Today's sad song 'Stormy Weather'

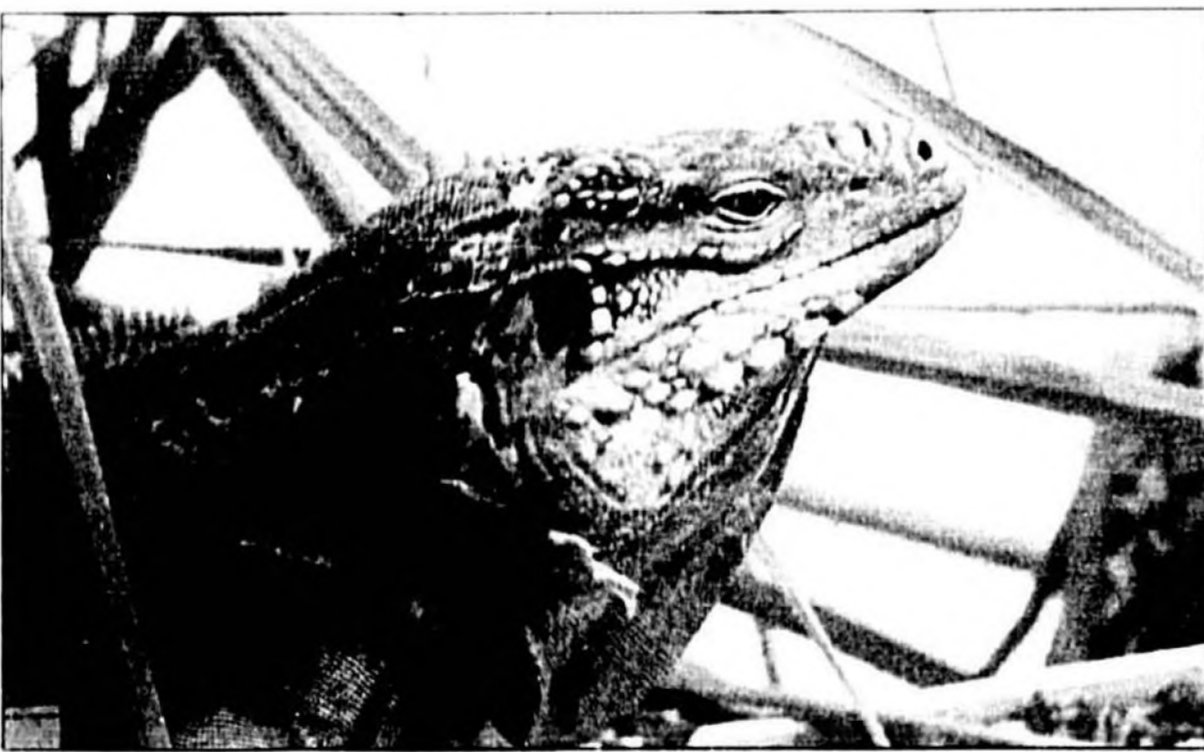

By Russ White

It's a sad day for many people in Seminole County as we face the possibility of a stormy weather. The weather forecast predicts heavy rain and strong winds. This could lead to flooding and power outages. We need to be prepared for anything.

Go ape at the zoo with new lizard habitats and movie viewing party

SANFORD — It's all happening at the zoo this weekend. The Central Florida Zoological Park will open two new lizard habitats and the ZOOEARL Outpost gift shop on Friday. A special Planet of the Apes viewing party will be held Sunday in conjunction with American Movie Classics' celebration of the 30th anniversary of the five film series.

The habitats are also planted with vegetation native to New Guinea: fern palms, pothos, bromeliads, and banana trees. The lizards will enjoy the plants, but won't eat them, said McCarty. The Grand Cayman Island rock iguanas are considered one of the rarest lizard species in the world with only 50 individuals in the wild and 11 in captivity, according to Andrea Farmer, director of marketing for the zoo. The New Guinea crocodile monitor is reported to be the longest lizard in the world measuring up to 14 feet in length. This exhibit offers educational opportunities for

Russ' top 10 excuses not to go to the polls

It is a good time to ask what in the world gets the most excuses for absenteeism at the polls, who didn't vote?

