Bobby Breen Takes Part In Hawaiian Native Festival

Colorful scenes of an Hawaiian native festival are an interesting part of "Hawaii Calls," Bobby Breen's new musical starring vehicle, which comes to the Ritz Theatre next Thursday and Friday.
This native feast is an occasion of great ceremony in the Hawaiian Islands, and becomes a festive celebration which has no counterpart in any other section of the United States. In the picture, Bobby, Ned Sparks, Irvin S. Cobb, Gloria Holden, Warren Hall, Mamo Clark, Juanita Quigley, Herbert Rawlinson, Pas Lani and many others are guests at a luncheon on the island of Maui, given by an Hawaiian dowager to celebrate the return of her young nephew from San Francisco.

"GIRL OF THE GOLDEN WEST"

Nelson Eddy, the screen's golden voiced baritone, who plays the lead opposite lovely Jeanette MacDonald in the romantic musical "The Girl of the Golden West."

Innocent Remark Causes Family To Make Long Voyage

When more laughs can be packed into a movie than will be crammed into "A Trip To Paris," showing at the Ritz Theatre next Saturday, 20th Century-Fox's famous Jones Family will do it.
For sheer fun-frenzy, America's favorite folks scramble off on the happiest, laughiest adventure they've ever concocted since some genius thought up this great group of actors.

They've been mixed up in politics, love, courtship and marriage—and more recently, we recall, in a "bride comes home" story.
But never anything as hilarious as the escapade which starts out innocently enough with Dad Jones (Jed Prouty) dropping the remark that he intends to take a vacation in Paris Falls. The next yard (gossip) wireless does an amusing bit of garbling the message to Garcia. It travels faster than Dad himself—so by the time he gets home, his overjoyed brood is half-packed and rarin' to go.

For Paris... FRANCE!
Ma Jones (Spring Byington) and Granny (Florence Roberts) bundle Lucy (June Carver), young Jack (Ken Howell), Roger (George Ernest) and Bobby (Billy Mahan) into traveling gear and make arrangements with the newswrecks (Shirley Deane and Russell Gleason) to take care of the Jones' "mount" while they're away.
Dad gets peevish. Ma learns the rumba, Granny views with alarm. Lucy joins the Latin quarter and Roger and Jack run afoul of a spy ring as the result of Jack's infatuation for Joan Valerie before cousin Willie (Harold Huber) gets them safely back on the boat for America. And Dad learns that the Rue de la Paix means "pay, and pay, and pay."
But Mr. Clair directed the film with Max Goldstein associate producer, Robert Ellis and Helen Logan based the original screen play on the characters created by Katharine Kavanaugh.

Early California Days Portrayed In Musical

LOVERS

Sally Eilers and Paul Kelly, in Universal's exciting action drama, "Nurse From Brooklyn."

"The Jones Family"

Jeanette MacDonald and Nelson Eddy have reached their topmost heights to date as the screen's queen and king of songs in "The Girl of the Golden West," which opens tomorrow at the Ritz Theatre.
An excellent blending of charming music and the romance of California in her early, rife gold camp and pastoral mission days (the new opera is an inspiring picture recommended for theatergoers and music lovers of all ages. The picture is based on David Belasco's memorable stage play.
It is the story of the orphan girl, Mary, who owns the Palms Saloon and dance hall in Cloudy Mountain gold camp. She is loved by all the boys but the gambling sheriff, Jack Rammer, is the favored one.

On her way to Monterey, her stagecoach is held up by the masked bandit, Rammer, who is smitten by her beauty. He trails her and when a carriage arrives to convey her to the Governor's office it is Rammer, masquerading as a young army officer, who escorts her. They fall in love.
At the festival, where "The Marriage" is a colorful early California dance and feast is held, Rammer sees when he sees soldiers approaching, Rammer, dressed as an American, again appears in Cloudy Mountain at Mary's saloon. Suspicious, Rammer immediately takes a dislike to the stranger.
Rammer, because he has forbidden her, Miss Rammer's native sweetheart, betrays her to Sheriff Rammer. In his pursuit, Rammer wounds the bandit and later captures him in Mary's cabin. He surrenders to the Sheriff and plays cards with her for the life of Rammer. Mary wins, but Rammer catches her cheating. She pretends to marry the sheriff if he will free Rammer. Rammer does, but swears he will kill the bandit on sight.

At the mission, on the day of the wedding, Mary hears a familiar song in the patio. It is Rammer. Rammer finds them in an embrace, but offers to give Rammer an even chance for his life.

The American Legion convention in New York City was something neither the Legionnaires nor New Yorkers will forget, and those who missed all the fun of the 20th Century-Fox comedy, "Battle of Broadway," re-enacted it Tuesday and Wednesday at the Ritz Theatre with Victor McLaglen, Brian Donlevy, Louise Hovick heading the cast.

SITUATION'S WELL OUT OF HAND!

