Board of Trade Will Reach 400 Mark

The campaign recently begun for members in the Sanford Board of Trade has resulted in fifty-two new members within two days. Twelve of these are out of the city people which brings the membership of county residents up around the one hundred mark, to say nothing of the large membership held in Sanford and close proximity to the city.

The active campaign will not close for a few days yet and the twenty-four members named in last Friday's Herald say that they are going to put the membership up to the 400 mark. It is conceded by all that our present Board of Trade has already many times over repaid those who were members and those who are causing new members to come in and many old ones to re-join.

As the organization stands today 80 per cent of the membership is in the hands of the farmers and it is their intention to make this organization a broad one along lines that directly benefit their interest and the community at large and arrangements now on foot will soon be perfected wherein they will be realized.

The Board of Trade has now permanently identified itself with the United States Chamber of Commerce of Washington, D. C. This is a mark of distinction and one of intrinsic value to the organization and the individual member and entitles this organization to two delegates annually to the united conventions of a national nature.

The local changes to be made by the Board of Governors within the next few days will materially enhance the value of the Board of Trade and make it still more valuable to those who are fortunate enough to be members.

A big natal hay farm is located in Hernando county. It contains 1,800 acres and was established about two years ago. It is now being shipped and it is expected that the total production this year will be about 18,000 tons. Mr. Pope of Lakeland, is the efficient manager of this immense farm, and as he removes the hay the ground is planted in melons. He has 200 acres in melons now, which will be planted by another crop of hay. The immensity of the farm can be appreciated only by a visit to the premises.

BIG CIRCUS MADE HIT AT ARCADIA

Our Circus Gave the People Great Surprise

The public can best judge a performance from the press notices of some other section where it has been staged and if the notices of the Arcadia and other papers relative to the Kirkland Co. are any criterion of the Red Cross Society Circus that will show here Thursday, Friday and Saturday nights it will be an unqualified success in every particular.

The Society Circus has proven to be an unqualified success and it is an assured fact that the seating capacity tonight will not be able to hold half the people who have not, but will want to see the performance of this, the greatest amusement enterprise that has ever been staged in Arcadia. Crazy Rich, the man who flirts with death and likes it, from the top of the DeSoto National Bank building is the feature free attraction. One cannot attempt to describe this marvelous exhibition and do him justice. The man is either actually crazy or has superhuman nerve and daring. Now we will go to the circus grounds; preceded by the band, and there we will find another dare devil, who amazes the public free of charge by pulling our fire truck along the street by his teeth. The big show is not open so we will have plenty of time to visit the wounded soldiers' trench and relic exhibit. Here you can go through the trenches under the guidance of men who have gone "over the top." They will show you the machine gun emplacements, the dug-outs, the periscope, the listening post, and numerous other features as they are actually found fronting "No Man's Land."

After this wonderful experience you will be shown relics from the battlefields. These will be seen to be appreciated, but we had better hurry for we hear the band playing in the big show next door and we are just in time to see the opening number: "Miss Columbia," featuring Mrs. Mary Durrance, assisted by the home guards under the command of Captain Hayes. This brings forth round after round of applause, but it is quickly followed by the "Haymakers," the act beautiful.

George St. Laurent, the upside down juggler follows with one of the greatest and classic acts of its kind we have ever seen. His work is done on a swinging trapeze and the climax is very spectacular.

Buckskin Bill now has the arena to himself and his exhibition of shooting is marvelous. This old time warrior of the plains was accorded a hearty reception at his first appearance, for he is one of the few remaining frontiersmen who have seen service in the far west as it used to be.

Walton's trained deer present an act that few people would believe possible unless they had seen these deer perform. The deer is recognized as one of God's most timid animals but the three that entertained us for twenty minutes have almost human brains. They showed the result of the untiring patience of their trainer, Mrs. Walton.

The Zimmerman twins are then introduced and their efforts pleased the large audience present.

We thought that "Crazy" Rich had gone the limit when we witnessed his great free outside exhibition but a man who will hold a two hundred pound cannon in his teeth and have it discharged is really crazier than any inmate of an insane hospital.

Then comes the feature of all features attractions that have ever been seen in Arcadia—Marvelous Melville, unequalled sensational aerial gymnast. Of all the trapeze performers we have ever seen he is the only one to put on original acts. Flying from a mammoth pair of buckhorns, fastened to a trapeze board and landing aside a mammoth pair of buckhorns, which made seventy-five revolutions a minute was an act which caused all of us old timers to gasp with amazement.

There being no further business board stands adjourned until next regular meeting in May, 1918.

PATRIOTIC CELEBRATION HERE NEXT THURSDAY OPENING OF BIG CIRCUS

We have witnessed the greatest show on earth, with no apologies to Barnum and Bailey, but the "Fall of the Roses," which was the closing number sent us away with the impression that the Arcadia Society Circus is the greatest of all shows now extant.

Special costumes of pink and silver with elaborate music made it the prettiest thing of its kind we have ever seen.

While we will remember the circus always we will never forget the "Fall of the Roses." The entire circus was produced under the direction of Geo. Kirkland, Jr., and his efficient staff. To Mrs. Kirkland credit must be given for untiring effort, talent of a high order and a most pleasing personality, which made her part of the entertainment rank high.

Arcadia expected something unusual and out of ordinary but she got twice as much for her money as the most optimistic hoped for.

LIEVT. HYMAN SPEAKS

Delivers Address Wednesday Evening on "The Four Interests"

Speaking to an audience of some five hundred friends at the Temple Lieut. George Hyman, Chaplain 328 Infantry, stationed at Camp Gordon, and until recently pastor of the First Baptist Church of Sanford, told how he got into the army—how he was taught to salute, how he had organized his work as chaplain in his regiment, and in general what his duties as chaplain were. His many friends made while living here for five years were delighted that he should come back and speak to them in the old church dressed in the magnificent uniform of the nation, wearing the insignia of an officer and chaplain of our army.

The meeting was advertised to begin at 7:30 and at that time the Temple choir rendered a special selection, and Mr. Mansey, the present pastor of the church took charge of the meeting and after a few remarks as to the meeting presented the chaplain to the audience. Chaplain Hyman began speaking at eight o'clock and held the audience in his usual and characteristic way. His address he was pleased to term "The Four Interests" and was based upon the passage of Scripture that relates how the centurion sent for Jesus Christ to come and heal a servant. The four interests exemplified in this passage and as are needed in this particular time when the nation is in its hour of need were characterized by the chaplain as:

(1) Interest in others, (2) Interest in others, (3) Interest in national life and objects (3) Interest in God; these Dr. Hyman said were the four interests that one should have that the world might be better and the sooner that everyone became interested as outlined, just so soon would this world emerge from strife and war and become a peaceful and prosperous world.

Anniversary of War and Liberty Loan Drive

The anniversary of America's entrance into the war and the launching of the Third Liberty Loan will be fittingly celebrated here next Thursday when the Big Red Cross Circus will parade the streets and with bands and Red Cross nurses and the Seminole Guards and American and British soldiers and all that goes to make up a patriotic parade.

Hon. Forrest Lake, chairman of the Liberty Loan Committee for Seminole county has arranged a short program of speaking and when the parades are over at 11:30 the crowd will be called together at the foot of Magnolia avenue on First street just in front of the Carnes Hotel where the following gentlemen will speak.

