WE ALL HAVE OUR DREAMS

Yes, we all have our dreams. Perhaps sometimes, they are mere projections of our selfishness . . . hopes unfair to others . . . ambitions dangerous to ourselves. But often, they are healthy, honest aspirations . . . opportunities which zeal deserves . . . victories which justice demands. Is it wrong to dream such dreams? Does God frown on honest hope and love? Of course not! Rather, God has given us minds able to dream, and souls courageous enough to seek the difficult—even the impossible. But the Divine Architect helps man to model his castles in the air, and provides the tools for their building. With faith and the guidance of the Church a man may realize hopes and aims which a cynical world calls futile.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For the sake of his community and nation. (2) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Coring The News

BY VIRGINIA CONN

Several more have joined the class at the Mayfair Country Club. They are Viola Werfelman, of Lake Mary, Mary Higgins, Treva Michel and Mildred Smith. Several of those taking the course are graduates of the beginner's class started by Mario Carfagno some months ago. D class, which was once non-existent, is fast becoming one of the largest, although we just lost Shirley Perkins, who is consistently shooting in the fifties, and has gone into class C.

Mary Libbey and Marilyn Forrest gave a surprise Bon Voyage coffee for Terry Price Wednesday morning in Mary's home. Terry was the tearful recipient of many useful gifts for her forth coming trip to Europe. Among these were a variety of stick colleges, hand lotion pillows, a shower cap filled with foot powder and corn plaster for sightseeing in Paris, a trip diary address book, silver slippers, a bridge deck and score for those dull moments on board ship, and some glamorous feather earrings. The hostesses served little biscuits with ham, and strawberries and pineapple on toothpicks with the punch. Attending were Connie Yount, Kay Dwyer, Gene Fritz, Rita Bauer, Olivia Simmons, Rusty Lilleboe, Nancy Balewski, Dot Mann, Doris Francisco, Joan Weigle, G. Etchen Hall, Polly Johnson, and Jane Millner.

Terry is leaving Sanford on the sixth of May, and going by train to New York, where she will stay at the Commodore. Her sister will spend the summer there, and John Robert's Godmother from Boston will meet Terry and John Robert in New York, and see them off on the eighth, as they set sail for Europe on the S. S. Flandre. John Price is stationed with VAH-7 in the Mediterranean. The S. S. Flandre is a French ocean crossing, such a pleasure. There is a swimming pool and cleverly decorated play room for the children.

The ship will dock in Le Havre the fifteenth, where Terry will be met by her father, whom she has not seen since '54. They plan to return to his home in Lille, which is in northern France, close to the Belgian border. John Robert will spend the summer there, while Terry meets John in Spain, or wherever he happens to be at the moment, and this is always a problem. She has bought a Renault to be delivered in Paris on the twenty-fourth, so transportation will be no problem. After John Sr. has been relieved of his duties, the Prices will travel through Spain, Switzerland, Holland, Denmark, and Sweden, with a whole week in Paris. John is getting an abundance of leave, so the pace need not be hurried. Then they will return to Lille, John Robert, and Terry's family. It will be the first time that all of them have been together. Contrary to most opinion, Terry did not meet John in France, but in Boston, while she was working, and planning to finish college. John talked her out of this ambition in a hurry, and it seems he needed to work fast, as he was in Boston for a brief period while stationed on the Coral Sea.

The Prices have not yet decided how they will return to the States, but they will be in Europe about four months. John expects orders, so they will not return to Sanford. The packers will come to Terry's on the 3rd, and she and John Robert will stay with Si and Lou Johnson, until time for the train to leave. It is a very exciting time for Terry, although she regrets leaving her Sanford friends and her job at Stempert Real Estate. Her wardrobe is filled with clothes for every occasion, and it appears that is one French girl who prefers the American fashions. Her clothes are mostly casual with interchangeable separates, and a few black outfits that can be worn any time. John Robert has been working up in his French, and it is possible that by the time he returns to this country he will have forgotten how to speak English.

Mary Libbey's mother is visiting in Sanford from Annapolis, Maryland. Mrs. Thompson also attended the shower for Terry Price.

All year long we have been asked to give to drives for polio, tuberculosis, crippled children and many other excellent causes. At the moment we are on the brink of perhaps the most important of all—the Mental Health drive. They are asking only $2500 in Seminole County to acquire the services of a part time psychiatrist, and continue their education program. The Seminole County Association for Mental Health is only a year old, but they are working desperately to establish even a part time clinic for the many in this county who need assistance. One of the biggest jobs is to convince the public that most mental disorders can be cured, if caught in time. The slogan of this campaign is "The Mentally Ill CAN come back— Help them— Give."

We are moved when we see a sick child, a crippled adult, or any one with a deformity. It is a terrible thing to be blind, or paralyzed, or suffering from disease. But it is worse to have a mind that does not see, or feel, or is tortured by fears. There are more people in hospitals for mental illness than for polio, cancer, heart disease, tuberculosis and other diseases combined. Think of it! There are 750,000 people in mental hospitals now! Many of these could be cured if there were adequate staff personnel, equipment, or room.

At the present time the hospitals are so crowded that many of them can give only what care is necessary to keep these patients alive, without any sort of psychiatric treatment. Mental illness is like cancer. We must overcome the shame and ignorance before we can force ourselves to realize that this is a disease that must be detected early in order to be cured. There are many in Seminole County who need help. Mentally retarded children can be helped of useful lives as adults through proper guidance given by professionals. Now their parents must take them to clinics in Orlando or Jacksonville for a few minutes of advice, which is not enough. Mental disorders can happen to anyone. Like disease, they know no distinction between class or color. How sad it must be to live out a life as in a vacant room— or perhaps in one filled with fear, or hatred where the wonderful machinery that is the brain has gone off the track and burns itself out alone. If you put yourself in the shoes of the parents in this county who have mentally retarded children, or the friends and relatives of those who are bewildered and lost, perhaps you will give to this drive that may mean an open door to many who are living in darkness. Wouldn't you want the chance?

Nuptials Held April 16 In Traverse City

Mrs. Annie C. Meriweather of Daytona and Hypolit Kamil Filip of Traverse City, Mich. exchanged vows in Traverse City April 16. The Rev. Walter Marek performed the ceremony in the Catholic parish house with members of their immediate families attending.

Serving as attendants were Mr. Filip's son and daughter-in-law, Dr. and Mrs. H. K. Filip Jr. of Jackson, Mich. Ring bearers were Katherine and Lirly Klassen, his granddaughters from Interlochen, Mich. They carried rings in Easter lilies.

Immediately after the marriage a wedding dinner was held at the Park Place Hotel. The table was decorated with yellow and white pompons and the couple cut a traditional tiered wedding cake.

The new Mrs. Filip is active in the Palmetto Club, Daytona Beach Garden Club and First Baptist Church and she and Mr. Filip attend New England Club activities. She moved to Daytona from Sanford, her birthplace, twelve years ago.

Mr. Filip is a retired lumberman and restaurant owner. The couple plan to spend winters in Daytona and summers at their resort on Green Lake in Traverse City.

Give— Help Local 'Bell Ringers' Campaign' Reach Goal Of $2,500

Recently, the National Association for Mental Health reported that for the first time in many years there was a definite slowdown in the rise of our nation's mental hospital population. During 1955, the report pointed out, there was an increase of only 6,000 in the national mental hospital load, as compared with an average increase of 12,000 for the past 10 years. In some states there was even a decrease in mental hospital rolls.

This was heartening news indeed. For the past thirty years, mental hospital rolls have been climbing steeply and steadily, until in 1954 they reached the staggering figure of more than 750,000. This figure may have very little meaning until we realize that it is a figure which exceeds the total for all other hospitals combined. Stated another way, there were in 1954 more hospitalized patients suffering from mental illness than from cancer, heart disease, tuberculosis, polio, and all other diseases combined.

Now we can begin to anticipate that the upward trend in mental hospitals will not only slow down, but that soon it may even start on a downward course. However, if we just sit and wait for this to happen, it will never happen. The slowing down which has already occurred has come about only because more patients were given the treatment they needed to get better and go home. If the hopeful trend is to continue, many more patients will have to be given treatment than are getting it today. This can happen only if the people of this state—and other states—as well as right here in our own community take action to bring it about.

With the Mental Health Campaign slated to get under way here on April 29 through May 4 with the "Bell Ringers March" there is an opportunity for all citizens to translate their awareness of this most urgent health problem into action—and action should take the form of giving generously the dollars needed so that your Mental Health Association can bring urgent help to hospitalized mental patients and to their families. Your contributions will take those victims of mental illness a long way along the road to recovery—and return to their loved ones. The mentally ill can come back—if we help them.

The Mental Health Association of Seminole County is headed by George Touhy who is serving as its president. The Mental Health Drive's "Bell Ringers March" is sponsored by the Sanford Pilot Club with Mrs. B. E. Chapman as its chairman. Mrs. V. C. Messenger is publicity chairman for the campaign. The goal set for the week-long campaign is $2,500.

