States Rights Endorsed By Dixie Leaders

Governor Thurmond
Is Named Chairman
Of Governor's Conference At Biloxi

BILOXI, Miss., Nov. 22—(AP)—The Southern Governor's Conference today elected J. Strom Thurmond of South Carolina as chairman, and adopted a modified platform on the State's Rights ticket, States' Rights resolution.

Thurmond, 1948 presidential candidate, was named by unanimous vote at the final conference session.

In other action the convention went on record favoring state ownership of tidelands, urging the states to follow uniform procedure in honoring requests for return of fugitives, and calling on the Reconstruction Finance Corporation to broaden its policy to help states and municipalities to provide additional public service.

The resolution on States' Rights said:

"We are opposed to government regimentation of the individual citizen and to socialization of competitive industry and we uniformly support the traditional American way of life and our free enterprise system."

"We believe in the freedom of the individual, the sovereignty of the several states in keeping with the Federal Constitution as essential to the survival of the republic."

Yesterday, States' Rights leaders planned a stronger resolution on the subject but Leander Perez of Pointe-A-La-Hache, La., said they had abandoned plans for bringing it before the conference.

Perez said the resolution, originally prepared by Gov.

Governor Earl K. Long of Louisiana

"was too radical."

World Federalists
Hold Discussions
At Tourist Center

The question of whether or not the United States should give up sovereignty in order to strengthen the United Nations organization in order to create a world peace program, preoccupied the lively discussion last night at the Tourist Center where more than 70 members of the Sanford Tourist Club met with members of the local chapter of the United World Federalist organization.

The discussion lasted for more than an hour and a half following a half hour broadcast program by Judge George A. Steiner, Mr. Oscar Marston, J. Bradley Odham, the Rev. J. E. McKinley, Dr. H. W. Rucker, Marion Harman of Station WTRB and Mrs. T. E. Tucker, who also presided.

The radio discussion concerned the UN and resolutions now before Congress in making it a fundamental objective of the United States to strengthen the UN. The World Federation capable of creating war.

In the discussion that followed the radio program, the question of the United States giving up its sovereignty came to the fore. The United Federalists contend that all nations would ultimately give up the sovereignty to make war and the weapons of war, and that this is the only way to achieve security against the destruction of atomic bombs or biological warheads.

City Calls For Talks
On Zoning Permits

A public hearing to discuss proposed changes in regard to home area permits in the B-1 category, was held last night by the Zoning Board and City Commission to take place at 8:00 P. M., Dec. 8 at the City Hall. City Manager Clifford McKibbin announced this morning.

The change, he said, would permit homes of 800 square feet of floor area to have 200 feet devoted to carport and porches and 600 feet in the house proper.

A resolution of sympathy for the family of the late James Moughton, former park superintendent, was passed by the Commission.

All offices will be closed Thursday at the City Hall for the Thanksgiving holiday," said Mr. McKibbin.

Chambers Says Reds Hired In U.S. Help On Atlantic City U.N. Food Plan

One Of Them Changed Birth Certificate: Coplon Trial Is Put Off Till Dec. 27

By ASSOCIATED PRESS
WASHINGTON, Nov. 22—(AP)—President Truman today urged United States cooperation to help "create an abundance of food for all countries."

He called this "a major cooperative endeavor toward our common objective of a stable and peaceful world."

In a speech for the annual meeting of the Food and Agriculture organization of the United Nations, the President declared:

"If by working together in this abundance of food for all countries, we can create an better health, longer lives, and greater happiness in mankind everywhere."

Mr. Truman said the "Point Four" program he presented in his inaugural address last January could be utilized to increase production of foods in underdeveloped areas.

"Our experience, our knowledge, our technical experts are all available to you and I hope that you will continue to call upon us for assistance."

The President made no reference to his proposal to set up a food bank or a clearing house, as a means of getting surplus from one area into another area where food is scarce.

The proposed world food bank would have a revolving fund of $1,000,000, most of it probably from the United States. Doubt that Congress would be ready to share what is in the originally proposed capital of $10,000,000 prompting the AP reporter to ask:

"However, Mr. Truman declared that the work of the FAO centers around two major problems."

