The Lend A Hand Club
Last Thursday afternoon, some thirty of Sanford's lovely girls met at the residence of Mrs. Henry Wight, who organized them into a benevolent society, to be known as the "Lend a Hand Society," to be modeled after Edward Everett Hale's splendid idea. This band of girls and young ladies will be under the supervising care and guidance of their charming patroness, Mrs. Henry Wight, the originator of this suggestion in Sanford, and who is an enthusiastic worker along all lines, having for their object the civic improvement and moral uplift of individuals and communities.

The officers elected are:
Miss Mabel Bowler, president.
Miss Lillian Gibson, vice president.
Miss Edith Stewart, secretary.
Miss Nona Wylie, treasurer.
Miss Flossie Frank, chairman finance committee.

Mrs. Hurt Entertains
Mrs. J. L. Hurt entertained at cards in honor of her charming house guest, Miss Lottie Hurt, of Richmond, Va.

The house was tastefully decorated with ferns and beautiful cut flowers. The punch table was garlanded with green vines with pink flowers.

There were five tables of bridge played. Miss Gene Wicker making the highest score, won first prize a pretty silver flagrant perfume bottle. The guest of honor was presented with a dainty handpainted pin. A delicious two course luncheon was served on the front veranda.

The recipients of Mrs. Hurts hospitality were: Misses Rosa Dickinson, Mabel Bowler, Gene Wicker, Flossie Frank, Gelsie Butt, Belle Smith, Eva Martin, Linda Leffler, Irene Brady, Mabel Hand, Annie Higgins, Mrs. George Fox Jr., Lillian Higgins and Adelaide Higgins.

At Mrs. Newman's
Mrs. Robt. Newman entertained most delightfully at cards in her charming home, Wednesday afternoon. Three tables of bridge were played. Mrs. J. W. Dickins made the top score and received the first prize, a beautiful pair of white silk hose. The booby prize fell to the lot of Mrs. O. W. Brady, also a beautiful pair of blue silk hose. A delicious salad course was served in the dining room. The decorations were red, with red rose shades on the candles. Mrs. Newman's guests were, Mesdames W. R. Anno, W. D. Holden, C. O. McLaughlin, O. W. Brady, J. W. Dickins, Forrest Lake, J. F. Gonzales, Samuel Puleston, Paul Keeley, G. F. Smith, Geo. Fox, Jr.

Returns Part of Salary
County Treasurer J. J. Head, of Hillsborough county, has established a unique record. He has returned to the school fund of this county since January 1, 1911 the sum of $5,000, which is the amount more than the $2,000 per year salary and office expenses, which he told the voters of the county during the recent campaign he considered sufficient emoluments for the office. He also announces that he will not again be candidate for the office, as he believes in rotation in office.

Dr. Head selected the school fund as the beneficiary of his office, believing the money placed at the disposal of the school board would result in the greatest good to the greatest number. Under the law the county treasurer's office in this county draws emoluments for the man in charge of about $10,000 a year. Dr. Head believes he can turn back to the county, through the school fund, at least $7,000 per annum.

Back from New York
David and Wideman Caldwell have returned from New York where they spent a week looking up the best bargains for their department store in this city. They state that at no time in the past have they brought such a large stock of fine goods to Sanford and the prices will materially reduce the high cost of living. A glance at their advertisement in this issue will convince you of the truth of their statement. Caldwell's is the place for the provident buyer.

Mrs. Overman Returns
Mrs. J. H. Overman has returned from a six weeks' visit to relatives in Indiana, Missouri and Kentucky. While away Mrs. Overman attended the missionary openings in Indianapolis, St. Louis, Louisville and Atlanta, acquainting herself with the new fall headgear and buying her stock. Watch the papers for the announcement of her opening over Yowell's store.

Tribute to Phil Parramore

Mr. Phil J. Parramore died at his home at 315 East Monroe street at two-thirty Friday morning.

His light went out just as turning off an electric lamp. If he was ill a single moment before his death, no one knew it save the silent witness now sleeping under the sod at Sanford. For this is where we shipped his remains to be interred at 10 o'clock Saturday morning.

"Phil" Parramore as he was generally known, was born in Madison, Florida, March 26, 1850. He was a gentleman to the manner born. We have never known a man of more genuine, natural polish and refinement.

It was old Bayard Taylor who first said "The bravest are the tenderest, the loving are the daring." At the tender age of fourteenth, Phil Parramore ran away from home to join the ranks of the Confederacy headed by the gallant Captain Smith-Parramore, only to receive a sound "spanking" and sent back home to his mother. The surrender at Appomattox shortly after this incident ended young Parramore's fighting career. But even in those days, they never made them any "gamers."

He continued his residence in Madison until in 1873, when he moved to Sanford. It was there that three years later he married Miss Ida Sirrine, who survives him, together with their three children, Phil, Jr., Miss Annie and Mrs. W. H. Mitchell, all of this city.—Jacksonville Floridian.

CULLED FROM THE STATE PRESS

An Epitome of the Week's Most Important Happenings in the State's Domain.

H. R. Colson, a laborer employed at the Coronet phosphate company's mine at Coronet, three miles from Plant City, met his death in horrible manner Monday morning, being literally roasted by electric wires stretched across the roof of the main building of the power plant which operates the machinery of the plant. One of the big copper wires burned its way clear through his body.

In the course of a few months more New Smyrna will have another bank, under the name of the Fidelity Bank of New Smyrna. The incorporators are C. B. Larner, of St. Augustine; Dr. L. B. Bouchette, of New Smyrna; Bert Rish, and J. W. Perkins, of Deland, and A. E. Anderson, of Kingston, N. Y.

C. E. Harper, assistant manager of the Southern Express Company at Apalachicola, was drowned Monday morning, when he fell from the pier at Black Point. The young man, who was a civilian, was visiting his friends composing the Apalachicola company and was accompanying several members from Jacksonville to the camp as their guest. When he arrived at the pier in embarking from the launch he mis-stepped and fell overboard.

Lakeland's new union station will be opened to the public on the first of Nov. It is understood that this will be the largest and best building of its kind anywhere on the Atlantic Coast Line between Jacksonville and Tampa, and will cost more than $25,000.

Rollins College will open its doors at Winter Park on the 4th of next month for the twenty-seventh years work. Many improvements have been made on the college buildings and campus during the summer.

S. D. Prince, a member of the W. B. Phifer Company, naval stores and mill operators, has demonstrated the fertility of Alachua county soil in the production of corn. Mr. Prince planted to corn three acres of what is termed common pine land located at Phifer's, near Rochelle, in the spring, and has just completed harvesting the crop, which was 94 1/2 bushels to the acre, or 286 1/2 bushels in all. The corn shelled and a peck to the barrel, which is considered an exceptionally good yield.—Gainesville Sun.

J. H. Beck, a widely known and wealthy sawmill operator, died here this afternoon as the result of being crushed in the machinery of his own mill. The accident occurred about 2 o'clock this afternoon. Mr. Beck getting caught on a shaft. His legs were pulled into the machinery and mashes to a jelly, his left forearm broken and his right arm mashed almost flat. He died two hours later. Mr. Beck was one of the wealthiest mill operators in this section and came from Ringgold, Pa.

Report comes through the St. Augustine Record that a movement is on foot at Hastings and Elkton to effect an organization of the potato growers through which there can be a cooperative handling of the crop. A preliminary meeting was held at Elkton and further meetings will soon be held.

Mrs. Bruton Will Move
Mrs. J. H. Bruton, will remove her stock of Millinery and Notions to the Bishop Block, corner Palmetto Avenue, and First street. This room has been remodeled and put in first class shape, and Mrs. Bruton announces that she will carry a much larger stock of Millinery now that larger quarters have been provided. Just a block from the postoffice and the walk will bring you to one of the finest stocks in the city. The announcement of the Fall Opening will be given later.

Bell is a Farmer Right

J. W. Bell, the genial farmer from Monroe was in the city on Thursday getting his fall printing ready for his commission business. Mr. Bell exudes good nature from every pore, stands six feet, weighs about 290 and is one of the most successful growers in the celery delta making over $3000 last season from two acres on the intensive farming plan.

NETTED $3,085 FROM SIX ACRES

Profits Made From Small Farm During Less Than a Year

Editor Times-Union: A short while ago I sent you a statement of the crop account of one of our planters at Sanford who, in operating a two-acre farm during the season of 1910-1911, made a clear profit of $2,364.43. This was done on the highly intensive plan. It demonstrates that a small area carefully cultivated can be made to yield handsome profits on the initial outlay for land, buildings, fertilizers, labor and packing. A farm of the two-acre size can be operated with the minimum of expense for the various items entering into crop production and this has initiated many of our planters here into the belief that the future successful vegetable grower of this state will be the man who with himself and one helper will make a couple of acres yield profits commensurate with the outlay of growers who operate on a greater scale, plant a greater area, have a greater consequent expense and at the same time produce less in proportion than the man with highly accentuated ideas relative to intensive farming of minute areas.

In an interview with another type of growers one who operates a six-acre farm here during the vegetable producing season and at its close returns to his home in North Carolina and there looks after his grain farm during the summer months, the following facts were elicited.

This gentleman purchased a nine-acre farm here some four years ago for $1,200 and made enough clear profits in two years to pay for the property. Last season his operations covered the cultivation of six acres of the land he owns, with the following results:

Farm Products Sold
1,600 hampers of lettuce	$1,800.00
1,130 crates of celery	1,415.00
125 crates of cauliflower	150.00
200 bushels of corn, value	200.00
6 tons of German millet	120.00
75 crates of cabbage	125.00
160 crates of sweet corn	240.00
40 barrels of Irish potatoes	160.00
Total income, all sources	$4,210.00
Expense Growing Crops:
Labor	$300.00
Fertilizer	500.00
Crates	725.00	$1,125.00
Total net profit from season's operations	$3,085.00

It will be seen that this is a trifle over $500 per acre profit for the season and represents 40 per cent of the present valuation of the farm, which is now held at $12,000 for the nine acres. The owner of this farm spends his summers on his North Carolina farm and he avers that if he were to remain here the entire year through and give all his attention to his truckgrowing business here that he would be able to make a much larger percentage than shown in the above statement.—Sanford, Florida.

THE FALL PROSPECT

Outlook for Most Prosperous Season in Sanford

CROP GROWERS GETTING BUSY

New Wholesale Grocery and Several Retail Stores to Start in Business

Sanford being in the heart of the greatest trucking center of the world naturally depends largely upon the crops for the money that circulates in all the channels of trade. At this time of the year when the summer is on the wane and the fall crop is ready to plant—an added impetus is given to every business in Sanford. Not only have all the seed beds of the growers been planted but lettuce plants are being set out, the two growers who rank among the first being E. L. Brown on the east side and J. H. Miller on the west. The lettuce crop is an early one and always brings in good returns about holiday time thus greatly stimulating the trade in this city.

In mercantile circles a new wholesale grocery will start in Sanford and according to reports will be known as the Merchant's Wholesale Grocery.

Mr. F. W. Miller will open a retail grocery in the Clark building and expects to be ready for the trade in a few weeks. Mr. Miller will carry a complete line of groceries and sell for cash only.

