

Eight GOP Senators Sign For 'Open' Convention

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Eight top senators have pledged to work for an open Republican convention and attacked "extreme proposals" as outside the party's philosophy.

The eight senators, in a statement issued Sunday, set forth "essential Republican philosophy" that they said was inspired by Abraham Lincoln, strengthened by Theodore Roosevelt and developed by Dwight D. Eisenhower.

They attacked extremism as "not within the scope of these principles," adding that such proposals could not meet the issues of the times, were not capable of surviving "the sweep of history" and were "not in the interest of our nation or our party."

The declaration mentioned no candidates by name, but three of its signers — Sens. Hugh Scott, Pa., Thomas H. Kuchel, Calif., and Jacob K. Javits, N.Y.—have actively sought to keep the nomination from Sen. Barry Goldwater.

Other senators supporting the statement were Kenneth S. Keating, N.Y., J. Glenn Beall, Md., Leverett Saltonstall, Mass., John Sherman Cooper, Ky., and Clifford P. Case, N.J.

The senators called for a "pre-eminently strong United States." But, they said, this country also must take the lead in "the cause of peace with freedom and justice for all peoples."

Among institutions the lawmakers supported were the United Nations, Social Security, collective bargaining, "without compulsory open shop laws," and regional security pacts.

The statement stressed the responsibility of the federal government to assure "by effective laws equal opportunity and justice to all citizens to the full extent provided by the Constitution."

Nikita On Visit To Scandinavia

MOSCOW (UPI) — Soviet Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev traveled by train today to the Baltic Seaport of Kaliningrad, the jumping off point for a two-week tour of Scandinavia—his fourth trip abroad this year.

Khrushchev, his wife and the couple's three daughters left Moscow Sunday night and were scheduled to arrive in Kaliningrad this afternoon to board a ship bound for Copenhagen, Denmark.

Traveling with him was Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko and other Soviet officials.

The Soviet party will spend four days in Denmark, arriving there Tuesday, before cruising on to Sweden and Norway.

Denmark will be the 21st nation that Khrushchev has visited since he became the leader of Soviet Russia 10 years ago.

Since Jan. 1, he has traveled to Hungary, Poland and the United Arab Republic.

The trip to the Scandinavian nations was viewed here as largely a goodwill gesture.

Disputed Rest Home Gets Permit

New Seminole Bank Granted State Charter

Articles of incorporation for the new United State Bank of Seminole have been received by the institution's proposed chairman of the board of directors, T. E. Tucker.

All shares of stock in the new bank have been sold, having been over-subscribed more than doubly. The 20,000 shares of stock, which were listed by the office of Secretary of State Tom Adams at $10 per share were allocated in order to accommodate all subscribers.

However, Tucker said that names of interested persons are still being added to the waiting list. The new bank will be located within the area of the shopping center presently under construction just outside the city limits on Highway 17-92, on property owned by the bank. The site of the bank is shown as Highway 17-92 and State St. and the new structure will face west on a 75 by 300 foot lot.

Tentative plans call for construction to begin within 60 days and architectural plans are now being drawn by John Burton IV.

"Although the United State Bank of Seminole will be affiliated with the other members of the McNulty group of banks, the new bank will be operated on a competitive basis with other banks in the area," Tucker said.

Members of the board of directors of the approximately 300 stockholders of the bank include Loring Burgess, J. D. Wright Jr., Mack Cleveland Jr., Harold Kastner, Charles Robinson, Thomas McDonald and Robert Jackson.

Burgess is presently executive vice president of Florida State Bank of Sanford and Mrs. Douglas is assistant vice president.

Oviedo Sets Dog Inoculations

Oviedo City Clerk Mrs. John Courier announced today that Dr. George Long, veterinarian, will conduct a clinic for the inoculation of dogs on Thursday, June 18, back of City Hall starting at 1 p. m.

City ordinances require all dogs whose owners reside within the municipal limits of Oviedo to be inoculated.

Honshu Island Shattered By Massive Quake

NIIGATA, Japan (UPI)—A massive earthquake struck a 300-mile stretch of the west coast of the main island of Honshu today, shattering buildings, smashing bridges and setting off raging fires that burned into the night.

It was the worst tremor to hit this earthquake-prone country since 1923, when 143,000 persons were killed in the Tokyo-Yokohama area.

The official Japan Broadcasting Corporation, (NHK) reported 22 persons dead, one missing and 194 injured.

More than 3,000 buildings and houses were destroyed or damaged by the quake, which hit at 1:02 p. m. (12:02 a. m. EST).

Seven petroleum tanks still were blazing furiously in Niigata at 11 p. m. and city officials asked for outside help to fight the flames.

The officials were reported to have asked the Japanese Air Self-Defense Force to drop chemical fire-fighting bombs over the tanks.

A massive relief and rescue operation was being mounted from many points in Japan to help the affected area, with U. S. Air Force planes, men and equipment on standby alert to help out when needed.

Although the United State Bank of Seminole will be affiliated with the other members of the McNulty group of banks, the new bank will be operated on a competitive basis with other banks in the area," Tucker said.

Winter Park Drive Paving Under Way

Paving of Winter Park Drive, a two-mile stretch of road from Red Bug Lake Road north to Seminola Boulevard was started Monday by County Road Department crews.

The announcement was made today by County Engineer Bill Bush.

Bush said that county equipment and personnel began preliminary grading on the "south" mile. "We're going to make every effort," Bush stated, "to complete this section of the road which will run from Red Bug Lake Road north to the entrances of South Seminole Junior High and South Seminole Elementary schools by the time the two schools open in late August."

After completion of this mile, Bush declared that work would begin immediately on the "north" mile.

Although this stretch of Winter Park Drive is within the limits of Casselberry, the project is being financed jointly by Casselberry and the county. Traffic checks indicated that of 2,100 persons using Winter Park Drive daily approximately 1,700 of them were not residents of Casselberry.

Cost of the project has been estimated at $17,000. Casselberry is contributing some $20,000.

Bush also revealed today that the State Road Department has completed a median crossover on 430 where the English Estates School road enters the highway.

Bear Lake Road is nearing completion, Bush also said today. "Our crews are dressing out the shoulders, cleaning up, and we're planning traffic signs and paint striping in the very near future."

Bush added, "We've started work on the extension of 25th Street from the present dead end at the old Lake Mary Road westward to the entrance of Loch Arbor."

Health Board Grants Sarepta Temporary OK

Mrs. Tamar Braden, assistant administrator of the Sarepta Rest Home said today that the Florida State Board of Health has issued a temporary license to operate the controversial home for the aged.

Last December the Board denied the license to operate and ordered the home closed, despite many improvements paid for by donations of public-spirited citizens and organizations in an attempt to keep the home open.

Gen. J. C. Hutchison, then chairman of the board of county commissioners, told The Herald by telephone today that following the State Board of Health's order to close, county commissioners wrote and telephoned State Health Officer Wilson Sowder urging him to reconsider the decision.

The question of providing beds and care for the county's aged and indigent has plagued county commissioners for nearly two years as stringent new state regulations governing such institutions began forcing both county-owned and privately-owned rest homes and nursing homes to close their doors.

The state board had based its refusal of a license on the fact that it had "no authority" to waive rigid specifications nor could it "overlook" some of the requirements.

Presumably, after a prolonged study of the local situation, the board changed its previous stand to allow the home to function with a proper license.

However, this license is valid only until December 31, 1964, when inspection will again be made by State Board of Health officials.

"This problem is still far from solved," Mrs. Braden said today. "We are still not allowed to keep patients who need nursing care and do not have funds to incorporate all the remodeling and reconstruction set forth in state regulations to meet the requirements. Seminole County still needs a new, modern, qualified nursing home that can care for those who need nursing as well as caring for the aged," she said.

