United Way Exceeds Record Goal

Horald Staff Writer

United Way of Seminole County raised more than its record $550,000 goal with $551,060 in donations and pledges. 1985 campaign celebrants were told at a victory dinner Thursday.

Every fund-raising division went over its goal, Campaign Chairman John Knapp told the assemblage at the Altamonte Springs Hilton Hotel.

Sharyn Dickerson, who took over the major industry division with its goal of $300,000 in mid-campaign, reported $303,050 in donations and pledges and said there was more to come.

Stromberg-Carlson workers pledged more than ever to the United Way, even though the firm's number of employees was down 30 percent from last year. The $11,000 corporate gift brought the total to $78,000. Southern Bell's Sanford employees, who now number less than 100, pledged $8,891 and the company gave $3,600 for a combined total of $12.491. United Telephone Co. reported a total of $32,615. NCR pledged a total of $34,690.

Other divisions totals include: major retail, $7,500; commercial and special gifts, $35,250; financial, $38,250; professional. $17.800; government. $21,600: medical, $25,100; education, $31,500; and special events (golf tournament), $7,000.

"We had more volunteers involved in the campaign this year than ever before," Larry Strickler, chairman of the United Way of Seminole Executive Committee said.

Rod Luck, WCPX-TV sportscaster, was master of ceremonies. He placed a United Way medal on a ribbon around the neck of guest of honor Leigh Moncrief, 1985 honorary campaign chairman and United Way Sweetheart. The 9-year-old daughter of Kirby and Linda Monerief of Sanford.

A member of Junior Troop 504, Lake Mary, she was featured in a promotional film and materials used in the tri-county Heart of Florida United Way Campalen.

Luck said he always enjoys coming to Seminole and Volusia counties where people band together to get things done.

"It isn't like Orange County, which seems to have a big city attitude," he commented.

Magician Wilt Cohen confounded the audience of United Way volunteers and agency representatives that filled the hotel ballroom when he had Lou Whitney of Stromberg Carlson open an envelope containing Cohen's prediction of the amount to be announced at the Victory Dinner and it was $551,050 the same as the campaign chairman had just announced. The envelope had been given Whitney to hold prior to the dinner and allegedly had been sealed and notarized last July with Cohen's prediction inside.

Entertainment was provided by Isabelle Marie Leger, Miss Altamonte Springs, who sang a tribute to United Way: Lake Brantley High School's show chorus. Spectrum: and the Jazz Classics, who played for the social hour prior to the dinner.

FMA Sets AIDS Policy For Students, Faculty

Motel Raid Unravels Drug Ring By Susan Loden Herald Staff Writer

In a raid on a Sanford motel room at about 11:20 p.m. Thursday, lawmen nabbed five persons on drug charges and reportedly broke up a drug supply ring.

The two women and three men remained in the Seminole County jail early today, held in lieu of $10,000 bond each. They have each been charged with trafficking in cocaine, possession of over 20 grams of marijuana and possession with intent to distribute.

The arrests were made at the McAllister Motel on Southwest Road in Sanford. Seminole County sheriff's spokesman John Spoiski said the more than 50 grams of encaine reportedly confiscated in the raid has a street value of about $50,000. The 110 grams of marijuana was valued at $2,500 and $2,255 cash, several firearms and a variety of drug paraphernalia were also confiscated by the lawmen, he said.

An anonymous tip received by Seminole County drug task force agents at about 7:30 p.m. Thursday took lawmen to the motel to investigate, a sheriff's report said.

The agents had been given the name of a suspect, a Sanford man, known to them as an illegal drug dealer, the report said. The agents contacted the State Attorney's office to request a warrant to enter Room 3 at the motel and were told that before a warrant could be issued they would have to confirm that the named suspect was in the room, the report said.

A uniformed sheriff's deputy and an agent showed the motel manager a photo of the suspect and he reportedly identified the man in the photo as "J.L. Jones," who was registered in that room, the report said.

As sheriff's deputies and agents watched the area they saw another suspect enter the room. The agents feared if they left the scene to take time to pick up a warrant evidence in the room would be destroyed and the suspects would flee, the report said.

Without a warrant an agent knocked on the door of the momand a uniformed sheriff's deputy.

Teacher Contract Talks Unsettled

By Jim Searls Herald Staff Writer

Calling the recent Seminole County teacher union-school board negotiations particularly unusual in that they have been so long and involved. Robert Helsby, "special master" for the Florida Public Employee Relations Committee, adjourned a mediation hearing the state had called to hear testimony in the stormy three-month-old contract-negottations.

The Seminole County School Board and the Seminole Education Association, bargaining union for Seminole teachers, met Thursday in the negotiating session called by Helaby. His name had been selected from a list of seven mediators by the two organizations. Both sides in the vocal and public dispute stated their positions before Helsby, who now has 15 days to deliver a written opinion back to each side, by registered mail. and they then both must ratify the preposal for it to go into effect. If they don't ratify it, the school board would set the salary rates and hold public hearings.

The state-called mediation was held in the school board meeting room and lasted from 9 a.m. until 4 p.m., with a half hour break for lunch.

The SEA negotiating team was headed by Executive Director Marshall Ogietree, with assistance from Orange County Teachers' Association Executive Director John Robinson, and other members of their negotiating team were in attendance. The school board was represented by Chief Negotiator Edwin Cowley, with Superintendent for Business and Finance C Carey Ferrell, school board secretary Phyills Russell and area school Principals Don Reynolds, James Neville and Dan Pelham in attendance.

Senators Forge Compromise On Jordanian Arms Deal

WASHINGTON (UPI) - A major arms sale to Jordan. supported by President Reagan but strongly opposed by Congress, may eventually go through but the deal hinges on King Hussein's peace effort with larsel.

Senate Republicans and Democrats forged a compromise and avoided a floor vote that would have denied an arms sale to Jordan under any conditions - which would have dealt Reagan a certain political setback.

"The vote would have been adverse to the king, to our president and the peace process," Sen. Richard Lugar. R-Ind., chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, said Thursday. "These bad things did not occur."

Republican leader Robert Dole of Kansas said the Senate was not trying to "blackmail" Hussein by voting 97-1 to withhold the arms until March I unless meaningful peace talks are under way with Israel.

"Direct negotiations between Jordan and Israel must be at the heart of any realistic effort to forge a regional peace," Dole said. "Such negotiations, if they take place, will do more than any arms to enhance the real security of both

Journalist To Be Given Ride

WASHINGTON (UPI) - The space agency has decided to give a journalist an out-of-this-world ride aboard a space shuttle for at least five days next September to report on what it's like flying at 17,000 mph around Earth.

"I can assure you the winning candidate will not only get a round-trip ticket but a first-class, unforgettable ride," NASA administrator James Beggs said in announcing the program Thursday.

The winner, he said, will be able to "see all and hear all" and "tell all as well." He said the only restrictions on the iournalist would be to protect the privacy of crew members if requested and to agree not to reveal any classified information to which he might have access.

Shultz And Soviets To Meet

NEW YORK (UPI) - Secretary of State George Shultz accepted an invitation today to visit Moscow next month for presummit meetings with Soviet leader Mikhail Gorbachev and Foreign Minister Eduard Shevardnadze.

Shultz and Shevardnadze announced the trip following a meeting of two hours 16 minutes at the U.S. Mission to the United Nations.

Shultz said he would visit the Soviet capital Nov. 4-5. He said the invitation was extended by Shevardnadze for the purpose of continuing discussions with the Soviets on preparations for the Nov. 19-20 summit in Geneva. Switzerland, between President Reagan and Gorbachev. "President Reagan felt that it was appropriate for me to go and I've accepted that invitation." "This is a very fast growing area and there are so many different things that are involved here (with the contract) that I think this is going to be a very difficult decision," Helsby said. He indicated that he wanted to get the hearing over as fast as possible to speed the negotiation process along and that the longer a decision was delayed the deeper the rift between the two groups would become. "This is a very unusual and unique situation in that both sides have been talking for so long and have been unable to come to any sort of amiable solution."

