

Some Change In Race Policy Seen Under Burns

By AL KUETTNER
United Press International
The outcome of the Florida gubernatorial primary is an example of still another major political engagement that must be assessed in its relationship to the civil rights revolution. Tuesday's runoff Democratic primary matched two big city mayors, Robert King High of Miami in the south and Haydon Burns of Jacksonville in the north. On a number of points, the two candidates were not far apart in their views about what should happen in the state. But on one critical issue they differed in opposite camps. High said he would uphold the Civil Rights Bill if and when it became law. Burns publicly opposed it. They differed on other phases of the race issue, too, but their feelings on the Civil Rights Bill formed the real battle line that gave voters a clear choice on the issue, even though High called it a phony issue, since neither he nor Burns could do anything about it. Burns, while he rejects the label, got the name of the candidate of the segregationists. High also rejecting his label, was called the candidate of the ultra liberals and of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People. Both call themselves racial moderates and Burns once protested strongly when he was referred to in a news report as a hard-core segregationist. So the people of Florida went to the polls to decide which man they wanted for governor. Burns was favored heavily, getting more than 70 per cent of the total vote and winning all but three counties. Does this mean that Florida—which has ranged from neutral to moderate officially during the administration of Gov. Farris Bryant—could be expected to swing to a conservative or reactionary stand on the race issue? In general, the answer probably would be definitely not, although some change in policy might be expected under a man like Burns. This was Burns' second race for governor. In 1960 he also came out strong on the pro-segregation side. But last November when he entered the race again, he insisted that segregation — integration should not be an issue of the campaign. In the first primary, Burns was front runner in a six-man race which eliminated among others Scott Kelly, a state senator who proclaimed himself the "symbol of opposition to the Civil Rights Bill." As mayor of Jacksonville, Burns was faced this year with a violent racial upheaval among local Negroes.

Blast Climaxes St. Augustine Race Strife

ST. AUGUSTINE (UPI)—Bullets riddled an unoccupied beachfront cottage rented by Martin Luther King early today and a shotgun blast shattered two windows of another Negro leaders automobile.

The shootings came on the heels of a nighttime clash among Negro demonstrators, a group of whites and police which sent two men to a hospital.

Following the fist slinging, club wielding, knife slashing and dog biting melee at the Old Slave Market in the center of this historic city, authorities ordered a ban on racial demonstrations.

King, who had arrived here Monday night to organize racial demonstrations, left yesterday with a promise to return. A newsmen confirmed reports of other Negro leaders that 19 rifle bullet holes and some shotgun pellets had punctured the beach cottage King had rented from all four sides.

St. Johns Sheriff L. O. Davis said the incident had not been reported to him.

Harry G. Hoyte, a white assistant of King, said he and Negro leader C. T. Vivian had stayed in the house the night before but stayed elsewhere last night and left the light on "as a decoy."

Hoyte also said a window in his car was shattered by a shotgun blast early today. Hoyte said the shot was fired from a car which followed him and pulled up behind him when he stopped in front of a motel.

A repeat performance of Sabin Sunday will be held in the county June 7.

Members of the Sanford-Seminole Jaycees and the County Health Department are busy lining up the 12 locations throughout the county between noon and 5 p.m.

A makeup Sunday will be held the following week for those unable to take part in the June 7 clinic.

Officials stress the following for those planning to attend the clinics:

If the person received the first oral vaccine on the first Sunday of the first clinic, he should attend the June 7 "feeding." If they visited the clinic on the makeup Sunday last time, they should wait till this makeup period.

The Sabin vaccine is taken on a piece of sugar or in distilled water for those desiring it. It is completely tasteless, shows no effects in the person and is considered the most positive way to combat polio.

Stations picked for this second and final phase of the project are the same as for the previous April project. They include:

Florida State Bank, Crooms High School, A & P Store at the Pinecrest Shopping Center, Midway School, Lake Monroe School, Lake Mary School, MovieLand Drive-In Theater, Geneva School, Stubbs Pharmacy in Forest City, Winn Dixie on Highway 17-92 and 434, Jai Alai Fronton, and Oviedo City Hall.

The meeting will be held at noon in the Chamber's new conference room. "The purpose," Roumillat said, "is to discuss this situation with engineering firm representatives for future selection of a company to make the feasibility study the port authority will need to enable the group to approach the Legislature."

Legislative action will be required, he explained, to create the authority. "When this body is legally established," he said, "it will proceed with the actual planning and construction of the port."

School Board Refuses To Change Time Of Meetings

By identical votes of 3 to 1 the Seminole County School Board Thursday afternoon approved a list of teachers recommended for summer employment but denied a request by a delegation of mothers that the board hold its monthly meeting during evening hours.

The group, meeting in a special session at the school board offices, examined a host of letters requesting that meetings be held at night and listened to the plea of the delegation present before turning down the request.

Board members John Evans, Mason Wharton and James Birkenmeyer agreed that meetings conducted in the afternoons made for more efficient handling of the board's business. However, Dr. A. W. Epps Jr. disagreed. He pointed out that more interested parents could attend evening meetings which would result in more understanding by the board's constituents of the group's actions. He explained that the Board of Trustees now meets during evening hours.

Epps said that he felt the board would get more work accomplished. He explained that in order for him to earn a living he had to personally care for his practice. "It's not like some people who can leave their business or profession and their income continues," he said.

A petition, containing the names of about 75 persons plus numerous letters, objected to the reports that several teachers were not being retained in the summer employment program.

Much interest surrounded the fact that James Pigott, Seminole High School's head football coach and a driver training instructor, was not retained to teach drivers this summer.

Several letters intimated that the failure to retain Pigott might have "political" implications and requested the board to take appropriate action. Pigott ran against Suplt. R. T. Milwee in the first primary.

Principal Andrew Bracken of Seminole High School told the board that Pigott had been asked to attend a conference in Cocoa which dealt with a new type of driving training program, commonly known as range driving. Bracken said that Pigott declined to attend and that it was necessary for him not to recommend Pigott for the driver program. Bracken also said he needed a civica teacher for the 1964-65 school year and had assigned this position to Pigott.

Stewart Gatchel, personnel supervisor for the school system, explained that personnel used in the summer enrichment program are suggested by various principals, reviewed by the board of trustees and its recommendations are submitted to the school board for final approval.

During the meeting the board heard the trustees' report and adopted it by a split vote.

In other action the board approved numerous bids for various categories of school equipment and supplies for the 1964-65 budget year plus bids for milk and hardware.

Rev. Grover Sewell

We Are Big Enough?

Mankind has never faced a time when there was a great need for him to recognize the folly of a civil war between religion and science.

We see the tremendous advances made in the scientific realm for which we can be very thankful, if mankind is large enough to handle the power that is there.

A child may love horses and I suppose that most of them do. One of the cutest scenes that can be envisioned is a little child on the back of a gentle old horse, but one of the most terrifying is the same child being placed on a wild stallion. The first scene gives us the feeling of happiness and general well-being, while the latter conveys destruction and horror!

For many centuries man has had the problem of getting enough nourishment for his body only to awaken suddenly to find that he has over-nourished himself, in some parts of the world, to the point that heart ailments take a very heavy toll of life simply because of too many calories! The struggle for existence formerly meant 18 hour days of hard toil. Now we have advocates of a 30-hour week.

How true it is that we live in a world where materialistic things matter. It does matter whether or not we have food, clothing and shelter; it does matter whether or not bombs fall upon our earth or the same energy is used to destroy cancer cells. Only the fool would say that material things have no significance.

Man's state of development in the 20th century demands a continuous effort in a never ending progress for his mastery over material, but every total mastery would leave him completely unfulfilled as a human being.

History makes it very clear that man can never be a robot. It is also just as clear that he will not be satisfied to live on a level that goes no higher than the intellect, as high as this may be. Even here the hunger is so great that frustration due to a lack of complete fulfillment makes life purposeless.

Life without God leaves far too many questions unanswered to ever have appeal for a mature mankind.

The short life of man on earth demands an answer. Even people who never heard of our Saviour, Christ, know innately that life could not end with the grave. The Egyptians refused to think of death as annihilation and therefore called their coffins, "chest of the living." The American Indian placed in the graves of the dead implements they felt would be needed in the life beyond the grave. The great German philosopher, Goethe, said that the greatest argument that he knew for life after death is the fact that man cannot do without it.

God gave us the answer to this question in Jesus Christ. Not only the answer to life after death but the answer to life on earth is given. Who can read "The Sermon on the Mount" and feel that there are comparable ethics to be found elsewhere. What a world we could have if the human behavior advocated in this sermon could be entwined in science! There is also the answer to the big question which materialism gives us as to whether the effort put forth for scientific achievement is worthwhile. The answer of our faith says yes. It is most worthwhile if it is for God as He is made known in Christ.

Youth Loses Control Of Life With Sex Freedom, Theologian Says

By Louis Cassels
United Free International Theologian I'inhobd Niebuhr said recently that churches need to do some "radical re-thinking" of their approach to sex.

