SUCCESS DIM FOR TRUCE ON TARIFF WALLS

America's Effort At Economic Goodwill Fails To Win Support Of Parliament

LONDON, May 6.—(A.P.)—America's first big move for giving the world economic conference a constructive send-off by means of a tariff truce failed yesterday to gain the support of the British government.

With other countries awaiting Britain's lead, there appeared no hope last night of making effective an armistice in the economic warfare among the nations.

No outright refusal of cooperation came from Downing Street, where Prime Minister MacDonald held sessions with his cabinet, but it was understood that Mr. MacDonald, permanent under-secretary of foreign affairs, had informed Norman H. Davis, President Roosevelt's negotiator of the inability of the British government to agree to any immediate truce, or even to a truce from the opening of the economic conference, unless Britain's tariff position is protected by safeguards.

A tariff truce with reservations according to an authoritative American view, would represent the measure of much of its constructive psychological effect.

Davis today will present to Geneva to turn his attention to disarmament problems.

Official news reveals a record which passed between MacDonald and Davis yesterday, but it was believed the prime minister's sympathetic presentation of the American position was counteracted by a statement of opposition from the tariff side of the national government.

In a speech reporting to the British public on his Washington trip MacDonald said last night that if the world economic conference achieves any final results the war debt question must be settled one way or another as quickly as possible and certainly before the parley ends.

White Sox Pitcher Victim Of Hold-Up

CHICAGO, May 6.—(A.P.)—Four shotgun bandits held Charles Berry, catcher for the Chicago White Sox and three other persons prisoners for more than two hours while they ransacked the apartment and occupied with jewelry valued at $1500 and $180 in cash. The robbery occurred in the apartment of Joseph Barry, secretary to Louis Comiskey, president of the White Sox as Mrs. Barry was entertaining guests.

REIGN OF TERROR IN FARM STRIKE AREA DESCRIBED

Attorney General Declares Reds Played Part In Disturbance

DES MOINES, May 6.—(A.P.)—A reign of terror induced by threats of violence was spreading over northwest Iowa farms when national guardsmen were called into action last week, Attorney General Clegg charged yesterday.

Returning from the scene of recent riots at farm mortgage sales and the abduction of a district judge, Clegg said the blame for the trouble upon the leaders of the farm holiday association.

Planning the flame of revolt were communist agitators who filtered into the region and added their voice to the more legitimate complaints of debt-burdened farmers, the attorney general stated.

He charged that "racketeering methods" were used in forcing farmers to join the holiday movement, each paying 75 cents for membership, that "not more than 10 percent" of the holiday association members in the district "knew of their own free will" and that others were warned they might find their strawstacks or barns ablaze some night.

Havana Policeman Killed By Explosion

HAVANA, May 6.—(A.P.)—Terrorist bombers struck again today killing a policeman and injuring a civilian. A terrific explosion outside the newspaper Heroldo De Cuba mangled Policeman Juan Gonzalez. He died shortly afterwards. Before his death he told authorities he went to pick up a package deposited presumably by a man seen speeding away in an automobile. The man was established as a party member who was arrested by police Wednesday. Other members of his party were also arrested. Relatives of the man denied they plan any legal action.

TAX CRUSADE ON GANGSTERS TO BE STARTED

Government Planning Campaign Such As Resulted In Prison Term For Al Capone

CHICAGO, May 6.—(A.P.)—An income tax crusade against gangsters and alleged police and political allies, who have swindled millions of dollars from legitimate business through outlaw labor unions and check-cashing banks, was under way today by the federal government. The move, in along the lines of the campaign that sent Al Capone to prison.

The first of a dozen gangster, police captains, and politicians to go under investigation was reported to be Murray Humphreys, treasurer to Al Capone as "public enemy No. 1."

Humphreys, a young man of respectable family and good education, has been charged with being the "man behind the scenes" in 42 bombings since Jan. 1, dozens of kidnappings and the many "one-way rides" that have bolstered gangster's strangle hold by intimidation on certain industries and unions.