The new crate factory will commence work on the building in a few weeks and the lake front will soon assume a busy appearance.

Altogether the signs of the coming season are most propitious and Sanford bids fair to get that 10,000 mark soon.

Sanford At The Beach

W. J. Thigpen, C. C. Howard, A. E. Yowell, W. L. Morgan, Frank Milteer and W. D. Holden made the trip to the beach last Saturday going the new road to Coronado Beach where they had supper and then left for Daytona Beach where they spent Sunday. Messrs. Thigpen, Morgan and Howard returned home Sunday night the others staying over Monday to enjoy the fine fishing and surf bathing. Mr. Holden proved to be the champion fisherman and landed a fifteen pound sea bass and to prove the story brought it home with him. On the return trip the party encountered a flock of wild turkeys near DeLand and the sight aroused the hunter's instinct so strong in Arthur Yowell that he threw a light wood knot at the birds. Arthur said if the law was only out he would have attempted to run one of the turkeys down and brought it home.

The party had a fine trip and enjoyed every minute of their short stay. If Volusia county would get busy and put this new road to Smyrna in good condition the Sanford people would fill the beach resorts every week as the trip could be made in two hours at ordinary speed and more people would be induced to enjoy the surf bathing and fishing.

Announcement

The B. & O Motor Co., wish to announce that they will soon be in their new building, which will be one of the best garages south of Jacksonville, and will have a complete line of supplies and sundries, also have a complete machine shop.

Mr. J. R. Holland is one of the best posted automobile men in the state, and has made a success of the business in this place. He has associated with him in his new business Oliver A. Hayes, who comes here well recommended as an automobile mechanic, having worked in some of the best shops in N. Y. Mr. Holland needs no recommendation as he is too well known as an automobile man. B. & O. Motor Co., have the agency for the Overland cars, and if you are in the market for a good car, call and see them. See 1912 Overland before you buy.

Will Attend Annapolis

THE EPWORTH TRAINING SCHOOL

Opened at Enterprise For Fall Term Last Wednesday

Epworth Training School, located at Enterprise, Florida, opened its doors to students Wednesday, September 27th.

Though the institution is in its infancy and has been advertised for only a short time yet letters of inquiry are coming in from all parts of the country. Already students have been enrolled from Florida, Georgia, North Carolina, South Carolina; Kentucky, Tennessee, Connecticut, Massachusetts, Indian and Missouri.

Epworth Training School is not in competition with or opposition to any other institution but is striving to make provision especially for those young people whose means are limited and who otherwise could not be in school.

The school owns 1280 acres of land and operates a Christian Tourist Hotel. The management means to foster the industrial feature.

This institution thoroughly believes that the best way to help a student is to help him to help himself; hence it offers to every student sufficient employment to meet at least half his expenses. This makes it possible for students to educate themselves at less expense than the cost of living at home.

Quite a number of applicants can not meet even the half of their expenses, so at this time a students' loan fund is being provided.

This school is distinctly Christian and a number of the students are studying for the ministry or foreign field.

The following courses are offered: General, Academic, Piano, Voice, Expression, Bible, Domestic Science, Domestic Art.

The faculty is as follows:
H. P. Carpenter, A. B. Winchester, Ky., President

Miss Lulu H. Crum, Atlanta, Ga., Lady Principal, Bible and English

Miss Mamie C. Towson, A. B. Cairo, Ga., Latin

Miss Dorothy L. Crum, Atlantic, Ga., Mathematics

A. A. Preston's Nephew Killed

Sheriff W. D. Preston, of DeSha county and Deputy Sheriff Barney Stiel of Little Rock, were killed in a pistol battle with a party of negroes near Dumas, Ark., Tuesday afternoon. Three negroes were also killed. Preston and Stiel were endeavoring to arrest several of the negroes wanted in Little Rock. When the posse headed by Preston and Stiel approached the home of Lee and Charles Malpass the men wanted, the former opened fire killing the sheriff. Stiel returned the fire killing the negro and in turn Stiel was shot to death by Charles Malpass. Another of the posse then killed the last named negro. Charlie Malpass, Sr., father of the two men killed was mortally wounded when he ran from the house firing on the posse as he ran. Two other occupants of the Malpass home, the mother of the men killed and their younger brother escaped and up to a late hour tonight had not been captured.

Sheriff Preston is a nephew of A. A. Preston of this city and was prominent in Arkansas.

Will Attend The University

Kenneth Murrell, and Osborne Herndon, left last Monday for Gainesville where they will enter the University of Florida. Both of them are young men anxious to absorb knowledge and make a place for themselves in the business world, and their parents are to be commended for sending them to a Florida college.

Capt. K. R. Murrell, and Walter Beattie accompanied them in Capt. Murrell's car. We hope to hear good reports from the boys, and commend them to our Gainesville friends, and there are no better people on earth than the Gainesville people, and no better school on earth than the University of Florida.

HAPPENINGS DURING THE WEEK

Here the Readers Will Find a Brief Historical Spring Flowing For Hurried Readers

Havoc of life more appalling than war's fiercest clash could have wrought occurred on the French battleship Liberte, last Monday at Toulon, France, sweeping flames which ate their way into the fighting vessel's magazines. Terrific explosions that followed killed from 350 to 500 men. Most of the death toll is confined to the Liberte's roster, but men and officers of other French ships lying at anchor off Toulon were killed when they went to the rescue of the doomed Liberte's tars.

Postoffice authorities took steps this week to lay their hands on a large sum, probably $100,000 in cash, which they believe was kept in reserve by Jared Flagg, Jr., and others who were arrested on Saturday, charged with violating the postal laws to defraud investors.

The closing chapter in the tragedy which began at the Municipal theater Kiev, Russia, on the night of September 14, when Premier Peter A. Stolypin was fatally wounded by an assassin's bullet, was enacted Monday, when the assassin, Dugrit Bogrof, paid the penalty of his crime with his life. He was hanged in the courtyard of the prison.

Oscar W. Hall a well-to-do farmer living near Anderson S. C., was shot and killed by his 18-year-old son, Walter, at their home late last night. The boy, it is declared, was protecting his mother. The elder Hall returned home intoxicated and attempted to force whiskey upon the boy, who was ill in bed. Mrs. Hall interfered and the father struck her over the head with a broomhandle. She fled from the house, followed by her husband, who had a rifle. The boy staggered out of bed, secured a 22-caliber revolver, and shot his father three times. The latter fell dead in the yard.

A strike on all the Harriman lines, including the Illinois Central, will be called as soon as the presidents of the international shopmen's unions involved can fix upon the day and hour, according to J. W. Kline, president of the International Blacksmiths.

Farmers, bankers and business men from every section of South Carolina are gathering Columbia to participate in a conference having for its object the discussion of plans for marketing the cotton crop.

Rumors are rife that war will be declared between Italy and Turkey with Tripoli as the bone of contention.

Today is the day of grace in the threatened strike of 35,000 mechanics, employed on the Harriman railroads, including the Illinois Central, several hundred of the clerks, of which line are now on strike. Time for final action in calling the men out has been postponed until tomorrow, as the result of a conference held last night among the international union officers.

Regals in Town

The famous underslung Regal car has been secured by the Keely Garage and the special price they have made on them will make this wonderful car very popular in Sanford. Dr. O. W. King purchased a Regal roadster this week and the beautiful lines of the underslung model have made the Regal a much talked of car. The Regal has all the power and is easily controlled the underslung feature making it impossible to overturn the light models. This feature is only embodied in the Regal cars this being the only reasonable priced underslung car on the market. Ask the man.

Hendersonville to Sanford in Cole "30"

Mr. and Mrs. D. L. Thrasher and little daughter of Sanford were in Gainesville Wednesday. They were in route home from a sojourn at Hendersonville, N. C., and made the journey in a Cole "30" touring car.

While in the city Mr. Thrasher and family were guests at the hospitable home of Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Padgett, 506 Franklin street, East Gainesville, they having become acquainted during the summer at Hendersonville.—Gainesville Sun.

CURBSTONE GLEANINGS

A Budget of Opinion "Just Between You and Me"

EVEN THE GATE POST NOT IN IT

A Chiel Is Among Ye Taking Notes and Faith, He'll Prent 'Em"—So Says Saunterer.

¶ Campaign must be warming up some. I noticed Mayor Lake carrying a rifle down the street the other day which is rather an unusual occurrence for him. He explained that he was only on pleasure bent and not politically inclined.

¶ Several times last year I spoke about the land sharks operating in Florida and the Herald also called attention to the cheap lands being put upon the market in competition with Sanford lands and labeled just as good. In spite of the many warnings the people rushed over to the colony called Celery City and purchased lands that were supposed to have flowing wells, drainage and the necessary hard pan to successfully institute the subirrigation system. But my surprise was greatest when the whole bubble burst last week and now the home-suckers not only have a poor grade of land but they cannot get a dime to buy the property they have thrown away. The Palm Beach News has the following to say regarding this fake land scheme:

"In another column we reprint an article from the DeLand News regarding a fraudulent land proposition near Sanford. It is such frauds that bring discredit upon honest land deals in the State, for ill-comment travels upon wings, while praise burrows through the earth.

The head of this company was probably one of the most tricky and unreliable, unprincipled wretches that ever wore out shoe-leather in Jacksonville. The newspapers of that city knew of him and really knew him; and recognized the fact that any deal he foisted upon the public must perforce be dishonest and unclean—yet did any paper in Jacksonville throw out warning? Did they state that land which had never been bought was being advertised and sold in small tracts to comparatively poor people of the north and west who means were sure to be exhausted, by the time they were located?

Not a word did these papers utter. Yet they decry any adverse criticism the state was receiving through actions of men for less despicable than those conducting the Volusia Company. At the same time those metropolitan papers took no steps to expose what they knew absolutely to be a fraud of the most heartless variety.

The midnight mauler who holds up his victim at the point of a gun and robs him of his purse is a silk-hatted gentleman as compared to the being who will advertise what he knows is untrue to induce conservative people to leave their home, come to a new country and spend their few remaining dollars to improve a property to which they can never obtain the title.

It may be late in the day to suggest it, but Florida would be the gainer if it had a public inspector whose duty it should be to investigate every land proposition in the state, look after titles and censor the advertising. It should be money in the pocket of the state of Florida—and her fame for honest dealing and fair transactions would become world-wide.

¶ The making of the budget becomes a tedious task when it is done but once a year. A better plan is to lay aside sums sufficient to cover each department. The following from the St. Augustine Record indicates that they are waking up to the fact that the budget should be made up and published every month:

"Nothing has proven a greater pitfall to any city council in St. Augustine than the making up of the budget. Every year the budget has been made up for the ensuing twelve months, improvements have been provided for, everyone talked progress and the sun shone bright. When the revenue began to come in it fell a little short, the clouds of discord blew up, maybe the improvements were made and maybe they were not and the city was facing a deficit at the end of the year. Everyone worked conscientiously but there was a flaw somewhere. Before the Masters administration it was a pretty serious flaw.

