

Hubbell Twirls Giants Within One Game Of Pennant

Win Is Sixteenth In Row For Gotham Hurling Ace

Cards Remain Idle While New Yorkers Win To Stretch Lead To Five Full Games And Enter Series

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 24.—(AP)—The New York Giants, managed by Carl Hubbell, completed the best victory record in the major leagues in two years yesterday by hurling his sixteenth straight win, a 5 to 4 decision over the Phillies.

The triumph brought the Giants to within an eyelash of the National League pennant, securing them of at least a tie for the title, and leaving them in a position where one victory for themselves or one defeat for the second-place Cardinals means the flag.

Hubbell's victory streak was the first 16-game run in the big league since Schoolboy Rowe hurled the Tigers into the American League pennant in 1924. It was "King Carl's" twenty-sixth win of the season, against six defeats.

He was the master of the Philadelphia through seven innings, but in the eighth and ninth got into enough trouble to put his streak on the fire until Travis threw out Jose Gomez for the final out.

The Phils landed on him for three runs in the eighth and Ralph Camilli's homer in the ninth and had a man on base with only one out in the final frame, to give Hubbell the most trouble since his streak began in mid-July.

But the Giants had staked him to a five-run lead through the first seven innings.

Lick Bartell's double and Jim Rippe's single brought in one run in the first; Mel Ott's triple and Rippe's base hit added another in the third; Travis Jackson's two bagger, Joe Moore's single and Rippe's long fly produced two more in the fourth, leading Pete Sivens, the Phil's starting pitcher out of game. The last run came in the seventh off Arville Jorgensen, Gus Mancuso doubling and Burgess Whitehead singling him home.

With the Cardinals idle yesterday the win boosted the Giants' league to five full games over the second-placers, and completely eliminated the Chicago Cubs from all mathematical possibility as a contender for the flag they won a year ago.

Gators Hold Slow Scrimmage Drill At Gainesville

Whitely Shifted From Second To First String Tackle Post

GAINESVILLE, Sept. 24.—Slowing down somewhat from the pace they have set all week, the Gators went through a group of scrimmage and signal drill here yesterday afternoon.

Head Coach Josh Cody called Paul Whistley, Jacksonville tackle, out of Dutch Stanley's "B" squad to join the 37 first stringers in the midst of the drill.

The group sessions saw Cody moving around the field looking over performance in end, line and backfield divisions. The center takes over his guards, tackles and centers early in the afternoon and then under the direction of Carlos Proctor while he scouts other departments.

Approaching backfield practice from an entirely different angle, Lewis Hardage ran his half runners in groups of three against another group of three punting backfield trio. The fullback or freeback as Cody's system puts it, was the missing member of an otherwise complete offense machine.

Hardage sent three backfield combinations out time after time, lining each ball carrier up with two different blocking backs each time. Here is more evidence that the Florida coaches were in dead earnest when they stated that every coach will know how to handle himself in any spot behind the line.

Painting was virtually out of the program yesterday, but it was no surprise when the boys resumed their drill tactics which have been occupying so much time lately. Of course, all of the Gator kickers were before the rest of the squad even headed up for the grills drill they go through daily. It was just the booting scrimmage, with backs and ends running down to another receiving safety man, that Cody left off the list yesterday.

It is no small task for the Florida coaching staff to handle the huge squad which now includes freshmen and varsity players. However, when Coach Cody signals that fundamentals are over, Hand Dixon and Carlos Proctor lead their Baby Gator footballers away to Fleming Field while Cody, Hardage and Stanley take charge of varsity gridders for the remaining minutes of heavier work. The rain are not ready to battle through an afternoon of scrimmage against their veteran team mates yet.

The frosh are busy at the job of learning signals in preparation for the time when they will be used to help Josh Cody's wingback machine against the varsity.

With the promise of an early cinder squad and a lot of time for Florida's new track mentor, Percy Beard, to round a team into shape, nearly 40 athletes drew track uniforms yesterday afternoon. The list still is not nearly completed as managers stated that many more track candidates are expected today.

Two games postponed from last Friday, Temple v. St. Joseph and Richmond v. the Newport News Apprentice School, Temple's O's play again Friday night against Centre.

Alabama Prepares For Opening Grid Tilt With Howard

TUSCALOOSA, Ala., Sept. 24.—(AP)—Alabama's probable opening lineup for the Howard game Saturday was sent through a snappy drill yesterday afternoon as the Crimson grid coaches began to taper off for Saturday's game with Howard.

At least five sophomores will be in the starting lineup with three of them in the backfield. Bubber Nisbet, captain and fullback will in all probability be unable to play. Young Boozer, another veteran among the backs, is also still out.

Indications are that the largest crowd in years will appear in Denny Stadium for the game to start at 2:30 o'clock.

Baseball Geometry!

One of the soundest actions of baseball is that a club can not win unless its median line is inflexible—and it is this more than any single factor that explains the pennant surge of the New York Giants.

Draw an Imaginary Line

from home plate through the mound and second base out to center field and you have the nerve center of a club. There lies its fitness, its brains and nerve. When this line weakens, the club goes to pot.

It's an innovation

the coaches believe will check with grid fans. Students and townspeople alike want football, but the combined grade and high schools had an average attendance of only 200 students. Squads reporting for practice in previous years numbered between 12 and 20 players. Reserves were few.

Under such conditions

it was highly problematical from one week-end to the next whether there would be a team on the field at all. So the football coaches at these small schools got together and evolved a scheme to play the game with only six men on a side—three in the line and three in the backfield.

Not only have the mid-west high schools awakened to the new idea, but in our own state, five or more of the northwest Florida high schools have adopted the plan and will put it into effect on the grid plan this year. The schools which plan to use it are Madison, Mulberry, Live Oak and several other small live schools in that section of the state.

However, we'll still take our eleven man game for there is where you get the thrill of watching seven stalwart men buck against seven other stalwart men while in the six-man lineup it is only a matter of who can score the most touchdowns.

So there you have that line of nerve and strength without which no team can hope to go far. It is, perhaps, the tops in the league, and it is one reason why Bill Terry's smooth workers are where they are today.

Miniature Football!

Miniature golf . . . table tennis . . . and now miniature football. Through necessity, five small east Arkansas schools will present football this season played by a 6-man team on an under-sized grid-iron.

Rollins Gridders Reach Top Form In First Week's Practice Session

WINTER PARK, Sept. 23.—Spring football practice, tried out at Rollins College last year, is paying off.

