Extra Christmas Gifts with S & H Green Stamps!

Looks like our children are going to eat well in school lunchrooms. The U. S. Dept. of Agriculture has recently purchased over nine million pounds of frozen and canned beef, more than 321,000 cases of canned applesauce and another 1.7 plus million pounds of fresh-frozen young chickens for distribution to the USDA's national school lunch program.

Lake Mary Chamber of Commerce has been notified by W. T. Rice, ACL president, that work on signal lights at the crossing south of Lake Mary Elementary School, which got underway Monday, is expected to be completed within two weeks and the warnings in operating condition.

Tom Adams, Florida's Secretary of State, has been named chairman of the board of the National Waterways Conference. He succeeds William E. Kemp of Kansas City. Adams is a frequent visitor to Sanford.

It's a switch! That's for sure. Federal and state beverage agents who usually seek and destroy moonshine stills have been asked to build one up for the new Florida tourist attraction at Sarasota. Instead of whiskey, however, the still will dispense sweet cider.

High school seniors here in the Sanford area who are interested in entering Florida Southern College of Lakeland are requested to attend a meeting at 4 p. m. Thursday, at Pinerest Inn. The hostess will be Miss Mabel Chapman of Sanford, an alumna of Florida Southern. She told the Clock today that William O. Johnson, admissions counselor at the college, will be present to confer with high school students, color slides of campus scenes and student activities will be shown and refreshments will be served.

In view of the Supreme Court's ruling Monday on various titles of the Civil Rights Act, it's interesting to note that 153 years ago today the Constitution's Bill of Rights was adopted.

It's a pretty safe bet that come next month it will be Mayor M. L. Raborn Jr., son of the only member of the Sanford City Commission who hasn't served as chief executive of the city... and it's likely his fellow commissioners will accord him that honor.

Seven-year-old Sandy Petrea axons Santa Claus must make his rounds on the seventh reindeer on Christmas Eve... because Santa has to stay home and clean the bathtub.

William Stemper, local realtor, has been appointed to serve on the policy committee of the Florida Association of Realtors.

Ted L. Stafon, the 1965 state president of the Florida association, appointed Stemper to his third term on the policy making committee.

This committee, among other things, stated Stemper, has as one of its primary functions the protecting of property ownership and property rights.

Sunday night the adult choir of the First Baptist Church of Sanford will present its annual Christmas Cantata. This year the choir will feature "Born a King," by John W. Peterson. The program will be under the direction of Mrs. Guy Bishop.

Krider Proposes: Greater City Commerce Unit

In an effort to find ways and means of keeping as much of Seminole County's purchasing power as possible in Seminole County, Seminole Chamber of Commerce Manager John Krider will suggest at tonight's meeting of the trade body's board of directors that steps be taken to create a Greater Sanford Board of Commerce.

Also on the agenda when the directors convene at the organization's conference room at 7:30 will be plans to try again to bring about a metropolitan telephone system for Seminole County.

In a letter to directors, Krider declared, "a major portion of Sanford and Seminole County's purchasing power is leaving the county. Space will not permit a discussion of the factors contributing to this condition or to ways and means of offsetting it. However," Krider wrote, "it is not unusual for suburban families to periodically shop in the big city."

"Unfortunately," he went on to say, "much of our purchasing power is going out of Seminole County. Nothing constructive can be accomplished by organizing several merchants and businessmen's groups to compete locally with each other." Krider was obviously referring to a group of South Sanford businessmen who recently organized.

"Our basic problem," Krider declared, "is to devise ways and means of retaining as much of our purchasing power in the area as possible." Krider will present a five-point program to unite local merchants and businessmen. He will suggest to the Chamber's board that a Greater Sanford Board of Commerce be created, that efforts against the foremost competitor be combined, that the procedure of debating issues in the press be eliminated, that year-around programs attractive to the buying public be formulated and that the new organization, operating as a division of the Chamber, consider hiring a part-time promoter with a merchandising background to coordinate all categories within the program.

UF Gradually Closing The Gap

By Julian Stenstrom, Associate Editor
Little by little, gift by gift, pledge by pledge the Seminole County United Fund is gradually closing the gap between the amount on hand and pledge of in this year's campaign and the organization's $10,000 objective.

Over the weekend another $42 in contributions and pledges were received and as of Monday afternoon UF still needed $7,333.39 to reach its goal.

Contributions or pledges can be mailed to UF, P. O. Box 144, Sanford, or made in person.

Sanford Flyers Safe In Crash

Two RASC Vigilante reconnaissance bombers stationed at Sanford Naval Air Station landed in flight south of Lakeland this morning.

One plane crashed in a rural area after its two-man crew ejected safely but the other plane limped back to Sanford.

The accident occurred in clear weather while the planes were on an operational training exercise.

The two men who parachuted to safety were taken to McDill AFB at Tampa. Officials there said they appeared to have escaped serious injury.

Crooms Entered
A basketball was stolen from the Crooms High School gymnasium sometime over the weekend, police reported today. Entry was gained by breaking a lock on a door.

It's Always Darkest Just Before Dawn

Sanford's nightlife lights will continue to go out at midnight as a result of action taken Monday night by the City Commission.

The city fathers turned down a plea that the Capitol Restaurant be allowed to stay open till 2 a. m. nightly since it has a seating capacity of more than 200.

A spokesman, Gene Stephenson, of Fern Park, asked city officials to rebid the ordinance governing closing hours so that his client could cater to banquet to a greater degree of success.

He got nowhere despite two resolutions offered in the case. The first would have granted the Cap request. The second would let Sanford night spots conform to closing hours of the county 2 a. m.

Mr. A. I. Wilson and Commissioner M. L. Raborn and Joe Baker voted both plans.

There are two exceptions to the closing hour rule in the city. The Mayfair Inn and Valder Hotel are permitted to stay open till 2 a. m. The Mayfair exception has been in existence for a long time. The Valder exception was made by commissioners several months ago as they changed the ordinance lowering the number of rooms a hotel needs 150 to avoid the limitation.

City Gas Firm Sale Announced

owner of the Sanford Gas Company, A. H. Gaede, of the Land, has announced he has agreed to sell the company to the Florida Public Utilities Company, of West Palm Beach.

According to Gaede, the new owners, headed by J. K. Roberts, president, will take possession of the Sanford operation on Jan. 1.

The firm operates gas, electric and water utilities in Florida from its main offices in West Palm Beach. This year marks the company's 50th anniversary. It presently provides natural and bottled gas service to 30,000 users in the Florida East coast section, as well as electric and water service to an additional 35,000 customers in the Marianna and DeFuniak Springs areas of North Florida.

The firm employs 225 people and maintains five offices.

Roberts in Sanford Monday to complete purchase agreements told The Herald.

"The fact that our company has received heavily in the purchase of the Sanford Gas Company is proof of the fact that we recognize this as one of the outstanding growth areas in the State."

"We are very much pleased to add Sanford to our family and intend to spare no effort or expense in providing this city with an outstanding gas service."

Although our program for the future is as yet not complete we do plan to aggress to promote natural gas and to take whatever steps are necessary to extend gas service wherever the demand warrants.

"We intend to be active—not only in the business life of the community, but in its civic life as well," he concluded.

New manager of the local office will be Arthur P. Mahow of West Palm Beach, who will move to Sanford.

Mahow, a native Floridian, is married and has two children, Marcia, 10, and Marc, 8. He is a member of the Presbyterian Church.

Probe Continues In Hall Death

Coroner Hugh Dunson said this morning the investigation into the death last week of Jack Hill, prominent Sanford businessman, is continuing and a hearing will be called next week.

He ordered postponing of a coroner's jury to hear the reports of the investigating officers of the coroner's office. Hill was found dead in the street on Friday evening. The coroner had said that the death was caused by "self-inflicted gunshot wounds in the chest."

One commissioner remarked that the list "looks a lot like a Who's Who of Sanford."

'Collision' May Occur On Drainage

By Harry I. Johnson
A "collision" may occur Wednesday afternoon when city and county officials confer on a drainage problem on 25th Street.

They meet at 2 p. m. and each side appears to be arming itself with ammunition supporting its contention.

The controversy developed when the State Road Department began plans to widen Highway 46 (25th Street). It is an aftermath of a project conducted years ago when Sanford Avenue was widened to care for traffic leading to the Sanford Naval Academy.

The City Commission says the county agreed to install a drainage pipe if the city, back in 1959, would allow the state to run an open drainage ditch south of 25th Street for three years.

"County commissioners say they have searched their records and fail to find such an agreement. City commissioners say it is a 'moral obligation' made in 1959 at a regular City Commission meeting.

City Manager Warren E. Knowles now says that continued drainoff of water in the 25th Street construction area would upset the Sanford drain system of pipe by permitting too much water to enter it at one time.

He suggests, rather, that pipes be installed to contain the runoff.

Knowles has a photostatic copy of a news item carried Nov. 10, 1959, in The Sanford Herald in which the agreement was reported.

The second paragraph of the news account of the City Commission meeting says: "The resolution proposed by County Commission Chairman John Krider would give the state permission to run drainage from 25th Street through the ditch after the 25th Street widening project is begun by the state. If the state doesn't put a pipe in the ditch within three years, the county commission will, Krider said."

Knowles has also prepared a text from a recording of the City Commission minutes of a special meeting Dec. 8. This was presented to officials for their review prior to tomorrow's meeting.

The city engineer, Al Shaw, has also prepared a map of the area in question showing existing drainage facilities.

The city-county rift has grown despite efforts by many to calm it. Tomorrow could tell if it will grow or be allowed to heal.

Casselberry To Tighten Building Acts

Casselberry's Town Council Monday night heard the first reading of four ordinances designed to put building, electrical, plumbing and sanitation codes on a par with those of Seminole County.

The four ordinances were accepted and will be posted pending the second reading and final adoption which will put the codes into effect.

In other action last night the Board of Aldermen authorized negotiations for renewing the town's contract with W. C. Logue for garbage collection service. Logue has had the contract for the current year and no complaints on service were registered at Monday night's meeting. The contract is awarded annually.

Councilmen accepted a report from the town's canvassing board on the recent municipal election at which time two councilmen, Arthur Lego and Edward A. Lunn were elected and Dr. Eugene H. Ellis was elected to the board. Councilman L. E. Woodhams did not seek reelection.

Also officially re-elected were Marshal Guy S. Sawyer and Clerk Mary Hawthorne.

The Council also authorized the firm of Greene, Osborne and Dycus of Sanford to accomplish the annual audit of the town's financial records and agreed that no action should be taken at this time on a request from the Seminole County Board of Commissioners that parking on U. S. 17-92 within the corporate limits of Casselberry be eliminated.

Acceptance Seen For Compliance With Rights Law

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Administration today counted on a Supreme Court decision upholding the public accommodations section to encourage voluntary compliance with the civil rights law.

Asst. Atty. Gen. Burke Marshall, head of the Justice Department's civil rights section, told United Press International he expected some holdouts to comply with the accommodations provision without further legal action.

His views were similar to those expressed by President Johnson in a statement issued after the White House shortly after the high court handed down its unanimous ruling Monday.

"There already has been encouraging widespread compliance with the act in the first months it has been law," Johnson said.

"Now that the Supreme Court also has ruled I think we all join in the hope and resolution that this kind of reasonable and responsible acceptance of the law will continue and increase."

The landmark decision upholding the ban on racial discrimination by hotels, restaurants and other public places was handed down in rulings on cases brought by the Heart of Atlanta Motel in Atlanta, Ga., and Ollie's Barbecue in Birmingham, Ala.

The Supreme Court also ruled 5-to-4 in a separate case that the civil rights act invalidated all pending sit-in convictions of civil rights demonstrators under state trespass laws.

Wm. H. Boutwell Dies At Home

William Howard Boutwell, 86, died of natural causes Monday morning at his home, 100 Highland Court.

Born Jan. 25, 1908, in Laurel, Miss., he had been in business in Sanford for one year. An engineer-architect, he was associated with the U. S. Corps of Engineers for several years in Morocco, Pakistan, Greenland and in the Philippines. He had offices in Paris, Geneva and Karachi for the past nine years. He was a member of the Seminole County Chamber of Commerce.

Survivors include his wife, Vijaya, who is now on a business trip to Pakistan; brothers, Olan Boutwell, of Sanford, and Doyle Boutwell, of Bogalusa, La.; sisters, Mrs. W. H. Pyburn, of McLaughlin, Miss., Mrs. William Howard, of Annadale, Va., and Mrs. Clarice Beauchamp, of Jackson, Miss.

Mrs. Boutwell is reported to be on her way here from Pakistan. The trip normally takes about three days by air. Final arrangements for funeral and burial services will be announced upon completion.

Funeral Notices
VAN NOORD, MRS. JOHANNA BEUY—Funeral services for Mrs. Johanna Beuy, Van Noord, 71, of Altamonte Springs, who died Monday, will be held at 1 p. m. Wednesday at the graveside in Longwood Cemetery with Rev. Charles W. Stewart officiating. Friends may call at 1514 N. W. 1st St., Casa Casaberry, from 9 p. m. Tuesday until 7 p. m. Wednesday. Public Funeral Home in charge.

A SHOWER of kitchen gifts was presented to the Longwood Volunteer Fire Department by its auxiliary during the firemen's last meeting of the year last week. Here, Chief Claude Layo accepts one of the holiday-wrapped items from Mrs. Judy Snow, chairman of the auxiliary purchasing committee. (Herald Photo)

Reapportionment Action Now Urged

MIAMI (UPI) — "Whether we like it or not, whether it is right or wrong, whether we believe it to be legal or illegal, the U. S. Supreme Court has ruled and it is the law."

These were the words of Florida Atty. Gen.-elect Earl Faircloth as he urged the state Legislature to do something about reapportionment before the 1965 session meets in April.

As the Legislature is now composed, Faircloth told a government research council meeting, it is illegal and that all laws passed by it can be challenged in court.

"This would result in chaotic conditions," Faircloth said. The state's next legal advisor will give up their "perk-chop-hold" and voluntarily vote many of their fellows out of office to comply with the high court's decision that there must be representation in both houses based on population.

He offered three possible solutions: —That the governor call the Legislature into a special session to deal with reapportionment at the request of the legislators.