Savannah is one of the most conservatively governed cities in the United States. Every cent expended by the municipal government gives the taxpayers value returned in full. It is the custom there for each department head to make estimates for the new year. The committees work along the same line and in harmony with the department heads. Each asks for much more than he expects to get. The amount of revenue is estimated and a total of expenditure within that figure is set. The various estimates are sliced down judiciously and with fairness until the possible total of expenditure is reached.

St. Augustine can adopt the same plan. It has already been urged and only last Wednesday night Alderman Campbell strongly insisted that it should be done. The budget can be made up more intelligently than ever before with such figures at hand. The total must not be based upon the total amount of estimated revenue. That may fall short.

After the budget is made up the plan advocated by Alderman Crichtow should be placed in force. Under its provisions the treasurer each week will show in his report the amount drawn against each budget item and the balance remaining. Council will thus constantly have the information at its finger tips as to just where it stands.

Council has this opportunity to start things on a new plane within the next few weeks.

¶ I received several anonymous communications this week some of them being dirty flings against several candidates, digging into their past history and bringing up family secrets. I cannot write a personal letter to these blackguards because I do not know their names but once and for all want to say that I never yet hit a man below the belt. When I get into politics it is with both feet and no one can talk faster than yours truly but I would only attack a man on his political record and give such facts about his fitness for office. The family secrets and past history have no place in clean politics.

Another letter wanted to know if I proposed to quit writing for the Herald. In answer to this I will say that the present Saunterer will write as long as his wages are paid and while no active partisanship will be displayed during the present city election the Saunterer will be on the job before and after election and the city affairs will receive the same attention as of yore. I know no friend and no foe and everybody gets a square deal in this column. I could break loose and run amuck for several weeks and cause more trouble than could be patched up in the next two years but what's the use? The election should be quiet and orderly and the campaign more so and there is no need as yet for me to roll up my sleeves. Later on—well, you never can tell.

For Orphanage at Arcadia

Arcadia, Fla., Sept. 28.—Extensive preparations have been made by the management of the Florida Baptist Orphanage, located in this city, to raise a large contribution on their annual "Work Day" October 29th.

Literature has been sent to every Baptist church, Sunday school, and church society in the state, and much interest is being manifested in the effort to raise Five Thousand Dollars on this day.

Many towns are planning to have a "tag day". Many Sunday schools over the state have arranged a special program for the 29th, and in a large number of the churches, the pastors will take special collections.

This "Work Day" idea is not new, as a means to raise money for benevolent institutions, as it has been successfully tried out in nearly every Southern state, and is found to be a splendid plan.

The effort requests that every individual friend to the institution, give their earnings for the day. Quite a pleasant act for the individual and appeals to the sentiment of all friends of benevolence.

The annual "Work Day" has netted the Florida Baptist Orphanage a goodly sum heretofore, and has been so successful that the 7th of October is generally accepted to be the Annual day for individual offerings to the work.

The Florida Baptist Orphanage is a worthy benevolence. The friends over the state have indeed been loyal in their support to the home, and eight years of work has seen a wonderful growth and development in the work.

Plans are on foot for the erection of other buildings needed to enlarge their capacity for training and preparing the inmates of the home for self-support and usefulness. So all money raised on the SEVENTH is understood to apply on the Building Fund.

It is to be hoped that the management of the Home will realize their fullest expectations, and that the friends of the work will be liberal in their contributions on the Seventh.

Opening of School

The Sanford Public School will open Monday morning Oct. 2nd, at 8:30 o'clock. Let the first and second grade pupils report at the Primary building on the corner of Palmetto Ave. and 6th street. All the other grades from 3rd to 8th, inclusive, will report at the Grammar (old high school) building. High school pupils will come to the High school building. Pupils who are entering our schools for the first time excepting those entering 1st grade, must see me, in order to be graded, at the office in the High School building before reporting to their respective grades.

I will be in my office Friday, Sept. 29th, if there are any who wish to consult me about school matters.

IN FERTILE FLORIDA

Florida oranges are sunshine storage batteries.

Florida's velvet bean crop will be larger than ever this year.

The Scuppernon grape crop has been larger throughout the state.

Citrus sugars (or citrus fruit sugars) supply energy, are immediately absorbed into the blood, and digested by the simplest and more direct process.

The total production of potatoes as indicated by the September 1 report will be 259,329,000 bushels, compared with last year's final yield of 338,811,000 bushels.

Madame de Croquy, a noted French court beauty, ate thirty oranges and very little else, every day. She is said to have had the most perfect complexion ever known.

The Kissimmee Gazette says that a large guava grower in that vicinity states that guavas when made into jellies net about three dollars a bushel, and an acre planted to guavas will yield about 500 bushels.

Why boost the present orange crop as a 6,000,000 box one? Is it for the purpose of beating down prices for the growers? There will not be over 4,000,000 boxes of citrus fruit shipped out of the state the coming season—DeLand Record.

The green fruit law seems to be having the desired effect, so far we see no preparations for shipping of any fruit yet, while last year the first car of grape fruit was moved from Fugazzi grove about the 15th of Sept. It is to be hoped that this practice of shipping such immature green fruit will be entirely eliminated from the menaces of the grower.—Exchange.

We believe that the Florida orange growers will get good prices for their fruit the coming season. The distribution now is much improved, there will be no green fruit in the market to ruin the price, and people will be asking for Florida oranges throughout the season. It is estimated that the present crop will bring to the growers six or eight million dollars.—DeLand Record.

J. T. Thomas, of Plant City, operates eleven acres under the Skinner irrigation system. He commenced in December, 1910 and finishing June 1, 1911, in which time his receipts were $4,500.00 from the sale of beans, cucumbers, tomatoes, potatoes, etc. He now has enough corn and hay on the same ground as a summer crop, to pay the expense of producing the above crop.

The Experiment Station wants to call attention to the most emphatic manner to the necessity for making hay this year on the part of the farmers of the state. All the markets in the country are lacking in this commodity, and prices will run high. There are thousands of acres of our farm lands producing large grass crops which are allowed to wither and decay. This should not be so when it is so easy to make first-class hay.

Shaker Held For Murder

Kissimmee, Sept. 20.—Sensational evidence indicating that sister Sadie Marchant was not near death as alleged when chloroform was administered to her by Brother Egbert Gillette, head of the Shaker colony at Ashton, has resulted in the coroner's jury holding Brother Gillette on the charge of wilful murder. The verdict was reached last week but was not made public at once following Gillette's arrest.

The following is the verdict brought in:

"We, the coroner's jury, empaneled to consider the testimony in the case of E. B. Gillette, accused of having brought Sadie Marchant to death at Ashton by means of chloroform, administered to the said Sadie Marchant, find him to be guilty of wilful murder."

Sister Elizabeth Sears, who by her alleged confession, aided Brother Gillette in administering the chloroform, was not mentioned in the verdict, but her case, it is stated, will be presented to the grand jury for action. Brother Gillette was placed in jail here.

First reports of the death of Sister Sadie by apoplexy, indicated that she was about 70 years old and in the last stages of tuberculosis, but it is understood now that such was not the case. It is alleged that the physicians who examined the body when it was exhumed September 6, found that Sister Marchant was not in a dying condition when the chloroform was administered. She is said to have been about 34 years of age, and, except for an infection of the lungs with tuberculosis, was in good physical condition. It is declared she might well have lived many years.

And Glad to Be Alive. Some men live in the country, some in the city; others just exist.—Judge.

Homeseekers Fall To Get Title To Lands

There was recently filed in the circuit court for this county a bill for closure by Hodges, O'Hara & Russell against the Florida Home Land Company, the promoters of the colonization scheme at Celery City, in this county, involving several thousand acres of land. About 200 purchasers from the colonizers are also made parties defendant. The bill of complaint sets up that the Florida Home Land Company, of which Col. A. S. Mann seems to be the leading spirit, bought the land under an agreement to pay so much per acre as the land was disposed of. About $3,000 was all that the land company ever paid, it is alleged, although it sold home seekers many times that amount. Hodges, O'Hara & Russell then instituted the foreclosure suit and the homeseekers find that they have no claim on the property they supposed they had bought. The officers of the Florida Home Land Company have assured the settlers that their interests will be protected, but it is the opinion of many that the settlers will have to whistle. The incident is pitiful in many cases, as some of the settlers sold their all in Northern States in order to get here and buy the little pieces of land which they presumed that they owned. It is stated that Hodges, O'Hara and Russell will be as lenient as possible with the settlers who desire to buy the land from them, making as low a price as they might ordinarily get per acre on the sale of large tracts. ## Ideal Conditions That Make The Celery Delta The Greatest In The South

G. W. CHAPIN, IN INDUSTRIAL RECORD

"I wouldn't want to go to the farmers in the North and West and tell them what we are actually doing, and what profits we are making per acre here in Sanford. They wouldn't believe me and a man hates to have his word doubted. But when these farmers come here we can take them out into our fields, let them count the crates of lettuce and celery that we get from a measured acre of land, let them see us take it to the shipping station here and get the cash for it—then they will know we are not exaggerating."

This was the unique confession made to the writer by a Sanford man who has made himself independent by handling these crops in the rich "celery delta" surrounding this little Florida city.

"I'm one of the pioneers of the celery industry in Sanford," said another. "I've been raising celery and lettuce here for fourteen years and I've made money every year. What is my best record? Well, I cleared in one season $1,500 an acre from sixteen acres."

This was the testimony of another Sanford man who name is known all over southern and western market. He was financially ruined by the freeze of 1895, which practically wiped out the orange industry in the state. His wealth is now estimated from half a million dollars upward and he has made it cultivating Sanford lands. Many others might be quoted in like manner and to the effect, for vegetable growing in this remarkable section has developed to a high degree by men of activity, energy and enterprise, who have seized upon their opportunities, and of them have made themselves rich.

So much has been said about the productivity of Sanford's wealth-producing acres—much of it exaggerated—that The Record has believed it wise to gather the actual facts from authoritative sources and by close observation and investigation.

Sanford is situated in the lake section of Middle Florida. It lies on the south side of Lake Monroe, an enlargement of the St. Johns river, 125 miles south of Jacksonville. This body of water is about four miles wide by six or seven miles long. Some six miles south of the little city lies Lake Jessup, a pretty body of water which also has its modifying influence upon the climate. In other directions are bodies of water and streams which add to the mildness and equableness of the climate and the beauty of the climate and the beauty of the section. The climate is mild, but this does not mean that the section is below the frost line and not subject to occasional cold snaps. It is a fact, however, backed by the authority of reliable men who have lived here for years, that with the exception of the great freeze already referred to which practically swept the northern two-thirds of the state, no cold has wrought serious damage within the memory of the present generation.

The soil is dark sandy loam. It is mellow in character and by capillary attraction carries and holds moisture in uniform distribution. From two to four feet beneath the surface is an impervious substratum of clay which holds water like a rubber blanket. Lying under this district is a great subterranean body of water, slightly charged with sulphur, which evaporates quickly on exposure to the air. It is from 75 to 150 feet below the surface and when reached by artesian wells it rises by natural pressure in an ever-flowing and seemingly inexhaustible supply for irrigation and for all the purposes.

Such are the natural conditions which have contributed much to success in the raising of the vegetable crops for which Sanford is famous. Lettuce and celery are the crops which have been advertised as the main sources of her wealth, but they are not, by any means, the sole products of this rich soil.