Another thing that complicates this contract dispute. Helsby said. Is that both sides had signed a tentative agree-

That agreement called for an average pay raise of 6 percent, with a high of 12 percent for first-year teachers and a low of 4 percent for teachers with 15 years or more experience. The teacher union did not ratify the pact, however.

'I know for a fact that Richard Deem, of the Federal Mediation Service in Tampa has worked as a catylst to solve this problem with both parties privately for a long while and has been unsuccessful in trying to achieve any kind of compromise," Helsby said. Sanford Man Found Guilty Of Rape guilty Wednesday of raping an Eatonville woman who sought help after her car broke down on Interstate 4.

Lorenzo Everett, 22, of 75 Lake Monroe Terrace, faces up to 45 years when sentenced by Circuit Judge Robert B. McGregor Dec. 5. At the time of the incident Everett was on probation for a jail rape. The conviction is a violation of probation and Everett will be sentenced for the infraction at the same time. It took a six-member jury just an hour to convict

The 21-year-old woman testified that her car broke down on I-4 May 19. After waiting for about 11/2 for an officer she accepted a ride around 10 p.m. from a man who took her to the Deluxe Bar on 18th Street at thwest Road in Sanford. She hoped to get help at the bar. At the bar, they met Everett who got in the car. They drove to a field behind Goldsboro Elementary School, 1301 W. 16th St., Sanford. There Everett slapped the victim in face and forced her to take off her clothes, according to reports.

He forced her out of the car and made her perform a sex act before he raped her, a report said. He took $50 from her pants and then the driver of the car raped her.

After the woman was allowed to dress, the trio drove to 13th Street at Olive Avenue in Sanford where Everett got out and the driver offered to take the woman to Winter Park. When he stopped at a traffic light on U.S. Highway 17-92 at State Road 419 south of Sanford, the -woman jumped out of the car and ran to a nearby Handy Way store and called for police, the report said.

The woman identified Everett via a photo line up. Everett, a walter, was arrested

Abstinence Produces Immunity

CHICAGO (UPI) - Adolescents who smoke and drink are likely to have problems with drug and alcohol abuse later, but teenagers who abstain are often "virtually immune" to later addictions, a Maryland researcher said Thursday.

"The earlier a youth starts using any dependenceproducing drug, the more likely he is to experience dependence and other negative health problems and to progress to other dependence-producing drugs," said Dr. Robert DuPont, a former director of the government's National Institute on Drug Abuse.

DuPont, writing in the Journal of the American Medical Association, said the link is so strong that there should be increased emphasis on family saucation and early detection of nage abusers, including tine urine tests to detect marijuana usc.

Recent studies have shown that the onset of drug and alcohol abuse is almost entirely limited to the teenage years. peaking from 15 to 18, said DuPont, now with the Center for Behavioral Medicine in Rockville, Md.

Significant alcohol use is a strong predictor of later alcohol and drug abuse in both boys and girls, while early eigarette smoking was an especially strong predictor of later drug abuse in girls, even in the absence of alcohol use, he said.

"On the other hand, youths who do not use cigarettes and alcohol during their teenage years are virtually immune to the non-medical use of other dependence producing drugs. he said.

The road to drug addiction varies little from teenager to teenager. DuPont sald.

'Drug use begins with alcohol. progresses to marijuana ... and then moves on to use of dependence-producing pharmaceuticals (barbiturates, amphetamines) and cocaine," he said. "The final step is to the most stigmatized and least common drugs, such as heroin.

"Not all youths who use a particular drug go on to the next drug in this progression, but alterations in the typical pattern are uncommon." he said.

DuPont said prevention is the best method of dealing with potential drug abuse problems. He recommended family counseling and early detection strategies be used by physicians. DuPont said that although drug and alcohol abuse has fallen in recent years, it is still above levels prior to an epidemic rise in drug use that began during the late 1960s and lasted.

Asian-Americans Live Success Story

A familiar summer scene on many California beaches involves Vietnamese children — and sometimes adults — collecting aluminum cans, a painstaking task for the relatively small amount of money it earns. This is but one local sidelight in the awe and admiration that many Americans profess for the remarkable success story of the nation's Asian-American population.

Asian-Americans include Chinese, Japanese, Filipinos, Koreans, and East Indians and comprise 4.1 million, or 1.8 percent, of the country's total population. Presently, 48 percent of all legal newcomers to the United States are Asian and by the turn of the century it is estimated that Asian-Americans will number 10 million.

This is an amazing growth rate. Yet, even more astonishing is the general measure of prosperity attained by Asian-Americans. According to the 1980 census, their median family income is $22.713, compared to $19,917 for white families.

And, due to the outstanding performance of Asian-Americans at all levels of education, the material well-being of this minority group is likely to rise. In California, nearly half the Asian-American high school graduates are qualified to enter the California State University system. The student body at the University of California at Berkeley, for example, is almost one-fourth Asian-American. And, although Asian-Americans account for only 1.8 percent of the population, they comprise 5.6 percent of the total enrollment of U.S. medical schools.

All of this despite a long history of xenophobia toward Asians in this country. Anti-Asian prejudice began with the migration of Chinese, who helped construct western railroads during the 1850s and 1860s. In 1870, for example, Congress excluded Asians from U.S. citizenship; twelve years later, Chinese immigration to the United States was curtailed.

During various periods in California from 1854 to 1940. Asians were legally barred from testifying in court, owning or leasing land, and marrying Caucasians. The most famous episode of persecution occurred during World War II, when 110,000 Japanese-Americans were deprived of their property and forced into internment camps.

Considering these difficulties, what is the explanation for Asian-American success in America? We believe it derives essentially from self-reliance developed through strong familial and community bonds. Most Asian children are raised in stable, two-parent homes where education is revered and sacrifice for the future not uncommon. Significantly. Asians give high priority to mastering the English language. They also have a knack for assimilating into American culture, as our aluminum-can collectors attest. No work is considered too menial.

Finally. Asian American living style is a big success factor. Asian immigrants have benefited from their tendency to settle in clusters. Economic discrimination early in this century led to the formation of mutual-aid societies and a large amount of financial activity conducted within the community. Even today, for example, 34 percent of the Korean grocery-store owners in Chicago depend upon aid from Korean financial outlets.

There are boatloads of statistics that tell how Asian-Americans lead other immigrants in entering the U.S. mainstream of opportunity. Their real secret is unfolded in the patient toil of the family of Vietnamese beachcombers in our own midst.

Reagan Prefers Euphonious Vocabulary

WASHINGTON (UPI) -- What's in a name?
President Reagan, speaking at a Milwaukee GOP fund- raising dinner, noted opposition in some quarters to the "star wars" defense in space.

He said he preferred to call this Strategic

Defense Initiative "the strategic space shield," rather than "star wars."

Reagan has on earlier occasions expressed his dislike of the term "star wars" and what it connotes. The same goes for the deadly MX missile. He renamed that one the "Peacekeeper."

And when the United States invaded Grenada in October 1982. Reagan called it a "rescue mission."

At the same dinner in Milwaukee the president said:

"Today our deterrent, our war deterrent is based on: they have missiles: we have missiles: and if they fire their missiles and kill millions of our people, we will fire ours and kill millions of theirs. That's no way to go."

Reagan also told the Republican gathering in Milwaukee, "You know. I have heard there is a new version of Trivial Pursuit. It's called the Economist's Edition. In this one there are 100 questions, 3,000 answers."

To those who covered President Richard Nixon in his years at the White House, his involvement as a negotiator in the baseball umpire dispute does not come as a surprise.

Nixon had often expressed his suppressed ambition to broadcast sports.

That's where President Reagan has one up on

That's where President Reagan has one up on him. In his early years out of college, Reagan was a radio sportscaster.

Summitry is big at the White House these days. The wives of some 30 foreign leaders have accepted the first lady's invitation, which is a follow-up to a similar two-day meeting she held in April.

The Oct. 21 meeting in New York will bring together a mix of first ladies whose husbands represent different political stripes and who hall from every continent.

