Circuit Judge Refuses To Answer Question On Collins' Eligibility

Federal Officials Turn Down Request To Probe Till Case

SPRINGFIELD, Ill. (AP)—Federal authorities have turned down Gov. William G. Stratton's request for an investigation of the Emmett Louis Till case in Mississippi.

The Illinois governor yesterday released a letter from Atty. Gen. Herbert Brownell Jr., saying that no federal offense was involved in the case.

Stratton said Brownell told him the only basis for federal jurisdiction would have been if state or local officials had been involved in the crime or if Till had been abducted and taken across state lines.

"All available information, however, indicated that those who perpetrated the offense were private persons and that the kidnapping was confined to the State of Mississippi," Brownell wrote Stratton. "Such being the case, this department is without any authority to take investigative or any other action."

Christmas Program Awaited

People who previously have attended one of the annual all music Christmas services presented by the Chancel Choir of the First Presbyterian Church are looking forward eagerly to this year's version which will be held at 7:30 p. m. next Sunday. The theme this year revolves around the story of the Nativity and the subsequent adoration of the Christ child in four different settings, according to Mrs. George Touhy, Minister of Music.

There will be nine anthems sung by the 33 voices of the choir and the first five will relate the story of the birth, the significance, the humble surroundings, the adoration and the proclaiming of the Christ.

The second section of the hour of worship gives a musical portrait of Christmas observance in Austria, Portugal, Early America, Modern America and the world over.

The instrumental portion of the service will consist of the Christmas Chimes that begin at 7:25, three organ preludes and an offertory, which will be played by Mrs. Touhy.

Solo portions of the anthems will be taken by Mrs. Charles Wilke, Mrs. Robert Graham, Mrs. Harris Folds and Dick Aiken. Mrs. Roy Mann will be heard at the piano keyboard.

The members of the choir who are participating are sopranos: Mrs. David Bach, Mrs. Robert Connell, Mrs. E. M. Galloway, Mrs. Robert Graham, Mrs. Richard Packard, Mrs. Nick Pfeiffer, Mrs. Charles Wilke and the Misses Gene Nunnally, Patty Walker and Joan Wilke.

The alto section is made up of Mrs. Robert Berg, Mrs. Al Coe, Mrs. Ernest Cooper, Mrs. Robert Crumley, Mrs. Harris Folds, Mrs. A. C. Fort, Mrs. Roy Mann, Mrs. Joseph Graham, Mrs. Rudy Sloan, Mrs. Leon Walker, and the Misses Dial Hoyle and Barbara Robb.

In the male sections are tenors: Dick Aiken, Andrew Bracken, Al Case, William Hoag, Robert Mares and George Touhy, while the basses are Warren Adams, Robert Crumley, Donald Howard, Clifford McKibbin and Charles Morrison.

Increasing interest indicates another overflow congregation and officials are asking that those planning to attend arrive before the starting time, not only in order to get seats but to avoid interrupting the service.

The church extends everyone an invitation to attend.

Repairs Are Asked For County Kitchen

Faust Sundry Store Opens In Sanford At French, 20th

"My sincere faith in Sanford and Seminole County," said Earl C. Faust, owner and operator of Faust's Sundry Store, has led me to expand my business here in Sanford and open another store to be known as "Faust's Sundry Store" at the corner of French Ave. and 20th St.

Faust came to Sanford five years ago and since then he said, "I have seen phenomenal growth and greater economic security." The Sanford druggist who has made thousands of friends in this area said, "I believe that this community is going to continue its already unusual expansion."

"I have a payroll of more than 250,000 a year," he said, "with 22 or more employees in the run stores."

More than anything else, Earl Faust explained, I appreciate very deeply the fine way folks in Sanford and this area have treated me. Naturally, he said, when you have friends and the good will of those about us, we want to invest in the community where we live.

Faust's Sundry Store will be more than just a corner store, said the owner of the newly opened establishment. It will be a gift center, featuring right now both toys and other gifts for the Christmas season. Also, he said, we will have health needs, baby needs, a complete line of patent medicines, and for the convenience of those who would like the service, prescriptions may be left there to be compounded at Faust's Drug Store and promptly delivered.

In addition, the new neighborhood store, facing French Ave. at 20th St. will have a modern fountain where tasty sandwiches and sodas will be prepared.

"Sanford is growing," said Earl Faust, "and we want to grow with it."

161 County Youths Given Work Permits

A total of 161 Seminole County children under 18 obtained work permits through October this year, reports Industrial Commission Chairman James T. Vorelle.

Statewide, 19,841 of the employment certificates were issued through the third quarter of this year, compared to 14,344 through the same time in 1954, Vorelle said. The increase amounts to 39 per cent.

The Seminole County certificates included 121 for boys, and 40 for girls.

By age groups, there were 106 taken out by youths 15 through 17 years of age, and 55 by children 12 through 14. Normally, more of the older children hold jobs.

The certificate totals do not cover all children who work. Some occupations are exempt from certificate requirements, such as work in domestic service, or on farms outside school hours, and street trades such as newspaper selling, in which youths are self employed.

Statewide estimates are that 62,000 children now hold jobs in Florida. Vorelle said the great increase in numbers of employment certificates issued in Florida children this year means that not only are more youths working, but also that educational programs of the FIC Child Labor Department are paying off in informing children and employers about requirements for children under 18 obtaining the permits before they can legally work.

"The injury rate has been only 57 per cent this year, compared to 84 per cent through the same time last year, and an actual decrease of 108 fewer injuries, even though more children are working," Vorelle said. "This is extremely gratifying and shows a greater observance of the Child Labor Laws of the state, better safety measures on the part of employers, and greater compliance with prohibitions against children working over hours or in hazardous occupations."

County Property Discussed

No Action Taken On First Request

The Board of Seminole County Commissioners transmitted their business today, including the approval of vouchers and claims, in two hours and five minutes, adjourning at 11:55 this morning.

A request was made before the Commissioners that the Sanford Canning Kitchen, now known as the Home Demonstration Center, be repaired so that the building could be more broadly used by the Home Demonstration Club groups.

The request included the repairs to the roof which is now leaking, the sealing of the building inside, and the providing of heat for the colder months and fans for the summer.

No action was taken on the request pending an investigation into the repairs needed, the cost, and possibility of improving the building. The Commissioners referred the matter to Commissioner Fred Dixon. A report will be made at the next meeting of the Board.

Property owned by Seminole County on Park Ave. at 24th St. in Magnolia Ave. was discussed along with the possibility of reworking a dedication so that the 20 lots owned in this area could be sold. Commission Chairman said, "The property has been lying there for years and years and not on the tax rolls."

Seminole County engineer M. C. Hagen requested that if the lots are placed at the disposal of possible purchasers that the right-of-way be widened from the present 60 feet to 82 feet.

Reminding the Board of Commissioners that the City of Sanford had agreed to revoke its dedication on the 20 lots, the Board of Seminole County Commissioners agreed not to take any action until further developments had materialized.

A location sketch of the Little Wicket Road was approved when the proposed route was shown to be straighter than heretofore agreed to and at a saving of more than 1,000 feet of paving. The proposed road is off the Matham Road and will join with State Road 431.

Bonds were approved for the carrying of streams by R. E. Carroll, and for Deputy Sheriff W. Mansfield Brown.

Other action this morning by the Board of County Commissioners included the approval of a Revised Plat of Block "A" Benson's Acres on the Lake Mary Road. The Board also approved two admissions to the Florida Tuberculosis Hospital which were presented by County Health Officer Dr. Terry Black.

