If things aren't bad enough, this is the sign which was posted at one of the windows at the Sanford Post Office: "Because you have been so understanding about reduced window service... it will be FURTHER REDUCED."

It's not all bad, though... had Postmaster Covington do some checking for me with his superiors at Atlanta in regards to those "chain letters"...

Mrs. Mary Aesel writes that back in July of this year, she had a letter of hers published in a national magazine... and wouldn't you know it that there'd be a flood of "junk mail" to her home...

A student at Seminole High School called and said that there were three or four school buses held up by a blinking red light at the railroad crossing on W. 25th Street in Sanford.

W-O-W... what a tragedy! In Lima, Ohio four hours after a Penn Central train crashed into a car, killing a woman and her four young daughters, it smashed into a steel truck at a crossing at Monroeville, Indiana... no one was injured in the second mishap.

Another page is closed in the history of the world of sports. A sad one... in the passing of baseball Hall of Fame Jackie Robinson. Wasn't it prophetic that he was honored prior to one of the world series games last week?

$22.5 Million Spent On President Nixon, McGovern 'In Red'

By H. L. SCHWARTZ III Associated Press Writer WASHINGTON (AP) — The Finance Committee to Re-elect the President has spent more than $22.5 million since April and is slightly in the red going into the final two weeks of the presidential campaign, reports filed today show.

Herald photographer Bill Vincent Jr. happened to be passing by the highly-traveled railroad crossing at W. 25th Street in Sanford, and while glancing to his right... couldn't believe his eyes!

Editorial Comment

Two Weeks To Go, So Much To Be Done

Two weeks from today comes the political show-down. It will be both an ending and a beginning. But for the voter — there will be no tomorrow.

Everything points to this Nov. 7th, 1972 as a date that will be recorded as a watershed in the terms of the streams of conduct which will be lost.

But in preparing to cast his ballot Mr. John Citizen will have to do more home work and devote more than the usual amount of common sense to know what his ballot will be doing and what it is approving.

For the purpose of this comment, we would like to be non-partisan. For the elections which especially concern us are the elections at the generally local level.

There will be enough of these to encourage a decision by the registered voters more influenced by the record and character of the aspirant than his party affiliations which have, in the past several years, fluctuated widely in Seminole County.

In addition, it is certainly clear that the economics of political life now make the candidates subject to analysis to see if the salaries involved are the magnet rather than the old-fashioned role of "public servant."

It is also becoming a hard fact that in some of the offices to which the hopefuls aspire, it is not only the professional or experienced rating that is more important.

How qualified is the man or woman who seeks election to a county post in terms of management and administrative training and ability? This is not a question that should be evaded or obscured by those who want the job. Nor is it one which has been usually asked of political-minded hopefuls.

But it is one that needs to be asked. It is one that has particular bearing on the elections this year. For the new revenue-sharing policy of the federal government will send a new stream of dollars for local governments to use.

In Florida and in Seminole County the very growth which has produced matters which demand managerial and administrative skills, not political, is also bringing about larger tax receipts which cry for wise disposal.

During these next two weeks, the voters should sound a "last call" for those officials whose record — if seeking re-election — and whose experience and training — if asking for a first-time win — to speak out.

We are not naive enough to expect that the candidates will do so on their own without prodding. But we are convinced if the registered voters will demand some replies along these lines of administrative and management ability, rather than the stating of political policies, they will be answered.

But the time grows shorter and shorter. The campaigns will surely grow longer-winded. The digging put of facts from the flood of emotional oratory will be getting harder and harder.

This is the one time — and the only time — when the voter actually is in the saddle. But if he sits there with a bland acceptance of things as they

Offbeat Ruminations

To October: The Very Best Month

Editor's Note: Hal Boyle is sometimes asked by readers which of the more than 7,000 columns he has written is his own favorite. Here it is, reprinted from his book "Look Out, Here's Another Day!"

By HAL BOYLE
NEW YORK (AP) — If the Lord whispered in your secret heart that you had but one month to live and let you pick that month, which would you choose? 'Tis say October.

The birds love it, the beasts love it, and man himself stands upon the summit of the year.

October is all the other seasons wrapped into a 31-day grab-bag package, tied with a rainbow ribbon. It is the period when Mother Nature, the great dramatist, brings her traveling road show to a climax.

This is the month that, like a cider press, squeezes out the best juices of all the other months—the promise of spring, the sultry days of summer, the afterglow of autumn, the premonitory chill of winter. Everything that walks the earth feels an amber thrill, a tremendous bubbling vitality that sings in the pulse.

Now is the glory of the universe manifest, and in the mighty pages of the hills each patch of wood reflects its own true beauty queen. You like the dogwood? You like the yellow birch?

It is as if everyone suddenly had been given magic color glasses. The stars bend nearer. And that big blob of moon—a child feels it is so close he could reach up with a knife and spread it on his bread like butter.

The stag stamps on the hilltop and lifts an amorous bulge to the night.

The squirrel, bright-eyed and fat, is as fat as everyone suddenly had been given magic color glasses. The stars bend nearer. And that big blob of moon—a child feels it is so close he could reach up with a knife and spread it on his bread like butter.

The stag stamps on the hilltop and lifts an amorous bulge to the night.

Similar Nixon-McGovern Goals

By L. EDGAR PRINA
Copley News Service

WASHINGTON — On the twin issues of health care and aid to the aged, President Nixon and Sen. George McGovern, after his Democratic challenger, agree to this extent: the federal government must improve and increase its programs in both areas.

To assert this is as politically safe as it used to be to stand foursquare against sin and for motherhood.

