suspension, one for no registration and the remainder for speeding; District 6, U.S. Highway 17-92/ O'Brien Road, Fernwood Boulevard, Lake of the Woods, 19 tickets, 17 for red light infractions, one for illegal lane change and one for illegal U-turn; District 7, SR 434/Markham Woods Road, SR 434/Montgomery Road, SR 436/Hunt Club Boulevard, SR 436/Bear Lake Road, 51 tickets, 48 for red light infractions, one illegal lane change, one illegal U-turn and one arrest for numerous license suspensions.

A new area code in Brevard County will require 10-digit dialing in Seminole, Orange and Osceola counties, the Florida Public Service Commission decided this week.

Under the approved plan, Brevard County will be split from the current 407 area code and will be given a new code. The new area code will also be used as an overlay area code for the rest of 407. All customers in Seminole, Orange and Osceola counties with existing telephone numbers will maintain the 407 area code, but new telephone numbers will be issued with the new area code.

A permissive dialing period is scheduled to begin on April 1, 1999. Ten-digit mandatory dialing will begin on Dec. 1, 1999.

Battle over for two cities

By Shari Brodie
HERALD FEATURE EDITOR

OVIDEO - The fight between Oviedo and Winter Springs over Battle Ridge is over.

City Manager Gene Williford said Thursday the city's attorneys have been instructed to dismiss Oviedo's petition in the administrative case against the neighboring municipality.

The action comes after the Oviedo City Council voted 3-2 Monday in executive session to cease further action against Winter Springs and the Florida Department of Community Affairs.

"From the city's standpoint, we've done what we have to do," said Williford. Oviedo had until Dec. 14 to accept a stipulation and settlement agreement with Winter Springs or proceed with an administrative hearing, in which the city would have to prove that the annexation and land use change for Battle Ridge would have a negative impact.

In the Battle Ridge discussions, the Oviedo City Council had championed the interests of the residents of Black Hammock. Councilman Bob Dallari said Friday, while Black Hammock is not in the city limits of Oviedo, it is integral to the character of the area.

"I was very surprised and disappointed," Dallari said of the council's decision to dismiss the petition. "It is a grave miscarriage of justice to the environmental community around Oviedo." Dallari said he felt Black Hammock would be left wide open to development if Battle Ridge is allowed to proceed.

The Black Hammock Association and MacKinley's Mill Homeowners Association have opposed the annexation because of the fear of encroachment of urban services in an area characteristically rural.

Oviedo is proceeding with talks with the county on a Joint Planning Agreement for contiguous areas affected by future land use changes. Oviedo Council Chairman Tom Hagood said in a letter to County Commission Chairman Carlton Henley, "It is vitally important to the city of Oviedo to continue negotiations we have begun to reach an accord with Seminole county, through a Joint Planning Agreement."

MacKinley's Mill homeowner Valerie El-Jamil said the JPA is "vitally necessary" and said "there's nothing to stop Winter Springs [from annexing into the hammock] at this point."

"I think the Black Hammock is at a very great risk," said El-Jamil.

El-Jamil is also concerned for the property values of homes in her community. She said she anticipates commercial development on the north side of State Road 434, east of Toll Road 417, similar to that along U.S. Highway 17-92.

The county will discuss the JPA at the Board of County Commission meeting Tuesday.

Test scores jump at county high schools

By Bill Kerns
HERALD STAFF WRITER

SEMINOLE COUNTY - Seminole County students showed significant improvements on the high school exit exam this year, led by Lake Brantley High School and followed by Seminole, Lake Howell, and Oviedo high schools.

Of the county students taking the High School Competency Test (HSCT), 88 percent passed the communications section and 87 percent passed the math portion. This represents a six-point improvement in communications, and a five-point improvement in math.

Passing both sections of the HSCT is a requirement for students seeking a standard high school diploma.

Lake Brantley High School had the highest overall scores in the county, with a 92 percent passing in math and 91 percent passing in communications. This is an improvement of eight points in communications and six points in math since last year.

"Our big thing is we did HSCT warm-ups every day in most classes," Lake Brantley principal Darvin Boothe said. "A couple of years ago, we put together a long-term plan for improving scores. This represents a lot of hard work by teachers and students."

Lake Howell High School made a 15-point improvement in communications, and a 10-point improvement in math. Nine-two percent of the students taking the test passed in communications, and 88 percent passed in math.

"We had a school-wide effort to improve test scores," Lake Howell principal Don Smith said. "We had activities for students from the ninth through the 12th grades. We took two periods on Tuesdays and Thursdays, and for 15 minutes we did nothing but prepare for the test. We didn't even allow students to leave the room."

At Seminole High School, 86 percent of the students taking the test passed in math, and 80 percent passed in communications.

County Commission backs Jeb Bush's educational reforms

By Rose White

SEMINOLE COUNTY - Governor Elect Jeb Bush says Florida can do better to close the education gap - and the Board of Seminole County Commissioners has vowed its support.

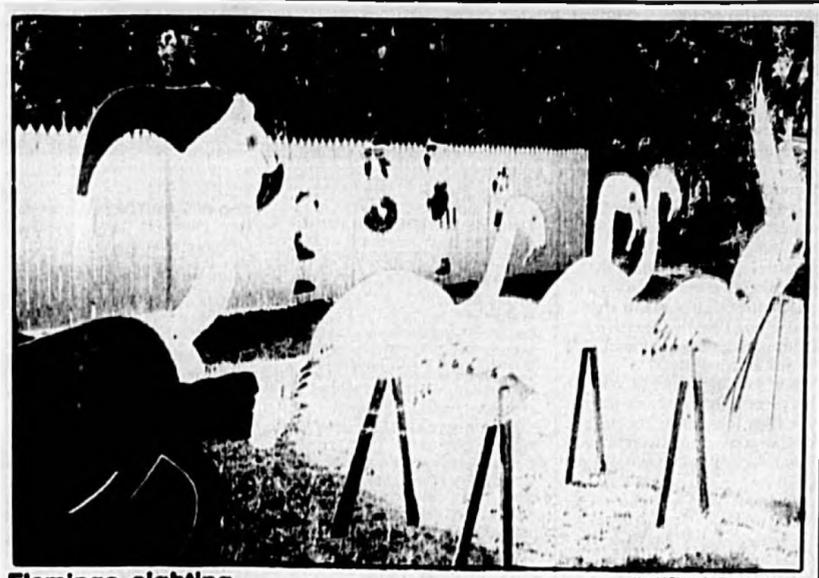

On Tuesday, the BBC will adopt a resolution to back Bush's call for educational excellence, which Bush says will make Florida's system of public education a model for the entire nation.

During his election campaign, Bush visited nearly 200 public schools including several of those in Seminole County. He warned school officials and county leaders that Florida has reached the "crossroads" when it comes to education.

"We have too many children and too many families that are suffering because our government is not acting as a catalyst to help them but in many ways as a deterrent," Bush said.

"Florida has consistently ranked among the bottom of

Man dies in brawl Note about another man's wife leads to fight at residence

By Bill Kerns
HERALD STAFF WRITER

LAKE MARY - A Lake Mary man died Friday morning following a fight over a remark he wrote about another man's wife.

John Stasi, 34, wrote a disparaging note about Gary Petree's wife at a local bar, according to Lake Mary detectives. Petree, 24, confronted Stasi at his 315 Seminole Avenue home, striking him several times in the face with his fists, and Stasi fell unconscious to the ground, police said.

"There was significant trauma to the face and head," Lake Mary Police chief Richard Beary said.

After returning to his 224 Fourth Street residence, Petree and his wife decided to return to Stasi's home to check on his well-being, police said. When they found Stasi still unconscious, Petree's wife called 9-1-1 while Gary Petree started CPR.

"It's a senseless death," Beary said. "This was a fight over a comment. This is an example of how a comment and anger can get out of hand. It's sad."

Stasi was pronounced dead at Columbia Hospital. Petree has been charged with second degree murder, and booked into John E. Polk correctional facility.

Student trainers play serious game

By Jeff Berlinck
ASSISTANT SPORTS EDITOR

OVIDEO - Crowds at Oviedo High football games can be pretty loud, but for two student trainers, their experience at the Citrus Bowl was a whole new world.

Junior Monica Restrap and senior Sahar Aboul-Hosen are trainers for the Oviedo football team, but about a month ago they were contacted by former Oviedo trainer and University of Central Florida graduate assistant Brian Hatzel, to work at the UCF football game as assistant trainers.

So, instead of working before family and friends, they went to work before 31,000 people.