A check drawn by the Seminole County Road Department was presented to the Commission from S. Lee Fillmore as partial payment of the restitution to be made of the $2,177 taken from county funds. The Commission ordered the money deposited to the Road and Bridge Fund of the County.

On a proposal that the clay pit at Elder Springs be sold, it was revealed that the approximately two acres is still the property of Orange County and has not been deeded to Seminole County.

Postcard Poll Said To Favor Warren

TALLAHASSEE (AP)—First returns from a postcard poll to test sentiment on the question of former Gov. Fuller Warren running again were reported to be favorable.

Charles L. Clark, a former administrative assistant to Warren, said the test in Leon County was 815 to 1.

Warren said he was not a candidate.

Clark said he mailed out letters to 15,377 registered voters enclosing postcards; that he received 3,765 replies; that 2,461 were marked "yes" and 888 "no."

Thirteen were indefinite and 276 were returned unopened, he said.

Clark said he mailed the postcards without consulting Warren and paid the expenses himself.

Private Services Held At Graveside For Mrs. M. Schaal

Private services were held at the graveside in All Souls Catholic cemetery here yesterday afternoon for Mrs. Mary A. Schaal, 64, who died suddenly in Orlando last Friday. The Rev. Fr. Richard Lyons of All Souls officiated.

She resided here until mid-1943 when she moved to Orlando where she had lived since except for short residences in Deland, St. Petersburg, Clermont, and Winter Park.

She is survived by three sons, Peter Schaal of Orlando, Carl G. Schaal of Mt. Dora, Raymond M. Schaal of Sanford; two brothers, George Marmor of Vermilion, Minn., and Charles Marmor of Hastings, Minn.; three granddaughters, Brenda, Allison, and Melane Schaal, of Orlando; several nieces and nephews in California and Minnesota.

Delay Of Payments Questioned By GI's

MIAMI (AP)—An investigation is under way to determine why veterans administration payments to GI's at the University of Miami are delayed.

Rep. Dante Fascell (D-Fla.) said yesterday that hundreds of veterans had not received a single subsistence check from the VA since school started in September.

He said VA officials at Pass-A-Grille reported the delay was not their fault; that once a veteran's educational benefits are approved checks come from the Treasury Department at Atlanta.

Fascell said he was informed between 18,000 and 19,000 students in Florida are on the award list and that more than 500 had not received their checks.

Fascell reported it might take a week or 10 days to get out the checks, and he added:

"I feel that some administrative action should be taken so this will not occur again and I certainly intend to see to it that it will be taken."

Outstanding Rating Is Given To VAH 9

"Outstanding" was the word Edr. William F. Lyons had for the members of the Heavy Attack Squadron Nine after conducting an inspection of all hands yesterday. Hastened by the threat of imminent rain, the inspection was climaxed by the presentation of advancement certificates to 43 HATRON Nine men who were advanced in rate recently.

Among them was a brand new Chief Petty Officer, P. N. Fritts. In keeping with a time-honored custom, Chief Electrician's Mate Fritts was presented with a new hat by his shipmates.

Fleet Reserve Assn. Directors To Meet

A board of directors meeting of the Sanford Branch 147, Fleet Reserve Association will be held this afternoon, 4 o'clock, at the Enlisted Men's Club of the Sanford Naval Auxiliary Air Station.

A regular meeting of the organization will be held Thursday evening at 8 o'clock in the Club's Club at the local Navy Base.

An announcement was made yesterday that the national president of the organization will arrive in Sanford next week. Milton Stokes heads the organization.

Individual Taxes Said To Be First In Any Reduction

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Committee for Economic Development said today individual income tax rates should get "first priority" in any tax reduction permitted by a balanced federal budget.

While all income tax rates should be cut next year, the CED said in a tax policy report, "a relatively greater percentage reduction... should be made in the middle and upper brackets where extremely high rates are seriously interfering with the incentive to take risks and with the supply and mobility of investment funds."

The CED is a non-profit economic research and education organization with headquarters in New York.

If the federal budget situation permits, the CED said, there should be some reduction also in corporate income and excise or sales tax rates.

Man Is Questioned On Triple Slaying

PORTLAND, Me. (AP)—Authorities today questioned a 39-year-old Michigan man arrested on a traffic violation charge in connection with the October slaying of three Chicago boys.

Police Chief James Parker of nearby Holly, who arrested him, and two state police detectives said there was no evidence to link Owen Robert Moore of Fenwick, Mich., with the slaying.

Moore is held in Oakland County Jail on a charge of possessing an unregistered firearm. Parker said he found the gun in Moore's car when he arrested him on the traffic charge Saturday.

Parker said Chicago police were "mistaken" in reporting he had told them Moore had signed a triple slaying and added, "I don't know where they got that idea."

Area Is Doubled For Trading Post

"In order to accommodate the vast crowds that visit the new business on State 600," said F. Goodwin, owner and operator of the "Super Trading Post." "We have had to double the area of the show room."

"We started our business, Mrs. Goodwin and me, just last January," he said, "and the demand for high grade used furniture has made it necessary for immediate expansion."

However, Goodwin explained in order to take care of our continuing growth and demand, we plan to, very soon, erect a new building with 3,000 square feet of floor space which will be used exclusively for low furniture.

Additional space for the immediate requirements was accomplished by adding another floor to the present building, Goodwin said.

Details Complete For Annual CofC Meet At Mayfair

All details for the annual meeting and banquet of the Seminole County Chamber of Commerce will be held this evening, 7:30, at the Mayfair Inn, have been completed.

Annual Meeting Chairman John Fitzpatrick said that everything is in readiness for the event which starts promptly at the appointed time.

Assistant to the President of Capital Airlines, Jennings Randolph, has arrived in Sanford for his part on the evening's program as principal speaker.

Others to appear on the program at the annual meeting and banquet are Robert West, famous pianist, and the Orlandoans, barbershop quartet of Orlando.

"Earl Higginbotham, immediate past president of the Seminole County Chamber of Commerce will report on the activities of the past year under his leadership.

Chamber of Commerce officials have urged a complete attendance of the organization's membership at this most important meeting of the year.

Arguments Heard On Immunity Law

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Supreme Court heard arguments today on the constitutionality of a law aimed at compelling witnesses to testify in national security cases under a grant of immunity from prosecution.

This first challenge to the validity of the 1950 immunity law was raised by William Ludwig Ulman, a former Air Force major and one-time Treasury employee who has figured in congressional investigations of alleged Communist spy activity in the government.

Ulman said in a message to yesterday's constitution opening, President Eisenhower said labor unions have a right to deal in political issues. But he argued that majority sentiment within unions be scrupulously protected and their views accurately reflected.

George Meany, president of the combined AFL-CIO, termed Ulman's address a "very fine message." It was relayed by special circuit from the President's Galtysburg, Pa., office.

Walter Reuther, an AFL-CIO vice president, said the talk "refutes completely the Goldwater line"—a reference to recent criticism of union political activity by Sen. Goldwater of Arizona, chairman of the Senate Republican Campaign Committee.

Both Meany and Reuther told congressional delegates they also stepped up political activity.

Presidential aide Harold Mason said in a Detroit speech last night he looks for the AFL-CIO to "speed up" as political activity. But he added:

"This is a dangerous trend for the future well-being of the workers and of the nation as a whole."

Sen. H. Alexander Smith (R-N.J.) said today in a Washington interview that he thinks it is "sound practice for labor unions to keep their members politically indoctrinated."