"Financial considerations still deny quality care to many Americans while the dark threat of catastrophic costs still imperils most of our people...America's health care system needs reform."

Who said that? It happens that the President did. It should quickly be added that the senator has said the same thing in different words.

The opposing candidates come to a definite parting of the ways when one considers their philosophical approaches to the health and aged problems and the amount of money they would have Congress appropriate to help alleviate them.

Take the matter of a national health insurance program, a key item in both Mr. Nixon's and Sen. McGovern's campaign lockers.

The President has proposed a "partnership" among the government, private employers, the insurance industry and the medical profession.

Sen. McGovern has embraced the plan offered by Sen. Edward M. Kennedy, D-Mass., for a national health insurance program administered by the federal government and paid for by payroll taxes and general revenues of the government.

Under the Nixon program, a basic health insurance package would be offered by all employers. The worker and his family members would pay for the first two days of hospitalization, plus 25 per cent of hospital costs over the first two days, up to $5,000.

All medical costs between $5,000 and $50,000 would be fully covered. Private insurance carriers would administer the program under federal supervision. Employers would pay 75 per cent of the cost.

Mr. Nixon has proposed insurance pools to offer health insurance to those Americans not covered by the above programs.

The McGovern-backed health program would cover every U. S. resident and would involve no cost sharing. It would be completely administered by the federal government (HEW). Medicare would be abolished.

To pay for the McGovern proposal, there would be taxes on payroll, self-employed persons and unearned income and payments from general revenues. On the first $15,000 of earnings and income of individuals, the tax rate would be 1 per cent for employees and 2.5 per cent for the self-employed. For employees, the rate would be 3.5 per cent on the total payroll.

The additional cost for U. S. taxpayers in fiscal year 1974, according to an HEW analysis published in Congressional Quarterly, is estimated at $58.4 billion (in fiscal 1970, $44.3 billion) of an estimated $67.2 billion spent for health and medical care in the United States came from the private sector.

Think Of Them
Doctors Tell How POW Wives Suffer

By RAY CROMLEY

We as a people have not done nearly enough to ease the terrible plight of the wives of the military men and civilians who are prisoners of missing in North Vietnam and elsewhere in Southeast Asia.

We read almost daily of their earnest attempts to secure mail from their husbands, to receive some word of their status or to learn whether in fact their mates are living or dead.

But talk to medical men about the dreary, worried frustration of these women and you will find that they are living or dead.

Doctors who have studied the problem report that even the most stable and mature such wife experiences severe emotional problems.

She must make daily decisions on her own, but constantly has the feeling she will be held accountable to her husband, when he is released, for whatever happens to the children. Yet the absence of the man in the family almost inevitably has a deleterious effect on their young-almost-invariably has a deleterious effect on their young-almost-invariably has a deleterious effect on their young-

One Man's Opinion
Up Pops Evolution
Again--Textbooks

By DON OAKLEY

More than a century after Darwin, the question of evolution vs. creationism is still a live one and a divisive one. It need not be divisive, as the existence of scientists who are also devout men should testify. Unfortunately, it is.

The controversy may be sparked anew if the California State Board of Education goes through with a proposal to include the Biblical account of creation as a complement to the theory of evolution in science textbooks from kindergarten through secondary school levels.

As California goes, so may the nation go, because that state purchases 10 per cent of all textbooks sold in the United States. Rather than prepare special editions for California alone, publishers may find it more economical to make California's standard the standard for all.

Elsewhere, William F. Willoughby, religion editor for the Washington Star, has filed suit in U.S. District Court against the University of Colorado's Board of Regents, asking that the university be required to discontinue publishing science textbooks until the Biblical view of creation is included.

The texts give the impression that the evolutionary theory is the only right one, says Willoughby, whereas "the creationist view can be just as valid."

Before everybody lines up on one side or the other, it might be useful to get a couple of definitions straight.

The essential requirement of scientific theory, writes William Evian, publisher of Science magazine, "is that, in principle, it is capable of contradiction by empirical (experimental) data. It is not perfectible. It is in the process of becoming."

The creation story, on the other hand, "responds to different rules of discourse. It is not subject to empirical test, nor does it allow of improvement."

In other words, we may think we are talking—or arguing—about the same thing, but we may actually be following different rules of reasoning.

Though one theory or belief is as right and as valid, in its own terms, as the other, one is not a logical complement, nor should it be a "rival," to the other.

Evian holds scientists partly responsible for the controversy. They have taught the substance of science to the nonscientific public, he says, but have not communicated the approach, methods or the rationale of science.

In Two Law Suits
School Financing Eyed

By TOM RALM
Associated Press Writer
TALLAHASSEE, Fla. (AP) — A system of school financing which docks counties with poor tax assessment practices is under judicial scrutiny in two separate lawsuits before a Leon County Circuit Court judge.

Judge Ben Willis has announced he will issue a ruling today on a suit filed by state Rep. Ed Whitson, R-Clearwater, seeking to oust Auditor General Ernest Ellison and invalidate his ratio study of county tax assessments.

The ratio study determines whether counties are assessing property at fair market value. If not, they stand to lose school funds.

Whitson contended that Ellison was unconstitutionally appointed to his position by the Legislature and that the ratio study he conducted is therefore invalid.

After ruling on the Whitson suit, Willis will start trying a suit filed on behalf of seven counties which stand to lose substantially under Ellison's ratio study.

They are Pinellas, Alachua, Levy, Manatee, Martin and Charlotte and DeSoto.