—The Legislature could call itself into session.

—A three-judge federal panel in Miami could reapportion the Legislature although it has appeared reluctant to push the matter.

House GOP Struggle Seen

WASHINGTON (UPI) — House Republicans were returning to the Capitol today for a closed huddle Wednesday that could result in a struggle for the party leadership.

But a more likely result, on the basis of advance discussion, is a GOP drive to abolish the time-honored "ITAT Club."

official organization that sometimes plays a big role in House operations as either the Republican or Democratic party.

It is made up of members from nearby big Eastern states who tend to be "in Tuesday and out Thursday" and spend the rest of the week at home.

Girl Scouts Entertain Mothers At Banquet

By Jane Casselberry
Girl Scouts of Cadette Troop 338 entertained at a mother-daughter banquet at Casselberry Woman's Club. The affair was planned by the girls and they prepared the food, with exception of the roast turkey cooked by their leader, Mrs. Nance Russell.

The menu also included dressing, cranberry sauce, sweet potatoes, tossed salad, French style beans, rolls, pie and cake.

The mothers were pleasantly surprised at the efficient manner in which their daughters followed through with their plans. Tables were decorated in the holiday theme with attractive centerpieces of red poinsettias and green candles.

Mrs. Russell was presented with an orchid corsage and a Christmas gift from the troop. Each mother was given a chrysanthemum corsage and a gift of a "kissing bell" made by the scouts.

Secy. McNamara Under Fire Of Congressmen

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Defense Secretary Robert S. McNamara came under fire today from members of Congress who defended their recent military survey trip to the Far East as highly useful.

Sen. Ralph Yarborough (D-Tex.) and Rep. Clark MacGregor (R-Minn.), in separate interviews, attacked McNamara's decision to bar members of Congress from belonging to military reserve units.

Yarborough, a colonel in the inactive Army reserve, was the highest ranking officer on the 15-day survey trip made by the congressional reserve unit.

He described the mission as "highly informative and useful" to the lawmakers and two staff members who made the trip.

The Texas Democrat said that McNamara's order abolishing ready reserve outfits "means a departure away from the long accepted status of the citizen soldier" and changed the basic concept of civilian reserve forces to back up the standing army.

Yarborough was not directly affected by McNamara's order because he is not in the active reserve.

In defending the Pacific trip, Yarborough said the congressional group particularly was impressed by training exercises in Alaska in sub-zero weather, visits to the truce line in Korea and discussions with men in Hawaii who were receiving special training for service in South Viet Nam.

MacGregor said that if McNamara thought the recent Pacific tour of the congressional reserve unit was a pleasure trip, he had a peculiar idea of fun.

He called McNamara's decision to abolish the reserve units "typically arbitrary."

State Hospitals Get $5 Million

ORLANDO (UPI)—Florida hospitals will get $5.2 million in construction funds during 1965, under the federal Hill-Burton annual program approved by the Development Commission.

Included in the plan, recommended to the commission by the State Hospital Advisory Council, was $4,856,235 in federal allotments for construction and $337,496 reserve.

Projects and allocations included $350,000 for Seminole Memorial Hospital, Sanford, which Administrator Robert Bessner said today already has been earmarked for the new $1 million wing, for which bids will be opened at 7 p. m. next Tuesday.

Holland Native Succumbs At 71

Mrs. Johanna Smit Van Noord, 71, 115 Agnes Drive, Altamonte Springs, died Monday.

A native of Utrecht, Holland, she came to this area 12 years ago from Pennsylvania. She was a Protestant.

Survivors are her husband, Adrian Sr., of Altamonte, a son, Adrian Jr., of Saylorsburg, Pa., and brothers, Jan Smit and Leendert Smit, both of Holland.

Funeral services will be held at 11 a. m. Wednesday at the funeral home in charge.

THIS LOVELY orchid corsage was presented by Girl Scout Karen Cass in behalf of Troop 338 to the leader, Mrs. Nance Russell, at a Mother-Daughter Banquet Saturday night at the Casselberry Woman's Club. The orchid was grown by Mrs. Vivian Talbot, mother of the troop's co-leader, Pam Cannon.

DR. LORAN R. Bittman, resident director of GENESYS Orlando, will speak at a dinner-meeting of area engineers Wednesday evening at the San Juan Hotel, Orlando.

Sailor Shoots Samaritan

OCALA (UPI)—Police said a Los Angeles man with a bullet wound in his leg reported today fighting a roadside battle for his life with a hitchhiker.

According to officials, Kurt Butler, 25, was en route to Miami on U. S. highway 27 when he stopped and picked up an unidentified Negro sailor near here.

Butler told officials the sailor yanked a pistol from his uniform and told Butler to turn the car around. He then ordered Butler out of the car.

Police said Butler told them he hit the sailor and during the fight three shots were fired. One tore through the flesh of Butler's thigh.

Butler said he managed to kick the sailor in the stomach, jump back into his car and drive away.

Officials are searching for the sailor.

Milk Producers Get Break With Competition

TALLAHASSEE (UPI) — The Milk Commission dealt a blow to the flow of Alabama milk into Northwest Florida with a cut in the controlled price of farmers' milk around Pensacola.

The commission—set price for Florida distributors to pay Panhandle farmers was cut from 84 to 82 cents a gallon thus putting Florida dairymen on a competitive basis with their neighbors across the line.

Northwest Florida farmers had been complaining vehemently that state distributors had been going into Alabama where milk is only 60 cents a gallon.

Even though the price in Florida is still two cents higher, an absence of shipping costs will provide an added incentive to buy locally.

'Kiddie Fun Day' Scheduled By North Orlando Firemen

Throughout the south in the winter and as far north as Maine during the summer.
The North Orlando Volunteer Fire Department announced today that a "Kiddie Fun Day" will be held as the first of many projects to be sponsored by the department to raise funds for building a fire station.
The event has been scheduled for Friday, Jan. 8, from 3 until 8 p. m. near the North Orlando Village Hall on North Orlando Boulevard. There will be mechanical rides and a clean, circus type variety show with trained dogs, clowns and horses as well as many other features to entertain the young people.
Advance tickets, now on sale through the fire department and at the North Orlando Super Market, will include admission to two rides and entry to the show.
Two performances will be given, one at 4 p. m. and one at 7 p. m., and there will be a refreshment booth.
The program will be staged by Scott Brothers Kiddies Festival of Melbourne, a professional group who present shows throughout the south in the winter and as far north as Maine during the summer.

Reports were given by Mrs. John Martin, secretary; Mrs. Lamar Williams, treasurer and Mrs. F. J. Murray, sunshine chairman.

Festival Nets $1,000 For New Paraphernalia

Net proceeds of approximately $1,000 from the recent international festival held at Forest Lake Academy have been reported by Jim Joyce and Mrs. Kay Frey, of the home and school finance committee which sponsored the event. Proceeds are earmarked for school playground equipment.
Others working with the committee were Mrs. Lois Harris, Mrs. Marie Litchfield, Mrs. Betsy Cushman, J. D. Miller and Mrs. Mary Lou Miller.

The festival, staged from 3 until 9 p. m., Dec. 8, in the school gym, featured continuous entertainment with organ selections played by Mrs. Sylvia Moyer, Mrs. Connie Grove, Mrs. Brenda Murphy and a student, Jean Melster. Mrs. Pat Silver gave several trumpet solos and other instrumental numbers were presented by Bobby Wade, David Rose, Jimmy Tisler, Larry Fraiser and Roger Swanson.

There was a performance of the Tumbling Team under direction of Roger Miller and vocal solos were heard from Martin Sotola, Tom Lovett, Bill Johnson, Barbara Fowler and Bill Kirstein. The Academy Choral was presented with Sotola directing.
Bill Hies was master of ceremonies.
The gymnasium took on the appearance of a "dreamland" with fabulous booths representing Italy, Holland, China, Mexico, Iceland, Hawaii and the United States where foods native to each were served.
Prize winning booths, judged by Mrs. Maryann Miles, Mrs. Lloyd Svannevig and Del McPherson, were Hawaiian, first; Mexican, second and third, a tie between the Parisian Cafe and Santa Claus village.

Parley will stay crisp longer if stored in the refrigerator in water in a tightly covered container.

New Councilman Looks To Day As N. Orlando Lights Go On

Jay A. Wetz was elected last month to the North Orlando Village Council to complete the unexpired term of office vacated by Mrs. Mima Grinstead when business forced the Grinstead family to transfer to Cocoa.
Wetz was recently sworn into office by North Village Judge Harold Johnson at a special meeting of council. At the December meeting he was named to head up the health, welfare and recreation program for the village. Prior to taking office, he was on the village zoning board.
Wetz has been living in the Coronado section of North Orlando since July 1960, coming from Akron, Ohio, where he was born and reared, attending grammar and secondary schools there as well as Akron University.
He developed a technical background in electronics while in the Aero-Physics Department of Goodyear Aircraft Corporation and currently is taking courses toward his degree—probably in business administration—at Orlando Junior College. He is employed at Martin, Orlando, in the advance maintenance technology section.

He is a bachelor and, among other things, is interested in photography and sports cars. He has raced sports cars and only recently sold his Jaguar.
From 1946 until 1948, he served with the U. S. Army's First Rangers in the Canal Zone.
As North Orlando councilman, Wetz looks for the day when "all the lights will go on again in North Orlando—houselights as well as street lights."
He anticipates that most all the houses will have occupants in the not too far distant future.
"It's a nice community and more and more people are finding that out all the time," he advises.

Education - An Investment

Education in all its many ramifications—its extent, adequacy, quality, cost, emphasis, economic value to society and the individual, and so on and so on—is and has long been an almost universally discussed subject in this country. That is as it should be—ever since our beginnings as a sovereign people we have prided ourselves on the educational opportunities offered our youth, all the way from the kindergarten to the graduate school.

Now the Chamber of Commerce of the United States has issued a valuable and informative report—the third of its kind since 1914—called "Education, an Investment in People." And the substance of it is that there needs to be an increase in the general level of education of Americans if our standard of living is to continue to improve.

A profound change is taking place in the make-up of the population. The 25-64 year age group is steadily shrinking as a proportion of the whole, and it is upon this group that the country depends almost entirely for the production of goods and services. So, says the report, as it declines as a part of the population, its productivity must be stepped up through education—and through automation too—to keep that living standard rising.

The individual, as well as society as a whole, has a very direct stake in this. Joblessness, the report shows, appears to be directly related to education. Those who have completed 4 years or less of school have a jobless rate of 9.7 per cent, compared with 5.1 per cent for those who completed high school and only 1.4 per cent for those who completed college. And naturally enough, education is directly related to earnings. High school students on an average can expect to earn $83,000 more over their working lifetimes than dropouts. And this difference increases as additional education is gained.

Beyond that, the more education a person has the greater the interest he takes in public affairs. About nine out of ten college graduates voted in the 1956 presidential election, whereas only about half of those who failed to complete grade school voted. And national defense, as everyone would expect, benefits materially from good education. The ratio of men rejected for the draft is highest in the regions where high school dropouts are most frequent, lowest in the regions where they are fewest.

The advances made in education over the years are statistically impressive by any standard. In a little more than 90 years, the percentage of youths graduating from high school increased from two per cent to about 70 per cent at present. In a late year, more than 46 million young persons were enrolled in schools of all kinds; by 1980, the figure may reach 75 million or more.

So the figures go. And there can be no question the people of this country, working through their state and local governments, have been generous indeed in providing educational facilities and opportunities. In the 1961 fiscal year, for instance, these governments spent $20 billion for primary and secondary education. And at the beginning of the 1962-63 school year, 1,438,000 classrooms were available in public elementary and secondary schools, of which a whopping 63 per cent had been built in the preceding 20 years.

A reader of the report gains the belief that the American system of public education, with its strong base in local administration and decision, has been an outstanding success—and that the improvements which the Chamber finds are needed will be made.

Thought For Today

The Lighter Side

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Nine-year-old girls like to print important announcements on the covers of their school notebooks.

The other day I happened to pick up my nine-year-old daughter's notebook and saw attached to the inside cover a starkly worded message that read: "My Sister Loves Gary Grant."

This naturally gave me quite a job. I had not previously been aware that the aforementioned sister, who is involved in a romance, I immediately called her into the interrogation chamber.

"What's this about you and Gary Grant?" I asked, confronting her with the notebook.

"I'm going to kill my little sister," she replied. But under intensive grilling, she finally admitted that it was true.

"Good heavens," I cried. "Don't you realize that Gary Grant is old enough to be your grandfather?"

"You should live so long," my daughter said.

It further developed that she was still carrying the torch even though Grant had wrecked her life by failing to answer a fan letter she had written him.

When all of the evidence was in, I did what any red-blooded American father would do. I went to New York on a press junket that Grant's studio arranged to introduce his latest picture, "Father Time."

Back there in 1918 the word around Washington was that there was something unusual in the Truman campaign fund raising methods. Some facts got on the record in 1937-1938 before the U.S. tax court in an action between Welburn Maycock and the commissioner of Internal Revenue.

