INTEREST KEEN IN HERALD ELECTION SERVICE TUESDAY

Estimated Crowd Over 2,000 Watches Returns Furnished By The Herald as They Are Flashed on Canvas Screen

Sanford's interest in the general election, centered chiefly in the presidential and congressional races and the passage of the inheritance and income tax amendment, ran high Tuesday night when it was estimated that between 2,000 and 2,500 people assembled in front of and near the Herald office on Magnolia avenue to watch the election returns of the entire nation flashed upon the screen on the opposite side of the street.

Starting at 7 o'clock, the general public of this city and Seminole county expressed interest and keen enjoyment in the returns, comics and cartoons that were projected on the screen until 11 o'clock. Even then there were a number of interested spectators who appeared to be loath to go home and lingered around to hear odds and ends of additional returns coming in over the special wire.

Late Tuesday afternoon, under the direction of City Manager W. B. Williams, the street in front of the Herald office was roped off for half a block and a large number of benches hauled to this place from various parts of the city, especially the parks.

Much laughter resulted when the cartoons drawn by Byron Stevens were flashed on the canvas from time to time. Sketches of the Democratic, Republican and Progressive candidates in their various races as well as some of the principals of the newspaper comic sections such as Matt and Jeff and Barney Google and Spark Plug among considerable merriment among the large crowd assembled here.

The projection apparatus and screen used are the property of Rev. Paul C. Burhans and the local Congregational church respectively. Rev. Burhans recently left Sanford to make his home in Fort Myers but tendered the use of the machine to The Herald for use during the general election.

Dick McLaughlin handled the projection machine during the evening while Robbie Robinson was the official operator for the special Associated Press wire.

The Southern Utilities Company further helped The Herald prepare to receive the election returns by having the white-way lights on the street near the place of projection. This aided considerably by making the projections shows up plainer on the screen.

Members of The Herald force were up all night in order to put the special edition of Herald Extra which was out promptly at 6 o'clock this morning. This was done in effort to give the people of Sanford and Seminole county more complete returns of the elections and results that could not be obtained Tuesday night.

The Herald went to press this morning after a large number of Democratic newspapers in the south, east and west sections of the nation had conceded a Republican victory in the national presidential race.

Many copies of the extra were sold both in Sanford and throughout the county, it reaching the local public sooner than any other paper this morning. Copies were sent to the various parts of the county and everywhere it is reported that these were greedily grabbed up by people seeking for election news and the latest developments of the various contested races.

5 AMENDMENTS ARE PASSED BY STATE VOTERS

Florida Citizens Cast Big Vote To Abolish Levying Taxes on Inheritances and Incomes For all Time; Ticket Chosen

Davis Carries State By More Than 2 to 1 Vote

Unusual Interest Centered in Passage of Constitutional Amendments; vote is Large

JACKSONVILLE, Fla., Nov. 5.—Florida's legislature at its meeting next April will have before it instructions to proceed with plans for reapportioning representation in that body, people of the state adopting that amendatory clause to constitution.

The state voters, according to incomplete returns, swept into existence amendments against levying inheritance and income taxes, authorizing legislature to provide uniform and equal taxation on intangible property and to exempt taxation property owned for municipal educational, literary, scientific, religious and charitable purposes.

The Amendment creating special school tax districts with authority to issue bonds up to twenty percent of taxable properties is apparently approved. Interest centered in the constitutional amendments but the usual majorities were returned to Democratic nominees for office.

TAMPA, Nov. 5.—Complete returns from fifteen out of sixty-five precincts in Hillsborough county give Davis 694, Coolidge 397 and LaFollette 92, all of the constitutional amendments apparently having carried by a large majority in this county.

AVON PARK, Fla., Nov. 5.—Two precincts, complete and one partial, in complete in Highlands county, give Davis 205, Coolidge 202, and LaFollette 20, the five amendments were given heavy majorities with the exception of number two pertaining to Duval county, which was defeated by nearly two to one vote in the early returns.

