Hitler Started Decade Of Gangsterism 25 Years Ago Today

FRANKFURT, Germany (UP)—Twenty-five years ago today President Paul von Hindenburg signed a proclamation appointing a new premier and creating five million Germans to be thus—legally and bloodily—Adolf Hitler took over chancellery and embarked on a decade of gangsterism which changed Europe in blood.

their rule 12 years later in the only way they admitted it would end, as corpses.

The Germans who survived crawled from the rubble in 1945 and slowly established in the western half of their country a new constitution with built-in safeguards against another democratic suicide.

But even today they usually recall the fateful proclamation a quarter of a century ago.

Didn't Trust Hitler
Hindenburg disliked and distrusted Hitler and only four days earlier had declared he would never appoint "the little Austrian corporal" as chancellor.

But by Jan. 30, 1933, the 85-year-old President, apparently alarmed by rumors of a violent government coup in the making, finally agreed to accept Hitler as chancellor.

Hindenburg's advisers, led by Franz von Papen, assured him that once Hitler was in office, they could control and manipulate him.

Less than two months later on March 23, a Nazi-packed parliament voted Hitler dictatorial powers.

Six months later, all other parties had been dissolved or banned and Germany became a totalitarian Nazi state.

Hindenburg appointed Hitler under the emergency clause of the constitution which did not require parliament's approval.

Majority Impossible
The country had been run by this clause since 1930, when continued squabbling in parliament made it impossible to form any kind of majority.

But Hindenburg's choice was a popular one. More than 17 million Germans of 39 million voted Nazi in the relatively free elections Hitler called two months later. He then banned the Communists to give his party a majority. The "legal revolution" was complete.

Hitler launched a vigorous program of fulfilling his election promises. He created jobs for the country's nearly six million jobless. He began raising an army to "right the wrongs" of the Versailles Treaty. His savage persecution of the Jews was another thing he had promised the voters.

Goebbels Made Good
It was a long-term

ment Hindenburg wanted when he accepted Hitler, he certainly got it. Goebbels wrote in 1933 that "Once we have power, we never will give it up. They would have to carry our bodies out."

Exactly 12 years and 3 months after Hitler was sworn in, he was carried out as a corpse—along with Goebbels.

By then, the man who "saved" many from Communism had led Soviet army soldiers in Berlin. The industry his regime had revived lay in bomber ruins throughout the country, the territory he had conquered for "Lebensraum" was recaptured, and occupation armies held the nation.

Today, 25 years after Hitler began to shape Germany's policies, the country is split three ways, with two eastern sections under Communist German and Polish control.

Senator Says U. S. Needs Bombers, Missile Subs

WASHINGTON (UP)—Sen. Henry M. Jackson said today production of B52 hydrogen bombers and missile-launching nuclear submarines must be increased immediately if Americans are to "stay alive."

Jackson called for pumping $15 million dollars into Strategic Air Command SAC bombers and jet tankers and boosting the number of Polaris submarines to 13.

He said it was "incredible" the administration had decided against building more SAC 52s. Present plans call for three Polaris missile

Mrs. McGraw Given Standing Ovation At Coffee Club

A standing ovation was given Mrs. John J. McGraw this morning at the Coffee Club meeting of the Seminole County Chamber of Commerce.

Mrs. McGraw attended the meeting accompanied by Frank McEwan, general manager of the Mayfair Inn.

Pointed out was the book Mrs. McGraw has written about Mrs. Charles Morrison's husband, whom Morrison described as the "greatest baseball manager the world has ever known."

UF Budget Committee Makes Fund Allotment

The Budget Committee of the United Fund with approval of the Directors has made an allotment of funds from the recent campaign, and the seven participating agencies will get approximately 20 percent more for their 1958 operation than they received from their own individual drives, according to Fran George Touhy.

The exception to this is the Mental Health Assn. whose budget request was not 20 percent higher than the 1957 collections, and they are being allocated the sum for which they asked, it was said.

The figures for the various agencies are: Girl Scouts—$2,640; Salvation Army—$4,080; Boy Scouts—$1,720; Children's Home Society—$1,200; Mental Health Assn.—$1,120; Red Cross—$6,720; U. S. O.—$1,920.

Scout Executive Praises Boys' Organizations

"They learn to be leaders," Central Florida Council Boy Scout Executive C. D. Caldwell, told Sanford Kiwanis Club members yesterday as he praised boys organizations such as the Key Club.

Young people need this leadership, he said. Some of us are facing the fact that we can't keep up. Caldwell reminded the civic club members.

Speaking about the Jamboree at Valley Forge, Pa. last year, Caldwell said the boys learned.

Caldwell also spoke about a canoe derby in which boys did not want to stop, even though faced with adverse conditions. "The kids today have just as much mettle as any—but we don't want to give them credit for it."

"You as a Kiwanis Club, have an opportunity to help a lot of boys have a lot of fun," Caldwell said as he appealed for the support. (Continued on Page 8)

VAH-5 Is Apparent Winner Of Derby

As unofficial scores in the three-day Heavy Attack Wing One Bombing Derby were posted early this morning it was apparent that Heavy Attack Squadron Five took the lead and copped the coveted Conover Trophy.

Excitement ran high as plane crews from VAH-1, VAH-3, and VAH-11, competing in the fourth quarterly bombing derby landed their AD Skywarriors following simulated bombing runs on Atlanta, Ga., Jacksonville, Fla., Charlotte, N. C. and Savannah, Ga.

At the end of the second phase of the derby yesterday, VAH-5 held a formidable lead in the competition. In yesterday's simulated bombing missions, which also included celestial navigation, VAH-5 continued to hold the lead and came out in front, in unofficial scores, with an approximate 400 point triumph over its nearest competitor, VAH-11.

Commander Joseph M. Tully Jr., Commanding Officer of VAH-5, was on hand early this morning watching the scores go up at the completion of the last flight.

Final, unofficial tabulation, shortly before 3 o'clock this morning showed that VAH-5 came out Mothers' March On Polio Friday Night Between 7-8 p.m.

Thousands of porch lights, symbols of the annual Mothers' March on Polio, will light up in Sanford and Seminole County tomorrow night when women in every section of the county pay their annual visits to all homes to receive contributions for the polio fight.

Lights will go on between the hours of 7 and 8 p. m. as the women's army goes from home to home, knocking on every door where porch lights or lamps signal a willingness to help speed the polio fight. More than 80 women will take part in the annual fund-raising event which will start at 7 p. m. and last exactly one hour.

Home owners wishing to contribute, said John Sauls, general chairman of the Seminole County March on Polio.

Serving as captains of different areas in Sanford are: Mrs. D. Hatten, Mrs. A. L. Thomas, Mrs. C. Chorpensing, Mrs. W. Fijol, Mrs. G. Rixler, Mrs. L. Anderson, Mrs. D. Smith, Mrs. W. Kirtley, Mrs. R. Florida Waterways Committee Memberships Now Available

Low-cost water transportation spurred the construction or expansion of 120 plants along inland waterways in the fourth quarter of 1967, according to The American Waterways Operators.

The national association of the barge and towing vessel industry said the fourth quarter figure brings the 1967 relocation effort of American industry, geared to a greater transportation flexibility through use of the cost-saving waterways system, to 485 projects.

And now, we have here in Florida—a dream of Sanford's John Krider—an organization dedicated toward the betterment of the Florida system of Waterways. It is a statewide committee composed of men interested in waterways from every section of the state.

To top that off, it has the blessing of Florida's Governor Leroy Collins to the extent that he appointed a member of the committee to represent the state as a whole.

In order for the committee, which has before it a tremendous job, to be sustained there must be members—members who will provide the financial backing necessary for the group to move forward steadily and strongly.