The hoisterous spirit of Capt. Plax and Sergeant Quirk, of "What Price Glory" and "The Cockeyed World," rises high in 20th Century-Fox's comedy of the American Legionnaires in New York, "Battle of Broadway," coming to the Ritz Theatre, Victor McLaglen and Brian Donlevy are the two toughest guys in the outfit, and Louise Hovick sings "The Daughter of Mademoiselle."

Legion Convention In New York Is Background For New Comedy Film

The Army, Navy and Marines will land Tuesday at the Ritz Theatre.
The merry military onslaught by all branches of the service, of course, will be the robust and riotous "Battle of Broadway," which is based on the American Legion's "unconventional convention" in New York. Victor (Ma yu) McLaglen and Brian (One punch) Donlevy arrive on the Gay White Way in the Legion company to see what makes the city tick. The village on the Hudson River so popular.
Not since Mademoiselle from Armentieres was a mere slip of a girl, not since "What Price Glory" and "The Cockeyed World" has there been such backslapping on the screen. McLaglen and Donlevy, both honest-off-screen veterans, lend more truth to this film than play-acting could ever devise.
These battle-scarred veterans know all the maneuvers... and when they lay siege to beautiful Louise Hovick, "Battle of Broadway," like the Battle of the Marne, becomes nothing more than a whole collection of fights conveniently filed under one heading.
The cast of the film includes Raymond Walburn, Lynn Bari, Jane Darwell and Robert Kellard.
The lusty screen play by Lou Brylaw and John Patrick combines business with pleasure for Vic and Brian. Walburn assigns them the task of breaking his son's romance with a chorus girl while they are in New York. Louise pretends to be Bob Kellard's fiancée, to save the real affair, and the boys have a grand time trying to steal her away from Bob, and each other.
A good deal of the fun may be credited to George Marshall, who directed, with Sol M. Wertzel executive producer.

Investigate Rumors

Rumors have been spreading widely inferring that I was the author and "Daddy" of the 1927 Commercial Taxing Bill. The absurdity of such accusations can be clearly seen by anyone who turns to read Page 1711 of the Journal of the House of Representatives.
The purpose of this bill was to provide for the collection of occupational license fees from which the State can derive every source, including barbers, commission merchants, and other professions, trades, and vocations.
The bill was introduced by me on March 14, 1927, and was passed by the House on March 28, 1927, and by the Senate on April 1, 1927.
A group of men, including the Florida Business Association, has been circulating a "Daddy" bill, which is a copy of the Florida Commercial Taxing Bill of 1927, and is intended to cause confusion and to lead to the passage of a similar bill in the future.
I am sure that the public will be satisfied with the results of the investigation of this matter.

Sudetans Renew Czech Demands

Fighting Stalemated On War Fronts In Shantung Province

The world waited anxiously today for the full portent of the impending Hitler-Mussolini rendezvous in Rome while tension in central Europe, of prime concern to both dictators, was heightened by the demand for a plebiscite among Czechoslovakia's restive German minority.

Berlin turned out cheering, a flag waving farewell to Hitler and his imposing entourage—the very site and composition of which foreshadowed the possibility of important adjustments in the Rome-Berlin axis.

The German public, however, was cautioned not to expect sensational announcements.

Italian troop trains rolled into Rome for a majestic reception to Hitler when he arrives tomorrow for a week in Italy.

Mud still clogged the wheels of war in Spain and the struggle on China's southern Shantung province front appeared to have sagged into a deadly stalemate.

International interest in the Chinese-Japanese war shifted to Shanghai with reports that thousands of Chinese guerrilla warriors had slipped into the city to harass the Japanese.

In Czechoslovakia yesterday Nazi chiefs stumped the Sudeten German region renewing demands for concessions while anti-Nazi Germans attempted to offset their May Day demands with promises to join the Czechs in defending the nation.

The demonstrations passed off in a flood of oratory except at Troppau, near the German front—(Continued on Page Four)

The county registration Mr. Thigpen announced largely to the fact that the poll tax was eliminated as a prerequisite to voting.

LaGuardia Asks Group To Study Recovery Plan

WASHINGTON, May 2.—(AP)—Mayor Fiorello La Guardia of New York today proposed that Congress set up a "recovery recovery committee" and instruct it to work out a program for submission to a special session of the full Congress.

Mayor La Guardia appeared before the House appropriations sub-committee in the capacity as president of the United States Conference of Mayors.

He said he had suggested the President's spending program but argued that it had made sufficiently flexible so that all parts of the country would benefit.

William Green, president of American Federation of Labor, endorsed the spending program plan earlier as a means of meeting conditions caused by the unemployment increase which he said had totaled 2,000,000 persons since September.

He appeared at a closed session of the committee but later said he "referred to the seriousness of existing economic system and recommended that Congress approve the recommendations of the President."

Wilcox Is Elated By Fund Request For 5 Air Bases

WEST PALM BEACH, May 2.—Returning here yesterday from Key West, where he addressed a great political rally Saturday night, Mark Wilcox, candidate for the United States Senate, was elated over the news contained in an Associated Press dispatch from Washington to the effect that Chairman Andrew Jackson May of the House Military Affairs Committee had requested that $124,000,000 of the new four and a half billion dollar "pump priming" fund be earmarked for the construction of five Army air bases authorized under the Wilcox Air Defense Act.