Ellison also legally attacked a 1970 ratio study performed by the Legislature and ordered Ellison to perform the 1972 ratio study himself.

"This suit has many of the same elements and issues as the other one did," said Messer.

ALEXANDER LASANE, 78, of Leesburg was struck and killed by a hit and run vehicle Friday night on SR 44, 2.6 miles east of Leesburg. Troopers Ken Robinson and Joe Guthrie of the Florida Highway Patrol reported the pedestrian was lying in the roadway when the car, eastbound, struck him. Lasane was dead at the scene. The death pushed Leesburg's fatality count to 44 for 1972. (Rupert Chastain Photo)

Easing Of Sewer Hookup
Ban Urged By State Aide

By JOHN VAN GIESON
Associated Press Writer
TALLAHASSEE, Fla. (AP) — A state pollution control official is proposing that sewage plants which can provide adequate waste treatment by next July be given some leeway in approval of new sewage connections.

Peter Baljet's proposed guidelines for carrying out a law requiring secondary sewage treatment after Jan. 1 were scheduled for presentation to the Pollution Control Board today.

Baljet is the new operations director for the Pollution Control Department.

The proposal was expected to receive a sympathetic ear as Pollution Control Board Chairman David Levin last week called for leniency for the law, and if we feel the body of water involved can handle it, then we're probably going to allow that plant to add additional sewer hookups on a limited basis," said Levin.

In a previous action, the board had imposed a moratorium on new sewer connections to 117 treatment plants that don't provide 90 per cent treatment of sewage wastes. The ban could halt new construction in some 60 cities, including Miami, Jacksonville, Orlando and Fort Lauderdale.

"If we feel a plant is making an attempt to comply with the law, and if we feel the body of water involved can handle it, then we're probably going to allow that plant to add additional sewer hookups on a limited basis," he said.

Van Hook said he has received numerous calls from concerned parents, expressing dismay over the continuation, and emphasized the state is prepared to try the defendant this week and the delay is not of the state's choosing.

The matter concerns a continuation of the trial docketed this week for Rev. William Grogan, charged in two cases with loud assault upon a child. The trial is continued until Dec. 11 in order that the accused submit to a psychiatric examination.

Grogan, 61, of 803 Rosalia Drive, former pastor of First Baptist Church, Geneva, is charged with fondling two eight-year-old girls at his home. Van Hook told the Herald that last Friday Grogan decided he wished to submit to himself voluntarily for a psychiatric examination.

Defense Attorney Ned Julian Jr. requested the continuance of the case but Van Hook pointed out it was over the vehement objections of the state.

Van Hook said he vociferously objected on the basis the continuance was "spurious and deleterious." However, the continuance was granted by Circuit Judge Clarence Johnson Jr.

Woody Hayes A Credit To Game

When it comes to the basic aspects of football, I'm too old to change. Our football players are more dedicated than they've ever been. They work like hell and they hit like hell. And we have better training programs for them. We found out we can prevent injuries by building a bull neck. So the necks on today's kids are so much thicker and stronger to withstand the shock.

And maybe to inflict punishment? "Brutality? No, our kids aren't brutal. We never penalized for roughness. Now that quarterback we're going to face, he better not run too much because he's going to get hit like he's never been hit."

And we do have one player who's brutal. He's a black boy. He's bitter and he's hung up on that black business. Social consciousness is something that Woody Hayes isn't really into yet. He takes his own bedchamber of the players when they're on road trips—he wouldn't entrust it to the trainer or assistant coaches because he feels it would undermine their relations with the players.

There are two things in a great home. One, the kid is wanted. Two, there's discipline. The parents are respected. "Does Woody then restrict his football recruiting to boys from 'good' homes? How about the under-privileged kid?"

WOODY HAYES, far right wearing striped tie, had to be restrained by an assistant Ohio State coach when he ripped the flag from a sideline marker and squared off with an official during the Buckeyes' 16-10 loss to Michigan last season. Hayes was angered by an official's call that went against Ohio State.

"I like that recruiting better than anything else," he says. "I get into it from the homes I get into. I found if the parents are respected in the home, you got yourself a football player."

The wedding will be an event of Nov. 22, at 6 p. m., at Holy Cross Episcopal Church. All friends of the couple are cordially invited to the wedding and reception immediately following in the parish house.

Elaine Owens And Michael RiCharde Exchange Vows In Double Ring Rites

Miss Marjorie Elaine Owens, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Hayden Byrd Owens, 308 West 19th St., and Michael Wayne RiCharde, son of Mr. and Mrs. William B. RiCharde, 2503 Myrtle Ave., all of Sanford, were united in Holy Matrimony, Saturday, Oct. 14, 1972.

Rev. Kenneth W. Holt was officiating clergyman at the candlelight, double ring ceremony in the Pinecrest Baptist Church, at 7:30 p. m.

John Charles Aiken, organist, presented a program of nuptial selections and accompanied soloist, Mrs. K. W. Holt, who sang, "In This Sweet Hour," "Love Shall Abide" and "The Lord's Prayer."

Church decorations included potted palms, and three large baskets of pink and white carnations, white fuji mums and leatherleaf fern. Family pews were marked with sprigs of white mums with pink center, leatherleaf fern and white satin ribbons.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a formal-length gown of angelskin polyester satenapeau in a softly flaring silhouette. The natural fitting waist was encircled with Venice lace trim and the same edging was used on the fitted cuffs. A soft pleated ruffle enhanced the high neckline and hem.

Her long mantilla of silk illusion was edged in matching Venice lace and she carried an arm bouquet of long-stemmed white carnations and leatherleaf fern with a large white satin ribbon bow.