There are something more than 10,000 acres in this section which are known to be underlain by this artesian water supply. Between 2,000 and 2,500 of these acres have been put under cultivation and the cultivated district is being rapidly extended. The new land is held at from $125 to $200 an acre and it is sold at these prices with the guarantee that flowing water may be reached by driven wells. Much of the adjoining territory immediately adjoining the Sanford Celery Belt has given the idea that the remarkable results gained from some of these lands are to be had by anyone coming from anywhere and without experience, who has only to buy the land, put in the crops and in a few months have as many thousands of dollars with bank as he has bought acres. This is not true. It is well to give a frank statement of actual conditions. In order that outside investors may not be misled and that justice may be done to Sanford and her surroundings. The actual facts are good enough without exaggeration.

Above the initial cost of the land, which is usually covered by a heavy growth of palmetto, pine trees and other vegetation, the cost of clearing varies from $50 to $80 an acre, say an average of $60. The soil is easily worked, but lettuce and celery can not be profitably planted the first season after clearing, better not until the third. The natural soil has an acidity which must be worked out by cultivation and by a careful use of fertilizers. Therefore, the wise planter following the advice and experience of those who have made success here, will plant Irish potatoes, sweet potatoes, cabbage or other vegetables which will thrive on new ground. From any one of these crops he should reap a substantial reward, and it is not claiming too much that he should net in the first and second seasons from these crops approximately one-half to two-thirds of the original cost of the land.

Some Sanford growers insist that it is not possible to grow vegetables with any degree of certainty of success anywhere in Florida, without irrigation. Some others may differ from this contention, but it is not a question for discussion here. It is a fact that the subirrigation system is used all over this section. Several hundred wells have been sunk and are in operation today. Consequently, before the cultivation of lettuce and celery is undertaken an irrigation plant should be put in.

The unit of this system is five acres. For each five acres an artesian well is driven and is cased with a two-inch or two and a half inch pipe. The well is capped so that the flow of water may be cut off whenever desired. The natural flow from a well of this size is not far from 10,000 gallons an hour. The well discharges into a main supply pipe from four to six inches in diameter, running the length of the field, usually through the middle, and with a slight rise so that the flow of water is from the well toward the drain at the further end. Frapping this main at intervals of twenty feet, is a series of lateral lines, three inches in diameter, running to the opposite sides of the field and terminating in upright tiles a foot or more in diameter. These lateral drains are also laid on a slight slant to direct the flow of the water. The separate tiles are not cemented together at the joints, but are laid with fiber over the joints so as to keep out dirt and allow the seeping of the water into the soil. The services of an engineer are called in to give the proper levels in laying this system of drains. In the upright tile in which every lateral terminates, a plug by which the water may be kept in the drain pipes. It is also arranged that the water may be cut off from any of the lateral pipes so as to supply irrigation in any part of the field where it is needed, keeping it from those parts which may not need it.

Even more important, if possible, than the irrigation value of the system is its usefulness for draining the land. In case of heavy rain making the soil wetter than is desired, the supply of water is allowed to drain out through the laterals into the ditches at the edge of the field. So perfectly does this system work in soil for drainage purposes, that it is possible to go on the lands work with plow or hoe within an hour after a heavy downfall of rain. This system has been described so particularly because it is an essential feature in the working of Sanford lands.

The cost of this irrigation and drainage system, including the well, is estimated at $100 an acre. In some instances it runs as high as $125. The cost of the land, therefore, ready for lettuce and celery is from $300 to $325, an expenditure of two years of time. But the value of the crops for the first two years makes the land a source of income from the first year.

Land thus prepared is held at $1,000 an acre and upward. Any commodity has different values, according to the viewpoint from which it is estimated. City real estate for instance, would be priced at a value on which it would pay a reasonable income at a fixed rate of interest. Another value would depend upon whether or not the owner wishes to sell and on how anxious the buyer was to acquire new holdings. Perhaps all these elements may have something to do with fixing the values of improved lands at and near Sanford. But here are actual prices that have been paid for such property by growers who are engaged in the cultivation of these crops at Sanford and who have wished to add to their acreage. It is at least supposable that these men know the worth of the lands they have bought. Ten acres were sold for $12,500; two five-acre tracts were sold for $1,750 an acre, and a successful celery man annexed 35 acres adjoining his own celery farm and paid $35,000 for the tract.

The marketing of these Sanford crops has been regulated and improved through the agency of the Florida Vegetable Growers Association. Shipping facilities have been bettered by it the settlement of claims for loss and damage in shipping have been much accelerated. Sanford vegetable growers sell their products by consignment to brokers in outside markets, on direct orders from dealers in the north and west, or direct to buyers f. o. b. at Sanford, who pay cash on delivery of the goods. Through the association every member may inform himself daily of the current prices quoted in all the principal outside markets; he may know how many carloads of vegetables are en-route to these cities and when they are due to arrive, and from this information he may determine for himself the value of his his goods. The larger portion of the lettuce and celery crops of the present season has been sold direct to the buyers at Sanford, and the many advantages of this system are making it most in favor. The product goes forward in refrigerator cars by fast freight, occupying forty-eight hours to New York and corresponding lengths of time to other markets. For the doing of these cars the entire output of a large plant is needed. Since the organization of the vegetable growers, products are sold largely f. o. b., Sanford. The express rate to New York, so claim the shippers, is altogether too high. It is 78 cents a crate.

Reference has been made so far in this article mainly to the growing lettuce and celery in this rich Sanford district. The cultivation and harvesting of these crops occupy only about seven months of the year, but don't think for a minute that these Sanford growers stop with this. There is a number of so-called spring crops which add materially to the value of the per-acre production. The celery grower, who is quoted at the beginning of this article, remarked to the writer that when he had finished gathering his lettuce and celery he had enough and was willing to give his hands a rest and take one himself for the other five months. But this man lets a summer crop of crabgrass cover the land. It doesn't require any attention, it just grows like Topsy and produces from three to four tons an acre of the best hay that grows in Florida, which is worth from $16 to $20 a ton.

Most of the growers follow that crop with others which are raised with much less effort and with no additional fertilizer. Some of the crops and their average production per acre are the following:

Cucumbers	$100 to $300
Sweet potatoes	$100 to $150
Eggplant	$100 to $300
Irish potatoes	$150
Beans	$200
Tomatoes	$250

Cantaloupes and watermelons are proving successful. Corn on these lands averages 50 bushels to the acre and sells for 90 cents or better. Cauliflower, a fall crop, produces 400 to 500 crates to the acre and sells for $1.25 a crate. Cabbage is an easy crop to raise any time in the year. It produces 250 crates to the acre and is worth $1.25 a crate. Spinach is also a profitable crop and citrons have been cultivated successfully. Some remarkable successes have been made by intensive cultivation of several crops. One grower of peppers has one acre under canvass cover and from this acre he has sold already this season more than $3,000 worth of the profitable vegetable, and there is more to come from the same acre.

Sanford is advantageously situated as regards transportation. Five rail lines lead from the city, connecting it with all the principal markets of the state and of the country. These are the Florida East Coast Railway, the Sanford and Everglades and the Atlantic Coast Line, which has three lines from this point. In addition, the Clyde River Line by daily sailings to Jacksonville and intermediate points connects with all shipping lines in the metropolis of the state and affords cheap freight rates to all ports. Sanford is a division headquarters for the Atlantic Coast Line and the immense tonnage moved from here insures good service.

Sanford has been made what it is by the energies of live men. With a population somewhat more than 5,000, an increase of about 40 per cent since 1910, it has many beautiful homes, well paved streets, water-works, gas and electric lights, a fire department and all the conveniences that belong to up-to-date towns. It is the center of more commercial activity than any other city of its size in Florida and probably in any of the Southeastern States. It is the largest inland town in the state.

Two hundred of its business men and citizens are organized into the Sanford Commercial Club, a body of men enthusiastic over what they have accomplished and healthfully sanguine as to the future. They are planning big things for the development of their city and the past promises that the years to come will make Sanford the center of one of the richest communities in the entire south.

NERVOUSNESS WRECKS WOMEN'S LIVES

Scientific Discovery That Is The Only Known Cure For The Disease

Nervousness in women is almost invariably the result of some female trouble. For this reason it is useless to take an ordinary nerve tonic or nerve remedy and expect to be cured.

The only way for women to cure their nervousness and get well is by the use of Renos's New Health, the remedy which cures all weaknesses and female troubles, stopping the drain and giving perfect health and natural action to the whole system.

When there is a drain upon the nervous system, due to female weakness, you are irritable, inflexible and feel as though you wanted to scream or fly. The slamming of a door almost throws you into hysterics, your nerves are shattered and people speak of you as a nervous wreck.

Renos's New Health will cure all drains upon the nervous system, surely and thoroughly relieving Scurvy, Profuse, Painful, Irregular or Suppressed Menstruation, Sickly Periods, Constant Weariness and Weakness, Depression, Cramps, Dizziness, Violent Headache, Palpitation of the Heart, Pain in the Back and Groins, Leucorrhoea and all Inflammation, Ulceration and Discharges of the Vagina and Uterus.

This wonderful remedy is offered to your eyes, an absolute guarantee of money back on first bottle if it fails to relieve. Every nervous woman owes it to herself to use this medicine faithfully and become well and strong. It tones, invigorates and strengthens the system and so regulates and helps circulation that every organ is brought to the performance of its natural functions.

Renos's New Health may be used with confidence by the most delicate, young or old. It is purely vegetable and contains no opium or harmful ingredients. It is the prescription of an eminent physician who spent his life in learning how to cure women's diseases, and the only remedy is the result of his labor.

Do not let the day go by without starting on the road to health with this scientific remedy which is offered you on a guarantee of money back if it fails to cure.

Seed beds are being planted and business is looking up.

Another aviator was killed this week on Long Island.

The public schools opens next week and the children should be preparing to be on the job. A good start is half the fight and every scholar should be in his place on Monday morning.

Former Attorney-General W. H. Ellis has announced his candidacy for the position of Congressman at large. Mr. Ellis is now attorney for the trustees of the Internal Improvement Fund and is one of the best known men in Florida.

Hon. Forrest Lake of this city may enter the lists as a candidate for congressman at large (whatever that means). Mr. Lake will make a strong fight for the place and will come from a section where there is no candidate as yet.

Sanford schools have a wide reputation and many new people will settle here this year to take advantage of our fine school facilities. This year gives great promise for our girls and boys and the parents should take more than a passing interest in the schools.

Sanford, the celery center of the Florida peninsula, is the title of an illustrated write-up published in the Financial Industrial Record for September 15. The story is from the pen of Editor George M. Chapin, and is of great interest to all who have a desire to know of this splendid feature of agricultural Florida. The climate, soil, conditions and the time, labor and money necessary to successfully raise celery in Florida are each given attention and the special illustrations, made on the fields give ample information as to what has been done. The Record is most attractive in its special features and will prove interesting to its large number of readers.—Times-Union.