Mrs. Reagan will make opening and closing remarks at the gathering that is projecting worldwide her American crusade against drug and alcohol abuse.

President Reagan also has a meeting in New York a couple of days later with the leaders of five Western allied nations to lay the groundwork for his summit meeting in Geneva with Soviet leader Mikhail Gorbachev.

The meeting with the heads of government of Britain, Italy. West Germany. Japan and Canada will give Reagan a chance to warm up his arguments and to keep the reluctant allies in line on "star wara."

line on "star wars."

Only French President Francois Mitterand declined the president's invitation, preferring to see Reagan somewhere else, privately.

Reagan is expected to go full speed ahead in his concentration on foreign policy in the days to come. His own top aides are now skeptical that he will be able to push through his tax package — the Christmas present he hopes to give everyone in December.

Although GOP leaders have warned that the timetable will not work, the president persists in a campaign dear to his heart. He has traveled to eight cities on the tax plan since Labor Day.

Reagan also is doing his bit to keep the Senate in the Republican column by flying to far off places to attend fund-raisers for GOP can-

Variable Official Findings

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The White House is beginning to show a credibility gap.

It is not alien to this administration. Somewhere along the way to the forum, officials in the top hierarchy find II expedient to twist the facts to suit their purposes.

The invasion of Grenada in October 1983 is a case in point. "Preposterous," said a top press aide who was himself misled by members of the National Security Council on the the secret operation in the Caribbean.

The denials were blatant and backfired. Reporters were apprehensive that the administration would continue to undertake military operations without communicating to the public.

Since the United States has always had reporters on the front lines, in all the recent wars at least, the lack of candor and the deception did not bode well for future dealings with the administration.

Consider the case of the skin cancer on the president's nose. For several days the White House attempted to mislead reporters, and therefore the people, with misleading information on the removal of a skin irritation that turned out to be cancerous.

The first lady and the president's doctor denied there 'had been an biopsy or that cancer was found. When White House credibility began to fall apart. Reagan found himself in the position of having to explain that a touch of skin cancer had been found on his nose.

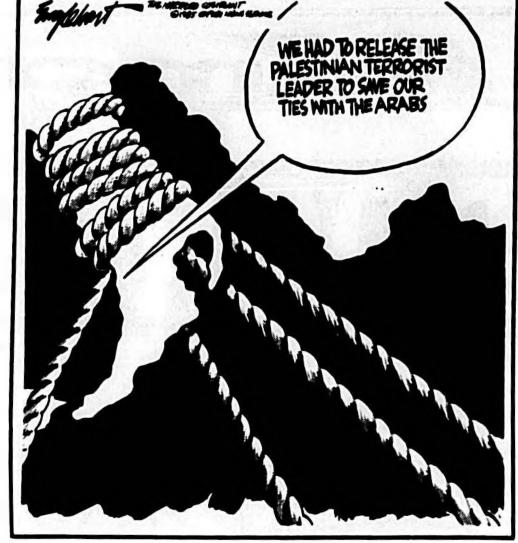

Since then Reagan has done a pre-emptive strike; when he had a second skin cancer on his nose removed, he told reporters about the patch on his face before they could even ask.

In the case of the Middle East, some of the statements do lead one

For example, the White House said that it was not aware that eight U.S. F-15 jet fighters supplied to the Israelis flew 1.500 miles over the Mediterranean where the 6th Fleet rules the waves to bomb a Palestinian camp in Tunisia.

At the same time, aides said the United States has many ways to track a plane such as the Egyptian airliner that American Navy planes intercepted over the Mediterranean with the four hijackers and Palestianians and Egyptian soldiers aboard. The plane was forced down

The Americans surrounded the plane and the Italians surrounded the Americans, sources said, which is not the way the White House told the story, completely glossing over the facts and not mentioning the confrontation.

DON GRAFF

Sister City Sin Center

MACAU (NEA) — You can get here easily from Hong Kong, 40 miles to the east across the muddy estuary of the Pearl River. Hydrofoils, hovereraft and regular ferries, with departures on the half hour during the day and, in the case of the ferries, less frequently through the night.

But don't try it on a weekend without a confirmed reservation. All available vessels have by then been booked solid by Hong Kong residents hooked on the main attraction of their seedy little sister city—gambling.

It is an oddity that, as much as Chinese everywhere like to take their chances on cards and dice, public gambling is illegal in 98 percent-Chinese Hong Kong. But fortunate for Macau. Long since eclipsed as a commercial center, it has found, as a result, a way to continue making a living.

Macau is the oldest European outpost in this part of the world. It was established in 1557 by the Portuguese, shortly after their ships came to open China and Japan to trade. For the next several profitable centuries, the merchants of Macau enjoyed a virtual monopoly.

There is an American footnote in this long and eventful history. The first treaty of trade and friendship between the United States and China was signed here in 1844.

But by then, the bell was already tolling for Macau. In 1841, the British had acquired Hong Kong, which rapidly took over the China trade, leaving Macau little more than memories and, in a guide book's words, "an old world charm and atmosphere of romanticism." It continues:

"The bequest of those glorious bygone days can be seen in pastel-colored palaces, baroque churches and exotic temples, menacing fortresses with silent cannons and winding narrow streets."

All true enough as far as it goes. What isn't mentioned is that most of the palaces are blotchy with mold, crumbling from age and neglect in the humidity of the South China Sea. But few of the preoccupied visitors from Hong Kong take much note of Macau's rundown exterior. They're too busy inside the casinos.

The Chinese could take over openly at any time, and in effect have been the de facto shadow government here for far longer than in Hong Kong. But, as with Hong Kong, it has suited their purpose so far not to change the legal status quo.

Their purpose here, however, is more inscrutable than in the case of Hong Kong, through which for years most of China's trade has moved and where abrupt political change could be economically damaging.

Minuscule Macau would seem to serve no such good Chinese purpose. Except, just possibly, the gambling and attendant minor vices tolerated by the easygoing Portuguese administrators may be considered useful as a safety valve for hyperactive Hong Kong.

Eat Well But Be Careful

By Gayle Young UPI Science Writer

NEW YORK (UPI) — Natural, cancer-causing agents are present in much of the food Americans eat, including mushrooms, toast and charcoal broiled steak, according to a study by a research group.

The natural carcinogens may even be more numerous and, in some cases, more potent than man-made carcinogens, such as saccharin, that have been used as food additives, according to the report from the American Council on Science and Health.

A carcinogen triggers a change in the genetic make-up of a cell and causes mutant reproduction, leading to cancer. A single carcinogen molecule can cause cancer, but research shows the chances of contacting the dread disease-become plausable only when vast quantities of a carcinogen are consumed.

Therefore, the chances of a person contacting cancer from natural carcinogens are slight, said William R. Havender, one of the report's authors, as long as he eats a variety of different foods and maintains a balanced diet.

balanced diet.
"There is no safe dosage of carcinogens," he said. "But it seems to be a one in a million chance if the intake is moderate."

According to the report, it is impossible to avoid all careinogenic foods because there are so many.

"Fortunately, the variety in our diets prevents us from being exposed to truly dangerous amounts of any one potentially harmful food component," said Dr. Elizabeth Whelan, the council's executive director.

"There is currently no evide that low-level exposure to chemicals in the U.S. food supply, either natural or man-made, poses a significant risk of cancer."

The report says a carcinogen called nitrite is formed when saliva reacts with nitrate, a component of vegetables such as beets, celery, spinach and radishes. Nitrate is also used to cure fish, poultry and meat, but in relatively small amounts.

Benzapyrene, another carcinogenis formed when meat protein is broken down by charring during cooking. Benzapyrene can also assist other cancer-causing agents through its ability to raise enzyme levels in the liver, states the report.

The list of natural carcinogens continues for 29 pages.

"The bottom line is that we can't assume natural is safe while man-made substances are unsafe." said Havender, who stated in the report that saccharin is one of the weakest carcinogens ever detected in animal tests.