Another against whom evidence was reported to have been gathered is portly Thomas Maloy, head of the motion picture operators' union. His income has been estimated in the hundreds of thousands annually.

Leslie E. Salter, special assistant attorney general in charge of income tax cases, has arrived in Chicago to direct the campaign. Sufficient evidence has been obtained to go before the grand jury within a week and seek indictments.

Three police captains and at least one politician were reported already to have appeared before United States Attorney Dwight Green and begged leave to settle their income tax debt. He refused.

Others of the gangster resort of facing indictment were William "Billy" Kildmore, bondman and gambler, "Klonika," O'Donnell and "Three Fingers Jack" White, associates of Humphreys. In directing the Capone syndicate.

A federal official who would not be named said Humphreys, "brains" of the present Capone gang, had filed income tax returns scrupulously since "Scarface Al" went to prison, but that he had understated his income.

The huge earnings of various gangster combines was indicated by the books of the coal transporter's union, from which gangster-controlled officials were driven only recently. The gangsters had collected about $1,000,000 in two years from membership dues and initiation fees from men who earn $2 a week and up shoveling and hauling coal.

Two dozen other unions have been "grabbed" by gangsters, according to the Chicago employees' association, and millions of dollars in addition have been mulcted from such industries as the cleaning and dyeing business.

As an example of the labor union profits, many of the hundreds of motion picture projection operators pay, as much as 10 percent of their wages, which range from $100 to $150 a week, to Maloy and other union officers.

Heated Debate Precedes Senate Refusal To Merge State's Tax Department

TALLHASSEE, May 6.—(A.P.)—The Senate yesterday refused to merge the motor vehicle department with the secretary of state's department. Advocates of the bill charged that the department was a political machine used by Florida governors for "political patronage."

Heated debate marked defeat of the bill, which had been offered by Gillis of Dade County. Opponents of the bill charged that the department was a political machine used by Florida governors for "political patronage."

Heated debate marked defeat of the bill, which had been offered by Gillis of Dade County. Opponents of the bill charged that the department was a political machine used by Florida governors for "political patronage."

President Fitch took the floor to oppose the bill. He said it would not mean economy as the work would have to go on the same as now.

It would mean, he said, that the secretary of state instead of the motor vehicle department, he charged, was run up during the last political campaign to pay patronage.

Senator Whitaker, Tampa, declared that Gillis' charges were true but that they applied to the present tag department as well as to past administrations there. He named a former newspaperman he said was given a job in the department "just to protect" the administration.

Many senators joined in the attack. Gillis of Barrow, said the bill should be passed to simplify, purify and make more economical state government in Florida and to carry out campaign and party platform.

U. S. Flier Given Credit For Part In Revolt Move

HAVANA, May 6.—(A.P.)—An American aviator who saw service in the World War was to have been the keystone of last week's abortive revolutionary plot which was designed to gain control of all the western sections of Oriente province, it was reported here yesterday.

Santiago police yesterday were said to be ready to pay $2000 to the person who would give them the American's name and divulge his whereabouts.

According to information obtained here, the conspirators, which failed after by persons who had been killed, was hatched by members of the widespread A. B. C. society and certain other military circles, factions of the opposition to the Machado administration.

It was originally planned to strike simultaneously at Santiago, the capital of Oriente; San Juan, Palma Soriano, Ciego, Tuna, Holguin, Bayamo and other provinces, with the action centering in the city.

Five hundred armed men were to hide in houses of the Suroeste section of Santiago, near the Monday barracks. At 6:30 A. M. another hundred were instructed to go to the local airport, surprise and wipe out the guard stationed there, seize the Pan-American airplane arriving from Guantanamo and make its pilots and passengers prisoners.

KELSO GIVES ADDRESS ON RELIEF WORK

Field Representative Of R. F. C. Delivers Speech Concluding Welfare Meeting

Robert D. Kelso of Washington, field representative of the Reconstruction Finance Corporation, brought the nineteenth annual State Conference of Social Workers to a close here early this afternoon with a timely address on "Social Relief in the Present and Future," an address that contained a picture of present unemployment conditions and a warning that "unless we are plunged into a winter conflict this summer, the coming winter will be far worse than the past one has been."