The Sarepta Rest Home is operated on a non-profit basis and was originally founded as a religious home for the homeless by the Rev. K. V. Mykkanen, Mrs. Braden's father. It is situated on a large tract of land on Silver Lake, southeast of Sanford.

Although the license to operate was dated May 12, Mrs. Braden has just returned from a month long tour of Finland, where she visited similar institutions the length and breadth of that country.

"If the animal should prove to be rabid, a series of painful and expensive anti-rabies shots will be necessary, for rabies can be fatal," Knowles said.

Leaders Say Florida's Apportionment Doomed

TALLAHASSEE (UPI)—Top state officials say the U. S. Supreme Court will toss out Florida's legislative apportionment soon, but agree that a hurried special session of the legislature is not the answer to the problem. The high court decision may come this week in the wake of a historic order Monday which said that both houses of state legislatures should be apportioned equally according to population. The decision was historic and it directly affected six states—one of them Alabama. Like Alabama, Florida's senate is apportioned mainly by geographical area.

Suspect Arrested In Burglary

Police made quick work of solving a weekend burglary at the Tip Top Grocery Store, 1100 W. 13th St., with the arrest of one man and interrogation of two others.

Police are holding Theodore Dellfield of Sanford on a charge of breaking and entering. Further arrests are expected, they report.

Most of the loot consisting of a wide assortment of clothing and cases of wine was recovered from where it was hidden in underbrush on Lake Avenue, according to Lt. Ben E. Butler and Patrolman Arthur Hall, investigating officers.

The stolen property is being kept at police headquarters pending outcome of the case. Police Chief Roy G. Williams commended the officers for their fast, diligent investigation and subsequent arrest.

Richard Grover Buys Oaklawn Cemetery

Oaklawn Cemetery, established in 1933 by Ray Slaton and owned by him since that time, has been sold to Richard A. Grover, according to an announcement made today by the new owner.

Grover said that plans are being made for future development, further expansion of the present 23-acre site and other improvements. The corporation, headed by Grover, holds options on several additional acres of land adjacent to the cemetery.

Grover, who has been manager of the cemetery for the past several months, has had considerable experience in the cemetery business. He has built six garden-type cemeteries in such cities as Atlanta, Aiken, S. C., Birmingham and O'lando.

Mrs. Grover is the vice president of the corporation and Richard A. Grover Jr. is a director. Grover is a native of Tennessee. He attended high school in Crescent City and is a graduate of the University of Florida.

Know Soon, Says Nixon

ATLANTA (UPI)—Former Vice President Richard M. Nixon said Monday the next two weeks "will tell the story" of Pennsylvania Gov. William Scranton's bid for the GOP presidential nomination.

Nixon called New York Gov. Nelson Rockefeller's withdrawal from the race in favor of Scranton "a real boost for Scranton."

He said Sen. Barry Goldwater was "well ahead . . . and a strong favorite" for the nomination, but that Scranton's entry has slowed down the rush of uncommitted delegates to Goldwater.

British Get Own Medicine

LONDON (UPI)—The sale of British buses to Cuba came back to haunt the London press today as a result of reports an American-owned firm in Britain has contracted to sell Indonesia 1,000 truck and bus chassis.

It was announced Monday that Vauxhall Motors, an American-owned firm, will sell $36.12 million worth of truck and bus parts to Indonesia, whose President Sukarno has vowed to "crush Malaysia," a new member of the British Commonwealth. Britain did not stop the sale or buses to Cuba despite American objections to the deal.

UF Develops Nematode Resistant Citrus Stock

Three new citrus rootstocks, with the ability to grow in nematode infested soils have been jointly released by the Florida Agricultural Experiment Stations and the U.S. Department of Agriculture.

Dr. J. R. Beckenbach, director of the experiment stations noted that these are the first new citrus rootstock varieties to be released that are designed especially for nematode problems.

Names of the new rootstock varieties are "Estes," "Ridge Pineapple" and "Milam."

The burrowing nematode is the chief cause of the citrus disease known as Spreading Decline, which attacks all rootstocks commonly used for citrus in Florida. Once a grove is infested, the grower must remove all affected trees and fumigate the soil before replanting.

"Estes" grows satisfactorily and gives acceptable yields despite a high level of burrowing nematodes feeding on the roots. "Ridge Pineapple" and "Milam" not only grow well in infested soils, but actually cause attacking nematode populations to die out.

Supplies of the new varieties are limited. Dr. Beckenbach said and distribution may be held to one plant of each variety per customer. Priority will be given to nurserymen, and growers will be urged to use the plants for seed production only.

Additional seed trees may be developed by taking budwood from the plants. Distribution of the new citrus rootstock varieties will be handled by the Florida Foundation Seed Producers, Incorporated, P. O. Box 1406, University Station, Gainesville. Orders should be placed before June 25th.

Circular S-151 entitled "Three Citrus Rootstocks Recommended For Trial in Spreading Decline Areas" is available at the Seminole County Agricultural Center or copy may be received by calling 322-8233.

"Don't touch Daddy's paper"

Every mother raises her children to respect the importance of today's newspaper. It goes with being Dad... having the whole family yield the daily paper until Dad himself has finished with it. And when he has finished with it, Mom and the children will take their turn at their favorite parts of the paper. None of your new-fangled inventions have eaten into the position the daily newspaper holds. A well-known study of the TV audience shows that "newspaper reading is the only form of mass communication which showed no reaction when TV sets were purchased." Whereas, the same study found, radio-listening, magazine reading and movie attendance went down when TV sets were purchased.

BOATING'S BIG BUSINESS for Seminole County as this weekend picture can attest. A Herald photographer snapped it Sunday morning at the public launching area in Lake Monroe and just south of the St. Johns River Bridge. Parking was at a premium during most of the day with trailers licensed from as far away as Polk County. (Herald Photo)

END OF LINE for this police car is shown above. The car, operated by Altamonte Springs Police Chief Russ Milne was chasing a speeding vehicle on Maitland Avenue over the weekend when the driver lost control and cracked into this utility pole. Town Mayor Lawrence Swofford says he expects the council will authorize a new vehicle to replace this one damaged to the extent of $1,400. (Herald Photo)

WASHINGTON (UPI) — City voters were armed today with a smashing Supreme Court victory that will probably remake to their advantage almost all state legislatures.

This change will not necessarily affect the next election. The high court allowed plenty of leeway for accommodation to the new principle.

In historic opinions involving six states, the court ruled Monday that seats in both Houses of a state legislature must be based "as nearly as practicable" on population. The votes ranged from 9 to 6 to 3, with Justice John M. Harlan dissenting in all cases.

The court held that the makeup of legislatures in Alabama, Virginia, Maryland, New York, Delaware and Colorado now run counter to the U. S. Constitution. These cases go back to those states for further proceedings.

Chief Justice Earl Warren said only by fashioning legislative districts approximately equal in population could the states afford voters the Constitution's guarantee of the "equal protection of the laws."

The series of opinions produced about 65,000 words from the four justices who gave their views.

This avalanche was part of the court's push toward adjournment next Monday of its term.

Before delivering the reapportionment opinions, the court made more history in federal-state relations. In ruling 5 to 4 that the Fifth Amendment's privilege against self-incrimination applies in states as well as federal proceedings, the court overturned more than 50 years of constitutional precedent.

The court also held that a state witness may not be compelled to give testimony which may incriminate him under federal law.

The reapportionment decisions broke the logjam of cases built up since the court's 1962 Tennessee ruling opened the doors of federal courts to voter complaints in this field.

The questions of when and how the new decisions would be carried out were left largely to lower courts, which were urged to take account of specific circumstances. If an election is imminent, and the mechanics of it already in motion, Warren said, a lower court properly may postpone action.