Wilcox called attention to the fact that his air defense act calls for the establishment of five strategic air bases along the United States frontiers.

Wilcox declared Florida will get one of the air bases. "I am in touch with the situation," he said, "and the people of Florida may rest assured that this state will not be overlooked when locations for these bases are designated."

The Wilcox Air Defense Act, designed to provide the United States with an adequate defense against air attack, has been stamped by Wilcox for the campaign for the Senate as one of his major congressional achievements. Wilcox also has pointed out that his Municipal Bankruptcy Act, his bill creating the Everglades National Park and his amendment to the crop control measure appropriating $1,000,000 to create new markets for Florida fruits and vegetables, are among legislation of national importance which he has passed during the time he has been in Congress.

On him I lean, who, not in vain, Experienced every human pain; He sees my wants, allays my fears,

And counts and treasures up my tears.

If ought should tempt my soul to stray, From heavenly virtue's narrow way—

To fly the good I would pursue, Or do the sin I would not do— Still he, who felt temptation's power

Shall guard me in that dangerous hour.

When sorrowing o'er some stone, Which covers all that was a friend,

And from his voice, his hand, his smile, I find me, for a little while,

My Saviour see the tears I shed, For Jesus wept o'er Lazarus dead.

And, if when I have safely passed Through every conflict but the last— Still still unchanging, watch beside

My painful bed—for thou hast died; Then point to realms of cloudless day,

And wipe my latest tear away.

One reason the Sugar Control Act is not as popular with Seminole County farmers is because Sugarland interests, denied the right of producing sugar, are handing to celery production. This year more than 400 acres were planted in direct competition to Seminoles celery farmers. More than 1,000 acres are planned for Sugarland celery next year. Farmers here know that if they were allowed to plant sugar cane, they would not bother with celery.

Here's Mud In Your Eye

For an off election year the current political campaign is winding up in a blaze of glory which promises to rival the most outstanding oratorical displays of any in former years.

The ballot which will confront the voter tomorrow is not a long one, but it contains groups and candidates about which we doubt if many of our citizens have made up their minds.

For instance, there are three members of the Supreme Court to be elected and two members of the railroad commission. How many of you know the names of these candidates or for what they stand?

For railroad commissioner we find Eugene Matthews, who has filled the office for many years, opposed by Bruce Davis and W. E. Hancock.

Not many people know that the senatorial race is a five sided affair with T. C. Merchant and Finley Moore campaigning against the three leading contenders.

One of the most interesting contests in local politics has been that between H. J. Lehman and Judge Sharon. Both are veterans in this game and capable men.

In the other legislative group, most of the firework have centered around Gordon Barnett and his effort to incorporate his home town of Fern Park.

The LaFollette Program

Admitting that there are parts of the program open to serious question, the Christian Science Monitor finds an appeal in the LaFollette third party movement which brooks no good for either stand pat Democrats or Republicans.

"What kind of a way is this to cook up a political party?" the Monitor asks.

"The most familiar recipe is to throw together a program which attempts to satisfy every variety of discontent and every desire of selfish gain.

"And as for promises to give something to those who have votes, look at this: 'We flatly oppose every form of coddling or spoon-feeding the American people.'

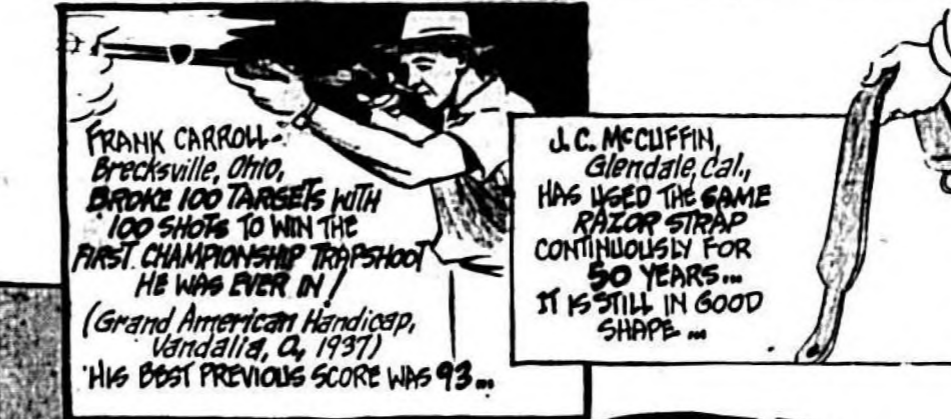

"In several other respects the program challenges self-interest and prejudice. It may turn many away. But its simplicity and courage will win many.

MAN ABOUT MANHATTAN

By GEORGE TUCKER

NEW YORK—It seems to me that the art galleries in New York are defeating their purpose in patterning themselves after funeral parlors.

As I understand it, artists paint pictures to make money. The function of the gallery is to serve as a show-window and bring the merchandise into view of the buyer.

When you walk into a haberdashery or real estate office you are practically overwhelmed with kindness and attention. They turn on the salesmanship, offer helpful little suggestions, and are so persuasive that you usually walk out with far more than you intended to buy.