When the candidates reported to Coach Jack McDowall Monday for the opening day of the training period he was able to split the squad into several units for signal practice, a step which is not attempted usually until after at least a week of "fundamentals."

In fact, the pessimistic McDowall, in an unguarded moment, admitted the squad was much farther along on the opening day than it would have been without Spring practice. All of the members of the squad as a result of the Spring workouts, are thoroughly familiar with the Rollins system by this time.

The biggest task ahead for the Tar coaches is to get the candidates in physical condition for the opening game three weeks away. All of the 21 players who reported this week are in good shape physically but all need plenty of work to develop that staying power which often spells the difference between victory and defeat in the early-season games.

Coach McDowall has turned his linemen over to Linton Malone, a Tar grad, and Thurman Cason of Lakeland, one of the best tackles in the business. Malone and Cason worked out small groups of the line players for some fundamental instruction in blocking and line play.

At the same time, McDowall drafted his star ball-carrier, George Miller of Leesburg, to help coach some of the backfield candidates in the intricacies of that branch of play. Will Rogers kept an eagle eye on a handful of freshman candidates who reported as the first contingent of the "rat" squad.

No heavy work is on the program for the first few days of the training period until the players are ready to "take it." Calisthenics, wind sprints, signal practice and a bit of blocking work make up all that Coach McDowall plans for the first stages of the squad's development.

Don Murray a reserve quarterback last year, is staying out of football for the coming season because of poor health, but is helping out as an assistant manager to Paul Trachtman.

Seminole Show Fine Spirit In Scrimmage Drill

Celery Fed Gridders Look Unusually Good In Rough Practice

Displaying a sharp reversal of form, Coach Leonard L. McLane's 25-man squad of Celery Fed stepped through an encouraging and fast scrimmage session yesterday afternoon, which saw a forward wall averaging 170 pounds or better stand out.

The Seminole mentors were well pleased with the showing made by their proteges and expressed their belief that should the youngsters use the same punch in their opening tilt with Eustis, there could be no question of the winner.

Standing out in the drill was Big Bradley Odham, 190-pound tackle, who also worked out at center. Odham seemed to play in the opposing tackle-off on defense and was a bulwark on offense, opening up many large holes for Lawson, who took over most of the ball-carrying duties.

Among the ball jugglers it was fullback Robert Stoifoff, who with his fierce and steady blocking, stood out among the remainder of the backs. Stoifoff, a brother of the two former Seminole High School stars, displayed a brand of backfield interference never before equaled on the local gridiron.

So, Coach McLane left today in fine spirits over the outcome of yesterday's scrimmage. The genial Seminole mentor will witness the London-New Smyrna tilt in Jacksonville tonight, and will then motor to Lake City to watch the Tigers perform on their home field tomorrow afternoon, from whence he will journey to Eustis to meet his opening opponent as they meet the Mt. Dora eleven Friday night.

Upon his return, Coach McLane expects to see his youngsters continue their punch and spirit as shown yesterday afternoon, and he has planned a skull practice session every night of next week.

The government is said to pay approximately $175,000 a year for transportation of members of Congress.

BIBLE VERSES FOR TODAY

A GOD OF JUSTICE: He doth execute the judgment of the fatherless and widow, and loveth the stranger, in giving him food and raiment.—Deuteronomy 10:18.

OUTLINE: There was longing on the beach. There were certain broken words. Minglel, to the end of speech. With the watersong of birds.

"Wait" and "yes" and he was gone. Distance waded a fading form. Then the shore she stood upon. Faced the years that sundered them.

Back he came, the world bequeiled. To the sands where youth had clung. But the shade that waited, smiled. The smiling of the too long young.—Ridgely Torrence.

REMOTE DESIRE: Always the heart's desire should be far. Allen as some infallible, blue star. For those who keep desire vague-unknown. Find that it strangely will reunite their own.

But those who clasp it to the an-guished breast. How can they know the faithless balm of rest.—Dorothy Quick.

Those who complain of the heat during the middle of the day should remember that autumn is officially here.

The state Parole Board has finally decided that offenders sent to prison were meant to stay there.—Miami Herald.

They are going to dig a million dollars' worth of mud out of the St. Johns River at Jacksonville. Campaign material?—Fort Myers News-Press.

Florida courts say voters must be able to sign their names. What regimentation! They'll be making them understand campaign issues next.—Miami Herald.

An eminent doctor has discovered a method of curing cancer by cutting out the lung. Wouldn't chopping the head off, be just as effective?

One of the discouraging things about the Pardon Board session is the number of legislators there trying to release the violators of the laws they and their predecessors enacted.—St. Petersburg Times.

Despite the intense animosity existing between the Nazis and the Soviets, Russia continues to be Germany's best customer. The Soviet Union bought more goods from Germany in the first seven months of 1936 than from any other country.

Young students in Alabama are getting a nice initiation into the responsibilities of citizenship, as exemplified by their parents. It seems 5,000 children are being kept out of school unless and until the school teachers and the superintendent agree to join the union.

The world's elephant market has suffered a slump. Only fifteen pachyderms were offered for sale in Trivandrum, Travancore during a whole week, which is very bearish for Trivandrum, Travancore. Republicans will probably view this condition with alarm while Democrats may see in it an omen of victory.

To those persons who find it inconvenient to do their shopping with so many small denomination bills, it will come as a relief to know that ten-thousand-dollar notes are becoming more numerous. On Aug. 31 there were 1937 $10,000 bills in circulation—or about one to every 66,600 persons. This was an increase of twelve in a month and was 812 more than a year ago.

Take It Easy

According to leading medical authorities, vacations as pursued by most people, result more often in impaired health than in the salubrious physical state for which they were intended. It seems that too many of us have the mistaken idea that because of limited time, we must pack our vacations full of vigorous activity.

If the vacation is of a travel nature, then the thing to do, according to the common concept, is to travel just as far as possible. Drives of four and five hundred miles a day, so that nothing will be missed, are generally the rule among motoring vacationists. No one stops to think, apparently, that such strenuous effort is debilitating, that it detracts from one's ability to enjoy the sights, and that it leaves one at the end of the vacation practically exhausted, instead of being refreshed for the next year's work.

Many business men, who have spent the previous twelve months leaning over a desk, feel that they should take advantage of the few weeks which they are allotted and strive to build up the body's muscular system. Several sets of hard tennis, a couple of miles of road work, or pulling an oar will do the trick, they reason. It usually does, and, incidentally, leaves the victim suffering from some heart ailment, sprained back or inflamed joints, to say nothing of blisters from head to foot. The average man leading a sedentary life is in no condition to exercise vigorously for a few weeks out of the year without impairing his health. Such exercise should be entered into gradually and extended over a long period.