TAMPA, Nov. 5.—Four precincts in Plant City, show Davis leading Coolidge by vote of 6 to 1, these same precincts give Martin 454, O'Neal 37, for congressman Drane 455, Page 23. The vote on the state amendment is first 239 for, 17 against, second 89 for, 92 against; third 189 for, 31 against; fourth 199 for, 13 against; fifth 181 for, 33 against.

PENSACOLA, Fla., Nov. 5.—The Democratic state and national ticket easily carried Walton and Jackson counties according to a special dispatch to the Journal. The Democrat tickets was ahead in Walton county and carried five to one.

MOOREHAVEN, Fla., Nov. 5.—Three of the largest precincts in Glades county give Davis 130, Coolidge 39, LaFollette 9, for Governor Martin 179, O'Neal 29. Large majorities were given four of the state amendments while the Duval county provision split 51 to 51 in the early returns.

ARCADIA, Fla., Nov. 5.—Incomplete returns from various sections of DeSoto County show heavy Democratic majorities for the national and state tickets, the Duval County amendment was defeated by small majority but the other state amendments safely carried.

Many copies of the extra were sold both in Sanford and throughout the county, it reaching the local public sooner than any other paper this morning. Copies were sent to the various parts of the county and everywhere it is reported that these were greedily grabbed up by people seeking for election news and the latest developments of the various contested races.

PRESIDENT CALVIN COOLIDGE

SMITH LEADING ROOSEVELT BY 114,000 VOTES

Republican On the National Ticket But Returns its Democratic Governor for the Third Successive Time.

Governor Polls Large Vote in New York City

Over Tremendous Lead Of Republican Opponent Gained in Upper Part of State.

NEW YORK, Nov. 5.—New York state gave its electoral vote to Coolidge and Davis, but re-elected its Democratic Governor, Alfred E. Smith, it was generally agreed in the camps of the two leading political parties early today.

Governor Smith rolled up a vote in New York City that offset his early margin that Theodore Roosevelt had upstate and gave him a lead of approximately 114,000 with 935 districts, 395 from this city still missing.

Democrats claimed the re-election of Smith by from 100,000 to 150,000. In New York City the Governor had a lead of 150,000 with about a fourth of the greater city reports upstate. Roosevelt had a margin of about 200,000 with little more than half the districts counted.

Returns from 5355 districts of 7556 in the state including 1240 from 2970 in New York City gave Roosevelt 250,034 and Smith 910,356. The vote for the rest of the state ticket was close, for Lieutenant Governor George R. Lunn, the incumbent, had a vote of 420,099 as compared with 526,248 for Seymour Lowman of Chemung, the Republincan opponent, Wm. H. Taft and elect his Democratic adversary Wilson.

It was estimated Coolidge polled eighteen million popular votes, two million against nine million for Cox.

More voters trooped to polls and dropped their ballots yesterday than ever before in the history of the nation.

As returns stood today, votes in the electoral college either by definite count, concession by rival managers or indicated trend were classified for the three primaries: candidates: Coolidge 343, Davis 136, LaFollette 13; doubtful 89. The number necessary to be a choice is 266.

DALLAS, Tex., Nov. 5.—For the first time in history of the country, Texas elected a woman, Mrs. Miriam "Ma" Ferguson, Governor yesterday. She went through three bitter campaigns not from desire to hold office but in effort to vindicate the Ferguson family name.

Her husband, James E. Ferguson, was impeached when Governor and was unable to get his own name on ballot as candidate. She had to survive two primaries and a final election to win.

Mrs. Ferguson became the Democratic candidate for governor of Texas because she said her husband had been wronged, and that a shadow thereby had been cast upon her name and that of their children. If elected she promised to give the state, with the advice of the legislature, the palace of Prince Chun, former regent.

It was learned from Mr. Randell that the time to be used in the building of the hall is already selected and in the pit on the Masons' property, across Park Avenue from the court house. Other material, it was stated, has not been unloaded yet.