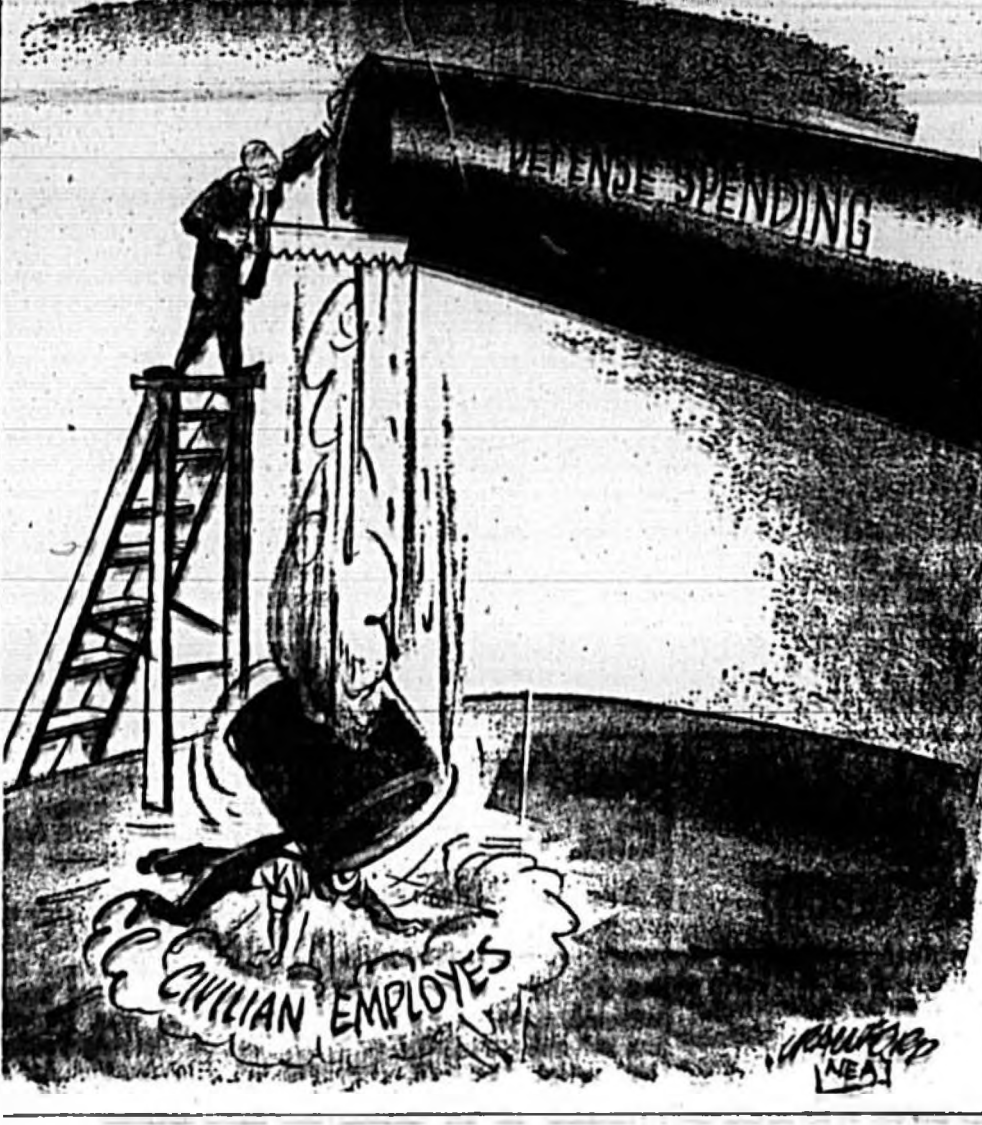

Maycock in 1919 was general counsel of the Democratic National Committee. The Internal Revenue Service (IRS) challenged Maycock's 1918 income tax return. The tax court found Maycock's return in good order, however, and proof against the IRS effort to assess more taxes, docket No. 38037.

The court's printed findings of facts stated that Maycock had undertaken in 1918 to raise $20,000 for the national committee. He sought aid in fund raising among Jews in New York City from Louis Markus, president of the American Bowling and Billiard Co.

From William Solomon, New York insurance man, Markus learned and passed on to Maycock the name of William H. Laddon who was said to be ready to put up a large chunk of political money in return for a favor in Washington.

Laddon and his family owned and desired to sell valuable antibiotics patents. The favor they desired in Washington was something that would cause the IRS to act on their pending request

Political Notebook

WASHINGTON (NEA)—I think the quarrel between the Soviet Union and Red China will get worse as time goes on, regardless of whatever patchwork is attempted by Brezhnev and Mao.

I base this belief on my experiences two decades ago when, as a U. S. Army Liaison officer, I spent nine months in the caves at Yenan, North China, then headquarters for Mao Tse tung and his top lieutenants.

Mao and his men were out of power and operating their top war government headquarters from that backwater area of North China. Mao's forces had not yet shown evidence of ability to stand up to the Nationalist Chinese or the Japanese in sustained combat. They considered themselves lucky if they could go into battle with 15 rounds of ammunition per soldier.

Mao needed Soviet co-operation desperately. Mao's Chinese were out-and-out Marxist Communists. But even so, Mao made it clear that he had no love on the rulers of Soviet Russia.

He left no doubt in anyone's mind that he believed he knew more about the organization and theory of communism than any of Russia's then-current leaders, including Stalin.

I considered himself the intellectual successor to Karl Marx. He tended to look down on Soviet concepts, Soviet leadership and Soviet foreign policy.

The handful of Soviet representatives in Red China in 1944 were merely tolerated. They complained bitterly to Americans that they had no influence and were treated poorly.

(Mao had emphasized his strong disagreements with Russia years before when he threw out his Soviet Communist advisers).

Mao was, of course, willing to use the Soviet Union and accept Soviet economic and military aid on his own terms. He made effective use of the Japanese arms the Communist Russian armies turned over to Red China at the close of World War II.

But in 1944, Mao was just as interested in using the United States or any other country with money. He didn't get U. S. aid, but he kept on trying.

Mao at that time made it clear he didn't want to cooperate with either the United States or the Soviet Union. He had his own course to follow in Asia.

He knew that following that course would anger both the Soviet Union and the United States. That didn't bother him, because he had the supreme confidence (even before he had won China) that guerrilla underground forces could conquer any organized armies in the world, given enough time.

If Mao was determined to go his own way when he was weak, I suspect he will be even more determined to go his own way now that he is quite strong in Asia.

For though his conventional armies are not as powerful as he had hoped, he has seen his guerrilla warfare concepts keep Southeast Asia in turmoil.

Lyle C. Wilson Says:

What Is Hatch Act?

The latest developments in the Bobby Baker mess recall the circumstances under which a hard-won Internal Revenue Service ruling in September of 1948 caused $30,000 to flow in to Harry S. Truman's presidential campaign fund.

Back there in 1918 the word around Washington was that there was something unusual in the Truman campaign fund raising methods. Some facts got on the record in 1937-1938 before the U.S. tax court in an action between Welburn Maycock and the commissioner of Internal Revenue.

Maycock in 1919 was general counsel of the Democratic National Committee. The Internal Revenue Service (IRS) challenged Maycock's 1918 income tax return. The tax court found Maycock's return in good order, however, and proof against the IRS effort to assess more taxes, docket No. 38037.

The court's printed findings of facts stated that Maycock had undertaken in 1918 to raise $20,000 for the national committee. He sought aid in fund raising among Jews in New York City from Louis Markus, president of the American Bowling and Billiard Co.

From William Solomon, New York insurance man, Markus learned and passed on to Maycock the name of William H. Laddon who was said to be ready to put up a large chunk of political money in return for a favor in Washington.

Laddon and his family owned and desired to sell valuable antibiotics patents. The favor they desired in Washington was something that would cause the IRS to act on their pending request that the proceeds of such sale would be taxed as a capital gain rather than as ordinary income. The record shows that the transaction met the requirements as a capital gain transaction. What the legend needed was action.

They already had tax counsel in Washington but counsel had not been able to prod the IRS to act. A favorable ruling would save the Laddon family large sums in federal income tax.

Laddon first offered $25,000 to Maycock, who was to be his tax counsel, but finally raised the sum to $30,000. Maycock agreed with Laddon and Markus that they should split half of all received from Laddon above the $20,000 which was to go to the national committee. The $50,000 deal was made between Laddon and Maycock in June, 1948, in Markus' office.

The tax court found that Maycock concluded that Laddon's cause was legitimate, that he was fairly enticed to a favorable ruling but that the IRS was reluctant to act in an election year because so much tax money was involved. Maycock pressed the case and in September, 1948, the favorable ruling was issued. Laddon paid off to Maycock with $30,000 in currency. Markus and Solomon each got $4,750. Maycock kept $17,500 as a fee and delivered $30,000 in currency to the Democratic National Committee.

The committee popped the $30,000 right back at him because the Hatch Act forbids individual campaign contributions in excess of $5,000. The tax court said the $30,000 later was channeled into the committee through dummy contributors who gave checks in sums permissible under the Hatch Act. After all, what is the Hatch Act between friends?

Worry Clinic

Ellen is like thousands of young women who imitate Biblical Esau who sold out for a mess of pottage. Notice the "Esau" in which Ellen now finds herself. If she had used her head more than her heart, she'd now be engaged to a young attorney, with a happy family. My We ahead!

CASE U-156: Ellen G. aged 31, is the girl mentioned yesterday.

At that time she was a high school senior, infatuated with a law student and demanding an elopement.

Despite my advice to the contrary, she persisted in her desire for an early marriage. Apparently, as a further club by which to coerce her boy friend, she got pregnant out of wedlock and then used this as an extra argument for a quickie wedding.

So they eloped. He dropped out of law school and got a job pumping gas at a corner gasoline station.

The baby was born before they were married 7 months. They had moved in with her parents, who had one spare bedroom, so Ellen's desire for the freedom of a home of her own was frustrated.

Her mother ran the show, for it was her house. Meanwhile, Ellen's husband grew irritable at the fact Ellen deferred to her parents, instead of to him.

Ellen then began to nag, and this increased the tension.

When she became pregnant again, he got so angry at their cramped living quarters that he moved out and went home to his parents.

Ellen tried to effect a reconciliation, which worked for a few months. But with the advent of the second baby, her husband again moved out.

Now Ellen is divorced and receiving a small child allowance check from her ex-husband.

He is chafing even at this demand on his wages, for he snarls at having dropped out of law school.

Like the usual male, he blames Ellen for having ruined his career as an attorney. So—what has Ellen accomplished by her selfish demand for an early marriage?

Well, she is right back in her parents' home, but how with two youngsters.

Her chances for remarriage are far less, since the average man is reluctant to take over two crying babies with any new wife.

Where Ellen was formerly free to indulge in parties and dates, she is more restricted in her social life.

At the age of 31, when smart girls are still in Liberal Arts or Business Colleges, and enjoying parties, dances and independence, Ellen is tied down even worse than the ordinary wife.

For she no longer has a husband to escort her to movies, and the fact she is a divorcee drives many possible matrimonial prospects away.

In Sunday School or high school Marriage Courses you can discuss this true case for it is typical of thousands every year.

Ellen got what she deserved for she didn't love her former husband.

She loved herself! For when you disregard the best interests of the other party and force a man to drop out of school to gratify your own selfish sexual urges, you are heading for a "cat and dog" existence and zooming your likelihood of a divorce.

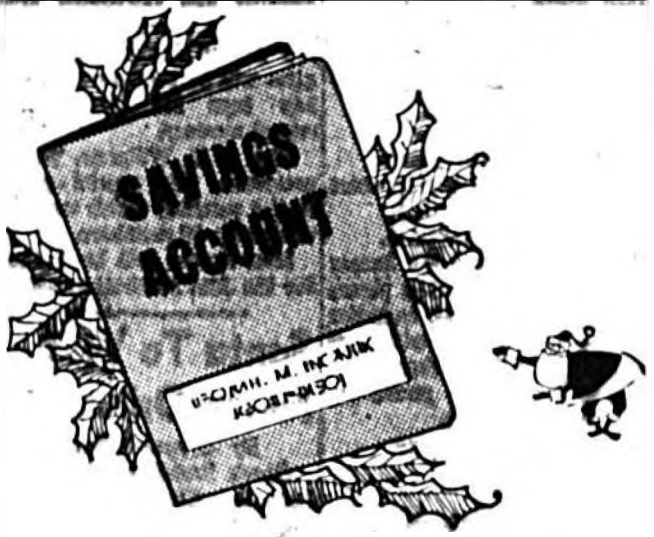

Husbands soon resent wives who have ruined the husband's plans for a career.

Cornet Heads YWC Plans Benefit Explorer Scouts For Sanford School

Jay Cornet, of Orlando, was elected chairman of the Central Florida Explorer Council during the Boy Scout annual conference at Sanford Naval Air Station.

Some 115 Explorers and their adult leaders from seven central Florida counties attended the three-day meet.

Purpose of the conference was to give the Explorers, senior Boy Scouts 14-18 years old, an opportunity to become better acquainted with Sanford Naval Air Station and the Navy.

Orientation flights in a station aircraft proved to be one of the highlights of the conference.

NAS Sanford was presented a Boy Scouts of America plaque "in appreciation for interest in and services to the youth of the community."

The oil heat industry anticipates 1970 growth gains up to 11 per cent in the number of centrally oil-heated homes and in fuel oil consumption, it is reported by the Oil Fuel Institute of Florida.

A spring fashion show and luncheon will be the main fund raising event of the year for the South Seminole Young Woman's Club with the proceeds earmarked for the Little Red Schoolhouse for retarded children in Sanford.

Other projects approved were card parties with members volunteering to act as hostesses in their homes and an application to operate the concession stand at the Parade of Homes.

The members voted on the money raising project at a meeting of the club at South Seminole Elementary School at Casselberry.

It was voted to send out postcards notifying members of meetings, and to meet in the homes of members for the time being. The January luncheon will be held in the home of Mrs. Ann Kain in Fern Park.

Mrs. Fred Heubler and Mrs. H. T. Crittenden, of Seminole Plaza, demonstrated the art of making attractive arrangements for Christmas decorating following the business meeting.

Refreshments of cupcakes, with clever decorations, and coffee were served by the hostesses, Mrs. Francis Culbreth and Mrs. Jim Daily.

VFW Unit Plans Yule For Needy

Official inspection of the Auxiliary to VFW Post 10050 of Casselberry was made in the post home on Concord Drive by Past District President Ann Deveny, of Orlando, representing Mrs. Nora Jane Gillespie, district president.

Mrs. Marcella Hisecox was initiated into the Auxiliary. The VFW Post and Auxiliary will co-operate again this year with the Lions Club and other organizations in filling Christmas baskets for the needy.

On display at the meeting was a collection of charming stuffed toys and dolls made by Mrs. Mary Eccles, which will be donated for the welfare project.

Refreshments of cake and coffee bread were served with coffee by the hostesses, Mrs.

Helen Hartwick and Mrs. Helen Penton. The serving table was covered with a red holiday cloth and decorated in the Christmas motif.

'Others' Pictures Service Of SA

At the turn of the century, Gen. William Booth, founder of the Salvation Army, wanted to send an inspiring greeting to his "troops" around the globe.