Smathers Asks King: Stay Out

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Negro leader of the Southern Christian Leadership Conference was later released on his own bond, however.

King, who addressed commencement exercises at Williams College, Springfield, Mass., Sunday and said he will return to St. Augustine, was accused by Smathers of hurting rather than helping the situation.

The grandfather and an uncle of John Foster Dulles also had served as secretary of state of the United States.

Learning From Others

Last week 571 young men and women received diplomas from the four high schools in the Seminole County public school system.

To some of them, unfortunately, it means the end of their years of formal education.

Fortunately, however, to a majority it means exactly what the exercises were called — commencement!

Not too many years past an eighth grade diploma meant that the recipient was prepared to tackle the problems of life. Then, they were somewhat different.

Today, however, the complexities of life have changed considerably. They are not only more difficult, they are more numerous. Not even a high school diploma in these days and times will qualify an individual to meet the ups and downs of life — the problems of finding a job in an area one likes, earning an income sufficient to provide for loved ones, and to make available the luxuries, no matter how small, a growing family needs today.

To remain in step with the times our graduates must realize high school graduation is merely the commencement of a period through which they now must go to advance their knowledge, whether it be in academic or vocational areas.

To graduates we say this: Don't sell your counselors short! They speak from experience — either theirs or the experience of hundreds of others who have found out the hard way that the key to success is education.

Last week's graduates have merely "poured the foundation" of their careers. They are still not ready to build. First they must commence to learn how to read the blueprints of life and assemble the tools and know-how they will need.

Only when they have done these things are they really ready to meet the responsibilities of building careers for themselves.

The Herald extends to each of you a hearty "Well done!" And we wish for you great success in the years ahead.

May we extend this bit of advice in the hope that it might be remembered and mean much.

Someone once said, "The wisest person is the one who learns from the experience of others."

Thought For Today

And to love him with all the heart, and with all the understanding, and with all the strength, and to love one's neighbor as oneself, is much more than whole burnt offerings and sacrifices.—Mark 12:33.

We must never be bitter—if we indulge in hate, the new order will only be the old order. We must meet hate with love, physical force with soul force.—Martin Luther King, Jr.

Phil Newsom Says

Koreans Remain On Dole

The Korean way of life never has been noted for its adherence to democratic principles.

Under nearly 50 years of harsh Japanese rule prior to the end of World War II many a Korean died in forced labor. In the closing days of the Syngman Rhee regime in 1960, the United States fell called upon to protest the government's "repressive measures" resulting in a free democracy.

Now can the student riots which finally toppled the Rhee government, plagued his successor, Dr. John Myun Chang, and more lately sought the downfall of President Park Chung Hee be called the way of democracy.

Yet there was plenty to complain about. Despite U. S. military and economic aid totalling more than $4 billion since 1953, per capita income in the Republic of Korea is down to a miserable $40 per year.

When a military junta toppled the Chang government in 1961, an announced goal of the military leaders was elimination of government waste and corruption.

When the military junta led by Park Chung Hee, then a general, stepped aside last winter to permit Park, now a civilian, to take over a freely elected government, the elections were among the fairest in Korean history.

But corruption is a built-in feature of Korean government. President Park tacitly admitted as much when, in reply to new student demands, his government announced the dismissal of 576 officials for misbehavior and corruption.

There is more to the tragedy of Korea.

Corruption enriches those in high places. Among the people, hunger and unemployment go hand-in-hand.

Massive U. S. surplus food shipments totalling more than million tons last year have prevented actual starvation. But 20 per cent of the population is unemployed, others are underemployed and inflation has sent prices skyrocketing.

Student uprisings against the Park government began as protests against government attempts to normalize relations with Japan.

The talks, hampered by bitter Korean memories of Japanese occupation, have dragged on since 1951. In recent months there were hopes that agreement finally was near.

Japan had offered Korea $600 million in grants, loans and credits. The money would compensate the families of Koreans who died in forced labor under the Japanese and meet other South Korean claims.

The United States was hopeful that, with agreement with Japan, the Korean economy might at last get on its feet. Japanese-built factories would give work to Korea's unemployed and provide dollar-earning exports which Korea desperately needs.

But for the students and Park's political foes the amount was not enough. Politicians called the proposed settlement "humiliating" and demanded more than $2 billion from Japan.

And the students, who now demand Park's own scalp, took to the streets.

Negotiations now have been put off indefinitely.

"You Must Remember, the Poor Kid Grew Up Without Love!"

Dr. Crane's Worry Clinic

CASE 5-492: Lorna L., aged 20, just finished taking a psychology course in the extension division at Indianapolis. "Dr. Crane," she confided, "we had a woman teacher who would grow so angry at you that she'd almost burst a blood vessel."

"In fact, one day she threatened that if any student ever brought in another copy of your column from the Indianapolis Star, she'd give that student an 'F' for the course!"

So why should some Liberal Arts college professors be so disdainful of the daily newspaper or sneer at its broad educational influence on mankind?

One of the psychology professors at Ohio State once hysterically denounced this column, which appears in the popular Citizen-Journal at Columbus.

In his rage, he said "Anybody is a moron who thinks he can alter his personality by reading a book, or a newspaper column or sending for a newspaper booklet." (Apparently, he had never heard of the Bible!)

Yet over 25,000 mature, educated folks in the Columbus area had already sent for some of those same newspaper booklets!

And many had reported later by letter that they had salvaged their marriages from divorce or extorted their own personalities so they were now happy, whereas they had formerly been despondent introverts.

This same professor was apparently a brain-truster instead of a practical psychologist, for his wife had sued him for divorce.

And many of his own students had written to me via the local newspaper, for helpful advice because they said: "He is so theoretical that he ignores our everyday needs for applied psychology."

Thousands of you are thus making scrapbooks of this column for use in Sunday School teaching, or high school hygiene classes, as well as in medical, dental and other professional schools.

Political Notebook

CLEVELAND, Ohio (NEA) —Footnotes to a Governors' Conference that just about put the final seal on Arizona's Sen. Barry Goldwater as 1964 Republican presidential nominee.

—Richard Kleindienst, top delegate rustler for Goldwater, believes Gov. Nelson Rockefeller of New York was 200,000 votes ahead in California after his upset victory in the Oregon primary. Goldwater's final California margin was 60,000.

—In a purely social setting, some key Goldwater men sat up until 5 a. m. Sunday, June 7, urging aides of Gov. William Scranton of Pennsylvania not to "chew up the party" by thrusting their man deep into a "stop Goldwater" movement.

—After Rockefeller's sarcastic jabs at Scranton for not taking a firm opposition stand, Scranton men had some comments of their own. One says Rockefeller had made one single telephone call to Scranton since early last November.

Also regarded as symptomatic of the general lack of liaison among the moderate forces was the ironic fact that the first real contact between the "political families" of Scranton and Michigan's Gov. George Romney came the evening of the day Goldwater was virtually conceded the nomination.

—Goldwater forces were taking no chances that the governors might forget Barry's numerous vocal supporters around the country. To the governors' rooms came streams of telegrams from their home states and major points in Ohio, most following a few limited patterns of language. One read "Goldwater or death."

Scranton had his own special deluge of telegrams, most urging him to jump into the race against Goldwater. And even in the dying moments of his briefly enlivened candidacy, two separate $10,000 contributions came his way.

—Rockefeller is said to be extremely bitter since the California primary. What upsets him especially, it is said, is not so much his defeat as the fact that Scranton, Romney and Richard Nixon all dispatched telegrams to Goldwater assuring him of their "neutrality" in the campaign.

