Honoring our troops:

Brown serving in Southwest Asia

Navy Lt. James E. Brown, son of Barbara L. and James E. Brown of Longwood, is currently serving in Southwest Asia. He is assigned to Naval Mobile Construction Battalion-7, based in Gulfport, Miss.

Brown's unit continues to assist with convoys, watchstanding, radio operations, administrative coordination and project operations in support of Operation Iraqi Preedom.

Seabees from NMCB-7 developed a new 360 degree rotating weapons mount that fit in the rear of high mobility multipurpose wheeled vehicles, giving the convoys moving into Iraq the capability of detending against enemy engagements from any direction. They also built a base chapel, a temporary aircraft maintenance shelter and base galley at Camp Al Jaber Air Base in Kuwait.

Naval Mobile Construction Bettalions such as NMCB-7 provide military construction support to Navy, Marine Corps and other forces in military operations, construct base facilities and are armed to conduct defensive operations. Their motto "We build, We Fight" illustrates their ability to work and defend themselves at construction sites outside their base camp and convoy through unsecured areas.

Brown is a 1987 graduate of Spruce Creek Senior High School in Port Orange and a 1997 graduate of University of Central Florida in Orlando.

Commission eyes seven for manager's job

SANFORD — City Commissioners will conduct conference calls with the shortlist of candidates vying for the city manager position Thursday in hopes of narrowing the field to three finalists.

During a special meeting held Monday at City Hall, commissioners fine tuned the list of candidates and discussed the interview process.

"All the candidates on the short list were qualified," said Commissioner Kevin Sanford commissioners will conduct interviews Thursday to narrow list down to three Hipes. "There are no absolute nos. Our committee did their job by narrowing it down to a good list of candidates."

Early last week, the City Manager Selection Advisory Committee presented Commission with a list of seven names it recommended as the city's next manager, replacing Tony VanDerworp, who resigned in February. Scott K. Schrader, most recently the city manager of Avondale, Ariz., was the eighth on the list, but removed his name after accepting another job offer.

Later in the week, Hipes and Mayor Brady Lessard requested that Al Grieshaber, Jr., be added to the list. Grieshaber is the city attorney of Albany, Ga. Likewise, Commissioner Randy Jones, asked that James F. Coleman, town managmeans to be in charge and on top and responsible for things," said Jones.

Late Friday, Robert Fernandez withdrew his name from the shortlist stating personal reasons. Fernandez, who recently failed in an effort to become Polk County's manager, was fired by Osceola County commissioners in August because of his handling of the county's budget.

Since October, the Retired and Senior Volunteer Program (RSVP) has been making comfort bags to give to Seminole County Sheriff's Office Child Protective Services. Each month, about 25 bags are given to children age 2 to 5 extracted by the agency from homes suspected of abuse or neglect.

The investigators carry them in their cars so they have them on hand when a child is extracted," said Nancy Roth, volunteer coordinator for the Seminole Community Volunteer Program. "Sometimes, the children spend hours in an office after they are extracted." and they have little more than what's on their backs. The bags offer a small amount of comfort."

City makes an 'honest woman' of fence violator

By Jamie J. Anderson-Potter

SANPORD — When Marilyn Maples installed a three-panel, vinyl picket fence in the front yard of her downtown Senford historic home, she unknowingly violated a city land development regulation.

According to Maples, a 10-year resident of the downtown Santoni Historic District, she was not aware of the District's 5 Codes, which prohibit the installation of vinyl tences. According to the code, only wood or iron fences are permitted in the District.

When a member of the Historic Preservation Board's (HPB) code enforcement team contacted Maples in January, she was told to submit for a certificate of appropriateness or remove the fence. Maples appeared before the HPB in March to gain approval, but was denied based on the code.

"I felt like my constitutional rights had been ripped from me," she said. "It's not on their property, it's mine. I do understand that there are standards I need to live by and by living here (in the Sanford Historic District) I have to go by the rules. However, I never encountered anything like this in the 10 years I've lived here.