FOR COUNTY TREASURER
 The Herald announced, several months ago, that at the proper time it would present the name of Capt. Richard H. Marks to the voters of Orange county as a candidate for election to the office of county treasurer. Capt. Marks is certainly the man for the place. He has been a resident of the county for forty years, and has probably done as much for the upbuilding of the county as any other man of his means, and he is now past the prime of life, but fully as competent as any man in the county to perform the duties of the office; and we feel that he is entitled to it, and believe the voters of the county will join us in trying to effect his election. This is an office that requires very little work and pays a handsome salary, about $2,000. You all know him, and you know there is no better man for the job in the county, and he needs it. As he says, "the other three candidates for the office are all good men, but they are all young men and competent to make a living at their various avocations, which he is not. Get together and elect him at the first primary and not have the expense and annoyance of a second primary."

THE ELEVATOR BREAKS DOWN
 The following from the Gainesville Sun would indicate that something has happened to Bro. Bullock of the Gainesville Elevator:

After six years' continuous publication The Elevator, a weekly newspaper published in this city, has suspended publication, for a time at least. Editor Bullock has conducted The Elevator with ability, and the publication has been a clean one in every respect. Following is Editor Bullock's notice of suspension:

"Egrec of circumstances, distinct from the regular business of a newspaper office and which are beyond our power to control, compel after this month the suspension of this paper for the present. When everything is satisfactorily settled, then the big cylinder press will resume its revolutions and the sharp click of the type in the stick will again be pleasant music to the professional ear. To our many friends we wish to assure them that their steadfast, kindly aid has been highly appreciated and that we have a tender spot in our heart for them always; for the knockers we have nothing but pity. We ask our exchanges not to cut us off, as it would be parting from many dear friends, and we are not sure yet of being a way very long."

BRICKS TAKING ROOT
 The Sanford Herald states that "the question of a brick road from the ferry to the Osceola county line is taking root in the minds of the most progressive people of Orange county and many of those who were not in favor of a million dollar bond issue are heartily in favor of a brick road for this distance."

We sincerely hope the idea is rooting deeply. We don't know. Right in Orlando, where it would naturally be supposed the brick roads demonstrations should have converted the most doubtful, the vote against bonds and brick roads was the strongest. How to build brick roads, when the income from taxes is not sufficient to keep up the present, system is answerable in only one way and that is, bonds.

The two questions "belong" to each other. The opponents to bonding promised to show us the way by another route, but as yet they have not shown us. To build and "pay as you go" is impossible without the where withal to pay with.

The people have spoke against bonding; at least for so large a sum as a million, but if, as the Herald suggests, "let the districts that really are in favor of brick roads have them, without forcing them upon districts that do not want them," is the true solution and is feasible; why not?

And if there is a district in which the idea really has taken root, let it pave the way and convince other districts of the wisdom of the plan.

We were for bonding and for brick roads. We are still for brick roads, by any means safe and sane.—Orlando Citizen.

Anniversary Dinner
 Mr. and Mrs. Frank Johnson, entertained Mrs. Paul Keely, and Mr. and Mrs. R. J. Holly at their home near Markham last Friday. The occasion was the birthday anniversary of Mr. Johnson. These good folks have a nice home, and 180 acres of land and they also know how to get the best results in chickens, fruits, and vegetables. Needless to add that their home is a mecca for those who wish to spend a delightful day and last Friday was no exception to the rule. In fact the folks who enjoyed their hospitality last Friday were too full for utterance. The Johnson place demonstrates that Florida soil will grow anything from apples to oranges. Mr. Johnson being the proud possessor of an apple tree containing a dozen fine large apples.

They are best. They are different.

Edwards-Frenger
 A very quiet wedding was solemnized last Sunday evening at the brides home, by Rev. Waldron. The contracting parties being Miss Lyda May Frenger, youngest daughter of Capt. and Mrs. A. J. Frenger, and Mr. Edwards, of Madison, now in business in Jacksonville. Miss Lyda was one of Sanford's most popular young ladies, and we will all miss her. She just completed a three years course in St. Joseph Academy at Orlando and St. Augustine, then took a course in training for nurse at the Odd Fellows Sanitarium, Gainesville. Mr. Edwards is a prominent young business man of Jacksonville. We hope for a long and happy future.

They are best. They are different.

At The Imperial To-Night

Cigar Factory Moves
 J. A. Mauser has moved his cigar factory from the Clark building to the second floor in the Wilson building corner Park Avenue and Second St., where a nice place has been arranged, and more Tampa Johns and Lucky Sanford cigars can be turned out. Mr. Mauser now works five cigar makers, and is doing a nice business.

They are best. They are different.

Killed By Pile Driver
 A negro employed at the new seal chute was killed last Wednesday by the pile driver. In some manner he let his head come in contact with the descending hammer which mashed one side of his head, killing him instantly.

They are best. They are different.

Injured In Runaway
 A delivery horse belonging to E. E. Turner became frightened near the freight depot yesterday, overturned the wagon or the negro driver, and starting down the street ran into an auto belonging to Z. Hayman and demolished the lamps. The negro was badly injured but will recover.

Delicious punch cream and cake were served in abundance by the attentive young ladies and gentlemen. A very pleasing feature of the entertainment were the interesting recitations in prose by Mrs. Ackerman of Oviedo. Altogether Oviedo should feel proud of her Woodmen, their pleasant wives and children. Those attending from Geneva were Mr. and Mrs. Pattishall, Mrs. Etheredge, Mr. and Mrs. David Speer.

Those so fortunate as to hear Dr. Swartz sermon Sunday morning greatly enjoyed his discourse. Paul's work at Ephesus was his theme and his descriptions of the great apostle Paul and the wonderful, wealthy, ancient city of Ephesus as Paul saw it, were very impressive and realistic. This learned man tells Bible stories in a most charming, interesting manner.

Cook Will Speak

It has remained for Dr. Frederick A. Cook, himself to make the most sensational charges of the entire Polar controversy.

Declaring that he left this country at the height of the pro-Pearly campaign against him, because of a nervous and physical breakdown, and because of a desire to rest and gain time to marshal the proofs of his Polar claim, and to secure evidence exposing dishonest and fraudulent methods in the campaign against him, Dr. Cook now finally comes back with startling charges against Mr. Peary.

In making these charges Dr. Cook professes regret that he is compelled to reveal "unwritten pages of Arctic history" which concern his rival.

"Mention is made in my book of certain facts concerning Mr. Peary," says Dr. Cook, "because, only by knowing these things, can people understand the spirit and character of the man, and the unscrupulous attacks made upon me, and understand, also, why, out of a sense of delicacy and a dislike of mudslinging, I remain silent so long."

WHY A RESURRECTION?

The Resurrection Doctrine Peculiar to Christianity, but Known to No Other.

What if the Dead Should Not Rise? Would This Affect Christian Faith and Doctrines and Prove Them All False?—Pastor Russell Proves It So.

London, April 16.—The London Tabernacle was crowded to hear Pastor Russell's Easter sermon on "The Resurrection Hope the Only One." His text was from I Corinthians xv, 12-18.

"How say some among you that there is no resurrection of the dead? ... If Christ be not risen, then is our preaching vain and your faith is also vain; ... then they also which are fallen asleep in Christ are perished." The speaker said:

Bibles Have Been Read Too Carelessly. For years God's people have had excellent Bibles and thus been blessed far in advance of brethren who lived in the days of the apostles. We have read our Bibles too carelessly and often have most of us wondered at the great stress St. Paul laid upon the resurrection. Rarely is the subject ever preached upon now and rarely is it ever thought of except as an absurdity.

The reason for this is not far to seek. From childhood we have been taught that nobody is dead, that in dying everybody, good and bad, gets more alive than ever before; that this aliveness of the saintly few means spiritual powers and an immediate entrance into heaven, death being swallowed up in life. The unsaintly masses also, we were told, would have quickened sensibilities after dying; that they became more alive, more able to appreciate and suffer pain.

Our Catholic neighbors told us that the majority would immediately go to Purgatory, there to be tried by various sufferings and tortures—later on to enter heaven. Our Protestant teachings were to the effect that the unsaintly masses, unfit for the presence of God and the holy, would be consigned to an eternity of torture and made very much more alive to their awful sufferings. Thus we were taught to believe that death is a portal or door into an intense life—that nobody is dead. Many of us perplexed ourselves and were perplexed by others with questions respecting how there could be a "resurrection of the dead" if nobody is dead. We avoided the question, or gave the answer, "Mystery; go run and play."

Now, What Do We Find? When once we see that "the wages of sin is death" and not eternal torment; and that the Bible hell is the tomb and not a fiery furnace; and that it is not a "hell" to which we go—just as did our Saviour; then we begin to see that what we all need is to be saved from death, from hades, just as the Saviour was. A resurrection salvation is thus the salvation hope of the Church and of the world.

What a relief this gives us as respects parents, children, neighbors, friends and the heathen, who have died out of Christ, unsaintly. What comfort it brings to know that they are sleeping in the great prison-house of death, unconscious of the "pains of time," waiting for the Redeemer, who will set up His Kingdom in glory, associating His Bride with Himself for the blessing of all the families of the earth.

The bringing forth of the prisoners out of the prison-house of death will be to set before them, under the glorious provisions of the New Dispensation, an opportunity for life everlasting by obedience to the laws of the Kingdom under the assistance of the heavenly One—the alternative being not eternal torment, but death—Second Death, from which there will be no hope of recovery.

All Souls Go to Sheol. Some one may say, "Pastor Russell, what about the soul? If the body goes to sheol, hades, the tomb, where goes the soul? I reply that it is the soul that goes to sheol, to hades, the grave, the tomb, the state of death. Although the words sheol and hades are translated grave more than translated hell, nevertheless they refer, not to the mound of earth, which is in the nature of a monument, but to the secret, hidden condition, preferably styled the tomb; the abyss."

As Jesus descended into hades, so do all mankind. As the Father raised Him from the dead on the third day, so it is promised that He will raise us, the Church, up from the dead. More than this, the unjust also, those who have not been approved of God in the present life, shall all be awakened from the sleep of death. They will come forth informed respecting sin, having lived under the reign of Sin and Death. They will come forth that they may learn the ways of righteousness, the reward of which is life everlasting.

The glorified Jesus and His glorified Church, the Bride, will be the Royal Priesthood, whose special work for a thousand years will be the uplifting of mankind, not only from the tomb, but also to perfection of life. "Every man in his own order" or rank. The uplifting will bless as many as are willing, lifting them up from the degradation and meanness and imperfection, into which all have fallen by one man's disobedience, under the laws of heredity.

Interpreting Our Laws.

Ellen, whose family in the old country had known her by the more prosaic name of Ellen, lost no opportunity of promulgating all the freedoms of the new country that came her way. Sometimes they took an inverted form of handing out orders to her mistress. "Ye'll be careful, mum, that yez puts no paper in th's garbage bucket. Thim is orders, mum, frum th' garbage glemm."

Aurora Borealis.

According to a theory recently enunciated, the aurora-borealis is formed of cathode rays, emitted by the sun and deflected by the terrestrial magnetic field in the upper strata of the atmosphere. The velocity of these cathode rays must be nearly equal to that of light, and very much greater than the velocity of cathode rays produced in the laboratory. Lenard concludes that these extremely "hard" cathode rays are emitted by unknown radio-active substances in the sun.

