

BASE BALL

Last Friday Game

In a very one-sided game of "Jose the ball," the local team beat Orlando. After the fifth inning when we forged to the front the question seemed to be, "How many runs will Sanford score?"

Manager Spencer presented a new pitcher, Nabell, to the fans, and Mr. Nabell ambled to the mound and made the Orlando batters look foolish. They only managed to get two hits, and but for poor fielding in the fourth inning, would not have scored.

McMullen, all puffed up by the twelve-inning tie-game of the day before, climbed to the high spot for the visitors and before the game was over, was looking for a hole to crawl in. The boys got his undercut, went at him in real slam-bang fashion. Burden, Bowen and Bagwell each dropped one over the fence for the circuit, and McMullen, with his glove and a prayer, was a much relieved young man when the slaughter was over.

There were few interesting points to the game. Lee's catch in the third inning was the feature.

And we won again.

Many happy returns of the day.

McMullen and his spitter were a cinch. Lee made another of those wonderful catches.

Burden, Bowen and Bagwell each hit for the circuit. B seems to be our lucky letter.

Our new pitcher Nabell made his bow to Sanford by letting Orlando down with two hits.

Yesterday Game

And again the Orlando crowd returned a wise but sadder bunch. They're about convinced that Sanford is never beaten until the third man in the ninth inning is out and the umpire has said so.

They thought so down in the third, but Orlando's base ball is the real thing. There were some starting features on the part of the boys who were base ball.

Mr. Baknum in the House

Pulled Off Some Sensational Work at Home.

Both Wallace and Atkinson pitched great ball with Wallace a shade to the good all the way.

Orlando deserves some sympathy. Its pretty tough on a team to have a ball game all wrapped up and ready to stick in the bag and then have a few ball players who don't know when they are being run up and take it away from them.

Mr. Spencer, the man behind the gun is entitled to unlimited praise for the article of ball he is furnishing us. The position of manager, director, collector and recipient of all the abuses of the environment and the Sanford fans, and all its population should show him their appreciation in a very substantial way. What we want here is Base Ball and Mr.

Father Wallace Pitched His Usual Good Game

He Was "There" With the Wing.

Spencer is giving us just that. He has gotten together a crowd of workers and a team that furnish the biggest 25 cents worth of ball to be had.

Beardall and Atkinson Were Worried About Bagwell

A Consultation.

Diamond Dust. It was that unbeatable Sanford spirit. And Biddy Gore's hit. And a great ball game.

That's as near as Orlando has come in some time.

Father Wallace out-pitched the Kentucky terror all the way.

Let them down with five hits and didn't wing or dead-head a man.

If Riggins had been quicker Orlando would have made a triple play in the second.

Our new outfielders didn't do much sticking—Today, perhaps.

Clyde Pounds got a brace of snaffles. His Texas leaguer in the ninth started the trouble.

It looked like a funeral procession returning to Orlando.

Manager Spencer states that the outlook for another month of ball is good if the enthusiasts will stay with him he will give them a classy team until August 15th or maybe longer.

Sanford and Orlando are two Florida cities very much in the public eye at present on account of the two swift ball teams. There is nothing that advertises a city as much as a good ball team. Keep it going!

The Sanford Heights team defeated Sanford last Tuesday by a score of 8 to 0. Bugs Raymond and Morris Spencer were the battery for the Heights team and never let a man (7) get to second.

The Kissimmee baseball team beat the Sanford boys 6 to 5 in an eight inning game played at Kissimmee Monday afternoon. Funk and Bowen did the twirling for the Sanford outfit and Galloway played first base. That about tells the story.

There is great activity these days between the Orlando and Sanford baseball teams. Many games are played, many bats have been crossed, but as yet there has been no broken heads and not a drop of gore has been spilled, but there are some pessimists who claim that there will be "something doing" before the season is over.—Orlando Sentinel.

Home Runs Get Hats

Sanford has the reputation of being the wildest baseball town in the United States. Every boy in Georgia who expects to play ball is urged to come to Sanford because as one player expressed it two years ago, "If you knock a home run you get a pot full of money." In keeping with this spirit Palmer & Seigh, who keep the up-to-date toggery store, offered to give a fine hat to every Sanford player who knocked the first home run of the game and these genial gentlemen have been kept busy handing out hats ever since. But Palmer & Seigh make good every promise and they give the hats even if giving entails one every day. Up to now they have donated six hats and the boys appreciate their generosity and return the favor.

Sanford and Miami

Manager Hughes of the Seminoles stated this morning that he had been in communication with the crack team of Sanford and had booked three games with them for week after next, to be played July 31, August 1 and 2.

Sanford's team is said to be cleaning everything up in the central part of the state. It has been said that every player has been secured from the big leagues, and the organization is one of the most complete and perfect in the entire state. The games that will be played here with this crack team will no doubt decide which team in this class is the best. If the Seminoles succeed in cleaning them up on two of the three games, they will be the most talked about Indians in this region.—Miami Metropolis.

Band Gives Concert

The Sanford Military Band gives a complimentary concert to the public on Tuesday night July 19th. The night was a beautiful one and the band was well filled with listeners and promenaders. This was the first public concert given by the band under its new leader Mr. Fred Reasoner. Mr. Reasoner is a well known band leader in the West. Selections were played from "Faust" and several overtures, a set of waltzes "Waltzes of Danuby" were delightfully played. A grand selection of ragtime music entitled "Joy to the World" was finely rendered.

Southern plantation songs ending with Dixie and Star Spangled Banner was the closing number. The Sanford band numbers some of our principal business men among its members.

A recent addition is Dr. Boardman the dentist. Dr. Boardman is a clarinet player of quality and was formerly a member of the Orlando band. He comes from a musical family. Mr. Nash kindly assisted the band. Mr. Reasoner would be glad to have new members. The band desires young men to send in their applications. Apply to Mr. Reasoner, Mr. Williams or Mr. Haskins.

George Fox, Jr., left Saturday night for Dover Delaware, called there by business for his firm, Griffithfield & Woolfolk.

Wanted—Companion for Invalid. Prefer middle age woman. Address Box 494.

Notice is hereby given that on the 19th day of July, 1911, at ten o'clock A. M., the undivided one-third interest of the estate of Michael Kennedy Jones deceased, in the certain furniture business located at Sanford, Orange County, Florida, known as Jones-McLaughlin Company, lately a co-partnership composed of Michael Kennedy Jones deceased, Robert McLaughlin and W. Items of Interest Concerning Society People.

POINTS PURELY PERSONAL

How Celery City Vanity Fair White Away the Golden Hours—Social Gossip.

The mid-summer siesta has fallen upon Sanford society folks and from now until early fall there will be but little to chronicle in the Herald under this head. Sanford people are scattered over the universe in travel, business and recreation and until their return there will be but little doing. The Wednesday Club has taken a vacation. The Welaka Club continues to hold their weekly meetings where bridge takes a prominent part and the members while away a few pleasant hours.

Several of the younger members braved the heat and held an informal hop in the club rooms last Tuesday night—an affair that was enjoyed by all present.

The Welaka Club is doing good work in Sanford in many ways and last week awarded the annual prize of five dollars to Dr. Robson for having the prettiest lawn in the city. The Sanford Clubs will devote more time this year to civic movements and several very important matters will be taken up later on. The ladies are deeply interested in Sanford's welfare and our club women will take a prominent part in civic affairs during the season of 1911-12.

Among the prominent visitors to the city this week is Mrs. J. M. Dell of Gainesville who is the guest of her sister, Mrs. Raysor. Mrs. Dell is an ardent club woman and is prominent in society circles in Gainesville and the state, being actively identified with the State Federation of Women's Clubs and the Daughters of the Confederacy.

Mrs. L. S. Scrobble and daughter and the former's sister, Miss Lottie Lee, returned on the City of Jacksonville, after a delightful trip to Sanford, Misses Nellie and Lillian Scrobble remained in Sanford as the guests of Miss Carrie Lovell, Jacksonville Metropolis.

Robert Holly was eight years old on Wednesday and in honor of the occasion invited a number of his little friends to help him celebrate. The boys were taken to the Holly home in an auto as their little legs were hardly long enough to carry them so far, and as soon as they arrived the fun commenced and the whole bunch was kept busy at games of various kinds. After they were tired enough to cease playing they adjourned to the house where refreshments were served. And they were then treated to a return trip to the city. Those who attended were Victor and Henry McLaughlin, Walter and Hawkins Conolly, Lee Pack, Jamie Robinson, Ralph and Harry Woodruff, Richard Frank and Frank Papp.

Mrs. F. L. Miller entertained the Magnolia Bridge Club at her beautiful home on Magnolia Avenue last Tuesday afternoon. The Magnolia Club has the unique distinction of playing bridge without prizes. The highest score each week entitles the lucky one to wear the beautiful gold pin of the Club for one week when the contest decides who shall wear it for another week.

The game on Tuesday was very spirited, resulting in Mrs. F. J. Gonzalez carrying off first honors. The visitors on this pleasant occasion were Mrs. A. P. Connelly, Mrs. Robert Newman and Mrs. Claude Howard.

Miss Mabel Hand was the delightful young hostess at a sewing party given at her lovely home on Park avenue Wednesday morning. At the close of a pleasant morning which was spent in doing fancy needle work, and ice cream was served. Miss Hand's guests were Mrs. J. L. Hart, Mrs. George Fox, Jr., Mrs. T. A. Neal, Misses Madge Ward, Veda Ward, Saidee Williams, Mabel Bowler, Mary Alice Martin, Rena Brown, Peachea Leffler, Elizabeth McLaughlin, Genie Wicker, Emma Pearce and Irene Brady.

Dr. and Mrs. Davis Forster are among the Sanford people who are sojourning at Daytona Beach.

Mrs. Francis J. Gonzalez and children left Tuesday for a visit to Daytona Beach.

Miss Agnes Pritchard a charming young lady of Macon, Ga., is the guest of her aunt Mrs. E. W. Peabody.

A jolly party of young people indulged in a bus ride and moonlight picnic at Woodland park last Thursday evening. An elegant lunch was served at the Park, which is becoming a popular place.

Mrs. E. K. Heater visited in New Smyrna last week, the guest of her sister Mrs. Pellet.

Tuesday evening the Welaka Club rooms were the scene of a pretty, though very informal shirt waist dance. The chaperones were Mrs. R. S. Keeler and Mrs. C. O. McLaughlin. Some of those who enjoyed the dance were Misses Charlotte Keeler, Irene Brady, Madge Ward, Veda Ward, Helen St John, Bessie Schumpert, Linda Leffler, Peachea Leffler, Mary Alice Martin, Flossie Frank, Mabel Bowler, Rena Brown, Elizabeth McLaughlin, Messrs David Caldwell, Carl Hamilton, J. D. Roberts, Nixon Butt, W. A. Lettler, Willie Hill, Deas and McKaskell.

New Pastor For Methodists

Rev. C. H. Summers of Jacksonville, Mrs. Summers and children have arrived in the city and are receiving a warm welcome. Mr. Summers will exchange charges with Rev. Hendry and expects to make Sanford his home. He will occupy the pulpit of the Methodist church next Sunday and every one is cordially invited to come out and hear him. The Herald joins in extending as welcome to Rev. Summers and his estimable family.

NEW ROUTE TO COAST

From Sanford to New Smyrna
In Two Hours

VIA OSTEN IS OFFICIAL ROUTE

New Drawbridge Will Soon Be Erected and Good Road Is Promised
All the Way

A party of prominent citizens from New Smyrna were in the city Tuesday morning looking up data on the new automobile route and the steel drawbridge to be built at Osten ferry by Orange and Volusia counties.