You will find nothing approximating this in the art galleries in Manhattan. To me they seem gloomy, inhospitable and depressing.

As a matter of fact, the only people you see besides a few visitors are a number of attendants, dressed in a sort of uniform and standing with their backs against great white marble pillars, lost in melancholy detachment.

Recently, I dropped by the Anderson galleries in 57th street, where most of the important galleries are situated. Here again was the same vague disinterestedness, nobody saying anything, solemn-faced guards staring moodily into space.

For nearly half an hour I dallied amid old world treasures whose accumulated value would finance a Balkan kingdom. I had never been there before. Nobody knew that I wasn't a prospective buyer with money in my pocket to spend.

Nevertheless, after 30 minutes of tiptoeing around like a timid rabbit I got out of there without a single soul so much as saying, "Here's a snappy little Gogh. Couldn't I wrap it up for you?"

CHARACTERISTICS

Where he stands and how he stands is told by his past record of public service. He supports good legislation and opposes bad.

There should be three characteristics of marks of fitness to be a U. S. Senator: the brain to know what is right, honesty and courage to do what is right and the ability to accomplish the right. It is on these characteristics Mark Wilcox submits his candidacy.

THE RECORD

He is author, among others, of the Wilcox Municipal Bankruptcy Law (enacted during his first term as congressman and re-enacted in 1937). These laws were recently validated by the U. S. Supreme Court. He also is author of the Wilcox National Defense Act and the agricultural amendment, $1,000,000 to create new markets for our fruits and vegetables. He opposed renewal of the reciprocal Trade Agreement with Cuba, the Supreme Court bill, the wage and hour bill, the sugar quota bill and the anti-lynching bill.

tional contest holds the national spotlight because it is considered by many to be the first proving ground this year of new deal popularity.

Voters crowded registration offices in many counties until the deadline to qualify for the balloting. Estimates of the expected vote range upward to 450,000, compared with Florida's previous record of 328,000 in 1930.

United States Senator Claude Pepper, ardent new dealer, seeks election to a full term on a straight Roosevelt platform. The issue in the campaign, Pepper said Saturday night at Tampa, is whether "the federal government will be returned to Wall Street."

Opposing Pepper are former Governor Dave Sholtz, Representative Mark Wilcox, T. C. Merchant, weekly newspaper publisher, and Finley Moore, an abstract man.

Sholtz has campaigned chiefly on his record as governor. Both when governor and since that time, he had stumped for the new deal in various parts, he said, he will "not be an anti nor a rubber stamp."

Wilcox, now serving in Congress from the fourth district, has not campaigned as an anti-Roosevelt candidate, but has stressed his opposition to several new deal measures, including the reorganization bill. He termed Pepper a "Roosevelt rubber stamp."

Merchant's principal plank has been a referendum before the United States can enter any war except for self-defense.

Moore advocates restriction of immigration, careful federal spending, and promises to oust foreign-born and negroes from federal jobs in Florida.

Holding the New Deal issue is by no means clearly cut, many observers point to a multitude of local issues raised by the candidates and hold that these, the personalities and political alignments within Florida will play a major role.

Both Sholtz and Wilcox have accused the WPA of stacking its rolls with Pepper workers, Malcolm Miller, southeastern regional representative for WPA, came here and announced his investigation disclosed "no evidence of abuse" in WPA employment.

Wilcox promised a congressional investigation and Sholtz likewise said he would seek a "clean-up" after June 1.

Florida also will name half of its state senators, a complete new house of representatives and many local officers in Tuesday's voting.