Few pastors would argue with that statement. They are confronted on all sides with evidences that young people are either ignorant or disdainful of Judeo-Christian sexual ethics.

Some Protestant liberals contend that the church, in order to be "relevant," must cease to pronounce a blanket condemnation on premarital intercourse.

Instead of taking a "legalistic" stand against sex relations outside of marriage, these liberals say, the church should emphasize the Christian teaching that all human relationships are to be governed by love. The real sin of casual intimacies, according to this viewpoint, lies in exploiting another human person for the satisfaction of selfish desires.

An entirely different diagnosis of the church's failure to influence the sexual codes of young people comes from Dr. Robert E. Fitch, professor of Christian ethics at the Pacific School of Religion, Berkeley, Calif.

Dr. Fitch says it's absurd to speak of sexual promiscuity as a "modern" problem. The revolt against moral restraints on sexual appetites is as old as history.

"The only thing new about our contemporary situation," says Dr. Fitch, "is the attitude of futility among those who should be the guardians of morality. Adults who ought to be providing guidance are lost in an orgy of open-mindedness."

"No previous generation of young people has had such an enormous and detailed amount of information available to it concerning the scientific facts about sex. And probably none has been left so ignorant of and so undisciplined in the ethical essentials."

Mitchum At Drive - In

Son of the famous comedian Ed Wynn, Keenan Wynn has spent most of his theatrical career in comedy parts, only occasionally shifting to dramatic parts. His most violent and villainous role is in "Man in the Middle," the suspenseful drama which 20th Century-Fox has set to open on Sunday at the Movieland Drive-In Theatre.

FRANCE NUYEN and Robert Mitchum have a few brief moments for a romantic interlude in the provocative and suspenseful drama, "Man in the Middle," which opens at the Movieland Drive-In Theatre Sunday.

"Man in the Middle" is a Talbot - Pennebaker production filmed in England and on location in India, starring Robert Mitchum, France Nuyen and Barry Sullivan with guest star Trevor Howard.

Keenan was born in New York on July 7, 1916, and reared in a backstage atmosphere. His mother is actress Hilda Keenan and his grandfather, Frank Keenan, was a noted stage and screen star. His father wanted him to go to college; he wanted to become an aviator. The compromise was dancing lessons.

He was never much of a dancer, so he took a small part in a Claude Rains play. He then was a prop boy in a summer theatre. For eight years he played in stock and Broadway productions and boasts he survived 96 stage failures without becoming discouraged.

Though he never had a Broadway hit, he established himself as a highly competent dramatic actor and was signed to a long-term contract by MGM in 1942.

Wynn has had four Academy Award nominations as best supporting actor — "Lost Angel," "See Here, Private Hargrove," "Kind Lady" and "Holiday for Sinners." In addition to his film work, he has appeared on dozens of TV shows, including his own series, "The Trouble Shooters."

NATURAL SCULPTURE

The profile of the "Old Man" (also called the "Great Stone Face") in the White Mountains at Franconia, N. H., was carved by nature and not by man. It is formed on the side of a mountain by five separate ledges, the planes of which create the most noted of natural profiles.

A BLOOD FEUD between Arab tribes is in the making and Arab chieftain Anthony Quinn, right, waits to see how Peter O'Toole as Lawrence will handle the situation.

Lawrence At Ritz

Academy Award winner as the best picture of the year, the Sam Spiegel-David Lean production of "Lawrence of Arabia" stars Alec Guinness, Anthony Quinn, Jack Hawkins, Jose Ferrer, Arthur Kennedy, Claude Rains, Arthur Kennedy, and two newcomers to the screen, Omar Sharif as All and Peter O'Toole as Lawrence Sunday through Wednesday at the Ritz Theatre.

The film is playing on an exclusive special engagement. A Columbia Pictures release, "Lawrence of Arabia" was made by the same producer and director who brought the Academy Award-winning "The Bridge on the River Kwai" to the screen. David won an Academy Award for his direction of "Lawrence," from the Robert Bolt screenplay, which traces that moment in history when a brash young British officer encounters the beginnings of the Allied revolt in the desert against the Turks, and leads it to final victory. The film is in Super-Panavision and color by Technicolor.

U. S. Urged To Buy Famous Old House

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Sen. Joseph S. Clark, D-Tx., wants the government to buy the house in Philadelphia where Thomas Jefferson wrote the Declaration of Independence—It's now a hot dog stand.

In a statement prepared for submission to the Senate Interior Committee today, Clark said a pending bill would permit the National Park Service to acquire the building, known once as the Graff House, at Seventh and Market streets for about $200,000. He said a group of private citizens planned to put up the funds to reconstruct the house as a national historic site.

Forest Lake Academy . . . 39 Years Young And Growing

FOREST LAKE Academy is 39 years old. However, its existence as an educational institution goes back to 1908, when a ten-grade school was begun by Seventh-day Adventists in Fort Ogden, Florida. In 1915, this school was moved to the grounds of the Florida Sanitarium and Hospital, and was known as the Winyah Lake Academy. Still a ten grade school in 1923, it was moved to the present site and named Forest Lake Academy.

It was established on a 160 acre tract purchased from the heirs of J. W. Emerson. School was begun immediately, using a nine-room farmhouse and barn that were commonly known as the "Old Starbird Place." The house was in use one way or another by the school until about 1960 when it was destroyed. The students called it the "Old Mansion."

THE FIRST YEAR there were only twelve students. The girls lived with the principal, F. H. Parish and his wife in the farmhouse, and the boys lived in the barn. The next year a girls' dormitory was built and attendance increased. That first dormitory is part of the building still serving as home for the girls and soon to be replaced.

In 1927 the boys' dormitory was built, and for some time the first floor of this building housed the offices, classrooms, library, and church. This building was torn down last year to be replaced by McClure Hall, the new boys' dormitory.

In 1932 the Academy became a full twelve grade school with W. E. McClure as principal. The first class of 13 seniors graduated in the spring of 1933.

A WOODEN building was erected in 1936 to house the classrooms and chapel. To this a large masonry section was added in 1947, and the combined structure serves today as the administration building.

Additional land was purchased at two different times in the late thirties, while K. A. Wright was principal. The Academy property now covers 385 acres.

The gymnasium - auditorium was built in 1954. This is the center of the Academy's physical education program, and is used for all school programs attended by the public. The Forest Lake Seventh-day Adventist Church, which came into being to serve the Academy's faculty and students, and has now grown to be a large community church, holds its services in this auditorium. The annual camp meeting held by Adventists on the Academy campus uses the auditorium for its large meetings. When set up for such large gatherings it will seat 2500 people.

THE ACADEMY has operated a number of different agricultural and industrial enterprises to help supply its own needs as well as to provide remunerative labor for students. A dairy was developed early in its history. John Pierson built up a good herd of holstein cows. This enterprise was only recently discontinued. During most of its existence the Academy has operated a printing press. William Kirstein was one of its early developers, serving as manager and also teacher of printing for several years before establishing his own business in Orlando. The Academy Laundry organized by E. W. Bradley in 1934, has been an important activity on the campus ever since. Eighty acres of the Academy property are in citrus groves, some of which were set out about 1931.

Like any institution, Forest Lake Academy is a composite of some of the outstanding personalities that have been associated with it.

. . . . At Forest Lake Academy

AMONG THE first patrons of the school was Harley Lester, a citrus grower of Plymouth, whose six children all attended the Academy. Five of them were living in its dormitories at one time. Vera, his oldest was a member of the first graduating class in 1933. Lester set out and developed the Academy's citrus groves. He became a member of its board of directors about 1932, and has served in that capacity most of the time since. He is also a director of the State Bank of Apopka, and a vice president of the Plymouth Citrus Growers Association. Mrs. Lester, formerly Mrs. H. O. Hoover of Orlando is the mother of three alumni of the Academy who took all 12 years of elementary and high school there.

W. E. McClure was principal three different times. His first term was 1929-32, and the second was 1933-37—times of early growth and development. Then after he had spent several years in educational work in Africa, he was again principal of Forest Lake in 1955-58. His name is perpetuated on the campus in McClure Hall, the new boys' dormitory.

K. A. WRIGHT was principal 1937-42, during which time much of the land and grove expansion was accomplished, and the printing industry was built up. He launched the Forest Lake Medical Cade Corps, the very year that the Selective Service was set up prior to World War II. The MCC is a nationwide Adventist training organization to prepare young men to serve in the medical corps if and when called to military service, thus loyally fulfilling their duty as citizens even though they object conscientiously to bearing arms.

M.D. of Orlando; Lillian T. Hanson Rauch, whose husband is administrator of Holiday Hospital in Orlando.

Three members of the present faculty have a long record of service there. Mrs. Colate Kirstein has taught English and Spanish for 25 years. Her husband, who died in 1949 was manager of the Academy Press for several years. J. Edwin Muesinger has taught mathematics and science for 18 years. Jesse E. Jones has 16 years of service teaching history.

AN ELEMENTARY school known as the Forest Lake Church School was started on the campus in 1927, with a small number of pupils and one teacher. Today it has 262 pupils, and functions with a principal, eight full-time and three part-time teachers.

