UCF prof busted for fondling child

12-year-old helps police with sting operation

SANFORD — A University of Central Florida engineering professor, who targeted a 12-year-old girl with pornography over the Internet, was arrested during an undercover sting at Sanford's Lee P. Moore Park Tuesday evening.

The joint effort by the Sanford Police Department and Seminole County Sheriff's Office led to the arrest of Madjid Adam Belkerdid, 46, North Wilderness Place, Casselberry. Belkerdid is being held without bond at the John E. Polk Correctional Facility on charges of child abuse, great bodily harm to a child, sexual battery, lewd and lascivious acts on a child, fondling and assault of a child.

"We set up the sting with the help of the victim, who was wired, and took him down," said Detective Kris Ziegler, public information officer for the Sanford police department. "This is an unusual case, this guy is unbelievably smart, he's written books, is well respected at UCF, and he's very intelligent."

Sanford police were called to a local residence at 6:20 p.m.

Tuesday when the mother of the victim contacted authorities and informed them her daughter had been contacted by a 46-year-old male via America On Line. He identified himself on the Internet as "Adamacas" and communicated to the 12-year-old that he was a professor, that he was safe to be with, and that he wanted to meet with the juvenile and have oral sex with her. Belkerdid then transmitted via the Internet a picture of his penis to the girl.

Ritz Theater to open in November

By Bill Kerns
Staff Writer

SANFORD — More than $1 million in public funds, plus matching private donations and services, have been spent to restore the Ritz Community Theatre in Sanford. It appears that the work will pay off in November.

Grand opening ceremonies of the Ritz Community Theatre are being planned for November. The date or type of performance has not been set. But, the electrical system is now installed.

"It seems very reasonable that we can make that November tors.

The theater, located at 201 Magnolia Avenue, opened in 1927 as the Milano Theatre and closed in 1964 because of declining attendance. Before closing, the facility also served as a movie house and a vaudeville theater. The original 30-foot-by-60-foot stage is still intact.

In addition to plays, Stairs said that there may also be a dance studio and school within See Ritz, Page 5A

County commission will have final say on future of complex

By Russ White
Staff Writer

SANFORD - There will be no rock-and-rollin', all-night partyin' going on around Remington Village and the nearby neighborhoods near the University of Central Florida. The residents want none of it - and the Seminole County's planning board agreed with them.

The board members voted, 7-0, Wednesday to turn down a request to build a 204-unit student housing project on 18.9 acres of land near the Alafaya Trail and Carrigan Ave. in unincorporated Seminole County.

"This (project) is not a good use for that land - it's much too intense," said board member Bob West, who is running for the County Board of Commissioners in 2000. "We do need to come up with housing for the UCF students but this just isn't the place."

The issue won't be settled until the Board of County Commissioners finalizes the A-1 to PUD land use change, but with three of the commissioners up for re-election, the proposed housing project is all but dead. It appears the commissioners will vote 5-0 against it.

For two hours Wednesday, residents of the area pleaded with the planning board to deny the housing request. Noise was a concern as was safety of families with small children.

Residents cited the frequent 911 and police calls from incidents at the Knight's Crossing student housing over the See Apartments, Page 4A

Police arrest second suspect in burglaries

By Joe DeSantis
Staff Writer

SANFORD — Seminole County Sheriff's deputies teamed with Maitland police late Monday night to make a second arrest in a string of so-called "purse burglaries" that may clear a number of break-ins to occupied homes in Maitland and South Seminole County.

Robert Kaminski, 31, 167 Stefanik Road, joins Christopher Smith, arrested last Friday, as prime suspects in the rash of residential burglaries.

Police recovered several stolen items inside Kaminski's house following his arrest and have also secured bank video which shows Kaminski attempting to get cash from an ATM machine using a stolen credit card. They also recovered a shotgun and cell phone believed to be stolen in mid-August from an Altamonte Springs home. Kaminski has told investigators many of the items they found in his residence were gifts from Christopher Smith.

Woodstock comes to SCC

By Joe DeSantis

SANFORD — No more homework, no more books. No more teacher's dirty looks. At least for one day.

