Debt Negotiations Pass Buoyant Stage After Mellon's Talk

Remarks Contain Well Defined Views Upon France's Ability To Meet Its Obligation U.S. Stand Declared To Be Unequivocal Secrecy Surrounds Address Given at Brief Meeting On Friday

WASHINGTON, Sept. 26.—(AP)—The Franco-American debt funding negotiations passed suddenly Friday from the buoyant stage, to a sober little ground with an array of cold facts and figures. The transition was accomplished by presentation to the French negotiators of a comparatively brief memorandum which Secretary Mellon, chairman of the American commission, stated the American position.

There were indications today at the swift turning of the corner as regarded by some of the chances of the American position, almost to the point of abruptness. American members said, however, that Finance Minister Caillaux, head of the foreign commission, was ready for work at the meeting. Both French and American members were impressed with the seriousness of the task before them yet neither was willing to entertain any suggestions of defeat.

More than ordinary secrecy surrounded the suggestions and comments made by the treasury secretary. Mellon had stated the French offer of an initial payment of $25,000,000 with graduated increases yearly over a long period wholly inadequate. There was further discussion of the relations committee to accept the picture of French conditions as being as bad as suggested and the Americans therefore unwilling to go further with any plea of extreme leniency than that circumstances alone.

Meanwhile, Chairman Borah of the senate foreign relations committee aired a new method of presenting his campaign for a settlement with France. He made public a letter to Secretaries Mellon and Hoover, both members of the American commission, asking what loans foreign governments have floated of late to secure foreign relations committee. Mellon's optimism, which had been the basis of the negotiations, however, has for the most part been abandoned. The French position of the government, they are going ahead, therefore with an apparent plan to reconcile their convictions with those of France and the status of the negotiations on that basis were represented tonight as offering various degrees of progressive development.

Mellon as optimistic. So far, Mr. Caillaux, yet neither felt free to define the progress made today. The treasury secretary explained there was a wide difference between the positions of the two but the American commissioners who share Mr. Mellon's optimism believe France will raise the original figure of $25,000,000 when further suggestions are forthcoming from Mr. Caillaux.

Herald Will Post Football Results

In accordance with its custom started last year, The Sanford Herald, by special arrangement with the Associated Press, will furnish local football enthusiasts with the results of all important football games played each Saturday. The service begins today, according to the announcement. The scores will be received beginning shortly after 6 o'clock and will immediately be posted in the windows of The Herald office. The office will also supply information of the games to those who call by telephone.

ALLEGED BRIBE PLOT REVEALED IN WINDY CITY

Stories of Wholesale Bribery In Cook County Jail Told To Federal Judge By Two Alleged Dealers In Liquor

Four Officials Held Awaiting Full Probe Youths Declare They Paid Well For Privileges While Inmates of Jail In Chicago

CHICAGO, Sept. 26.—(AP)—Terrence Druggan and Frank Lake, dapper young men of the Sheik type, reputed to have become millionaires through trading in illicit liquors, Friday told Federal Judge Wilkerson tales of wholesale bribery of Cook county jail officials who, in return, granted them unusual privileges. As a result of their statement four officials were ordered taken into custody pending Judge Wilkerson's decision in a contempt hearing involving Druggan, Lake and six officials.

They were Wesley H. Westbrook, former jail warden, lawyer, and for 28 years a Chicago police man whose proudest boast has been that he was "an honest cop." Henry Foest, formerly Westbrook's secretary, Hans Thompson, former assistant warden; James Fitzgerald, former jail guard.

Held Under $5,000 Bond Westbrook, described by two physicians as sick mentally, and physically, was ordered placed under $5,000 bond, to be accounted for tomorrow morning, and bail was placed at $3,000 each for Foest and Thompson. None was fixed for Fitzgerald, as he had not been involved in the Druggan-Lake story of bribery. The last three were permitted to retain their liberty with Foest and Thompson, who will make bond today. A compilation of figures from the testimony of Druggan and Lake indicated these payments:

Westbrook, $2,000 a month, paid in amounts of $1,000 on the first and sixteenth of the month from April through August, last and $2,000 for granting Lake 82 days off his sentence of one year; $1,500 for granting Druggan "good time" of 30 days; Foest $1,000 for obtaining from Westbrook authorization to transfer Lake from a cell to a hospital ward, $1,500 for taking Lake to visit a sister sick in a hospital and for funeral; $2,500 of $5,000 for assignment of Druggan and Lake to the hospital after Druggan had been sent back to a cell; $100 a day for four or five days paid by Druggan for Foest taking him to a dentist; $100 for taking Lake to visit another sister who was ill and $500 from Lake the day of his sister's funeral.

Thompson Paid $1,000 a Month for several months, paid by Lake and Druggan on the first and sixteenth of months. Lake denied that he had paid money to Peter Hartman, sheriff, Westbrook, on the witness stand yesterday denied that he had ever received money from Lake and Druggan.

He, along with the other three ordered held by Judge Wilkerson, were discharged when newspapers disclosed the favors shown the youthful beer barons after Druggan had beaten a reporter while he was held by Thomas Brockmeyer, who succeeded Westbrook for a few days as warden.

Rousing Reception Is Given Mitchell Upon His Arrival In Washington Friday Night

WASHINGTON, Sept. 26.—(AP)—A rousing reception was given Col. William Mitchell upon his arrival here from Texas Friday night to appear before the president's air board, but he had nothing to say about the controversy he has started over the nation's air defenses. A drum and bugle corps supplied by two American Legion posts and a few hundred citizens greeted the former assistant air chief at the Union Station as he arrived with Mrs. Mitchell.

Seized by friends and admirers as he appeared at the gate, the Colonel was hoisted to their shoulders and carried through the station. Above the noise he managed to make himself heard by questioning, however, but he indicated only that he has ceased "firing" for a time, at least, at the administration of the army and navy air services. "I'll wait until I'm before the board before saying anything more," he declared. Asked about the 800 pounds of manuscript en route to be used in his testimony, the Colonel said:

"I have nothing to say" about that, either. Still on the shoulders of the crowd, Mitchell was carried to a waiting automobile while a parade formed behind him to the crashing of bugles and drums. In the parade were two uniformed veterans of the Spanish American war. Two American Legion standard bearers carried the American flag and a legion banner. Others bore hastily written placards bearing the inscriptions: "The Castello Post greets Col. Mitchell—the American" and "The McGroarty-O'Connell Post welcomes you."

CHURCH MERGER NOW RESTS UPON SOUTHERN VOTE

October Conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church, South, Holds Balance of Power In Deciding Question

NASHVILLE, Tenn., Sept. 26.—(AP)—With a vote of 128 for and one against unification of the Methodist Episcopal Church, by the Southwest Missouri conference of the Southern church, made in the Druggan-Lake story of bribery, the balance of power in the unification movement will rest with the voting in October conference of the Solid South, which holds the balance of power. The Northern Church will without a doubt vote decisively in favor of unification, but for the measure to pass, three-fourths of the aggregate vote cast in the Southern conferences is required by the church constitution.

The recapitulation of the Southern conferences follows:

Baltimore	18	141
Brazil	47	0
Central Brazil	38	0
Denver	24	22
Illinois	17	28
Western Virginia	66	87
Northwest	48	9
Kentucky	47	88
Missouri	196	14
South Brazil (vote lacking but unanimous)	128	31
Totals	935	400

Mouson's Last Statement Bishop Edwin D. Mouson, of Nashville, chairman of the Southern commission of the joint committee on unification, which drew up the plan of unification, Friday issued what he said probably would be his last public statement as chairman on the question of unification. He produced a series of letters from members of the Northern commission, which he said showed that the Northern church was in accord on the plan. Some of these letters to Bishop Mouson declared that the relation of the church on the negro question was definitely stated. The Bishop said the Methodist Episcopal church leaders had held themselves apart from the "unfortunate discussion concerning unification which has been precipitated in the Methodist Episcopal church South."