The east station still is crowded with the soldiers of Wu Pei Fu, deposed Peking war lord who has fled from this part of China. Some of these troops are armed, others are unarmed.

It is not clear exactly what is happening, but apparently representatives of Tuan Chi-jui, a former premier, are negotiating with the soldiers to transfer their allegiance and are not disarming those who agree.

It is stated that Wu, before leaving here, instructed his troops to take orders from none but Tuan Chi-jui. Tuan also has sent delegates to Tangku, the nearest gulf port, to endeavor to pacify the soldiers there.

The anti-Ferguson group went to court for a ruling on the constitutionality of a woman holding the governor's chair which they argued was in contravention of the state's law. The trial court upheld counsel for Mrs. Ferguson. The decision was taken to the state supreme court.

Mrs. Ferguson ran second to Judge Felix M.

Fifth Victim "Looney" Gas Dies at Bayway

NEW YORK, Nov. 3.—The fifth victim of "looney" gas poisoning died today. Herbert Fuson failed to rally successfully under the antidote treatment which for a time seemed to help him. The last victims have died approximately at the same hour on three successive mornings, all of them becoming violent before death.

Only ten of the forty-five workers in the research laboratory at the Bayway Standard Oil plant have failed to show symptoms of loss of reason it was learned to day.

Eleven more suffering from the mysterious "looney" gas causing four deaths and robbing scores of others of their sanity were brought to the reconstruction hospital, bringing the total number of victims under treatment to 31.

LECTURE ON TREES BY A DAVEY MAN

It is not enough to plant a tree and expect to grow with out more attention. In our climate there are numerous enemies to attack the beautiful oaks and hardy plantings in our streets and parks.

On Thursday evening at 7:30 P. M. at the Woman's Club, Mr. M. B. Foster of Orlando will give a lecture on trees. He will speak with authority through his long association with the Davey Tree people who have worked such wonders in tree surgery.

Mr. Foster will also speak on certain phases of landscape architecture in Florida through his experience with the Tropical Nurseries in Palm Beach. There will be no admittance fee, and everybody is invited to be present.

Application Made For Continuance of Top Icing In Florida

TAMPA, Nov. 4.—Application has been made to the Interstate Commerce Commission by the Florida Railroad Commission, at the request of the Growers and Shippers League, for the suspension to the supplement issued by the railroads to their tariff prohibiting "top icing" on vegetable shipments for this state. Traffic Manager E. D. Dow of the Florida Citrus Exchange announced Friday.

The Florida Citrus Exchange is particularly interested in the case because of the vegetable interests it serves at Sanford. According to Mr. Dow, "top icing," which merely consists of placing broken ice on top of vegetable packages in a refrigerated shipment, was practiced by Sanford truck growers last season with marvelous success. By this means of additional icing, the expense of which was borne by the shippers, they were able to market more of their products than they could have done otherwise, he says.

Western vegetable shippers have been shipping vegetables under "top icing" for some time, Mr. Dow states, with the consent of the railroads of that section. The railroads object to the practice in Florida with the allegation that this method of icing damages freight cars. If the matter is brought to public hearing by the Interstate Commerce Commission, Mr. Dow says, the Florida Railroad Commission and the Interstate Commerce Commission are prepared to strongly defend the interests of the Florida shippers.