—Gen. Dwight Eisenhower's second major telephone call ("let's not be divisive") to Scranton was not the only dampener on the statement the governor made June 7 on his availability for the nomination and Goldwater's possible unsuitability. (The Scranton stand was widely viewed as weak.)

Scranton was unhappy over what he regards as Romney's untimely blasts against Goldwater. These came publicly before Scranton spoke on television. Scranton was aware that nearly all GOP governors disapproved the timing— if not the sentiments—involved in Romney's move. The Pennsylvania figure had a strong stand might then have left him out on a cracking limb.

The tone of the governors' disapproval left no doubt they felt it was too late, that Goldwater has the nomination locked up.

—Reports circulated in the conference corridors that a Scranton's statement being prepared for his television appearance had a few real mule kicks in it. But the governor's aides steadfastly refuse to release any portion of the purely "draft" document.

Actually, he had not finally decided to use it. In any event, it was being revised at the very moment Eisenhower's Sunday call caught Scranton in his hotel suite. From that time on the signals were new. The governor brought some papers with him into the television studio. But since he made no move to look at them during his interview, no one knows for sure they were the pages of the now-buried document.

Ike Raps Demos' Foreign Policy Handling

PHILADELPHIA (UPI) — Former President Dwight D. Eisenhower charged Monday that the Democratic administration has let inexperienced persons make key foreign policy decisions.

The former Chief Executive also criticized the administration's conduct of the anti-Communist guerrilla war in South Viet Nam.

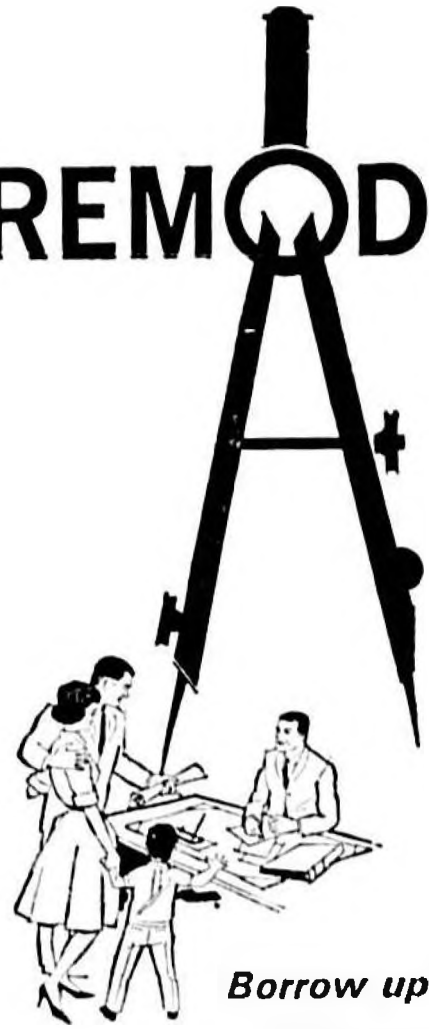

"I am quite sure we have had in the past few years fewer experienced persons associated with making our foreign policy, and mistakes have been made," Eisenhower said.

Eisenhower headed a panel of prominent Republicans discussing foreign policy at the last of a series of six "Party to People" forums sponsored by the Republican National Committee.

The panel answered questions from an invited audience of 1,000 and from questionnaires mailed to party members.

"The United States must lead and not boss," said Eisenhower. He said some nations have become resentful because America has tried to "force our system on other peoples."

Thinking Out Loud

By Julian Stenstrom

A revolutionary proposal before a 19th century state legislature requiring fishermen to pay 25 cents for a universal fishing license good for a lifetime of angling was greeted with bitter and vociferous opposition.

Fortunately, fishermen quickly realized that it was necessary for the state to spend money in various ways to maintain fishing, and that the equitable way to raise these funds was to charge the participants.

Today licensing is an accepted part of fishing. Each year anglers plunk down around $58 million for more than 20 million fishing tags, licenses, stamps and permits without a whisper of protest.

Not surprisingly, California does the biggest business. That state issued 2,823,431 fishing permits during the period July 1, 1962 through June 30, 1963. Minnesota was a distant second, followed by Michigan and Wisconsin.

Florida sold 888,781 resident and 128,500 non-resident permits for a total of $17,251 during this period.

Manager Frank Thomas of Sanford's Post 33 Legion club... sailing along with six wins and two losses in their eight contests... says he doubts very seriously if he'll utilize ace moundman Jim Courier in any of the three games on tap for this weekend.

Thomas' ace plays Orlando's Post 242 at 7:30 Wednesday night at the local Memorial Stadium. Friday night they go to Orlando to tackle Post 19—their traditional rivals—and Saturday they're home again to host New Smyrna Beach.

Courier, says Thomas, has an ailing back. Frank says he wants to take absolutely no chances on Courier. First of all, Thomas—and he's right as rain—realizes the future potential of the versatile youngster in a professional sports career. Secondly, he knows that he'll be needing Courier when the Sanford outfit goes into end of season playoffs.

Those in the know tell us to keep our eye on young Walt Morgan—a local lad who is a member of the Seminole Swim Association's junior team and participates in the events for boys eight years old and younger. Morgan took first place in three events Saturday when Seminole swept first place honors in the Kingwood Manor swim meet at Orlando.

Morgan captured first place ribbons in three events—the 25-yard freestyle, backstroke and butterfly. Some say that if he continues on this pace he'll be breaking state records. He swam against the best from clubs at Orlando, Mt. Dora, Umatilla and Ocala.

Don't know whether you noticed it or not but on last Friday's Herald sports page we listed a Legion game between Sanford and Casselberry to be played at Cooper Field in the Casselberry Recreation Center at 7:30 that evening. We also listed a South Seminole Senior League tilt for 8 p.m. at the same place.

That's the way the dates were given to us. We wondered which game would prevail. The Legion contest did and the game between Sunland and Bear Lake was postponed.

Bond Leads Houston To 9 To 3 Victory Over Cards

Chicago Climbs Back On Top Of American Loop

By Milton Richman
UPI Sports Writer

The first thing you have to understand about big, good-natured Wall Bond is that he'll probably never win the most valuable player award.

Nor is he the most likely candidate to win a batting title, but he'd probably win hands down if the Houston Colts ever decided to conduct a contest for the best-liked player in their club.

Need a favor? Ask Bond. If there's a tough job to be done with no glory attached, ask Bond. He's the kind who does things like that gladly.

Bond isn't exactly another Mickey Mantle, either. You can tell by his .251 average. But Monday night he drove in four runs with two singles to help the Colts beat the St. Louis Cardinals, 9-3.

Only one other game was played in the National League, with the San Francisco Giants defeating the Cincinnati Reds, 6-5, to move within eight percentage points of the idle first place Phillies.

The Chicago White Sox bounced back into first place in the American League with a 9-1 triumph over the Baltimore Orioles, while the Washington Senators downed the Los Angeles Angels, 3-2. Rain washed out the Minnesota-Cleveland contest only other game scheduled.

Builders Trim FSB; USO Ends Losing Streak

A winning streak was extended and a losing string was terminated in Men's League play Monday night at Fort Mellon Park when the Kingswood Builders grabbed their 10th victory in a row and LeRoy Estridge kept his pitching record intact.

Estridge won his 10th consecutive mound decision when the Builders beat Florida State Bank's entry 16 to 1. Don Harvey and Butch Cook had home runs and Billings had four hits for the victors.

USO snapped a 19-game losing streak by getting into the win column for the very first time this year. They topped Chase, 9 to 1. Jack Oliver turned in a fine hurling performance in giving up only six safeties. The USO's backed him afield with some nifty defensive play.

Oliver aided his own cause with a pair of bingles. Brown of USO also had two hits.