Air Force Won't Budge On Medical Foulup

By Jack Anderson and Dale Van Atta

WASHINGTON -- This is the curious story of a young man who showed promise of becoming an outstanding Air Force officer, but was instead bounced out of the service as "schizoid." His real medical problem, it turned out, was chronic tonsillitis.

Even though the psychiatrist who made the faulty diagnosis later admitted he was wrong, the Air Force has stubbornly refused to reinstate the would-be pilot. Here's what happened:

During his last semester at Brigham Young University. Theodore Sumrall enlisted in the Air Force Reserve. He was sent to officer training school following graduation in January 1981.

At the time he enlisted, Sumrall suffered from chronic, recurring tonsillitis. He couldn't afford the tonsillectomy that a university doctor recommended.

Sumrall asked the recruiters what he should do the says an Air Force.

Sumrall asked the recruiters what he should do. He says an Air Force major advised him to "keep quiet about the affliction" and hope it didn't flare up at officer training school.

But it did, and on Jan. 23, 1981, he went to the base flight surgeon for help.

He saw the flight surgeon eight times in the next two weeks. The doctor did not diagnose tonsillitis, though his report did note "slight inflammation of a tonsil on the right side."

Meanwhile. Sumrall consulted the base's ear, nose and throat specialist. This doctor confirmed the Brigham Young doctor's diagnosis of chronic tonsillitis, and scheduled an operation to remove the infected tonsils.

But the flight surgeon overruled the specialist's recommendation and sent Sumrall to a psychiatrist, saying the throat inflammation was "all in your head."

The psychiatrist, a resident in training, gave Sumrall a 10-minute interview and found nothing wrong with him mentally. But later, after talking with the flight surgeon, the psychiatrist diagnosed Sumrall as having a "schizoid personality" and being "temperamentally and emotionally unsuited for continued service in the Air Force." He added: "Prompt administrative separation is recommended."

Within three weeks, Sumrall was discharged for "lack of adaptabili-

Seven months later, when he could a fford it. Sumrall had a tonsillectomy. The physician's report said: "Grossly enlarged and diseased tonsils were removed, indicating an ongoing disease state in both tonsils."

Poor Lighting Is Major Cause Of House Plant Failure

It's house plant time again time to bring indoors all of your house plants that you've had outdoors on the patio through the summer. This can be a good time, if you're careful and slowly acclimate your plants to the new environment. You may find that some of your plants will drop their leaves temporarily while adjusting to indoor conditions.

Nearly all forms of life need some light to survive, and this includes your house plants. Among the elements needed for indoor plant culture and proper temperature, humidity, and light - with light leading the list. Poor lighting is the major cause of plant fatlure.

The light requirements of various plants vary drastically. Light intensity refers to the brightness of the area where the plant is placed. Generally, a low light condition occurs about eight feet from a window, where a plant receives no direct light. A medium light condition occurs in a well-lit room, where a plant is between four and eight feet from a window. High light areas are the brightly lit places within three feet of any south, east or west window.

Most indoor plants need at least medium light. And, many require high light conditions to look their best. A few will survive in low light. These include many of our tropical plants which will actually "sunburn" if

Sunlight is the best source of light for plants, but artificial light can be used very successfully to meet the needs of indoor plants. When growing plants under artificial light, a combination of fluorescent and incandescent light, or growlights alone, will give good

Duration of exposure - the total amount of time a plant receives light, is important. If a plant doesn't receive enough natural light, artificial lights can provide the additional light necessary for the plant's survival. It's difficult to provide indoor light intensities as high as those under which a plant would grow best. But, you can come close by increasing the light duration in other words, exposing the plants to artificial light for longer periods of time.

Plants were never meant to live indoors. Their natural habitat is the great outdoors. In needs of the particular plants addition to the light needs, you you are growing.

must consider temperature and humidity. These, too, can be modified to stimulate healthy plant growth.

For most plants to do well indoors, the temperature should be between 70 and 75 degrees F. during the day, about 65 degrees at night. These are only rough guidelines. Plant preferences and tolerances to temperature vary widely. A little reference reading at the library, or talking with your favorite garden center or nurseryman, or the agricultural center, will go a long way in better understanding the

The most important temperature factor in growing house plants is stability. Try to locate your plants in areas of your home where the temperature will vary no more than five degrees. This means keeping your plants away from heating units, television sets, windows and doorways. House plants need a moderately warm spot. Extended periods of exposure to temperatures of 50 degrees or lower can cause permanent damage to many plants.

Most plants grow best when the humidity is at least 30 percent or higher. Since indoor air is usually rather dry, you may need to provide enough water, proper lighting conditions, and a well-regulated temperature to make up for the lack of humidity.

A humidifier is an excellent way to provide adequate airmoisture levels for good plant growth. If this is not feasible or impractical for your home, there are other ways. You can increase the humidity around your plants by setting them on water-filled trays of pebbles. Remember, the pots must be set on top of the pebbles. Never allow them to become immersed in the water. Grouping plants seems to help. too. Plants separated usually dry out faster than those grown close together. You may consider locating plants with very high moisture requirement in naturally humid areas of your home, such as the

Of all the points of good house plant culture, proper watering is probably the most misunderstood. Carcless watering is the biggest tant source of the moisture killer of house plants. More on

Participants in the first class of the Continuing Education Program of Bethune-Cookman College Extension

5 Finish First Class At New College Center

A dream come true is a working part of the community of Sanford and Seminole. For quite some time the desire of some concerned educators has been to have a college extension center program in Sanford.

This year, starting in January. the first classes began with the enrollment of 15 students and with three courses being offered. Thus, the inception of Bethune-Cookman College Extension Center Program Sanford Center was held at Crooms High School.

The legacy of Dr. Mary McLeod Bethune does live on in the s of those who will not give ope of getting an education, "Have Faith."

On July 18, at Crooms High School, the first class of The Bethune-Cookman College Continuing Education Program presented its first program "An invitation To Learn." This program, under the direction of the speech Instructor, Ann L. Refoe, was a successful effort to recruit new students.

Participants of the program were Eartha S. Joseph, Faye Williams, Robin Waldo, Dirk Kendrick and Marion Matthews.

Expressions were given by instructors Miss Refoe, Dr. Stephen C. Wright and Dr. Robert Wright, coordinator of Continuing Education of Bethune-Cookman College.

Thanks go to Louise Pulliman and Edward Blacksheare for helping to coordinate this first center. Many persons have become interested in the Sanford Center. The fall classes began with an enrollment of 35 with 12 courses being offered. Dr.

Bethune's legacy is still living in the minds of the students because they had faith.

Organization of the student body was spearheaded by Faye Williams and Robin Waldo, with Mr. Blacksheare, and on Sept. 12, the student body held its first meeting: Officers are: Robin Waldo, president; Marion Mat-thews, vice president; Faye Williams, secretary: Eartha Joseph, assistant secretary: Doris Wilson, financial secretary: Deborah Anderson, treasurer: Eldidge McCoy, parliamentarian; Phyllis Martin, reporter: Lindie Stewart, assistant reporter; Sheralyn Brinson, chaplain; Dirk Kendrick, sgt.-at-arms; and Juanita Harold, sponsor.

Faye Williams has been selected to reign as Miss Continuing Education and Deborah Anderson and Allison Primus are attendants. They will participate in the Bethune Cookman College Homecoming Parade Nov. 2.

Local educators are serving on the Advisory Board for the Center. Members are Annie L. Refoe, Dr. Stephen C. Wright, Carletha Merkerson, the Rev. Emory Blake, the Rev. Arthur Graham, Mary Whitehurst, Doris Thomas. Bernadette Blake. Louise Pulliman and Edward

ST. LOUIS (UPI) - Thirty-seven years ago this week, an underdog named Harry Truman chose St. Louis as the last leg of his whistle-stop tour.

He then returned to Kansas City. where he whipped Thomas Dewey. Whether the Kansas City Royals follow political history is your guess.

One thing looks sure, though, Despite trailing in the World Series three games to two, the Royals own a heck of an edge in omens.

The Royals beat the St. Louis Cardinals 6-1 Thursday night, returning the Series to Kansas City.