"They [HPB] are really trying to preserve the city now, more than 10 years ago," she added.

Maples appealed to the Sanford

But the Senford, Florida businessman doesn't view his counterparts from 26 other countries as rivals. Instead, they're prospective partners in what he hopes will be a global effort to make the world a better place for all.

Paulucci, who has created and sold 50 successful companies worth more than $2 billion, wants to organize the world's leading entrepreneurs into a network that uses their influence, prestige, and power to create jobs and improve economic opportunity in struggling regions and nations around the globe.

Paulucci says the 10,000 entrepreneurs nominated worldwide for the Ernst and Young award winners of U.S. Entrepreneur of the Year include Amazon's Jeff Bezos, Howard Schultz of Starbucks, and eBay's Pierre Omldvar.

These businessmen and women make jobs and help their economies grow," says Paulucci. Working together, we could develop creative and practical solutions to help ease political and social problems."

He should know. Paulucci got his start 60 years ago canning Chinese food in the Scandinavian country of Northern Minnesota with an initial investment of $2,500. Twenty years later, Paulucci sold his worldwide Chun King Corporation to RJ Reynolds Tobacco Company for $63 million. At age 85, he still works seven days a week running 11 companies, including Michelina's, one of

Overcoming odds, Haynes now national champion

By Marva Hawkins Herald Correspondent

In a short life span of only 20 years, Crystal Haynes has lived a life that books are based on. From her three short years at Winter Springs High School, custodial workers, teachers, and administrators observed her develop from a loose cannon to a state champ, Homecoming Queen, and now a National Champion.

Hayne's life began to take an uncontrollable spiral in February 1995, when her father (Vietnam veteran) died. Sam Haynes was well known in the Sanford community, but his untimely death left his family with no direction. Haynes found herself seeking attention from a group of negative friends, those who used vulgar language, fought and were not concerned about grades. In the fall of 1997, Haynes entered the new Winter Springs High School. Her morn, Sandra Haynes, believed that sending her to a new school away from her friends in a positive environment would place her in a positive direction. She was shaken to later learn that many of her friends also decided to enter Winter Springs High School. Trouble immediately started anew. She missed many days of school due to suspensions because of fighting, insubordination, and disrespect.

Haynes believed that her greatest repertoire was her mouth, which she used to threaten, and her fist, which she conquered with. Her loose cannon behavior constantly landed her in the office of Assistant Principal Gene Grace.

Finally, Mr. Grace informed Haynes she had run out of chances and her next visit to his office would result in expulsion from Winter Springs. He also advised Boxes of new theater seats were stacked outside the Helen Stairs Theatre Friday, May 30, as workers prepared to install them in the beloony. Ron Rose, development director at the theater, said 272 seats were ordered from Irwin Seating Co. and installed by Creative Inc. The new seating brings the theater's capacity up to 577. The June 13, production of "Helio Dolly" will be the first full performance after the finishing touches are completed this week. Bince the theater re-opened in 2000, audience members who set in the belony did so on cushions placed on the floor, Rose said the installation is about one year sheed of schedule. "The Wektva River Players' productions are beginning to regularly overflow into the beloony," Rose said. "The board thought we should go ahead with the project." The cost to purchase and install the seats is $88,000. Rose said the theater took out a loan, which will be repaid through the Golden Lyre, an annual awards gate to raise funds for the theater. The first event will be held in August.

Conrad Construction starts two major projects Conrad Construction Inc. based in Sanford has started construction of two warehouse facilities in Sanford that total close to 20,000 square feet of space. Steve Conrad, founder and president of the firm, said a 10,300 square foot warehouse facility is under construction for Tom Ball at 3800 St. Johns Parkway in Sanford and will cost some $600,000 to build. Conrad said his company is building a second industrial facility with 7,000 square feet of space for Ten-8 Corp. at 142 Maritime Drive in Sanford. That facility will cost an estimated $400,000 to complete. Ten-6 refurbishes, rebuilds and repairs certified fire engines throughout Florida.