After considering the costs of a lengthy cablegram, he summed up his reminder of Salvation Army service and thoughtfulness in this way. He cabled one word: "Others." Send your contributions to the Salvation Army, P. O. Box 1556, Sanford.

Junior High To Present Concert

A Christmas Concert will be presented at 7:30 p.m. this Thursday, by the South Seminole Junior High School band and chorus in the school cafeteria.

The band will be under the direction of Handmaster George Kitzel and the seventh and eighth grade choruses will be conducted by Gaylen Craig.

There will be no admission charge and the public is invited.

At 1:30 p.m. this Friday, before being dismissed for the holidays, the band and chorus will present a concert to the entire student body at an outside assembly.

Business Areas For Future Told

Guest speaker at a luncheon for Lyman High School students participating in the co-operative business education, distributive education and technical education programs was J. D. Schuster, director of Jones College of Business in Orlando.

The luncheon was held at the Trade Winds Cafeteria in Seminole Plaza, Casselberry.

Schuster spoke on the six areas of business which the students might be interested in going into and told the advan-age and requirements for each.

Areas which he touched upon were financial, manufacturing and production, marketing, sales, promotion, and communications.

He stressed the importance of a good background in English, spelling and mathematics to those girls planning to enter the secretarial field.

Faculty advisors attending were Mrs. Lois Toole, CBE co-ordinator, and Lloyd Barnes, DE co-ordinator.

Goldwater Looks For 'Good' 1966

WASHINGTON (UPI) —

Defeated presidential candidate Barry M. Goldwater said today the Republican party does not have to wait until 1968 to recoup some of its heavy losses in the last election.

The Arizona senator, who leaves office when Congress reconvenes next month, said the 1966 elections will present a good opportunity for the GOP to make inroads into the heavy Democratic majority on Capitol Hill.

Strikes... Spares

By John A. Spolaki
Ole Saint Nicholas isn't too far away when we start talking about the Saturday morning Junior Bowling League Christmas party. As a matter of fact, this coming Saturday he'll be treating all the kids from this league to prizes, ice cream, coke, cookies with more surprises along the way, too.

The following Saturday, Dec. 26, will be the date for the Christmas team tournament with the doubles and singles scheduled for these "future stars" on Dec. 28.

If your son or daughter isn't enrolled into this league, why don't you bring 'em on out and we'll teach 'em how to bowl.

We had over 60 boys and girls from Seminole High School here last Thursday for their own bowling league. A welcome to the league officers and team captains. President Ralph Unger and Karen Goshorn - the Secretary-Treasurer.

Team captains and the names of their teams are: Marcia Coleman - Tenpinettes; Don Anderson - Unpredictables; Tom Patronik - Reacts; Don Goshorn - Three-Point-Fives; Charles Smith - Lucky-Strikes; Robbie Hartley - Wildcats; Marion Ravello - Strike Outs; Karen Duggan - Five Fowls; Craig Melh - Melh's Mesa and Alan Herbst - Rebels.

A prime upset in last week's City League found the cellar-dwelling Wisdom Sod Service group leveling the first-place Fryn's Farm Insurance fivepins by taking all four points. Leading the Wisdom-men was Al Chaffin who bowled a 221/524 series. Another surprise was in store for another league leading team as Harry's Bar and Liquor clipped three from Lake Monroe Inn with Doc Kling's 202/508, high for the H. B. & L. men.

Within the Hi Nooner's League they had a team high, with handicap, of 734 which had stood for a number of weeks. This past Wednesday afternoon it was broken twice - once by Art Brown Peat Control with their 832 set and then again by Hehrens Tractor with their 838. That's not had shooting when you consider there are only four girls to a team.

A 679 scratch was bowled by these lassies for Hehrens - Bert Neville 195, Claudette Hehrens 166, Margaret Peire 150 and Helen Padgett 118.

A thank you to our Deltona group who bowled here on Friday's 1 for dropping-off all of their "members" names. They'd still like more from that area to join them for the fun of bowling. Maybe you know some from this group - Mary Deleplaine, Harry Cuddy, Ed Shillo with wife Collette, Fred and Cals Glasier, Teddy and Bill Swallow, Pat Thompson and wife Hazel, Lillian and Wally Douglass, Herman Price, Vinson Thompson, Ralf Alger and Everett Shinn.

Saturday night Moonlight Bowling winners were Dorothy Fox and Linda Post for the girls and Charles Bladwin and Doug Owens were tops for the men.

Helping cover some of Santa's surprises with their scotch doubles winnings were Doug and Darkis Owens who came in first with their 959 series, only seven pins more than Mary and Bill Meek.

Each week there's a heap of prize money available to these participants and we need more women bowlers each Sunday. Plenty of men wanting to bowl, but they don't have partners.

About needing bowlers, the Sunday Mr. & Mrs. League is in urgent need of four couples to fill in for people who are either dropping from this league or have orders transferring them out of the Sanford area.

If there are any newcomers who'd like to start bowling this week, please call the Lanea or league secretary, Shirley Siglin at 322-8959. It's a handicapped league, and has lots of friendly folks bowling in it.

One other which could use a bowler also is the Tuesday afternoon (1 p. m. Windjammer Women's Scratch League. You should have an average of around 120 to 130.

That'll do it for this week. Don't forget about your Christmas Party this Saturday kils.

Shell Still Leads DeBary League

Biondi Shell still leads the DeBary Social Bowl League with a record of 36 games won while losing 16. Faron Builders have won 33 of 52 for second place and Davis Builders are in third with a record of 31 and 21.

Western Auto has won 23 and lost 27. DeBary TV and DeBary Pharmacy have identical records of 24 and 28. Pezold Lawn Service has won 23 and lost 29, and the Elbow Room has won only 12 and lost 40.

In last week's play Ellsworth Ogden took high series honors with a 607 and Whitley Hall grabbed high single honors with a 223.

Oviedo Lions Face Colonial Hi Tonight

By Marshall Lago
Herald Sports Writer
The Oviedo Lions travel to Orlando again tonight to meet Colonial High but under an entirely different set of circumstances. This time the Lions will use their varsity. When Oviedo met the Grenadiers two weeks ago the Lions were hampered by the fact that football was still in progress and none of the varsity cagers were able to participate because they were still involved with football.

Two weeks ago the Grenadiers posted an easy win over Oviedo's J.V.'s. Oviedo is still considered the underdog but the fact that a school the size of Oviedo is playing a school as large as Colonial is "hard to believe."

But the Lions had to have a schedule and since so many of the other schools in this area have refused to play the Lions - they said they had too much to lose and nothing to gain - school officials had to take what they could get. Oviedo is a class B school and Colonial is a AA.

Coach Paul Miskler didn't have too much to say about the game tonight but he did remark that it was going to be a hard ball game to win. Miskler will probably start Jimmy Courier and Billy Miskler at forward, Ardie Arndt at center, and Rex Brooks and Ted Bellhorn at guard.

Pull Ups Take 3 From 'Stars'

It's getting tighter in the Women's Windjammer Scratch League as the Pull Ups took three from the Lucky Stars. SAN also collected three from the Drags and the Pirates (changing that name helped) took four from the ABC's.

Pat Siple was high this week with a 493/177. Jane Spurling was second with a 487/181 and Mary Sherman third with a 477/177.

One of the more difficult splits was conveyed by Shirley Siglin as she slid the six pin across the deck to topple the 5-7-10.

Betty Quillen and Mary Faust made the 4-5-7. Liz Klein picked the 4-5 and Doris Schautest and Elaine Kostival made the 8-10.

Stetson To Host Three Colleges

DELAND (Sp1) - Stetson University will host three out-of-state colleges during the seventh annual Hatter invitation basketball tournament Wednesday and Thursday nights in the Deland National Guard Armory.

JayVee Fives Will Open Up County Event

By David Higginbotham
Herald Sports Writer
The Seminole High Case quintet returns to action tonight when they host cross-county rival, the Lyman Greyhounds in the SHS gymnasium.

Ralph Stumpf's JayVees are slated to start the affair at 6:30 p. m. going against a victorious Baby Greyhound five. Stumpf's crew lost 42 to 54 to Boone last Friday, but the Lyman Junior varsity team beat Oviedo 28 to 22.

The expected starters for the Sanford JayVees are Ron Dudley, Paul Leroy, Wally Jernigan, Larry Hodges and Greg Ganas. From the south end of the county, Larry Miller and Larry Lott are expected to be the best scorers on the hardboard for Lyman's JayVees.

Frank Murray, Gary Loyd, Jeff Williams, Steve Groover, and Ron Hinson are expected to be the Seminole starters in the main event scheduled at 8 p. m.

Mike Sterling, Joe Asher, Dave Matls, Gene Winkleman and Richard Moore are expected to start for the 'Hounds. The 'Hounds lost 42 to 51 to the Oviedo Lions last week. They started out in front, but soon fell behind.

Demmy Paces Ward Realty

Tim Demmy had his big ball exploding all over the pins while leading Ben Ward Realty in a three-game win over Ron-Sun Chrysler-Plymouth in the Businessmen's League as he shot a 210/549. The Autonetica team increased their first place lead by winning four from H.I.I. Products "A" team with Neal Maxwell rolling 190/531 and Don Thompson hitting a 200/518. John Martin was high for H.I.I. Products "A" with 183-526.

Mason's Men moved into second place after taking all four from the H.I.I. Products "B" team with Colonel Gregory showing them how a fine 196/508. Rex, Liquors moved up the league ladder as they swept all four from Glass Mat with Ray Robinson and Clarence Wallis setting the pace with 181/504 and 174/504 respectively.

Lance Cracker had a pair of bombers in John Chaffin with 192/505 and Al Chaffin with 197/507 while taking three points from Dick's Appliances. Pinecrest Liggitt Rexall continue their winning ways with a four game romp over WTRR as Dick Mayer blasted a 212/500 and Jim Hussard upon a nice 193/524. Bob Grooms tallied a 201 game for WTRR. Atlantic Coast Line put the axids to Wall Plumbing with a three point victory as Vergil Anderson shot 208/557.