He added, however, that he thinks it would "be a mistake for them to endorse any candidates" in next year's campaign for control of Congress.

The politics of another big group of voters—the farmers—were discussed yesterday by Secretary of Agriculture Benson of a Syracuse, N. Y. news conference.

Kiwanians To Hear Rhodeheaver Rep

The Sanford Kiwanis Club will have a representative of the Rhodeheaver Foundation tell of a school for boys.

The appearance in Sanford of the Rhodeheaver Foundation speaker has been arranged by Judge R. W. Ware, chairman of the Marianna Plan Committee of the local Kiwanis group.

Judge Ware, according to the "Kiwanis Bulletin" has done much in his quest for rehabilitation of boys discharged from Marianna.

2nd Murder Charge Prepared Against Ex-Baseball Player

MIAMI (AP)—A second murder charge was being prepared today against Conklin Meriwether after his father-in-law, 54-year-old Charles Mills, died in a Miami hospital of multiple skull fractures.

Meriwether, 27-year-old former professional baseball player, is accused of hacking in death his crippled mother-in-law, Mrs. Ellen Mills, 68, in the Mills home at Tavernier. Mills and his son, Paul, 18, were struck repeatedly. The boy is recovering.

Meriwether has been charged with first degree murder in the death of Mrs. Mills and attempted murder in the attacks on Paul and the boy.

Langer Asks Probe Of Dixon-Yates Power Contract

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Langer (R-ND) said today he will present his demand for a public investigation to show whether backers of the now-repudiated Dixon-Yates contract contributed to President Eisenhower's 1952 campaign fund.

In a surprise move yesterday Langer demanded that a Senate Antimonopoly subcommittee on which he serves subpoena Postmaster General Summerfield, who was Republican national chairman in 1952; Sherman Adams, top White House aide; Stephen A. Mitchell, the 1952 Democratic national chairman, and others.

His request was in the form of a handful of resolutions filed with the subcommittee at a public hearing. It is investigating what Chairman Keaguer (D-Tex.) termed "a criminal side" of the contract negotiation.

Crackerjack Alert Sounded Yesterday

WASHINGTON (AP)—United States and Canadian air units and volunteer civilian ground observers were rallying today to repel mock "enemy" planes probing for cracks in North America's air defense armor.

A surprise alert—dubbed Operation Crackerjack—sounded late yesterday. The drill was expected to continue three or four days.

Joining in the manuever were units of the U. S. Air Force, Reserve, National Guard, Navy and Marines, plus Canadian forces and some 400,000 members of the Ground Observer Corps.

Ike, Top Advisers Hit On Agreement

GETTYSBURG, Pa. (AP)—President Eisenhower and top military and budget advisers reached virtually final agreement today on 1956-57 defense spending in the neighborhood of the present 24½ billion dollars a year.

The decision did not appear to hold out much hope the administration could ask a substantial tax cut at the next session of Congress.

Secretary of Defense Wilson told a reporter after an hour and a half meeting with the President and Budget Director Rowland Hughes that "no final figure" was set for defense spending in the next fiscal year.

Wilson added, however, he expects "a major change" from the current spending level.

W. J. McNell, Pentagon comptroller said today's meeting just about settled the final defense budget. McNell said he and Wilson do not plan any further negotiating here with the President before the budget estimates are put into final form.

Labor Secretary Joins In Debate

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Secretary of Labor Mitchell today joined in the debate over organized labor's role in politics. He told the newly merged AFL-CIO it has a duty and a responsibility to speak up "loud and clear" in political matters.

Mitchell's words, prepared for the New York convention of the 16-million-member labor group, struck much the same note as those prepared for the same meeting by Gov. Averett Harrison of New York.

Harrison, a potential candidate for the 1960 Democratic presidential nomination, said "it is up to labor to make its voice heard" in support of what he termed "wise and progressive policies."

Mitchell said he expected labor's voice to rise in support of Eisenhower administration policies rather than those of the Democrats.

In a message to yesterday's convention opening, President Eisenhower said labor unions have a right to deal in political issues. But he argued that majority sentiment within unions be scrupulously protected and their views accurately reflected.

George Meany, president of the combined AFL-CIO, termed Mitchell's address a "very fine message." It was relayed by special circuit from the President's Galtysburg, Pa., office.

Walter Reuther, an AFL-CIO vice president, said the talk "refutes completely the Goldwater line"—a reference to recent criticism of union political activity by Sen. Goldwater of Arizona, chairman of the Senate Republican Campaign Committee.

SHS Principal Back From Convention

Seminole High School Principal Herman E. Morris returned Friday from Miami where he spent the past several days attending the annual convention of the Southern Association of Secondary Schools and Colleges.

Attended by some 1,500 delegates from the 11 southern states, vital discussions surrounding problems confronting the modern school were held. Subjects discussed were "accelerating and policies for the future," "juvenile delinquency," and "school drop outs."

Headquarters for the convention were in the DelLido Hotel in Miami Beach, Lincoln Road. Seminole High School has been accredited since 1954.

"CHAPTER TWENTY-EIGHT
Lois shook her head impatiently, trying to free herself of emotions and to focus her reluctant mind to grapple with its problem.

Reluctant? That was the chief difficulty, she acknowledged honestly to herself. She did not want to know about Roger's death. But she had to know. She could not evade her personal responsibility. It was clear that no one else intended to make any effort to uncover the truth. Don't stir things up, Dr. Thomas had warned her. Dr. Thomas who had ranked his professional standing when he signed the death certificate, giving heart failure as the cause of death.

All right, Lois told herself angrily, stop hedging. Carol intends to marry Shandy, she made that clear this morning. And Shandy has stayed here all these years, in spite of the fact she fitted him, that she hurt him intolerably. And Joe Hattery is threatening Shandy. It was probably Shandy's gun that fired that shot at Roger. Or at least he believes it is.

Lois began running, as though trying to escape from her thoughts. Within a few moments she became aware that her heart was racing, that she was out of breath and trembling from exhaustion. After all, she had got up from a hospital bed only a short time before. Better take care of her would have a doctor and her slender reserve of money was exhausted.

She turned back, walking slowly. Why had Jane Brindle got her gun? For the first time it occurred to her that Jane herself, as a successful magazine contributor as well as Roger's ex-wife, had undoubtedly been asked to write the stories that had been turned over to her. Why had Jane passed the job on to someone else? Because Miss Higgins had talked of a ghost-writer who had a flair for people, for getting at the truth about things.

Lois started on a tiny lead made long leap over her foot into the bushes. As she passed the Hattery cottage Joe came scurrying out to meet her. There was an ugly scowl on the side of his face and his feet were swollen.

"What's going on at the kitchen?" he asked. "How does come rushing out here a while ago?"

"Mr. Hibbes had a sort of nervous collapse. He is better now."

"Please go on home," Joe said. "We'll take care of him here."

Lois fell into step beside Lois. "Want you the big house a while ago and heard Mrs. Brindle and Frank having a row at the top of their voices. Could have heard 'em clear down to the village." He chuckled.

"Kind of late to be jealous, it seems to me, Brindle's no good to either of them now."

He gave Lois a side glance to see whether she appreciated the sarcasm of this. She pretended to quiver her lips and get rid of him but her legs were trembling with weakness. Although there was no one in earshot, Joe spoke out of the side of his mouth.

"Anyhow, Mrs. Brindle has got the wrong cat by the tail. Oh, my, perhaps you were dining with Mr. Hibbes. He's gone too."

