Executive Committee Of Labor Goes Into Session Confronting Big Problem

SANTANDER, SPAIN, July 31.—(INS)—Confronted with the most difficult political decision in its history the executive council of the American Federation of Labor met here today to formulate its recommendations for the presidential campaign.

A majority of the council of 12 favor Herbert Hoover, according to an individual poll of the membership today by International News Service, but four members came to this resort determined to champion the light wine and beer plank, repeatedly adopted by the federation convention every year since 1920, and to fight for an emphatic endorsement of the legislative labor record of Governor Alfred E. Smith of New York.

HOOPER BACKERS UNITE TO FIGHT ANY CHALLENGES

WASHINGTON, July 31.—(INS)—Republican propagandists who ply their trade both by voice and pen are poised for a brief but active campaign to prove that Herbert Hoover, the Republican presidential nominee, was emerged from his world experiences a better American than ever should the charge of "foreigner" be hurled at him by the Democrats, it was disclosed today.

While there appears to be no intention upon the part of Republican National Committee heads to precipitate a debate it is asserted that they have prepared themselves to meet a challenge.

A vast fund of information has been drawn up and compiled by skilled hands, it is understood. Party workers from various sections of the country have declared at headquarters, however, that Hoover's foreign residence no longer furnishes important campaign talk.

"That was all political prattle before the Kansas City convention and it fell so flat that I don't believe the Democrats will dare to seriously raise the matter," said one worker. "It might be used in a 'whispering campaign,' however."

The four principal arguments which may be hurled at critics are: 1.—Hoover has stood with those fighting unconditional cancellation of foreign debts and has held them to be honorable loans which Europe should redeem.

2.—He was active in fighting the British rubber monopoly, and sponsored the Newell Bill permitting American importers to combine to fight other foreign government monopolies of raw material.

3.—The Department of Commerce, under Hoover, expanded as never before in seeking foreign markets for American goods.

4.—Testimony that the Hoovers, during their residence in London never were in British high society, because they insisted on too many "queer" guests—scientists and others who did not mix well.

A new statement by Hoover on the tariff also being pointed to. In answering an editorial request he recited new Commerce Department figures to show that the American workingman's purchasing power is far ahead of all other nations.

PICKETING BAN FAILS TO HALT MILL STRIKERS

256 Strike Pickets Placed In Jail Last Night While Others Defy Police Order To Gather Before Mills

Talk Of Arbitration Current On Streets

Welfare Group Takes Care Of Children Of Parents Nabbed In Demonstration

NEW BEDFORD, MASS., July 31.—(INS)—Again in defiance of the order of the city authorities, picketing of the 56 mill units here continued today.

While 256 strike pickets and their sympathizers awaiting court arraignment, by yelling and singing in their cells at police headquarters—eight and 10 being lodged in a single cell—the picket lines moved back and forward in front of the mill gates. At the Whitman mill 200 pickets and their sympathizers were out, 100 were gathered at the gates of the Arush mill and smaller delegations matched in front of the other mills.

Police predicted wholesale arrests later this afternoon.

City authorities had ruled that a single individual could go on picket duty at each mill but that constituted a violation of the laws regarding loitering and especially that ordinance regarding parading without a permit.

The strike called in protest to a 10 per cent wage cut was in its sixteenth week and there was talk of arbitration on both sides.

Children of those arrested, some of them roaming the streets crying for their parents, were the pathetic figures among the police clubs and fixed bayonets of national guardmen as the patrol went up and down the principle streets, keeping order following a hectic night.

Meanwhile, the Children's Aid Society and other agencies were busy caring for them until their parents could be with them again.

Some of the kiddies were found wandering about the street and others were huddled in doorways—some asleep, others crying as if their hearts would break.

Six children of a striker were found on the steps of police headquarters. Tears dimmed all eyes except that of the two months old baby and he was fast asleep.

Illinois Democratic Leader Suffers From Septic Poisoning Following Extraction Of 2 Unerupted Teeth

CHICAGO, July 31.—(INS)—George E. Brennan, Democratic committee man for Illinois, and close friend of presidential nominee Al Smith, was reported near death from septic poisoning. He was stricken last Thursday following the extraction of two unerupted teeth. The poison spread to the glands of the throat. This condition became further complicated by diabetes and pneumonia, according to his physicians.

After a consultation of six prominent surgeons an emergency operation was performed last night to remove some of the poison gathered in the lymphatic glands.

Oxygen was being administered alive. Because of his age—63—physicians held little hope for recovery.