Doctors are urging more subdued vacations. The body needs rest more than anything else after being subjected to the stresses of modern high-tension existence, and the person who can sit down and loaf for two or three weeks amid attractive surroundings, without any worries and without any rigorous athletic schedule should return to his work in a more fit state to carry on. Slow, aimless walks, nine holes of golf, maybe a set of tennis, a gentle plunge in the ocean and lolling on the sands will be much more healthful than a break-neck dash across the continent in the family auto or a vacation program embracing the principal features of a football training period.

Put Them To Work

What to do with the countless vagabonds, who come to Florida penniless in the winter seeking to escape from the rigors of the northern climate, has long been a problem in this state. Efforts have been made in the past to prevent entry across the border, but this has not been satisfactory. The Miami Herald sees this menace and comments:

"With the approach of what promises to be Miami's most prosperous winter season, the present influx of 'floaters' and vagrants portend what will follow as the season advances. Already the authorities are beginning to realize the problem that is before them in ridding the city and its environs of these unwelcome visitors.

"Although the 'hobo express,' which has been in operation for the last several years in transporting these unworthies to the city's outskirts, has undoubtedly done some good, not even its heartiest advocate can proclaim it a success.

"In Miami today there are thousands of vacant lots overgrown with weeds and undergrowth, some of it more than waist high and even making the sidewalks impassable in many places. These lots are not only unsightly but in many instances an actual menace to public health as breeding places for mosquitoes and other insects, snakes and destructive rodents.

"In view of these facts, it would seem that some equitable arrangement might be made with the owners of these lots to have them cleared and even beautified at a nominal cost by using the labor of those men and boys who hitherto, it has been the custom to transport beyond the city limits.

"It would be necessary, of course, for the city or county, and possibly one or more of the various federal agencies, to entail some expense in the maintenance of crews of these workers and in furnishing them with proper lodging and food. They also could be allowed a minimum drawing account for incidental expenses and small luxuries such as tobacco and an occasional moving picture.

"However, with the proper planning it should not be difficult to work out the details of a project that would relieve the law-enforcing authorities of this city and county of a vexatious problem and at the same time add much to the appearance of the city at a minimum cost to the lot owners and the other taxpayers."

SANFORD TWENTY YEARS AGO

TALLAHASSEE, Sept. 25.—When the Supreme Court opened this morning, Attorney Flournoy, who is appearing for S. J. Catts in the recount, paid a tribute to the personnel of the Supreme Court, saying that the case was the most fortunate that he has witnessed in 14 years of practice as it has served as an excellent medium to prove to the people of Florida the perfectness of our judicial machinery. He said the court had been fair and impartial and had dealt out justice always, saying it was a pleasure to try a case before such impartial umpires.

In this way, the farmer, through his co-operative association brings his financial needs into contact with a business-like manner with the man who has money to loan, that is the persons buying up the short term debentures offered for sale by the Intermediate Credit Bank. Ordinarily, this would be impractical for the individual farmer, but when his financial needs are pooled with those of other farmers, it makes a more attractive business proposition.

association paper that the Bank of discount has been able to obtain other funds from the investing public at as low as one percent interest rates.

Therefore, Mr. Andrews points out, the production credit association is not a relief measure or a form of dole, but a permanent organization maintained to meet the needs, on a business basis and at a low rate of interest, approximately 5%, which gives the co-operating farmer a pro rata share in profits or losses, if there be any.

Heretofore, the local organization has shown only a handsome profit, with last year's annual report displaying a large profit for shareholders, and with increased business in sight, it is expected that this year's operation should show a still larger increase in profit.

Officers for the association are located in the Meisch building with five full-time employees.

MAN ABOUT MANHATTAN

By GEORGE TUCKER

It was during a midnight bull session in the back stage dressing room of a glamorous old playhouse. We sat around on broken-down divans, toying with a magnifying glass of coffee and talking of the insatiable success on Broadway.

There were an orchestra impresario, a theatrical manager, a motion picture star, a columnist, and the mentor of a famous prizefighter. Most of the late, convoluted dramatic episodes in the careers of one celebrity or another, and not a few of them illustrated how often the performer turned a contretemps into a great triumph.

"An interesting point in common with this is an accident that once befell Vladimir De Pachmann," recalled Joe Reichman, whose music is wafted on the fall breeze each night from the roof of the Hotel Pennsylvania. "De Pachmann suffered the bane of all musicians, a memory lapse, and found himself stumped in the middle of an important number. Chagrined, he banged a certain note on the piano again and again, as if he were dissatisfied with the quality of the tone it gave off. He abandoned the piano and left the stage in genuine disgust. Immediate a young man, a piano tuner, rushed out and tinkered with the instrument, restoring the key to the tone desired by De Pachmann. Then, all smiles, the pianist returned and gave his audience some brilliant renditions.

"Actually, the 'piano-tuner' was a young man who just happened to be backstage—I think his real business was stocks and bonds. While he faked at the piano, De Pachmann hurriedly went over that part of the score that had slipped his memory.

"The audience, completely taken in, remembered De Pachmann as being pleasingly eccentric. It never dreamed that the great man had momentarily drawn a blank."

Then the fight manager chimed in: "My boy was taking a terrific shelling one night. His adversary was all over him, cutting him down with a well directed body attack. This was in one of the little fight clubs out of town and while the fight was going on the local band was giving a concert in the hall next door.

"Suddenly our opponent stopped a left jab in mid air and stood straight up, as if at attention. He dropped his gloves, to his side. My boy seized this opportunity like a drowning man grasping a life preserver. He knocked his man kicking with a roundhouse right to the jaw.

"After the fight, we understood what had happened. The band next door had suddenly blared out the national anthem, and the other fighter, being patriotic and somewhat confused, thought he was still in the army. When my boy hit him he saw more stars and stripes than he could count in a hundred battle flags."

So it goes. John Barrymore once rained an important assignment because he missed a train. Dixie Dean was a failure at pickle cotton, so he became a scintillating star of the diamond. You never can tell.

