LAVA THREATENS DEATH AND DESTRUCTION

CONTRACT FOR BOAT BASIN AND NEW MUNICIPAL PIER WILL BE GIVEN OUT TODAY

ONE OF THE GREATEST IMPROVEMENTS SANFORD HAS MADE IN YEARS

BID FOR TOURISTS

And One of Strongest Inducements Sanford Can Offer to Visiting Yachtsmen

The boat basin and pier will be started within a few days as the bids for the same were opened yesterday and the following bids read at the special meeting of the City Commissioners in the City Hall. There were only three bids for the work and they were as follows:

Interstate Contracting Company, $68,877.50.
The Robt. Muggge Company, $120,494.80.
R. J. Gillespie, $106,272.40.

The City Commissioners decided to wait until this morning to go over the matter fully and Chairman Lake so stated to the bidders yesterday afternoon.

City Commissioners Lake and Marshall met again this morning and awarded the bid to Interstate Contracting Company, for $68,877.50.

This means another big step forward in the history of Sanford. When this great work is started it will mean more for Sanford in the bid for tourists than anything that has been accomplished lately. The first step was the Sanford Country Club and golf links—the finest in this part of the state. The next step is the magnificent boat basin and concrete pier and dock that will not only beautify the lake front but will be a big inducement for the tourists with fine yachts to stop over here for weeks at a time instead of a half day as they now do. The boat basin and dock will be a place where they can tie up their boats in perfect safety from storms, where they can get what they want in the way of supplies and where they can get service on their boats in the way of repairs. It means that millionaire sportsmen will now make the trip to Sanford in the winter and will leave their fine boats in Sanford all summer where they are not only safe from storms but safe from the treader, that little animal that bores into the hull in the salt water and eventually eats them out. It does not live in fresh water and that is the reason a fine boat basin and pier in Lake Monroe will attract the tourists and will get their yachts for the winter and summer. Several times in the past the millionaire yacht owners have been to Sanford with their fine boats and wanted to keep them here all summer but there was no place where they could be anchored with safety.

With the completion of the concrete pier and concrete boat basin will come the boats of all kinds to cruise the upper St. Johns river and when the canal is cut into Indian river to continue the cruise down to Miami.

It means that Sanford can make a strong bid for tourists and a bid that few cities in Florida can make. The work should be pushed by the city officials and the boat basin should be ready as soon as possible and then herald to the world that the St. Johns river and Sanford offer the yachtsmen what they have wanted for the past twenty-five years. It will also stimulate the business of yachts in Sanford as many local people want to own good boats but at the present time they have no place to keep them. There will be boat races and other water sports all during the winter and the lake front will take on a different appearance during the winter of our coming season.

The official growth lovers argue so well that he deliberately sets things that don't agree with him.

Man or Woman Bandit Recognized by Wife of Tesmer

SAID TO BE MAN DISGUISED AS WOMAN WHO DID KILLING.

(By The Associated Press)
CHICAGO, June 19.—A woman, or man, Mrs. Frances Garrick, also known as Fred Thompson, was identified today by Mrs. Richard C. Tesmer as supposed woman bandit who shot and instantly killed her husband in a hold up June 5. It was first supposed to be a man disguised as a woman prisoner, was declared by Frank Barrick who with two others arrested with accused to have lived as his wife fourteen years. Known as Mrs. Garrick, the suspect in the opinion of police led double life as both man and woman masquerading as one or the other at different times.

FRANK CHASE WINS THE MEDAL FOR SCHOLARSHIP

And For Sports and Activities in Fessenden School in Massachusetts

Awarded a cup for scholarship "to the boy who by his high character, conduct, scholarship, participation in sports and other activities and his influence upon school life has done the most for the advancement of this school." The winner of this honor was Franklin Whitner Chase, of Sanford, Florida.

This was the message received by Randall Chase, of this city, this morning from some of his relatives in Massachusetts. The school is the Fessenden School for Boys, located at West Newton, Mass., and among a class of 200 boys the Sanford boy won the prize for the best scholar in the school as noted above.

Frank Chase is fourteen years of age and is the youngest son of Mr. and Mrs. S. O. Chase, of this city. He was born in Sanford and attended the schools of this city up to last year when he entered the Fessenden School at West Newton.

This fine record is a matter of congratulation to the boy and his parents and relatives and friends especially since the foundation of his early education was laid in the Sanford schools of our city.

One Driver Killed in Motor Car Race in Grand Rapids

GRAND RAPIDS, Mich., June 18.—Bernard J. McCale, of Detroit, was instantly killed when he was thrown from his machine during a 100 mile automobile race here yesterday. McCale was thrown fifty feet and his neck was broken. The machine overturned when it struck a machine driven by Byron Daley, of Jacksonville, Mich., which had stopped because of a blown tire.

Glen Howard, of Indianapolis, coming up behind McCale's machine struck it and abraded it through the fence, injuring Roy Rich and Guy B. Cole, spectators. Both, Delany and Howard were injured in the crash, but Howard continued to drive for another lap and was awarded fifth place by the judges.

WAVE OF MOLTEN DEATH ADVANCING STEADILY TODAY ON CITIES THAT LAY IN ITS PATH

Only a Few Yards from Linguaglossa and Castiglione is Also Threatened—Violence of Eruption is Increasing—50,000 Made Homeless

(By The Associated Press)
ROME, June 19.—A wave of lava from a violent eruption of Mount Etna is advancing steadily today on Linguaglossa dispatches from Catania state. Lava is flowing across the railway and has reached a point only a few hundred yards from the town. Castiglione also is menaced. Violence of eruption increasing.

CATANIA, June 19.—Eruption of Mount Etna continues unabated. One stream of lava now threatening Giarre a city of about 20,000 inhabitants at base of the volcano and the population is beginning to move. About fifty thousand persons already have been made homeless in area surrounding Etna. Ashes, cinders and stones emitted by volcano are so thick as to darken the sun.

Great rivers of molten rock, pouring down the steep sides of the mountain, from numerous fissures are overwhelming all before them, and the inhabitants of the surrounding settlements, are fleeing in despair, while crops and homes disappear under the hissing flood. The main crater of Aetna, after the fissure displayed last week suddenly opened at midnight Sunday, with a noise like the firing of a thousand cannons. There was subterranean rumblings, flames shot to the sky, and the populations of the little towns about the base of the cone fled to the plains. Five great cracks opened in the side of the mountain and from these mouths, several kilometers, from the old crater, came streams of lava.

Thousands of tons of ricks and ashes were hurled to a height of from thirty to sixty feet from both the old and the new craters, and the lava streams advancing on a frontage estimated at 5,400 yards, laid waste the vineyards, and forests in their paths, and progressed at a speed of a mile and a quarter an hour. Isolated houses, left early by their occupants, long acquainted with Aetna's habits, were speedily devastated. The important railway station of Castiglione was destroyed.