Coolidge Confers With Officials As Shipping Board Affairs Grow Serious

WASHINGTON, Sept. 25.—(AP)—Shipping board affairs admittedly have reached a critical point with the question whether Leigh C. Palmer will be retained as president of the Fleet Corporation of the issue. The long existing disagreement between Mr. Palmer and a majority of the board have developed to such an extent that President Coolidge has taken a hand and indications are a solution of the problems will be attempted perhaps within a week. The board, which itself has had numerous disagreements among its own membership, almost from the first has been at odds with Mr. Palmer on policies of administration involving terms for sales of ships and lines, the number of ships which would be kept in operation and other questions. In the background has stood an apparent feeling of some commissioners that in delegating powers to the Fleet Corporation the board had in effect abdicated functions conferred upon it by the law.

Submarine Is Rammed By Steamer And Sinks With 34 Men On Board

Disaster Occurs Last Night Off Coast of New England; Three of Crew Are Saved Rescue Ships Sent By Government Ship Speeds to Boston While Nation Waits For Wreck Details

NEWPORT, R. I., Sept. 26.—(AP)—The submarine S-51 was located today by Lieut. C. S. Hawkins, piloting a seaplane. The submarine lies in 23 fathoms of water. There were no signs of life, according to Commander Lewis D. Causey, executive officer at the naval station here. He said "that it looks bad" for those aboard the S-51 as air bubbles were coming to the surface.

NEW YORK, Sept. 26.—(AP)—Thirty-four officers and men of the United States submarine S-51 apparently perished Friday night when the coastwise steamer City of Boston rammed and sank the submarine 14 miles east of Block Island, R. I. Only three men, Dewey Kite, M. Lora and A. Greer are reported by naval communication to have been saved.

This morning at was a matter of conjecture as to whether the remainder of the crew were dead or alive, while a fleet of rescue craft from Newport, New York City and New London . . . including one destroyer, two salvage ships equipped with diving and hoisting apparatus and three submarines . . . was being rushed to the place where the disaster occurred. Those on shore awaited news of the crash while the City of Boston proceeded, presumably uninjured, to Boston, Captain Diehl, commander of the ship, gave no details in his first terse message to officers of the company. The vessel is due here this afternoon.

The Steamer City of Boston enroute from Savannah to Boston and was due in that city Friday. The S-51 was of 1,500 tons burden when submerged and of 1,200 tons burden when running on the surface.

Men May Have Been Saved NEW LONDON, Conn., Sept. 26.—(AP)—Hope was expressed at the local submarine station that those aboard the S-51 might be saved. It was said that while oil was seen on the sea after the submarine had gone down in collision, this would not show definitely that the boat was a total wreck. It was further pointed out that the submarine might be on the bottom with all her hatches closed and many of the men alive. The water is 127 feet deep where the collision occurred.

The U. S. Destroyer Putnam, which left Newport this morning for the spot off Block Island where the submarine was sunk radiated naval communications offer here that she had arrived at the point named and could find no trace of the submarine. The Putnam's message addressed that there was no "oil slick" on the water. The Navy Department this morning sent a seaplane in search of the submarine. The plane is to fly at a height calculated to locate the vessel if possible.

Florida Member of Crew WASHINGTON, Sept. 26.—(AP)—One Florida boy was a member of the S-51 crew, Brady B. Lindsay, engineer second class of Pensacola. The Navy Department early today had received no official confirmation of the reported sinking of the submarine. The ship left New London Sept. 20 on what was understood to be a practice cruise.

Seize Booze Shipment On Jacksonville Docks

JACKSONVILLE, Sept. 26.—(AP)—Scotch custom sealed whiskey, totalling more than 1,000 gallons, consigned as "auto supplies" were seized on a local dock late yesterday by county officers working in cooperation with federal authorities. It was disclosed this morning. The liquors were addressed to "Philadelphia Auto Supply Co." As current bootleg prices, officers said, seizure amounted to $50,000.

City Grammar and Primary Schools To Reopen Monday; No Exercises Will Be Held

Formal Opening Is Dispensed With Because Auditorium Has Been Utilized to Take Care of Scores New Pupils High Grades To Be Grouped This Year

Lawton Announces Complete Teaching Staff For The Sanford, Seminole Schools No exercises will mark the opening next Monday morning of the primary and grammar schools, according to an announcement made this morning by T. W. Lawton, county superintendent of public instruction. The exercises which have hitherto been held on the first day of each term will be abandoned this year. Mr. Lawton declared, because of lack of space. He stated that the auditorium at the grammar school has been converted into class rooms this year to provide additional accommodations for the increasing number of pupils enrolled at the institution. Classes will be resumed for the 1925-1926 term at 8:45 o'clock Monday morning.

According to the announcement made this morning, arrangements have been completed to group the seventh and eighth grades in the grammar school in one department, this year, under the supervision of C. D. Cripe. It is said that the new plan will facilitate the handling of classes, and provide for more intensive instruction of the different subjects. List of Principals Announced Principals and county supervisors named today, in addition to Mr. Cripe, are given as follows:

Miss Stella F. Arrington, supervising principal of all primary schools; Miss Emma Owen, principal East Side Primary; Miss Love Turner, principal West Side Primary; Lyman J. W. Anthony; Geneva, Mrs. T. H. Phinazee; Cecile, Principal M. J. Oberland; Lela Mary, Church Priest; Osceola, Miss Mary Stone. The attention of parents of children about to enter the primary grades is directed to the ruling of the local board, which provides for entrance at the close of all children who will become six years of age before Jan. 1, 1926. It is announced that the local board has abandoned the custom of organizing mid-year primary classes of crowded conditions in all departments of the school, and that eligible children must be registered at the opening of the term. Mr. Lawton this morning emphasized the advisability of new pupils in the grammar and primary schools enrolling early, in order that they may be ready for the term. Desk space, he pointed out, is inadequate for the needs of the increased roll, and the early completion of the school year.

Sanford Display In Asheville Declared Best By Local Man The roadside advertising display sign, recently erected along the Dixie Highway on the outskirts of Asheville, N. C., by the Sanford Chamber of Commerce is one of the most attractive, and unquestionably as well located as any similar community display over the entire route from the Carolinas south. This statement was made this morning by W. M. McKinnon, local advertiser, who has recently returned from a two week's motor trip to the North Carolina mountains. He declares that the local organization is to be congratulated upon the location which they have secured for the sign.

Mr. McKinnon, accompanied by Mrs. McKinnon, their little daughter Betty, Mrs. C. G. Willis and Mrs. Ross Markwood, spent one week in Highlands, N. C. where they were entertained by Mrs. Martin, who operates the Comfort Cottage here during the winter season, and another week was spent travelling over the eastern section of the state. Mr. McKinnon reported North Carolina to be booming at present, stating that business is thriving there at this time. Further south, however, he declares, conditions are discouraging, chiefly due to the protracted drought which has destroyed the year's crop in that section. Ken interest in Florida prevailed during the entire trip according to the local man. He stated that many Sanford signs were observed in the Carolinas, although there were not as many in evidence in Georgia.

Naval Court Hears More Stories In Its Inquiry Into Shenandoah Wreck

LAKELAND, Sept. 25.—(AP)—Re-examined today before the naval court of inquiry, Col. C. G. Wall, U. S. army observer aboard the Shenandoah in her fatal flight, said his statement yesterday that failure of two engines of the ship furnished a possible contributing cause to the disaster, was more in the nature of an assumption than statement of fact.

Testimony of Col. C. G. Wall, U. S. A. observed on board, that the failure of two of the Shenandoah's engines made more probable the drawing of the ship into the vortex of the storm which wrecked her.

More definite testimony that the ship actually began breaking in two before control car hull carrying Commander Zachary Lansdowne and other officers and men to their death, fell.

The offering of evidence that the Shenandoah began to break up when arrested after a fall of nearly two thousand feet in three minutes.

Declarations of two witnesses that Commander Lansdowne had not been reluctant in making the flight at the time it was undertaken and that he voiced no dissatisfaction with the itinerary fixed by the navy department.

Barograph Record Shown
Introduction of the barograph record, from the ship indicating that her first sudden ascent began at 4:26 a. m. Central Time on September 3 and lasted 8 minutes during which she ascended 1,130 feet; that two minutes later she began another and more rapid rise, going from 3,016 to 6,065 feet in approximately ten minutes and that she then fell abruptly 1,735 feet in three minutes.