Her only attendant was her sister, Mrs. Edgar L. Griffith Jr. She wore a hot pink polyester crepe gown, Empire with matching accessories and a corsage of pink sweetheart roses and miniature pink carnations. The groom's mother wore a yellow polyester knit sheath with full length sleeveless matching lace coat, yellow accessories and a corsage of yellow roses.

Mrs. S. M. RiCharde, grandmother of the groom, wore a pink polyester knit dress with matching accessories and a white rose bud corsage.

Debbie RiCharde, sister of the bride, presided at the bride's book table adorned with a silver bud vase with pink and white carnations.

Assisting with the serving were Mrs. C. E. Carlton and relatives of the bride from Alabama: Kathy and Jenny Gamble and Robin RiCharde. Distributed rice bags and other floating hostesses were Sara and Margie Mercer and Susan Gamble.

For traveling, Mrs. RiCharde chose an orange polyester coat dress with brocade trim, Navy accessories and a white carnation corsage. The couple left for a wedding trip to points of interest in Southern Florida and their new residence is 417 West Third Street, Sanford.

The groom is employed by the Seaboard Coastline Railroad and the bride, by the U.S. Bank of Seminole.

Out-of-town guests came from Atlanta, Ga., Headland, Ala., Montgomery, Ala., Dothan, Ala. and Tampa.

'Gold Brickers' Party Slated Friday

Public Invited To Cocktail Buffet

A "Gold Brickers" party is being sponsored by the Maitland-South Seminole Chamber of Commerce and Means Committee on Friday, Oct. 27, at 6 p. m., in the Teen Wing of the Greater Maitland Civic Center.

The first "Gold Brick" to kick off the fund-raising campaign to remodel the Maitland-Seminole Chamber of Commerce was purchased by Lucy Spencer, right, from Jack Loudermilk.

Association to make way for expanded City of Maitland facilities. The move will allow an addition to the building and more parking space for visitors and members.

These miniatures may be used as paper weights or on a knick knack shelf.

Gold brick purchasers will be given small "gold" bricks as mementos of the occasion.

Background music at the party will be played by Connie Vreeland, organist and accordionist. Door prizes will be awarded and other happy surprises are planned.

Ways and Means committee members, in addition to Loudermilk, are James Cooper, Dave Dixon, George Foster, Charles Gluckstein, Steve Krone, Roger Nixon, Joseph Padaver, Geraldine Stanley and Harvey Titan.

Chamber president Don Tauscher and executive director Priscilla Green are ex-officio members of the group.

District VII Garden Clubs Meet For Fall Conference

By MARYLYN GORDON
 Mid-Florida Country Club was the site of the Fall Conference of the District VII Florida Federation of Garden Clubs, Inc. The 172 women, attended represented 40 clubs from six counties.

Mrs. Andrew A. Gurke is president of the Florida Federation; Mrs. James F. Hussey, director; and Mrs. Walter C. Neals, assistant director.

The invocation was given by Mrs. R. V. Walters, president of the Clermont Garden Club. The Pledge of Allegiance was led by Mrs. Gerald Poff, president of the Town and County Garden Club. Mrs. R. L. Buffaloe, president of the South Seminole Garden Club.

Welcomed the clubbers and Mrs. William A. Dashiell, president of the Maitland Garden Club, made the appropriate response.

After a luncheon of beef straganoff, noodles, coldlaw, tossed salad, jello and coffee the women settled down to an exciting finish of their day.

Certificates of appreciation from the federation were presented.

The tables were beautifully decorated with green tablecloths, and bowls of yellow mums. At each place was a plant in a sea shell and name cards featured a little flower on the left hand side made of miniature pieces of small colored sea shells, pink or red for the flowers and green for the stems. Also at each place was a pad of paper and a pencil for taking notes.

Certificates of appreciation from the federation were presented.

WW Spokes Set Meeting

Seminole Spokes Welcome Wagon will meet on the Wednesday, Oct. 25 at Mid-Florida Country Club. Bridge and pinocle will begin at 10 a. m. and the luncheon at 12:15.

Rev. Jack Lindsay, of Seminole All Youth Shelter, will be the guest speaker.

Dear Abby

A one-way thrill at the carnival kissing booth

By Abigail Van Buren
DEAR ABBY: I hope you won't think I'm foolish, but I have a problem that is driving me up a wall. Last summer I sold kisses at a carnival kissing booth to raise money for a local charity. It was all in fun, and I was doing real well until suddenly I was kissed like I have never been kissed before. The man, a stranger, held me and kissed me all over. I never experienced anything like it in my life. I should have paid HIM!

Polly's Pointers

By POLLY CRAMER
DEAR POLLY—I have five children so am always looking for time and energy savers. Terry cloth now comes in such beautiful bright patterns I have made several tablecloths out of it by simply hemming. These cloths soak up spills, can be washed and dried with the towels. They do not need ironing and can be changed often. More advanced sewers also might make matching curtains, appliance covers, chair covers, etc. I do advise pre-shrinking the material by first washing and drying it.—MRS. R. L. Z.

9-30-11 CBS, "Of Thee I Sing." One of the grand old theatrical experiences. It was written for Broadway by George S. Kaufman and George and Ira Gershwin, a melodious, timely political satire, which opened on Broadway in 1931. This television version stars Carroll O'Connor as the whimsical small-town politician, John P. Wintergreen, who decides to run for the presidency on a platform of love. Jack Gilford, Gloria Leachman and Michele Lee are costars.

