Dean Faces Trial ... Rape Charges

An attempt by Joseph Kenneth Dean to keep state courts from trying his case on several rape indictments was unsuccessful Friday. Federal Court Judge George C. Young denied the motion of defense attorney Michael F. Gyzmanick for a temporary restraining order that would have halted the trials.

Dean, a 34 year old Casselberry father of an infant girl, faces trial in Orange and Seminole Counties. He will be tried in the Circuit Courts in those counties on charges of rape. The charges involve an 18-year-old Orlando girl, a 19-year-old Orlando housewife, and a 12-year-old Longwood school girl.

State Attorney Robert Eagan, Orange County, and State Attorney Abbott Herring, Seminole County, prosecutors of the indictments fought the motion for the restraining order.

Dean was attacking the constitutionality of the state's rape laws. In denying the restraining order Judge Young noted that presently there are 47 appeals of the death penalty now pending in the U.S. Supreme Court.

Federal injunction against executions in this state has been under effect for several years. Even if the penalty is deemed unconstitutional, said Young, it is doubtful if this would invalidate convictions for rape or preclude other punishment.

By Adjustment Board County Tax Rolls Reviewed

By MARION BETHA
Seminole County's new Tax Adjustment Board, which replaces the former Board of Equalization, met this morning in the County Commission chambers to review the county tax rolls.

Representing the county commission were John Alexander, who is serving as chairman of the Adjustment Board, Edward Yarborough and Robert Parker. The commission also appointed two members from the Seminole County Board of Public Instruction, Allen Keith and Ray Clayton. Also meeting with the board were Tax Assessor Guy Allen, Clerk of the Court Arthur Beckwith and County Attorney Harold Johnson.

Normally, the tax rolls are prepared by the assessor on July 1; however this year, the Department of Revenue granted a 30 day extension until Aug. 1. Allen advised the board that the Department of Revenue has accepted the rolls, meaning acceptance of 100 per cent assessed valuation.

The specially called meeting today was for the purpose of the assessor presenting each of the assessed rolls for the county, in which individual properties have been described and assessed, with the assessments having been completed and compiled.

Alexander told the board that it must meet on a daily basis until the tax roll is accepted by them. The board then adjourned to the tax assessor's office to review the tax rolls book by book.

Recovering in the commission chambers, Alexander told the board that the review would continue tomorrow at 4 p.m. At this time, the regular rolls will receive continued review as well as the railroad and telegraph rolls and the intangible tax rolls.

Alexander stated that the assessor had refused to grant homestead exemption in 16 notices, and that there were six unrecapitulated complaints as to assessment by taxpayers.

In a recapitulation sheet presented to the board, Allen gave the total values of all properties and the different classifications as follows:

Lands reverted to state under Chapter 18286, $179,970; County tax certificate lands (non-exempt), $96,627; County tax certificate lands (homestead), 0; Valuation of land, wholly exempt, $64,161.61; (Widows, Government, County, State, Schools, Churches, etc.), Homesteads (current), $86,129,941; Non-exempt lands (current), $28,423,291; Personal Property, $29,209,086; Railroads and Telegraph, $3,981,235.

Total value of all properties is $466,278,295.

AT AN EARLY MORNING MEETING TODAY
SEMINOLE COUNTY Tax Assessor Guy Allen, left, watches as Allan Keith and Robert Parker, members of the County Tax Adjustment Board review each of the tax assessment rolls for the county. The lengthy process is to be continued tomorrow.

Steal-To-Feed-Habit Drugs Raising Crime Rate

Harvey Douglas Hunter of Orlando was charged by Sanford police with breaking and entering and possession of narcotics and the juveniles after reports the trio were burglarizing vending machines at the Texaco Service Station at 25th Street and French Avenue.

Police Chief Ben Butler stated Hunter was charged after a Turkish water pipe containing narcotics was removed from Hunter's possession. Hunter is still held at city jail while the youths have been removed to the county jail.

Seminole County Deputies Roy Huxley, O'Dell Hunt and Oscar Reising caught 18-year-old Gary Lee Methvin of Sanford inside Doctor Carl H. Hunter's office early Saturday morning in Lake Mary.

The youth was found by Huxley behind a chair along with a bundle of various drugs removed from the physician's sample shelves.

Methvin was charged with breaking and entering with intent to commit a felony and is being held in lieu of $15,000 bond at county jail. County Investigator L. J. Kritz said the youth told him he was looking for narcotics when apprehended.

