

Large Sum To Be Spent In Nation For Peace Move

$2,000,000 Is Collected To Persuade Americans Against War

By SIGRID ARNE
WASHINGTON, Apr. 22.—Peace has jumped into the "big business" category. More than $2,000,000 will be spent this year to persuade Americans that the settling of matters in Europe and the Orient should find no echo here. Millions of people have bought common stock in the enterprise.

Peace societies have snapped their programs into business-like patterns. Here's an example: a report from one paid worker for the National Council for the Prevention of War (and the Council has 50 such):

He took a 15-day speaking tour, traveled 4,854 miles, spoke at 25 meetings, and talked to 51,795 people. He even reduced the report to the expense of "per individual reached." It was $300—three mills.

It's difficult to estimate how many people have signed peace pledges, joined peace groups, paid dues or just given donations. But a recent survey of peace groups shows:

Clearing Houses
There are three huge federations that serve as clearing houses for their affiliates.

1. The National Peace Conference, which is just starting a campaign to back up Secretary of State Hull's trade treaties, has 39 societies under its wing.

2. The Council for Prevention of War unites 19 organizations.

3. The National Committee on the Cause and Cure of War unites 11 women's groups under the direction of that famous crusader, Carrie Chapman Catt.

Some of these groups are organized for the sole purpose of spreading peace talk. Some, like the Association of University Women, simply have peace programs.

Most of them are beginning to show a significant change of technique. They are turning from just talking to direct political action.

Their most tantalizing problem right now is to make the intangible concept of peace dramatic.

Bruce Barton Helps
Bruce Barton, the advertising man who is a new member of Congress, found one answer.

"Let's advertise the horrors of war," he said.

So he wrote the page ads that have been appearing this year under the name of "World Peaceways," and Estelle Sternberger of New York undertook to get free space for them. Peaceways now has branches in 10 foreign countries.

"Peace caravans" were another answer. They were organized by the Women's International League for Peace and Freedom. This group has a comparatively small budget, but it drew attention through the efforts of its dramatic leader, the young Dorothy Deizer, whose campaigning seal was whetted in post-war Europe where she worked for the Quakers.

The very practical National Council for the Prevention of War, headed by Frederick Libby, works through ready-made groups such as labor unions, farmers' clubs and student councils. The council's staff includes Jeanette Rankin, the former Congresswoman, whose "No" vote the night Congress put us into the World War was a dramatic climax in the roll call.

Together these peace societies have looked a flood of literature on the country. Just to name a few: Peaceways sends out half a million pieces of literature a year, the League for Peace and Democracy, 400,000; and the Council for Prevention of War 1,300,000.

Angler Catches Bass On String Of Fish

FORT SCOTT, Kas., Apr. 20.—Fishing near here, Joe Harrison reached down from his boat to add the morsel No. 16 to the string dangling in the water. When he looked up, the 16 fish were gone. He heard a splashing and the boat and rowed to investigate.

There was no getting of fish from the boat. The 16 fish had been taken from the string. The boat was empty.

The fisherman of the Declaration of Independence was the first to catch a fish on a string.

SAME PATTERN FOR 54 YEARS

The checkered dress Mrs. Anna Mellerup of Walnut Creek, California, wears today at 82 is patterned exactly after the one she made back in 1884, when she was still in her twenties.

In spite of the general admission that it is a woman's privilege to change her mind Mrs. Mellerup has stuck faithfully to the same checkered dress pattern. Styles have changed many times since 1884, but the becoming full skirt, tight waist and full sleeves of that first checkered dress have never been changed through the years, even to the slightest alteration.

Whenever she goes to church on Sundays, a special dress is worn by Mrs. Mellerup—but it looks exactly like all the others of her wardrobe. In the illustration above, she is shown as she posed in one of her checkered dresses in her youth.

All sewn on the same machine, her dresses each have been made of from five to seven yards of material, the skirts four yards around.

SUCCESSION OF SECESSIONS
From the earliest times, Virginia's eastern and western sections were politically, economically and socially at odds. Western Virginia was democratic, eastern Virginia aristocratic.

Older than the Union itself was the idea of separation of the two sections, but not until the Civil War did opportunity arise for West Virginia to become a separate state.

Up until 1861, a section of the U. S. Constitution precluded such a split by prohibiting any new states from being formed "with in the jurisdiction of any other state," without the consent of the legislatures of the states concerned as well as of the Congress.

However, with the secession movement of 1861, Virginia gave the 48 counties west of the Alleghenies a chance to secede from Virginia itself and form a separate state, called Kanawha.

