SPEAKING OF CARDS

HAVE A HEART!

Have you always wanted to prove that your heart's in the right place? Then here's your chance.

February is "American Heart Month" and during each of its twenty-eight days the 350 chapters of the American Heart Association will go all out to raise funds for the unending battle against our number one public enemy of health, Heart Disease. Here's how you can show that your heart's on the right side.

February is the perfect month to plan a Hearts card party as there are many occasions that call for a "hearts" theme. There's Valentine's Day, of course, when you might invite over several couples in the neighborhood. Or, you might set the date for Washington's or Lincoln's birthday, to honor two of America's stout-hearted patriots. If there's a February engagement or wedding in your crowd, what could be gayer than a "Hearts" shower? Whatever date you choose for your Hearts card party, ask your friends to bring along a contribution for the Heart Fund and you can turn the proceeds over to your local chapter or to the American Heart Association.

Most everyone knows how to play Hearts because it's been a popular card game for generations. Dating back to an 18th Century Spanish favorite called Reverse, Hearts is the only game in the vast card repertoire which bears the name of one of the four major suits. It is also one of the few card games in which the player tries to lose rather than win tricks.

The object of the game, which many of you probably know, is to avoid taking Hearts in tricks, because each Heart won counts against you. The villain of the game is the Queen of Spades and she counts thirteen points against you. She's the reason Hearts is often called Black Lady.

Here's your opportunity to play cards to your Hearts content while you're helping a worthwhile cause. If you would like the official rules for Hearts, plus some popular variations such as Omnibus Hearts, Cancellation Hearts, Domino Hearts, send for a free leaflet to Dept. H, Playing Cards, 420 Lexington Avenue, New York 17.

Kelsey Suffers Burns In Flash Fire At Home

Orlando's Police Chief, George Kelsey, is confined to his home suffering from first and second degree burns as a result of a flash fire yesterday at his home.

Kelsey was attempting to light two cook stoves in his garage when he was sprayed with gasoline. A flash fire followed in which he was burned about his upper and lower legs.

The fire occurred about 9 o'clock yesterday morning. It was first thought to be the George Kelsey home when the Orlando County Fire Department answered the alarm sounded by Kelsey's brother Emmett.

Kelsey had already controlled the fire when the fire apparatus arrived. He was treated at the Orlando Clinic by Dr. Edward W. Stener.

School Opens Last Night
Landscaping Principles Heard

More than 100 people packed in to the Seminole County Court House court room last night to hear the first speaker of the eight week Landscaping and Gardening School sponsored by the Sanford Garden Club and the University of Florida Agricultural Extension Service.

Each person was equipped with an outline of the address and with a folder giving details of the speaker's subject.

"It is wonderful to have so many respond and take part in our first school of this type to which the public was invited," one member of the Sanford Garden Club remarked last night as the crowd began to fill the court room early for "best seats."

Joiner's address was divided into four phases which lead off with the terms and definitions used in landscape architecture, landscape gardening, the garden, and design.

Landscape architecture, said Joiner, is the design and development of the out-of-doors for the use and enjoyment of men.

The speaker's range in explanation covered the small home grounds for the use and enjoyment of a family to the design and maintenance of large areas.

The Assistant Horticulturist then covered the planning of the area to be designed or developed. Joiner demonstrated effectively the method to be followed in developing plans to scale.

Next phase of Joiner's instructions for the first of the eight-week school, was the development of the plans with emphasis placed on the

Sources Say Ike, Mollet Oppose Cut In NATO Forces

WASHINGTON — President Eisenhower and French Premier Guy Mollet have agreed to oppose proposed cuts in NATO forces, informed sources said today.

The sources said the two leaders agreed it is necessary to maintain North Atlantic Treaty Organization strength at present levels at this time because Russia continues to be as great a threat as ever.

European NATO members—particularly Britain—are under considerable pressure at home to cut their NATO commitments as a means of trimming defense expenses.

The President and Mollet today plan a second and final round of their talks which started Tuesday.

Mollet and French Foreign Minister Christian Pineau planned to meet earlier with Secretary of State John Foster Dulles.

Besides current NATO plans for European economic integration, Tuesday's talks covered creation of an atomic energy authority for Europe Euratom and the Middle East.

Presidential Press Secretary James C. Hagerly said afterward a good deal of agreement was reached on problems other than the Middle East. He said he could not elaborate on the Middle East crisis.

American officials said later both the United States and France are seeking a solution of Middle East problems without resorting to UN sanctions against Israel.

division of the plan into lots or areas such as recreational, lawn, view from living or dining room, and the service or utility area.

The speaker developed his ideas systematically and methodically. The fourth division of Joiner's instructions at last night's Garden Club School pertained to the principles of design that should be considered in the development of the phases of the landscape plan.

"Simplicity, unity, balance, and proportion are the most important principles to be considered," Joiner told his audience.

The second of the series of instruction will be given next Tuesday night at 7:30 at the Seminole County Court house room with Dr. E. W. McElwee speaking on the "Developing the Landscape Plan."

Teacher Leads Pupils To Safety;
Dies From Burns

WINSTON-SALEM, N. C. — An elderly school teacher who led all but one of her students to safety from a burning Mount Airy, N. C., school building, died of burns in a hospital today.

Mrs. Cora Beasley, third-grade teacher at Flat Rock Elementary School, died at 4:45 a. m. EST.

It was largely due to her efforts that all but one of the 400 students of the school escaped alive, although 33 teachers and students were burned in the flash fire last Friday, authorities said.

Larry Adams, 9, a crippled third-grader, was trapped inside the burning structure and perished.

Mrs. Beasley returned for the boy after leading her other students from the building but she herself was trapped. She was dragged from the building by Principal A. P. Phillips only seconds before the roof collapsed.

Demand Here Great

Industry officials are moving rapidly toward completion of arrangements for a 2,600-mile pipeline system to bring Florida its first statewide natural gas service after unanimous action by the Federal Power Commission they described as a "major victory."

Sanford is in a peculiar position, at present, relative to natural gas service even though, according to a city official, the "demand potential" in Sanford is second in Florida only to Miami.

City Manager Warren E. Knowles said the "demand here is greater than that of Orlando, Tampa and all other cities because of the two power plants in the area."

Several meetings have been held relative to natural gas service for Sanford. The Sanford Gas Company indicated to the Board of Sanford City Commissioners that they would bring the natural gas into the Sanford area for use by its customers and citizens of Sanford.

However, the Board of Sanford City Commissioners has notified the Sanford Gas Company that it would not renew the franchise granted them for Sanford under existing conditions of the contract. Negotiations should get underway immediately, indicated the Sanford City Manager, relative to the terms of a new franchise for the Sanford Gas Company.

FPC ruled that the applications have met the "basic conditions" of their certificate, dismissed all motions for rehearing, approved several modifications sought by the pipelines and allowed an additional 30 days to adjust certain particulars as to a few rate requirements.

Houston Texas Gas & Oil Corp. and Coastal Transmission Corp., joint applicants for the $150 million project, now expect to complete financing arrangements and construction of the line from the lower Rio Grande valley to southern Florida in time to inaugurate service by the summer of 1958.

Unusual interest has developed in the project from predictions made recently in another hearing before FPC, that no other new interstate pipeline may be successful in obtaining adequate gas reserves under present Federal regulation of producers. Demand for the service in Florida has been increasingly strong because of the state's virtual dependence on fuel oil, which has been subject to substantial price increases recently, and the fact that this represents the most rapidly growing area in the nation now unserved by natural gas.