The conference had come to a climax in the annual banquet, election of officers and delivery of the presidential address, staged at the Parish House last night with nearly 100 social and welfare workers in attendance. The banquet preceded a day of meetings and sessions that were said to have had no equal in recent conference history. Enthusiastic reference was given every speaker, particularly Judge Carl B. Hyatt, consultant of the Children's Bureau at Washington.

During the banquet session last night, the delegates were unanimous in approval of the nomination presented by Judge B. A. Cheney, Orlando, chairman of the nominating committee.

As a result, J. C. Lanier, Jacksonville, was named as president, succeeding Millard Davidson, head of the Home Industrial Home at Marianna. Mr. Lanier has long been associated with conference work, and his selection was followed by personal congratulations from scores of friends.

Other officers elected were: Mrs. E. T. Cochran, Daytona Beach, first vice president; Kenneth Dawson, Miami, second vice president.

Kidnaped Child Is Safely Home After $80,000 Is Delivered

JUDGE CHANGES RULING ON LIGHT COMPANY'S CASE

Miller Only One Affected By Restraining Order Of Court

Frank L. Miller, and 10 other electric light companies, the only local person affected by the court's restraining order, the Florida Power and Light Company from making an addition of 10 percent charge on monthly bills, based on a 11 cent per kilowatt hour rate, when the person fails to pay the bill within 10 days after it is rendered.

This was decided late yesterday afternoon by Circuit Court Judge Millard H. Smith after The Herald had already gone to press with a news story, based on his original signed order, correctly stating that the general public as well as Mr. Miller was affected.

Judge Smith ordered the restraining writ changed so as to apply only to Mr. Miller, when attorneys for the power company, hurriedly summoned from DeLand by H. H. Coleman, local manager of the company, had protested against the inclusion of all consumers of 11 cent per kilowatt hour electricity. Judge Smith sustained their protest.

Mr. Coleman this morning stated that the public should be advised that no order has been made by the court preventing the 10 percent charge where the bill is not paid within a reasonable time, or 10 days, except to Mr. Miller. "Therefore a question as to the right of the company to make such a charge against any other person has not been adjudicated," he said.

He also stated that the 10 percent penalty clause will continue to be applied against customers of the company who do not pay their bills in 10 days, whenever such addition is made under the rules of the company except in the case of Mr. Miller.

Mr. Coleman further stated that the rule of the company providing for the 10 percent addition after failure of the consumer to pay within 10 days, had been upheld by many of the higher courts, and "is a rule beneficial to all as it gives the consumer the benefit of a discount. Therefore," he said, "the company will appeal this case to the Supreme Court of Florida in the event Mr. Miller files the $100 bond required. Judge Smith's ruling only goes into effect in the event such a bond is filed, according to the order." At 3:30 o'clock, the bond had not been filed.

Commenting upon this change in the original order, S. R. Dighton, attorney for Mr. Miller this afternoon said "If the Florida Power and Light Company persists in generally charging a penalty on their bills after having been enjoined by one individual, we expect to apply to the court on Friday of next week, or as soon thereafter as counsel can be had, for an injunction order making the Miller injunction applicable to all consumers in Sanford, and, on the authority of the Miller ruling, we expect such order to be granted."

Relief Demands Are Made At Conference

WASHINGTON, May 6.—(A.P.)—Demands for the return of the control of the government to the people were made today before the "continental congress of workers and farmers for economic reconstruction."

Delegates coming from farming and manufacturing centers of many states heard Norman Thomas, socialist leader; Senator Francis P. McCarroll, North Dakota, and John Simpson, president of the farmers union, issue strong calls for immediate united action.

The organizing committee said a "new declaration of independence" will be drafted. Farm and unemployment relief, government ownership, civil liberties, banking and negro rights were some of the subjects up for discussion.

Father Continued To Be Interrogated By Authorities As To Details Of Affair

HARWICHPORT, Mass., May 6.—(A.P.)—Kenneth Cyril Beck, brother of the kidnaper of the girl, was questioned some time before the arrests were announced. In the course of questioning, Needham said Kenneth admitted having had $10,000. Two other men were being sought, Needham said. Asked whether he believed the kidnappers were members of the kidnapping gang, he replied he believed it to be a good assumption.

