HOUSE GRANTS ARMS EMBARGO RIGHT TO CHIEF

Authority To Prevent Shipment Of Arms To Warring Nations Asked In Resolution

WASHINGTON, Apr. 17.—(A.P.)—The House today adopted an arms embargo resolution granting President Roosevelt the power to prevent shipment of arms to warring nations.

The Senate agreed to vote this afternoon on a motion to reconsider passage of the Black five-day a week bill thus avoiding tabling the motion which would have shut off debate.

The Senate judiciary committee referred to a sub-committee the question of whether the Louisiana citizen's petition making political charges against Senator Long and urging his removal was receivable and privileged for publication by the Senate.

Speaker Rainey predicted the House will begin consideration of the President's Tennessee valley program before the week is out. In the first open criticism of the economic parity initiated by President Roosevelt, Senator Long, Democrat, Louisiana, yesterday read into acceptance by various of the powers a move to fight American monetary expansion.

Although adding in a formal statement that he "welcomes" the economic conversations for some reasons, the outspoken Louisianian asserted that in them "America is meant to be shown the broad knowledge and experience of our European neighbors in the affairs of this country for their own interest."

As he battled about in preparation for opening today a drive in the Senate to attack a monetary expansion proviso to the administration farm relief bill, Long pecked out on his own typewriter a statement to the effect that "our plans for building up a sound monetary system should not be interfered with" by foreign nations.

He took pains to set forth his belief that European nations were interested in keeping America, on a strict gold basis, ailing that this would allow them to continue through their own depreciated (Continued On Page Two)

Hearing On Sholtz Debt Funding Bill Set For Wednesday

That "public officials whose names are being stepped on, as well as bondholders, who want their pound of flesh," will be in Tallahassee on Wednesday night to protest against the administration's Debt Funding bill which will give a public hearing at that time, is an opinion expressed by Governor Dave Sholtz in a letter to The Herald today.

The bill, which Governor Sholtz declares "is not perfect, but is at least an honest effort in the right direction toward solving the problem," recently was introduced in the House. It provides for the appointment of a registrar for bankrupt cities and counties and the creation of a debt funding commission at Tallahassee with supervisory powers over city and county fiscal policies.

If an trying to get to help the people," Governor Sholtz said in explaining his view of the bill, "there is no use trying to fool around, and we ought to have enough to face the music. The solution to the debt problem, a courageous effort to meet it, an honest effort to pay within our capacity to pay, and then there will be some future for all of us. The bond problem is a major problem, it is not the major problem."

It is understood that several local persons will be at the public hearing in Tallahassee Wednesday night, persons who may be named representatives, and among the latter taxpayers of the commission.

Roosevelt Attends Egg Rolling Contest

WASHINGTON, Apr. 17.—(A.P.)—President Roosevelt paid a surprise visit today to hundreds of children who attended the White House Easter egg rolling. They had been disappointed because the grass was so wet they couldn't roll their eggs but when the President, unexpectedly appeared on the south porch with the whole Roosevelt family the child faces lighted with happiness. "I am glad to see you all," said the President, "and wish I could come out there with you. There are just as many grown-ups out here today as children." The President gave them a high-five and a big hug, and was as he returned to the executive mansion.

TRIALS PUT OFF FOR NEGROES ON ATTACK CHARGES

Action Is Taken After Patterson Is Given Sentence Of Death

DECATUR, Ala., Apr. 17.—(A.P.)—The trials of eight negroes charged with attacking two white women on a freight train near Scottsboro, were postponed indefinitely today by Judge James Horton after he scored a scathing criticism of Alabama jurymen in a published statement attributed to Samuel Leibowitz, chief defense counsel. The action came after the judge sentenced Heywood Patterson, first of the negroes to be retried, and convicted, to die in the electric chair June 16.

A new movement to transfer the Scottsboro case from north Alabama appeared certain today as attorneys, witnesses and victims gathered for the trial of Charles Weems, 32, second of nine negroes charged with purported attacks on two white girls to face trial.

Weems' trial was set for today in Morgan circuit court under a change of venue from Jackson county where he and seven companions were convicted and sentenced to death two years ago. The United States supreme court nullified the previous trials.