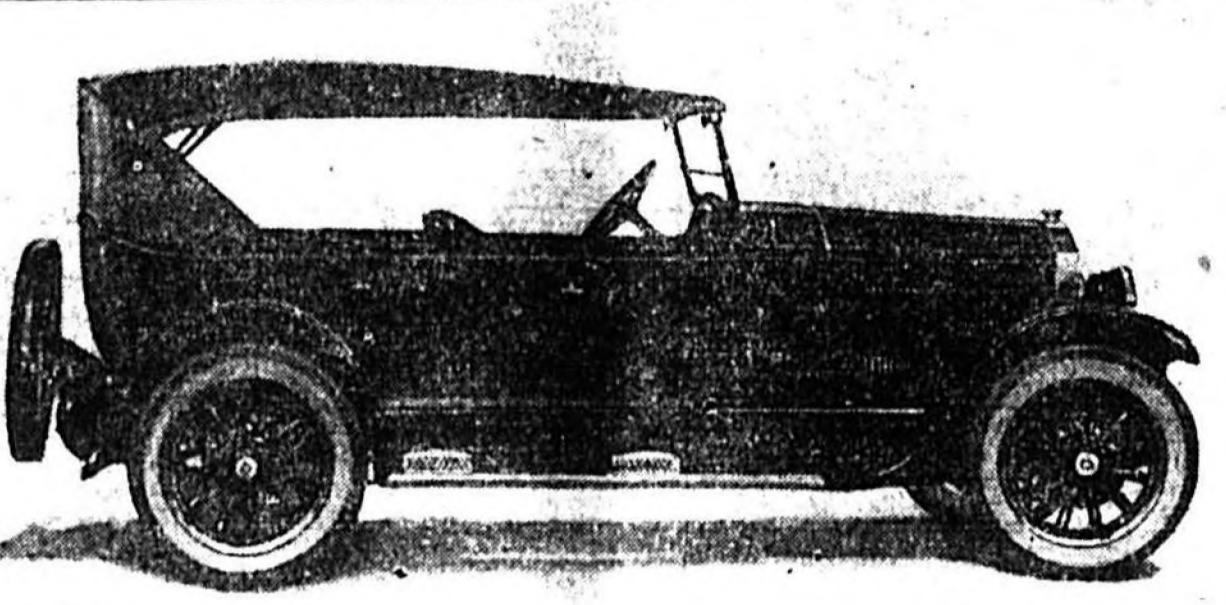

SLAYER IS EXECUTED

WASHINGTON Oct. 3.—The execution by the Persian Government of Seyid Hassam, ring-leader of the mob which murdered American Vice-Consul Imbrie in Teheran and another mob member was reported officially today to the State Department. The death sentence was carried out after the Washington Government had insisted that the two men receive the extreme penalty despite the decision of Persian Cabinet commuting their sentences. A third man found guilty and sentenced to death, was executed some time ago.

San Francisco's biggest financial institution, the Bank of Italy, will in future be controlled by its 2,200 employees.

MANY THOUSAND VOTES CAN BE OBTAINED IN 4 WAYS

Every day this week this many additional votes will be awarded to contestants turning in the greatest number of subscriptions.

5,000 Votes May Win The Car for You.

DON'T WAIT UNTIL THE LAST DAY

Subscriptions will be hard to secure during the last week of the contest. By that time the county will have been thoroughly covered and it will be no easy matter to get subscriptions.

And the voting power of subscriptions will be so great during the last period of the contest as now.

Far sighted contestants are doing all they can to pile up a big lead while it is possible to do so.

The fight will be a hot one at the end. There won't be enough hours in the days during the last period. It will be a contest such as has never been seen in this part of the state. To win the grand prize, no matter how confident she may be this time, will have to redouble her efforts or be defeated by some other worker who just appears less formidable.

CHECK IN EVERY DAY

Don't wait until the end of a period to check in. Do it every day. Help the newspaper get the most started immediately so that subscribers will get the paper promptly.

After today there are but eighteen days. You cannot afford to let one of them pass.

OLD SUBSCRIPTIONS COUNT AS NEW ONES

Contestants are reminded of the fact that renewals of old subscriptions count for just as many votes as new subscriptions. By seeing all the old subscribers who are now subscribers to The Herald, and curing advance payment of their subscriptions, contestants can easily pile up a big number of votes.

There are a good many subscribers to this paper who will be glad to help you, if you but ask them.

And there are a good many people living in this county who have not yet been asked to subscribe. A subscription to the weekly issue will be $7 for the year. If any person doesn't want to pay $7 for the weekly issue, he can pay $1 for the daily issue.

BIBLE THOUGHT FOR TODAY

HAVE ALL GOOD:—The young lions do lack, and suffer hunger; but they that seek the Lord shall not want any good thing. Psalm 36:10.