In another report, a 15-year-old Lake Mary girl was removed to Seminole Memorial Hospital after she reportedly slashed her wrists six times with a knife. Deputy Larry Chester investigated the Saturday night incident.

In still another county report, a 14-year-old girl was removed to the hospital after authorities were alerted by the girl's parents that she might be on dope since marks similar to those made by a needle were noted on her arms.

The girl, who lives near Sanford, began acting strange after coming home Saturday night and her parents called authorities.

Askew Campaigning In Sanford

By BILL SCOTT
State Sen. Reubin Askew says the people of Florida are tired of government by crisis and there is a need for someone in the governor's office who can get the job done, rather than just headlines.

Speaking to a gathering of 40 persons this morning at a coffee held at Holiday Isle, the Democratic gubernatorial candidate said it was time to bring people into the state government who can prevent crisis.

He stated that present Republican Gov. Claude Kirk had first agreed with the legislative pay raise enacted a year ago, but then came back before that body and condemned everyone because of its passage. "Kirk purposely tried to create an issue in order for him to seek re-election," Askew added.

The Pensacola legislator, who is married to the former Donna Lou Harper of Sanford, said no one was in possession of absolute truth and no one knows it all. "We need executive leadership with a specific program," Askew declared.

He said approximately 90 per cent of the money donated to politicians for campaigns come from only one per cent of the people and added his legislation which would put a cap on campaign expenditures would aid future political campaigns.

Referring to the state road problem, Askew said every part of the state feels like "step children" when it comes to better roads. "I have yet to make a promise on the road situation, but I have traveled SR 48 from Mount Dora to Sanford many times and I promise you I will do something about that road after I am governor," he stated.

Askew said 40 per cent of road money is allotted for administrative tasks and he pledged.

Commission Listens To Bids

County Commissioners face a busy day tomorrow . . . in addition to the regularly scheduled meeting, the board will meet with members of the state Subcommittee on County Government for lunch on July 21, a discussion of proper assessment practices in the county.

At 4 p.m. three members of the commission, appointed to the Tax Adjustment Board will meet in a continued review of the county tax rolls.

Scheduled for the meeting of the County Commission is a report upon bids for the new Court House and prison equipment. Low bid for the Court House submitted on July 21, was $4,134,000. Low bid for the equipment was $248,500. Although no action may be taken until a ruling by the Florida Supreme Court, to be held in September upon the wording modifications on the bond interest rates, the bids will be reviewed by the commission.

There will be a report by the county's consulting firm Clark, Dickie and Associates upon the Orlando Sewage Plant Disposal. This is in relation to a proposed sewer plant site in Seminole County in 1970.

What's the latest on the Seminole County Courthouse? Will the construction get underway?

The answers to these and many other problems confronting this explosive issue will be answered in the first of a series on the subject starting in tomorrow's Herald.

Longwood Youth Killed In Casselberry Mishap

By BILL SCOTT
A Casselberry woman has been charged with DWI in the accidental death of a 17-year-old Longwood youth.

Longwood police today said Elizabeth Davis, 35, 70 North Winter Park Drive, was charged with driving while intoxicated.

Within a short while, window-smashing and vandalism was reported in nearby areas. Hollywood Police Chief W. W. Matthews said an automobile was thrown at an apartment building, a bar and a television station, heavy but brief rainfall dispersed the young crowds. Matthews said, but soon thereafter dark clouds began gathering at a bar in nearby Dania.

New Communist Offensive

U.S. Begins Bombing Raids

By GEORGE ESPER
Associated Press Writer
SAIGON (AP)—The United States today committed its entire Pacific force of B-52 bombers against the new Communist offensive in the northernmost provinces of South Vietnam.

Nearly 10 of the big bombers from Guam, Okinawa and Thailand dropped some 2,000 tons of bombs on North Vietnamese supply and staging areas on both sides of the Laotian border during the past 48 hours.

The raids were the heaviest in two years in the sector. Informal sources said clouds prevented any accurate assessment of the bomb damage, but several secondary explosions and dazed bits on ammunition stores.

The U.S. Command ordered bases guarding approaches to the populous coastal lowlands of Quang Tri and Thua Thien provinces.

North Vietnamese gunners late Sunday aimed nearly 30 rounds of rockets, mortars and recoilless rifle shells into five allied bases along the DMZ. Three ground lights were reported around the bases.