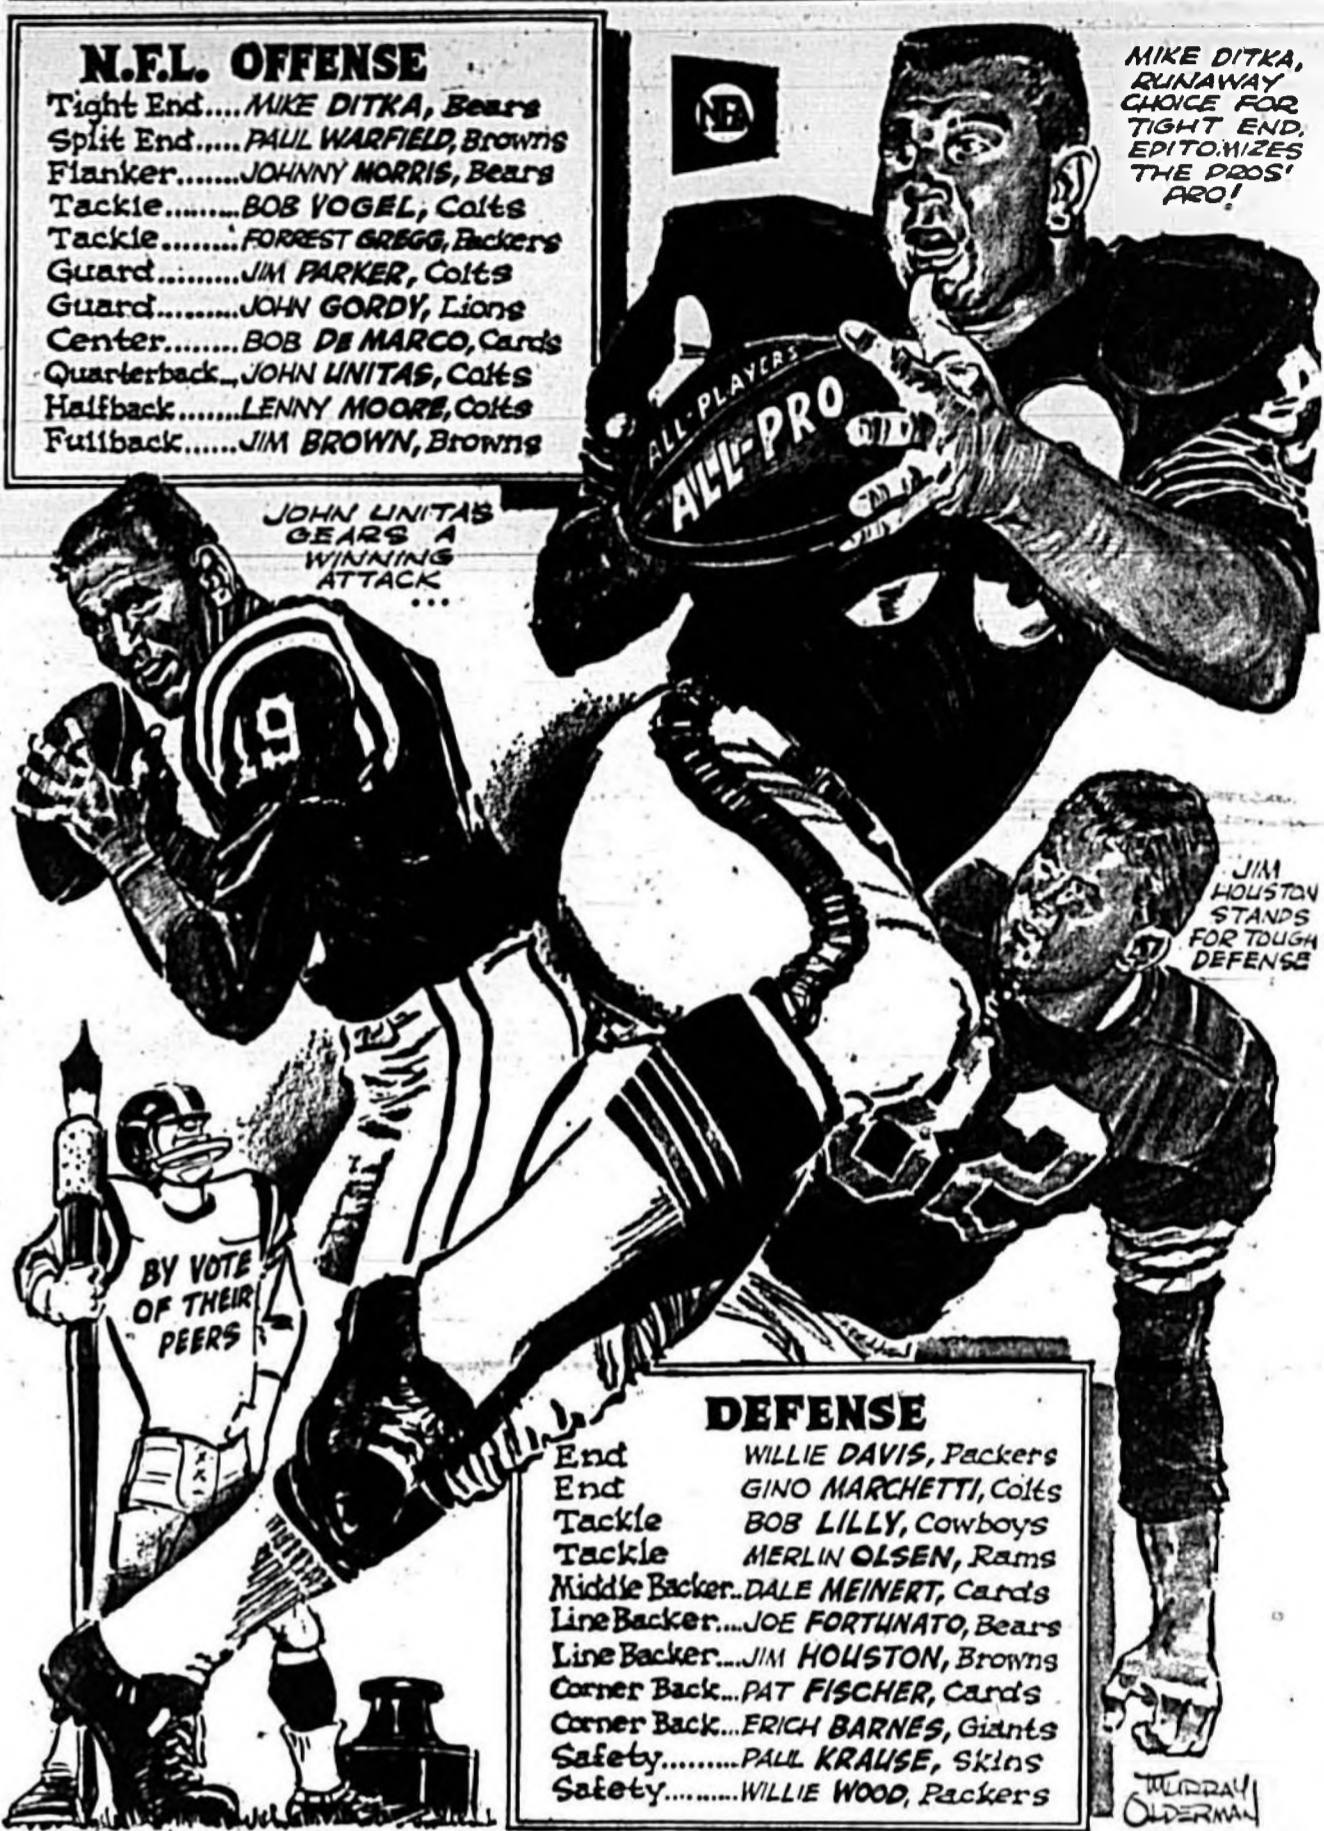

All this has changed. The Colts won the western division title of the National Football League, and Units, still the best quarterback in football, is the leader of the 10th annual All-Players All-Pro team, named today by Newspaper Enterprise Association. He polled a higher percentage of votes for his position than any man in the NFL.

He also carried along four of his Colt teammates - cornerback halfback Lenny Moore, converted guard Jim Parker, young tackle Bob Vogel and ageless defensive end Gino Marchetti. It's convincing proof why the Colts put together an 11-game winning streak to lead into the championship playoff on Dec. 27. They were two positions ahead of any other team in the league.

Florida League May Expand

LAKELAND (Sp1) - Possibility that the Florida State League of 1965 may be a 10, or even develop into two six-circuit leagues, loomed large here this morning as President George MacDonald announced that he had the "go ahead" from National Association headquarters to expand.

Closing down of the Northern League, he said, left three major league clubs with teams that might well be brought into the FSL. The Milwaukee Braves are ready to own and operate at the new West Palm Beach field, MacDonald said, while Earl Halstead, publisher of the Baseball Blue Book, Inc., wants a franchise which would place at Clearwater if and when arrangements can be made for the use of the skin-diamond field there. Leeburg, Bradenton and Hollywood are under consideration, he added, all with parks and facilities. Pending developments, Daytona Beach league director Warren Keyes, the schedule maker, will stand by, MacDonald concluded.

NFL Stars Choose Their Own

By Murray Olderman
NEA Sports Editor
NEW YORK - (NEA) - There were times the last five years when Johnny Unitas must have wondered what a guy has to do to get some recognition. It turns out now the answer is to win.

Johnny was generally regarded as the greatest quarterback in the game, and it showed in his pay check. But since the Baltimore Colts stopped collecting championships after 1959, the all-pro honors went to the Norm Van Brocklin and the Y. A. Tittle.

All this has changed. The Colts won the western division title of the National Football League, and Units, still the best quarterback in football, is the leader of the 10th annual All-Players All-Pro team, named today by Newspaper Enterprise Association.

He polled a higher percentage of votes for his position than any man in the NFL. New York Safety-Paul Krause, Washington Safety-Willie Wood, Green Bay Warfield and Krause are the first rookies to make the greatest mythical team in football since Jimmy Brown's inaugural season of 1957. Ten other pros have made the honor roll for the first time - Vogel, Gordy and DeMarco on offense; Davis, Lilly, Olsen, Meinert, Houston, Barnes and Fischer on defense.

There was even a departure from the voting system for the first time. With the cooperation of the NFL Players Association, a plan was drafted in which the players, acting as consultants for NEA, filled in only those positions they knew by experience. Thus, the corner halfback named only the wide receivers and running backs, men he has to defend over the course of a season. And the tight end picked out the corner linebackers and safeties - the fellows who stand in his way. It's the most highly specialized system devised yet for all-star teams.

Just a couple of votes split out the winners from the second team in several instances. The closest races were at offensive tackle, where Vogel edged Charley Bradshaw of Pittsburgh; at split end, with Warfield out-springing Frank Clarke of Dallas; guard, where Gordy pulled ahead of St. Louis' Ken Gray; center, DeMarco winning by a nod over Mick Tingelhoff of Minnesota; defensive tackle, a tug of war between giants Olsen and Roger Brown of Detroit, and safety, which developed into a three-way battle between Krause, Roosevelt Taylor of Chicago, and another rookie, Mel Renfro of Dallas.

This team is also historic as the first which did not include Detroit's Joe Schmidt at middle linebacker. Joe was knocked out by a dislocated shoulder. Also eliminated from possible repeats by injury were linebacker Myron Pottius of Detroit and corner back Dick Lynch of New York. Unitas isn't the only one who reveals in a return to status. Moore, in the same backfield, was actually down so low in Baltimore esteem that he started the season on the bench after a couple of disappointed years. He came back via a league-leading spree of touchdowns.

The tributes to the all-pro don't end with their selection to the NEA team. On Jan. 7, 1965, at the New York Convention in Los Angeles, each of the 22 men will receive an individual trophy designed by Petrocelli, Inc.; a Robert Bruce Tailored All-Pro sweater, and an AMP Checkmate bag.

But the most important reward to each man is the knowledge that he is the best in the eyes of the other men who play professional football.

Dear Abby: By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: I am 11 years old and I am still confused about Santa Claus. Mom, Dad and my older sisters say there is a Santa Claus, and the kids at school say there isn't any. Mom said, "Call up Santa and talk to him." So I call him up at Sears service number and all I get is some stupid recording which says, "This is Santa Claus up in the North Pole, ho ho ho." He doesn't let me get a word in edgewise. How can a great big fat guy get his stomach through a chimney? And how can he sled to Florida when there's no snow there? In Omaha there's a Santa in every store. I just got through telling a short, fat Santa in Brandeis what I wanted, and when I walked outside I saw a tall, thin Santa ringing a bell for the Salvation Army. How about this?

CONFUSED ABOUT SANTA.
DEAR CONFUSED: Climb upon your father's knee, Sonny Boy, and ask him to level with you. You're old enough to know.

DEAR ABBY: I am 18 and have been married for 7 months. My husband and I get along very well and I like being married, but here is the problem:

I work for the telephone company and the pay is very good, but with my hours I hardly ever get to see my husband and I stay dissatisfied with myself all the time.

I can't get on a different shift because I don't have any seniority. My mother says that while I still have no children I should work and save all the money I can, I would rather stay home and be a housewife. Living on my husband's earnings would not be easy, but I would like to try. My husband says I can quit my job if I want to. What should I do?

TORN
DEAR TORN: Quit your job and devote yourself to being a full time wife. A dissatisfied wife is a greater threat to a marriage than a tight budget.

DEAR ABBY: Our son, a college sophomore, was driving one night when he was side-swiped by a truck, and a horrible accident resulted. His date (a college freshman) was badly injured. They still don't know how much plastic surgery will be required to restore her face to a presentable appearance. Fortunately, our son escaped with lesser injuries from which he will recover in time, but they are both still hospitalized. Naturally, we are sick over this and are assuming all the bills. Her parents said to us, "Now that your son has disfigured our daughter for life, the least he can do is marry her!"

They had been dating, but not steady. And we know that our son had no thoughts of marrying this girl or anyone else. (He's only 19.) We are afraid these parents will try to convince our son that he has a moral obligation to marry their daughter. He is a sensitive, emotional young man. How should this be handled?

HIS PARENTS
DEAR PARENTS: Let your son know that he might be approached with this suggestion, and explain that for him to marry the girl solely out of a feeling of obligation or guilt would be a terrible mistake.

Highlights

TV Time's Show of the Night: 10-11 p.m. NBC, "The Battle of the Bulge." A documentary of Hitler's last vain but brilliant attempt to win World War II by surprising our resting, unprepared troops in Belgium with a massive Panzer movement, and a tribute to the American G.I.'s valor under fire. Chet Huntley narrates and there are many vividly told personal recollections of the battle by actual participants (including high ranking officers) on both sides which are augmented by flashbacks. A well-put-together show despite some intrusive attempts to lighten the drama by occasional witty camera tricks.

7-8:30 p.m. NBC, Mr. Novak, "Johnny Ride the Pony, One, Two, Three." An exciting and potent drama which parallels a similar episode seen on "The Doctors and the Nurses" recently. This one concerns the underground activities engaged in by teen high-school clubs and the ways they circumvent educational guidance. A boy is almost killed during a secret initiation and this exposes the campus problem. Can anything be done about youthful insubordination? This show suggests, each other in an effort to gain possession of a silver pin-in-the-shape-of-a-dove which doesn't have the Bible transcribed on it, just the names of every important Thrush agent. Robert Vaughn stars as Solo and the chief guests are Ricardo Montalban as Satine and June Lockhart as a schoolteacher in charge of a gang of peppy student tourists who complicate the story.

8:30-9 p.m. ABC, McHale's Navy, "Christy Goes Traveling." Christy is so distraught over never having seen his two-year-old daughter that he's not functioning at peak efficiency. Problem: How to get him home after "Old Lead-bottom" (Captain Binghamton) has refused his leave. Solution: mail him home. It's only a 72-hour round trip, so what can go wrong? By the time McHale finds out, Christy's on his way to San Diego and wanted by the captain to join a commando raid. The cover is as wild as you'd expect with Parker once again jumping into the breach to impersonate the absent navigator. But things fall apart when Navy publicity decides to send Christy home. Will show with plenty of laughs.

9:30 p.m. ABC, "The Tycoon." "Harvey Brinkerhoff, Who Needs You?" Because his grandfather lost $50 in 1909, Walter hires a young man as an efficiency expert with the Thunder Corp. But when the boy turns out to be a marauder and even suggests that Walter retire, the crafty old codger launches a campaign to undermine the young chap's efficiency. But, Walter almost goes one step too far. The campaign is amusing and Walter Brennan, as always, carries the show.

10-11 p.m. CBS, "The Doctors and the Nurses." A psychiatric patient, who feels he's being neglected, packages a home-made time bomb and sits in the hospital waiting room waiting for the necessary hour to go by. This is a stock situation and includes all the expected thrills and chills as the clock ticks on. When the man is suddenly called on to become an emergency blood donor and isn't useful and wanted, he can't find the bomb. And the clock keeps ticking. Donald Dick plays the man with the bomb.

10-11 p.m. ABC, "The Fugitive." "The Iron Maiden." Another week, another name, another job, another trip. This time our elusive Kimble gets himself caught in a tunnel collapse at an experimental site. And, as he awaits rescue, along with the cross-section of people he's trapped with, Gerard is above ground waiting and Kimble knows he's there. There's an exciting escape sequence at the end as everyone comes to his aid.

Jacoby On Bridge By Oswald Jacoby

A bid in the club convention as developed by Harold S. Vanderbilt is the jump response to one club to show a solid suit. Specifically, the club opening shows at least 16 high-card points. The one diamond response is negative and denies holding: A—two aces; B—an ace, king and a queen; C—two kings and two queens. All other responses are forced to game and a jump response in a suit shows a solid suit of at least six cards.

The chances are that any good partnership should get to seven with the North and South cards, but the Vanderbilt convention made it a cinch.

North's three diamond response showed the solid diamond would be a negative bid only.

South bid three hearts as a waiting measure and North made a second jump to five diamonds. This second jump showed either an eight-card diamond suit or seven plus an outside king. It also denied an outside ace since North would have cue bid if he had an ace in addition to his solid suit.

South's five no-trump bid had to be a request for kings. It could not be for aces since he already knew that his partner held exactly one. It could not be a request to show strength in suit because North had already shown a solid suit.

Hence North's six-heart bid showed two kings and South had no trouble counting 13 easy tricks at no-trump.

