Every aircraft of the squadron and the required support personnel were on station ahead of schedule and fully ready for the simulated combat operations they later conducted.

Each mission assigned the new squadron during the exercise was executed perfectly.

Feud 'Smoldering' Between Judges In Supreme Court

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Supreme Court meets today with observers on the watch for evidence that a feud is smoldering between Chief Justice Earl Warren and Justice Felix Frankfurter.

The court will announce opinions in some of the 50 or so cases now under advisement. Then it will start another week of arguments.

Last Monday for the second time in recent weeks Warren ad-

Some sniping among disagreeing justices has been a fact of life at the court over the years. But it has usually been confined to written opinions.

Soon after Warren took over as chief justice in 1953, it became evident that he and his peppery little colleague from Massachusetts were at opposite philosophical poles. The court's 5-4 votes

Hearing Testimony Brings Out Some Weird Answers

By DICK WEST
WASHINGTON (UPI) — One thing I like about my work is that it keeps me in contact with the House military appropriations subcommittee.

The subcommittee, in turn, keeps informed about such matters as the Defense Department's one-man task force and the Air Force planes that have "hot and cold running WAP's."

These are a couple of the more eye-catching items that turned up today in a volume of testimony compiled by the subcommittee during hearings on the defense budget for fiscal 1962.

I often have heard the phrase "one-man task force" used as a figure of speech, but I never knew that one actually existed until I read the testimony of Maj. Gen. Robert H. Booth, chief of the defense atomic support agency.

This revelation came in the following exchange between Booth and members of the subcommittee:

Q. What is Task Force 7?
A. Task Force 7 was a logistic, or supporting, agency for the conduct of the atomic tests that were held in the Pacific.

Q. Is it out of existence now?
A. There is one man left now, sir.

Q. How could you have just one man left?
A. He is the one man who was the last head of Task Force 7. . . .

Q. He is not going to be forgotten?
A. No, sir. He is doing another job.

Unfortunately, the personnel of the task force was not identified. However, it is comforting to know that it is standing by, ready for action.

The other topic I mentioned came up during the testimony of Lt. Gen. Joe W. Kelly, commander of the Military Air Transport Service.

It was introduced by Rep. Daniel J. Flood, (D-Pa.), who complained that MATS was putting too much emphasis on passenger service and not enough on military affairs.

He wanted to know how long it could take to make troop carriers out of planes "with all the lace curtains and plush and all the hot and cold running WAP's which we have in some of these things."

Kelly assured him that special mission aircraft, including the planes used by the President, could be used to carry troops, if the need arose.

Flood then inquired about "these planes where the high heels of certain females on board have gone through the floor . . . and they have had to take their shoes off."

The general said he was not aware of that having happened. Although there may be some question in Flood's mind about its overall military capabilities, I think it is safe to assume that MATS would have no difficulty in airlifting Task Force 7.

bring out these differences sharply.

What has irked Warren lately is Frankfurter's habit of announcing dissents chattily instead of reading his opinion as written. In this way he uses more colorful language to taunt the majority.

Last week Warren rebelled at what he called "a lecture" appropriate for the justices' private conference room but not for delivery in public.

"As I understand it, the purpose of reporting an opinion in the courtroom is to inform the public and not for the purpose of degrading this course," he remarked with some heat. "I assure you that if any opinion had said these things I would have much to say myself, but unfortunately the record will not show it."

"I'll leave it to the record," Frankfurter retorted.

The justices then turned to arguments previously scheduled. Soon Warren and Frankfurter were observed in what seemed to be friendly conversation.

Six weeks ago a similar, but less heated, exchange occurred.

Obviously in the closing weeks of a term as strenuous as the present one, judicial nerves are under an increasing strain.

The nature of the court and its work makes the daily routine of a justice rather lonely. The justices are together on the bench eight days a month. And they meet in private conference on Fridays to discuss cases and vote on them.

But each member of the court works alone to a great extent, assisted by his two law clerks and his secretary.

All their official meetings begin, at least, with a friendly gesture. Each justice shakes hands with all his colleagues before conferences and in the robing room before going on the bench.

Among the few opportunities for casual socializing is the 2 to 2:30 p. m. lunch period when the court is sitting. All except Frankfurter are served together in a small dining room by waiters who bring the food from the cafeteria on the ground floor.

Chatting recently with reporters, Warren referred to lunchtime as "a very pleasant interlude." He said the conversation is always "of a general nature." Pending cases are not discussed.

No one knows why Frankfurter avoids this camaraderie. One rumor insists he withdrew because he couldn't stand so much talk about baseball. More likely he prefers to use the few minutes to see people or take care of office details.

Some members of the court see each other socially. For instance, Warren often walks part way to work in the morning with Justice Tom C. Clark, who lives nearby.

Clark played golf with Justice Stanley F. Reed, now retired.

Some functions, official or social, are attended by the court as a group. The justices are guests at the White House each year. They also have front seats at joint sessions of Congress.

The most publicized court feud in recent times was between Justice Hugo L. Black and the late Robert H. Jackson.

Jackson brought it into the open in a bombshell statement written from Nuernberg, Germany, where he was prosecutor at the war crimes trials.

The immediate issue was Black's participation in a case argued by his former law partner.

In time even the Black-Jackson bitterness subsided, at least on the surface, and the two men observed the usual social amenities.

Vote Provision Needed In Urban Renewal Bill

Seminole County legislators said Saturday they would consider introducing urban renewal legislation this session if the bill included a referendum provision and if the City Commission approved the bill.

Reps. Mack Cleveland Jr. and Gordon Frederick earlier were on record as "basically opposed" to the principles of urban renewal.

The city last month by a 3-2 vote tabled action on the proposed legislation until a joint meeting could be held with the legislators to discuss the bill sponsored by the Downtown Improvement Committee of the Chamber of Commerce.

At a joint meeting between the chamber group, city commissioners and delegation Saturday Frederick said he would not consider the bill unless a referendum was included.

Frederick also said he would prefer a project by project referendum so the people could decide on projects which could affect their own areas in any kind of slum clearance or condemning of private property.

Attorney Kenneth Leffler, who drew up the proposed legislation modeled after the Tampa bill, said he would include a referendum provision and would have it ready for the commission's consideration at its next meeting May 8.

The legislators then agreed to hold another joint meeting with the chamber group, city commissioners and delegation Saturday Frederick said he would not consider the bill unless a referendum was included.

Weather May Delay U.S. Spaceman

CAPE CANAVERAL (UPI)—A prediction of bad weather today raised doubts whether America's first man-in-space shot will go as planned Tuesday morning.

The National Space Agency has set fairly rigid minimum conditions for the launching. The astronaut and the Redstone rocket apparently were ready to go.

But if the forecasts hold, the weather may not be suitable in all respects until the last half of the week.

The nation's No. 1 astronaut was less than 24 hours away from his scheduled leap into space when the adverse forecast came in. The main countdown had started Sunday.

A postponement would be a disappointment for the pilot and the thousands of men who have been working toward a shot time of 7 a. m. (est) Tuesday.

But they were certain not to let disappointment push them into a hazardous venture in unfavorable weather.

Seven Navy ships headed into the Atlantic today to pluck America's first spaceman from the waves. Crews had orders not to speak to him unless he says something first.

Psychologists and doctors want the first astronaut to tell his own story in his own way, without having it colored by words and thoughts conveyed to him after his return from flight.

So, from the first retrievers, who probably will be Marine helicopter pilots, to all others of the 3,000 men aboard the flotilla who may come in contact with him, the orders are: Address no words to the astronaut right after recovery unless he asks a question.