IF your EYES. COLEMAN. If you would let your eyes decide how much light they need, they'd probably ask for many times the light they actually get. Even in daytime, it is very difficult to get daylight indoors. Windows and screens reflect and keep out most of the sunshine. Light outdoors on a sunny day, may be as much as 10,000 footcandles; inside the window, it will probably be about 100 footcandles. At night, the usual illumination in the average living room is about five footcandles. For ordinary reading purposes, your eyes should have at least ten to forty footcandles. Be sure you have enough light, of the right kind, for every member of your family. Estate Of MacBeth Is Offered For Sale

GLASGOW, Scotland, Sept. 25.—(AP)—Historically famous as the death scene of MacBeth, the 6,000-acre estate of Lumphanan, Aberdeenshire, is now on the market.
Shakespeare made Dunsinane the spot where MacBeth met his dramatic end, in the climax of his great Elizabethan tragedy, but historical authorities name Lumphanan as the place where the real MacBeth—a Scottish king who was slain in 1058 A. D.—lost his life in battle.
An age-old verse records the incident:
"O'er the Mouth they chased him then
Until the wood of Lumphanan;
This MacBeth slew they there
In the wood of Lumphanan."
A clump of stones in a circular clump of trees, about a mile from the village of Lumphanan, marks the spot where MacBeth actually breathed his last.

ADULTS Sept. 25.—A court check was returned to the owner of a garden in the city, which was found to contain 11 chickens (about $12) for shooting and water over the neighbor's garden "with intent to destroy it."
 He accused the owners of the garden, Mr. and Mrs. J. E. King, of shooting water over his garden.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 25.—AAA officials here yesterday said the flow of monetary benefits to 3,000,000 farm owners, operators and tenants would begin early in October but that only about one farmer in 30 or 35 would receive his check before election day, Nov. 8.

Other AAA spokesmen said the total to receive a share of the $470,000,000 to be paid out under the 1936 soil conservation subsidy program would be about 1,000,000 larger than the number who received benefits under the old AAA program.

They added that checks this year were expected to average less than $90 a farmer for the country as a whole, compared with an average of $100 under the former program.

The amount paid out under three previous farm programs—1933, '34 and '35—was estimated at $1,500,000,000.

POLO MATCH PULLED
 NEW YORK, Sept. 25.—(AP)—The second match of the international polo series for the cup of the Americas between the United States and Argentina, scheduled for Wednesday afternoon, was postponed because of "unplayable conditions" at International Field, Meadow Brook, L. I. The match will be played Saturday.

The tournament committee of the U. S. Polo Association inspected the field and found it soft and drizzling from rains Tuesday and a drizzling fog yesterday morning.

If each contestant lived and bred normally, a pair of meadow mice could have 275,000,000,000 offspring in 10 years.

Seeds Must Grow

"Burpee's Seeds Grow"—is one of the best adapted programs in modern business. After all, a seed's first duty is to grow.

Realizing the importance of the quality of the seed if a paying crop business is to be established, Henry Russell, young Sanford business man, chose to go in business for himself several years ago with Burpee Seeds as his product.

Margaret Roberts assumed the ownership and management of this concern and since that time has operated consistently her store in such a manner as to insure the continued patronage of a large number of persons.

Today Roberta's Grocery is still considered one of the leading groceries of the city and while conducting the sales in a manner best suited for her particular type of grocery store, Miss Roberts has attracted a considerable number of new patrons in addition to those who have steadily traded there for the past several years.

Most of Roberta's patrons like the individual type of service rendered there. They like to phone in their orders and feel confident they are receiving the same merchandise they would get if they called in person.

Long before the Florida boom years, before the new lakefront boulevard was built and even before the new state highway between Sanford and DeLand was surveyed, Mr. Short, owner and operator of the popular "Short's Camp" established a reputation as one with foresight.

Mr. Short demonstrated this unusual ability when he decided to erect a tourist camp on the old Orlando highway. This venture proved very successful and remained so for years.

Through right and regular inspections by competent experts representing the State Board of Health all dairies are required to live up to certain rules which were designed for the benefit of the general public.

Among these Sanford dairies is the Green Valley Dairy, owned and operated by Dr. C. W. Baker and many of the patrons of this milk producing concern often declare that "the milk we receive from the Green Valley is equal to if not better than any other."

Due to the fact that Sanford is situated not only in the central part of the state but also within a great farming area Mr. Campbell reasoned that he should enter the feed and seed business and as a result purchased the Security Seed Company.

GOOD LIQUORS

Without a doubt the success of Myrtle's Coffee Shop may be traced directly to the quality of food, which have been served there consistently since the shop's opening in its present location 10 years ago by Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Schmidt.

Look Beautiful

Featuring its service and modern equipment in a recently remodeled shop now operating under new management Evalen's Beauty Salon stands high among its competitors in the local field.

Particular attention is called to the fact that two new and thoroughly experienced operators, Miss Marguerita Bailey and Mrs. Eva Belle Brown, are now employed by Mrs. Bradshaw.

Today Mrs. Bradshaw extends a special invitation to her friends and all of those who have been patrons of this shop to visit the newly remodeled salon or to telephone for an appointment.

WHAT WOULD YOU DO

In A CASE LIKE THIS?

A man comes to your door. You answer his knock. You don't know him, and he can't identify himself as a representative of one of the established companies you've come to know and trust.

QUESTION: Would you open the door?

ANSWER: No. Not if you're like most women who keep house and buy things for themselves and their families in Sanford.

REASON: Experience has taught them that the greatest danger in admitting strangers is the danger of being sold something without a reputation.

RESULT: Women who know that a value is as much a matter of "known reputation" as it is a matter of dollars and cents buy through the regular channels of trade established in Sanford by the business houses here.

Giants Clinch National Loop Flag With 2 to 1 Win

Giants Opening Tilt Generates High Interest

Citadel Is Tough Opponent For Jack Cody's First Game

GAINESVILLE, Sept. 23.—Certainly not since the opening game in 1938—Charlie Bachman's first year in Gainesville and possibly not in the entire South's history, has any No. 1 game on the schedule generated so much public interest which is rapidly developing on the Florida-Citadel curtain-raiser here Oct. 2.

And there seems to be ample reason why Johnny Q. (Football) Public should be growing somewhat agog over this approaching gridiron combat:

(1) Citadel looks to its 1938 team to be the strongest in years.

(2) Citadel has always battled Jack Cody's teams to a far-off draw.

(3) And, of course, this will be Cody's first football game as head coach of the University of Florida, which means that fans will come to Florida Field Stadium Oct. 3 from various parts of the state to see what sort of gridiron aggregation Dean Cody has in the making.

Citadel To Have Edge

Citadel will have certain very definite advantages over the Gators in this Oct. 3 meeting. It will be the third game of the current season for Coach Tatum Crockett's Bulldogs. It will be Florida's first engagement.