Byrd's Budget Cutting Guide

A Top Strategy meeting of the United States Chamber of Commerce heard the remarks by Senator Harry S. Byrd when he posed the question "Let's Look At The Budget" and offered a budget cutting guide.

The last portion of his address is being carried today. Senator Byrd is Chairman, Senate Finance Committee and Chairman of the Joint Committee on the Reduction of Nonessential Federal Expenditures.

PRINCIPLE AT STAKE. We have 2,387,015 federal employees now, yet the present budget proposes to increase the number of these federal employees by 40,000, and perhaps more. In addition, we have 273,920 civilian employees in foreign countries.

We have 37,817,000 citizens receiving direct checks from the Federal Government each month. Including their dependents, it is possible that this is a majority of the people in the nation.

Whenever we abandon the principle that the people must support the government and adopt the principle that the government must support the people, we have destroyed this democracy that our forefathers have given us as the greatest heritage that has ever come to any people in history.

CUT ACROSS THE BOARD. Our tasks at the Capitol presents many difficulties. It may be necessary before we finish to have a percentage cut—a cut across-the-board. There isn't a department of Government—including Defense—that cannot be cut by 5 to 10 per cent, except for those items that are fixed in their costs, and still function in an effective way.

NEW PROGRAMS MUST BE STOPPED. We have to stop all these programs, or we will never reduce expenditures. The Department of Health, Education and Welfare, for example, will spend $3 billion dollars a year if this budget is adopted. It has a number of new programs. It has $3.5 million for assistance to states for education after high school. It has $451 million for school construction assistance. It has construction grants to medical and dental schools, grants to states for training public welfare personnel, cooperative research for demonstration projects, and so forth. All of these are new activities; and old activities are increased in proportion. We will recommend that there be a reduction of $626 to $675 million in the budget for this department.

THE TIDE OF PROTEST MUST CONTINUE. I have seen groups come from all sections of this country asking for this appropriation and that appropriation, but this is the first time that I have known citizens back home to come to Washington to ask the Congress to reduce the spending of the Federal Government.

Within the last 30 days, thousands of letters have come to members of Congress and the effect has been startling, because that never happened before. A great tide of protest has come to Washington, but it must be continued, let me say, in order to accomplish the purpose we have in mind.

A doctor contends that people will be shorter in the next hundred years. However, he didn't have anything to say about the possibilities that taxes will be reduced before then.

Foreign News Commentary

By CHARLES M. McCANN
United Press Staff Correspondent

Relations between the United States and its two chief World War II enemies are coming up for review within the next two months.

Chancellor Konrad Adenauer of West Germany is to visit Washington on May 21.

Premier Nobusuke Kishi of Japan will follow him on June 15.

The visits will come at a time when important developments are taking place in both the European and Far Eastern situations.

Three Points Each

Adenauer will discuss with President Eisenhower and Secretary of State John Foster Dulles the defense of Western Europe. The reunification of Germany and relations with Soviet Russia.

Kishi will discuss Japanese rearmament, the Japanese-American security treaty, the future of the island of Okinawa and Japan's relations with Communist China.

Adenauer is still worried over the prospect that Britain, France and also the United States may withdraw a substantial part of the troops they now maintain in Germany as part of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization forces.

As part of the question of Japanese rearmament, Kishi wants to revise the Japanese-American security treaty. Part of this picture is the fact that the United States still maintains about 100,000 troops in Japan. Another part is that Okinawa, 225 miles south of the Japanese home islands, now is one of the most important American military bases in the world. Japan is looking forward to the day when it may regain sovereignty over the island.

Increased Trade Conceded

The most important immediate question is Kishi's mind will be Japanese trade with Communist China. The United States has reluctantly agreed that demands by Britain and Japan for increased trade with Red China must be conceded.

An interesting part of the German and Japanese situations is that these countries, the two chief enemies of the United States in the last great war, are actively rearming not only by the consent but by the urgent request of the Western Allies.

The rearmament of Germany and Japan is especially interesting when it is remembered that they, above all other countries, have a long history of militarism.

Some Medical Advances

By HERMAN H. SCHWARTZ, M.D.

ANOTHER tranquilizer and all institutions where infants are drugs designed to treat infectious diarrhea and sleeping eruptions are among the medical advances I would like to discuss in our regular monthly review of medicine.

Mental Disturbances

Compassion is reported effective in treating mild and moderate mental and emotional disturbances. Tested on more than 12,000 persons, it has been successful in treating anxiety, agitation, agitated depression, tension, restlessness, nervousness, and post-alcoholic cases.

It also has been used in cases of vomiting and nausea and is reported particularly effective in treating nausea and vomiting of pregnancy. Side effects are said to be kept to a minimum.

Clinical trials in a leading British children's hospital indicate that antibiotic neomycin is effective in treating infantile gastroenteritis.

This disease, also known as infectious diarrhea, summer diarrhea and shigella infantum, causes many deaths in infancy. It is a major medical problem in pediatric surgery may be advisable.

British doctors report that all of the 104 infants treated with neomycin became clinically well in an average of two days.

The drug chloroquine may provide safer treatment for creeping eruption, a parasitic skin disease commonly encountered in the southwest.

Clinical tests indicate the drug can penetrate the epidermis deeply enough to produce good results.

Such treatment would have an obvious advantage over standard methods of extermination or excision of the active lesion, freezing with solid carbon dioxide or ethyl chloride, and other means.

QUESTION AND ANSWER

I. F. M.: What causes severe pain in the knee?

Answer: There are several causes for pain in the knee. Arthritis is a frequent cause. Excessive strain on the joint, as a result of flat feet, might also produce the condition. Disturbances of the circulation might also be responsible. A careful study by an orthopedic surgeon may be advisable.

GOP Is Running Into Conflict

By RAYMOND LARR

United Press Staff Correspondent
WASHINGTON — The GOP seems to be running into a conflict between its 1956 campaign platform and its reading of grass roots sentiment in 1957.

This same challenge to one of the platform planks—also raises a threat to President Eisenhower's legislative program which seeks to carry out these pledges.

A week and back, Chairman Meade Alcorn of the Republican National Committee confessed that the Omaha regional GOP organizing conference had turned much opposition to foreign economic aid and federal aid for school construction. He said these findings would be included in a report to the White House after the party organization completes its spring series of regional meetings.

Commitments Made

The 1956 GOP platform contains this statement:
"Four thousand communities... encouraged our Republican administration to urge a five-year program of federal assistance in building schools to relieve a critical classroom shortage. The Republican Party will renew its efforts to enact a program based on sound principals of need and designed to encourage increased state and local efforts to build more classrooms."

And this one:
"Technical and economic assistance programs are effective counter-measures to Soviet economic offensives and propaganda. They provide the best way to create the political and social stability essential to lasting peace."

Change Of Sentiment?

These commitments were accepted by the GOP before President Eisenhower sent Congress a 12 billion dollar spending budget, including $1,750,000 for foreign economic aid and 185 million dollars for school construction.

During his reelection campaign, Eisenhower said he would ask Congress to telescope his five-year school program into four years. He has since asked Congress to authorize spending $300,000,000 in four years for aid to schools. He also has repeatedly defended the foreign economic aid program as vital to the national security of the United States as a weapon to check the spread of Communism.

It remains to be seen whether the sentiment found at Omaha will appear at the other regional conferences, particularly those where the Eisenhower brand of "Modern Republicanism" will be stronger than in the Midwest. The next meeting is scheduled for Providence, R. I., next week and for the New England states.

A FEW FACTS from the latest edition of the Official Encyclopedia of Baseball:
Commonest name of big-league ball players: Smith. There have been 82 of them to date.

Among the cities that at one time or another have held big-league franchises are Altoona, Elizabeth, Keokuk and Middletown.

The first professional ball team was the Cincinnati Red Stockings. It made money the first year (1869)—the stupendous sum of $139 net.

Up to 1956, there were 141 no-hit games pitched in the big leagues—and six of them were lost! Biggest no-hitter that Jim Vaughn of the Cubs lost to Fred Toney of the Redlegs in the tenth inning May 7, 1917.

Arthur Godfrey cherishes a tea bag mailed to him by a fan. "I've used this for ten straight days" read the accompanying letter. "and you can see for yourself that there's life in the old bag yet!"

Look Ahead At Top World News

By CHARLES M. McCANN

United Press Staff Correspondent
United Press correspondents around the world look ahead at the news that will make the headlines.

Big Break

European diplomats are highly interested in the twin visits home of Harold E. Stassen and Valerian A. Zarin, American and Russian chief delegates to the London disarmament conference. Officially, the conference is in an Easter recess. But the diplomats believe a big break may be imminent. One report: Russia may offer to open up a zone of 1,500 miles on each side of the Iron Curtain for aerial inspection under President Eisenhower's "open skies" plan. That would just about take in both the Moscow and Leningrad areas.