On June 20, 1863, President Lincoln had cleared the way for the region to be admitted to the Union as a new state—West Virginia—as all parties concerned were then favorable toward the action.

Planes Used On Range For Cattle-Trailing

CODY, Wyo., Apr. 20.—It took an airplane 20 minutes to perform a cattle-trailing task that might have taken men on horseback days to accomplish.

Twenty-one head of cattle disappeared in a snowstorm near Meeteetse and their trail was covered by drifting snow. Bill Monday, Cody aviator, was summoned. He flew over several canyons and then headed back toward ranch headquarters. Twenty minutes after he started on his trailing job he reported the cattle were in a canon eight miles from the last headquarters.

CHRIST OF THE ANDES

Far, far the mountain peak from me
Where lone he stands with look carousing.

Never bird sings nor blossom blows
Upon the summit chill and breathless.

Where throned he waits amid the snows;
But from his presence wide out flows

Love that is warm and deathless!
O symbol of the great release From our sad strife—our fountain.

To which we turn for joy's increase,
Fain would we climb to heights of Peace—

Try peace upon the mountain!

WHEN PUBLIC OFFICE HOLDERS MAY soon begin to feel the effect of government spending in a way which is not to their liking. President Roosevelt has proposed that the salaries of all public officials, including state and municipal officials, be reduced to the same amount as in private business.

Little Tiny Business

We had always been under the impression that we and most of the business men in Sanford whom we know were "little businessmen" and that their interests, whether grocery store, pants pressing, haberdashery, or shoe shine parlor were designated by what is generally known as "little business."

And so when we noticed a few months ago that the government had at last discovered that not all business is "big business" and had decided to enlarge the facilities of the Reconstruction Finance Corporation and other agencies of government to the benefit of "little business," we began to take heart.

Imagine our surprise and disappointment, however, when we discovered that in the lexicon of the Washington bureaucrats a "little business" is defined as one employing around 500 persons, doing a gross annual business of around a million dollars, and netting from 25 to 50 thousand dollars a year.

Now if that is "little business," we wonder what they would call a concern employing two or three persons, or 15 or 20, doing a gross annual business of 30 or 40 thousand dollars a year, and sometimes making a thousand or fifteen hundred dollars a year, although usually running into the red.

The funny part about it is, if our observations have been correct, and if the reports of the trade associations mean anything, the great majority of businesses are in this class. For every one of the giant corporations, there are hundreds of tiny cross roads stores and two-by-four shops and plants.

And although the year of 1936 is widely recognized as the high mark of New Deal prosperity, and the newspapers were full of reports of the gigantic sales and enormous profits of "big business," the current financial review of the National City Bank reveals that more than 60 percent of all the business organizations in the country lost money even during that period.

So for the sake of clarity in discussing the need for and the ability to stand such proposed national legislation as would tend to sock business, we suggest that all business be divided into three parts: "big business," "little business," and "little tiny business"; and that the latter, at least, be given consideration in the matter of taxes and relief.

The Rearing Of Game

Game breeding, long a closely-guarded trade of European game keepers, has lost much of its mystery, says the More Game Birds Foundation in a bulletin received today.
Almost any farmer or sportsman nowadays can successfully rear pheasants, quail and other game birds by using modern methods, the Foundation states in announcing new editions of its free game breeding manuals.

"While real restoration of game birds in this country depends upon practical game management—restoration of proper environment and limitation of the take to the annual natural surplus—artificial re-stocking is a speedy way to repopulate barren areas," the bulletin says.
"Results of such restocking with pheasants are plainly indicated in present state game laws regulating pheasant hunting, as compared with 20 years ago. Only eight states then permitted pheasant hunting, while 26 states recently had open seasons on this species."

New editions of the Foundation's game breeding and game restoration manuals include: Pheasant Breeding Manual, Quail Breeding Manual, More Game Birds By Controlling Their Natural Enemies, More Upland Game Birds, and Game Birds: How To Make Them Pay On Your Farm. Of particular value to those interested in wild waterfowl are: Small Refuges for Waterfowl, Waterfowl Food Plants, and Water Areas, How to Create and Maintain Them.

charge upon request by addressing More Game Birds in

Work Buys More Here

It is a true yardstick of wages comparing those of the American worker with those of the working man in other countries. The above chart indicates the amount of labor required in various countries to earn enough money to purchase a radio.
If it takes 9 units of work in this country, it will require 8 units in France and 10 in England, and 11 in Italy.
This yardstick applies to almost everything that a man may need or may desire to buy.