WHAT MEETS OUR NEED

(Thomas Somerville)
Faith gives us courage to endure,
No matter what befalls.
It knows the source of strength and power,
And confidently calls.

Faith sees what eyes can never see,
It looks beyond the veil,
Where glory shines with undimmed ray;
Its joys can never fail.

It knows how empty and how vain
Earth's fairest treasures are,
For it has sight that sees beyond,
That nothing here can mar.

O glorious source of power and light,
A gift most precious, rare,
Of all things here we can possess,
Naught can with it compare.

Our senses all may us deceive,
And often lead astray,
But faith is God and in His Word,
Lends on to endless day.

Behold the heroes brave and strong,
As strong and true as steel, Abused and scorned, despised and killed,
Faith stands through woe or weal.

It fills the heart with holy rest,
As through earth's vale we tread,
Gives comfort all the journey through,

As onward we go led.

—Glad Tidings.

Would you say that advertising

The St. Petersburg Times is now issuing a paper on Mondays, thus becoming a seven day newspaper.
To its many other services it has added the syndicated articles of rapidly becoming Florida's leading

We run something in the paper last night about how the housewife should be businesslike in the way she runs her home. And then a certain woman whose dinner guest we happened to be not long ago came in this morning and pawed us out good and plenty for switching editorially her methods of economics. We had to explain at great length that we certainly meant no reflection on her, and did not even have her in mind when writing. But you can't beat that for hitting the bullseye when blindedfolded.

The many trials and tribulations of a country editor have made themselves felt in this office during the past few days. With only one operator working where we ordinarily have three, we have been compelled to turn in ourselves and do a large part of the mechanical work. And though most of us have been brought up in newspaper shops, we feel a little bit out of our element, setting type, ads, and making up forms, as the paper quite conclusively shows. We hope to have things in the regular order by tomorrow.

He Solved a Problem.

We have no idea that such a flurry of excitement among our subscribers, such an overwhelming of the postoffice department, such a burdening of our own mails, could be the result of the publishing of one innocent little poem. When we printed that anagram last Saturday night we imagined that half our readers had already seen it and knew the answer, and we doubted seriously if many of the rest of them would be interested.

But Great Scott! We are not resorting in the least to hyperbole when we say that practically everyone of The Herald's readers made an attempt at that promised compliment—any year's subscription and sent in answers, or would-be answers, to the puzzle. Of course they were not right. That is, only one of them was right; but all of them showed earnest thought and endeavor. Some of them were funny, some ridiculous.

One man came very near solving the problem, but he used the same word twice, that is, he filled in two of the blanks with the same word. This is obviously wrong, for as we said before, an anagram is the chance of one word into another by the transposition of its letters.

One woman failed to give us credit for a certain degree of modesty and filled in each of the blanks with the word "herald." In most of the phrases, it carried a fair amount of meaning and it certainly was a novel compliment to us; sincerely appreciated but as stated above the problem was an anagram and the words must be different.

Only one of the many answers turned in accurately filled the bill and in commendation for some very clever thinking, The Herald is pleased to extend to Mr. H. E. Tolar of this city a one year's subscription to this paper free of charge.

Mr. Tolar's solution is as follows:

A (sutler) sat in an (ubster) gray
Watching the moonbeams (uster) play
On a keg in the bushes lay;
And thus to himself did sing:
Thou (rulest) the weak; thou (hastest) the strong
To thee the result of great battles belong.
The trees with a (rustle) took up the song,
"John Barleycorn, my King."

Getting Started Right Is Worth While

Young married people trying to give the impression of a certain kind of "smartness" sometimes adopt a habit of contradicting each other. John makes a statement and Mary immediately "calls him down" on it. Mary makes an assertion and John contradicts her flatly. It is all done with merry eyes and great good nature. The idea is to show strangers these two young people like each other so well they can afford to do the amusing "fussing" with no danger of either being permanently offended.