Canada's Mixed Races.

The Bible is already sold in Canada in 90 different tongues, but 17 other races are now asking that editions be printed in their languages. The British Foreign Bible society has published the Scriptures in 124 different tongues, but it seems 17 more must be made to meet the needs of Canada's heterogeneous population.

Before and After.

When a girl is engaged to a man she believes him when he tells her he would love to have her walk on him with her tiny feet, after she is married to him she would be satisfied to have him willing to put her rubber-soled shoes on her without acting as if it were killing him.

Operators Held to Account.

In France the operators of aero planes are held responsible for damage done to persons or property when coming to the earth. In two cases such operators have been found guilty of homicide and punished although the punishment was not as great as that for other forms of the same crime.

Trainloads of Candy.

If America's annual candy supply were loaded on one train there would be over eight thousand trucks full of boxes, buckets and glass jars. This load of sweetmeats for the sweet tooth of the American girls costs the con sumers about $125,000,000 every year.

Rooster Hard to Kill.

A Bull Terrier was found sleeping for three weeks was found dead in the wooden foundation of a haystack at Stamford, Kent, England. The bird was as thin as a lath, but now is popping as lustily as ever. It was twenty days without food.

Investigations show that the majority of men working on salaries are paying out one-quarter or more of their entire earnings in rent. Take paper and pencil and sit down and figure out what this rent bill amounts to in the course of a year; then see the amount it comes to in ten years. You will be almost appalled at the size of the amount. In most cases it is enough to buy outright a fine house and lot, a valuable property that can be made into a real home.

But what has the renter to show for this money at the end of ten years? Nothing but a big pile of rent receipts. Nothing that he can call really his own after paying out enough money to buy the house. He has no more right to it than he day he moved in, and may be turned out into the street any time his everlasting rent payments are not made.

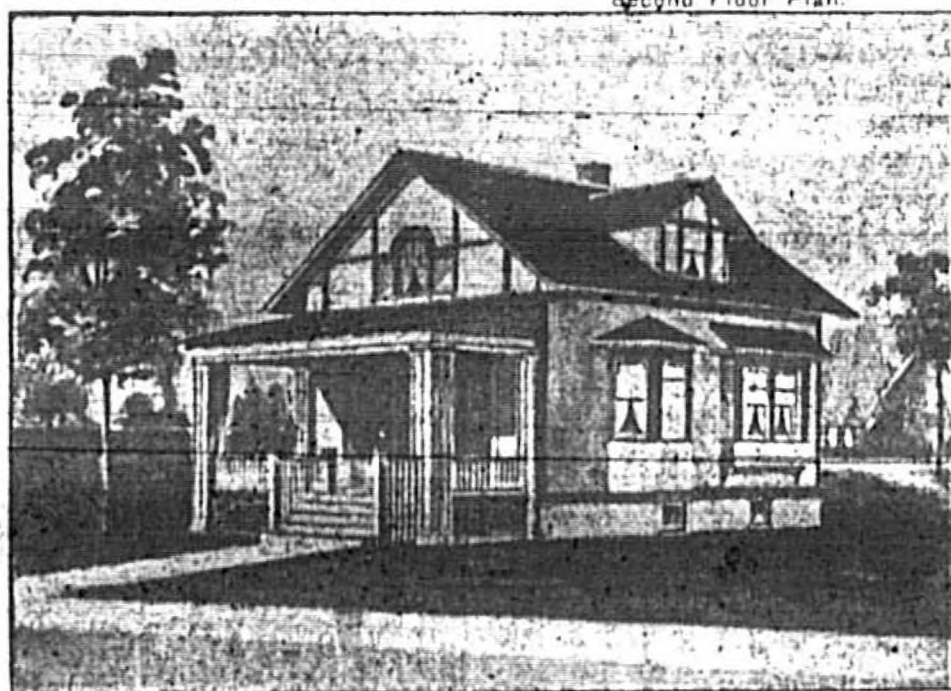

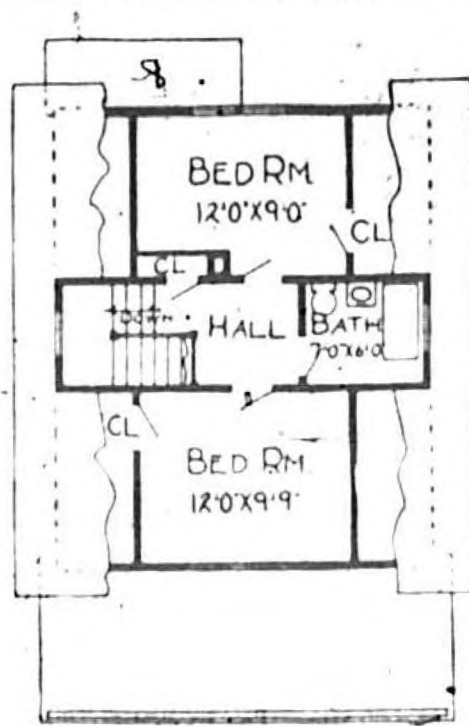

And, after all, the investment feature, the money end of the proposition, is really of minor importance compared to some others. Parents having the welfare of their children at heart should make any sacrifice needed to provide a real home for them to grow up in. Think of the delights of the Old Home you once knew. What fond memories cluster about it. What an influence for good that old place has been to you in your life! You have looked back to it with reverence and have hurried back to it eagerly whenever there was a chance. "Home" is the most beautiful word in the English language. There is no place on earth like home.

What do you suppose your children are to do for a home, when you have treated all your life, moving every year or so from one rented house to the next? That does not make a real home and is not fair to the children.

Love of home and love and respect of parents go hand in hand. They are the two most sacred things in life. There is a sense of security, of ownership, of permanence in a possession of even a small cottage. It makes life happier and more worth while. Sometimes you hear people say: "It costs more to own a home than it does to pay rent." This is not true, but even if it were true, the arguments room, being connected with it by a columned opening. The wide bay window with built-in seat, makes this little room very attractive indeed. The dining room kitchen and pantry are well arranged for housekeeping work. On the second floor two good sized bedrooms are provided, each with a large closet and storage space. A bathroom is on this floor, opening from the hall. For a small house this design is well worth considering.

It Helped Him, Anyway. "Your husband doesn't look very sick, Mrs. Anderson," said the doctor who was called in to attend a patient suffering from too much hot weather. "Ah, sure, you should have seen him half an hour ago," replied Mrs. Anderson. "He was that faint I didn't think I could resuscitate him, but I give him automatic sperits of pneumonia and he come around splendid."

Why Australia Has Thrived. We believe it to be the case that the conditions of Australia, where reward is more proportionate to ability and effort, and less dependent than in an old country upon birth and favor, lead to the development among natives of the commonwealth, on the average, of greater activity of mind and body than is found among the natives of the United Kingdom.—British Australasian.

Latest Idea in Rope. A company has patents covering a rope made of several strands of paper covered with galvanized steel wire. The rope thus produced is strong, tough and flexible, suitable for clothes lines and such uses. It is claimed that a rope of this kind will withstand the action of the weather 50 per cent longer than cotton.

Worth Heeding. When blows of affliction or bereavement fall, the best advice for our needs is that scrap of street wisdom that floated to my ears: "Keep quiet and go on." Exchange.

"LOOK OUT FOR THE CARS"

DO YOU know of anyone who is old enough to read, who has not seen that sign at a railroad crossing?

If everyone has seen it at some time or other, then why doesn't the railroad let the sign rot away? Why does the railroad company continue to keep those signs at every crossing?

Maybe you think, Mr. Merchant, "Most everybody knows my store, I don't have to advertise."

Your store and your goods need more advertising than the railroads need to warn people to "Look Out for the Cars."

Nothing is ever completed in the advertising world.

The Department Stores are a very good example—they are continually advertising—and they are continually doing a good business.

If it pays to run a few ads round about Christmas time, it certainly will pay you to run advertisements about all the time.

HIGH-GRADE GOAT BREEDING AN ILLUSTRATION OF THE RESOURCES OF VOLUSIA FARMS

We have just been reading a book on the "Mohair Industry of America," by Percy P. Vyle, of Jacksonville, Florida, and in conjunction with a recent article we read in the New York Herald relative to goats, it is possible that out of these comments some of our farmer correspondents and prospective settlers on Volusia Farms may be given a new line of thought relative to the hitherto unmentioned resources of the fine tract of general farming land across the river from Sanford.

The book deals with the finer breed of goat called the Angora from which mohair is clipped—mohair being the technical name for the fiber of the Angora goat used in the manufacture of a variety of fabrics, either pure, or in connection with wool, silk, linen, etc., the shorter hair of the Angora is used in the manufacture of automobile tops, lap robes, etc. The odor noticeable in the common goat is entirely absent in the Angora; the odor in a fleece of mohair is milder than that in a wool fleece and is not at all offensive.

THESE GOATS THRIVE ON BRUSH AND SHRUBBERY. They could not live on fine pasture lands like cattle and sheep—their feed must be of a browsing nature.

With the opening of large acreages of wild land for farming and agricultural purposes, there is an enormous demand for Angoras in the middle west for clearing these lands of the brush and shrubbery.

In localities where the land is completely subdued by brush the goat is considered of more value for the purpose of clearing it than for its mohair, its meat or skin combined. Goats will convert a wilderness into a pasture without expense to the farmer. Goats are even leased for this purpose in the west.

In Missouri, breeders are paying special attention to the production of Angora goats as live stock for the markets. Owing to the tremendous shortage of live stock in this country, there is a good profit, they assert, in the breeding of any kind of meat product.

As far back as Abraham's day, we read of goats being used for meat, and this, too, when there were many cattle and sheep. The reports that goats are sold to meat packers is true, but it refers to the Angora goat only.

The flesh of the Angora goat is exceedingly nutritious and palatable. The meat of the Angora competes with lamb from the fact of its exceptionally fine wholesome flavor.

Were this fact, says Mr. Vyle, more generally known, Angora goat flesh would be the world's favorite and popular meat. The only reason why these superior goats are not more often seen in the market reports of receipts and shipments is that they pass as sheep. Angora flesh commands the same price as the best mutton.

It is stated that Angora goats thrive best in high and dry altitudes as these altitudes have a beneficial effect on the mohair. Angoras require a great amount of exercise. They are exceptionally sensitive of restraint—the greater the exercise the better the mohair.

The point that occurs to us is this:

Leaving mohair out of the question, why not introduce the Angora goat on Volusia Farms, first, for cleaning up the land, and second, for raising as live stock?

It is not likely that the Angora goat would do well on our lands if considered purely for its mohair, as all authorities seem agreed that to grow the fine texture, the Angora must have the rugged hillsides on which to climb.

In cleaning up land, however, we anticipate that they would prove of inestimable value. Pictures in the "Mohair Industry of America" show some wonderful effects of before and after—of lands covered with bushes and of those same lands cleaned up like a park solely through the medium of the Angora goat.

Homesteaders are making their herds do the work of clearing the land of brush for later farming operations, in other parts of the country, why not on Volusia Farms?