Hon. Forrest Lake, Hon. Geo. DeCottes and Judge E. F. Housholder. The entire morning will be given over to the celebration of these three great events, the war and the Liberty Loan and the advertising of the Red Cross Circus.

The event has been advertised in all the neighboring cities and it is expected that large crowds will be here from Orlando, and all the cities between Orlando and Sanford, from Oviedo and Geneva and from DeLand and Daytona and East and surrounding cities.

Everybody come out and help make the day one long to be remembered. The line up of the parade will be as follows:

Parade starts on Tenth street and Sanford avenue at 10:30 Thursday morning. All those participating are requested to be there promptly at that time. The line up will be as follows:

Grand Marshal and Alda Mounted Police Highlander Band City and County Officials Fire Department Seminole County Guards Red Cross Circus performers Red Cross Nurses and Members Uncle Sam and Boy Scouts Battle of Roses Girls Haymakers Girls Sanford Lodges and Fraternities Country Store Sanford Banks — Liberty Loan Bonds Commercial Floats Clowns Float—Water Wagon Colored Auxiliary Red Cross Sanford Colored Band.

See The Trenches The following is from the Arcadia Enterprise about the Society Circus: At the Society Circus one of the most interesting features will be found in visiting the "Wounded Soldiers' Trenches" which are being displayed just outside the main tent. In this exhibit are two wounded Canadians and one Frenchman who have participated in actual warfare in the trenches in France and Belgium, taking part in the battles of Somme and Ypres, which up to the present great battles were the greatest in the present struggle.

These soldiers meet you as you enter, take you into the real trenches first showing you the machine gun emplacement, sniper's post, periscope, wire entanglements, listening emplacement, sniper's post, periscope, located in "no man's land," the dug-out, all of which are real as were experienced in their great struggles for the past two years. Following this you are shown relics from the battle ground, such as German and French uniforms, helmet, bayonets, daggers, shells of all descriptions, hand grenades, and many curios. Among them is a German Major's coat, which shows where the bullet penetrated the wearer's heart.

This performance is interesting and well worth the price many thanks to all who are interested in this great struggle.

What is a War Pie?
A war-pie is a pie made with one crust-an upper or a lower crust. But a war-pie goes one step further than dispensing with one crust. A war pie must give up its share of wheat to help the Food Administration send more wheat abroad.

After you have learned to make this potato pie crust you will hold on to the recipe, even in peace times. For the pie crust is both nutritious and delicious. The potato adds valuable mineral salts. And the use of the vegetable fat supplies its share of body "energy."

It is especially good for meat pies and turnovers and tarts. As crust made with potato shrinks in the baking, be sure to allow for the shrinkage by cutting a little larger than when white flour alone is used.

Potato Pie Crust:
1/2 cup cold mashed potato
1 cup white flour
1/4 teaspoon baking powder
1/4 teaspoon salt
1/4 cup Cottolene
Ice water

Cut mashed potato into the flour into which the salt and baking powder have been sifted. Then cut in the chilled Cottolene. After this is thoroughly blended, add a little ice water to make stiff batter. Roll on slightly floured board. Fold over and chill. Then roll again and fit to greased pie pan. This will make two pies with lower crust only.

POLITICAL ANNOUNCEMENTS

For Member Legislature
To the Democratic Voters of Seminole Co.: I hereby announce my candidacy for representative in the next Florida legislature from Seminole county, subject to the democratic primary to be held June 4th of this year, and invite your consideration of my qualifications.
Respectfully,
J. J. DICKINSON.

Frank L. Woodruff Announces for Legislature
To the Voters of Seminole Co.: I beg to announce that I am a candidate for re-election to the house of representatives from Seminole county. Having served you in that capacity in the session of 1917 I feel I am prepared to give you better service in 1919. I do not know of any reason why you should not give me a second term, which has always been accorded all representatives in the past. I fully appreciate the high honor paid me by electing me in 1917 and I have endeavored at all times to look after the interests of the people of Seminole county and the state of Florida. I hope I have not failed to fulfill your expectations and I trust you will see your way clear to give me a second term. Again thanking you for the many favors bestowed on me in the past I promise that I will be faithful to the trust imposed in me.
Yours very truly,
FRANK L. WOODRUFF.

For County Commissioner
I hereby announce myself a candidate for County Commissioner for the 5th District of Seminole County, subject to action of the Democratic Primary of June 4th, and solicit the votes of all Democrats. My platform is a square deal to all.

Young men's styles for spring by Hart Schaffner & Marx

THEY'RE ready; new shades of smoke gray, olive, brown, blue, Scotch heather shades, pencil stripes, gabardines.

The new military backs, the slash pockets and the seam at the waist line as shown in the picture are smart touches that young men in high school, college and business want and should have.

Boys who are ready for their first long trousers will find all these same live Varsity styles in models made expressly for them by the greatest of all clothes makers, Hart Schaffner & Marx.

Young men, older men and boys are all invited to come in and look around; we're as glad to show as to sell.

BUDGET OF OPINION "JUST BETWEEN YOU AND ME."

EVEN THE GATE POST NOT IN IT

A CHIEF IS AMONG YE TAKING NOTES AND FAITH. "HE'LL PRENT 'EM"...SO SAYS SAUNTERER.

Save Us from the Man with a Whine
I don't mind the man with a red blooded kick
At a real or fanciful wrong
I can stand for the chap with a grouch if he's quick
To drop when joys come along...

I have praise for the fellow who says what he thinks,
Though his thoughts may not fit in with mine,
But spare me from having to mix
with the ginks
Who go through this world with a whine.

I am willing to listen to sinner or saint
Who is willing to fight for his rights
And there's something sometimes in an honest complaint
That the soul of me really delights.

For kickers are useful and grouchers are wise
For the purpose is frequently fine,
But spare me from having to mix
with the guys,
Who go through this world with a whine.

—Topeka Capital.

Mrs. C. M. Berry
Mrs. T. O. Charles

There is not the slightest doubt that the young men from Seminole county who have been called to the armies of Uncle Sam have been benefitted in health amazingly. Look at them when they return to their homes on furlough. Isn't it a fact every one of our lads look healthier, stronger and physically more fit than when they left? Most certainly Sanford mothers will agree that their boys are being well cared for so far as developing health and strength are concerned. Good food, medical attention, fresh air and constant exercise have done their work. It is an unfortunate fact that in private life few get enough of these health necessities, at least not in the proportion required. The army is regenerating the young men in it.

Mrs. Martha Cust
Mrs. R. R. Deas

I do not think many citizens in Sanford will be willing to let the town stand still during the war. It is just as necessary now for the home maker to clean up and prop-perly keep up his premises as it was when we had peace. That being the case for the individual, the same rule holds good for the community of individuals. The war should not be an excuse for community lethargy, alpine and backwardness in Sanford. Let's keep our peepers open and go forward a little if we can.

Mrs. Vance Douglass
Miss L. Fagnworth

We have entered the second year of the war and the occasion is serious enough to cause all of us to stop and ponder over the possibilities. Cut out the frivolous stuff and decide to work for the government as we never worked before. And while we think about it all register the following oath:

"On the anniversary of America's entry into the great war, I affirm my undivided loyalty for the cause for which we fight; the cause of justice and human liberty. I gladly lay down upon the altar of the nation's need my material possessions, my bodily strength and mental powers to serve and to save America and those ideals for which it stands, and to keep the stars and stripes on high with honor, I pledge my hand, my heart and my life."