"The first is to increase the production of foodstuffs and other agricultural commodities," he said.

"The second is to see that these commodities reach the peoples and countries which need them."

The President expressed hope the FAO soon will be able to establish permanent headquarters in this country.

Judge Ryan instructed counsel to file a motion to remand the trial to the whole board after the hearing of witnesses.

He spoke, too, of the "agricultural revolution" that has been taking place in the United States.

It was reported that the lone survivor was a 12-year-old boy.

Several bodies were found strewn about in the dense woods.

The plane was found near Flitvice, a small town on the west side of the Oslo Fjord, about 30 miles from the Norwegian capital. The nearest house to the crash scene is almost two miles away and apparently its occupants did not hear the explosion when the plane crashed.

The plane smashed into the forest, cutting a broad swath through the trees. The front part of the charred aircraft was badly damaged, but the rear section was said to have been torn apart.

The lawyer, Abraham L. Pomerantz, told the court that he is entitled to diplomatic status, a claim that has been rejected by the court. This point, based on the fact that Gubilovich formerly was assigned to the United Nations, was used by the engineer as one reason for not changing counsel. Last week he changed his mind and engaged Pomerantz.

Judge Ryan instructed counsel to file a motion that they must be ready to begin trial Dec. 27.

He indicated that only disposition of pretrial motions might delay start of the trial on that date.

The court ruled that all motions must be made by Dec. 12.

Pomerantz told the court that he needed at least 18 days to read 300 pages of testimony at the Washington trial of Max Coplon.

He spoke, too, of the "agricultural revolution" that has been taking place in the United States.

The nearest house to the crash scene is almost two miles away and apparently its occupants did not hear the explosion when the plane crashed.

Even though hopes were slim for any more survivors, squads of ambulance and rescue teams were sent to reinforce those at the scene, a hilly, heavily forested place difficult to penetrate.

The child who survived was taken to a hospital at Drammen, 20 miles from Oslo, police said, and a doctor there was quoted as saying the boy had a good chance to live.

The boy, one of the pitifully underfed refugees children who had been on their way to rest and rehabilitation in Norway, speaks French, officials said, but it was impossible for the time being to determine his nationality.

In the discussion that followed the radio program, the question of the United States giving up its sovereignty came to the fore. The United Federalists contend that all nations would ultimately give up the sovereignty to make war and the weapons of war, and that this is the only way to achieve security against the destruction of atomic bombs or biological warheads.

Nothing Doing
CINCINNATI, Nov. 22—(AP)—General Dwight D. Eisenhower again disavowed political ambitions today when told of a new "Eisenhower For President" movement in Burlington, Vt.

The president of Columbia University, here to address a Columbia alumni meeting, told newspapermen: "I'll repeat what I've now said: all we're going to do is to nominate a political candidate and I have no intention of doing so."

"I have a job to do as president of Columbia University and I am devoting all my time to it. That's what I plan to continue doing."

Fairbanks Mayor Reveals Shortage Of Alaskan Women

By HAL BOYCE
SANFORD, Nov. 21.—(AP)—Looking for a good woman to build your life around? Well, if you're a robust, warm-blooded girl, don't overlook Alaska. The odds are in your favor there.

"It's a great place for a girl to find a husband," said Maurice T. Johnson, Mayor of Fairbanks, which he says is the third largest city in Alaska and "the largest city in the north."

For 10,000 people, counting its far-flung outposts,

"There are about three men to every woman . . . maybe more throughout the territory," said Johnson, adding this note of caution:

"But a lot of young girls who come up there and saw our rough-hewn old miners might feel disappointed. They might even want to turn around and come back."

However, though the men are not big on the frontier, a girl needn't worry about finding her lack of heat in the frigid Alaskan winter.

Mayor Johnson and city clerk E. A. Tonseth camped at Mandarin to fix that. They had the chore of signing a $4,500,000 bond issue to build Fairbanks' a new municipally owned power plant and water treatment system.

"It was the first revenue bond issue ever floated in Alaska, said the mayor.

They had expected to have some money and spent two days signing the documents—each for $1,000.