Lois teeth gradually stopped chattering, she huddled deeper in her coat, and then belatedly became aware of the infection in his voice.

"Clyde! What's wrong? Why are you here at this time of night? What do you mean—his gone too?"

"It's Paula," he told her. "Mrs. Brindle called our cottage a half hour ago to find out whether Paula was with us. She's gone."

"Gone where?" Lois asked stupidly.

"We don't know. She didn't take anything with her, no money, no clothes, nothing. She just ran away."

"What time is it?"

"Eleven-thirty."

"You're sure she didn't just go for a walk?" Lois asked.

"She's terrified of the dark," Clyde said. "She keeps a night light burning because she's afraid to go to sleep in the dark. She must have been—"

"Been what?" Lois asked. The boy's white face worried her.

"Been more afraid of something else," he said bluntly. "If you're all right I'm going to look for her. Mrs. Brindle said I could take her car."

"Perhaps," Lois suggested, "Shandy is back. He's rather wonderful at finding people."

"She said it, and I'm going to look for her. Mrs. Brindle said I could take her car."

"I'll try the woods," Shandy said. "I'll try the woods. Don't wait, Clyde. I'm going to get on some warm slacks and a sweater. Two sweaters," she added, shivering again as the coat slipped off her shoulders.

"Paula would never go into the woods," Clyde said emphatically. "Never in this world. She's a timid little thing. She doesn't even step off the path in the daylight if she can help it."

"Has she any friends in Massachusetts?"

"Mrs. Brindle is calling them."

Clyde went out and Lois heard him running toward the garage. Standing before the heater, she put on black and white checked wool slacks, wool socks and sneakers, a white sweater and a red wool jacket. But all the time she dressed she wondered why Shandy had lied to her. She had not awakened him from a sound sleep. He had not gone to bed. A half-hour earlier, when Clyde had looked for him, he had not been home.

be Brindle led the kid on; she's young and you can't blame a man for trying. But she wasn't the one."

"Joe!" Ethel Hattery was behind them, the peckmarks livid in her flaming. Why, Lois thought in a kind of shock, aware of the volcanic force of banked emotions, that woman is dangerous. Joe stood still, eyeing her with a half-hurt and she was crazy about him. He wasn't in love with Carol either; she was like a pretty kitten he stroked and gave a soft cushion by the fire. He wasn't in love with me. Not really. Once I thought he was, but he was—just sorry."

Ethel was humble in her pain, a hopeless suffering too straightforward for embarrassment. "He was tired of all of us, tired in his very bones. In my opinion, he loved only one woman in his life and that was his first wife. And it's my guess she's the only human being who never made a claim on him. We all—waited too much."

She wheeled and went back to her cottage, a sloppy, white-faced woman, in whom even the anger had burned out.

In Roger's cottage Lois found a covered tray on the worktable. In spite of her anxiety over Albert, Beanie had not neglected to prepare lunch. When she had eaten it, Lois looked at her pile of notes and then stumbled out on the terrace, dragged the deckchair into the shade of the big elm, sprang out, and fell asleep.

"Mrs. Fleming!"

Lois straightened up, her teeth chattering. "What is it?"

The sunlight tipped up, leaching the homely face of Clyde Hibbes. "Are you all right?" He sounded worried.

"I must have fallen asleep. I'm half frozen, that's all."

He held out his hand and pulled her to her feet, so stiff that she could barely stand. "Come inside," he urged her. He plugged in the heater, opened the closet door and brought a coat which he draped around her.

"You are very thoughtful."

He looked concerned. "It's my fault. I should have looked out on the terrace for you before I brought your dinner hours ago when I couldn't find you I thought

Saturday afternoon, the losers in the recent Sunday School contest, sponsored by the Nazarene Church treated the winners to a fish fry and covered dish supper on the church lawn. Between 40 and 50 members and friends of the congregation enjoyed this occasion.

Mr. and Mrs. James Sellers and her brother, Morris M. Sjoblom Jr., of Tampa were the guest of their uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Sjoblom recently. They had brought back their family at McClenny, over the holiday weekend.

When Youth Is Exposed To Good Things, Bad Ones Are Isolated

A Texas multi-millionaire, back at the beginning of World War Two expressed interest in the early development of character of young people. His interest led him to combine his many efforts in a campaign to reduce juvenile delinquency by exposing the youth of his city to good music.

Salvation Army Drive On

Don't forget that the Salvation Army will again have its kettles and dime boards on the streets again this Christmas Season.

Civic Clubs will have charge of ringing the bells and vying with one another for the honor of collecting the greatest sum of money in one day.

The money so collected will go to a fund for the purchase of Christmas dinners for those less fortunate than those who pitch in a dime or a quarter as they pass the huge pots and the ringing bells.

Last year, one of the men standing at a downtown location, saw a young lady and a young man, neither of them more than a teenager. Each dropped a bill in the pot and backed away with a huge smile that will never be duplicated. They were happy youngsters, and with them was an older lady perhaps the mother, also wearing a huge smile.

The bell ringer, wanting to know just what caused the huge smiles and the extra bit of happiness, looked into the pot, and there were the two bills, one of them twenty dollars and the other a ten. Whether that contribution was a sacrifice or a share no one will ever know. But it did reveal the true spirit of the Christmas Season—GIVING!

We wonder how many times that same scene will occur again this year. It should be many times for there are hundreds of us who have been fortunate this past year.

At the same time, there are among us, those who are not so fortunate, and without help will not enjoy the Christmas dinner they so much deserve, or the visit from Santa that the youngster has prayed for.

So when you pass the boiling pot this year, as the bells ring, and the bell ringer pleads, drop in a dime, a quarter, a dollar, a ten dollar bill, or maybe a twenty. Others have done it and walked away with an angelic smile earned by sharing and worn because of a warmer heart and a deed well done.

TODAY'S BIBLE VERSE

His name will be called "Wonderful Counselor, Mighty God, Everlasting Father, Prince of Peace"—(Isaiah 9:6 RSV) Read Matthew 1:18-23.

We believe that when youth is exposed to good things, those things that are bad become isolated and forgotten.

That is why we are so anxious to see a year 'round city recreation program headed up by trained youth leaders so that children might be exposed to good music, good play, good athletics, and a good all 'round program.

So many good things being exposed to youngsters of all ages, even up to the young married couples, would dispel all thought of taking part in bad things that lead ultimately to what is now known as "juvenile delinquency."

Hugh Roy Cullen, the Texas multi-millionaire once said, "I haven't the remotest idea that music can stop juvenile delinquency, but I am firmly convinced that music is the universal language of all mankind, and a medium for reaching every cross-section of the community."

It's worth a try right here in Sanford and Seminole County, but by going a step further and adding to other good things that automatically attract young people from pre-school age up to the oldest teenager.

Our community is full of good children and certainly we want them exposed to the good things of life that strengthen character and guide a young career toward the future that is due him.

Where Are Carollers?

Where are the Christmas Carollers we once heard, in days gone by, as they gathered of an evening during the Yule Season to spend an evening visiting various neighborhoods singing songs of the Christmas-time.

Seems that in a community as large as Sanford and its fringe areas that there would be 500 or more people who love to sing, especially the familiar carols that seem to weave a particular charm around the heart of the listener and the singer.

There are few Scrooges 'round about us, and thousands who would like to hear the familiar songs that explain in their soft-sung manner the real meaning of Christmas.