More than 1,000 Seminole Community College students tossed aside the rigors of a new academic year and the grind of term papers Wednesday, to take a step back in time at a Woodstock Party. Sponsored by the Office of Student Activities and the Student Government Association, the back-to-the-future event included free food, tie-dyed T-shirts, rock climbing, a quarterback challenge, basketball toss, volleyball games, and a crowd favorite dunk tank —

1-legged hops are OK, but drop the paddle

The nuns at my grade school used to scare the St. Christopher medals off our necks by saying we'd have our tongues removed if we talked behind their backs. Luckily, neither I nor any of my classmates lost a tongue.

There were spankings — and an occasional slap to the face.

From what I'm told, Carlton Henley didn't take any nonsense when he was a teacher and principal at Lyman High School. Henley's now the County Chairman — intimidating grownups. (Just joking.)

What's real is the flap over the Lake Mary football coach who paddled a number of his players. For this, Greg Stanton was suspended for five days. The coach said he was "sad" and "remorseful" and would paddle no more.

Stanton said he offered team members a choice of paddling or other forms of discipline — picking up trash, storing team gear, or taking one-legged hops across the football field. The nerve of the guy. Rockne didn't make anyone do one-legged hops, neither did Bear.

One lousy year when Lou Saban left the pros to coach at the University of Maryland, he had an assistant coach rout injured players out of the training room. The assistant would shout, "sissies" (his real term was disgustingly vulgar) at the wounded ones.

Saban and his foul-mouth chum soon were told to exit College Park and to close the door behind them. Go Terry, cheered the Maryland players and fans.

Vince Lombardi coached only one season in Washington but those who played for him or watched the Redskins in practice, know he yelled at players but that he also embraced them. "Sonny, I could kiss you," Lombardi said one day when quarterback Sonny Jurgensen was having an impressive workout.

A football field is a football field — whether it is being used by high school, college or professional players. Each field is 100 yards. Each player wears a helmet and pads. Each coach has a playbook and a codebook. There are lines the coach should not cross. Not during a game nor when he is disciplining players.

Most everyone has to agree that Lake Mary football coach Greg Stanton did not maliciously punish or humiliate his players. If the truth be known, all football coaches make players take extra wind sprints or do one-legged hops if the lads are late for a meeting or skip a class.

Lake Mary principal Raymond Gaines wants to move on. The Lake Mary players do, too. They support their coach and want to play well for him Friday night in the season opener against Seminole High School. It's a huge game for both teams — especially for the home team, Lake Mary. Let's all go and watch.

Russ White's column appears Thursday through Saturday in the Seminole Herald.

Casselberry house burglary in which $15,000 in U.S. Savings bonds and other personal property was stolen.

Police reports indicate that also on Aug. 14, an unknown person broke into an occupied residence on Pawnee Trail in Maitland by prying open a back door. Once inside the thief stole two lock boxes, but not before encountering the owner who he knocked down while running past her and exiting the house. The burglar made off with a Visa Gold Card and attempted several times over the next few hours to make a string of $200 cash withdrawals from various ATM machines at Howell Branch-Winter Park-Casselberry ATM locations.

Ten-days later investigators interviewed Kaminski's girl friend, Kara Davies, who told investigators she thought Kaminski was into drugs and using crime to support his habit. During that interview at Kaminski's Stefanik Road home, police found a U.S. Savings Bond lying in a recycling bin that matched the series of those stolen 10-days earlier in the Casselberry break-in.

Kaminski and Smith are also being investigated in seven other burglary cases related to the above incidents. Smith has since bonded out of the 33rd Street jail in Orlando. Kaminski is being held on $5,000 bond at the John E. Polk Correctional Facility. He is being charged with burglary to a structure-unarmed, grand theft, possession of a firearm by a convicted felon and possession of a concealed weapon.

Apartments

Orange County Line. One resident said that 8,000 calls were received in just one year. Another complained that a student had set off explosives in a bathroom and blew out a wall.

Orlando attorney Miranda Richardson, representing land owners who wanted to sell their property to a developer - WEAT Land Partners II - was jeered at times during her presentation by protesters. She said the developer had agreed to prohibit businesses to sell alcohol in the total 22-plus acres being discussed.

Two UCF officials attended the public hearing at the Seminole County Services Building. They said that enrollment at the school has risen to 32,000 and that the school had plans to build 1,600 apartment units on campus. The first of these would be in place by 2001.