Since the first graduating class in 1933, Forest Lake Academy has graduated 1308 young people. The 84 members of the class of '64 bring the total to 1390. Many of these now serve as ministers, physicians, dentists, and teachers, some of them in overseas mission service.

3 Words Depict Emblem's Theme

The emblem of Forest Lake Academy bears the three words, mind, body, and spirit, indicating its purpose of a harmonious development of the whole being. From its beginning, this school has sought to distinguish itself in the fulfillment of this philosophy.

On the intellectual side, it has followed a regular high school curriculum, acceptable to the State and to standard accrediting agencies. Three courses of study are at present offered: General Academic; College Preparatory; and Enriched Honors.

To provide the spiritual side of the complete development, courses in religion are included in each grade, and religious activities closely connected with the church are carried on with voluntary student participation.

Attention is given a physical development in various ways. The curriculum includes regular physical education, according to modern methods. Some vocational subjects are required of all students, selected from the following: auto mechanics, bookkeeping, shorthand, typing, office practice, two years of home economics, mechanical drawing, welding, woodworking, and two years of printing.

But the Forest Lake Academy administration has always felt that the best basis for physical development for adolescent boys and girls is in a constructive work program. In this way, mental activity is balance with physical exercise, and under circumstances that teach the dignity of labor and the value of cooperative effort, along with the skills necessary for many of the ordinary tasks of life. Work is provided, for which nominal pay is given, thus enabling many students to assist in the payment of their expenses at the same time they are learning.

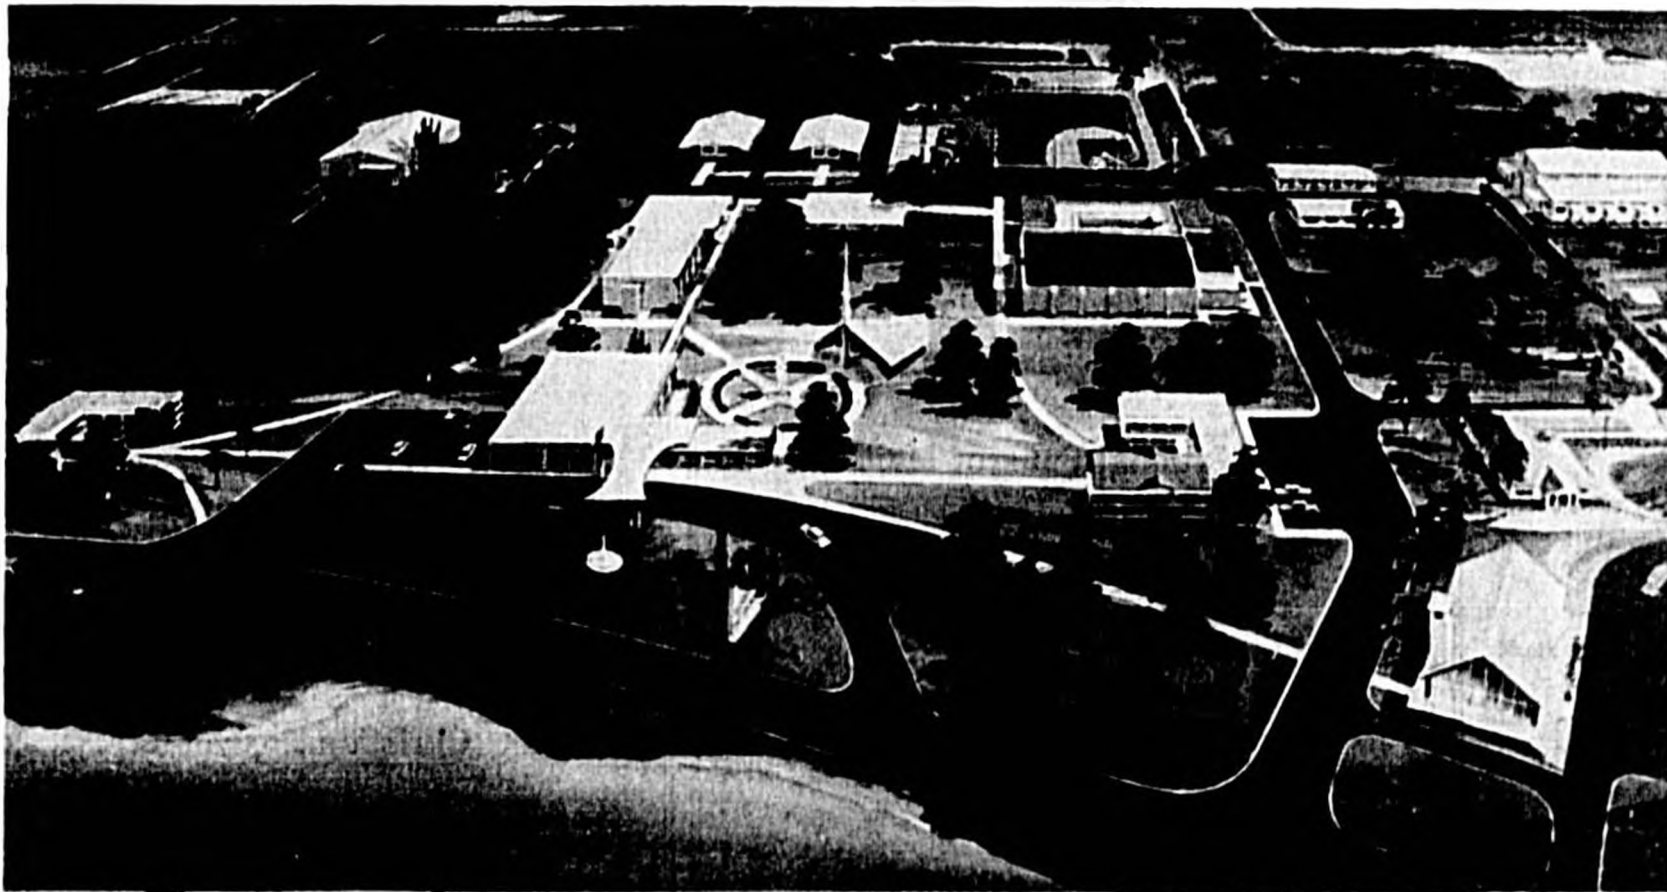

The various lines of work in which the students engage include the services necessary for the operation of the school, and certain industries that operate on the campus. The services include office and clerical work, janitor work, maintenance, food service, laundry, and campus upkeep. The industries presently operating on the campus are: the Academy Press, the Academy Bindery, the Academy Laundry, and a nursery.

The Academy Press is a commercial printing establishment, capable of producing most ordinary types of business forms, folders, leaflets, and pamphlets, and simple periodicals. It regularly employs seven students.

The Academy Bindery was established about one year ago. It offers a complete book binding service, and handles orders of one book or thousands. Its principal business is in rebinding books for schools and libraries, and in binding periodicals into hard-back volumes. This industry employs from 25 to 40 students, many of them girls.

More than 30 students find regular employment at the Academy Laundry. This group is about evenly divided between boys and girls. The laundry primarily serves hospitals and motels.

The care of the campus is done by a group of boys under the direction of a man trained and experienced in agriculture and horticulture. They are working on a long range plan to landscape the entire grounds of the Academy in keeping with the new buildings already erected and planned. They have begun the development of a nursery of ornamental plants to supply the needs of the Academy and to eventually offer on the market.

Joan Meister, daughter of Mrs. Edwina Meister and the late Dr. George Meister of Forest City, served as editor of the yearbook, the Mirror, this year. Voted by her classmates as the girl with the most school spirit and the most likely to succeed, Joan has held the offices of vice-president of the Beta Club, chairman of the Missionary Volunteer Programs Committee, and Reflector reporter. She has earned a large portion of her school expenses by working in the school Registrar's office and as dental assistant to Dr. D. E. Cone. She plans to take pre-dental technology at Southern Missionary College in Tennessee.

President of the Forest Lake Academy Beta Club, which is the school's honor society, is James Strawn. His other activities have included being Assistant Editor of the Reflector and Missionary Volunteer leader of the Altamonte Springs Seventh-day Adventist church, where his father is pastor. The son of Mr. and Mrs. Warren Strawn, he plans to take the pre-medical course at Southern Missionary College in Tennessee. His classmates consider him the boy with the most originality.

Senior class president Donald Pervis holds the distinction of receiving his classmates' vote for best all-around boy. He has served as Student Association Programs Committee chairman, Intra-Mural Sports chairman, vice-president of the Boys' Club, and has been a member of the Beta Club. He plans to spend his freshman year of college at the Seminaire Adventist in Colonges, France. Don is the son of Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Pervis of Forest City. Mr. Pervis is a construction contractor.

Joe Foley, president of the Student Association, was voted by his classmates the boy with the most school spirit. Positions he has held in previous years include Missionary Volunteer leader and vice-president of the Student Association. He has been a Beta Club member. He plans to take pre-law at Southern Missionary College in Tennessee. His parents are Dr. and Mrs. J. D. Foley of Jacksonville.