The Florida Waterways Committee is calling for members—individuals, organizations, corporations, groups of people—all with voting power to assist in one of the biggest jobs confronting the state today—that of its waterways, inland and seaboard.

Cost for becoming a card-carrying member of the Florida Waterways Committee is trivial. For individuals it is but ten dollars—or five dollars at the minimum. Organization and group memberships are from fifty dollars up as are corporation memberships.

This is the opportunity Florida folks have been looking for—an opportunity to pitch in and help out over the state's most important overall project, that of its waterways.

Applications for membership can be informal with just the name, business, address and amount of contribution. Forward them to W. S. Arthur, Executive Director, Florida Waterways Committee, P. O. 1110, Tampa.

The sooner you send your contribution the sooner you receive your membership card!

Economic Survival Imminent?

Inflation is becoming a problem of such magnitude that the American people and their chosen leaders can no longer view it as something that's bound to go away sooner or later. The facts are that the cost of living is getting to be a matter of grave concern to families with fixed incomes.

Many persons feel that the federal government has failed to do its part to solve what many now regard as the nation's most pressing problem. One of them is Senator Frank J. Lausche of Ohio who said that better leadership must be provided by the federal government and by Congress.

The cost of living has gone up steadily for a year and a half—and more. It has advanced more than a full five per cent since the spring of 1966. Consumer prices today are more than double what they were on the eve of World War II.

The greatest increase during the past five years has come in the cost of services. The index for all services excluding shelter has risen 40 per cent, while that for all commodities has increased by probably less than 10 per cent.

Price increases have not been a source of particular concern to persons whose wages and salaries have kept pace with the rising cost of living. But this isn't true of all segments of the population. Many have had to cope with the rising prices without an increase in income.

Cleanliness Important In Warding Off The Flu

By HERMAN N. BUNDEN, M.D.

The simple practice of washing your hands frequently may not be as effective a weapon against Asian flu as the new vaccine, but it does offer considerable protection.

Authorities say there are chances of Asian flu outbreaks of epidemic proportions in various sections of the country during the winter months.

Several Precautions

Unfortunately, there isn't enough vaccine to go around. Still, if you can't get it, there are several precautions you can take to safeguard your family and yourself.

You should develop the practice of washing your hands frequently. Among other things, it may save you a boat with the Asian flu virus.

Keeping your entire body clean and your clothes both clean and fresh is a standard rule for good health. It becomes especially important, however, when the flu virus is lurking about.

Age-Old Advice

And of course you should follow the age-old advice to keep your body's natural resistance in good shape by eating regular and well-balanced meals and getting enough rest—about eight hours a day.

Just in case you aren't familiar with the symptoms of Asian flu, I think I had better list them here. Actually, they are the same as those of other types of flu: muscular aches and pains, fever, chills, a dry hacking cough and a sore throat.

Generally, the fever will last between one and five days. Quite often it will leave the patient weak and exhausted. If you feel any of these symptoms, go to bed promptly. I can't overemphasize the importance of this. Even if your symptoms turn into nothing more than a common cold, the rest in bed will help you get back to your customary routine much faster.

Contact Doctor

If your fever begins to soar, you must contact your doctor right away. It may mean that something more serious than the flu is bothering you. Remain in bed until your doctor says it is all right to get up.

Asian flu or any other type of flu is spread by persons who have the disease. You owe it to your fellow human beings to remain home and take care of yourself. You are a threat to your entire community if you run around spreading the virus to others.

QUESTION AND ANSWER
C. H.: What is Intussusception?
Answer: Intussusception is a condition in which one portion of the intestines is telescoped into another portion. This may cause an obstruction to the normal flow of the intestinal contents, causing what is known as a bowel obstruction, with serious symptoms.

TODAY'S THOUGHT

"Y' Lord, I beseech thee, deliver my soul."

FORK IN THE ROAD

Inside Washington

By Henry Calthart

WASHINGTON—Gen. Alfred M. Gruenther reportedly is making for President Eisenhower an intensive study of measures to crush, once and for all, missile-civilians among the armed forces. The chief executive makes no secret of his great esteem for the retired general, who now heads the American Red Cross but who has found time to undertake a number of hush-hush White House assignments.

Gruenther's recommendations are expected to be the basis for the Pentagon reorganization plan which the President, in his State of the Union message, said he would soon submit to Congress. During his military career, Gruenther was known as a profound student of command and general staff procedures.

There are, incidentally, increasing indications that Gruenther may soon be brought into the administration in a top official capacity. One report is that if and when Allen W. Dulles decides to return to private life, Gruenther may succeed him as chief of the Central Intelligence Agency.

Battle Over Foreign Aid—Although the major emphasis in Congress this year will be on missiles, the biggest fight probably will come on the issue of foreign aid. Congressional sources say that the administration's expected $4 billion foreign aid request may be cut in half by the legislators in the drive to channel more funds directly to U. S. weapons.

Overseas aid definitely will be continued but there will be more criticism of the farm that it takes and the administration of the program. Many Democrats feel that more emphasis should be placed on the so-called Point Four program for helping under-developed areas, with less money going in economic aid to foreign nations.

In addition, there undoubtedly will be demands that the foreign assistance program be put more on a basis of loans rather than grants to other nations. Sentiment also is strong for changing aid to the uncommitted nations of Asia and the Near East, and less to America's European allies.

First, the Eisenhower spending program allows a very narrow margin for a hoped-for surplus of less than $300 million and this can be wiped out by only a few hikes voted by Congress.

Secondly, the budget is based on anticipated higher tax revenues of $2 billion a year while many experts doubt that business will recover that much by the coming fiscal year. Some observers express the fear that the boost in the debt ceiling—from $275 to $280 billion—requested by the administration will not be temporary this time. If inflation and defense demands continue at their present rate they say, it may prove impossible to lower the ceiling without a substantial tax hike.

Going Broke?—The Social Security trust fund is losing money and some lawmakers are getting upset about it. Rep. Daniel A. Reed (R), New York, ranking minority member on the House ways and means committee, is preparing a warning about out-going faster than the income.

The business downturn is the main reason for the decline in the fund. As companies lay off more employees, they end to let go the older ones eligible for Social Security. As a result, more people are beginning to draw benefits.

In addition, as unemployment rises, the income goes down, since Social Security taxes can't be deducted from non-existent wages.

Don't look for Congress to increase your Social Security taxes to make up the deficit any time soon, however. Such an unpopular action isn't likely in an election year.

However, if the situation gets too bad, a move may be made later in the session to raise the tax effective as of Jan. 1, 1969.

Lahr Resumes Trade Talks Today

By PETER WEBB

United Press Staff Correspondent
BONN, Germany—Chancellor Konrad Adenauer's special envoy, Ambassador Rolf Lahr, flew to Moscow today to resume trade talks with the Soviets that may develop into negotiations for a summit conference.

Lahr, one of West Germany's shrewdest negotiators, is regarded here as Adenauer's ace-in-the-hole in sounding out the Soviets on summit talks.

Foreign ministry officials said Lahr had no specific instructions to discuss a summit conference but was prepared to listen to any thing the Soviets might have to say.

Adenauer recently called on the Soviets to stop writing letters about negotiations, and get down to discussing them through diplomatic channels.

Lahr's opposite number in the trade talks will be Soviet Deputy Foreign Minister Vladimir Semenov, former Soviet high commissioner in East Germany and one of Russia's top experts on European affairs.

Diplomatic sources said Lahr would be available for any contacts once the Soviets accepted Western proposals to prepare a summit conference if agreement on an agenda could be reached previously.

They said that his presence would be particularly valuable following the declaration by U. S. presidential press secretary James Hagerty that the United States was ready to attend a summit conference if agreement on an agenda could be reached previously.

Pipeline Into Kremlin
They said Lahr had the last pipeline into the Kremlin for summit talks, especially as the Soviets were obviously unwilling to discuss the agenda at foreign ministers level.