Hughes 'found' Joanne Carson

By NANCY ANDERSON
Copy News Service
HOLLYWOOD — Joanne Carson, former wife of Johnny Carson and star of the syndicated television show "Joanne Carson's V.I.P.S.," was discovered by Howard Hughes before she was discovered by Johnny.
Yes, here I go with another Hughes anecdote. Joanne says she was "a fast 21" living with her parents near San Francisco when, at the urging of a friend, she took a job doubling for Jane Russell in "Underwater."
"I was an expert scuba diver," Joanne explains. A contretemps developed between Mas Russell and LEO Hughes' studio with the result that Hughes himself flew into Los Angeles from Las Vegas to take a look at the kid who'd been doubling for her star.
"I'll never forget our meeting," Joanne says. "When I went in to see him, he was eating a bowl of fgs."
Hughes liked the way she looked, concluded that, if she could build one Jane Russell into a star he could do as much for a French Line model, and offered Joanne a seven-year contract with RKO.
"They cut down all of Jane's wardrobe for 'The French Line' to fit me," Joanne recalls. "But then I just sat around the studio and did nothing until I finally got tired of that and went home."
A studio executive, outraged by her indifference to her contract, followed her to San Francisco breathing fire and voicing direct warnings.
"If you don't come back at once," he thundered, "you'll never be in pictures again."
"She never in pictures before," her father pointed out quite reasonably.
"You'll never become a star," the executive continued.
"She doesn't want to be one," Daddy said.
"I never saw that man from the studio again," Joanne says, "but later he sent word to me that, remembering my family and my parents' home, he'd decided I was the smartest girl he knew."
Joanne thinks her life may be controlled by the number 10.
As a child, she spent 10 hours in a convent, placed there by her parents after they separated and her mother became a nun.
For another 10 years she lived with her father and step-mother, and for a third decade, she was married to Carson.

Gulf Service On French, At Airport

Efficient Service At Dekle's

MEL DEKLE'S Gulf Station on French Avenue has taken on a "new look" but this service is the same top quality service as always.

There is a new look to a familiar corner on French Avenue these days. Mel Dekle has done some changes at his station. — covered service area, fresh paint— really handsome scene.

But let us assure you that there have been no changes in that excellent service he has always given. Whatever you need, whether it be just gasoline and oil and a windshield cleaning or if you need more extensive work done on your car, Mel Dekle's Gulf Station is the best place to go for that service, whatever it may be.

The station is open 24 hours a day and full service is available from 7 a.m. to 6 p.m. After 6 p.m. they service gasoline and oil and minor repairs.

Whether you stop for a quick job or a major job, service at Dekle's is always fast, friendly and efficient. He employs a staff of qualified men who know their job. He insists on courtesy to the customer and quick superior service. All of his jobs comes complete with parts; there is no need for you to go elsewhere shopping for the parts you need, cause Mel Dekle's Gulf Station carries a good stock of parts most often needed right there in his shop.

Of course, you do know that the Gulf station aboard the Sanford Airport is another of Dekle's operations. He just doesn't want anybody to get stranded anywhere without some of his folks around to help you get your problem cleared up in a hurry.

If you have a job which requires a little fast, friendly and efficient service, call Dekle's and see what you can do for you. Llanfairpwllgwyngyllgerych-y-drobenllan-yllanysillo-goch, the name of a village in Wales, means Church of Saint Mary in a hollow of white hazel, near to a rapid whirlpool and Saint Tysilio's Church of the red cave.

Courtesy Paint And Body New Business Booming

By ANN SIECZKOWSKI

We stopped by to see David Steel and his gang at Courtesy Paint and Body Shop on First Street in Sanford the other day. He said that business is really good and he surely does appreciate the response you folks have given to him, a comparative newcomer to the business in Sanford.

He just opened his painting and body repair shop, you know on April 15, but business is really booming, thanks to you all.

We all know though the business doesn't grow unless the man knows what he is doing and does it well. And certainly, the prices are so reasonable you won't even believe it if we told you.

Steele does have rental cars available for you if you wish to service at Courtesy, so this should allow you to go about your regular business if you want to do so.

Steel also specializes in fiberglass boat repair. He said that there is no currently no one in this area providing this type of service. He repairs holes, scratches, abrasions on the exterior, repainting and refinishes the interiors.

He can replace vinyl with fiberglass roofs on boats, too. If you wish to have the work done at your home, he will bring his something about reconditioning your skin for the rest of the year.

Nora Gordon, at Merle Norman Studios on Park Avenue, just across the street from the Sanford Atlantic National Bank, is a beauty consultant without peer. You just have to look at her complexion and you know that she has the secrets you need to know in order to prepare your skin for that special person of yours and perhaps even as importantly, for your own pleasure and satisfaction.

The new fall look is based on a red, white and blue make up story. The desire to be more beautiful is an area where there is seldom found any "generation gap." Most women learn by the time they reach the voting age that beauty is an asset that can be achieved through clever use of makeup and good grooming habits. And so, we examine this red, white and blue look for fall.

The eye make-up brings into the American Beauty look some lovely new blue shades. White frost brush on eye shadow is used for shimmering soft highlighting. And there are four lip colors to select — a toasty red, cinnamon red, which is kind of orange, and then there's a clear true red and a bright rosy red. All positively luscious and different enough to go with all of those beautiful new fall clothes you have been buying.

WANDA ELAINE Bedenbaugh, owner and manager of the new shop, looks over books showing new and different styles worn by today's lovely women, with one of her hair stylists, Sandy Ingram.