Linguaglossa, which is some ten miles from the center crater, was surrounded by lava. Several houses in the town collapsed, and most of the villages in the neighborhood were quickly deserted. The sky was dull with smoke, and cinders, and dust fell heavily over a large area. The sight of the first fugitives from the danger zone coming into Messina, coupled with the terrifying subterranean noises heard there, drove hundreds of citizens of that town to the seashore for safety.

FOREIGN SHIPS WILL HAVE WINES FOR THEIR CREWS

SECRETARY MELLON MAKES NEW RULING FOR FOREIGN VESSELS.

WASHINGTON, June 19.—Part of the mystery which surrounded the latest treasury move in ship liquor controversy was dispelled today by declaration in official circles that hereafter the ship's doctor on foreign ships will be given custody in American waters of such liquor as he is willing to certify is for medicinal purposes.

Although no one at the treasury would discuss development in detail, it was assumed under this policy will be possible for foreign ships bring in wine rations for crews under seal providing the doctor in charge chooses to regard intoxicants so carried as medicinal. A letter sent yesterday by Secretary Mellon to the Public Health Service constitutes construction of medicinal provisions of law and makes sure all foreign laws requiring ships to carry medicinal liquors will be complied with. By these instructions ship's doctor may make sworn statement as to liquors they deem necessary for medicinal purposes and public health officers will not dispute their opinion.

WASHINGTON, June 19.—Secretary Mellon issued instructions late yesterday to public health service officials to comply fully with the laws of foreign nations compelling ships of their nationals to carry adequate supplies of "medicinal" liquors. Treasury officials declined to discuss details of the instructions, and Dr. M. J. White, acting surgeon general of the public health service, discredited reports that new orders were intended to relax rigidity of the regulations recently promulgated, barring all except medicinal liquors from ships in American waters.

It was learned public health officials and representatives of the treasury had conferred regarding the matter of liquor aboard ships and it was said that whiskeys and liquors were to be classed as "medicinal," except cargo or beverages sold over the bar. It was said elsewhere, however, that if the construction placed on the French law by the French government was accepted then the orders by Mr. Mellon could mean only that the ship's doctor would be given custody of the liquor aboard the vessel during its stay inside the American three-mile limit.

NEW YORK, June 19.—Antoine Bordes, general representative in this country of the French line, announced this afternoon that arrangements had been made yesterday in Washington whereby French sailors, home-bound, would be issued half a litre of wine a day after the three mile limit had been passed. Mr. Bordes said he had received notice to this effect from Ambassador Jusserand.

Under the arrangement, he added, sailors would receive this wine in accordance with the French law while bound to the United States, would have their supplies locked up while in port, and would get their rations again after their vessel had passed out.

The wine supply will be admitted under seal as "medicinal" supplies. M. Bordes said, the French minister of health having advised the American government that a half litre of wine a day was essential to the welfare of French sailors as food.

One Man Killed, Four Are Injured in Tank Explosion

Powder Plant at Nashville and Wrecks Machine Factory

(By The Associated Press)
NASHVILLE, June 19.—One man was killed and four others injured this morning when a large steel tank supposedly empty and said to have come from the Old Hickory Powder plant exploded in front of the Nashville Machine & Supply Company partially wrecking the company's building and damaging other property as David Zopf, employee of the machine company, was removing nipples from tank when it exploded. His body was blown across the street. He died after reaching the hospital. A truck driver, fireman and clerk in Machine Company's office and Zopf's helper were injured.

NEW REALTY FIRM IN SANFORD

Located in New Rooms on Ground Floor, Valdez Hotel Building

One of the latest additions to the business of our thriving city is the new Realty firm, the Britt Realty Co. This firm is composed of some of Sanford's most prominent business men, with Charley Britt as its president.

One of the prettiest suite of offices in Sanford is being occupied and used by the Britt Realty Co. These offices, located in the Valdez Hotel building, on the ground floor, have been remodelled from the offices formerly occupied by Dr. Fulston and the rooms in the rear formerly used by the hotel as sample rooms.

One of the outstanding features of this new organization is the complete multigraphing and addressographing plant in connection with their business. This department alone takes up two large rooms and contains machinery for multigraphing letters, addressing envelopes, filling in letters, cutting names for the addressograph, sealing envelopes, affixing the stamps, printing small job work, and is one of the most complete plants of this nature as will be found in the state.

The Britt Realty Company will handle the circular mail matter for the business houses of Sanford, many of whom have already taken advantage of this department. The main uses of this plant will be put to, however, is the real estate selling campaign put on by themselves to sell Sanford real estate throughout the entire United States.

It will be the policy of this firm to first advertise the real bargains and pick ups, to the home people through the Sanford Herald, giving them the first opportunity of securing these fine bargains, either for a home or farm or as an investment, and then flooding the mails with Sanford literature, and pamphlets describing the property they have for sale, and promote a new interest in the out-lander for Sanford.

In addition to their multigraphing, and real estate department, they handle fire, auto and casualty insurance, bonds, loans and investments. They also render service on income tax problems, have an accounting department, notary public and public stenographer. Taking it all in all, it is one of Sanford's most complete offices of this nature.

See that your property is listed with them and help them bring in outside capital. Watch the Daily Herald for their bargains.

The road home is paved with good intentions—carry out that said intention by opening that account at the Seminole County Bank.

FULLER AND MCGEE ARE FIRST GOATS LED TO SLAUGHTER

DID NOT TALK

And Refused to Divulge Secrets of Bucket Shop Ring to the Last

(By The Associated Press)
NEW YORK, June 19.—Edward M. Fuller and William F. McGee, stock brokers, convicted of bucketing were today sentenced to one year and three months to four years each in Sing Sing prison.

NEW YORK, June 19.—Trembling apprehensively and shielding his face with his hands, Edward M. Fuller, confessed bucket shop operator, took the witness stand before before Referee in Bankruptcy Coffin today and surprised the audience that had gathered by refusing to tell his expected story involving the high-ups in a reputed bucket shop ring.

The broker, failure of whose firm for $5,000,000 started an investigation that has badly shaken Wall Street, was taken to the hearing under one of the heaviest federal guards recently turned out for a prisoner. This, United States Marshal Hecht explained, was because reports had reached him that Fuller was to be killed before he had an opportunity to make any disclosures.

Throughout the hearing, at which leading questions were volleyed at him, Fuller repented the formula, "I refuse to answer on the ground that it would tend to incriminate and degrade me." He even gave that answer to a query as to whether it was true that he had pleaded guilty of bucketing stock orders. He also refused to sign a transcript of testimony given at an earlier hearing.