Opposing intervenors who lost their fight for rehearing were the New York State Public Service Commission, Atlantic Coast Line railroad and the Florida Economic Advisory Council, the latter a representative of the citrus industry. (Continued On Page Seven)

Annual Girl Scout Cookie Sale Gets Underway March 4

By VIRGINIA CONN
Working closely with Mrs. Randall Chase, Neighborhood chairman for the Citrus Council of Girl Scouts in Seminole County, Mrs. Dorothy Higginbotham, Neighborhood Cookie Chairman, has announced that the annual sale of Girl Scout Cookies will begin Monday, the fourth of March.

The Cookie Cupboard at 1816 E. 2nd St. will open Monday from 9:30 a. m. to 2:30 p. m. so that each Troop chairman may pick up the cookies for her troops in this way the girls will have the cookies after school on Monday and will not need a special troop meeting. The cookies will be the same this year. The ever popular cream-filled sandwich, half vanilla, and half chocolate, and that extra special thin chocolate mint cookie that so many of us wait the whole year for. The cookies will be forty cents a box.

The profits from the annual Cookie Sale are used to further Girl Scout camping, that activity dearest to the heart of every Girl Scout. The results so far are that 70 acres of land in Barberville, Fla. have been purchased and partially paid for; a deep well pump has been installed to provide water facilities for the entire camp; there is a complete set of architectural plans, and the mortgages have been amortized. The camp is called Camp Ticochee and is for the use of the Citrus Council. This means that the four counties in the Council will be equally using the facilities. At this time there is a desperate need for buildings and equipment, which will be started with the profits from the Cookie Sale. The sale is the only means of acquiring funds for camping.

Self-Employment
Forms For Farmers
Reports Available

Most farmers are now under social security and must pay a self-employment tax of three percent of their net earnings from farm income. L. W. Tomlinson, District Director of Internal Revenue Service, said today.

If you are a farmer and your gross income from farming for 1956 is not over $1800, you may, if you wish, treat two-thirds of your gross income from farming as your net earnings from self-employment.

If your gross income from farming is over $1800, you must figure your net, but if your actual net is less than $1200 you may report $1200 for social security purposes. If your actual net profit from farm self-employment is more than $1200 you have no choice but to use the actual net.

Necessary forms for reporting farm self-employment will be available at the office of Internal Revenue Service.

Plans Must Be Made For Future Which Holds Much For County

It seems as if the haphazard builder, who reports none of his improvements to the County Tax Assessor; the junk yard dealer who wants to locate his place of business next to the swankiest spot in the county; the juke joint operator who would build opposite a church; and the like, have a friend indeed.

The Board of Seminole County Commissioners the other day, attempted to arrange for legislation where any portion of the county might be zoned by request of a group of citizens who would like to protect their property values, or by the Board of County Commissioners in order to protect property overvaluation; and in which a system of building permits might be arranged in order to control the assessing of property.

They didn't get very far however because they ran into a stone wall.

No sir! We won't legislate the zoning of any property in the county except that which is provided by law now!

It must be remembered that there are hopes for a Naval Air Station. Sixth Naval District, in Seminole County. And when the time comes for such an expansion there must be some control to protect homes, places of business, the types of business and the construction of homes in the affected areas for the expansion of the county's facilities to take care of such a huge influx of personnel.

Then again, plans are underway for a Docks and Terminals project—a project that will affect the whole of Seminole County in attracting business, both industrial and commercial. How are they to be allowed to build—haphazard, zig zag, willynilly—just any way they can be crowded in?

Seminole County is yelling for additional funds now. Teachers want a pay raise—new schools must be constructed—new and bigger services are being demanded by the taxpayers. Are we to rock along at our present level of assessments, or are we to provide the ways and means to properly assess property, both real and personal?

After Seminole County is equalized and each taxpayer assessed his proper share of tax, then how is the program to be kept alive? The right way is by a zoning law giving the people of Seminole County the authority to say what property shall be used this way or that—giving the people of Seminole County an opportunity to keep property at its proper assessed level.

What is hard to understand is this—one group of lawmakers, elected by the people to do anything in their power to protect the interests, economy, and property of the people in their several districts are thwarted on another side by a group of lawmakers elected by the people.

It can easily be seen that the biggest drawing card in the hands of the office holder is the one which will keep the wealthier of the citizens, the largest property holder, the one who will suffer most if taxes are equalized, in his present category.

Time will come, however, when those who have tried sincerely can refer the complainant to another and say, "There's the one to see, we did our best for you and were defeated."

Plans must be made now for the future—if it's a "wait and see attitude" the county will never be ready when the time comes to expand and build.

The future, as it looks today, has much in store for Seminole County but Seminole County in its present status will get little from the expansion but a big headache over "How are we going to pay the bills?"

Mail Headed For Washington

It would be heartwarming to know just how many letters have filled the mailbox headed for Washington, D. C.

Many Seminole County citizens, throughout the width and breadth of the community, have been writing letters to their Congressman, their Senator, and to the Secretary of the Navy expressing their views on why the proposed Naval Air Station, Sixth Naval District should stay in Seminole County.

The reasons our local citizens have given must be varied and interesting for when ever a letter is written a thought that is brand new is expressed.

Most businessmen realize very deeply just what the Naval Air Station means to Sanford, Seminole County, and to Central Florida as a whole. And spreading, as it seems, from home to home, are the varied and many suggestions and reasons why the Naval Air Station should remain here in the Seminole County community.

If you have not written your letter, here again is the list to which they should be directed:

Hon. George A. Smathers, United States Senator, Senate Office Building, Washington, D. C.
Hon. Spessard L. Holland, United States Senator, Senate Office Building, Washington, D. C.
Hon. A. S. Herlong, Jr., United States Representative, House Office Building, Washington, D. C.
Hon. Charles S. Thomas, Secretary of the Navy, Navy Department, Washington 25, D. C.

Look Ahead At Top World News

By CHARLES M. McCANN
United Press Staff Correspondent

United Press correspondents around the world look ahead at the news that will make the headlines.

Atom Battle

Cut-throat competition is building up between the United States and Britain over "atoms for peace." Both are trying to capture the free world's atomic power market. The British are striving to sell other countries copies of their Calder Hall power reactor. America's Westinghouse Electric Corp. is pushing another kind—a bigger, improved version of the highly successful Nautilus submarine propulsion plant and the nearly-complete nuclear power station at Shippingport, Pa. The British have one advantage—their Calder Hall plant, the world's first big atomic power facility, is already operating.

Little Lady

Insiders in London now confide that it was Lady Eden—not his doctors or his political advisers—who finally persuaded Sir Anthony Eden to step out from the prime ministry of Britain last month. Eden is genuinely sick. Some people believe he never will recover from his present bout of recurrent fever after his gall bladder illness.

Protection

The Senate Labor Rackets Investigating Committee is issuing subpoenas for all likely witnesses—for their own protection. Anyone who lampers with a subpoenaed witness is liable to prosecution for contempt. A carpenter union official who was questioned by investigators but not subpoenaed was threatened with bodily harm. The committee could do nothing about it. Hence, the decision to subpoena all witnesses from now on, as a warning.

C-Bomb Use

Allied intelligence agents in Europe are trying to find out whether Russia could have developed a cobalt bomb, more destructive even than the H-bomb. The Moscow newspaper Red Star, the Rusian Army organ, said last week that if a world war broke out atomic, hydrogen "or even more powerful bombs" might fall on the North American continent. Allied authorities figure it might just be loose talk—and might not.