Chase Wins One More; Threatens League Leaders

Chase — now the terror of the City Recreation Department's Little National League — continued their winning ways in a big fashion under the lights at Ft. Mellon Park Monday evening when they trounced Standard Oil by a score of 22 to 1.

The victory, in addition to their wins last weekend over the Locomotive Engineers and Hunts, puts Chase into contention for the Little National flag. Rick Smith hurled two-hit ball for Chase and posted his fourth mound win in five performances.

In the Little American, pennant winning Navy torpedoed Florida State's Bankers, 14 to 0. Walt Jordan had four hits and Andy Rufus aided the Sailors' attack with direct hits. Ray Milwood was the winning pitcher. Navy is still on "stand by," ready to meet the Little National loop champs in a best-of-three series starting June 29.

There was an interesting meeting of the Men's Bowling Association this past week regarding events for '64-65 bowling season, but more specifically — the Firecracker Special tournament!

The qualifying dates are set for June 19 thru July 2. You may howl anytime there are two teams to qualify with special times reserved for evening entries at 7 and 9 p.m.

Double eliminations will start July 3 and continue thru the 5th. There are two divisions — one for those with averages of 170 and over and another for legless with averages under 169.

President Phil Roche and Secretary John Kneeland along with the others who attended this important meeting. Gordon Honeycutt, Harold Appleby and Jack Kanner all feel that there'll be more than 120 entries this year. Can you imagine what that prize list would look like?

Let's give the association our support!

Talking about hot series leads me to our "Bowler of the Week" salute. Once again we have our challenge board in operation whereas you have to defeat the current king and successfully defeat four challengers.

The current "King" is John Kneeland — "Bowler of the Week!"
John shoveled in games of 226, 192, 269 for a tremendous 877 scratch series. (P.S. His opponent was a fellow by the name of Split-ski!)
Wednesday evening in the Ball & Chain League, Andy Blime had himself a real good night. He shot games of 170, 171 and 209 for a respectable 550 series. This was the high for the gents in this group.

Others who enjoyed bowling that night cause of good games included Margie Farrie, 170; Eve Rogers, 168 and husband Gene, 188; Rose Phillips of Chulohota, 177; Susy Reno, 161; Bill Meek, 180 and Thelma Hickson 179.

Barbara Rohrer finally made it into the select group who entered that "charmed circle" by rolling her first 200-plus league game. While toiling in the Navy Wives League Friday Barb amassed a total of 208. Watch how easy it is to roll another one. (Well, anyway that's what it says here in fine print!)

The week-end winners of the Saturday night Scotch Doubles were a couple of newcomers to the game of bowling — Doug and Darkie Owens.

The Owens' collected first place prize money for their 978 series, including handicaps. Coming in second and third was Al Green and Nancy Conway with a 953 series and Sue Jackson and Billy Anderson with a 922 series.

Dudley Tosses No-Hitter As Shrine Wins

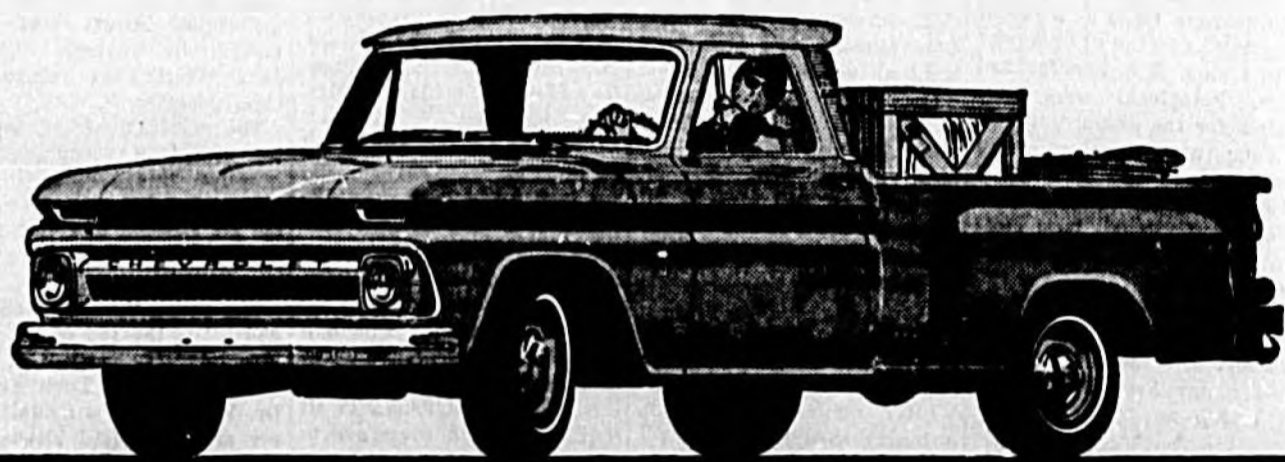

Ron Dudley, who turned in one no-hitter this spring for the Sanford Junior High Braves, notched his second no-hitter of the year Monday afternoon at Sanford Memorial Stadium when he picked up his fifth Junior Boys League decision.

It was win number nine in a row for the Shrine, a club which has led the loop all through the second half without a loss. The Shrine's could clinch the second half flag tonight with a victory over CPO. If they do win it they'll meet the first half winners, the Elks, in a loop playoff.

In another Junior League tilt Monday Rotary beat Lake Mary 15 to 7. Ten different players figured in Rotary's scoring spree. Bobby Powell went the distance for the winners and got the decision. He's now 6 and 2 for the season.

Bob Workman, bowling for Wall Plumbing, had a 545 series; Clarence Henning of Sullivan's Camera Servicenter had 192, 193, 199/584; Tommy Kipp of the Sanford Atlantic Bank averaged over the 180 plateau — 543; of the Moose team, Fry checked in with a 189/535 set.

In Florida... at a picnic, beer is a natural

When you're relaxing at your favorite outdoor beauty spot with friends or family, and your thirst's whetted by fresh air and exercise—that's the ideal time for a cool, refreshing glass of beer. In fact, you can name your recreation—swimming, hiking, or just watching TV—and chances are nothing in the world fits it quite as well as beer.

Your familiar glass of beer is also a pleasurable reminder that we live in a land of personal freedom—and that our right to enjoy beer and ale, if we so desire, is just one, but an important one, of those personal freedoms.

Social Security Advice Given

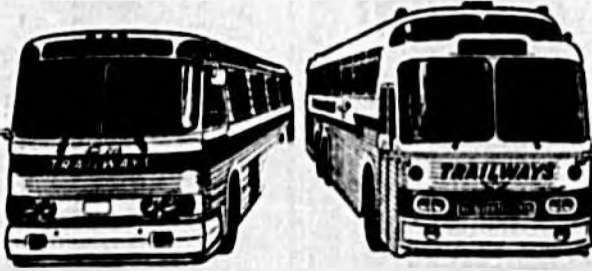

Social Security claimants were warned today to check with their nearest Social Security district office regarding any fee for services regarding such matters.

District Manager Byron R. Patton today said that Miss Mable G. Lewis and her assistant Claude Hicks, were both convicted on several counts of performing unauthorized services, which caused false information and statements to be given to the Social Security Administration.

Lawbreakers will be vigorously prosecuted for violations of the Social Security Act, Patton warned. He stressed the great importance of getting correct information from a district office, regarding fees charged for assisting claimants and others regarding social security matters.

Open House Welcomes Couple

By Mildred Haney
Residents of Deltona attended an Open House at the Community Center to meet Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Davis of Kamakura, Japan. Upon retirement in two years, Mr. and Mrs. Davis will live in the home they have purchased in Deltona.

The couple arrived in Florida after a tour of the United States, giving lectures and demonstrations in Japanese art, flower arranging and "Gyotaku" an ancient oriental art of reproducing a fish in oil colors on paper, in its natural size, shape and color.