General Daniel Needham announced that the Beck brothers were under arrest, Cyril as the man in the car who was a black hood when the girl was restored to the father. The Beck's were questioned some time before the arrests were announced. In the course of questioning, Needham said Kenneth admitted having had $10,000. Two other men were being sought, Needham said. Asked whether he believed the kidnappers were members of the kidnapping gang, he replied he believed it to be a good assumption.

WOODS HOLE, Mass. May 6.—(A.P.)—Neil McMath, his 10-year-old daughter, Margaret, restored to him unharmed by kidnappers today, continued to undergo rigid questioning by state authorities which has been in progress virtually uninterrupted since last night.

Also being questioned with him aboard a coast-guard vessel were William Lee McMath, business associate of Cyril Beck, Harwich garage man, and Harwick Sawyer, resident of Harwich.

Authorities sought by their questioning to determine what they know concerning the identity of kidnappers who enticed the girl from school Tuesday and who restored her to her parents after payment of approximately $20,000. They also sought to determine the exact location of a shack in which the child was kept prisoner and the source of the ransom money.

Negotiations leading to the recovery of the 10-year-old girl came through a ransom letter received Wednesday night and a mysterious contact subsequently established with the abduction. The man who stole the girl from her school room Tuesday afternoon (demanded and received a promise they would be given a 48-hour stay in their flight.)

By pre-arrangement, at 8 A. M. yesterday, she was returned apparently in good health to her father aboard a boat owned by William Lee, a business associate.

Two other residents of Harwichport, one a garage owner, were also aboard the craft when the girl was returned after receiving the ransom money.

The father and his associates had intended to keep the girl on the Lee boat until the 48 hours were up, fearing "dire threats" of what would happen if they broke their word of immunity.

But a "leak" occurred. Just before dusk settlers over the harbor in front of the McMath home, coast guard boats closed in on the Lee craft and took off the girl and her father. The first news of the girl's return developed when she was seen on a coast guard boat.

The story of how police broke through the wall of silence which the father and his friends had sought to erect was told last night by State Commissioner of Public Safety Needham.

LEESBURG, May 5.—Two prodigious home runs drove over the fence by Maxwell, rangy colored outfielder played the major part of his club's 9 to 3 victory over the Leesburg Yellow Jackets in a Central Florida Baseball League game played here yesterday before a large crowd. The home runs first occurred in the eighth with none on in the sixth with one on.

The game was a free-hitting, error-filled affair that was in doubt until the sixth when lefty Knower, known for five runs in to existing ninth inning finish that was Maxwell's fifth homer. Maxwell's second homer, over the center field fence, with two on, Knower was pounded over his left, but his support was faulty, the costly errors being made by the right arm.

The Feds, scored first, in the third inning. With one out, lefty Knower, who was safe at first on Knower's muff, first base, was singled, scoring Holt, and both Knower and Barnes scored on Knower's error. Knower, who was in trouble, kept the Feds from scoring again until the eighth when Knower, who was well smacked a home run high over left field fence. The game was finally decided in the ninth when Maxwell singled, scoring Holt, and both Knower and Barnes scored on Knower's error. Knower, who was in trouble, kept the Feds from scoring again until the eighth when Knower, who was well smacked a home run high over left field fence. Helping The Farmers

One can feel the greatest sympathy for mid-western farmers, who for nearly ten years have been waging a relentless battle against steadily falling prices...

And yet, it is difficult to see what our government or any government could do for the betterment of the farmers' condition that it is not already doing...

It is admitted that in spite of these measures the plight of the farmer is still serious. How much worse their condition would have been had it not been for the government's support during these critical times...

It was for this reason that the recent farm relief bill was passed. Under the terms of this bill practically every form of relief, which all the various farm organizations in the country have been able to devise, is included...

It is further provided that enormous loans shall be made to farmers by the government in order to relieve them of the pressure of their indebtedness. Two billion dollars is to be furnished the Federal Land Bank for loans to farmers at 4 1/2 percent interest...