Joseph R. Brodsky, of New York, employed by International Labor Defense in behalf of the negroes, asked as Weems a continuance of Apr. 18 for a continuance to support a motion for a change of venue. To this Samuel S. Liebowitz, chief of defense counsel, in New York added the word that a change of venue "probably to Mobile" would be asked on the ground prejudice here would prevent a fair trial.

If the movement to transfer the trials to a cosmopolitan center fails, then a motion to quash the venire because of alleged "systematic and arbitrary exclusion of negroes from juries" solely because of their race, will be filed.

This action was taken in behalf of Heywood Patterson, 19, first of the negroes to be retried, whom a jury convicted with the death penalty last Sunday. Liebowitz in an address Saturday night in New York said "we will charge our lives with threatened, that during the trial (of Patterson) it was necessary to have military protection and that this surely indicates without doubt, that we cannot obtain fair trials in Decatur, which is a hotbed of intolerance and open prejudice.

None of the defense attorneys had arrived yesterday and the negroes still were confined in jail at Birmingham. The attorneys were expected in time for the opening of court at 8:30 A. M. today, and the negroes probably will be brought here before that hour.

National guardsmen who maintained order during the trial of Patterson already were here ready to take up their duties again. Attorney General Knight, declining the prosecution, has announced he will oppose motions for a continuance, change of venue or motion to quash the venire. Knight successfully defended before Judge James B. Horton who is presiding, motions to quash the indictment against the negroes and a similar motion against the venire. The week before Patterson's trial was begun.

P. O. JOBS ARE NOT IN DANGER, SAYS FARLEY

Patronage Dispenser States Republican Postmasters Will Not Be Turned Out

WASHINGTON, Apr. 17.—(A.P.)—Notice was given job-hungry Democrats yesterday by Postmaster General Farley that efficient Republican postmasters will not be appointed until their terms have expired.

Turning his back on the policy of "to the victors belong the spoils," Farley said the party long had nurtured the civil service system of competitive examinations and declared "this administration will not abandon that high ground."

To several thousand Republican postmasters still in office and to many times that number of Democrats who want the jobs, Farley gave this message in a formal statement:

"No incumbent whose term has not yet expired and who has been rendering loyal and efficient service to the government, need have the slightest fear of removal. It will be the policy of the post office department to fill out the term of postmaster to full out his term."

Farley, who also is the administration's patronage dispenser, has not yet announced the party's policy as to other federal offices, such as district attorneys, marshals, and collectors. These positions are not under civil service.

In the next few days the machinery for naming postmasters nevertheless is expected to be thrown into high gear. There are approximately 2500 vacancies to be filled immediately out of a total of 15,000 positions.

Postmasters are appointed for four years and some Republicans will remain in office until almost the close of the Roosevelt administration. No postmasters were confirmed, however, at the lame duck session beginning last December.

Farley said there "has not been the slightest 'back' for reports that the administration intended to abandon civil service examinations in selecting eligible candidates for postmasters."

A thoroughgoing study is now being made in the Postoffice Department under the direction of Joseph C. O'Mahoney, first assistant postmaster general, as to the manner in which postmaster examinations have been conducted in the past.

Farley added that the agreement "has an intention of abrogating the advice of members of Congress with respect to the qualifications and fitness of eligible applicants in the various congressional districts."

4 Negroes Skid Off Lake Monroe Bridge

Prosecutor Asks For Britons' Conviction

MOSCOW, Apr. 17.—(A.P.)—Prosecutor Vishinskiy today recommended dismissal of charges against Albert Gregory but insisted on conviction of five other British engineers of the Metropolitan-Vickers Electrical Company for "spies, saboteurs, and saboteurs." The prosecutor also asked money for the release of the 11 Russian defendants on the ground they partially redeemed themselves by betraying the other defendants.

MAN FALLS TO DEATH SEEKING TO ESCAPE LAW

Attempt At Escaping From Window Leads To Fatal Descent

NEW YORK, Apr. 17.—(A.P.)—While justice department agents and detectives rapped on his door, Edward Horstman, 35, alleged wireless operator for a liquor syndicate in Charleston, S. C., yesterday tried to escape by a window.