Mrs. Geo. Fox
Mrs. E. M. Galloway

Sanford did not have a patriotic display last Saturday the anniversary of the first year of the war and the day that the Third Liberty Loan started. Every other city in the United States had one and while there was a rally at the corner of the First National Bank with some good speakers and the band played it was not as large or enthusiastic as it should be. I understand that we are to have a Red Cross Circus here this week or rather the last three nights of the week with a big parade on Thursday. Now why not have a big day here Thursday the day of the big circus parade and let every true American show his colors by joining in and making Thursday our big celebration. The Red Cross and the Liberty Loan can both be put forward that day and we can celebrate the first anniversary of America entering the war. Let everybody get behind this movement.

Mrs. C. L. Goodhue
Miss Annie Hawkins

I am glad to see my country friends and my city friends demanding the city market again and I understand that it will start up again this week. All right, friends, get together on this market idea and you will be helping yourself and your country at the same time.
Bring in your nice fresh vegetables, my country friends. Bring them in Tuesday and Thursday and Saturday mornings and place your wagon or your car at the corner of Palm-to and First streets where the Ryan furniture store is now located, and the city market master, A. D.
Smith and Mayor Davidson will see that you have every attention And then my city friends, get down off your high horses, go down to the market with your market baskets in your cars or afoot and buy your nice fresh vegetables from the farmers who will bring them in. This is the time to start the market going again and whether it will start this week or not I am not in position to say but that it should start now I am thoroughly convinced. This is war times, my friends and all of us must get together for the mutual protection of ourselves and work together collectively for all concerned.

And the city market idea, first conceived and fostered here in this city and afterward taken up by the other cities should be one of our strong institutions for it is a strictly democratic institution.

So get busy on the market idea all of you.

About A Sanford Boy Aviator Harry Carlson graduated from our high school at the age of seventeen; now he has just received his commission as ensign, equivalent to the rank of second lieutenant, from the government, having finished the prescribed course at the naval air station at Pensacola. The course is arranged for four months, but Harry accomplished the required work in two. When he went to Boston to the Ground School, where the young men are "tried out" and only the fittest are taken on for air service he said, "I don't intend to be left by the wayside." That spirit has accompanied all his work.

Harry is a modest youth, and might not wish to appear in print, but a friend has had the privilege of reading some of his letters home, and knows that Sanford would be glad to hear from one of its own boys, mighty glad. So then, here are a few paragraphs from home letters received within the recent weeks:

"I am keeping well as usual and getting along finely. I went up twenty minutes last Monday morning, and did so well on landing that he turned me over to another instructor for a 'solo' try-out. We had been up for just a few minutes when motor stopped and we had to come down and be towed back. (Some readers may not know that this is naval air plane work, and that the machines land on the water.) When the motor was fixed we went up again, and I got by all right. Then I went up for thirty minutes on my first hop alone. I was up again that afternoon for an hour and ten minutes, going up to 2500 feet. I had one nice scare that ride when a R-6, a larger and faster machine, passed me about 100 feet away and the wash from its propeller nearly turned me over for a few seconds. I was up high enough for the machine to right itself if it had gotten out of control anyway, before going all the way down, but I didn't feel exactly calm.

"Tuesday I was up for an hour, and a quarter in (a) windy and 'bumpy' weather as we fly in here.
I went up to 3000 feet and returned all right. It certainly is a lot different flying alone than with an instructor. You surely feel lonely and away from the world—but I like it.
There is no danger of one's being over-confident, for since I have been flying alone I realize how much I have to learn before I have complete control of the plane. The time of 'solo' flying has been increased to thirty hours, five of them being in formation with other planes. I have nearly five hours of 'solo' now, and expect to get in fifteen next week if the weather is good."

From a later letter: "I have not done much flying this week as I have been on machine gun practice on the island across the bay. It is not hard and very pleasant. We go over there about nine in the morning, shoot until eleven, then go in swimming in the gulf, which is fine, until noon; then we eat lunch, shoot a couple of hours, swim again, and get back about five.

"I started flying the larger 20 H. P. machine Saturday, but do not like them as well as the smaller ones.
Monday morning, I was up for an hour in the water and I have flown in and with one of the big planes.
The water was rough and the wind blowing hard, and I didn't have a second's rest. When I started to come down and saw how much rougher the water was I felt sure the plane would end with its nose in the bay. But I made a fine landing and came back all right, although I was nearly capized a couple of times coming in on the water. A half dozen machines were damaged that last half hour.

"A terrible accident happened last Saturday afternoon. One of the boys who came down from Tech with me dropped 2,000 feet in a spinning nose dive into the bay with a mechanic in the front seat who was up for a 'joy ride.' The pilot was only badly shocked, but it was three hours before they could recover the body of the mechanic from the wreckage. I was in the air in another of the large machines at the time with an officer as passenger. I saw the plane fall the last 1000 feet and disappear with an enormous splash. I landed near it before the rescue boat got there, and the officer swam over to the wreck. I could not start the engine, drifted around for nearly an hour and was towed in. I had been scheduled to take out the machine that was wrecked, but the other pilot was ahead of me on the flat and got it.

The plane got out of control when he was doing some 'flipper' turns.
There has been an epidemic of crashes for the past week; an average of two planes a day being smashed more or less.

"A flying boat of a late type, such as will be used for sea patrol duty, with a body that rests on the water ... is being erected. I hope that I shall have a chance to fly it.
Khaki uniforms have to be worn now and I shall need about three. I have one already. They get soiled quickly. They cost $20 each. I think that I have been recommended for patrol duty. If you came here you would not get inside the navy yard and I am able to get off only in the evenings. Wilson, one of my friends and I have been invited twice to Sunday dinner at the home of a Mrs. McNeal. They are certainly fine folks."

Woman's Club Notes
The General Club business meeting for April was duly called to order by the president, Mrs. Galloway, all standing and repeating the Club collect, after which came the reading of the minutes by Mrs. W. E. Watson, secretary.

In reports of charmen, Mrs.
Gwynn Fox reported for the Music Department that the sum of $17.00 net was realized from freewill offering taken on evening the Club Chorus and others sang "The Crucifxion" at Congregational church.

Mrs. Fox announced that the oratorio would be repeated on Wednesday evening, April 3rd at Holy Cross church, at which time a freewill offering would be taken to be divided between St. Agnes Guild and Music Department.

This department also reported having voted at their last business meeting to create a fund to be known as the General Club fund of the Music Department to be applied on General Club expenses.

Mrs. Abernathy, chairman Civics committee of Welfare Department, reported the good results of a letter addressed to the city council petitioning them to prohibit the throwing around promiscuously of paper and handbills in our yards, etc., thus enabling the mayor to draw an ordinance prohibiting same.

Mrs. Watson, chairman Thrift Stamps for Club reported $7.00 worth of stamps sold thus far.

Mrs. Galloway reported in behalf of Victory Fund the sum of $18.00 for war relief work, this amount being specified for the rest rooms for soldiers at the French camps, which project the women's clubs of the U. S. are financing.

Mrs. Dickins mentioned a suggestion which had been made that the club sing at their meetings during the period of the war "Keep the Home Fires Burning," the author of which song, Mrs. Ford, as we know, having recently met such a tragic and shocking death at her London home which was very recently destroyed by the Germans dropping a bomb on the house. The thought was owing to the spirit of the times and a woman having composed this song that it would be appropriate to sing it at times mentioned above.