Nix On Nike

It hasn't been in print yet, but the United States Army in Germany is running into strong local resistance in planning its first big European base for its surface-to-air "Nike" missile. The base for Nike, like those which guard New York, Washington and other big American cities, is planned on a sand flat near Darmstadt in south-

FIRST FEDERAL Savings & Loan

On Farm Front

By BERNARD BRENNER

United Press Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON — Poultrymen are looking to their own "Operation Bootstrap" instead of federal subsidies and controls to ease a threat of surplus production and low chicken prices.

"Operation Bootstrap" is a voluntary surplus cutting program launched early this month at a meeting called here by the National Broiler Council.

Representatives of major broiler producing areas agreed to seek a voluntary reduction of 20 per cent in the supply of hatching eggs.

Agriculture Department officials said today they would be able to measure the effectiveness of the campaign when a new report on broiler eggs in incubators becomes available early next month.

Broiler industry leaders have said they fear "extremely low" prices from April through June, and possibly longer, unless production is reduced.

The Agriculture Department has been reluctant to forecast prices that far ahead. But one poultry specialist here agreed that if hatcherymen keep shoveling eggs into incubators at the rate set earlier this year, broiler supplies will be heavy by mid-April. Heavy supplies usually send prices down.

The last available federal report on eggs going into incubators—the first step in broiler production—showed a Feb. 1 total 13 per cent ahead of the same date last year.

Some broiler growers, including some Texas poultry groups, recently began to urge the adoption of government production controls. Most poultrymen, however, have opposed government support and controls for their industry.

The last five months have been hard on the pocketbooks of many chicken producers. Agriculture Department experts here figure the break-even point for most broiler growers is 16 cents a pound. Prices were close to that level for

NATO Reaches Turning Point

Foreign News Commentary

By CHARLES M. McCANN

United Press Staff Correspondent

The North Atlantic Treaty Organization has reached an important turning point.

Government economy programs and increased emphasis on nuclear warfare, threats to reduce NATO troop strength to the danger point.

The entire future of NATO may be decided at a series of Allied conferences which started in London today.

The talks will continue until May 2, when representatives of all 16 countries which belong to the Grand Alliance will meet in Bonn, the capital of Western Germany.

Gen. Lauris Norstad, new commander-in-chief of NATO forces, is alarmed over the outlook. "Any significant reduction in troop strength could have most serious consequences for all of us, Norstad warned in a speech last week.

But it seems pretty sure that the reduction is coming. Macmillan Stated It new prime minister, started the ball rolling soon after he assumed office on Jan. 10. He named Duncan Sandys his defense minister, and gave him the authority to carry out a drastic economy program.

As part of the program, it was made known that Britain intends to cut the strength of its forces in the European continent, assigned to NATO, from 80,000 men to about 40,000.

It is now reported that Britain may pull back to its own territory part of its NATO tactical air force.

French Finance Minister Paul Ramadier announced last Thursday that France faces a financial crisis and must cut its defense budget.

France, West Germany and the United States, all oppose the proposed British troop cut.

But France already has slashed its NATO troop contribution by sending its men to Algeria to fight the rebels.

West Germany's rearmament is proceeding slowly, and its draft term for the new army has been reduced from 18 months to 12.

There also are indications that West German Defense Minister Franz-Josef Strauss aims at reducing the total strength of the German defense forces from 500,000 men to 380,000.

Six Countries Talk Defense

The opening defense conference in London today is being attended by delegates of Britain, France, West Germany, The Netherlands, Belgium and Luxembourg.

Allied defense problems will be one topic for discussion in the conference which started in Washington today between President Eisenhower and French Premier Guy Mollet. Defense will play a big part also in the talks when then President and British Prime Minister Macmillan meet in Bermuda March 21.

There will be similar talks among Allied leaders in West European capitals as the occasion arises, leading up to the big NATO conference in May.

In defending reduction in defense spending, Allied leaders talk of increasing firepower, with the aid of atomic tactical weapons, instead of depending upon mere manpower.

The trouble is that Soviet Russia, which the NATO forces face in Western Europe, has both firepower and manpower which could rip through weakened Allied lines if war came.

NORTHERN VISITORS to charming Charleston, South Carolina, have been heard to complain that, while the natives' language is very mellifluous, it's next to impossible to understand.

To remedy this, Ashley Cooper, of the Charleston News and Courier, has compiled a dictionary of Charlestonese, available from that newspaper's editorial sanctum at the modest price of two bits a throw. Here are a few entries:

March is a busy time for gardeners. If you were able to resist pruning "woody" shrubs and trees which were damaged by the cold and frost, now is the time to cut them back. It is easy now to determine to what extent damage has taken place.

By the middle of March, azaleas and should be fertilized. Some will be through blooming, of the scraggly branches should be cut for better shape next year. Do not prune the pyracantha shrubs too drastically as the berries are produced on the new growth. At the pyracantha grows so rapidly it may be necessary, however, to sacrifice some of the new growth to keep the shrub attractive.

By this time hardy flowering shrubs should have been fertilized, and the more tender plants can now be fed, including the bougainvillea, cassia, hibiscus, and allamanda. Lawns should also receive a good feeding.

Not only is the gardener kept busy with pruning and fertilizing but it is a good time to look the garden over, and to take out or move plants which are overcrowded. If there are bare spots where grass will not grow in shady spots under trees or in full sun, consider one of the many ground covers which will grow in Central Florida. Mr. J. M. Crevasse, Jr. of the Florida Agricultural Experiment Station has written an excellent bulletin on this subject. He includes many low growing plants as well as the grasses as ground covers. Since some of the plants are tender, a chart is provided with a specific recommendations for the three planting zones of Fla. A few of the suggestions for Central Florida include the Wintercreeper, Dichondra, Ferns, Trailing Fig, Carolina Yellow Jessamine, Lantana, Trailing or Weeping, Lilyturf (dwarf), and Liriodendron.

Wintercreeper (Celastraceae) has dull green leaves and greenish-white flowers in the summer followed by a greenish-white capsule fruit. It is a hardy plant which grows well in moist, fertile slightly acid soil. In a few months it may attain a height of eight to 15 inches, so shearing may be necessary. The Wintercreeper has not been used much in Florida as a ground cover, so it might be interesting to experiment with it.

Dichondra (Dichondraceae) is a low creeping herb with inconspicuous flowers and will grow in almost any kind of soil. It produces a good cover in two or three months. The only disadvantage is that it is subject to a fungus for which there is no absolute control.

Ferns native to Florida grow well in shade in poor sandy soil, providing a cover in three or four months. If ferns are used as a background in the garden itself, it will be necessary to confine them to the area in which you want them.

Trailing Fig (Moraceae) is actually a creeping or trailing vine with inconspicuous flowers. One plant, Ficus radicans, grows particularly well and does not become woody, although it cannot tolerate cold as much as Ficus pumila. These plants grow in all types of soil and shearing may be necessary.

Carolina Yellow Jessamine (Loganiaceae) is native to Florida and can be found in the woods near Sanford. It has small single yellow flowers or clusters in the spring. Although the Jessamine flowers better in the sun, it will grow in the shade with plenty of moisture. It is seen most frequently as a vine.

Lantana sellowiana (Verbenaceae) does well in the sun, in almost any kind of soil. The flowers, which are rosy-lilac or lavender, are borne most of the year. It is necessary to trim Lantana to make it more compact. This is one of the most commonly grown ground covers.

Liriodendron (Creeping Liriodendron) is often used as border grass to edge the garden. It does well in any kind of soil, in shade or sun and multiplies rapidly. Small spikes of flowers are followed by black berries.