At this point the barograph ceased to function and testimony of some survivors indicated that it was about this time that the hull gave way just forward of amidships and the craft broke in two.

Both the barograph record and the estimate of witnesses examined today tend to indicate that the Shenandoah was buffeted about in the storm for 15 minutes from the time of her first uncontrolled ascent to an extreme altitude of 6,005 feet until she finally began to break up at an altitude of approximately 4,000 feet.

While the word picture of the disaster painted by Col. Wall proved the most absorbing of all the testimony perhaps the most important from a viewpoint of the purpose of the inquiry was his statement with respect to the engines, one of which failed because of a cracked cylinder and another because of a loss of water.

This phase of the inquiry was introduced by rear Admiral Hilary P. Jones, president of the court who asked what effect the engine failure had on the failure to escape the line squall.

"I believe if it had been possible to have had the power of all five engines constantly," Col. Wall replied, "it would have been more probable that we would not have been drawn into the vortex of the storm which wrecked the ship. I do not believe, however, engine power had anything to do with the situation after we got into the vortex of the storm."

SAN FRANCISCO PAYS HONOR TO RODGERS, CREW

Commander and Members of PN-9 Greeted as Heroes; Rodgers to Go to Capital

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 25.—(AP)—The crew of the naval airplane PN-9 No. 1, headed by Commander John Rodgers, returned to San Francisco in triumph Thursday, having been given up for lost when they were forced down in their attempted non-stop flight from here to the Hawaiian Islands.

Returning in the battleship Idaho, the aviators were welcomed by the city as heroes. They were escorted up Market Street by detachments of police, marines and sailors from the Idaho with an army band.

At the City Hall, they were greeted by Mayor James Rolph, Jr., and a citizen's committee and were presented with medals. Commander Rodgers and his crew later were guests at a luncheon at the Commercial Club. Asked if he had any comment to make on the charges made by Colonel William Mitchell against the military air service, Commander Rodgers said that he did not know of the charges.

If he said the failure of the Hawaiian flight was due to mismanagement, however, he is mistaken," the commander ventured.

The fliers were forced to repeat many times the oft-told tale of their epochal flight. Included in their statements was the firm conviction that they wanted to try again and that the next time they would succeed.

Tonight they were the guests of honor at a banquet attended by notables from many parts of the state and the three arms of the military service and they told their story over and over again.

Another day of entertainment awaits the fliers tomorrow, after which Commander Rodgers and Lieut. Connell will proceed to Washington to testify in the air inquiry there. The remainder of the crew expects to go to San Diego for duty.

STEWART'S WASHINGTON LETTER

By CHARLES F. STEWART
WASHINGTON, Sept. 25.—(AP)—"What is Gifford Pinchot's show in the presidential race?" This query lands on my desk from a middle northwestern editor. It's also been coming lately from other sources—quite numerously.

"Strong Pinchot sentiment is breaking out all over the country," says a progressive Minnesota paper.

Seemingly something of a White House boom in his interest has developed from the Pennsylvania governor's candidacy to succeed George Wharton Pepper in the United States Senate at the 1926 election.

Of course it's too soon to do anything but guess on what the presidential situation will be three years hence.

If this were 1928 Gov. Pinchot wouldn't stand a ghost of a show. Nobody would stand a show but Calvin Coolidge, either for the Republican nomination or for election.

One may like him or not, but a big majority are "for" him at this time of writing.

At any rate they favor the status quo, in which he's included. Times are pretty good now. That's the whole basis of the administration's present popularity, for popular it is. Everything indicates it.

If times stay good, and particularly if they improve, between now and 1928, President Coolidge likely will be renominated and re-elected.

If they take a turn for the worse his chances will dwindle. He can do nothing at all or make a lot of mistakes, but if times stay good he'll get another term. He can do the best job in the world, yet if prosperity wanes he'll be blamed for it.

Say conditions do so shape themselves as to give an outsider a look-in for the Republican presidential nomination in 1928. How about Pinchot then?

Well, he must get into the Senate first. If he loses that fight, he'll hardly have succeeded in proving up as presidential material.

Personally he'll be just as good a man, to be sure, but he won't have demonstrated political control of his own state.

He can bet he won't get any help from Andrew W. Mellon.

College Head Feted By Commercial Body
WINTER PARK, Sept. 25.—(AP)—Dr. Hamilton Holt, newly elected president of Rollins College here, was the guest at the weekly luncheon of the local chamber of commerce. He spoke briefly on the plans being made for the development of the college.

"I believe that the small college is not and ought not to be a miniature university doing partly what a university can do much better, the college president said. "The function of the small college and the large university are entirely different. Each has its own advantages and each has its own disadvantages. The two cannot be combined."

The new head of the college expressed his pleasure in becoming a citizen of Winter Park and said that he desired in every way to assist in the upbuilding of Florida and the training of her future citizens for public service.

St. Petersburg Arranges For Annual Meet Of Spanish-American War Vets Monday

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla., Sept. 26.—(AP)—Extensive plans are being made for the feeding of the visitors to the city during the national encampment of the United Spanish American War Veterans here September 27 to October 1.

Preparations are being made to furnish 45,000 regular meals daily to the visitors or 225,000 meals during the encampment. This schedule does not include the banquets.

Nick Dennis, chairman of the Civitan committee on refreshments, is in charge of these arrangements and he has been working on the feeding problem for several weeks.

"Doc" Huggins, chairman of the American Legion committee on entertaining the veterans of '98, will manage a fish fry on the water front on Tuesday, September 29. He has invited 15,000 guests. This meal is not included in the list of Nick Dennis.

From the packing houses in Chicago have been ordered many carloads of meat. These will be carried direct from the refrigerator cars to the kitchens of the hotels and restaurants which have opened before the regular season so as to accommodate the delegates and visitors to the encampment.

The first order placed with the packing houses and wholesale produce men included 60,000 pounds of meat, beef, lamb, and veal; 15,000 pounds of poultry; 80,000 pounds of vegetables; 15,500 pounds of butter; 25,000 pounds of bread rolls; 50,000 pies and pastries; 10,000 pounds of fresh fish; 22,500 gallons of coffee; 10,000 gallons of milk; 1,700 gallons of cream; and 40,000 gallons of spring water.

STATE MOTORISTS GET REBATE ON LICENSE IN 1926

New Law Provides for Quarterly Reduction of Fees; To Cost One Half on July 1st, State Official Shows

TALLAHASSEE, Fla., Sept. 25.—Beginning with the calendar year of 1926, automobiles under a recent legislative act, will be allowed a rebate in obtaining operating licenses, as the year advances, Captain R. A. Gray, assistant state comptroller, remind Florida motorists.

Under the new law, only a half year's fee will be charged after July 1, and a fourth of a year after September 30.

Total applications for automobile privileges, handled by the comptroller's department this year, including duplicate and transfer tags will number approximately 305,000 Captain Gray said. The work of clearing up the calendar year's business of 1925 is now being completed. The net tags issued, he said, will approximate 300,000, or nearly a million more than in 1924. Last year's receipts were $2,471,000.

In looking back into the records, Captain Gray found an increase in every year's receipts since 1922. In 1923 there was a 27.4 gain, over 1922; 26 for 1924 over 1923, and 1925 it will be around 30 per cent, it was stated.

Before the establishment of field men by the comptroller's department, Captain Gray said, the receipts ran exceedingly low. Since a careful check has been possible however, he said, a steady gain has resulted.

Many automobilists are unable to obtain operating privileges because of improper procedure in getting licenses, Captain Gray said. Between 10,000 and 15,000 such cases are on hand now, he said. In a great many such instances, he added, car owner block action of the county authorities by stating that they have made application but that such application has been unavoidably held up.

Health Supervisor Returns To Capital From Tour Of State

TALLAHASSEE, Sept. 26.—(AP) Miss Reba Harris, state supervisor of health and physical education, of the Department of Public Instruction, has just returned from her first trip over Florida in the interest of a more healthful and better physical development of the school student.

Miss Harris, who is experiencing her first year as director of the health and physical department of Florida schools is now engaged in drawing up a score card for evaluating the school health program. These cards, which contain 6 points for the health and physical education of the child, are to be mailed to all county superintendents and schools of the state. At the end of the 1925-26 term, each school will be checked up on the results of the score card. Grading will then be undertaken, and a loving cup will be awarded to the school making the best showing. The cup has been donated by Dr. Ralph Barnes, executive secretary of the Florida Public Health Association.