The president mentioned that the club would this year very much curtail the cost of their forthcoming year book. Definite arrangements for this book to be announced later.
This with an idea of conservation of money and materials, etc.

Mrs. Dickins brought to our notice the suggestion, a good one, that as everyone is so busy just now, that in order to conserve time, energy, etc., that the music and literature departments hold joint meetings this year, and that the welfare committee confine their meetings to committee meetings.

Mrs. Norris Lewis announced the arrival of the flag for the Seminole County Honor Guards. The presentation of which is to take place on Sunday, April 21st, program to be announced later. Mrs. Lewis stated that she still had in her possession a balance of 25c left from the flag proceeds which she would like definitely disposed of and it was decided to devote this to the purchase of Thrift Stamps by some school child.

Mrs. Berry, chairman Home Economics for club announced a food demonstration this week at the home of Mrs. Kelly on French avenue.

Mrs. Deane Turner reported emphatic criticism by Jacksonville on surgical dressings sent, asking for more workers in this time of war work. Also saying that a Monday afternoon class had been organized, Mrs. Galloway teacher, for those who cannot attend the Wednesday and Friday morning classes.

The Welfare Department, announced by chairman, Mrs. Mough-ton, that Dr. Masters of Port Orange will speak at the Woman's Club on April 17th, 8:15. The hour of 8:15 was set for the convenience of those attending prayer meeting and other church meetings which are called an hour earlier. Dr. Masters hopes that a large audience will be in evidence as his subject, "The Intellect of Men" is all absorbing and instructive.

"The real purpose of life is education. We are here to be trained, and education is the ability to sort things and to attach to each its proper label. The end of life is human depiction. It is not the getting of knowledge but the getting of character and accomplishment, and human acquiescence. This is an old message but it is increasingly imperative. It is first of all to be, then to know, then to do and only incidentally to have. This is the complete program of the experimental life. As a plan of life it is simply the extension of education, and the extension of education the making of education a life process instead of a school process; is in fact nothing less splendid than the practical carrying out of the quest of human perfection."
—Chas. Sanford Henderson, Federation Magazine for March.

The Welfare Department will have a rummage sale on Saturday, April 6th. Those having rummage will please notify Mrs. Moughton by phone 421.

This War Must Be Fought On European Soil

If the peoples of the earth are not to become toiling millions for the Prussian Junkers and the Prussian Krupps, if they are not to be terror-ridden slaves at the mercy of a German Kaiser's will, Prussianism must be driven back within its own borders and kept there.

Not only English freedom, French freedom is at stake. Our own cherished institutions, our free government, all that our fathers fought for, all that free peoples prize, is threatened by an enemy that would impose his own hateful Kultur on every free institution in every liberty-loving land.

That is why the war must be fought on European soil. We are fighting in Europe now that we may not have to fight in America, on the very thresholds of our own homes, later.

We are fighting for the safety and liberty of our children, our homes, our country. No price is too great to pay for Victory.

Americans, you are called upon to back our armies in France, to furnish them the guns and shells and ships and airplanes, the enormous quantities of every sort of supplies that they must have to defeat the Prussian armies and drive them back across the Rhine.

THE LIBERTY LOAN AND BUSINESS

"What has the Liberty Loan to do with the refrigeration business?" was asked by a subscriber in the fastnesses of the Rocky Mountains of the editor of the Refrigeration World. The answer was sound and patriotic:

"At this critical time the success or failure of the impending loan have more to do with refrigeration than even the machinery and chemicals used in producing refrigeration. If the loan fails, everything else will fall with it. All business will eventually be prostrated; nothing could thrive."

It is the business of every business and business man in the United States to see that the Liberty Loan does not fail. They should buy Liberty Bonds; they should encourage and assist others to buy them. No business in the United States is going to succeed if the Liberty Loan fails—if the Nation fails.

It is better business to buy Liberty Bonds than to pay indemnities to a victorious Germany; it is better business to win this war than to have our foreign commerce subject to the dictation of the Potsdam Government.

The welfare, the success, the prosperity, the liberty, and the happiness of every true American is bound up in the Nation's success. We are not fighting alone for material interest, for annexations or indemnities. We are fighting for freedom and justice and humanity and civilization. But we are also fighting for the maintenance of our commercial rights, for the rights of our citizens to pursue their lawful journeys on the seas and transport their commerce to foreign markets.

It is patriotic and a duty to buy Liberty Bonds. It is also good business to do it.

FOOD ADMINISTRATION

Details Regarding Movement of Crops and Food Consumption Editor Sanford Herald, City.

Dear Sir: The food administration is bending every effort to relieve the present congested condition of traffic and make it possible for the farmer of Florida to move his product to market on time. In order that this may be accomplished, Hon. Braxton Beacham the federal food administrator for Florida has issued the following order, with which I trust every farmer of Seminole county will comply before the 15th of this month:

"All farmers, truck growers, shippers, commission merchants and brokers of the state of Florida are hereby directed to send to Braxton Beacham, Federal Food Administrator, Orlando, Fla., an approximate estimate of the amount of produce, vegetables, fruit and other products of the soil which they are expecting to ship during the next sixty days setting forth in this report the acreage now planted and the acreage to be planted in crops such as will require quick transportation; the report to include the varieties of crops planted or to be handled, the probable route of shipment, and the probable number of refrigerator cars, the probable number of ventilator cars that will be required. This report shall also include the date of probable beginning of extraordinary shipments such as potatoes or other produce going out in large quantities and as far as possible the railroads over which shipments will be started. The report or reports need be typed or written statements from farmers and shippers will be sufficient to furnish the information required and necessary for a proper handling of transportation problems of the immediate future. The reports required under this order must be furnished and mailed to the Federal Food Administrator at Orlando, Florida, to reach that office not later than April 15, 1918."

I might add that unless the farmers of this county will do their share and furnish this information by April 15th it will be impossible for the food administration to aid them in the moving of their spring crop.

Flour

I wish to impress upon every consumer of this county, as well as every retail merchant, the fact that the government has limited sales of flour to one and one half pounds per person per week and from this time on, I am forced to advise the public that this regulation will be rigidly enforced. I wish to state further that it is unlawful for anyone in the city to have in his possession more than twenty-four pounds and anyone in this country more than forty-eight pounds of flour. I am instructed to see that this law is not violated and I wish to ask the cooperation of every citizen of the county.

Sugar

I wish to repeat for the information of those who are not advised, that the food administration limits from now on the amount of sugar that each person may purchase to two pounds per week. The retail merchant will please take notice of this fact.

Meat

As has been previously stated, meatless days have been discontinued for thirty days and the Government is now urging every one to eat meat without stint. However anomalous this may seem. The reason for this order is that the government is endeavoring to maintain for the producer of cattle a fair price for his product and as the food administration's restrictions on the eating of meat have been the means of increasing the supply of this commodity the packers now have on hand sufficient meat to take care of, not only the requirements of our allies, but our home requirements as well. In other words, the consumer is now at liberty to eat all the meat he wishes until further notice.