Elections Supervisor Sandy Goard left out the fact given a wonderful party and no one to support. The 11 excuses were very disappointing, she said.

The county known as Florida's Natural Choice chose to stay away from the polls on Tuesday. Other excuses: 1. I placed a bet on the game and apparently thousands of players to back. The election workers have a warehouse of TVoted stickers.

We've heard a myriad of excuses for not showing up at the poll.

1. That guy Obama wasn't on the ballot.

2. That we vote over in time.

3. That we get the Titanic video.

4. Scared talk by stock market crash.

5. Day, Happy Hour at Redfish.

6. Why vote a complain letter.

7. Nasty stain on favorite party dress.

8. McWine hit two more!

9. Political terrorists eye us when.

Big falcon deal

Interior Secretary Bruce Babbitt told us some good news today. The world's fastest bird, the peregrine falcon, has pulled out of a nose dive toward extinction and once again is soaring. We can bring a species back, Babbitt said. We don't have to stand idly by and watch our wildlife go extinct. We have proven it with the peregrine falcon in 1975, there were an all time low 324 nesting pairs in North Amer.

Editorial & Opinion

This and that on health organizations that help residents in need

If there is one question we are asked most of at Special People, it is do we know anything about this or that health organizations. We will try to tell you about some of the major organizations and follow this up with many additions during the year.

First, an explanation may be in order as to exactly what a health organization is. In the U.S., a health organization is a private fund-raising group whose purpose is to foster medical advances. The funds that the volunteer organizations raise, are primarily for medical research, operating expenses and treatment.

They play a crucial role in American medicine because these funds average more than $1.5 billion annually. They have also been instrumental in virtually eradicating several mortal diseases, and in increasing life expectancy. Of the leading national health organizations, many maintain headquarters in large cities such as New York.

The first organization addresses one of America's leading health hazards, cancer. The American Cancer Society supports research in cancer prevention, diagnosis, detection and treatment. The group was founded in 1913. Another leading health problem is addressed by the American Heart Association.

The association is devoted to the support of research, education and community service programs with the objective of reducing death and disability due to heart and blood vessel disease. The group's membership comprises of physicians, scientists, and laymen, and the association publishes both professional and lay periodicals. It was founded in 1924.

March of Dimes is the largest health organization and was originally founded by President Roosevelt in 1938. There are approximately 3,100 local chapters that have conducted annual fund-raising drives each January since that time. In 1941, the foundation made its first research grant to Dr. Jonas E. Salk, which resulted some 187 years later in the first wide-spread application of the Salk vaccine to prevent polio.

Muscular Dystrophy Association is a federation of 163 local chapters devoted to research in muscular dystrophy and related neuromuscular diseases fostering research in prevention and treatment of physical and associated disabilities and aids in the rehabilitation of the physically handicapped.

It also helps establish clinics for treatment and patient services and sponsors educational programs to acquaint the public with the nature of neurological diseases and makes available to the medical profession current scientific knowledge in the field. The association was founded in 1950.

National Easter Seal Society This society is a federation of 67 state and 98 local groups devoted to the care and treatment of crippled persons. It conducts a continuous education program for professional workers with and parents of disabled children and adults. They also operate nationwide programs for the care and treatment of the disabled.

National Association for Retarded Citizens was founded in 1950 by parents and friends of the mentally retarded and by professional workers in the field. Its purpose is to promote better care and training for the mentally retarded and to support programs of research, prevention, public information, consultation services, counseling of parents, etc.

Additional research for today's column was done with the aid of Collier's Encyclopedia.

If you have a non-profit organization relating to the disabled and have a fund-raiser of special event coming up, please let us know about it.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Quitting board

To: Mayor, Commissioners, Citizens
City of Sanford

RE: Scenic Improvement Board (resignation)

After 32 years of service with Florida Power & Light Company, during which time it was impossible for me to also serve the City of Sanford in any way, I wished to give some of my time and service to the city of my birth and one that I have loved throughout my lifetime.