Last rites of the Catholic Church were administered before the operation. Mr. Brennan remains unconscious and realizes he is fighting death. Gathered at his bedside are his wife and only child, a daughter, Mary, and several friends, including former Mayor William B. Dever.

Showing Of Lloyd Hahn Is Big Disappointment For U. S. Entrants; Georgian Sets Mark In Broad Jump

OLYMPIC STADIUM, AMSTERDAM, July 31.—(INS)—America's athletes, failed again today to live up to expectations when the great Lloyd Hahn finished the 800-meter race which was won by the veteran British champion, D. G. A. Lowe. Hahn apparently had left this race in the trial heats for he was never dangerous today.

But the stars from the United States again led the field in point scoring, gathering in 51 points out of a possible 100 in the four events completed. Ed Hannan, of Georgia Tech lived up to form in winning the broad jump, and Alfred Bates of Penn State, scored third behind the "dark horse" Cator of Haiti.

The girl athletes came to the aid of their fading brothers when Miss Elizabeth Robinson of Chicago scored a surprising and welcome victory in the 100 meter dash, and Miss Lillian Copeland of Pasadena took second place in the discus behind an amazonian from Poland.

At the close of the day, America led the field with 86 points including the women's events and England was second with 25, followed by Germany with 25, Sweden with 25, Canada with 22, and Poland with 17.

Thirty-seven starters competed in the modern pentathlon, with Lieut. Peter C. Hains, U. S. Army, finishing seventh in the rifle shooting with 187 points. The German, Hans, won this event with 192 points. Lieut. Richard Mayo, U. S. Army was twelfth with 181 points and Lieut. Aubrey Newington, U. S. Army, was thirteenth with 147 points.

Another American entry in the 2,000 metre heats, Dave Abbott, University of Illinois, was outplanned in his heat by the Finns, Ritola and Kinnunen and the Swede, Eklof. Abbott abandoned his effort altogether at the 4,000 metre mark, at which point he was in twelfth position a half lap behind the pace.

Lack Of Contenders Given By Champion As Reason For Abandoning Ring Career

Championship Belt Offered By Gene Tunney

NEW YORK, July 31.—(INS)—Gene Tunney is through with boxing. He said so himself today. The long expected announcement materialized at a luncheon given boxing writers at the Biltmore by Tunney.

Gene stated his reasons very fully. There is no contender capable of attracting a large purse, it would be two or three years before another is developed and that is too long for him to wait and so he "stays aside."

"May the best man win," he says in his own way.

To the victor, belongs the spoils," he echoes, and thus may mean the return of the redoubtable Dempsey, but Gene doesn't say that.

To show his admiration for the glove that brought him from a humble shipping clerk to the estate of a millionaire, Gene Tunney will offer a championship belt to go to the winner of an elimination tournament.

As to his future plans, Tunney is less definite. He is still young, he avers, and will start anew in another "line of business," whether this business is to be matrimony, the stage, films, stocks and bonds or the pursuit of literary endeavor, he fails to state.

If he were to fight again (and they do say they all do come back sometime) it would be for good old Tex Rickard whom he calls the game's foremost promoter. He acknowledges a debt of gratitude to the Irish promoter who made him and boys himself out of the field, prize with the boxer's traditional "good luck."

In announcing his retirement, Tunney said in part: "Boxing is a game which, properly conducted, teaches and develops such qualities as stamina, confidence, patience, self-control, bodily fitness, mental alertness and courage.

"I have great affection for boxing and one of my chief desires has been to leave the game better than I found it. I have tried to be not only champion but a sportsman.

"But the time had come when professional boxing can offer me nothing further than I desire. I am putting it behind me, grateful for benefits conferred, but with the feeling that I am yet young enough to make a new start in other fields.

"There is no controversy at the present time which appears capable of being settled by a fight."

EX-PROHIBITION AIDE FREED IN KILLING OF FARMER IN VIRGINIA

FRONT ROYAL, VA., July 31.—(INS)—Henry C. Robinson, photographer and ex-prohibition agent, stood acquitted today of charges of murdering Middleton Johnson, who with his father, John M. Johnson, was killed on the street here on June 9.

Robinson, however, was held in Berryville jail, pending a decision by authorities whether to drop charges against him of killing the elder Johnson.

Robinson, during the trial, admitting shooting the 1901 gun, but claimed he shot in self defense when the father and son attempted to make good threats to "get" him.

Counsel for Robinson introduced several witnesses who testified that the Johnsons had threatened to "get" him after an automobile accident in which Robinson and the elder Johnson were involved, and that they attacked him before he shot.