Loudest advocates of inflation have been the western farmers who are strongly convinced that cheaper money will mean bigger profits. So the farm relief bill includes the Thomas amendment, or inflation rider...

But the government is going even beyond this in its efforts to help the farmers. The recent conferences in Washington, leading up to the London Economic Conference are primarily in the interest of the farmer...

As a result of these measures farm prices have already begun to rise. In Nebraska farm products have increased in price from 25 percent to 212 percent. Corn is up from 8 cents to 22 cents...

It is probable that many farmers do not fully realize all that is being done for them by the federal government, but it is difficult to conceive of anything more which the government could do...

The Civilian in War

With continued reverberations being heard from a quarrel between Soviet Russia and Japan concerning the ownership of the Chinese Eastern Railway, added interest is attached to the impending opening of a subway system in Osaka, industrial capital of Japan...

The novel feature of this underground transportation system is the provision which has been made to make it serviceable in time of air raids. Tentative housing accommodations have been provided to care for 450,000 persons or roughly one-fifth of the entire population of the city...

Apprehension is particularly acute in Osaka because of its nearness to Vladivostok where the Russians have built a powerful air base. Because of its important position in the heart of the industrial section, Osaka would be a particularly desirable target for enemy planes...

Recognizing, like Japan, the importance of airplanes in the next war and the possibilities of their low-range activities, Italian authorities have been arranging recently the importance of training the civilian population in the large cities...

It is interesting to note that the Japanese, who are so far ahead of the world in the development of their air forces, are also the first to have a national civil defense law...

It is a good thing, for if the fact were that the Japanese were the first to have a national civil defense law, it would be no safe bet in which to place our bets...

WASHINGTON, May 5.—President Roosevelt's open and frank manner of dealing with newspapermen, plus his ability to evade questions gracefully when the necessities demand, has left former Premier Herriot of France flabbergasted...

Twice a week upwards of one hundred accredited White House correspondents congregate in the lobby of the executive office. A signal from "Steve" Early, member of the secretariat in charge of press relations, the waiting journalists march into the inner sanctum of the President...

Mr. Roosevelt, in keeping with his record for breaking precedents, has changed the order somewhat. If he happens to be engaged with an important personage when the hour of a press conference arrives he does not always and the conversation or dismissal his visitor. Oftentimes he just asks his caller to remain by his side while he receives the newspapermen...

Members of the journalistic corps, therefore, saw nothing unusual, though they were a bit surprised, in the presence of M. Herriot at a presidential press conference the other day. Taking a position at the right of the President he remained throughout and even suffered the experience of having himself subjected to a few pointed questions until he asked to be excused from all interrogation...

As the conference proceeded, however, amusement was written across his face more than one time as he witnessed the adroit manner in which the President jockeyed with his information-seeking guests and teased them in their efforts to draw him out on some delicate point involved in the international poecaparies...

The expression on the French statesman's face was the same as though he had uttered: "How does he do it?" THE DEPRESSION DOCTOR

PORT MYERS NEWS PRESS

In voting against the inflation bill Senator Carter Glass found himself in no fundamental disagreement with President Roosevelt. They agree that there are financial ills in the broad powers granted by Congress. They stand apart because one is a capitalist and the other a socialist...

Glass is the dogmatist. A straight-laced financial Puritan, he will have nothing to do with unorthodox doctrines. Like a branch of medical thought, he deems any virtue in poison and thinks the patient is better off to ride out the depression fever than take a short cut through vaccination...

Roosevelt, the realist, knows poison when he sees it, but isn't afraid of it. He is willing to examine its properties, note its effect on the case, and continue or desist as the response of the patient determines...

Both Roosevelt and Glass agree that some of the prescriptions in the inflation bill are more of a drug than a tonic and that if all of them were administered they would kill instead of cure. So Glass wouldn't have them around the house under any circumstances, while Roosevelt, confident in his skill and judgment, would keep them handy for a possible emergency...