Among those who came were G. A. Dimick, W. P. Wilkerson, T. J. Murray, W. L. Lopez, R. B. F. Roper, Gordon Rousseau, J. Frairia, John T. Hammond, wife and daughter, W. H. Newell, wife, son and daughter, M. Leidersdorf, D. B. Turner, A. C. Brooks, all of New Smyrna, and John B. Case, of Port Orange.

There is a movement on foot in Volusia county to change the old route, now through Enterprise and Osten, crossing the ferry at the end of Celery avenue, to a route striking the river on the west of Lake Monroe, cutting out Enterprise and making the route to the coast through DeLand and Daytona. This will necessitate the building of another big fill to get to this ferry, which will be much broader than the old, and as Orange county has already spent something like four thousand in Volusia making the fill through the big prairie on that side of the river, the request that we now change crossings and go to another big expense looks out of the question.

At the old ferry, foot of Celery avenue, arrangements have already been made to build the approach from this side to the main channel, where, with an expenditure of a few thousand dollars, estimated to be in the neighborhood of four thousand, Volusia stand her half of the expense, a drawbridge can be built which will save much time and trouble, putting us at Osten over the big fill, already built, which will, of course, be broadened and put in first-class shape.

By following the route proposed by our visitors, the road will cross at the end of Celery avenue, as said above, go through Osten, as at present, on to Lake Ashley, cutting out Enterprise to the west, thence to Indian Springs and from there almost a straight line to New Smyrna about thirty-nine miles less than at present.

While there is little doubt but that a road as proposed across the west end of Lake Monroe would be preferred by DeLand and everyone in that section of Volusia making the highway from Jacksonville to Tampa through that section, Orange county having already gone to great expense to put in the fill and make other improvements at the West Coast ferry, should not consider a proposition to change being necessarily compelled to spend many thousands of dollars to put better where the new stands over the old route. Volusia should not be asked to be part in building the road asked for by those in the New Smyrna section of the county. The road has already been grubbed and graded and all that is needed is a hard surface, and possibly a few fills where the grade has been washed out to give a fine road to the coast from the south and complete the road from the coast through Orange county, which already has hard surface roads on the new route to Tampa. The proposition offered by our visitors should be considered before anything is done by the Volusia authorities, and it is to be hoped that the Orange county commissioners will insist on the old route.

New Smyrna a Growing City
A party of Sanford business men visited New Smyrna this week and bring back reports of a remarkable growth in that section. New Smyrna will soon be a division headquarters of the F. E. C. Ry., and expect to have deep water for a port. Coronado Beach is being improved and lots are being sold to Florida people for summer homes. New Smyrna is one of the coming cities of Florida.

R. H. Marks, County Treasurer
Being too early to make a formal announcement, I take this opportunity of letting my friends know that I will be a candidate for the office of county treasurer. I have lived among you for 30 years and those that do not know me can look up my past record. I need the office and ask you for your vote.
Respectfully,
RICHARD H. MARKS

Sanford Must Have an Experimental Station

The Greatest Farming Section in the World
Should Have Government Aid

Sanford needs an experimental station. A farming community as large as this and with conditions as individual and unique as those in the Sanford Celery Delta should have the protection, advice and guidance of a government institution, in which the expert agriculturists can give the sub-irrigation farmers specific as well as general advice.

Farming in the Sanford Celery Delta is a new departure. Its development opened an epoch in the history of truck farming and started the civilized world. It removed the industry from its classification of manual labor to a purely scientific proposition. Brains have superseded strength and, as the farming industry developed, the intelligence of the farmer developed apace.

The citizens of Sanford and Sanford as a city must depend upon the yield of the land for their success and prosperity. The individual applies his mental and physical energy, as well as his capital, to the tilling of the soil and, as an individual, either succeeds or fails. The installation of an experimental station will, by its constant watchfulness, study and experiments, remove the individual hazard and build in its place a unit of success. The farmer who is confronted by a new or strange condition, whether perhaps, he is asking the advice of his neighbor, or he is going to be as helpless as he but, by the installation of an experimental station, we give the grower a source of expert information and instruction, enhance his chances of success and minimize the possibilities of poor and unprofitable crops.

That is what we have and are entitled to have recognition by the Department of Agriculture. It is the duty of the Secretary of Agriculture and the United States Department of Agriculture to our large and important agricultural institutions are advising the young men to till the soil. They speak of farming as "Economic Wealth." They advance the theory that if an inexhaustible supply of gold were to be discovered, its value would be null, and the people who possess this country must eat, and it is to the farmer that we must turn for their welfare. The country is growing with wonderful rapidity and, unless the farming industry is promoted and cared for by our government, the demand for food and fiber will soon exceed its supply. Can an institution such as our Department of Agriculture, comprised of intelligent thinking and men of foreign overlook such a promising mine of "Economic Wealth" as our Sanford Celery Delta?

The only reason that they have not already given us their attention is that their time and funds have been expended on more energetic communities who by their conscientious efforts have attracted them to, so-called, centers of far less value than ours. Our time of action has come. We must bring ourselves and our farming conditions to the attention of our Representatives at Washington, to the Department of Agriculture, and do so in a manner befitting the importance of the situation.

Do you fully realize the importance of such an establishment to Sanford? Do you realize that not only the grower, but every individual, irrespective of his position or occupation, would be benefited thereby? Do you realize that such national recognition will elevate Sanford farmers and farming from the level of speculation to the very pinnacle of commercial eminence, investment?

Up to the present time the only publicity that Sanford has received has been through the medium of the advertising of our real estate concerns and some little literature distributed by various local organizations. The investing public is ignorant of our many advantages and possibilities and, in most instances, ignorant of our very existence. What do sub-irrigation, flowing wells, ideal weather conditions, immunity to drought, mean to you? Nothing, but the rave of land boomers. There are many of these in every part of this country, and they have preyed upon the people in such an extent that the honest public are all "Miserables."

Another source of information and instruction, enhance his chances of success and minimize the possibilities of poor and unprofitable crops. That is what we have and are entitled to have recognition by the Department of Agriculture. It is the duty of the Secretary of Agriculture and the United States Department of Agriculture to our large and important agricultural institutions are advising the young men to till the soil. As we can step into an office of the Government representative and receive statistics and proofs, not of land boomers, but of the United States of America. There will be no more doubters. No more money leaving Sanford because its jealous owners think it's "too good to be true." They will come and be convinced. The population will increase. The volume of local business will increase. The value of town and farm property will increase; and the entire country will be stimulated by the influx of new people and new money. Sanford will have its agricultural rating. And it will be a wonderful boon to the local grower now, actively engaged in farming. He will have at hand experts to advise him at every turn. If an insect pest or plant disease develops, he can call in an expert, as he would a doctor in case of personal ill. The Station and its staff will be the general practitioner to the farmers. They will answer his summons and he will not have to depend on advice from Gainesville, Tallahassee or Washington, a matter of days and subject to their interpretation of his written description. The period of advice and guidance by correspondence will have passed.

Another most important feature will be that the Government will study not only the development of the industry and the safe guards against pest and disease, but the cost of production. They will teach us how to produce a maximum crop at a minimum cost; and these figures on the cost of production will serve a double purpose. We will then have an indisputable comparison, promulgated by the Government, to prove that the railroad transportation of our products is more economical than the individual's method. This will result in a general transportation reduction. And so it evolves itself the duty of every citizen of Sanford to put his shoulder to the wheel of progress, and assist the Sanford Celery Delta in obtaining the one thing that will prove more beneficial to the community than any other. Let each man write to our Congressman and Senators, asking them to help us in obtaining the assistance of our Government. Sanford needs and is entitled to an experimental station, and our country it depends largely, if not entirely, on the spirited action and sincerity of purpose displayed by Sanford and its citizens.

ORANGE COUNTY SHOULD HAVE AN EXHIBIT

BY G. O. McLAUGHLIN

On the left hand side of the Arcade entrance to the Marlboro-Blenheim hotel, and fronting on the "Great Board Walk," Atlantic City, N. J., is a permanent exhibit of the products of Southern California. Just two doors to the right is another exhibit of Hawaii. There are no other countries or states represented in a like way at this great pleasure place.

The American Fruit Products Co., of Rochester, have the expensive store on the corner of the Board Walk and Virginia avenue, just across from the Steeple chase bar. Heine's "37" varieties with a pie out over the ocean always displaying the products of the factories and some of the finest works of art now obtainable, reasonably. Heine's entrance and display.

Had it not been for the untimely death of one of Florida's statesmen, our great state would have been on this board walk, before the eyes of the multitudes that visit Atlantic City's great show ground, in a way that would not only have made every native son and adopted citizen of Florida swell with pride, but would have made many of us go to see what we were showing the people of the world who go there to look. CULLED FROM THE STATE PRESS

An Epitome of the Week's Most Important Happenings in the State's Domain.

Thrown from the seat of one automobile, Miss Orva Ward of Arcadia was run over by another machine and painfully injured. Miss Ward was riding with T. K. Dishong, a local grocery proprietor, in his automobile. He attempted to pass from behind the car of W. E. Daniel, a broker, who was driving slowly along Oak street. As the cars were side by side the Dishong machine was tilted sharply by a pile of crushed rock on the side of the street and Miss Ward was pitched in front of the wheels of the other car, and run over before it could be stopped. She fell flat on her face and the car passed over her back and shoulders.

The Atlantic Coast Line Railway is preparing to install a $20,000 crocoting plant at Gainesville.

Dade county's millage for the coming year has been fixed at 33. This will net the county $184,400 in revenue.

A plant is being installed at White Springs by which the excess water from the spring will operate generating machinery for lighting the city.

The Star Theatre has added to its operating room a New Edison Transformer which has resulted in a great improvement in the light and brilliancy of the pictures. They are also working on a new screen which when completed will be a very great improvement. With their new electric star which this house recently put up on the roof of their building this popular picture house under the management of Mr. Post is making very rapid strides. The manager believes in Sanford and goes right along making improvements every day and endeavoring to please his patrons.

Special Correspondent to The Herald.

What have the women contributed toward Sanford?

Many, many things—yes, more than can be enumerated in the brief space at command.

There was a time in the history of the world, way back in Paul's day, when women were looked upon with something of contempt. That was an unchristian era. Today the situation is vastly different, and instead of women being inferior to men, she has proven herself to be his equal, if not his superior. In many of the virtues that make for good citizenship.

The women own-own have labored earnestly and long in an endeavor to maintain truth and sobriety in the home, teaching their sons and daughters that these are cardinal virtues, which are to be prized far more than rubies. They have recognized the fact that home life is the foundation of all life, and that municipal, state and national existence is pure only as the home-life is pure.

The woman of this city have been the main force, under current, that has worked so effectively through the years, the result of which has meant the ushering in of social conditions that are extremely wholesome.

While it is true that woman is not always seen, and is counted but when credit is being placed because of some conquest, it is nevertheless true that her influence, like a guardian angel, has hovered over the destiny of the people until she has made for herself a place in the world that none other can fill.

The different clubs of the city, literary and otherwise, are living examples of what woman is doing to broaden the mind of her sex, and in broadening touch their lives and cause them at least to form some conception of what their mind should be in the world.

If there is any great question pressing for solution, the influence of which is to affect the home-life, the women of Sanford are ever on the alert to see that it is correctly solved. Thus working, they've formed a nucleus around which have been erected institutions that stand as a living monument in their defense of the home. All hail, then, to the queenly white-coated women of this community. I am not a candidate for office and don't want anything for the.