Joe Manzi Rolls Series Of 560

Joe Manzi totaled a 235/560 series while toiling for Quality Mobile Homes in the Keglers Bowling League but it was little avail as they dropped three points to the fast charging CPO Lushes who moved into second place in league standings. Al Kipp also rolled a 179 5/10 for Quality Mobile Homes while But-ton was high for the CPO Lushes with 191 5/11.

Sanford Atlantic National Bank stung Glass-Met with a three-game loss to help knock them out of second place as Rowland came through with a 201 Bill Kreck was high for Glass Met with 198 5/3.

Patron Builders took a firm hold on fourth place with a sweep over the Moon as Len Bombi posted a 191 5/22.

A three game victory was registered by Sullivan's Cam-corder CPO's Tool-taker as they moved into first place Ken March was high bowler in the match with 214 5/41.

We The Women: By Ruth Millett

A medical educator predicts that the day may soon come when there will be a worldwide shortage of women—with 150 males to every 100 females.

At present, the doctor says, 106 boys are born for every 100 girls. By age 30 the ratio is about 100 to 100, as males die and females live to an older age.

But medical studies show that at the time babies are conceived the ratio of males to females is something like 120 to 150 males to each 100 females.

If medical science can find a way to further reduce prenatal mortality, then we may eventually reach the place where there will be 50 per cent more boys than girls at birth—creating a shortage of women.

That's a problem for the men to worry about. Women have been worrying about the man shortage for a long time. It should be a big relief to them to find that the world may have a woman shortage in its future.

Just think how things will change when there are 150 men competing for every 100 women. The men will be reading articles on "How to Hold Your Wife—and Taking Her Seriously."

It will be the men who will have to please, instead of the women.

The men will have to make the most of their looks, fight the battle of the bulge and the battle against age.

The men will have to learn to be good listeners, put themselves out to be companionable, and cultivate the art of making a woman feel important.

And what about the women? Why, they can just relax, take it easy, and let the men compete for their attention and affection.

The men aren't going to like the setup but they'll learn how to live with a woman shortage just as women have learned to live in a world where a man is a prize to be worn and held in tough competition.

Beauty after Forty
EDYTH THORNTON MCLEOD

One of the newest and most interesting pastimes is what people are calling "a coffee." You can have a group in at any time of day for coffee and fun, and not worry about adding weight to your diet. And women are using the newest of the new things, the Insta-Brewer coffee maker, which makes delicious grind coffee in a minute or two. You just operate the pressure plunger and have it as strong as you or your guests prefer.

This is a smart gift (I am giving one to a young married couple) and all will like the smart glass and black effect. If you and your guests are really conscious of weight, serve a gelatin mold dessert topped with fresh fruit, and for the lucky ones who have no weight problem, serve cake.

The Insta-Brewer puts you in the mood for "a coffee," and having a coffee break in the afternoons is a nice way of keeping in touch with your friends and neighbors. With this new aid it is fun to "have people in."

Always set a pretty table. Get out all of your prettiest cups and saucers. Grandmother's silver and that lace cloth you always fold away in blue tissue. Use your lovely things NOW.

From coffee breaks to movies.

Do see the Paramount picture, "Where Love Has Gone." It is truly a great film. Lette Davis is magnificent. She plays her part to the hilt and looks exactly the part she portrays. Susan Hayward is great but our after-forty Bette Davis deserves the greatest applause.

If the film, "Nutty, Naughty Chateau" comes your way, see it for the beautiful colors. The whole thing is "way out," as they say, but it's fun to see. It is based on a play by Fran-coise Sagan. The setting is an old Swedish chateau situated on an island and there is mystery, odd characters, etc., but see it!

Something really new is "Bedtime Perfume." It is absolutely unique and very lovely. The formula is so created that you wear it by the drop. I am told that three drops and your own body warmth wrap you in a fragrant glow that lasts the whole night through. I'll say that's new!

Yule Party Entertains Ohio Club

By Mildred Haney
 'Twas the night before Christmas, even though 'twas not. This was the feeling the members of the Ohio Club had as Santa Claus, played by Ed Fritz, paid a visit to the regular monthly meeting.

The occasion was for all of the former residents of Ohio, now living in the thriving community of Deltona.

The meeting took place at the Deltona Community Center located on the shores of Lake Monroe.

The evening's activities got under way with a devotion by the Rev. Charles Laird, and a delicious covered-dish dinner followed.

Immediately following dinner, the nostalgia of the Christmas spirit was brought into the hearts of everyone by the reading of the poem, "Twas the Night Before Christmas," by Miss Shirley Laird, with background music of "Silent Night" played by Mrs. Madeline Elliott, on the piano. It was then that Jolly old St. Nick made his appearance with his bag brimming with gifts for all.

All of the gifts were of a humorous or fun-loving nature and this was most certainly the climax of the evening's festivities, as the Ohio Club members opened their presents.

The chairman of the Ohio Club Christmas party was Mrs. Harvey Piephart and the co-chairman, Mrs. Mildred Lang.

The Ohio Club, a relatively new one in Deltona, counts as its members some 64 residents and all were out in force for the festive occasion.

The founder of the club is

Mrs. Hilda Richmond, along with the following co-founders: Mrs. Robby Morris, Miss Line Elliott and Mrs. Beulah Charles. Mrs. Catherine Capito, Mrs. Made-

THE OHIO CLUB of Deltona recently had a festive Christmas party at the Community Center. Committee members arranging the party are from the left, Miss Mildred Lang, Mrs. Edward Fritz, Mrs. Harvey Piephart, Mrs. Harold Long, Mrs. W. L. Roche, Mrs. M. E. Dias and Mrs. William Svec.

"Queen Of Gems" Ever Fashionable In Jewel Gifts

This Christmas give the "Queen of Gems." Give pearls.

Never have pearls — necklaces, earrings, pins, rings and bracelets — been more important in the fashion picture than they are today, reports the Jewelry Industry Council.

This year's many new and striking designs offer a wide variety of selections. There are multiple strands of pearls, cultured or simulated, that are bound to delight the heart. There are pearl collars, effective with any neckline. . . multiple strands of tiny seed pearls. . . bracelets, earrings, always in good taste, always chic.

Combinations of pearls with other stones, such as jade, turquoise, lapis, or topaz, add color and excitement to many of the season's newest designs. Cultured pearls in necklaces, as flattering as candlelight to every woman, are available in all lengths, though the trend is to the shorter lengths to frame the neckline.

In any price or style, pearls are to be worn with pride, cherished for years to come.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Scudder of Liliac Drive celebrated Mrs. Scudder's birthday Tuesday, Dec. 1, at the DeBary Restaurant.

Mrs. Vernon Harrison (Virginia) celebrated her birthday, Saturday evening, Dec. 12, at a dance held at the Fire Recreation Hall. A large birthday cake was cut by Virginia and the 70 guests sang "Happy Birthday."

Mrs. James Oddy wishes to thank her many friends for the messages and cards of cheer she received while in the hospital. She is back home in DeBary and doing nicely.

Mr. and Mrs. Dan Hurn of Carnation Lane will celebrate their 50th wedding anniversary on Dec. 17.

Mr. and Mrs. Allen Sain of Palmira Drive had as their guests last weekend, their daughter and her family, Mr. and Mrs. Roger Tilley, of West Palm Beach, and their nephew, Lewis McGee, of St. Petersburg and also Gary Mullins of Ocala. They all attended the showing of "What in Blazes" at the Fire Recreation Hall.

Teach Tidiness To Junior With Toy Closet

Ask any child what he wants for Christmas and the answer will invariably be "Toys!" Small wonder that the day after Christmas finds Mother wondering how to cope with the deluge of toys, all of which seem to be underfoot.

One answer to this problem is to encourage neatness in your youngster by providing him with a place to store his toys. Steel cabinets are practical, inexpensive storage chests that come in many designs. Floor-standing models accommodate the mechanical toys of a toddler; shelves can be assigned according to your children's varying

Holiday Ideas

Here's a suggestion to enable you to inject a whimsical informal note in an otherwise formal design of green holly and red carnations for a mantel, coffee table or top of a TV set.

Arrange holly and the flowers around a small piece of driftwood that branches upward at one end. Then seat two or three pickles on the branches, suggests the Society of American Florists.

To get extra dividends from your mistletoe, spray it with clear plastic or dip the stem ends in melted wax. This will keep the leaves from shriveling and the berries from dropping, says the Society of American Florists.

If a lamp post lights the way to your front door, decorate it with greens and cones. And, don't overlook the mailbox. Dress it up with greens or hollies, suggests the Society of American Florists.

To make your Christmas gift packages different, attach to them a fresh flower or two, sprigs of mistletoe or holly, or clusters of greens or pine cones, suggests the Society of American Florists.

'His' And 'Her' Leather Gloves Distinctive

To prove you're a St. Nick with a knack for choosing the right gift, pick "his" and "her" leather gloves this Christmas. Available in hundreds of styles and colors, soft, supple leather gloves are always welcome fashion accessories for the well-dressed lady or gentleman.

Leather gloves in kid, deerskin, or suede will have feminine hands clapping for joy, whether the gloves are given as a gift in themselves or as an extravagant "extra" tucked into a new leather handbag.

Women's gloves come in a variety of lengths this season, ranging from the wrist-skimming shortie to the 16-button leather glove that extends past the elbow.

That fashionable fellow on your list will appreciate smart-looking gloves in smooth, suede or grained leathers. . . these are available in light and dark shades, from oatmeal and natural to deep brown and black. Distinctive features include slit cuffs, piping and removable knit liners that team with leather gloves for a two-in-one gift. For a more formal look, give gloves of silk-lined grey suede and black fawn.

There are many gloves especially designed for driving comfort as well as good looks. The ladies will appreciate the combination of safety and smartness in "split leather" or pigskin styles, while men will go for all-leather and leather-palmed gloves, or new styles that feature vented knuckle straps or perforated leather backs for extra freedom of movement.

It goes without saying that any of these glove gifts are sure to get quite a hand on Christmas morning!

Pilot Club Enjoys Christmas Party

The true Christmas spirit with a festive glow was dominant at the Civic Center recently as members of the Pilot Club of Sanford entertained their copilots and guests at their annual Christmas dinner party.

The dining and entertainment area was picturesque with colorful decorations, made and designed by the Pilots, featured throughout. Crisp ornaments and glass pendants adorned the huge silver tree, which was surrounded by a mass of gaily wrapped gifts.

The long banquet tables featured pine runners, tinged in white and interspersed with holly, with a series of red tapers centering the entire length. Multi-colored glass containers centered each table, with burning oil softly illuminating the festive atmosphere.

Place cards were book markers of miniature red and green felt mittens edged in lace made by Mrs. Esther Williams. Clever napkin rings created from various shapes of macaroni held the white linen napkins.

Centering the speaker's table was a huge white square candle embedded in white leaves and cherries, accented on either side by spiral arrangements of nine miniature red containers burning small candles producing a most unusual candelabra effect.

The guests were delighted with the traditional turkey dinner and all the trimmings. An individual gift from the president, Mrs. Marge Jernigan, was placed at each place setting of both members and guests.

Mrs. Harry Boone was chairman of the decorating committee, assisted by the Meses. Joel Field, Clay Williams, George Stine, Gordon Swain, John Hodge and Jerry Jernigan.

Mrs. Sue Stevenson was program chairman and introduced Mrs. W. L. Roche, noted Sanford story teller, who held the audience spellbound with a fascinating account of the miracle in a small town in Texas.

Members and guests attending the Christmas dinner party were president Marge Jernigan and husband, Jerry; Bonnie Boone and husband, Harry; and daughter, Judy; Hazel Field and Joel; Lida Stine and George; LuGene Ball and husband, Raymond, and Rev. and Mrs. Stewart of the Longwood Episcopal Church.

Also Margaret Hodge and co-pilot, John; Virginia Harrison and Vernon; Volva Lambertson and husband, Jack, and mother, Mrs. Sophia Williams have recently moved to Crescent City to make their home.

PARTY OF THE WEEK was the one held at the Capri Restaurant Friday night for Cdr. "George Washington" Kimmons who will be relieved of command of VAH-3 December 18th.

Highlight of the evening was a hilarious skit entitled "A Day in the Life of George Washington Kimmons," featuring versatile Lt. Gerald Coffee in the title role.

The "actors" set the scene on the stage of the Capri with a huge picture of the first "George" captioned "good old George, my hero." As the "day" proceeded, it was obvious that "that was the day that was."

Clever, witty dialogue between the bogus "Skipper" and his department heads, plus a scene with "Bride Tiger Billie," (portrayed by Joann Moore), elicited roars of laughter from the crowd, watching with the delight as the skit unfolded.

And laughing louder than anyone else were the subjects of the skit, Billie and George Kimmons, who viewed the spoof from a ringside seat.

In a more serious vein, following the skit, were the various presentations of gifts to the departing skipper. A huge box filled with silver punch cups bore the inscriptions of the various departments of Heavy Three; a shiny polished tail hook, mounted on a plaque, and last but not least, the third box which contained the skipper's missing flight jacket, complete with patches.

In his acceptance speech, Cdr. Kimmons admitted most of his remarks to the wives. He told them that the fine record of Heavy Three was due in no small part to the patience, understanding, and love with which they supported their husbands, as the men give their utmost capability to their jobs.

For the party, Billie was attired in "gay Christmas red" chiffon.

DON'T FORGET about the Savagettes Sarepta Rest Home Skate Benefit that takes place from 7 to 10 p. m. tonight at Melodee Skate Rink on Onora Road.

There'll be a cakewalk, skating demonstration and entertainment to provide a lively evening for everyone. All proceeds go to the Sarepta Rest Home to help provide Christmas cheer for the residents there.

members working on this are Carol Kerr, Betty Smith, Alice Best and Ruby Hofecker.

On December 23, the GPO Wives will stage a Teen Party with teenage dependents of CPO's and their dates invited to attend. Hours are from 7 to 11 p. m. School clothes will be suitable and refreshments will be served.

Seven new members were welcomed to the last meeting of the club at the last meeting including Mrs. V. D. Booker, Mrs. E. Patry, Mrs. A. H. Armstrong, Mrs. L. E. Stephens, Mrs. C. J. Schweers, Mrs. J. A. Turner and Mrs. A. L. Wasieleski.