Miss Harris was reluctant to make a statement regarding her observations upon her first trip over the state, which was confined to a great extent to South Florida. She indicated, however, that there is ample room for much activity on the part of her department.

Shipments of fresh fruits and vegetables from Florida average 260 car loads daily.

Tourist spend about $125,000,000 to $150,000,000 annually in Florida. And this adds greatly to the income of the state.

Groveland—City votes $205,000, for new city hall, waterworks system, park and additional paving.

Okechobee—Ground broken for 100-room hotel.

Moves to Hospital With Husband

After sixty-three years of happy married life, neither Daniel Freshney nor his wife, Matilda, of Port Huron, Mich., can bear the thought of living apart from each other even for a day. So when the aged husband was forced to go to a hospital, Mrs. Freshney insisted on moving there with him, although she is in good health. Freshney is 93 and his wife 89. They have no sons or daughters.

INSPECT NEW OYSTER BEDS
TALLAHASSEE, Sept. 26.—(AP)—Shell Fish Commissioner T. R. Hodges, Game Commissioner J. B. Royall and Special Correspondents Ballinger, of the Miami Herald, and Byron West, of the Jacksonville Times-Union, engaged in an inspection trip to Apalachicola bay this week, where the state's oyster planting is under way. Approximately 100,000 barrels are expected to be planted this year, Captain Hodges said, making a total of 300,000 for the past three years.

ROYAL THESIAN
GERA, Thuringia, Sept. 26.—(AP)—Prince Heinrich of Romania will again the post of chief artist of the State Theatre of Berlin for the coming season. He had that position last year. The selection of a noble house to manage theatrical business in Prussia is a tradition. Ernst of Anhalt, who has been engaged as stage manager, will be the coming season at the Stadt Theatre in the Harz.

THE BUSINESS OF RUNNING A HOME IS MADE EASIER BY THE ADVERTISEMENTS.

EVERY TRUE BY CONDO

HERE'S THE SWEETEST HOUSE PLAN IN TODAY'S PAPER. SEE THERE. JUST WHAT WE OUGHT TO HAVE — A SEWING ROOM. IT SAYS THE SEWING ROOM DOESN'T RUN UP THE COAST BECAUSE THE DINING ROOM IS OMITTED AND A SPACE IN THE KITCHEN IS LEFT FOR SERVING THE FAMILY MEALS.

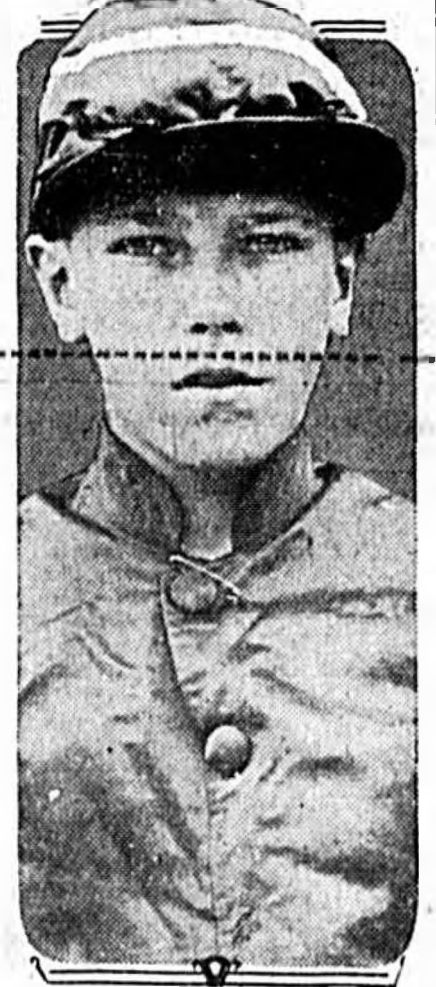

DON'T TELL ME THAT IF YOU HAD A SEWING ROOM THE SEWING WOULDN'T BE ALL OVER THE HOUSE JUST THE SAME!! IT WOULD BE JUST LIKE IT ALWAYS IS — EVERYTHING LITTERED UP AND OCCUPIED, AND NO PLACE TO SIT DOWN!!!

ANY TIME YOU CAN'T FIND A PLACE TO SIT DOWN IN THIS HOUSE, LET ME KNOW!!!

GOSH I HAVEN'T SEEN MR. TYTE FOR TWO DAYS AND THERE GOES THE DOCTOR INTO HIS HOUSE — BLAST IT — I MUST HAVE HURT THE POOR FELLOW WHEN I THREW THAT TOY AUTOMOBILE AT HIM — I WISH IT HAD HAPPENED IN A FIT OF ANGER, TOO — I'VE ACTED LIKE A MERE SCHOOLBOY

I GUESS HE JUST WANTED TO HAVE A LITTLE FUN BY SENDING ME THAT TOY AUTOMOBILE AS A JOKE AND I WAS BOOB ENOUGH TO TAKE IT TOO SERIOUSLY — I WISH I KNEW HOW BADLY HE'S HURT — I MIGHT HAVE KILLED THE POOR FELLOW BY THROWING THAT IRON TOY AT HIM — I'M GLAD MOM DON'T KNOW ABOUT IT

YOU HAVE LOOKED WORRIED EVER SINCE YOU CAME HOME — I HOPE YOUR CONSCIENCE HAS BEEN AROUSED OVER THE WAY YOU TREATED THE TYTES ON OUR VACATION

TREATED THE TYTES IS RIGHT! I SAVED THEM MONEY ON THEIR VACATION BY TAKING THEM WITH US AND THEN THEY EXPECTED ME TO PAY FOR THE WHOLE TRIP

WELL YOU SHOULDN'T HAVE QUARRELED WITH MR. TYTE — HE'S TELLING THE NEIGHBORS A LOT OF UNPLEASANT THINGS ABOUT YOU

SAYING THINGS BEHIND MY BACK IS HE? THAT SHOWS HE'S NOTHING BUT A COWARD — HE'D HIT A GUY ON THE HEAD WITH A PIECE OF LEAD PIPE WHEN HE WASN'T LOOKING RATHER THAN FIGHT FACE TO FACE LIKE A MAN

Minus The Flourish

In some banks the service reminds you of the old-fashioned penmanship—very formal, precise and full of flourish. In the First National Bank we omit the flourish and the formality and retain only the precision and accuracy. Business here is transacted swiftly and smoothly, yet with no appearance of hurry. This is because we have the organization, the equipment and facilities for getting results without waste effort. If this is YOUR idea too, of what bank service should be, we invite your patronage.

Game Commissioner Warns New Residents To Get Fish License

TALLAHASSEE, Sept. 26.—(AP)—Non-residents of Florida must obtain fishing licenses before trying their luck in waters of the state. J. B. Royall, state game commissioner, is reminding lovers of the hook and line. The commissioner stated that he desires to deal fairly with visitors to the state, but the law, he said, must be upheld. A number of cases of violations of the non-resident provision have been reported, Mr. Royall said, and, acting upon instructions from the commissioner, deputy commissioners have instructed them regarding the requirements of the law, warning them against fishing again in Florida waters without the proper license. Non-resident licenses, the commissioner reminded, which will for $5.25 for the state, and $2.25 county, may be procured at the offices of the county judges. Several counties of the state impose an additional amount for county licenses, through permission given by the legislature, Commissioner Royall said. Non-residents can find the exact cost by inquiry at the county judge's office, he stated, as the fee varies.

National Anthem Is Banned By Minister

COPENHAGEN, Sept. 26.—(AP)—Ever since Mistress Nina Bang became the first woman Danish minister, and as such also the head of the board of education, she has done the unexpected and startling. First the singing of the national anthem was banned, which she claimed was too war-like to benefit the public good. And when despite her prohibition, the anthem was inadvertently sung in a theatre in which she happened to be, the minister remained seated and motionless, pulled her colleagues of the cabinet back into their seats by their coat-tails. Mistress Bang plans complete reconstruction of the Danish school system according to the German method.

