs up to $200,000 this year carries with it their conviction that it pays to advertise apples, after years of advertising.

SANFORD FORUM

Sanford, Fla., Sept. 11.

Editor The Herald: There seems to be so much talk about our so-called Republican prosperity, I believe 'tis my duty to write my views on the same and help to analyze the situation so far as possible, so's we can make up our minds we had ought to change our ways of living and so forth.

I have taken my own case for instance. I see my mistakes and many others have acted likewise. I bought a Ford instead of a farm and it is worn out, but the farm I bought is still okay. I invested in a radio instead of a cow, and the radio gives static instead of milk.

I am feeding five nice hounds which answer to the names of Red, Red Wing, Slobber, Jake and Hayrum, instead of five pigs. I had one piano tuned instead of the well cleaned out. I spent all my cash in 1929 and used my credit in 1930 and traded up my future wages on installments in 1931 so hard times caught me in bad shape last fall.

If I had only spent my last $10 for flour and meat instead of gas and oil, I would have been okay. I have a nice garage last year instead of covering my barn, and of both juics and grapefruit canned. The juics, of course, has its place as well as the canned grapefruit hearts, but there is no reason why the canned grapefruit should go into competition with the fresh grapefruit, as there are certain periods in the year when the canned product can be used to great advantage. It is interesting to note that California is one of Florida's best customers in the use of this product. It is my opinion, canned grapefruit juice is destined to be one of the largest drink sellers on the market, not only on account of its health-giving qualities, but because people who drink it are enthusiastic about its wonderful taste and flavor.

"It has been stated many times that the investment in the citrus business is about $200,000,000 dollar, and this is certainly correct. I found only, recently from some statistics I had gathered, that the groves alone in this state, figuring the bearing groves on a basis of $1000 an acre, and the non-bearing on a basis of $400, that there are 229,077,000 invested in groves in this state. It might also be interesting to note that there are more than 24,000 grove properties in Florida.

"It is hoped that the situation in this country will clear up to the point where the buying power will increase, and a time will come when we can have a hard job to ship our crop of citrus fruit at a fair price, and the crop being sufficient in size to give thousands of people work throughout the state which in turn keeps money in circulation and helps business in general."

REAR-ENDER'S Tire Service moved to new location in former Babcock building. Lake County has 2941 citrus groves, covering 244,000 acres, according to Wm. E. Moore of Jacksonville. Thomas C. Chase.

MRS. OWEN PAYS EULOGY TO YOUTH IN RECENT TALK

Avers Young People Hold Solution For Nation's Problems

HOMESTEAD, Fla., Sept. 16.—In a eulogy to the normal, right-thinking youth of the country as an answer to the country's economic and social problems, and with a glowing description of the proposed national Everglades tropic park and its significance to the future of Florida, Congressman Ruth Bryan Owen Friday won the plaudits of 400 residents in the Homestead grammar school auditorium.

The park will be one of the biggest projects Florida has ever had," she said. "And the best thing is that it is so perfectly located at the extreme end of the state that in order to get there everyone will have to come all the way down through the state and all the way back through the state. Though the bill was introduced too late to pass Congress last season it will be up early in the next session, and it is approved by the head of the National Audubon society, the secretary of the interior, the head of the national museum of Washington, the national park service and by leading scientists from all over the country. In Washington when I first began talking about it they called it 'your park' or worse still, 'that park of yours,' but now it has become 'our park,' and they're all fighting for it. Experts estimate that this park will bring $20,000,000 a year into the state."

Mrs. Owen enumerated the qualities of Florida under a debt and credit column, with the latter in preponderance. "Three words," she said, "will sum up our debt column: Boom, hurricane and Mediterranean fruit fly. We should remove the landmarks that dot our outlying sections like tombstones and the subdivision gateways that lead nowhere and get the psychology of the boom out of our systems. We should stop advertising our storms to the whole country before they arrive, as usually they don't ever get here. And we should reimburse the grove owners whose groves were destroyed in the fruit fly campaign and then we should forget all about that fly."