This commission has unanimously made it clear that they have no regard for preservation of green spaces in our city. Fort Mellon Park has now been placed in jeopardy by the haste to provide the developer with the gift of Fort Mellon Park, as he requested, without a care for the people of this wonderful city and future generations to come. Time has a way of curing all ills, and surely with God's help, the damage commissioners are doing can be corrected in the future. Your legacy to this city will always be the terrible animosity you have caused by putting old friends and neighbors against one another. Promises that can't be kept are lies. The simple things that can be done, bring people together to work for the good of the community. If divide and conquer is the objective, it may work for awhile.

Mayor, I am aware that you did not want me appointed to this board to begin with, and for once the other commissioners did not agree with you. However, I do appreciate their vote, which allowed me to serve if only for a brief time.

I can no longer, with good conscience, continue to serve. Surrounding areas are spending millions of dollars to buy more park land. You are giving ours away. With the mandate of this commission, I think you would do well to eliminate this board entirely, since scenic improvement seem to be the furthest thing from your agenda. Concrete and block walls may be the most beautiful thing in the world to a developer, but it just won't cut it in Fort Mellon Park. You may win the battle, but will surely lose the war.

Sincerely,
J. Harold Chapman
Sanford, FL

The Red, Hot, Boom event at Cranes' Roost Park in Altamonte Springs, regularly held July 3, did not include fireworks this year. However, there was entertainment, and other events that attracted about 50,000 people, said special events coordinator, Shelly Nofit. "He was the most loved son in the world," Marion Berger said. "If there hadn't been drugs that night, then he would be with us today."

A graduate of Lake Mary High School, her son worked at a local restaurant. He was making plans to buy a motorcycle and had just moved into his own apartment. He loved amusement parks, sports and adventure, his mother said.

What happened to Jason impacted many of his friends, Berger said. Some even left the area to get away from the drug scene. Sadly, though, some continue to use drugs, she said.

"People need to be aware that if they deal drugs they face first degree murder charges and could spend the rest of their life in prison," she said.

Since January there have been 11 heroin related overdoses in the county with seven resulting in death, according to sheriff's spokeswoman Deanna Brown.

In a similar case, William C. Foulkes, owner of Bill's Elbow South, an Oviedo restaurant, was arrested in June for his role in the heroin related death of Keith Tedesco, 18. Tedesco worked as a waiter in Foulkes' restaurant. He died June 9, 1997, after lingering in a coma for a week.

the public to learn more about these mysterious animals as the zoo continues captive conservation programs and studies," said Farmer.

On Sunday, the zoo's only ape is in the spotlight.

"To help zoos educate people about the importance of caring for their fellow primates, AMC has declared September to be AMC Adopt An Ape Month," said AMC Executive Vice President and General Manager Noreen O'Loughlin. "In September, AMC will adopt 50 gorillas, orangutans and other primates (in zoos across America), including the Central Florida Zoological Park's slambang. We encourage our viewers to visit apes at their local zoo, become zoo members and adopt an ape."

Funds raised through adoption programs at the zoo are used for animal food and care, said Farmer. While "adoptive parents" can't take home an "adopted" animal, new parents receive a souvenir photo and adoption certificate acknowledging their "adoption" and donation to the zoo.

The public is invited to attend AMC's Planet of the Apes Viewing Party on Sunday, beginning at 3 p.m. with a primate feeding demonstration followed by the Planet of the Apes movie showing in the air-conditioned education building. "We are pleased to be a part of AMC's Planet of the Apes celebration because the event brings attention to the needs of these magnificent, endangered animals," said Farmer. The smash hit, sci-fi movie premiered 30 years ago.

A slambang is a lesser ape, in the family of gibbons, native to Malaya and Sumatra.

The zoo is located at 3755 N.W. U.S. Highway 17-92. Admission is $7 for adults, $4 for seniors 60 years and over, and $3 for children ages 3 to 12.