The planning and zoning board members reminded the residents who were protesting that there would be commercial buildings going into the area because it was already zoned commercial. That was fine, resident Dorores Lowe said, 'We'd rather have a Wal-Mart than student apartments. Wal-Mart would be responsible enough to keep crime out of the area.'

Another woman was leery that a car dealership would be located in the area and that loud speakers would be blaring until midnight on weekends. Better than rock-and-roll, the others said. End of debate.

the facility. On Friday, a $139,275 check arrive from the State of Florida, half of a $278,500 grant signed by Governor Jeb Bush. The grant funding will enable restoration of the Ritz Theatre to be completed. "We were able to keep the men on the job and the State has indicated that we could receive the balance of the Grant by October 31, if all of the work proceeds as anticipated," Stairs said. Sanford residents have donated insulation, curtain material and labor for the restoration. Lights have been turned on in the theater to enable workers to continue to install the dry-wall. Interior wiring and the sound system have been installed, while restorations to the balcony and exterior doors are also complete. In addition, work on the sprinkler system is also complete. Boards on the outside of the theater will be removed next week. "It's looking good," Stairs said. However, the Board is still seeking donations for commemorative chairs and a marquee in front of the building.

South Seminole Middle hosts Open House

CASSELBERRY — Antique cars and classic costumes will highlight tonight's open house at South Seminole Middle School in Casselberry.

Teachers at the open house will be dressed in costumes from the 1900 to 1929 era. Classic cars will also be on display before the open house begins.

The classic cars will be displayed starting at 6:30 p.m., followed by the PTA open house at 7 p.m.

Throughout the school year, a variety of events will be held at the school to highlight different decades from this Century. Students are studying the 1900 to 1929 era during the first nine week semester.

Students will participate in a dress-up day on Oct. 17.

For the second semester, students will study the 1930 to 1949 era.

Faculty and staff will perform the comedy, 1940's "Radio Hour," on Nov. 12 and 13. The play will be directed by teacher Cindy Huggins.

"It's a different faculty because we're all into acting," said English teacher Randy Allman, chairman of the Back To The Future committee that is organizing the events. "The kids will get to see their teachers in a different light."

In recent years, teachers and staff have also performed "Our Miss Brooks," "Grease," and "Yankee Doodle Dandy."

The third semester will focus on the 1950 to 1969 era during the third semester. There will be a Sadie Hawkins Dance on Feb. 11, and a talent show on March 9.

The focus will progress from 1970 to the present during the final semester. A curriculum fair will be held April 13, with the theme of "Century in Review."

Students will also participate in a rendition of "The Carol Burnett Show" on May 4.

Superintendent promotes principal Gaines

By Bill Kerns
Staff Writer

SANFORD — Lake Mary Principal Raymond Gaines has been named the new executive director of secondary education for high schools by Paul Hagerty, superintendent of Seminole County Schools.

Hagerty said that Gaines will assume his new duties in mid-September. A new principal will be chosen for Lake Mary High School within the next two weeks.

"He is an outstanding high school principal with an outstanding range of experience in serving secondary schools," Hagerty said.

Gaines was in his seventh year as the principal of Lake Mary High School. The school recently received an "A" on the state's accountability report.

"I have a lot of mixed emotions," Gaines said. "Lake Mary is a wonderful school. It has outstanding faculty and students, and great community support. The most difficult part is leaving the kids and entering this unknown arena."

Gaines previously was the vice principal of Lake Howell

High School for 17 years. He has been a teacher or administrator in Seminole County since 1966.

Gaines is taking the place of Richard Wells, who is retiring to take part in a newly formed national training institute.

Wolfgang Halbig, director of security, will become President and Chief Executive Officer of the National Institute for School and Workplace Safety, to be based in Orlando. Joining Halbig Wells and Chief Investigator Ron Davis.

Hagerty has yet to name replacements for Halbig or Davis.

Longwood fails to get quorum

By Joe DeSantis
Staff Writer

LONGWOOD — Any changes to the city of Longwood's current sign ordinances will have to wait for a future date.

Commissioners scheduled a work session to consider repeals to sections of the code Monday, but failed to take any action for lack of a quorum. Only Mayor Paul Lovstrand and commissioner Rusty Miles showed up.