This 40,000-ton carrier and six destroyers headed for positions down the Atlantic missile range from Cape Canaveral, Fla., calculated to put them in the right place to pick up the astronaut as soon as possible after he hits the water.

All ships go on "ready alert" at 2 a. m. Tuesday for the expected shoot from the Cape a few hours later.

Countywide Drainage Bill Ruled Out?

A countywide drainage bill for Seminole County was just about ruled out this session of the legislature and the County Commission Tuesday will consider a special law making it legal to set aside road and bridge funds for drainage purposes.

District 3 County Commissioner James P. Avery, in a special meeting of the county commission and State Rep. Mack Cleveland Jr. Saturday proposed that the county enact special legislation using funds from the road and bridge fund for drainage and water management projects after Cleveland said he saw no merit in a countywide bill.

In a meeting to bring the commission up-to-date on legislative matters, Cleveland said that he studied the Orange County drainage bill and it gives the same authority that Seminole County now has—including setting up special districts for drainage levies and exempting all municipalities from any drainage tax.

Avery then proposed that perhaps up to $30,000 could be set aside out of the road and bridge budget for drainage purposes or that 15 per cent of the total road and bridge budget be used for that purpose.

Avery said he would draw up some sort of recommendations and present it to the commission Tuesday for consideration.

Cleveland said that if the county approved the bill, in an official meeting, he would introduce it.

Kennedy Facing Decision On Laos

By DONALD MAY
United Press International
WASHINGTON (UPI)—President Kennedy and his top advisers today approached the moment of decision on whether to send Allied troops into Laos to prevent a Communist takeover of that country.

Kennedy was scheduled to meet with the National Security Council at 4 p. m. It seemed likely that no major action would be announced until after the council meeting, the fourth in nine days.

But the United States and its Allies clearly were confronted with the mounting danger of Communist-backed Pathet Lao rebels overrunning Laos despite a British-Soviet call for a cease fire.

The president cut short a weekend visit to his Middleburg, Va., estate to fly back to Washington for conferences late Sunday with Secretary of State Dean Rusk, Defense Secretary Robert S. McNamara and other officials.

County Commissioners are still watching the latest word regarding pay raises. At a meeting Saturday between State Rep. Mack Cleveland Jr. and members of the board to discuss population acts, Vernon Dunn asked Cleveland, "You didn't notice any population acts that would give us a raise, or at least reduce our work load?"

James P. Avery chimed in: "We are one of the few counties where commissioners are not getting a raise." Cleveland had opposed any pay raise for commissioners during this legislative session.

The State Department of Education Friday approved plans for Hopper Academy and bids on the school will be opened later this month.

Urban Renewal For Five Cities Gets House Okay

TALLAHASSEE (UPI)—The House today passed urban renewal bills for Plant City, Daytona Beach, Fort Lauderdale, St. Augustine and Orla.

The bills, permitting the cities to take advantage of federal funds to clear slums and blighted areas, now goes to the Senate.

Tampa and Tallahassee are the only Florida cities now eligible for urban renewal programs.

The article-by-article revision, which would be presented to the voters in November, 1962 would rewrite 12 of the present 20 articles and make some changes in the preamble and declaration of rights.

Also intended in the House as it returned from a long weekend was the Republican plan for congressional redistricting, identical to that offered by Sen. W. C. Young of St. Petersburg in the Senate Friday.

The congressional redistricting plans are to be thrashed out at an afternoon meeting of a Senate committee.

At an informal caucus just before the House convened plans were made to hold the 1962 House caucus at Daytona Beach. Speaker Designate Mallory Horns of Leon agreed to the Volusia County meeting.

Only one committee met this morning. The House Motor Vehicle Committee held a brief session and delayed action on a bill to require the motor vehicle commissioner to send each sheriff in the state a list of automobile registrations. Tag Commissioner Arch Livingston said it would cost $13 million in a two-year period to pay for the new service asked by the Sheriff's Association.

Cuba Official Red Puppet

HAVANA (UPI)—Premier Fidel Castro led a giant parade today to celebrate May Day and the defeat of the mid-April invasion. He was expected to proclaim Cuba the first Communist nation in the Western Hemisphere.

Castro, President Osvaldo Dorticos, all Cabinet members and top union officials marched to the presidential reviewing stand where they took positions to watch the other paraders.

In front of the stand was a big sign with the slogan "Workers of the world united."

The massive parade and rally was expected to be capped by an announcement from Castro converting Cuba into the Cuban People's Socialist Republic, the term used by Communists to describe their regimes.

A Havana radio broadcast said ordinary citizens in the parade carried flags of all the peoples of the world who have lined up with the Cuban revolution.

The broadcast said streets leading to the civic plaza, scene of the main speech - making today, had been choked with spectators since early this morning.

The symbol of the Cuban Workers Federation was mounted in front of the monument to national hero Jose Marti in the public plaza, and ashes from the recently burned El Encanto Department Store also were placed before the monument.

A giant picture of Karl Marx was carried by a group of demonstrators. Others carried pictures of Fidel Castro, his brother Raul, Dorticos and others.

In Washington, the administration sent Secretary of State Dean Rusk to Capitol Hill today to defend its handling of the Cuban situation and the U. S. role in the ill-fated invasion attempt.

Rusk's appearance before a Senate subcommittee on Latin America came amid growing congressional demands for an investigation of the super-secret Central Intelligence Agency and some demands for a sterner U. S. policy toward Fidel Castro.

It also followed a new warning by the State Department for Americans still in Cuba to leave "in the near future." Officials said the step was not prompted by an immediate threat against Americans but it was considered wise to get as many out as possible.

BEST SPEAKERS in the 4-H Club's County Day contest were Billy Hein, Slavia, who won the senior division, and Ted Belhorn, Slavia, junior division.

READING LAMP awards went to Danny Thompson, Slavia, senior class, and George Sinclair, Slavia, junior.

TRACTOR OPERATION winners were Jonathan Lucas, Slavia, junior division and Owen Cammack, Geneva, senior.

ATLANTA (UPI)—Three Negro girls backed by a federal court order today took the initial step necessary to break color barriers in Atlanta public schools.

Erna Lee Williams, Annie Ruth Dennis, both 11th graders, and Norene Colvie, a 10th grade student, obtained application blanks at the Atlanta Board of Education for transfer under a court-approved pupil placement plan. They want to enter white schools next fall.

Today was the first day under the plan, approved by U. S. District Judge Frank A. Hooper, for Negro students or their parents to obtain application forms for transfers from Negro to white schools.

DAVID MOHN of Lake Mary was the winner of the 4-H insect collection contest in the junior division. Complete results of County Day will be announced later.

Messages Back General In Birch Society Case

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The Senate Armed Services Committee has received about 200 messages supporting a suspended U. S. general accused of indoctrinating his troops with the views of the controversial John Birch Society.

The committee has been getting up to 25 telegrams and a few letters daily, some suggesting that Congress intervene on behalf of Maj. Gen. Edwin A. Walker. The committee, however, has not said whether it would step into the case.

The telegraphic campaign has appeared to be centered in the New York City and Shreveport, La., areas. It has appeared to be organized — but there has been nothing to link it to the John Birch Society.

Walker was relieved as commander of the 24th Infantry Division in Germany by Army Secretary Elvis Stahr "pending the outcome of an official investigation of certain public statements and actions of Gen. Walker."