More Fighting Expected In Middle East Conflict

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Guerrilla chief Yash Arafat said Sunday he expects further fighting between the Palestinian commands and the Jordanian army. He said four brigades of government troops were ringing Amman in preparation for a new crackdown on the guerrillas.

"But we shall turn Jordan into a graveyard for potters," he told a graduation exercise of guerrilla fighters in the Jordanian capital. "Amman shall be a Hanoi of the Middle East."

The guerrilla newspaper Al Fatah said Jordan's King Hussein had moved tanks and artillery into Jordan around Amman. The paper claimed Lebanon was collaborating with Jordan in preparations "for an all-out guerrilla showdown."

Independent sources in Amman claimed to have seen at least one Jordanian soldier in a cross-fire by snipers.

Authorities traced the disturbances in Dania and Hollywood to an attempt by Davis police to question two young Negroes.

One of the youths escaped on foot but his 16-year-old companion was caught, Georgia said.

The officers placed the rest of the youths in their cars, but discovered it had a burst radiator hose. A crowd started gathering. Georgia said, so he went to a nearby residence and telephoned Hollywood police. When he returned, Georgia said more than 100 persons were around the cruiser and some had started shooting for the youth's freedom.

Hollywood police arrived, and sporadic shooting broke out as the blacks crowded around the Davis car, Georgia said. Three 11-year-old policemen broke through the crowd to help the Davis officers escape, the officer said.

The Davis cruiser was overturned and set afire.

Askew promised to work for a reformed tax base and said the present property tax is unfair taxing just to bring in money for school support. "We need to restructure the entire tax base because the low and middle income people are bearing a disproportionate share of the tax burden," Askew added.

He concluded with an observation that he would be in the Democratic runoff, because I am getting up the longest and I am the youngest in the race."

Faircloth Makes Ruling On 'Free' Advertising

By RICH OPPEL
"CALLAHSSE, Fla. (AP)—Florida's free gift advertising law has not relegated the use of the word "free" to literary mobball in advertising if it is not used to deceive people.

This is the official opinion of Atty. Gen. Karl Faircloth, who Thursday advanced a "reasonable belief" test to use in interpreting the controversial 1970 law.

"The act does not flatly prohibit the use of the term 'free' or similar terms in advertising," he said in an opinion re-

Enforcing Hasn't Hurt Him

By MARK BROWN
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) Postmaster General Winton M. Blount, the only Southerner in the Nixon Cabinet, says administration action to enforce strict segregation hasn't hurt the President's popularity in the South.

"There is great enthusiasm in the South for the Nixon administration," Blount said in an interview.

Even though desegregation is "a difficult issue for people in the South," Blount says Nixon's popularity is high in the area, the postmaster general said.

He contended the favorable image has resulted, not from a deliberate attempt to woo the South, but an "even handed" approach to problems in both the North and the South.

"I don't believe treating all parts of the country the same is what you could call a Southern strategy," Blount said. "That is what I would call a national strategy."

Nixon has denied there is a Southern Strategy.

Vigilant Press A 'Must' Now More Than Ever

Debate and concern about news reporting, news interpretation and news policy is almost as old as the Fourth Estate designation which was given journalists by Macaulay and Burke in the early part of the 19th century.

It is nothing new for those whose profession is dedicated to the seeking out of news to be the whipping boys for politicians, who would rather not be in the limelight, or military commanders, who would rather cover their deadly mistakes in deadly statistics.

Thus the reporter (and that is what all of the higher-echelon journalists, commentators and editors must be in essence) adopts a calling which invites the inquisitive, the reformer, the "Tom from Missouri" oriented.

However this must be applied primarily to the age of the reporter who reported from personal interview and the almost obliterated "press conference" and set down in writing what he had observed, what he had heard and what all meant.

Not so today!

In our experience it was an invasion of traditional rights when the TV cables, cameras and lights, which are now sought out by all who want to communicate, have the eye to watchers who are awayed by the appearance and not the substance, messed up the press conference.

We would emphasize that what had been a "press conference" is now, more often than not, a theatrical presentation where the informational value of such conferences is often lost.

It used to be when an important spokesman or government official holding high office wanted to have such a conference, and they were usually asked for by reporters who were experienced in the issues to be brought up, it would be called for the press alone.

No make-up of face or make-up of reply was required. Questions could be asked and pursued by knowledgeable inquirers who could not be shut-off by the pointed finger selecting some one who could an issue in which the one holding the conference would be more at home.