The approaching game will be the seventh between Florida and Citadel, but so far the Charleston troupe has not been able to grab a verdict over the Gators. In four of the six games played Citadel has scored, however, and in three of the contests, Florida could not produce more than a single touchdown game.

Lineup In Doubt

There is another interesting aspect on this opening game. Coach Cody is far from decided on his starting lineup, and he probably won't determine the initial eleven until the middle of next week. Captain Julian Lane, guard, and Bob Ivey, the team's ace punter and passer, are two who seem certain to get the nod from Cody. Alt. Capt. Eddie Maynard, center; Floyd Christian and Harry Kichler, tackle; Ken Willis, halfback; Charlie Root, guard; Harold Rowe, halfback, are among leading possibilities—but one can never tell.

SPORT CHATS

By JIMMY CHAPMAN

Second and Two!

Today and tomorrow, the 1938 Football season swings into its second week of activity over the nation, with ten more weeks left to go before the nation's best meet in a battle of the century for the mythical National Championship at the Rose Bowl in Pasadena.

Naturally, since this paper is running a pick-the-winner contest everyone is interested in the outcome of each week's games. "Sport Chats" is attempting this week to give you a brief outline of the probable winners of Saturday's games.

Top, we would say, will be the encounter between the Rice College eleven from Southwest Texas and the N. E. U. Tigres from Baton Rouge, Louisiana, and protégé of the late Huey P. Long.

We have heard many different comments from the sidelines as to the outcome of that game, but personally we'll place our bet on L. S. U., for the Rice squad, although it is always a strong one, but it's two star backs when McCaskey and Wallace, All-American selections from the Texas college, received their degrees.

The score, of course, is just as good one way as it is the other, but we'll say 7 to 0 in favor of the Baton Rouge Tigres.

Please don't attempt to use our selections in picking your winners and the score, for this is merely a preview of our views on the situation of the nation's gridiron crop.

Second in importance among the inter-sectional tilt this weekend, we would place the Duke-Colgate game and the Minnesota-Washington conflict. In the first we select Duke at a score of 13 to 6 or thereabouts, and in the latter we pick Bernie Bierman's galloping Gophers to gallop all over the Far West eleven.

Classer Home!

At New Orleans, there will be held another battle of eleven's which should be among the best of the season. That is the battle between the Green Wave from Tulane and the Mississippi Mud Slingers, with our selection slightly favoring the Mississippi boys with their Ray Wagon, one of the nation's best half-backs and one who's still plenty of used to the fumes of the New Orleans' climate with his hairy big stinking.

Alabama's Crimson Tide should roll over the Howard eleven, which last year gained a 7 to 7 tie with a strong "Bama Team," with a score of 28 to 6 or thereabouts.

Claremont should take the V. P. L. team from Virginia with a score of 14 to 6, while the University of North Carolina is good for a 20 to 0 victory over the Wake-Forest college eleven.

A strong Southern eleven, which never loses a game by a large score is due for a 13 to 6 win at the hands of South Anderson's N. C. State gridlers, and V. M. I. should take a fighting group of Gamecocks from South Carolina.

Football West!

On the Pacific Coast a strong and up and coming Southern California should win from a small but powerful Oregon State team by a 7 to 6 score, while Stanford will have trouble in taking Santa Clara by a 13 to 6 score.

Washington State should trounce Montana by 13 to 6, while Oregon is a sure winner over a Portland College eleven by a 14 to 7 score.

There You Are!

So, there you are, this column has covered almost wide eyes for criticism, above and a bit further by making an attempt to pick a few winners and the prospective scores of the games.

But, as you know, people who live in glass houses should not throw stones, so if we miss too many please be kind to us. For there is always a possibility that someone you may be in the same boat, without a paddle.

Yankees' Interest Lies In King

Carl Hubbell As Series Time Nears

NEW YORK, Sept. 23.—(AP)—It develops now that the conquering Yankees are taking an intimate interest in Carl Hubbell, whose long left arm has slowly but inexorably pitched the Giants to the brink of the World Series.

Baseball experts say their interest in him amounts to a fetish; that he is all they talk about.

They scan the sport pages for any mention of his name. From getting on down to the hot boy they want to know what he eats for breakfast—and what he loses to right-handed hitters!

Well, if you place any faith in past performance, Hubbell—for the Yankees—is going to be a most annoying factor. For, in 23 innings of World Series and inter-league all-star competition, the American leechers have yet to score their first earned run against him.

It was in the 1933 all-star game in Chicago that the screw-baller from Mosler, Ohio, gave his American League adversaries their first glimpse of the old whiffers. In two innings on the mound he fanned one and allowed one hit.

Two months later, after the Giants won the pennant, he began the World Series by striking out the first three batters to face him. In all he whiffed 19 batters, and yielded only five hits, all singles. The Giants won that one, 4 to 2, both Washington tallies being unearned.

Three days later, in the fourth game of the series (played in Washington with the Dveller and to his unfamiliar A. L. ball) Hubbell went 11 innings to win by 2 to 1. Washington's only score in this game also was unearned. King Carl struck out five and allowed eight hits.

Almost everyone remembers what Hub did in the all-star game of 1934. He hooped himself to evading fans by striking out six in the first two innings—five consecutively, including such celebrated sluggers as Ruth, Gehrig, Fenz, Simmons and Cronin. At this point Bill Dickey of the Yanks broke the spell with a single to right, but Hub came right back and struck out Cronin in three innings that day he struck out six, allowed two hits, and no runs.

Hubbell wasn't available for the 1935 all-star classic (the day previously he pitched a 5-hit effort against Brooklyn, but he was on the firing line in the all-star game in Boston this year). Following Dickey Dean to the mound, Hubbell took up where he left off in '34, and went three innings without even being threatened. He struck out a pair and allowed two hits, both singles.

Entries File In For Purcell's Football Contest

Total Reaches More Than Twice Number Of Last Week's

Although the current football season will not actually get into its full swing until next week, local fans have entered into the play of Purcell's pick-the-winner contest with a surprising increased interest.

This morning's chart was continuing to pour into The Herald and already there are about twice as many as were handed in altogether last week. At this time the sponsors of the contest wish to call to the attention of all fans that the chart may be submitted as late as noon Saturday. Emphasis is stressed upon the fact that "you still have a good chance to win" even though you wait until Saturday morning before selecting your favorite teams.

It is pointed out in the rules governing the contest that the person selecting the greatest number of the listed 10 teams correctly to win will be declared winner. Only in the event of a tie will the score of the Rice-L. S. U. game be considered. In such an event only those participating in the tie will have their scores considered and then the one recording the nearest correct score will be winner with the others dropping into second, third, etc. places.