The action came after a newspaper, Overseas Weekly, said Walker's troop indoctrination program was based on the "philosophy of the controversial John Birch Society."

Death Warrants Bear Eichmann's Name

JERUSALEM (UPI) — The state of Israel struck at Adolf Eichmann's story that he never personally ordered the execution of a Jew by introducing as evidence today two death warrants bearing his name.

It was a hard blow against the defense and Eichmann's West German lawyer, Robert Servatius, challenged the documents in vain. He insisted they were not issued by Eichmann's Department of the Gestapo, but Attorney General Gideon Hadsner established that they were.

One death warrant ordered the "special treatment" execution of four Jews in the Polish town of Ciechanow and named them. The other one instructed the Nazi commander at the ghetto of Neu-hof to hang seven Jews in front of the entire Jewish community.

Eichmann's whole defense is based on the contention that he was a minor official obeying orders from his superiors and that he never personally killed a Jew or ordered one to be killed.

It was a grim day in court. The story of how only 100 Jewish men out of 2,000 survived a Nazi death march through Poland broke the nerves of a spectator at the trial.

ARMY P.F.C. HARMON Terrell Griffin has recently been reassigned to the 10th General Dispensary (Army), Frankfurt, Germany. Griffin, a 1960 graduate of Seminole High School, entered the Army on June 10, 1960 and received basic training at Ft. Jackson, S. C. From there he was transferred to the Army Medical Service School, Ft. Sam Houston, Tex.

He rose from his gallery seat and shouted: "He killed my family. Let me kill him."

Police closed in on him, but he shook a fist at Eichmann in the bullet-proof glass box and cried: "Blood hound, blood hound."

Outside the courtroom the man identified himself as Jwi Sheffer, 46, a Hungarian refugee.

Police offered him a cup of coffee, but his hand was trembling and he could not hold it.

"This brought the whole thing back to me," Sheffer said, and began to weep. "Once there were 62 in my family. Now there are only four."

Balloon Tests Planned By Navy

PENSACOLA (UPI) — The Navy hopes to send two "subastronauts" to a height of 22 miles above earth later this week in a helium balloon.

The ascent will be made from the aircraft carrier Antietam in the Gulf of Mexico.

Cdr. Malcolm D. Ross and Lt. Cdr. Victor G. Leather will make the flight in a gondola suspended from a 2,000 pound, 411-foot high balloon to test the effects of high altitude on the body.

Ross and Leather will wear pressure suits similar to those designed for astronauts in their attempt to reach a height of 116,000 feet.

IT'S TIME!!

Yes, it's time that the science of air conditioning is explained to the public in clear, concise language so that the average mature person understands exactly what he is buying. In order to do this, Southern Air of Sanford will publish a series of articles dealing with the various phases of air conditioning. This article and those to follow, will be based on facts from three sources, technological, medical and over twenty years of practical experience.

Article I YOUR DEALER

Your equipment, regardless of type or brand, is no better than the people who install it. Recently we have had calls from folks in the Sanford area who had their equipment installed by companies 30 to 60 miles away. Now is it reasonable to believe that a company would send a service man and truck on a call requiring a 100-mile round trip, particularly if the call has to be made at night? From a pure dollar and cents point of business you must realize that such a call is highly impractical.

Let us consider a unit still in warranty. Your warranty calls for free replacement of parts and you pay the labor. The only way a business which has a 60 to 100-mile round trip can possibly break even, is to run up the labor charge. This charge has to be far in excess of what your local dealer would charge. If the unit is out of warranty, then the practice is to keep labor charges down and up the price on parts.

Now consider the local dealer. He buys or leases in the Sanford area; employs local help; pays taxes; buys vehicles, groceries, clothing and the normal purchases in the Sanford area. He lives here, raises his children here and is part of the community. His success depends on his service, his technical know-how and his business ethics. We feel that in this area, we can do a real fine job of installation and service. Therefore, it is not our practice to go cruising around in distant areas, doing spot jobs and neglecting the principles of good sound business.

London Bookies

LONDON (UPI) — The British bookie today joined the butcher, the baker and the candlestick maker. He became a shopkeeper.

It was "grand opening" day for hundreds of betting stores or bet shops throughout the nation as off-track, cash-on-the-barrelhead betting was legalized at 7 a. m. Until now a Briton could openly place a bet by credit or put his five bob (70 cents) on a nag in secret.

It is now as easy to buy "Resora" in the 4:30 at Nottingham as it is to buy a pound of apples or a pack of cigarettes.

You could even place a bet with your milkman. This is in line with provisions of the 1960 betting and gaming act which permits bet shops to appoint authorized agents to collect bets in factories, offices or any other non-public place.

Gary Cooper Deteriorating

HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — A close friend of cancer-stricken movie actor Gary Cooper reported today the star was "comatose much of the time and deteriorating steadily."

"His spirit is high and his courage is a thing to marvel at," the friend added.

The 59-year-old Western idol, under heavy sedation at his Bel-Air home, has received no visitors.

Gambling Out

BEIRUT, Lebanon (UPI) — Parents and parliamentarians have joined forces here against pinball parlors.

A new law has ordered the impounding of all mechanical gambling devices. Parliament acted after parents complained that Nahel (pinball) and one-arm-bandits were claiming too much of their children's pocket money. There is no law against betting on horses.

20 Cities Set For Desegregation

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (UPI) — At least 20 southern cities are preparing for initial or expanded school desegregation next fall, Southern School News reported today.

The monthly publication of the Southern Education Reporting Service also said the number of Negroes attending integrated schools in Virginia may more than double in the fall term.

Among the states listed in the report were Georgia, Texas, Florida, Kentucky, Tennessee, Louisiana and Arkansas.

Among the larger cities planning initial classroom integration are Atlanta and Dallas. Little Rock and New Orleans are preparing for additional classroom integration, despite the trouble which has marred previous integration in these cities.

IDEALS, ideas and moral standards are all important in our all-out contest with communism for survival in this shrunken world. Law Day USA has made many in other countries realize that underneath our economic and social progress, and primarily responsible for that progress, is a way of life which only the rule of law can guarantee.

Law Day USA spotlights liberty, equality and justice as our most precious possession . . .

In the world of ideas, perhaps the most significant development of our time is a gradually evolving reliance upon the rule of law as a major weapon to defeat the evils of communism. At first blush this may appear to be an over-ambitious goal for the rule of law. But let us think it through together.

Dr. Crane's

Worry Clinic

CASE H-478: Zelma Mercer is a superb high school teacher at Mountainville, West Virginia.

"Dr. Crane," she began, "I'd like another article showing exactly why tobacco and alcohol are bad for athletes."

"Several years ago you wrote about this subject. I clipped the column and fastened it to the wall in my school room, next to the pencil sharpener."

"The students underlined various places until it finally wore out. So please give us another medico-psychological analysis of tobacco and alcohol."

Mike Peppo, famous swimming coach at Ohio State University, has produced many Olympic stars. He says:

"We do not permit any member of our swimming or diving teams to use alcoholic beverages or tobacco in any form or quantity."

This typical attitude of modern coaches is medically sound. Here are the reasons why tobacco hampers athletes (and also predisposes heart patients to fatal coronary attacks):

(1) Carbon monoxide in the smoke "fixes" some of your red blood cells so they cannot carry oxygen.

This carbon monoxide content of the smoker's blood may run as high as 10%.

Indeed, the smoking of just 3 cigarettes, says the 1969 American Medical Association report, produces the relative oxygen deficiency of a 7,500 foot mountain top altitude. Visit your library and read Chapter 21 in my college textbook (Psychology Applied).