Ronald Bentzinger has served as Missionary leader, T3 Club leader, Beta Club pastor, and has been active in many other religious activities. His classmates voted him the most spiritual boy in the class. The son of Pastor and Mrs. O. H. Bentzinger of Forest City, he plans to major in Theology at Southern Missionary College in Tennessee. He is a talented musician.

'OUR FAMOUS Old Mansion' is seen in this picture taken from an old scrapbook owned by an alumnus of Forest Lake Academy. The structure, no longer in use, performed an admirable task in the old days when the Academy was much younger than its 39 years of age, the age it is today.

FOREST LAKE ACADEMY CLASS HISTORY

The Forest Lake Academy class of 1964 has the distinction of being the only class in recent history to take a class trip and to present a serious drama. They traveled as a class to the New York World's Fair. The drama, which they gave in April, was Thornton Wilder's "Our Town".

This class of 44 boys and 41 girls also has the distinction of being one of the best classes scholastically to graduate from Forest Lake Academy. Throughout the years they have had the largest percentage of any class on the honor roll. There are more seniors in the Beta Club, the school's honor society, this year than at any previous time.

Among the members of this year's class are many with musical talent. Geographically they are widely distributed. There are students from California, Nebraska, Georgia and Massachusetts. Thirty-three of them come from Florida cities outside of this area, from Tallahassee to Homestead. The other 46 have their homes in this area — Orlando, Maitland, Forest City and Apopka.

New Girl's Dormitory At Forest Lake Academy

New Cafeteria Offers Many Modern Facilities

Memories

Major Building Work Completed

Four major building projects have been completed at Forest Lake Academy during the past three years: a cafeteria, a boy's dormitory, a maintenance building, and a building to house the Academy Press and the Academy Blindery.

For several years it has been evident that facilities built in the twenties were wearing out, and in many ways no longer suitable for education in the sixties. Accordingly, in 1961, a program of reconstruction was announced, to cost over $1 million.

Work was begun immediately on some of the most needed buildings and other facilities. A financial plan was set up, calling for appropriations from the Florida Conference of Seventh-day Adventists, and contributions from the membership of all the churches of the Florida Conference, over a period of years.

Construction and other phases of the development program have cost more than $700,000 to date. The rest of the program now being planned for the next three or four years will probably cost an equal amount.

The next major project will be Memorial Hall, a new girl's dormitory, to cost more than $200,000. Ground has been broken for one wing of this building, which is expected to be ready for use in September. When completed, it will provide housing for 150 girl students, and will include an apartment for the dean of girls, guest rooms, and a chapel.

The Cafeteria Building, completed in December, 1962 has a modern stainless steel all-electric kitchen and bakery, and a dining room seating 300 persons. The building also houses the school's Home Economics Department, a typing classroom, and a rehearsal room for the Academy Band.

McClure Hall, the new boy's dormitory, completed in the fall of 1963, has rooms for 125 students, and also contains an apartment for the dean of boys, a guest room, a chapel and a recreation room.

Other capital improvements during the past three years are a home for the principal, shower and locker rooms for the gymnasium, paving of campus streets, and extensive landscaping.

In addition to the new girls' dormitory, future development plans include provisions for new classrooms and a new assembly hall.

Mays' Homer Powers Giants Back Into National Loop Lead

A's Cop 4 To 1 Win Over White Sox In AL Tilt

By George C. Langford
UPI Sports Writer

Just exactly what's in those sleeping pills Willie Mays is taking?

Whatever the ingredients, they're giving the rest of the National League insomnia, and they have "relaxed" Willie on a home run course which would reach a fantastic total of 75 this season, if maintained.

Willie began taking the little capsules this spring to cure an insomnia problem of his own. Now he's a continuous bad dream for opposing pitchers.

For a sample, take the nightmare Curt Simmons had Thursday night. The St. Louis Cardinal southpaw was cruising along toward a five-hit shutout with two outs in the eighth inning and a 1-0 lead.

Enter Willie with a teammate on first base and exit the ball into the leftfield bleachers for a two-run homer, his 18th of the season.

Three Giant relievers struggled over the final two innings to protect the 2-1 victory for starter Bob Hendley (4-3), which reinstated San Francisco in first place.

Pittsburgh bumped Philadelphia out of first place with a 6-5 victory over the Phillies; Houston upset Milwaukee, 4-2; the Chicago Cubs blanked the New York Mets, 2-0, and the Cincinnati Reds and Los Angeles Dodgers struggled to a 2-2 tie in a 17-inning marathon halted after four hours and 58 minutes by the NL curfew.

Kansas City stopped the Chicago White Sox, 4-1, in the lone American League game scheduled.

By Bill Vincent Jr.

Howdy to all of you good fishermen I've decided to go back to the old style, the way I used to write Knee Deep.

Well, here goes. Was out by Lemon Bluff over the weekend and the school bass were really making a good show. Pat Brooks, owner of the Lemon Bluff fish camp, says the bass are doing real good on the purple worm. Don Echols got nine medium bass on the worm and Mrs. Ed Hall caught a nice eight-pounder Monday morning.

The bream and perch and a few cat fish are doing OK between the Geneva bridge and Marshall Bluff.

NOTE: Plenty of blue gills are being caught in Le-Fils slough on the small Sheister. The Missouri minnow has been bringing in a lot of catches of speckled perch and bream at the Marshall Bluff area.

Talked to Jim Crowe and he says the fish are biting pretty good around his place. Diane Moye and her father, Mutt Moye, caught one bass and 25 bream while using live worms.

NOTE: For the first time since I started the column I saw a big black crow with a piece of fishing line in his mouth. I saw this right in front of Jim's place.

Came by Henry Russell's Marina Isle and the door was open but didn't see anybody around. Took a look in the boat shed and there was Henry taking it real easy in a pair of air cooled tennis shoes. He said that was the best way to cool off these HOT days.

David Ramsey got five nice bass while fishing with the Reppel plug which is made in Finland.

Surprisingly the fishing is pretty good all around even though the water is at a low ebb, and there's a lot of algae in Lake Jesup, running into the St. Johns River.

When you "gotta go deep" nothing beats a metal line. The use of solid and braided wire lines for deepwater trolling seems to be a neglected phase of fishing—except in northern areas for lake trout and around certain southern impoundments for catfish.

Yet metal lines can figure prominently in the angling schemes of almost anyone who trails a bottom thumper behind a boat.

In depths of up to 20 feet, and where fish-finding is the primary purpose, reg-

Mayfair Men's Golf Tourney Nears Finish

With the Mayfair Men's Golf Association tournament drawing to a close, three flight winners have been determined and four contenders are still in the running in the championship flight.

Al deFrance defeated Bill Hutchison 2 up to close out the fourth flight. Don Farrens shaded Bob Jernigan 1 up in the final of the sixth flight and Dick Richards emerged as winner of the ninth flight with a 2-1 triumph over Don Ethel.

In the championship flight, Jim Spencer will meet Dr. Bill Epps in one semi-final match and Dr. A. W. Epps Jr., takes on Harold Sherwood in the other.

Gene Clemens and Russ Pearson are finalists in the first flight, Ralph Simas and Harry Cushing in the second flight, Andy Carraway and G. Palmer in the third, Peter Duncan and Mack Cleveland in the fifth, Tommy Mero and Dr. Charles Park Jr. in the seventh flight.

The finalists in the eighth flight has not yet been determined.

Bankers Rally To Overcome Perfection

Proof that a ball game isn't over until the last man is out was never more vividly displayed than Thursday night when the Florida State Bankers went into the final inning trailing Perfection Dairies 10 to 6.

The Bankers came up with eight big runs and finally won the tilt 14 to 11. Each team could muster only six hits with Casey Dunn leading the Bankers. Gene Bertrang hit his second homer of the season in the Little American loop tilt.

In the Little National, Ronny Nobles and Billy Hope hit home runs and Rick Smith chipped in with two triples and a neat pitching performance as Chase romped to a 13 to 2 win over First Federal. It was the fifth straight win for Chase.

Bobby Powell handcuffed the Civitans in a Junior Boys League contest, limiting them to three hits as his Rotary mates pounded out a 12 to 1 win. Rick Fordham with three hits and Frank Whigham and Corky Stowell led the plateners.

In another affair, CPO outdistanced Lake Mary in a free scoring affair. The CPO nine came out on top, 12 to 8. Danny Lee picked up the win for relief. Mike Stubbins and Larry Williams were the big sticks for CPO. Roger Leep carried the big bat for Lake Mary.

In the Men's loop Robb's Construction put on a last inning rally that carried them to a 6 to 5 win over Florida State Bank. Earl Evans was credited with the victory.

Wilson Maier won his first game of the second half, downing USO 10 to 4. Richard Tilt and Junior Shaver hit for the distance for the furnituremen and Tom Deboard was the winning hurler.

Prairie Lake Men Plan Banquet

By Jane Casselberry
The Brotherhood of Prairie Lake Baptist Church held a covered dish supper Monday night followed by a program and business meeting which was very well attended.