While there is scarcely a chance for two persons to guess the same number of teams to win and also to turn in the same score just the same, it is pointed out, there is that chance. In such an event, when it is impossible to choose a winner, then the first chart submitted will be the winner. Therefore, it is to the fan's advantage to get his selections into The Herald as soon as possible.

Schumacher Twirls Climax Game For Gothamite Nine

Cards Also Cop Two From Reds As Dizzy Funs Nine Men In Nightcap, But Double Win Is Futile

BOSTON, Sept. 23.—(AP)—The New York Giants clinched their "Horatio Alger" success story yesterday by clinching the National League pennant.

Topping off one of the most astonishing drives in diamond history, they scored out the Boston Red Sox, 2 to 1, in a 10-inning pitching thriller in the first game of a double-header to sew up the flag.

Their victory made the first "subway series" since 1928 a certainty, with the New York Yankees as the American League representatives. The classic gets under way next Wednesday in the Giants' Polo Grounds.

A restrained group of athletes got together in the clubhouse between the first and second games yesterday to exchange congratulations, but there was little whooping it up, except on the part of the shortstop, spangler, Dick Bartell.

Yesterday's win was the Giants' ninety-first of the season, leading them with three games to play after a twin bill with the Sox. The best of the second place St. Louis Cardinals can accomplish between now and the end of their schedule would still fall short of catching up. "Pinstriped Hal" Schumacher, the question mark of the Giants' pitching staff, accomplished yesterday's win almost single handedly, but a costly error by Bill Urbanski was a big help. Urbanski juggled Travis Jackson's grounder in the tenth and then threw wide past first, enabling the veteran third sacker to reach second. Schumacher brought him all the way home immediately with a single.

In the second game, Terry replaced most of his regulars with second string men and the Sox won, 4 to 3, behind Bill Wooten's six-hit pitching.

The first-game victory was the Giants' fifty-first against 18 losses in the spectacular drive that carried them from second division to the championship between July 15 and yesterday. Collapsing after fighting for the lead early in the season, Bill Terry's troops sank out of first division and seemed through for the season.

Then Carl Hubbell, the year's greatest pitcher, started hitting his stride. Rookie Jim Rippel became a heavy-hitting outfield asset. Terry's lead had recovered sufficiently for him to get into action at first base through most of the stretch games. The entire outfield, headed by Bill Ott, developed a batting punch as dangerous, as any other club in the big leagues.

Cards Win Two

ST. LOUIS, Sept. 23.—(AP)—The fighting Cardinals took a doubleheader from the Cincinnati Reds yesterday by winning a 12-inning opener, 5 to 4, and topping the Reds, 2 to 0, as darkness ended the nightcap, after 5 1-2 innings.

As the Chicago Cubs lost the Cardinals now hold second position in the National League by 2 1-2 games, and they can clinch that place if they beat the Reds today. The worst they can do is tie for second, even if they lose their last three games.

While the Gas House Gang was defeating Hurier Gene Schott in the first battle, Joe Medwick established a new National League record with his sixty-third double of the season. This tops the 62 Paul Waner gathered in 1932 for Pittsburgh.

Dizzy Dean made an unexpected appearance in the second game and, holding the Reds to four hits and striking out nine, won his twenty-fourth victory of the season. "Talk" Ryan, who went to the hill in the ninth after LeRoy Parnell had retired for a pinch-hitter, received credit for the first victory, his fifth this year without a defeat.

Landon Avers Roosevelt 'Sold Out' U. S. Farmers

President, Democrat Chiefs Lay Plans For Party Drive in New England; Mid-West, Rockies Next

MINNEAPOLIS, Sept. 25.—(AP)—Protection of "the American farmer" was the theme of a speech by Gov. Alf M. Landon last night in a farm address demanding a "stop" in New Deal reciprocal tariff policies.

"The reciprocal trade program of the present Administration has delayed recovery for our farmers," the presidential candidate said, "it has sold the American farmer down the river."

Promising that "Republicans are going to trade not against but in the interest of American producers," Landon said he was opposed to "isolation" because "a healthy international trade is essential to world prosperity" and "world prosperity is good insurance against war."

"Reasonable protection, which is so essential to our well being, is not detrimental to world prosperity," the Kansan asserted, adding that "we can be a good neighbor without throwing away the latchkey to our door."

"The great enemy of world trade today is a war inspired doctrine of isolation and its resulting demands for self sufficiency," Landon continued. "We must not join in this kind of madness."

The nominee came into this northern home of the Farmer-Labor party near the Canadian border to discuss President Roosevelt's reciprocal trade program from what he said was "the point of view of the American farmer."

"In too many of these agreements," he said, "we are the fellows who get the blind horse."

The municipal auditorium was selected for the nationally broadcast address at 8:30 P. M. (Central Standard Time). It climaxed a day's rear platform campaigning across Iowa and through Minnesota dairy and livestock country.

In 1860 North Carolina was 12th ranking state in the nation in population.

Huge Increase In U. S. Bank Reports

WASHINGTON, Sept. 25.—The condition statement of weekly reporting member banks in 101 leading cities on Sept. 16 shows increases for the week of $181,000,000 in total loans and investments, $28,000,000 in United States government deposits and $30,000,000 in deposit balances to the credit of domestic banks, and a decrease of $240,000,000 in reserve balance with Federal Reserve Banks.

Loans to brokers and dealers in New York City declined $38,000,000 at reporting member banks in the New York district. Loans to brokers and outside New York increased $1,000,000, and loans on securities to others (except banks) declined $1,000,000. Holders of acceptance, and commercial paper bought rose $1,000,000, real estate loans were off $3,000,000, loans to banks up $9,000,000 in the New York district, and "other loans" increased $29,000,000 in the New York district and $64,000,000 at all reporting member banks.

Chairman James A. Farley of the Democratic National Committee, spokesman for the array of some of the party's best political talent, told reporters:

"We had a general discussion of the entire political situation and the President was immensely pleased with the reports submitted by those who were present."

"We discussed his future activities and in a general way he presented his ideas as to the condition of the campaign in recent weeks."

He added that any definite announcement as to the President's plans for speaking trips would be made later by Mr. Roosevelt, but that he did not know whether one might be expected in advance of an address scheduled next Tuesday at Syracuse, N. Y., before the State Democratic Convention.

Senator Robinson of Arkansas, majority floor leader of the Senate, said the conference "disclosed a general confidence but a realization of the wisdom of fighting."