In the credit column she placed first the climate, then the state's location on the main highway between North and South America; the all-year-around crops with the possibilities of diversification to grow everything; the appropriations made by the federal government, totaling $20,514,925 for the state and $15,977,316 for this congressional district for public buildings and river and harbor improvements; the national park, and last, the energy and idealism of American youth.

"I would rather have high school boys count the votes in our city elections than grow wheat," she said in praise of the caliber of the students of her district who made the annual pilgrimage to Washington as her guests. "They are not afraid to tackle any problem. They know how to solve all our difficulties. Their solutions may not always be practical, but they are marked by the freshness of enthusiasm and idealism and they are ready to shoulder responsibilities. They are in touch with the world and in tune with modern thought, and when they know that responsibility rests upon their shoulders they are ready to serve."

Three Killed When Naval Plane Falls In Panama Region

WASHINGTON, Sept. 17.—(A.P.)—Three of the crew of a navy amphibian transport plane spending medical supplies from the Canal Zone to hurricane-swept Balboa, British Honduras, died yesterday as their ship crashed in flames near David, Panama.

The fourth member of the crew received serious burns, but was expected to live. Hoping the accident to the department, Commander A. D. Bernhard commanding the fleet air base at Coco Solo, whence the plane left at 8 A. M., said a duplicate store of supplies was being prepared for plane transport today unless countermanded.

The dead: Lieut. Junior Grade Crighton L. Lanford, Plattsburg, Mo. pilot. Infra L. Jenkins, chief aviation pilot, Cochr. Mo. Arthur G. Miller, aviation mechanic's mate, Littleton, N. Y. Roy J. Miller, radio man, third class, Erwin, S. D., although seriously burned, was expected to recover.

Commander Bernhard said the cause of the forced landing which was being attempted when the plane crashed was unknown. The plane was ditched. It carried 100 medical supplies, 50 rolls of gauze, 100 pillow cases and 100 sheets.

Yesterday cheering was heard aboard the ships. When reveille blew on the battleship Rodney, the men tumbled out of their hammocks and gathered on the gun turrets, where they raised a rousing cheer for King George. Leave had been stopped yesterday but normal harbor duties were carried out. Stories about what actually was going on aboard the ships ranged all the way from statements that virtually no work was being done to reports that drills and routine duties were gone through as usual.

All stories agreed that the whole proceedings had been accomplished with the utmost good humor, and no disorder was reported. It was reported that when the men started their demonstration by refusing to weigh anchor they gave three cheers for the king to show that they remained loyal. All the men of the royal naval barracks at Portsmouth were mustered yesterday and, with bands playing, marched into the gymnasium where they were addressed by the captain in charge of the subject of the proposed cuts.

It was said last night that, despite rumors to the contrary, the men expressed no resentment. Some trouble was reported among the destroyer and submarine flotillas at Rosyth, the other Scottish base of the Atlantic fleet, but the report could not be verified. In all the other great naval bases—Plymouth, Devonport, Chatham and Portsmouth—everything was said to be normal.

There was uneasy speculation in some quarters about how the navy's protest would affect the national government and whether it would strengthen the hands of other sections of the nation that are resisting pay cuts proposed in the government's emergency budget. There were no signs today of any form of dissatisfaction in the army, which also came under the ax. The pay of the majority of privates in British regiments will not, however, be affected. The admiralty last night issued a statement with a view of removing misapprehension regarding the naval cuts.

Declaring it had been reported that able seamen would have their pay cut as much as 25 percent, the admiralty statement said the sailors' total emoluments were made up of a number of ingredients, of which substantive pay was only one. The proposed reductions would affect substantive pay only. If total emoluments were taken into consideration, the percentage of the cuts would be seen to be much less than if all other emoluments except substantive pay were left out of account.

sidered, State Department officials said. Such details, they explained would await determination by international negotiation if and when a naval holiday is officially proposed abroad. The desire of the United States to avoid taking the initiative in this direction was emphasized. Seven private shipbuilding companies and five government navy yards sought contracts for 10 destroyers. They are the first naval construction appropriations approved by Congress since the London treaty and will surpass the present type in size, speed and armament.