The whole thing started when Ball State needed some extra trainers on its sidelines for the Nov. 14 game at UCF. The school called UCF and, through Hatzel's connections at Oviedo, they decided to use a couple of student-trainers.

Aboul-Hosen and Restrap were the first to volunteer and, with the blessing of their teacher, Kevin "Doc" Mathews, they were off to the big time.

When they got there, Ball State made sure they stayed busy and, little by little, the Oviedo trainers turned from the hometown team and became Ball State fans, at least for a day.

"It was weird going out with the visiting team in our hometown in front of so many people," Restrap said. "The fans were booing us the whole time and one of them threw a beer at us when we went off the field at half-time."

Restrap said at first she wanted to root for UCF but felt she better change her mind after a few minutes.

"I started to yell for UCF and everybody on the Ball State bench just looked at me, so I figured I'd better stop," Restrap said.

They were kept busy throughout the game. First, they spent time filling water cups on the sideline, but were also on the lookout for bleeding players and helped out with the taping and tending.

Later, they worked with the X-ray team in the Ball State training room.

The Oviedo football team turns out some pretty huge players, but neither one was prepared for the immense size of the Ball State team.

"They were really nice to us," Aboul-Hosen said. "They were just so huge."

Honoring 1998's dubious achievers

The 1998 awards for Dubious Achievement and Behavior in or too close to Seminole County were nearly swept away by tornadoes or destroyed by wildfires.

It took the flawed efforts by a goofy mix of individuals to give everyone a break from the natural disasters. Let's not forget how wacky a year it was throughout the county.

A Sanford cop was fired for smoking on duty. Two Seminole County Sheriff's deputies were disciplined for mooning. One was later fired on another charge about the same time that the Sheriff's Office was given a national award for integrity.

The dancing babes at the House of Babes in Casselberry lost their jobs, also. The adult club was renamed Risky Business and then went out of business.

Trying to stop a plan for a waterfront hotel/conference center at Fort Mellon Park, Doug and Debra Grosselose of Sanford rallied 2,700 people but lost. Did the Grosseloses really think they could beat City Hall?

When County Commissioner Dick Van Der Weide failed to turn in hotel and meal receipts for a trip to Europe, the Clerk of the Court held back two of his paychecks. He then sued her.

The Battle of Battle Ridge exhibited the worst of two cities - Winter Springs and Oviedo. More than half of this development is underwater. So are the combatants.

Several Longwood officials decided to give a key of the city to former Lyman High School principal Carlton Henley. The mayor objected, because Henley was running for office as a county commissioner. Henley won the election but lost the key.

Bob Goff transformed School Board meetings into a demolition derby. He was banged up but his battery kept on going and going. He'll probably wind down in 2000.

Circuit Court Judge Leonard Wood was reprimanded by the Supreme Court in Tallahassee for being rude to those who appeared before him. He asked a man and woman the details of their sex life. All they wanted was a divorce.

Former Orlando Magic player Jerry Reynolds made a sex video with a 16-year-old. He said he thought she was much older.

Televangelist Pat Robertson said God may destroy Orlando because the city allowed gay and lesbian flags to fly. Not many listened. God included.

Oviedo opened its wondrous Marketplace in March but the food court had no food and the 22 theaters had no movies.

Proof that Elvis is alive: Orlando Sanford Airport lost a three-weekly service to Gulfport but gained another to Memphis.

On the day the County Commission thanked Win Adams for his work for the county, commissioners Dick Van Der Weide and Grant Maloy decided to check in after the brief ceremony. They didn't think Adams deserved their time of day.

Maloy angered Sheriff Don Eslinger for the objections he had for M-16s requested by the agency. Maloy said he was concerned the sheriff was trying to build jungle warfare force. Maloy envisioned more an agency more like that of Sherlock Holmes.

Lake Mary residents knew that flights in and out of Orlando Sanford Airport were out of control when passengers came to their homes to claim their luggage.

An aide to a county commissioner said she received a call from a member of the Christian Coalition who asked if she and the commissioner were Christians. The aide told the caller they were both Catholic. "That doesn't count"

Armed robbery:

ALTAMONTE SPRINGS, Palm Springs Drive, 300 block, Dec. 3, 2:39 p.m. An 18-year-old man was arrested by Altamonte Springs Police for armed robbery. Police said the victim reported that the man, wearing a hood which covered much of his face, used a knife to help himself to a chain and a pager.

Burglary to a motor vehicle:

SANFORD, Truman Street, 3600 block, Dec. 3, 2:30 a.m. A 19-year-old man and a 38-year-old man were arrested by Seminole County Sheriff's deputies for burglary to a motor vehicle. Deputies said the victim saw him break into her car and remove the speaker boxes from her car. When she started to chase them, they dropped the speakers and got into a car and drove away. Police tracked down the car and found the owners. The victim recognized the owners as the men who tried to take the speakers.

Counterfeiting a license plate:

While they were writing a ticket they noticed that the renewal sticker was a Post-It Note with a 99 written with a black marker. The owner was located. He admitted to the alteration and was arrested.

lot of time preparing water for the players but they hate thinking that that's all they do as high school and now college trainers.

"I hate that people think all we are is water girls," Aboul-Hosen said. "We hear people call us that all of the time."

Restrepo expects to be a student-trainer again at Oviedo next year, but Aboul-Hosen is heading for college where she may get another opportunity to work the big time. She knows the trainers are the under-noticed and under-appreciated, but she still enjoys it enough to do it again.

They may not get much attention, but getting standing ovations from the Oviedo football team meant a lot to them after the season ended three weeks ago.

large states in performance of its schools," Bush said. "The fault lies not with our teachers and students, but with a bureaucracy that stifles excellence. We must dismantle the bureaucracy and make our schools parent oriented and performance driven."

Bush has drafted his educational call with the help of Lt. Gov. elect Frank Brogan, who has been a teacher, principal, school superintendent and Florida's Educational Commissioner.

Seminole County Commissioner Randy Morris told his fellow board members of the importance to support the new governor's educational program two weeks ago and helped write the resolution accepted to be adopted on Tuesday.

"The Jeb Bush education reform not only applies to our state but to the country," Morris said Friday. "It's a modified version that ought to appeal to each county in our state. Obviously, it is of great importance to every parent and child in the state," Morris said.

Seminole County School Board Chairman Larry Furlong said Friday that Bush will not find five more cooperative people than the Seminole Board "as long as the governor elect's proposals enhance the county's educational system."

Furlong said that he had not seen Bush's modified plan and that he and the other board members would comment after they had studied the modifications. The board is scheduled to meet next week.

Bush contends that many of those in Florida's schools are not getting the education they deserve. Parents say that the quality of education their children are receiving is inferior to the education they received. They're upset that only half the high school graduates in the state go on to college.

"A quality education is the key to ensuring that every student can live, not just dream, the American dream," said Bush, who is concerned about what he terms "significant gaps" in student achievement among different groups of students.

He cites these examples: * In 1997, 79 percent of white students passed both sections of Florida's High School Competency Test (HSCT) on the first attempt, but only 60 percent of Hispanic students and 44 percent of African American students passed both the math and communications sections of the HSCT.

"The average Florida SAT score in 1997 was 1043 for whites, 954 for Hispanics and 856 for African Americans.

* Nearly 80 percent of fourth-graders in Florida's urban cores are reading below a basic fourth grader's level while 74 percent of the state's urban corps eighth-graders are per-time and a failure."

County Commissioner Randy Morris said the issue of annexation, with regard to both municipalities, is much larger than just the Battle Ridge property. He said it remains to be seen how Oviedo and Winter Springs will resolve future issues of contiguous land along Toll Road 417, and particularly around the Oviedo mall.

On Tuesday, the commission will be asked for direction on the stipulation and settlement agreement presented by Winter Springs Nov. 24. Morris said he would be very surprised if the board went along with the agreement, and he feels the county's attorney may recommend that Seminole County dismiss its petition against Winter Springs.

percent passed in communications. This is an improvement of 15 points in math, and eight points in communications.

"Our teachers, faculty, staff, and students all worked extremely hard," Seminole assistant principal Brennan Asplen said. "We're very proud of our students and our school. We had HSCT Wednesday where we honed in on HSCT skills in all of our classes. Whether it was 10 or 15 minutes or the entire period was up to the teacher."

At Oviedo high school, 90 percent passed in both communications and math. This is a five-point improvement in both categories.