It may be, as Dr. Glass insists, that old family remedies would do the business. They always have served; perhaps they might now. But it is also true that a new appreciation of political science may hasten the cure...

Opinions—honest opinions—will differ. Some will side with the old practitioner. Others—the majority, we believe—will have more confidence in the younger doctor and his modern methods. He seems to be a sensible fellow, who knows what he is doing. Unquestionably there has been an improvement since he was called into the case. Perhaps it isn't his medicine. It may be that the treatment prescribed by old Doc Hoover—and which old Doc Glass endorses in principle—is just beginning to show results...

The anxious family, worn by a long vigil around the sick bed, has respect for both Dr. Glass and Dr. Roosevelt, and the doctors have respect for each other. Dr. Glass nodded in emphatic approval when his young colleague opined so neatly on government expense, just a little while back. He shook his head doubtfully when Dr. Roosevelt followed by ordering beer as a tonic but the patient seemed to feel better and Dr. Glass was evidently wrong...

They probably will continue to differ in principle as the treatment continues but they are not likely to disagree to the extent of the one refusing to listen to counsel and the other refusing to recognize skill...

College Will Give Intensive Course In Municipal Affairs

NEW YORK.—To encourage college men and women to enter the field of public service, New York University has organized a division of research in public administration that will include in its activities annual one-week intensive courses in municipal affairs, according to announcement recently...

In announcing the new division, Dean Rufus D. Smith of the department of government of the Washington Square College, said that at present, no institution of higher education in the metropolitan region offers a graduate course leading to the degree of master of arts in public administration...

"In making this expansion of its work at this time," he continued, "New York University is not only showing its faith in the future, but is also preparing to play a helpful role in the affairs of the City of New York and the metropolitan area. The university has an almost unparalleled opportunity for achieving pre-eminence in the field of local administration..."

Among the activities which the new division will sponsor will be training of undergraduates and graduate students for public service, giving courses through the graduate school leading to the degree of Master of Arts and Doctor of Philosophy in public administration, providing fellowships in public administration and carrying on various surveys...

Debate Precedes Senate Refusal To Merge Tag Bureau

Among others who opposed the bill were Buchanan West, Pillsbury, Parker, Mayo, and Lewis Marshall. The senate spent much time debating a bill to punish circuit judges who have served 10 years or more on the bench and who are declared by examining physicians to be in need of rest. The measure called for their retirement on part time pay. No action was taken...

Action was completed on a resolution previously adopted by the house, calling for a constitutional amendment to consolidate the offices of county tax collector and tax assessor and take the offices of county surveyor, county superintendent of public instruction and controller out of the state of constitutional elective offices...

The vote in the senate was 28 to 0. The proposed change in the state constitution will be submitted to the voters at the November election next year...

The senate also passed a bill by its appropriations committee to send $25,000 a year for the next two years to buy anti-louse cholera serum and hog cholera virus and to direct the governor to distribute it...

Long's Meat IS A Treat To Eat.

Perfidious savages

IN THE Torres Straits Islands in the East Indies, there are no trees suitable for canoe building. So the natives, a cruel, treacherous race, import their canoes from the Fly River Delta in New Guinea—another place with an unbelievable reputation. The distance between these two places is over four hundred miles, and no native in that region travels even one-quarter of that distance...

When a canoe is wanted, the word is simply passed on from tribe to tribe. On the strength of this vague order a canoe is built. Then it is relayed back. Each tribe of bloodthirsty cannibals tests and discards it before passing it on. Finally the payment, shell necklaces, spear points, arm bands, makes its way to the canoe builders in the same leisurely fashion...

There is reason for this honesty in savages to whom perfidy is natural. If any of the parties in this complicated transaction were to fink being dishonest, their credit would be ruined. And though these natives may kill and eat each other, they hold barter inviolate...

Even savages understand that in commerce it pays back to be honest, and to let the world realize your honesty! So in modern business, advertising must be honest. It is a proof of honesty. A product's advertising is the best guarantee of its quality, usefulness and value...

The man who advertises is inviting your inspection. He is fitting his goods stand on their own merit. He can't afford to deceive you. You can depend on him. That's why it pays to read advertising and to buy advertised goods...