I might state for the information of anyone who may deem it a hardship to conform to the government's requirements on flour that the French people today are restricted to one and one-tenth pounds of flour per month, so that the people of this country as compared with the French have not yet begun to really sacrifice. If there is any person in the United States who is so unpatriotic as to refuse to comply with the rules in regard to flour, and insists upon having more than his allotted six pounds, let him enlist as a soldier and the government will then see to it that he is furnished more than this amount but it will be furnished in the trenches.

Respectfully,
T. S. Huff,

Food Administrator Seminole Co.

Recommends Her Hubby for Army Boxman, Mont.—The most novel case that has come before the Gallatin county exemption board is that of a married man of draft age who couldn't read and asked his wife to write a note to the board, stating that his family was dependent upon him. Here is the note that the wife wrote and the husband presented to the board:

"Dear United States Army—My husband asked me to write you a recommend that he support his family. He cannot read so don't tell him. Jus take him. He aint no good to me. He aint done nothing but drink lemman essence and play a fiddle since I married him eight years ago and I gotta feed seven kids of his. Maybe you can get him to carry a gun. Grammar School Notes
Last Friday ten pupils from the seventh and eighth grades took part in the "Four Minute Men" contest. They had prepared very interesting papers which were delivered in the auditorium. A committee of three teachers from the other grades pronounced Ruth Loeving of the eighth grade the victor. She was presented with a certificate, containing a three-cent stamp from the Woman's Club, and a certificate from the National Director of the Four Minute Men Contest; William McFarlane Blair, appointing her as Junior Four Minute Speaker in this district.

Junior Four Minute Men

In the great World War which is raging today millions of dollars are being spent by our allies. Food, clothing, ammunition and fire arms, must be provided by our government for our armies both at home and abroad. Places of rest, or places to spend an evening of some kind of amusement after a day's hard work must also be provided for our boys who have left their homes and are in training for Uncle Sam. Everyone must be willing to sacrifice some of the luxuries of life and help our nation in the time of need. Every man, woman and child can help win this great war by saving money and conserving food. There is much waste in many homes and in many large hotels where the people do not as yet realize the great need of economy and conservation. A food famine is threatening, and we must all do our bit in conserving food. Then we must conserve our money also for it takes money to place all the food and clothing in the training camps.

A wealthy man, who has not the spirit of patriotism places his money in the bank where he continually adds more to his capital. Perhaps it is from sheer indifference or thoughtlessness, but he hoards his money, thinking only of his own interests and never looking about him to the poor and needy who seldom have a square meal. This idle money is classed as slacker money or the Slacker Dollar.

Then we have the Traitor Dollar. This dollar is constantly doing something to lead our enemies to success. Money spent wastefully for unnecessary things is silently adding to Germany's power.

At last, but the greatest, and noblest of all is the Patriotic Dollar. The duties of this dollar are to buy thrift stamps, war stamps, liberty bonds, or in some way loaning money to our government.

Out on the battlefield or in the trenches a soldier has been wounded by an enemy's gun. One of our dollars may be the means of placing this soldier in a hospital where his wounds will be treated and if he is unable to return to the firing line he may at least be sent to his home. Our money goes towards establishing hospitals, and placing competent nurses in them, to care for the sick, wounded and dying soldiers.

Then let us one and all place our dollars, quarters, nickels and dimes into thrift stamps and war stamps and make Uncle Sam proud of us. "The slacker dollar is idle, you know. Never aiding our Uncle Sam, But always hiding that it may grow, And thrive in the peaceful land."

If a traitor dollar is given to you, Reject it and say "You are false, To the U. S. A. you've been untrue, Making our boys hold up the Crues."

But if a patriot dollar should happen by, Why seize it and hold it and use it, Buying thrift stamps, war stamps and Liberty Bonds And you'll never have cause to regret it."

Hygiene

State Board of Health

The Florida State Board of Health in cooperation and in sympathy with the War Department, United States Public Health Service and Council of National Defense is making a widespread and intensive campaign for social hygiene. To do the most good in these times—times that try men's souls—a campaign is now being made in the suppression of venereal diseases. The interest of our soldiers and our nation is at heart. Now is the time for everyone to be loyal and patriotic. This great problem may appear to be a complex one, but dealt with in a proper manner and with loyal co-operation it is a practical one.

An official statement was recently made by the War Department that there were in the army over thirty thousand soldiers suffering with venereal disease. In view of this, aside from the moral issues involved it is a serious matter from the economic and military point of view. I mean that about two divisions of our soldiers are incapacitated for duty. It is time the public should take notice and not blush.

The question, sometimes raised that the problem is one of morality rather than health is without foundation in fact. That good health and good morals are closely connected may be true, but the direct concern of the Health Department is from the viewpoint of good health. Every prophylactic measure should be used to prevent disease and it is also necessary to attack the source of infection. It would be absurd for the Health Department to attempt to suppress typhoid or smallpox in a community while leaving the source of infections untouched and the same is true of venereal diseases.

In the state of Florida venereal diseases have been made reportable, the same as other communicable diseases, but this is not done as it should be done. The public should realize that now is the time for plain, speaking and real action. Physicians have, for a long time realized the menace of venereal diseases, but through a mistaken policy of silence, the public has not realized this. In this campaign of education the State Board of Health should have the assistance of newspapers, women's clubs—in fact every patriotic man and woman.

FINE MUSICAL PROGRAM

Mrs. Healey Assisted the Choir in the Morning and Evening Worship

The good pastor of the Methodist Episcopal church and his estimable wife are not only bringing to Sanford their personally efficient, helpful selves, but are the attraction for other delightful assistance, as was demonstrated last Sunday when their guests, Mr. and Mrs. H. O. Healey of Knoxville, Tenn., lent their presence and talents to the morning and evening services. Mr. Healey spoke feelingly, though briefly to the Brotherhood Class, and Mrs. Healey with her glorious voice inspired additional emotion in the hearts of the very large congregations assembled for worship. To her natural gift is evident careful training, and the power, range and sweetness coupled with fine breath control, admirable delicacy and carrying quality in pianissimo passages, distinct enunciation and manifest desire to sing to the religious exaltation as well as to the ears of listeners charmingly equip the lady for accomplishment in the Master's work. Mr. and Mrs. Healey have been spending the winter in Ft. Myers, where acquaintance with their host and hostess of over Sunday was formed, as Dr. Hilburn was then stationed there, and enroute homeward tarried in Sanford, including the Lord's day. The morning being the date for communion service the pastor was impressive and heartsearching in administration of the elements, and the occasion was productive of great good. Mrs. Hilburn is devoting her consecrated and most efficient talents to the improving of the song and praise part of each hour of worship from Sunday to Sunday. Pastor and people are earnestly and hopefully looking for special divine blessing during the coming months and years of devoted service.

Liberty Loan Meeting
Mrs. E. M. Galloway, chairman

The Woman's Committee Liberty Loan arranged a public meeting for last Saturday night at the corner of First street and Park avenue. The Sanford band played some stirring airs and Chairman R. J. Holly called upon H. C. DuBose, F. P. Forster and Judge Housholder and all of them responded with patriotic addresses and calling attention of the people to the Liberty Loan that was inaugurated Saturday.

Thursday will be Sanford's big patriotic celebration and opening of the Red Cross Circus.

Dollar Bills Given Free at Lyric Scattered about in today's issue of The Herald are many names of our citizens both old and young. Some of these names will be called on the opening night of "Booster Week" at the Lyric which is next Thursday April 18th.