Obviously, shortage of oxygen to the muscles "winds" an athlete. Smoking also makes his heart beat faster, even when he is standing still.

Smoking just one cigaret may thus zoom our pulse rate as much as 20 extra beats per minute, thereby wearing out your heart needlessly.

An older cigar addict was also used in a similar experiment. He smoked 6 cigars per day. His heart meanwhile averaged 82 beats per minute.

Then he quit his tobacco habit for six months. During this time, his pulse averaged only 75 beats per minute.

His heart thus gained 7 more rest periods per minute, or 10,080 per day! You can see why tobacco users shorten their lives by 5 to 7 years.

(2) Tobacco also promotes thickening of the artery walls with a consequent rise in blood pressure. This makes the heart work much harder and also predisposes tobacco addicts to strokes of apoplexy and coronary attacks.

(3) Smokers also have a thicker coating of mucus in their windpipes and lungs. That is why they cough so much, especially when they change posture from vertical to horizontal at bedtime.

Q—I've heard the government sells surplus good. Do they sell to individuals? How can I find out more?—E. D.

A—Dear E. D.: Surplus government property includes automotive and other vehicles, aircraft, hardware, plumbing supplies, paper products, office supplies, drugs and medical items, textiles and wearing apparel. It is sold to the public via the General Services Administration. Such sales are advertised through the regular channels of communication, newspapers, radio, TV or you can get on a mailing list to receive notices and further information by writing the GSA office in your area. Warning: Don't expect to find at these sales exactly the item you want, just at the moment you want it.

Q—My daughter has decided not to go to college. We have been saving for those college bills via a higher education insurance plan. What happens to that money now?—Mom.

A—Dear Mom: You can liquidate at any time. You might want to use some of this to teach your daughter a skill. I would advise that you do not rush to cash in on your policy unless you need the money now, or unless you are close to having the plan fully paid. Although you are not specific, I presume what you have is an annuity type policy. If you liquidate such a policy in the early years you may actually discover you have lost money.

When you cash in during the middle years you'll find that you either break even or are only slightly ahead. Cash values, in this type of insurance, build fastest toward the end of the period. It is then that they really pay off.

"What a Coincidence!—I'm Headed That Way, Too"

From Rome

Henry McLemore

ROME — Rome has just celebrated a birthday — her 2,714th.

It's a pity she couldn't sit on the front porch (as octogenarians do) and be interviewed by the press and give the reasons for her longevity.

But maybe not. The old lady by the Tiber has really lived it up since Romulus and Remus chose the site in 743 B. C. She has seen it all and done it all. She's missed nothing, and a review of her life might exert a baleful influence on such upstart rivals as London, Paris, and New York.

Rome couldn't very well advise a young city, if it wanted to achieve a ripe old age, to go easy on the wine, and carousing, the dining, and the partying — for Rome, has been on a binge for 27 centuries plus, and is more beautiful and youthful than ever. Her only advice would have to be "Be Yourself."

Rome didn't make much fuss over her birthday. A few flags were hung, a few speeches were made, and that was about all. I suppose when you have had as many birthdays as Rome, one more can be taken pretty much in stride.

Our family celebrated Rome's birthday with a long walk about Rome, broken now and then by stops at sidewalk tables for coffee. We walked about the Palatine Hill, at whose foot Father Tiber gently deposited the cradle holding Romulus and Remus, and where the twins were brought up by a kindly shepherd and his wife.

We strolled in the Circus maximus and tried to picture it as it was in B. C. days and 250,000 citizens packed it to see that most magnificent of ancient Roman sights — the triumph of a hero.

Strengthened by a square foot of pizza, piping hot and bubbling from the oven of a hole-in-the-wall bakery, and which we ate as we wandered along, we looked at the Arch of Constantine, in fine condition after 16 centuries, and admired the statue of Marcus Aurelius on Capitoline Hill.

We went into the Colosseum, that most famous of all ruins, and took a seat where the emperor sat in the year 80, when it was opened, and then walked across the Tiber to climb the Janiculum Hill for the loveliest of all views of Rome.

It is all spread out for one to see, and at sunset it must be one of the most splendid sights in all the world. Nearly all the principal monuments are visible, beginning with St. Peter's at the extreme left, and ending in the soft glow of the Alban Hills. Little of the city's noise is to be heard, and the Political Notebook

WASHINGTON — (NEA) — House Ways and Means Committee under chairman Wilbur Mills (D-Ark.) is expected to begin hearings on President Kennedy's new tax reform proposals early in May.

Treasury Secretary C. Douglas Dillon will be the first of what will probably be a long line of witnesses who will present what he will not present a draft of legislation, as Congress likes to write its own tax bills. But Dillon will have a technical paper which will detail how the new programs will work out.

The President's tax message to Congress was delayed over three weeks for refinement of some of its complex proposals. Even so, it offers no recommendation for reduction of present depletion allowances on oil and mineral production.

There is no proposal for a cut in taxes on low incomes, such as labor organizations have been urging as an incentive to increase consumer spending and to stimulate recovery.

Korean War Corporate, income and excise tax rates are to be continued at present levels and there is no general overhaul of the depreciation allowance schedules, which business has been urging.

All these controversial questions are to be deferred for a long-range, sweeping reform of the basic tax structure which the Kennedy administration will offer Congress next year.

This year's short-range program makes no change in the amount of tax revenues which the treasury hopes to collect next year. The tax burden is just shifted a little. On the one hand, it is proposed to close existing tax loopholes and special benefits which will give the government an additional $1.7 billion. But at the same time, the president proposes a new tax incentive plan which will give a $1.7 billion tax cut to business firms that modernize and expand their plants so as to increase their productivity.

This is far and away the most important of the President's new recommendations. He admits that it is an experiment that will need review and modification by Congress from time to time to adapt it to changes in the economy.

This proposal ties in with the President's continuous insistence that the growth rate of the U. S. economy must be raised. It is based on the belief that many American industries have not modernized

Oliver Walton, well-known Boston horse dealer, agreed to buy a fine steed from a Maine breeder for $900. "How are you going to lead the horse away?" the breeder inquired. "With the halter you have on him," answered Walton, counting out the $900.

"Nothing doing," protested the breeder. "I didn't sell you the halter. That'll be $3 extra."

"Okay," said Walton. "Here's $3 for the halter—but I've decided not to buy the horse." And off he walked with the halter.

The next time the breeder wasn't so greedy.

A grumpy boss hired a young man and told him, "Your first job will be to sweep out the office." "But I'm a college graduate," protested the young man. "All right," grumbled the boss. "Pass over the broom and I'll show you how."

Home owners in the United States are spending six billion, 800 million dollars for home repairs and improvements.

ed their plants as rapidly as their European competitors have in the last ten years. The aim is to get American costs down so that prices can be cut to meet low cost foreign competition by more efficient production.

As an oversimplified example, the new accelerated depreciation tax credit would work like this in the case of a small manufacturer: The excess of his investment over his depreciation would be $50,000. He would get a 15 per cent tax credit on this amount, or $7,500. In addition, he would get a 6 per cent credit on expenditures for improvement above half of his depreciation allowance. On $50,000 in this case, this cut would be $3,000. And there would be a further cut of 10 per cent on the first $5,000 of investment, or $500, in the perspective of depreciation. So the manufacturer's total tax incentive would be $11,000. The maximum would be 30 per cent of his total tax liability. Incentive would apply to all investments made after Jan. 1, 1961.