World Missions Month Designated March 4 By Church

February has been designated as World Missions Month by the Presbyterian Church and will culminate in a week of prayer and self-denial. On Mar. 4 there will be a program meeting in the church and the ingathering of self-denial gifts.

According to Mrs. J. E. Nichols, secretary of World Missions, the meeting will begin at 11 a. m. with prayer and praise. A brief intermission at noon for coffee (each woman will bring her own sandwich). The worship service will be led by Mrs. Victor Greene, a solo by Mrs. Charles Wilkie, and a talk by Mrs. Fite on "Forward With Christ Through World Missions". The new work in Taiwan will be told by Mrs. P. T. Piety; Brazil will be the topic of Mrs. J. N. Gillon; "Do you ever wonder what you can do the Missions?" will be explained by Mrs. William Anderson. Mrs. Victor Brown's subject is "Missionary Boxes". Mrs. Nichols will give excerpts from letters from Africa and Korea.

The offering envelopes will then be received, followed by prayer by Mrs. A. G. McInnis. All women are urged to attend.

cent British publication, Country Life, discusses the "Rise and Fall of the Monkey Puzzle Tree". Since we have recently added a small one to our garden, the article was of special interest.

In 1838 the Araucaria araucana (Monkey Puzzle or Chile Pine) was much sought after in London. This exotic tree, however, came to vie with the aspidistra as an object of ridicule. It was first discovered in 1780 in a part of Chile occupied by the Araucanians. Some of the trees were so huge that the lower limbs were beyond the reach of man, and its cones were said to be "as large as a man's head". Actually the cones on the English trees were about six inches across.

The Monkey Puzzle was first grown indoors, but in 1807 one was planted in a garden, proving to be a hardy to the cold winters of England. It is said that the tree acquired its name in 1814 when a Cornish squire purchased a tree for 25 pounds. The legend continues that on the occasion of the house-party given at the time of its planting one of the guests remarked, "It would be a puzzle for a monkey".

Apparently as seed was obtained, trees were planted in great numbers, and became quite cheap. At the present time, however, there are few fine specimens remaining as people generally lost their enthusiasm for this unique tree. Mr. Miles Hatfield, author of the article in Country Life, concludes by saying, "I fear that the only British friends that this monster from Chile retains are the birds, presumably rooks, who, it has been recorded, carry the seeds and inadvertently plant them".

Certainly we do not agree with the opinion of the British writer and are happy to have added the Monkey Puzzle to our garden. Mrs. S. C. Dickerson has a large one on her grounds on S. Sanford Ave.

The C.P.O. Club will have a new manager this week. On Thursday, Feb. 28, the present manager, AOC. S. J. Adomaitis will be relieved by ADC. L. S. Brinn. Chief Adomaitis will be leaving for duty with Fason 104 in Fort Lyauety, Africa. Also being relieved on Thursday will be the "Chief's Club" accountant, Chief A. N. Singuefield. Chief Singuefield is being relieved in anticipation of orders. It's always sad to say good-bye to people you've known, but it's also nice to say thanks, for a job well done.

And may we, at this time, wish the best of luck to Chief Brinn in his new job.

Congratulations to Mrs. Katherine B. Smith. Last Friday, she was presented with a cash award of $18.00, for a beneficial suggestion of improving the accounting system in stock control. The award was made by Capt. W. E. Jackson, at the Naval Air Station, where Mrs. Smith is employed.

Don't forget that Friday nights at the Sanford Bowling Alley are reserved for the "gals". This isn't for Navy wives only, but for civilians as well. They are badly in need of girls to fill out the necessary number of teams. So, how about it, girls. It's not only a good game, but just think of the pounds you can lose!

Also want to urge everyone to attend the "Shrimp Ball," sponsored by the Fleet Reserve Association, this coming Friday evening at the Chief's Club, at the Naval Air Station, starting at 8 o'clock. Tickets are $1.00 a piece, and the children eat "for free!" Remember, it's this Friday, Mar. 1, at 6 p. m. This is not for Naval personnel only. Civilians as well are invited to attend, and will have no trouble driving into the base. To all wives and mothers! Just think, no dishes to wash!

Once you've lived in Sanford you just can't stay away. The fact that his family still lives here may have something to do with it, but it didn't take Bob Herdman long to get home for a few days! It's been a very short time since Chief Herdman left V.A.H. 5 for duty in Newport News, Virginia, and he was back home Friday evening. Getting together at the Herdman's home on DeCottes Ave. to greet Bob, were Mr. and Mrs. Ray Frislar, Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Leming, and Mr. and Mrs. Lot Kr.

Saved the best news for the last. Despite all rumors to the contrary, when the base pool opens on Mar. 15, dependents will be able to use it. That means all dependents; of both officers and enlisted men. I hope this will help stop some of the baseless rumors now making the rounds. There will, from necessity, be some restriction on the hours, so that enough time will be left for the men to enjoy the pool. We may get away from it at times, but we must remember that the pool is essentially for the men stationed at the base. The definite schedule of hours will be released before the opening of the pool.

Rev. F. Ensminger, Mr. Mrs. J. Beck Attend Convention

The Rev. Fred Ensminger, associate minister of the Congregational Church of Sanford and Mr. and Mrs. J. Beck attended the Founder's Day Convocation at Rollins College in Winter Park, Monday morning.

The Rev. Ensminger marched in the academic procession, being a former teacher of mathematics at Rollins. The honorable Marion B. Folsom, secretary of the Department of Health, Education, and Welfare of Washington, D. C. was the distinguished speaker of the Convocation. Following his speech, honorary degrees were conferred on many famous personages, including, Mrs. Bela Vargar, Dr. Youn Chan Yand, U. S. Ambassador of Korea, and many others.

Since Mrs. Rosalie Swain Beck is a native of McCrae, Ga., and attended school with Marion B. Folsom in his early college days at South Georgia College, it was entirely fitting they should meet and renew old acquaintances at the end of the program.

Mrs. Don Ensrud Feted At Shower

Mrs. Don Ensrud, the former Maggie Hall, was honored with a bridal shower recently given by Mrs. Glenn Miller and daughter Anna in the Miller home.

A variety of games started the gala evening off. Prizes were won by Mrs. Don Ensrud, Mrs. Don Dreggors, and Mrs. Homer Miller. Spring flowers decorated the Miller home.

Refreshments of cocoa, tea, coffee, sandwiches, cake, nuts, and candy were served to Mrs. Homer Miller, Mrs. Donald Dreggors, Mrs. J. C. Lane, Mrs. Hattie Green, Mrs. Carl Hollenback, Mrs. Enla, Mrs. Mary Cook, Mrs. Lucille Carroll, Mrs. Barbara Stevens, and little Miss Barbara Stevens. Mrs. Flossie Hall, Mrs. Curtis Hall and Misses Shirley and Francis Hall.

Mrs. Ensrud is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Curtis Hall.

Seminoles Fail To Gain Berth In Tournament; Team Edged Out 55-48

The Vero Beach "Flying Wheel" looked more like a flying saucer to the Sanford Seminoles last night in Vero Beach as the up and coming Seminoles tried gallantly, but in vain, to gain a berth in the Group 5 Class A Tournament and were edged out 55-48 for their effort.

The teams were evenly matched for three quarters and freshman Ray Lundquist was the hottest man on the court and continually threw a monkey wrench into the fast-trotting hosts. At the end of the third stanza the score was a close 43-45, but the foul line swung in favor of the Vero Beach five and the downfall was a scoring spree by the hosts and a virtual blank out by the visitors from Sanford.