Before the hearing closed, however, Fuller promised to confer with his counsel and decide whether he would answer from his determination to keep silent. The next hearing was set for Monday.

Fuller and his partner, William F. McGee, are scheduled to be sentenced today on their plea of bucketing. It was reported, however, that imposition of sentence would be postponed to give Fuller one more chance to seek leniency by making a clean breast of his knowledge of the bucket-shop ring.

Before he appeared at the referee's hearing, Fuller was quizzed for two hours by United States Attorney Haywood, who had hoped to elicit important information from him. But Fuller kept silence there, too, for the most part. While he gave some information that Mr. Haywood said might prove to be of value, he declined to tell his full story. Mr. Haywood said, unless he were promised full immunity. This bargain the federal prosecutor refused to strike.

Wall Street, with one eye on the Fuller hearing and the other sharply on the lookout for additions to the string of recent brokerage failures, was decidedly nervous all day. More than forty representative stocks listed by the "big board" made new low records for the year, falling off from 3 to 6 points and closing with losses of 3 to 5 points.

MISCELLANEOUS SHOWER.

Miss Jessie Graves, a bride-elect of next month, was the charming honoree Friday evening when Mrs. F. D. McBride entertained at a miscellaneous shower at her lovely home on Myrtle avenue.

The rooms were artistically decorated with a profusion of cut flowers, asparagus fern and bamboo. French baskets, tied with bows of pink tulle, and vases of Radiance roses and fern were used in the reception hall. The stairway was a lovely bank of pink roses and fern.

Crystal vases of pink and lavender dahlias decorated the dining room. The dining table was graced with a cunning center-piece representing a forked tree stump on the top of which were little cupids sheltered under a white umbrella. Above this hung a silver moon showering down tinselled threads suggestive of rain. On either side were silver candlesticks holding lighted pink tapers.

In the living room the color motif of white and green was emphasized with baskets and vases of white daisies and fern. At end was placed the honoree's chair over which was hung a large white canopy adorned with brides' roses, ferns and bows of white tulle. The background was of bamboo.

A dainty appointed punch table was arranged in one corner of the reception hall. Aere delicious fruit punch was served throughout the evening by Miss Dorothea Mickey. The punch bowl was embedded in roses and ferns.

Mrs. McBride received the guests wearing a becoming gown of green crepe de chine with drapings of gold lace and corsage bouquet of roses.

Miss Graves, lovely in a chic frock of green figured crepe with gray trimmings, was met at the door by two little maidens, Maria Ann Powers and Helen Wilson, daintily dressed in green and white, who escorted her to the seat of honor.

A clever contest was enjoyed by the guests. The first prize, a bath mat, was won by Mrs. A. K. Powers, the booby prize, a lemon squeezer, went to Miss Weyma Graves and these in turn were presented to the honoree.

After the contest each guest was requested to write her favorite receipt which was filed in a cook book and presented to the honoree as a memento of the occasion.

An interesting program was rendered during the evening. Miss Demarius Musson gave a humorous reading, "Life's Shower" written by Mrs. Mickey and dedicated to Miss Graves, was read by Miss Mary Zachary. Misses Faye Mickey and Julia Laing rendered piano selections.

Following the program the shower was presented. To the strains of "The Bridal Chorus" from Lohengrin little Maria Ann and Helen entered carrying a white trunk containing the gifts. On the cover was placed a beautiful white wax slipper trimmed with silver beads and filled with rice.

Late in the evening dainty refreshments of ice cream and individual cakes were served. On each plate were little white tulle bags containing rice and a cunning miniature wax slipper.

The guests invited to meet the honoree were: Mrs. Emma Godbee, Mrs. H. C. McMullen, Miss Weyma Graves, Mrs. E. L. Brown, Mrs. G. C. Sperling, Mrs. W. T. Mitchell, Mrs. H. A. McMichael, Mrs. H. B. Connelly, Mrs. A. K. Powers, Mrs. M. E. Higgins, Mrs. F. A. Taylor, Mrs. J. O. Huff, Mrs. Z. B. Ratliff, Mrs. E. D. Mobley, Mrs. H. J. Lehman, Mrs. R. H. Letnick, Mrs. L. A. TEAGUE-MEISCH.

MOUNTVILLE, S. C.—A ceremony of much interest was solemnized at the Universalist Church, Tuesday evening, June 12th, at seven-thirty when Mr. William Edmund Meisch of Sanford, Florida, and Miss Dolly Marie Teague were united in marriage. During the half hour preceding the arrival of the wedding party, a musical program was rendered with Miss Irma Conine of Camp Hill, Alabama, at the piano, opening with a solo "Because" by Miss Margaret Dunlap of Laurens. Misses Margaret and Sara Dunlap then sang "O Perfect Love" and "Until." The bridal party entered to the strains of the bridal chorus from Lohengrin. Little Miss Catherine Meisch, sister of the groom, clad in a fairy like dress of white taffeta, bearing the shepherd's crook, heralded the wedding party. The bridemaids following her were Miss Olga Simmons, attired in a handsome gown of canary-plat crepe of an exquisite beaded design, and Miss Teague Simmons was charming in a gown of Venetian red georgette. The ushers following were Mr. William A. Teague, brother of the bride and Mr. Harold Fuller, who took their positions in front of the chancel. Then came Miss Mildred Simmons, who was lovely in apricot georgette and Miss Catherine Teague, sister of the bride, who wore a becoming gown of sapphire blue. The last two ushers Messrs. Calvin and Martin Teague of Laurens took their positions followed by two little flower girls, Jessie Teague of Laurens and Caroline Fuller, who wore dainty frocks of white organdie. Next came the state dame of honor, clad in orchid romaine and pearls, Mrs. W. Theodore Langley of Sanford, Fla., an aunt of the bride. Miss Edith Teague, sister of the bride, who wore a lovely gown of beaded coral georgette, was maid of honor. The maids' bouquets were American Beauty roses and sweet peas. Little Rachel Simmons and Mary Jean Winebrener, dressed in white organdie, preceded the bride, scattering rose petals in her path. Mr. Johnnie Meisch, as best man accompanied the groom from the ante room to the altar where he met his bride. The bride was beautiful in her wedding gown of white crepe de chine draped with silk Spanish lace exquisite in its simple loveliness with a touch of silver. Her veil was of white mazy tulle, held close to her head with a wreath of

Mr. and Mrs. R. J. Holly, Robert Holly and May Holly spent the day yesterday at Coronado Beach.

Messrs. Mebane and Nelson, of Orlando, were shaking hands with many friends here today. Frank Mebane is the popular "Buck" man and has a host of friends all over the state.