If you are in the Lyric when your name is called out and have a copy of this paper with you, you'll get one of the "crisp new dollar bills." In case you are not there or should not have a copy of The Herald in your possession you'll lose it and another name will be called out and so on until the dollar bills are distributed in the audience.

Read The Herald most carefully today, advertisements and all, and see if your name is there, and bring your copy of the paper with you to the opening night of "Booster Week."

It's always wise to have a copy of the Sanford Herald near at hand, but on this occasion it is absolutely necessary if you want to get one of those dollar bills. The local photographs are coming out fine and clear and are almost life-like enough to speak and it's safe to say that "Booster Week" will be a very popular bill with the people of Sanford.

If you don't find your name in today's paper look in Friday's issue, as there will be scores of other names which did not appear today.

WHEATLESS MEALS

Will Be Rigidly Enforced By Food Administration

Braxton Beacham, Federal Food Administrator states that wheatless meals and days in Florida will be rigidly enforced in all public eating places. Private homes have been requested as a military measure to reduce wheat consumption to 1.25 pounds per person per week.

The full light of publicity will be turned upon establishments violating this urgent request of the Food Administration. Federal Food Administrators in all states were given telegraphic orders today to enforce the program by rigid inspection and investigation. Where violations are reported the administrators are instructed to hold hearings which must be open to the public and to the press.

Virtually this means that no violator, no matter what the extenuating circumstances will be shielded by having his name withheld from the newspapers. Where violations are proved, the Administrators are urged to follow immediately with punitive measures, the nature of which will be determined in consultation with authorities in Washington.

While private homes will not be required to observe wheatless meals days they will be required to cut wheat consumption to about one-half of normal. If this can be done without entirely giving up wheat at any meal, the Food Administration will consider that its program is being followed strictly to the letter. It is urging, however, that those whose circumstances and requirements permit effect an even greater reduction.

COUNTY OFFICIALS SCRAP

Sheriff Brady and County Commissioner Kilbee Have Argument

The peaceful Sabbath calm of Genoa was broken last Sunday morning when Sheriff Brady and County Commissioner E. H. Kilbee became engaged in a pitched battle. The argument started over the question of whether Sheriff Brady had given Mr. Kilbee permission to haul a wagon home from Sanford behind his car. As there is a law against taking any four wheeled vehicle as a trailer a warrant was sworn out for Mr. Kilbee who had taken a wagon home several weeks ago in this manner and Sheriff Brady went out on Sunday morning to serve it. Mr. Kilbee did not like the idea of having a warrant on him on Sunday, although he promised to go to town and one word led to another and finally the lie was passed, Mr. Kilbee slapped the sheriff's face and the sheriff hit him in the face several times and they clinched and fell to the floor where they were separated. Mr. Kilbee came to Sanford with the sheriff and was locked up on Sunday afternoon but was finally released on bail.

The trial was held in the county court yesterday and resulted in a mistrial and up to this time it is not known whether it will end there or not.

CANADIAN SOLDIERS HERE

Have Trenches No Man's Land and War Relics and All That Pertains to "Over There"

Opening at the Circus grounds and held this week as a part of the Red Cross Society Circus one of the most interesting features will be the wounded Canadian soldiers who are here with a fine display of war relics and who will have a replica of No Man's Land and the trench warfare and all the details of the war "over there."

These men were in the thick of the muck and are as follows:
Corporal J. Armstrong Royal Highlanders, enlisted in 1914. Knocked out with gas in 1915. Returned to fighting and wounded in chest and invalidated home.
J. Brown enlisted in 1915 in 48th Highlanders. In fighting on Somme wounded in both arms, crippled now in left hand, invalidated home.
J. Dorkins enlisted in 1915 in 48th Highlanders. In fighting on Somme and Vimy Ridge. Left battalion at Sou Ches on account of trench feet due to exposure.

These boys have arranged all the details of the trench warfare and in the trenches on the show grounds have the water and the mud of the real trenches and state that their trenches never looked more realistic in any part of the state. You should see this exhibit by all means and converse with the boys. At the Red Cross Circus Thursday, Friday and Saturday nights.

The play given each year by the Senior Class at the High School is always looked forward to with much interest and is always well attended. A crowded house greeted the young people last Friday evening when "Excuse Me" was given. Miss Rosamond Radford who took the leading part was exceptionally fine as Mrs. Harding and later when she masqueraded as the Swedish maid she showed not only her splendid training but decided talent, and Muriel Rhodes as the Irish maid who took so many pills that she could see nothing else was very clever. Edna Chittenden, Fern Ward and Zeta Davison proved very attractive visiting girls. Hume Rumph and Roby Laing are too well known to need any introduction to the public. No play is really a success without these two. Clifford Walker as the pill agent and Watson McAlexander as Aloysius Dalrymple, the bug hunter created the fun for the evening. Alice Vaughn who took the part of Marassa O'Kea, a movie actress was the envy of all the girls in the house. Quite a nice little amount was realized on the play.

Bible Class Entertains
Last night witnessed one of the best monthly business meetings in the history of the Wesley Brotherhood Class of the Methodist church when over thirty members and guests gathered at the church for an evening of business and pleasure.

The entertainment committee of the class consisting of Mr. E. T. Woodruff, F. P. Foster and E. A. Douglass had the social part of the meeting in charge and the committee certainly did their work well.

E. T. Woodruff acted as toastmaster of the occasion and toast were responded to by F. P. Foster, K. Mattinger, Ed. Putnam, Rev. M. H. Massey, E. A. Douglass, H. O. Healey and L. R. Phillips.

After the social session a short business meeting was held in which the regular business of the class was handled, under the direction of the class president, Mr. H. H. Peabody.

This class is doing excellent work and the regular meetings on Sunday morning at 9:30 are growing in attendance and interest. The class holds out a welcome to the men of the city who are not already affiliated with Sunday school work in other churches.

Pot to Draws Need Moisture
 High Prices for all foodstuffs emphasize the importance of getting good crop yields this year. One that should not be overlooked is the sweet potato. The planting of draws will soon be underway and unless these draws grow well the main crop may be cut short. The University of Florida extension division urges the importance of using much care in cultivating the draws.

The plant bed should be well watered the night before the slips are to be drawn. They should be taken from the bed next morning and placed in a vessel of water in the shade. Setting should be done in the late afternoon. The beds in which the draws are to be set should be newly made.

The draws should be watered after they are set and it will be advisable to water them two or three evenings in succession. This applies only to localities which have had an insufficient supply of moisture. Where the ground remains moist, it will not be necessary to supply additional moisture.

 Mrs. W. J. Thigpen

Sweet Potatoes Need Potash
 Growers who are counting on large yields of sweet potatoes this year may be disappointed unless they are able to fertilize their plots with some form of potash. Evidence obtained through experiments at the University of Florida experiment station point the path of this contention. Some sweet potatoes can without liberal applications of potash, but the yield will probably be small.

A fertilizer test for sweet potatoes was begun in 1915 on land that had been used for a fertilizer test for Japanese cane during the previous seven years. The potatoes were planted in the same plots and were given the same fertilizer treatment as the cane had received. The land was a fair grade of high pine land. The potatoes grown the following year followed cotton, with a fertizer treatment the same as th cotton had received. There were eight plots.