Someone should step forward to form such a group of folks and nightly begin their serenades. There need be no practice, and fortunately, there surely is a source for the songs so that those who do not readily know the verses could sing along and join in the choruses.

No city should ever get too big to forget the real spirit of Christmas.

There are many places to go for the serenading, if a group feels that riding or walking up and down our heavily populated streets is too oldtimey. There are hospitals, old folks homes, shuttins, jails, hotels, motels, and many other places that would appreciate a song of the Yuletide. It's a good idea anyway.

School Federal Aid Is Big Issue

Associated Press News Analyst WASHINGTON—Some kind of federal aid for education—probably for building public schools—seems certain in 1956. There are practical and political reasons for thinking so.

1. Schools are needed and the states by themselves are not building them.
 2. The President's White House Conference on Education last night approved by a 2-1 margin the idea of federal aid for public schools.
 3. President Eisenhower's secretary of health, education and welfare, Marion B. Folsom, made it clear last night the administration would push such a program.

4. The Democrats' Senate leader, Lyndon Johnson of Texas, already has promised that federal aid for school construction would be a primary goal of his party in the Senate.
 5. Both parties have a sound political reason to vote federal aid: the conference action demonstrated wide public support for it and 1956 is a big election year.

The conference, which brought between 1,800 and 2,000 men and women here from all 48 states, surprised the skeptics by its action last night.
 Before the conference opened Monday there was widespread doubt any solid agreement could come from so many people with so many different backgrounds. Explosions, perhaps enough to wreck the conference, would not have been unexpected.

The opposite happened. In some of its other reports the conference was wishy-washy, issued platitudes, and overworked the obvious. Not last night's report on federal aid. It was terse, positive, and faced the issue.

Folsom, making one of the final speeches, carefully pointed out he had spoken with Eisenhower yesterday and added: "The federal government must help raise some of the funds for the buildings."
 He went further than that a moment later by making it clear the administration was already planning to ask Congress to vote federal aid, for he said that "in designing a federal proposal we are bearing in mind" certain principles.

One of them was that: "Federal assistance, while nationwide in scope, benefiting all states, should be distributed according to need." This was not a new idea. It had been batted around before in Congress, which never could make up its mind on federal aid at all.

But Folsom and the administration were right in step with the conference's thinking. Its report was finished and available a few hours before the conference opened.

who shall be a practicing attorney of the Seminole County Bar, who shall be appointed by the City Commission. In the absence or disability of the Municipal Judge, any licensed practicing attorney of Sanford shall act in his stead, upon an order of the Mayor entered in the minutes of the Municipal Court. The compensation of the Municipal Judge shall be fixed by the City Commission.

Miss Ruprecht Announces 30 Seniors Will Participate In Cook Contest

"Homemaker of Tomorrow Day" is being observed here today. A startling total of 256,534 earnest-minded graduating girls in 10,222 of the nation's high schools simultaneously today will test their aptitude for the career that awaits eight of 10 of them—homemaking.

Miss Barbara Ruprecht, Home-making Education teacher at Seminole High School announced that 30 of her senior girls will enter the contest. As an award for entering the contest, the school library will receive a Betty Crocker Cook Book. Winners will be announced in a month.

General Mills, sponsor of this $100,000 scholarship program designed to assist the schools in homemaking education, announced this huge participation of nearly half the nation's high schools today. Last year, 187,463 girls in 6,040 schools were enrolled.

General Mills credits part of this year's increase to the impact the program has made on the entire school curriculum. School administrators registering entries include homemaking teachers, guidance counselors, deans and teachers in physical education and social studies.

A total of 162 schools and 8,200 girls in this state will take the 50-minute written homemaking examination which will be the basis for selecting the school and state winners. The examination paper of the girl receiving the highest test score in each school will be entered in state competition with each state Homemaker of Tomorrow receiving a $1,500 scholarship and each state runner-up a $500 scholarship.

The 48 state winners and the representative from the District of Columbia, with their advisors, will tour Washington, colonial Williamsburg, Va., and Philadelphia April 8-12 when interviews will combine with the test score in determining the All-American Homemaker of Tomorrow who will be selected April 12. Her scholarship will be increased to $5,000.

The 1954-55 winner—Dolores Arnette of Enterprise, Ala.—is using her scholarship at Judson college in that state.

To Midwood High School in Brooklyn goes the distinction of having the largest number of girls enrolled in this year's Search—530. New York leads the states in most schools entered with 897 and most girls with 18,197. California had just one less—18,196.

Dons Rated No. 1 Team

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Free-wheeling San Francisco, bidding for a second straight NCAA basketball championship after a year ago, gained an overwhelming vote of confidence today from the nation's sports writers and broadcasters.

The Dons, first in the Associated Press preseason poll, were again rated the nation's No. 1 team.

They won both their games last week and stretched their winning streak to 26.

San Francisco's 63 first-place votes gave them almost a 200-point edge over second-place Kentucky. The Dons collected 1,022 points figured on a basis of 10 for first, second, etc. Kentucky pulled in 847, North Carolina State 550, Kentucky, with a 1-0 record, and N. C. State, with a 2-0 mark, each gained seven first-place votes.

Iowa, the defending Big Ten champ and 1-0 to date, polled 10 first-place votes, but fell down in the other listings in British fourth. Just two points behind the Wolf-pack.

Utah, Alabama, Dayton, Illinois, Duquesne and Brigham Young round out the top 10. Only the Hill have yet to make a debut and that's scheduled for tonight against Butler.

Duquesne, the NIT champ, got started last night, thumping Carnegie Tech 81-25.

Seven of the top 10 are holdovers from last season's final poll, which listed San Francisco, Kentucky, LaSalle, N. C. State, Iowa, Duquesne, Utah, Marquette, Dayton and Oregon State.

The leaders with first-place votes in parentheses:

1. San Francisco (63) 1,022

Football Experts Admit Not Able To Tell Outcome

By HUGH FULLERTON JR
The Associated Press
Football experts in the Southwest readily admit they can't predict the outcome of the Southwest Conference race and the team they pick to finish last is just as likely to finish first.

But the Texas Aggies, the pre-season choice to occupy the cellar in that league, caused more eyes to pop and eyebrows to rise than any other football team in the nation during the 1955 season. They did it merely by stepping out in front at the start of the season and staying there almost until the last game had been played.

Only one other team even came close in the balloting to pick the Biggest Surprise of the Season. That was Michigan State, which also went far beyond pre-season expectations. Of 10 sports writers and broadcasters replying to the annual Associated Press post-season questionnaire, 18 named Texas A & M and 37 tabbed Michigan State.

Notre Dame drew seven votes for its surprisingly good showing and Army six for its failure to live up to pre-season forecasts. The ballots were returned before the Notre Dame-Southern California and Army-Navy games, which might have changed a few of those opinions.

Texas A & M was in a situation where anything like a good season could be called surprising. The Aggies, in their second year of Bear Bryant's coaching, had a predominantly sophomore and junior team. They had lost 9 out of 10 games the previous season and didn't appear to have the material to improve that record much.

What's more, the college had been slapped with a year's probation for recruiting violations and forbidden to go to a bowl game even if it should win the championship. In the opening game, A & M took a 21-0 drubbing from UCLA. Then the young squad took fire and rolled over four opponents before being tied by Arkansas. Going into their last game, the Aggies still were the unbeaten conference leaders. An upset loss to Texas cost them the title, but they still were the No. 1 surprise.