Apparently in preparation for unwelcome visitors, Horstman had knotted several sheets together and tied one end of them to the radiator in his hotel room. He hoped to lower himself to the roof of an adjoining building three stories below, to which he already had tossed a revolver and an automatic.

Just as the authorities broke down his door, however, his improvised rope parted and he plunged to death between the buildings.

It was the same hotel in which Jack "Legs" Diamond was critically shot Oct. 12, 1930, by gunmen who never have been caught.

In Horstman's room was a blonde woman who identified herself as Peggy Clark, a waitress. She said she had met Horstman in a night club several weeks ago but knew little about him. She was released after questioning.

Horstman was indicted in Charleston for liquor smuggling, and Samuel Gerston, department of justice agent at Charleston, came here about a week ago with a warrant for his arrest. Two agents here were assigned to locate him, and it was they and two city detectives who trailed him to the hotel room.

Gerston said he had been after Horstman continuously for three days, and nights.

In Horstman's room was a case of wires, insulators, switch and tools and a wireless code book. The department of justice agent said they believed Horstman was the wireless operator for the liquor smuggling ring, but had no details of his alleged activities.

Horstman also had an elaborate wardrobe of a dozen suits, most of them new, 10 costly hats and other clothes. Two gallon jugs of liquor were on a table.

Horstman was said by police to have been known in the white light belt here as "Big Eddie," where he apparently had the reputation of being a big liquor runner. He had no police record here, but was arrested in West Hoboken, N. J., in 1924 for illegal possession of a revolver.

FLORENCE, Ariz., Apr. 17.—(A.P.)—Winnis Ruth Judd, convicted "trunk murderer," may win another brief reprieve from death. With many witnesses yet to be heard it seemed possible today the verdict on her sanity hearing might not be reached by dawn Friday, the time set for her hang for the murder of Agnes Leola. Members of the state board of pardons and paroles which refused to modify her sentence indicated they would grant her a short reprieve should one be necessary to complete the hearing.

SAM JONES, FISH MARKET OWNER, IS DEATH VICTIM

36-Year-Old Merchant Is Suffocated From Burning Mattress

Sam Jones, 36-year old fish and produce merchant, who has operated here for the past 10 years, was suffocated to death at his home in Floral Heights early this morning when, it is believed, a cigarette fell from his hands as he fell asleep on his bed, and set fire to the mattress.

A short funeral service will be held at the Erickson Funeral Home tomorrow afternoon at 4:00 o'clock. Rev. Melville Johnson, of St. Luke's Cathedral, Orlando, will officiate. The body will be sent to Tarpon Springs where burial will take place at 4:00 o'clock Wednesday afternoon.

Mr. Jones, according to a story told at a coroner's inquest this afternoon, was taken to his home after an intoxicated condition by T. W. Baxter, a friend, shortly before midnight. Mr. Baxter, believing that Mr. Jones might create a disturbance in his neighborhood, locked him in his bedroom with the intention of returning for him early this morning.

At about 6:00 o'clock this morning Mrs. E. M. Howard who resides near the Jones home, telephoned Deputy Sheriff Jack Hickson that the Jones home seemed to be on fire. She was pursuing her investigation of the fire in the early morning.

Deputy Hickson arrived on the scene within a few minutes, and, breaking down the door of the bedroom, he discovered the room thick with smoke and a jagged edge of flame slowly consuming a mattress on the bed. After some time the smoke had disappeared through the open door and Hickson, who Deputy Hickson had upon, the body of Jones was discovered on the floor in a corner of the room.

"It looked as though he had been overcome when he tried to get out of the room," Deputy Hickson said, "and that when he got out of bed he grappled his way into the corner thinking it was the door. When I found him his body was turned away from the corner, his head on a settee while his feet were under a small table. He was probably choked to death as he turned a way, into the wall, and he fell upon his face."

Except for the mattress and bed clothing, nothing in the room was damaged. There were no signs of a fight on Mr. Jones, who was half clad, giving officers reason to believe that he had awakened before the flames reached him and had stumbled from bed. Five men who had also arrived, quaked over Mr. Jones for several minutes in an attempt to revive him.

Mr. Jones, according to Steve Brown, was born in Kerosim, Turkey on Dec. 6, 1906. He had lived in America for more than 21 years and was a naturalized citizen. He came to Sanford 10 years ago from the Canal Zone, and set up in business as a fish and produce merchant.