Conrad Construction Company reported revenues of more than $2 million in its first year of operations. Conrad said the firm is currently negotiating with several project developers and the firm will do more than $3 million this year in commercial construction projects.

Pive Year Growth Spart Shows No Signe of Abeting At Gizard Environmental Services in Sanford

Girard Environmental Services in Senture, which operate its doors in 1996 with a handful of customers today employs more than 145 workers, has seen five straight years of double-digit growth and no signs of slackening.

Rick Girard, vice president and co-founder of the firm, along with his brother Randy, said the formula for success is easier said than done. "We lived modestly, we worked our profits back into the business," Girard said.

The firm saw $1.7 million in sales in 1998, $3.6 million in 2000, $5.9 in 2001 and more than $7.1 million last year. In very hard and we poured all

2003, Girard said the firm should realize sales in excess of $10 million, which ranks Girard as one of the largest and fastest growing privately held green industry firms in the U.S.

"We have exceeded every goal that we have ever set for ourselves, the momentum of our company is absolutely incredible" Girard said.

"Having my brother as a partner has proven to be a big advantage. We have never questioned each other's character, loyalty or commitment to making our company successful, basically we watch each other,s back. When we disagree, it's for the right reasons because we both are determined to achieve the same end result," he added. Girard Environmental Services, founded in 1998, provides irrigation and landscape construction along with a variety of landscape management service throughout, Orange, Seminole, Brevard, Lake and Volusia Countles.

her to get involved with an extracurricular activity. Mr. Grace believed the track team would be the perfect sport for Haynes to release her aggressive energy. At the end of the school day, Haynes was introduced to Coach Clark, a former World Class 800M runner and the 1991 PanAM Games Gold Medalist. Coach Clark informed Haynes that he would not hold her past record against her.

Consequently, she was also informed that any bad report from a teacher relating to her behavior would result in terrible consequences. Within days, Coach Clark discovered that Haynes was involved in a heated swearing match with another female student that came close to resulting in a fight. At 2:45 p.m. Coach Clark was waiting patiently at the track entrance gate and ordered Haynes to leave her things and get on the back of his red Toyota pickup. Coach Clark drove her to the entrance of the Oviedo bike path, seven miles away from the track at Winter Springs High School.

Practice was over when Haynes finally arrived back at school, silent and wary. Coach Clark later exclaimed he felt this would be his last day with Haynes because she would surely quit. The neighborhoods of Goldsboro and Georgetown, however, had toughened this warrior beyond her years. From that day forward, she learned to focus her energy on positive matters, and the next day Coach Clark was surprised to find Haynes at practice ready for the next challenge.

The following year in March, Haynes would lose her mother to cancer and would be cared for by her older brother Ralph and sisters Tameka, Keeshun, Latanya and Tammy. The death of her mother brought tremendous pain, but it also brought tremendous focus to her goals. Haynes became a member of the state championship team placing seventh in the 100m final and anchoring the 4x100 relay team to victory.

More surprises came to Haynes her senior year when her class-mates voted her the homecoming queen, becoming the first and only African American in school history. Now again facing all odds Haynes has prevailed becoming the first National Champion in the history of Webber College, a NAIA Division III school located in Lake Wales. The final 75 meters of the torturous 400m became a fight between Haynes and the defending champion, and of course Haynes has always been ready for a good fight. On this particular day Haynes would have assistance from two heavenly beings as they watched their youngest child become a National Champion at 400m with a time of 54.94 s. Her next goal is qualifying for the 2004 U.S. Olympic Trials, and again her angels will be there

"I was wrapped up in the S.

"That's what makes Sanford a great city," she added. "The mayor is the one who runs the city by setting a good example."

George, Sanford public works director, worked with staff to find a location that Maples' fence could be used. An even swap was made - the city has installed Maples' vinyl fence at the police substation located on 13th Street and Maples was given a new wooden fence. Maples' new fence is a mirror image of her previous fence, with the exception of the material it is made of.