A foreign office spokesman emphasized, however, that West Germany would not get its share in such talks but would work only in close cooperation with her Western allies.

There is little doubt though that Adenauer has once again taken the lead among European nations in pressing the Soviets to begin serious talks.

His recent letter to Soviet Premier Nikolai Bulganin called for an end to polemical correspondence, and a return to diplomatic negotiation.

Lahr's mission to Moscow may well provide the answer as to whether the Soviets are ready to back their words with deeds.

STATE FAIR TAMPA FEB. 4 TO 15

Discovered by Ponce de Leon in 1513, acquired by the United States from Spain in 1821, the Florida Territory gained statehood in 1845. American, Confederate, Spanish, French, and British flags have flown over the state.

Florida, which had a population of 27,000 in 1820, now has a population of nearly 4,000,000, with an economy based upon industry, agriculture and tourism. This tremendous growth is reflected in the annual State Fair in Tampa.

In Florida's industrial picture since before the turn of the century, the Brewing Industry's development has kept pace with the growing of the state.

To inform the public of the industry's importance to Florida's economy, the United States Brewers Foundation will have an exhibit building at this year's State Fair in Tampa.

Permanent Platform For P. T. A. Explained In Geneva Meeting

The regular meeting of the Geneva P-TA was held recently. There were not as many members in attendance as had been hoped for due to so much sickness in the community and bad weather.

The program for the evening was suggested by the Delegates of the Geneva P-TA who attended the Fla. Congress of Parents and Teachers Co-vention held in Orlando during the month of November, 1957. It was their belief that there were a goodly number of delegates that attended this Convention who for various reasons did not take part in the discussion, debates, and even the voting. It was explained that on the first day of business of the Convention, the Platforms, both Permanent and Active, were read, discussed, debated and passed and it was only on this day that any change could be made, for the second reading on the following day only questions were allowed on the floor to clarify the items. It was further brought out that on the first day during the heated debate of including the word "segregation" in the Active Platform the actual count of votes taken during the entire convention was 1233- a difference of 334 votes of this issue alone. They felt that the general feeling of the Convention was that the P. T. A. should ignore this vital question but the Geneva delegation felt that if this questionable issue should be eliminated from the Active Platform which is actually set up for study, for fact finding and for possible action then certainly another more questionable issue as put forth in the Permanent Platform should also be eliminated. It was reported that this Permanent Platform was the first one ever set up by the Fla. Congress of Parents and Teachers (they have had Active Platforms passed each year which when passed cancelled out the previous years) will be brought up before the Spring meetings of the Districts and it is expected that the Districts will become the basis underlying statement of policy for the Florida Congress. The three Geneva delegates, Mrs. Jack Stewart, Mrs. Lewis Brademeyer, Mrs. John M. Hughey, wanted their association to know all the facts—wanted their association to be structured to vote when they met for ratification. The delegates themselves were in favor of ratifying all of the Permanent Platform with the exception of Paragraph 5 listed under the heading—"In the Community." Acknowledging that the community—local, state, national, international—is shaping the lives of its citizens; we advocate: 5. Conscientious support of the United Nations and its agencies; believing the United Nations to be an outstanding instrument for world peace.

The feeling for the United Nations as an instrument for world peace was most sympathetic as we all want peace but there are so many points within it that should be studied and understood before an organization of the nature of the P-TA's agree to conscientiously support it and its agencies. They explained that if this paragraph had appeared under the Active Platform—for study, for fact finding and possible action there would be no necessity at this time to make an issue of it because another Active Platform will be done in the past, be presented at Convention time next year for passage. Deep concern was felt for the necessity of the P-TA's in each locality to study the points with great care before they ratify this Permanent Platform.

Guest Speaker for the evening was Dr. Wm. E. Fort of Winter Park and Rollins College. His talk was made entirely on proven facts. The facts that he gave on the United Nations and its agencies started many a member. It would certainly raise many questions in many minds if all the P. T. A. could hear him. It raised enough questions that it made those present wonder about the advisability of the P. T. A. conscientiously supporting UN and its agencies. After Dr. Fort finished his talk a very lively discussion was taken upon the floor and the following action taken. It was moved, seconded and unanimously carried that the Geneva delegation be instructed to ratify all the Permanent Platforms as adopted by the Fla. Congress of Parents and Teachers at the 1957 convention in Orlando when it is brought up for vote with the exception of Paragraph 5 under the heading of "In the community" as above stated. "5. Conscientious support of the United Nations to be an outstanding instrument for world peace" with the explanation to be given that it is too controversial an issue to be put in the Permanent Platform of the Florida Congress, and in the event that at this District meeting it is made mandatory by those qualified, that this Permanent Platform passed by the State Convention, be either accepted in full or rejected in full, then the Geneva delegation was to reject the entire Platform.

Refreshments were served in the Lunch Room at the close of the business meeting with Mrs. E. L. Fulford and her committee as hostesses.

Ladies BLF&E Society Installs New Officers

The Ladies Society of the BLF&E met recently at the home of Mrs. Walter Cook with Mrs. Alfred Greene, co-hostess.

Coach Tells P-TA Parents Should Set Good Example

"The boys and girls of Seminole High School have made no secret of their respect and admiration for this quiet-spoken, unassuming man". A spokesman of the S. H. S. P. T. A. said this recently of Coach Jim Pigott. In view of his apparent understanding of boys and girls of all ages, the Seminole High School P. T. A. asked Coach Pigott to come before the group and express his views on how the parents and children might come to a fuller understanding of each other.

Mr. Pigott referred the parents to the Bible as a guide for raising children. He stated that he feels that prayer and faith in God were foundations in his own life. It is his belief that good parents must be good listeners; should be dependable and consistent. Parents should set a good example if they wish their children to attain the high standards aspired for them.

The business of the evening followed reports by the secretary and treasurer. Mr. Claude Hittell, project chairman, reported on the recreation courts project. Volunteer committees were formed to begin work in the near future. Mr. Hittell thanked Carl Teague and Andrew Bracken for their assistance in laying the plans for the project.

Miss Barbara Ruprecht was elected to fill the unexpired office of secretary left vacant by the resignation of Mrs. A. D. Roundtree. John Kader was elected to take the place of Dave Laude, who held the vice-president's post.

Mrs. Wells Honors Bride-Elect Miss Monforton At Tea Tuesday

Miss Sandra Monforton, bride-elect of Ena. Fred Wilson, USN, was honored Tuesday at a tea given by Mrs. George Wells at her home.

Orchid poms and gladioli were used in flower arrangements throughout the home. The buffet was flanked by branched candles, labra with white tapers while the table was covered with a shell pink damask satin cloth holding white pom poms, pink carnations and baby's breath.

Greeting the guests at the door was Mrs. Claude Herndon. In the receiving line were Mrs. George Wells, Mrs. E. A. Monforton, Mrs. Al Wilson, groom-elect's mother; Miss Sandra Monforton, bride's sister; and Mrs. Walter Cook, groom-elect's sister.

Mrs. William H. Stemper and Mrs. Douglas Stenstrom poured during the afternoon while Mrs. Ralph T. Cowan Sr., Mrs. Ralph T. Cowan Jr., Mrs. Ivey T. Springer, Miss Harriett Redding and Miss Marty Stemper acted as hostesses.

The hostess presented the honoree with a pair of silver candle sticks.

Approximately 115 guests called between the hours of 4-6.

League Meets

Members of the Friendship League of the Congregational Christian Church met Monday afternoon at Fellowship Hall. There were about 25 present.