SANDRA McANALLY was chosen Checkmate of the month at the recent business meeting of the VAH-11 Enlisted Wives. The meeting was held at the home of Mary Rufas in the form of a Yuletide buffet.

Members were treated to a tour of the Med via color film taken by Evelyn Gostreau who was lucky enough to have made this interesting trip last summer.

During the meeting many gifts were exchanged. Every one was filled with the holiday spirit as they enjoyed the gathering. The Rufas home was beautifully decorated with a Christmas tree, a centerpiece of holly, pine and candles on the table which was laid with a gay red cloth. Throughout the room other gala decorations caught the eyes of the guests—especially one done by Jane Rufas, the hostess' daughter.

At an earlier date, the Checkmates met at the home of Sandra McAnally where Cdr. and Mrs. R. W. Kennedy presented each of the members with VAH-11 insignia buttons.

Next meeting is January 27th at the Ballroom with election of officers slated. Marie Hubley, Peggy Adams and Arnes Buenavista will be in charge of refreshments.

NAESU Engineers, their wives and families gathered for a "mas road" at Lake Golden. Saturday, we understand, but we have no further details on this event.

Lake Mary Group Honored Whitem-Wilcox Marriage Rites Announced

By Frances Westler
 A Christmas come-as-you-are coffee was held recently at the home of Mrs. F. E. (Mildred) Donaldson overlooking Lake Mary with Mrs. James M. (Isabelle) Thompson as co-hostess.

The rooms were decorated for the holiday season with red net surrounded by red and white poinsettias forming the serving table centerpiece.

Mrs. Donaldson served her good home made Hawaiian coffee cake, cinnamon buns, doughnuts, fruit cake, carrot cookies and lemon buns, and Mrs. Thompson helped supply the Christmas spirit by having the goodies decorated with small Christmas favors.

Mrs. LaVera Harrison, the coffee chairman, presented gifts to each of the drivers as a token of her appreciation for the good cooperation she had received all year long.

Several guests among the regular group of Lake Mary ladies were Mrs. June Tabor and son, Mrs. Bernice Senkbiel and Mrs. Hazel Barry, sister-in-law of Mrs. Harry E. (Mildred) Sandusky.

The local group is always glad to meet new friends and have fellowship with them over a cup of coffee. The main purpose of these get-togethers is to give the women of the community a chance to get acquainted and to meet newcomers to the area.

Others present were Mrs. Robert (Phyllis) Rugenstein, Mrs. C. W. (Ruby) Sjoblom, Mrs. Don (Shirley) Smith, Mrs. H. M. (Oladell) Cochran, Mrs. John (Margaret) Ulmer, Mrs. Bessie Beebe, Mrs. Einar C. (Anna) Turning and Mrs. Ralph (Frances) Abell.

Horoscope Forecast

Wednesday, Dec. 16, 1964

GENERAL TENDENCIES: New beginnings where financial arrangements are concerned as well as winding up that which has already been placed in motion are excellent for you, so forget wishful thinking and get into the various means by which you can increase your abundance. Be practical.

ARIES (March 21 to April 19) Showing that you attend to bills on time and expecting others to do likewise is best way to operate now. Stop wasting time on the trivial. You can grow in proportion to the effort expended and by cultivating the right people. Teamwork does it.

TAURUS (April 20 to May 20) Growth is the keynote now and if you are your most charming self with others, this will be comparatively easy. Be more scientific in your method of operation. There are fine social affairs in the offing for the PM that you would do well to attend.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) Preparing yourself wisely for future undertakings requires that you do not confide your plans to others if they are to be successful. See that you have your surroundings in a more practical as well as beautiful order. Show that you are a go-getter!

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to July 21) Your friends are now in a mood to give you the boost or specific backing you desire in order to make your business or creative affairs more workable. Get out and see them early. Laboring diligently yourself is then the answer.

LEO (July 22 to August 21) This is the right day to contact persons of means and position who can be most helpful in your life, careerwise. You need more prestige where the general public is concerned. Put your best foot forward wherever you go. Be courteous with big-wigs.

VIRGO (August 22 to September 21) You have to consider new tenets, principles, etc. if you are to achieve that growth that is so much a part of today's success. Think. Plan. Listen to new contacts who can be the means to clarify a good deal that has been puzzling recently.

LIBRA (September 22 to October 21) Be sure to finish whatever you have promised to do in a very clever fashion, since higher-ups have their eyes on you. This will tend to advancement. Be sure to bring home little gifts, etc. that will get you out of the dog-house with loved one.

SCORPIO (October 22 to November 21) You can smoothe association with partners of similar ideas and background as yourself, so make haste and plan your future get-togethers. Talk over ideas at length. Then take the time for a happy celebration. Rotate quite early.

SAGITTARIUS (November 22 to Dec. 21) With all the duties before you, R requires an enthusiastic approach if you are to rid yourself of them quickly. Being bored doesn't help at all. See to it that fellow workers give as much in return as you are willing to extend.

CAPRICORN (December 22 to Jan. 20) You are able to get rid of worries easily and perplexities now by a little serious application. However, don't neglect having fun at favorite hobbies, too. Plan evening's recreation early so that you have right friends with you.

AQUARIUS (January 21 to Feb. 19) Foundational security is the thing you should strive for today and this can be achieved if you think and stop worrying. Take inventory of your assets as well as liabilities. Let your close ties give their good ideas for betterment.

PISCES (February 20 to March 20) There are so many small details connected with the coming Holidays that you would do well to attend to them today. Use every spare moment to shop, etc. Don't forget Xmas cards for those out-of-town. Think out ambitions for the New Year.

IF YOUR CHILD IS BORN TODAY he or she will soon learn how valuable is the Almighty Dollar and for this reason would do well in any profession such as banking, stocks and bonds, property management and the like.

40-ACRE TRACT

Council Stymied: 'Phone Nuisance Here To Stay

Telephone solicitation nuisances are apparently here to stay. At least, until City Atty. William C. Hutchison Jr. can come up with some kind of a solution.

That's the gist of the City Commission as it pondered drawing up an ordinance to curtail such solicitations. Last night they asked Hutchison to check other cities to see how they may be coping with the problem.

"How you going to make it work," the attorney asked. "All you have to do is hang up."

Most commissioners agreed the calls can be a nuisance but were stymied in seeking a solution. City officials stressed that fund-raising solicitations, in which a great percentage of the money goes to the in-and-out-of-the-city solicitors, are the ones they seek to limit.

A second portion to the ordinance calls for a limiting of junk cars or debris around homes. Hutchison is to draw up such a rule and submit it at the next commission meeting. This, he said, is a difficult one to write since some youths have hobbies of working on vehicles and the commission would have to determine what are "junk cars" and what is a hobby.

In other action, the commission: —Approved a request for a conditional use as a day nursery at 2440 Oak Ave. —Okayed installation of street lights at Fifth Street and Hickory Avenue, at Third Street and Bay Avenue, and near the Police Benevolent Association Building.

—Approved a low bid of City Service to supply the city with premium and regular gasoline as well as diesel oil. The firm's bid was low of five submitted. —Approved a bid of $869.51 for fencing and submitted by Reeves Fence.

—Accepted a bid of $4,494 by Seminole County Motors to supply two police cars. At the request of Police Chief Roy G. Williams the city will retain cars scheduled to be traded in so they can be used on a standby basis.

—Okayed Strickland-Morrison's bids to supply four trucks. Two are for the water plant; others are for the zoo and parks department. —Tabled until the Dec. 28 meeting consideration of the adoption of the revised plumbing code.

—Delayed action on a request for future water and sewer connections at DeWitt Traller Park pending changes in the annexation procedure which will extend the time limit of such petition from two to five years. —Left at 25 the number of marina reports the city will obtain. A suggestion was made that the city might want more of them to give to manager Warren E. Knowles to report on the marina project. —Decided to limit future sewer taps to one and abandon the present policy of up to five lines into one tap.

THE FIRST CHRISTMAS

Stumbling along the dark road which led to Bethlehem, David and his father suddenly noticed a bright light in the sky and heard a strong but sweet voice saying:

"Fear not; for behold, I bring you good tidings of great joy which shall be to all people. For unto you is born this day, in the City of David, a Saviour, which is Christ the Lord."

David and his father dropped to their knees and looked toward Heaven.

North Liberals Would Weaken Southern Bloc

WASHINGTON (UPI) — No major civil rights battles are expected in Congress next year but Southern conservatives face several other fights.

Northern liberals are planning legislation, rules changes and party purges designed to weaken the Southern bloc. Congress should open with a bang when liberal Democrats in the House attempt to purge Reps. John Bell Williams, of Mississippi, and Albert W. Watson, of South Carolina, for their support of Barry Goldwater in the presidential race.

Later, an effort is planned by the Mississippi "Freedom Party" to have Congress oust all members of that state's House delegation on the ground that voter discrimination voided their elections. A reduction in the power of the conservative House rules committee, headed by Rep. Howard W. Smith (D-Va.) is another goal of the liberals.

They favor provisions allowing the House, by majority vote, to send a bill into conference with the Senate without going through the committee, and to try a bill from the committee after 21 days if there has been no action. Other rules changes proposed by the liberals would reduce from 213 to 175 the number of signatures needed to take bills from hostile committee and require the approval of Democratic committee assignments by the party caucus.

In the Senate, Southerners will overwhelmingly back the effort by Sen. Russell B. Long (D-Miss.) to succeed Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey as Democratic whip.

DeBary Firemen Honor Member

DeBary's Volunteer Fire Department presented Harrison Herrittler, well-known "chef" of the organization, a jacket-style sweater and matching tie during Saturday night's dance and Christmas party sponsored by the group's entertainment committee in the Fire Hall.

Those attending enjoyed trimming the tree followed by an evening of dancing and music. Herrittler's hot dogs, with all the trimmings, were served along with coffee and cold drinks and snacks were supplied by the committee.

PRIZE WINNING booths of the International Festival sponsored at Forest Lake Academy to raise funds for playground equipment were (top) the Hawaiian, first, and, (bottom) the Mexican, second. Tie for third prize went to the Parisian Cafe and Santa Claus Village. An approximate $1,000 was realized from the event.

Episcopal Churchwomen Name New Officers In Longwood

By Donna Estes — The state of officers recommended by the nominating committee was unanimously approved at the regular meeting of the Episcopal Churchwomen of Christ Episcopal Church, Longwood, held last Thursday at the Parish House.

Elected were Mrs. Virginia Bowersock, president; Mrs. Jean Pasternack, vice president; Mrs. Ann Chandler, secretary; Mrs. Betty Hamilton, treasurer; Mrs. Pauline Stevens, secretary of Christian education; Mrs. Beth Hinson, secretary of promotion; Mrs. Marie Taylor, secretary of United Thank Offering; Mrs. Peggy Kuhn, secretary of missions and supplies; Mrs. Joyce Thompson, secretary of social relations; Mrs. Helen Thompson, house chairman; and Mrs. Jan Cole, secretary of college work.

Serving on the nominating committee were Mrs. Stevens.

Mrs. Hammond and Mrs. Pasternack. The new officers will be formally installed at the regular meeting in January.

Rev. Charles W. Stewart Jr., vicar, who gave the devotional at the election meeting, expressed his appreciation to Mrs. Kuhn, outgoing president, for the excellent manner in which she had conducted her office.

An interesting session of the current Christian Education Series from the book, "Tests of a Living Church," by Robert W. Spike, was led by Mrs. Stevens and Mrs. Pasternack. The book was discussed by Mrs. Chandler and Mrs. Hamilton.

Activities of the Episcopal Young Churchwomen were reported by Mrs. Hinson. Following the business meeting, refreshments of warm Christmas pudding with lemon sauce and coffee and tea were served by Mrs. Stevens.

William Bendix, 'Life Of Riley,' Succumbs At 58

HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — The death of William Bendix, the fifth of the funniest performers in show business to die in as many months, cast a pall today over movietown's Christmas preparations.

The gruff, likeable actor, who led "The Life of Riley" on radio and television for 13 years, was 58 years old when he died Monday in Good Samaritan Hospital. His death tentatively was attributed to lobar pneumonia and complications.

His demise followed that of Percy Kilbride, of "Ma and Pa Kettle" fame, Eddie Cantor, Harpo Marx and Gracie Allen.

Yule Program Slated Tonight

"Merry Christmas to the World" is the title of the program being presented by the sixth grade classes of Pinecrest Elementary School at 7:30 p.m. tonight.

Each grade group will portray Christmas customs in different countries. Music by the sixth grade chorus is under the direction of Mrs. Jere Straley.

Featured as "Columbia" is Christine Plappi with "Uncle Sam" played by Peter Kelly. There are also clowns and the public is invited to attend.

Hard Cash, Hard Work

The Boom In Roadside Eateries

By Don Oakley — NEW YORK (NEA) — You can't just pick up and take off in the 20th Century, as great-granddaddy may have done in the 19th, and head west to become an independent farmer on free government land.

But something like 25,000 ambitious, dissatisfied Americans are doing much the same thing every year by kicking over their old careers to set up as independent franchised businessmen. A franchise is far from free, but the reward is the same—the satisfaction that comes from the old dream that every man should be his own boss.

In the past 10 years, a quarter of a million former tax drivers, clerks, factory workers, waitresses, housewives have invested in anything from hamburger stands to coin-operated dry cleaning centers. Every day 5,000 people apply to the more than 400 companies that use the franchise system; everything from doughnuts to fried chickens.

Franchise outlets, led by the food business, now account for 25 per cent—$80 billion—of all retail sales. This figure will double in the next 10 years, predicts William Rosenberg, a founder and past president of the International Franchise Association, which has rid the industry of most of the shady franchisors who once plagued it.

The mushroom growth of roadside food stands reflects the changing American way of life—more automobiles in more suburbs, more leisure, more free money and more eating out.

annual fee, usually based on his volume, and agrees to purchase supplies from the company. The capital required for an outlet ranges from a few thousand dollars for a root beer stand to $100,000 for a restaurant or motel. But most food service stores take about $25,000—$10,000 cash for the down payment and operating capital and the rest in a short-term mortgage. The investor gains the advantage of a well-known name and advice of the parent firm.