Instead, talk among a handful in attendance turned to referendum language for proposed changes to the city's charter that will appear on the fall ballot.

City Clerk Geri Zambri said she and city attorney Richard Taylor are near completion of the ballot language and will present a draft to the board of commissioners next Tuesday at the commission's next regular meeting. Normally Longwood would meet on Monday but the date has been changed to Sept. 7 because of the Labor Day weekend.

According to Zambri there will be a total of 21 ballot initiatives on the fall election ballot. The number is necessary to address certain sections of each proposed amendment that have as many as three or four different parts that need a yes or no from Longwood voters.

Some questions are as simple as whether the charter language should include the words "rules" versus "procedures."

Other questions are more substantive, dealing with the change from a simple 3-2 majority to a 4-1 super majority required of the board to hire or dismiss top level city officials such as the city administrator, city clerk, or city attorney.

Residents fought with a successful petition drive to have the original 13 proposed changes brought forward by the city's Charter Review Committee after the board first approved the changes on the fall ballot and then two weeks later in July reversed itself with different commissions in attendance and casting votes.

The result of the second vote limited the number of charter changes on the ballot to seven and changes language in two others from the original proposed changes.

The Seminole County Supervisor of Elections office last week verified 733 petition signatures, representing the required 10 percent of registered voters to force the amendments on the ballot for the November 2 election.

Also at Monday's canceled work session, city attorney Richard Taylor said their is no change in the status of a suit filed against the city by half-a-dozen homeowners along Warren Avenue.

The property owners are asking for injunctive relief and $15,000 in compensation from the city, claiming Longwood interferes with their civil rights by closing off Warren Avenue for two days for the city's annual Fall Arts Festival, thus denying them access and use of their homes during the event.

WIN AT BRIDGE

Listen, think, act

By Phillip Alder

If you have an uncompleted auction, you will rarely gain an insight into the location of missing key honor cards. However, if an opponent bids, you have been given a hint. Don't forget to read the plan and act on it.

In this deal, you reach four hearts after West bids off with one critical card in the combined suits. What is your line of play?

When in a suit contract, first check your honors, then count your winners. Here, you are in with four winners, one in each suit. Without any opposition bidding, you might — incorrectly — hope that the trump finesse is viable. However, just one of your only 14 high-card points, yet West opened. So, he must have the heart king.

ASK DR. GOTT

MRI can help explain hip pain

DEAR DR. GOTT: I am a 63-year-old woman who developed severe left hip pain about four months ago. An orthopedic surgeon X-rayed the hip (normal), diagnosed bursitis, prescribed Iloproin (no help), administered two cortisone shots (temporary relief only), and checked my hip for osteoarthritis with a bone density test (normal). Now he wants to perform an MRI, which I do not believe will show anything. I need help badly. What should I do?

DEAR READER: By all means, have the MRI. This is a safe and painless test that will show the interior of your hip joint in vivid detail. It'd be especially interesting in seeing the condition of the joint cartilage. Cartilaginous damage does not usually show up on standard X-rays. If your cartilage is too thin or cracked, it'd be wise to consider surgery, such as a hip replacement. On the other hand, if the MRI is normal, your doctor will have to hunt for another cause of your hip pain. For example, low back ailments — particularly sciatica — can sometimes start off as hip pain. Let me know the results of the MRI.

DEAR DR. GOTT: What are the possible physical consequences of eating sushi?

DEAR READER: Most sushi is perfectly safe to eat. However, it is raw fish, and any uncooked flesh has the potential for causing major health problems. One of the reported consequences of a raw-fish diet is tapeworm. While the fish are alive and fresh, they can become infected with this parasite. As the tapeworm progresses through its life cycle, the female lays eggs in the flesh of the fish. These eggs cannot be seen with the naked eye. However, once the fish is eaten uncooked, the eggs hatch in the human intestine, suckers themselves to the bowel. Using and mature into adults that can sometimes reach prodigious lengths of up to 20 feet. Fish tapeworm often causes anemia, weight loss, abdominal pain, and anal irritation. The diagnosis depends on a stool analysis. Treatment is universally successful.