Michigan State's situation was similar but not quite so bad at the start of the season. Coach Duff Daugherty's Spartans had lost 6 of 9 in 1954 and weren't expected to do much better against strong Big Ten competition. But after holding favored Michigan to a 14-6 score, State didn't lose another game and finished as the No. 2 team in the nation and the Big Ten's Rose Bowl representative.

Alabama Possible Title Challenger

By ED WILKS
The Associated Press
Well whaddya know! Kentucky isn't the only college basketball team in Dixie after all—there's Alabama and Vanderbilt, too.

Bama, with the 6-6 Jerry Harper back to help, picked up quite a bit of pre-season backing as a possible challenger to the stranglehold held on the Southeastern Conference title by mighty Kentucky, which four times in the last seven years has been top-ranked in the nation.

But now Vandy, which showed signs of stirring last season, has burst upon the scene with a masterful 16-0 victory over Ohio State last night in the Buckeye fair at Columbus, Ohio.

The Commodores, rugged and tall, made off with a 7-point lead in the first quarter and never trailed — hitting 50 per cent of their shots from the floor and sinking 76 per cent of their free throw attempts. Vandy showed excellent balance in ringing up its third victory in three starts, with four of the five starters scoring in double figures. Guard Al Rochelle was tops with 23 points.

All the Buckeyes, now 1-1, had was Robby Freeman, and the All-America ace almost was enough. He hit on 80 per cent of his shots and wound up with 20 points.

Freeman was just one of a host of individual stars as the college opened their first full week of the season Monday night. Dick Green, who has to have a 11 Duquesne in to stay among the nation's leaders this season after the graduation of All-America Dick Richards, riddled in 22 points—all from the field—as the Duke opened impressively with a 61-26 decision over Carnegie Tech.

Norm Stewart set a Missouri record with 25 points as the once beaten Tigers whopped Texas Tech 82-60; Bob Emrick earned 17 to lead Florida's 83-68 assault against Wakeford; Lloyd Aubrey hit 25 for Notre Dame although the Irish were clubbed again, this time 70-37, by Wisconsin; and Texas Christian's Dick O'Neil totaled 25 at Oklahoma City—with Hubert Reed also scoring 25 — lapped the Horned Frogs 84-65.

Elsewhere, Niagara—which runs into Alabama in the Queen City Tournament at Buffalo this week—made it 1-0 with a 60-50 decision over Toledo as Tommy Hennis scored 21. Memphis State added in the west of Ken Ledford, the on-Louis coach, by handing his Texas Aggies a third defeat 64-73; Kansas, a favorite in the

Winner Of Trophy To Be Told Thursday

Among the highlights of the annual Tri-Hi-Y banquet to be held at the First Presbyterian Church social hall Thursday night will be the announcement of the name of the winner of the oldest consecutively presented sports trophy in the South—the Peter Schaal trophy.

It will be the 28th annual announcement, and it will be made by the donor, a former sports editor of The Sanford Herald but now owner of an Orlando advertising company.

Like the 27 others that have preceded it, the trophy will be awarded during June graduation exercises to the player who, in the opinion of 11 judges, was the Most Valuable Player on the 1955 Seminole High School team.

The judges, most of them former players who years ago either competed for the trophy while playing for Seminole High, or starred in high school and college in other cities, watched the squad from first practice this fall thru the final game.

Nashua Is Chosen 3-Year-Old Champ

MIAMI (AP) — Not that it was any great surprise, but mighty Nashua was chosen 3-year-old champion race horse today by the Thoroughbred Racing Association's board of selectors with an overwhelming vote.

The big bay colt from the Blair Stud of the late William Woodward Jr., who lost the Kentucky Derby in an upset to California's Swaps, and turned the tables later in their great match race, received 37 of a possible 60 first place ballots. Swaps, owned by Rex Ellsworth, got the other 23.

The TRA selectors are the 21 racing secretaries at the 48 tracks making up the association, meeting here for its 16th annual convention.

Nashua was not only the horse who came back to avenge defeat, but was the turf's No. 1 television hero. The strapping son of Nasrullah eclipsed his great season at Washington Park in Chicago Aug. 21 when he defeated Swaps by 2 1/2 lengths in their memorable $100,000 winner-take-all match race.

No horse ever had won seven $100,000 races during a single year, and Nashua banked $72,500 in 1955 making him the biggest one-season money winner in history. Citation held the old record, $700,000 in 1948.

Big Y, opened its season with a 91-70 romp over Northwestern of the Big 10; and Colorado the defending Big Y champ, had an even easier time disposing of Oregon 88-62.

S. Boyd Takes Over As Head Coach Of Baylor U. Squad

WACO, Tex. (AP) — Sam Boyd, who said "I'm the luckiest son-of-a-bun that ever lived in get this job," took over as head football coach of Baylor University, his alma mater, today.

No succeeded George Sauer, who retired from coaching but will continue as athletic director. Boyd was given a three-year contract at an undisclosed salary.

In a move so sudden it left Boyd virtually speechless, the Athletic Committee of the university yesterday voted unanimously to elevate Boyd from assistant to head coach and to meet Sauer's request that he be relieved of part of his dual job as coach and athletic director.

Sauer, who has a five-year contract starting next year, was coach of Baylor for six seasons, showing a record of 22 victories, 10 defeats and 3 ties.

The Duke University football team of 1954 was not scored against in regular season play. But the Blue Devils lost the Rose Bowl game to the University of Southern California, 7-0 on a pass in the final 30 seconds.

J. Saxton, D. Loi Elevated To Top Status By Magazine

NEW YORK (AP) — Jimmy Saxton of New York, Duffin Lot of Italy and Fred Gallana of Spain were elevated today to top ranking in their divisions in the latest boxing ratings of Ring magazine.

Saxton, an ex-champion, replaced another deposed welterweight king, Tony DeMarco of Boston, in the No. 1 contender's berth in the 147-pound class. DeMarco, who was stopped last Wednesday for the second time by champion Carmen Basilio, dropped to third Basilio was named "Fighter of the Month" by Editor Nat Fleischer.

Loi, who recently defended his European lightweight title and has a long victory streak alive, was made the leading challenger for champion Wallace (Bud) Smith. Jimmy Carter, the ex-champ, was demoted to second.

Gallana, who captured the European featherweight crown from France's Ray Farnoch, jumped from eighth to first among the challengers of 126 pound ruler Sandy Saddler.

France's Charley Humes moved back from third to second among the middleweights while Argentina's slugging 160 pounder, Eduardo (KO) Lausa, climbed from fourth to third.

The retirement of Toronto's Earl Walls and the defeat of Germany's Heinz Neuhaus by light heavyweight Gerhard Hecht created two vacancies in the heavyweight class. They were filled by Johnny Summerlin, Detroit, in seventh place, and Harold Carter, Linden, N. J., in the ninth spot. Ezzard Charles, former heavyweight king, was dropped to eighth.

Other heavyweight ratings behind champion Rocky Marciano were (1) Archie Moore, (2) Bob Baker, (3) Nino Valdes, (4) Tommy Jackson, (5) Jimmy Slade, (6) Johnny Holman and (10) Franco Cavicchi.

Sugar Ray Robinson Has Psychological Advantage In Bout

CHICAGO (AP) — Sugar Ray Robinson, the 33-year-old challenger, may be the underdog, but he has some psychological advantage in his middleweight title bout with champion Carl (Bobo) Olson Friday night.

Youth prevails for Olson, who has an eight-year age edge at 27, a factor making him a 3-1 favorite.

Yet Robinson approaches the fight knowing he twice whipped the balding titleholder from San Francisco and also that his domestic scene is tranquil.