This following communication was received this week:

To The Saunterer. In making your rounds each week, did you ever get a glimpse of First Street between Oak and Park ave, and see the condition of the center of the street where the street cars travel daily. The oil on the pavement is a disgrace in our city.

Also did you know the A. C. L. Co. had fifty car-loads of timber on the ground to extend the Coal Shute. Replying to the first question will say that I have noticed the cars standing there each week and I am glad to see them standing there. Every time I see it make me proud of the fact that we have a traction line. As for as the oil is concerned I believe, the Sanford Traction Co. is supposed to clean up this part of the street and no doubt they will do so now that their attention is called to the matter. The traction company has no desire to keep the cars standing out on the street but as yet they have no car sheds for them although they are making arrangements for terminals.

Now as to the coal chute being extended, I do not believe a word of it. With the present agitation about the coal chute, Supt. Crown would not think of attempting to extend the coal chute. If there is any lumber piled on the tracks it is probably to build a new freight depot another freight yards and another coal chute on the main line. It would seem that the letter writer is becoming unduly excited and unless I can get a better line of dope on the plans of the railroad I will not leave my sylvan retreat and go out in the hot sun to trail coal chutes.

According to city authorities, legal authorities and Dick Calhoun who is the court of last resort, the coal chute will be moved and that is sufficient for this hot weather.

If the aforesaid letter writer is not satisfied with the present arrangements and wishes to stop the trains from running, he can get on the track and stop them.

One guarantees the Saunterer will make to this correspondent and every other

The coal chute will be moved and don't you forget it!

Cows are still allowed to roam at will in the newly acquired territory and the people who were obliged to become part of the city want their yards protected. They have a right to demand the protection. Whoever is attending to this part of the city affairs should have the cattle rounded up. As long as Sanford did not claim these lots the people were content to let the cattle eat up the trees and gardens and flowers but there is no reason why Sanford, Heights or Melonville or the West Side should be obliged to fence against cattle. The city ordinance against cattle running at large covers the new territory and this territory ceases to become a cattle range.

I am glad to note the city council taking a more active part in repairing the city deck. The flooring is being replaced and steps will be placed at the end of dock for the accommodation of the ladies leading lady passengers. In former times it took nervous men and a lifting crane to disembark a load of lady passengers. There are more people traveling the St. Johns river to Sanford than ever before and our city dock should be put in first class shape before the winter travel starts. Our lake front is where the stranger coming in by boat obtains the first impression of the city. Let his first impression be a good one.

The drawbridge at the Osteen and Town's crossings are assured facts. I am glad and now we should join hands with the New Smyrna folks and get a good road from Sanford to Smyrna, because that is the most direct route and is fifteen miles shorter than going via DeLand and Daytona and gives one a chance to take the beach road along the ocean all the way from Sanford to Daytona Beach, providing one wishes to go to Daytona. Most of the people from Sanford and the interior prefer to go to Smyrna and stop at Coronado Beach where the fishing is better, the rates are lower and the people treat you like they are really glad to have you over. Coronado Beach will soon be "the place".

We Beg to Announce the Opening of an Up-to-Date Fertilizer Plant at Sanford, Florida

OUR NEW SANFORD FACTORY NOW COMPLETED AND READY FOR BUSINESS

WE have long felt the need of this plant, as our Florida business has grown beyond our manufacturing capacity. We present to the Florida people now, in our Sanford plant, an up-to-date institution in every particular.

We manufacture more Fertilizers and cover a greater territory than any other concern in the world. Our factories cover the entire South from Baltimore to Texas, and our business in Florida having outgrown our facilities, we have prepared ourselves for the further extension of our trade in goods which are of tried reputation and standard merit.

PURE MATERIALS—We use nothing but the purest and best materials, such as raw and steamed bone, high-grade bone phosphate of lime, high-grade sulphate of potash, nitrate, sulphate of ammonia and other materials of recognized value.

The chief aim of growers of vegetables and small fruit is to hasten the maturity of their crops and be first in the market of the great cities. Favorable seasons are a great help in this direction, and to growers who are inclined to experiment with some "special formula" rather than depend on the practical knowledge of the manufacturer, such seasons are wholly essential. Our formulas are no guesswork, but based not only on the needs of the crops to which they are applied, but a thorough knowledge of the chemicals used and the proper way of combining them so as to render them most available. We claim that our complete fertilizers hasten the maturity and perfect quality of all crops, and this claim is frequently substantiated by the users of them.

We have special formulas prepared for the Sanford District, and our Sanford representative, Mr. E. B. Brown, will be glad to answer all questions and furnish the necessary literature relative to any of our standard brands, and will be prepared to furnish literature in regard to any Florida crops—on application—together with testimonials from some of the many thousands who have used our goods for years and are still using them with marked success. We buy materials in car and train loads, thereby getting a far better freight rate than the grower—this saving is yours. Our Company and our goods are so well known that it is hardly necessary to say anything in addition, except that our Sanford factory will be prepared to cater to the wants of the most exacting trade.

Come and see Us Before Buying Your Fertilizers this Season or Write for Catalog. We Can Make It Pay You

The GREATEST PLAY I EVER SAW

AS TOLD TO HUGH S. TULLERTON

BY JOHN ("HANK") WAGNER

Shortstop of the Pittsburg National League Club and Probably the Greatest All Round Player the Game Has Ever Known.

There are two kinds of great plays: one the sensational individual catch or stop, and the other the kind that requires head, eye and hands, all working together. The greatest individual feat I ever saw was one by Fred Clarke. During the years we have been together I have seen Clarke make many wonderful plays, both in the field and on the bases. I remember once sliding a fly to Sheppard in Chicago with Clarke on second base, and seeing him score on the catch and against Sheppard, one of the best of the throwing outfielders. The catch that he made which I believe was his greatest, was accomplished when we were playing on the old Louisville club in the Twelve Club league. McGraw, Kelley, Jennings and that bunch, and they never were beaten until the first man was out, and then they'd give you an argument. In the last half of the ninth inning of that game we had them beaten by two runs, but they kept fighting and filled the bases after two men were out. The batter, Reitz, I believe it was, drove a low line hit toward left field, a ball that looked like a sure base hit, and as everyone on the bases was in motion it looked as if the score would be what he wanted. Clarke had been playing fairly deep, and when he saw that ball hit he came in at top speed, and he was faster than, if anything, than he is now, so you know how fast he was coming. I thought he was playing it foolishly, because if the ball went past him we were beat, and if he stayed back and took it on the bounce they could not do worse than tie, and he still had a chance to cut off the second run from the plate. I did not think he had a chance to catch the ball on the fly. About twenty feet from the ball Clarke saw that he could not catch it standing up, and instead of quitting he just took a flying dive at the ball, and while sliding along his arms and stomach stretched out his hands and caught it. He rolled almost up to where I was playing before he could stop, but he came up with the ball.

But great as that was, I think a greater was one that "Doc" Scanlon the pitcher made in the first game he pitched for Pittsburg against St. Louis. He joined us and was sent in to pitch the first game in St. Louis. He started a bit wild and passed the first two batters who faced him, and of course the next man pushed down a bunt toward third base. The ball was rolling pretty fast and Scanlon came across at top speed to get it, expecting to throw to third base, but the third baseman, seeing how hard the ball had been bunted, cut in and tried for it himself. The result was that Scanlon and the baseman bumped each other hard just as they reached for the ball. The mixup, in some way, the ball went into Scanlon's hands, and although stunned and shaken by the collision he kept running, turning around twice as if waiting after bumping into the baseman. Instead of losing his head he kept on and by a slide to third base beat the runner there and forced him out, saving the game for us. I think that was the greatest bit of work taken all together, I ever saw on a ball field. (Copyright, 1911, by W. G. Chapman.)

HOME MARKETS FOR FLORIDA FRUITS AND PRODUCE

BY J. J. VERNON
Dean of the College of Agriculture
Gainesville, Florida

When our commercial system had its beginnings in simple barter, home markets were supplied first. Today our inordinate desire for a large export trade has led us in a measure to neglect our home markets. We sell our products abroad, bringing in millions of dollars, and turn about and buy abroad, sending millions of dollars out again. We delegate the feeding of our people, in part at least, to those who reside hundreds and thousands of miles distant, profoundly violating sound economic law, and lending ourselves willingly or ignorantly to the perpetuation of unwarranted waste of both energy and resources. What student of economics, what man of ordinary judgment, will contend for one moment, that there is no economic waste in an exchange of commodities that can be produced in both places, and in each more cheaply than in the other when the cost of haul is considered.

To illustrate the point: Not many years ago the United States exported both hard and soft flour wheat, and at the same time imported quantities of durum or macaroni wheat. Shipped wheat by rail to the seaboard and by ship across the ocean, only to return wheat thence by the same route. What a tremendous and needless waste. Today the dry farming areas and the irrigated sections of the West produce macaroni wheat so abundantly that the mills are diverting large quantities of it out of the usual channels and using it for regular milling purposes, producing as it does flour more nutritious than can be made from the best winter wheat grown. Furthermore the yield is greater than formerly. Large areas, that once were devoted to the production of soft wheat, are now producing macaroni wheat. Does this in part account for the falling off in our export trade in wheat? No doubt about it, but while we are lamenting the fact, we may better be congratulating ourselves on the saving of a useless double haul. Instead of shipping wheat thousands of miles for the purpose of exchanging it for wheat of a different character to be shipped thousands of miles home again, we proceeded to do the simple thing—that of producing wheat of the desired character at home. Simple and yet it took us many years to see the point.

If therefore we have discovered economic waste in an exchange of certain commodities, may not the same economic principle be involved in the like way shipment? Let us study the situation near at hand.

Florida ships to the markets of the North and West tremendous quantities of farm produce, and at the same time imports from other states millions of dollars worth of food stuffs that can be produced economically and profitably within her own borders; and far more than enough cheaper than to cover the cost of the long haul. We must import our clothing, but why import any considerable portion of our food stuffs? We must see that this is unnecessary. Then why do it? If, on the other hand, we could not produce our own food stuffs, or could not produce them as cheaply as others when the long haul is considered, then there could be no just criticism for not doing so.

Florida occupies an unique position among the states. Her geographical location insures her a climate, which rightly understood and rightly used, pours a stream of wealth into her capacious lap, and this stream will continue to flow, if her people prove progressive and effective workers, until in winter the soils of the North fail to be locked in the iron grip of the ice king. We are in no danger, therefore, of losing the markets of the North and West for our vegetables. We hold them a heritage, and all-wise provision of a guiding hand tempers the elements. We export truck and cotton. Is it not enough that we import all our clothing. Shall we also import food for man and beast? Why not produce our own meat, butter and eggs? It is eminently feasible and practicable. The opportunity has already been too long ignored. By so doing we can expand the agricultural industry, improve our soils and increase our productive capacity, adding thereby to our wealth and prosperity. If we do not feed our people, why of course California, Wisconsin and Tennessee will do it for us.

To adequately supply our home markets, take them as entirely as practicable out of the hands of the outside producer, will require a readjustment in trade channels. Much more attention and study will have to be given to methods of production, storage and distribution.

Butt-Abbott Wedding
A beautiful wedding was solemnized in the church of the Holy Cross Monday morning at eleven o'clock, when Dr. Cecil C. Butt and Miss Ruth Abbott, both very popular young people of this city, were united in the holy bonds of matrimony. The church was prettily decorated, a color scheme of white and yellow being effectively used, a pleasing coincidence being that the same colors were

In other states the problems, not only of home supply but also of export trade, have been solved effectively by a systematic study of crop production, increase and improvement of live stock, use of hand separators, cooperative creameries, packing-house facilities and organization and cooperation buying and selling. There are no unsurmountable obstacles in the way of a like movement in Florida. In fact it would be easier here than elsewhere, if we ignore the personal factor.