Maybe

The move in Congress for tax cuts is improving chances for a $482 million-a-year increase in postal rates. Eisenhower's budget estimate of revenues for the fiscal year started July 1 was based on the assumption that postal rates would be higher. If Congress went along, the Treasury would be in a better position to stand the loss of revenue from a tax reduction.

Red Carpet

President Eisenhower, as a matter of policy, hereafter will extend to all visiting chiefs of state the same red carpet welcome he gave King Saud of Saudi Arabia by going to the airport to welcome him. It's partly a build-up for the visit of Queen Elizabeth II to the United States next fall. But other chiefs of state might feel slighted if the President failed to do for them what he did for Saud.

Concern

Diplomatic sources in New Delhi report that Indian Prime Minister Jawaharlal Nehru's government is "very concerned" over a big build-up of the Chinese Communist air force. Russia is known to be supplying China with MIG-15 jet fighter planes, and to be providing technical facilities for at-sembling them in China. But what worries the Indians is a report that the Red Chinese are building a "girdle" of air bases in and around Tibet, right next to India.

Wow

United States intelligence agencies don't put too much stock in Canada's threat to cut off the flow of security information to the United States because of the suicide of E. Herbert Norman, Canadian ambassador to Egypt, after the disclosure by a Senate committee of charges that he was once a Communist insider. ## Veterans Corner

Here are authoritative answers from the Veterans Administration to questions of current interest to former servicemen and their families:

Q. I understand that four-year Korean GI night courses in law do not count for more than three quarters time training. For purposes of computing monthly GI allowances, does this three-quarters rule also apply to four-year night courses approved by the American Bar Association?

A. No. Four-year night courses approved by the American Bar Association are the exceptions to the rule. They may count as full-time training in computing GI allowances.

Q. I have to sell my GI house for reasons of health. If I allow the buyer to take over my GI loan payments, would I still be eligible to have my GI loan refuted?

A. In order for your rights to be restored, VA must be released from liability on its guaranty. This can be accomplished only if the GI loan is repaid in full. It cannot be accomplished if the buyer takes over your GI payments. The release of a veteran from liability does not change the fact that VA continues to be liable on the guaranty.

Q. I plan to add the total disability income provision to my World War II GI term insurance policy. Will the amount I have to pay be based on my current age?

A. Not necessarily. The amount will be based on the age that determines your regular term insurance premium the last time you renewed your policy. This may not be the present age.

Q. I am a young man of 21, eligible for War Orphans schooling benefits. May I file my own application or must my mother file for me?

A. Since you are of age, you may file yourself. In the case of young men or women under 21, applications must be filed by their living parent or guardian.

Veterans living in Central Florida who wish further information about their various benefits should write or visit the VA office at 42 E. Central Ave., Orlando, Fla.

Now Hear This!

by JACKY FENWICK

In spite of a suggestion to the contrary, I intend to go right on giving the Chief's Club whatever publicity I possibly can! I'd like to make something very clear in case there are any others who think I'm invading their privacy. I would do it on my own, if necessary, but I have been asked by the head of the Chief's Club to give it whatever publicity I can, and I intend to go right on doing just that!

Sorry to see her go, as she has certainly been a comfort and a help to so many of us when we've had occasion to go out there. One thing I'd better be sure and get in, before it slips my mind, (what mind???) is that the "White Elephant Sale" that was planned for the next meeting of the Enlisted Men's Wives Club has been postponed for an indefinite period. And all members please remember that the next meeting is NOT this coming Monday, but one week from then, on May 6.

But this Monday will be another chance to get out and enjoy the square dancing at the Chief's Club. They get things underway at 8:00 P.M., so be on time, and you'll be glad you were!

Want to correct a "how-how" I made in yesterday's Column? L.H.O. stands for Limited Duty Officer, not "Line" as I said! A fact which I knew, but I have to admit I wasn't thinking straight at the time!

And so, to get on with what little news I've gleaned since yesterday! A last, final reminder about the "Shipwreck Dance" tonight at the Chief's Club. Remember, this is no fancy-dress affair; just wear what you might be wearing if you ever happened to be shipwrecked! (It's one sure way of being comfortable all evening!) They will start serving the buffet at 8:30, and the band will start playing for dancing at 9:00 P.M.

Yesterday was a real "lump-in-the-throat" day for retiring Chief John L. Thomas and all those who work with him, and who attended the farewell party at Lake Golden. After 30 years of service, it must be terribly hard to say goodbye to work you must love. Liberty for all those who could attend started at 1:00. (1:00 P.M.) And as far as could be ascertained, everyone except the duty section was there! The whole crowd "stuffed" themselves on barbecued hamburgers, hot-dogs, potato salad, olives, pickles, etc. And there were special treats for all the "kids" who were there: Cracker-Jax, candy, chewing gum, and lollipops!

Also attending were Capt. R. W. Jackson and Cdr. Lewis Tamny, with Mrs. Tamny and their children. At 4:00 P.M. Warrant Officer R. E. Tolin made a very nice speech and presented Chief Thomas with a wallet, tie-clip and cuff links, all inscribed with the Masonic insignia. It might be added that this was a most appropriate gift as Chief Thomas is a member of the Masonic Lodge in Geneva, where he plans to continue living after his retirement.

After the presentation, Chief Thomas made a short acceptance speech, thanking one and all for the gifts, and the party. It was about 6:00 P.M. before the affair started "breaking up"; a very good sign that a good time was had by all!!!

There were so many men that "made" chief this time that in order to give all of them full recognition I will have to obtain a complete list, if that's possible. Have heard the names of so many mentioned, but without first names or their outfits, that I hesitate to use them without some actual proof. So all of you men who did get it this time, and are wondering why I don't mention you, please bear with me and as soon as I'm sure, I'll try and give everyone credit. A good way of letting me know would be to call me and tell me who you are, and what you're attached to! Do know that Ed wards Collins, of V.A.H.-7, has made chief, and my congratulations to him. The Collins will be leaving next month for instructor duty in Norman, Oklahoma. In the course of a tel-phone conversation with Mrs. Collins I found out that our husbands had once served together in the same outfit at Cecil Field, N.A.S. in Jacksonville. It's a small world, what???

One of the saddest things I heard today was that we'll be losing our nice civilian nurse at the Dependents Clinic, Mrs. Edith Ross, (whose husband is Chief Charles Ross, the pharmacist at the Dispensary,) will be leaving some time next month. Sorry to see her go, as she has certainly been a comfort and a help to so many of us when we've had occasion to go out there.

Miss Sally Rudy of Ft. Wayne Ind and Miss Audrey Hiers, both students at F.R.U. in Tallahassee spent their Easter vacation in the home of Miss Hiers' parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Hiers. Easter guests also of the Hiers were Mr. and Mrs. Gene Harrison and Mr. and Mrs. Keith Emerson and daughter Ruth of Orlando.

Mr. and Mrs. Roland Dillard of Deland were visiting Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Braddock Wednesday.

Mrs. Hertha Guy of Deland was dinner guest Sunday of Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Henderson.

Mr. and Mrs. John Light were visitors in the northern part of the state over the weekend.

Students and faculty of the Enterprise Junior High school settled down Wednesday and got back to work following their week's Easter vacation and the assembly program for both groups today was a most interesting film, "America for Me," was shown by Prof. L. O. Hayman.

Edward Osgood, of Hillsdale New Jersey was guest of his cousin, Mrs. Elizabeth Brockmeyer Friday.

A. C. Richard W. Tyler who has been stationed at Altus Air Force Base, Altus, Okla., arrived home for a 30 day leave with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Tyler.

Rev. and Mrs. William Anthony plan to leave Monday to return to their home in Rutherfordon, after his having been supply rector at the All Saint's Episcopal church, Enterprise for the past six months.

Miss Marie Goodwin celebrated her birthday Thursday with a wicker toast and swim at Lake Gale with a number of the teenage set joining in the celebration.

Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Piddie and Jenny, Roland and Johnny of Port Arthur, Tex. attended the Easter Service at the Methodist church and visited Mr. and Mrs. M. H. Ryan following the services.

M/Sgt. and Mrs. Henry Crawford and daughter Ann of Savannah, Ga. spent the Easter holidays with Mrs. Crawford's parents Mr. and Mrs. O.B. Canada.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Boyd and children of Orlando were weekend guests of Mrs. Boyd's mother Mrs. W. A. Goodwin.

WOMEN MAKEUP FOR MEN NEW YORK (AP)—Women consult men about their looks. A survey by one beauty firm (No-teen) showed women first want the approval of husband or boy friend. Women friends rank second; then co-workers; if the woman is a working gal. Approval of children rated fourth.

ACCOMPLISHMENTS WORCHESTER, Mass. (AP)—Mrs. Arries Ann Ward, 95, who was born in slavery, is proud of the fact that she can recite the alphabet backward and can touch her toes without bending her knees.

DISPOSABLE LIVING ITEMS MAKE IMPRESSION NEW YORK (AP)—Displacement of the old housewife virtues of saving everything by the current American passion for tossing things out is an outstanding impression gained by Dr. Richard Devine of the University of Brussels during a tour of duty here as a research consultant for a manufacturer of household electrical appliances.