The other consequence of eating sushi — and, indeed, raw pork, beef, chicken or eggs — is bacterial infection, such as caused by E. Coli and other enterococci. Bacteria's ability multiply on uncooked fish, and the raw fish is not handled properly

Fictitious name registration is required by law

The Fictitious Name Statute, whose purpose is to protect the public, to give the public information as to person with whom the public deals, and to afford protection against fraud and deceit, prohibits a person or persons from engaging in business under a fictitious name unless he, she, or they first register the name with the Division of Corporations of the Department of State.

Registering a business under a fictitious name is relatively simple. In order to register, the person or persons wishing to use the fictitious name must file with the Division of Corporations a sworn statement listing the following: (a) The name to be registered; (b) The mailing address of the business; (c) The name and address of each owner and, if a corporation, its federal employer's identification number and Florida incorporation or registration number; (d) Certification by the applicant that the intention to register such fictitious name has been advertised at least once in a newspaper in the county where the principal place of business of the applicant will be located; and (e) Any other information the division may deem necessary to adequately inform other governmental agencies and the public as to the persons so conducting business.

Registering a fictitious name is relatively simple, however, it is not just a one time deal. A fictitious name registration is only valid for a period of 5 years and expires on December 31 of the 5th year. If the owner of the name registration fails to file a renewal and pay the appropriate processing fees prior to December 31 of the year of expiration, the name registration expires and the Division of Corporations must remove the name registration from its records.

Maintaining the name registration is important for a number of reasons. First of all, if a business fails to comply with the registration requirements the business, its members, and those interested in doing such business may not maintain any action, suit, or proceeding in any court of this state until the name registration requirements are complied with. Second, an action, suit, or proceeding may not be maintained in any court of this state by any successor or assignee of such business on any right, claim, or demand arising out of the transaction of business by such business in this state until the name registration requirements are complied with. Third, even though the failure of a business to comply with the name registration requirements does not impair the validity of any contract, deed, mortgage, security interest, lien, or act of such business and does not prevent such business from defending any action, suit, or proceeding in any court of this state, a party aggrieved by a noncomplying business may be awarded reasonable attorney's fees and court costs necessitated by the noncomplying business. Fourth, and perhaps more importantly, any person who fails to comply with the name registration requirements commits a misdemeanor of the second degree, punishable by up to 60 days in jail and a $500 fine.

The Fictitious Name Statute prohibits a person or persons from engaging in business under a fictitious name unless the fictitious name is registered with the Division of Corporations of the Department of State and, as noted above, registration is relatively simple and can help avoid unnecessary delays in the enforcement of a business' rights not to mention jail. In the coming weeks we will further discuss the Fictitious Name Statute as well as other aspects of business law.

Neighbor's good intentions yield bad results

Take comfort in the fact that the overgrown will grow back. Have dry your tears, still your well-meaning neighbor, and tell her that you have one more job for her and the kids — to take you to a plant nursery to select replacements for the perennials your beloved husband had planted that gave you so much joy each summer. It will be a learning experience for all of you.

DEAR ABBY: I hope you will publish my letter so do-gooders will stop and think before they do more harm than good.

I used to love my back yard. It was a bit unkempt, but my husband is gone and I am elderly. However, the yard was mine. The flowers my husband planted gave me great joy — until a well-meaning neighbor decided to bring her five teen-agers over one day, when I was not home, to "neaten up" my yard. She was trying to teach them concern for others.

I like these people. They were so busy about 4:30 p.m. that they had plenty of time to wear my lovely perennials that were about to bloom. And the "overgrown" evergreens were there to block the view of the neighbor's messy dog run. Now they are trimmed down to almost nothing, and the view is disgusting!

Abby, my yard is no longer mine, and I have shed many tears over the loss.

Please remind your readers that if they want to help, they should act first — and not just the overgrown HURT BY GOOD INTENTIONS IN MICHIGAN

DEAR ABBY: The letter about the grandmother in the Florida retirement home reading your column to residents who can no longer see well enough to read prompts this letter. DEAR CONCHITA: Your letter made my day. I'm complimented that you and your listeners consider my column a "must." My congratulations for performing a worthwhile service for individuals who are unable to read on their own.

Longwood man commits suicide

By Joe DeSantis
Staff Writer

LONGWOOD — Longwood police have identified a suicide victim found dead Tuesday morning at a community pool parking lot. Dead is 21-year old Jason Scott Gallagher, 1465, Crickett Court.