Seminole Family YMCA previews exciting expansion

By Mary Powell
HERALD CORRESPONDENT

LAKE MARY — The Seminole Family YMCA previewed its expansion project on Saturday, August 22, for members and non-members. The expansion will include a new 10,000-sq-ft pool, gymnasium, expanded wellness center, a new child watch center, a full-size play ground and more. The preview gave attendees a chance to see what the YMCA is currently offering as well as what it will be offering. There were program demonstrations and people on hand to do fitness evaluations for those who wanted it.

One of the highlights for the new expansion will be the 10,000-sq-ft pool. Donors will have the opportunity to have their names etched in the glass blocks of the Wall of Light. Proceeds will be used to fund YMCA Youth Programs as well as other expansion improvements.

The YMCA offers team sports throughout the year. Currently, the YMCA is signing up children for the Youth Basketball and Youth Roller Hockey. The basketball program begins September 19 and the hockey begins September 26. Both are $60 for YMCA members.

In addition to the youth sports, the YMCA offers a wide variety of classes all year long. Yoga, teen fitness, aerobics and Tai Chi are the most popular of the classes that are offered. The YMCA, of course, offers swimming. The pool and all the existing facilities are open during the construction.

If you are interested in finding out more about the Seminole Family YMCA, call 321-8941.

Mennonite Disaster Services supplied free labor to build the homes. Tours were conducted and refreshments were served.

As summer ends, some safety tips for Labor Day driving

Special to the Herald

As summer draws to a close, this Labor Day weekend, many families will take advantage of the last vacation opportunity before school begins. With more than 40 million Americans taking to the roads, remembering these simple tips will make getting there and back a lot safer for you and your loved ones.

• Before you take off, make sure your car is in good working condition. Check the oil, tire pressure, and the brake, cooling, steering and battery fluids. This will give you peace of mind and prevent unnecessary problems.

• Stop every two hours for food, restroom breaks or just to stretch your legs. Fatigue while driving can be hazardous and cause restless children and frustrated parents.

• Don't drive through the night. Be fully refreshed for the continuation of your road trip by getting a good night's sleep in a hotel. If you can't pull over, bring an alternate driver with you so you can take turns driving.

• Avoid road rage. If someone is proceeding you, let them pass and then let it drop. If you find yourself yelling and getting angry, pull it safe and pull over for a short break.

• Always wear your safety belt. According to AAA in 1999, more than 60 percent of the occupants killed in fatal crashes were not buckled up. And remember, car seats with safety belts provide the greatest protection.

• If possible, take your road trip in the "lunar" or early evening hours. This will provide more rest and comfort for passengers and provide the best protection in case of a crash. According to the Insurance Institute for Highway Safety, the death rate in small passenger cars is more than double the rate in the larger.

With these simple tips, you and your family can make getting there and back part of the vacation fun.

And, remember, school is back in session. This means more children are on the road each weekday, walking and biking to and from school, and waiting for and exiting school buses. Fred A. Martin of the Florida Coalition for Vehicle Change urges all drivers to be extra careful when driving in and around school zones, and bus stops. It's better to exercise special caution on the roads and be a couple of minutes late to work than to rush there and possibly kill or injure a child.

Herald Staff Writer

This could be a breakout season for the Lyman High football team

SANFORD - One more day until the beginning of high school football.

Throughout the year, we'll have surprises aplenty, but it says here that the biggest surprise will come from Larry Baker's Lyman Greyhounds.

Just a hunch. The Greyhounds are coming off a 1-8 season. Even the rest of the athletic program over at Lyman has been down for the most part.

But look at just some of the success stories in the past year.

- The girls' basketball team made it to regionals.
- The baseball team led the Seminole Athletic Conference for almost the entire season.
- The boys' lacrosse team was one of the strongest, hard-hitting teams in the county.
- The wrestling team was strong and had two of the best wrestlers - Greg Burgess and Joe Giola - in Central Florida.
- The boys' soccer team was strong again.
- Last week, Lyman Junior Matt Kohn reached the U.S. Amateur golf championship and made a respectable showing.
- And Monday night the boys volleyball team started a new era with a victory in its first game under new coach Gina Bonaventure.

The last 12 months have seen the Lyman sports program thrive, so mark it down, unless I'm wrong, that this will be a breakout year for Lyman football.