We can hold our export trade by careful study, organization and cooperation. Let us also possess our home markets all about us. Shall we supply our home markets and keep our money at home with which to improve our farms and build our cities, or shall we quietly continue to leave our competitors, with their long hauls and heavy freights, in possession of the field? Let us grow our own food stuffs. Europe wants the surplus of the North. Our markets are worth millions of dollars annually. We want those millions. They will build better roads, better schools, better churches and better homes. If our resident farmers will not meet this demand, then in consequence an unprecedented opportunity is open for the Florida colonists.

Mrs. Fannie Munson presided at the organ, and at the appointed hour the bridal party entered the church, the bride leaning on the arm of her mother, Mrs. L. G. Stringfellow, who gave her away. At the chancel they were met by the groom, attended by his brother, Mr. Nixon Butt, as best man. Dr. Leight of Winter Park performing the impressive ceremony of the Episcopal church. Immediately after the ceremony the bridal party drove to the depot and the happy young couple left on the noon train for Sea Breeze where the honey-moon will be spent. The bride is a most attractive young lady of the blonde type and never appeared lovelier than on her wedding day, charmingly gowned in a traveling dress of blue pongee silk, with hat, veil and gloves to match. The bride is the only daughter of Mrs. L. G. Stringfellow of this city and a niece of Mr. C. D. Abbott of Jacksonville. She is very popular in social and musical circles, having graduated in music last summer at Dayton, Virginia. The groom is well known and highly esteemed in Sanford as well as in Orlando where he formerly lived. He has a very bright future before him as a rising young dentist of the state. The popularity of the young people was demonstrated in the large number of elegant wedding presents with which they were showered, some coming from distant states. The out-of-town guests for this auspicious event were Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Butt, Mrs. Belle C. Sheperd, Dr. B. C. Abernathy, Mr. and Mrs. E. R. Bliss, all of Orlando. Miss Wilkerson of Daytona, Mr. W. P. Wilkerson and Mr. J. P. Wilkerson, of New Smyrna.

Monday afternoon Dr. and Mrs. J. N. Robson entertained a few of their friends very delightfully with a water party given complimentary to their house guests, Mrs. A. H. Breedin and B. B. Breedin, of Manning, S. C., and Miss Annie McDermid, of Columbia. The trip was made on the launch Mamie, commanded by Captain Pagenhart, leaving Sanford about two o'clock and going several miles up the Wekiva river, where a stop was made, and in a picturesque spot a most appetizing lunch was served. Those who enjoyed Dr. and Mrs. Robson's hospitality on this pleasant outing besides those mentioned were Mesdames Robert Davies, Frank Graham, J. C. McDaniel, Misses Birdie Harris, Agnes Pritchard, Sallie Lou Peabody, Genie Wicker, Agnes Curlee, Mabel Cowan and Mercedes Munson.

At their attractive home on the Heights during the past few weeks Dr. and Mrs. J. N. Robson have been entertaining a pleasant house party of relatives from South Carolina, who left Tuesday for Jacksonville from where they went by Clyde Line, to Charleston. The visitors expressed themselves as greatly pleased with Sanford and vicinity. Those in the party were Mrs. A. H. Breedin and B. B. Breedin of Manning, S. C., mother and brother of Mrs. Robson, Miss Annie McDermid of Columbia and Sam Meigs of DeFuniak Springs, Fla.

That Reminds Me

By HAWLEY ROBERTS

This is such a good one that really it is a shame to give the boy away.

Several weeks ago when the moon was full and everybody was trying to get likewise a party of young people took a launch ride. A certain young man paid such strict attention to a young lady that he was entirely oblivious to everything around him. His sister sat just behind him and in the bright moonlight noticed what appeared to be a string or piece of cotton on his coat collar. With sisterly solicitude she plucked the string and continued to pluck and wind up until she had a ball of cotton as large as a cabbage. The young people were so engrossed in saying sweet nothings that they never noticed the sisters' movements.

When the party returned home the sister exhibited the ball of cotton but the brother could offer no explanation. When he retired that night and took off his outer clothing the mystery was solved. His union suit had disappeared entirely.

Moral: Never pull a string when you see it hanging out. There may be something at the other end.

Sanford Hospital Association

The Sanford hospital project is slowly making progress. Quite recently the Odd Fellows Lodge generously paid $25 into the fund.

When Harry M. Papworth was chief of the Sanford fire department and president of the State Firemen Association, a balance was left in the treasurer's hands—and in as much as the association has become defunct the old officers decided to pro-rate to all fire departments in good standing at the last meeting of the association which was held in Jacksonville, 1897, and Mr. Papworth being informed by Mayor Lake, that Sanford had no volunteer fire department, he decided to donate the amount due the old Sanford fire department to the new Sanford hospital. As this money, $21.35, is now placed to the credit of the Sanford fire department on the books of the Sanford hospital, of course the firemen will have the benefit of it the first time one of them needs the services of the hospital.

Mr. C. E. Johnston, of Orlando, who was treasurer of the State Firemen's Association, on being consulted, said: "The disposition made of the amount due the Sanford fire department appeals to me as a most judicious disposition of the fund."

Opportunity to heartily thank the Odd Fellows Lodge, No. 280, for a fifteen dollar contribution to the hospital fund and it has been duly placed to their credit.

It was no small favor, particularly on the part of the Orlando Lodge of Elks, to come so far and play baseball with the Sanford Lodge of Elks in the hot sun for the benefit of the Sanford hospital. We realized the net sum of $39.54 and the Elks not only have credit for it, but they have our hearty appreciation.

As we had a little over six hundred dollars, and the banks do not pay over 4 per cent. interest, we were fortunate in persuading the Sanford Building and Loan Association to use it until we need it and pay us 6 per cent. interest.

Our treasurer, Mrs. Geo. H. Feinold, having gone north for a few months, I was requested to assume the duties of treasurer in her absence, and will undertake to do so.

M. F. ROBINSON, President.

For Swimmers and Landlubbers

In an article on swimming in the August Women's Home Companion, the author records a great deal of information that is just as interesting to landlubbers as it is helpful to young swimmers. Following is a brief extract:

"It may surprise some new swimmers to know that one can both see and hear under the water. Seeing is not difficult, when once you have the idea firmly planted in your mind that water will not hurt your eyes. Particularly so, if you are of sea-water, the salt in which is soothing rather than irritating. But never open your eyes to see under water before you are under water; never dive with the eyes open, or go from surface to under-water or vice versa, with the eyes open. The water at its surface seems to have an actual edge, which blinds the eye. Learn to swim with three limbs, to dispense with either arm or either leg. You may need an arm to bring ashore someone who needs help, you may have a cramp some time and have to do without one of your propellers. The trick is easy, it is merely more strenuous to swim without one arm or one leg, but not much harder than to swim with all."

"As the very strongest man in the world is a weakling in the grasp of a good diver's comb, each wave must be defeated, not outwrestled. And, as to be at home in the breakers, even beyond your depth, it is only necessary to know what a wave really is and where it is weak. Many people believe their eyes, and are sure that a wave travels. The water moves up and down, and the motion moves forward, but the water doesn't travel. Consequently, if you get beyond the breakers, the waves will go up and down and carry you with them, but won't sweep you forward.

"Near the shore the waves behave differently; they curl over and break, and there the water, as well as the motion, travels. And, if you are just at the curling-point, the water will pick you up and sweep you in, and you can literally ride the waves, than which there is no finer sport in the sea. But woe unto you if you get a bit ahead of the curling wave-front, for then, you will be turned over and twisted around and flung to the bottom.

Good Roads—What They Promise

(By Paul Crissey)

One hundred millions of dollars for good roads! One hundred million times as much money as the government ever spent to make the country roads a little easier for traffic! That is what a prominent United States senator has recently advocated. Think of it! Just to fill up the ruts and the holes to make pulling a trifle easier for a few tired farmers' horses!

Why? Because the people of the United States have at last come to see that there is but little else in this country so fundamentally necessary to the individual welfare of each citizen as are good roads. That is the answer. It appears, on the face of it a perfectly simple answer and one that at first thought does not provoke much interest and arouses no astonishment. And yet the gospel of goods has come to mean salvation for the dying towns and the sick communities as well as for that greater evil—the high cost of living.

Never before in the history of this country has there been such an awakening as that which has resulted recently from the scientific study of the economic conditions now in existence. The citizens' physicians who made the diagnosis have stated that bad roads are at the bottom of the existing high prices of necessities. Why? There are several answers. One of them is best illustrated by the story of the woman in a small town who recently went into a grocery store and asked the price of eggs. The storekeeper quoted his price.

"Why?" she exclaimed. "That is more than they ought to be at this time of the year—5 cents more than I ever paid before."

"I know that," replied the merchant, "but it can't be helped. The roads have been so bad lately that the farmers won't bring in their products."

That is the whole story in a nutshell. There are many others like it, some more important than others. That same woman probably placed her order with a small order grocery house, leaving the express company to deliver the goods irrespective of the condition of the roads. The merchant in the story lost a customer, the farmer lost a chance to market his products, and the woman finally found that she had paid a big price for her goods after all—and all of this because the roads were bad.

Citrus Southern Progressing

The officers of the Citrus Southern Railroad are busy along the route between here and Sanford in securing the right of way. They have been over route, fifty miles, several times, to get deeds, and while meeting with hearty encouragement and promises, property owners delay making out the right-of-way deeds and sending them in. They do not want to begin construction work until they have the right to enter upon the use of property, which in most cases is thoroughly agreed to, but action in deed-making is delayed. The railroad people have made in some cases a half-dozen trips to see people who, upon one pretext or another, put off the carrying out of their agreement. It is hoped that all persons along the line set at ease. The sooner this is done, the sooner will work be done. St. Cloud Tribune.

Our goods grow the most uniform good crops in the Sanford district. Results count with us.

Then, too, there's a special fertilizer for each vegetable crop; one specially prepared to supply what its particular variety of vegetable needs. Select the one best suited to your requirements.

OR

ARMOUR'S CITRUS FERTILIZERS

Your trees will soon begin to regain the strength they have used up maturing their present crop and by the time spring comes they will be fully rested and ready to put out a big healthy bloom—if you give them an application of Armour's this fall to help them do it. Otherwise, your spring application may go into the tree instead of into the bloom.

Thirteen brands, all tried and tested, are at your service; for use under varying conditions of soil, crop and age of the tree. Each one has its particular field. Our fertilizers for late fall use strengthen and feed the tree without producing an excess of that abundant sappy growth which is so easily killed by cold.

ARMOUR'S "ANIMAL" FERTILIZERS

In the big Armour packing house out West, the scraps, bones, etc., are carefully saved, and by special process made into pure fertilizer materials. You see, by making our own Tankage, (Blood and Bone), etc., we don't take any chances—we know what we get.

Then, too, we think it a good thing to KNOW that our fertilizers are chemically correct, so we have an experienced chemist at our plant all the time to look after formulas, analyze materials and to see that our goods are up to standard.

These are two of the reasons why our fertilizers Enrich the Soil—Increase the Yield—Improve the Quality

Bulletin

WITHIN THE NEXT SIXTY DAYS

Within THE NEXT SIXTY DAYS

or to October 1st, 1911, to be accurate, we want to give every reader of our "Bulletin," every reader of our "Florida Trucker" and every reader of our "Resources of Volusia Farms" and everybody we possibly can, a chance to get in on as fine a piece of Florida land as there is in Florida for diversified farming.