Vero Beach, who boasts two teams of equal merit, outmanned the Seminoles, who got a workout of the season as they tried to match the circular speed of the flying wheel, while Frank Turner, Vero Beach pivot man, drew foul after foul and seldom missed. In the last quarter foul-outs began to take their deadly toll on the Seminoles as they lost man after man while the hosting Vero Beachers gained point after point at the give-away line.

"And in a way it was ironic, because the thing snow-balled against reserves who did not have the experience to cope with anything like the flying wheel—fouls multiplied, and the last part of the game saw as much free-throw action as floor action.

Basketball mentor Bud Lyster handed praise to the gallant group that tried with almost desperation to battle a foe they had never before seen.

"The boys wanted to win; and they tried with everything they had, but they just didn't have the experience to cope with what must have seemed to them to be a combination of track and basketball rolled into one court game. We're all proud of them—and Vero Beach respects them."

Assistant coach Dick Silvers added emphatically, "I had we had even approaching the same amount of experience we would have never lost this game. It's a feather in the cap of the boys just to have come out of the scrap with only a seven point difference."

Lyster explained, "We had to foul the boys to stay in the game. When we are forced to play as close as we did tonight we can only throw desire to win against experience, and experience fouling is just a natural result."

The Seminoles turned in their basketball uniforms this afternoon after an unheralded, but very very promising, season.

Local Shuffleboard Team Loses Game To Winter Park

The Sanford Shuffleboard and Tourist Club played the polite host Saturday afternoon as the local shuffleboard team bowed out to Winter Park in one of the hottest and closest games of the new season as they were topped by the visitors 25 games to 23.

The tournament, the first one the local shufflers have dropped this year, drew great enthusiasm from the audience as the battle continued and was decided by the last game.

Chiefs Finish Paying For Football Uniforms

W. W. Tyre, Chairman of the Football Project Committee of the Seminole Chiefs Club, announced at a regular meeting last night that the just recently past Fish Fry and Auction had made it possible for the Seminole Chiefs to finish paying for the football uniforms just less than six months after they were purchased.

When the uniforms were originally purchased—50 of them, including shoes—it was estimated that it would take at least a year to pay for them, and possibly two.

But when John Keeling, secretary-treasurer of the Seminole Chiefs Club, read the financial report it went something like this: Paid Out: $50 for change, $3.30 for stamps, $55.38 for essentials at the Fish Fry, $4 for sign materials, and $16.68 for printing.

Junior high football is in Sanford at stay.

NEW YORK 24—Pennsylvania is the leading producer of National League players, the loop's annual Green Book showed today, but an overall major league basis the Midwest is the top incubator for those who make the baseball big top.

Pennsylvania produced 30 of this year's crop of National Leaguers followed by California with 29, New York 28, Ohio 20, Illinois 15 and Texas and Missouri each 14.

The Pennsylvania—New York one-two punch makes the East the predominant section in the senior circuit with a total of 90 players against 86 from the Midwest, 62 from the South, 38 from the West, 24 from the Southwest and 17 foreign-borns.

Yet, on the overall basis, California is the leading big league state with 70 players in both leagues while Pennsylvania has 55 and New York 52.

Midwest finds Fellow
After that came Illinois with 39, Missouri 35, Ohio 31 and Michigan 29 to boost the Midwest to the overall top with 175 players in the big leagues against 162 for the East, 131 from the South, 89 from the West, 45 from the Southwest and 36 foreign-borns.

Proving that there have been "hitter's years" lately as the National League's "rabbitt ball," Richie Ashburn of the Philadelphia Phillies made 503 putouts last season for a record seventh season in which he has made more than 400 putouts per year. But, then, maybe it's the fault of the Phillies' pitching staff.

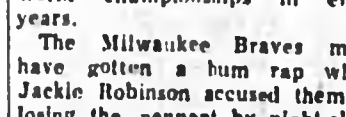

Because when Sal Maglie and Carl Erskine hurled no-hitters despite the kangaroo pellet it was only the third time since 1915 that the National League saw two no-hitters in one season. Because Warren Spahn of the Milwaukee Braves, with his seventh 20-game season, set a record for National League left-handers and also showed the way in complete low-run games with 15 such efforts in which he yielded two runs or less.

Slap At Stengel?
In what looks like a kind of sneaky swat at Casey Stengel, the National League makes a big point out of listing its most successful managers in 1000 or more games. The accolade goes to "Peerless Frank" Chance of the ancient Cubs with a .665 percentage.

Stengel ranks no better than 21st with a .640 percentage at Brooklyn and Boston, proving, no doubt, that you gotta have talent on your ball club. You'd think the American League would take a tip and list its managers thusly—where Stengel would shine on a record of seven pennants and six world championships in eight years.

The Milwaukee Braves must have gotten a bum rap when Jackie Robinson accused them of losing the pennant by night-clubbing. Why, they were no better than third to Cincinnati and Brooklyn in night play—yet led in the arduous business of winning double-headers.

Six teams from all over Seminole County will crowd, along with their avid followers, into Seminole High School Auditorium beginning Thursday afternoon at 3:30 for the much anticipated Seminole County Junior High School Basketball Tournament, sponsored by the Sanford Junior High School P.T.A. that will run for three days and reach a double climax Saturday night with a chicken dinner beginning at 6:30 in the high school cafeteria and the boys and girls championship games following.

Top seeded for the tournament will be the only once defeated Oviedo Baby Lions, who sport a handsome 9-1 League record.

Next in competition will be Slavia, second seeded of the six county schools, with a 6-4 record. No other teams were seeded for the tourney and drew matching numbers for competition. Lyman stands third in the County League with a 5-5 record, tied in that spot with All Souls Catholic School, and the cellar team of the League is Lake Monroe, who has failed to break the win column in 10 attempts.

In the girls' rounds, Slavia is undefeated in season play to draw top seeding, while Sanford Junior High has been stung with defeat on one occasion and will have to be consoled with second seeding. Again, the bottom four teams draw for matching.

One of the highlights of the event, to be staged Thursday afternoon, Friday afternoon, and Saturday night, is the big feast to precede the championship games. Chicken Pilau (purgatory to me) and all the trimmings will please the palates of the gormandizers who seek a big feed for only $1.00.

Lyman Five Loses Game To Jr. High B-Team Yesterday

Sanford Junior High School B team basketballers hit the win column again yesterday afternoon, topping Lyman Junior High 16-13.

In the tight defensive battle Bubba Davis blazed the path for the winners as he turned in a sparkling performance for the Baby Sanford Juniors and also led the scoring parade with half the entire team effort—eight points.

The gruelling defensive game drew the local B squadgers up to a tie with All Souls Catholic School in Seminole County Junior High Basketball League standings.

Al Gerard was thorn in the Sanford Junior B's side as he revived a late spark in the Baby Greyhounds from Lyman and made a personal accounting in the offensive margin with six points.

Gas Pipeline

cently-formed group of dealers in competing fuels.

With the unanimous order of the FPC was a concurring opinion by William R. Connors, one of the two commissioners who dissented in the issuance of the certificate last Dec. 28. Connors said he now found the project both feasible and "required by the public convenience and necessity." Recognizing the expanding market for natural gas in Florida, Connors endorsed the latest FPC action "in the name of enlightened public regulation."

Among the many issues resolved in favor of the pipelines by the commission's order were:

Acceptance of minimum bill provisions as suggested by Houston for its resale customers. Under this provision, FPC pointed out, "the customer pays for 50 per cent of the annual contract purchases from Houston Gas instead of 65 per cent originally proposed" with annual payments "allocated among the 12 months" to "mitigate any penalty effect."