Everett Stevens, newly elected Brotherhood president, presided. Don Conway and Lamar Cockrell were in charge of the program.

The Brotherhood will sponsor a Father-Son Banquet on Tuesday, June 16, for all men of the church and their sons. Those not having sons are asked to invite some boy who otherwise would not be eligible to attend.

The men voted to place the monthly periodical, "Home Life," in barbershops, beauty salons and offices of doctors and dentists in the area from Matland to Longwood. Stanley Sage and Jim Reed are appointed to contact these establishments to secure permission for placing the magazine. Copies will be kept up to date each month.

Delegates from the Brotherhood will attend a statewide assembly to be held June 5-6 in DeLand.

The group also voted to sponsor several boys from the RA at Camp Joy on the Wekiva River this summer.

Ascension Plans Service In German

By Jane Casselberry
In compliance with numerous requests Ascension Lutheran Church on Overbrook Drive, Casselberry, is planning another all-German service to be held on June 7 at 7:30 p.m.

The sermon will be delivered by Rev. W. H. Wiederhann of Faith Lutheran Church in Eustis. Rev. C. R. Zehnder, pastor of Ascension, will be the liturgist.

Previous German services have drawn attendance from throughout the Central Florida area. The public is invited to attend.

Piano Pupils To Give Recital

Margaret L. Davis will present her piano pupils in a recital Tuesday at 8:15 p.m. at the Sanford Woman's Club.

There is no admission charge and the public is cordially invited to attend.

Beach Party

United Presbyterian Youth of St. Andrews Presbyterian Church of Bear Lake enjoyed an afternoon party and picnic last Sunday at Daytona Beach. Chaperones for the group of 25 members were Mr. and Mrs. James Ridgwell.

Village Ready For July 4

By Doris Dean
Plans are being completed by North Orlando Community Committees for the annual Fourth of July celebration to be held in the village recreation area.

Final details of the $100 cash awards event have been worked out and information is available by contacting any member of any committee.

Volunteer firemen will sponsor an auction and residents with items of furniture, baby equipment, lawn tools, etc. which could be donated are asked to contact Malvin Campbell who will arrange for pickups and storage. Last year the auction proved to be a main highlight of the celebration.

The firemen also will sponsor the Penny Throw game with Chief Bill Hahn to be in charge and young bowlers will get a chance to test their ability at the Roll-A-Ball games with Fireman Lloyd Brown in charge.

A booth offering wide variety in food and drink will be sponsored by the Garden Club. Additional plans for the event will be announced as completed.

Novena Devotion

Rev. James S. Honnen, pastor of the Church of the Nativity, has announced that Miraculous Medal novena devotions, usually held Monday evenings at the church, have been discontinued for the summer months. They will be resumed in September.

DE Training Class Held For Lyman Students And Parents

By Jane Casselberry
A pre-training class was conducted Tuesday night at Lyman High School for the new Distributive Education students and their parents by Lloyd Barnes, DE coordinator, and E. S. Douglass, county supervisor of adult and vocational education.

A total of 24 parents and 22 students attended the meeting. Purpose was to acquaint them with the background of distributive education and what Lyman expects to offer next year. Two films on the subject were shown, one from the state department of education and the other from the University of Indiana.

Douglass spoke on the job opportunities for a student pointing out that DE also offers night classes for interested adults. Night courses such as secretary-receptionist, P.H.X. operator, salesmanship, typing and shorthand may be offered at Lyman next fall if demand is sufficient.

The Lyman DE Club will hold an end of the year picnic this Sunday afternoon at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Tom Pencock, Crystal Bowl Circle, Casselberry.

A MATTER OF DEGREE

Doctor? Lawyer? Merchant? Already Robbie's parents are planning for his future. They're saving to give him the best education obtainable, because they want him to be happy and successful... a son to be proud of.

It would be splendid if a good education automatically led to happiness and success, but unfortunately it doesn't. Many well-educated men and women have failed utterly when it came to living a stable and worthwhile life, because they lacked the strength of character that would have sustained them.

There is no better training ground for the building of character than the Christian Church. These children are encouraged to follow a way of life that will not fail them, and to respect themselves and their fellows.

Give your child every chance to succeed. Make sure that his education includes a thorough knowledge of the time-tested Christian truths.

ALL FOR THE CHURCH

THE CHURCH FOR ALL

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a schoolhouse of spiritual values. Without a strong church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the church. They are: (1) For his own sake, (2) For his children's sake, (3) For the sake of his community and nation, (4) For the sake of the church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Now There Are Six

May 30 was designated as Memorial Day in 1868 by Gen. John A. Logan, Commander-in-Chief of the Grand Army of the Republic, to honor the memory of Union soldiers who fell in the Civil War.

Eventually most of the states made it a legal holiday. And gradually Memorial Day came to be observed in memory of the warrior dead of all of America's wars and some conflicts that are, in the modern mode, "non-wars."

The ranks of the Union comrades have been swelled by their successors of the Spanish War and World War I, that was to have ended all wars, only to be followed by the catastrophic World War II.

And then came Korea, which they said was no war at all, but a "police action"—but war it was to the men who suffered and fought and died in it.

Now, on this 96th Memorial Day, American servicemen are dying in yet another such "non-war" in a foreign clime—Viet Nam. To these, Memorial Day is dedicated, too.

For their deaths are just as much sacrifices for preservation of the American creed of democracy as were those made on the field from Bull Run to Gettysburg.

Facets Of "New" Communism

The man who devised the U.S. postwar policy of "containment" against communism has taken a new look at the Communist world.

George F. Kennan, former ambassador to the Soviet Union, believes in fact, that it is time we stopped using all-embracing phrases like "Communist world"—indeed, to suspend use of the adjective "Communist" altogether.

In a new book, "On Dealing With the Communist World," Kennan states that while there once may have been a single Communist world, a monolithic entity ruled with an iron hand from Moscow for some 40-odd years, today that world is polycentric.

It is a world of many different Communist nations, a world in flux, with the two great Red powers—Russia and China—competing for leadership and the allegiance of the smaller ones.

To Kennan, the great danger for the West is the growth of an attitude that refuses to see the changes that have taken place within world communism. It looks for a simple, uniform solution to a complicated problem, and dreams of the ultimate destruction of communism in one final blow.

In this black-and-white view, Poland, seething with intellectual revolt, is the same as primitive, Stalinist Albania. Communist Yugoslavia is no different from Castro Cuba. Therein, believes Kennan, lie the seeds of mutual nuclear destruction.

Opposing this is the exciting opportunity confronting the West—to take a hand in guiding the evolution of communism by encouraging the liberalizing tides that are beginning to sweep against the rock-ribbed regimes of certain Communist nations, including Russia herself.

It is a time of great troubles in the "Communist world," says Kennan—which is to say, a time of great hope for the West and great challenge to our statesmanship.

Thought For Today

If any one thinks he is religious, and does not bridle his tongue but deceives his heart, this man's religion is vain.—James 1:26.

Lyle C. Wilson Says:

Laws Won't Work

United Press International

Realistic contemplation of the civil rights problem now lowering over the nation turns up a fact that should alarm all concerned, white and black, North and South.

That fact is that the problem of civil rights does not respond readily if at all to legislative solutions. For example, in New York City, the capital city of civil rights, there have been threats and achievements of shocking civil disorder. In his "EDITOR'S NOTEBOOK" published in the Knight newspapers, John S. Knight has stated this situation, like this:

"This irony of such rabble-rousing by civil rights leaders is that New York has done more to protect Negro job rights, assure open housing, provide equal accommodations and use buses to transport children from segregated neighborhoods than any other city in the country."

New York has plenty of law. Moreover, the elected public officials of New York City and state are dedicated civil rights politicians, some of them because they need the Negro bloc vote. Both state and city have civil rights laws. These are administered by sympathetic public servants.

Until the problem of civil rights plopped into the job market or the house next door, it was assumed that a great majority of New Yorkers aggressively believed in all-out civil rights laws and their enforcement.

In this friendly legislative and administrative environment, New York Negroes still feel themselves to be oppressed and put upon that they must undertake all sorts of angry means of self defense. And this is what makes for more alarm.

If self-imposed state and municipal civil rights legislation supported by a majority of whites will not do the job in the friendly New York environment, what chance is there that federal legislation will be able to accomplish more in a resentful, unfriendly South?

The bleak answer to that is, not much.

And if federal legislation falls far short in the South of achieving its objectives, what then? Then, of course, will come the overwhelming political pressure of northern whites and Negroes for the federal government to enforce in the South a federal law.

The South will be ridiculed and condemned and, perhaps, its cities invaded and occupied by federal troops or marshals. And all of this will be applauded by northerners whose own states and cities enact but scamp the enforcement of civil rights legislation. A chilling prospect. There is a chill for the North, too.

On April 27 the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People (NAACP) complained that state fair employment practices laws had failed to bring about any basic change in the status of Negro labor in northern states. NAACP spokesman was Herbert Hill, labor secretary of the association.

He said state fair employment commissions had been timid, reluctant to act. He warned that these attitudes must change, and fast.