There are, however, pitfalls for those whose enthusiasm may run ahead of their good sense. Though the industry has done much to clean house since the National Better Business Bureau ranked questionable franchising as the second biggest racket a few years ago, there are still con men ready to prey on the unsuspecting, particularly in the vending machine field.

"Investigate before you invest" is the rule recommended by the BBB—investigate the company, its financial strength, its product, its territories and its methods, its rating with the BBB. Prospects should be particularly wary of unsigned, box number "opportunity" ads in newspapers.

Above all, says the BBB, nothing should be signed without discussion of the entire deal with lawyer, banker and family.

For its part, franchising enables the parent company to expand quickly with a minimum capital outlay while having its product sold by people who have a vital stake in the success of the business.

Because a falling franchise cent failures in the 10 years since the first store was opened. This company's operators average about $27,500 a year on an investment of $31,000. The most successful ones have been found to be people wanting to move up the social and economic ladder from blue collar to white collar, who were unable to finish their work early in life and are used to long, hard hours. While the rewards may be satisfying for those investing their money in a reputable company, franchising is very definitely not a 40-hour-a-week job. But neither was homestead ing.

Carpenters Eye Apprentice Plan

Carpenters Local 2376 of Sanford will make an effort to get an apprentice school established in this area, according to the local's business agent, R. F. Graham.

Representatives of the United Brotherhood of Carpenters and Joiners of America will be present Wednesday night at a dinner-meeting for members and local contractors at the Capri where plans for the school will be discussed.

Graham said that the school would be operated for young men 17 years of age and above and would be co-sponsored by the local and the state. The local would furnish instructors and the state would pay for the services under a new program now in effect.

Florida Due Balmy Winter; Blizzard Heads East

Shift Reported In Jet Stream

MIAMI (UPI)—Weathermen say a shift in the steering currents of the high-altitude jet stream may mean a mild winter for Florida.

They watched the progress Wednesday of the huge Canadian cold air mass moving across the Plains states to see if it turns eastward away from the state when the jet stream begins affecting it.

The front, moving toward the southeast, should reach Florida some time Thursday, said forecaster Gilbert Clark, but probably would only chill the northern part of the state if it turns toward the east.

Clark said that for the past month the high-velocity winds of the jet stream have been blowing from west to east instead of toward the southeast.

The jet stream normally blows across the middle of the United States in the winter, and its currents have much to do with controlling large air masses such as cold fronts, high and low pressure areas.

In the summer, when the jet stream effects are felt over the Southeastern Atlantic, forecasters are able to tell much about the likely progress of hurricanes from the upper-air steering winds.

Clark said weather experts have not learned yet how to accurately forecast the shifts in the jet stream itself, and that no one can say how long the west-to-east direction of its currents will last.

"But as long as the jet stream is moving west to east, we're definitely in for mild weather," said Clark.

Florida has had only one or two mild cold snaps since the annual succession of cold fronts began moving out of Canada and freezing more northern parts of the country.

Head librarian, Mrs. Sarah King, has announced that the city library will be open all day Wednesday, the 23rd, and closed all day Saturday, the day after Christmas, to give librarians a long weekend.

Nobles of the Sanford Shrine will man the Salvation Army kettles from 9 a.m. to 9 p.m. Friday, with Ray Herron as chairman. Herron said from 6 to 9 p.m. nobles who are members of the Sanford Police Department will take over.

Here are two gift suggestions that will cost you nothing but will be received with the deepest gratitude by someone. One is to give a pint of blood to the Seminole County Blood Bank. The other is to pledge your eyes after death so that a blind person may see.

Don't forget the Christmas concert by the Seminole High School Glee Club Thursday night at 8 p.m. in the school auditorium. They always present a beautiful program and it's open to the public, of course. The Glee Club girls will be wearing their eye-catching new Christmas red costumes.

The county jail is a very nice looking building all year round — often mistaken by visitors for a motel. But at Christmas time it really glows with beauty. Too bad the inmates can't see how pretty it is—outside.

The first Federal building might be called the house of blue lights. Blue Yule lights outline the modernistic contours of the building and elicit "ahhhhs" from nighttime passersby.

There still is room to enroll in the new occupational training class in automotive mechanics opening Jan. 4, according to Bill Krieger, of the Florida State Employment Service. See him for information.

Santa Claus has accepted an invitation from the Sanford Merchants' Association to visit this area. He'll be at the corner of First and Magnolia from 1:30 until 5:30 p.m. and from 6:30 until 8:30 p.m. daily except Sunday until Christmas. He'll have candy for the youngsters and will hear their requests for Christmas gifts.

Mr. and Mrs. Santa Claus who visited the Pinecrest Shopping Center last week will be joined this Friday by the Seminole High School Band.

Mr. and Mrs. Claus again will be located on the parking area to greet the children. The band, under the direction of Ernest Cowley, will play several of their more popular arrangements and a number of the well known Christmas carols.

Herman Middleton, a Seminole High graduate who later attended Rollins, Columbia and Northwestern and earned his doctorate at the University of Florida, has been named by Gov. Terry Sanford to North Carolina's recently established State Arts Council. Middleton is currently head of the Drama Department at the University of North Carolina's Women's College at Greensboro.

Ike And Mamie, Jackie To Spend Yule In Desert

PALM DESERT, Calif. (UPI) — Two former First Ladies and one ex-President are expected to spend the Christmas holidays near this desert community of about 10,000 persons.

Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower and his wife Mamie, who once resided at 1600 Pennsylvania Avenue in Washington, D. C., boarded a train in Pennsylvania for a transcontinental trip here. They are due in San Francisco Friday.

Mrs. John F. Kennedy and her two children, Caroline and John Jr., tentatively are expected to arrive this weekend. They now live in New York City.

The Kennedys were reported to have arranged for the use of a $250,000 home overlooking the 12th and 13th holes of the La Quinta Country Club. It is within 10 miles of the Eldorado Country Club, where the Eisenhowers will be staying for their annual winter visit.

U. S. Reveals Nuclear Power

PARIS (UPI) — U. S. Defense Secretary Robert S. McNamara told the NATO council today that roughly 40 percent of the entire American nuclear weapons power is located in Europe or allocated for use there and in the Atlantic area.

In a speech to the Council of Ministers of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization, McNamara disclosed that the total American nuclear fire-power located in Germany alone is more than 5,000 times that of the atomic bomb dropped on Hiroshima in 1945.

Yule Package Will Be Told By President

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Johnson was expected today to announce a "Christmas package" of federal grants to advance his war against poverty.

The second allocation of U. S. funds to reduce hardship will exceed the $22.5 million approved in the opening assault last Nov. 21.

Details were withheld pending the White House announcement.

The new grants are for use in battling poverty through community action, job training, work-study programs and other measures.

Informed sources said one grant would finance a conference of poverty in mid-western states, including Johnson's home state of Texas.

School Holiday Starts Friday

Thousands of happy youngsters will be turned loose on their parents Friday as teachers have a sigh of relief and turn to their own holiday preparations.

All public schools in the county, All Souls Parochial School, St. Mary's Parochial School and Sanford Naval Academy will cease classroom operations Friday for two weeks with students scheduled to return on Jan. 4.

Students at Forest Lake Academy will head for home on noon, Dec. 22 and return on Jan. 4.

Some local college and university students have already arrived and many more will be appearing this weekend and early next week, from campuses throughout the nation.

Many servicemen are also expected to be home for the holidays.

However many of those boys brought to be stationed in sunny Florida are expecting relatives from the frozen North to spend a few weeks basking in sunshine here.

Orlando Firm Gives Low Bid

Eugene W. Kelsey and Son Construction Company, of Orlando, with a bid of $29,000, is the apparent low bidder to construct a 40 by 100 foot addition to one of the existing buildings at Sanford Naval Air Station.

The project calls for the construction of a prefabricated building, 255 to be used as shop space.

'Flim Flam' Successful

Duke Does Well

HOUSTON (UPI) — Surgeons today removed a four-inch section of the Duke of Windsor's main artery and replaced it with an artificial "patch" in a 47-minute operation. The 70-year-old Duke withstood the surgery well.

Burgess Heads Chamber

Loring Burgess, executive vice president of Florida State Bank and president of United State Bank of Seminole, was elected president of the Seminole County Chamber of Commerce during Tuesday night's meeting of the trade body's board of directors.

Named to assist Burgess in leading the organization during 1965 were County Judge

C. Vernon Mize Jr. as vice president and Howard H. Hodges, president of Sanford Atlantic National Bank, as treasurer.

In January Burgess will succeed County Judge-elect Kaylie Housholder, who has served as president during the current year.

Two vacancies on the Chamber's executive committee were filled when the directors elected George Touhy, executive vice president of First Federal Savings and Loan Association, and Francis E. Rountree Jr., Sanford dentist and immediate past president of the organization.

Burgess, a native of Worcester, Mass., came to Sanford in June of 1962 and has served as an officer of Florida State Bank since that time. He came here from Laurel, Miss., where for 15 years he was vice president and director of the Commercial National Bank and Trust Company of that city.

County Economy Boom Pictured

This county's economic picture continues to climb as the sales tax collections for November leaped more than $2,000 above the October take.

J. Ed Strougan, director of the Florida Revenue Commission, reports the November sales tax at $22,781,91 compared with $20,686,51 for October and only $18,873,44 for November of last year.

Meanwhile, Strougan reported Seminole County's portion of the gasoline gallonage tax for November was $31,413.

Yank Fighters Clobbered Reds

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (UPI) — Fighter planes from American aircraft carriers surprised Communist North Vietnamese forces and "clobbered" 17 boats and an oil barge before the Gulf of Tonkin last Aug. 4, according to Capt. D. W. Cooper, skipper of the carrier Ticonderoga.

"We did the job and lost no one," said Cooper, whose ship launched 12 aircraft in the retaliatory attack.

Police Seek 'Police' Cycle

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — Venice division police today were searching for policeman K. W. Strange's motorcycle.

Strange reported that someone saw the lock off his garage and took the vehicle. Officers later found the bike's radio equipment and saddlebags in a canal.

Space Prediction

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Dr. Eugene H. Konradi, of the National Aeronautics and Space Council, predicts that the Russians soon will attempt to put cosmonauts in orbit for 10 to 15 days as a prelude to moon landings and interplanetary flights.

Law Extension Held Illegal

BONN (UPI) — West German Justice Minister Ewald Bucher claimed an extension of the statute of limitations on Nazi war crimes was illegal even if it were found that a number of Nazi killers still were untraced.

Bucher said it is up to district attorneys to file charges prior to May 8, 1965, by which time the 20-year statute of limitations on prosecuting the mass murderers expires.

Heir's Widow Has Daughter

BERNE, Switzerland (UPI) — The widow of Richard J. Reynolds Jr. today gave birth to a daughter—less than two days after the father's death from a lung ailment.

His fourth wife, German-born Annaliese Schmidt, was the birth of the child.

Highway 1's "Reynolds" Lawyer said the heir to the cigar fortune died of pulmonary embolism, a lung disorder.

Mighty Storm Stuns Midwest

By United Press

A powerful blizzard screamed across the Montana prairie into North Dakota today with blinding snow and high winds. Biting arctic air drove temperatures far below zero.

The massive storm pounded the Rockies with winds up to 95 miles an hour, triggered cold wave warnings as far south as Texas and sent gale warnings flying along the Northwest coast.

Roads were clogged with drifting snow across the north country and police barred all but emergency traffic in many areas.

Winds up to 50 m.p.h. hammered Dickinson, N. D., in the pre-dawn hours and reduced visibility to zero in driving snow. The temperature stood at 17 below.

The mercury tumbled to 25 degrees below zero at Glasgow, Mont., where 50 m.p.h. winds shrieked through the empty streets.

The storm bent great clouds of dust drifting across Kansas and Colorado.

Cold wave warnings were in effect for a wide area from Washington state eastward across the plains and southward to New Mexico, Texas and Arkansas. Blizzard warnings were extended into northern Minnesota.

The weather bureau was issuing periodic bulletins on the progress of the storm.

To the east, warmer air was being drawn up the Mississippi River Valley in the strong circulation of the storm center.

"This," said Dunn, "is in addition to the fact that when we in the south end of the county communicate by telephone with Sanford area telephones we must also pay additional toll charges."

Last January a survey of Sanford area subscribers was made by Southern Bell and 4,222 patrons voted against a meter system while 3,903 were for it.

Woman's Body Found In Dade

ISLAMORADA (UPI) — Police today were searching for the identity of a woman whose body was found Tuesday in a mangrove thicket near here.

The decomposed remains of the woman was found about 150 feet from U. S. Highway 1 by two State Road Department employees.

The Dade county medical examiner said the woman was more than 50 years old and wore a white gold ring with the blurred inscription "To Clara Ash May 3, 1911."

Spend At Home Urged

By Julian Stenstrom

In an effort to keep some $50 million in purchasing power within Seminole County, the Seminole County Chamber of Commerce made its initial move Tuesday night when the board of directors voted to create the Greater Sanford Board of Commerce.

The action came after Chamber Manager John Krieger pointed out that of the $90 million in purchasing power estimated for Seminole County last year some $50 million was spent outside of the county.

Although he did not spell it out, Krieger was obviously referring to the million of dollars spent annually by Seminole residents in the Orlando area.

He and Chamber President Kaylie Housholder admitted that it was only natural for many of the residents in South Seminole to spend the bulk of their purchasing power in the larger shopping areas of Orlando but both agreed with directors that far too much of the purchasing power of northern Seminole residents was not being spent in the Greater Sanford area.

The Greater Sanford Board created last night will be the first move to combat the outflow of spending. In adopting the motion to establish the local group it was clearly pointed out that similar organizations in other areas of the county would be encouraged and fostered by the Seminole County chamber.

These boards, including the one for Greater Sanford, will operate as divisions of the Seminole Chamber. The Greater Sanford Board will encompass all businesses and professions willing to participate and these firms will be divided into categories to enable the organization to best promote the affairs of the various groups.

Housholder announced that he would name a chairman to head the organizational procedure for the new board after he has had the opportunity to confer with other officers of the trade body.