We are all glad to see Doug Griffin back on the job after having so much trouble with his arm. Of course, we all know that this was just a joke as Doug only wanted a little vacation.

Watch the Herald for the big Meisch building edition and all who were interested in the construction and furnishing material for this fine building will have something of interest to tell you.

Eustis Rotarians thronged the city Saturday with big placards on their hats and Rotary wheels all over them and they captured Mr. and Mrs. Dave Thrasher and Charlie Henry and took them with the party to St. Louis.

B. A. Howard, the real estate king of the metropolis of Lake Okeechobee, came in yesterday and will return tomorrow, accompanied by his family, who will spend the summer there.

Mr. and Mrs. J. G. Ball and Mr. and Mrs. Dick Brown and the baby went over to Coronado Beach yesterday. All of them will stay a week or so with the exception of Mr. Ball who came back yesterday afternoon.

Pop Conner says that he is going to catch some of the big fish that are so abundant around Sanford in the many lakes, if he has to buy all the fishing tackle there is in Sanford to do it, and that he is going to conquer the art of throwing a minnow with a reel if it is the last thing he ever does. Ask him if he caught any fish tomorrow.

Mrs. Edgar Thompson has arrived in Sanford to join Mr. Thompson and they are now comfortably located at the home of Mrs. Marshall. As soon as a suitable dwelling can be secured, they will be joined by their two sons, one of whom is attending an officer's training camp and the other a college in Georgia. Mr. Thompson is employed as a linotype operator on the Daily Herald.

Big American Legion meeting soon and we want to see every Legion member in Seminole county present for we want to have a big celebration on July Fourth, so watch the Herald for the announcement of the date they will meet. If you are not a Legion member, why in Sam Hill don't you join today. We need every ex-service man who has an honorable discharge from the army, navy and marines to belong to the Campbell-Lossing post here in Seminole county, so put in your name today and be a real buddy.

Mr. and Mrs. Albert W. Smith and daughter left Saturday for points throughout the north and Mr. Smith, who is the manager of the Seminole-Overland Company, while on this trip will visit the Willys-Overland factory at Toledo, O., and see if they can not supply the demand for ever increasing sales of the Red-Bird Overland here in Seminole county. Mr. Smith has been unable to get cars enough to supply the demand that he has had for them here in this vicinity. He will also visit the Paige and Jewett factory at Detroit and talk over the prospects of the coming year about the Paige and Jewett cars. This is a combination business and pleasure trip and they expect to be gone for about three weeks when they will return by way of automobile as Mr. Smith will drive a new Willys-Knight Clover-leaf sport model back to Sanford on the return trip.

A. ASPINWALL DIES AT AGE OF 78 YEARS

WASHINGTON, June 10.—Algeron Aikin Aspinwall, seventy-eight years old, direct descendant of Peter Aspinwall, who settled in Brookline, Mass., in 1630, and of John Howland and John Tilley, who came over in the Mayflower in 1620, died at his home at the Concord apartments June 9th.

Mr. Aspinwall, who had resided here for many years, was born at Fort Ann, N. Y., in 1845, and was the son of the late Rev. Joseph Aikin Aspinwall of Nunda, Livingston county, N. Y. He was educated at Nunda Literary Institute, and when nearly ready for college, at the age of sixteen, joined the Union forces in response to a call for troops by President Lincoln.

He was a member of Company F, 33rd New York Volunteers during the war. At the close of the struggle he joined with his commanding officer, Col. John Carter of Titusville, Pa., and entered business. President Cleveland in 1885 offered him an appointment in the Interior Department in charge of a division, and accepting the offer Mr. Aspinwall came to Washington. He was widely known as a genealogist, and among some of the historical works of which he was author was "History of the Aspinwall Family in America." He was for many years historian of the Society of Mayflower Descendants.

Mr. Aspinwall was a 32d degree Scottish Rite Mason, a Knight Templar and a life member of Almas Temple. He is survived by one son, Clarence A. Aspinwall, president of the Security Storage Company of this city, and two brothers in New York state.

Mr. Aspinwall was a brother of M. C. Aspinwall, manager of the Postal Telegraph office in this city.

MEETING BOY SCOUT TROOP 3.
Friday night, Troop 3, Boy Scouts opened an enthusiastic meeting beginning with the roll call, fifteen being present.

Troop 3 entered two contests which were held recently at the Boy Scout field meet in Orlando. They came out second in both. Prizes which were won in these events by Troop No. 3 were two signaling kits and a subscription into the "Boy's Life" Magazine for Boy Scouts.

One of the finest exhibitions held over at the field meet was fire by friction. This feat was accomplished in twenty-three seconds.

The meeting was closed by all joining in and practicing a few yells.

NOT AMONG THOSE PRESENT.

The Chinese bandits have released the last of their captives, the final batch of prisoners including four American citizens. Of course the strain and worry as to their fate are at an end but the incident caused the use of miles of newspaper space and a lot of free advertising for China and its brigands. It is to be noted that the newspaper men in the party did not include either Bob Holly of the Sanford Herald or Herb Felkel of the St. Augustine Record.—Lakeland Star-Telegram.

FLORIDA WATER POWER AND ELECTRICITY.

Florida people generally are more or less familiar with the present-day use of electricity, for commercial and domestic purposes, although its use is not as general as it might be and as it will be in a few years from now, judging by the increasing installations that are being made and the more numerous instances where it is being discovered that electric current can be employed with profit and convenience. The value that is in water power, however, is not appreciated as generally as it should be in order that it may be put to work more generally.

In the Times-Union of Saturday there appeared an article, in the series being written by Roger W. Babson, a distinguished economist, who now is to some extent a Floridian, in which he discussed water power as a sound investment. In that article, which may have escaped the attention of busy but practical people, were said some things that, while applicable to the country over, were of special importance to the people of this state, where now water power is being given more attention than in the past. Mr. Babson tells of the enormous water power, in other states, that is permitted to go to waste, in New York alone what is equivalent to the power of four million horses not being utilized as it might be, and profitably, were streams harnessed to machinery to produce electric current which in turn would drive other machinery, light cities and towns and provide for a vast number of utilities.

Something that Floridians should appreciate, as stated by Mr. Babson, is this: "There is a constantly increasing demand for household electrical appliances, and an increasing number of homes are availing themselves of the conveniences of electricity. Further, more and more, factories and mills are being electrically equipped, in place of steam driven. This all means that the use of electricity is constantly increasing. Here is a resource which nature has given us. It needs but capital and legislation to put it to the service of man. By its development and use millions of homes will be brighter and the work of millions of housewives easier. Scores of communities will be cleaner and more healthy as electric power is used in place of coal. Thus, in water powers, invested capital can be of real service, and in the measure that it serves, it will profit."