Surviving him are a father and two step brothers now living in Turkey or Greece, Mr. Brown said. His body was at the Erickson Funeral Home today. Members of Sanford's lodge were assisting in burial arrangements for Mr. Jones was a member of the local lodge.

Mrs. Stone was born in Ohio on Oct. 11, 1869, and had lived at Geneva with her sister, Mrs. Nellie Thomas, for some time. She is survived by two daughters, Mrs. J. H. FISH WILL ASK INTERVENTION OF U. S. IN CUBA

Sees Reign Of Terror Upon Island As One Of Most Important Things Facing U. S.

WASHINGTON, Apr. 17.—(A.P.)—Representative Fish (R. N. Y.), asserted last night he would demand of Secretary Hull that there be "diplomatic intervention to end the reign of terror in Cuba" unless the new administration "takes action within a week or ten days."

"The Cuban reign of terror, with people being shot down in cold blood, is one of the most important things that could confront this country," Fish said. "In Germany where not a single Jew was killed at first, we had mass meetings of protest in this country and state department action. 'Nothing has been done in Cuba where men are being shot down, the press suppressed and where there is no such thing as liberty, the reason is simply that there are 1,000 Cubans and 4,000 Jew'."

"I can't see the use of a student note to Japan about Manchuria where we have only a few million dollars invested, and saying nothing about Cuba, where Americans own three-quarters of the property."

"There is just one thing to do—send a strong ambassador to Cuba and have him inform President Machado that the state of (Continued On Page Four)

Many Persons To Join Motorcade Visiting DeLand

This county will be well represented at the St. Johns Valley Day celebration in DeLand next Thursday afternoon, according to Jos. L. Marquette, trade body member who last week undertook the responsibility of arranging a motorcade of cars that will leave the City Hall here at 10:45 o'clock for DeLand.

Mr. Marquette this morning said that already many persons have either contacted him or trade body officials to say that they will be glad to form a part of the motorcade, and that they will have a car full of passengers. He urged all persons planning to attend the celebration to register their names at the trade body office at once so that an adequate number of stickers and signs may be prepared to place on the cars during the parade.

He also said that Chase and Co. has promised to enter one of their large trucks with a trailer upon which will be exhibited a popular small car of late model. R. J. Reed, local Justice dealer, also expects to enter a few autos to help make the motorcade as large as possible.

The motorcade will leave Sanford at 10:45 o'clock, and will arrive at the DeLand Fair Ground in plenty of time to be parked before the serving of a free barbecue at noon.

Ordinance Drawn By City Regulating Sanford Beer Sale

 town's part-time school in the Hill House Co. building.

In addition, various grocery stores in walking sections of the city, as well as filling stations where soft drinks are sold, may be licensed from selling beer or wine, for the same reason.

Unaware that the beer bill, passed yesterday in the Florida House, provides that no city or county retailers' license shall be more than $7.50, the Commissioners approved the $25 and $50 license fees provided for in the local ordinance.

The $25 fee was to have a one percent of persons wishing to sell beer or wine to be consumed off the premises, while the $50 fee was for operating restaurants, soda fountains, or similar places which would sell beer on the premises. Needless to say, both fees will be eliminated or made to conform with the state law, which bill goes on final reading.

Here are the highlights of the local beer ordinance which came up for final reading at the Commission meeting on Monday night, Apr. 11:

Definition of terms: (a) The term person as used in the ordinance shall mean and include a natural person or other sex, person, co-partnership, corporation, and associations of persons; and shall include the agent or manager of any of the aforesaid.

(b) "Non-intoxicating malt liquor" shall mean any potable malt beverage with an alcohol content of more than one-half one percent by volume, at 60 degrees Fahrenheit, and not more than 32 percent by weight.

(c) A "bona fide club" as used herein shall be any club organized for social or business purposes, or for the promotion of sports, or the serving of such liquors is incidental to and not the major purpose of the club.

(d) "Original package" as used in the ordinance shall mean the bottled or sealed container in which the liquor is placed at the place of manufacture.