Of course the evasion is nothing new. But in the pre-TV press conference, some persistent reporter would pick-up the issue, not yet properly answered and drive to a definite answer or a definite "no comment."

No one, we are sure, wants to turn the clock back even if it could be or even if it should be for the press conference is to fulfill its basic and essential purpose.

Yet TV costs are doing what other pressures have not brought about. TV commentators have drawn the lightning of the Agnew attack. TV appearances, with Richard M. Nixon as the chief performer, have been significant and important landmarks in the history of this President of the United States.

Ability of Mr. Nixon to learn as much as he has since the Kennedy-Nixon TV debates and apply it in winning the presidency and now in the conduct of that office is also a matter which underscores the present attitudes both within and without those who engage in and control mass media.

Those of us who know that freedom of the press is as essential to the preservation of freedom of the people as the framers of the United States Constitution did are aware of the present nibbling at this right.

It has been tried before. It has never succeeded. But eternal vigilance, as has been said before, is the price of liberty. We of the Fourth Estate are ready to pay the price — Are you?

Editorial Comment

Needed Skills

Sometimes there's a feeling in your bones that rain is coming. This gets encouragement when the weather predictions back it up with specific forecasts. Then comes the rain and old-fashioned "feeling" gets a little proof.

This is somewhat the feeling we had when one of the nation's most perceptive columnists, Lou Schneider of NANA who writes out of New York, confirmed our increasing conviction that vocational training is the school of the 1970s.

Commenting on an 856-page intensive study by federal authorities of vocational training which states that in the next 10 years eight out of 10 jobs will be filled by workers without a college degree, Mr. Schneider says:

"Young people who acquire a skill via vocational training after high school graduation will be in the best position to get steady jobs in the 1970s and at good wages."

"Jobs for 4-year college graduates are drying up. Ph. Ds are almost a glut on the job market."

"There is a strong demand for medical workers, in the computer field, law-enforcement work, construction industry, plumbers, carpenters, electricians, home appliance services, auto repair services, business machine repair services, salesmen, etc."

With this sentiment we are in complete accord. We are also happy that in Seminole County the benefit of vocational training is being extended and will be extended both in the matter of subjects.

Of course the pursuit of learning with the traditional goal of earning degrees and striving for excellence must persist. But vocational training needs to be recognized, as this study does, as a most needed balance in the world of education.

Washington Window:

Worry Priorities Do Puzzle?

By JOSEPH L. MYLER
UPI Senior Editor
WASHINGTON (UPI) — A fellow around here who works for the government and who had therefore been nameless better therefore be nameless and so he decided to put lightning at the top of the list. Then by some odd mental quirk he got to thinking about the contents of people's bathroom cabinets.

A little thought convinced him the list already needed reworking. So he put hurricanes ahead of lightning and mercury in fish; (2) arsenic and lead in drinking water; (3-4 or 4-3) hurricanes and tornadoes; (5) contents of bathroom cabinet.

So he started all over again: (1) mercury in fish; (2) arsenic and lead in drinking water; (3-4 or 4-3) hurricanes and tornadoes; (5) contents of bathroom cabinet.

The worry list worried him. He thought he must be losing his mind. Smoking lungs, cancer-emphysema, poisonous aerosols in the air, deer crossings and people crossings on the highways and streets, fear of being arrested for double parking and tossed into jail because he had no money, whether he would know what to do if the authorities actually did declare a "pollution alert." It was sure he wouldn't remember.

By this time he was mixed up a bit. He hadn't thought out the scope of his list of priority worries. Should he limit the items to 10, say, or let them run to infinity.

He remembered something he had read in a popular math book about infinities some are larger than others. How could that be? The thought worried him. He thought he had better stop thinking for a while.

Nixon Scores Foreign Gains

By LEON DENNEN
UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (NEA) — A balance sheet of President Nixon's policy of "negotiating with the enemy" will reveal substantial political dividends in some of the world's critical areas.

His pragmatic approach to international affairs, it is increasingly clear, has already set in motion the wheels of diplomacy not only in the Middle East but also in Europe and even in Southeast Asia.

American-Russian negotiations on the limitation of strategic nuclear weapons, though complex and slow, are also showing some signs of progress.

Seasoned diplomats in the United Nations are not anticipating a speedy miracle settlement of the Middle East crisis. But in their view the Nixon administration scored a notable advance in winning the agreement of the Jordanians to Israel to negotiate a cease-fire.