Meeting was called to order by Mrs. Heinbuch, president, and devotions were in charge of Mrs. George Chabot. Suggestions were given for raising funds for the project this year, a terrace floor for the church. It was decided to have a Valentine box lunch sale on February 12th, followed by a social hour. Mrs. H. W. Shuman is to be in charge of the lunch sale, and Mrs. Laura Ball and

Children Invited To Free Tennis Clinic Saturday

Children of all ages are invited to attend a free clinic Saturday morning, starting at 10 o'clock on the court of the Grove Manor Tennis Club. It was announced this morning by Sid Summerfield, nationally known tennis professional. This will be the second of a scheduled series of 10 clinics to be held on the newly constructed Grove Manor court and it is hoped, said Summerfield, that a good representation of the youngsters interested in tennis may be present.

Summerfield's method of teaching can take care of a class of limitless numbers and for those who have no equipment, rackets and balls are supplied, free, as is the instruction.

NEW YORK — Roy Campanella is using the same comforting refuge today which helped him through a hundred tight spots.

"I'm praying."

That's always been Roy's ace in the hole. And he was praying hopefully today as he lay in a Glen Cove hospital with a broken back suffered in an automobile accident.

They worked for him often before. They had to for this rolly-polly man to make it all the way from the Negro leagues to one of the top spots in baseball.

You remember some of them as you look back over his career, one complete with broken bones, operations and flaming tendons. Like the time in 1951 when he went down into the basement to light the gas heater and it blew up in his face.

"I prayed hard," Roy said.

For a few moments Roy thought he was blind. There was a question as to how much damage had been done to his eyesight.

"I prayed hard," Roy said.

He had a blistered cornea in each eye but treatment cleared it up. That same year he was blinded on the left ear. But despite it all, Campy came back to win most valuable player honors for the first of three times.

Roy has had more than his share of troubles, even with his own Jackie Robinson often "not on him" because, as Robinson and others fought for "recognition," the smiling, happy-go-lucky Campy wasn't militant enough. But he was there to play baseball, overcoming horribly battered hands and bad legs in the process and made the best crutched of them all because of his smiling optimism.

Campy, a beaming Buddha, could be a clown or a gadfly on the field. He was there to run the pitchers and wield a big bat. That he did in a Hall of Fame manner. Off the field campaigns he led to others. Campy was too busy making good and making a living and a future for his family.

Just Good Business

They kidded him once about parking his big, splashy Cadillac in front of his Harlem liquor store Campy grinned hugely.

"Shucks," he said, "that's as the people know I'm there. When they do, they come in and buy. That's good business — not vanity."

Another time they asked him about dissension on the team: "Dissension?" he asked. "I dunno. Maybe we got no pitchers, but what we do got is harmony. Campy's secret of success — 'praying' and 'trying.' That's why they're not counting him 'out' yet. Campy will make it back if it's humanly possible. Maybe even if it isn't possible for most humans. Because Roy has a genuine faith in his prayers — and helps them along as much as possible personally.

NEW YORK — The Wheaton Ill. Crusaders topped the third straight week but Steubenville Ohio was only 23 points behind the pace-setters.

Wheaton—which scored a 27-70 triumph over North Illinois State in its only start last week, received 19 first-place votes and a 513 points.

The nation-wide board of coaches which rates the teams based its ballots on games played through Jan. 25. Wheaton had a 15-1 record through that date.

Steubenville 17-1 held second place and gained on Wheaton by drawing seven first-place votes and 513 points.

Each coach votes for 10 teams. Points are awarded on 10-9-8-7-6-5-4-3-2-1 basis for votes from first through 10th place.

Steubenville gained on Wheaton by drawing heavy votes for second and third. The Ohio school received 10 second-place votes and an equal number for third.

Evanville Ind., which led the first week's ratings, remained third with an 11-2 record, six first-place votes and 292 points.

The two perfect-record teams in the top 10, Western Illinois 15-0 and Southwest Missouri State 14-0, again switched places. Western Illinois, which lost fourth place to the Missouri school last week, regained the spot with three first-place votes and 202 points. Southwest Missouri slipped back to fifth with seven first-place votes and 216 points.

W. Va. Tech remained 6th with a 10-2 record, five first-place votes, and received two first-place votes, the other first-place vote, South Boston University 8-1 again was ninth with 84 points. Texas Southern 13-2 advanced from 11th to 10th with 72 points. Louisiana Tech, 10th last week, slipped to 11th with 60 points.

McNesse La; was 12th while St. Peter's N. J. and Brandeis Mass. tied for 13th. Brandeis received the other first-place vote. South Dakota was 15th and Montana State 16th. Belmont Abbey N. C. and Arkansas State tied for 17th. Grambling La. and Mount St. Mary's Md. tied for 19th.

Mickey Mantle Has $75,000 Contract Within Grasp

By FRED DOWN
United Press Sports Writer
Mickey Mantle was enroute to Florida today with a $75,000 contract within his grasp but some resounding criticism ringing in his ears.

Assistant General Manager Lee MacPhail of the New York Yankees indicated that his prize slugger won't prove difficult to sign. He said he would meet again with Mantle in Florida about Feb. 10, and added:

"We're not very far apart. I don't expect any trouble getting together at our next meeting."

Mantle, however, was included in a sharply-worded critique of Yankee players Tuesday by none other than Manager Casey Stengel.

"He needs fielding practice," said Stengel. "Some balls are going straight over his head and he oughta catch 'em. He goes sideways backward instead of wheeling and running to catch balls over his head."

In a general run-down of his team, Stengel also said: "We gotta do better than we did in the World Series. We gotta wake up and find out why all those things went wrong. We messed up plays that shoulda been learned in our rookie school a long time ago."

The Detroit Tigers, meanwhile, announced the completion of their recent deal with the San Francisco Giants—had the latter selling infielder Ossie Virgil direct to farm club. The Tigers obtained first-baseman Galt Harris for infielder Jim Fingen and $20,000 in the deal.

Elsewhere:

Bob Hurricane Hale, the rookie outfielder who hit .403 in 41 games for the world champion Milwaukee Braves, returned his contract unsigned but predicted an early compromise with general manager John Quinn.

The Washington Senators signed infielder Harmon Killebrew, pitcher Ted Abernathy and first baseman Julio Becquer.

The Kansas City Athletics signed 25-year old Walt Craddock, 1938 for Buffalo in the International League last season, and Murry Dickson, 45-year old right-hander who had a 5-3 record with the St. Louis Cardinals in 1957.

John Buddha Phillips and pitcher Stover Mellish signed with the Chicago White Sox raising their contracted list to 20.

Spring Gobbler Season Canceled In Northeast Area

TALLAHASSEE — The State Game and Fish Commission has canceled the spring gobbler season in northeast Florida as a "public relations" gesture.

A group of sportsmen in the area, comprising the second conservation district, said the turkey population in the area is small and scattered and a special shooting season, that had been set for March 29 to April 6, would be detrimental to the game.

Commission technicians said the action was not necessary from a conservation point but probably was from a public relations point since so many hunters opposed the special season.

The commission voted to open Blackwater and Gaskin Management areas during the special spring gobbler season in the northwest Florida third district.

This afternoon, the commission is scheduled to elect a chairman and discuss a recommendation that it request the Cabinet to get the approval of conservation agencies before selling any more submerged or lakeshore lands.

Campanella Always Liked Baseball

By MILTON MANNING
United Press Sports Writer
NEW YORK — Little Roy Campanella, standing there and selling newspapers on a Philadelphia street corner, instinctively knew that one of his big league heroes had just belted a home run at nearby Shibe Park.

"How can you tell, Roy?" asked one of his eight-year-old companions, who also was peddling papers.

"Easy as pie," chirped the chubby little Campanella boy, still keeping an ear cocked to the roar of the crowd at the ball park.

"Hear them yellin'?" he said.

"That ain't no double or triple they hollerin' about. That there is a home run. Gotta' be, because they keep yellin' so long."