"Use them and lose them," seems to be the slogan of the efficient housekeeper today, Dr. Devine said, in pointing out how manufacturers have supplied disposable diapers, drinking cups, curtains, towels bath mats, bathing tins and even the expendable bathroom bowl cleaning gadget invented by Mrs. Richard Boies, wife of the composer.

Each member was presented with bible markers by Mrs. Reynolds and markers were sent to absent members along with a friendship note.

Mrs. Forrest was assisted by Mrs. Sadie Noble and Mrs. Eloise Hunt in serving pie, coffee and soft drinks, to the following: Mrs. Margaret Reynolds, Mrs. Marie Lewis, Mrs. Gus King, Mrs. Elizabeth Cleveland, Mrs. Marie Mitchell, Mrs. Lenora Green, Mrs. Margaret Ashby, Mrs. Frances Walton, Mrs. Marie Hamberger, Mrs. Johnnie Elam, Mrs. Bobbi Robbins, Mrs. Gladys Peacock, Mrs. Dorothy Osham and Mrs. Irene Harris.

Dr. Devine predicted that the trend in such items would grow, and that the day of disposable bed linens, pots and pans and clothing is not far off.

HIGH HONORS RECEIVED WADE GARNER, son of Dr. and Mrs. W. H. Garner and a senior in the Medical School of the University of Miami, has been selected to work in the Department of Surgery at Jackson Memorial Hospital in Miami under a fellowship support by the National Institute of Health. This fellowship carries with it a scholarship and will be from June 3—September.

Wade will work directly under Dr. Robert Litvins who is the professor of the new mechanical heart pump.

As if this isn't enough, another honor has also come to Wade. He was chosen by the students of the University's Medical School to be their representative at the annual meeting of the Clinical Congress of the American College of Surgeons to be held in Atlantic City from October 14 through 18. Mrs. Garner, the former Miss Marilyn Messler, will attend with her husband.

Congratulations, Wade!

HOLIDAY HAPPENINGS LARRY BATES, student at Uoff, entertained his Alpha Tau Omega fraternity brothers at his family's cottage at New Smyrna Beach this past weekend. From all reports, everyone enjoyed much a fabulous shrimp boil on the beach!

Home visiting with their parents this past Easter weekend were HUBBA BISBEE and MIKE WIKELCHEL, students at FSU.

BOBBY and ERNIE MORRIS, students at the Uoff, entertained a group of friends at the M.Q. Ranch last Sunday afternoon—boating and water skiing were the main events on the agenda. Among those in the party were HERECACAIN and DAN PELLHAM—both students at the Uoff.

MARGARET MORRISON enjoyed a nice long Easter weekend with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. A. MORRISON. It seems that schools in Daytona, where she is interning this semester, were out Friday through Wednesday which pleased her no end.

WALTER BOUTH was seen home for a few days from the Southern Baptist Theological Seminary at Louisville, Kentucky.

TOMMY SPEER, senior at Uoff, spent the holidays with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. G. A. SPEER. He had as his guest five fraternity brothers.

JIM HAWKINS is finally up and around and fit to go back to Stetson after a bad siege of measles during the holidays. Fine way to spend a vacation, huh, Jim?

TERRY CORDELL and RONNIE ROBINSON were seen around this past weekend while visiting with their parents Mr. and Mrs. Denver Cordell and Mr. and Mrs. R. F. Robinson.

Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Goebel also had their son, MARVIN GOEBEL, home with them for the Easter holidays. Marvin is a Junior at Georgia Tech.

WAYNE MCCOY, son of Mr. and Mrs. Evans McCoy, seemed to be as pleased as punch to be home from Uoff for the holidays. Miss Tina Gifford and Miss Lucy Rand of Deland were the guests of NANCY ROUNTREE and ROSEMARY GARNER last Friday evening. Tina, Nancy, and Rosemary are Phi Mu sorority sisters at FSU.

Seen home from FSU were MARTHA OWEN, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Owen, and JOHNNY BOWEN, son of Mrs. Annie Bowen.

ROSEMARY GARNER who is in nurse's training in Miami was home over the Easter weekend visiting with her parents, Dr. and Mrs. W. H. Garner.

Also home for the holidays was ALICE BROWN, senior at the University of Miami.

Close Thrillers Seen Every Day In Rotary Play

Those who have expected this season's issue of the Rotary League to be a free-throwing, high-scoring farce have been happy to find close thrillers that have carried every day.

In yesterday's action in the "Bill Ring", the name fondly attached to diamonds two, three, and four of the New York Giants Farm System Base behind Memorial Stadium, the Tigers beat the Pirates 3-0 in a close one and the Giants edged the Cubs 2-1 in a game that was a battle to the final pitch.

The win by the Tigers yesterday was enough to shove the team out front as Earl Summerrall went the full route for the victors. He showed a good fast ball and a potential curve that was good enough to strike out nine Pirate opponents, five of them in a row. The Giant victory over the Cubs was good enough to bring the club in contention for the lead and a tie with their victims for second place. The Tigers found themselves in the hole.

Earl Summerrall, captain of the Tigers, took the mound to lead his team to a 3-0 win over the Pirates. The chunker stuck out 10, walked one and allowed only one hit.

Ray Lundquist was the power with the stick getting a three bagger and a single for three trips. He tallied twice.

The Pirates defense was featured by two double plays, but unassisted, one by Jones and the other by Mann.

Spring Training Gets Underway May 10 At SHS

Athletic Director Fred Ganas announced this morning that the Sanford Seminoles gridiron would be hot for spring training May 10.

According to Ganas, the candidates for next year's edition of the Sanford Seminoles football team will be issued uniforms and will then get down to business the following Monday, May 13.

After conditioning training, the members of the teams will be divided into three teams, Dick Silvers, Dave Laude, and Bud Lauer will each be in charge of a team and scrimmages will be held daily.

Ganas said the spring training would feature an accelerated training program this year. "The boys will have to get in shape in a hurry this year," Ganas said. "If we want to work on fundamentals and scrimmages most of the time we'll have to whip the boys in shape to avoid excessive injuries."

Ganas said the prospects looked bright for a good year next season. "The team that was young and inexperienced last year will be seasoned this year," Ganas remarked, "and the program of spring training will be scheduled accordingly."

Ganas said that James H. Pigot, the newly appointed Seminoles Football coach, would not be on hand for spring training. "Pigot will come to work for Seminole County during the summer," Ganas said. "In the meantime, Dave Laude will direct the spring training program."

Rotary League action may be witnessed every afternoon except Wednesday beginning at 4 p.m.

Awards To Cover All SHS Sports

Sanford Seminoles Athletic Director Fred Ganas announced yesterday that there will be awards, beginning this year, that will cover every sport at Seminole High School.

All awards, said Ganas, will be presented on the night of May 2, when SHS holds its first annual

All-Sports Banquet at Pine Crest School.

The three new awards will be in baseball, track, and all sports. At the last regular meeting of the Seminoles Club, it was voted that the organization present annually two awards to students of Seminole High One of the awards will be presented to the Most Valuable member of the Track team and the other will be presented to the Most Valuable member of the Baseball team.

The other new presentation will be a joint award by the Sanford Herald and Mrs. L. L. McLucas. The Herald will present a gigantic trophy to the school in conjunction with an annual award by Mrs. McLucas to the Most Outstanding Athlete for each school year. Combined, the awards are to be called the L. L. McLucas Memorial Trophy and Award. Each year the winner of the Memorial Award will have his name inscribed on the Memorial Trophy, which will be kept in the SHS trophy case.

Awards in Football are: Good Sportsmanship, presented by WTRW; Most Valuable, presented by Peter Schaal; Best Blocker, presented by the Lions Club; Most Improved, presented by Kader Jewelry; Most Promising, by Robson Sporting Goods. Also presented in football is the Captain Lauche Scholarship, which is presented annually to the team member, who starts in every game his senior year, who has the highest academic grades.

In Basketball the Most Valuable award, presented by Jack Morrill; three trophies and keys for all players by the EHS.

Mayfair Inn Open Entrants Playing In Kentucky Derby

A host of last year's entrants of the Mayfair Inn Open Golf Tournament, including Walker Inman Jr. and Mayfair Inn Playing Pro Jay Hebert, bucked leg-uring hills and an early spring growth of unruly Kentucky grass yesterday as only 10 of the 115 pros and amateurs managed to break par on the par 71 course, as Inman was barely able to protect his one-stroke lead in the second round of the $30,000 Kentucky Derby Open Golf Tournament.

Inman, 26, whose home is Augusta, Ga., but is playing out of Bolton, Mass., put his putting iron to work and shot a four-under par 67 Wednesday to lead an international field of fellow pros and amateurs.

Inman rattled the cup with birdies on the first three holes and carded a 31-38. The tanned Walker finished his round by running in a 28-foot birdie putt on the par-five home hole.

Bill Casper Jr., an ex-Mayfair Open contestant who is expected again this year, from Bonita, Calif. was one shot behind Inman at 68.