The President thus avoided the danger of an "East-West confrontation." He also deprived the Russians for the immediate future at least—of an excuse for further expanding their military presence in the Middle East and the Mediterranean.

Even Nixon's critics concede that the new diplomatic turn in the Mideast is due in a large measure to the President's realistic and yet firm policy.

But it also reflects the victory of the "moderates" in the Kremlin who feared that the Mideast might become Russia's Vietnam. The Kremlin leaders also realized belatedly their policy of "controlled chaos" was only playing into the hands of the Arab extremists and terrorists who, encouraged, armed and financed by Red China, were a greater threat than the Egyptian client.

The Russians were indeed skirting on thin ice after it became known that at least one Egyptian plane shot down by Israeli aircraft were flown by Soviet pilots.

Such concern was voiced recently by a group of West German parliamentarians in a conversation with this writer. "Brandt is giving away German bargaining positions without getting anything in return from Moscow," a prominent member of the Bundestag warned.

Governor's Race

Bafalis Gains Paper's Support

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
The Tallahassee Democrat said Sunday it was weary of Gov. Claude Kirk's "impulsive, capricious, eternal confrontations" and endorsed State Sen. L. A. "Skip" Bafalis for the Republican gubernatorial nomination.

The newspaper termed the West Palm Beach businessman a legislator "who has learned well the problems and methods of state and local government."

The newspaper also endorsed Senate President Jack Mathews of Jacksonville for the Democratic nomination over three other party hopefuls.

Calling Bafalis a "hard fighter" for low budgets, neighborhood schools, more vocational education and generally conservative government, the newspaper nonetheless said it found much to recommend about Kirk's administration and that it had never been a persistent critic of the governor.

"But we're weary of his impulsive, capricious, eternal confrontations and his disparaging tactics," the newspaper said in an editorial.

Commenting on Mathews, the Democrat said it had backed him in 1964 when he ran for governor and added, "we think he is a more mature and effective man today than he was then, and the field against him is no more attractive."

Mathews is running against Dade County Mayor Chuck Hall, State Sen. Reubin Askew, and Atty. Gen. Earl Faires. Clearwater millionaire Jack Eckerd is opposing Bafalis and Kirk for the GOP gubernatorial election ballot.

Bafalis, campaigning in Miami Sunday, said in a statement "if there is a communications gap" in the Kirk administration, there is a communications chairman in the Eckerd campaign organization."

Bafalis described Eckerd's campaign as "a classic example of chaos, incredibly big and tragically poor communication."

"The Eckerd organization plainly has not learned that straight-forward communications is the best policy," Bafalis said. "If he cannot maintain communications in a campaign, how could he possibly do so at the helm of state government?"

Eckerd issued a statement from his Fort Lauderdale campaign headquarters accusing Kirk of failing to get Florida's taxpayers their "fair share" of federal grants.

Senate Race

Cramer 'Tags' His Opponent

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Dubbing himself "an anti-busing congressman," William Cramer called his GOP Senate primary rival G. Harold Carswell a "busing judge" who was responsible for some of the decisions that are causing chaos in our schools."

Cramer, author of the anti-busing amendment to the 1964 Civil Rights Act, Sunday said he was "astounded" to discover that Carswell, a former federal appeals judge, was responsible for decisions requiring children to be used to achieve racial balance.

"I don't believe the people of Florida want to send a busing judge to the United States Senate," Cramer said.

Meanwhile, Democratic contender Al Hastings issued a statement calling for more equitable distribution of taxes.

The Fort Lauderdale attorney said his opponents "are too tied to special interests to say what must be said and that is, that Florida needs a severance tax."

"The citrus industry must bear its load of the taxes in the nation. We must stop all depletion tax subsidies and farm subsidies," he said.

Former governorarris Bryant, also a Senate hopeful, defended the refinancing of the Florida Turnpike under his administration which drew criticism from Fred Schultz, a third Democratic contender.

Bryant claimed the turnpike was "the greatest road building bargain in the history of Florida."

Schultz had charged that "lawyers and bond dealers... reaped a windfall of more than $8 million" when the turnpike was refinanced.

Bryant said the cost and inflated rates arrived at in the refinancing "have been comparable to similar issues in other states."

Florida Weekend Fatalities

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Traffic accidents on Florida's streets and highways claimed the lives of eight persons over the weekend, including a 69-year-old Reddick pedestrian.

The Florida Highway Patrol said David Ellison was struck and killed as he walked along State Road 23 three miles south of Orange Lake in Marion County.