Owner Of Epinard Gets Signal Honor

PARIS, Sept. 26.—(AP)—Pierre Wertheimer, owner of Epinard, has been created a Knight of the Legion of Honor. Mr. Wertheimer did not receive this distinction from the Ministry of Agriculture in connection with his breeding of famous race horses, but from the Minister of Aeronautics. He is the president of a company whose motors have been instrumental in bringing several aviation records back to France. Lake Wales—Hills Bros. will build factory to can 50,000 cases grapefruit this year.

PREPARING FOR VETS

ST. PETERSBURG, Sept. 26.—(AP)—Hotels, apartment houses, and private homes are laying plans to open their doors to the 15,000 veterans of the Spanish-American war who will be in national encampment here during September 27 to October 1. Hotels which in the past have not opened until December have brought down large staffs from the east and are preparing to care for the visitors. Sixty hotels will give special service to veterans.

NEW SCHOOL PROGRAMS

TALLAHASSEE, Sept. 26.—(AP)—Miss Nettie E. Brogdon, state supervisor of rural schools, is now mailing out suggested one-room and two-room school programs for all rural institutions. The programs are in the form of a chart, with the number of minutes to be devoted to each of the day's duties. Miss Brogdon has given a careful study to the one and two-room subject.

TAKE IT BACK

Have you borrowed a book, a hammer, a rake, a pinch of tea, a potato-sack, and forgotten the loan or thought it your own? Then, this is the day to take it back.

It's much like stealing to keep it too long; The owner may need it, and think alike! That this is your way to get things without pay; Then, this is the day to take it back.

If you have said something, and found it untrue, As to what some one is, or what he may lack; If you want to grow strong, acknowledge the wrong, For this is the day to take it back.

Play Ball

Cobalt skies and the faint haze of Indian Summer . . . long queues of weary men who have waited hours for the ticket wickets to open . . . sharply sloping tiers of massed humanity . . . faultlessly conditioned sward and well rolled, white lined base paths . . . multicolored billboards along the distant walls . . . the sharp "tock" as the batter's warm up in the bull pens . . . the scurry of uniformed figures from the dug-out as the side is retired . . . the clatter of many telegraph instruments from the lofty press boxes . . . swarming tree limbs and pole cross arms, where venturesome youths denied the price of admission, are precariously perched like buzzards, risking injury to see the spectacle . . . the full throated roar of acclaim, greeting the victors as the last put-out is recorded in the official scorers book . . . the World Series!

It is baseball's annual classic, and perhaps the greatest single attraction in the sporting world. It may safely be said that no news of the day will attract more attention than the published accounts of the grand finale of the baseball season. The encounter this year promises well to be hectic and hard fought. The Pittsburgh and Washington teams, leaders in their respective circuits, have not reached their present eminence without feeling the sharp goad of persistent and tenacious opposition. Both have set the pace through the closing weeks of the campaign with an ever present contender ready to take advantage of any slip. Such competition can only result in perfection of performance.

The classic this year will see again the time honored struggle between youth and age. The Pirates, young, unused to the thrill of supremacy, yet powerful, aggressive and boasting an infield which has been compared to Connie Mack's foursome, will face Bucky Harris' weather beaten troupe of veterans who have the initial advantage of defending the championship, and whose attack is built around a pitching staff of rejuvenated hurlers long since compelled to rely upon cleverness to relieve the strain of each succeeding campaign. And we are not forgetting the leadership of one whose strategy in the 1924 Series was a factor second in dominance to the dramatic comeback of Walter Johnson.

Nor will the epic struggle be devoid of an atmosphere of human interest. Representing cities well known to be the "hottest baseball towns" in the major leagues, the Pirates and Senators both possess a colorful personnel. Washington has the incomparable Walter Johnson, who led his league in pitching for many years without knowing the fame of a World Series; the no less famous Altrick and Schnap, and a team of veterans who sent the New York Giants down in a stirring series last fall.

The Corsairs, in addition to their flashy infield have the foxy Carey, whose favorite trick is to steal his way home, from first base; and Cuyler, now playing his second season in the majors, whose heavy slugging, speed and powerful throwing arm have heralded him as the likely successor to Ty Cobb. There is also the beloved Babe Adams, sole survivor of the team which defeated Detroit, and brought to Pittsburgh its last World Championship, back in 1909, and who, is still pitching championship ball at the age of 41 years. Sport writers name the Pirates as favorites by a slight margin, to win this year's series, but much can happen in one week, as Harris, the opportunist, well knows.

Within the fortnight then, the city streets will echo the shrill cries of the newsy hawking his "baseball extra", and the farmer will sit quietly, with the radio phones tightly clamped to his ears, unmindful of the lowing of hungry stock, as the nation pays its yearly tribute to the National Pastime.

"As Ye Treat the World"

True happiness, the ultimate desire of every human heart, is not always reached by the paths that seem to run in its direction. Greedy or selfish enjoyment will not in the end leave a sweet taste in the mouth.

What kind of a man or woman is it that can enjoy so called happiness at the expense of misery of another? They are the kind that enjoy a cock or bull fight; and seem to obtain a certain kind of enjoyment in seeing others suffer. They are the men who as boys tied tin cans to dogs' tails and the women who used to tease their baby sisters. What true happiness can be derived from torturing some helpless creature?

The source of all true happiness is love. People whose lives are cold, narrow and selfish never really know what happiness is. The almighty dollar can bring luxury and physical comforts to your life—but never real happiness.

Our greatest happiness is in loving others and knowing that others love us. The love of a few good friends will make us happier than all the riches in the world with the knowledge that no one cares for us or gives us a second thought.

But we can't expect the world to love us if we are bitter and hard toward the world. "As ye treat the world, so will the world treat ye." It is much easier to smile back at a person who smiles at us than to return a smile for a sneer. And if we meet another with a smile we are very likely to get one in return.

Whatever kind of seed a farmer sows, a like harvest will he reap. Just so, upon whatever kind of seed we sow, in the soil of human life, depends the harvest we shall reap. A kind deed, a kind word, a kind thought today will be rewarded tomorrow.

WHETHER A MAN chooses employment or a business of his own for his career, his first step is the same; he must go to work and learn his job. If a man is a misfit in industry, if he does not know his work, how much greater the misfit of him who presumes to direct others in what he himself knows not. Many so-called "economic" problems are only the ignorance of the directors of business. Business itself does not fail; but the man who is "boss" of a business that he does not know to its last operative detail is certain of failure before he begins. Whatever your goal in life, the beginning is knowledge and experience—or, briefly, work.—Henry Ford.

FRIENDSHIP WHICH flows from the heart cannot be frozen by adversity, as the water that flows from the spring does not congeal in winter.—Cooper.

SENATOR WALSH, of Montana back from Europe, said yesterday about Sakiatvala, bartering cause our Government dislikes his opinions: "Great Britain allows Sakiatvala to sit in the Commons and speak to the world from that forum, knowing that nothing he can say will seriously affect public opinion or wreck the British Empire."

"We in America show lack of confidence in the common sense of our people, and the stability of our government, when we refuse to admit for a brief visit to an interparliamentary conference a man whose views happen not to coincide with the majority here." To this you may add that the British are wise. They don't sit on the safety valve.

They have free speech in England, have never had it in Russia. The British royal family is still alive, well fed, well dressed and safe. The Russian Imperial family is not doing so well.

WHILE SPECULATORS pay 8 per cent for money, even with good security, Marshall Field and Company of Chicago, doing their first public financing in more than sixty years of existence, borrow $17,000,000 at 4 1-2 per cent. James Simpson, who borrowed the money, could have borrowed fifty millions or seventy millions as easily as seventeen millions. It helps credit when a manager has a great business and the business a great manager.

"HOW CAN I succeed?" is answered by Judge Gary thus: "LISTEN. Let the other man do at least half the talking."

Judge Gary, of course, puts honesty ahead of all other qualities. And honesty is important, although Judge Gary knows more enterprises have been wrecked by honest fools than by dishonest knaves.

"THE AVERAGE man likes to hear himself talk too much," says Judge Gary. Salesmen should remember that. Thousands of them talk themselves INTO a sale, then talk themselves OUT again. When you meet a customer remember the advice of Aristotle, who was the Judge Gary of his day, "Not too much, NOT TOO LITTLE."