A contract for an eleven-gun destroyer was let to the New York Navy Yard in June. Despite the fact that only 11 vessels have been appropriated for since the London conference, six 10,000-ton 8-inch gun cruisers previously provided for have been launched subsequent to the treaty. The modernization of the battleships Pennsylvania and Arizona had been completed, and there is now under way construction of seven 10,000-ton 8-inch gun cruisers. The aircraft carrier, three fleet submarines and modernization of three more battleships.

The State Department believes a naval holiday would assure a much better atmosphere at the general disarmament conference at Geneva in February. Foreign Minister Grandi's proposal for a naval suspension was made Sept. 6 in the League of Nations assembly at Geneva. German delegates were the only ones to oppose any suspension for the plan of the treaty. Senator Borah made his sug-

SHORT RAILWAY LINES PLEAD FOR ADVANCE IN RATE

Express Willingness Not To Include Agricultural Products

WASHINGTON, Sept. 17.—(A.P.)—A plea for favorable action on the railroad's petition for a 15 per cent freight rate increase on the ground that they had disclosed "a situation of today" was made to the Interstate Commerce Commission yesterday by 153 short lines. A brief filed by the short lines, while indicating a willingness to exempt farm products from the increase, asserted the commission was obligated to grant higher rates when railroads show the need for such action in order to keep their income close to the 5-3-4 per cent return allowed by law.

The brief was submitted preparatory to the opening of oral arguments Monday on the railroad's application for a blanket rate increase. Two other groups filed statements at the same time opposing any increase. One, presented on behalf of 350 firms producing 110 commodities, urged that no increases be granted beyond the Eastern class rates which become effective Dec. 3. It blamed much of the diversion of freight from railroads to trucks on "hand to mouth" buying and said two subsidiaries of eastern roads were adopting motor transportation for economic reasons.

The second protestant was the Youngtown Chamber of Commerce. The short lines, in their brief, said "Those responsible for the management of the railroads had gone as far as they could to increase income." "Under regulatory control they can do no more either in their own interest or that of the public," the brief said, adding: "The responsibility now rests squarely upon the commission.

"There may be those who can and will so arrange and array the facts which relate to particular situations so that the commission will be aided in deciding what industries, if any, ought to be eliminated from such increase as may be allowed. "For example it is fair to state that agriculture which should be enlarged to include fruits and vegetables, has made a strong showing in support of the proposition that an increase as applied to that industry would result in a substantial increase of revenue. "Agriculture is conceded to be the greatest single industry, hence it is natural to conclude that its elimination might make it possible for the commission to give the needed relief. But such conclusion is in fact erroneous."

A table included in the brief showed that during 1930 agriculture produced only 93 per cent of all the freight hauled by the railroads.

SHREDDED WHEAT

A Dollar For Dole- Or An Hour Of Work?

Which do you prefer to give? Which do you think Labor would prefer to have?

It is more blessed, and better business, to give a man an hour of work than a dollar of dole. The former enriches the one who gives and the one who takes. The latter may impoverish both giver and taker for while one gets nothing for his money, the other may lose his self-respect.

Labor does not want charity. All that it asks is work. And work is ours to give if we will. The very root of our unemployment problem runs down to the unemployed dollar—the dollar that is afraid to venture forth—sometimes through fear of public opinion.

Why not put the unemployed dollar to work? It will, in turn, put men to work. Why fear to buy more than the necessities of life because of what the butcher, the baker, the candlestick maker may think or say?

To buy today is a patriotic duty, not unlike that of the days when we bought Liberty bonds and won a war. We now have another war to win—the war against unemployment and one that touches a great many more directly and more acutely than did the recent years of strife.