Sholtz Is Optimistic Over Primary Results

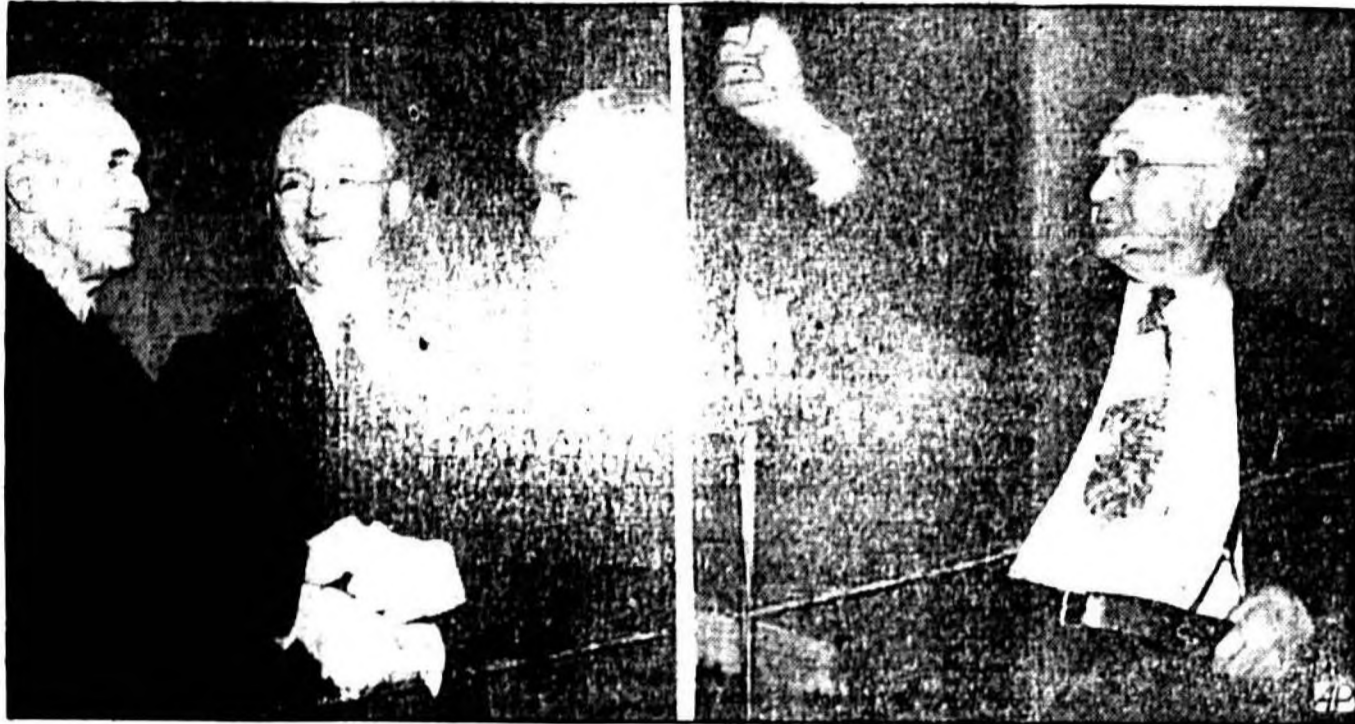

MIAMI, May 2.—Optimism pervaded Sholtz for Senator headquarters here as plans were made for a smashing climax to the State-wide first primary race.

The former governor arrived here after an intensive and "most successful" week of campaigning and prepared to deliver his final address to a mammoth audience at Bayfront Park tonight.

He is scheduled to give a radio talk over a five-station State-wide radio hook-up from 10 to 10:30 o'clock tonight.

Registration In Orange County Shows Increase

ORLANDO, May 2.—A record number of Orange County residents will go to the polls in 37 precincts Tuesday and in an "off-year" election, vote for a United States Senator and a bevy of local county candidates as Democrats nominate candidates in the first primary.

A short ballot, occasioned by many unopposed candidates in the first Democratic primary, will not necessarily mean a rapid count, it was explained by Dick Tucker, Supervisor of Registrations, who claimed that the exceptionally heavy vote expected would offset the brevity of the ballot.

All polls in the county will open at exactly 8 o'clock Tuesday morning May 3, and will remain open during the day until 7:03 o'clock that evening, official sundown.

The largest registration ever seen in Orange County, notwithstanding the off-year vote, piled the list of eligible voters well over the 20,000 mark compared to a figure slightly over 16,000 who were qualified in the county in 1930 when a huge vote was cast to return President Roosevelt to office for his second term.

Are You an Ozzie?

At least, Can You Honestly Say You Have Never Pulled an "Ozzie" Stunt?

Highway Enemy No. 1

WANTED: This man responsible for death of 40,000 persons on highways last year. If you should see him, while looking in the mirror, authorities urge you to reform at once.

HARTFORD, Conn. — (Special) — The typical highway killer of 1932, according to The Travelers Insurance Company's analysis of last year's auto accidents was not necessarily a speeder, or a drunken driver or a reckless driver. He wasn't in fact, a "chronic or vicious violator of any sort. He was just an average driver, even as you and I, who possessed too much of the attitude that "the other fellow" was always wrong and too little knowledge of the traffic laws and the actual causes of accidents.