Even as a youngster, Roy Campanella dreamed of the day baseball fans would be hollerin' for him although no Negro had ever played in the major leagues as yet.

Not Like of Riley
Playing in the Negro leagues didn't exactly afford Campanella the life of a baseball Riley.

The big day for Roy came in October, 1945. He had just caught a game for the Negro All-Stars against a group of big leaguers in Newark, N. J., when Chuck Dressen, then as now a Dodger coach, told him that Dodger President Branch Rickey wanted to see him.

Campy figured it was some kind of a joke at first but the next day he dutifully visited the Dodgers' office in mid-town Brooklyn and came face-to-face with the colorful Rickey.

Lived Near Shibe Park
Shibe Park, which is now Connie Mack Stadium, was only a few blocks from the Campanella home.

Most of Roy's boyhood buddies preferred to play stick ball but Campanella liked "hard ball" much better. It wasn't long before he was playing sandlot baseball and by the time he was 13 he already was a member of the neighborhood American Legion team.

Campy wasn't particular what position he played but while he still was attending Gillespie Junior High School he noticed no one ever wanted to be the catcher. So he volunteered to handle the mask and mitt.

Actually, Campanella wasn't much of a hitter at all in his youth. He had a number of other things going for him, though, such as tremendous enthusiasm, a fine arm and a remarkable ability for

Wanted to Be a Player
Rickey asked Campanella if he would like to come into the Dodgers' organization, but Roy, thinking that Rickey was about to form another Negro league, turned down the offer. Less than two weeks later, Campanella learned that the Dodgers had made a similar offer to Jackie Robinson. And Robinson told Campanella that he was going to sign with Montreal of the International League, thereby becoming the first Negro ever to play in organized baseball.

Campy thought he had missed the boat. It turned out he was only a little late.

The following spring, the Dodgers sent him to Nashua, N. H., of the New England League, and his career was launched.

The tobacco plant was taken to Europe in 1568 by Francisco Fernandez, who had been sent by Spain to investigate the products of Mexico.

FSU Has 6-8 Season Record

12 Florida Drivers Enter New Smyrna Sports Car Races

TALLAHASSEE — No one says Florida State basketball coach Bud Kennedy, would think of sending a football team into a game without someone to call the plays.

And no one, he adds, would think of sending a basketball team into a game minus someone to serve in a similar capacity — "to call the shots."

The FSU coach is pretty definite on this.

"I'm convinced that a coach can have five of the best basketball players anywhere on his starting five, and unless he has someone to make them work as a unit, success will be eager."

Florida State, which meets tomorrow West Virginia in Morgantown Jan. 31, is currently carrying a 6-8 season record. The Seminoles have lost a lot of close ones.

Florida trailed throughout a game at Gainesville and snipped FSU at the finish, 71-70. Louisiana State won one from the Seminoles, 67-65, and The Citadel winner of the Senior Bowl tournament, edged them, 69-57.

Some measure of relief came this past Saturday when FSU finally won a close one, defeating the University of Miami, 71-70.

"It's important that a basketball team pace itself accordingly throughout a game," Kennedy said. "It has to know when to ease off to save for a final team effort."

"And it's important that it really be a team effort. I suppose you could say its like a football team mastering that final bit of energy to shove the football the last two yards for a touchdown."

According to the FSU mentor there has to be a "take charge guy" who can run the team on the floor and "bring out that maximum effort from the whole team when it's needed."

Kennedy said Florida's high scoring guard, Joe Hobbs, is a good example of a player who can "pick up" a team when it's down. And he said Miami's Gene Stage is another "game little quarterback" who can make the difference in a close one.

He acknowledges Florida State has had some difficulty finding the player to bring out the effort "I'm sure we're capable of," but he said guard Hugh Durham is shaping up as the leader.

"Durham is potentially one of the finest players we've ever had," he said. "He averaged 20 points a game last year as a sophomore, but he's had trouble getting started this season."

Durham was averaging 19 points a game until he turned the ankle in the Florida game. He has not several games and, still shy of his top form, is averaging 15.1 points a game.

He had one performance last year against Slaton of 43 points, believed to be a state record.

Currently leading FSU scorers is Burt Decker, a 6-foot, 5-inch forward averaging 17.6 points a game. Jim Litkey, a 6-foot, 3-inch guard, is averaging 14.3 points a game.

Others include Raymond L. Anderson of Riverdale, N. Y., with his Alfa Romeo, and Jack Ensey of Indianapolis, Ind., with a D Jaguar.

Duncan announced that six events are on the schedule for the regional race program, these including a 40-lap Paul Whiteman Trophy race for all modifieds and Classes B, C, E and E production, plus another 40-lapper for Classes F, G and H production plus H modifieds. The second 40-lapper is known as the Windy Morton Memorial race in honor of the late Windy Morton of Miami.

Six other preliminary events are scheduled for Sunday with practice and qualifying on Saturday, Feb. 15.

MARYLAND GAMES SET
COLLEGE PARK, Md. — The University of Maryland football team will play a 10-game schedule this fall and included are games with Auburn and Navy, two of the nation's top teams during the 1957 season. Other games will be against Wake Forest, North Carolina State, Clemson, Texas A & M, North Carolina, South Carolina, Miami, Fla. and Virginia.

AL CONSIDERS ASHEVILLE
KNOXVILLE, Tenn. — Asheville, N. C., without organized baseball for two years, may be added to the Class A South Atlantic League as the eighth team. John Duncan, a Knoxville attorney who is acting league president, said Asheville is "strongly interested" in obtaining a franchise, and a group of business men has invited league officials to discuss the possibilities.

The first President to drive a car himself was Warren G. Harding.

MISSILE ARSENAL—How the U.S. stands as of now in the missile race is illustrated by this artist's sketch. Only one, the subsonic guided missile Snark, is operational at present. It is a relatively slow-moving jet with the speed of around 600 m.p.h. In the 18,000 m.p.h. rocket-driven ballistic missile field, the intermediate range (1,500 miles) the Thor and Jupiter are scheduled to be ready to be operational by the end of the year. Late next year is the goal set for the ultimate ICBM (5,500 mile, intercontinental ballistic missile), the Atlas. In the anti-missile end of the business, the Wizard and Nike-Zeus are still in an early development stage. (UP Telephoto)

Times Are Tough For Neo-Nazis

By EDWARD J. SHIELDS
United Press Staff Correspondent
FRANKFURT — Times are tough for neo-Nazis. In the booming West Germany of 1957, they knew the bitterness of being ignored. The new year doesn't seem to hold much to cheer them.

Dr. Werner Naumann rose to the dizzying heights of Propaganda Minister Josef Goebbels' right-hand man at the age of 35, became commander of the Berlin Home Guard in the city's last desperate weeks before the Russian onslaught and was named as Goebbels' successor in Hitler's will.

Last month Naumann lost a $2,400 suit against Chancellor Konrad Adenauer's government. He had sued for damages for being held six months in 1953 under investigation as leader of a Nazi underground. Scarcely a newspaper found space to report Naumann's case.

There is no sign neo-Nazis have relaxed their hopes of carrying out Hitler's instructions in his last will and testament for "national reconstruction" of Germany on Nazi principles. But West Germans seem to feel they have done pretty well with their own brand of reconstruction.

Politicians Keep Korean Seers Busy

By CHARLES SMITH
United Press Staff Correspondent
SEOUL — Korean fortune tellers are polishing up their crystal balls and getting set for a business boom — election time is approaching.

Aspiring politicians are preparing for their campaigns, and this always includes a visit with a practitioner of the occult.

Few self-respecting politicians would think of heading into a campaign without consulting a favorite seer and getting a sounding on the political winds and an insight into the future.

Seoul's most famous prognosticator, Paik Woon Hak, says at least 150 members of the 203-seat ROK national assembly have visited him already, seeking some good signs for nationwide assembly elections in the spring.