Wanda Elaine's Shop Purpose Is A Beautiful You

By ANN SIECZKOWSKI

The address is 607 West 25th Street in Sanford. The name of the place is Wanda Elaine's Beauty Shop. The purpose is to make a more beautiful YOU.

Now doesn't that interest you? It should and if you have never had a perfectly perfect hair do, the exact way you want it to be, then the place for you to go is Wanda Elaine's.

She is an artist in hairstyling and girls, she really gives a shampoo — oh boy does the scalp tingle when she goes to work — it is simply pure delight.

Wanda Bedenbaugh, owner of the shop, has two expert assistants, Sandy Ingram and Pat Woods, who have no purpose in mind but to please you, the customer. You can get a permanent — they carry all of the best known brands, you know and one has a tony fragrance — or you can have your wig shampooed and set, and you can get a manicure while your hair is drying.

Wanda says that the shop will carry wigs by special order only.

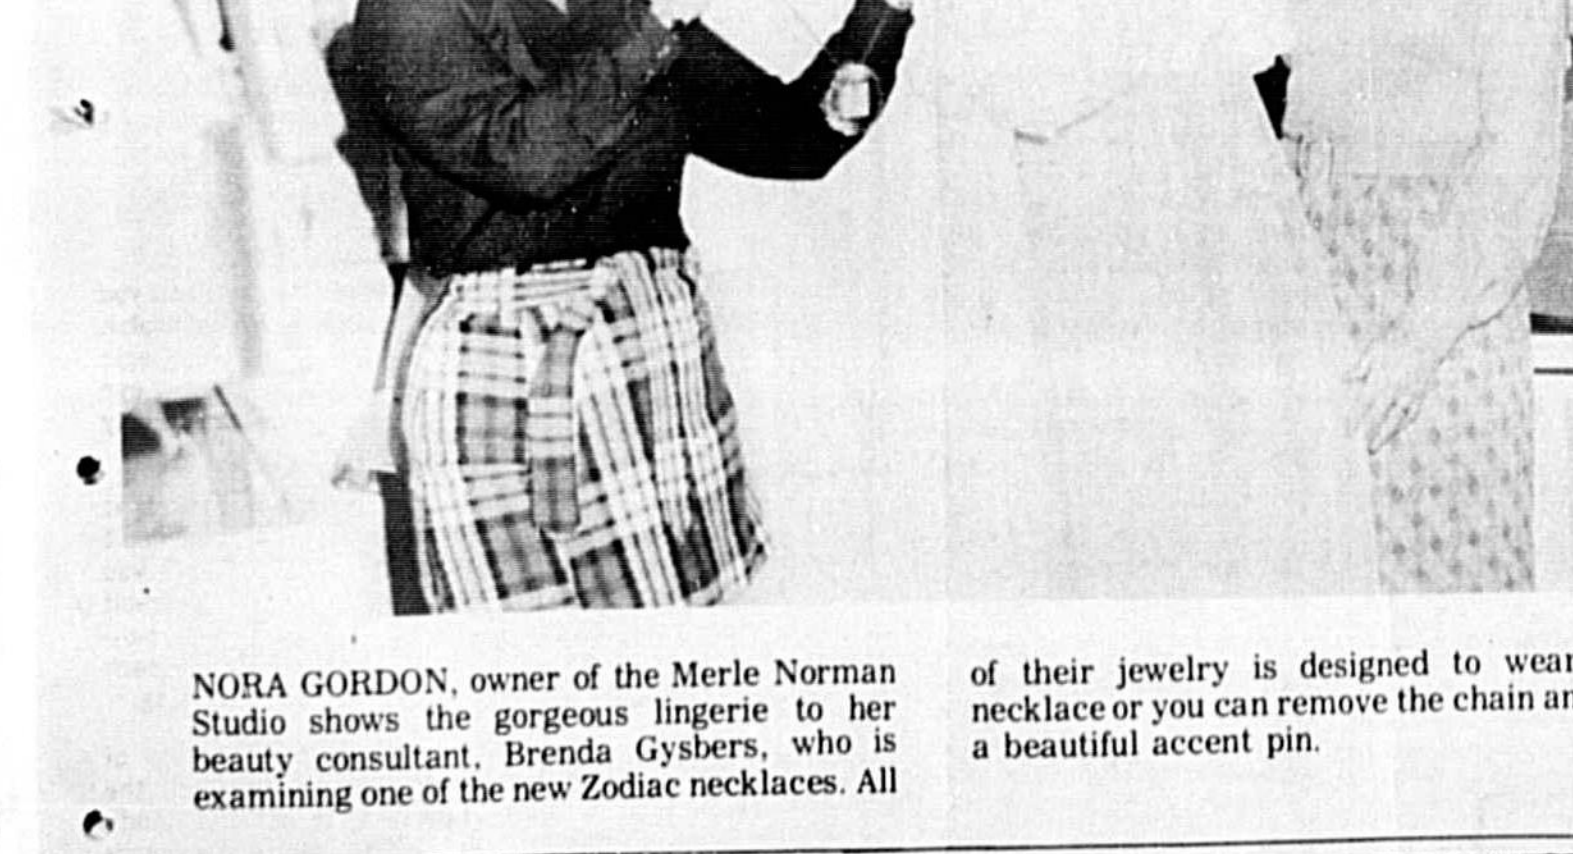

We were so delighted to go and visit with Wanda and her staff. The shop is entirely new and is decorated in red, black and white. The windows are covered with white sheers with the most gorgeous red, black and gold patterned drapes. The red tilt floor with black accents and black and yellow furniture makes it a lovely place to go.