"There was no note found," said Lieutenant Butch Yelvington, of the department's Criminal Investigation Division. "Apparently the young man had some issues going on in his life, and we're trying to determine the facts that may have led to his suicide."

Longwood investigators had a difficult time locating his blood relatives and could not make contact with Gallagher's natural mother until Wednesday.

"He was apparently raised by foster parents and we had a difficult time locating and getting into contact with any family members," Yelvington said.

Police were alerted to the suicide about 7:45 a.m. by an acquaintance of the victim. They intend to interview that acquaintance as well as the victim's roommate today. An autopsy will also be conducted.

Yelvington said an acquaintance of the victim found the body in a late model four-door Honda parked near the community pool in the Coventry subdivision about 7:45 a.m. Tuesday morning and then alerted authorities by calling 911.

When investigators arrived on the scene they discovered the man sitting in the driver's seat of the vehicle. He had placed a shotgun in his mouth and pulled the trigger.

"There's no evidence of foul play and we've learned he recently lost his job and had some other things going on in his life," said Yelvington.

live music was, including a mixture of original Woodstock tunes generously spiced with Latin salsa, rap and reggae.

"It's typical for us to have a back-to-school bash at the beginning of the fall semester and at the end of the term," said SCC media relations director Robert Lyles. "It's a way to welcome new students to the campus in a fun atmosphere and give students who may have been taking night course the past semester to get together and have some fun."

Along with mixing, mingling, and music, students also got a chance to check out the various club and organization activities available at SCC which open the doors for extra circular activities outside the classroom.

"We don't have fraternities or sororities like a four-year school," Lyles said. "But we do have a lot of clubs and organizations like the Honors Club and Student Government that attract a lot of interest and participation."

The dunk tank with faculty as willing victims and the food line appeared to be the most popular events. Students and staff feasted on rice, barbecue chicken and pork, and a variety of freshly baked cookies and soft drinks. The event was scheduled to last about an hour and 45 minutes, but stretched further into the afternoon before students headed back to class.

A family friend at the residence began communicating with Belkerdid by posing as the 12-year-old, and attempted to get more information on who he was and where he was located. Belkerdid first believed the victim was 17, but when informed she was only 13, said it made no difference to him and transmitted a second picture of his genitals.

At that point Sanford investigator Lieutenant John Ramsey and investigator Bill McNett from the Sheriff's department were called into the case. Using the adult friend to continue communicating with Belkerdid, police convinced him to meet the juvenile girl at Lee P. Moore Park, leading him to believe that she would be alone and would be willing to meet him and have sexual intercourse, as well as oral sex that he described on the Internet.

Police wanted to confirm that Belkerdid was indeed an adult male and asked for his phone number so the victim could contact him if necessary. He gave them his phone number. Police ran a cross-check on the number and it identified Belkerdid at his Casselberry address.

Police then secured permission from the child's mother to tape a phone conversation between the victim and Belkerdid. During that conversation Belkerdid insisted upon coming to Sanford to meet the juvenile even after she repeatedly told him she was only 13 years old. In the taped conversation, Belkerdid said it did not make a difference to him.

They concluded the conversation by agreeing to a meeting place and time (8:45 p.m.).

The juvenile was then wired with a remote recording device and taken to the rendezvous spot and awaited Belkerdid's arrival. He told the victim he would be driving a black Neon, that he was 6-feet tall, and had a short pony tail.

At about 8:53 p.m. Belkerdid arrived at the park, placed his arm around the girl, then put his hand on her breast. He told police officers involved in the arrested him without incident.

"While he was talking to her at the park, he began to again tell the victim what he wanted to do with her," said Ziegler.

Lt. Ramsey said Sanford police secured a search warrant for Belkerdid's residence and confiscated his home computer and other e-mail addresses.

"We're sending the home computer to the Florida Department of Law Enforcement because we don't want to try to go into it in case he has pass words rigged up that could wipe out the files," said Ramsey. Authorities are also obtaining a search warrant to inspect Belkerdid's office and work computer at UCF to determine if any other improper uses were made from the college campus.