(e) "Cafe" or "Restaurant" as used in this ordinance shall mean any place where preparing and serving lunches or meals to the public to be consumed on the premises constitutes the major business thereof.

After pointing out that "no person shall sell, vend, deal in, or dispose of, by sale or otherwise, or keep or offer for sale, any beer without first securing either an "on-sale" or "off-sale" license, the ordinance states that "All applications for any license... shall be made to the City Commission... at any regular meeting thereof, and shall set forth the name of the person applying for such license, his age, representations as to his character with such references as may be required, his citizenship, the location where such business is to be carried on, whether such application be for "on-sale" or "off-sale" license, the business in connection with which the proposed license will operate, whether applicant is owner or operator of such business, the time such applicant has been in that business at that place, and such other information as the governing body may require from time to time."

The ordinance declares that license fees shall be $25 or $50, depending upon the kind of license purchased. "The license year... shall begin on the 1st day of October... and shall expire on the 30th day of September."

1. No license shall be granted to any person under 21 years of age.

2. No license shall be granted to any person who has been convicted of a felony or of violating the national prohibition act or any law of the State of Florida, or ordinance of the City... relating to the manufacture, sale or transportation of intoxicating liquors.

3. No license shall give permission to sell non-intoxicating malt liquor or wines in any theater, recreation hall, or entertainment hall, ball park, or any other place of public gathering for the purpose of entertainment, amusement, or playing of games, and no such liquors shall be consumed there.

4. No "on-sale" license shall be granted for sale in connection with any business or club where such business or club has not been in operation at that place for at least 90 days immediately preceding such application.

5. No license shall be granted for sale on any premises where a license has been convicted of the violation of this ordinance or where any license previously has been revoked for cause, for at least one year after the said conviction or revocation.

6. No sale of any non-intoxicating malt liquor or wines shall be made to any person under guardianship, nor to any person under 21 years of age.

7. No gambling, nor any gambling device shall be permitted in any licensed premises.

8. All licenses granted under this ordinance shall be issued to the applicant only and shall be issued for the premises described in the application.

9. No "on-sale" license shall be granted for any place of business within 500 feet of any public school, or within 500 feet of any church.

10. Licenses shall be granted only to persons who are citizens of the United States and residents of Sanford, and of good character.

The ordinance provides that "No sales of any non-intoxicating malt liquor or wines shall be made between the hours of 12:00 midnight and 6:00 o'clock in the morning of any day, and from Saturday midnight until 6:00 o'clock Monday morning."

No club shall sell non-intoxicating malt liquor or wine except to members and to guests in the company of members.

In any place licensed for "on-sale", the liquor sold shall be served or consumed at tables in the dining or refreshment room of the drug store, cafe, restaurant, or hotel, or club, and shall not be consumed or served at bars; provided the same may be served at counters equipped with stools or seats.

All premises for which an "on-sale" license may be granted shall be on the street level and all windows in the front of such place shall be of clear glass, and the view of the whole interior when the holder thereof to serve non-intoxicating malt liquor or wine shall be unobstructed by screens, curtains or partitions.

There shall be no partition wall, screen or curtain, or other device which shall obstruct the view of any part of said room from the general observations of persons in the room; provided however, that booths entirely open on one side and set off by partitions, subdivisions, or panels no higher than 56 inches from the floor shall not be construed as in conflict with the foregoing, provided nothing herein shall exclude the serving of said non-intoxicating malt liquors in any regular hotel dining rooms, and provided however, such license shall entitle the holder thereof to serve non-intoxicating malt liquor or wine in a separate room of such restaurant or hotel at banquets or dinners at which are present not less than six persons.

The ordinance provides for the revocation of all licenses, declares all other ordinances in conflict as repealed, make violation of any of the provisions punishable by a fine not to exceed $200 or by a 90-day jail sentence and become effective immediately upon passage and adoption.

Professor Piccard Plans New Flight Into Stratosphere From Soldier Field at A Century of Progress Exposition

Chicago, April 15.—Last summer Professor August Piccard captured the world's imagination by soaring 53,828 feet above the earth into the stratosphere—in a hermetically-sealed aluminum sphere. He reached the greatest height ever attained by any living being and brought back a startling description of the strange world that lies beyond our atmosphere.