Danny Jackson pitched a five-hitter. Willie Wilson tripled home two runs. and shortstop Buddy Blancalana reached base three times. Yes, the same Buddy Biancalana who hit .188 during the season.

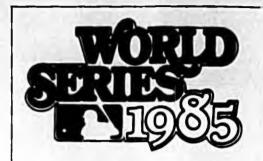

'We're a very relaxed group and I don't think there is anyone on our team who thought it would be over today." Biancalana said.

St. Louis played with a flatness of Gussie Busch scarcely would tolerate in his brewery. Left fielder Tito Landrum made two defensive blunders, shortstop Ozzie Smith committed an error, and Willie McGee was picked off. Furthermore, a key umpiring call went against the Cardinals.

"I still think we're in the best position," said Cardinals reliever Todd Worrell, who tied a Series record by striking out six straight batters.

Now the Cardinals, growing futile at the plate and perhaps a little nervous. will try to clinch the Series Saturday night by sending right-hander Danny Cox against lefty Charlie Leibrandt.

"Nothing has come easy for us." Kansas City manager Dick Howser said. "We've struggled in the regular season, and we had to come from behind against Toronto. I don't know what it is about this club, but we never do things in an casy way. All of that history has got to help us in this Series."

The game marked the second time in the playoffs Jackson received the ball with his team in a 3-1 hole. The first time, he pitched an eight-hit shutout against the Blue Jays.

Game 6 of the World Series will be televised Saturday at 8 p.m. by Orlando's WFTV-9.

Against the Cardinals, he allowed a first-inning run on Jack Clark's RBI double, then no further scoring. He retired the leadoff batter in every

"I didn't know I had done that." the 23-year-old Jackson said. "I didn't have good stuff until the fourth inning."

Fortunately for Jackson, his teammates had their best stuff in the first two innings

Former Cardinal Lonnie Smith led off with a single, and Wilson followed with a single. They advanced when left fielder Landrum, in the first of two defensive blunders, caught George Brett's fly ball but then doublepumped and threw too late to second to get the speedy Wilson. Smith scored on Frank White's infield out, which could have been a double play had Landrum held Wilson at first.

After the Cardinals tied the score in the first. Landrum misjudged Jim Sundberg's liner leading off the second and it ticked off the end of his glove for a double.

Biancalana then singled to right, and Sundberg scored on a controverial play at the plate. Right fielder Cesar Cedeno's throw had Sundberg beaten. but umpire John Shulock ruled he slid around the tag by eatcher Tom Nieto.

"The throw was up the line," said home plate umpire John Shulock. 'Nieto went up to get it, came back. tagged Sundberg on the foot, but that was after Jim had touched the plate with his hand. It's a tough call."

One out later, Lonnie Smith walked. and Wilson, batting .364 in the Series. tripled to right center, chasing loser Bob Forsch.

"I wasn't trying for a triple," said Wilson. "I just wanted a base hit. Triples are nothing new to me, and was just happy to get another one."

The Cardinals posed their last the in the third when they loaded the bases with two out. Landrum popped to Brett.

Seminole and Lyman will be on the same football field tonight. That's about all they have in common. Their goals are markedly different for the rest of the season.

Seminole has lost close game after close game since its season-opening blowout against Titusville Astronaut (24-0). Losses to Titusville (20-13). Lake Howell (14-13) and Lake Mary (13-12) followed. The Tribe trimmed Lake Brantley (17-10) before dropping another heartbreaker to Scabreeze (7-0) last

"It's just been mistakes at critical times." Seminole coach Dave Mosure said about his team's near misses. "We get down in the scoring zone and then we blow one play and it costs us the game.

All of which has been frustrating for the first-year Tribe coach. "Hell, we're losing. we're 1-5." Mosure said. "But it's been so damn close. We're not going to make wholesale changes. We just have to keep our confidence level up."

Howell Sweeps First SAC Meet

By Chris Fister Herald Sports Writer

Usually, a school reserves a portion of its morning announcements for the athletic events of the day before. Friday morning. Lake Howell High may have had to reserve an entire period to recite the Silver Hawks' accomplishments in Thursday's Seminole Athletic Conference Cross Country Championships.

In the first ever SAC championship event in any sport, hosted by Lake Mary High, Lake Howell swept all four divisions including boys and girls varsity and boys and girls junior varsity.

•In what was billed as a three-way battle for first, Lake Howell's varsity boys turned in their best team performance of the season as the Hawks recorded a team score of 42 compared to 58 for Lake Mary.

• As expected, the Lady Silver Hawks' varsity took first place but they had to overcome a big obstacle in the middle of the race

 The boys junior varsity ran away with its meet with a team score of 28 compared to 52 for Lake Brantley and the girls JV edged out Lake Brantley, 26-31.

In the previous meet, the DeLand Invitational, two points separated Lake Howell's and Lake Mary's boys. Thursday afternoon, the Silver Hawks bunched five runners in the top 13 and that gave them the conference title.

"The kids ran their hearts out today," Lake Howell coach Joe Corso said. "They wanted it bad. It was a great team effort."

Leading the way for the Hawks was sophomore Anthony Howe who took third at 16:22.7. Junior Chuck Buster ran his best race of the year as he took seveth at 16:38.9 and right behind him was sentor John Davis in eighth at 16:48.1. Completing the top five were senior Brent Springhart (11th at 17:11.1) and junior Jeff Van Buskirk (13th at 17:12.0).

"The last mile made the race," Corso said. "The guys really came up the last mile. And Van Buskirk was real sick. He did a great job of holding his place. That was one of the keys since our next guy didn't come in until

Lake Mary High had the individual champion in senior Ken Rohr who beat Seminole senior Billy Penick for the first time in a cross country race. Lake Mary sophmore Eric Petersen also ran well as he finished fourth at 16:31.7.

Following Petersen in the Rams' top five were Jeff Hale (15th at 17:16.3). Anthony Surles (18th at 17:20.6) and Marc Eskin (20th at 17:28.6).

"Lake Howell's tough." Lake Mary coach Mark McGee said. We were as ready as we could be and the guys ran a super race. I'm proud of the way they ran. They were mad they didn't win, but now they know what they need to do.'

Lyman High took third in the meet at 67 led by the strong 1-2-3 combination of sophomore Robin Rogers (sixth at 16:36.9), freshman Nick Radkewich (ninth at 16:58.4) and junior Mike Mohler (12th at 17:11.4). Lake Brantley's Patriots had their best meet of the season as they finished fourth at 79.

"I'm so proud of the guys," Brantley coach Charlie Harris said. "We've had a down year but they worked really hard and brought themselves back. Everybody did a fantastic job."

Leading the way for the Patriots were senior David Payne (fifth at 16:34.4), junior Jose Calvino (10th at 16:58.9), junior Greg Webb (16th at 17:20.0) ay senior Steve Drake (17th 17:20.6). Seminole High finished fifth with a score of 89. Behind Penick for the Tribe, senior Kelvin Abney was 14th at 17:15.9. After Abney were Alan Seward (22nd at 17:43.9), Kelly Faint (25th at 17:55.1). David Johnson (26th at 17:56.9) and John Skees (30th at 18:07).

Without putting too much emphasis on two individuals, if you watch Lyman's Robert Thomas and Seminole's Brian Brinson tonight there's a good chance you'll be around the ball.

One thing for certain, they will be around the ball when Lyman and Seminole renew old football wars tonight in Seminole Athletic Conference action at Seminole High School. Kickoff is Lyman has won three consecutive games to improve to 3-2. The Greyhounds are 2.0 in the SAC and tied for first with Lake Mary. The 'Hounds are 1-1 in District 5A-4, one-half game behind leader Mainland. Seminole is 1-6. The Seminoles are 1.2 in the SAC and 0.2 in District 4A-5.

Thomas, a hard-running tailback, is not shy when it comes to handling the ball. And Lyman offensive coordinator Larry Baker isn't afraid to call on No. 32. It's not uncommon for him to tote the pigskin 25 to 30 times on a Friday evening.