Ramsey said a search of Belkerdid's car turned up additional evidence in the case. They found a copy of correspondence to the victim, as well as handwritten directions to the meeting in Sanford and some

Fractured ankle in practice sidelines UCF's Dedelow

Special to the Herald

ORLANDO - Three days before the season-opening football game against nationally-ranked Purdue University, the University of Central Florida lost one of its key players for the season as senior defensive tackle Scott Dedelow fractured his left ankle in practice Wednesday.

Dedelow, from Oviedo High School, turned to recover a fumble in a non-contact situation and dislocated his ankle, causing a fracture.

He was transported to Winter Park Hospital where he will be operated on by Dr. Joseph Billings of the Jewett Orthopaedic Clinic Thursday.

"Scott had an ankle fracture dislocation and he needs an open reduction and internal fixation of the ankle," Billings said. "He will not be able to put any weight on it at all for six weeks and he will be out for three to four months before he could start playing again."

Dedelow's injury is similar to the one suffered last year against Purdue by UCF tight end Joey Hubbard.

Hubbard was tackled from behind in the second quarter and suffered a fracture dislocation of the ankle.

Hubbard was granted a medical redshirt last year and has returned for his fifth season this year.

Dedelow is in his fifth year in the program and would not likely be granted a sixth year by the NCAA.

"It's a big loss for this team," coach Mike Kruczek said. "Scott has played his rear end off. He probably had as good a spring as anybody had last year and had a great summer. He's just a great kid to have in the program."

Defensive line coach Andy Cox, who is a friend and mentor to Dedelow, was troubled by the news.

"I just feel for Scott because he's worked so hard to make himself a player," Cox said. "I remember the last game of the year last year when he ran from the far hash and made a tackle in front of our bench for no gain and I never thought when I first got here that he would be able to do that."

Dedelow graduated from Oviedo in 1985. As a senior under coach Jack Blanton, the 6-foot-2, 285-pounder recorded 78 tackles and six sacks.

He earned first-team all-county honors and was defensive MVP of the annual Rotary Bowl.

Dedelow was also a member of the Lions' weightlifting team where he finished runner-up in the state championships.

At UCF, Dedelow had recorded 27 tackles, 10 unassisted, and had one sack.

Last season, Dedelow played in nine games and registered 11 tackles, five of which were unassisted. His best game came against Ball State where he tallied four tackles and a sack.

The Golden Knights will open the season this Saturday against the 22nd-ranked Boilermakers at 7:30 p.m. at The Florida Citrus Bowl.

Over 20,000 tickets have already been sold and UCF has high hopes of drawing 80,000 for the home and season-opener against the Big 10 power.

Lions swim past Seminole

Inexperienced Tribe can't quite top Oviedo in swimming opener

From Staff Reports

OVIDO - Seminole put up a game fight, but the Oviedo Lions swam away with a dual-meet victory in both the boys and girls openers at Riverside Park Wednesday afternoon.

The Fighting Seminoles girls, led by Amber Ellis, gave the Lions a real battle, coming up just short, 86-81.

"This was the closest Seminole has come to winning a dual meet with Oviedo in my memory," said Seminole head coach Tony Ackerson.

"We have a real young girls team, a lot of very hard workers that are going to keep getting better and better. Several of the girls swam lifetime bests, which is impressive after just three weeks of practice."

Ellis won the 200 Individual Medley with a time of 2:29.03 and was a member of the winning 200 Freestyle Relay and 400 Freestyle Relay teams.

Ellis was joined on the 200 Freestyle Relay team, which swam a 2:00.63, by Fagaly, Wicener and Klebaum.

Making up the 400 Freestyle Relay squad, which won with a time of 3:58.53, were Ellis, Seland, Hutchison and Bahr.

Also winning an individual event for the Fighting Seminoles was Seland, who posted a 1:04.25 in the 100 Butterfly.

Starring in the girls' meet was Oviedo's McCormack, who won the 200 Freestyle and 100 Freestyle, and Mitzo, who won the 50 Freestyle and 100 Backstroke.

McCormack and Mitzo were also members of the winning 200 Medley Relay team along with Dunkle, who also won the 100 Breaststroke, and Johnson, who claimed the 500 Freestyle.

The boys half of the meet saw Seminole win four individual races, but the Lions' depth pulled out an 84-65 victory.