Volusia Farms

At the present price of only FORTY DOLLARS per acre on the terms of FIVE DOLLARS an acre down and then only ONE DOLLAR per acre per month, with no taxes or interest during the entire time you are making payments.

After October 1st we shall be exempt from criticism that we have not done our best to give everybody fair warning that Volusia Farm values are bound to increase—that after October 1st each acre may be $5, $7.50 or even $10 higher in price than the prices prevailing today. Indications point to the greatest influx of buyers and settlers we have ever experienced. The summer months has hardly seen a let-up in enquiries regarding Florida lands. The government's postal authorities are doing much to clear the atmosphere, and we believe that the Florida land business is in better shape than ever before to take proper care of those who seek to settle here.

Volusia Farms is situated across the river from Sanford. The Florida East Coast railway runs through the property from Titusville to Sanford. A portion of the tract fronts the St. Johns river, and numerous lakes of various sizes are scattered throughout the tract. Freight boats ply the upper reaches of the St. Johns river, transferring at Sanford. From Sanford the Clyde Steamship Company runs large river boats to Jacksonville, there connecting with the ocean steamers for the north. These lines of transportation insure low freight rates.

Remember that in purchasing a Volusia Farms tract you are not locating in the wilderness in an unproven section of the county. Volusia county, for instance, shipped nearly 500,000 boxes of citrus fruits last year. At Osteen, a thriving village adjoining our tract, are splendid orange groves yielding satisfactory returns. Osteen has stores, churches, school, mail and telephone facilities.

Considering the hot weather our readers in the north and central west have been experiencing, it is well to emphasize the climate of Volusia Farms during the summer time. Too much in favor of Florida's summer climate can never be said. The delightful, enjoyable summer weather experienced here cannot be too widely known. Statistics gathered by the various Boards of Trade in the State again prove the fact that Florida has the best, the most equal and the most charming summer weather of any State in the Union. Get rid of the idea that because it is hot where you are it must be hotter in Florida.

Surrounded, almost, by salt water, the temperature is reduced by the breezes which blow over the land from either the Atlantic ocean or the Gulf of Mexico. We never suffer from excessive heat, and of course, as is much better known, our winter climate is so congenial that it is during the winter months that most of the growing of vegetables is carried on. The climate of Volusia Farms will be found less tiresome, enervating and trying on the human system the entire year than the climate with which the majority of our correspondents are contending. Pick up a seedsman's catalog and turn to the vegetable section. ALMOST EVERYTHING MENTIONED THERE CAN BE GROWN AT VOLUSIA FARMS at a time of the year when nearly every other source of vegetable supply is dormant. At Volusia Farms you are only about 48 hours from the large eastern markets. It is these two factors which have done so much to turn the eyes of the country toward Florida—which have done so much toward the development of Florida, and which will do as much for you at Volusia Farms if you are BUILT RIGHT.

Get Your Grip on the Land While You Have the Chance of Buying at Summer Prices. Let Nothing Intervene Between You and a Tract of Volusia Farms. Only Sixty Days to Act.

When the first of October arrives do not be surprised at the price then asked for these lands. We forecast nothing. We promise nothing. We will be entirely controlled by the outlook—by the supply and the demand. We want to be fair. We believe we are fair in thus frankly stating the land situation as it stands today.

Volusia Farms tract has been on the market for about fifteen months. The tract has not been extensively advertised, but the number of farms bought for cash and on time during the period of marketing has exceeded our expectations. Volusia Farms has been bought by people able to make good. People who have seen the land and found it as represented. People who have investigated the methods of this company, the business reputation and private character of the men forming the Company. These people speak for us better than we can speak for ourselves.

Volusia Farms will advance because it is on a solid basis. There has been no hurrah about the selling or the purchasing, but the foundations for a prosperous live community have been laid during the past months. We have several plans we hope to put into force when the time is ripe for the further unifying of this district as a whole. These plans will benefit the purchaser.

For diversified farming, we prefer you reserved not less than forty acres.

For citrus fruit culture, we prefer you reserved not less than 10 acres.

No matter for what purpose you wish to put the land, the price for all land at Volusia Farms is, at present,

$40.00

$5 per acre down, $1 per acre per month.

No interest. No taxes.

If there's anything you wish to know mail us the blank printed on this page.

A Businesslike and Candid Statement of the Citrus Fruit Handled by Chase & Company During the Season 1910-1911

Competition is the life of trade and fair play is a jewel. There is no reason why they should not work together for the good of all.

But because our business has grown steadily for a series of years, and results have been satisfactory to those whose products we have handled, we have been made the target for abuse, misrepresentation, and falsehood. This is not honorable rivalry; its plain purpose being to deceive and dissatisfy those dealing with us, without any cause except selfishness.

Against the charges that have been made and circulated, with the object of injuring us, it is a pleasure to give facts that anyone entitled to them can quickly verify. During the season of 1910-1911 we have sold:

224118	boxes of Oranges, average per box	$1.55.5
104787	" Grapefruit,	2.15.4
15970	" Tangerines,	2.47.9
244872	" TOTAL	1.78
14960	" Culls, Frozen Fruit, Manderince	1.09.8

Making a total of 359,832 boxes of Florida citrus fruits at an average of $1.75.1.

These figures speak for themselves and will more than bear comparison with those of any other marketing agency. The prices, it may be explained further, are for loaded cars at shipping point, subject to our selling commission of ten cents a box, and without any other charges to the grower.

This fruit was disposed of in 42 States, 174 Markets and to 358 Dealers, which means that the distribution has been wide and that the markets best at the time received the fruit. Auctions were used but not abused.

Our selling organization has been carefully built up until it covers this country and Canada. It is impossible for any new house, firm, company or combination to suddenly establish itself. It has required long years and great outlay on our part.

Out of all semblance of truth two or three sales have been twisted and distorted solely to deceive, while investigations made at our request by interested growers show there were no grounds for criticism.

Our office is open the year round. In addition to citrus fruits we market large quantities of Celery, Tomatoes, Lettuce, Pineapples, etc. We have been growing fruit and vegetables on rather a large scale for thirty years. In all ways the interests of our patrons are the same as our own. When Florida growers prosper we do.

There are more than the marketing and producing sides to our service. We have fought for lower freight rates which have been granted, to the advantage of those who bear false witness as well as to that of our friends. We have always been ready to do all in our power to make the virtues of the Florida Fruits—unequaled anywhere—better known as they deserve to be; to send the fruit out of the State in the most perfect order. Being human, mistakes may sometimes happen with us as they do with others; but when discovered by us or by growers, they are fairly and promptly adjusted.

We are proud of the growing list of those who do business with us, and our best care and efforts are always at their command

VERY RESPECTFULLY,

CHASE & COMPANY

CORPORATIONS ARE NOT HEARTLESS

Personal Letters to Superintendent Higgins Show Appreciation by Officials

Capt. C. Higgins, for many years superintendent of this division of the A. C. L. Ry., suffered a stroke of paralysis several months ago, but has been on the road to recovery and hopes to be able to resume his duties ere long. The general supposition that all corporations are heartless and have no thoughts for the welfare of their employees, is set at naught by the following letters written to Mr. Higgins by the officials of the A. C. L. Ry. of which are given below:

Jacksonville, Fla., Feb. 6, 1911

Samuel Puleston, M. D.
Sanford, Florida.

Dear Sir—I am in receipt of your letter of February 5th, which was written, I presume, before my talk with you on the same date.

Please do what you can to restore Mr. Higgins' mental poise, and make him go away for a rest as soon as he is in fit condition to travel. I feel sure that I voice the sentiment of the management of this company in saying that you may assure him that he need have no worries about his standing with the company. I am enclosing you, herewith, a personal letter to him, which I shall be glad for you to read and hand to him at such time as you see fit.

Yours very truly,
M. RIDDLER,
General Superintendent.

Jacksonville, Fla., Feb. 6, 1911

Personal—My Dear Higgins:

I was distressed beyond measure upon receipt of advice of your illness, and went to Sanford on the first train. With the intention of stopping over to see you. Dr. Puleston thought I had better not do so at that time, as you should not be excited. I asked Dr. Puleston, and your son, Bryan, to extend to you my sincerest sympathy, and to let you get rid of your troubles as fast as possible, over the conditions on the road; go away and take a rest for as long a time as necessary, and come back to us restored to health, and give us the good service that you have in the years past. I know that I am but voicing the wishes of every officer of the company in saying this. They all have the highest regard for you personally and officially, and are deeply distressed at your condition, and they all likewise believe, as I do, that you have many years of good work in you, which we are going to get after you are restored to health.

Yours very truly,
M. RIDDLER,
General Superintendent.

Wilmington, N. C., Feb. 7, 1911

Dear Mr. Higgins:

I regret very much indeed, to hear of your sickness, and hope that by taking the proper rest and being relieved of the responsibility of your work for a while, that you will come around all right and recover your usual good health.

I know that we are along about the same age, but I really do not believe that it is right for us to feel that we are yet old men, and with the usual grit that our Irish blood gives, I think we can pull through much more difficult propositions than a breakdown on account of heavy work, and I feel satisfied that with the proper sort of rest, you will be out and ready for work in a shorter while than you really think yourself will be the case.

With my very best wishes for your full return to health.

Yours very truly,
W. N. ROYALL.

Wilmington, N. C., Feb. 7, 1911

Personal—Mr. J. C. Higgins,
Superintendent, Sanford, Fla.

My Dear Mr. Higgins:

I have just heard that you are not so well and I was exceedingly sorry to hear it. I hope, however, it is nothing serious and that all needed is a little rest, so I want you to go away just as soon as you can and take rest for six months if necessary. Everything will be all right when you return. Your services have been entirely satisfactory and I want you to feel that I have not lost my personal interest in you, which began when you were a boy, many years ago, in Baltimore, and if there is anything in the world I can do to help you, please, don't hesitate to let me know.

By all means, arrange to get away as soon as possible, and don't worry about coming back, as I feel you things will be all right when you do, come. I want you to get your health again and continue to give us good service for many years yet to come, as you have always done in the past. Mr. Royall will write you in regard to your going away and will make necessary arrangements.

With kindest regards, I am,
Yours very truly,
J. R. KELLY,
Third Vice President.

Miss Minnie Franklin and Mrs. Cunningham left last Wednesday for Marion, N. C. They will not be home before October.

Mr. Albert Hopkins recently purchased from Mr. F. H. Davis the property adjoining Mr. Davis' home. Mr. Hopkins expects to make extensive improvements on the house and will build an addition and put in running water. This will greatly enhance the value and beauty of the place. It also assures Apopka that Mr. and Mrs. Hopkins will make this their permanent winter home of which we are very glad.

A Stranger's Impression

EDITOR SANFORD HERALD:

I am a stranger in your midst, and I take the liberty of telling you how much I have been impressed with what I have seen. Allow me to congratulate you on your handsome stores and well kept-up your postoffice and on the very efficient help in same. Also on your roads and walks.

I was riding over your city, the other day, and was driven up to a part of your city, known as Sanford Heights; this part of Sanford struck me as being a very pretty place. There was one place in particular that impressed me; this place I have been told is the home of Dr. Robson, he has a most magnificent lawn, and quite a number of handsome callidiums. It seems almost impossible for anyone to grow a lawn like Dr. Robson has on the sandy land which I saw up there. There are also some very pretty lawns on Park avenue and Magnolia, but I believe on the Heights is the best.

I notice one thing that should be remedied—that is your water front. I believe a boulevard about five miles long would help make Sanford a tourist center also make it popular for yachts. Trusting that the next time I see Sanford that it will have grown twice its present size, I am hoping.