Two Jacksonville men perished when their motorcycle was struck by a car approaching from the rear.

Jacksonville police identified the motorcycle victims as James Richard Green, 23, and Jerome Taylor Collins, 23. Their cycle was hit as it traveled U.S. 1 just south of Jacksonville.

Kevin Miller, 4, in Florida on a vacation from his South Farmingdale, N.Y., home, was killed Sunday when he was struck by a car on Collins Avenue in northern Dade County.

Another Dade County accident took the life of George Henry Monroe, 72, of Homestead. He died when his car overturned on U.S. 1 near Cutler Ridge.

Worry Priorities Do Puzzle?

Don Oakley Says:

Labor Reform

By DON OAKLEY
NEA Editorialist

The nation faces another rail-way strike threat on Sept. 6, just before Labor Day, inevitably. This is the expiration date of the 60-day cooling off period invoked by President Nixon under the emergency provisions of the Railway Labor Act.

Background music to the dispute is a familiar tune, the "third man" theme—the question of whether a fireman is needed in a diesel cab in addition to an engineer and brakeman.

A nationwide rail shutdown may be averted if the United Transportation Union accepts a solution just recommended by a presidential emergency board.

Firemen would gradually be eliminated through attrition by retirement or death, and new firemen would be hired. None of the 37,500 firemen now on the job would be dismissed and those holding seniority would have an opportunity to bid for a new job classification of fireman-brakeman.

In the meantime, Sen. John G. Tower, R-Tex., has introduced a joint resolution in Congress to establish a Commission on Labor Law Reform. Charging that the Railway Labor Act has proved ineffective throughout its 45-year history, he cites the

No Rush In U.S. Viet Pullout

By BRUCE BLOSSAT
NEA Washington Correspondent
WASHINGTON (NEA) — The widely held impression is that if President Nixon keeps his promised withdrawal schedule and gets U.S. force levels in Vietnam down to 250,000 by next May, nearly all ground combat units will be gone. The impression is wrong.

In his various pronouncements on withdrawals, the President has emphasized the removal of combat units. He and other top officials in his administration also have indicated that the "remainder forces" would be mostly logistical and support troops, plus sea and air units.

The fact that withdrawals up to this time, which have reduced our total armed strength in Vietnam to just a bit more than 400,000 men, have included stable numbers of support troops.

The more important thing to know is that a considerable number of ground combat elements will be among the 250,000 expected to remain on the Vietnam scene after May 1, 1971.

But the expression "combat" is that by mid-1971 most of such units would no longer be engaged in dangerous, offensive patrol duty but would be assigned mostly to defend our logistical forces. The presumption is that in this defensive role they would be far less likely to suffer substantial casualties.

It is clear from this privately given indication that, whatever the President or others say publicly about the improvement of the South Vietnamese army as a fighting force, we do not yet have complete confidence in it. Otherwise, we could rely upon it to protect our remaining support forces.

To get our combat units out of Vietnam, we need to train at a fairly rapid pace South Vietnamese helicopter units. It is not widely stated, but a high proportion of our present helicopter losses is from downed helicopters

Orlando Aerial Attack Smashes Bridgeport

By GARY TAYLOR Herald Sports Editor
ORLANDO — Attention! ACFL... Orlando Panthers are here. They made that evident Saturday night at the Tangerine Bowl as they slammed the Bridgeport Jets 25-7.

and with 7:11 remaining in the initial quarter of play, Ron Miller split the uprights to give the Panthers a 3-0 lead. The Panthers kicked off, got the ball back and then stalled. Miller, who had sailed the first one through from 14 yards, came in and made the score 6-0 with a 28-yard three-point.

Orlando collected 16 first downs during the game as compared to three for Bridgeport. The Panthers went to the field for 219 yards and gained 88 on the ground for 303 total yards. The Jets rushed for 107 yards and gained 78 in the air for 185 total yards.

Tom Whittier led the Panther pass receiving attack as he caught seven passes for 83 yards. Murphy completed six of 11 attempts for 102 yards and Ron Skowhik hit for nine of 14 for 117 yards.

CONSIDER THIS - It has been proved that nothing scares a robber more quickly than a woman's scream. A man isn't so good. Neither is a bell. Now what, this doesn't mean a girl ought to yell if a thief points a gun at her. On the contrary. A shrieking female in person is too apt to panic a burglar by leaving the trigger. Still, why don't the anti-burglar men invent a tape-cass alarm that broadcasts the voice of a screaming woman? Different From Early Days

Southern Christian Leadership Conference Takes New Mood

UPI correspondent William O. Tompkins covered some of the Martin Luther King Jr. in Alabama in the early 1960s. He covered the just-concluded SCLC convention and found marked changes in the organization since those days.