"Our boys were seriously undermanned," said Ackerson. "We only had five guys with any competitive experience, but we had some good senior leadership, and everyone swam well."

"I feel positive about our potential, particularly in the sprint relays. This team can still be strong at the district in November, but we're going to have to challenge each other more in practice."

Bridges and Irvine were the top swimmers for Oviedo, with each winning two individual events and being a part of a winning relay team.

Bridges won the 200 Individual Medley, in a time of 2:22.95, and the 500 Freestyle, in a time of 6:07.23.

Irvine claimed victory in the 50 Freestyle, swimming a 23.43, and 100 Freestyle, posting a 53.56.

Both were also members of the 400 Freestyle Relay team, which swam a 3:59.47, along with Mraz and Dunkle.

Mraz also won an individual event, swimming a 1:04.41 to claim the 100 Backstroke.

Kelley was the other individual winner for the Lions, triumphing in the 100 Breaststroke with a time of 1:14.56.

Bishop equaled the heroics of Bridges and Irvine for Seminole, winning two individual events and being a part of a winning relay team.

Bishop won the 200 Freestyle (2:02.09) and 100 Butterfly (1:05.25) and was a member of the 200 Freestyle Relay winning team (1:38.65) along with Lee, Gosling and Crivellari.

Lee, Gosling and Crivellari were joined by Rodriguez to win the 200 Medley Relay in a time of 1:56.78.

"Overall, I was a little surprised at the closeness of the meet," said Ackerson. "Oviedo is always a very strong team in the conference and the district, so if we are close to them at this point in the season, then I think it bodes well for us."

"I'm really hoping that this will make our kids even hungrier for the rest of the season, and that they will see that tenths of seconds and hundredths of seconds are huge factors in competitive swimming."

Oviedo will return to action next Wednesday, hosting Lake Howell at Riverside Park starting at 3:30 p.m.

Next up for the Tribe is a matchup with Lyman, whom Ackerson swam for when the Greyhounds won their first two conference championships in 1978 and 1979, but a team Seminole hasn't defeated in a dual meet for over 25 years.

The meet will be held at the Lyman Pool on September 15th starting at 4 p.m.

Top Cops take over Orlando asphalt

Special to the Herald

BITHLO - The Top Cops will make a special appearance at Orlando Speedworld this Friday night.

In addition to the special race there will also be regular action in the Late Model, Limited Late Model, Open Wheel Modified, Bomber, Sportman and Mini-Buck classes.

The fans came out of the woodwork in force to witness the school bus figure eight race last Friday night and the race didn't disappoint.

The fans were also treated to a special appearance by Wayne Anderson.

Anderson played the part of the bounty hunter looking to claim the $1,000 prize for the 50-lap Sonny King Orange Buick/GMC Late Model feature.

He started out right by setting fast time in qualifying, but when pills were down it was the #22 of Larry Osteen on the pole. Anderson left little to doubt as to who was the best, however, as he quickly stormed through the field to take the lead on lap 4.

His dominance was never in doubt as he led the rest of the way uncontested.

The real battle was for second between Ronnie Roach and Osteen with Roach getting the better of that exchange. Fourth went to Michael Williams who survived an earlier incident and Wayne Jefferson made a last lap pass of Steve Dover to claim 5th.

The Limited Late Models suffered a low car count as many drivers opted to run the Coca-Cola 100 the next evening at New Smyrna. Osteen's Bobby Sears outran Brian Bellaw on the start and held off a hard-charging Mike Murphy to take the win. Kenny Crites was third followed by Bellaw and Chris Fontaine.

A strong field of Modifieds came to play as 17 cars took the green.

When that many modifieds come together it means a heavy workout for the flagman as yellow flags were more the rule than the exception.

When the smoke cleared the winner was David Hartin in the #2H. Tom Root was the runner-up followed by Skip Henaker, Bill Gunn, and the night's mystery driver (translation - late entry) who made a good run in the #34.

LONGWOOD - The 1988 Central Florida Pop Warner Football League will open on Saturday with games throughout the area. The past Saturday at Lyman High School's Carlton Herley Sports Complex the Sanford Seminoles played in a jamboree against the Knights. The Junior Pop War Seminoles looked good as they ran onto the field (top photo) and then got down to business with Dan...