The commission required that the resale customers promptly execute new resale agreements containing this minimum bill provision.

Granting of Houston's request that FPC waive its condition for elimination of the competitive fuel clause in contracts for primary interruptible service, a type that would constitute only 3.4 per cent of the total gas deliveries.

Finding that the increase of two cents a thousand cubic feet in the transportation rate to the power companies, Florida Power & Light and Florida Power, would be sufficient. This increase in transportation revenue, amounting to $1,095,000 a year or approximately $22 million over the life of the 20-year contracts, was made possible by a decrease in producers' field price which would absorb the losses and maintain the same delivered price. The two power companies will buy 150 million cubic feet a day to generate electricity.

Rate levels to its customers as proposed by Houston also were found sufficient.

FPC agreed that the Houston corporation's contracts with the power companies would be considered as special rate schedules, subject to minor clarification and rephrasing.

Similarly the commission accepted the rate filings of Coastal with minor exceptions. The record, FPC said, shows that the supply of gas made available under Coastal's contracts will be sufficient to meet the peak requirements for resale and other gas of 278 million cubic feet a day.

F. E. Stanley, president of the Houston corporation which will build the line from Baton Rouge, La. to south Florida with laterals serving both Florida coasts, said of the FPC order:

"The splendid cooperation we have received from Florida leaves no doubt that this long-sought fuel will soon be on its way. We understand the increasing concern of Florida consumers over the rising cost of fuels on which they are now dependent and will do all in our power to speed the delivery of economical natural gas."

W. J. Bowen, president of Coastal, which will build the line from Gulf Coast fields to Baton Rouge, said the FPC action was "a major step in the joint pro-

Maddened Squirrel Causes Near-Panle
NEW YORK — A maddened squirrel caused a near-panic on a crowded street corner in Brooklyn.

The incident began when the grey squirrel began hopping from shoulder to shoulder of a group of children.

Santo V. Eredit, 11, tried to push the squirrel. It bit him on the hand. Santo screamed and the recovered squirrel leaped to the shoulder of a little girl. It bit her also.

Truck driver Bernard Katz came to the rescue from a nearby restaurant.

During the ensuing tussle, Katz attempted to capture the squirrel as it charged up and down his legs, back, shoulders and head. It finally bit him twice on the thigh.

ASPCA officials arrived and took the squirrel into custody.

They administered tetanus injections to the injured and offered the only explanation of the squirrel's unfriendly behavior they could think of:

"This is the mating season for squirrels."

ject to bring natural gas to Florida," adding that "the 31 independent producers who have set aside substantial reserves for this project will be equally pleased with the news."

Hypnotic Marvels Will Be Staged At SHS March 9

Today the Band Parents Association announced that arrangements have been completed for the big professional stage show, Hypnotic Marvels, which will bring Dr. Morton Greene here for an evening of entertainment which includes astounding feats, prophecy and demonstration of hypnotism in all of its exciting and mysterious phases.

This show will be presented at the Seminole High School auditorium on the night of Friday, Mar. 9. The proceeds will be used for the benefit of the Seminole High School band.

Dr. Morton Greene, star of the show, is a nationally known hypnotist and a top flight entertainer whose extraordinary demonstrations have delighted and baffled audiences for many years. Not only has Dr. Greene received nation-wide acclaim from theatre and radio audiences, but he has also been featured in television appearances on WGN, NBC, TV, and TV Air Shows, Inc.

Ernest Cowley, Bandmaster, reports that the organization feels quite fortunate in being able to bring Dr. Greene to Sanford for the entertainment consists of fast, clean fun in the mystery field and holds appeal for the whole family.

Both adults and children will be fascinated by his world and mental gymnastics which include audience participation, featuring demonstration of various phases of hypnosis including control of the subconscious, extrasensory perception, telepathy, pain control and many others.

Perhaps one of his most amazing feats is a scene billed as "In the Long Long Ago" where the doctor lives a demonstration of Age Regression, and with proper subjects, occasionally takes one back to a time before birth for a glimpse similar to that experienced in the famed "Bridley Sturp Case."

All indications are that this show, Hypnotic Marvels, will be an unforgettable experience and one of the highlights of the entertainment season which both old and young will enjoy.

VAL PETERSON, Civil Defense Administrator, tells a House Government Operations Committee in Washington that Democratic Congressmen are giving him too much power in the new civil defense bill. He thought, however, that the proposal to give him Cabinet rank "would assist" in raising the prestige of civil defense activities. No matter how much federal assistance is assured, he stated, "success or failure" of a program is "on a local level." (International)

GEORGE MIANO, president of the AFL-CIO, tells interviewers on a TV and radio program from Washington that Dave Beck, president of the Teamsters' union, will be ousted from the labor organization if he does not cooperate with Senate probes. Too Late To Classify

BY RUSSELL KAY
The world's sports car spotlight will be centered on Sebring next month when the Florida International 12-hour Grand Prix Endurance is staged over the famed Sebring course, Saturday, March 2.

Race Secretary Reginald S. Smith announced last week that 82 cars, representing 13 countries and 20 manufacturers, had been assigned tentative positions in the starting line-up. Additional entries can be filed up to March 6.

Countries represented at this time include England, Scotland, France, Germany, Italy, Spain, Canada, West Indies, Dominican Republic, Puerto Rico, Venezuela, Argentina and the United States.

Makes of cars and number of entries include: Italy: Ferrari, 3; Maserati, 6; Alfa Romeo, 2; Stanguellini, 1; and Oca, 1. England: Jaguar, 7; MG, 3; Arnott-Bristol, 3; Lotus, 3; Austin-Healey, 2; Cooper, 2; Triumph, 2; AC, 2; and Morgan, 1. France: Renault, 3; D-B, 1. Germany: Porsche, 3; and Mercedes-Benz, 2. United States: Chevrolet, 4; Ford Thunderbird, 2.

Cars will be driven by top flight drivers from the Grand Prix circuits of the world and in addition to American stars will include such famed sports car drivers as Eugenio Castellotto, Luigi Musso and Caesar Penella of Italy; Marqui, delortago of Spain; Count Von Trips, Germany; Peter Collins, England; public; Maston Gregory and Porfirio Riberosa, Dominican Republic; Phil Hill of the United States, as three drivers, although most teams will consist of only two.

A single driver may elect to complete the gruelling 12 hour run.

This International sports car event brings Sebring and Florida world wide publicity and attendance has increased steadily from year to year. Sports car enthusiasts from all over the world flock here for this annual event and officials anticipate a record breaking attendance this year.

Housing is always a problem and if you are planning to attend the race this year and stay over I suggest that you contact the Race Housing Committee for a reservation. Everything possible is being done by the local chamber of commerce and race officials to provide housing for the thousands who will attend the race. Other communities in the area are cooperating and every effort will be made to see that visitors and participants are taken care of.

The housing committee reports that double rooms are available, some with double beds and some with twin beds at rates from $9 to $12. The earlier you make your reservation the better chance you will have to be taken care of.

While the race itself is a thrilling event and well worth seeing, if you plan now to spend a few days in the area you will find many other attractions well worth visiting. At Lake Wales you can attend the famed Passion Play, see the Bok Tower, or The Great Masterpiece and, of course, you will want to see beautiful Cypress Gardens. Many improvements have been made and the gardens are glorious at this season of the year.

The International Grand Prix Race of Endurance is scheduled for Saturday, March 2, and if you witness this and stay over you can visit these other outstanding Florida attractions and find it well worth your while.