SECRETARY WILBUR objects to a separate air force. That is natural. We cling to power, especially when we don't know how to meet it.

What will President Coolidge say about a separate air force? He is head of the army and navy, and would be head of a separate air force. He is responsible to the people for what happens, and for the decision now to be made.

What would President Coolidge have done had he been alive and responsible 100 years ago, when railroads and steamboats were coming in, driving out stage coaches and canal boats?

WOULD HE HAVE made railroads a branch of the stage coach department, or would he have established a separate railroad branch, thus permitting railroads to develop without the hindrance of old fogylism?

TO PUT A stock broker or a retired judge in control of a flying fleet is no less stupid than it would have been 100 years ago, to put a stage coach driver and a canal boat captain in charge of the nation's railroads and steamboats. And President Coolidge knows it.

MADAME DE SEVIGNE said two good things: "If I had more time, I should have written you a shorter letter."

"The more I see of dogs the less I think of men."

If she could return and read the news of today she might change it to "The more I see of men, the more I am reminded of wold beasts."

THOSE THAT plan an early Utopia on earth, with the kind of human beings now bred here, are optimistic. Read this:

Mrs. Poleski, habitually deceiving her husband, feared him, and to make sure that he wouldn't wake up and interfere with her plans for last Monday night, she waited until he was asleep, then with a bottle beat him into unconsciousness. That is Chapter I.

SHE TOOK two bottles and a demijohn of home-made wine, and went out to meet her chosen affinity, John Symuk. Toward morning he began to suspect that she had put poison in the wine. So he beat her into unconsciousness with an empty bottle and pushed her, still alive, into a furnace, where she burned to death. He bit the policeman that arrested him, was knocked unconscious with the butt of a pistol in his turn, and his next step may be the electric chair.

THIS PICTURE of life in a modern "civilized" city, revealing the brute asleep, and easily awakened by alcohol, in the dregs of humanity, shows that the day of a Utopia to include all human beings is not near.

LONDON IS agitated because the great art collection of Lord Leverhulme, successful soap maker, is to be sold in New York City, not in London.

This is said to mean that the art center of the world has moved from London to New York, but that isn't so.

The money center has moved, and in 1925, as in the days of the Medici, art goes where money is.

PHOOEY!

JUST IN PASSING

BY R. J. HOLLY

The real estate men are afraid of each other it seems and they are trying to pass stringent laws that will protect each other against each other or the other way round. Are all the crooks in the real estate business that they need to be bonded and have high license?

Other lines of business do not have a high license or have bonds to keep out the crooks. The present state laws that will force applicants for real estate license to tell all about their family history, etc., before they can get into business should be sufficient. All this roar about real estate men will cause suspicion on the part of the buyers.

Not that the buyers should not be protected. We do not want any stranger in our midst to be "taken in" but many times the stranger in our midst is trying to get our property for nothing and give us wooden checks for a "binder". As a rule the real estate men do not handle any money when a deal is made as the money passes from the buyer to the owner and the real estate man then gets his commission.

And if any of the visitors are soft enough to buy land without seeing it or to buy lands from strangers who have no standing in the community they deserve to be bitten. There is no reason for Florida realtors being hedged in with all kinds of bulls and chains any more than the realtors of other states or the people in any other business.

I do business every day with real estate men and much of it without any receipts or certificates or "binders" and I am still here. And that's that.

There is a whole lot of soft stuff in the papers about crushing in the straw hat and making people buy felt hats just because it is the first of October or the middle of September and northern states are doing this stunt. Well, Florida is different and if you left it to me the folks down here would wear straw hats and white suits the year round. Why should we be perspiring beneath the weight of winter suits just because it is the first of October or the first of November or any other month.

A judge in West Palm Beach has officially decreed that winter in Florida does not start until November the first. Unless somebody puts a stopper on that furnace in Georgia there will be no winter here at all this season and the judge will have to make a new ruling. If there is anyone soft enough to think that it is winter or anything like winter in Florida at present let him step forward and prove it.

Headline in Times-Union says: "Senator Fletcher Thinks More Loyalty is needed in Jacksonville. This applies to all cities and towns and hamlets. We all need more loyalty to our town, to our state and to our country and unless more loyalty is given this country will be a different America in the next few years. Our present disrespect and disregard for all laws will make this country a second Russia if the loyal Americans do not get together soon and brushing aside politics and partisanship demand a real America for Americans and deport all those undesirables who do not want to obey our laws."

Sanford could send the Georgia folks a car load of corn and help them out in their extremity. We have plenty of it and our neighbors on the north are needing it to save their live stock this winter. Why don't the Georgians here do something about it?

If there is any likelihood of another freight embargo here on building materials we should investigate the advisability of barging our supplies from Jacksonville to Sanford where they could be used here or shipped to south Florida points. If there is anything to this river transportation we should take advantage of it or cease talking about it. The government engineers could unwind a lot of government red tape now and show where much money could be saved by deeper water in the St. Johns River. The railroads have shown their inability to handle freight and if the government continues to take our money for taxes they should give us something in return. We seem to have a lot of figureheads in Congress in both houses.

That damnable road in Volusia is getting worse instead of better and just why the State Road Department does not do something for the traveling public is beyond me. At least the roads could be made passable while the rock is being put on the main fill. There are hundreds of cars getting stuck in the sand there every day much to the seeming delight of the road gang and to the disgust of the travelers. As a consequence there are more cars going round the other way and passing up Sanford altogether. And now the Mt. Dora road will be torn up all winter and Sanford will be absolutely marooned unless something is done right away.

Florida is one of the few states that allows the road gang to tear up all the roads without making adequate detours that can be negotiated in all kinds of weather. The tourists and travellers generally are allowed to go as they please and without common courtesy being shown them by the contractors and road gangs.

THE AIR CRAFT INQUIRY

ASHEVILLE CITIZEN

Postponing until later the grave charges made by Colonel William Mitchell that the army and navy high commands are so permeated by selfishness, stupidity and vanity that their conduct toward aviation has been "almost treasonable," the President's special air board has heard witnesses for and against the plan for a unified air service.

Major-General Patrick, chief of the Army air service, favors the unified plan, while acting Secretary of War Davis and land officers oppose it. Their differences are fundamental and rest on opposing views as to the importance of air craft as a national weapon.

General Hines and associates, that there must indeed be a unified command and that the air can be in the Army's control, has not control of its own weapon? Carried to its logical conclusion there should be a cabinet, the vice of the country, including Army, Navy and Air Craft, under one control. Theoretically, the now such control, since the chief of the Army and Navy with weapons, but practically, the President since the President exercises his control.

FLORIDA

LAKEWOOD (OHIO) POST

A new Eldorado has been discovered and recently its glories have been published broadcast. This nation, so rich in beautiful communities, so strong in its wide domains and so powerful in its industrial and agricultural resources, has a veritable "gold coast" along the Gulf Stream, in the "flowery state" of Florida, first discovered by Ponce de Leon in 1513 and now "rediscovered" more than 400 years later by thousands from every state in the union who are investing their money in Florida real estate.

There is a steady immigration being set up to Florida. By automobile, bus, steamship and railroad, visitors are flooding the state many of whom are staying in their new found homes.

While there are many investment opportunities in Florida, especially in and about Greater Cleveland and other rapidly developing and growing communities, such as Lakewood and villages to the west south and east, reports from responsible real estate conditions show that Florida's days of Real Estate conservatism, operated by and built upon years of hard and sound judgment, have passed and agencies in Florida handling investments through local offices. This industry trend because these conditions would be the last to exist under the long experience gives stability their faith in Florida, and the situation gives weight to their conclusions.

Many Lakewoodites have flocked to Florida. The government, to insure stability, is inviting important investors to locate in the state and give every resident increase for their holdings as time passes. The soundness of "Greater America" is thus doubly established by the forces of wealth and merit.—Lakewood (Ohio) Post.

FEDERAL EXPENDITURES INCREASE

NEW YORK WORLD

In spite of the much advertised small economies which have been put into effect in the various Federal bureaus at Washington, expenditures for the ordinary purposes of government were actually greater during the fiscal year just closed than in the preceding twelve months. It is true that the increase of $14,427,000 is a small amount in a total disbursement of slightly more than $3,000,000,000, but it is nevertheless disconcerting to find that economies reached their limit a year ago.