Commerce and labor department officials estimate that these incentives should stimulate new investments of $2 billion to $3 billion in plant modernization, increase the gross national product by $5 billion a year—a 1 per cent increase in the national growth rate—and provide half a million additional jobs in the construction and tool-making industries.

There is, of course, the long-range risk that the more efficient a plant becomes, the fewer its employees will be and the greater will be general unemployment. That is another problem that government, management and labor must tackle.

BRL Season Gets Underway Today

With the spirit and sparkle of teenage enthusiasm the local Babe Ruth League got underway this afternoon at Memorial fields with Kiwanis and Lake Mary striving for supremacy and Citizen and Oviedo swapping hits and plays for a triumph.

During the season which closes July 14 each of the eight teams will play the other three times. The state tournament competition will start then, and Sanford is hoping to have two teams in that fracas.

Managers of the clubs here generally are optimistic about the outlook for the season, have been pleasantly surprised with the high caliber of talent "signed up." Most of the nines have been working out for the past two weeks, affording the coaches opportunities to size up potential line-ups.

Roy Thomas and Glenn Price, Citizen, feel that their lads will be one of the pennant winners in the two leagues that make up the frame work of local play. No less assured are Damon Scott and Roger Crocker who take their Lake Mary charges into the battles of bats and balls.

Leroy Grice and Larry Austin, CPO, have been waging intense practice sessions, rounding up neighborhood challengers for the 15 men on the accepted league roster and from whom they will select their opening nine. They feel that their boys will take an early lead in the league standings.

Paul Mikler, athletic director at Oviedo High School, says he has had his hands full with the high school squad and really hasn't had a chance to get his Babe Ruth club into the form, he is sure they will show as soon as they begin battle in the league, however.

The Kiwanis representatives are under the tutelage of Ronnie Russi, well known local diamondeer. They will give a good account of themselves their coach says, and he expects to be on the long end of the score this afternoon — and many other afternoons.

George Siles and Ben Wiggins, long identified with Rotary's baseball activities, have been scrambling their batting and fielding practices in an effort to place the talent in a winning line-up. The club has a lot of bustle, they say, and will get stronger as the weeks go by.

The Shrine-sponsored team is being brought along fast by Gene Pennington and Frank Stafford, both of whom are well regarded in the area for their ability. Some of the Shrine players failed to turn in their uniforms last year, and so the current crop is suffering by not being outfitted in the attractive suits usually provided. But what the boys lack in uniforms they are making up in spirit, the coaches say, and the Shrine club will see that new uniforms are here just as soon as they can get them. Pennington and Stafford say one of this year's trophies will be in the Shrine Club.

John Lewis and Bob Kendrick will master-mind the Elks' club this season and believe that they have the answer to the question "what does it take to win?" The competitive spirit on the squad as the lads vie for positions will be carried into the league contests, they said. Coupled with some good capability the boys surely will give a fine account of themselves, they added.

There will be at least one game every weekday — usually two games — starting at 4:30 p. m. The league office reports that Pres. George Touhy and Director Buck Meits are expected to be on hand for the opening "play ball" today.

Games this week are: May 2, CPO-Rotary; May 3, Citizen-Elks; Rotary - Shrine; May 4, Oviedo-Shrine; May 5, CPO-Kiwanis; Lake Mary-Elks.

Hi-Nooners Set 500 Mark Series

Two bowlers in the Hi-Nooners league rolled their first 500 scratch series this week.

Bettye Smith rolled a 322 and Hildred Pennell made 500. Bettye established a new high handicap series of 642 in the league.

Al's Barber Shop continues to lead the league as they won four points from Shoemaker. Big Dip took three from Monroe Harbor and Smith's Amoco won three from Capri.

Splits were picked up by Lillian Balmer, 2-7 and Betty Kurlmal, also the 2-7.

Gloria Accardi, Marjorie Kipp, Dottie Palmer, Hildred Pennell and Bettye Smith all rolled turkeys.

Members are reminded of the open meeting of the Sanford's Women's Bowling Assn. May 3 at 8 p. m. Trophies and prize money earned during the recent tournament will be awarded.

Plans Set For Marathon

A hostload of plans for the annual St. Johns River Outboard Marathon next Sunday were brought back to Sanford today after the final planning meeting of the marathon association at Wekiva.

The race from Sanford to Jacksonville and return will begin at 8 a. m. Sunday. Registration and gassing will be completed Saturday at the bandshell on Lake Monroe. Deadline for entries will be Saturday night.

Outboard drivers will be competing for three trophies in each of six classes, plus the Klekhafer Corp. sportsmanship award, Atlantic National Bank of Jacksonville single engine overall award and the Sentinel-Star overall winner's trophy.

The Seminole County Chamber of Commerce has contributed three trophies, the DeLand Chamber of Commerce three and Shell Harbor Marina three. Others will be presented by the St. Johns River Marathon Assn.

Last year's winning driver, Paul Sanborn of Orlando, will not be defending his championship, but a top field of other outboard racing drivers will be on hand for the event, including some of the prize winners of the last marathon.

There will be some added attractions for the entrants and spectators. The Sanford Boat and Ski Club will name a queen for the day and will present a prize portable radio with a marine band and the Navy Relief will give away a boat and trailer.

The Sanford club will operate a concession stand and the Handl House firm will erect a building to serve as marathon headquarters. Sanford marine dealers will have boats, motors and other equipment in a show Saturday and Sunday in the bandshell area.

The city will barricade the block of Seminole Blvd. between Park Ave. and Hood St. Sunday and the area will be reserved for boats and trailers of the marathon participants.

Members of the Sanford, DeLand, Winter Park, Palatka and Jacksonville clubs met at Shell Harbor Sunday to complete plans for the marathon.

Mays Not 'Moaning' Anymore

United Press International Don't say hey, say hallelujah for a guy who starts a ball game down in the dumps and ends up in the record book by smashing four home runs.

Who else could that be but amazing Willie Mays!

The soprano-voiced San Francisco center-fielder, who became the ninth player in major league history ever to hit four homers in a single game, was moaning low before Sunday's 14-4 massacre of Milwaukee.

He hadn't been able to buy a base hit in two previous games against the Braves and even Warren Spahn said he was "swinging bad."

Willie said he didn't think he was going to come out of his slump—that shows you what he knows about hitting — and then proceeded to drive in eight runs with a spectacular slugging show that boosted the Giants into first place in the National League.

Mays called it "the greatest day I ever had," and for corroboration you can check loser Lew Burdette, off whom Willie hit his first two homers, Seth Morehead or Don McMahon, each of whom was tagged for one.

A total of 10 homers were hit in the game played at Milwaukee's County Stadium. In addition to the four by Mays, which raised his season's output to six, Jose Pagan hit two—his first in the majors — and Orlando Cepeda and Felipe Alou one each to help Billy Doer coast to his second victory. Hank Aaron hit two for the Braves to drive in all their runs.

The Giants, who hit five homers Saturday, equalled the major league record of 13 in two consecutive games, and their eighth homers Sunday tied the major league mark for a single contest. The 10 homers by the two clubs Sunday also equalled a NL record.

Cincinnati ended an eight-game losing streak with a 4-2 win over Pittsburgh in the nightcap of a doubleheader after the Pirates won the opener, 6-3. Los Angeles beat Chicago, 2-1, in the first of two but the Cubs won the finale, 10-5. Philadelphia defeated St. Louis, 11-7, in 10 innings.