Because the ascent was made from the Dübendorf aerodrome near Zurich, Switzerland, only a few thousand people witnessed this historic event.

This summer, however, when the daring Swiss scientist returns to the stratosphere, he will probably start from Soldier Field on the grounds of A Century of Progress—Chicago's 1933 World's Fair—in the presence of hundreds of thousands of spectators.

Discusses His Plans
 Plans to make the World's Fair, which opens on June 1, the starting point for his next stratospheric expedition were disclosed by Professor Piccard when he visited A Century of Progress recently with his brother, Jean, as guest of Prof. Henry Crew, chief of the Exposition's pure science division. Conferences are now being held with American rubber and metal manufacturers.

The grounds of A Century of Progress are a peculiarly fitting place for Professor Piccard to start because the Exposition itself is a huge demonstration of man's progress during the last century in scientific achievement—progress that Professor Piccard's new flight is admirably designed to dramatize.

In addition to this Chicago is the home of Professor Arthur Compton, winner of the Nobel prize for his discovery of the mysterious cosmic rays, which continuously bombard the earth from outer space and which may provide man with a new source of energy after his present fuel resources are exhausted. It is the observation of these mysterious rays that is the object of Professor Piccard's flights into the stratosphere.

The tremendous, startling possibilities involved in a successful solution of sources of energy that can be transformed into heat and power may be grasped mentally, by Professor Piccard's illustrations. "Calculations show that energy liberated from the modification of atoms contained in six drops of water would suffice to light up a city for several hours."

Answers Queries
 In making tentative plans for the flight, Professor Piccard replied to queries of those curious to know just what the upper region, 10 miles or so above Chicago, looks like.

"The sky is beautiful, ten miles up—a bluish purple—almost black—but not quite dark enough to see the stars."

The practical side of Professor Piccard's expeditions into the stratosphere has already been demonstrated, he points out. Stratospheres are already being constructed in various countries on principles developed in the aluminum sphere used on his last voyage. A flight between New York and Paris will undoubtedly be made in from six to eight hours by use of this new plane, he predicts.

The aluminum gondola in which Professor Piccard soared above the earth at Zurich, August 18, 1932, will be seen by visitors to the Exposition in the Hall of Science. It is a globe about six feet in diameter, hermetically sealed, equipped with observation windows, parachutes and breathing apparatus.

Local Ball Team Is Prepared For Orlando Contest

Manager Joe Barnes this morning declared his 1932 Central Florida Baseball League team ready for the opening game of the season, to be played in Orlando at Tinker Field tomorrow afternoon at 3:30 o'clock.

Two weeks of training ended today, he said, and he feels that he has the best team in the loop, and one that is at least 25 percent better than last year's great nine.

While he did not announce his starting line-up, it will be composed from the following list of eligible players: infielders, Barnes, Maltby, Arioli, Moore, Abbott, Chapman, Tillis, Higgins, outfielders, Harrison, Newcomb, Schirard, Minor, Holt, Mabeffer, Corey, Torrible, as pitchers.

From Orlando, Manager Squire Godbold has announced that his starting line-up will be as follows: Leubb of Tom Phillips, pitching; Godboe or Ellis Taylor, catching; Walter Peel, 1st; Mickey Thomas, 2nd; Red Brown, short; Bob Pittman, third; Dan Coops, Dave Overstreet, and Leroy Hall in the outfield.

Mayer S. Y. Way, of Orlando, will toss out the first ball, and Umpire Bly Driskill will officiate. Accommodations have been made to seat more than 2500 persons, and, because of a long-time feud between the two cities, a crowd nearing that figure, is expected to attend.