Possibility Of Natural Gas In Area Creates Considerable Discussion

Top News In Brief

JAKARTA, Indonesia—Indonesia's religious parties united today to reject President Sukarno's efforts to abandon the Western democratic system and install a "guided democracy" with Communist participation.

WASHINGTON—Sen. Harry F. Byrd (D-Va.) warned today the Eisenhower Doctrine could cost U. S. taxpayers billions of dollars. He joined Sen. Richard B. Russell (D-Ga.) in urging that the Senate strip the proposed doctrine of economic and military aid provisions.

WASHINGTON—The Joint House-Senate Economic Committee urged Congress today to give small businesses some tax relief this year. But the committee supported President Eisenhower's position that this is no time for a general tax cut.

WASHINGTON—President Eisenhower and French Premier Guy Mollet agreed today that a solution to the Middle East problems can be achieved by peaceful means. Mr. Eisenhower and the Premier issued a joint communique as Mollet concluded his Washington visit and left for New York.

CHICAGO—A Skid Row dishwasher was thrust back into the limelight today on the basis of a teen-aged girl's statement that she had seen his pictures in the wallet of one of the slain Grimes sisters.

CAIRO—The rulers of four Arab nations reached agreement Wednesday night on a six-point resolution proclaiming their "positive neutrality" in world affairs between the blocs led by the United States and Russia. The four nations pledged an alliance to work for Israel's "immediate and unconditional withdrawal" behind the armistice lines, but did not threaten action if Israel failed to comply.

Nixon Will Leave Today On Goodwill Tour Of Africa

WASHINGTON—Vice President Richard M. Nixon leaves today on a mission to prove that the smile and handshake of American politics can be as effective in winning friends in Africa as it was in Asia.

Nixon, who departs this afternoon on a 17,815-mile goodwill tour of Africa, plans to spend as much time as possible with the "little" people of the nine nations he will visit.

The vice president used the same person-to-person diplomacy with reported success during his 1953 tour of Asia. He even broke up an anti-American demonstration in Burma by walking up to talk things over with the Communist leaders.

Attractive Pat Nixon, who again will accompany her 44-year-old husband, also plans to repeat her Asian performance by visiting schools, hospitals and libraries to compare notes with local women leaders.

Ranchwagon, Truck Collide On 17-92; Beautician Is Hurt

A Casselberry beautician was taken to an Orlando Hospital late Tuesday night following a collision between her car, a ranchwagon, and a semi-truck trailer in front of Kinty's Garage in Fern Park.

Ruby M. Hollis of Casselberry is reported to have received possible back injuries and severe shock. Patrolman Gene patrol said the ranchwagon struck the Allied Van Lines' semi truck driven by Glen Herndon of Norfolk, Va.

Minor damage was estimated to the left front fender of the ranchwagon but no damage to the van.

Charges have been placed against Mrs. Hollis, said Coffman.

Committees Named In Effort To Form Fund Drive Here

Representatives from civic organizations and organizations agreeing to participate in a United Fund Drive for Sanford and Seminole County named committees last night in a step toward permanently organizing.

Willis Peacock, of the Florida State Bank, as temporary chairman presided at the meeting with A. B. Peterson Jr. of St. Johns Realty Co. serving as temporary secretary.

Three committees were named but only chairman was appointed at last night's meeting. The committees named were: Nominating Committee, Public Relations Committee with Bill Gramkow as chairman, and a By-Laws Committee.

The group went on record last night, recommending to the permanent organization, that Oct. 1, 1957 be adopted as the kick-off date for the first drive.

It was also recommended to the permanent organization that "We affiliate ourselves with the United Fund Drive."

Peacock will serve as chairman of the new temporary organization until permanent officers are named by the nominating committee.

Flooding Rivers In Northwest Force Many From Homes

By UNITED PRESS

Flooding rivers, fed by melted snow, forced hundreds from their homes in the Northwest, and dangerously high rivers threatened to spill over their banks in other parts of the nation today.

The Red Cross rushed bedding, food, milk and other necessities for some 300 residents of Wilson Creek, Wash., who spent the night in schools, churches and homes of nearby farmers after the town was covered with up to five feet of water.

Although the waters of Crab Creek had receded slightly, the Weather Bureau warned that expected temperatures in the 80s today could cause a fresh deluge.

Railroad traffic was cut off through Wilson Creek because flood waters undermined the approaches to the bridge over the creek. Tracks on both sides of the bridge hung suspended in the air.

J. Bergman, Hudson Named In Look's Movie Awards

NEW YORK—Ingrid Bergman and Rock Hudson were named the best actress and best actor of the year today in Look Magazine's 16th annual movie awards.

Miss Bergman was cited for her performance in "Anastasia" and Hudson for his role in "Giant."

The Look award for the best screenplay went to Tennessee Williams for the controversial "Baby Doll."

Other awards included: Best Supporting Players: Oscar Homolka, "War and Peace," and Marie Windsor, "The Killing." Most Promising Newcomers: Anthony Perkins, "Friendly Persuasion," and Carroll Baker, "Giant," and "Baby Doll."

Jan M. Wallis Is Killed In Crash

Word has just been received by Mr. and Mrs. Harry Walter of 2605 Sanford Ave. that their grandson, Jan M. Wallis, was killed in the crash in February of an Army Transport plane enroute from Korea to Japan.

Wallis was expected back in the United States early in April and it is believed, according to his grandparents, he was on the start of his homeward journey when the disaster occurred.

Wallis had been in Korea for over a year, having joined the Army shortly after his graduation from Seminole High School in 1955.

Navy Plans Full Study Of Base Before Decision

Annual American Legion Fair Will Be Here Mar. 18-23

The American Legion will stage its annual Fair in Seminole County again this year. Commander Lynn Lyon of the Campbell-Lossing Post, said today.

Arrangements have been made to bring the American Legion Fair to Sanford during the week of March 18-23.

Lyon said this morning "We are very fortunate in securing the James E. Straite Shows for the midway this year."

"We have been negotiating with the show officials since last November and only within the last few days have we been able to secure one of the largest show organizations in the South for our annual event," Lyon stated.

"Ordinarily we hold our fair during the first week in February," said Lyon, "and the reason we are six weeks late is that the negotiations have taken much time in order that we might bring to the people of Seminole County a bigger and better fair than ever."

R. Z. Johnson Jr., president of the American Legion Fair Association, said that the Fair will be held at the old fair grounds at the corner of Mellonville and Celery Aves.

All arrangements have been completed said Johnson and "we are ready to go ahead with our plans to stage the annual fair."

Lyon, making the announcement that it will be held this year, expressed hope that, even though the fair is late, the crowds in the history of the local fair will file through the main gate.

Teachers To Meet

The Seminole County Teachers Association will hold its regular monthly meeting tonight at Pinecrest School.

Meeting time has been set for 8 o'clock.

Assembly Cancels Mid-East Session

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y.—The United Nations General Assembly canceled its scheduled session on the Middle East again today, awaiting official announcement of developments in Washington.

The 30-nation Parliament called off the debate scheduled for 10:30 a.m. It was the third straight such cancellation. Officials said the assembly "probably" would resume its Middle East discussion this afternoon.

Diplomatic sources said there was a good chance the Americans would not present their measure if Israel agrees to withdraw from Egypt on Washington's assurances alone.

Up to Wednesday night Asian and African countries stood firmly behind their demand for U. N. sanctions against Israel and were demanding to be heard.

But in view of Washington reports of Israeli agreement to withdraw its troops from the Gulf of Aqaba and the Gaza Strip, observers believed the Afro-Asian bloc would hold off a bit longer.