A Korean politician usually has a sort of personal prophet, but just in case the favorite is gaining with bloodshot eyes into a clouded crystal ball on any given day, the politician will take several other soundings.

Cost Varies
"Two crystal balls are better than one," one politician said, "especially if the first happens to give a dark picture. We can all make mistakes, you know."

The cost of the consultations varies with each customer. Generally, the seer sticks each politician according to his means, but regular customers get a rate.

Paik said that of the more than 20,000 persons who have visited him during the past year, seeking his advice and predictions, almost 10 per cent were politicians.

They came from throughout the nation and held or sought offices ranging from ward positions to the highest political posts.

Pakistan Pushes New Dam Project

KARACHI — Aided by American and British resources, the Pakistan government is pushing ahead with its ambitious 150-million-dollar Mangla Dam project designed to keep northwestern Pakistan from turning into a desert.

The proposed structure, 900 miles north of Karachi and in the heart of the bitterly disputed Azad Kashmir area, will stretch almost two miles in length at its base and rise 350 feet at its highest point. The reservoir will hold three and a half million acre-feet of water in an irregular 100-square-mile mountain lake rimmed by forests.

Located on the turbulent and unpredictable Jhelum River, the dam will provide irrigation for a chunk of real estate the size of Northern Ireland or Connecticut.

But mainly it will yield nine and a half million acre-feet of water for land reclamation in the Punjab area which is steadily being turned into a salt bed at the rate of 35,000 acres per year. Without the Mangla, the lush Punjab might become a Sahara within 50 years.

To Curb Floods
The dam will be a rolled filled earth embankment flanked by a power station and a spillway. The power house will have an installed capacity of 330,000 kilowatts. From the spillway, water will cascade 200 feet to the lower Jhelum River.

Additionally, the structure will harness the sometimes wild Jhelum and half the excessive flood damage to the plains below. Its reservoir lake, stretching back 10 miles into the hills, will provide a semi-mountainous (1,200 feet above sea level) tourist resort complete with hotels, boating facilities, fishing and duck hunting.

The massive lake will submerge the city of Mirpur and affect an additional 122 villages in the area. The Pakistani government has set aside 50,000 acres for resettlement of the people and has proposed the construction of a new town near the dam site.

American and British funds will aid in financing the project, which the government hesitatingly predicts will be completed within 10 years.

Farm Implement Men Are Hopeful

CHICAGO — A nationwide group of farm implement dealers, who live and work daily with farmers and ranchers, have injected a note of optimism into the 1958 national business outlook.

They predicted, almost three to one, that business for the year will be as good or better than their 1957 volume.

The survey was conducted by Farm Implement News, a 75-year-old trade publication, among 1,000 implement dealers sampled on a percentage basis according to the number of dealers in each state.

About 43.7 per cent of the dealers expected increased business volume in 1958, the survey revealed, while 27.8 per cent felt a decline was in prospect. But 28.5 per cent of the dealers saw no change.

Three Factors
In comparing 1957 business vol-

Brundage Seeks Gambling Money

WASHINGTON — Budget Director, Percival F. Brundage, whose headache is balancing the budget, hankers after some of the money poured into gambling. For Uncle Sam, of course.

He said so when asked on the NBC-TV program "Youth Wants to Know" if he thought a national lottery would solve the government's money problems—Brundage said no.

"But I must admit that I hate to see all the benefits of the gambling that there is going to the underworld," he added. "I would like to find some way of tapping it."

Asked if he thought there might ever be a national lottery as exists in some countries, Brundage said he didn't think so.

"But," he said thoughtfully, "I wouldn't mind experimenting with some kind of a bond issue with a redemption bonus or something like that."

"I don't believe the secretary of the treasury would approve of it, however," he added hastily with a chuckle.

NARCOTICS FOUND
NEW ORLEANS — Horse owner Charlie Pope of Baton Rouge, La., has been handed a 90-day suspension by the stewards at the Fairgrounds after a forbidden narcotic was found in a urine specimen of a two-year-old colt owned by him. The colt, Kerryville, won a race at the Fairgrounds on Jan. 1, the day of the alleged offense.

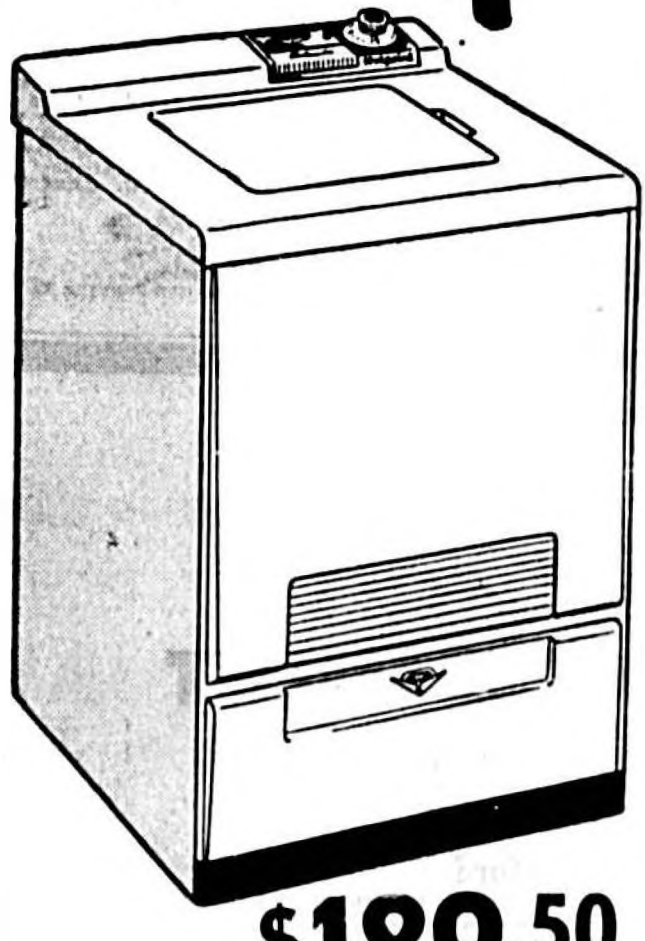

U.S.-RUSSIAN ACCORD—Retiring Soviet Ambassador Georgi Zaroubin (right) and William S. B. Lacy, Special Assistant of Secretary of State Dulles for East-West contacts, shake hands at the State Department in Washington after signing an agreement providing for broad ranges of cultural exchanges between the U.S. and Russia. U. S. Consumers Worried About Economic Outlook

ANN ARBOR, Mich. (UP)—American consumers are worried about the economic outlook for themselves and the nation, a report by the University of Michigan's survey research center said today.

The center's nationwide survey was conducted during late November and December 1957 and is the latest in a twice-yearly series going back to 1952.

The center said the survey showed consumer optimism in the economy dropped during 1957 from its all-time high in September 1956. By June 1957, consumer optimism dropped from the high of 113 on the center's attitude index to 104. By December last year the index sank to about 95, slightly above the 93 registered during the recession of late 1953.

But the center pointed out that more than half the consumers in the U. S., 54 per cent, still believe times in 1958 will be "good" on the whole. A year ago, about 75 per cent of U. S. consumers expected "good" times in 1957.

Awareness of recent unfavorable economic reports, said the center, has lowered America's inclination to buy houses and new or used cars.

The survey revealed Americans now believe the U. S. is in the grips of a recession. High prices, "uncertain times," and high expenses were also often cited by consumers as reasons for their worries.

National Income Hits Record Rate In Third Quarter

WASHINGTON (AP)—National income climbed to a record annual rate in the third quarter of 1957 and then fell back as the current business decline set in, the government has reported.

The Commerce Department said income hit a record annual rate of 362 billion dollars in the July-September quarter last year—$17,500,000,000 more than in the comparable period of 1956.