But it took them four months. It was amazingly simple, said Johnson. "They have shelling machines. You press down on one pen and 19 other pens sign, too."

The mayor, a 35-year-old from Woodstock, Ill., who left his family to Alaska during the depression, believes the territory has a future for young people with courage to face rugged life.

"It now has a population of only 100,000," he said. "But I don't see why it couldn't support 500,000. That would still be less than one person to a square mile. It's a pretty sizeable chunk of ground up there."

The call of the Alaskan wild has tamed down since the day of Jack London and Robert Service. "We probably use planes more than you do here," said Johnson. "Dog teams are around the cities, but we just love our cars."

The Lady that is known now is Lou doesn't live there any more. The districts haunted by shady women have been broken up at the request of commanders of Army Airforce bases. Prospectors are more interested in finding oil than gold.

And shades of the faded past? The mighty game of poker now is secondary to another pastime, an arctic bingo called Pugiloo, or "Pun."

"It's a kind of cold weather game," explained the mayor. "It's very popular—you can only win or lose a little if you play all night."

Johnson said Times Square failed to come up to the northern lights in splendor, and opined the climate here didn't equal that of Alaska.

"In June we can play baseball at midnight without artificial lights," he remarked. "It never gets dark in Summer."

The mayor, before taking off for Fairbanks, expressed relief he

Row Erupts In U.N. Over China Deal

Vishinsky Announces
Russia No Longer
To Recognize Chinese Nationalists

NEW YORK, Nov. 23—(AP)—Russia's Andrei Y. Vishinsky announced today the Soviet Union no longer recognizes the Chinese Nationalist delegation to the United Nations.

The announcement touched off an angry exchange in the 59-nation General Assembly between Vishinsky and Dr. Chieh-Hou Kan, acting president of China who now is in British Hong Kong.

The Soviet foreign minister told the Assembly "We will not regard the Kuomintang delegation" as representatives of China.

Chieh replied angrily in loud tones:

"Mr. Vishinsky, your mere wish will not put the Chinese Communists in our seats in the Assembly. If your wish were law then 80 per cent of the delegates in the Assembly would be unseated."

Vishinsky laughed as Chieh launched into an attack based on Nationalist China's charges in the U. N. that Russia is aiding the Chinese Red sweep through his country.

"In a few days," Chieh said, "we shall present to the Assembly documents and proofs that the Soviet Union has violated the Chinese-Russian treaty and the United Nations Charter and that the Soviet Union is guilty of international crimes of a very serious nature."

Chieh added:

"We shall be here to indict you and your government."

Assembly President Carlos P. Romulo tried in vain to turn the discussion back to the atomic control issue—the question before the Assembly.

"The discussion of the Chinese question is premature," Romulo said, banging his gavel.

Vishinsky insisted on taking

Deficit Spending Rapped By Head Marshall Plan Of Bank Group Has Saved Europe

132 Central Florida Bankers Attend Convention At Mayfair

Addressing bankers and bank employees from cities throughout central and north-east Florida yesterday evening at the Mayfair Inn, W. E. Ellis, president of the Florida's Bankers Association, criticized the government's deficit spending program. Mr. Ellis is president of the Commercial Bank and Trust Co., Ocala.

A total of 132 bankers, employees and escorts attended the meeting of Group 5 of the Florida Bankers Association, to which the Sanford Atlantic National Bank and the Florida State Bank were invited. The roundup was given under direction of the 40 or 50 whose membership chairman, Frank Caton, past Department commander, also commented the local Post for its membership show.

Commander James Galloway presided at the meeting Monday night. An invitation to Sanford Legionnaires to attend a free spaghetti supper given by Oviedo Memorial Post 245 at Oviedo High School at 7:45 P. M., Dec. 1, was read and members attending were advised to bring Christmas presents for disabled veterans. The invitation came from Adjutant Thomas G. Mann of the Oviedo Post.

Local Adjutant James Singley stated today that those who wish to attend the supper should advise him of this before Nov. 22.

Private U. S. Investments Abroad Now Total More Than 15 Billion

WASHINGTON, Nov. 23—(AP)—The Commerce Department estimated today that private U. S. investments abroad totaled $15,300,000,000 at the start of this year. It said they were rising at a billion-a-year clip.