No one today can claim a medal for wearing patches when he can afford a new replacement. There are slackers in peace as well as slackers in war. When the slacker dollar goes to work, men will go to work and not before.

The employee should acclaim the employer who buys a new Cadillac, a Lincoln or a Packard. And the employer should just as surely commend the employee who buys a Buick, Essex, Hudson, Plymouth, Chevrolet, Ford, DeSoto, Reo, Pontiac or Graham. And so on through the list of motor cars, each offering more for the dollar than ever before.

A dollar spent for a new motor car eases the labor and raw material situation in every State in the Union, for every one of the 48 is called upon for supplies and three out of four furnish finished or semi-finished parts.

Few would hesitate to buy motor cars if all knew how country-wide the immediate effect would be. In 1930, the motor car ranked first in the consumption of steel bars and sheets, nickel and lead and used 51 to 82% of all the malleable iron, rubber, upholstery leather and plate-glass. It also used 18% of our hardwood lumber, 17% of our aluminum, nearly 13% of our steel, 15% of our copper, 14% of our tin, 26% of all leather, 10% of our cotton (and cotton grows in 15 states) and large percentages of scores of other commodities including wool, curled hair, paints and lacquers, all requiring labor in their production.

Hundreds of thousands have run their old cars a year or two longer than usual. Many of these thousands now hesitate to buy new cars for fear of being charged with flaunting their own prosperity or because of what others in business associations may think. In our own clientele we know that in 1930 some 40% of those who should have bought replacement cars did not do so, keeping their old cars.

We do not counsel you to buy a new car before you buy anything else. Ours is not that selfish attitude. We do believe that the motor car dollar will go more places, more quickly, and affect more people for quick relief than any other dollar and that it can well become the "self starter" for better business and greater prosperity.

MAHATMA TALKS IN COMMONS FOR INDIA'S WELFARE

Says He Won't Compromise On Independence Of Country

LONDON, Sept. 17.—(A.P.)—Mahatma Gandhi talked into the "mother of parliaments" last night and pleaded for the British labor party's support in India's struggle for independence.

He had been invited to address labor members of the House of Commons privately regarding India's claims.

He said his case was complete independence for India, the same as that enjoyed by Great Britain. He would accept no compromise, he said.

Afterward he answered the questions of labor members.

Earlier in the day the federal structures committee of the second round table conference was asked to give even the lowest taxpayer of India representation in the legislature of the projected Indian federation.

A. Rangaswami Iyengar, a friend of Gandhi and former secretary of the All-India National Congress, pleaded that there be "no taxation without representation."

His appeal, written with the mahatma's help, was made in behalf of "direct election."

It is the attitude of the Indian Congress, in contrast to that of Gandhi and Iyengar, that such principles should be allowed to select its members in such a way as to have a representative of the Indians or other races.

The mahatma sat hunched in a chair and listened to the debate.

The mahatma, clad only in a strip of white fabric, was followed into a committee room of the House of Commons for his meeting with the labor members by his white-robed English secretary, Miss Madeline Studd, or Mrs. Bhen, as she prefers to be called.

It was the first time in the ancient annals of the house that such orange figures had invaded its precincts.

While the mahatma was speaking, several conservative members of parliament, including Lord Willingdon, entered the meeting, thinking it was open to all. They were unceremoniously ejected.

When the mahatma entered, all arose and gave him an ovation. He appeared tired, his frail voice hardly loud enough to reach the whole gathering.

Afterward he and his party remained behind for devotions and according to the regulations of parliament, one member of the house remained with them.

Sardar Sahib Ujjal Singh, representative of the Punjab Sikhs, expressed regret that the Sikhs had not been accorded greater representation on the committee and voiced a doubt that any workable agreement could be forthcoming until Moslem-Hindu differences were settled.

Attention to diet will help cut out fat and fatty matter, but on potatoes, other, cream and butter, the Kruschen way is the sure way to lose fat. Try it for 10 days and not only get your money back, but