It said the increase brought the annual income rate for the first nine months of the year to $38,500,000,000, up 4 1/2 per cent from 1956.

The department said it could not give an over-all income figure for the year 1957 because it still lacked data on corporate profits. But it noted "national income turned downward" in the closing months by an undetermined amount because of slumping business conditions.

President Eisenhower estimated in his annual economic report to Congress that national income for all of 1957 totaled $38,300,000,000—the same as in the first nine months of the year.

This presumably was a rounded-off figure, however, and probably will be replaced by a more precise total when all the facts are in.

Cauliflower, the "cabbage with a college education," is recorded in human history as early as the 6th century B. C. It is the aristocrat of the cabbage family because of its sensitivity to climate, difficulty of culture and relatively high price.

Tax Law Changes Before Congress

CHICAGO—Changes in the federal tax law, expected to be considered this year by Congress, would affect the plans of many taxpayers, a national reporting authority on tax and business law believes.

Commerce Clearing House, in its 1957 annual federal tax review, said the second session of Congress faces a mountain of unfinished tax business in the 1,538 bills introduced last year.

Important among the measures already before Congress is the Mills "Technical Amendments Bill," which would accomplish far more than its title indicates, CCH said. Many of its 61 sections are designed to close loopholes or relieve hardships under current law.

CCH said Congress probably would consider sweeping changes in federal excise taxes, particularly the Forand Bill which has been passed by the House. This bill, which awaits Senate action, proposes changes designed to correct excise tax inequities and competitive disparities.

New Tax High Special attention probably will be focused on small business tax relief, CCH said. A series of hearings during the fall and winter at various cities were held by the Senate Small Business Committee proprietary to drafting a small business tax bill.

Also expected, CCH said, is the early enactment of provisions which would secure greater compliance with the law on the part of employers and others in paying taxes to the government, withheld from employee or collected from customers.

For the year ended June 30, 1957, Clearing House reported, federal tax collections reached a new high of 80 billion dollars, up five billion over fiscal 1956.

While all major taxes contributed to the increase, CCH said, the largest gain—almost four billion dollars—occurred in individual income and employment tax collections. Excise tax collections also were boosted due to higher sales and new taxes under the Highway Revenue Act, Clearing House said.

About 277 B. C., the Chinese emperor Shen Nung wrote a book on pharmacy.

ST. JOHN'S ENVELOPED OUT NEW YORK (AP)—The Eastern College Athletic Conference singled out St. John's 9-0 today as the top candidate for its new basketball trophy for major colleges. Brandeis 11-1 is the leader in the small college race.

Demo Party, Allies Are Pressing President For More Spending

WASHINGTON (UP)—The Democratic Party and its political allies are pressing President Eisenhower for more spending. This is remarkable because the Eisenhower administration already has established a new high for spending the taxpayers' money.

Pressure for spending is not limited to Democrats and such left-of-center political allies as New York's liberal party and spokesmen for organized labor.

Republican members of the Congressional farm bloc, for example, have put on the pressure for more spending to support farm prices. Spending pressure from whatever source but, especially, from Democratic sources raises a question: How much spending is enough or, more importantly, how much is too much?

Back in the Truman years, the Democratic Party was in a position to fix spending levels and objectives to suit its idea of what was good for the country. That idea also is considerably influenced, regardless of who runs the government, by considerations of what would be good for the party-in-power.

Spent Liberally

Barring a two-year lapse during the term of the 80th Congress, Democrats ran the White House and the legislative branch during the Truman years. These Democratic managers of the nation and trustees of the people's welfare were liberal spenders but not so liberal with the people's money as the Eisenhower administration has been.

This, of course, was a contradiction of all reasonable forecasts and for several reasons. The Truman administration in its final years had an expensive war going and there had been presumed to be great economies in peace. Moreover, government economy has been basic in Republican Party policy over the years.

The high costs of war and the relative economies of peace can be demonstrated in the history of any modern nation. Basic party commitments to government economy do not, however, have the same staying power. Old timers will recall the sarcastic franking to which candidate Franklin D. Roosevelt summoned the Hoover administration in the presidential campaign of 1932.

For Promised Cut

FDR promised that he would reduce government spending by 25 per cent. The Roosevelt economy effort continued not more than a couple of months after his inauguration on March 4, 1933. Thereafter government spending consistently exceeded all previous peacetime records.

During the national defense upsurge aroused by the Soviet Union's launching of Sputnik I, President Eisenhower pledged greater defense spending, notably toward a U. S. entry into outer space. He said much of the additional spending would be offset by elimination of whole categories of non-defense programs.

It is not likely, however, that the taxpayer will get the benefit

U. S. Saves Confab From Abject Failure

ANKARA, Turkey (UP)—The United States saved the Baghdad Pact conference from abject failure.

But the "northern tier" alliance still a weak fledgling which could be pulled apart by the conflicting interests and fears of its members — Turkey, Iran, Pakistan, Iraq and Britain.

As a collective security organization, the pact still has a long way to go. It is beset by problems which often threaten to obscure its basic purpose—defense against the Soviet Union.

Secretary of State John Foster Dulles, now en route home, was satisfied, however, that the four-day meeting which ended Thursday turned out better than he expected. Two key speeches by Dulles made the difference.

The Moslem members reflected the changed atmosphere in their closing speeches.

When the premiers and foreign ministers met Monday in the still unfinished Turkish Grand Assembly Building, there was a definite feeling that Dulles was bringing only himself to the conference, and that was not enough.

Held Out Loan Prospects

In addition to their own individual troubles, the pact members tended to feel they were not getting either moral support or the money they needed from the United States to meet the Soviet penetration of the Middle East with its program of threats and economic aid.

The turning point came Wednesday, the day before the conference ended.

On the opening day, Dulles already had reaffirmed that U. S. "mobile power" would be used under the Eisenhower doctrine to back the pact members against any Communist aggression.

On Wednesday he surprised the Moslem members by offering an other 10 million dollars for a project to improve wire communications between the Middle East capitals.

He held out the prospect of loans for other regional development projects for pact members from the American Loan Fund for Economic Development. The psychological impact of the promise went beyond the actual amount promised.

75 Pct. Recovery By '59 Seen For Citrus Industry

"Experts say we'll have 75 per cent recovery by 1959," Dan Wright, vice president of Patrick Fruit Corp. and president of Florida

Orange Marketeers, told the Sanford-Seminole County Junior Chamber of Commerce yesterday.

Wright discussed the facts in the statewide citrus industry with members of the Jaycees at the noon luncheon meeting and then opened the floor for questions.

"The local citrus man, who is also one of the 12 directors of the Florida Citrus Commission, saw a few incidents of two freezes, one in December and one in January. Temperatures and durations exceeded anything this state has had since the '95 freeze," Wright told the young businessmen.

Then he revealed that the U. S. Department of Agriculture has cut 22 million boxes from the 1957-58 crop which would be "the loss in two freezes."

"The loss can range anywhere from $40 to $100 million," Dan Wright explained to the Jaycees who listened intently to his report.

Then Wright came back with facts, stating "the economic loss would not be so severe because of price but it doesn't work that way."

The 75 cents a box increase which is being realized now will not represent the loss that has been experienced, he stated.

In detail, the Sanford citrus man explained the concentrate problems at the present time and what they would face in the future. "From an economic standpoint," he said, "frozen concentrate will continue to sell—but a certain group of people will be removed from the picture."

"This thing has been far-reaching," said Wright "and we won't come back next month or next year."

Everyone in the industry is "working night and day to try to solve the problem of what can be done," he said.

Wright was introduced by Herbert Stenstrom, program chairman for yesterday's meeting.

Mrs. Rita Bauer, prior to the guest speaker, appealed to the Jaycees in behalf of the Seminole Memorial Hospital Women's Auxiliary and the Hill Fever Folioes.