Did you see the Greyhounds' 9-7 win in last week's Kickoff Classic over Lake Howell?

Okay, let's remember, the Greyhounds scored late against Lake Howell's backup defense, but it was a step towards respectability.

Check out a Lyman practice. The intensity that has been lacking in recent years is there again. The Greyhounds also have a decent amount of talent for the first time in awhile.

Quarterback Brian Krause is returning for his second year as starter and baker has a slew of running backs, including breakaway guys like Brad Harris, last season's leading ground-gainer, Dominic Cleveland, Kit Kaminski, Antoine Sims and Asa Cleveland.

Sims may have emerged from the pack after his 54-yard punt return in the Kickoff Classic that set up the winning score. He also supplied much of Lyman's running yardage.

The Greyhounds also sport a decent defense that kept themselves in most games last season. Julian Johnson, Chad Baker, Chris Johnson and Fano Rosario return and, with a running back unit that goes deep, Baker can use many of them on defense.

The thing, though, that makes me think this could be Lyman's return to the top half of the SAC is the attitude. You sense it after talking to the players.

The senior-laden team has lost enough and believes it's time to turn things around.

Baker believes. His team believes. Now, for the first time in several years, the Greyhounds aren't just an automatic W.

Last Second Shot: Add a third player to the list of Seminole County graduates in the NFL.

We all know about quarterback Jeff Blake (Seminole, Cincinnati Bengals), and defensive end Trevor Pryce (Lake Howell, Denver Broncos).

Now add Daryl Bush (Lake Brantley, St. Louis Rams), an undersized line-backer with a big heart who led the Florida State defense on the field and in the classroom the past four years.

Calibrating blood-pressure devices

PETER GOTT, M.D.

DEAR DR. GOTT: When purchasing home blood pressure devices, how can one be sure they are properly calibrated? They seem to vary a lot.

DEAR READER: I encourage hypertensive patients to purchase home blood pressure monitoring devices and to become proficient in using them. Most reliable blood pressure gauges are factory-calibrated; however, it's a good idea to recalibrate them periodically at, say, yearly intervals. This can be done easily in the doctor's office.

Take your own blood pressure and then have your doctor immediately recheck it using a mercury manometer, the gold standard of blood-pressure measurement. Most doctors use these mercury devices because they do not have to be calibrated and almost never wear out. If the blood-pressure readings differ by more than 10 or 15 points (millimeters of mercury), return your device to the manufacturer for recalibration.

The variation that occurs with home units may not be the fault of the equipment. Our blood pressures usually vary all over the place, depending on stress, exercise, time of day and so forth. Therefore, the figures you are obtaining probably are accurate for you.

If you are taking your blood pressure correctly, you may note both low and high figures. This is normal. Share the numbers with your doctor during your checkup visit; he or she should be grateful to have this additional information because it will help the physician regulate blood-pressure medicine or more closely supervise a borderline hypertensive state.

To give you related information, I am sending you a copy of my Health Report "Hypertension." Other readers who would like a copy should send $2 plus a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope to P.O. Box 2017, Murray Hill Station, New York, NY 10156. Be sure to mention the title.

DEAR DR. GOTT: What causes dreams?

DEAR READER: Dreams are thoughts. During the period of deep sleep, called rapid eye movement sleep, our brains are active while our bodies are virtually paralyzed. In REM sleep, we dream. Some experts believe that dreaming is an essential way for the body to work out unconscious problems and tensions. People who are deprived of REM sleep often become irritable and exhausted. REM sleep may be the time that we recharge our nervous systems in preparation for our waking hours. Therefore, dreaming may be viewed as an important human function without which we would be unable to strike the necessary emotional balance in our lives.

DEAR DR. GOTT: I pass gas constantly — and I mean ALL the time.

What can I do about it? I'm too embarrassed to discuss it with my doctor.

DEAR READER: First of all, intestinal gas is a common problem that may be due to a variety of causes. In your case, the cause needs to be pinned down. Your doctor is the logical person to help you discover the basis of your excessive gas.