To say that the increase is due to the bonus is begging the question. Congress passed a Bonus Bill which the majority of its members at heart did not approve. While establishing a budget bureau to cut down expenditures by devices as limiting the number of erasers a government might use during the year, it might hesitate to overrule the president's veto and vote against an ostensibly in aid of furthering men but really in furthering its own political well-being.

While the direct result of the increased expenditures, course, with Congress, is that the veto act that can be laudable at the time for really efficient action was in fact during which a sufficient number of votes was being procured to ensure the overriding of the

Butter Nut Baking Co. Name of Local Bakery Bought By Chicagoans

Purchase of the Miller Baking Company at 115 Magnolia Avenue by J. C. Martin and R. W. Russell, both of Chicago, was announced Friday by the new owners, who stated that the firm name has been changed to the Butter Nut Baking Co.

The new owners are both experienced bakers, having engaged in this line of business for a number of years in the west and mid-west. Mr. Russell was for some time connected with the Ward Baking Company of Chicago and also Continental Baking Company and Frehofer Baking Company. Mr. Martin was for a number of years employed by the Schulze Baking Company of the same city.

Dortmund Building Largest Exhibition Stadium In Europe

DORTMUND, Sept. 26.—(P)—The largest exhibition and sporting hall of Europe is being constructed at Dortmund. Its dimensions are almost double those of the Berlin Sport Palace, and even exceeds that of the Century Hall of Breslau.

The vaulted roof is constructed entirely of wood instead of iron, according to a new system. The hall will seat 11,000 persons, besides offering standing room for 1,500 more. Annexed to the main building is a special hall intended as a hippodrome and additional stabling accommodations for 150 horses. Another feature is to be a bicycle race course 200 metres in length, which is also to be used for motor cycle races.

The dimensions of the hall are such that it will be possible to hold simultaneous competitions in sprinting and gymnastics, bicycle contests and equestrian exhibitions. Other features are tennis courts, a large banqueting hall, suites of offices, training quarters and a restaurant.

The area of sport buildings will be further enlarged by the municipality of Dortmund and converted into a public park, including a football oval and large swimming pool.

Ohioan To Save Trees Washington Planted

FREDERICKSBURG, Va., Sept. 26.—(P)—Martin Davey, famous tree surgeon and congressman from Ohio, has volunteered his personal services to help save for posterity the last of the 13 horse chestnut trees which George Washington planted here to represent the 13 original colonies.

The tree, slowly dying because of its great age and the invasion of the chestnut blight, is located on the property of John F. Scott, which was formerly a portion of the Kenmore estate, the home of Betty Washington Lewis, sister of George Washington. It has been viewed by thousands of visitors during the course of more than a century.

Congressman Davey has made a preliminary examination of the tree and stated that he would gladly undertake the work of ministering to its ill at his own expense. The cost of restoring the tree is estimated at about $400.

There are said to be more than 20,000 religious workers in Japan and it is reported they are planning to send two representatives to the Diet in the next general election.

CONTENDERS ARE PREPARING FOR ANNUAL CLASSIC

Pirates and Senators, With League Pennants In, Have Two Weeks to Condition Overworked Hurling Staffs

NEW YORK, Sept. 26.—(P)—Now that the outcome of the National and American League pennant races has become a mathematical certainty, Pittsburgh and Washington are free to concentrate their efforts upon preparation for the annual baseball classic, which starts at Pittsburgh, Wednesday, October 7.

Clinching of the pennants almost simultaneously and a fortnight before the close of the major league seasons is a sharp contrast to the closeness of both races last year which left the outcome in doubt until the final few days of the campaigns. The contending rivals season have ample time in which to give overworked veterans a needed rest, patch up injuries and map out the battle strategy.

There may be less "master minding" than usual in this year's series, with John McGraw of the Giants missing from the picture for the first time in five years, but McGraw's processes may be given a counter part by Fred Clarke, veteran adviser to the Pittsburgh Pirates. Clarke, who was winning pennants with the old Pirates when McGraw first took control of the Giants, is credited with having done much of the deep thinking for the new National League champions.

Clarke and Billy McKetchnie, manager of the Pirates, will have a nimble minded opponent in Stanley (Buckey) Harris, who has established himself as a strategist of the first rank in spite of his youth and comparative inexperience.

Harris was just learning to swing a bat on the sandlots of his home town, Pittston, Pa., when Clarke was leading the Pirates to their last pennant in 1909.

Harris holds high respect for the ability of the buccanniers but is nevertheless confident that the experience and steadiness of his outfit will carry the Senators to their second straight world's championship.

Harris figures that if his club beats the Pirates it will be won with right handed pitching, a view which is also shared by McGraw.

Walter Johnson and Stanley Coveleskie are the pitching aces upon whom Harris will place his main reliance, with not a few hopes also resting on Alex Ferguson, veteran acquired from Boston, and Fred Marberry, rescuer in chief of the Washington staff.

Referee's Whistle Will Send Pigskins Soaring In Every Part Of Nation Saturday

NEW YORK, Sept. 26.—(P)—The first offensive of the annual football campaign takes place today with college battle fronts extended to all parts of the country.

The majority of leading eleven throughout the gridiron sphere will swing their forces into action then, although there are a number of notable exceptions, including the teams of the Western Conference and the Eastern "big three." These outfits will have their first tests in a combat a week from today.

In the East, however, such outstanding institutions as Pennsylvania, Cornell, Dartmouth, Syracuse, Pittsburgh, West Virginia, Colgate, Holy Cross, Rutgers, Lafayette and Columbia open their drives.

Notre Dame 1924 national champions, figures in the Middle West's list of curtain raisers, while California, undefeated for five years, helps start off the season on the Pacific coast and the South's leading hopes party vested in such teams as Georgia Tech and Alabama, set off on the chalk marked trail.

With a few exceptions, East and West, the opening battles will amount chiefly to preliminary skirmishes, tests against comparatively minor opposition for the major eleven, which are focusing their main attention on later clashes with traditional or intersectional rivals.

Outstanding among these exceptions are the games involving Notre Dame at South Bend, with Bayreuth University Southwestern champions of 1924, and University of Pittsburgh, one of the East's most promising teams, against Washington and Lee, which stood out among the best in the south last fall. Both contests are likely to be hard fought with special interest centering on the showing of the new front line forces which Notre Dame will send into battle for the first time.

Among the upstate rivals of New York, Cornell begins the season at Ithaca against Susquehanna, which should not offer serious opposition, despite the pessimistic outlook of Coach Gil Dobie. Syracuse opens against Hobart, while Colgate tackles Canisius of Buffalo in other upstate headliners.

Columbia, starting under the tutelage of Charlie Crowley, a disciple of Houghton and Rockne, will be watched in her opening contest against Haverford. Dartmouth, co-holder of the Eastern football laurels with Yale and Pennsylvania last year, begins another promising season

By CHARLES P. STEWART

WASHINGTON, Sept. 26.—G. O. regulars are having a hard time finding a bright side to young La Follette's sweeping victory in the Republican senatorial primaries in Wisconsin.

They had hardly expected him to lose but they did hope the La Follette forces in the Badger state would prove to have been weakened by the death of the present candidate's father.

What the regulars didn't take into account was the fact that young Bob was taking over an organization with which he was familiar.

During his father's last years he had more to do with managing it than the latter did. His Wisconsin Progressive leadership is hardly referred to as "inherited."

It is really he had been coming to it gradually for some time and when the elder La Follette died, there was his son in control ready.

That young Bob will be elected accepted here, even by his bitterest opponents, as a foregone conclusion.

That, however, isn't the worst of it. The outlook is now admitted to be very dubious for Senator Lenroot's renomination next year.

Lenroot made his last successful campaign here the last year, when the late Senator La Follette's influence was at low water mark.

In 1924 he'll face an altogether different situation. The Washington administration will do all it can to help him, but if it accomplishes no more in his behalf than it was able to do to beat young Bob, this won't be sufficient.

It isn't to be disputed that Bob owes his nomination and will owe his expected election, at so young an age to so high an office, to the fact that he's his father's son.