Jacksonville, right now, is expending hundreds of thousands of dollars for extended equipment of its municipal electrical plant, which has proved such a gratifying success. Under wise direction more extended use is being made, in this city and throughout the state, of electric appliances in homes, business places and industrial establishments, all for individual and general benefit. But there is not as much attention being given, as should be, to the development of water power resources for the providing of electric current. In some sections of the state this being done, and it is safe to predict, with practical study and application, much Florida water power that now is not utilized will be turned to good account, become a sound investment, as told by Mr. Babson.

There is need for the utilization of Florida water power wherever possible. It is a matter that ought to be thoroughly investigated. If this is done it is likely that in many localities will be found natural sources of power that can be and should be utilized in manner and method indicated, with appreciable good results.—Times-Union.

There is water power going to waste in the Wekiwa river, the Econlockhatchee creek and at Palm Springs in this county. Some day a man with money and vision will take up this important matter and give to the county of Seminole and adjoining counties water power and electric power in abundance. Millions of gallons of water are lost here every day that could be utilized in turning the wheels of industry in a radius of one hundred miles of Sanford and it would make Sanford one of the great manufacturing centers in the state.

The retail cost of food is higher everywhere except Jacksonville according to reports. This means that here in Sanford we will be able to live cheaper this summer. This makes it fine for we poor people who will have to stay at home.

JUST KIDS—Impossible!

SANFORD'S CITY PLANNING COMMISSION.

Sanford, that enterprising little city at the head of navigation on the St. Johns river, famous among other things for its highly developed back country and the immense shipments of celery and lettuce which it annually sends out, not to mention great quantities of every kind of vegetables which can be grown in the winter, has taken a long step forward in the recent past, the influence of which will reach far into the future. It has received from the legislature at its last session authority for the establishment of a city planning commission. The odd thing about this is that it should be necessary to appeal to the legislature at all on a matter which involves the people of Sanford alone. But our archaic laws give the legislature authority to stick its fingers into every pie that is in process of making in any part of the state. We hope to see the time when our people shall become so imbued with the spirit of modernism that strictly local matters shall be left entirely to the people most concerned, under the guidance and direction of liberal general laws. But that time is not yet so the people of Sanford appealed perforce to the legislature for authority to organize their city planning commission, and the legislature in its infinite wisdom granted the request.

So far as we know Sanford has taken the lead of all the smaller cities of the state in taking this forward step. It is right in line with the general sentiment which strongly favors the beautification of every city in the state. The good people of Florida are just waking up to the unparalleled advantages which nature has always offered them for making every town, small and large, a real "city beautiful." Nowhere else in the United States are such opportunities at hand. Nowhere else has nature been so bountiful with her gifts. An ugly, unkempt and unwashed town in Florida is an economic crime. We are aware that the pioneer stage from which many new towns have not yet emerged gives little time for beautifying, and the cultivation of the finer sentiments, but a beginning can be made, even though it be in a small way, and the time is now while youth and energy rule to make the start. Sanford will have the advantage of many of her sister cities, in that her future development will be made according to well-thought-out and systematic plans. It will be carried out in a methodical and systematic way, and the people will have occasion to rejoice when the results become apparent.

The trouble with many of our Florida towns is that they have grown up without any plan. Additions have been made here and there by ambitious real estate men after the elusive dollar, without much regard to the development already existing. Sometimes the streets match and conform to the general plan of the town, sometimes they do not. It may not suit the plans of the developer. The result is a hodge-podge of building and street lines which is anything but pleasing to the citizens and strangers. An orderly, systematic development of any city is an asset of value to be sought for, and such can be secured through the agency of a city planning commission.

Sanford has done well in the establishment of such an agency, and set an example which we hope to see followed by many other cities of Florida.—Tampa Times.

NEWSPAPER HEADLINES.

Now and then you hear someone complain that newspapers play up the news of crime and the mishaps of society with too much front page emphasis. There is some justification to the criticism, and yet not to the extent that the complainants would carry it.

Newspapers do not make the news—or at least those true to their mission, do not. They simply publish the facts. The people who commit crime, who violate the rules of society, of the church and the schools, and those who commit indiscretions are responsible for the character and the quality of front page news that is growing so alarmingly large that newspapers are put to the test to know where to draw the line, and good people are disposed to criticize.

Now comes an eminent jurist and tells us that the best cure for the growing divorce evil is, publicity. He says that many people who would willingly face a court trial hesitate to face the publicity, such a trial would give them.

One of America's greatest statesmen has just recently written an article in which he contends that publicity is the most effective weapon against the crookedness of politics and the wanton system of spoilism practiced in some quarters.

One of the greatest preachers in the United States recently said: "The pulpit needs more publicity. The church can only meet present day problems as other institutions meet present day problems; and it should welcome the fullest and frankest discussion of its doings by the press."

The head of a detective agency says that criminals fear the publicity given their deeds by the press more than they fear civil officers.

So there it is. It all depends on whose ox is getting gored after all. When the publicity suits our taste we like it. When it rather affects our interests we would soft pedal it.

Headlines are made by people outside of the print shops. When they believe themselves they have no fear of headlines. When they do good things they welcome the headlines in connection with their names.—Reporter-Star.

CANT STAMPEDE NEWSPAPERS.

Good old Eddie Lambright had a philosophical streak the other day after his return from Brunswick where he talked to the graduating class and the alumni of his own school, and his editorials in the Tampa Tribune reflected the spirit that permeated him after brushing up on the analytical side of life. One of his essays so pointedly fits the Commercial's editorial policy that we ask the indulgence of our readers, most of whom, we hope, will get the point.

"If you can't beat 'em join 'em," is an age-old political maxim. The wonder is that it isn't practiced more often, especially by newspapers. It would be so easy to go with the tide, disregard principles and intellectual conviction, and just seek the easiest way out in the interest of popularity! That more papers do not do this, surely ought to earn for them a lasting place of gratitude in the esteem of the public, both critics and approvers. Just now it would be easy to drift with the tide, accept the seeming of things as the final decision and drift pleasantly and serenely. But then there is the soft indictment of judgment and intellect! What is to be said of these things?

The individual who studies and who knows, both from the past history of humanity and its predisposition, that much which seems popular at the moment is destructive, must needs either abandon reason or abandon all hopes of popularity. Which should be abandoned? Popularity, of course, because in the final summing up, intellectual conviction will survive. There is nothing surer than this. The editor who stands adamant against the hysteria of the moment, whether it be the intrigues of the invisible empire, the specious reasoning of the class-conscious reconstruction league, or the altogether irresponsible of the unseasoned mouthings of the labor agitator, must take life as it comes. But eventually, when these passing spasms have run their course, the hope is that the eternal principles of civil liberty and the essential safeguards of justice will plead their own cause, and do a belated justice to him even though at the moment he may have passed to his fathers and be sleeping beneath the sod.