There was no demonstration at the verdict, though sentiment was known to be sharply divided between townsmen, who favored Robinson and the farmers, among whom the Johnsons were popular.

The Tribune Wins

Somewhere up in the woods of Northern Wisconsin "Big Bill" Thompson is vacationing from the stress and strife of Chicago's political warfare and probably pondering the possibility of being figuratively taken "for a ride in the country" by the Windy City's voting public.

The latest and hardest blow to the Thompson fortunes was delivered by the Chicago Tribune, which has fought "Big Bill" and his policies up and down the shores of Lake Michigan for a dozen years.

The suit dragged. Time and elections passed. "Big Bill" grew rather than decreased in his power and glory. The voters seemed apathetic. And then suddenly, within the course of a few weeks last spring, Chicago's honest citizens rose in all their long-accumulated wrath and smote the Thompson candidates hip and thigh.

The court's ruling sent "Big Bill" hopping off to the Wisconsin woods to commune with nature and try to figure out some way to keep his political house intact. And then, bitterest of blows, his cronies began deserting him.

Practices What He Preaches

There is no age limit for work declares Henry Ford on his sixty-fifth birthday. The motor magnate supplements the statement with a declaration that he expects to do more in the next five years than "I have in the last twenty."

"Men of sixty-five should not do too much running and jumping but that is no reason why they should not do as much work with the mind as anyone, and better work. You take all the experience and judgment of men over fifty out of the world and there wouldn't be enough left to run it."

"The world is as good a proposition as ever for those who work or for those who will analyze every detail of their work. There is no substitute for work except more intelligent work."

Thus we find Henry Ford's answer to the question of what brings happiness and contentment is work. The auto king's observations are based upon personal experience, the greatest teacher. At sixty-five, after devoting some forty-five years to a task, as strenuous and exacting as any, he makes his plans to do more than ever before.

Florida possesses all three in an abundance and with a diversity and a combination of natural advantages that is unmatched on any other spot on earth

FLORIDA'S extraordinary natural advantages to a considerable extent are generally known. Yet their real tangible value to the economic welfare of the State is too seldom realized and are only just beginning to be utilized.

Florida's unfailing, life giving sunshine, aside from its health advantages, provides a year-round growing season. The State's fertile soil grows an unequalled variety of plant life and covers a wealth of rare minerals. Its plentiful waters add life to its soil and abound with an endless variety of fish and sea food.

Florida deposits of phosphate, one of the most essential minerals for plant and animal life, are the most extensive in the world. Florida is second among the States in the production of naval stores and is one of the nation's greatest lumber producers.

No other state equals Florida in the production of grapefruit and celery. Sixty-one per cent of the country's peppers, 57% of its egg-plant, 24% of its tomatoes, 21% of its water-melons, and a large percentage of many other fruits and vegetables come from Florida. During its 10-month shipping season each year Florida sends out nearly one hundred thousand carloads of fruits and vegetables, or an average of eight solid train loads per day. The Sunshine State ships one-tenth of all the fresh fruits and vegetables marketed in the United States.

Yet, the land now under cultivation in Florida amounts to only one-half of one per cent of the crop land of the entire country. The growth of the State's agricultural importance is evidenced by the fact that since 1922 the average value of Florida farm land has increased from $64.00 to $100.00. No other state shows an increase that is even half as great.

Today the progress in farm development in Florida is greater than ever before. A rapidly growing highway system is opening up new territory and making it more accessible to markets. More land is coming under cultivation and more and more people are realizing the unequalled advantages Florida offers from an agricultural standpoint. More intensive and more efficient marketing methods are increasing the value of Florida crops.

Year in and year out—when the Northern demand is greatest—when prices are highest—each new harvest from its sunshine and soil and water brings increasing wealth and prosperity to the Sunshine State—wealth and prosperity that will grow with increasing momentum as the years go by.

BANDITS GO ON TRIAL

MOBILE, Ala., July 30.—(INS)—Jack Jarvis, 24, and Robert Collins, 18 confessed participants in the hold-up of the Citronelle Alabama Bank were arraigned in criminal court today on charges of murder. Jarvis was alleged to have shot Claude Hurt, president of the bank when the latter grappled with the bandit and later shot his partner Willie Hanson, in the attempted getaway of the youthful trio.

Home Runs

Famous ball players have won more popularity through home runs than in any other phase of America's National Sport. The dope generally favors the team having the most players at home.

Likewise ad messages in the Sanford Herald gain more reader attention because of the well-known fact that afternoon newspapers are safely delivered to or ultimately reach the home and the several members of each family.