LOW FLYING GERB

They moved, though moveless... low flying gerb

This "Share the Work" campaign has been particularly popular among the younger people

If anyone thinks it is funny that all the details recited concerning the wreck of the Akron

Representative Robinson, of Ohio, used his head when he introduced his beer bill

Disarmament conferences have had their day but armament has not

Governor Olson, Scandinavian Farmer-Laborite governor of Minnesota, promises big things for his country

Beer And Its Control

With the return of light wines and beer to Florida, if the Senate concurs in last week's action of the House

It was not so much the effects of liquor itself which brought about the revulsion of feeling resulting in the Eighteenth Amendment

And again, it has not been nearly so much the bootleggers' poison liquor or the younger generation's gin parties which have so altered public sentiment regarding prohibition

All appearances would seem to indicate that we are entering a new era with regard to liquor and its management

It will be difficult, of course, to find at once the perfect way or to eliminate in advance new evils which are sure to appear

Beer and wine, under the new experiment, should be sold by every restaurant, drug store, grocer or other legitimate concern or law-abiding citizen that wants to sell it

At the same time the retail price of such beverages should be made as low as possible

Henry Ford's Plan

Henry Ford, always an apostle of keeping abreast, if not ahead of the times, sees an almost complete decentralization of the automobile manufacturing business

Mr. Ford says that when he built the old Highland Park plant in Detroit that it was obsolete when people were calling it the latest thing in industrial production

Already there are 38 assembly plants of the Ford Motor Company operating in every section

Even now, Mr. Ford has laid out seven villages on the upper reaches of the River Rouge

Mr. Ford's plan sounds very good for the factory worker

FIREARMS CONTROL

One of the important measures that should be considered by the state legislature is some form of control of firearms

Local governing bodies seem unwilling or unable to adopt rigid ordinances that will stop this traffic in crime

One bill in the legislature would prohibit the possession of a machine gun by any persons other than those who have some special right to it

Other proposals would make it capital offense to throw bombs on highways or public parks

Any laws that may tend to restrain and punish violence are worthy of favorable consideration

Sanford's horrible record of slaughter continues down to this moment and hardly a week passes that does not record a killing which would have been avoided had pistols not been available

Local Company Gets Fertilizer Contract... C. S. Thompson, local manager for the Atlantic and Gulf Fertilizer Company

Noisily charting his plans for waging his Senate campaign as he roamed about his hotel room in brilliant, rust-colored pajamas

In his statement Long maintained that at first the leaders of foreign countries had "indicated a great aloofness" to conference invitations

"They made it plain that they might send somebody from the king's kitchen cabinet or maybe some other flunkie to talk matters with us, but said they, they would decline to go into any such matters as currency and trade agreements

"While these foreign countries have either gone off the gold standard or remonetized silver and depreciated their own currencies

"Why? Because the sentiment in America is rising by leaps and bounds demanding a restoration of the use of silver for money

"By holding us down to one base of currency and adjusting others for themselves, they have taken our foreign trade

"Long said he would argue these points in the Senate today in pressing either his own farm bill amendment to buy $100,000,000 in silver or that of Senator Wheeler

A test vote on this issue was delayed over the week-end by Senator

But scores of honest people have been shot in the passion of the moment or by accident because there was a weapon in the house or on the person

Big Organizations To Be Operated On Non-Profit Basis

TENTATIVE PLAN FOR INVESTMENT HOUSE REVEALED

NEW YORK—Tentative plans for the organization of two huge investment organizations, to be operated along the lines of mutual life insurance companies and mutual savings banks, without profit to the management, were announced by Frank A. Vanderlip, internationally known banker and one-time president of the National City Bank of New York, recently.

The machinery for setting them up, Mr. Vanderlip indicated, is prepared down to the corporate names, charters and by-laws, and all that is necessary to insure that they become functioning units in the financial world is the necessary executive public approval of the plans.

One of the associations proposed by Mr. Vanderlip would have a portfolio of common stocks. He holds that they might reasonably be expected to grow in size until they had $1,000,000,000 of assets.

The need for institutions to operate in the investment field, providing investors with facilities somewhat along these lines, is sufficiently great to warrant the formation of such associations as he proposes, Mr. Vanderlip said. They would enable the public, he added, to participate, or to withdraw from participation, at any time "at the actual liquidating value of the assets of the association," which would be determined each day.

All the income above operating cost would be paid to participants in proportion to their interests. Any profits also would go to the participants. Directors and officers would receive compensation limited in amount and in the form of salaries.

The plan aims to apply for the benefit of investors the principle of insurance whereby the risk of loss is reduced through wide diversification, Mr. Vanderlip said. Thus, instead of holding a few items subject to wide market fluctuation, investors would own a participating interest in a large number of securities constituting a cross-section of stocks and bonds.