By WILLIAM O. TOMPKINS ATLANTA (UPI) — The mood at the Southern Christian Leadership Conference (SCLC) has taken on a militancy far different from the early days of civil disobedience under the late Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. It has become a more militant, African-styled shirt. It is a demand for black identity along with equality with the white man.

The difference was forcefully evident at the final night session of the SCLC's 13th annual convention Thursday. "What time is it?" shouted the Rev. Jesse Jackson, one of the young, forceful leaders in the SCLC. "Nation time," shouted the audience of some 600, an apparent reference to a black nation.

Power is in Commission A candidate for the Fulton (Atlanta) County Commissioner, Billy McKinney, said he was running for office because the "power" was in the commission. He had learned in 21 years as a city policeman that white patrolmen protected whites and "we should protect our own."

The Rev. Ralph D. Abernathy, president of the SCLC, demanded the United States be put on "trial" for "alleged crimes against blacks."

Abernathy charged the Negro had been lied to, defrauded, robbed and murdered during the generations he had been in this country.

"How do you find the audience in mock jury proceedings, 'Guilty!' came the shout. U.S. 'Is a Criminal' The United States, Abernathy said, is a 'criminal which has committed many crimes for almost 200 years.'"

"During the early months of 1971, the trial will take place in Washington, D. C. I will see you in Washington in the spring," Abernathy said.

"We Shal' Overcome" was replaced by "soul music" sound evident even in hymns sung by soloists and choruses. And the crew from a local television station consisted of three blacks and one white. The change was evident. The black man is demanding his place, asking no longer.

Pair Is Arrested ... Dope Charges

By BILL SCOTT
Sanford police have arrested two persons, including a man and a girl, in separate assaults on drugs within the city.

A 17-year-old Sanford female was arrested on possession of marijuana charges when 30-40 cannabis seeds were found in her purse after a police raid on a Park Avenue apartment house.

According to Detective Ralph Russell, police armed with warrants obtained from a peace justice raided an apartment rented by a young male and found approximately eight teenagers, including Elizabeth Jean Denham.

Russell said the Denham girl was charged after the seeds were found in her purse.

The detective stated there was no party going on at the time of the raid, but the young people scattered after Detective William Lykens, William Foster and he arrived.

In another city report, James Roper, 47-year-old truck driver, who listed his address as 1500 French Avenue, was charged with possession of central nervous system stimulants after his arrest by Patrolman William Dube on drunkenness charges.

Detective Russell said Roper "had amphetamine pills in his possession, and was placed in the Seminole County Jail in lieu of $3,000 bond. Russell described the pills as being imported types and stated one bore the name of American pharmaceutical manufacturer.

County Accused Of Evading Law

By KATHY NIBLACK

CASSELBERRY — Councilwoman Edith Duerr at a work session Monday night accused the Seminole County Commission of using techniques to evade the law and cut down on what the county municipalities have coming to them in the way of Road and Bridge Funds. "The county is using the efferete tax funds to avoid paying the just amount of road and bridge funds, as they formerly used the race track funds," she opined, pointing out that instead of returning 40 per cent of taxes from municipalities that the law provides, the amount is now less than one per cent.

"The county is using our road and bridge money to pay for county roads outside the cities, and they have only cooperated on a road within the city limits one time in the last 10 years," Dr. Duerr stated.

She also accused the county of using the 1969 tax roll for figuring the allotment to the city while collecting on the 1970 tax list.

It was pointed out that Casseberry previously was not properly credited at assessment with mistakes always at cost to the city. The council was reminded that City of Orlando had sued Orange County over the Road and Bridge Fund allotment.

Councilman Bill Grier suggested, "It is time for the municipalities of Seminole to begin to think along the same line." Dr. Edith Duerr urged the mayor and council as well as City Attorney Ken Mettosh to represent the city at a public hearing on Aug. 25 in Sanford.

The Casseberry City Council achieved a first in the area last night when, during the course of a public hearing, it granted a request for construction of modular homes in an area zoned R-2T (for trailers).