"li's always important when a resident of the city is trying to help themselves to improve their prop-erty," said George. "When she enhanced her property it added to the image of the city. We felt like we could partner with her to keep the enhancement and bring her up to code."

Because of this and several other appeals brought before the city commission this year, the HPB's S Code is currently under review. It is undetermined when the revised codes will reach the Sanford Commission for approval.

"They are working to improve the situation," said Maples. "But, there have been inconsistencies from HPB in the past with allowing some people to have or keep the fences and not others. Now, they're trying to resolve them to get everyone singing from the same sheet of music."

Custom home builder targets resale value of luxury homes

Four luxury home owners who put their huxury homes on the market within the past 30 days got some pretty good news pretty quickly all four homes sold, literally within days of their listing, for their listed sale price. That's a big selling point for their builder, Dave Brewer, Inc.

The luxury homebuilder, one of the largest and most active in Central Florida, said resale value has become one of the strongest selling points for homes he builds.

Our most recent survey shows four luxury homes at Alaqua Lakes were resold by their owners at prices that ranged from the high $900,000 to more than $1.3 million," said Gary Rauch, chief operating officer at Dave Brewer Inc. 'All four homes sold within two weeks on the market, and all four brought top prices."

Rauch said he is notifying area Realtors that he will provide logo graphics and floor plan details free of charge if they want to include his comparry in the homes for sale list-

Most custom home builders tend to limit contact with their buyers after the sale except for warranty issues," Rauch said. "We've been conducting surveys of resales of homes we have built and we are finding that our participation adds significantly to the resale value of a home, even one we built 10 or 15 years ago. We want to encourage

Colonial names new vice president of private banking Regional President and CEO Michael L. Sleaford today announced the appointment of Barbara J. Minerva as vice president of private bank-

Minerva will be in charge of Ь serving the bank's 200-plus private client customers in Central Florida. Minerva will also be responsible for expanding Colonial's private client base.

Minerva has more than 20 years of banking experience with emphasis in the areas of wealth management, retail and business lending.

"We are pleased to have someone of Barbara's experience and background leading airl our private banking division," Sleaford said. "She will be a great addition to our team."

Colonial Bank is the sixth orli largest bank in Florida. Colonial Bank of Central Florida manages $1.3 billion in total assets through its 45 offices in eight counties comprised of Brevard, Flagler, Lake, Orange, Osceola, Polk, Seminole, St. Johns and Volusia. The regional headquarters is located at 201 East Pine Street in downtown us him to consider in the first place," sald Commissioner Velma Williams.

During Monday's meeting, Commission eliminated Frank Spence, who was the city manager of Miami Springs until last year, from the list.

Applicants James Ross O'Connor and Danny Crew are both on the shortlist of candidates for the Osceola County manager position and will be interviewed for that position sometime this week.

After the conference calls, being held 6 to 10 p.m. Thursday, Commission will make its decision on who to bring to Sanford for a face-toface interview.

"We can narrow the field down that night when it's fresh in our minds," said Hipes. "When we talk to them we should know right off the bat."

The expected fly-in date for the finalists is June 19. Each of the candidates will have access to a rental car to tour the city that day, followed by one-onone interviews with the mayor and the four commissioners on June 20. The candidates will remain in town June 21 for additional interviews if need-

"Everyone wants it [the interview process] to be an inti-mate process," said Lessard. "There is no margin for error in who we hire here."

City staff has encouraged the candidates to bring their families to tour Sanford as well, and plans to pay for travel expenses for the candidates and their

The estimated cost to bring the recruits to Sanford will be approximately $8,000 to $10,000. During a time when budget issues are of specific concern, Williams warns about getting hung up on the topic.

"The budget is important, but in terms of this situation, we can't think of the budget," said Williams. "We have to bite the bullet and do what we need to do."