The hairdressers are all efficient and do their work on the customer with the greatest artistry and skill you could wish.

If you need a really fancy hairstyle, these girls will make you the most beautifully dressed lady in the area. Or their soft and casual or strictly for career styles — there is no limit to their know how in the hair-dressing business and it is evident that their customers are happy when they leave.

And another great thing about Wanda Elaine's is that the prices are really reasonable. The hours are great — they are open from 8 a.m. to 6 p.m. Monday through Saturday. If it is necessary, they will stay open evenings by appointment only. We know you will be happy with the work and with the operator's personality and with the cleanliness of the shop, and we believe that once you visit Wanda Elaine's you will never go anywhere else to have your hair done.

Try them, you will most assuredly like them.

NORA GORDON, owner of the Merle Norman Studio shows the gorgeous lingerie to her beauty consultant, Brenda Gysbers, who is examining one of the new Zodiac necklaces. All

What's clean and quiet and nice and warm?

Other than a baby, that is. A Singer electric furnace. It's a lot of other things, too. Like inexpensive to install because you don't need a flue. Like easy to take care of.

It's also ready for conversion to Singer air conditioning anytime you want it.

And it's as dependable and as safe as any electric appliance in your home.

Give us a call or come in and see us. We'll tell you how to keep your baby warm. No matter how old she is.

Kissimmee Air Fair Set

For the eighth straight year the Central Florida Air Fair will fill the skies over Kissimmee with dodging, darting, looping aircraft Oct. 28 and 29, with thrills for the spectators and funds for the United Appeal.

Starting at 1 p.m. each day, the incomparable Navy Blue Angels flight demonstration team highlights this year's show sponsored by the Kissimmee Rotary Club.

Flying the same F4F Phantom jets in use over Vietnam, the Blues shows man's mastery over super-sonic flying machines, at times so close they can wink at each other.

Joining them in the star-studded lineup are the world's champion women's aerial acrobat, Mary Gaffaney; Jim Holland and his troupe of daredevils, and the pilot's pilot, Bob Hoover.

Mary, holder of numerous U.S. women's championships, won her first world title in August in France. She does tricks with her tiny Pitts Special which even the experts say shouldn't be done.

Hoover, a graduate of both the Air Force and Navy test pilot schools, headed the U.S. Special which even the experts say shouldn't be done.

Joining him in another act will be Max Kelly, leader of the British aerial demonstration team, the Rothmanns, who is in this country to pick up a stunt plane.

AROUND THE CLOCK
By John A. Spolski

Hold those presses, baby. Gotta get this apology into print, right off!

In yesterday's Clock we made mention of some of the earlier playing days of Jackie Robinson, and that he was refused living quarters in this city and had to commute from Daytona Beach.

Unfortunately, this information (or I should say MIS-information) came from a published book on Robinson's background and I assumed it to be correct.

This morning, Mrs. D. C. Brock of 812 Sanford Avenue called to correct the situation, adding that not only Jackie but also his wife stayed at the Brock residence prior to all of the local games.

Further, that it was Branch Rickey and our own John Kridler who first spoke with Mrs. Brock and made certain that there'd be no problems.

We're appreciative of this correction and proud of the part which this area played in this illustrious baseball career.

"What do we have to do, attend a meeting in Orlando in order to get to say hello, John?"

It was S. Joe Davis, attorney for the City of Altamonte. And the place was the Citrus Club on the 18th floor of the CNA Building.

As a matter of fact, there were quite a few Seminole Counties there, especially from Altamonte Springs, and no wonder, too.

The Edward J. DeBartolo Corporation, the nation's leading shopping center developer, and Homart Development Company wholly-owned subsidiary of Sears, Roebuck and Co., today announced plans for the two largest climate-controlled shopping mall complexes in Florida.

The giant centers will be built in the Greater Orlando Area, one in the city of Altamonte Springs, north of the city, the other on the south side.

Both are joint ventures of the DeBartolo Corporation and Homart.

Plans, drawings, and renderings of the projects which represent more than 60 acres of enclosed mall space, were given out at a press reception Tuesday at the Citrus Club in downtown Orlando. Taking part in the announcement were DeBartolo and Homart officials and representatives of Sears, Roebuck and Co., Jordan Marsh, and Robinson's of Florida.

Altamonte Mall, a two-level complex containing 1,245,278 square feet of floor area, is under construction on an 85-acre site at the intersection of Altamonte Avenue (SR 66) and Palm Springs Drive, 1/2 mile east of I-4, in Altamonte Springs. Scheduled to open in August, 1974, Altamonte Mall will have four major department stores and 142 other stores and shops. Split-level parking will accommodate 5,800 cars.

Anchoring the center will be: Sears, Roebuck and Co., Jordan Marsh, Robinson's of Florida, and Burdine's. The additional stores and shops will include a full spectrum of national, regional and local retailers offering the widest possible range of merchandise and services.

Work began at the Altamonte site some time ago and grading is complete. Excavating, utilities and footers will be completed by the end of the year, with steel erection scheduled to start early next spring.

Two Giant Shopping Malls Coming; One At Altamonte

The Edward J. DeBartolo Corporation, the nation's leading shopping center developer, and Homart Development Company wholly-owned subsidiary of Sears, Roebuck and Co., today announced plans for the two largest climate-controlled shopping mall complexes in Florida.

The giant centers will be built in the Greater Orlando Area, one in the city of Altamonte Springs, north of the city, the other on the south side.

Both are joint ventures of the DeBartolo Corporation and Homart.