THE SANFORD FORUM

Editor of Sanford Herald:
It is the reality of necessity, that I propose that we establish a state lottery. The state's contribution is fifty-five percent in favor of a legalized lottery for taxation. The word, lottery, bothers many people. If it bothers you, just change it to voluntary tax. This change makes everything clear. I write just as easily understood in that way, because I wish to relieve one tax burden through non-optional contributions to state and county revenues. There never was a law that made a dent in the human desire "to risk little to win a lot."

A legalized state lottery handled by a responsible government would be a source of constructive contributions to the general well-fare of our state. Every important national government in the world except Great Britain, Japan and the United States promotes some kind of public lottery. A legitimate state lottery will take hardly needed revenues out of the hands of our professional criminals, Cuban racketeers, and all other foreign gambling racketeers.

The present citizenship of the State of Florida together with our tourists by more than a hundred million dollars worth of illicit lottery chances annually.
That is the answer to whether or not we should have a legalized state lottery. Now add to the hundred million dollars of business that the State of Florida alone would furnish the amount of business that would come from the other forty-seven states. We would have to add a few more family connections to Tallahassee to count the money. I hope that such magnitude of the development of this proposal will be appreciated.

Today we are financing both the hundred million dollar illicit lottery racket and the state tax burden. Why not use our brains a little? We cannot eliminate the illicit lottery racket, but we can eliminate the state tax burden by establishing a legal state lottery. It is a glaring fact that we are gambling now more than ever to the profit of racketeers and to no social advantage. The hundred million dollars now bootlegged out of the state and into the pockets of racketeers to no social advantage whatever would through a legalized state lottery pay all the cost of running our state and county governments, and build all the roads needed.

Did you know that more than half of the people in your town, city, county, and state averaged buying during the year bootleg lottery tickets of one kind or another? Whether or not you are aware of the fact, it is true. We are all human with the same desire, "to risk a little to win a lot."

Did you know that the half million residents of Washington, D. C., where they are supposed to be the example for the rest of Uncle Sam's children, buy annually thirty million dollars worth of lottery chances? Did you know that on account of our innate desire to gamble, twenty-five percent of our chances taken prove to be on phony non-existent lotteries? Yet we will take another chance "risking a little to win a lot." Why not have a legalized state lottery so that our contributions will relieve our tax burden? Illicit lotteries seldom give the player sporting odds, and are often guilty of crooked drawings; but not lotteries in the open, backed by government guarantee of fair odds and square drawings, and criminals and racketeers have lost their usual tickets.

By the way, I exempted Uncle Sam in the beginning to one of the nations that did not allow legalized lotteries, but there is a legal lottery operated under the stars and stripes in Puerto Rico.
Lotteries are not banned American government dignity. Congress once thought the army that

When the film industry was threatened with a national cen-

His censorship policy hasn't organizations thought he was too lax, they formed the Legion of

On Hays' $150,000-a-year job,

New Reich Decrees Guard Gold Supplies

BERLIN, Apr. 21. —(AP) Further indication as to how Germany is guarding her infinitesimal gold supplies is seen in two decrees—number 12 and 13—of the German government.

Decree No. 12 ordered the use of gold of any standard in the manufacture of spectacle frames to be discontinued. Likewise the use of rolled gold for the manufacture of these articles is only permitted if its thickness does not exceed 20 000.

Decree No. 13 banned the manufacture and sale of gold pens, chiefly used in fountain pens.

Both decrees, however, exempted foreign orders from these restrictions.

Regular enrollment at Louisiana State university jumped 1,300 during the 1933-37 session and 700 in the 1937-38 session. Regular enrollment for the 1934-35 biennium was 11,324 and 15,443 for the 1935-36 biennium.

MEAL PLANNING

Simplicity, appreciation of flavor combinations, and a knowledge of nourishing foods are essential in effective and satisfactory planning of meals, according to Miss Anna Mae Sikes, nutritionist with the State Agricultural Extension Service.

"Serve plain meals," says Miss Sikes. "Mashed potatoes, roast ham, kraut, graham bread, butter, fruit sauce, and milk make a plain meal."

The Extension worker also favors one-dish meals, such as a meat-vegetable stew with dumplings served with bread, butter, and milk, occasionally. She also stresses the importance of well-prepared foods and points out that boiled potatoes, cold slaw, bread and butter, and other commonly used foods are unpalatable if they are not carefully prepared. Never serve a food more than one way at the same meal, she cautions. Boiled cabbage, kraut, and cold slaw, all served at the same meal, are just too much cabbage.

In advising the use of different-textured foods at one meal, Miss Sikes, for example, gives creamed meat, creamed potatoes, and pudding with cream sauce as foods of the same texture and recommends that such a meal be avoided in favor of one that has, say, creamed meat, boiled potatoes with butter, and sponge cake.