Perhaps for the first year or so that kind of bickering is amusing—at least to the two engaged in it—but the bickering habit is just about the most pernicious that could be encouraged in the making of a home. In time the friendly contradictions become captious criticism. In time the bright repartee takes on a sting. And afterwhile the home life is seriously marred by the tongue work of the man and the woman who so blithely started out to be bright and funny in their married life.

Instead of the careless comradery, instead of the "sporty" familiarity of two pals, it is eminently well for young people to maintain a degree of politeness and courteous consideration. The snap things, the little attentions that a gentleman shows a woman and a lady accepts with corresponding courtesy, let them mark the early months of married life and be carried on until the pair have reached their sunset years together.

Bright contradictions, inconsiderate speeches, embarrassing remarks, these are never practiced by cultured people among strangers, why in the name of happiness will a man and his wife, loving each other, indulge in tongue work that is to create an atmosphere of discontent in their home?

If in starting their married life young people should vie with each other in being courteous and considerate, if there should be an endeavor on both sides to observe the etiquette that well bred people show among strangers, if there should be care on the part of each to respect each other's privacy and each other's personal possessions, what a chance there would be for building a home in which harmony prevails and love has its way!

THE ACTUAL FACT is that in this day Opportunity not only knocks at your door but is playing an awful chorus on every man's door, and then lays for the owner around the corner with a club. The world is in sore need of men who can do things. Indeed, cases can easily be recalled to everyone where Opportunity actually smashed in the door and collared her candidate and dragged him forth to success. These cases are exceptional, usually you have to meet Opportunity half way. But the only place where you can yet away from Opportunity is to lie down and die. Opportunity does not trouble dead men or dead ones who flatter them, since they are alive. Elbert Hubbard.

CLEMENCEAU'S LIFE

LOUISVILLE COURIER JOURNAL

Clemenceau, from his moustaches and flowing hair to the bright, batiked and belved bolts of France will not launch thunderbolts at the Government. The grizzled old fighter recently refused an offer of $30,000 for ten articles on the political situation. "There is enough trouble now," he is quoted as saying. "Why cause more?"

Surely this is not the Tiger of France that for more than half a century was found in the midst of political battles. Even taking into consideration his advanced age, it does not sound like him. He might have said there was trouble enough in 1871, but a voice of protest was raised by him that made the Government tremble. He might have said there was enough trouble when Dreyfus was suffering martyrdom, but he lost no time in revealing and damning his political crime. He might have said there was enough trouble when his newspaper "L'Homme Libre" was suppressed by the Government, but he continued to champion the cause of liberty in "L'Homme Enchainé."

At the time he was defeated for the Premiership, following the Versailles Peace Conference, Clemenceau had been an inveterate fighter, fighting and losing and fighting and winning, sinking al-

HAVE YOU ever seen a duller national campaign? It's wind up reminds you of the little boys' saying "Letting the old cat die out" as the swing gradually comes to a stop.

The letters are convinced that it is all over and will gladly bet $6,500 against $1,000 that Coolidge will be elected.

The uncertain spot, as seen from the East, is California. But those who remember William J. Bryan's well meant trip to California, to intercede on behalf of the Japanese, know that California will vote to keep in office the party that passed the definite Asiatic exclusion act, and is pledged to live up to it.

THEY ARE voting in England, as we are, not for President, of course, the King stays as Parliament comes and goes, but for control of the Commons, which means control of Government.

Women are active, including our energetic Lady Astor from Virginia. But of 1,105 candidates for Parliament only 39 are women, fewer than 5 per cent of what the number ought to be.

THE ENGLISH have a good system, allowing the pendulum to swing back and forth. Labor can come into power, control Government and appoint a Prime Minister without seating conservative Britishers as much as our rich men are seated at the mere name of La Follette.

THE TORIES should win this time, it's their turn at the pendulum. But the French try of today would have been called a wild individual effort a long time ago when workmen could not vote and no Jew or Catholic could sit in Parliament. Year by year Great Britain is becoming more and more a genuine democracy.