"We had classroom activities at the end of classes to work on life-long HSCT skills," Oviedo assistant principal Anna McCarthy said. "Our teachers campus wide worked very hard. Our 11th grade teachers worked especially hard. We're very pleased."

At Lake Mary High School, 90 percent passed in communications, and 86 percent passed in math. At Winter Springs, 89 percent passed in communications and 88 percent passed in math. At Lyman, 87 percent passed in math and 86 percent passed in communications.

Teachers and administrators across the county worked together to share ideas. Smith and Boothe said the ideas from Lyman High School were especially helpful. Lyman made improvements of 18-points in communications and 16-points in math from 1996 to 1997.

One idea of Lyman's that Smith and Boothe said they implemented was feeding students before the test. At Lake Howell, the students were fed breakfast before the test. At Lake Brantley, the students were fed orange juice, bagels, and donuts.

"When we heard that Lyman did that we thought it was a good idea," Boothe said. "It set the stage on a more positive note, and gives the students time to settle down. I don't know if it made a difference in scores or not, but the students liked it."

Statewide, 81 percent passed in communications and 77 percent passed in math. This is a three-point improvement in communications, and a two-point improvement in math.

In Memory Of Jeremy David Murray

Jan. 16, 1972 - Dec. 6, 1997

A year ago today he decided he couldn't stay. He took his life. Oh that could early moon all alone but ever so bold. God lifted him. With him went my heart his smile, his laughter and soul. No one knows, I call your name the questions remain. Jeremy why? Did you mean to die? Was it just a cry? Jesus why? Wrapped in the arms of God I'll no longer wonder. Oh thank you Lord he'll suffer no more. He gave you his life on that special morn. All that remains are the memories of his pain. Still his smile remained through the demons of life. Today as I look at the sky I will cry with peace in my heart. Such a short life. Oh what a fight. You've reached your goal you gave God your soul. Now rest in peace my son and smile down on us forever more. Love Mom

Slow down Seminole County drivers

Speeding, especially during the holidays, has become a way of life. But there is one area where speeding should absolutely not be tolerated or condoned and that's in school zones.

All over Seminole County, drivers can see the blinking lights before and after school, especially at elementary schools and middle schools where hundreds of kids ride their bikes each day.

Drivers can also plainly see the red lights and stop signs on the school buses that ferry students to the county's 53 schools.

Too many people are flying through the school zones and it's just a matter of time before somebody gets seriously hurt this year.

At Sanford Middle School, for example, the speed limit is 20 miles per hour for roughly 100 yards during the periods just before and after school.

At Pine Crest Elementary, there is a similar zone on Airport Boulevard.

It's a great place for police officers to just sit and wait for speeding drivers who won't take the time and safety precaution to slow down for a half-minute.

There are other places where there are many more bicycle riders. At Sabal Point Elementary and Lake Mary Elementary, for example, kids ride their bikes through sometimes obscured to drivers by the tree-lined streets.

The schools mandate that the riders wear helmets, but it doesn't mean that an unsafe driver isn't going to speed through their areas.

Seminole County has been fortunate considering the number of violators, few of whom ever get caught.

The school zone warnings are not difficult to see. Flashing lights over the center of the road and, usually, smiling and waving safety officers keep an eye on the situation, but it still doesn't deter drivers from trying to take a few less seconds off their travel time.

Drivers should be aware, however, that if they are caught speeding in a school zone, tickets start at about $280.

During the holidays, everyone is rushed and has their mind on other things besides their driving. This is no excuse, however, to be zooming through the school zones considering the potential for disaster.

What could be worse than injuring a small child walking or riding to school?

Arts, alive and well in Seminole County

This past week's Second Annual Arts Alive in Seminole County festival demonstrated the diversity of talent in Seminole County's schools. The festival featured visual and performing art from elementary, middle and high school students in front of an enthusiastic crowd at the Orlando Museum of Art.

The festival was a tremendous success, with dedicated work from school board officials, staff, students, and the critical support of businesses and corporations.

The challenge for Seminole County schools is to ensure the success of the festival translates into daily success in the classroom, helping students reach their full artistic potential.

County schools have fine teachers and dedicated students. The students need to be embraced by the community not just on one night, but on a consistent basis.

Students need mentors, such as Seminole High School graduate Joe Good who volunteers with the school's gospel choir while attending Rollins College.

Mentors often receive as much as they give, as Good can attest when he said "these kids are a blessing to me."

Students also need the support of businesses, churches, and most of all families.

The talented artists and performers in Seminole County cannot reach their potential alone. The Arts Alive in Seminole County festival serves as a beacon for greater community involvement in schools.

The "facts" about Astor Farms

By Darrell Leidigh

In response to the Nov. 21 letter by Don Cain, let us reexamine the facts about the proposed Astor Farms housing development.

FACT: Farmland can be quality habitat for wildlife. Kestrels, loggerhead shrikes, killdeer, cattle egrets, sandhill cranes, white ibis and hawks are some of the birds that feed on insects, grass shoots, earthworms, rodents and snakes found in farm fields. Wildlife in the forests adjacent to the Astor Farms is even more abundant and diverse. Increased traffic will result in more road kills of opossums, turtles and armadillos. Fatalities of black bears will continue to increase. The Astor Farms project will cause conflicts, forced relocations and extinctions of local wildlife populations.

FACT: The 345 proposed homes on the site will withdraw more water from the Florida aquifer and create more wastewater, noise and traffic problems than the 100-130 homes which might be allowed. The zoning should remain at the current density of one dwelling every five acres. Even one dwelling on one acre would not be compatible or appropriate to this neighborhood.

FACT: A report obtained from the US Geological Survey Office in Altamonte Springs shows a reduction in the average amount of water flowing daily from Wekiva Springs. From 1969, when data was first recorded, until 1998, water discharge from the aquifer has decreased by approximately four million gallons per day. Some counties in Florida are already forced to import potable water.

FACT: The Wekiva River turns east at the approximate latitude of Astor Farms. If the Wekiva Protection boundary line was equal in distance from the river at all points, more acreage of Astor Farms would be inside the zone. The existing straight line north from route 46 is not arbitrary. It is easily surveyed and easily enforceable.

FACT: Violating laws because they are made in Tallahassee, the capital of our state, and not in Sanford is contrary to our representative forms of government.

FACT: Property owners must obtain the approval of their local government before altering the use of their land. The right to the use of the property is established communally under our laws. The reasonable uses of the property are explained in policies 2.12.4 and 2.12.5 of the County Comprehensive Plan.

FACT: The State of Florida does not have enough money to purchase all the environmentally sensitive land that owners would like to rezone to higher development densities. Local governments have to insure that the design of private development is compatible with the needs of wildlife and the preservation of natural resources. The government does not need to purchase Astor Farms because the Wekiva Protection Act is already intended to preserve this environmentally valuable area by restricting development to rural densities.

FACT: The Board of County Commissioners' decision on Astor Farms was not based on the facts. The facts can be found in the county staff report, which recommended against development, and in the Wekiva River Protection Act.

Look at an aerial photo, or better yet, drive out to the farm to confirm that it is completely surrounded by wooded five acre lots and a wooded conservation area. I have been a Florida resident since 1958. I'm concerned about the impacts of growth on wildlife, our diminishing air quality, the gridlock traffic situation and the threat to our fresh water supply. I'm concerned about the failure of local governments to take appropriate action.

Happy anniversary to a nation under turmoil

As a cantankerous columnist, I would be remiss if I allowed the year 1998 to pass into posterity without noting the 200th anniversary of the nation's first Constitutional crisis, which involved attempts to restrict the freedoms of speech and the press.

The United States was a 10-year-old infant, struggling to define the role of the federal government and to gain a foothold in a world of more powerful nations. England and Napoleonic France were fighting, and war with the French appeared imminent.

In the capital city of Philadelphia, emotions ran raw. The Federalists, party of President John Adams, favored the aristocratic and orderly British. The Democrat-Republicans, party of Vice President Thomas Jefferson, supported the obstreperous and egalitarian French. Partisan newspapers regularly screamed insults at the opposition and at each other. President Adams heatedly accused his tormentors of the "domestic treachery" that America's enemies would use to "subdue our country."

The turmoil reached such a pitch in the summer of 1798 that the Federalist-controlled Congress decided to take matters into its own hands. It passed three "alien" laws, which essentially gave the president the right to deport any immigrant at any time (many of Adams' critics, and especially Republican newspaper editors, were foreign born), and a "Sedition Act," which flew directly in the face of the recently minted First Amendment. It would henceforth be a crime, the act read, to "write, print, utter or publish...any false, scandalous and malicious writing or writings against the Government of the United States, or either House of the Congress of the United States, or the President of the United States, with intent to defame." Violators could be fined up to $2,000 and sentenced to two years in prison.