An Average of the yield in bushels per acre for the two years is: Plot 1 which received no phosphorus produced 199 bushels; plot 2 which received no ammonia produced 199 bu.; plot 3 which received no potash produced 93 bu.; plots, 4, 5, 6 and 7 which received complete fertilizers produced 244, 217, 172 and 212 bu., respectively; and plot 8 which received a complete fertilizer plus ground limestone produced 190 bu.

The plot receiving no potash received the smallest yield. The largest yield was obtained on the plot fertilized with sulphate of ammonia, muriate of potash and acid phosphate.

Milk Sanitation Necessary
 With warm, moist weather will come the usual summer troubles with milk. Blue milk, red or "bloody" milk, Blue milk, red or "bloody milk," bad odor or taste milk that will not clabber, slimy milk and sediment in the bottom of milk utensils are some of the troubles that are prevalent.

C. L. Willoughby of the university of Florida college of agriculture says that these conditions are generally caused by the introduction of undesirable bacteria into the milk after it has been drawn from the cow. Hot summer weather is especially unfavorable to bacterial development. Milk does not keep as well during periods when thunderstorms are prevalent because of the warm humid atmosphere that accompanies them.

When undesirable bacteria once gain a start they are persistent and hard to eradicate. Some of them form spores that will resist boiling, and others are not killed by temperature below the boiling point. These spores and bacteria get into the small cracks and seams of milk utensils and infect the fresh milk.

In case of trouble the milk utensils should be examined for any seams or cracks that might give protection to or allow a lodging place for bacteria. The battered receptacle or one with defective seams should be replaced by a seamless one, or at least the rough places should be filled with solder. There are many utensils on the market now which are constructed so that there is no chance of the milk coming in contact with dirty seams or corners.

Direct sunlight is a most efficient disinfectant. The cans, pans and pails should be boiled in a strong lye solution for two or three hours. After boiling rinse the utensils in clean scalding water and place them in the sunlight and fresh air. In some cases it may be found necessary to repeat this thorough process of sterilization in order to get rid of the injurious bacteria. If care is taken always to scald and sun utensils little or no trouble will be experienced.

Improve Native Beef Cattle
 Native Florida cattle make a good foundation on which to build a beef herd; the other necessities are good sires and good food. Two successive crosses on the native stock, when the animals are properly fed, will make a wonderful change in both size and quality.

These facts, as stated by John M. Scott of the University of Florida experiment station point the way to better herds of beef cattle in the state. By good sire he does not mean a scrub bull of mixed breeding nor the best bull now in the herd. Get a purebred sire and infuse new blood into the herd. Good blood improves the quality, and good feed also plays an important part. A combination of the two form the leaven in the herd that will work the wonderful change.

By using scrub sires of no particular breed, or of mixed breeding, there can be no uniformity in the herd. For instance, if a Hereford sire be used for a year or two, an Angus sire the next year, and then a Sorthern sire, the cattle will present an appearance of patch work. There will be little uniformity of size, shape or color, although all sires used were of the beef type. Above all, guard against the use of a dairy bull for beef breeding. Uniformity is important in developing a herd of any kind of livestock. A carload of cattle uniform in size and color make a better appearance, and will usually bring a much better price than a load of mixed cattle. Well matched team of horses or span of mules sell for a better price than one of broken color.

Native cattle of no particular breeding are from 40 to 50 per cent smaller than the improved breeds, due to several causes. Primarily, they receive little attention. They are left to forage for themselves both winter and summer. If they are unable to do this they are not wanted. This means that when feed is scarce the animal is starved to such an extent that its growth is checked beyond repair. To avoid stunting cattle, means must be taken to have feed available when pasturage is short.

Letting native cattle run at large and breed at will has a tendency to reduce the size. Breeding the females when too young has the same effect. Inbreeding also plays its part. All these things work together to reduce size, impair quality and prevent uniformity.

If the livestock producer is not in position to give his animals good care and to provide them with plenty of feed at all times, he will probably find it more profitable to continue to produce native unimproved cattle. Purebred livestock must receive better attention than the natives have had in past years.

Use Rice More Liberally
 There are few food materials which serve more purposes than rice. It is used as a breakfast cereal, as a thickening for soups, as a vegetable, as an ingredient of made dishes in which it may appear in combination with meat, fish, eggs, cheese or vegetables, and sweetened and flavored in various ways as a dessert. The University of Florida extension division is advocating that more rice be grown in the state and that it be substituted wherever possible for wheat in the diet.

Rice, when properly cooked, furnishes the body with an abundance of easily digested starch, and this explains why orientals can use it as the "staff of life" instead of bread, and why it may be substituted for wheat or corn or oatmeal as a breakfast cereal. Many persons think it also may be substituted for potatoes as a mild flavored vegetable.

The supposition is natural since a portion of cooked rice furnishes the body with about the same quantity of energy producing starch as a portion of potatoes. Potatoes, however, like most vegetables differ from cereal foods in the character and combination of the mineral matters and acids they contain, which play an important part in nourishing the body and keeping it in good working order. This means they are not exactly substitutes for one another and that the common custom of providing fruits and vegetables as we generally do as a part of meals made up to a considerable extent of foods prepared from cereal grains is a commendable one. It follows that when rice is used life the potato as the principal starchy food of the meal, one should be careful to use fruits and vegetables generously—a custom which is in accord with the traditions of good housekeepers.

Ideas differ as to what is the best way of cooking rice, but probably the most generally accepted standard is to have all the grains distinct. When cooked in this way it is often described as "southern style." It may be prepared as follows: To a quart of rapidly boiling water, containing two level teaspoonfuls of salt, a cup of thoroughly washed rice is added so slowly that the boiling is not stopped. No stirring is permitted, the rice being kept from sticking to the kettle by the rapid boiling. About 20 minutes' cooking is needed.

when the rice is soft the water is poured off from it and it is covered with a cloth and placed in a warm part of the stove so that its grains will swell.

The water poured off from the cooked rice contains a certain amount of food material, principally starch, and this may be boiled down and used in making soup. It will thicken the soup as would flour.

Public opinion has made Certain-teed a product of international prominence and use.
 That great force has built up the Certain-teed business from nothing, 14 years ago, to the world's largest roll roofing industry now.

Certain-teed Roofing and Shingles

In every community under the sun, Certain-teed Roofing is giving longer and better roofing service, at a lower cost, than other kinds of roofing.

Certain-teed costs less to buy, less to lay and less to maintain than any other type of roof. It is weatherproof, water proof, spark proof and fire-retarding. It cannot rust or corrode. It cannot melt under the hottest sun. It is not affected by gases, acids, fumes, smoke, etc.

Certain-teed is established everywhere as the most advantageous and economical roof for factories, round houses, elevators, garages, warehouses, hotels, farm buildings, stores, out-buildings, etc. In angles, red or green, it is very popular for residences.

Certain-teed Roofing is guaranteed 5, 10 or 15 years according to thickness. It is sold by good dealers, everywhere.

An Ideal Frock of Velvet.

The directions for making the blouse are easily followed with the aid of the construction guide. First, close under-arm and shoulder seams as notched. Form a tuck creasing on slot perforations in front and back; stitch 1 inch from fold. Place lower edge placing "T" on corresponding small "o" perforations and tack; then bring the single large "O" perforation at lower edge over the pleat nearest the front and tack. Gather 1 and 2 inches above lower edge. Adjust stay over the gathers, center-backs and front edges even; bring small "o" perforation in stay to under-arm seam; large "O" perforations indicate center-front. Turn hem in front at notches.