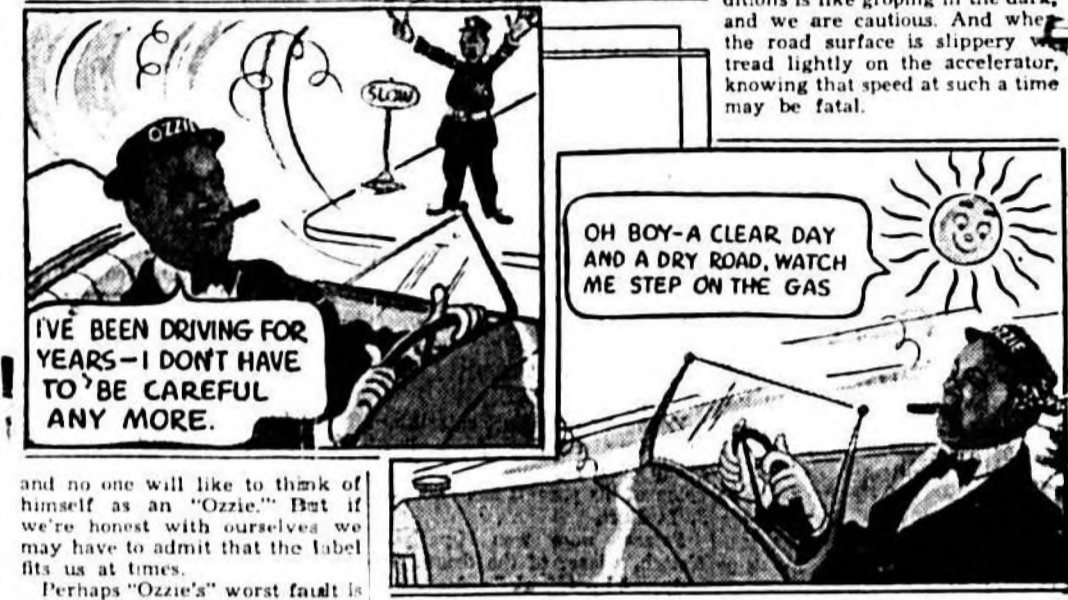

To emphasize this thought, we introduce a personification of this average driver in the character of "Ozzie," who knew just what he was doing, and his antics in the highway provide much amusement while furnishing serious food for thought.

He's an exaggerated character at the wheel. The other 97 per cent were "experienced" drivers, like "Ozzie," who knew just what to do with their hands and feet but who didn't use their heads.

Truck drivers and women drivers are anathema to "Ozzie." We may all be impatient with them

"Ozzies" should be deflated when they read these figures. There's another mistake which "Ozzies" are likely to make. They feel that when visibility is good and the road surface is dry they don't have to be careful. Most of us have learned to fear snow, rain and fog. Driving under such conditions is like groping in the dark, and we are cautious. And when the road surface is slippery we tread lightly on the accelerator, knowing that speed at such a time may be fatal.

and no one will like to think of himself as an "Ozzie." But if we're honest with ourselves we may have to admit that the label fits us at times.

Perhaps "Ozzie's" worst fault is his cock-sureness. It's these beginners that cause all the trouble, you're likely to hear him say.

He would be surprised to learn that only three per cent of drivers in fatal accidents last year had less than one year's experience at times, but the fact of the matter is that eight out of ten vehicles involved in fatal accidents are passenger cars, and 94.4 per cent of drivers involved in fatal accidents are males. The ego of all

The accident totals show this to be true, for only 17 per cent of all fatal accidents occur during fog, snow and rain; less than 22 per cent occur on wet, snowy or icy roads.

What we must all learn is that a little less speed even under the best conditions is advisable. The Goops probably had a much to do with improving the table manners and drawing room manners of adults as any other single factor. It is to be hoped that "Ozzie" may have an equally beneficial influence on our highway manners.

'FIRST FISHERMAN' SAILS FROM CHARLESTON

Joseph Buerckel Manages Hitler's Coup In Austria

Leader Is Virtual Dictator In Re-Union Of Nations

Joseph Buerckel's claim to his new job as Hitler's clean-up man in Austria is as simple as this:

On March 11 Germany seized Austria. On April 10 all good Nazis in both countries voted approval of the coup. Total vote 99.98 per cent. Vote in Austria itself 99.75 per cent. Joseph Buerckel managed the campaign in Austria.

When it comes to getting out the vote for his chief, Buerckel far exceeds even America's James A. Farley.

Three years before the returns from Austria came in, he had demonstrated his prowess as a vote getter for Hitler by bringing in a thumping majority in the Saar plebiscite. In the face of strong anti-Nazi, pro-French and pro-League of Nations agitation, he produced a 90.5 per cent majority for the Saar's return to the Reich. Before that the rich Saar district had been under League of Nations rule for 15 years.

Now hefty, determined-looking Buerckel is virtual dictator of Austria as federal commissioner for the reunion of that country with the Reich.

Thus he stands above even Arthur Seyss-Inquart, who edged out Independent Austria's Chancellor Schuschnigg as a prelude to Anschluss and became governor of the German province of Austria under Hitler. As consolation, Seyss-Inquart has Hitler's promise of a post in the Berlin cabinet after Buerckel has completed his job of reunion.

Buerckel, 41, is a product of the Rhineland Palatinate. Born March 20, 1895, at Lingenfeld, he planned to teach as a career, but the World War interfered. He volunteered, served four years at the front, and received an appointment as a teacher in a Rhine village while French troops were in occupation.

An ardent patriot, he early joined the young Nazi movement which aimed to liberate the Fatherland from the foreign yoke. He was soon Hitler's confidential agent in the Palatinate. In 1930 he was elected to the Reichstag.

His great opportunity came when Franz von Papen, then vice-chancellor and Reich commissioner for the Saar region, was appointed ambassador to Vienna. Buerckel succeeded him in the Saar post. His successful campaign to bring that region back to Germany is history.

His next great opportunity came with the seizure of Austria. Placed in charge of the plebiscite there, Buerckel forbade by decree all political activity, except his own.

"My task is not a difficult one," his decree said: "You are asked the plain question: Are you a German, do you belong to Germany and to Adolf Hitler, or not?"