The Detroit Tigers retained the American League lead even though they split with Baltimore. Detroit won the opener, 8-2, and Baltimore the nightcap, 4-2. The New York Yankees also split, beating the Washington Senators, 4-3, and then losing a 2-1 decision. Chicago beat Minnesota, 5-3, in 11 innings to take over sole possession of fourth place. Boston downed Cleveland, 4-2, then dropped the second game, 10-1, while the Los Angeles Angels topped the Kansas City A's 6-4, in the first game but lost the second, 3-2.

Bob Purkey scored his third victory for the Reds in stopping the Pirates on six hits in the nightcap. Leo Cardenas collected three of Cincy's six hits off Joe Gibbon and drove in two runs. In the opener, Roberto Clemente hit a two-run homer for the Pirates as Bob Friend won his fourth game with help from Roy Face in the ninth.

Tommy Davis' two-run homer off Glen Hobbie in the ninth brought the Dodgers from behind in their opener with the Cubs. The victory went to Larry Sherry, who took over for Don Drysdale in the eighth. But the Cubs roared back with seven runs in the second inning of the nightcap to chase Roger Craig and earn a split despite homers by Charlie Neal and the two Davis boys, Tommy and Willie. Bob Anderson was the winning pitcher.

Attorney General To Make Major Rights Plea Soon

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Attorney General Robert F. Kennedy will make a major pronouncement on civil rights when he speaks at the University of Georgia next Saturday.

Kennedy's choice of the Deep South as the site for a civil rights speech was deliberate, according to informed sources. They said he wanted to point up the administration's determination to use personal influence and moral persuasion in fighting racial discrimination.

The President's brother has told numerous groups and individuals recently he believed that great strides could be made in ending voter discrimination and school segregation under existing laws.

His remarks have led observers to conclude that the administration would not seek new civil rights legislation in the near future.

Kennedy has indicated, for example, that the administration has no plans to ask Congress to give him power to file desegregation suits.

But it is known that he will continue to exert vigorous behind-the-scenes influence—as he has been attempting to do in the current Louisiana school situation—to end racial discrimination in public schools.

When such attempts to work out school desegregation fails, the attorney general repeatedly has said, the Justice Department will intervene as an active partner of the courts in enforcing court orders.

The Justice Department has considerable power under the civil rights act of 1957 and its 1960 amendments to inspect voter registration records and sue on behalf of disfranchised Negroes.

The Eisenhower administration brought six voting cases and demanded election records in 17 counties where Negro registration was either low in proportion to white registration or nil.

The Kennedy administration has broadened the voter record investigation and has brought two new voting suits—one in Alabama and another in Louisiana.

The Justice Department also has received strong support recently from the courts in the voting field.

Federal Judge Frank M. Johnson Jr., sitting in Macon County, Ala., ordered authorities there to stop discriminating against Negro would-be voters.

His decision was the first general court decree supporting the government in a voting case. It is expected to have far-reaching effects as a precedent for other courts.

fish for salt water trout, and entertainers in the 24-hour bars will be giving one more performance.

Just 10 years ago Cape Canaveral consisted of a lighthouse, 15,000 acres of sandpurs and sea grape, and a dozen or so people. Fifteen miles to the south, on the same skinny island off the coast of Cocoa, was the Navy's old Banana River Air Station.

Today, Cape Canaveral consists of 15,000 acres of sandpurs and sea grape, widely separated thick-walled buildings, bright-colored steel work, strict security, and about 50,000 people. The Banana River Naval Air Station now is Patrick Air Force Base, home of the Air Force missile test center.

Between the Cape and the Air Force base are bars, churches, beach cottages and futuristic motels with such names as Polaris, Satellite, Astrocraft, Vanguard and Starlite.

CAPE CANAVERAL (UPI) — The astronaut who starts his lonely ride to space probably will not startle the pelicans and the water skiers around America's space port.

Whatever else it may be, Cape Canaveral is nothing like the popular science fiction picture of a rocket terminal. It is, rather, a new and garish, neon-lit beach resort which stops its play at times to watch a rocket climb toward space.

It is basically just another booming part of a booming resort state which is an uneasy mixture of 19th century wilderness, 20th century gadgetry and a constant battle against salt water corrosion.

While the man selected for this nation's first stab into space is sweating out the hours in his space capsule, the dedicated anglers will be lining the bridges to

The Justice Department has considerable power under the civil rights act of 1957 and its 1960 amendments to inspect voter registration records and sue on behalf of disfranchised Negroes.

The Eisenhower administration brought six voting cases and demanded election records in 17 counties where Negro registration was either low in proportion to white registration or nil.

The Kennedy administration has broadened the voter record investigation and has brought two new voting suits—one in Alabama and another in Louisiana.

The Justice Department also has received strong support recently from the courts in the voting field.

Federal Judge Frank M. Johnson Jr., sitting in Macon County, Ala., ordered authorities there to stop discriminating against Negro would-be voters.

His decision was the first general court decree supporting the government in a voting case. It is expected to have far-reaching effects as a precedent for other courts.

U. S. Astronaut Won't Startle Pelicans, Skiers Around Cape

CAPE CANAVERAL (UPI) — The astronaut who starts his lonely ride to space probably will not startle the pelicans and the water skiers around America's space port.

Whatever else it may be, Cape Canaveral is nothing like the popular science fiction picture of a rocket terminal. It is, rather, a new and garish, neon-lit beach resort which stops its play at times to watch a rocket climb toward space.

It is basically just another booming part of a booming resort state which is an uneasy mixture of 19th century wilderness, 20th century gadgetry and a constant battle against salt water corrosion.

While the man selected for this nation's first stab into space is sweating out the hours in his space capsule, the dedicated anglers will be lining the bridges to

Red Bloc Won't Stand For U.S. Aggression Against Castro

MOSCOW (UPI)— Soviet Defense Minister Marshal Rodion Malinovsky declared in a May Day speech today the entire Communist bloc would oppose any "aggression" against Fidel Castro's Cuba.

Malinovsky sounded the warning in Red Square during the traditional military and civilian parade at which "Cosmonaut" Major Yuri Gagarin was the star of the show.

Thousands of Russians forgot a meat shortage to join in the celebrations which stressed the Soviet Union's victory over the United States in the race to put a man into space.

Rockets and other modern weapons of war rolled through the square while Gagarin took the salute. The largest rockets were of intermediate range of about 700 miles, most of which were publicly displayed last Nov. 7.

The celebration of Communism's greatest holiday—televised for the first time throughout Europe—centered on three themes: Russia's economic and scientific achievements. Soviet achievements in space exploration and rocketry.

Armed vigilance against the danger of "imperialist aggression."

Malinovsky said Russia was "steadily strengthening the defense capacity of the armed forces."

The marshal denounced the "irresponsibility" of the "armed intervention against free Cuba which was organized by the imperialist circles of the U.S.A." and he said this attack was "fraught with dangerous consequences."

He warned those "addicted to such ventures" as the invasion of Soviet Union and the entire socialist camp "would oppose them."

Space Man Has 48-Hour Delay

CAPE CANAVERAL (UPI)—The United States today postponed its first attempt to put a man in space for at least 48 hours rather than hazard "prime astronaut" Alan B. Shepard Jr.'s life by launching him into a cloudy sky.

The decision to "scrub" the shot came at 7:35 a. m. after Shepard had received his final physical examinations and had tolled into his sipped silver very space suit.

The National Aeronautics and Space Administration for safety reasons had laid down minimum "weather rules" for both the cape and the recovery area down-range to the Atlantic.

When it became evident that a persistent overcast was not going to clear up by noon, the deadline for a shot today, officials calmly postponed the launching until Thursday.