Lessard agrees, saying, "This would be approximately equal to the monthly salary of the city manager that we haven't been paying for a few months

Candidates still in the running for Sanford city manager:

James B Coleman of Florida, He is currently the town manager of Lady Lake.

Dassey Crew of North Carolina. He was the city-manager of Gastonia, N.C., until January 2003.

• Terry Dodd of Missouri. He is currently the city manager of Branson, Mo.

Al Grieshaber, Jr., of Georgia. He is currently the city attorney of Alberry, Ga.

Denald Norten of Georgia: He is correctly the county manager of Troup County, Ge.

James Ress O'Cannor of Missouri. He is currently the city administrator of St. Charles, Mo.

the country's top frozen food producers, and a regional banking chain.

Paulucci WAS named America's No. 1 entrepreneur in 2002 by Ernst & Young, beating out 4,000 nominees. He'll go up against the world's best in Monte Carlo June 5-8. Known as "The Incurable Entrepreneur," Jeno Paulucci has created 70 brands, including Michelina's and the Jeno's pizza rolls that bear his name. When he was 72 years old, he launched his most successful venture yet-Luigino's. The company now accounts for a quarter of the frozen entrees sold in North America under the Michelina's and Budget Gourmet brands.

in addition to Paulucci's food businesses, he's started a bank chain stallt the 10-square-mile community of Heathrow out-side Orlando, and successfully lobbled to save the mining industry in his home state of Minnesota.

Paulucci isn't slowing down. His latest venture is a company that sells frozen food in vending machines.

"Work is my fun," Paulucci said. "Making a deal is a lot better than making a putt."

Paulucci is the founder of the Foundation in Washington, DC, a positive voice for 25 million Italian-Americans.

Paulucci gives away 1 million meals a year to families nationwide through Luigino's "free food for the needy" program. In 60 years, there has never been a strike or slowdown at any of Paulucci's plants around the world

Paulucci is a family man who says the best deal he ever made was talking Lois Mae Trepanier into marrying him 56 years ago.

Harris, Melillo help end Stetson's season

By Dean Smith Sports Editor

ATLANTA — Two former Lake Brantley High School baseball stars treated the local team rather rudely this past weekend in Atlanta. Kevin Melillo and Justin Harris, the starting middle infield for the University of South Carolina, both had big tournaments as the No. 2 seeded Gamecocks went undefeated in repeating as Regional Champions.

Track stars show well at Golden South meet

By Dean Smith Sports Editor

ORLANDO - Several Seminole County track athletes made the most of a great opportunity this past Saturday when they got to compete in the Bert M. Warden's Golden South Classic.

This was the 27th annual running of the prestigious meet, which consistently brings together the top track athletes from throughout the Eastern United States.

Seminole County was represented by 15 athletes from five schools and each more than held their own against a class field.

Leading the way was Oviedo star Jenny Berringer with a third place finish in the 800meter run. This sophomore decided to skip her best event, the mile, in favor of trying to break the school record in the Trinity Prep junior Ryan Truchelut also placed third in the 2,000 meter Steeplechase, an event that is not normally run during the school year, but is run at the Golden South. Saints teammate Michael Rodriguez also ran well as the senior came home eighth. Several athletes finished fifth his high school career by competing in three events at the prestigious Golden South Classic at The First Academy this past weekend. Campbell will be attending the Naval Academy this fall as amember of the Midshipmen football team.

in their respective events, including Oviedo senior Dustin Hicks in the mile run, Winter Springs junior Chris Sienko in the pole vault, Lake Mary senior Wil Alltson, who is headed to Hofstra University in New York on a football scholarship, in the long jump, and Lake Mary senior Chris Collins in the triple jump.