Next, face the collar and sew to neck edge, center-backs and large "O" perforations even.

After sewing on the collar take the sleeve and close seam as notched. Gather between "T" perforations. Turn sleeveband under on slot perforations, lap to small "o" perforations, finish for closing. Sew to sleeve as notched; bring small "o" perforation to seam of sleeve and opening in sleeveband to single large "O" perforation in sleeve. Close seam of cuff H from notch to small "o" perforation, finish edges above perforation and below notch for closing. Sew to sleeveband as notched. Sew in armhole as described for plain sleeve.

Then slash the skirt to left of center-front along double small "o" perforations; finish for a placket. Join the gores as notched, form plait in front and back gores and attach to waist.

If desired the waist may be trimmed at the front with a plastron and the skirt with pockets, though the dress is quite as effective without them. One decoration calls for another, so if the plastron and pockets are used, the logical trimming for them is narrow silk soutache braid, stitched along the edges.

A Skirt That Is Always Attractive.

part to complete the design. First, however, join the gores as notched, leaving the left side seam free above the lower large "O" perforations in front gores, and finish for a placket. Gather the gores at upper edges between "T" perforations.

Next, adjust the stay to position underneath the skirt, with center-fronts and center-backs even. Bring double small "oo" perforation in stay to right side seam; bring left side edges of skirt and stay together and finish for closing. Stitch upper edge of skirt and stay together.

For front panels and shorter lengths see cutting directions. Turn hem at side edges of panels on small "o" perforations. Gather panels at upper edges between "T" perforations. Adjust panels on skirt with upper edges center-fronts and center-backs even; bring the upper side edges of panels together over the single small "o" perforations in stay and bring the large "O" perforation at upper edge of side panel to double small "oo" perforation in stay. Large "O" perforations in side panel indicate front. Draw gathers in left side panel beyond the large "O" perforation to the required size and stitch tape underneath gathers; finish for closing.

Adjust the pocket on side panel with lower and side edges even and stitch these edges to position. The pocket may be trimmed with braid or embroidery. Next, adjust the belt to position with upper edge of belt a little above the top of the skirt and; if desired, close at the left side-front.

The gathered hanging panel of this skirt gives it entirely new lines and modifies the straight, narrow effect that will prevail in coming models.

If you are looking for a skirt that will always cause passers-by to turn around for a second look, you could not do better than select this model in dark blue broadcloth with gathered hanging front panel and turned-back side panels. There is a wide crush belt of self-material which closes at the side-front. To reproduce the model in medium size requires 3 1/2 yards 44 inch material.

A simple construction guide is of great assistance to the home dressmaker in the development of the skirt, for it shows just how each section is added to its corresponding Panelled and Skillfully Draped.

The skirt that is both panelled and skillfully draped has first call among the models for dressy wear, the severely straight designs being left for more general use. Here is pictured a four-pleat skirt with high waistline, the plaits at the top forming a draped effect at the sides, while the front hangs in panel effect. It lends itself splendidly to development in broadcloth or satin. Medium size requires 3 1/2 yards 54-inch broadcloth or 4 1/2 yards 36-inch satin.

Care must be used in arranging the pattern of the skirt on the material to avoid waste and insure perfection of fit and hang. First fold the material in half and place the side gore with large "O" perforations on a lengthwise thread. The under side gore is arranged to the right of the side gore, but also with large "O" perforations along the lengthwise thread of the goods.

Now, take the remaining material and fold it so that the selvage edges will meet in the center of a plain width of goods, as shown in the cutting guide. Place the front and the back gores along the lengthwise fold, to make these sections seamless.

For shorter side gores, cut off from lower edges of gore and under side gore the desired amount, before placing the pattern on the material.

Since many skirts are being developed in the soft, pliable qualities of velvet, this design may be carried out in panne or mirror. It is certainly a most effective model.

has a convertible collar. The back of the blouse extends over the shoulders and is joined to the gathered fronts. The one-piece sleeves are gathered to cuffs which are rolled back. In medium size the waist requires 2 1/2 yards 36-inch material.

To properly cut the waist, first take the material and fold it in half. Place on the cutting table or any smooth surface and lay the front into position first, as shown in the cutting guide, the large "O" perforations resting on a lengthwise thread of material. On the lengthwise fold, to the lower right of the front, the back is placed. The facing is opposite the back. If the front is trimmed with a jabot, section D, indicating the jabot is placed near the fold, but with large "O" perforations on a lengthwise thread. The cuff comes next, with large "O" perforations on a lengthwise thread, then the collar, on the lengthwise fold and, finally the sleeve, with large "O" perforations on a lengthwise thread.

The appearance of the blouse may be changed entirely by rolling back the fronts and collar and adding a jabot of self material or lace.

THANKS RECEIVED FROM THE FRONT

WILD EXCITEMENT OVER RECEIPT OF SURGICAL DRESSINGS

Director Of Woman's Work For Red Cross Receives Letter From Paris

The importance of the work that is being done by the women all over the Southern Division of the Red Cross in the way of knitting, of surgical dressings and of hospital garments has been stressed many times, but it has never been shown more clearly than in the following note of thanks which was received a few days ago by Mrs. John W. Grant, Director of the Department of Woman's Work of the Southern Division, from Mrs. Gertrude Austin, Chief of the Red Cross Surgical Dressings Service in Paris: 35 Rue Pierre-Charron, Paris, February 2, 1918.

To The Chairman, Dear Madam: Your case of surgical dressings No. 85 has just been opened, and we want to thank you most heartily for your help.

We are wildly excited here over the arrival of the first Front Parcels and the first Standard Dressings. They are not yet in our stores, but we know that they are in France. You can't realize what this means to us, for we have waited for them so long, and so anxiously. Go ahead and send us plenty more. Cordially yours, GERTRUDE AUSTIN, Chief of Service.

That the Southern Division is doing its part in shipping these articles to Europe is shown in the reports of the division warehouse in Atlanta which give a detailed statement of all work done during the week. Not infrequently as many as 300,000 articles are shipped for export in a single week, in addition to all of the work of inspecting, cutting out and packing, which is done at the warehouse, and to the boxes which are shipped to the cantonments in this country.

RED CROSS MADE OFFICIAL WAR FILM DISTRIBUTOR

The American Red Cross has been designated by the government as the official and exclusive distributor of the United States official war pictures—both motion pictures and stereopticon slides—and likewise the sole distributor in this country of all official French war pictures hereafter released except those pictures which are distributed through the news weeklies.

In the Southern Division, comprising Georgia, Florida, the two Carolinas and Tennessee, the Bureau of Publicity will handle these pictures and all requests for same, whether by chapters or by motion picture theaters, must be made to the publicity director. There are already on hand at the national headquarters in Washington five motion picture films, two multiple reel and three single reel pictures, and two sets of stereopticon slides which may be had in either black and white or in colors. The Southern division has just placed an order for these films and slides, and as soon as they arrive in Atlanta they will be offered to chapters throughout the division at a small rental.

These pictures show various scenes and activities in France and elsewhere in Europe, and should be most interesting to the people of the United States. Some of them picture vagabondage and other work of the Red Cross in Europe.

The United States official pictures taken by the Signal Corps, Photographic Division, of the United States Army. The French official pictures are taken by the Cinematographic and Photographic Division of the French Army.