A subscriber, writing to the "Southern Agriculturist," desired to know how to exterminate wild onions, and a correspondent replied:

I wish to say to your subscriber that a small flock of Angora goats will do the work better and much cheaper than the method of the Department of Agriculture, and while the goats are exterminating the onions, they will also exterminate all other noxious weeds as well and at the same time spread a coat of rich fertilizer over the land. The Angora goat is the cheapest extirminator I have ever found for wild onions and other troublesome weeds.

On Pine Key, near Tampa, Florida, Mr. H. H. Moloche has a herd of 100 head of goats. On this Key there is a very heavy growth of grass and other vegetation, and it is to get rid of this that the goats were placed there. We do not know whether Mr. Moloche's goats are Angoras or not, but we believe the Angora better suited to Volusia Farms than the ordinary common goat, because of the stock raising possibilities.

Angora goat raisers have been put into circumstances of comparative affluence by the scarcity of sheep and lambs, which has created a demand for their output at very remunerative prices. Lamb and mutton is a luxury in Florida only to be thought of—never eaten on account of its scarcity and its high price. Lamb chops sold for 35c a pound in Jacksonville last winter, while 25c was asked for the toughest mutton.

No Disease is Known to the Angora Goat.

Farmers' Bulletin, No. 137, U. S. Department of Agriculture, 1901, page 23, says:

There is a deep-seated prejudice against the use of goat for meat. This is founded upon ignorance rather than experience. The most ill-smelling "billy" of the worst possible type is by many made the standard of goat meat for the whole of the goat family.

Shropshire lambs, which are considered among the best kinds of meat, are said not to be superior to a well-fed well-cooked Angora kid. In the Southwest, these animals are as readily sold for meat as sheep and the market has never been overstocked. In nearly every locality where they have been killed for mutton, there has never been a derogatory statement concerning its quality.

In Cape Colony it is said that the old does are slaughtered to furnish meat for farm hands and young wethers are sold to butchers. In California many miners purchase Angora wethers in preference to sheep wethers for salting down for winter use, because, as they state, the Angora contains less fat, is more easily kept and is just as palatable.

So many inquiries have come to the Bureau of Animal Industry concerning the meat phase of Angora goat raising that the Department ascertained the facts of marketing from the actual producers. Answers to the question, "Do you have any difficulty in disposing of your surplus Angoras for meat?" were invariably in the negative.

IS VOLUSIA FARMS CLIMATE SUITABLE?

So far as temperature is concerned, no place has been found that is too hot or too cold for Angoras. Though not partial to heat, they will stand it quite as easily as sheep. Shade is essential where the sunshine is very warm. The climate in Angora, where the breed originated and is still supposed to flourish in its most perfect state, is extreme. A temperature as high as 85 degrees is registered there in summer. In the Cape of Good hope, where Angoras are thriving well, the temperature goes higher in summer.

Almost any kind of soil, except wet and marshy land, is suitable for these goats.

Crossing the Angora bucks upon the common goats of the United States have been very satisfactory in many respects. Many of the large flocks of Texas and New Mexico have had Mexican does for their foundation. Why not success with the Florida goat?

According to the latest available statistics, Volusia county has only 124 goats, presumably of the common breed. Florida has only 40,210, so the opportunities there are in this State for high grade goat breeding have not been extensively developed.

According to the New York Herald, some of the government's reasons for undertaking to develop the American goat are these—and this opens another phase of the question we have not touched:

"It is the unanimous opinion of milk experts that goat's milk is much better than cow's milk for invalids, children, cookery and nearly other purpose.

"It is of more nutritive value and more easily digested than cow's milk. It is absolutely free at all times from the germs of tuberculosis (bearing off what we said above that disease was unknown to the goat.)

"Cheese made from goat's milk is of the choicest varieties and commands the highest prices.

Ask your grocer the price of Schweitzer, Roquefort, and other goat milk cheese.

Indeed, the possibilities opened up by this subject are so many that this Bulletin can only briefly dwell on a few. We firmly believe that with care in the selecting, a farmer can find as good land, absolutely dry and without marsh, on Volusia Farms as anywhere, and in addition, given attention and study, we believe Angora goat raising and by-products will prove very profitable.

Will YOU make use of this, only ONE of the many resources of Volusia Farms?

An Evening of Pleasure

Mrs. Deane Turner, gave a pleasant literary party Wednesday evening in honor of her charming house guests, Misses Ruth Keating and Ruth Coats, of Daytona Beach. The invited guests were requested to represent a book, by wearing some distinctive mark, or suggestion in costume, of the name of a popular book. The name of the books represented to be guessed as each arrival was announced. There were of course many mistakes made but the unique entertainment was very much enjoyed by those participating. Two prizes were offered, to the one guessing the largest number of correct names and the second prize to the one guessing the fewest names. Miss Mabel Bowler received the first prize, a book of poems, "Love's Young Dream." W. J. Thigpen, received the second prize. A book of Stories for Children. Punch was served during the evening. After guessing contest was over a delicious ice course was served.

Mrs. Turner's invited guests were: Misses Charlotte Keeler, Peacha Leffler, Belle Smith, Mabel Bowler, Mell Whitner, Flossie Frank, Alice Whitner, Veda Ward, Annie Higgins, Martha Fox, Carrie Lowell, Vivian Yeiser, Mabel Hand, Sadie William, Messrs. Gwyne Fox, Ash Thigpen, J. D. Roberts, James Williams, Frank Milteer, W. J. Thigpen, Braxton Perkins, Archie Betts, Willie Hill, Nixon Botta, Henry Purden, Mr. Wildman, Mr. Spedling, David Caldwell, Mr. Rome and Wideman Caldwell.

At Bridge

Mrs. W. W. Prather entertained at bridge last Wednesday night at her home on Park avenue. It was one of the prettiest pre-autumn affairs in the folio of society events.

The rooms were made beautiful by the decorations of cape jessamine and clinging vines and ferns the pink and yellow blossoms carrying out the autumn effect.

Four tables were played the partners being secured by the drawing of dainty, hand-painted score cards for each player. This was one of the first bridge parties held in Sanford in many moons where the gentlemen were in evidence and some of them played a very spirited game. Some time before the midnight hour the scores were counted and it was found that Mrs. R. J. Holly had the highest score among the ladies and received a beautiful olive set consisting of a sterling fork and spoon in a dainty case.

W. D. Holden won the honors in the gentlemen's list and received a book on Practical Bridge although his playing would hardly indicate that he needs any further instructions. Delicious lemon-ice and cherries and pink frosted cake was then served by the charming hostess assisted by Mrs. Keely and Mrs. Putnam and after lingering long in pleasant chat the company bade Mr. and Mrs. Prather au revoir just about the time the chanticleer was announcing another day.

Those present were:

Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Holden, Mr. and Mrs. O. W. Brady, Mr. and Mrs. Geo. A. Speer, Mr. and Mrs. G. F. Smith, Mr. and Mrs. R. J. Holly, Mr. and Mrs. C. O. McLaughlin, Mrs. Putnam, Mrs. Paul Keely, Miss McLaughlin, Mrs. O. W. King and Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Prather.

Little Miss Ruth Waldron celebrated her eleventh birthday, at the home of her parents, Rev. and Mrs. Waldron; Wednesday afternoon. Twenty little friends were invited to enjoy the occasion with her. They were entertained with pleasant games in the parlor room after which a most interesting fish pond claimed their attention, for in that pond was a present for each child to fish for, which they of course enjoyed doing. The birthday table was very pretty with the beautifully decorated 3 birthday cakes, with its eleven candles, which was served with ice cream, to the little guests, who wished their little hostess many returns of the day.

Mrs. G. F. Smith entertained a small party at cards. One table of bridge was played by Mrs. C. O. McLaughlin, Mrs. O. W. Brady, Mrs. W. W. Prather and Mrs. G. F. Smith. A table of five hundred was played by Misses Alice Whitner, Ina Brady, Veda Ward, and Mabel Bowler. At the conclusion of the games of cards, Mrs. Smith served delicious ice cream and cake.

ANOTHER DAM BURSTS

Johnstown Horror Repeated at Austin Pennsylvania

THOUSAND LIVES SNUFFED OUT

Gas Mains Burst And Fire Adds Terror To The Fleeing Populace

The large dam at Austin Pennsylvania holding 500,000,000 gallons of water burst last Saturday and almost without a moment's warning the entire deluge poured upon the towns below. Following is the account compiled for hurried readers:

Dam of the Bayless Pump and Paper Company burst one mile and a half north of town.

Four hundred million, five hundred thousand gallons of water rushed down on the town.

Between 850 and 1,000 persons were drowned, crushed or burned to death.

Hundreds of others believed to have been swept away by the great torrent.

Fires followed the bursting of natural gas mains.

Scores of persons caught beneath debris cremated.

Over 1,000 buildings were wrecked.

Heavy rains of past two weeks caused reservoir to fill for first time since it was erected two years ago.