Diplomatic sources said if the Washington talks result in actual Israeli withdrawal, there would be no need for the Arabs to press for sanctions or for the United States to introduce its proposed "middle way" resolution.

However, the assembly still may have to give some direction to Secretary-General Dag Hammarskjöld on the positioning of the UN Emergency Force after the Israeli troops leave Egypt.

Government OK's Proposed Roads

TALLAHASSEE—The federal government has approved the general routing of six proposed highways in Florida totaling 1,164 miles.

The interstate highway system includes the limited access highway from Daytona to St. Petersburg which will also connect Deland and Sanford by way of a causeway across the St. Johns River.

A portion of the route to be known as 104 is now under study by consulting engineers to determine a route through the Tampa Area. Length of the entire route from the Polk-Osceola line to Daytona Beach is 87.4 miles while the route from St. Petersburg to Polk-Osceola line is 65.7 miles.

From Daytona Beach to St. Petersburg is 153.1 miles.

Location parties are now completing a preliminary survey of the route from Sanford to Daytona Beach, a distance of 33 miles.

The location through Orlando is under way by a firm of consulting engineers and is well underway.

Preparation of plans from State Road 46 west of Sanford to State Road 48 east of Deland, approximately 15 miles in length, has been given to a firm of consultants. The estimated cost for this portion of the project which includes the causeway is $5,000,000.

However, according to William H. Diehl, no routes will be determined as final until public hearings are held in each community affected.

The roads are to be built under the interstate highway program.

Approvals of specific routing will be made in the future by the local U. S. Bureau of Public Roads, Federal Highway Administrator B. D. Tallamy told the State Road Board Wednesday.

The blanket approval covered all six proposed routes and legs leading into Pensacola and Miami. The Miami route cuts through 36th street across to Miami Beach.

Route 101 will run down the East Coast from the Georgia line through the Jacksonville express-

Plane Crashes On Takeoff; 2 Die

ENID, Okla.—A twin-engine C45, based at Shaw Air Force Base, S. C., crashed on its takeoff at Vance Air Force Base here at 6:32 a. m. today, killing the pilot and co-pilot and seriously injuring the third member of the crew.

Officials said the plane was taking off from the south to the north and was about 20 feet off the ground when it suddenly veered to the left, crashed and burned.

Names of the victims were not disclosed, pending notification of kin.

Thomas Reveals Action

WASHINGTON—The Navy plans a full study of all details before deciding whether to move its Naval Air Station from Sanford, Navy Secretary Charles S. Thomas has promised.

Thomas informed Senators Spessard L. Holland and George Smathers and Congressman A. S. "Syd" Herlong Jr. their request to retain the station would be given full consideration.

Thomas expects a recommendation from a survey team by June 1.

"Full consideration will be given to such factors as economy, community relations and the feasibility of expanding the existing station at Sanford as well as the recommendations of the survey team," he said.

Thomas said the present Sanford runways cannot handle landing of jet aircraft, and the Navy must decide whether to expand Sanford or relocate the base.

The statements were contained in a letter addressed to Congressman A. S. Herlong Jr. and delivered to Congressman Herlong, Senator Smathers and Senator Holland late yesterday afternoon.

Receipt of the letter came after more than an hour-long conference with the Secretary of the Navy Tuesday afternoon. The Congressional Delegation was accompanied by J. Bralley Odham, Sanford builder and Seminole County Chamber of Commerce Manager John Krider.

Krider, in a telephone conversation this morning said that "We have opened up something new and are exploring the feasibility of expanding our present base to both the South and the East."

He stated "We have a conference this morning with Admiral W. V. Davis, Chief of Planning for the Navy since it looks like this is the trend that plans are now taking."

Senator George Smathers, in his conversation with the Secretary of the Navy, seemed to have struck a theme which might be followed when he said "We've got about 17 million dollars invested in the Naval Air Station at Sanford and due to the economy trend now, we should expand the present base to accommodate the bombers."

Krider was extremely enthusiastic about the outcome of meetings and conferences that are now being held in Washington in the all-out effort to keep the Naval Air Station in the Seminole County Area.

The full text of the letter from the Secretary of the Navy Charles S. Thomas to Congressman A. S. Herlong Jr. follows:

My Dear Congressman Herlong: For some time now, the Navy has been quite concerned over flight operations conducted at the

Crew Fixes Plane's Frozen Nose Wheel With Juice, Coffee

DETROIT—A crippled airliner carrying 36 anxious persons circled nearby over two cities for hours Wednesday before its crew fixed a frozen nose wheel with orange juice and coffee and brought the big ship in for a perfect landing.

Capt. William Richey, 38, Minneapolis, set the Capital Airlines Constellation down at Willow Run Airport with only a few slight bumps.

Emergency Equipment Ready

Ambulances and fire and police rescue squads, which waited tensely for the large plane to come in, sped out to the taxiing craft but were not needed. None of the 36 passengers, and five crew members was injured.

Many of the passengers came out of the plane smiling and were quickly hustled off to a lounge in the airport terminal. The crew remained aboard the ship to confer with Capital officials.

Richey, a Capital pilot for 11 years, said the plane's nose wheel froze shortly after the four-engine ship took off from Gen. Mitchell Field at Milwaukee with 15 passengers bound for Detroit and the rest for Philadelphia.

Ralph Reid, Capital's director of engineering, blamed the trouble on a "hydraulic leak."

Boat Regatta Films Will Be Viewed Tonight By Club

Films on the Boat Regatta held here recently will be shown tonight at the regular meeting of the Sanford Boat and Ski Club at 8 o'clock.

The members will gather at the "little green house" in Ft. Mellon Park. Four hundred feet of color film will be seen and the pictures are reported to be "beautiful" with many good and exciting shots taken.

The public is cordially invited by the club to attend this meeting and view the film.

Team Holds Debate For Sixth Graders

The Seminole High School Debate Team staged a debate Tuesday afternoon for the benefit of the sixth grades of Sanford Grammar School.

Subject of the debate was "Communism, Before and After Stalin."

Members of the team were students of Mrs. Nellie Coleman at Seminole High School. The affirmative side was represented by Margaret Ellison and J. D. Stone. The negative side was taken by Iris Cauley and Dottie Metts.

CofC President Tells Club Of Organization's Recent Achievements

Members of the Seminole County Chamber of Commerce heard President Clifford McKibbin tell of the accomplishments of the organization during the past month at a Coffee Club gathering of the group this morning at the Chamber of Commerce Building.

Top item to be discussed was the effort to keep the Naval Air Station in Seminole County. McKibbin cited the meeting Saturday morning of the Armed Forces Committee prior to the local delegation heading for Washington where Chamber of Commerce Manager is looking into every detail concerning the Naval Air Station's proposed move to Osceola.

"If we can't get Osceola," said McKibbin, "we should make every effort to get an expansion of the present local base."

The United Fund Drive in which the Seminole County chamber of Commerce was interested, said McKibbin has been set up by organizations which have agreed to participate. "They have taken over and the Chamber of Commerce is now out of it," he said.

President McKibbin told the Coffee Club group that "several years ago a survey was made to determine the industrial possibilities of the area." That has been brought up to date, he said.

"It all adds up to the fact that Sanford can well be the industrial distribution center of Central Florida if we take advantage of the river," he added.

The proposal is coming up for discussion before the Board of Sanford City Commissioners, said McKibbin.

Bouquets were also handed out to the Sanford Boat and Ski Club for their successful Speed Boat Regatta on Lake Monroe recently.

"Central Florida people are wanting to get out of the crowded areas and into areas where recreation facilities are available," McKibbin pointed out.

The Coffee Club program was emceed by Don Bales.