Jay Hebert, Bo Winger, Odesa, Tex.; Pete Cooper, Lakeland, Fla.; and Al Besselink, Grossinger, N. Y. all contestants in Sanford, were bunched at one below par 70.

Arnold Palmer, Laroche, Pa.; Jack Burke, Jr. Klamath Lake, N. Y.; George Bayer, Los Angeles Masters Champion; Doug Ford, Mahopie, N. Y.; Leo Bigatti, St. Paul, Minn.; and Gardner Dickenson, Panama City Beach, Fla. were also contestants here on the smallest city on the PGA Tour and were even par at 71.

The field will be cut to the low 80 today, and after a lay-off tomorrow, the final round will be played Sunday.

3-Game Baseball Series Starts

GAINESVILLE—A three-game baseball series between Florida and Tennessee is scheduled for today and Saturday at the Gators' Perry Field.

Coach Dave Fuller said he will start his ace, Burt Touchberry, on the mound for Florida in the single contest today, which begins at 3 p. m.

Ducky Williams will draw the starting assignment in a seven-inning first game Saturday, starting at 1:30, while Bubba Williams is slated for duty in the nine-inning second game.

Touchberry, who has given up but two earned runs in 35 1/3 innings this season for a remarkable 0.313 ERA, was charged with his only loss last Friday against Georgia. Loose fielding is held responsible for the 3-4 loss. Touchberry's worst record is 3-1. Bucky Williams is 1-3 for the season, while Bubba Williams is 1-4.

The Gators, who have a record of nine wins against 10 defeats in all games and a 3-8 South-eastern Conference mark, are still paced at the plate by Shortstop Russ Macky, who is hitting .308. He is the only Gator regular batting over .300. Bubba Williams is hitting .271, but has been at bat on 14 official times.

NEW YORK (U.P.)—Ask his players what changed Casey Stengel from a baseball clown to a diamond genius and you come up with the summation that he is a combination mygale, psychologist and slave driver—complete with whip.

Stengel, in his ping years with Brooklyn and Boston, never finished higher than fifth in the managerial derby. His current string of seven pennants and six world championships in eight years is unmatched in baseball annals.

Everybody agrees that he has the talent with which to work. They respect him.

"But the biggest thing," says one, "is that he makes everybody feel he's the boss. No clubhouse lawyers with us. He kills 'em. He tells us up and straight and, when he's done, you don't have any questions."

The Yankees have great respect for Stengel, no great fondness, possibly, because of his stern and dictatorial manner in the privacy of a businesslike clubhouse, but a respect tinged with just a bit of timidity. Yet, because of his fairness, they work ever harder for his rare awards of praise.

Unquestionably he has had the talent yet it has been his job to mold the players into champions and he has done it with the aid of an able if silent band of coaches such as Jim Turner, Bill Dickey and Frank Crosetti. Yet even they listen mutely when the "Boss" speaks, which is often, because nothing misses the ever-watchful Stengel eyes.

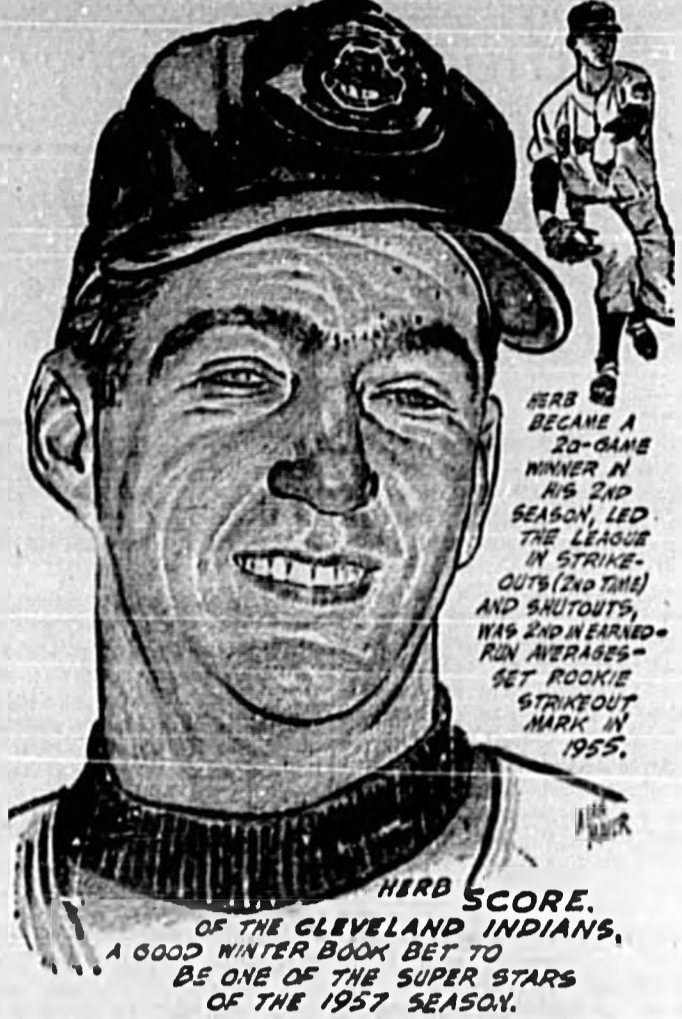

Instruction: The Answer

"How'd we get the players?" Stengel growls. "Well, we don't hold a gun to their head and make them sign. Nor do we promise them any more than they are offered by other clubs."

The answer must be that the Yankee system of painstaking and never-ceasing instruction is the answer. Stengel instituted the so-called rookie school idea in 1931, yet, even when a man "makes" the big club, he still is checked and rechecked constantly.

"Maybe the answer is good ma-

Watch Out For Your Electrical Gadgets

By HERMAN M. BUNDESIM, M.D. WITH all of the electrical gadgets we find in American homes these days, I think most of you should be a bit more familiar with the dangers of electrical burns. Now don't misunderstand me. Much of this household equipment is perfectly safe. But anything could happen. And the more you know about electrical shock and burns, the better it will be.

For example, the current in your home generally can be considered dangerous. Anything above 65 volts can cause harm, especially if the person coming in direct contact with it is well-grounded. Electricity used in most homes is 110 volt, 60-cycle alternating current. Experts tell me that alternating current is about three times as dangerous as direct current and the greatest hazard is in the cycle range of 30 to 150.

Reactions Differ Current which may kill one person may have little or no effect on other persons. Most susceptible to shock are elderly persons, alcoholics, those with disturbed thyroid, those suffering from hardening of the arteries and those with chronically greasy skin. Usual symptoms of shock include nervousness, headache, defective memory, insomnia, delirium and sometimes even a complete change in personality.

These symptoms don't always develop immediately after an electrical accident. Sometimes it may be several months before they occur. Often the extent of electrical burns can't be determined for days or even weeks after an accident. Because of the high temperature of the electric burn, there is always danger that the shock will cause damage to the blood vessels.

QUESTION AND ANSWER Mrs. L. P. A.: I have been ill for two years with a heart condition and have lost my desire for food. What can I take to restore my appetite? Answer: Poor appetite comes from many causes. A thorough examination should be made to determine the cause of the trouble so that proper treatment may be employed.

Challenge For Dr. Mays

A new novel by ELIZABETH SEIFERT.

© 1955, by Elizabeth Seifert. Reprinted by permission of the publisher, Dodd, Mead & Co., Inc. Distributed by King Features Syndicate.

SYNOPSIS
A group of doctors in the Midwest, a town of 100,000, is established a free medical clinic despite lack of money and opposition from the County Hospital. Dr. John Mays, a strong booster of the project, returns from a meeting and tells his wife Helen that enough money has been raised by the wealthy Mrs. Alice Millburn to set up the clinic. Mrs. Millburn donates the money to start the Women's Club because they voted against helping the project. Dr. Mays, however, had arranged for a young medical administrator, in hired to organize the clinic—and fight opposition, led by industrialist Dr. Claude Williams-Smith head of the Hospital. Dr. Mays pretends to remain uninvolved until he can investigate Mrs. Williams-Smith's past near the clinic. Dr. Mays meets a younger named Johnny who is brought to the clinic every day by his mother, a pretty young blonde named Lacey. Mrs. Williams-Smith's newspaper reporter, and his wife, who he promises to marry in a good story soon. Meanwhile, two young interns from County Hospital all Dr. Mays. He promises to marry her. Dr. Williams-Smith's newspaper reporter, and his wife, who he promises to marry in a good story soon. Meanwhile, two young interns from County Hospital all Dr. Mays. He promises to marry her.