Negro College To Co-operate In NYA Training Program

The Florida A. and M. College has agreed to cooperate with the National Youth Administration in offering a training course for a group of 25 negro girls in home-making and domestic service and 25 negro boys in agriculture and shop work. It was announced today by R. A. Goodspeed, local NYA administrator.

The work program will consist of sewing which will include the making of articles for the college. Mr. Goodspeed said, adding that a number of the girls may be assigned to other duties, in connection with the college.

He reported that the boys will work on the school farm, in the future, and around as may be required. A physical examination will be required and dental supervisors are expected to make arrangements for the before sending the boys and girls to the project, Mr. Goodspeed declared.

While there are specific educational requirements, Mr. Goodspeed, asserted, it seems advisable to select boys and girls who have completed the equivalent of the sixth grade.

A definite date for filing applications will be announced later, he said.

Daylight saving time doesn't really save any time. Clocks merely are turned an hour ahead so that the evening remains light longer.

Insufficient Funds Threatens Close Of Orlando Sanatorium

TALLAHASSEE, May 2.—(AP) The State has advanced $4,286 to meet payroll for the Tuberculosis Hospital at Orlando which officials said was threatened with closing for lack of funds. Chairman W. T. Edwards, of the State Tuberculosis Board, said the hospital had spent all its reserve funds and could not continue without State help. The Budget Commission agreed to meet the payroll, but emphasized that more money would be voted until expenses at the State County supported institution were reduced materially.

"You're going to have to cut this away down," said Governor Tom, "if you're going to keep on paying it. We're not going to obligate ourselves to anything like this." "It would be bad to have to let the government take it over," Edwards said if expenses were not met the hospital would go to the Federal government which holds $270,000 of revenue bonds securing a loan from PWA. Comptroller J. M. Lee said in effect the State was using money to meet payments on the loan, although the State itself is prevented by the Constitution from borrowing money.

Governor Cone said this was "indirect borrowing" to get around the constitutional ban. "They won't do it again with my consent," he said, adding that he referred to all State activities, including the Board of Control which has built many structures at the colleges and State institutions with PWA loans and grants. Lee reported in the Budget Commission that the State had a General Fund Treasury balance of $50,000 after meeting April pay-rolls, and had $180,600 in unpaid general bills. The Tuberculosis Hospital allotment comes out of a $25,000 appropriation for aiding the institution. Yesterday's was the first State contribution to the hospital since it opened. Questioned whether he was incurring one million sterling in British film industry Sam Goldwyn, American movie magnate, said smiling: "Silence is Goldwyn."

In announcing my candidacy for Re-Election As COUNTY COMMISSIONER For the 3rd District I wish to thank the voters of this county for their kind and generous support in the primary of 1936. I believe I have justified your confidence in me, and with the experience gained during my term of office, coupled with former experience along the same line, I will be able to serve my county even better in the critical years to come. In co-operation with our board I have helped reduce taxes without reducing benefits. I have impartially served my district and my county, and if again returned to office I pledge the same service that my record of the past sixteen months should do for at this time replace experience with inexperience. I will appreciate your vote and your help at the May 3rd primary. Respectfully yours, W. B. Ballard

In announcing my candidacy for the office of County Commissioner in District No. 4 I will say that I have pride in Seminole County. As a farmer, and a taxpayer since I was 15 years old, I am interested in the development of our County. I believe in reduction of taxes where and when it does not injure the benefits due the taxpayer. Your vote and support in the primary, May 3rd, will be greatly appreciated. J. E. Partin

Hitler Visits Mussolini In City Of Rome

Thousands Cheer German Dictator As His Train Speeds Thru Italian Countryside

Talks With Duce For One Hour

Greatest Welcome Is Planned In History Of Italian Nation

ROME, May 3.—(AP)—Adolf Hitler moved in triumph across Tuscany late today toward Rome where Fascism prepared for him the greatest welcome in Italy's history.

As the German Fuehrer's special train sped southward, cheering crowds and waving flags greeted him at every station.

By mid-afternoon crowds had gathered at the little seaside station outside Rome where Premier Mussolini was to meet his fellow dictator and confer with him for an hour aboard the train.

Mussolini was expected to precede Hitler into Rome and formally greet him at the station in the city.

In Rome police intensified an already strict surveillance as a precaution against any attempt on Hitler's life.

While the Italian press devoted nearly all its space to Hitler's visit, L'Espresso Romano, the Vatican organ did not mention it.

While all Italy greeted the German leader, the rest of Europe waited anxiously to see what would come of the visit of the two dictators.

Officially Hitler's visit among the ruins of Imperial Rome, dressed up in his honor, is heralded as a demonstration that Fascism and national socialism are united in effort and that attempts to belaud this unity are destined to fail.

It follows Hitler's annexation of Germany, the Anglo-Italian agreement of Apr. 16 for settling Mediterranean, African and Spanish issues between Britain and Italy, France's move for a similar accord with Mussolini and the strengthening of the Anglo-French entente.

Many reports circulated as to what Mussolini and Hitler would discuss but authoritative information was lacking.

Some circles said a military alliance would be developed but others said they doubted that Fascist-Nazi collaboration would go that far.