Weathermen said the outlook for Thursday was good. Shepard, 37-year-old Navy commander from East Derry, N. H., went back to crew headquarters in NASA's big Mercury hanger to wait out the next two days.

Squally weather which set in Monday drenched the cape from time to time in today's early hours, frequently interrupting the final 30-minute countdown with "holds."

Shepard, a calm, philosophical fellow with a crewcut and confident outlook, was still the No. 1 astronaut for the attempt on Thursday.

His "backup" ready to go if anything should happen to disqualify Shepard, is Marine Lt. Col. John H. Glenn Jr., 39-year-old combat and speed flier from New Concord, Ohio.

Unofficial but usually well-informed sources had indicated first that Glenn was the alternate but then had said the nod had gone to 35-year-old Virgil I. Grissom, Air Force pilot from Mitchell, Ind.

After today's postponement, NASA confirmed that Shepard was No. 1 and Glenn would be the backup on Thursday.

Casselberry Developer Hibbard Casselberry protested to the County Commission today in an effort to get some tax relief on 12 pieces of property he charged that the tax assessor was "grossly unfair" in assessing.

Casselberry asked the commissioners "Must I go to the Supreme Court to get some justice?"

Casselberry said that the pieces of property in question were assessed in error by the tax assessor and the properties were "doubled from 1939 to 1960."

"They're going to sell some $5,700 worth of my property on the courthouse steps and what can I do about it," he asked.

Commission Chairman J. C. Hutchison told Casselberry that the board was powerless to do anything and only the board of equalization could act on assessment corrections.

Hutchison reported that acting county attorney Harold Johnson is making a study on clerical errors and if the board could approve or make changes in these errors.

Johnson said that he will ask the attorney general for a written legal opinion on this matter.

News Briefs

Unemployment Off

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The Labor Department reported today that unemployment fell in April. Experts cautioned, however, that it would have to drop below five million to show any significant improvement in the nation's job picture.

Baker Strike Over

TAMPA (UPI)—Five major bakeries resumed operations early today when their union workers ended a three-day strike. The bakers and Bakers Union Local 30 AFL-CIO reached agreement on a new contract after negotiating two months. Terms of the agreement were not disclosed.

Park Cut Protested

WASHINGTON (UPI)—National Parks Service Director Conrad L. Wirth told the Senate Monday disallowance of $450,000 in the park service budget which had been earmarked for Everglades National Park "is of serious concern for us." The money was to have been used for acquisition of lands within the park's extended boundaries. He asked restoration of the funds.

Job Ruling Made

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Rail workers employed by railroads planning a merger today faced the possibility of losing their jobs as a result of a pattern-setting decision by the Supreme Court. The justices ruled 8-1 Monday that if employees are appropriately compensated they need not be kept on after a merger takes place.

Queen Saluted

NAPLES, Italy (UPI)—An Italian Navy escort boomed out four 21-gun salutes today for Queen Elizabeth II who arrived aboard her yacht for an 11-day visit that will include an audience with the Pope.

Memorial To Roy Holler Is Dedicated

A permanent memorial to a man who spent many years working in Sanford boys' activities was dedicated Monday night with a plaque unveiled by two Boy Scouts.

The Roy Holler Junior Baseball Field was officially dedicated by Mayor Joe Baker as hundreds of citizens attended to pay tribute to the late Mr. Holler.

J. C. Hutchison, chairman of the County Commission, gave a biographical sketch of Mr. Holler and said "he left us living memorials in the boys he helped and encouraged."

Among the honor guests was Mrs. Holler, who received the personal greetings of many of the county's leading citizens present for the ceremony.

The plaque which marks the baseball field in Ft. Mellon Park reads:

"A tribute to Roy Holler whose work with boys was closest to his heart and who by his dedication to service and constructive enthusiasm helped boys become finer men."

Williams Requests Joint Meeting

District 2 County Commissioner Ted Williams asked the board today to set up a joint meeting with the City Commission to iron out any differences between the two governing bodies.

"I'm going to appear before the city board Monday at its meeting and ask for the joint meeting," Williams said, adding, "we should cooperate more."

Chairman J. C. Hutchison agreed to the meeting, saying he thought it was a good idea.

Bates, Bryant Listed As Candidates

Mrs. Lillian Beisel, Casselberry town clerk, reported today that Paul Bates and Joe Bryant have qualified thus far for the special May 15 alderman election.

She also reminded that both the qualifying and voter registration deadlines are Thursday and advised that her office will be open from 5 p. m. until 8 p. m. today and again on Thursday from 9 a. m. until noon.

Castro Forbids Hostile Priests To Teach Religion

HAVANA (UPI)—Premier Fidel Castro today forbade foreign priests hostile to his revolution to practice their religion in Cuba and said his "socialist" regime will take over all of the country's private schools.

In a 3 1/2-hour May Day speech, Castro declared also that a U. S. attack on Cuba would automatically start a third world war which "could convert New York City into another Hiroshima... a million American children might die."

Castro's rocket-rattling echoed Soviet Foreign Minister Rodion Malinovsky's May Day threat that the entire Communist world would defend Castro's Cuba against "aggression."

Castro spoke to a crowd estimated by his government at more than a million persons at the end of a 13 1/2-hour May Day parade celebrating the defeat of last month's invasion of Cuba.

He was repeatedly cheered when he extolled his "people's government," which he said is better than elections. He said it is "elements outside of Cuba" which favor a return to democracy.

Laos Cease Fire In Effect On One Fighting Front

VIENTIANE, Laos (UPI)—The pro-Western Royal Laotian Army and the Communist rebels put a cease fire into effect on one front and hoped to broaden the peace move to all other fronts in this jungle kingdom's civil war today.

Foreign Secretary Chao Sopalana told a news conference that the guns were silenced along the road to Luang Prabang in the Vang Vieng area Monday.

He said the officers of both sides who arranged this cease fire were to meet again later today to broaden the truce to the rest of the battle zones and end hostilities.

He said they also hoped to set a date for a conference to settle the nation's political conflicts.

Earlier, pro-Communist Pathet Lao troops had been reported advancing into northwest Laos in defiance of cease fire proposals by the major powers and the pro-Western government.

Democratic congressional leaders said at the White House today that President Kennedy has not "written off" Laos.

After a conference with Kennedy, they expressed confidence that the president would come up with the right decision for coping with the southeast Asia crisis.

They met with Kennedy at a breakfast session at the United States considered asking that United Nations observers be sent to Laos. It also considered asking for a final U. S. decision on Laos awaited the unfolding of events there and further consultation with America's allies. Kennedy summoned his National Security Council for another 4 p. m. meeting, the fifth in 11 days.

No Action Yet On Track Bill

TALLAHASSEE (UPI)—Bills that would authorize harness tracks in Broward and Seminole counties will become law at midnight tonight unless vetoed by Gov. Farris Bryant.

Bryant was closeted on the matter Monday with a delegation from the Florida Quarter Horse Association, which urged him to approve the bill activating the track in Seminole County. The Broward County track would be authorized in Pompano Beach.

The House Constitutional Amendments Committee sent each proposed new article of the State Constitution to a subcommittee today with orders that a recommendation be brought back by the middle of next week.

Chairman Howard Livingston of Highlands handed the proposed revision of Article Five, the trial court article, to a special group. He said additional time could be taken on that article if it was needed. The subcommittee was headed by Rep. George Holohan of Dade.