Mr. Davis gave a short demonstration of "Gyotaku" showing how he uses an actual fish as a "prop." Each individual scale stands out in the same color as found in the original fish. He explained the difference in fish found in Japanese waters and those that we are familiar with here. He displayed pictures of over thirty varieties of fish and the beautiful work done on each.

Mr. Davis retired from the United States Navy in 1948 and since then has been a Naval Architect with the U.S. Navy Dept. with offices located in Yokohama.

Mrs. Davis, of Japanese parentage, was born in San Juan Batista, a small mission town in California. She was educated at Keelin School for Girls and had private tutoring in the Imperial School in Peking, China. She became interested in oriental art during the war, hoping that through this medium of flowers and beauty, the East and West would develop friendships and come to a better understanding of each other.

After their visit in Florida, the couple will fly back to their lovely oriental type home with its extensive gardens in Japan. They are looking forward to coming back to Deltona and to the many new friends they have made here.

Dear Abby: By Abigail Van Buren

FOR THE DAD WHO HAS EVERYTHING—Wondering what to give pop for Father's Day? If he's tired of shaving (and what man isn't?), perhaps genuine clam shell tweezers will be appreciated. Indians, always beardless, pulled out their facial hair with them. John McCormack of Vincennes, Ind., shows tweezers from the family collection of Indian artifacts.

DEAR ABBY: A reader in Montpellier asked if good chefs had to taste their cooking to determine whether it was properly seasoned, or if they could tell by smelling it. Well, my father was a chef for over fifty years. He was chef to a governor of New York who later became president. I need not tell you that he was a fine cook, and no one ever saw him taste a thing.

CHEF'S DAUGHTER

DEAR ABBY: I am writing this while aboard a Great Lakes Merchant ship. I have been in the cooking business for over 23 years and the idea that a cook can tell how much sugar or salt is in something by SMELLING it is the craziest notion I have heard yet. Some herbs and spices, yes, but salt and sugar, no!

ALVIN J. L.

DEAR ABBY: I don't know whether the best chefs in the world "taste" their cooking or smell it to achieve the best results. But I DO know that cooks who constantly taste their own cooking never go to the trouble of getting a clean spoon for every "taste." Therefore, whenever I happen to see a cook "tasting" the food, I avoid eating it, if it is all possible.

ANTI-GERMS

DEAR ABBY: I don't want to brag, but I have a reputation for being an excellent cook. I never tasted anything. The only time I ever spotted anything was when I made an exceptionally large quantity of spaghetti sauce. I tasted it, and then added a little more salt. That was the only time I ever made anything too salty. Thank you.

LOVES TO COOK

DEAR MISS VAN BUREN: I am now considered a first-class chef, having worked my way up from dishwasher. I have been trained by the best chefs in the business and they never tasted anything, with the possible exception of soup to decide if it had enough salt in it. I can truthfully say that the only time I ever tasted anything on the job was when I was young, inexperienced and very, very hungry.

JUST ALFRED

DEAR ABBY: This should settle the question of whether the best cooks taste their cooking, or smell it in order to determine if it is properly seasoned. I have an aunt who lost both her sense of smell and sense of taste when she was a very young girl. Yet she turned out to be fantastically good cook.

TILLIE IN TUCSON

DEAR ABBY: In regard to the question of whether the best chefs taste anything, I would say they do not. I am not a chef, but have been a master brewer for many years. We never taste beer. We take a clean, 4-ounce glass, fill it with beer from the large tanks in which it has been brewed, LOOK at it, throw the contents on the floor, and SMELL of the glass! We can test 30 or 40 tanks of beer that way. If we tasted the beer, after the first sample, all the beer would taste the same.

MASTER BREWER

DEAR ABBY: Thank you for your interesting letter. I'll bet your brewery has the "happiest" nice in town.

Highlights

TV Time Previews

7:30-8:30 p. m. NBC. Mr. Novak. "The Risk" (rerun) a depressing theme presented in a thoroughly adult manner unsweetened by sticky sentimentality. On the strong recommendation of Mr. Novak (Jim Franciscus), Principal Vane (Dean Jagger) hires a middle-aged teacher (Alexander Scourby), though he is a confessed reformed alcoholic. What our two heroes hadn't counted on is the fact that the teacher's young wife (Sherry Jackson) is a full-blown alcoholic whose open drunkenness creates a campus crisis.

7:30-8:30 p. m. ABC. Combat. "Glow Against the Sky" (rerun) The Patrol is trapped in a German-held town with one badly wounded member. There's a lot of tension as our GI's try to figure a way to escape, and the climax almost makes the wait worth while. This is Warren Spahn's appearance as a German soldier.

8-9 p. m. CBS. High Adventure with Lowell Thomas. (rerun) This was a fascinating series when it originally aired on the same network some years back and tonight's opening episode was possibly the most exciting hour of all. There are some wonderful films of India, you'll get a lesson on the proper procedure to follow in capturing elephants (it's handled like a wild west roundup) and the show culminates in a thrilling sequence involving a hunt for a ferocious man-killing tiger.

9-9:30 p. m. CBS. Petticoat Junction. (rerun) This was this show's premiere offering and the first time railroad trouble shooter Home Bedloe rode the Hooperville's cannonball. Bedloe (Charles Lane) is appalled to find the train has no timetable, regular fares or scheduled stops and serviced only the shady rest hotel, a country store and an apple orchid. The lines only customers are Bea Bendreter, Edgar Buchanan, Jeannine Riley, Pat Woodell and Linda Kaye.

9-10 p. m. ABC. The Greatest Show On Earth. "Corinthians Don't Cry" (rerun) Tonight's story takes us off the trapeze and the high wire and, instead of a disturbed aerialist, we have a disturbed knife thrower, in fact three generations of disturbed knife throwers. Good acting though from Frank DeKova, Steven Hill and Billy Gray as the throwers, and from Patricia Breslin who should remember when to duck.

10-11 p. m. CBS. The Garry Moore Show. This is Garry's final show after six years and his guests include his former regulars and semi-regulars Carol Burnett, Marion Lorne, Allen Funt, Alan King and Roy Castle.

Jacoby On Bridge By Oswald Jacoby

The game was rubber bridge. All participants could be classified as good players. South won the opening club and played his ace of diamonds.

That accounted for all adverse trumps, so he continued with the deuce of hearts, West played the three spot and, after mature deliberation, South went up with dummy's king. East took his ace, and a second heart trick plus one spade set the hand.

Had South guessed the heart situation correctly, he would have been able to get out with the further loss of only one spade trick. His play cost him the game.

South made the usual complaint about bad luck, but it seems to me that he should have done better with the hand.

To start with, he could have led the jack of hearts rather than the deuce.

This jack lead might have resulted in West covering with the queen, whereupon all South's problems would have been solved. Apart from that, South should really have played East for the ace of hearts, not the queen.

East had pre-empted but East was vulnerable against nonvulnerable opponents, and that is not the time to stick one's neck out to far. East's club suit was queen high only. He really needed that heart ace in order to get into the bidding.

We The Women: By Ruth Millett

"What can I do about my daughter's decision to quit college and get married?" writes a distraught mother. "She has only one year to go to get her degree, and yet she's unwilling to finish."

The girl's parents have put their plea to her to finish her education before she marries on this basis: "If you love us at all you will do this for us. If you marry now against our wishes it means you don't love us."

She thinks their plea is terribly unfair, and that she has a right to make her own decision without being made unhappy by her parent's attitude.

It seems to me there is some right on both sides. The parents want her to finish college before she marries. They probably have dreamed for years of giving their daughter a college education, also they know that a college degree offers a girl a certain amount of security for the future. It is something they can give her that no one can take from her.