CHAPTER 11
CHAD MAYS' park bench became so much his property that he resented its occupation by anyone else when he came to claim it for that half-hour each day. Johnny also regarded it as Chad's, and would seek him there. Chad was equally concerned if Johnny were missing. And his companion, who was such a pretty girl, so poised, so so pleasant to look at in her neat cotton frock. She didn't appear to notice Chad, though she was continually aware of Johnny, and must have considered the man who was the child at beside him, or chattered to him from his tricycle. The youngster was nicely trained, loud with a mind of his own, but accustomed to obey. One day, however, he chose not to near Lacey's call, and Chad for his own purposes, didn't send Johnny on his dutiful way. So the young woman closed her book, rose from the bench and came firmly through sunlight and shadow to fetch her change. "Johnny," she said determinedly, from ten feet away. Johnny pushed close to Chad's thigh. "Come and sit down here," he offered hospitably. Chad rose. "Would you?" The girl came to them. "It's time we went home." Nervous.

She trembled her upper lip. "Say good-bye to the gentleman, dear, and—"
"Smell feet!" said Johnny roughly.
The girl's eyelashes flew up and back. "Why, Johnny?"
Chad chuckled. "I'm afraid he learned that from me, ma'am. You meet all kinds in the park, you know."
She laughed, too. "Yes—I—are you from Texas?"
He looked rueful. "Won't Arkansas do?"
"Will it have to?" She was almost mischievous.
It was the first of several such discussions. Now they shared a bench by mutual agreement, watched Johnny together—and talked. Not really personally, yet by the middle of the month Lacey knew what Chad's likes and dislikes were, in what he believed.
One afternoon in mid-June, Chad came, bringing Johnny a hand-puppet, a monkey, and spent ten minutes showing the boy how to work it. Then, when Johnny pulled off to show it to his friend, Chad turned to Lacey, his arm along the bench-back, and asked her calmly if she would marry him.
She turned so white that his hand cupped her far shoulder to steady her. The shoulder and arm were bare, and soft, and warm—and at his touch, color flared back into her cheeks. "I wish you hadn't—joked that way," she said regretfully.
"I wasn't joking. I'm thirty years old, and you're the first girl I've ever asked to marry me. I meant it."
She lifted her shoulders helplessly. "Why—as your first proposal—should you ask me?"
"Because," said Chad softly, his voice vibrant, "you're sweet. You're innocent. Unspoiled. You don't even know my name."
"It's Lacey."
"Lacey what?"
"What difference does that make? You don't know my name, either. Or where I came from."
"Arkansas," she spoke so softly that the word was only a breath between her parted lips. He sat thoughtful. "Maybe you should know my background," he conceded. "If we're going to be married."
She turned a little to face him, and he sat for another silent minute.

He paused, then—"I didn't grow up," he said wryly. "I'm not entirely sure I liked my family. There was a good bit of conflict in our home. My mother, you see, insisted on every expression of elegance, every evidence of culture. While my father—Chad smiled reminiscently. "My father was just as determined to be the common man."
"But—you see, I'm this way about people, Lacey, a man's self is the significant thing. What he is, in what he believes, what he will fight for. Let those things be there, and nothing else matters, the color of his coat, or his cut."
"But if the color is the important thing, if refusing to wear a proper coat... then a man becomes a hollow shell. A phony. And I hate phonies!" He stopped, and waited.
So did she. "And," she asked, after a little, "your name?"
"It's Chad. You've heard Johnny, the whole thing, of course, is Chadburn Mays." He glanced at her. "M.D." His lips pressed tightly shut.
"All that build-up of truth and honesty!" she said merrily.
"Of course I don't believe you. Oh, I believe in what you appear to be—Johnny's somewhat individualistic friend. But Dr. Mays—I've read about him in the newspapers. He's a famous man."
"Would you marry that stuffy Dr. Mays, and not listen to Johnny's friend, Chad?"
Lacey put her hand softly upon his, drew it away. "I'd not marry anyone I don't know," she said gently.
Abruptly Chad got to his feet. "How are you going to get to know me?" he demanded. "If you can't talk to a guy, and know whether he's telling you the truth?"
She met his gaze bravely, but said nothing. And with a muttered exasperated "So long," Chad turned on his heel and strode away from her. He did not look back. And of course it did not occur to him at the time that he was the one being completely unreasonable.

'Written On Wind' Has Four Star Cast

Magnificent drama is coming to the screen of the Ritz Theatre Sunday, with the opening of "Written on the Wind." Universal-International production in Technicolor boasting a star-studded cast headed by Rock Hudson, Lauren Bacall, Robert Stack and Dorothy Malone.

The story is a dramatic study of a man who becomes incapable of living happily with his young wife. His conflict with his best friend, who loves his wife without admitting it, makes this one of the most compelling emotional stories to hit the screen this year. As the silent admirer of Lauren Bacall, his friend's bride, Rock Hudson turns in another telling performance in a growing list of hit dramatic roles which keep him at the pinnacle of Hollywood stardom. Hudson's compelling dramatic ability, combined with the quiet charm which first made him a bobby-sox idol, makes his romantic scenes with Miss Bacall among the most poignant of the season. Miss Bacall is at her best in the part of a sophisticated woman who attracts all types of men and her svelte beauty enhances the hard-hitting emotional sequences.

Lauren Bacall and Rock Hudson have a friendly chat over the lunch table in this scene from "Written on the Wind," exciting Technicolor drama from Universal-International, which co-stars this pair of players and Robert Stack and Dorothy Malone.

Episcopal Diocese Convention In May

WINTER PARK—38th annual convention of the Episcopal Diocese of North Florida will be held in Daytona Beach May 7, 8 and 9 according to an official announcement made by the Rt. Rev. Henry I. Louttit, bishop of the diocese.

Clergymen and laymen from the 182 congregations including Holy Cross Episcopal Church of Sanford, will attend the three-day church meeting, along with members of the Woman's Auxiliary.

Registration is scheduled to begin at 10 a. m. on Tuesday, May 7, in the Princess Isabella Hotel on Seabreeze Boulevard, convention headquarters.

The diocesan-wide gathering will be called to order at 3 p. m. on the same day.

Among the principal events will be a laymen's dinner, Woman's Auxiliary board executive luncheon, and diocesan banquet on final evening of the convention.

Also, vital reports on Episcopal activities, appointments, committee meetings, addresses by Bishop Louttit and guest speakers, services at St. Mary's Church and Holy Trinity By the Sea are all included in the annual session.

Clergy co-chairman for the convention are the Rev. Gail D. Webb, St. Mary's Church, and the Rev. J. Satoris Wolfe, Holy Trinity Church. Lay chairman is J. G. Horton, vice president of First Atlantic National Bank in Daytona Beach. Woman's Auxiliary chairman is Mrs. A. Steuart Derby Jr.

Civic Club Will Close Season With Luncheon

ALTAMONTE SPRINGS — A covered dish luncheon next Wednesday at 12:30 p. m. will bring to a close the 1956-57 season of the Altamonte Springs Civic Club. Meetings will be resumed next fall.

Honor guests will be all past presidents of the club. A special table will be reserved for this purpose. On the roster are the Misses Donald Harris, Henry Harnett, L. T. Bryan, Earle Riley, Robert S. Bradford, Clifford Knox, and Mrs. J. D. Morrison who is presently serving her third term in office.

Mrs. K. A. Jube, Mrs. Clifford Spauld, Mrs. Fred Reasman and Mrs. Clifford Gilbert Jr. are lunch on hostesses for the day.

Following the luncheon, a business meeting at which time reports of officers and committee chairmen will be read, and installation of officers for the ensuing year. Mrs. Donald Harris, the club's first president, will be installing officers.

Officers-elect are Mrs. Morrison, president; Mrs. H. D. McIntosh Jr., vice president; Mrs. P. O. Schaller, recording secretary; Mrs. Milton L. Tinsley, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Harold K. Seaman, treasurer and Miss Anne Cline, historian.

Parents Reminded Of Plant Day

ALTAMONTE SPRINGS—Parents are reminded of the Plant Day for Lyman School Tuesday April 30. A committee will be at the school on that day to relieve the plants and shrubs and they will immediately plant them.

Blood Bank Group Calls Important Meet For Tuesday

ALTAMONTE SPRINGS — An important meeting of Old Glory Community Blood Bank committee will be held Tuesday at 8 p. m. at the American Legion Home on Prairie Lake.

This is to make final arrangements for the Donor Day to be held May 14. The local blood bank reserve is maintained for all persons in the Altamonte Springs, Longwood, Fern Park and Forest City-Bear Lake areas and is replenished by holding two donor days a year. All persons in the area are likewise requested to sign up to give blood on Donor Day.

Presbyterian Choir To Give Musical Program May 5

An hour of worship in music will be given by the Chancel choir at the First Presbyterian church on Sunday night, May 5, at 8 p. m. the pastor, the Rev. A. G. McInnis says.

The features of the service will be the cantata by Alec Rowley called "The Garden and the Cross," and choral singing, with the offering of the choir.

The service will be under the direction of Mrs. George Touby, Minister of Music, who will play three organ selections as prelude.

Church officials extend a cordial invitation to the public to enjoy the music and the worship atmosphere of this service which in those of a similar nature in past years has been praised by the overflow congregations that have attended.

After Easter Dance Is Tomorrow Night

ALTAMONTE SPRINGS — Approximately 40 invitations have been sent out for the "After-Easter Dance" to be held Saturday by the Altamonte Springs youth group.