"This is now especially important," Hill added, "as it becomes clearer each passing day that the next great crisis in American race relations will be in the North."

That is fair warning to those naive citizens and politicking statesmen who assert that enactment of the pending civil rights bill will bring racial peace to the United States. It may, but probably won't.

Dr. Crane's Worry Clinic

CASE 8-477: Harry E. Ryan has served ably as president of the Pennsylvania Association of Private Business Schools.

He says the Business Colleges offer their 3-year students over 2,000 hours of class instruction, compared with 1,000 to 1,500 offered by a Liberal Arts school.

"The Business Schools," he adds, "not only provide more post high school education at a lower tuition cost, but they actually support the other forms of education."

"They are tax-paying schools — not tax-receiving schools!"

"When such private educational facilities already exist in a community, why should they be duplicated at the community's expense?"

Prof. Ryan appeals to me as a shrewd advocate of more

"horse sense" in higher education.

Congress has been asked to approve billions for new Liberal Arts and professional college buildings.

Yet the present buildings will handle double their present entire college enrollment!

For all that we need to double their capacity is launch a 2nd educational shift, to start at 2 or 4 p. m.

College youth are adults in physical and mental age, so why think they must be out of school at 3 p. m., like grade school youngsters?

On dates they are lucky to get home by 2 a. m., so what is wrong with letting them go to college on an afternoon

"shift" that runs from 4 to 10 p. m.

Actually, there is no good medical reason why we shouldn't run even a 3rd educational shift through our costly college buildings.

It could start at 10 p. m. and run through 4 a. m.

So why should we taxpayers be loaded with astronomical additional debts to duplicate the costly classrooms already standing on 2,000 liberal arts campuses?

And, why, too, should we cater to these tax-exempt, inefficient Liberal Arts colleges when we have 1,500 tax-paying Business Colleges that offer a better 3-year curriculum than any Liberal Arts school?

For Business Colleges teach Business Law, Applied Psychology, Public Speaking, Business English, as well as Accounting, shorthand, Bookkeeping and even Chiasm.

Yet Liberal Arts students don't get all those practical courses, even in their entire 4-year Liberal Arts curriculum!

If more students attended our "free enterprise" American Business Colleges, we'd have far more "horse sense" in Congress.

Senator Byrd's practical ideas on budgeting would then be passed by Congress and taxes would be lowered.

We wouldn't be duped by the "mark up" strategy of the President who asks for 25% more foreign aid than he really needs, just so he can let Congressmen pare down his "mark up" request and thus feel important.

"We weren't rubber stamps," these Congressmen then boast to their home folks. "For we didn't give the President ALL he asked. No, indeed, we cut down his demand by ONE BILLION dollars."

Then they strut, gleefully, yet the President got all or even more than he had expected at the outset! Business Colleges puncture this "mark up" strategy of politicians and produce more efficient voters!

WASHINGTON — (NEA) — New U.S. studies indicate Red China and the Soviet Union are making increasing use of their government-controlled religious organizations to subvert underdeveloped countries.

This is at a time when both Russia and Red China are conducting strong antireligious drives at home.

Red China has been making strong attempts to enlist and organize Buddhist priests and Buddhist organizations in India, Ceylon, Laos, Burma and South Viet Nam.

In the drive for Laos, the local Buddhist priests were a prime objective of the Red organizers. Once some leading Laotian Buddhists and a number of local priests were won, the Communists gained a certain amount of local "respectability" and organization work among the religious-minded peasants went easier.

The North Viet Nam Red regime is now attempting to marshal Buddhist priests for service in the South Viet Nam guerrilla operations.

The Reds make it clear they think a Buddhist priest network would make an excellent spy organization.

Priests can travel freely and usually without suspicion. They hold, too, that Buddhist priests could better win the confidence of local Vietnamese people who might otherwise be suspicious of communism.

What success the Reds are having in their attempts to subvert Buddhist priests for the South Viet Nam war is not known.

Letters To The Editor

Editor, Herald:

I have addressed the following letter to W. T. Rice, president of the Atlantic Coast Line:

"Dear Mr. Rice:

"Your statements published in The Sanford Herald regarding the lay-off of three firemen in this city has turned sour. I understand there have been several and will be more. The lay-off is incredible, unjust and misleading.

"You stated that these men would be offered comparable jobs. Surely you are aware of the jobs these men have been offered. If not, I urge that you make an investigation so you can verify your statement.

"Most of these men have had little less than ten years with the Atlantic Coast Line. During this period the ACL has spent thousands of dollars settling up instruction cars and sending instructors over six states teaching and instructing these men to be locomotive engineers. These men worked and studied hard all these years to become an engineer. I feel sure you are aware of the fact that most of these men passed the required progressive examination on machinery, air brakes, diesel electric locomotives and auxiliary devices and that they were given a certificate of promotion to engineer. These certificates mean as much to these men as a diploma means to a lawyer or doctor and certainly took just as long to get.

"These men had accomplished in life what they wanted more than any other thing. They loved their job and all that the railroad industry stood for. Today their certificates is just another sheet of paper, they have spent their education years since becoming of age to work for the Atlantic Coast Line studying and working for a career.

"No one knows better than you that Atlantic Coast Line locomotive engineers are the best trained in the U. S. and surely you will agree that the railroad is depriving themselves of the invaluable experience that these men now have. However, their experience will be no good to anyone but the railroad industry.

"I understand that this lay-off is going on all over the United States so let's face it—their careers are ended and they are forced to start all over again. They are losing their jobs in their prime. When they fill in applications for employment age is against them. A man 30 to 35 years of age with any pride at all is supposed to have a career established at this age.

"The President of the United States has begun a war to relieve poverty and unemployment and yet he will allow this to happen; to put thousands out of work throughout the nation. This is the only time in my life that two and two doesn't make four.

"The public is not aware of the training that these men were given and why the Atlantic Coast Line spent so much money training them and at the same time allow these men to be called "featherbedders."

"From the public eye, safety is of the greatest importance and since the engineer cannot see but one side of the track it is inevitable that this is a death trap for the general public and employes. A true description of a fireman is a "co-pilot of safety."

"I am privileged to know personally several of these men and from my observation railroading is in their blood. Therefore, I hope that in the near future you will see the need to return them to engine service, and make their diploma more than just a sheet of paper."

Editor, Herald

If the solution to atheistic communism is theological, as stated by the late Gen. Douglas MacArthur, and if there is to be juvenile respect for authority, we should make it possible to imbue the children in public schools with a consciousness of God.

To those of us who believe that all lawful authority comes from God, it is tragic that many children have not been taught that truth. Disrespect for authority is not an unexpected result of a purely materialistic education.

Quoting Archbishop Cushing, "I am sure of this: whatever happens or does not happen in schools and colleges, if we curb God in the upbringing of our children, we are on the road to tyranny."

SUNDAY, MAY 31, 1964

GENERAL TENDENCIES:

A Sunday when there may be some surface tensions in respect to traveling, wanting what is beyond your means, etc., but the aspects are excellent for thinking out a broad plan of life which can be reduced to a very satisfactory and workable level by living your own religion.

ARIES (March 21 to April 19) Concentrate upon the more important personal desires instead of always thinking about money. Get out to church of your choosing. Be of real service to others and know happiness.

TAURUS (April 20 to May 20) Inspiring others by activities and actions that are exemplary is best now. Then off to the fun places that help you to relax. You are innately fine — let others see this, too.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) Put worries aside and think in a positive fashion so that you can accomplish what you set out to do in the future. Anxiety has a hypnotic power. Get rid of it! Have faith.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to July 21) Why don't you follow your own inclinations instead of relying on that egotistical person who literally stamps your growth. Keep promises. Be as good as your word and succeed!

LEO (July 22 to August 21) This is a good free day to talk over calmly any differences you may have with associates. This holds true for customers as well. Then the future augurs more success, fun.

VIRGO (August 22 to September 22) If you carry out duties and promises efficiently, you inspire others now. Live the Golden Rule and others quickly support you. Life is a happy affair, if you make it so.

LIBRA (September 23 to October 22) Avoid that individual who keeps harping upon how much you owe him or her. This is only a way to bind you. Get out with neighbors, if necessary, and be happy, relieve pressures.

SCORPIO (October 23 to November 21) Steer clear today of somewhat boring partner with repetitious ways and think along personal, constructive lines. Planning makes future much brighter for you. Pray.

SAGITTARIUS (November 22 to December 21) Forget work and be off to the services that help you spiritually now. Then sit down and write important letters. Advancement is but a benign way to manifest faith.

CAPRICORN (December 22 to January 20) Hang on to every word that successful persons utter today and learn how to be more successful yourself. Forget pleasure. This is only transitory, temporary.

AQUARIUS (January 21 to February 19) By entertaining persons of note with your fine talents this free day, they later support your aims. Bring forth that wonderful pulse you possess. Be charming.

PISCES (February 20 to March 20) Sincere meditation on this day set aside to worship God will bring forth fine returns in the future. Be of assistance to the sick, the needy. We all have a moral duty to our fellow man.