The Sedition Act was to expire on the last day of Adams' term, thus making abundantly clear its partisan nature. The act was one Matthew Lyon, an Irish-born businessman, newspaper publisher and Congressman from Vermont, who was known for his fierce denunciations of the Federalists. They sometimes referred to him as the "Lyon of Vermont" and often as "beast," "monkey" and "ass." Once, on the floor of Congress, he spat in the face of a Federalist antagonist, and was attacked in turn with a cane.

On July 31, 1798—two weeks after Adams signed the Sedition Act into law—a Vermont newspaper published a letter Lyon had written earlier that lambasted Adams' continual grasp for power and accused the president of an "unbounded thirst for ridiculous pomp, foolish adulation, or selfish avarice." Lyon was indicted, convicted, fined $1,000 and sent to jail for four months. He was re-elected by a large majority while imprisoned. Friends raised the money to pay his fine.

The Sedition Act proved enormously unpopular with citizens who had grown fond of their right to say what they pleased about those who governed them. The hated laws prompted Thomas Jefferson to write the Kentucky Resolutions, which called for the nullification of the Alien and Sedition Acts, and inspired James Madison to write his famous "Virginia Resolutions," in which he argued that "in this country, the people, not the Government, possess the absolute sovereignty." Public antipathy for the laws contributed to Adams' defeat and Jefferson's victory in the elections of 1800.

In the two years the Sedition Act was on the books, some 25 people were arrested for violating it. Fifteen were indicted, and 10 were convicted—including a New Jersey man who was fined $100 for saying he was disappointed that the wadding of a cannon shot struck in Adams' honor had not struck the presidential dertre.

After he was sworn in, Jefferson pardoned all who had been convicted under the act, and Congress voted to repay their fines.

Can you imagine what it would be like in America today if it were a crime punishable by fines and imprisonment to criticize politicians? If Enemies of Bill could not call him a draft-dodging womanizer? If Newt's naysayers had to hold their tongues?

Berry's World

"See why they want you to keep your seat belt on throughout the entire flight?"

Political pie throwers resurface

A few weeks ago, an outfit called the Bionic Baking Brigade threw a pie in San Francisco Mayor Willie Brown's face in order to call attention to the usual issues: the homeless, the environment, etc. Apparently the Brigade is an international ring, because one of its representatives also pied William Gates in Europe last summer.

When William Gates got pied, the world was briefly amused. When the Mayor got pied, however, San Francisco was not amused one bit.

From all spectra of local opinion, right, left and other, the consensus seemed to be that the pie-ers should get the book thrown in their faces.

Most want the pie throwers charged with felony assault.

Mayor Brown, though no longer well-liked, was called an "involuntary victim." He was, in fact, injured, a leg bruised in the ensuing "melee," after the pastry-hurling. Black leaders found that the incident had racist overtones. The president of the San Francisco NAACP, Alex Pitcher, said, "In my opinion, this is a felony.... Those responsible should go to the penitentiary." Supervisor Amos Brown called it "a crisis of incivility." Rev. Arnold Townsend of the First Union Baptist Church said, "I wonder how they would feel if they saw three or four African-American men heading toward them." Young black men with pies? Gee? what a fearsome image.

One of the Brigadiers, Rabula Janowski, an alleged thrower, and herself injured with a broken clavicle in the melee after the incident, shot back: "In a pieing, the intention is neither for the pie-er nor the pie-ee to be injured. It's political theater."

Well, it's hard to know where I stand on this. On the one hand, our silver screens once burst with silent movie comedians who literally dripped with custard. Oh, how we laughed! Later in the century, Lucille Ball would get pied frequently, to our approval. Bob Hope, Jack Lemmon, Tony Curtis—these are among the many luminaries who have allowed themselves to be pied for our amusement. Of course these people were all trained professionals, the pie-throwing was consensual, and they were all well paid for their alleged humiliation.

It's still a motif used to great effect. Nowadays, of course, it's more likely to be garbage, dung or some toxic substance dripping from the face of the screen star, but the low humor intent is the same. The low humor ante has been upped, that's all.

Along with rubber chickens, banana peels, guys in gorilla suits and the ogling of mammary glands, a face covered with viscous goo has been a staple of American humor for at least a hundred years.

But does pie-throwing belong in politics? As much as I enjoy seeing stuffed shirts unstuffed, I'll confess to a prejudice. I hate "political theater." I hate "street theater." Ever since the Yippies, I've found amateurish guerrilla theatrics tiresome and smug. They are vestiges of the '60s that should have died there, along with bell bottoms, psychedelic music and paisley. That it's being revived in the '90s by otherwise humorless activists is depressing.

Still, if the pie-ers do go to jail for this, it would be further proof that the country in general has lost its sense of humor along with its sense of direction. If they're convicted, shouldn't we then go after everybody who's ever told a Monica Lewinsky joke as well? (I've heard enough Monica Lewinsky jokes now to think that might not be such a bad idea; it would certainly discourage stand-up comics—always a public good—and would ease Internet traffic considerably.)

And, if they go to jail, what will the poor tree-huggers say when asked by the tattooed killers with whom they share a dank cell, "Hey, what are you in for?" I tell you, the kids won't last a minute in there.

I'm willing to bet that Bill Gates would sooner face a thousand pies than another lawsuit. And I'll bet that Willy Brown would rather face pies than bullets. Come to think of it, maybe this could be an alternative to impeachment. Give our honorable representatives pies, put President Clinton on the floor, and have them let fly, live on C-Span.

Shoe drive builds mountain

SPECIAL TO THE HERALD

Altamonte Springs - Ranging in size from newborn to men's size 15, more than 1,000 pairs of shoes have been collected by the staff of Dr. Barry Levin in a communitywide "Holiday Season Nearly-New, Barely-Used Shoe Drive" to benefit less fortunate people. All of the shoes will be given to local charities just prior to Christmas. A "shoe mountain," reaching over six feet in height, has been "built" with the donations in the lobby of Dr. Levin's Altamonte Springs office.

"Our shoe drive has been an overwhelming success and it's not over yet," said Dr. Levin, an orthodontist. "Our initial goal was to collect 500 pairs but we are well beyond and still counting!" Launched Nov. 1, this was the first year Dr. Levin and his staff have sponsored the shoe drive.

"We are especially appreciative of the 11 area schools that have been enthusiastically participating," he said.

These schools are: Heathrow Elementary, Lake Mary Elementary, Keeth Elementary, Sabal Point Elementary, Wilson Elementary, Teague Middle School, Lake Brantley High School, Lake Mary High School, Seminole High School, Annunciation Catholic Academy and Orangewood Christian School. All schools have shoe donation collection bins located on their campus.

All shoes will be donated to Mustard Seed of Central Florida, which provides support to families struggling with homelessness, and Goodwill Industries of Central Florida which helps thousands of men and women with employment barriers, such as homelessness, illiteracy and disabilities, find jobs.

Anyone wishing to donate shoes can bring them to either of Dr. Levin's offices, located at 9031 N. State Road 434, Altamonte Springs, and 3599 W. Lake Mary Blvd., Lake Mary, or any participating schools. The only requirement is that the shoes be in decent condition and clean. Please tie or rubber band each pair.

Seminole gospel choir will perform

By Bill Kerns
HERALD STAFF WRITER

SANFORD - The Seminole High School Gospel Choir will perform Saturday at 6 p.m. at the New Life Word Center in Sanford.

The New Life Word Center is located at 1311 Oak Avenue. The choir also performed Tuesday night in Arts Alive in Seminole, continuing to hone their skills while setting the audience clapping and singing.

"We're half-way through the school year and getting better," Seminole High School's Music Director Bob McGuire said. "We have three show choirs and a jazz band. All the shows are coming together."

Joe Good, an SHS graduate who now works with the choir as a volunteer while studying at Rollins College, said the choir is working hard and singing beautifully.

"All honor goes to G-d," Good said. "A lot of preparation goes into this. The kids have been a blessing to me."

Retail outlets, stores violate label laws

TALLAHASSEE - Florida Agriculture Commissioner Bob Crawford announced recently that his department has written 1,497 "Country of Origin Labeling" violations to supermarkets and other retail outlets in the last three years. Stores that were cited did not comply with Florida's County of Origin Labeling statute - a law requiring foreign-grown produce to bear stickers or signs indicating where it was grown. "During the past three years, Florida has been inundated with foreign-grown fruits and vegetables," Crawford said. "During the same period of time, a number of food-borne illness outbreaks associated with foreign products have occurred. The bottom line here is that Florida consumers deserve to know the source of the produce they buy at grocery stores."