On other matters, the legislators were given added impetus Monday to boost for new taxes when reports came in indicating there would be about $22 million less to spend than had been counted on for the coming biennium.

Comptroller Ray E. Green and Budget Director Harry Smith said Monday present taxes would bring in between $750-$754 million during the next two years. They said the predicted $7.5 million surplus at the end of the present biennium probably would not be forthcoming.

The Senate Committee on Governmental Reorganization reached informal agreement Monday on all but two of 12 congressional districts which will be formed to provide for four new congressmen in 1963.

It left up to resident senators the problem of deciding on how to divide the tier of 14 counties in North and Central Florida. The counties include Alachua, Dixie, Flagler, Gilchrist, Levy, Putnam, St. Johns, Marion, Lake, Orange, Seminole, Citrus, Sumter and Volusia.

The committee, all members of which are Democrats, said its main objective was to prevent creation of any new districts that would send Republicans to Congress. Orange and Volusia counties are rapidly becoming strong GOP centers.

Anyone got any bamboo? Supervisor of Registration Camille Bruce today said that "we are badly in need of about 30 stalks of big bamboo." The bamboo is needed to make 350 glasses for the High School graduation luncheon slated June 6. Anyone who wishes to donate the bamboo can contact Mrs. Bruce at the Chamber of Commerce.

One of the "regulars" in the County Clerk's office will be missed. Mrs. Nick Pfautz has resigned her post as bookkeeper for the County Commission pending arrival of a new infant. Ashby Jones of Sanford will take Mrs. Pfautz's place; Mrs. Pfautz has been employed in the clerk's office for three years.

The American Legion is donating a new 50-star flag to Seminole High School. The flag costs about $70.

County Is Soaked With Inch Of Rain

Thunderstorms drenched the county early this morning with almost an inch of rain in a two hour period.

The heavy rainfall came as sorely needed relief for citrusmen and home lawns, without rain for close to two weeks.

County Agent Cecil Tucker had reported last week that about five percent of the county's citrus industry showed signs of wilting while many lawns in the county had shown burn.

More rain is forecast for tonight.

Sentencing Set

WEST PALM BEACH (UPI)—Mrs. C. E. Chillingworth, is sentenced today by Circuit Judge and Mrs. C. E. Chillingworth, is tentatively scheduled to be sentenced Wednesday for the crimes.

Drainage Fund Proposal Fails To Pass Board

The County Commission today by a split vote killed a motion prepared by District 3 Commissioner James P. Avery asking the legislative delegation to draw up a local bill giving the board the authority to expend money from the road and bridge fund for drainage purposes.

The vote was two to two and board Chairman J. C. Hutchison abstained and then asked that the delegation get permissive legislation on a countywide drainage bill.

Opposing Avery's motion were Commissioners Ted Williams and Vernon Dunn. Supporting the move was John Fitzpatrick.

"We all seemed to agree to this in a conference with State Rep. Mack Cleveland Jr. on Saturday," Avery said.

Avery proposed that funds be expended from the road and bridge fund under these circumstances: that they provide a county purpose and that all structures, dams, ditches and canals be constructed on county owned right of way and easements.

"We are doing this right now. All I want is to make it legal," Avery said.

Dunn opposed the motion saying that the road and bridge fund was exhausted as it is. Williams said he felt that municipalities should not be burdened with paying taxes for areas outside the city limits.

Violation Charged To Former Official

TALLAHASSEE (UPI)—Former Road Board member Earl Powers violated state law when he held interests in a firm which sold materials to the state, and other materials to contractors working on state jobs while he was a member.

Powers had testified before Kelly's Interim Roads Committee that he had 10% per cent interest in a firm which sold materials to the state, and other materials to contractors working on state jobs while he was a member.

CHARLES ROBINSON

Robinson New Penney Manager

The new manager of Penney's in Sanford is Charles L. Robinson, who comes here from the Montgomery, Ala., store.

Both Robinson and his wife are natives of Tampa and said they "are happy to return to Florida," after having been with the Savannah, Ga., and Johnson City, Tenn., stores prior to Robinson's position with the Montgomery store.

A graduate of the University of Florida, Robinson has served with Penney's for the past 12 years, starting in his home town.

The Robinsons have two daughters, nine and 11 years old. Mrs. Robinson and daughters will arrive in Sanford in June after school is out.

Board Approves Molnar Project

The County Commission by a 4-1 vote today approved underground drainage for Molnar Ave. from East Lake to Grant Ave. in Longwood.

Opposing the motion was Ted Williams who said that some property owners would be bypassed and everyone should benefit from the change in road classification. The drainage work is expected to cost approximately $25,000, according to County Engineer Carlton Bliss.

Two Men Missing In B-47 Crash

HURLEY, Wis. (UPI)—A B-47 bomber from the Strategic Air Command crashed in a "ball of flames" near here early today and the Air Force said there were at least two survivors in the crew of four.

One of the survivors, who made radio contact with search planes, suffered only "minor injuries." The second suffered a broken leg, the Air Force at Duluth, Minn., said.

Ground parties reached the survivors, gave them first aid and searched for the other two.

Band Association Meets Tonight

The Seminole High Band Parents Assn. will meet today at 8 p. m. in the school's Band Hall for the regularly monthly business session and program.

On the agenda is the showing of pictures made of the Cherry Blossom Parade and of the band's trip to the nation's capital.

Ex-GE Official Tells Of Secret Price Meetings

WASHINGTON (UPI)—A former top official of the General Electric Co. told Senate investigators today he had met secretly with competitors each month to divide government contracts.

William S. Ginn, who quit the huge company in March this year, said the meetings started in 1948 when he was in GE's transformer division in Pittsfield, Mass. He said the meetings had been held once a month since then.

Before resigning Ginn headed the multi-million dollar turbine division.

Ginn said they discussed prices generally, prices to be quoted on jobs and allocation of government contracts.

Ginn and 15 other GE executives were among 44 men who pleaded or were found guilty of criminal violations of antitrust laws last year.

Ginn said the companies would divide the choice government jobs according to how well the firms did in private business.

For example, he said General Electric handled about 30 per cent of the contracts in private competition. Therefore, it was agreed that General Electric would get about 30 per cent of the government contracts.

Rapist Sentenced To 10-Year Term

A Sanford Negro convicted of rape was sentenced Monday to 10 years in prison by Circuit Judge Volie Williams Jr.

Rufus Jordan was found guilty of the felony by a Circuit Court jury April 25.

Judge Williams also sentenced George Allen of Sanford to a six month to five year term for breaking and entering. Allen was found guilty of breaking into Tip Top Grocery earlier in the year.

Humans May Live On Other Planets

WARSAW (UPI)—A Polish scientist described as a former aide of Albert Einstein suggested today the human race may start populating some of the planets in the next 50 years.

Writing in the month by political and theoretical magazine Nowe Drogi, Prof. Leopold Infeld, said of the possible "consequences" of Soviet space pioneer Yuri Gagarin's April 12 flight:

"In the next 50 years our planetary system will probably become to us as commonplace as air travel is now. In the next 50 years we shall probably know its secrets as well as the secrets of the moon, Mars, or Venus. We shall know whether life is possible there. We may even organize migrations of the people specially adapted to the conditions of Mars or Venus. If there is no life there, we shall be able to start it."

Stocks Scrambled

NEW YORK (UPI)—Stocks opened in a broad scramble of minor price changes today, showing no definite trend in either direction. The market continued to move indecisively Monday, prices generally holding close to home.

Some brokers interpret this to mean that the list is building a new base for the next upward thrust.