If light meals are served, heavy desserts are in order; if heavy meals are served, light desserts should be the wind-up. Fruit sauce with a sugar cookie or sherbet are light desserts, while pie, cake with whipped cream, and fruit pudding are heavy ones.

A rich salad is often served as the main course of a meal.

Foods should be prepared so that their natural flavor will be developed. White, green, red, and yellow vegetables have the delicate flavor and attractive appearance of raw vegetables if they are cooked correctly.

Other tips Miss Sikes gives to the housewife: Make staple foods the main dishes and prepare them in various ways so they will appeal to the diner, extend the flavor of more expensive staple foods by combining them with cereal products, combine leftovers so they will lose their identity, combine flavors carefully, prepare the greater part of the day's meals in the morning, and plan meals ahead of time for better combinations, greater variety and economy, and more attractive dishes from left-overs.

Sanford Wins Second Tilt From Azaleas By 9-7 Margin

Lookouts Gather Nine Hits From Four Palatka Hurlers

Atwater Is Blasted For 14 Scattered Hits In Fray On Local Field; Locals Go To Second

The Sanford Lookouts last night entered the second slot in the Florida State League standings by defeating the Palatka Azaleas 9 to 7 for the second time in close another two game series.

Charlie Atwater was on the mound for the locals and allowed the Azaleas 14 hits while the Lookouts secured nine safe hits off four Palatka hurlers.

Zoldi started on the hill for the Palatka nine and after allowing three hits which were good for three runs, he was relieved in favor of Ray Troy, who faced eight batters and gave up only two hits but walked three to tie the looking to be even to Jack Gaddy. Three runs were also gathered off Troy.

Gaddy pitched to eleven hitters before Manager Andrews called him from the box and sent in Jack Royle to pitch. Gaddy gave up four singles which were good for only one run. Royle finished the game and was successful in holding the Lookouts hitless for the remainder of the game.

Leading the hitting for the contest was Trammell of the Azaleas. He gathered two singles and a double in four times at the plate while Joe Ruggerio and Punch McDaniel of the Lookouts secured two hits each along with El Turnbull, Herman Meeker and Herb Mosher.

The Azaleas started scoring in their portion of the initial frame when they combined three hits by Turnbull, Cunningham, and Lowe and one walk for two runs.

Sanford came back to overcome the two run lead when they combined three hits for three runs. Ruggerio singled to deep short, went to third on McDaniel's single to right field. Clark walked filling the bases. Brown grounded to Zoldi who forced Ruggerio to the plate and John Lacy flew out to right field. However, McDaniel scored on the play. Young walked filling the bases again and manager Lacy pounced out a single to center scoring Clark and Brown. Zoldi retired from the hill in favor of Ray Troy. Rodgers grounded out to end the inning.

Palatka retaliated with a lone tally in their half of the second to tie the score. A single by Troy, a walk by Blanchard and John Lacy's error of Trammell's grounder produced the run. A lead double play from John Lacy to Rodgers to Lacy retired the inning.

The Lookouts scored again in the second when Atwater led off with an infield hit and went to second when Ruggerio walked. McDaniel popped up to Turnbull. Clark singled to short center to fill the bases and Brown flied out to deep center. Atwater tagged up and scored on the play. Addy coming in the game in place of Lacy lined out to Andrews in center.

Palatka scored another run to tie the score in their half of the third when singles by Mosher, Andrews, and Blanchard netted the tying run.

Sanford scored two runs in their half of the third when a single by McDaniel was combined with one error and two walks to score Young and Lacy.

Sanford gathered three more runs to bring their total to nine in their portion of the fifth chapter. Rodgers singled to left field. Atwater was hit by a pitched ball and Ruggerio singled filling the bases. McDaniel fanned and Clark singled to right to score Rodgers. Brown was safe on a fielders choice scoring Atwater. On the second pitched ball to Addy the hurl was wild allowing Ruggerio to tally. Addy walked but Young flew out to short to end the inning.

Palatka scored three more in their half of the sixth when Trammell singled to left and went to second on an error by McDaniel. Lacy was safe on Ruggerio's error advancing Trammell to third. Turnbull flied out to McDaniel scoring Trammell. Mosher singled to right and Kettles reached field to score both Lacy and Mosher. O'Connell flied out to Rodgers and Blanchard popped out to Young to end the game.