Plans, drawings, and renderings of the projects which represent more than 60 acres of enclosed mall space, were given out at a press reception Tuesday at the Citrus Club in downtown Orlando. Taking part in the announcement were DeBartolo and Homart officials and representatives of Sears, Roebuck and Co., Jordan Marsh, and Robinson's of Florida.

Altamonte Mall, a two-level complex containing 1,245,278 square feet of floor area, is under construction on an 85-acre site at the intersection of Altamonte Avenue (SR 66) and Palm Springs Drive, 1/2 mile east of I-4, in Altamonte Springs. Scheduled to open in August, 1974, Altamonte Mall will have four major department stores and 142 other stores and shops. Split-level parking will accommodate 5,800 cars.

Anchoring the center will be: Sears, Roebuck and Co., Jordan Marsh, Robinson's of Florida, and Burdine's. The additional stores and shops will include a full spectrum of national, regional and local retailers offering the widest possible range of merchandise and services.

Downtown Merchants Will Sponsor Christmas Parade Gets Go-Ahead

By BILL SCOTT

Sanford Downtown Business Association (DBA) at a special meeting Tuesday, voted to have a Christmas parade. The action came during a discussion with George Crossley, Sanford-Seminole Jaycees president and other members of the Jaycees parade committee.

In programming the parade, an annual downtown event to herald the holiday festivities to the city, the DBA adopted a resolution, extending to civic groups opportunity to participate if they desire, but with the understanding that the parade will be under control of the DBA, as opposed to previous years, when the Jaycees handled most of the details.

The following resolution was approved by the DBA:

"After careful consideration the DBA is proposing that we present the annual Christmas parade in cooperation with all civic organizations that so desire.

"We feel that at this time a parade worthy of the people and children of this shopping area can best be held by our organization.

"We further propose to promote the use of the parade by all civic, fraternal, school, religious and professional groups.

"It is further proposed that a committee from the DBA be appointed to coordinate the activities with the one selected by the parade marshal.

"The day and hour of the event will be determined by the committee at large and each merchant pledges his full support."

Crossley told the gathering the Jaycees would like to work with the DBA in having a parade.

Norman Franconer, DBA president, thanked Crossley for his offer of help, but stressed the Jaycees would not run the parade but could help.

Crossley reminded Franconer that in the past the Jaycees have handled the parade's mechanics but the funding for the event was done by the merchants. William Reed, Jaycees parade chairman, advised the DBA that he would be glad to help.

Franconer said DBA will meet Thursday at 3 p.m. to decide date of the attraction and amount of required financing.

Later, Crossley advised the DBA he would propose to the DBA at the Thursday session that it cooperate with the Sanford Plaza Merchants in putting on a parade.

He said he would advise the DBA that Sanford Plaza merchants had indicated a desire to participate in the parade funding if the event is held in a neutral area instead of down First Street, the traditional route.

HARRY SAMBROOK

HARRY Sambrook resigned as a member of Casselberry City Council to enter the race for mayor of that city, it was learned today. He submitted his resignation to Gov. Reubin Askew under the "resign to run" law. Also seeking election for mayor on Dec. 7 are William Grier and Cecil Harmon. Final filing date is Nov. 3.

Troopers are searching for a blue car, with damage to the front right and right side. Glass found at the scene indicates that the car will have either a broken windshield or side glass. Officers were able to determine the color of the car from paint samples taken from the body.

A truck driver spotted the body of Chane Gaye Scrogan, 25, of 551 East Highway 436, Fern Park, about 7 a.m. yesterday. Time of death was place somewhere after midnight. The body was lying in a ditch off SR 15A, one mile south of SR 50.

Anyone knowing the whereabouts of the above described vehicle is urged to contact the Highway Patrol office at 894-5511. The hit-and-run vehicle will have the above damage and will not have the new damage release sticker, now required for all vehicles involved in traffic accidents.

Served 21 Days Scribe Released From Jail

'They Don't Seem To Believe In Freedom Of The Press,' Is Reporter's Opinion

By HENRY GOTTLEB Associated Press Writer

NEWARK (AP) — Newman Peter Bridge, imprisoned because he balked at grand jury questions about an article he wrote, has walked out of jail after spending 21 days behind bars.

"It feels very good to be out, but I'd do it again if I had to," Bridge said as he left the Essex County Jail Tuesday.

"They didn't yield and I didn't yield. They won in court, I won in the end; they won in the end. They don't seem to believe in freedom of the press," he said of the county prosecutor's office.

The 36-year-old Bridge, released unconditionally by Superior Court Judge James H. Giuliano, was the first newsman jailed since the Supreme Court ruled journalists may not withhold information from grand jurors.

In Sacramento, Calif., the author of the federal Freedom of Information Act said he is preparing legislation which would prohibit the jailing of newsmen who refuse to reveal their sources of information.

Bridge claimed many of the questions posed by the grand jury in its investigation of the alleged bribe went beyond the scope of his article and would compromise his freedom of speech.

He and his wife Anne, who was due to give birth to their third child more than two weeks ago, received hundreds of dollars in donations from news organizations.

The Evening News ceased publication five weeks before Bridge entered jail and he was unemployed.

He said the first thing he wants to do now that he's out of jail is spend time with his children, Mark, 11 and Rebecca, 9.

"I also have to get a job," he said.

Rep. John Moss, D-Calif., who wrote the Freedom of Information Act, told newsmen in Sacramento only an hour before Bridge's release that he considered "the continued detention of this newsman as being somewhat of an outrage.

"I feel Congress ought to act now to prevent this kind of harassment. It's tough enough to get the facts without having reporters intimidated in the gathering of them."