But they are trying to sell her on the idea by appealing to her love for them, instead of her common sense.

She has a right to resent their putting their demand on an "if-you-don't-do-this-for-us-you-don't-love-us" basis.

That kind of emotional appeal certainly isn't fair to the girl. If they can't make her see the wisdom of finishing her education before she marries, then they had better accept her decision calmly. They shouldn't weigh her down with the feeling that she has disappointed them.

It's wrong to put a daughter in the position of having to choose between her parents and the man she loves. If you can't change her decision by appeal to reason, you had better give up trying. You would regret it if you made her feel guilty about taking the most important step in a young woman's life.

Horoscope Forecast

WEDNESDAY, JUNE 17, 1964
GENERAL TENDENCIES:
 To gain more support and backing, you are eager as well as able now to gain the good will and the active assistance of any and all persons whom you know, but you must show you are willing to act in an easy and cooperative manner. You then find that whatever coordinated efforts interest you are quickly achieved.

ARIES (March 21 to April 19) If you talk over plans with associates, fine ideas are brought out and the future can be very successful. Reach true accord. Dine out together in fine style later.

TAURUS (April 20 to May 20) Any artistic, creative endeavors should be handed with alacrity and completed, if possible. You find others will help enthusiastically. Discover new and better hobbies, also.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) Getting your finest talents before those who can assist you to profit by them is wise now. These can soon bring far greater success. Set up appointments early for evening's recreation.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to July 21) Improving situation at home is quite easy now, if you have a conciliatory attitude. Take interest in getting your house more comfortable. Be especially kind to everyone.

LEO (July 22 to August 21) Sit down and talk over with associates what can be done to make existing systems far more workable, efficient. More intelligent handling of appointments is needed. Be on time for them.

VIRGO (August 22 to September 22) Look to every source of income which you may have forgotten so that you get finances in better order. Find some new source as well. Get property looking better, too.

LIBRA (September 23 to October 22) Dressing well and making good contacts is fine today. Discuss with others what your ideas, plans, are. You have but to reach out for what you want, sans doubt.

SCORPIO (October 23 to November 21) You have every opportunity to rise above restrictive conditions that are irksome. Do so — with certainty! Be glad to assist those who are not as fortunate as you.

SAGITTARIUS (November 22 to December 21) Usual friends are not in the mood to go along with your ideas for a god time. Make new allies by going to the right social, sporting, affairs. Enrich your life.

CAPRICORN (December 22 to January 20) Getting public affairs rolling nicely is a must before you step out for pleasure. Be enthusiastic. A better credit rating is important right now, as well as improved business affairs.

AQUARIUS (January 21 to February 19) A new attitude towards whatever is before you brings the fine results you anticipate. Be sure to write to those who are out-of-town. Start a more abundant life.

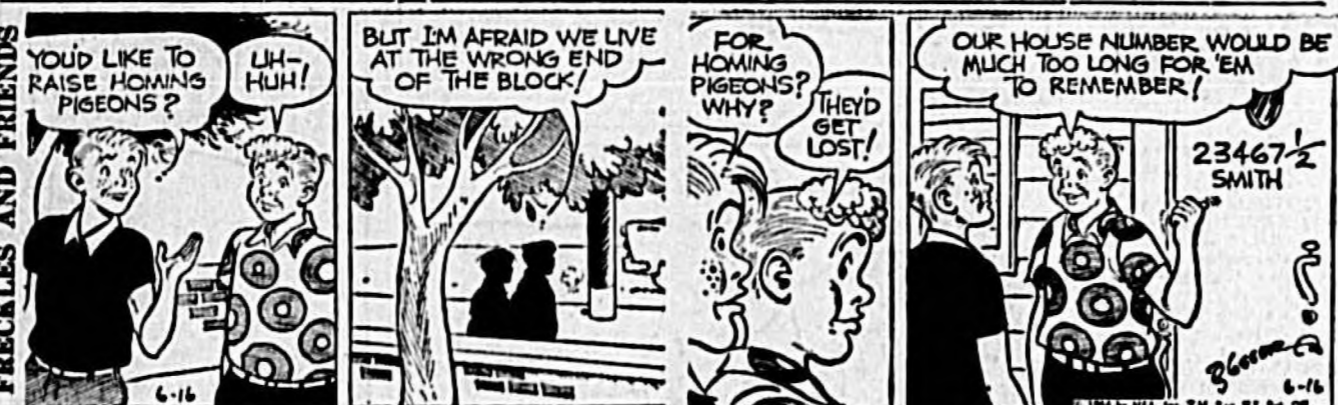

PISCES (February 20 to March 20) You must meet your obligations now, whether they concern home or business affairs. Be sure to meet approval of associates. Get government matters clear. Be good to mate in P.M.

IF YOUR CHILD IS BORN TODAY, he or she will be very pregarious and like to work alongside others in some corporate effort that will show big gains. There is a particular type of charm which is very infectious and can influence others. However, teach that only that which is earned is worthwhile and to live on one's charm alone is hardly worth living at all. Give fine education.

"The stars impel, they do not compel." What you make of your life is largely up to YOU!

We're read about it, now we've seen it happen. An impatient driver had stopped behind another car waiting for a red light to change. It did. The lead car still sat there momentarily. The driver of the second car bore down on the horn. Slowly, the lead car motorist got out of his car, walked back to the second and asked him if he wanted to speak with him. The horn turned to a grin and both cars left the intersection of Park and First.

FULL HOUSE at the Ritz Theater this morning when the first of 10 weekly shows was held for youngsters in the area. School Board Approves New SHS Shop Building

Members of the Seminole County Board of Instruction approved the recently completed shop building at Seminole High School during the group's monthly meeting Tuesday afternoon. Board members inspected the new structure and voted to accept it.

The board heard C. W. Matton, a television engineer from Orlando, recommend that central antenna systems be used to convert TV sets throughout the county school system for reception of UHF programming over the educational television station now being constructed. The board could call for the use of strip tuners on each UHF set but there is some question as to quality of UHF reception in certain areas and even in certain sections of a school plant.

Matton estimated that the cost of individual set tuning strips would be about $25 to $30 each for the 120 UHF only sets now utilized in the Seminole system. On the other hand, he said the cost of the central antenna system, one for each school, would be an estimated $50,000.

Central systems, said Matton, would guarantee adequate UHF reception by each set, regardless of where the school was located or in what section of the school plant a set would be situated.

Also, the board authorized the installation of direct telephone line to South Seminole which would allow toll free communication between the school system's offices and schools, plus residents in that area. The cost of the line was estimated at $60 to $70 per month. But this amount, Supt. R. T. Milwee said, would be less than the cost of present toll charges on long distance calls between the Sanford offices and schools located in the southern area of the county.

The dividend, which reflects a six per cent return on capital investments in the corporation will be distributed July 1, President Clifford McKibbin said.

This year's dividend is nearly double that declared last year, which paid stockholders 35 cents per share. Since the formation of the company in July, 1961, two industrial plants have been financed and built, and several other plants have been assisted in securing capital from commercial sources, McKibbin noted.

At the present time there are no industrial plants available and the company is in a position to provide buildings for industry in the county. Officers are now negotiating with several prospects, the report to the stockholders stated.

The word "Sanford" plus some other information on the signs will be in bright, white "Scotch-lite" lettering — the most highly reflective type of lettering now available — and will make the signs just as effective at night as they will be during the day.

The signs, 12 feet high by 40 feet in length are to be placed at seven strategic locations throughout Florida. The contract to be negotiated with the Harbour Outdoor Advertising Company of Orlando will be on a three-year basis. The contract will actually call for 10 signs. However, highways on which the other three billboards are to be placed are not yet constructed. When they are the signs will be erected. They will cost $30 per month.