Although Crawford's office has issued violation notices in every region of the state, the level of cooperation and compliance rate on the part of retailers is quite high, as violations occur in only 10 percent to 12 percent of inspections.

During the last three years, inspectors have issued $171,950 in fines to 487 repeat offenders. Crawford has authorized inspectors to initially issue a notice of violation. If the store is still not in compliance when it is reinspected, a $200 fine is issued. Fines are doubled each time a store is guilty of subsequent violations - up to a maximum fine of $5,000.

"We are taking the health and well-being of our citizens seriously, and will continue to be vigilant about enforcing this law," Crawford said. "I am gratified to see that other states are looking at enacting their own Country of Origin law, and I am strongly supportive of a national law like this, as well."

Rams' start surprises Gaudreau

LAKE MARY — You should have seen the look on Mike Gaudreau's face after his Rams' first two games of the season. Gaudreau is the boys basketball coach at Lake Mary but he looked almost stunned after his Rams beat Wymore Tuesday and came back to down Winter Springs Thursday. The look was not of shock, but rather of surprise. The Rams came back down to earth on Friday with a crushing loss to powerful DeLand, but that shouldn't take away from the team's super start to a rebuilding season. His Rams were expected to finish near the bottom of the district and the conference this season. With almost no one back from a sometimes under-achieving and sometimes over-achieving team last season, he has basically taken last year's junior varsity team and turned them into winners.

And that junior varsity team finished around .500 last year. Instead of coming out of the gate young and inexperienced the kind of team that may grow up by February, his team has taken the county by surprise.

True, his wins were against Class 2A and 3A competition but Wymore beat the Rams last year and Winter Springs is expected to contend for the county title this year.

It's early, but you may want to get to know these Rams.

Start with the point guards Mike Wicks and Nick Anthony. Wicks looks young and he's not the biggest guy on the floor, but he and Anthony also knows how to run an offense. They've consistently beat the press and, although they don't score much, they have the look and game of someone you want with the ball at crunch time.

Kevin Coogan has been amazing. In his first varsity game Tuesday, he led the Rams with 25 points and, despite not putting up big numbers, he was the player of the game Thursday when Gaudreau instructed him to shut down Winter Springs' center Winston James after James had his way with the Rams in the first half.

Coogan came through and added some key free throws down the stretch to boot. Matt Farkash and Mack Hofmann have dominated the boards this season giving them rebounding the Rams haven't had since departed senior Paul Beik went down midway through last season. They can score and, like the rest of the Rams, know how to hit the free throws late in the game.

That will come in handy when conference play begins since just about everyone seems evenly matched.

Don't forget guard Adonis Smith. He's the only player back from last year who got significant playing time. Smith is a flashy player who had a big night in the comeback victory over the Bears.

Give Gaudreau credit. When most teams are trying to fill deep holes due to graduation, he has put together a team that's fun to watch, hustles for 32 minutes, and, most importantly, finds a way to win.

It's a young team, but one loaded with potential.

Last Second Shot: Coaches at high school basketball games tend to do a lot of yelling, but it's nice to hear a zinger once in a while.

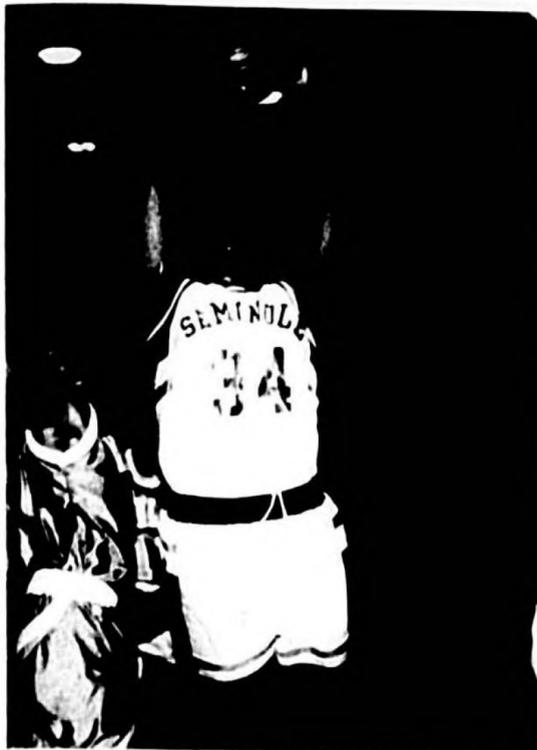

Mainland's Ruben Mautheu, watching his girls go without a field goal in the first half at Seminole Friday, shouted, "You are 0 for 30,000 so far. Somebody please make a shot."

He was kidding, I think, and it brought a laugh from every one, including his players.

Resourcefulness saves Seminole

SANFORD — There were two heroes Friday night as Seminole pulled out an improbable 61-47 overtime win over district rival Mainland.

One of them scored only two points and the other is a freshman, but they came up big as the 'Noles improved to 7-2 (3-0 in district play).

Laquena Grayson is the freshman. She led Seminole with 29 points, including seven in the overtime period, and Amanda Cook, Seminole's only senior, despite scoring only two points, had five steals down the stretch in regulation which helped wipe out a 6-point deficit with only two minutes to play in regulation.

Seminole then outscored Mainland 17-4 in overtime to run away.

Rams' magic disappears at DeLand

From Staff Reports

DELAND — Lake Mary ran into trouble Friday night.

The Rams' streak of straight conference wins to open the season in central state power DeLand is pounded 74-19 in a Class 2A District contest at the Dog Pound.

The Rams led overall 30-1 in OVA. It trailed through half and both halves by the fourth quarter.

Lake Mary head coach Mike Gaudreau was disappointed, especially in DeLand beat Wymore and Winter Springs at home.

That's the first time we faced the kind of pressure, especially on the road, Gaudreau said. "We're just really tired."

that it happened early. We needed to face a team that was this good."

Adonis Smith led the Rams with 19 points and Kevin Coogan and Mack Hofmann chipped in with 14 each.

The Rams come back home to host further games on Wednesday and Crooms on Thursday with the varsity game starting at 7:30 p.m. both nights.

PERKINS' OUTBURST CAN'T OVERCOME HOST HORNETS

ORLANDO — He is dominating Central Florida in scoring but even Perkin Perkins wasn't enough to save Crooms Academy Friday night.

The Panthers lost 82-41 to the host Hornets in the Bishop Moore Top 100 Classic, but Perkins still scored 27 points to lower his season average to 30.4.

Perkins had a school record 50 points, including 11 3-pointers, in a 63-57 win over Highland Christian Academy Thursday night.

It's young said Crooms' rookie coach John Thomas. "We only have one senior but we'll be fine once we get some experience."

In other games in the Classic Friday, Faith Christian beat Luther, 46-28; Heartland Christian crushed Orlando Christian, 67-20; Colonial edged Gateway, 67-56; and Mt. Dora Bible School whipped Montverde Academy 73-64.

The tournament finishes up today with games at 2:30 p.m., 4 p.m. and 5:30 p.m.

Crooms will stay on the road to play Wymore at 6:30 p.m. on Wednesday and

SCC women drop first game of year

By Dean Smith
HERALD SPORTS EDITOR

OCALA — The Seminole Community College women's basketball team ranked 21st in the country lost their first game of the season Friday night, 87-80, to Meridian Community College from Mississippi in the Ocala Classic.

Playing at Central Florida Community College, the Raiders fell behind 46-38 at halftime and could not make up enough ground in the final 20 minutes.

SCC 87 tried to rally as All America candidate Daria Rudnyyeva, Satu Ramesalo and Ocala's own Kecia Smith. Rudnyyeva scored 14 of her team-high 20 points in the second half while Ramesalo scored nine points and Smith seven points in the second half of the game that went down to the wire.

The Raiders, who are ranked No. 2 in the state poll, were to have played the No. 26 ranked team in the nation, Cincinnati Tech, on Saturday at noon.

SCC will return home to host Hillsborough Community College from Tampa in its final home game before the holidays on Wednesday. Game time is 6 p.m. at the SCC Health and Physical Education Center and, as always, admission is free.