GENERAL DAWES, the most popular speaker of the campaign, says the election will roll out a new form of government he presented.

Mr. Dawes says: "The moral basis of the world is the United States."

La Follette uses the slogan of the United States—fair and equal.

GENERAL DAWES' main demand is for a president for the government while not to be preserved. Government is changing constantly and fortunately.

Other forms of government are admitted, however, as a last resort.

MRS. PEABODY AND MRS. MATTHEWS HOSTESSES TO HOLY CROSS GUILD

The St. Agnes Guild of the Holy Cross Episcopal church held its regular meeting Monday at the home of Mrs. Mildred Peabody with Mrs. Chris Matthews and Mrs. Peabody as hostesses. The living room was beautifully decorated with cut flowers.

Mrs. Robson, president of the Guild, brought to its attention a letter from Benjamin Whitner telling the Guild that the car had already been bought for Rev. Peck.

Plans were made to deliver him on Nov. 5. This would include all the newest features on the car.

A letter was read from Mrs. Peck expressing her thanks for the lovely flowers sent her on her eighty-second birthday and the shower of cards and telegrams that came from the Guild.

Plans were made for the recital to be given on Nov. 13, by Mrs. Julius Takach and Mrs. Leake. Each member of the guild is to send out ten invitations to friends.

Plans were also perfected for every detail. The home was in mystic darkness and as the guests arrived they were conducted through a receiving line and carried them through the house and made them greet all the "spooks" found in their travel. Black cats, witches, and bats were used to help in the cause of festival.

Games were played during the Occasionally a little wound, cut or bruise of the body may become infected and cause trouble. But there is one remedy that can cure many minor infections without the use of drugs. The clean water of the club is the best surfactant, wound with bound firm to keep the skin dry and allow the tissue to complete the healing process. Fresh water, clean and sterile, is the best.

ZEV IS WINNER FIRST OF 3 BIG PIMICO RACES

Horse's Owner Hopes to Duplicate Tryster's East Care, turing All Three Events Won By That Horse.

PIMICO, Md., Nov. 5.—Zev, with which Sam Hildreth hopes to duplicate the feat of Tryster two years ago—that of winning all three of the Pimlico serial weight for age races—began well on his task at Pimlico Tuesday afternoon by beating Goshawk in the first at six furlongs. He was something of the Zev of last year, too, for he came from behind at the head of the stretch under a hustling ride by Laverne Foster to win by a length.

Only four horses paraded for the event and Lucky Play, which was third, and Pep to Peep never were in the hunt. However, there was prize money for all. Zev's share was $2,966, Goshawk's $500; Lucky Play's $250, and Pep to Peep's $100. Incidentally it was the second time Goshawk has been beaten in this event, for he ran second to Bunting a year ago. Zev did not fool the Maryland horse players as he did in Kentucky when Sam Hildreth took him out there last month. He paid only $2.70 straight and $2.20 place in the $2 machines.

Goshawk out broke his field from a walk-up start, while Zev was away last of the four. The son of Whisk Broom 2nd-Dovelet opened up two lengths on his field in the first furlong and winging out in front stepped the first quarter in 22.8-5 and the half in 46.2-5, which is stepping to town over the Pimlico track.

Lucky Play, which never runs unless he can get to the front, hadn't the speed to do so today, and was all out to beat Pep to Peep. The time for the six furlongs was 1:12, the fastest for the distance at the meeting.

Sam Hildreth shot three times during the afternoon and landed only once. Oddly enough, all his horses drew outside post positions, his particular aversion. He started two two-year-olds that never had been to the post before, Burns and Cypress in the first race, at six furlongs, and Burns was left and Cypress got away badly.

Burns, however, ran a race that should be worth remembering. His baby did not run so well as she did at Aqueduct, back of swinging in front right up to the end he was beaten the third race, at six furlongs. She took a nose by Arbitration.

Arbitration paid $11.00 straight threateningly on the stretch into the $2 machines.