The formal affair will be held at the Community House from 8-12 p. m. Music will be by recording and refreshments will be served.

Those receiving invitations are permitted to bring one guest if they so desire.

Atomic Age Reorganization Plans Told

WASHINGTON — The Marine Corps has disclosed atomic age reorganization plans that will enable it to move its combat divisions around the earth entirely by air.

The corps' combat divisions no longer will have to rely on ships to take them to a combat area. Tanks and other heavy equipment will be eliminated from the three Marine divisions and relegated to higher echelons where they can be called on if needed in special situations. They would be brought in later by ship.

High-ranking officers said the corps has rejected the new U.S. Army concept for divisions. The Army is reorganizing all its divisions, equipping each with five combat commands which can be varied in size, depending on the battle situation.

The Marines said they will stick to the system of three infantry regiments and one artillery regiment per division. The reorganization of the 1st Division has already started at Camp Pendleton, Calif. The 2nd and 3rd Divisions will follow suit.

A public announcement was made of the new amphibious and atomic plans until the first of a series of articles appeared in the Marine Corps Gazette, a publication of the Marine Corps Assn.

The articles, prepared by a Marine board, described how the reorganization resulted from a six-month study under Maj. Gen. Robert E. Hogaboom.

The Marine aircraft wings, one to a division, will be equipped with new type jet fighters and small all-weather bombers to support combat operations under conditions of low visibility or total darkness, a spokesman said. Such conditions, he said, would be the most likely for operations in the atomic era.

Air wings also will get 24 additional helicopters to be used for reconnaissance. Each division will have a new reconnaissance battalion of 400 men compared with the former company of 150 men.

The Marine division will have about 3,000 fewer men than the old divisions. It will comprise 18,000 officers, enlisted men and Navy medical corpsmen — compared with 17,700 in the new Army infantry division.

Dramatics Class To Present 'Dino' At SHS Apr. 29-30

A Reminole High School Senior Dramatics Class play in three acts will be presented in the school auditorium next Monday and Tuesday nights at 8 o'clock.

"Dino" is the powerful but heartwarming story of a young man who is given a chance for a happier life through the associations with people of a settlement house.

A cast of 18 will be seen and heart in the play directed by Mrs. Boyd Coleman.

Sponsors of the play are: Mrs. William R. Wray, Miss Rebecca Stevens, George Dabbs and Bill Fleming.

Members of the cast are preparing stage and sound effects for the play that is expected to draw a full house on both evenings of the performance.

Those taking part are: Leslie Smith, Fred Behrens, Margaret Elliott, Ira Cauter, Joyce Brown, A. J. Clements, Fred Hall, Sylvia Price, Eddie Mittle, Edna Cowan, Verti Spivey, J. D. Stone, Robert Carver, Gene Nelson, Richard Smith, Dorothy Cain, Doty Hollinger, and Joyce Hoyd. Extras and off-stage voices are: Bill Chisolm, Joe Russi, and Sylvia Pearson. The prompter is Kay Jenkins.

The play "Dino" will have Leslie Smith in the leading role as Dino Falcaro.

Casselberry Man Struck By Auto

By Mrs. Raymond Mirris CASSELBERRY—William Keller, son of Mrs. Fred A. Yeager, suffered severe bruises and lacerations when struck by an automobile in Orlando, Fla., after a regular monthly meeting Tuesday April 30 at the Elks Club.

Keller, an employe of an Orlando blue printing firm, was making routine deliveries when he was struck at the intersection of Garland and Robinson Streets. Keller said that he was thrown approximately 25 feet, while the light weight motorcycle, and in his work, was caught beneath the automobile.

Orlando police rushed the crash victim to the Orange Memorial Hospital where he was treated for cuts and bruises of chest, the left arm and leg, and right foot. Keller also sustained a broken front tooth.

After observation and treatment Keller was taken to his home, 130 Sunnyloven Road, where he is confined to his bed.

Kay Estes Reigns Over May Day Pageant At Oviedo Today

By MRS. MARIAN JONES
OVIEDO—Amist a large gathering of parents, teachers, friends and schoolmates Miss Kay Estes, lovely daughter of Mrs. Ruby Harris Estes and the late R. W. (Ted) Estes, was crowned queen of the May Day at the Oviedo School grounds today. A May Day pageant was staged that was resplendent in color and talent. A white platform with a throne, flanked by greenery and floating balloons was quite effective for the colorful festivity.

Suzanne Partin, dressed in gypsy costume, was the narrator. As the theme was "Come To The Fair the power of taxpayers to pay."

Three of the nine senators on the education committee voting for the bill did so with "reservations" to change their vote when the measure reaches the floor.

They were Sens. Fred Dickinson, West Palm Beach; Joe Eaton, Miami; and Douglas Stenstrom, Sanford.

substantial raise "but I will support only the amount which is the power of taxpayers to pay."

Nancy Ann Swanson, Jan Beasley, Myra Walker, Marilyn Partin, Jimmy Courier, Ted Aulin, Marshall Lingo and Arthur Evans, forming the chorus of voices sang "Hill Ho, Hill Ho, Come to the Fair."

As Suzanne narrated the characters entered; namely, Jimmy DeShazo and Jimmy Jones, the heralds, dressed in white shirts, white pants with gold stripes, gold capes, gold sashes, gold hats with plumes and carrying golden horns; Bruce Facard, as Cupid The Cup; Brenda Day and Carolyn Jacobs dressed as milkmaids, in white skirts with white blouses displaying full sleeves; Bobby Schumacher dressed as the dragon; Roger Williams dressed as the bear; Diane Aulin, Anne Slavic and those Marie Beasley dressed in colorful gypsy outfits; Thad Lingo, in the regalia of Robin Hood; Wesley Swanson, as Little John; Burdell Daugherty, as Friar Tuck; John Coe, as Will Scarlet; Larry Lane as the drummer; Billy Schumacher as the standard bearer; and John Clark, as the Jester.

As they took their stations around the throne, the heralds blew their trumpets at intervals heralding the coming fair. They also marked the coming of the royal party.

A white float, drawn by four white horses; namely, Ruth Pennington, Larry and Dennis Simmons and Graham Boone, bearing the lovely brunette queen, Kay Estes, was last to enter.

The queen's attendants, Betty Beasley, Dawn Walker, Betty Stevens, Elena Tuby, and Jinx Miller entered, followed by Miss Peggy Fleming, maid of honor. They were all gowned in pastel colored evening gowns and carried lovely nosegays of carnations in pastel colors. They wore head-dresses to match their gowns.

Mary and Martha Courier, small twin daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Guy Courier, entered, gowned in long full pink taffeta dresses, scalloped at the bottom with sweetheart roses. Their head-dresses also matched. They carried baskets trimmed with sweetheart roses and filled with rose petals.

Guy Lingo, small son of Mr. and Mrs. T. L. Lingo Jr., the crown bearer, arrived wearing a top playing from behind the scenes and many of the high school boys helped with the scenery.

Following the May Day pageant lunch was served in the school lunchroom, instead of the traditional May Day picnic, in the afternoon the Junior High and Senior High students enjoyed picnics at SanLandia Springs.

Ike Prepares To Wind Up Vacation; Returns To Capitol Tomorrow

Top News In Brief

BIRMINGHAM, Ala.—The controversial issue of continued membership in the National Council of Churches will be debated today by the 97th general assembly of the Southern Presbyterian Church. A majority report of a standing committee recommends the group stay within the framework of the national church organization but a minority report urges withdrawal. The national body has come under criticism for its pronouncements on certain social and economic matters.

MOSCOW—Four West European countries rejected today as unfounded the Soviet Union's protest against the formation of Euratom and a common market. The ambassadors of France, West Germany, Belgium and Luxembourg delivered the notes to the Soviet Foreign Ministry in reply to a Russian statement.

DALLAS, Tex.—Nine major rivers and countless streams today poured flood waters over Texas where people now are praying for the rain to stop. Death and destruction in the form of flooding, rain, hailstorms and tornadoes has poured from the sky over Texas, only recently a dust bowl, for 10 straight days. The toll today stood at least 15 persons dead and untold millions of dollars in damages.

2nd Blood Donor Day Set May 9

The Second Donor Day of the United Church Blood Appeal in connection with and in cooperation with the Central Florida Blood Bank and sponsored by the Seminole County Ministerial Association will be held on Thursday, May 9.

Headquarters will be set up at the First Presbyterian Church on the corner of Oak Ave. and 3rd St.

Technicians from the Central Florida Blood Bank will be on hand for the blood donations which can be given from 12 noon until 6 or 7 p.m.

A spokesman of the Seminole County Ministerial Association stated that the first Donor Day was highly successful and the percentage of accepted donors was exceptionally big.

Miss N. Zittrouer Succumbs Saturday

Miss Naomi C. Zittrouer, 57, passed away at the local hospital at 7:45 a. m. Saturday.