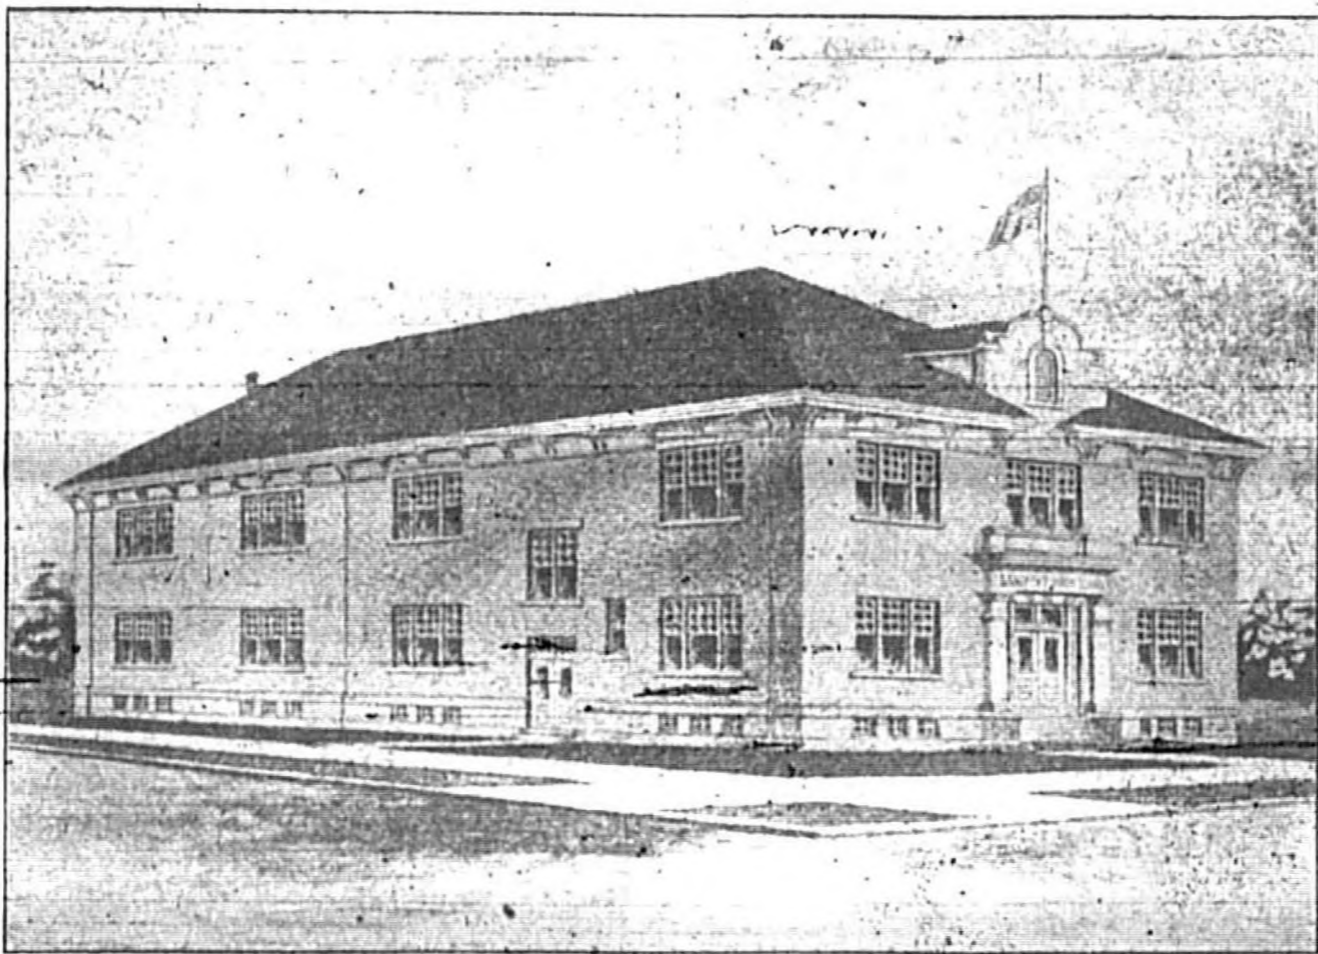

Food supply has been swept away.

Physicians, nurses and supplies being rushed from surrounding towns over the mountains to Austin.

Governor Fener has ordered state and charity officials to the scene together with Adjutant General Stewart and a large force of state police.

TO PRE-COOL VEGETABLES

Plan Should be Adopted by Our Sanford Growers

The Herald has for years advocated the adoption of the pre-cooling of vegetables shipped from this section. The following report from Texas demonstrates what the railroads think of the system and what the railroads are willing to do.

The rapid development of truck growing in the Gulf Coast region and lower Rio Grande Valley of Texas has created the necessity for modern methods for taking care of perishable products. Great attention is now given to the marketing of vegetables by approved and up-to-date methods. During the last vegetable season special trains of refrigerator cars were run from the lower Rio Grande Valley and more upper portions of the Gulf Coast to St. Louis and Chicago. This special service will be again placed in effect during the coming season, and with the large increase of acreage it is expected it will require many more cars to handle the output.

One feature that promises to have an important bearing upon the future output is that during the last few months many practical gardeners from other parts of the country are preparing to engage in truck farming here on an extensive scale.

In order that vegetable shipments may be made without danger a number of large ice factories have been established along the lines of the railroad leading through the producing country. On a visit to this section a few months ago officials of the Frisco saw the advantage that might come to the farmers by installing a pre-cooling plant to cool vegetables before loading. The Frisco railroad has adopted plans for a plant of this character which it will erect here at a cost of $75,000. If it gives satisfaction similar plants will be installed at a number of other points in South Texas.

Claude L'Engle For Congressman

In this week's issue of Dixie Claude L'Engle, its editor, says:

"After looking carefully into the situation and carefully considering the way in which I can be of most service to the people of Florida, I have decided to be a candidate from the state at large for member of the federal House of Representatives.

"I offer myself to the electors of Florida to be voted for in the Democratic primaries of 1912 for this position of Congressman at large from Florida.

"Some of the most valued friends I have in commenting on the public discussion of my possible candidacy, have very kindly said that I am more valuable to Florida as editor than I could be as Congressman. To all these and to all others of like thought I beg leave to say that I will continue my newspaper work and that I believe that my opportunity to serve the people of Florida as editor of a free newspaper will be greatly enlarged and strengthened by representing them in Congress.

"Everybody may be assured of what I will do if I go to Congress by recalling what I have done as editor of The Sun and of Dixie. I ask the help of every true man."

SANFORD SCHOOL OPEN

Big Attendance Demonstrates Popularity of Institution

CITY THROGGLED WITH SCHOLARS

Indications Are That This Scholastic Year Will Be Most Successful

Sanford schools opened yesterday and from the primary department where the finest tots are taken care of to the high school where the young men and ladies attend the prospects for a large attendance are most encouraging. Sanford has one of the finest school systems in the state, the schools being divided into three separate and distinct buildings—primary, grammar and high school.

That the opening day of the Sanford schools was an auspicious occasion could easily be seen by the hurrying children, boys and girls with their smiling faces and interested air and the subtle enthusiasm pervading the very atmosphere everywhere.

After a long but not happy vacation the normal healthy child, boy as well as girl, to renew their output of knowledge.

It was indeed a pleasure to all of the teachers to see about them again the bright faces of all their former pupils and the prospect of another year of good work together.

The enrollment of pupils was about 500 against about 500 on the opening day last year. Teachers and pupils seemed well and happy and in every way equipped for good work.

The grammar school building had been renovated during the summer. It had been kalsomined and varnished throughout and the floors oiled, which made everything look fresh and attractive. The personnel of teachers in the grammar school will be the same, with the exception that Miss Lillian Gibson will teach Miss Lucile Richards' grade. With one change in the primary department the teachers will be the same. Miss Edith Stewart will teach the grade taught by Miss Lillian Fair Smith last year. In the high school the course of study has been broadened and strengthened. The department of discipline has been adopted in the high school department.

Miss Savage, the teacher of music and drawing has not yet returned and her place has not yet been supplied.

Duck Season Opens

Duck season opened yesterday and two parties of Sanford Nimrods left by launch for Puzzle Lake where they expect to get a bunch of summer ducks and squirrels. There is no country in all the United States where the ducks congregate in such quantities as in Florida and while early yet for mallard and teal plenty of smaller ducks are now appearing in the upper St. Johns.

Squirrels Are Proliferating

Capt. P. M. Elder was out to Gee Hammock last Friday and managed to bag about thirty squirrels. He states that they were so tame you could knock them off the tree with a club.

WAR IS DECLARED

Italy Starts Trouble By The Blockading of Tripoli

The war between Italy and Turkey is on and the first gun was fired by Italy last Saturday when her fleet captured and sunk two torpedo boat destroyers.

Latest reports today are a confirmation of the reports received Saturday and further details give information of fighting along the coast of Tripoli and the bombardment of smaller towns. Turkey has not struck a blow as yet and seems to be depending upon the intervention of the world powers to prevent further hostilities.

The Sanford Music Club

The club will hold their first meeting for the season at Mrs. Munson's studio, Saturday afternoon, at 3 o'clock.

All of the members are earnestly requested to be present. The program committee, Mrs. Munson and Mrs. Ernest Tular have prepared a most interesting program for the year's work, which promised to be not only entertaining but instructive.

Following is the program for Oct. 7th: Early English music.

1. Music in the days of Queen Elizabeth.

2. Shakespeare in music.

Discussion, Elizabeth—Patron of music. How the love of music may be developed and encouraged in a community or town.

Music—Selections from Byrd, Tallis, Bull, Gibbons, Marley.

Old Lyric—"Drink to me with thine eyes." Original airs from Shakespeare's plays.

Program in charge of Mrs. and Miss Bowler.

Death of Mrs. Colbert

Mrs. B. A. Colbert, aged 68 years, died at the home of her sons, N. A. and W. M. Colbert, on the west side, on Sunday morning.

Mrs. Colbert came to Sanford last fall and made her home at the residence of Mrs. Johns and afterward removed to the country with her sons.

Mrs. Colbert leaves three sons and three daughters to mourn her loss.

The remains were taken to Frederickburg, Va., yesterday, accompanied by her sons, where interment will be made.

Kindergarten Opens

Miss Vivian Yeiser's kindergarten promises to be quite a flattering success. Fifteen little tots greeted her as pupils on the opening day. She warmly welcomed her little charges, and wisely put them all to work, giving them the easy attractive little play lessons. And thus early in life those almost babies, took their first steps in quest of the "pietien spring," the waters of which are for the enrichment of the human race.

Many Lives Lost

In Woodland Park Swimming Pool. The pool is emptied and cleaned after each day's use, and the sun murders several microbes, germs, etc., before it is filled again, with pure water from the artesian well.

ALL AROUND FLORIDA

The General News of The Land of Flowers.

CULLED FROM THE STATE PRESS

An Epitome of the Week's Most Important Happenings in the State's Domain.

While going at a fast rate near Tampa last Saturday, Frank Hargis, a young chauffeur, was instantly killed by colliding with another car.

The contract has been let for a handsome new office building in Ocala for R. S. Hall, the well known financier.

Special Agent E. M. Ward, of the Charlotte Harbor & Northern Railway, was shot and killed here today by Alf McColley, a contractor of Mulberry. The shooting occurred on an excursion train just as it pulled up at the depot. McColley, it is alleged, was rather boisterous and not polite in his language before several women in the car. He is said to have been drinking. The special agent remonstrated with him and an argument followed, in which Ward slapped McColley and the latter promptly drew a pistol and shot him through the body near the heart. Ward died forty five minutes later.

M. M. Lee has arrived in Winter Haven from St. Mary's, Kans., with his family and one of the most complete equipments for a newspaper and job office to be found in the state. He will begin the publication of Winter Haven's first newspaper on the first of October. Mr. Lee is a newspaper man of ability and will soon have one of the best weeklies in the state. The paper will be known as the "Florida Chief."

What is regarded as a most important find in connection with good road building in Hernando county was made during the week when the gang of men under Captain Vero while excavating five miles north of this place, cut through a bed of clay, which it is believed, will be ideal natural material for hard surfacing natural roads.

Kissimmee business men will erect at once a skyscraper on Broadway, which will be a modern five story office building and the lower rooms for stores.

Lower Insurance Rates

What we have wanted, watched and worked for and looked forward to for the past year has come to pass—that of a reduction of our exceedingly excessive insurance rates.

The new rate took effect on the 15th of this month, and Kissimmee has been transferred from the fourth class to the third class, which means that the rates have been reduced from ten to twenty-five per cent. This will mean a saving to our people of about four thousand dollars annually, or enough to pay for the entire cost of installing the water works and sewerage in twelve years.

There is no doubt but that the excessive insurance rates and the absence of water works and sewerage has kept many people from locating here during the past three years, but now that these obstacles have been overcome and we have as good a volunteer fire company as can be found in any city in Florida, we will naturally expect men of means to look with favor on Kissimmee as a place of residence and investment.—Kissimmee Gazette.

The seed was sown last October and sprouted vigorously in the plants making such thrifty growth that five cuttings were made, each time when the plant was in bloom.—Orlando Sentinel.

A hurry call was sent for physicians and an ambulance. Before aid reached him the admiral had died. Heart disease was the cause.