Mr. Vanderlip said his plans called for two associations of the "open-end" type—that is, stock in them would become outstanding only as it was sold to the public.

The corporate form of organization was adopted, he added, because it seemed most economical and best designed to achieve the objectives.

"Both corporations will issue organization capital stock to be owned only by directors after full payment in cash," Mr. Vanderlip continued. "This stock is to have no voting rights, with the exception, however, that at any time 25 percent in interest of the participating stock, which will be owned by the public, will have the right to require a meeting to be called, at which, provided a board of directors selected by the public as participating stockholders may be elected."

Mr. Vanderlip said the capital stock would be limited in amount and subject to redemption "at exactly the price originally paid for it." It will be limited to non-cumulative dividends at 6 percent and be so restricted that, in case any director owned more than 25 percent of the organization capital stock outstanding, the amount over 25 percent would be distributed to the public.

Mr. Vanderlip said the corporation could have the option to repurchase the stock held by him, and it could not be sold to another director without the corporation's consent.

and being seen. They wore cutaway coats, and spats and bright Spring gowns and smart but sunny hats—flat and round and much more striking than the Empress Eugenie style—and they didn't care a fig for the lowering skies. A few carried umbrellas, though.

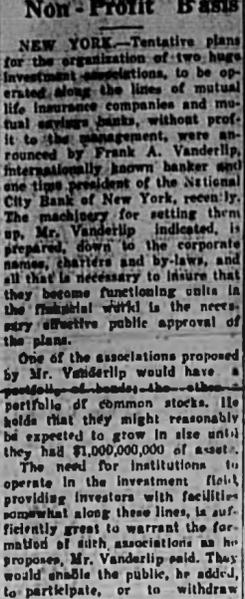

The young ladies who write the society news seemed to think grey was the most popular color, but maybe that was because there are so many shades of it. A lot of women wore grey gowns with hats and shoes of navy blue, the shoes having slightly lower heels this year.

But all the colors wore on parade—brown, green, red, yellow—as kaleidoscope a sight as the Easter promenade ever has presented. The men, of course, wore much the same things they always have.

MISS GUTHRIE BECOMES BRIDE OF W. G. LINGO IN EASTER CEREMONY

In a setting of Easter lilies and fern, one of the most important social events of the season, the marriage of Miss Carmen Guthrie, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ben Hawkins Guthrie, of this city, to Wilbur G. Lingo, of Hendersonville, N. C., son of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Lingo, of Rockwood, Tenn., took place yesterday morning at 8:30 o'clock at the First Presbyterian Church. The Rev. E. D. Browning, pastor of the church, performed the ring ceremony in the presence of a large group of relatives and friends of the couple.

Tall fern stands of Easter lilies and fern, placed against a background of palms and shrubbery, were used to adorn the chancel and altar of the church where the marriage took place. Festoons of the same fern were arranged against the balcony and along the walls of the church, while white satin ribbons and note fern were used to mark the pews.

Preceding the ceremony, Mrs. Gladys Morris Williams, contralto, rendered "O, Promise Me" with accompaniment by Mrs. F. S. Varnay. As the bridal party entered the church Mrs. Fannie Stenbridge Munson, organist, played Lehmann's Wedding March. During the ceremony she played "I Love You Truly," and at its conclusion the bridal party left the church to the strains of Mendelssohn's recessional.

The bride had as her attendant, Miss Lillian Conn, of Orlando, maid of honor, Miss Eugenia Ann Caswell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. B. D. Caswell, flower girl, and Herman Brunley, son of Mr. and Mrs. William S. Brunley, ring-bearer. Rodman Lehman attended the bridegroom as best man while ushers were William DuBois, Albert Jarrell, Eugene Turner, Dick Varnay, and Joe Parrott, of Apopka.

After the entrance of the maid of honor, the ring-bearer, and the flower girl, the bride came in with her ushers, L. A. Brunley, who gave her in marriage instead of her father, who was ill. Her bridal outfit was a three-piece suit of white matelasse crepe worn with white accessories. The blouse of the suit was fashioned with a high collar which crisscrossed in the front and tied in back. The skirt was made along tailored lines while the fingertip length coat was adorned with bands of white fox placed at the wrist. Her hat