Olson has been training for his fourth title defense with his wife seeking a divorce, certainly a disturbing circumstance although the stoical Bobo doesn't know it. Robinson is here with his wife and 6-year-old son.

Furthermore, Olson still has to convince a lot of experts that Archie Moore didn't hurt more than his jaw with a third-round knock-out in Olson's abortive attempt to capture the 175-pound crown.

Olson has had two 10-round victories over a pair of journeymen pros, Jimmy Martinez and Joey Giambra, since that blasting by Moore. Bobo looked anything but impressive against Giambra, taking a close decision.

Olson's loss to Moore at New York last June 22 was only the second time in his career he has been knocked out. The other time was by Sugar Ray, who halted Bobo in the 12th round of their first meeting at Philadelphia Oct. 26, 1936.

Wagner Had Been In Poor Health Several Years

Wagner had been in poor health several years. Two months ago he slipped and fell in his home. He had been bedfast since and went into a coma about 10 days ago. The family said his death was the result of complications from the infirmities of old age.

Wagner, sometimes called the greatest player in baseball history, was a bandy-legged barrel-chested Dutchman. He finished a 21-year major league career in 1917 with a lifetime batting average of .329. His final public appearance was last April 30 at Schenley Park, outside Forbes Field, for the unveiling of a bronze statue in his memory. All he could say, as he wiped a tear from his cheek, was: "How about that?"

That was a typical remark Honus would brush aside praise for his records. And those records are legendary. They go like this: He played more games than any other major leaguer in history — 2,788. He had the most times at bat — 10,427. He made the most total hits — 2,430. He made the most one-base hits — 2,431, the most doubles — 448, the most triples — 250. He batted 300 or better for 17 consecutive years and led the National League in hitting for eight years.

He stole six bases in a World Series — another record.

Wagner was one of the first players elected to Baseball's Hall of Fame at Cooperstown, N.Y.

He was a coal miner at 12 and later he joined an older brother in the barbering business.

He began his baseball career when another brother, Al Wagner, got him an offer of $25 monthly to play for a Steubenville, Ohio, ball club.

Wagner's agility in the field and sharp batting eye soon became known throughout the baseball world. He was with a Paterson, N. J., club in 1897 when Barney Dreyfuss, owner of the Louisville (Ky.) Colonels purchased his contract for $2,200. Three years later Dreyfuss moved his National franchise to Pittsburgh and Wagner went with him.

After his retirement as a player, Wagner operated a sporting goods store in Pittsburgh for several years. In the '30s he returned to the Pirates as a coach and served until the club put him on pension in the winter of 1951.

His widow, the former Bessie Smith, and two daughters, survive.

98 Players Compete In Round Today

MIAMI (AP) — Ninety-eight players compete today in the second qualifying round for the $12,000 Miami Open Golf Tournament with 72 or under as their goal.

A bulky field of 112 players crowded the 8,000-yard par 70 Miami Springs course yesterday and 21 posted 70 or less. Lou Barbara of Deal, N. J., led with 67.

Seventeen players posted 70 and the same percentage holds today. They may not be all low pros and amateurs qualifying for the 72-hole tournament starting Thursday. Fred Hill, amateur from Holly Hill, and Honey House of Miami led the only 70s of the day.

Elsewhere, Niagara—which runs into Alabama in the Queen City Tournament at Buffalo this week—made it 1-0 with a 60-50 decision over Toledo as Tommy Hennis scored 21. ### Here's A Simple Test To Check Side Vision

By DR. HAN N. BUNDISON, M.D.
Can you dimly see objects far to the left and right when you look straight ahead?

Tunnel Vision
Unless you have "tunnel vision," your eyes should give you nearly a 180 degree sweep (half a circle) of what is in front of you and off to the sides.

This side vision is especially important for drivers. In fact, a recent New York survey disclosed that 58 per cent of a group of Highway accident repeaters had poor side vision. Only eight per cent of the accident-free drivers had it.

Permanent Handicap
For some persons, "tunnel vision"—the inability to see beyond a narrow, tunnel-like area directly ahead—is a permanent handicap. For others, it is a temporary condition provoked by such things as a headache, a toothache, inflamed sinuses—or a cocktail.

If you have poor side vision, you should be aware of your handicap.

Here's a simple test suggested by the Better Vision Institute which will tell you approximately how wide your field of vision is:

How To Do It
Hold your left hand, palm up, at arm's length. Fasten your gaze upon it. Then, take a piece of paper in your right hand, stretch your right arm out to the side, and slowly bring it around toward your left hand.

Notice when you first sight the piece of paper. This should be when your arms form an angle of almost 90 degrees, or almost a right angle.

Switch hands and you can tell how good is the side vision of your left eye.

Marginal Vision
By lowering the piece of paper from above and by raising it from below you will see that your marginal vision up and down is much more restricted than is your side vision.

The entire visual field of each of your eyes, if they are normal, resembles the shape of an egg. When your eyes operate in unison, the visual fields of each, of course, overlap.

QUESTION AND ANSWER
B. L.: My husband, who is 78 years old, sleeps most of the day. What can be the cause of this?

Answer: There are many causes for excessive sleepiness.

It may be due to constitutional, but this is not a very common cause. Lack of outdoor exercise or eating the wrong diet may cause it. A circulatory disturbance and thyroid deficiency are other causes.

Your husband is in need of a thorough physical examination to determine the cause of his drowsiness.

Too Late To Classify

By Russell Kay
There's one thing I can say for conventions, if you attend many of them you sure get around. Last week I managed to get in two of them one in Jacksonville where I attended a meeting of Motion Picture Exhibitors and hobnobbed with Joan Crawford and the other was the annual convention of the Florida State Chamber of Commerce at Pensacola.

The theatre folks were all excited about their audience participation poll to select the best pictures and actors, and from all reports it is going over in a big way with most theatres cooperating in the effort. This is the first time that movie fans have had an opportunity to express themselves and it will be interesting to see how their choice compares with critics and the industry itself.

When Harold Cole of the Florida State Chamber of Commerce invited me to Pensacola I accepted with gusto for I had not been to West Florida for several years and wanted to see, "first hand," what was going on out in that area.

To say I was amazed is putting it mildly. We folks who live in South Florida may think that our section is the only part of the state that has the bit in its teeth and is going places, but I'm telling you this West Florida area is something to write home about. Driving up State Road 19, I found growth and development all along the route. New industries, new homes, new business block and new subdivisions were everywhere in evidence. Homosassa Springs, Crystal River, Chiefland, Cross City and Perry all show evidence of substantial growth.

Travel south on Road 19 was heavy; between Tampa and Tallahassee I passed no less than 100 trailers from out of state and countless foreign cars bringing homeseekers, sunhunters and visitors to Florida. Every indication points to the biggest season yet.

My eyes bugged out when I saw what was happening in such communities as Fort St. Joe, Apalachicola, Panama City, Ft. Walton and Pensacola. They are all growing with Panama City, Ft. Walton and Pensacola taking the lead with new industries, home building and general improvement that is almost unbelievable.

The meeting of the Florida State Chamber of Commerce was one of the best attended in years with business and industrial leaders all over the state in attendance. Their reports were most encouraging and I was particularly interested in a talk by J. Saxton Lloyd of the Florida Development Commission; W. J. Clapp, president of the Florida Power Corporation; Dr. Roy W. Sapp, of Washington, D. C. who discussed atomic energy and its relation to Florida and the South, as well as remarks by other business and industrial leaders who vision tremendous growth and progress for the whole state.