After the home game, the Raiders will travel to Daytona Beach Community College next Friday and Saturday for the DBC Classic where they will battle No. 1 state-ranked Gulf Coast Community College from Panama City on Saturday at 6 p.m. They will play another state-ranked squad from the Panhandle, Chipola Community College from Marianna, at 6 p.m. on Friday.

In addition to her 20 points, Rudnyyeva, who leads the state in scoring and free throw percentage, had two rebounds, one assist and one steal.

Ramesalo, a 6-foot-1 freshman from Ladit, Finland, finished with 15 points, one rebound, one assist and one blocked shot while fellow freshman Kasia Tuure from Imatra, Finland, chipped in with 11 points, five rebounds and two blocked shots.

Also scoring in double figures was Smith with 12 points, one rebound, five assists, one steal and one blocked shot.

Freshman Shernel Donovan came off the bench to contribute seven points and three rebounds, while 7-foot sophomore Jaana Kotova added six points, four rebounds and three blocked shots.

DeLand man turns himself in for illegal taking of deer

Special to the Herald

ORLANDO — The second man who led wild life officers and deputies on a chase through Lake and Volusia counties on Friday the 19th turned himself into the Volusia County Jail on Saturday, Nov. 21.

Samuel Phillip Bell, of 2863 Canal Road, DeLand, turned himself in for a Lake County warrant on taking a deer during the closed season, a first degree misdemeanor.

He was also wanted on two previous warrants from Marion and Putnam counties for worthless checks.

A first degree misdemeanor carries a penalty of up to one year in jail and/or up to a $1,000 fine.

Bell and Michael Anthony Franco of 805 South Beresford Road, DeLand, led officers on a one and a half hour chase in the early morning hours of Friday, Nov. 13.

Franco was arrested and booked into Volusia County Jail on first degree misdemeanor charges of possession of freshly killed deer during closed season (Volusia County) and taking deer with a gun and light (Lake County) the morning of the chase, but Bell eluded officers until he turned himself in on Saturday.

The early morning chase began in the Ocala National Forest about 2:45 a.m. Friday, Nov. 13th, when Florida Game and Fresh Water Fish Commission (FGFC) Wildlife Officer Wayne Pridgen heard a shot and attempted to stop a vehicle on Highway 19 about two miles south of SR 10 in Lake County.

Instead of stopping, the driver fled and led Pridgen and Lake County Sheriff's Office deputies on a circuitous pursuit through portions of the Ocala National Forest, Astor, Astor Park and Out Cove Road before crossing the St. Johns River on State Road 40 into Volusia County.

Once in Volusia, the Volusia County Sheriff's Office assisted with its Air One helicopter, which maintained visual contact with the vehicle as it headed toward DeLand on Highway 17.

At one point the fleeing vehicle stopped and a freshly killed buck deer was dumped, which was detected by the Forward Looking Infrared (FLIR) device aboard Air One. The vehicle then continued on before finally stopping at the Beresford Road residence where Franco was staying.

Franco was arrested at the Beresford Road residence, but Bell fled on foot. A 1994 Nissan pickup truck's spotlight and a Savage 7mm rifle were confiscated, and the deer carcass was recovered.

Martina Kendrick and guard Jamala Mitchell, both of whom were out with injuries, so Seminole coach Sylvester Wynn turned to his depth which is one of Seminole's strong suits.

"Amanda did a great job down the stretch," Wynn said. "She may not score a lot of points, but she picked up the slack for us on rebounding and defense tonight. Laquerna was just awesome. She improves with each game and she never quits."

Jamala Mitchell has averaged 16 rebounds per game this season so Cook's effort was just what Seminole needed on a night when they didn't have their best stuff.

For Seminole, it was an important win after an ugly loss Thursday night to county rival Winter Springs and the Noles started out slowly again against Mainland, but took an early lead thanks to some strong defense.

Seminole led 8-2 after the first quarter, allowing only a pair of free throws, but Mainland came back strong, scoring the first 10 points of the second quarter to take a lead. Seminole came back, but Mainland tied the score at 16 just before the half.

Mainland pumped out in the third quarter and extended the lead to 44-38 before Seminole mounted a rally.

Deanna Hird scored on a put-back to cut it to 44-40 and Barbara Gray followed with a 3-pointer off a feed from Cook.

Down one, Cook made another steal and fed to Hird who was fouled. She hit a free throw to tie it and Mainland had 1:48 remaining.

Cook again forced a steal and Seminole went for the final shot, but it didn't come close, forcing overtime.

In overtime, Seminole dominated. Grayson scored on two quick layups, and Gray followed with a 3-pointer as the Noles ran away.

Their play was sloppy in regulation, but the Noles looked good when it counted.

"Let's just say I had a little talk with them before overtime," Wynn laughed.

Conference battle Tuesday at 7:30 p.m.

What's Up In The NFL.... Week No. 14

SANFORD - Welcome to Week 14 football fans, we've reached the home stretch!

As the next few weeks of the season arrive, many teams have little but pride to pay for, while other teams are limping into the playoffs trying to nurse injuries involving key players.

Look for coaches to start getting more conservative with their marquee names in the second half. It never fails...Every year some goof ball coach will have his star player injured in the fourth quarter of a game that they are leading by four touchdowns.

In my opinion, which counts because I am THE CRYSTAL BALL OF FOOTBALL, fans should have the right to fire their coach when that occurs. It never ceases to amaze me that these men are hired to coach while my contributions to the National Football League are limited to this column. It doesn't seem fair.

Taking a quick look around Florida, let's talk about the Dolphins first.

They looked terrible again as they struggled to beat the Saints at home last week. The Saints were actually leading the game for most of the first half, and should have won the game. If this team plans on advancing in the playoffs they need a big shot in the arm, they look anemic.

What's Up In The NFL

BRADY LESSARD

The Jaguars on the other hand have obviously had a fire lit under them in the locker room. After a slow start last week, they opened the game up and marched to a convincing victory with relative ease.

It looks like Tampa Bay is going to play the same old song for fans this year. Look good, look bad, look good, look bad. It is totally unbecoming for a professional football team to be this inconsistent, get a new quarterback.

Enough of the Sunshine State....Let's take a look at the schedule and find some winners!

JACKSONVILLE (-7) AT DETROIT
I'm not sure I like giving up a whole touchdown AT Detroit. This team is famous for playing above itself at home, and the Jags are not wonderful on artificial turf. Beware of this one, it may be sucker bet. Jags 23, Lions 20.

MIAMI (-3) AT OAKLAND

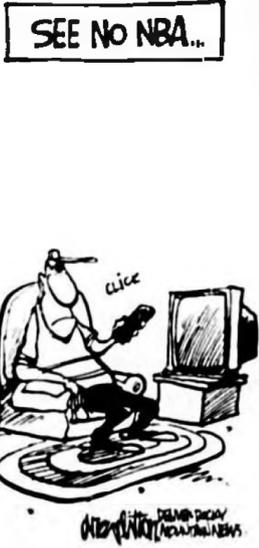

I love the Cheaters, even though they made the mistake of starting George last week. The Arena-League wonder had gotten this team to where they were so why go back to the old man?

My dislike for the Dolphins may be clouding my judgment here, but I see the Raiders winning handily! Cheaters 28, Dolphins 14.

PITTSBURGH (-4) VS. NEW ENGLAND
The Steelers are at home in this game that they are desperate to win. Not only do they need to keep pace with the Jaguars, but the Oilers are continuing to make up ground in the Division. Look for Cowher to throw the kitchen sink at this also desperate Patriots squad. Possible 1997. Forty-six percent of these were children. Second Harvest Food Bank saved more than seven million pounds of food in our community last year alone.

"This is a great opportunity to get the community involved," said UCF assistant Don Burgess. "This is an opportunity for fans to support UCF, as well as needy families during the holiday season. We're proud to work hand-in-hand with the Second Harvest Food Bank during the holiday season."

Fans who are unable to attend the game but still want to contribute can take canned goods to the Second Harvest Food Bank at 2008 Bregle Ave. in Orlando between 7:30 a.m. and 4 p.m. Monday through Friday.

war in the making. TOO CLOSE TO CALL. DALLAS (-7) AT NEW ORLEANS

I'm going with the Saints out of a total hate of the Dallas Cowgirls. Rumor has it that the Pope will fly in and try to help New Orleans salvage their season. Meet me on Bourbon Street...win or lose. Balats 17, Cowgirls 12.

NEW YORK JETS (-7) VS. SEATTLE

The Jets will get this win, but only because they have the superior coaching staff. The Seahawks have the talent to play with any team in the league, but without discipline, you don't get very far at this level of sports. Start again next year, hopefully you'll have a new coach. Jets 31, Seahawks 28.