Individuals and their machinations, builded always on their selfish ambitions, are ephemeral; principles are eternal. If a false principle be admitted, then we must one and all be prepared to accept its ultimate. If such false principle be not admitted, then one may look forward over the lapse of time to the justification of the sound principles which are ever involved.

That about states the whole matter.—Leesburg Commercial.

HEAVY LOADS ON GOOD ROADS.

DeSoto county is going to take care of its paved roads in a manner worthy of emulation by all the counties of the state. The roads have been classified and strict regulations of the laws going over the same will be carried out. In this way DeSoto county will give its public roads the same degree of protection accorded to other property belonging to the people.—Arcadia Enterprise.

LOCAL BILLS.

One of the well known but generally glossed-over evils of our legislative system is the method of passing local laws. Says Bryan Mack in the Pensacola Journal:

"I don't know how you feel about the matter, but I am not going to vote for any man in the legislature or state senate, no man unless he promises not to have passed local laws without notifying the people beforehand, or having a referendum attached to them.

"The practice of secretly passing bills, contrary to the constitution, is obnoxious to all fair-minded people, and there is no redress whatever. By agreement the senator and representative from any county can almost invariably pass a bill and the governor will permit to become a law, no matter how objectionable it might be to a majority of the people.

"The legislature as a whole does not consider the merits of any local law. If it suits the representative and affects his county only, nothing else is required. The bill is read by title and on its third reading the enacting clause and the closing paragraph are read, and that is all there is to making a law that possibly will do great harm to the people.

"It is a wrong system, and the only way the people can break it up is to put candidates on record before they are elected. Unless a man is willing to make a promise in writing that he will not be a party to the passage of local bills unless they are advertised prior to the legislature as contemplated by the constitution, or will attach a referendum to them so the people can register their approval, he is unfit to be a representative."—Jacksonville Journal.

BANDITS ELUDE STATE OFFICERS AFTER ROBBERY

MEN WHO MADE DARING HOLD-UP AT LACOOCHEE ARE AT LARGE.

Police authorities of the counties and cities of the entire state were closely guarding highways and railroads Monday morning in an effort to locate and head off the robbers who Saturday morning held up and robbed E. L. Wilson, superintendent of the Cummer Cypress Company, of Lacoochee, securing $11,700 in silver and currency, but nothing had developed to give a lead to the whereabouts of the highwaymen.

They are believed to have gone to some dense part of the woods of Pasco county, where they will hide until the first excitement of their daring deed passes off, and they can emerge with less cause for alarm. The trail of the robbers was held after the robbery just before noon Saturday, until the gang in an automobile got into Hillsborough county. Whether or not they are now in this section is a question the authorities have not attempted to answer, but Sheriff Spencer is actively working to substantiate reports that the robbers were seen here, or near the city.

Deputy Sheriff W. S. Edwards of Dade City, with W. J. Bryant, stockman of Pasco county, trailed the robbers southward from Trilby to near Lutz north of Tampa, but there lost trace of the men. Sheriff Spencer was inclined to believe that the Pasco county officer had made a mistake and had followed another car, instead of that of the gang.

Detailed reports of the robbery that came in late Saturday afternoon described the robbery as one of the most daring that has been executed in Florida in years. The three men taking part in the robbery, accomplished their theft within plain view of 25 or more people, holding Mr. Wilson and his companion, Paymaster Chase, up at the point of revolvers, and after grabbing the satchel containing the money, leaped in a Ford automobile and dashed away.

Belief that the robbery was the work of a gang headed by one of the Mobley brothers, who won notoriety for their bold hold-up of a bank at Stuart, Florida, last year, and their subsequent capture when they left the east coast and headed for Tampa, is strengthened by the fact that Sheriff W. C. Spencer a few weeks ago received a message from Sheriff Bob Baker of Palm Beach county stating that the Mobley gang was headed this way. Sheriff Spencer immediately notified all his men to be on the look out, but other than reported visits of the men to Tampa, nothing tangible was discovered that would lead to their apprehension.

A few days after Sheriff Spencer got the warning from Sheriff Baker, the Tampa Welfare Loan Society's place on Tampa street was held up and robbed. This robbery took place at noon on May 28, and the manager of the place, Carlos Escalante, gave a good description of the two men who had entered the bank and forced him at the point of a revolver to go into a back room where he was bound to a chair, while the robbers rifled the cash drawers, securing between $500 and $800. The description of the two men agrees with the description of two who figured in the Lacoochee hold up.

Detective Fred Thomas was also aware that the daring crooks were close to Tampa and last week basing opinions on confidential reports, stated that he would not be surprised to hear of some big crime being committed in or near Orlando, his prediction was borne out by the Lacoochee robbery. Detective Thomas did not say who he thought committed the crime.

The Mobley brothers after being captured by Sheriff Bob Baker of Palm Beach county after they had fled from Stuart with their loot, were convicted and sentenced to prison for that robbery. One of them escaped from jail, and is believed to be heading the gang which got the payroll funds Saturday. The other brother is in the penitentiary serving his sentence and working under close supervision of the convict guards to prevent his escape. The one who gained his liberty is believed to have got in touch with one or two reckless young men, and with them is carrying on a systematic and well defined series of robberies, all of which are planned far in advance.—Tampa Times.

Lees Car Turned Over Into Water Filled Ditch

That it is dangerous to drive along the narrow fills between Osteen bridge and Osteen or any other narrow fill where the sides are filled with water just now is evidenced by the daily accidents to cars. Yesterday morning a big Haynes car belonging to Mr. and Mrs. O. M. Lees, of Orlando, while passing another car on the Osteen fill slid into the ditch by the ground caving in and Mr. and Mrs. Lees were almost drowned before they could extricate themselves from under the car. They were brought to the Valdez Hotel here and received medical attention and are all right today. The car was badly smashed up but can be repaired. It seems that the roadway on both sides is surrounded with small lakes on account of the heavy rains and the waters of the upper St. Johns river backing up into Lake Monroe and the Osteen road is in a condition that requires careful driving. The road is very narrow and in passing a car the roadway is liable to crumble on the sides and put the car into the ditch filled with water. The county commissioners of Volusia county should work on this fill as soon as possible for it is dangerous.

ORLANDO, June 19.—Escaping death by good fortune when their automobile turned over just outside of Sanford on the New Smyrna road late Sunday night, Mrs. Rosa L. Lees told yesterday how she and her husband finally fought their way out of the machine and escaped drowning. Both were painfully but not seriously injured.