Brinson, a vicious-hitting linebacker, is considered one of the top defensive performers in Central Florida. The stocky senior leads the county with 53 solos and 35 assists for 88

The 5.9, 185-pounder, who wears No. 57, has been in double figures with his tackles every game. Brinson said the key to stopping Lyman will be to control Thomas.

"We're been hearing pretty much about him and you have to respect one of the top rushers (third) in the county." Brinson said. "If we put a stop to him, we can pretty much put a stop to Lyman.

'But," Brinson quickly added. "We got to go out and do it first. not talk about it."

Thomas then ticked off the names of quarterback John Burton, wide receiver Ralph Philpott and backup tailback Eddie Brown as dangerous 'Hounds who can hurt the Seminoles offensively.

Still. Seminole coach Dave Mosure and Lyman coach Bill Scott insist that the Brinson-Thomas duel may be the key

"Thomas can take a three- or four-yard play and break it for 25 or 30 yards." Mosure said. "He's an excellent back with great balance and good acceleranorth."

Brinson echoed his coach's sentiments but also pointed out that sometimes Thomas will go east or west to find north. "If tackle Mike Luster [46 tackles]. everything is stacked up inside. Lake Mary coach Harry Nelson said the Rams are going into tonight's game at Oviedo with. "our guns strapped to our hips."

Nelson is hoping this week that, when the Rams draw, they will be firing bullets and not-

A week ago, in a 7-6 loss to Spruce Creek, Lake Mary had ample opportunities to score the Rams were inside the Spruce Creek 30 four times - but came away with just six points.

"We just couldn't get it in the end zone." Nelson said. "We've won a lot of games that could have gone either way. Eventually, you're going to lose one that you should have won."

Tonight, Lake Mary will look to put more points on the board against an Oviedo deiense that has some chinks in its armor. Inside linebacker David Lockwood is out for the season because of a calcium deposit in his bruised thigh. Defensive back Mike Bass, who has been

"We can't get any more people hurt," Oviedo coach Jack Blanton said, "Losing those two (Lockwood and Bass) really hurt us. They were two of the key people on defense."

Blanton said it was important to get into the end zone. "When we get the ball on offense we have to score," added Blanton. "We can't make mistakes and we have to take advantage of Lake Mary's mistakes. And we have to convert when we get it down close."

Slack: Knights In Good Spirit But Need Win

Despite suffering a fourth consecutive defeat last week, a 28-21 loss at the hands of Eastern Kentucky, quarterback Darin Slack said the Knights remain in good spirits as the team approaches Saturday's homecoming contest against Stephen F. Austin.

Kickoff is set for 7 p.m. at Orlando Stadium. Slack, a former all-state signal caller for the Lake Howell Silver Hawks, will open up at quarterback for the second straight game Saturday as in-Jured starter Tony Lanham con-Unues to nurse a knee injury.

"We're very positive." Slack said of the teams attitude for the homecoming contest. "We have prepared well this week." The Knights, who dropped to

2-4 with the loss to EKU, are in need of a win Saturday, Slack said. "It's Important," he said. "It would do great wonders for the moral of the team. I think it would do a lot for the community also, since it is homecoming." Stephen F. Austin's Lumberjacks come into the game at 5-1. having beaten a strong Nichols

State team last week, 20-10. Like the Knights, the Lumber-Jacks are a Division II school.

"They should be tough." Slack said. "We have seen them on film and they have a very good defense."

In order to have a winning season, the Knights must winfour of their remaining five games. Slack feels the team is capable of winning them all.

"We can win the rest of our games," he said. "It's just up to us. We play a lot of formidable teams but I think we are a formtdable team too. We have got the talent to win."

In an incredible swing of events, the Florida State Seminoles went from giving up the most points in a single game in its school history during the 59-27 loss to Auburn two weeks ago, to scoring the most ever in one game with last week's 76-14 victory over Tulsa.

Head coach Bobby Bowden's first words to the press after scoring 76 points against Tulsa: "I would gladly have taken 33 of those at Auburn and settled for 43 tonight.

The Seminoles, who improved to 5-1 on the season, will take on the North Carolina Tar Heels in Chapel Hill Saturday. The Tar-Heels are 4-2.

Isaac Williams, a Seminole High grad, will start at defensive PICKS - After going a very respectable 22-8 in my first three weeks of picking games. I've sunk to 9-11 during the past two weeks including a 4.6 mark in last week's contests.

For the season: 31-19 (10-10 in the preps. 13-7 in college and 8-2 in the pros).

In college action, look for UCF to top Stephen F. Austin by 7, FSU to roll over North Carolina by 17 and Florida to rout Virginia Tech by 24.

In other college action the Ohio State Buckeyes by 7 over an up and coming Minuesota squad (former Arkansas coach Lou Holtz has done wonders with the Gopher program just like he said he would) to remain undefeated in the Big-10 and USC over Notre Dame by 3 as the Fighting Irish prepare to oust Gerry Faust. Miami may hammer Louisville by 60.

In the pros. don't expect any surprises from Tampa Bay when it hosts New England Sunday. I can remember when the Bucs rewarded a guy named Jolin McKay with a winless season in his first year as head coach. Do the Bucs have the same type of prize planned for first-year head coach Leeman Bennett? Looks that way so far. Patriots by 8. The Miami Dolphins will con-time to win its games with plenty of offense and no defense and can only hope Hugh Green will eventually be the savior that the defense so desperately needs as they hold off the Lions by 6.

Seminole County action tonights finds Lyman at Seminole and Lake Mary at Oviedo. The Hounds and Rams are fled for the Seminole Athletic Conference lead with 2-0 records and will go head to head Nov. 22 in the last game of the season for both squads in what could be for the SAC championship.

Florida Digs In For Hokies' Run

GAINESVILLE (UPI) - University of Florida Coach Galen Hall expects his defense against the run to be tested Saturday. when the Virginia Tech Hokies visit Florida Field.

The Hokies' running back tandem of Maurice Williams and Eddie Hunter average almost 154 yards a game. The Gators allow slightly less than 80 yards a game. Hall said it could be a case of the irresistible force and the immovable object.

"I'm sure they think they'll be able to run," Hall said of the 3-4 Hokies. "But we're pretty confident in our defense. We're expecting a war in the trenches. We've got to establish the line (of scrimmage) from the outset." Hunter, 5-foot-10 and 189 pounds, and Williams, 6-0 and 206 pounds, have combined for 524 yards rushing in the last two games, a statistic that Hall said has caused him more than a this season. We face a tremenlittle worry.

"Their running backs are really pounding out the yardage," Hall said. "Their offense seems to be coming together as a unit. They lined up against Virginia last week and ran the ball for two schools, but not Dooley's, nearly 250 yards. On the other side of the line, they held Virginia's rushing game to 122 Dooley compiled a 3-1 record vards."

The Hokies were down 10-0 at halftime, but rallied for four second-half touchdowns to be the Cavaliers 28-10. Tech Coach Bill Dooley praised his team for their comeback effort.

"It was a matter of pride," Dooley said. "Our players have not hung their heads all season in the face of a lot of adversity and they didn't hang their heads at the half Saturday. They fought back and got a great victory.

Dooley said this week's game will definitely be the Hokies' toughest test of the season.

"I thought Florida was the best team in the country last season, and it may be the best dous challenge, but we are looking forward to the opportunity of playing such a great team." Dooley said.

With an easy 26-0 win at home over Lake Brantley Thursday, the Lake Mary Rams junior 4-2 with a 14-8 loss to Lake seven straight wins this season and 15 in a row over two years.

The Rams will go for 16 in a row two weeks from now against New Smyrna at Lake Mary Stadium.

"We got an outstanding team effort from our defense tonight." said Ram coach Bill McDaniel. "We were substituting freely."

And while the Ram defense was shutting down the Patriots attack. Lake Mary offensive coordinator Charlie Reynolds had little trouble finding the holes in the Patriot defense as the Rams scored a touchdown in all four quarters.