The political consultants gathered in the huge oak-paneled li-

Nine-Lens Aerial Camera Is Tested By Army Officers

WASHINGTON, Sept. 25.—A nine-lens aerial camera which will photograph an area of 600 square miles in a single exposure is now under test by the United States Army to determine its value for military mapping purposes.

The flying camera, designed by the Coast and Geodetic Survey and built in co-operation with the Fairchild Aerial Camera Corporation and the Bureau of Standards, is being mounted in a Martin bomber by air corps experts at Wright Field, Dayton, Ohio, for the tests.

The camera takes nine separate photographs on a film 23 inches wide and 200 feet long, sufficient for 100 exposures. The nine negatives are then projected on a single sheet for a composite photograph 33 inches square. The completed picture replaces from six to twenty aerial photographs made with a single camera under existing practice.

Bridges, Rights-Of-Way From Key West To Florida City Go On Block

Company Unable To Rebuild Line

Path Is Cleared For Construction Of Key's Highway

WASHINGTON, Sept. 26. (AP) — The Interstate Commerce Commission has authorized the Florida Overseas Railway to abandon its overseas line to Key West, clearing the way for the sale of the line and the completion of a highway across the Florida Keys.

The order, effective ten days from today, allows the receivers to clear the line and to sell the rights-of-way to the overseas bridges and the toll bridge district of Monroe County.

Receivers asked permission on the ground that they are without funds to repair the damage by the Labor Day hurricane of 1935. They said reconstruction would cost about $1,800,000.

The overseas line has not been operated since the hurricane. It extended 125 miles from Florida City to Key West.

The road and toll bridge district recently obtained a $2,600,000 loan from the government to build a highway over the coral reefs of the keys.

Vocational School Schedules Another Shorthand Class

A half-hour shorthand class between 8 A. M. and 8:30 A. M. for the convenience of persons unable to attend regular classes later in the day has been announced for Tuesdays, Wednesdays and Thursdays by Miss Rebecca Stevens, principal of the Sanford Vocational School.

Approximately 40 students are now enrolled in the institution, which features courses in shorthand, typing, bookkeeping, business English and spelling. Miss Stevens said.

Registration rolls are open throughout the nine-months term of the school. Classes are taught five days each week. The institution is affiliated with the County school system.

Classrooms are located above the Hill Hardware Company building.

Chamber Project Committee Okes Three Proposals

Three proposed projects related to the unqualified endorsement of the Chamber of Commerce Project Committee when the organization held its first meeting last night in the Chamber building.

Headlining the list was a proposal that recreational facilities for tourists be included in plans for beautifying the lakefront property between the Mayfair Hotel and Park Avenue.

Second to receive an endorsement was the plan to make all possible efforts toward the establishment of a tourist trailer camp here. The third project of approval was one to promote activities for creating a state park on the Big Tree territory.

Attending the committee session were Chamber President T. E. Simpson; Benjamin F. Haines, secretary; Fred E. Wilson, Fred C. Wilson, H. James Gut, H. H. Coleman and Ralph Bagwell, chamber secretary.

Small Clothes Asked By Salvation Army

The Salvation Army today made an appeal for clothing to be given underprivileged school children.

Officers of the organization said several appeals for youngsters' garments have been received at headquarters, and there is very little supply on hand for distribution.

Anyone wishing to contribute clothing may deliver them at Army headquarters, 214 East Second Street, or telephone 359 and they will be picked up by an Army automobile.

Republicans, Demos See Corn Belt Of Greatest Value In November Election

CHICAGO, Sept. 26. (AP) — An intensive campaign for presidential votes of middle America's farm states continued at a swift pace today with Governor Landon on the way to Oregon, Ill., to discuss agricultural problems with Frank O. Lowden, the Republican party's Cincinnati candidate. Landon, considered a week's swing through the farm states of the Middle West.

Attraction has been focused anew on the fact that evidently both Republicans and Democrats believe corn belt votes will decide the election. All factions have sent their best orators into the Middle West.

President Roosevelt, Landon and Representative William Lemke, Union Party presidential candidate, have devoted more personal attention to the section than to any other. Both Landon and Roosevelt will make Chicago speeches. Landon will talk here Oct. 9, and Roosevelt about a week later.

National Guard Starts Moving To New Armory

Equipment Valued At $100,000 Owned By Sanford Units

Sanford's three National Guard units today began the task of moving into their new $17,000 armory on Lakeshore Boulevard.

Capt. H. C. Washburn, acting commandant, said that rifles, instruments, uniforms, gas masks, electrical apparatus and other equipment to be moved is valued at approximately $100,000.

The office estimated that the units would be firmly installed in their new headquarters by Sunday night, pointing out the job was too large to be completed in a single day.

Capt. George W. McRory is custodian of the armory. Capt. Washburn announced. Persons or organizations desiring to rent the building for social or other purposes are advised to contact Capt. McRory.

The acting-commandant issued the statement that in the future guardmen will drill only one night.

Legionettes Plan For Drum, Bugle Corps Formation

First active work toward the organization of a Sons of the Legion drum and bugle corps will be undertaken next Friday night, Percy Mero, chairman of the American Legion Committee on Boy's Work, told the Legionettes last night.

An Armistice Day dance is scheduled in the new National Guard armory to produce sufficient money for the beginning.

Mr. Mero said that due to the removal of the National Guard into the new building, the Junior Legion rifle team will withhold practice for two or three weeks until a new firing range is built.

Last night Reginald Soderblom and Milton Adams tied for high point man with 18 each in the weekly target shoot. The youths were shooting for the first time from a sitting position.

Mrs. Leonard Wins First Knock-Knock Contest At Theater

Mrs. J. M. Leonard last night was declared winner of the Ritz Theater's first knock-knock contest, a regular weekly feature of the playhouse. Prize was $5 in cash.

Mrs. L. P. Doss won second award, a two-weeks' Ritz pass for two, while Bill Schmidt came in third and won a one-week pass for a couple.

Mrs. Leonard's knock-knock was: "Who's there?" "Juliet." "Juliet who?" "Juliet a big meal and Romeo for it."

Mrs. Doss' ran: "Gatchel." "I'll Gatchel when I get home." Mr. Schmidt's ran: "Canary." "Canary one tell me where John was last night."

The knock-knocks were incorporated in a stage show featuring Birger Wester and his orchestra and Miss Eloise Winn.

Persons who wish to compete for prizes next week are urged to submit their knock-knocks to the Ritz box office before Thursday night.

Several knock-knocks, turned in this week too late for use in the stage show will be heard next week, according to Joseph L. Marentette, theater manager.