Orlando, Islets And Saints Take State Loop Wins

Kamp Hurls Daytona To 1st League Win; G-Men Lose Contest

ORLANDO The Orlando Senators gained their fourth straight win in Florida State League competition last night when they came from behind to down the DeLand Red 9 to 7 to remain undefeated in the league lead. Each team pounded out 12 hits in the game in which Orlando was forced to use three hurlers. Wolfberger hurled for the Reds while Jon Berry, Coon and McIntyre pitched for the victors.

ST. AUGUSTINE—The St. Augustine Saints tied the Sanford Lookouts for second berth in the league here last night when they downed the Gainesville G-Men by a score of 14 to 6. Hurling for the Saints were Sheridan, Fishback, and Hyder. Manager McShane used Savage, Flannigan and Fischer on the hill. The Saints pounded out 12 hits while the G-Men collected only six.

DAYTONA BEACH—Pete Kamp, 21-year-old Islander pitcher, hurled ten hit baseball on City Island Park last night to pick up the initial Islander win of the 1938 season. Kamp sent 10 of the Gondollers down via the strikeout route while his mates collected a total of only eight hits. Kamp kept the G-men bunched in such a way that no damage was done. Travis and Gates saw action for the Leesburg crew.

Annual Track And Field Meet To Be Held On Week-End

For the first time in several years, the Seminole High School Celery Peda will not be represented by Florida's 20th annual State High School Track and Field meet to be staged in Gainesville Friday and Saturday of this week.

Coch Leonard L. McLean stated recently that local high school jads had not been sufficiently interested in track and field sports to warrant participation in the various meets during the season which climaxes with the state meet on the University of Florida campus.

Preliminaries will be held Friday, final events Saturday. Robert E. Lee High School of Jacksonville won the state title last year. Pensacola and West Palm Beach tied for second place.

Among the outstanding performers entered in the meet are Corrales of Hillsborough High at Tampa and Browning of Orlando High. Corrales holds the record for the 800 yard run. Browning holds the 120 yard hurdles record.

President John J. Tippet of the University of Florida will be grand marshal. Judge H. S. Chickrell will be custodian of prizes. Col. W. S. Browning will be field marshal. Ulmer Hawkins will be announcer. Dr. O. F. Weber will be head finish judge. Prof. P. L. Reed will be head judge of field events. Prof. Francis Rogers will be head timer. Percy Beard, university track and field coach, will be referee and director.

Baseball League, sponsored by the Lion's Club.

With a slight advantage on the mound backed by good fielding, the Pirates had little trouble holding the Seminoles in hand. The Junior League teams clash every afternoon at 6:00 o'clock on the Grammar School Ground.

Ben Cantwell is scheduled to take over mound duties for the Montreal Royals in the opener of the International League with the Syracuse Chiefs in the New York City today.

Cantwell, who was on the hurling staff of the Jersey City Giants last season, is all set for another big season with the Royals.

Full Term In U. S. Senate Is Urged By Senator Pepper

Cuban Trade Treaty And Sugar Control Denounced By Pepper In Talk Here

Pledges Aid To House Bill 4199

System Of Crop Insurance Endorsed To Assist Farmers

Declaring that he had tried to prevent the operation of the reciprocal trade treaty with Cuba, Senator Claude Pepper last night appealed to voters of Seminole County to give him a chance at a full term in the United States Senate, as thunder and lightning threatened at any moment.

Bringing his campaign into Seminole County for the first time in this campaign, the Senator spoke from a loud speaker system at the corner of First Street and Magnolia Avenue to a crowd equally as large as that which heard Congressman Wilcox here Monday night.

Senator Pepper said he had spoken in the Senate against limiting the amount of sugar which farmers of this state and nation may grow under the Sugar Control Act. The Everglades are more ideally suited to the production of sugar than any other place in this country, he stated.

"I will work for and support the General Welfare Act (H. R. Resolution No. 4190 to make it the law of the land," he said briefly referring to the Townsend Old Age Pension Plan without mentioning it by name.

Talking clearly and carefully, the speaker said that knowing the loss to the citrus growers of this State during the fruit fly eradication campaign several years ago, he had put forth every effort to force a fruit fly damage survey bill through the Senate and had succeeded in doing so. The Senator also told of asking and getting the President's help in behalf of the bill. Mr. Roosevelt requested a favorable report from a House committee and recently, Senator Pepper said, the committee did report the bill favorably and it is now on the House calendar.

"I favor," declared the Senator, "a plan of crop insurance for the farmers and growers of Florida. Not so long ago I put a resolution through the Senate requesting an appropriation to study a plan for some system of crop insurance for the farmers of this State."

He added that $50,000 had been allocated for such a purpose.

Mr. Pepper defended the relief bill, saying that the Administration (continued on page six)