WHAT EXPRESS COMPANIES EARN

An investigation of the express business is about to be undertaken in Indiana, a State that has been alive to the extortions practiced by the express companies for several years. The following paragraph is from an article in the Indianapolis News:

Among the other investigations is the notable one conducted this spring by the Minnesota State Railroad and Warehouse Commission, which got at the very heart of the situation. It was revealed that less than $5,000,000 has been invested in the Wells-Fargo service, that the capitalization has been increased from time to time in order to keep down the rate of dividends to about 10 per cent. until it is now 22,000,000. Even at this the high rates charged kept piling up the money so that an extra dividend of 300 per cent had to be paid last year, and the company has accumulated $23,000,000 of assets, of which $28,000,000 is invested in miscellaneous stocks, bonds, mortgages, notes, loans and other property. It was admitted that if the company were put out of business it could go on paying 7 per cent. dividends for all time on its $24,000,000 stock, which would mean about 35 per cent. on every dollar invested in the service. The Adams has been cutting 200 per cent. melons, and all along the line there is conclusive evidence that the rates are unfair.

Think, for a moment, says the Columbia State, of a corporation that, retiring from the active business of carrying parcels, comes out of the investments that it has made from the amassed profits of former years, continue to pay seven per cent. dividends—equivalent to 35 per cent. dividends on the money originally invested—for all time! Then, think of the charges that must have been exacted from the people in order that such profits might be earned.

Who wonders that the express companies are opposed to the extension of the parcel post service system, or that they are able, now and then, to buy the influence of two or three Senators?

WHAT MIGHT HAVE BEEN

Potatoes are retailing in Sanford at $2.00 per bushel. In Iowa, Illinois and other potato sections they are selling for $1.20 per bushel. Many Sanford growers have potatoes that they raised and kept them on account of poor market prices. They are now using them and having money. These potatoes could be raised here and, after a few months shipped at a good profit.

We are eating canned tomatoes every day during the summer. They can be raised here all summer or at least canned in April and sold at a cheaper rate than if shipped from northern points.

There is more money sent out from Florida every year for hay, grain, canned goods, life insurance, fire insurance, wooden ware, paper products, meats and other necessities than the people of Florida make.

Whenever the people of this state can conserve their resources, live at home, raise two thirds of their own necessities export instead of import, Florida will become the greatest state in the Union. The people of the celery delta are undoubtedly the most extravagant class in the world and if their expenditures were figured at the end of the year the figures would prove a great lesson to them. Fortunes can be made here but unless the farmer can learn to raise more high class chickens, hay and grain and learn to live at home, fortunes will be spent here.

This is a good time to figure up the cost of living, especially on the farm.

LOWER THE PRODUCTION COST

E. A. Stuart built up a tremendous business in canned milk; he cut down the cost of assembling the milk at his factories and reduced the cost of canning by scientific methods, and improved the quality of milk offered to the public in cans. The price paid for a bottle of milk left at the door every morning includes the wages for farm laborers, hauling to the city, cost of bottling houses and wagons, wages of the driver. The consumer pays more for labor and facilities than for the milk.

A business policy that fits around the abilities of one man like a glove may be almost when adopted by a corporation. Jas. J. Hill is conceded to be the greatest railroad man in the north-west. One winter he walked across the mountains and a hot tunnel the Red River Valley. There were no railroads there then. He went back to St. Paul and by his earnestness persuaded the rich bank of Montreal to back him and he built a system of railroads that planted civilization in the great North-west, making a heroic chapter of American history.

Andrew Carnegie created in the industrial world and his man, H. C. Frick, developed. Jas. J. Hill created in the railroad world; E. H. Harriman was not a pioneer, but he was an improver.

When Harriman first went into railroads he noticed what he believed to be waste and chaos, his energies were devoted to stopping waste and improving the railroad property. "He lowered the cost of producing transportation and improved the quality of the service with the money he collected from the waste."

The late A. J. Cassatt, of the Pennsylvania Railroad, was largely responsible for the great tunnels that now run under the Hudson river and the city of New York. When he went into railroad work he found about sixty separate railroads in the State of Pennsylvania. In order to ship freight from a town in one part of the State to another part it had to be loaded and unloaded seven or eight times; he had all kinds of troubles showing the many managements, that it cost a lot of money to do so much handling and, besides, the freight had to be expedited. "He reduced the cost of handling and improved the service." If Cassatt had been a manufacturer he would have reduced the cost of making finished product from raw material.

Marshall Field was the great merchant of Chicago. He was polite and always found out what his customers wanted. It is said of him that a lady lost one of six buttons bought six months before; there were no more to be had, the courteous store-keeper ordered the factory to make one, and he sent it to the lady's house for a total cost of nine cents. Field created a business, others are improving on what he did and developing; they are "lowering the cost and improving the quality of the goods they sell."

All of these men were enthusiasts; "nothing great has ever been accomplished without enthusiasm."

COTTON IN ORANGE COUNTY

Apopka is growing cotton and making success of it. The big barbecue given this week by the Orlando Board of Trade to demonstrate cotton growing is one of the best stunts ever pulled off by the enterprising business men of Orlando. They are quick to grasp the opportunity presented by the growing of cotton in this, the banner county of the state. We already have everything in fruits and vegetables. All that was needed was a staple crop—one that can be harvested and stored—and one that is a bank account for the grower at almost any stage of the game.

Raising cotton in Orange County is not an experiment and the demonstration at Apopka is more for the benefit of the new resident than the old. Any one who resided in this county for the past thirty years—even can remember the fields of cotton that grew in almost every part of the county. Just a few miles from Sanford cotton fields were a common sight. Before the war cotton was raised here and money was made even in those days when there were no county roads or railroads.

If the people of Orange county will give this question serious thought and plant some of the deserted lands in cotton again there will be many a dollar put in circulation thereby. The people of Hastings planted cotton this year after the potato crop was off and their success in the two big crops is apparent. With hog and hounding, fruits and vegetables, cows and chickens, eggs and hay and King Cotton to back them up, Orange county is just about the real goods and the man who buys Orange County land can hardly make a mistake.

STATE LAWS THIS WEEK

The Herald prints the laws passed at the recent session of the Florida legislature in this issue. Every voter in Orange County will receive a copy. File the paper for future reference for it is a valuable edition. As there are several thousand copies for Orange County alone some people may fail to get their copy. If you did not get one write immediately to The Herald and one will be sent you. Any one desiring an extra copy can obtain one by sending in five cents in stamps.

The old roller towel that formerly adorned every printing office must go.

The state of Louisiana is in the fore again in matters pertaining to the health of its citizens and has forbidden by statute the use of the common towel. The common towel of the roller-blind pattern was banished on July 1 under new sections of the sanitary code, which empowered the health inspectors of every parish to see that these new sections are enforced.

The roller towel so dear to the printer's heart, the blind that remained on the wall until it was strong enough to stand alone or to walk up and shake hands with you in the morning has passed away.

E. O. Painter, the fertilizer man, has taken his wife and daughter and gone for a two month's trip to Europe. Mr. Painter started his career as a newspaper man so maybe there is hope for us yet. Only, we must not forget, he quit the business several years ago.—Arcadia Champion.

Speaking about gubernatorial timber reminds us that Editor Frank Harris should take first place. There is not a better man in the state of Florida for this honored position than Hon. Frank Harris of the Ocala Banner.

If the Herald suits you this week and you are not already a subscriber send in two dollars and get The Herald, The Atlanta Weekly Georgian, Spare Moments Magazine and the Gentlewoman, all four one year for two dollars. Can you beat it.

Orange County needs brick roads, if not a million dollars worth, at least one from Sanford to the Ocala line.

A. N. Thurston returned yesterday from an extended trip to Cuba and the Isle of Pines, where he had such a good time that he had to "tear" himself away. While in Cuba he visited the Maine, which the Government is trying to raise, and saw many places and things of interest.

Irving Estridge returned from a month's stay in Minatoe last week, his sister Mrs. Koons came with him for a visit.

Mrs. Robinson of Oakhill has been here and made a settlement with the Sanford and Everglade, R. R., for the death of her husband last year. $100 was the sum accepted.

Mrs. Mamie Robinson of Oakhill visited her father, Fred Cowan last week. She went from here to Punta Gorda.

The Sunday school pupils are having some very pleasant gatherings, Thursday evening at the different homes.

Harry Ward, J. F. McLaughlin and J. M. Estridge are having tilting done and much other work preparatory to the winter gardening season is now being done here.

Mrs. D. H. Moss and Sons are moving to Jacksonville this week to join Mr. Moss who has a nice position with an insurance Co. Every one regrets their departure and they will be greatly missed. We trust they will return to live in their home here again. About 40 friends and neighbors gave Mrs. Moss a goodbye party on Monday evening, the ladies laid cakes and confections and the gentlemen carried the ingredients for lemonade, the evening was pleasantly passed with music and visiting. One and all wish Mr. and Mrs. Moss prosperity and success in their new home.

GENEVA JOTTINGS

Special Correspondence to The Herald. Mrs. R. G. Nicholson has returned from a visit to Sanford and Osteen.

Will Adams of Herndon, Virginia, is on a visit to his brother and sister Mr. and Mrs. J. O. Adams.

George Peters is having some improvements made on his house and when finished it will be very pretty and convenient.

Mrs. Irving Baker was called to Orlando last Thursday by the death of her aunt, Mrs. Dunby, which occurred as the result of a fall down a stairway. Mr. Gilmore accompanied his daughter, Mrs. Baker, to Orlando.

Misses Brooks, of Oviedo, are spending a few days among friends in Geneva.

Mr. and Mrs. Squires and young son visited their friends, Mr. and Mrs. J. T. McLain, a portion of last week and enjoyed a few days camping on Lake Harney.

Herman Daniel came over from Chuluota last Sunday to see the home folks.

Mrs. W. H. Howard and interesting children are on a two month's visit to North Carolina and Virginia.

Mrs. A. A. Moran has been quite sick for several days but is now improving.

Mrs. M. S. Etheridge and son, Culver, Mr. and Mrs. David Spear, W. L. Belg and D. N. Sutton attended the Woodmen sermon in Oviedo last Sunday.

Miss Lydia Geiger is at home from Lake City where she has been attending a normal school.

The baby child of J. T. McLain unfortunately found a box of colonial tablets and ate thirty of them. Dr. was called immediately and rendered all necessary attention. The child was doing nicely according to latest reports.

Rev. Mitchell of Kissimmee is assisting Rev. Brook in a series of meetings at the Methodist church. Bro. Mitchell is a earnest, able and efficient worker and has given Geneva some fine sermons.

It is a deplorable fact that almost every time Geneva wants connection by phone with Sanford we are unable to get any hearing whatever. Of course when we had no phone we didn't calculate on such things but when a body is paying for such conveniences we would like to have them when badly needed. For several days past the central here has not been able to get Sanford's central, the trouble seems to be between the ferry and Sanford. We trust the managers will make an extra effort to keep this line in order in future.

Mrs. Hancock and children of Adkins, Ga., are visiting their cousin Mrs. D. Baker.

Oviedo "donned her gala attire" last Sunday and pleasantly entertained her guests from Orlando, Geneva and Chuluota. The Woodmen's lodge at Oviedo was host on this occasion and most cordially and pleasingly did they entertain their guests, being ably assisted by every citizen of this bright little city. Several weeks previous the Woodmen had invited Rev. E. Lee Smith of Longwood to preach to them on this date. The Woodman, with the assistance of some of the young ladies decorated the Baptist church with pinnetto, moss and pot plants, just enough to be dainty and beautiful. The music was specially arranged for this occasion. Miss Mary Aulin presided at the organ. The Woodmen marched from their hall into the church under command of their council Commander Moore, occupying reserved seats, they presented a pleasing appearance. Rev. Smith, in his usual masterful way held the closest attention of all, showing how close lie the lives of a true Woodman and a true Christian; at the same time impressing upon his auditors the vital importance of belief and trust in "One Supreme Power." At the close of the services the Woodmen marched back to their hall and immediately were carried to private homes and served with the "fat of the land." Every attendee had prepared for guests and altogether a most enjoyable day was spent by all.