Cone And Andrews Will Appear Here On Campaign Tour

Fred P. Cone, Democratic nominee for governor of Florida, will appear here Wednesday for the first time since his nomination for the governorship last June.

His appearance is under the sponsorship of the Seminole County Democratic Committee. His address will be delivered through his own public address system, probably at the intersection of First Street and Magnolia Avenue.

Judge C. O. Andrews of Orlando, nominee for the United States Senate, is billed to appear with the gubernatorial nominee. The two are now in the middle of an initial eight-day tour of the Central Florida section in the first of a series of jaunts.

The County Democratic Committee is planning a number of local rallies with several other political meetings to be held throughout the County.

Cleveland Emphasizes Importance Of Fire Prevention Week, Oct. 4-10

Fire Prevention Week will be observed throughout the nation between Oct. 4 and 10, Mack Cleveland, chief of the Sanford Fire Department, announced today.

In emphasizing the importance of the event, Chief Cleveland pointed out that more than 10,000 persons in the United States burn to death annually, and that nearly half a billion dollars worth of property goes up in smoke each year.

"Since this loss in lives and money is distributed over the years," the chief said, "and since fires causing it are scattered over the country, the average person is not as much impressed with the dangers of fire as he should be. Fire Prevention Week is observed to bring the real facts home to everyone."

Chief Cleveland said that he and

President Of Spain Seeks Protection Of Argentine Embassy In Toledo

By The Associated Press
Insurgent Spanish troops smashed at the gates of shell-riddled Toledo today as the wife of President Manuel Azana of Spain was reported taken under the protection of the Argentine embassy.

One report, still unconfirmed, said Rebe's already had entered Toledo.

Insurgent commanders drove their troops hard to reach Toledo and release the men, women and children besieged in the famous Alcazar, raked by gunfire and dynamite, for weeks.

President Azana was reported authoritatively to have asked for a political asylum, if it should be necessary, aboard an Argentine warship. His wife and other members of families of the leftist cabinet members were said to have been taken aboard the boat already.

Rebel sources predicted the imminent downfall of Madrid but said they feared Government troops in Toledo were throwing poisoned food to men, women and children still living in the Alcazar.

Rebels sent ten planes to rain bombs on chaotic Bilbao, Bay of Biscay town, as anarchists sought to kill Rebel sympathizers held as hostages.

Extension School At University Is Open To Localites

First semester extension classes of the University of Florida will be organized Oct. 5 at the vocational school building in Orlando, according to an announcement received here today from Gainesville.

All Seminole County persons are eligible for enrollment in the institution which gives college credit for vocational or cultural improvement.

Those interested may obtain complete information by communicating with the General Extension Division of the University of Florida.

H. C. Riley is dean of the extension division. Other instructors are Prof. R. E. Harris, Spanish; Prof. B. R. Weld, sociology; Miss Viola Ludwig, public school care; G. M. Turner, field representative.

Teachers may secure extension of their certificates by taking six-semester hours of the school's work. It was announced.

Elks Issue Appeal For Christmas Toys

An appeal for old toys for the Elk's Club Christmas Tree, held every Christmas, was issued today by Leading Knight George Thurston of the local chapter of B. P. O. E. 441 local citizens.

Thurston head of a movement to obtain the toys and have them repaired in time for the annual holiday event given for needy children, asked that persons having toys which they would donate either bring them by the Elk's Club or call for a representative of the club to come by after them.

This year an effort will be made to get enough toys for all needy children in the county, and for that reason, the committee in charge is beginning its drive earlier in the year.

Night Baseball Prospects Loom Bright Locally

Possibilities that baseball fans of this city would be given the opportunity of watching the national pastime under lights next season loomed brighter today as officials of the Sanford Baseball Association were considering seriously a plan for equipping the local park with lights.

A conference with a representative of a large electric light manufacturing company is scheduled for President H. M. Watson and Secretary James A. Wright on the first of next month.

Should plans be formed for the equipment of the local park with the nocturnal system, it is an advanced fact that larger crowds will turn out to watch the Lookouts perform against other teams of the class "D" Florida State League.

President Watson declared today that he is expected to have the largest attendance at the local park for games next season, than had ever before witnessed seasonal baseball in this city.

Farm Credit Group Reports Excellent August Collections

While obligations in Florida totaling $27,227 fell due in August, the Farm Credit Administration collected $50,317, it was reported here today by S. E. Andrews, secretary and treasurer for the organization in this area.

Seminole County collections were equal, in percentage, to state collection, Mr. Andrews added.

Julius H. Scarborough, president of the Federal Land Bank of Columbia, S. C., where the loans are handled, announced through the local office that in some instances the excess payments collected during August were made on past due installments.

In other instances, it was reported, payments were made in advance of due installments. Mr. Andrews said this evidenced a desire on the part of farmers to free their farms from debt as soon as possible.

One Million English Pounds Purchased From Russian Market By Treasury

Devaluation Is Tried In France

America To Uphold Values Of British Or Feel The Effect

By The Associated Press
A $2,000,000,000 American stabilization fund was immediately brought into play today to protect the dollar in world exchange markets as France, after an understanding with England and the United States, moved to devalue its currency.

Secretary Morgenthau revealed in Washington that although foreign exchange dealings were virtually at a standstill, the Russian State Bank moved to depress the British pound by offering 100,000,000 pounds "at any price."

Morgenthau said he immediately bought the sterling but this was not until unofficial trading in New York found the pound dropped to $4.91 from yesterday's close of $5.02. Wall Street quarters said they did not know the reason for the Russian move.

The pound quickly rallied to around $4.96. Wall Street authorities said the United States is interested in keeping the British pound from dropping because it would directly affect the value of the dollar.

Morgenthau said he hoped France's effort to revalue her currency would lead to better world marketing conditions and peace.

Mandamus Served On City Seeking Payment Of $7,480

An alternative writ of mandamus, a routine affair, commanding the City to pay $7,480 in satisfaction of outstanding bonds, had been served today on City officials.

Litigation was brought by Nat T. Wagner, R. M. Winters, C. T. Diehl and Kenneth M. Keefe, L. Eugene Shands of Jacksonville represented the plaintiffs.

In the writ signed by Judge Millard B. Smith, the City is to pay the amount from revenue derived from the municipal water plant, or it must show sufficient reason for not complying with the court order.

The mandamus is regarded as a purely routine court measure generally followed by a majority of holders of municipal bonds prior to any municipality making up a year's budget.

Two other routine mandamuses have been served on the City within the past two weeks.