IF YOUR CHILD IS BORN TODAY, this fascinating child will certainly be a product of the New Era, so-called, and you must give your offspring the chance to study under the most modern teachers, especially in the field of science and the arts. Be very understanding, since your progeny is a rugged individualist and will act only as he or she sees fit, which is good. The chart of a true genius.

Food Prices At Fair Are Within Reason

NEW YORK WORLD'S FAIR — It all depends on your taste. Eating is not a luxury at the World's Fair.

According to a survey, more than 50 per cent of the Fair food service facilities offer food at prices ranging from 25 cents for a frankfurter to a main course for $1.50. Sixty-six food establishments with a total seating capacity of 13,091 fall into this low-cost category.

In the $1.50 to $3 price range the survey found 22 restaurants seating 5,430. Eleven restaurants with 3,853 seats charge from $3 to $4.50. Another 11 restaurants with 3,146 seats offer meals from $4.50 to $6 while 13 restaurants seating 3,214 are in the over $6 category.

Snack bars located throughout the Fair grounds but without seating facilities were not included in the survey. This would have substantially increased the total of inexpensive eating places.

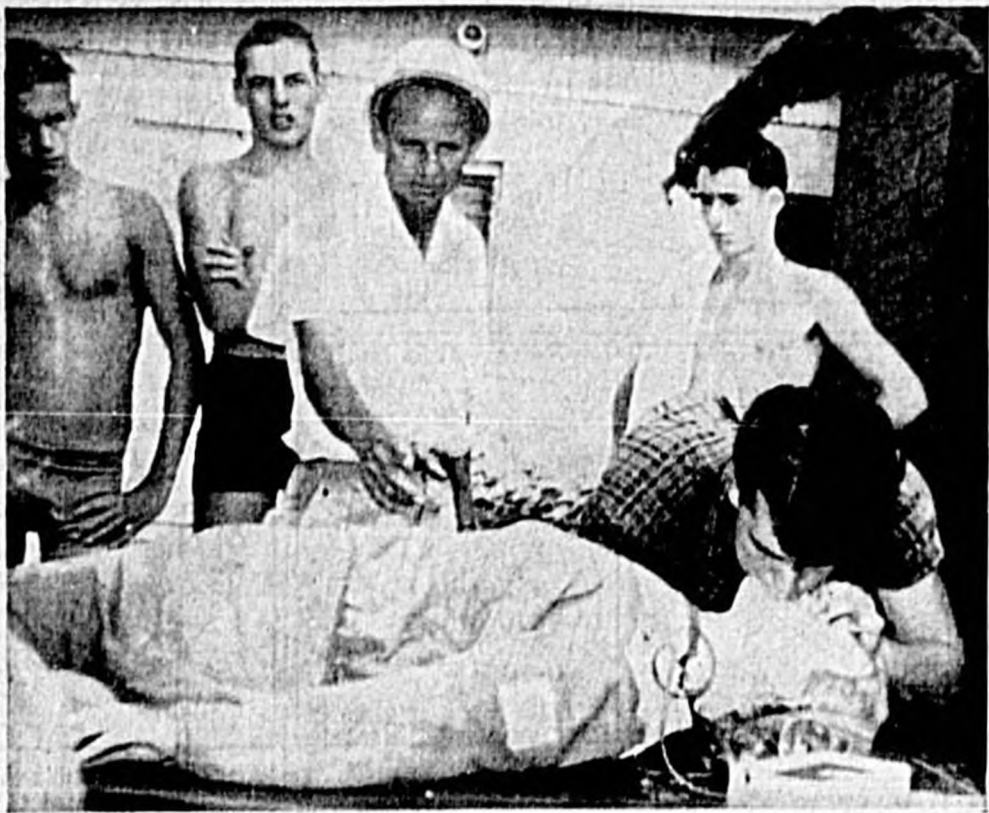

The present restaurant and dining area capacity at the Fair of 28,734 seats will be augmented by 8,150 within the next two weeks. More than half of these new facilities will be offering inexpensive menus, according to the survey.

Among the low-priced food service facilities now operating, the 25 Brass Rail refreshment centers, with a 2,160 seating capacity, offer 25-cent frankfurters, 35-cent hamburgers and a wide variety of sandwiches under 65-cents. The Chun King Inn, with 600 seats serves a seven variety dinner for 99 cents. A complete steak dinner for $1.10 is obtainable at Tad's Steak House in the Wisconsin Pavilion. The New York State Pavilion provides a full turkey dinner for $1.50. Louisiana has steak and chicken dinners for $1.99. The survey also showed many restaurants serving entrees in the $1.50 range.

Burns In First Appointment

MIAMI (UPI) — "Governor" Haydon Burns offered the first appointment of his new administration Wednesday, but said he will withhold the rest until he is elected in November.

Burns disclosed at a news conference that he plans to be moved into the state Capitol long before his inauguration in January, but not in the governor's office.

"That title is getting a little closer to accurate each time I hear it. Of course, we still have November ahead of us," said Burns when some of his supporters addressed him as governor.

The Democratic nominee faces the formality of a general election contest against Republican Charles Holley of St. Petersburg in the fall.

On the matter of appointments, Burns said he does not plan any until after November, and emphasized that "I do not have a single commitment for any appointment."

But he said one man he will definitely ask to join his staff in Tallahassee will be William White, his executive secretary for the 15 years. Burns has served as mayor of Jacksonville.

Burns said also that he will accept an offer from Gov. Farris Bryant of office space in the state Capitol to use to organize his administration and help make the transition from Bryant to Burns smooth.

SLAVE GIRL DANCERS, Mola Ayers, left, and Susan Lergen, talented dancers of the Studio School of Dance, will appear in a recital presented by their teacher, Miss Marilyn Sprouse, Saturday, May 30, at Pinecrest School at 7:30 p.m. There will be no admission charge.

4 Exiles Shot, Castro Reports

HAVANA (UPI)—The Castro regime today announced the firing squad execution of four Cubans described as "central Intelligence Agency agents."

The official note said the four men had been captured on the north coast of central Las Villas Province while seeking to infiltrate. The date of their capture was not announced. The men were identified as Felipe Vidal Santiago, Ladislao Gonzalez Benitez, Elias Rivera Bella and Alfredo Valdes Linares.

In Miami, exile sources said Felipe Vidal Santiago was a 38-year-old former Cuban navy commander who headed a group here known as the United Front of National Liberation.

But he had dropped out of the news there in recent months.

Prospective jurors were being interviewed this morning in the courthouse prior to the opening of the June term of court. County Judge C. Vernon Mize is presiding. He told the jurors the caseload indicated a weeklong session. Prosecuting the cases will be Atty. Karlyle Housholder.

Congratulations to you and me and five others. You'll recall the Florida Highway Patrol predicted 13 of us wouldn't be around this morning—being victims of highway mishaps. Their prediction failed to materialize. Early this morning United Press International had the total at six.

Probably the hottest spot in the state last Friday was the scene of the Interstate 4 dedication ceremony. The sizzling sun blistered officials and spectators alike as the thermometers soared near the 100-degree mark.

At that dedication even Gov. Farris Bryant was impelled to comment on the "glorious Florida sunshine". "But," he added, "there can be too much of even a good thing." And Old Sol was sure making his presence felt on that unshaded strip of pavement.

But the opening of this "critical" 23 miles of limited access highway right now when so many folks are headed for the beach was worth the sweating for the 60 minutes or so.

Seminole County was well represented in the gallery as well as on the platform at the ceremony. City officials, legislators, county officers, chamber of commerce officials and directors, and interested highway users indicated their appreciation of the facility by attending the dedication.

Erstwhile Sanfordite, John Krider Jr., was the State Road Dept. man who had much to do with the smooth-running procedure. He is working out of the Deland SHD office now, our covering photographer, Bill Vincent, tells us.

You'll enjoy a jaunt to Daytona Beach over this road, but be careful of the shoulder because they have not been finished yet. A wheel dropping off the edge of the pavement at the wrong spot could cause trouble. So, take it easy—and have fun!

Oh yes, and speaking of the brilliant sun on Friday, you should hear—and see—some of the participants in Seminole High School Senior Day at New Smyrna Beach. Even these young experienced "suntanners" came home uncomfortably burned. But though the thoroughly enjoyable day sent them home "dead-tired" and "red as beet", no one called them "Dead-beets." Ain't that awful?!

Colleges now are releasing "honors" announcements. It's good to see some of our fine young people in the lists. Recently, from U. of Florida's University College, came the dean's list that included Lawrence Pivec Jr., and Desta Horner. Desta was one of the recipients of the Chase & Co. Chun-King scholarships about three years ago, and she has justified the judgment of the awarding scholarship committee by earning topflight grades each trimester.

And initiated into the Junior college scholastic fraternity, Phi Theta Kappa, is Chandler H. (Chip) Sharon Jr., at Orlando Junior College.

That "tin warehouse" at Fifth Street and Laurel Avenue that was almost totally destroyed by fire recently presents a "not so good" picture to the tourists and others who come to the Jaycee Information booth a hundred or so feet away. Do you suppose the owners, since there apparently is no intention of rebuilding it, will demolish the eye-sore?