Also placing fifth was the 4x100 meter relay team of Collins, Allison, Lake Mary's Reggie Campbell and Winter Springs' Kenny Scott. The team was put together at the last minute after another team failed to show up. Lake Mary Junior Brandon Williams claimed a pair of sixth's in the discus and shot

Hard work paying off for SCC women

By Dean Smith Sports Editor

SANFORD - The future is beginning to look bright for the Seminole Community College women's basketball program. After an off season, by their standards, the Raiders' coaching staff has worked overtime on the phone lines and put in many miles over the highways of the southeast the past few months and its efforts are really begnining to pay off.

Head coach Lisa Nuxol was handed a tough task last summer as by the time she was named the new coach most of the prized recruits had already signed with other schools and several returning players had decided to transfer to other schools, the biggest loss being 6-foot-5 All-American Yelena Leuchanka.

But Nuxol and her assistants, Alex de la Fe and Tara Gibson, did a masterful job as after a slow start, the Raiders finished the season with a 19-11 record and just one win short of returning to the State

And while pleased with the finish Nuxol and staff were not satisfied as the school had had after several seasons in a row of finishes in the Top 25 in the national rankings.

Coming that close to a return to the state only resolved Nuxol and staff to work harder and as a result, four players from last year's squad have signed scholarships and seven new player have decided to make SCC their new basketball home.

Sophomore Brandi Catia has signed a Letter of Intent and scholarship to attend Clayton State and College in Atlanta this

The 5-foot-10 forward from Jacksonville's University Christian High School made the most of her one season at SCC, emerging as one of the best rebounders for the Raiders and being a main reason the team was able to overcome a 1-6 start after she joined the starting line-

BITHLO _ The amazingly popular CRASH-A-RAMA night of fire and destruction returns to Orlando SpeedWorld this Friday night.

Headling the card will be a School Bus Figure 8 race for the guys and a Powder Puff School Bus Figure 8 for the girls.

Other exciting, and destructive races include camper-trailer and boat-trailer races, 4-cylinder and 8-cylinder demolition derbies, and an Outlaw demolition derby.

Among the special events will be the Wall of Steel, plus an appearance by the Green Mamba jet dragster and a motorcycle exhibition team, plus much, much more.

Grandstands will open at 5 p.m. and racing begins promptly at 8 p.m.

For raceday information call 407-568-1367. The weekly Test and Tune session will also be held at the fast 3/8's-mile oval tonight (Wednesday) from 6 p.m. to 10 p.m.

Cost is $20 for the racecar and three persons. Each additional person is $5 each.

Orlando SpeedWorld Dragway, located right next to the oval, will be holding Midnight Street Legal Drags this Saturday from 10:30 p.m. to 2

Cars must be driven in, no towed cars, and must have working headlights, taillights and muf-

Gates and staging lanes open at 10:30 p.m. and close at the rear at 2 a.m. General Admission is $10 and only $5 more to run your car. The local track also hosts "Street Drags" every Wednesday and Friday night from 6 p.m. until 10:30 p.m.

You can use the time to test, tune, practice, run grudge races, etc. No extra charge to run. For event, licket and race day weather information call 407-568-5522. SpeedWorld is located 17 miles east of Orlando, See Racing, Page 9

BASKETBALL LESSONS

Former Lake Mary High School basketball stars Jason Junker and Ben Fratrik are offering private or semi-private (3 to 6 kids) basketball instruction through their business, Elite Basketball Academy.

Fratrik, the boys junior varsity coach at Lake Mary, said students can name any specific thing they want to work on or the school has its own individual workout schedule.

All lessons are at Lake Mary High School and can be scheduled by calling 407-310-7139 or emailing elitebaskeballacademy@hotmail.com.

Prices vary depending on how many lessons are desired and whether it is private or semi-private.

War on I-4 continues

An Orlando player makes a hard hit on a New York player during the Predators' 69-62 victory over the Firebirds last Sunday in the Quarterfinals of the Arena Football League playoffs. The victory sends Orlando to Tampa Bay for the Semifinals this Sunday to take on the hated Storm in another installment of the "War on I-4". The winner will advance to the Arena Bowl the following week.