Some $11,400,000,000 of the total, it estimated, are in the form of "direct investments"—operations abroad by American firms through foreign branches or subsidiaries.

These, it added, paid off last year at a rate of better than 15 per cent. The return was reflected in earnings of $1,880,000,000 last year, after foreign taxes, on direct investments valued at $10,200,000,000 at 1947's end.

This contrasted with 1946-1946 experience, when private U. S. investments abroad were about $10,000,000,000, with 70 per cent per cent, farming, with 11.9 per cent, and mining and smelting 10.5 per cent.

Foreign securities, however, yielded relatively low returns—"about 8 per cent of par value (or a per cent of market value) for foreign-issued U. S. bonds payable in U. S. dollars."

This contrasted with 1946-1946 experience, when private U. S. investments abroad were about $10,000,000,000, with 70 per cent

Former Reds Seen At Home Of Alger Hiss

Whittaker Chambers Reveals To Court That Pressman, Witt Were Hiss Visitors

NEW YORK, Nov. 23—(AP)—Whittaker Chambers testified today that a former maid of Alger Hiss told him she had seen Lee Pressman, former CIO general counsel, and Nathan Witt, former National Labor Relations Board secretary, at Hiss' Washington residence.

Chambers, chief government witness in Hiss' second perjury trial, previously had named Pressman and Witt in testimony before the House Un-American Activities Committee as members, with Hiss, of a pro-war Communist underground.

Pressman and Witt declined at the time August, 1948, to make any reply before the house group to Chambers' statements.

Under cross-examination today Chambers, who is his own lawyer in his second trial for a Soviet spy ring, said he met a former Hiss maid named Martha Pope in the Washington FBI office last February or March.

"She told me," Chambers said, "that she could not remember my coming to the House, but that she remembered Mr. Lee Pressman." Mr. Nathan Witt

The maid, Chambers said, worked for Hiss and his wife when they lived from approximately April, 1946, to June, 1948, at 2005 P Street, NW, in Washington.

Hiss, Witt and Pressman all formerly worked in the Agricultural Adjustment Administration (AAA), and Chambers, asked about his contacts with the agency from 1944 until 1948, Remington portable typewriter he owned said he had left it on a train or street car. He added that he wanted to dispose of the typewriter because it reminded him of the past.

The government charged that one of the secret State Department documents which Chambers received on a Remington typewriter was typed on a Remington.

It was not clear from the cross-examination whether Hiss was trying to suggest

Lions Collect 400 Toys At Free Movie

More than 300 children attended the special Lions Club movie at the Ritz Theatre Saturday morning and brought more than 100 old and new toys which the Lions will recondition, repair and distribute to needy children at Christmas time, King Lion Cliff Ables announced to the Lions at the Yacht Club yesterday.

The children's party was arranged through co-operation of Bob Harris, theater manager, and Cliff Carlson, head of the Lions' Adopt-A-Child committee, which the group represents.

Thomas told a news conference: "I am proud of the people of Europe for trying to stand on their own feet." He had some words of praise for Sweden which he had earlier criticized for being inhospitable to his committee.

"Sweden" he said "is in the best financial condition of any country in the world, to my knowledge. In the United States we have a vast national debt and a vast budget. The Swedes are going forward and making great progress."

When a Swedish newspaper reporter at the conference asked him if the government had embarked on a deficit spending program, Mr. Ellis replied: "I can't say for sure, but I think the government is at an all time high."

"Deficit financing is nothing more than concealed and postponed taxation," he told the bankers.

"That is the only true source of government income. While in theory large spending should provide a powerful stimulant and generate an upward movement in economic conditions, it is counterbalanced by the simultaneous effect of uncertainty and a threat to the federal credit. Thus, while the Government steps on the accelerator, business puts on the brakes."

President Ellis pointed out that the government has again embarked on a deficit spending program despite the fact that the nation's income is at an all time high.

"All countries are not for easy money, and any money they can get from United States taxpayers is easy money."

He repeated his Vienna statement that "Sweden is very suspicious of anybody in uniform" in the world.