Any one can spend money—the reader of advertisements spends wisely

Rose Circle Garden Club Holds Meeting

With Mrs. J. H. Colclough and Mrs. F. E. Wilson as hostesses, the regular meeting and luncheon of Rose Circle of the Garden Club was held yesterday morning at the home of Mrs. J. H. Colclough in Rose Court with Mrs. Colclough and Mrs. Fred E. Wilson as hostesses. Mrs. Colclough presided over the meeting when Mrs. Ender Curlett moved that the members rescind a former motion that the club have a garden - instead of its regular meeting during the month of the meeting of the Garden Club as a whole. It was decided that dates for meetings be decided by the program chairman. Mrs. Walter S. Coleman read a report by delegate to the state convention in Gainesville, prepared by Mrs. W. E. Watson, which contained many interesting details of the convention. Mrs. A. D. Covington gave two talks during the meeting. The first was on the identification of shrubs which she illustrated with specimens from her own garden, while the second was an impromptu talk on dahlias culture illustrated by a large dahlia from her garden. Mrs. Colclough reminded the members of the picnic to be given Friday, May 12, for Rose Circle members by the Copeland Circle of Orlando at Lily Gardens in Lochhart. Those planning to go were requested to meet at 10:00 A. M. at the home of Mrs. A. W. Epps in Dreamwood. Practical ideas for summer gardens were furnished the members by the talk on "Summer Gardens for Summer" by Mrs. C. L. Park and a paper by Mrs. Roland S. Read on the garden that endures through the summer. At the close of the meeting Mrs. Ender Curlett spoke, in behalf of the club, a few words of appreciation to Mrs. Colclough for her leadership during the past year. Mrs. Colclough then presented the gavel to the new chairman, Mrs. Fred E. Wilson, and wished her success during the coming year. Luncheon was served by the hostesses to the following: Mrs. Linton E. Allen, Mrs. Walter S. Coleman, Mrs. A. D. Covington, Mrs. Ender Curlett, Mrs. J. C. Ellsworth, Mrs. A. W. Epps, Mrs. A. C. Fort, Mrs. J. M. McCaskill, Mrs. A. H. Moses, Mrs. Charles L. Park, Mrs. O. Be A Courteous Driver

Motor Vehicle Administrators of the United States, the men who know the details of traffic violations and driving errors responsible for a majority of automobile accidents, have issued the following advice to motorists. This is number thirteen of the series. By E. McCall Frazier (Director, Division of Motor Vehicles of Virginia) BE A COURTEOUS DRIVER. He is the one who is always ready to give the other fellow the benefit of the doubt and thereby avoid an accident. He never insists upon the letter of his driving rights, but is ready to apply common sense to unusual situations. He doesn't start his car forward the instant the signal light changes if there are pedestrians in the roadway. He allows them to get clear of the intersection. When he hears the horn of the man behind who wants to pass, he pulls over to the right and gives ample room. The element of discourtesy cannot be tabulated in accident statistics. But it is likely that it is an important factor in the toll of 34,000 deaths and nearly a million injuries reported to the National Bureau of Casualty and Surety Underwriters last year. Accident prevention authorities everywhere are stressing the importance of courtesy in driving. You can't pass a law compelling it. It's the attribute of a gentleman and the sure sign of your best drivers. You don't have to fear the kind of driver pictured in the drawing above. He is conscious of the necessity of sparing the minute and saving the life. Courtesy after all is the practical application of common sense.