Baseball –

Former Longwood Babe Ruth star and Lake Mary resident Chris Westervelt also had a nice tourney for Stetson after returning from a shoulder injury that had kept the All-American out of the line-up for better than a month.

Westevelt went 2-for-4, including his ninth double of the season, and drove in a run as the Hatters upset to-seeded, and host, Georgia Tech, 5-4.

The junior catcher then had a hit and scored a run in a 9-4 win over East Carolina, then went 1-for-5 in the two losses to South Carolina.

No. 1 ranked Florida State (54-11-1) and No. 8 ranked University of Miami (42-15-1) will join the Gamecocks in the Super Regionals, hosting defending National Champion Texas (46-18) and North Carolina State (45-16), respectively.

PSU advanced by coming out of the Loser's Bracket to defeat South Alabama twice on Sunday, while the Hurricanes bounced back from a loss to Florida to win its regional in Coral Gables.

Other Super Regionals to be held this weekend, with the winners advancing to the World Series in Omaha, will be Baylor (44-21) at No. 2 Louisiana State (43-19-1); Arizona State (53-12) at No. 7 California State, Fullerton (46-13); Long Beach State (41-18) at No. 6 Stanford (44-15); Houston (36-28) at No. 5 Rice (51-10); and Southwest Missouri State (38-24) at Ohio State (44-19).

In related news, Stetson University All-America third baseman Brian Snyder (Wellington High School) was selected in the first round by the Oakland A's with the 26th overall pick Tuesday in the 2003 Major League Baseball Amateur Draft, the highest-ever Draft Selection for a Hatters player.

A 6-foot, 195-pound right-handed hitter, Snyder batted .396 with 11 home runs and 55 RBI in 2003.

He led the Atlantic Sun Conference in onbase percentage (.505), hits (90), doubles (23), total bases (152), and walks (48), and he ranked among the league leaders in six other offensive categories.

He also placed among the all-time Stetson single-season leaders in batting average (6th), hits (8th), doubles (t-5th), and total bases (t-6th).

Snyder was recently named a third-team All-American by Collegiate Baseball newspaper and was an Atlantic Sun first-team all-conference performer.

For his career, Snyder batted .373 with 32 home runs and 158 RBI. His .481 on-base percentage and .645 slugging percentage both rank second all-time in school history. He also ranks third in career batting average and third in doubles (56), tied for fourth in runs scored (188), fifth in home runs, sixth in total bases (408), and seventh in runs batted in.

Kevin Nicholson, who was drafted by the San Diego Padres with the 27th overall pick in 1997, is the only other Stetson player to be selected in the first round.

programs this fall. But it is the signing of the new players that have Nuxol excited. Topping the list of newcomers is former Winter Springs High School standout Missy Guadagnino who will transfer from Stetson University. The 5-foot-4 point guard led the Bears to four straight state tournament appearances and should team with returning shooting guard Natalie Emmanuelli to give SCC one of the strongest, and quickest, back courts in Florida. Nuxol went out of state to sign another guard, 5-foot-7 Guard Danielle Jenkins from Beach High School in Savannah, Georgia.

The other new signees are from basketball-rich South Florida, led by 6-foot-1 post player Kirsten Harris from Ft. Lauderdale High School.

Other newcomers are 5-foot-6 point guard Kentrell Hill from South Miami High School, 5foot-11 forward Lisa Jackson from Miami Norland High School, 5-foot-10 guard Christina Wright from Lehigh Acres High School, and 5-foot-10 guard/forward Nichole Miller from Palm Beach Gardens High School. Nuxol also expects former Lake Mary High School standout Bryn Mosfer, who decided to set out this season, to join the Raiders in the fall.

That group, along with returnees Emmanuelli, guard Nichole Bennett, center/forward Latasha Johnson, guard Jennifer Anderson, who sat out this past season with an injury, forward Rosanna Davis and forward A'Kisheon McCollum should give Nuxol the nucleus she needs to make the jump back into the elite of programs not only in Florida, but in the nation.