BUFFALO (-5) AT CINCINNATI

I gotta believe in my beloved Bills. This is a must win if they are to keep pace with the Jets and the Dolphins in the Division.

Flutie will slip out and run for a million yards against a soft run defense. Bring back Blake! Bills 24, Bengals 10.

WASHINGTON (-9) VS. SAN DIEGO

The Redskins seem to have found new life. The Chargers travel to D.C. for a beating they probably don't deserve, but that's life in the big leagues. I'll cheer for Seau, but the cause is hopeless, he needs to ask to be traded. Redskins 29, Chargers 17.

ARIZONA (-4) VS. NEW YORK GIANTS

Cardinals soar as they trash one of the worst teams of recent memory. Believe me folks, this Arizona team, if they keep it together, is for real. Their fans love them and the reasons are simple, excellent defense and they've opened up the offense. The Oilers may have the Coach of the Year, but this guy is a close second! Cardinals 34, Giants 12.

DENVER (-13) VS. KANSAS CITY

Marty Shottelheimer gets another loss in this one. Hopefully it will start another losing streak that will finally get this bum fired! Broncos 35, Chiefs 19.

TENNESSEE (-8) VS. BALTIMORE

The Ravens will definitely try in this one, but the Oilers are just too fired up. Eddie George is much like Barry Sanders in that he is a class act in a profession that needs more of them. I'm happy for this young Oiler team and their young coach...Go Titans?? Oilers 23, Ravens 6.

GREEN BAY (-5) AT TAMPA BAY

I used to be fooled into believing the Bucs would finally beat Green Bay. I learned last year that I was dreaming.

The Bucs will disappoint me and thousands of others again this year. The team has all the talent except at the quarterback slot. Another long off-season that will probably end with Diller getting ANOTHER chance. Packers 23, Bucs 9.

Each week I issue what I consider to be the best selection against the spread in the schedule. This is the game that after research and contemplation, I feel most confident releasing as my patented LOCK OF THE WEEK.

My record has been staggering this year, with a trusting reader able to be up over $23,000 for the season. That my friends makes for a beautiful Christmas!

This week I feel good going with ARIZONA (-4) OVER THE NEW YORK GIANTS. The Cardinals are ready for one last push to make the playoffs, and the Giants are still the Giants. They'll have a tough time on the grass, and Jake Plummer will light up their secondary.

How good do I feel about them? I'm willing to risk all of our profits from a very good season. I use the word "risk" very loosely, when the CRYSTAL BALL knows the outcome of a game, you are hardly "risking" anything. Enjoy your football. Remember...everything else can wait!!!

Notice is given that the hearing permit was issued on November 19, 1998, to Sembler Retail, Inc., 5836 Central Ave., St. Petersburg, FL permit 42-117-1285M-ERP. The project is located in Seminole County, Section 24 Township 21 South, Range 30 East. The permit authorizes a SURFACE WATER MANAGEMENT SYSTEM ON 1.89 ACRES TO SERVE a Freestanding Commercial Building known as Eckard Drug Store. The receiving waterbody is St. John's River.
The filing containing the application for the above listed permit is available for inspection Monday through Friday except for legal holidays, 9:00 a.m. to 5:00 p.m. at the St. Johns River Water Management District (District) Headquarters, Hwy 100 W. Palatka, Florida 32178-1429. A person whose substantial interests are affected by the District permitting decision may petition for an administrative hearing in accordance with sections 120.569 and 120.57, F.S., or may choose to pursue mediation as an alternative remedy under section 120.573, Florida Statutes, and rules 28-106.111 and 28-106.401-404, Florida Administrative Code. Petitions must comply with the requirements of Florida Administrative Code Rule, Chapter 28-106 and be filed with (received by) the District Clerk located at District Headquarters, Highway 100 West, Palatka, Florida 32177. HOROSCOPE

Your Birthday

Sunday, Dec. 6, 1998

In the year ahead, big responsibilities will offer commensurate rewards, so don't be afraid to take on or shoulder more duties where your work or career is concerned. It could produce large benefits.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23-Dec. 21) There is a possibility that you may encounter one of your less favorite people at a social gathering today. How you conduct yourself will reflect solely on you, not on him or her. Get a jump on me by understanding the influences that govern you in the year ahead. Send the required refund form and for your Astro-Graph predictions by mailing $2 and self-addressed stamped envelope to Astro-Graph, c/o this newspaper, P.O. Box 1758, Murray Hill Station, New York, NY 10156. Be sure to state your Zodiac sign.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19) Even insignificant disagreements could be difficult to resolve today, so don't get off on the wrong foot with anybody, especially family members. The day could turn into a bummer.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 19) If you can't find something nice or complimentary to say to others today, keep your comments to yourself. Criticism does little to change the habits of those around you.

PISCES (Feb. 20-March 20) When socializing with friends today, if your purse can't handle it, don't let your pride get in the way of speaking up or bowing out. Your pals will understand.

ARIES (March 21-April 19) Poor scheduling on your part could be the reason why you're subjected to restrictions today. The demands of others may only play a small part.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20) It might appear to you today that everybody is getting a break in life but you. However, adding yourself about the true underlying facts regarding your concerns is not helping.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20) Don't waste your time attempting to cater to someone who you think can do something for you. In general, people are only thinking of themselves today.

CANCER (June 21- July 22)

Unless you're prepared to expend the necessary tenacity and effort required to achieve an ambitious objective, chances are you'll not get anywhere. There are no free rides today.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22) Spinning your wheels and raising a cloud of dust isn't indicative of achieving progress. You'll go nowhere fast if you don't use productive methods or procedures to carry out a plan.

VIPIRO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22) Be especially careful today if you find yourself in a position where you need to borrow something from another. Should anything happen to the item, you may lose a friend.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 23) Avoid negative types of people today who have a propensity for causing complications. Your companions could have a greater influence on you than usual at this time.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 22) Stay cool today and don't magnify disruptions by making mountains out of molehills. If you have a bad attitude about things, unexpected tasks could overwhelm you.

WIN AT BRIDGE

The longest reign of all

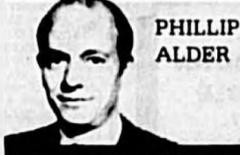

By Phillip Alder

Yesterday, we found out that Ramses II reigned even longer than Queen Victoria, for some 67 years. But he doesn't hold the record. Which Pharaoh ruled even longer than Ramses the Great?

To commemorate these achievements, here is a deal from the 1937 World Bridge Olympic. Really, the word "Olympic" is a misnomer. It was an event held all over the world. And the deals were tough. Have a look at all four hands. The contract is four hearts. West starts with the diamond ace. After that, who should triumph, declarer or the defense?

North's three heart rebid promises four card support and some six losers. Four card losers, check out the first three cards in a suit. Then count a loser for each top honor missing. Here, North has the announced six losers: three spades, one heart, one diamond and one club.

BRIDGE

The deal's devisers wanted West to switch to the spade five at trick two, East's 10 driving out one of South's honors. Then, after South draws trumps and takes the losing club finesse, a spade return gives the defenders two tricks in the suit and four in all.

However, Englishman Jack Marx, who independently invented Stayman, made the contract anyway. Can you see how?

Marx, who knew the deals had been composed, ducked at trick two: Now came a spade to West's ace, followed by a club switch. Marx won with dummy's ace, drew trumps, unblocked the spade queen, ruffed a diamond in the dummy, and discarded his club loser

A guide to holiday giving

By Mary Rowell
HERALD CORRESPONDENT

The holidays are a time for giving. Not just to friends and families, but to those in need. But who do you give to and what do you give? The Seminole Herald has compiled this Giving Guide, a list of organizations here in our area who need your help. If an organization is not on the list, it doesn't mean they are not a worthy organization. It just means we didn't know about them or couldn't get in touch with them before press time.

Many of the organizations listed below have special needs for the services they provide. Many have the same needs. Any time toys are listed, they should be new, unwrapped toys. Many of the organizations take used toys at other times of the year, but for the holiday season, new is preferred. Several of the organizations have thrift stores, all of which take used toys. Money is not specifically mentioned on any of the lists because all of the organizations need donations of money. If you have nothing to give and no money to spare, you can always give yourself. Few non-profit organizations can run without volunteers. They need volunteers during the holiday season and throughout the year.

There are organizations dedicated to our four-legged and feathered friends. They also need help now and throughout the year. Two of these organizations are listed. They too need money and volunteers throughout the year.