Second, I am repeatedly surprised by the number of letters I receive from people who are reluctant, afraid or embarrassed to ask their doctors about certain health issues. I can understand this tendency, but it doesn't make much sense. Keeping secrets from your doctor is like playing ball in the dark: It's hard on everybody. If you don't trust your doctor, find one you can trust. But please don't tell your doctor half-truths or downright lies; you wouldn't expect him or her to treat you that way. Also, sharing a problem with your doctor is often the first step toward finding a satisfactory solution.

To give you related information, I am sending you a copy of my Health Report "Digestive Gas." Other readers who would like a copy should send $2 plus a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope to P.O. Box 2017, Murray Hill Station, New York, NY 10156. Be sure to mention the title.

WIN AT BRIDGE

A war of attrition

By Phillip Alder

This is the 50th anniversary of the outbreak of World War II. Nearly five years later, when the Allies were planning the invasion of Europe, there was a concerted effort to persuade the Germans that the troops would arrive near Calais, not farther south in Normandy.

Well, on today's deal, a French international, Patrick Sussel, had to find a bluff to make his apparently impossible six-diamond contract. What would you have done in his place? West leads the club jack.

Agreed, many Americans would not open one diamond with Sussel's hand. East's overall is hardly classic either, but everyone strains to bid spades. Then North, unsure what to rebid, went for the slam bonus.

West led the club jack because he judged that North was prepared for a spade lead.

Sussel found a great ruse: He ruffed in the dummy and called for the spade four.

Thinking South had to be void in spades to do this, East played low. After winning with his jack, Sussel ruffed a club in the dummy, cashed the spade ace, discarding his heart three, and continued with the spade queen, covered and ruffed. Back to dummy by trumping the club queen, Sussel threw the heart queen on dummy's spade 10. His luck held when West had to ruff this with the diamond ace.

Sussel trumped the next club in the dummy, pulled East's remaining trump, and claimed. Wonderful!

Could East have seen through declarer's smokescreen? Back then, perhaps not; now, yes. With four spades, a modern tournament player sitting West would jump to three spades (unless 4-3-3, which is impossible here).

HOROSCOPE

Friday, Sept. 4, 1998

Something you just wrote off the books may show new life in the year ahead. You might not get all you hoped for, but gains are probable.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 22) It's best not to shirk responsibilities today. You'll feel guilty about things you should have done when they catch up with you at a later date.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23-Dec. 21) Don't invite criticism from a friend who tells it like it is today. You may not be prepared to deal with his/her candor and code of ethics.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19) Try to reduce your expenditures at this time instead of assuming new long-term obligations. You must not let what you owe take too big a bite out of your financial resources.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 18) Today you might erroneously feel that nothing can be achieved without the assistance of strong allies. Actually, you're likely to more productive as a loner.

PISCES (Feb. 19-March 20) Don't assume responsibilities for others today which they can take care of themselves. You're the one who will be held accountable if what you promise isn't finished.

ARIES (March 21-April 19) Social engagements could turn out to be burdensome today. What you thought would be fun could turn into a task. Select your participants more carefully.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20) Personal objectives might have to be temporarily put on the back burner today, because of things you'll have to go out of your way to do for others. Try not to fall too far behind.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20) If anyone opposes your views or opinions today, you're not apt to give any ground. This lack of flexibility could invite an angry retort.

CANCER (June 21-July 22) A couple of old obligations might clamor for payment today. Get them off the ledger, even if it takes some maneuvering.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22) Every situation has alternatives, even those which seem problematic. However, you might have difficulty seeing beyond the negative side today.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22) It's imperative not to exceed physical or mental limitations in your endeavors. If you get to a rough spot, seek out strong, energetic assistance. Get a jump on life by understanding the influences that'll govern you in the year ahead. Bend for your Astro-Graph predictions by mailing $2 to Astro-Graph, c/o this newspaper, P.O. Box 1758, Murray Hill Station, New York, NY 10156. Be sure to state your zodiac sign.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 23) If you get involved in something your companions find enjoyable but you don't, don't let your attitude spoil the fun for your friends.