She was born July 28, 1899 in Savannah, Ga. and had lived in Sanford for the past 14 years.

She made her home with Mrs. Arthur Brannon at 1605 Magnolia Ave.

Miss Zittrouer was a registered nurse, having graduated from Gady School of Nursing in Atlanta, Ga. She was superintendent of various hospitals in Georgia.

She is survived by her mother who lives in Georgia.

Funeral services will be announced later.

Burial will be in the home of her son.

Gordon To Head Veterans Group

A Sanford man has been named to head the famed Rainbow Division veterans group.

William F. Gordon, 1307 East Second St., was elected president of the Rainbow Division's veterans organization.

The annual meeting of the organization was held at Lake Pineda Apr. 28-29. More than 50 veterans attended the affair.

AUGUSTA, Ga.—President Eisenhower prepared today to wind up his Georgia vacation and return to Washington without the cold and cough that nagged at him most of the winter.

After nearly two weeks of golfing and resting in balmy weather here, the President appeared to be well recovered from this cough. He will fly back to Washington Tuesday afternoon.

Eisenhower acted on a number of official papers this morning and then headed out on the Augusta National golf course for another round of his favorite sport.

He sent to the Senate a list of previously announced nominations, including that of Newell E. Thompson as the new ambassador to Russia.

The President today also sent to Congress his first reorganization plan of 1957, transferring to other government agencies the remaining functions of the Reconstruction Finance Corp.

The RFC has been in a process of liquidation for several years. Submitted to the Senate for ratification a treaty with Japan for the avoidance of double taxation on operations of the export-import bans of Japan and the United States.

The reorganization plan, which becomes effective in 60 days unless either House votes specific disapproval, was largely procedural and designed to transfer the administration of the RFC's remaining assets to other agencies of the government.

The President and Secretary of State John Foster Dulles have mapped a plea for restoration of "the majority" of a House-approved cut in the State Department budget.

Talmadge Hits Budget, Civil Rights Programs

THE FRONT END OF A Buick automobile, driven by Bertha Pinkney, was torn up as it plowed through a column of a filling station, a brick foundation, a bait tank and a telephone booth. Property damage was estimated at over $2,500. The accident occurred Saturday night at the intersection of Sanford Ave. and Ninth St. (Staff Photo)

$2,500 Damage Is Seen At Two-Car Collision Saturday

A two-car collision at the intersection of Sanford Ave. and Ninth St. Saturday night resulted in property damage estimated at over $2,500.

Bertha Pinkney, 56, of 86 William Clark Court, a Negro nurse at Seminole Memorial Hospital, according to Sanford Police Department Captain Arnold Williams, ran a stop sign at the intersection and plowed into the front end of another car driven by Mosell Steving Johnson, 39-year-old Negro woman of Rt. 2 Box 290.

The 1951 Buick, driven by Bertha Pinkney, went out of control as it shoved the 1953 Mercury, driven by Mosell Johnson, into a telephone pole guy wire on the west side of Sanford Ave. and continued on taking a plastered column, brick foundation, a telephone company paystation booth, and a concrete bait container with it.

The Buick was traveling west on Ninth St. and the Mercury on Sanford Ave. (Continued on Page 10)

Market Appropriation Bill To Be Introduced

Companion bills will be introduced this week, said Representative Mack N. Cleveland Jr., providing for an emergency appropriation of $450 thousand for the rebuilding of the Sanford State Farmers' Market.

This action meets with the approval of the entire Seminole County delegation said Representative Cleveland as he revealed the action to be taken during this week's session of the legislature.

"I hope the emergency appropriation bill will get favorable action," said Representative Cleveland when he spoke of the meeting and conferences attended during the past week in Tallahassee as Sanford citizens appeared in the State Capitol in behalf of the State Farmers' Market.

"However, we are going to need the support of everyone in Sanford and Seminole County as the delegation presses for the passage of the companion bills for an emergency appropriation," said Cleveland.

During the series of meetings with Governor Collins, Commissioner of Agriculture Mayo, and Administrative Assistant Lee Thompson, Sanford Architect John Burton revealed preliminary sketches of proposed Sanford State Farmers Market which met with the approval of local dealers, civic leaders and interested citizens.

No definite date was set for the introduction of the companion bills in the House and Senate for the emergency appropriation.

Over 500 Plates Served Saturday At Band Barbecue

Over 500 barbecue plates were served Saturday by the Seminole High School Band Parents Association at the barbecue given at the Elks Club Grounds.

The new plan for making deliveries was most successful, according to officers of the association, as over 100 dinners were delivered to all sections of town and in DeBary.

A second serving line was set up for those taking their dinners out. Over 150 dinners were prepared for immediate pickup and sold through this line.

"Some customers enjoyed Cotton Brown's barbecued chicken so well that they went through the serving line twice," said officers of the Band Parents Association.

The high school band, directed by its Captain, J. D. Stone, played popular and martial music as several hundred people enjoyed their barbecue.

Carl Brumbaugh, barbecue chairman, reported that 350 chicken halves were prepared and by 6 p.m. all dinners were sold and there was no one turned down.

Band Association President, Mrs. A. D. Rountree, announced that profits should amount to over $325 after all expenses are paid.

"This amount will be applied to the band uniform fund set up by the Band Parents Association," she said.

Says Plot To Destroy Polity

RICHMOND, Va.—Sen. Herman E. Talmadge D-Ga. said today President Eisenhower's civil rights and big spending programs are part of a plot to "destroy" constitutional government.

He told a Kiwanis Club lunch the President's "disabbling" civil rights proposal, coupled with the Supreme Court's school desegregation ruling, would substitute "judicial tyranny" for local law enforcement.

He said Eisenhower's $71,800,000 record peacetime spending budget has been "inflicted" mainly by foreign aid, in a "reckless" attempt to appease other countries.

The end result, he said, could be the nation's destruction "through internal bankruptcy."

Talmadge said the Supreme Court, "in a series of partisan political decisions," including the school segregation ruling, has ignored the Constitution and sought to impose its will on the states.

"They are not the 'law of the land,' as some falsely insist," he said. "They are the judge-made law of force and force alone. . . ."

"We will never submit to this unlawful and unconstitutional judicial tyranny."

The senator said the President's six-point civil rights program would loose on the states "an army of federal agents . . . harassing and intimidating the people and usurping the function of local law enforcement authorities."

"It is regrettable," he said, "that Congress is wasting its time and energies on such a mission."

Talmadge said the budget could be cut by 7 billion dollars by chopping out all "useless and non-essential spending," including at least $5,200,000,000 in foreign aid.

Such a reduction, he said, would make possible an immediate tax cut of 10 per cent. Unless such a reduction is made, he said, "I say with all candor that . . . we will be confronted with another round of tax increases."

"I do not believe the American people will stand for this, but we are headed in that direction," he said.

Smathers, Nixon Launch Mental Health Week

WASHINGTON—Senator George Smathers joined with Vice-President Richard Nixon today in launching Mental Health Week by ringing the historic Mental Health Bell in a ceremony at the foot of the U. S. Capitol.

The 375-pound bell, cast in 1853 from chains and shackles formerly used in mental hospitals to restrain mental patients, is rung each year to signal the beginning of Mental Health Week and the nationwide fund-raising drive of the National Association for Mental Health. Mental Health Week this year is April 29 to May 4. The fund will continue through May.

The "Bell Ringers March" in Seminole County, with a goal of $2,500, is sponsored by the Sanford Pilot Club with Mrs. B. E. Chapman as chairman. The Mental Health Association of Seminole County is headed by George Touby.

The Vice-President said the bell "symbolizes hope for the mentally ill and ultimate victory in the fight against the nation's number 1 health problem—mental illness, and expressed the hope that the ringing of the bell will be heard in every village, town and city throughout the land and that it will awaken in the hearts of all Americans the traditional spirit and concern for suffering fellow Americans."

Senator Smathers who has five years sponsored Mental Health week resolutions in Congress, said that "this year there is more hope than ever before for the conquest of mental illness. For the first time mental hospital rolls have begun to drop." Recovery rates for mental patients will continue to rise, he added, "only if the entire nation rallies behind the mentally ill."

VAH-9 Flies 1st A3D To Cross Atlantic

Probably the first A3D Heavy Attack bombers to fly across the Atlantic was delivered to its parent squadron in the Sixth Fleet area this past week.

The A3D was delivered by Heavy Attack Squadron Nine and the pilot was CDR. W. R. Hazlett, Executive Officer. Other crewmembers were W. T. Blakemore, Chief Aviation Ordnanceman, navigator and A. B. Oelkerich, Jr., Aviation Structural Mechanic, First Class, third crewman, who are all attached to the Sanford Naval Air Station.

Preparations for the crossing were routine and according to a spokesman for the squadron it was a "routine delivery."

As far as is known, and according to company records, it was the first A3D Heavy Attack bomber to fly across the Atlantic.

The A3D is the largest heavy attack carrier based aircraft in the Navy. The weight of the plane is 70,000 pounds and its flying speed is 10 miles a minute.