Mr. and Mrs. Lees were returning to Orlando from the coast, and driving at a moderate rate of speed, when the machine struck a washout in the road, the force breaking the radius rod. Before Mr. Lees, who was driving, could stop the motor, it had hit another washout and turned over in a ditch which was more than comfortably filled with water.

For several moments both struggled in the water with little hope of getting clear of the automobile, but finally they were able to open a door and climbed back to the road. Afterward Mrs. Lees remembered that a small puppy was in the tonneau of the machine and waded into the water again to rescue it.

They were picked up soon afterward and taken to Sanford, where they were attended by a physician. Yesterday Mr. Lees was on crutches and Mrs. Lees was suffering from

Jacksonville's Cost of Living Hits Toboggan

It's getting easier to live in Jacksonville every day.

The business of eating is becoming easier to accomplish.

For instance, during May, it cost Mr. and Mrs. Jacksonville one-half of one per cent less to eat than it cost them during the preceding month.

This was considerably better than the country at large can boast, there being an increase of two-tenths of one per cent in the living cost during May.

The comparison is made by the United States Department of Labor, and is for the period from April 15 to May 15.

During that period the average family in Jacksonville spent nearly five-tenths of one per cent less for food and just as much of it as they did the preceding month.

While the people here were saving that half one per cent there was a one per cent increase being borne in Louisville, Baltimore, Bridgeport, Butte, Cleveland, Detroit, Los Angeles, Milwaukee, Minneapolis, New York, Norfolk, St. Paul and Washington.

And poor old Philadelphia showed an increase of four per cent, which was the greatest percentage of increase of any city in the United States.

Sixteen cities showed decrease. But while there was a decrease in Jacksonville, as compared with the previous month, there was a one per cent increase in retail food prices, as compared with the preceding year, of the same month.

And, if you want to go back that far, the cost of food in May, 1923, was 36 per cent higher in Jacksonville than it was in May, 1913: but that was before the war.—Jacksonville Journal.

UNDERTOW FATAL FOR YOUNG GIRL

ST. AUGUSTINE, June 19.—Miss Inez Faulkner, 18 years old, of Miami, was drowned at St. Augustine beach yesterday afternoon and her two companions, Misses Mary and Pearl Earles, both of Palatka, narrowly escaped a similar fate while in bathing.

Physicians worked over Miss Faulkner for several hours with a pulmotor but although she showed signs of life when first brought up on the beach by rescuers, the attempt to revive her was futile. Miss Faulkner accompanied E. L. Earles and his daughters from Palatka for an afternoon at the ocean. They had been in the surf but a few minutes when the girl's cries for help were heard several hundred feet from shore. The Misses Earles were reached by rescuers, but Miss Faulkner was unconscious when the life savers got to her.

The girls had gotten too far out and were helpless in the undertow, it was said.

Miss Faulkner's brother, John U., 12 years old, was sitting in Mr. Earles' automobile on the beach with Mr. Earles and witnessed the efforts to rescue and to resuscitate her. One of the physicians stated that after the young woman was carried out of the water she breathed slightly, but her heart failed.

Miss Faulkner was a student nurse in the Worley hospital here for a time, but left last December, her mother, Mrs. John H. Faulkner, lives in Miami.

News of the drowning spread rapidly through St. Augustine and a crowd of several hundred gathered at the beach. Virtually all physicians in the city were summoned in an effort to bring the young woman back to life.

The party motored over from Palatka about 2:30 o'clock yesterday afternoon and Miss Faulkner lost her life within a few minutes after her arrival.

three survivors of the original starters shuffled into trucks and were taken to a private pavilion in Orange park, where the marathon went merrily on. They were to return to the original pavilion early today after the Sabbath had passed safely.

Miss Bobbie Gregg and Ralph Moore of Hampa, and Joseph Sanger of Jacksonville, are approaching the 100 hour mark, while there have been several new aspirants for the marathon title since the dance started.

CELERY SEED

Sanford baseball teams have the jinx. That is, with Monroe teams. Last Thursday the Monroe team of the Seminole Athletic Club walloped the Sanford Independents and yesterday the Monroe boys team beat the Sanford boys' team.

The score of 10 to 8 gives an impression of loose playing but from what we saw of it we would call it "slippery" playing. The diamond was as slippery as a freshly caught eel's skin. It was great fun to watch Monroe's heavy catcher slide in the mud.

There will be but one game in the Pepper League today due to Monroe dropping out of the league. However, the Brotherhood of St. Andrew will go to Oviedo and it is expected that a good game will be played as these two teams are in tip top shape.

If Oviedo wins the game today from the Brotherhood of St. Andrew, she will be leading the league by several points with the Big Bearan Brotherhood which is now leading a close second. Thursday's game here between Oviedo and the Big Bearan will probably decide who shall be leader of the league and winner for the first half of the season.

Manager Whiddon, of the Sanford Independent team says that Monroe will have to fight some to take the second game of the Sanford-Monroe series which is to be played on the Monroe diamond Thursday afternoon. Sanford Independents are practicing hard this week and we'll expect to see them mop up with Monroe Thursday and make up for the defeat of last week.

Reading yesterday's paper we find that a new head has taken charge of the Dempsey-Gibbons match which is to be held in Shelby, Mont., on the Fourth of July. One head might as well make a pile of money as the other off the deal, that is if everybody that says they are going goes there will be several more "millionaire sportsmen."

Monroe Boys Defeat Sanford Boys in a Slow Game

The Sanford boys team met their first defeat of the season yesterday when they journeyed to Monroe and were defeated by the Monroe boys, 10 to 8.

The game was played on a wet field and slippery balls caused many errors though not costly. Wynn pitched pretty tight ball for the Monroe boys until the seventh when becoming a little rattled he allowed four hits and four runs. Schirard, the Sanford boy's star left-hander, had to be relieved in the fourth because of a sore arm. Speer, who relieved him, pitched fairly well but had poor support.

The score by innings: Sanford 210 000 401—8. Monroe 103 006 00x—10.

Pancho Villa Takes World Flyweight Title in the Seventh

POLO GROUNDS, NEW YORK, June 19.—Pancho Villa, fighting dynamo from the Philippines, who was dethroned as American flyweight titleholder only a few months ago, rose to world's championship heights last night when he triumphed over Jimmy Wilde, British holder of the crown in the seventh round of a battle that was spectacular from start to finish despite its one-sidedness. A crowd estimated by the promoters at 40,000 witnessed the second world's title to change hands at the Polo Grounds within a few weeks.

Rushing and slashing with a terrific assault that had Wilde groggy and reeling in the first round, Villa's victory was one of the most decisive in the annals of world championship history.