The authoritative commentator, Virginia Gayle, declared the Fuehrer's coming had a three-fold significance:

"First, it will affect the course of the Fascist-Nazi rejuvenating revolution.

"Second, it will affect the combined protection of Italian and German interests.

"Third, it will affect the development of world foreign policy to which Italy and Germany now are such inspiring, collaborating parties."

HITLER AT MAY DAY FESTIVAL

Adolf Hitler is shown in this radiophoto as he stood in front of a gigantic May pole in Berlin on May Day and told his fellow countrymen that nations, which looked at Nazism, are now coming around to the Nazi viewpoint in the field of relations between capital and labor. The big May pole came from a forest in Austria which recently was added to the "Greater German Empire."

Holt And Peele Named Bishops By Methodists

BIRMINGHAM, May 3.—(AP)—Dr. Ivan Lee Holt, St. Louis, and Dr. William Walter Peele, Greensboro, N. C., were elected bishops of the Methodist Episcopal Church, South, on the first ballot of the quadrennial conference.

The conference will name five other new members of the Episcopate.

The election of the new bishops was announced while the Church awaited a ruling on the legality of the conference approved merger with the two other branches of American Methodism.

While the nine-member judicial council, the supreme court of the church, withheld the union with the Methodist Episcopal Church and the Methodist Protestant Churches, the opponents of unification claimed wider support for "secession" if the plan was approved.

A disjunction on merger plans split the Episcopal division of Methodism into huge branches in 1844. Earlier the Protestant Methodists withdrew from the main body of the denomination, favoring a change in the form of church government.

Justification centered on the judicial council's attitude toward the claim of Bishop Henry who that the union was illegal because it would change the Methodist articles of religion.

Denny contended approval of "secession" would constitute a withdrawal of the members of the majority of the conference.

Observers insisted the council may determine, in the face of this agreement, opinion in the disjunction of the majority of the conference.

Abrams Is Found Guilty Of Murder By Coroner's Jury

A coroner's jury sitting in the case of Jesse Abrams yesterday found that John Atkins, negro, came to his death "by gunshot wounds of the hands of Jesse Abrams." Abrams is also a negro.

Atkins had left his home several months ago but decided to return. As he entered his home, Abrams, who was inside, seized a shotgun and fired at Atkins, wounding him severely in the shoulder.

A time was rushed to the hospital where it was found necessary to amputate his arm. He died early Sunday. Abrams escaped and has not yet been apprehended.

Jurors were as follows: A. M. Lott, foreman, E. E. Brady, Jr., W. Craig, W. O. Woodruff, Fred Smith and C. J. Hannah. Justice of the Peace J. C. Roberts conducted the proceedings.

French Premier Orders Increase In Armed Forces

PARIS, May 3.—(AP)—Increase in armament for all France's armed forces was ordered today by Premier Edouard Daladier, head of the national defense government, now taking the nation by decree.

The order which became law today demands more soldiers, sailors and airmen, along with many new sacrifices from the French people to enable the nation to support the cost of modern machinery of war.

The decree also increased France's annual tax bill by 1,400,000,000 francs—$220,000,000—by laying a flat direct percent increase in all direct and hidden taxes. A double percent was decreed by Premier Daladier in a "temporary and exceptional measure."

The tax increases were included in 10 pages of decrees, the first to be issued under the cabinet's dictatorial power to strengthen the nation's economy and finances, heavily striped by a enormous load of armament costs.

To the average Frenchman the greatest shock of all was the 4 percent hike in income and other direct taxes. The increase, however, strikes all hidden taxes as well.

Taxes on salaries, dues, bond and stock transactions, banking operations, unfulfilled obligations and a host of other items.

Daily Report Of Market Sales To Be Discontinued

In view of the fact that the vegetable season is rapidly closing and that at present there are hardly enough sales to establish a market on most commodities, local Market Manager J. G. Michael said today that the Miscellaneous P. O. Market Report which has been run daily in the Sanford Herald will be discontinued until the next season, about Nov. 15.

This daily report which is compiled by the market manager, for the benefit of the growers and shippers, was inaugurated the first year of the market's operation and has been issued daily during the subsequent seasons under the auspices of the Federal-State Market News Service. R. E. Winfrey is the local representative.

The bulletin is a daily report of sales of Florida fruits and vegetables at the Sanford State Farm-Wholesale Market to truckers, market shippers, and other dealers.

Bank Holding Company Bill Is Postponed

Glass Bill Restricting Holding Companies Was Advocated By Mr. Roosevelt

WASHINGTON, May 3.—The Senate approved today the Administration's $1,000,000,000 naval expansion bill. The vote on final passage was 56 to 28.

WASHINGTON, May 3.—(AP)—Senators Clark, McNamara and Vandenberg today asked the Senate to postpone the Administration bill, $1,000,000,000 naval expansion bill.

Clark, McNamara and Vandenberg also proposed the Administration bill be postponed until the House had acted on the bill.

The House on May 2 passed the Administration bill, $1,000,000,000 naval expansion bill. The bill was introduced by Mr. McNamara.