Quarteback Kelly McKinnon threw a 19-yard scoring pass to Erwin Edwards and also ran in a seven yard score for two of the Ram touchdowns, Richard Burkette scored on a 63 yard run on an option play and Mike Smith added the Rams other

Fans Need A Break From Mother Nature

I don't know who it was that stirred the wrath of Mother Nature but there are a lot of people who wish she would mellow out.

One thing that has been consistent in Seminole County football games this season has been rain. I've been to seven games this season and it not only has rained, but poured at four of

One Friday night, the game I was originally scheduled for was even rained out. So. I went to Lake Brantley and Evans at Orlando and, of course, got drenched.

The football players, other than having problems with footing and hanging on to the ball, have helmets and a lot of padding to help keep them dfy. The smart coaches usually bring their rain gear.

Those who suffer the most are the cheerleaders who endure the rain, get soaked to the bone and still manage to keep up their smiles. The Lake Brantley cheerleaders deserve special mention for never losing their spirit despite how wet they get and how much their team is trailing on the scoreboard.

The season is half over and, because of the weather, a number of fans have not been able to see as much of their teams as they would like.

And a lot of them would like to send a message to Mother Nature to get off the clouds and give the people a break.

Last week, I was, in the words of a teenaged reader, "A total nerf bag," I guess that means I didn't have a clue. The Fearless Fister Forecast was a miserable 5.5 last week and now stands at 36-23-1 for the season. What percentage is that? Don't be a wise guy, okay?

LYMAN AT SEMINOLE Lyman's Greyhounds roll in with a three-game winning streak and tied for the lead in the Seminole Athletic Conference. On the other hand, the hard-luck Seminoles have outplayed live opponents but only have a 4.5 record to show for it. Lyman is consistent in every aspect of the game and, if it stays that way, it will make it four in a row. — 'Hounds by 3 constantly bothered by what a dermatologist called "tinea versicolor." During the summer it becomes much more pronounced. Is there any over-the-counter medication that can be purchased, or at least a prescription that is renewable again, since this is a constantly recurring problem?

Fungus Infection Requires Medication

Friday, Oct. 25, 1906

by Chie Young

DEAR READER - Tinea versicolor is a fungus infection of the skin. The brownish-yellow patches typically erupt on the trunk. A drug called Clortrimazole, when applied to the skin, may help clear up the disorder. However, I believe you should see a dermatologist for the specific therapy that might be appropriate to your individual condition. I do not know of any over-the-counter medicine that is consistently successful in treating this common skin dis-

DEAR DR. GOTT - I had foot surgery a year ago for neuromas and had three incisions. My foot nearly drives me crazy. I have muscle spasms in all my toes. twitching, contractions, burning. stinging and so much pain I can hardly explain it. My surgeon sent me a certifled letter saying he wouldn't treat me as a patient anymore, as he didn't know what to do. I've been to a podiatrist and two neurologists. All said: "normal." I'm afraid I won't have good sense if I don't get relief.

DEAR READER - Your surgeon behaved in a completely ethical manner by notifying you in the proper way that he no longer wished to treat you. The certified letter may have solved his problem, but, unfortunately. it did little to solve yours. No matter how good a doctor is. there comes a time when some patients exceed his or her ability, as is the case with your surgeon, neurologists and podiatrist. There is much in medicine that is mysterious.

Second, acupuncture may help you. Again, your doctors may refer you for this procedure - or you can check your local hospital for the names of acupuncture specialists.

What The Day Will Bring...

YOUR BIRTHDAY OCTOBER 26, 1985

From time to time in the year ahead, you will have unique opportunities to increase your earnings. However, in each instance you'll have to move promptly to take advantage of what is offered.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov.22) This can be a profitable day for you, but you must be materially motivated. Concentrate on how earning extra money could benefit loved ones. Trying to patch up a romance? The Matchmaker set can help you understand what it might take to make the relationship work.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23-Dec. 21) To make this a day of accomplishments, it's advisable not to get involved with a friend who doesn't know how to productively use his time. CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19)

Situations will work out to your advantage if you give them half a chance. Don't let self-doubts or negative thinking cause you to make bad moves.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 19) Your faith in what you believe might be put to the test today. If you don't weaken or waver, all will work out as you hope. PISCES (Feb. 20-March 20)

Your imagination and reasoning are your most dependable ailles in evaluating critical situations today. Listen to others, but don't discount your views. ARIES (March 21-April 19) A degree of concern will undergo today. Circums ances will trigger the revisions.

through your own actions.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20) Properly acknowledge one who will be helpful to you today. If you're neglectful, he will be hesitant to assist you again.

CANCER (June 21-July 22)

Fortunately, someone will be covering for you today where your work or career is concerned. He will attend to one of your neglected responsibilities. LEO (July 23-Aug. 22) You'll be lucky in competitive involvements today, and chances are you'll come out on top. If you are a winner, behave with dignity and grace. VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22)

Joint ventures could work out situation that has caused you a well for you today, provided you have a strong associate. But it's some adjustments for the better also going to be up to you to hold up your end.

Talking Horses, Flying Nuns: Sitcoms Absurdities

By Andrew J. Edelstein

One of the most popular genres in TV during the '60s was the fantasy sitcom. Reruns of many of these shows are still popular in syndication and several, in fact, have been revived as TV movies, giving us an opportunity to catch up with our favorite characters' lives. The most recent was "I Dream of Jeannie - 15 Years Later." which aired Oct. 20 on NBC. which showed that Barbara Eden's submissive genie character had become an independent woman of the '80s.

The great escape of mid-'60s TV showed itself in horses and cars that talked, witches who winked, nuns who flew, genies who popped out of bottles, ghosts who haunted monsters and Martians who tried to prove they were as normal as you and I. These characters were mostly bombed by the crities but adored by the

Why did these shows become so popular? The great escape was one reason; the nation in 1964 still hadn't recovered from John Kennedy's death. TV also began alming their programing at younger audiences who could appreciate the fact that Improved TV technology could make people disappear and do other wacky sleight-of-hand tricks.

figures: THE ADDAMS FAMILY" (1964-'66) - This show, based on the macabre New Yorker cartoons of Charles Addams. was wittler and better written than its rival monster family "The Munsters." For starters. this eccentric family looked almost normal (well at least compared to the Munsters). Shifty-eyed Gomez (John Astin) was a loving husband and father who would go into paroxysms of passion whenever his raven-tressed wife Morticia (Carolyn Jones) spoke French to him. While other men his age were out on the links. Gomez preferred indoor sports like blowing up electric trains.

Morticia and Gomez had two children - Pugsley (Ken Weatherwax) and Wednesday (Lisa Loring) - whose toys included a headless doll (she) and a two-headed turtle (he). Miss Loring is now a star on soap operas, where characters are becoming almost as bizarre as those on her former show.

At the family's beck and call was Lurch (Ted Cassidy) a squeals. 6-foot-9 harpsichord-playing butler with one of the best basso profundos on TV ("You rannnngg?"). By the way, did you know that Cassidy's only other role before winning Lurch's spot was as Jesus in a syndicated-TV version of "The Last Supper"? Also on the scene, but more in the background, was Grandmama (Blossom Rock), a witch. Three-foot-high Cousin Itt. "I DREAM OF JEANNIE" (1965-70) - The true '60s pop culture aficionado is one who thinks Larry Hagman was cooler as Tony Nelson, the straight-arrow astronaut and master of Jeannie, than he is as ice water-veined J.R. allow Miss Eden's navel to be seen so her skirt always covered it. She had lived in the bottle from 64 B.C. until 1965 when astronaut Nelson crashlanded on a desert island. He spied the bottle, and, with the opened it, a geyser of ink smoke came out and so did Jeannie. Jeannie's digs inside the bottle were furnished like a motel on Route 66. It got to be a bit claustrophobic, but she was summoned only when her master beckoned. Jeannie wanted to settle down in a no-deposit, no-return bottle of

Sushi Enters High Tech Service

By depressing the white cir-cle that reads "total amount ordered." customers are quickly aware of how much they have eaten or spent as the dollar amount will show on the screen in the upper righthand corner of the menu board.

