in the year 1925-26.

But Waite is much more than a football coach. He was an outstanding student at South Carolina where he received his A. B. degree in 1922, and for the past six years he has pursued graduate studies in psychology and desation in 1924 education in 1934.

Waite will be tled up with coeffing 'responsibilities at Roll-ins in the Fall term but will be-come a dignified instructor of psychology in the Winter and Spring terms, the same schedule with his colleague, Jack McDowall, follows.

The particular job McDowall will assign to his new assistant in the Fall will be to develop the line of the Tar's squad. The Rollina team which won seven of its eight games last season, has bright prospects for the coming season. Waite will probably also take over the development of the freshman squad.

Jack McDowall, former North Carolina State stur, has long been an admirer of Walte's ability as a line coach and a scholar. Both coached at Asheville High and both studied psychology and edu-cation at the graduate school at Duke University. McDowall has been highly successful as director of athletics and cosch at Rollins sine he took charge in 1929.

Round Trippers By Dickey And Gehrig Give Yankees Win Over Detroit Tigers

Dickey's Homer With Two Men Out Gives New York Club Victory In Ninth Inning

NEW YORK. July 30.—(F)—
The Yankees did it with home runs yesterday and whipped the Detroit Tigers 7 to 6, to take the odd game of their current series.

Afflicted once again with faltering pitching, Murderers' Row produced on its specialty, particularly the four-base wallop Bill Dickey parked in the Tiger bull-pen with two out in the ninth mining to break a tie and win the ball game.

That was Bill's 17th round-trip blow of the season Earlier, Lou Gehrig kept the Yanks in the ball game by smashing out his 19th of the year with Joe Di Maggie aboard in the fourth frame.

Aside from shose two round-trippers, the Yanks did everything but lose the ball game. They collected only seven hits off the combined pitching of "Poof" Poffenberger and Roxle Lawson, the latter being charged with the defeat, while the Tigers banged Monte Pearson and Johnny Rurphy for a dozen safeties. Things went along then until Dickey broke up the ball game in the final chapter.

The defeat dropped the Tigers back into third place after a one-back to the runner-up spot.

The White River "Monster"

The story of the White River "monster" offers a good illustration of how unreliable the average person's account is in relating what was seen when something unusual occurs. Newspaper men who have reported accidents realize that if there are ten Witnesses to the accident there will be ten entirely different versions.

In this instance there seems to be no difference opinion about the huge "monster" for all agreed that it was as big as a box car. This unanimity of opinion is positive proof that no monster existed, because if it had, some would have said it looked like a ferry boat, others that it resembled a submarine, and still others that it was just a catfish.

At any rate the story helped to liven things up in the Arkansas area where the "monster" was reported. The farmer, who owned the land bordering the spot of discovery, made some good money by fencing off an enclosure and charging admission, and by selling barbecued sand-wiches and soda pop. Loud speakers were installed and the crowd was apprised of the efforts of a diver to locate something.

The diver said that it was his opinion that it was nothing more than a large fish. The Bureau of Flaharies in Washington declared "it might have been an alligator gar, which reputedly grows, sometimes, to be 20 feet long." There were other guesses which included a water-longed tree trunk, sub-terranean gas eruptions heaving up last accumulation, a sunken barge, devil fish, or sturgeon.

We wouldn't impute any mercernary motives to the farmer and his wife who were the first to "see" the monster." We sincerely believe it was just another case of faulty vision and an over-developed imagination.

Magic Carpet

It doesn't matter what you're thinking of buying-a bar-pin or a baby grand, a new sult for Junior or a set of dining-room furniture—the best place to start your shopping tour is in your favorite easy-chair, with an open newspaper.

The turn of a page will carry you as swiftly as the magic carpet of the Arabian Nights, from one end of the shopping district to another, from bargain to bargain, from extravagance to econmy. Because you can rely on modern advertising as a guide to good values, you can compare prices and styles, fabrics and finishes, just as though you were standing in a store.