CAMERON CITY CLIPPINGS

Special Correspondence to The Herald.

Our community certainly feels the need of some kind of a stock law. Ted farmers all about us are complaining of broken fences and injured crops and the cattle come through the town in droves all hours of the day, and night bringing swarms of flies and mosquitoes. Mr. Brock is away for the summer and during the past week the neighbors have been kept busy driving the cattle out of his door yard where he had a fine stand of cow peas and many other things growing until in desperation, Grandpa Gornly and Dr. Minnick strung a barbed wire on top of the fence and they haven't been over since. It begins to look as if we would all have to fence with barbed wire. It will be a fine thing when some man starts a movement and the farmers take a stand together to protect themselves against these roving herds. We hope to see this done in Orange County.

Mr. Craig has traded one of his farms to Mr. Smith for Wichita property and Mr. Craig will soon erect a dwelling on his other farm.

Mr. Hancock is building a house on his farm to be occupied by Frank Lee.

Mr. and Mrs. Stevenson and daughter Margaret and Miss Aileen Minnick left on the City of Jacksonville, Monday. The Stevensons will spend a few days in Jacksonville, then go to their new home at Augusta Ga. Miss Minnick will sail on the Mohawk to New York where her brother Captain Minnick will meet her take her to his home at Springfield, Mass., for an extended visit. We are glad that it is only for a time that these dear people are leaving us and our best wishes will follow them both to Augusta and Springfield.

We are glad to say that our Pastor, Dr. Swartz is planning to be with us again and will preach for us next Sunday, after a short vacation. The meeting Sunday morning will be one of unusual importance being the certain pastor to be brought before the congregation and the members and friends are all urged to be present.

Last Friday evening occurred one of the most pleasant social events Cameron City has known. Thirty of the friends and neighbors gathered at Dr. Minnick's home to say good bye to the Stevensons and Miss Minnick. While all present were sorry to have these people leave us, yet cheerfully, the occasion was never the less a happy one. Light refreshments were served during the evening and conversation and games made the hours pass quickly.

In union there is strength. We have the goods you need, and the price you can do the rest. Sanford Furniture Co. 35-47

Very Serious

It is a very serious matter to ask for one medicine and have the wrong one given you. For this reason we urge you in buying to be careful to get the genuine—

THE FORD'S BLACK-DRAUGHT Liver Medicine

The reputation of this old, reliable medicine for constipation, indigestion and liver trouble, is firmly established. It does not irritate other medicines. It is better than others, or it would not be the favorite liver powder with a larger sale than all others combined.

SANFORD'S FERTILIZER FACTORY

The Growers Have Finest Plant in the South at Their Door

The Virginia-Carolina Fertilizer Company, the largest manufacturer of fertilizer in the South, recognizing the fact that Sanford was an ideal location for a factory early last fall decided to put up a plant here that would not only supply the large trade contiguous to Sanford, but all of Orange county and South Florida. The growers wanted a good factory here where they could save not only in the price of the material but in freight rates as well. While established last season the V.-C. people made many friends last season and the growers are all satisfied customers this season.

The Virginia-Carolina Chemical Company now have in operation their new plant and are daily making car load shipments to various points in South Florida. They recently received a shipment of over 800 tons potashes direct from their mines in Germany. They have a full stock of all materials on hand and are receiving almost daily a stock of new materials. They are now making up goods for this coming season, and will remill and screen before shipping. This will insure fine mechanical condition.

The factory here is modern, throughout with labor-saving machinery, having three milling and bagging machines with capacity of 150 tons daily. Elevators with overhead railway and dump cars for placing materials in different parts of the factory. All the machinery is run by electricity.

They use nothing but high-grade materials in manufacture of their goods. Some of materials now in stock:

H. G. Tankage (different grades) acid phosphate, (different grades), dried blood, (various grades), cotton seed meal, castor pomace, high-grade tobacco stems, nitrate soda, dried bone black, sulphate ammonia, sulphate potash, muriate, kainit, hard-wood ashes, land plaster, etc.

Florida Notes

There are four seasons in Florida: The dry season, the wet season and pepper and salt.

The real battle between the oranges of Florida and California is the battle between Taste and Looks.

Florida has been luxuriating in water-melons for two months and the crop is still as good as ever.

Rains for this season are still deficient, but then we have no reason to complain. The West and Southwest are practically burned up.

The truck growers of Punta Gorda have formed an organization and will sell their products through a central exchange.

The man who planted corn and then in the same field planted velvet beans has a double crop which cannot be excelled in the United States.

The citrus growers of Punta Gorda will erect a modern packing house to handle the fruit in that vicinity. Good work brings good prices.

Texas has ordered 3,000,000 bushels of potatoes from Ireland paying $1.75 a bushel for the grade of local dealers. Florida should be supplying Texas with the potatoes. More Irish and more sweet potatoes should be grown in this state.

The orange producing section of Florida is right at the door of the largest consuming markets of the country, within a radius of a thousand miles and within an average distance of six hundred miles, dwell perhaps fifty million people.

Every indication points to more prosperity in Florida this fall than ever. The Northerner who was interested last winter when he was snow bound, and lost interest when the spring time came, is again looking to this state, since his crops have been burned up by hot winds.

When the Florida Citrus Exchange was first organized it made June 1 the end of the fiscal year from the fact that for many years previous the orange crop had all been marketed. Improved methods of handling fruit and the wisdom of holding shipments back for better prices has lengthened the shipping period fully a month, and the Exchange finds that it cannot fully close up its season's affairs by June 1st. A little fruit is still moving here and there over the state. Fruit dealers still have oranges and grape fruit for sale. The condition is excellent.

Need More Papers

Orange county already has more newspapers to the population than most others and now comes our friend E. A. Douglass, of Orlando, Tallahassee and Oviedo, who proposes to publish a new paper in that town. We have heard rumors of papers in Winter Garden, Pine Castle and Orange Center—all of which is very good and calculated to increase the intelligence of the people. We extend the hand of fellowship and wish the Oviedo and East Orange ventures, success—Orlando Clip-

FLORIDA NOT AN ELDORADO

But Any Industrious Man Who Uses His Hands and His Brains Can Make a Living

There is no question about the opportunities that Florida offers to the homeseekers, provided that homeseeker is able intellectually and financially to grasp them. It should not be understood, however, that Florida is an Eldorado, where people of indifferent capacities, lazy, ignorant and penniless, can make a living without work of effort. Such people cannot succeed anywhere—they are a menace to any community, and there is no more place for them in Florida than there would be a place for a professional tramp behind the grill-railing of a banking counter.

Unfortunately, too many of the land companies who are promoting Florida lands—and perhaps good lands—have permitted their ambition to sell, regardless of how, or where or to whom, get away with their good judgment in this respect. Too much has been written that would lead the thrifless man of the north or west, who is worthless at home and wholly without honor or pride or industry, to believe that to first move upon a ten acre tract of land in Florida would ensure for him a life of ease and luxury the remainder of his days.

People have been led to sell their little belongings at home and spend every dollar obtaining for a railroad ticket to Jacksonville, only to reach this gateway to the state hungry and broke, and yet many and many a mile for the little tract of land upon which they had been led to believe would blossom with gold dollars at the very sight of a new-comer. Boah! Why will any land company use deception to sell to a horde of worthless tramps, when the straight, convincy truth would place the same lands in the hands of people of intelligence and industry who would make good for themselves and become an honor to their adopted state? The truth about Florida is what the man of brains and means want to know; the truth about Florida will convince the man of brains and means and that no state in this union offers more or better opportunities; the truth of men and women that the established citizenship of this state will welcome with open arms, and cooperate with and help and aid.

There are good lands in Florida and there are poor lands. There are lands suitable for sandy sections and which the best results cannot be hoped for without irrigation. There are lands in Florida that are especially suited for the cultivation of high-priced crops, celery, lettuce, etc., and other lands that are especially adapted to the good old staples, such as cotton, corn, oats, potatoes, etc. The honest real-estate man will point out plainly and concisely these facts. He will sell only honest lands, for the purpose of making money for himself to be sure, but also for the higher and nobler purpose of selling his community with a desirable class of thrifty, industrious people.

Florida lands of proven value, at the prices prevailing, are the cheapest agricultural lands in the United States today. No lands, as proven by government figures, will net more to the acre—indeed net per acre in Florida is higher than elsewhere.

And then to live in Florida is a consideration of weight. While the people are dying from heat prostrations in the north and west during the hot months the people of Florida are fanned by the ocean and gulf breeze, and doing their daily work without the slightest discomfort. While the people of the north and west are ice-bound in the cold months the people of Florida are working out doors in their shirt-sleeves and enjoying a climate that is absolutely without an equal in the whole wide world.

Yes, Florida! No state offers the man of industry and sufficient means, to properly get under way brighter prospects or a greater future—but mind you, who has nothing to brag of, for the indolent and thiftness.—Industrial Record.

Tolar—Brown

Mr. Chas. H. Brown and Mrs. Clara L. Tolar were quietly married in Jacksonville on July 20. Both young people are well known in our city. Mr. Brown is a popular conductor on the A. C. L., and Mrs. Tolar has held several responsible positions in our city. They left immediately after the ceremony for Pablo Beach where they will spend the rest of the summer.

They expect to return in September and make Sanford their future home. They best wishes of their many Sanford friends.

Chas. Hand For Sheriff

Chas. M. Hand will be a candidate for Sheriff of Orange county subject to the decision of the Democratic Primary to be held in May 12 1912. While early to announce, Mr. Hand wishes to let his many friends in the county know that he is in the race and takes this opportunity of letting them know that he will be a candidate and will see each and everyone of them before the primary. Everybody knows Charlie Hand but in case you do not the following bit of history will be interesting:

Charlie Hand has been a resident of Orange county ever since the state was discovered and from that time up to the present has been engaged in business. He was conductor on the old Orange Belt Line shortly after that road was built and was hired on account of his size. The engine and train would leave the track every half hour and a big fellow was needed to punch it back on. Mr. Hand for many years has been engaged in the livery business in Sanford and has also found time to be deputy sheriff in which office he has been very successful. Coupled with a knowledge of crime and criminals, Mr. Hand has nerve, sagacity and cool judgment. He has always been a successful business man and if elected can be depended upon to manage the affairs of the office with the same care that he has always exercised in his own affairs.

All in all Chas. M. Hand is eminently fitted for the position and does not believe that the office is coming to him but that he will go after the office and solicit the vote of every citizen upon his merits.

The Same Old Story

This is a true story. A week ago a new family moved into Sanford. A few evening later one of the neighbors called on the new arrivals. "Where did you ever get such a pretty waist?" asked the caller gushingly. "Down at your dry goods store here," replied the new-comer. "Why?" "I didn't know such a waist could be bought in the town—in fact, I didn't know Jones kept shirtwaists at all. Several times I have wanted a waist in a hurry, but I never tried buying it at home—I suppose I had to send to Chicago for it."

This is a true story, and it demonstrates that the development of home trade is a simple matter—and that several parties are to blame for its delay.

In this case the first person to blame was the housewife.