M. L. Raborn Jr., president of the Jaycees said "everyone here will be there either in front or back-looking or working."

Winds To Continue Over Canaveral For Several Days

CAPE CANAVERAL (UP)—High altitude winds which would block attempts to launch the Army's satellite missile may continue over Cape Canaveral for days, forecasters said today.

A powerful jet stream carrying blasts up to 200 miles an hour swept directly over the cape, where the big Jupiter C missile was believed almost ready for the nation's second attempt to fling a satellite into space to match Russia's Sputnik II.

Other missiles, including an Intercontinental Atlas and an Air Force Intermediate range Thor, also stood in their towers at the cape. But whether the jet stream winds would affect any plans to launch them was unknown.

The Jupiter C became the nation's first hope of getting a satellite into orbit around the earth when the Navy Vanguard satellite carrier was grounded with mechanical difficulties which also resulted from bad weather during several attempts to launch the booster rocket last week.

Summerfield Will Lead Free Tennis Clinic Tomorrow

Children of all ages are reminded of the free tennis clinic to be staged on the court of the Grove Manor Tennis Club tomorrow morning at 10 o'clock. Sid Summerfield, well-known tennis instructor, who has conducted successful clinics in many cities throughout the country, will furnish rackets and balls without charge.

Tomorrow morning's event will be the second in a series of ten free clinics intended to give children a splendid foundation in one of the finest of all competitive sports.

THE FEMALE LION CUB, one of the two that are to arrive in Sanford Wednesday morning. She is leash broken. The cubs are gifts of the Florida State Zoo and the local Jaycees.

Stennis Asks Check Rein On McElroy In Space Research

WASHINGTON (UP)—Sen. John C. Stennis called today for a check rein on Defense Secretary Neil H. McElroy in outer space research.

The Mississippi Democrat told newsmen the Defense Department should be limited to military projects in outer space research until Congress decides whether overall authority in the field should be vested in a civilian agency.

Senate Studies Defense Bill

The issue confronted the Senate Appropriations Committee in the form of a 10 million dollar item in a House approved $1,200,000,000 supplemental money bill to speed defense efforts in the missile race with Russia.

Other House Needs:

- Russian emphasis on a huge submarine fleet, NATO Atlantic Commander Adm. Jerauld Wright said, indicates the Soviets do not expect another world war to be "over in a few days."
- Wright said the Russians now have 450 combat ready subs—the largest submarine fleet "the world has ever known."
- If S. officials said they have received reports Russia is preparing to launch its third earth satellite—a monster weighing possibly 2,000 pounds.

Eggheds Day Near

—Sen. Clifford P. Case (R-N.J.) said the "day of the egghead is coming." He warned against over-concentration of missile satellite efforts. Case said Americans still must grapple with other tough problems, such as education, that are basic to national security.

Advances In Nuclear Defense

WASHINGTON (UP)—The Atomic Energy Commission said today new tests in the Pacific this year will advance nuclear defenses against enemy intercontinental ballistic missiles.

Earlier this week, on Tuesday, Maj. Gen. John P. Daly of the Army's special weapons branch told Congress's Nike-Zeus antimissile missile bases could be established by 1952.

Meanwhile, the Air Force has said it will test nuclear explosions in space above the atmosphere to determine their effectiveness against enemy space missiles.

Presumably such tests would mean detonation of missile-borne warheads high above the Eisenhower proving grounds in the Pacific.

Advance Defense Weapons

In its 3rd semi-annual report to Congress, the commission said that Pacific tests starting in April will advance the development of weapons for defense against aggression whether airborne, missile-borne, or otherwise mounted.

The AEC also:

- Announced a program to develop peaceful uses of atomic explosions, including "excavation."
- The commission believes nuclear blasts deep underground may be used to level mountain ridges and store energy. An underground shot in Nevada last year is believed to have sealed perhaps as much as 90 per cent of its energy in a 700 ft. shaft which can be tapped.
- The AEC is now drilling down toward this pool of energy.

Progress Without Precedent

—Reported that in 1957 "some firms" dropped out of atomic industry, a fact which "may temporarily deter new firms from entering." But despite this "adjustment," progress "without precedent" has been made in the past three years toward economic nuclear power and establishment of an atomic energy industry. It said "no other major scientific discovery has ever before been applied so quickly to so many practical uses."

—Said that paralleling growth of the U. S. industry "has been the expansion throughout the free world of organized effort to put atomic science, atomic tools, and atomic technology to work for human betterment."

Slayer Says Killed Because Of Haired Built Up In Self

GERING, Neb. (UP)—Mass killer Charles Starkweather has admitted murdering 11 persons in two states because of a "hatred that built up in me," authorities said today.

"Since I was a child I wanted to be an outlaw, but I didn't want it to go this far," the 19-year-old Lincoln, Neb., sharpshooter told authorities.

Sheriff Merle Karnopp of Lincoln said Starkweather made the statements Thursday night during their trip by car from Douglas, Wyo., to Gering.

Earlier, Wyoming officials arraigned Starkweather on charges of murdering and the 14-year-old sweetheart, Caril Fugate, for prosecution in Nebraska.

Starkweather, a stocky, red-haired gunman, was captured Wednesday night in a bullet-punctured police chase near Douglas shortly after he had killed his 11th victim, a traveling salesman.

Lincoln officials wasted no time extraditing Starkweather and Caril to Nebraska where Starkweather faces the death penalty on a murder charge. Caril also has been charged with murder, but claims she was Starkweather's terrified hostage on his murder spree.

"I want to go back to Nebraska because Wyoming has a gas chamber and I don't like the smell of gas," Starkweather was quoted as saying by the Sheriff.

"I suppose they'll have the chair ready for me."

Cubs Arrive Wednesday Morning

Two lion cubs will arrive in Sanford next Wednesday morning to take their places in the local zoo.

Traveling by plane from Cleveland, O. on a non-stop Middle Airlines flight and then met by big-wigs and dignitaries from Sanford, the two cubs will take their place in a parade and then get a royal welcome to the city.

The two cubs, of the same litter, are coming to Sanford from the Cleveland Zoological Society which operates the Cleveland Zoo. The female of the pair has been leash broken and at present goes home with Mike the Zookeeper in Cleveland.

Both cubs are gifts to the Municipal Zoo.

The first one, a male, is a gift of the Florida State Bank and was purchased after long negotiations by Mervin Crandall of the FSB staff with bank dignitaries in Chicago.

As a matter of fact, the vice president of the Chicago National Bank will be in Sanford to celebrate the arrival of the two cubs.

The second cub, female, is a gift of the Sanford-Seminole County Junior Chamber of Commerce and purchased from funds which were raised for the expansion of the Sanford Zoo.

Many of the Jaycees and Jayceettes will go to the airport to greet the new tenants of the lions cage at the Sanford Zoo.

City Manager Warren E. Knowles is having the lions cages in the Sanford Zoo renovated and modernized for the two cubs arriving on Feb. 8. Yesterday workmen were busy ripping away the old cage.

So far there are no names for the Mr. and Miss of the Lion World. It is expected that a contest will get underway soon after arrival of the pair in order to select suitable names for them.

First thing though, according to Mervin Crandall and others who are interested in making the zoo one of the state's finest attractions, "is to get the two cubs here in the grand and regal fashion of the Lion world."

RESULT OF "JUST SHOOTING"—Police look at a part of a truck trailer loaded with dynamite after it exploded near Lebanon, Tenn. Two teen-age boys were "just shooting at things" set off the tremendous blast when they fired rifle shells into the explosive-laden vehicle. One of the boys, 15-year-old Glenn C. Gully, was killed in the ensuing blast, while his companion, Charles Pruitt, 17, was seriously injured. (UP Telephoto)