The June meeting of the North Orlando Civic Association will be held at 8 p. m. today in the Civic Building.

GOV. FARRIS BRYANT is shown as he cut the ribbon to officially open that portion of Interstate 4 between Daytona Beach and Sanford. Shown with the governor is John R. Phillips, chairman of the State Road Board. The ceremony was held last Friday near Daytona Beach.

I-4 Brings Daytona Within Easy Reach

Daytona Beach is slightly more than a half hour away from Sanford, now that the new Interstate 4 has been officially opened.

Wendall Jarrard, chairman of the Florida Development Commission; Buddy Lewis, Ralph Davis and Jay Brown of the State Road Department, Seminole County Rep. Jan Fortune; Sen. Mack N. Cleveland Jr.; Also, Volusia County Rep. Jim Sweeney; Charles Moore, vice president of the Daytona Beach Chamber of Commerce; Robert Coleman, chamber highways chairman, Fred Kent, president of the Deland Chamber of Commerce.

The $3,475,000 stretch of road completes Interstate 4 from U. S. 92 in Daytona Beach to Highway 46 west of Sanford.

Central Florida residents are expected to take advantage of the reduced driving time and make more frequent visits to the Atlantic beaches.

The Friday ceremony now means that 127 miles of Interstate 4 are open between Daytona Beach and Tampa with only 11.1 miles remaining to be built from State Road 431 at Longwood to downtown Orlando. The stretch from Sanford to 431 is paved but not fully complete.

Bryant applauded the efforts of Max Brewer and Fitchie Green of the State Road Department in getting the interstate built. He noted Florida is now sixth in the nation in commitment of interstate funds.

Bryant was introduced by John C. Cobb, Daytona Beach attorney who represents the State Road Board.

Daytona's Mayor Owen Eubank gave the welcoming address and the Rev. Paul Ed. pastor of the First Presbyterian Church, gave the invocation.

Guests on the platform were John R. Phillips, chairman of the State Road Board.

Canvass Board Meets Today Or Tuesday

TALLAHASSEE (UPI) — The State Canvassing Board will meet late today or Tuesday to make official the results of the May 26 primary in which Hayden Burns of Jacksonville won the Democratic nomination for governor.

Unlike the first primary May 5, no races in the runoff were so close that the canvassing board tally could have changed or delayed the results.

Secretary of State Tom Adams, Florida's chief election official, said the difference in the two primaries as far as irregularities and tieing to the letter of the election code was "amazing."

Adams had observers in all 67 counties to watch the voting. And although formal reports are in from only a few, he said from discussions with the deputies there apparently were few law violations.

Just the fact that the deputies were on duty, their presence announced prior to the election, had a salutary effect, Richard Hollahan, who is in charge of Adams' election section, said.

No Quorum At Nerih Orlando

A special meeting of the North Orlando Village Council called for Friday night by Councilmen Dave Tison and Mona Grinstead was canceled for lack of a quorum after the mayor, Mrs. Irene Van Eppol, and the other two councilmen, Arthur Ferrin and Arthur Rhodes, failed to appear.

Tison, speaking briefly before the audience of some dozen citizens, explained that the meeting had been legally called according to charter and that its sole purpose was to have been for discussion of the police situation and to fill the office of the village clerk.

The regular June meeting of the council will be held Tuesday evening at which time public hearing is scheduled for Mayor Van Eppol and Ferrin on charges of "total complicity in misappropriation of public funds" leveled through petition at the May meeting calling for "both removal from office" of both officials.

Steps for the establishment of a Seminole County junior college are being studied by a committee of the Seminole Chamber of Commerce's Long-Range Planning Committee.

Supreme Court Scraps Florida Bible Reading

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The Supreme Court today abruptly reversed a Florida Supreme Court ruling that permitted Bible reading and recitation of the Lord's Prayer in public schools.

The high court cited its decisions of last term that devotional exercises of this kind are an "establishment of religion" forbidden by the constitution.

Florida law requires Bible reading but does not mention other practices.

A group of Miami parents had also objected to baccalaureate programs, questioning children about their religious affiliation and that of their parents; and a religious test for teachers.

The court's brief order today dismissed these complaints "for want of properly presented federal questions."

Members of the complaining group are either Jewish, Unitarian or Agnostic.

The case came to the U. S. Supreme Court last term after Florida tribunals had struck down such state practices as use of the school premises after hours for Bible instruction, exhibition of religious films in the schools, and presentation of Christmas, Easter and Chanuka programs.

The U. S. Supreme Court sent the case back for further consideration in light of its decision on Bible reading and the Lord's Prayer. But the Florida Supreme Court approved the practices a second time on the ground that their purpose was to encourage good moral training rather than to promote religion.

Accord First With Soviets Since 1930s

MOSCOW (UPI)—The United States and Russia today signed a consular agreement paving the way for a Soviet consulate in New York, Chicago or San Francisco and an American consulate in Leningrad.

The agreement was the first bilateral pact between the United States and the Soviets since the 1930s. It assures American citizens traveling or resident in the U. S. S. R. of prompt access to U. S. officials if they are arrested or detained. Soviet citizens in the United States have similar rights.

Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko hailed the agreement as another step in lessening cold war tensions, but U. S. Ambassador Foy D. Kohler warned that "we have a long way to go before the remaining barriers to free interchange are brought down."

Gromyko said the agreement is a logical step after the nuclear test ban treaty signed by the United States, Britain and Russia last summer.

He called today's signing proof that "in spite of inevitable difficulties the two governments can reach understanding on numerous points."

"This tendency could be more evident if the two governments started new efforts for settlement of other, more important, problems," he added.

Gromyko and Kohler signed the documents in the Spiridonovka palace, a Foreign Ministry ceremonial building.

The treaty, hammered out in negotiations that began Sept. 27, must be ratified by the U. S. Senate and will formally come into being upon exchange of instruments of ratification in Washington.

The agreement provides that U. S. and Soviet officials be informed within three days of the arrest or detention of each other's nationals and may visit and communicate with them within four days.

Soviet authorities in the past have detained Americans for lengthy periods of time. The most recent example was the arrest last November of Yale University Prof. Frederick C. Barghorn who was held incommunicado in Moscow's Lubyanka prison for 14 days before being released. The Russians charged him with spying.

Pigott Takes Issue With SHS Principal

Jim Pigott, Seminole High's head football coach and driver training instructor, stated today that what SHS Principal Andrew Bracken had to say about the Cocoa conference on driver education at last Thursday's school board meeting was the first time he had known that it was necessary for him to attend.

Pigott, unsuccessful candidate for the position as superintendent of county schools in the first primary election, was referring to statements made by Bracken at a school board meeting last Thursday when Pigott was not retained as a summer enrichment program teacher.

At that meeting the board adopted a report of the board of trustees containing its list of teachers recommended for employment this summer. Pigott, who has taught summer driver training classes for several years, was not retained.

Bracken told the board that Pigott had been asked to attend a conference in Cocoa which dealt with a new type of range driver training but that he declined to attend.

Bracken told the board that it was necessary for him not to recommend that Pigott be retained in the summer program.

Several letters to the board intimated that the action replacing Pigott might have been of a "political nature."

Pigott said today that "I was rated a merit teacher in driver education by Mr. Bracken and by the county school administration. What Mr. Bracken had to say about the Cocoa conference on driver education was the first time I realized it was necessary for me to attend."

Pigott continued, "I have attempted similar conferences. They are gatherings of driver education teachers from all over the state and are financed by the state department of education. It is not a school of instruction. It's more for the purpose of hearing speakers."

"I attended a similar driver education conference in Dale County, one of the first counties in Florida to institute range driving. There, we actually saw the range program in operation."

Pigott said that when he was notified by Bracken that he would teach social studies next year instead of driver training, he asked the SHS principal about summer employment. "It was then," said Pigott, "that I was told that a replacement had been obtained who had a later course in range driving."

Concerning driver courses for this summer, Stewart Gatchell of the county school office told The Herald this morning that there will be no range driving program this summer since the range will not be completed. He stated that it was hoped the range would be finished in time for fall classes. However, regular driver courses will be available.

Memorial Death Toll Hits Peak

By United Press International
A record number of traffic deaths occurred on the nation's streets and highways during the Memorial Day weekend. But the National Safety Council said today the actual death rate per mile traveled was one of the lowest in years.

A United Press International count showed 421 persons died in traffic during the holiday period from 6 p. m. Thursday until midnight Sunday.

A breakdown showed:
Traffic 421
Drownings 60
Planes 5
Miscellaneous 73

Total 559

California again led all states in the number of traffic accidents, 36. There were 30 in Texas, 23 in New York and 21 in Illinois. Pennsylvania had 19, Michigan 18, Oklahoma 16, Ohio 15, and Alabama and Missouri 14 each.

The traffic death count soared past the previous record of 371 persons killed over a similar Memorial Day holiday period last year. The safety council had estimated that between 410 and 490 persons would die during this year's 78-hour holiday.