While time did not permit a visit to all of the big industrial plants in the area, I can tell you they are tremendous and represent millions of investment dollars — enterprises like the St. Joe Paper Company at Panama City, the Chemstrand Corporation and St. Regis Paper Company at Panama City, the Armstrong Cork Co., International Paper Co., Weid Fricker, Greenwood Products Co., and many others. While the convention was in session news broke of a proposed multi-million dollar plant to be constructed at Fort St. Joe by the Glidden Company.

All of this great industrial investment means huge payrolls, more housing and continued expansion. Every community finds itself hard pressed to keep up with such growth. Water, sewage, school, police and fire facilities are inadequate and City Fathers are tearing their hair in an effort to solve the problem.

"This trophy," Hunt told Hawkins and the Seminole High School assembly audience, "is in recognition for the fact which won first place in the Senior Division among the schools."

Teenage Road-to chairman M. L. Raborn Jr. also appealed to the Seminole High School assembly for entries in the annual event that will soon take place. "Here is an opportunity to show what you can do as a driver," he told the high school group.

Christmas Parade M. A. Ralph Pezold earlier expressed his appreciation to those members of the local National Guard who helped maintain lines and order along the parade route last week. Those helping in the event were named by Pezold as SFC Alvin E. Kendall, Cpl. Bob White, Pfc. David Hosack, Pvt. C. E. Charry, R. H. Worrell, A. J. Clements, George Houston, Virgil Canada, Richard Smith, L. R. Busby, Robert Carver, and J. L. Rlytha.

Higginbotham Sees Healthy Outlook For Area's Future

"Newspapers and radio have given you a daily report on the activities and accomplishments of the Seminole County Chamber of Commerce," past president Earl Higginbotham said at the annual meeting and banquet last night.

Commenting on the unique representation made by Chamber of Commerce Manager Forrest Greenidge, Higginbotham said, "the arrangement of clippings was a story in itself of what has been done this past year."

Speaking of the expansion of Sanford and the Seminole County area, Higginbotham said, in giving his annual report, "Sanford and Seminole County are growing and we can do nothing about it. All we have to do is steer it in the right direction."

Concluding his report, Higginbotham said, "I certainly look healthy and good and under the capable leadership of George Touhy and his committee I have no fear of what is ahead of us this year."

Audience Captured At CofC Banquet

Members and friends attending the Seminole County Chamber of Commerce Annual Meeting and Banquet last night were entertained superbly by Bob Wens, nationally known pianist, and the Orlandoans, a quartet that struck at the heart of people with their old melodies and close harmony.

Bob Wens entranced his audience as he played inimitable fashion such melodies as "Dark Eyes," "Tea for Two" and others. His variations, different and entertaining, brought a rousing ovation at the end of each selection.

Wens, who owns and operates Fountain Lodge on 17-92 just south of Sanford also has a music school in Deland. He originally began his musical career with serious music and then, with original style and unusual versatility, became much in demand in the popular music field. He, at one time, played for Paul Whiteman.

Sanford Lions Told Of 31 Years Active Service By Speaker

Jennings Randolph, assistant to the President of Capital Airlines, in Sanford as the principal speaker at the annual meeting of the Seminole County Chamber of Commerce, told the Sanford Lions Club yesterday of his 31 years and 8 months active service in Lions International.

While in Congress in 1924, Randolph told the Lions Club at their noon luncheon meeting, that he co-sponsored the bill authorizing the concessions in Federal Buildings and Post Offices operated by blind persons. "And today," he said, "they are doing 20 million dollar retail business."

"The blind persons operating these concessions," he said, "draw approximately 4 1/2 million dollars in wages." Randolph told the local Lions members that there are about 1,000 of these blind persons operating concessions. "They are today paying taxes instead of being on relief rolls," he said.

Concluding his informal talk to the local Lions club, he said, "Have faith in your work as civic men and keep faith in a great country."

Jennings Randolph was introduced by Chamber of Commerce Manager Forrest Greenidge.

1956 Program On Conservation Comes To Light

The United States department of Agriculture's Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation County Committee of Seminole County brings to the attention of Seminole County citrus and truck farmers the Agricultural Conservation Program for 1956.

Incentive payments, they announce, are being made on seeded cover crops planted during 1956 by the Agricultural Conservation Program, provided the citrus man or truck farmer makes application in the Seminole County office before the cover is seeded. Payments can also be made for lime or fertilizer applied in connection with the cover crop.

They emphasize that volunteer stands are not eligible for the payments.

The initial period for accepting applications is from Dec. 1, 1955, through Jan. 16, 1956. However, applications, according to the local office in the Seminole County Court House, says that applications will be accepted later provided they are made previous to the seeding, and subject to funds available. The program year begins Jan. 1, 1956.

Those planning to seed a cover crop on citrus or truck land are eligible to apply for this aid, provided they have not received a similar payment in 1954 or 1955, according to Homer Ballard, County Office Manager of the Seminole County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee.

Other practices for which Federal assistance can be made are as follows: initial establishment of permanent vegetative cover for soil improvement or to prevent erosion; initial improvement of permanent vegetative cover through such methods as are prescribed by the County Committee; surface drainage when approved by Soil Conservation Service technician as being necessary and of lasting benefit; breeding and shaping of pasture lands to permit effective drainage in accordance with approved methods and plans recommended by Soil Conservation Service technician within limits of approved practice for Florida.

Notices are being mailed to all known interested persons with the full particulars regarding the 1956 Agricultural Conservation program. Those not receiving the information by mail can receive particulars from the committee office in the County Courthouse.

"The work of everyone who was in the campaign is a big job that these fellows won prizes in for. It means so much," McKibbin also wanted to add publicly his thanks to his co-workers. The winners and the prizes were John Fitzpatrick and Jim Grant, the winning team, with four tickets and $25 for expenses to the Orange Bowl Game; John Williams and Al Wallace, second place team, with four tickets and $15 for expenses to the Tangerine Bowl Game; and the winning team Captain was Don Hale who received two tickets to the Tangerine Bowl Game and two dinners at Freddie's Beach House.

Reminder cards are being mailed today by the Seminole County Tuberculosis and Health Association, said Bob Nantz, Seal Sea Chairman.

"At least 6,000 cards are being sent to those who have not yet purchased the important seals that are annually sold to help combat TB," said Nantz.

The Seal Sea Chairman reported that 1,100 replies have been received with receipts totaling $2,500. "The returns look optimistic," Nantz reported, "and it is believed that with the cooperation of Seminole County citizens interested in the health and welfare of the community, a forward looking program can be carried on next year."

Labor Party Leader Clement Atlee Resigns From Post

LONDON — Prime-making Clement Atlee, the mid-man of the Socialist who directed creation of Britain's welfare state resigned today as leader of the Labor party.

A three-cornered fight for the top post in the British opposition party appeared shaping up among the deputy leader, Herbert Morrison, 67, 19-year-old Hugh Gaitskell and Aneurin Bevan, 54, fiery Welsh leader of the party's left wing.

Bevan was given almost no chance, however, against Morrison or Gaitskell, both followers of Atlee's moderate policies. Morrison's age could count against him. Characteristically, the 72-year-old Atlee almost tipped out of the party leadership he had held for 20 years — a record in modern British politics.

He handed in his resignation in a closed meeting of Laborers of Parliament which lasted less than half an hour. His colleagues saluted him with "For he's a jolly good fellow." Atlee was visibly moved. His lips quivered.