She thought that she sent away from home for things because they were not carried at home, whereas, if they were carried at home, it was because she sent away for them.

That they were carried at home was only because of the dealer's faith in the community, or the presence in the community of people who believe in community development.

Another party at fault was the dealer. Having invested his capital in shirtwaists he should have gone a little further and should have let the public know that he had shirtwaists for sale.

This woman had got into the habit of buying away from home. She actually inconvenienced herself to buy away from home because she did not know the stuff was at home to buy. All there is in the development of home trade is getting these two parties together, the buyer and seller—showing the buyer that she can buy at home to as good advantage to herself as elsewhere and to greater advantage to the town; showing the dealer that people can be induced to buy at home if shown that they can get the same goods for the same money.

It is time for the buyer and seller to get together for mutual benefit and for the upholding of their community and the conservation of their homes.

HAPPENINGS DURING THE WEEK

Here the Readers Will Find a Brief Historical Spring Flowing For Married Readers

James W. Reilly, of Buffalo, N. Y., political secretary to Norman E. Mack, chairman of the National Democratic Committee, who is visiting Jacksonville, says that he believes that the Democratic party is in better shape now than it has been in many years, and that there are many good men available for Presidential nomination at the next national convention of the party.

Indiana may have the center of population but Ohio possesses the center of virtue. It is none other than this village of Degraff, in the center of a strictly "dry" region, which boasts of 1,200 inhabitants, and the fact that there has not been an arrest within its borders in the last two years.

Boston is much disturbed by the fact that at least one death from Asiatic cholera has occurred.

posed presence of two persons who are believed to be stricken with the disease, in mild form, and who have escaped the custody and observation of the health authorities.

The returns from Saturday's statewide prohibition election, while still incomplete, show that the anti-prohibition forces have probably won by a majority variously estimated from 3,000 to 10,000. The "drys" have virtually conceded their defeat, but charge fraud and threaten a contest in the courts. Reports received and tabulated by the Associated Press show that the anti-prohibitionists have slightly increased their lead over Friday's returns, but perhaps not sufficiently to insure their success. Their majority is still under 4,000.

There could be no stronger evidence offered that there is an abundance of money in the country seeking investment than the fact that the Panama canal bonds, bearing but three per cent interest are subscribed for three times over.

One of the most brutal prize fights heard of in many years was held at Sodom Reservoir, in Southeast New York last Sunday, when two Danbury fighters, Dekin and Regan, fought twenty-one rounds with bare knuckles. The referee attempted to stop the fight in the tenth round, because of the punishment Dekin was receiving, but the fighters refused to quit and stayed until the twenty-first round, when Dekin was so badly battered that he had to give up. His nose and mouth was pounded to pulp, his eyes closed and lips cut and swollen and until to-night it was thought he had received concussion of the brain. After the fight he was taken to his home here. Regan was also badly punished. The men fought at 140 pounds for a purse of $100.

Public drinking-cups have now been abolished by law in New Jersey and Illinois, as they had been three years before in Kansas and more recently in Massachusetts. In a dozen states a common drinking cup is now forbidden in factories, stores, schools, hotels, public buildings and on railroad trains. In Kansas the roller towel also has been condemned as a source of infection and its further use prohibited.

Observing the fifty-fifth anniversary of her birth, Mrs. Harriet B. Kidder, of Ocean Grove, N. J. supplied the chief feature of the interesting celebration. She read a poem containing 130 verses, which she composed and copied on a typewriter.

The reciprocal trade agreement between the United States and Canada embodied in the reciprocity bill that proved a storm center in two sessions of Congress, passed the Senate on Saturday without amendment by a vote of fifty-three to twenty-seven. A majority of the Republicans voted against it. Of the fifty-three votes for it thirty-two were Democrats and twenty-one Republicans, of the twenty-seven against twenty-four were Republicans and three Democrats.

The anti-prohibition majority in the state-wide prohibition stands at 6,104, a figure too large to be overcome by the unopposed vote, according to figures compiled by the Dallas News. The total vote to date is: Against the amendment, 1234,101. For the amendment, 227,977. The new figures indicate that the final count will show the majority against prohibition to be in excess of six thousand.

The last act of the Parliamentary revolution was ushered in Monday with a revolutionary move. For the first time in its history the House of Commons refused to listen to a speech by the prime minister. For the first time in its history the speaker was compelled to invoke the rule which empowers him "in case of grave disorder" to declare the sitting adjourned on his own responsibility.

The plans for the steamer Aquitania which the Cunard Company is building at Clyde Bank London have been modified to make the vessel the largest in the world. Her length will exceed 900 feet and be ten feet greater than the length of the 80,000 ton liner Imperator, which the Hamburg-American Line will put into service in the spring of 1913.

Land Sucker's Handbook
A "Handbook for the Guidance of Land Suckers" is the rather original title of a publication to be issued by the immigration commissioners from nineteen states. These commissioners are in Chicago to form a national organization for the benefit of persons who are seeking to remove to the states represented by the commissioners. The purpose of the organization is to protect the needy immigrants against the operations of unscrupulous "land sharks" and oily gentlemen, who advertise their lands as capable of producing results that are unattainable. "Promotion committees," so-called, will probably be brought under the searchlight of investigation through the efforts of the immigration commissioners' organization.

A farmer near Gainesville exhibited a stalk of cotton this week that was three feet in height and contained 125 bolls of cotton and was still blooming. This stalk was no exception to the rest of the cotton in the field.

A Statement Some Claims and A Challenge

Statement.

The Florida Citrus Exchange hereby announces that it has averaged for the growers affiliated with the Exchange a higher price—net on the trees—for their oranges shipped through the Exchange, this season, than any other marketing agency in the State of Florida, has paid an average to its growers for oranges of similar grade, pack and quality.

Some Claims

CLAIM No. 1—The Florida Citrus Exchange claims that it has handled its citrus fruits, from time of loading on cars until delivered at destination, including all charges of selling (which include brokerage, auction charges, salaries, telegrams, and every expense of whatsoever nature and character incurred in selling such fruit) for less actual charges to the grower owning said fruit, than any other marketing agency in the State of Florida.

CLAIM No. 2—The Florida Citrus Exchange claims that it has obtained from the purchasers in the market places of the United States, a higher price for the citrus fruits handled by the Florida Citrus Exchange during the season of 1910-11 than has been obtained by any other marketing agency in the State of Florida for fruit of similar grade and quality, sold at the same times.

CLAIM No. 3—The Florida Citrus Exchange claims that today its packs and brands stand higher with the trade that purchases and sells citrus fruits in the markets of the country than the packs and brands of any other marketing agency in the citrus deal in Florida, for fruit of same grade and quality.

CLAIM No. 4—The Florida Citrus Exchange claims that it is the only agency operating in the citrus deal in Florida that renders an honest, intelligible account sale to its shippers, in that it is the only agency in Florida that states on its account sale the actual date and place of sale, the actual amount of money received for the fruit sold, the name of the purchaser, and plainly states all deductions of every nature and kind from the gross proceeds of the sale, which enables the grower to readily and intelligently check back to see whether he has received an honest accounting or not.

CLAIM No. 5—The Florida Citrus Exchange claims that no agency for the sale of citrus fruits, operating in Florida, actually handles the fruit of its patron for total gross charge to the grower of 10 cents a box—or anything near that sum—to include all costs of handling, of whatsoever nature and kind; including brokerage, auction charges, commissions, salaries and other elaborate and undetailed expenses, AS MANY GROWERS HAVE BEEN MISLED INTO BELIEVING.

CLAIM No. 6—The Florida Citrus Exchange claims that it is the only marketing agency operating in citrus fruits in Florida that pays in full to the growers for whom it ships, all of the claims it collects from transportation companies for loss, damage and overcharge.

A Challenge.

The Florida Citrus Exchange hereby challenges any marketing agency operating in the State of Florida to disprove any of the six foregoing claims—not by mere ex-parte statements, but by positive proof backed up by evidence, to be submitted to three unprejudiced, unpartisan growers and operators of experience in the State of Florida; and we will suggest as nominees for this Committee of Arbitration three men well known throughout the State, none of whom are affiliated with the Florida Citrus Exchange, or have any leaning or partisanship therefor,—to-wit:

- MR. KIMBALL C. ATWOOD,
- MR. J. H. PRESTON,
- MR. H. B. STEVENS,

and we will select as our Expert to check up from the books of any acceptor of this challenge, our Cashier, Mr. Charles G. Harness, who is to have just as free access to the books and records of the challenging party as the representative of the challenger shall have in investigating our books and records.

Moral.—Ship through the Exchange and Get It All.

FLORIDA CITRUS FRUITS

Packed by the Exchange to be Advertised in the East

The board of Directors of the Florida Citrus Exchange will meet early in August to perfect arrangements for an advertising campaign which will be waged all during the season in the East. Plans are about perfected for the campaign which will create a demand for the fruit packed under the auspices of the Exchange, and it is expected will cause this fruit to be sold for twenty-five to fifty cents over the prices paid for fruit from independent shippers.

For the past two years, since the Exchange began operations the fruit of its pack has gradually gained the confidence of the jobbers, and now the plan is to gain the same confidence from the consumer.

When this is consummated the Exchange will have calls for its fruit in excess of the contracts now in existence, and with the high prices received those outside of the Exchange will rush to get on the band wagon.

And this is as it should be. If all the fruit in Florida was under the control of one head, engineering the packing and the marketing, the Florida grower would begin to see light.

In California the Exchange virtually controls the fruit of that state. Numerous growers refuse $3,000 to $5,000 an acre for bearing groves which are no better than those of Florida which are being for $700 to $1,000 an acre.

Orange took revenge for the treatment it has been receiving from the Sanford team and defeated the local club by the score of 7-2.

There was very little baseball to be seen in the special contest and the whole affair was a very poor work by the Sanford and Orange players.

was accorded them but it was not as impressively administered as was expected.

Sanford played her reconstructed team and for a time they showed up very well. There were some rough edges that will be worn off with work.

It was a hard fought game, both Nabal and Sanford and Smith for Kissimmee showing up well and it took the Sanford the full 9 innings to win by a score of 2-2.

Walter Pickett was the game. He showed the biggest crowd they had ever seen in a ball game this season. Sanford pitched Orange by a score of 7-2. In some places he has been seen to throw and Wallace for the Sanford team. One of the reasons for the work on the mound was governmental and several of the big leagues. For eight innings he was absolutely unshakable and it was after he was hit here several in the sixth that Orange's only hit was made.

The Sanford pitcher, a regular man, left Sanford at 10:30 and when he left, he was hit and hit Sanford was hit. Several of the regular players were unshakable but what they lacked in numbers they made up in courage and were very much to be commended through the game. Sanford hit a few home runs.

The game was a very hard fought one and the outcome was a very close one. It was a very hard fought one and the outcome was a very close one. It was a very hard fought one and the outcome was a very close one.

roller to Cooper and Beardall was relayed at second on a "solder" choice. Tim Bridges made the only hit of the game, a single to right and to "even things up" Wallace struck out the next batter and out.

The only earned run of the game came in the seventh when Bagwell singled, advanced to second on Dugan's sacrifice, to third on Beardall's run and scored for Glen's eighth single.

Taken all in all it was a great game of ball and the Sanford players were a credit to the city as they marched through the game, the most glory of the defeated.

Baseball Meeting

The directors of the Sanford Baseball club held a meeting at the Sanford Hotel on the evening of Tuesday, July 27. The general policies of the management were discussed, report of the "treasurer" read and the subject of prolonging the season completed. It was practically decided to continue the playing season up to and including August 15th on which date Orlando and Sanford will play the last game of this baseball year.