Applications may be made at the Dixon Building on Sipes Avenue from 4 until 7 p.m. weekdays and from 8 a.m. until 9 p.m. on Saturday. Cost has been set at $20 per applicant, $12 for water connection and $8 for meter deposit.

Requirements are that the person be at least 18 years of age and have a Red Cross senior life saving certificate or equivalent. The course is open to residents of Seminole and Volusia Counties. It will be taught by Miss Sally A. Neider, water safety instructor trainer and chairman of the Seminole County Water Safety Committee. Concurrent with the program will be a water safety class. Eligible entrants must be 16 or older and have a workable knowledge of basic swimming strokes.

Animals suspected of being rabid should not be killed, but should be penned up and watched for 10 days to determine if they are indeed rabid. Persons bitten by a rabid animal must of necessity undergo prolonged and serious treatment with anti-rabies serum.

Saigon Forces Score Big Victory

Red Guerrillas Beaten Back Near Capital
 DUC HOA, Viet Nam (UPI) — Government troops inflicted the biggest defeat of the year on Communist Viet Cong guerrillas today in fighting so close to the capital city of Saigon that residents there were awakened by the sound of gunfire.

A handful of government defenders beat back the guerrilla attack only 12 miles from the outskirts of Saigon in bitter house to house fighting. The sounds of battle could be heard in the capital as government artillerymen fired hundreds of rounds at the guerrillas who had captured all but one small portion of this district headquarters in their biggest attack in months.

Vietnamese military authorities estimate that nearly 900 Communist troops were thrown into the attack on this town defended by a scattered force of 140 government soldiers.

Considering the government defenses and the size of the attacking force, American military advisers said the guerrillas had been assured of an almost certain victory. But, as one American officer said, "somebody threw something into the balance the Viet Cong had not expected."

Estimates of Communist guerrilla casualties exceeded 50, and the bullet-riddled corpse of 13 guerrillas remained as testimony that the Viet Cong could not carry away all their dead.

The Viet Cong generally make almost superhuman efforts to carry off the bodies of fallen comrades. Government losses in the action were placed at 15 dead and 34 wounded.

Get Him A City Dog Tag Thursday
 Thursday is tag day for all Sanford dogs which do not yet have their city licenses. Veterinarian Dr. Raymond Bass will set up headquarters behind City Hall for the purpose of giving rabies inoculations and issuing licenses. Inoculations cost $3 and tags, 31 cents. After Thursday, all dogs within the city limits, not having tags will be picked up and impounded," said City Manager W. E. Knowles. Impounded animals are kept ten days and if not claimed are then destroyed. Dog owners can avoid both the loss of their pets and the dangers of rabies by taking advantage of the opportunity to have their animals properly inoculated and tagged. Rabid animals are a great danger to humans, to themselves and to other animals, as rabies is fatal if untreated. Domestic pets can pick up the disease from wild animals who are often carriers and transmitters of the disease.

REVIVING UP for takeoff from the Sanford Naval Air Station was this pilot of the Vigilante, the sleek aircraft assigned to Reconnaissance Attack Squadron 5. The squadron is being deployed for duty with the Seventh Fleet in the Pacific Theater and will operate from the attack carrier, USS Ranger.

First RVAH-5 Vigilantes Off For Pacific

Four sleek new RA-5C Vigilante reconnaissance bombers took off today from the Sanford Naval Air Station, bound for the Pacific Fleet and a history-making deployment aboard the attack carrier USS Ranger.

The remainder, two more RA-5Cs, will follow tomorrow as Reconnaissance Attack Squadron Five (RVAH-5) becomes the first unit to deploy at sea with the famed mach two aircraft and the first East Coast unit in recent times to deploy aboard an aircraft carrier in the Pacific Fleet.

Today's four-plane flight was scheduled to arrive at the Alameda (Calif.) Naval Air Station in the early afternoon for loading aboard the 1,100-foot Ranger. A large assembly of Navy officials and civic leaders, many wearing the needle-nosed Vigilantes for the first time, was expected to greet the airmen.

Meanwhile, transports are flying to squadron's 270 support personnel to Alameda to join the ship. RVAH-5's final destination, after preliminary at-sea operations, will be the Far East, where the Ranger will operate with the U. S. Seventh Fleet for about nine months. The squadron is scheduled to be gone from Sanford for nearly 10 months.

RVAH-5 is commanded by Commander Paul F. Werner, a 20-year veteran of Naval aviation and test and development work. He is scheduled to fly one of the two planes leaving Thursday.

This is the first time in modern Naval history that combat air units have "traded" fleets. Last month Heavy Attack Squadron Six, based at Whidbey Island, Wash., boarded the carrier Forrestal in Norfolk, Va., for operations in the Atlantic and deployment with the Sixth Fleet in the Mediterranean.

Prior to joining the Forrestal, Heavy Six often operated from the Ranger. By the same token, RVAH-5 served with the Forrestal air group before transitioning to the Vigilante.

For the first time the Fleet will have an aircraft which can perform complex reconnaissance missions and deliver weapons in any weather, at supersonic speeds. Both missions can be performed on the same sortie.

To avoid duplication of RA-5C support facilities, all training and staging for the Vigilante is being conducted at the Sanford Station. From Sanford, RA-5C squadrons will join carriers of both fleets and operate on both sides of the world simultaneously.

Radio, television and newspaper persons were on hand for the occasion. They chatted with the men, walked around the ready room and joined in the coffee break. Television pictures, planned to appear on tonight's newscasts, were shot from all angles. Newspaper photographers used up several rolls of still pictures. At the stroke of 8 a. m. the ready room was empty, all crews were aboard and they began taxiing to the takeoff strip.

GOODBY FOR NOW says Cdr. W. R. Russell, executive officer of Reconnaissance Attack Squadron 5 as he prepared to board his Vigilante this morning for deployment to the Pacific Fleet. He's holding his son, Jimmy, 4, as he chats with Mrs. Russell who will remain home at 204 Ridge Rd. (Herald Photo)

Directly behind them was a team of newsmen, all riding in or on a crash truck. It was driven within 50 feet of the takeoff strip, parked at the 4,000-foot marker.

The first pilot by Cdr. W. R. Russell, Werner's executive officer, rose about 100 feet in the air and the pilot tipped his wing to the friends, wives, sons and daughters, and the crew he had left behind.

Most drank coffee, discussed the flight in detail with their commanding officer, Cdr. Paul F. Werner. They checked the flight map posted on a wall, noted the in-air refueling rendezvous areas (there were two of them, Cdr. Werner said, because the aircraft was loaded with extra gear, supplies and fuel).

The men knew they were leaving the home base of Sanford Naval Air Station in a historic first from here; the first squadron to be joined with the Pacific Fleet.

They were dead serious. Kidding was reserved for those not going. The coffee cups were kept full by briefing room aides.

The bulletin board said flight time was 0800. That's when they left.

And the Navy didn't forget its public relations program. Radio, television and newspaper persons were on hand for the occasion. They chatted with the men, walked around the ready room and joined in the coffee break.

SNAS Busy Place As Vigilantes Depart

By Harry I. Johnson
 The bulletin board declared portions of Reconnaissance Attack Squadron 5 would be deployed at 0800 today for duty in the Pacific Theater.

Long before the appointed hour, crews were scurrying around the aircraft, sleek, new RA-5C Vigilantes, readying them for the flight to Alameda, Calif.

Ground crews checked out all phases of the ships. The VAIH-5 ready-room was occupied by the flight crews, dressed in bright orange uniforms.

Most drank coffee, discussed the flight in detail with their commanding officer, Cdr. Paul F. Werner.