Wilde was but a shell of the once famous boxer who had held undisputed sway among the little men of the ring for years. Only his marvelous gameness and the head of a master ringman enabled him to last as long as he did. He stood under the most deadly of attacks for six rounds, bleeding from cuts about his mouth, and cheeks and with his right eye virtually closed. Occasionally he took the offensive but his punches were feeble. But though his legs sagged at the knees and his body wavered under a devastating attack, Wilde's bulldog courage kept him in the thick of the fray, bloody and hopeless a picture as he was.

Occasionally he took the offensive but his punches were feeble. But though his legs sagged at the knees and his body wavered under a devastating attack, Wilde's bulldog courage kept him in the thick of the fray, bloody and hopeless a picture as he was.

Wilde was but a shell of the once famous boxer who had held undisputed sway among the little men of the ring for years. Only his marvelous gameness and the head of a master ringman enabled him to last as long as he did. He stood under the most deadly of attacks for six rounds, bleeding from cuts about his mouth, and cheeks and with his right eye virtually closed. Occasionally he took the offensive but his punches were feeble. But though his legs sagged at the knees and his body wavered under a devastating attack, Wilde's bulldog courage kept him in the thick of the fray, bloody and hopeless a picture as he was.

National League of Commission Merchants Will Meet in Florida

Expect to Visit Sanford and Other Cities on Their Itinerary

The following letter from Frank Kay Anderson will be interesting to Sanford people:

Orlando, Fla., June 16, 1923. Mr. R. S. French Secretary, National League of Commission Merchants, Washington, D. C.

My Dear Mr. French: This is to confirm the suggestions made the other evening at the conference in Jacksonville concerning the proposed itinerary for the All Florida Tour of members of the National League of Commission Merchants following the four-day session of your annual convention to be held in Jacksonville, which will terminate Friday night, January 18th, 1924.

It is the suggestion of those of us down upon the peninsula that because of its probable size, arrangements be made for the party to sleep in Pullman automobiles on this trip. Where automobile tours are provided, it is suggested that Pullmans continue movement as special train or trains on to the next point where sleeping quarters are necessary or from which railroad movement will be required.

Our suggestion for the actual movement of the party subject, of course, to confirmation depending upon local arrangement for proper entertainment are as follows:

Leave Jacksonville Friday night, January 18th, by Atlantic Coast Line railroad for Sanford, arrive in Sanford Saturday morning, Jan. 19th.

Saturday, January 19th: Two hours in early morning visiting Sanford celery and vegetable fields—probably the largest area in the United States under similar intensive cultivation. After two hours in Sanford, leave in motorcade for Lake county spending day in Lake county with entertainment there as may be provided by the Lake county people, with opportunity to see the citrus and other production of Lake county and enjoy a remarkably beautiful ride over the hills of that section on the splendid system of roads there.

Leaving Lake county in the afternoon coming through the western part of Orange county, passing through the wonderfully productive vegetable acreage in the vicinity of Winter Garden and Ocoee, arriving at Orlando in time for the party to freshen up and attend a late supper as the guests of local people.

Sunday, January 20th: No provision for entertainment until 2:30 p. m., visitors to be left free to attend church and to rest. The late afternoon to be given to a sight-seeing automobile trip for the party, culminating in a late dinner at some suitable place as guests of Orange county people.

Monday, January 21st: Leave Orlando in motorcade for Alafia City, passing through Pine Castle with its new and considerable banana acreage, also through Kissimmee with a considerable acreage in strawberries and other things. Arriving at Haines City about two hours after leaving Orlando, party will have an opportunity to visit citrus packing houses there and will be turned over to the people of Polk county for a motorcade down what is known as the ridge country which will include Haines City, Winter Haven, Dundee, Lake Wales, Babson Park, (formerly Crooked Lake) and Frostproof. This section for many miles on both sides of the road is practically solid in citrus acreage.

Leaving Frostproof it is suggested the party travel to Fort Meade where there will be seen a considerable acreage in cabbage and winter vegetables, thence to Bartow with its large acreage of cabbage and other things under overhead irrigation, thence to Lakeland with citrus and strawberry production. Party to again board train at Lakeland and move to Plant City that night.

Tuesday, January 22nd: First thing visit immediate Plant City section, the strawberry center of Florida with a large acreage devoted to other perish-

TRAINLOADS OF FLA. PRODUCTS IN NEW YORK

MADISON SQUARE GARDEN SHOWING TO BE FEB. 16-21

Two trainloads of Florida products, possibly more, will be shown at Madison Square Garden, next February, said P. T. Strieder, manager of the South Florida Fair, Monday. The big New York showing is to be made as a result of an offer made the fair association by John Ringling, of Sarasota and New York, owner of the famous New York exposition place.

Manager Strieder is to leave Monday night on a tour of the state, during the course of which he will line up exhibits for the next South Florida fair, which is to be held January 31 to February 9. He will at the same time "talk up" the New York-Florida State Exposition showing, which is to be put on from Feb. 10 to 21.

It is planned to have the various county exhibits shown at the Tampa fair, packed here and shipped direct to New York. Vegetables and perishables, of course, will be replaced by fresh displays shipped direct from the various points of origin in the state.

The idea of staging a monster Florida exposition in New York, is said to have originated with Mr. Ringling. He has offered to donate the use of the Madison Square Garden, and to pay transportation expense. It is believed that a sub-tropical exposition such as that staged in Tampa each year, will attract the attention of hundreds of thousands of people in New York, particularly as it will come at a time when the Empire state is snow and ice-bound.

In addition to the various farm, field and industrial products shown, plans are underway to take a fine showing of poultry to New York. The South Florida Fair poultry show last season was hailed by American and Canadian fanciers as being one of the best they had seen anywhere in the country, and it is anticipated that for the 1924 fair it will be even better. E. W. Brown, of DeLand, president of the Florida branch of the American Poultry association is working up interest among the poultrymen for the sending of a monster exhibit of fine Florida poultry to New York.

The New York showing will be strictly a Florida state exposition, declares Manager Strieder. Any county in Florida will be welcomed as an entrant, regardless of whether it exhibit at the South Florida fair, or not. It is, of course, hoped that all will exhibit in Tampa, prior to the trip north.

Mr. Ringling plans to have the Madison Square Garden exposition opened by the governor of Florida, and the Florida congressional delegation. The plat of the Madison Square Garden is being forwarded to Manager Strieder, to be used by him in planning the exposition showing and assignment of space.—Tampa Times.

FRENCH COMPLETE CONTROL RUHR RAILWAYS COMPANIES

(By The Associated Press) ESSEN, June 19.—The French today seized 170 locomotives and 2,000 freight cars on branch lines between Dortmund and Essen, thus virtually completing French control of the Ruhr transportation lines. The food situation at Dortmund, Bochum and other points is growing more serious daily as the result of the French seizure.