"You'd think that would help, but I just rang up $15." said Leigh Brewer, obviously in a rush to get back to work. "I just wish they had a button that said, 'Check please''.'

"In Japan, we have a sushi bar very much like this." Sushi-Tron manager Ken Nagashima explained. "We have 10 seats and a sushi man. It works very, very good. Because sometimes it is hard for sushi man to keep track and the customer will think it is very expensive."

The New Meiji Group in Gardena, Calif., is responsibile for this latest sushi innovation. It is the same food company that delivered take-out sushi to grateful Southern Californians.

But isn't this a rather impersonal way to enjoy the ty science of combining scafood and rice?

"Oh no, no," Nagashima retorted as the sushi men in the background grunted and chopped and delivered. "Now people have more time to enjoy the ambiance. They don't have to worry about how much they're spending, and so on."

"It's really marvelous." John Amerson, a bank teller said. "Hit those buttons and the sushi starts coming your way. Plus It's great If you don't speak Japanese:"

Her only mistake in making Suste, she satd, was to sew her full-sized figure by hand. But she had no choice, it was either that or no Susic, because Ms. McDonald gave her sewing machine away when she moved to Sanford from Boston two years ago.

Voluntuous Susic may be a bit on the sleezy side, with her black, fishnet stockings, but she isn't cheap. With stuffing and human hair wig figured in. along with Ms. McDonald's time and creative effort. Susie's worth about $150, and that's without clothes, she said.

But the blonde, acrylic-Right for some men. Ms. McDonald said. "This is their kind of woman. She keeps her mouth shut, doesn't talk back and doesn't cost too much money. She's much easier to get along with than Lam."

Evelyn Piper of DeBary is also adding to the population of these soft-silent types. She creates complete life-size families and says when they are inplace in a home people do a double take and would-be burglars might just believe they're the real residents.

Mrs. Piper has made many such families, using nylon stocking material to form the bodies. She sells them.

But Ms. McDonald, who expects someday to auction Susic off for a charity, has in the meantime taken her in as a co-worker in her packing shop. She says Susic takes up a lot of space. However, she also gets a lot of attention and comments from customers.

One man, she sald, complained it's rude that Susie never talks back and a woman borrowed the dress right off her body to wear to a luau. Ms. McDonald said.

Ms. McDonald has made dolls before, but nothing on the scale of Suste, Mrs. Piper, who makes soft-sculpture in all shapes and sizes, said she started on her own about seven years ago by creating her own polyesterstuffed designs.

"I saw one similar." Mrs. painted blue-eyed Susic is Miss Piper said. "I thought, I can do better and sat down and made my own. They have a mouth and nose, just like us. I use button eyes, no pattern. I put rouge on the faces, real wigs and real clothing. You just make it up as you go along."

And after a couple of days work, she said. "They all come out different. Every stitch you take makes them different."

And they all develop their own personalities, she said.

So, if you dare - with a bit of fabric, filler and some quick stitching and cast off clothing and a wig you can come up with your own life-like creation, which may seem to take on a life of its own.

By Frederick M. Winship UPI Senior Editor

WASHINGTON (UPI) - A landmark exhibit of furnishings and art treasures from 220 of Britain's country mansions opens Nov. 3 at the National Gallery of Art, offering an instant education in how the other half lived when they had

"The Treasure Houses of Britain: Five Hundred Years of Private Patronage and Art Collecting" will run through March 16, when the 830 objects on display will be returned to their aristocratic owners in time for the heavy summer tourist season at Britain's stately homes.

Proceeds from paid admissions has become the chief means of keeping these homes and their treasures intact since the loss of empire and the institution of onerous inheritance taxes. One of the reasons for the show is to increase the number of American visitors who currently account for less than 10 percent of the stately homes trade.

Prince Charles and Princess Diana are due at the Gallery show their benediction. The his wife and sons.

royal family, probably the only Brits who still enjoy country living to its most lavish hilt, is among the contributors to the show, having loaned a suite of Queen Victoria's antier furniture from Osborne House on the lale of Wight.

The stately homes story had its beginning in the 16th century when the relative peace of the Tudor dynasty allowed fortress castles to give way to grand country houses. They were adorned with furniture and decoration that proclaimed the family's wealth and position.

Later, in the 17th and 18th centuries, country homes became country palaces with rich collections of paintings. sculpture, furniture, porcelains and rare books purchased by Britain's nobility on grand tours of Europe.

J. Carter Brown, director of the National Gallery, said the idea for the exhibition was born in 1980.

The objects range from the symbolic "Rainbow Portrait" of Queen Elizabeth I, painted in 1600, to John Singer argent's grandiloquent 1905 portrait of the opening week to give the the 9th Duke of Mariborough.

Gummo Marx Wasn't As Zany As His Brothers

Dear Dick — I have several questions con-cerning the Marz Brothers. Was there a brother Gumme and a brother Zeppe? Why don't we ever hear of them? Was Harpe a real mute or was that inst an act? Who was the eldest brother? And when did Grouche die and how old was he then? - P.R.P., Kalamasoo, Mich.

Yes. Gummo and Zeppo were genuine Marx brothers. Gummo left the act early on as well as Zeppo, who didn't fit in the craziness and left after a limestone company in Bedford before turning to playing romantic relief in their first five films. Chico was the oldest. Groucho, the middle of the five brothers, died in 1977 at the age of 87. Harpo's muteness was just an act; he could talk perfectly well.

Dear Dick — I come from Bloomington, Ind., and I am sure that back in the early and mid-1940s, I saw and knew Claude Akins in a small town called Mitchell, in southern Indiana. There were Akins in Mitchell and it seems there was a Claude or Cleo. Is there anything you might know as to where Mr. Akine is from and when he got into acting? I moved from Bloomington years ago but I used to stomp around Bedford, Mitchell, Paoli, etc. - L.C., Dorrouzett, Texas.

Seems like your stomping might have brought you into contact with Claude Akins, at that, He was born in Georgia, but was taken to Bedford. Ind., as an infant. After college and Army service, he worked for acting in the mid 1940s. So it might be possible that it was him you knew.

Dear Dick - What happens to the residuals of movies shows on TV after the star dies? - R.M., Houston, Texas.

Residuals are merely a form of income and, like other income that comes to people after they die (rents. dividends, interest, whatever) the money goes to the estate of the deceased. The heirs divvy it up (after the government gets its share, of course) according to the terms of the will.

Dear Dick - Perhaps you can tell me who played the parson's wife on the TV version of "Peyton Place." It may have been the one with Mia Farrow as Allison, but I'm not sure. I thought the parson's wife may have been Joan Van Ark, but she seems a bit too young. -C.B.C., Mount Clemens. Mich.

It was the late Diana Hyland.

Dear Dick — I would like to know if Pierce Brosnan (Remington Steele) is married. If so, to who? If not, I would like to know more about him. - L.R., Houston, Texas.

He is married to actress Cassandra Harris and they have three children so I won't tell you a thing more about him.

Dear Dick — I saw a movie in 1938 or 1939. I thought the name of it was "Ziegfeld Follies," but I can't find it listed anywhere. Kenny Baker starred and sang "Love Walked In." Can you help me with the name of the movie? Also, Judy Garland played in a musical with George Murphy and he sang, "You're Irish and You're Beautiful." What was that movie? - E.N., Pales Hille, Ill.

You had "Follies" right, but it wasn't Ziegfeld's, it was Goldwyn's. The name of that 1938 movie was "Goldwyn Follies." And Murphy sang that song in "Little Nelly Kelly." back in 1940.

Dear Dick - Please settle this argument between my sister and myself. On HBO recently, we saw a movie, "Vice Squad," where Wings Hauser played a psycho-killer. My sister says he used to play Greg Foster on "The Young and the Restless," and I say he didn't. Which of us is right? - M.G., Saginaw, Mich.

This time, your sister wins. Hauser - his billing then was J.D. Hauser - - did play on that soap opera.