CITY DWELLERS SEEK COUNTRY FOR THEIR ABODE

Economic Circumstances Forcing People Away From Towns. ITHACA, N. Y.—Thousands of city dwellers in New York state, taught in the economic squeeze, are turning their eyes back to the farm, now that Spring has come again. Some of these are planning to join the back-to-the-land movement, and to them the State College of Agriculture says, "Look Out." "Don't buy a farm on which even the experienced farmer has failed to make a living," is the warning of F. P. Hill, professor of rural economy at the college. He says that the city dweller intending to leave the city under the impression that anybody can farm, to such people his advice is to consider the soil and the location of the farm relative to roads and markets. P. J. Fidler, of the same college, says that "studies show that a city person tends to buy a poor farm and to pay far more for it than it is worth. In buying the wrong farm, he is doomed to failure before he begins to farm." "It is better to start as a tenant or even as a hired man on a good farm," he warns, "than to start as the owner of a poor farm." Reading up on scientific farming will not take the place of actual farming experience. "Most of the present movement of city people to the country is not to have a permanent place to live or to find a means of obtaining a living in the future," he says, "it is merely an attempt to reduce cash costs and get a living until they can go back to work." "There are grave dangers that arise from such disturbances. Many know very little about farming and find that although there is shelter the desired food cannot always be grown. They find that more capital is necessary to get started on a farm than they expected. Tools and equipment and often livestock are necessary to operate a farm. "With limited funds and lack of experience these people are liable to get on a poorly drained hill farm and seriously handicap themselves. It is advisable to rent a place rather than invest money in a piece of real estate that may mean a loss of all savings. It is important to locate near a city on a hard-surfaced road and not be isolated from the possibilities for work and James Dyarn.

EFFORTS GIVEN UP TO BOLSTER CITRUS MARKET

Inability To Obtain Support Of Program Is Given As Reason

ORLANDO, May 6.—Continued inability to obtain support from growers for regulation of grapefruit shipments resulted in a decision yesterday by the special grapefruit control committee to abandon further efforts to revive the grapefruit market. The action was taken at a meeting of the committee here.

Members of the committee which, since Mar. 29, has sought to devise some method of improving grapefruit prices, expressed reluctance at abandoning their work, but declared emphatically that lack of grower support made useless any continued attempts to strengthen the market.

A statement, issued by the committee in the form of a resolution, pointed out that refusal of growers, controlling a considerable portion of the grapefruit remaining in the state, to compel their respective marketing agencies to join the control movement, has made it impossible for the other agencies to accomplish what they set out to do.

Under agreements made between the Florida Citrus Growers Clearing House Association, and various shippers of citrus in Florida, the committee's statement said, "this committee was constituted for the purpose of directing the general handling of the grapefruit problem for the balance of the present shipping season."

"In that it has been found impossible for this committee to control the shipment of grapefruit during the balance of this season, because of failure to secure support of growers owning approximately 40 percent or more of the grapefruit remaining on the trees, and not under contract to the shippers working under the control agreement, this committee hereby declares that conditions are such that it cannot function for the purpose for which it was organized and that it is hereby dissolved."

"This committee further requests the board of directors of the clearing house to cancel and annul, as of May 7, 1933, all contracts made with shippers for the purpose of carrying out the intention for which this committee was created."

The committee informally announced that in the opinion of its members, the industry should endeavor on its own responsibility to carry out the policies inaugurated by the control committee in regard to shipments for the balance of the season. By this means, committee members explained, the condition of the market still made it highly advisable that low grade fruit and undesirable sizes be kept off the markets.

Blend Of Alcohol And Gas To Operate Cars Is Disparaged

CLEVELAND, Ohio.—Compelling a blend of 40 per cent alcohol in gasoline would convert every filling station and gasoline pump into a potential speakeasy, Gustav Egloff, director of research for the Universal Oil Products Company, Chicago, asserted recently at the closing session of the National Petroleum Association convention here.

Experiment with alcohol mixtures in motor fuel have proven them much less efficient than pure petrol, he said, and the blend would cost the consumer 3 cents a gallon more.

Gasoline-alcohol blends would cut the motorist's pocket $800,000,000 annually and the farmers, whom such legislation is designed to benefit, by establishing a new market for corn, would have to pay $120,000,000, leaving him only about $40,000,000 better off on his corn crop.

"The mere consequences of a law for 'alby' fuel would be beyond measure," said Mr. Egloff. "The liquor bootlegger has for many years found it highly profitable to convert denatured alcohol into potable moonshine. If alcohol-alcohol mixtures were introduced into the motor fuel market, we in other words, about one-quarter of what denatured alcohol used to cost him."