Still, this will not be altogether a handicap to him in the Senate. It may mean some slurs, but it will mean a great deal in the way of prestige also.

If the young senator makes good on his individual merits the slurs will soon cease and the prestige of his father's name will remain, clear velvet, to add to the credit of his own accomplishments.

Prison Term For Man Who Aided In Escape Of Convict

TALLAHASSEE, Sept. 26.—(P)—The Florida state prison farm recently admitted T. J. Parish, sentenced to nine months for "aiding a convict to escape," after a hard fight in the courts.

Parish, who lives near Maxville, was convicted in the lower court for concealing J. R. Camp, an escapee from the Inhof farm. Camp was serving a five and a half year sentence for the larceny of an automobile, having been sent up from Orange county.

Parish sought a new trial, and it was denied. He then took an appeal to the Supreme Court. The latter tribunal a short time ago ordered the prisoner held under the sentence of the lower court.

The conviction of Parish, according to prison department officials here, was a notable achievement of the authorities. The newly-admitted prisoner was prosecuted for having taken Camp into his home, obtained clothing for him and concealed him there.

Witnesses testified that Parish burned the stripes which Camp was wearing at the time, and later took the prisoner for several miles and there turned him loose.

Report Nobility In Korea Are Destitute

SEOUL, Korea, Sept. 25.—(P)—The Korean nobility, with the exception of a few propertied peers, is reported to be suffering from extreme poverty. Several of the nobles, who were once wealthy, are now working as cart pullers or performing other menial tasks as the only means of escaping starvation.

At the time of the annexation of Korea by Japan, about 60 of the leading Koreans were created peers and given property by the Japanese government. Most of it ran through this property family. Recently 30 of the impoverished Korean nobles sent a petition to the Japanese government asking for financial assistance.

Lady Says She Took Cardui and Never Saw Such Improvement—Was So Weak Couldn't Stand.

Weatherby, Miss.—Mrs. James M. Hall, of this place, writes that she was "getting weaker all the time" when Cardui, the woman's tonic, was first brought to her attention. After she had taken Cardui a while, she writes that she "never did see such an improvement."

"I suffered all the time and had pains all over," says Mrs. Hall. "I was so weak I could not stand. My skin was cold and flabby. I did not have any color. I had always been a very active woman—used to outdoor exercise, walking and going where I pleased, and to get down, not able to get myself a drink, was indeed a hardship."

"Nothing seemed to help me, till I began on Cardui. The first bottle seemed to strengthen me, and I went for five more. By the time I had taken these, I was on my feet, going around, doing my work, gained in health and strength."

"I took two more bottles, and I am well and strong. Can work my garden. I haven't had any more sickness."

Tigress Did This

This picture attests to the fury of a mother tigress. Shortly after the tigress gave birth to two cubs, she jumped across her cage during a circus performance at Ardmore, Okla., and savagely attacked Robert McPherson, trainer. McPherson's head, face, arms and chest were lacerated by the claws of the mother. He is shown holding one of the cubs.

Capitol Briefs

Dr. R. M. Harper, state geographer, has left his office here for his yearly trip to the University of Alabama, where he engages in statistical and geographical work.

Approximately one hundred and fifty applications for charters of incorporation were approved and filed in the office of Secretary of State Crawford from September 1 to September 14. A large majority of the charters were for petty ventures.

Questions and answers on health and physical education, compiled by Miss Reba Harris, supervisor of health and physical education, are being mailed to all high school principals for the department of Public Instruction. The questions and answers are commonly called a "catechism," and consist of a compilation of previous discussions on that subject.

R. M. Seeley, supervisor of high schools, is also sending out from the public instruction department a treatise on English. Mr. Seeley has likewise just completed work on his State Educational Directory giving the names of all those connected with educational work in Florida. These booklets are also being mailed out.

Still another booklet is being sent out from the Department of Public Instruction on books for the high school library. The some twenty pages are devoted to the listing of the proper literature for school students, with the prices.

The Department of Hotel Commission has announced receipt of new licenses to be sent out upon receipt of the customary fee charged for the right to building of hotels, apartment houses and so forth. The licenses measure up to all requirements of Florida's construction laws, and must be obtained before any building is done.

Governor Martin is now in the grip of a swamp of business from which he probably cannot emerge for something like a month. The governor had just time enough to read a few letters and attend to some very urgent business when the pardon board, of which he is chairman, met. As soon as the governor returns to his office, a collection of visitors is ready for him.

FLORIDA FACTS

Mariana Day, one of the memorial days observed by the United Confederate Veterans will be celebrated on Sunday, September 27, at Century, Florida. A special program has been arranged and the Pensacola post will assist in the celebration.

Lumber exports from Pensacola reached a new high mark for one week's shipment at the close of last Saturday. The German steamer Gustav sailed Saturday with 1,206,125 superficial feet of lumber. This brought the total lumber shipped during the week up to 4,663,125 feet.

Pensacola is shipping large quantities of lumber and timber to foreign ports. During the past week the Italian steamer Artele carried 224,000 feet of superficial timber to Naples and also 110,000 feet of lumber.

S. Davis Watfield, president of the Seaboard Air Line Railroad, has asked permission of the Interstate Commerce Commission to proceed with the building program of the railroad in Florida without awaiting a conference with the commission.

He urges this in order to relieve the traffic jam now almost prevalent throughout the state.

The Seaboard Air Line plans to construct one hundred miles of new road bed when permission is obtained from the Interstate Commerce Commission.

The principal extension planned will be from West Palm Beach to Miami.

The west coast will also profit by Seaboard extensions however. Requests are pending for lines to be constructed between Brooksville and Inverness, a distance of 32 miles. This will give the Seaboard a loop or double line between Waldo and Tampa.

While the loop will serve different towns and cities, rail officials say it will be possible to divert through passenger and freight shipments on rush time. This will save much time and will be of great service to the public and commerce.

NINE VITAL FACTS

Here, in brief form, we present for your information nine vital facts underlying the success of Dodge Brothers, Inc., and the goodness and value of their product.

Dodge Brothers, Inc., consider these facts so fundamentally important to the motor car buyer that they will be repeated, from time to time, until every newspaper reader in America may be presumed to have read them:

Dodge Brothers, during the past eleven years, have built and sold more than one million four hundred thousand motor cars—and more than 90% of these cars are still in service. This record requires no comment. It stands impressively alone in motor car history.

It has never been Dodge Brothers policy to build yearly models. When an improvement, that is really an improvement, is discovered, it is made at once. Their slogan, "Constantly Improved But No Yearly Models" is familiar the world over.

Dodge Brothers build one chassis and only one. This policy materially lowers manufacturing cost. It also enables Dodge Brothers engineers to concentrate their entire time and thought on the betterment of this one type.

Dodge Brothers have never had an "off year" or an "off car." This is because they have never used the public as a testing ground for "new models" or lowered the quality of their product in the slightest degree. Every change has been an improvement on the original design.

Dodge Brothers pioneered in building the first all-steel open car and the first all-steel closed car. These epochal developments have saved Dodge Brothers owners many millions of dollars by materially prolonging motor car life and by effecting marked economies in manufacture. This construction has also reduced incalculably the danger from accident and fire.

Dodge Brothers sell directly through their dealers to the purchaser. There are no sectional distributing agencies to increase the cost of distribution and the cost of the car.

Dodge Brothers have never given so-called "free service." The car is sold at a fair and honest price. Nothing is added to this original purchase price to pay for service that the owner may never need. Dodge Brothers Dealers were pioneers in unanimously adopting the flat rate service system. By this system, the owner knows in advance what any service job will cost. There are no unpleasant surprises in his bills.

The sturdiness and long life of Dodge Brothers Motor Car is reflected in its resale value. Comparatively few Dodge Brothers Motor Cars are advertised in the resale columns of the newspapers. The values they bring testify unanswerably to their goodness—and the public's belief in their goodness.

The purchase of an automobile is a serious and important business. The time has passed when transient novelties can lead a thoughtful buyer to overlook the great essentials of motor car worth.

A few of these essentials are clearly outlined above. They go far to explain why Dodge Brothers name is accepted, the world over, as the hall mark of dollar-for-dollar value.