In making the request, Lester Mandell, representing Seminole Sites, Inc., owners of the proposed 80 acre construction site explained the feasibility and advantages of modular homes, and assured the council that it causes you to wonder, don't it? Here we talk about offensive weapons which we and our enemy have . . . and then we talk about the billions to be spent for proper defensive measures. AND YET we devised the nerve gas and there wasn't any way in which it could be detoxified.

How many other weapons are there on both sides of the Iron Curtain in the same category?

The other day, the Maitland South Seminole Chamber of Commerce included a word of caution on its monthly publication that "there has been a rash of counterfeit $20 bills being passed in the area."

Today we carry the story of an Orlando man found dead in Atlanta with over $150,000 in bogus $20 bills in his possession.

Dear Mr. Spolski, Pete Baker, a real genuine, United States Naval Academy Midshipman (J/C (senior) almost 21, is coming home for two weeks leave on about the 21st of August. He soon becomes reluctant to fly because there is "nothing to do and no place to go in Sanford." . . . this trust?

MISS UNIVERSE — Sylvia Hitchcock on the campaign trail on behalf of Democratic gubernatorial Candidate Chuck Hall (left), shown being interviewed by Herald Assistant Editor John A. Spolski.

Chuck Hall On Whirlwind Tour

Gubernatorial candidate Chuck Hall, present Democrat Mayor for Duval County, made a whirlwind tour of Sanford yesterday and left the impression that "what's your secret for solving all of the state's ills?" His reply set the mood for the balance of the interview when he candidly admitted, "I'm not that smart. But, if I am elected, it will be the first time that we've had a public official who's admitted, 'I'm not that smart.'"

On the 18-year-old "right to vote" issue, Hall said that he favored it; "98 per cent of those under 21 years of age are better qualified than most adults to vote right now. It is true that they must assume more responsibility but this will come with better training and education."

Hall would be in favor of providing better educational facilities and at the same time reduce county millage via a statewide resort tax. "In this way, we'd be shifting the fiscal tax burden to the state as opposed to the present system of taking it from the heavily burdened taxpayers."

When asked which of the Republican candidates he'd prefer to arrive at the state capitol, Hall said he'd prefer to see the state capitol building replaced with a new one. (Continued on Page 3A, Col. 3)

Local Officials Plan Academy Strategy

Efforts by Sanford and Seminole County officials to "sell" the Florida State Cabinet on locating the State Police Academy in a former Navy barracks at Sanford Airport was reviewed and new strategy formed this morning during a breakfast meeting at the city hall.

Mayor Lee P. Moore of Sanford brought out that a report was being circulated at Tallahassee which inferred the Navy may again take control of the former air station.

Moore said he wanted copies of the state commission report by the city-claim deed received by the call from the General Services Administration (GSA) at the time the facility was released, included with the formal proposal by Sanford requesting that Building 319 be leased for $25,000 a year by the state for police training use.

Disclosure that State Agriculture Secretary Doyle's Commar will be in town this afternoon for a 4:30 p.m. tour of the base buildings. Only two cabinet members, Fred Dickinson, comptroller and Floyd Christian, education commissioner, have not confirmed dates on which they will be available for viewing the structures.

Douglas Stenstrom said he had been unable to contact Dickinson, but had managed to talk to his aide and he felt the request would be forwarded to the state commission.

John Angel, county school superintendent, said he had talked with Christian, but received indications it would be around Sept. 25 before the educator would be available.

Stenstrom opined his belief that no cabinet decision would be taken on the airport lease request until the first primary date Sept. 8 or possibly after the second primary three weeks later.

Sheriff John Polk said the Volusia County Association of Police Chiefs have endorsed the location for Sanford and have forwarded letters to cabinet members advising of their stand.

Stenstrom and Rep. E. Pope Bassett, both stressed the need to keep the matter before the public and not let up. Bassett also advised the need to get endorsements for the base facility and use this as a means to keep the project going.

The representative suggested having an architect draw up a cost amortization schedule contrasting costs of providing new facilities at Tallahassee as compared with the Sanford site.

DOYLE CONNOR

Moore Moore also disclosed that Tom Adams, secretary of State and Lt. Gov. Ray Osborne, both cabinet members, would be here Aug. 26 for tours of the building. Osborne is also scheduled to be here for the formal dedication of the Port of Sanford on the same day, it was disclosed.

"We also hope to have Gov. Claude Kirk, also a cabinet member, here on either Aug. 23 or 24," Moore revealed. Broward Williams, state treasurer, is expected to arrive at the airport property on Aug. 27, Moore continued.