BETTER LIVING FOR SENIORS

Lake Mary, Cindy Collins (407) 333-8877, ext. 20

This year, the organization would like to provide a stocking filled with goodies for all the seniors they serve. Suggested items for the stockings are: stationery, stamps, felt tip pens, assorted greeting cards; gift certificates to grocery stores, drug stores and restaurants; personal items such as hand cream, nail clippers, Q-tips, nail polish and remover, nail brush, razors, shaving cream, bath soap, bubble bath, toothbrush and toothpaste, mouthwash, shampoo, denture items, slippers (one size); and miscellaneous items such as flashlight, batteries, playing cards, tissues, vitamins, small picture frame, address book, candy, mixed nuts, magazines and crossword puzzle books. You can drop items off at the Better Living for Seniors office at 1097 Sand Pond Road in Lake Mary. If you can't drop off, call and they will arrange to pick it up.

CHILDREN'S HOME SOCIETY OF CENTRAL FLORIDA - SEMINOLE COUNTY

Jo Howard (407) 328-3988

Food baskets for families for the holidays, baby clothes, diapers, socks, pacifiers and other baby items. They could really use some small denomination gift certificates of $5 or $10 for emergency purposes. That way, when a need arises, they can go out and get the item without wasting any time.

Also, they have quite a few teenagers. No one ever seems to want to donate things for teenagers and they really need donations for teenage boys and girls. It could be clothes, books or even shoeboxes with combs, pens, pencils and small things for teenagers. Just mark it boy or girl.

CHILDREN'S RIGHTS FOUNDATION, INC.

Casselberry, Bob McCarthy (407) 695-8222

Toys for all ages, scanner for IBM compatible computer, office supplies, copy paper and fax paper rolls, department store gift certificates, non-perishable food, turkeys, and used shoes. Also need used clothing and household items for their thrift store.

CHRISTIAN HELP FOUNDATION

Longwood, Lynn Holliday (407) 834-4022

Turkeys and hams for the holidays. Year round, they really need toiletries: soap, shampoo, toothpaste, toothbrushes, etc... Also non-perishable food items, especially high protein items like peanut butter and tuna fish. They always need diapers. Bibles, new or used, would be a wonderful donation.

FATHER FLANAGAN'S BOYS TOWN

Sanford, Linda Adams (407) 366-3667

The Sanford location desperately needs gifts for the holidays. The children at that location are teenagers, so generic gifts, such as T-shirts, would be helpful. Also, sports caps for boys, and jewelry for girls would be nice.

FLORIDA UNITED METHODIST CHILDREN'S HOME

DeBary, Bess Bussey (407) 668-4774

Boys and girls clothing K-12, but especially middle school and high school sizes (T-shirts would be great); toiletries, school supplies, towels and wash clothes, recreation and sports equipment (new or used), camping equipment, musical instruments and small kitchen appliances. Volunteers are needed to help paint the insides of the cottages.

HABITAT FOR HUMANITY IN SEMINOLE COUNTY

Sanford, Sharon Shoemaker (407) 328-9717

Used furniture, clothing, and household items for their thrift store.

Volunteers are needed for holiday gift wrapping at the Seminole Towne Center. Volunteers are also needed to help out in the Thrift Store and to drive the Thrift Store truck. On their big wish list, Habitat needs a construction trailer to haul building materials to worksites; new refrigerators, stoves, washers and dryers for their houses; and building supplies (plywood, drywall, etc...) for their houses.

HOSPICE OF THE COMFORTER

Altamonte Springs, Sara Stengel (407) 682-0808

Hospice trains and utilizes volunteers in many capacities. Among the volunteers are retired professionals, homemakers, college and high school students. Hospice volunteers serve 2 to 4 hours a week in many positions including community advisory board members, visitors to patients, phone visitors to families, handyman and office assistants. Training classes are offered throughout the year. Hospice currently needs and "event tent" and the publications program, "QuarkXpress".

JUVENILE DIABETES FOUNDATION OF CENTRAL FLORIDA

Casselberry, Azalea Candelaria (407) 331-2873

Office refrigerator, filing cabinets, calculators with tape, industrial shelving,

Elementary magnet program debuts with holiday performance

By Jeana Hughes
HERALD STAFF WRITER

SANFORD - The air is charged with electricity as dancers flutter back and forth, chattering in excited whispers and assisting each other with final touches on their costumes and hair.

It is a scene not uncommon backstage of the Southern Ballet Theatre, and not unfamiliar to Barbara Riggins, founding director. However, this time Riggins' students are fourth and fifth-graders preparing for their holiday performance at Midway Elementary School of the Performing Arts.

Ballet classes are offered at Midway as a part of the Cluster Magnet Program. Under the Magnet program, Midway is able to offer students in kindergarten through fifth grade the opportunity to develop talents and skills in a variety of performing arts areas.

"We have ... assembled the finest performing arts team," said Midway Principal Sharon Tanner, referring to such outstanding professionals as Riggins and Georgio Fagan. Fagan teaches dance and movement classes to preschool through fifth grade. Tanner, in her second year at Midway, is pleased that the new Magnet Program is going so well.

Fourth and fifth grade students choose two focus areas out of the eight offered at the school. "We work with the fourth and fifth-graders to nurture those talents in hopes that they will continue at Millennium," explains Tanner. Millennium is Midway's companion Performing Arts Middle School.

Riggins has an extensive professional career. Now a young 63-year-old, she began to dance at the age of nine. In addition to her work with the Southern Ballet, Riggins is a member of the Florida Dance Association, has served on its Board of Directors and taught at workshops. She has served on the State of Florida Dance panel for two years.

Her accomplishments also include a fellowship from the State of Florida for her choreography connected with the world premiere of her ballet "Fionula" and the 1991 Nancy Smith Award from the Florida Dance Association.

Since leaving the Southern Ballet, Riggins continues to work, through her company Barb-K Productions, on multiple projects. Her company tours Seminole County schools presenting a musical for children. The 45-minute program offers students the opportunity to perform with professional dancers. Riggins is also involved with a production of the Nutcracker Ballet Dec. 19 in St. Augustine.

Through a grant, last year she was able to introduce ballet to third through fifth graders at Midway. As a contract teacher, with the new Magnet Program, Riggins is able to teach comprehensive ballet classes to fourth and fifth grade students. Students work on the basics, terminology and dance history. Programs are being developed to link students at Midway with their counterparts at Millennium in an effort to encourage the younger students to continue with their training.

"The ballet classes enhance education," said Riggins. "Students work on memorization, making choices and working together."

Tanner and the faculty at Midway have provided a supportive environment for teaching children the arts. Riggins appreciates the teacher's cooperation.

"They have to believe in what you're doing," explains Riggins. "They have to believe the Arts help education."

She has gained a new appreciation for teachers from the experience. Riggins acknowledges that everyone is learning a lot from the new Magnet program.

Riggins feels as though she has returned to her roots. Dance is an important part of her life. Her three children have grown up to be successful dance professionals. She takes great satisfaction in sharing her love of dance with children.

"I know what dance has done for me," said Riggins. "What better way to share that than with young people?"

The holiday ballet performance will be a colorful medley of angels, Chinese dancers, and Spanish carnival children as the dancers perform variations from the Nutcracker

Toxic shock syndrome a form of blood poisoning

JANE LORD
Special to The Herald

TOXIC SHOCK SYNDROME (TSS) is a form of blood poisoning that can be fatal. It is caused by a toxin produced by certain strains of staphylococci bacteria. The bacteria enter the body through a wound, often a surgical incision or a tampon. The toxin then enters the bloodstream and causes a severe reaction. Symptoms include a high fever, rash, and low blood pressure. TSS can be treated with antibiotics and surgery to remove the source of the infection. It is important to seek medical attention immediately if you suspect you have TSS.

NO STITCH Only a self-sealing microsurgical incision is used.	NO BRUISING There is no bruising of the area around the eye.
NO PAIN Eye drop anesthesia eliminates all discomfort associated with injections.	NO FEAR Eliminate the need for general anesthesia.

EXPERIENCE IS THE DIFFERENCE.
 Konrad Filutowski, MD, is one of the nation's most experienced cataract surgeons utilizing painless eye drop anesthesia for the removal of cataracts. He simply cannot substitute for this experience. He is a true professional. Dr. Filutowski and his professional staff provide compassionate care, a commitment, and a sense of loving care as they work to improve your vision.

Lakewood Gladiators sponsor block party

MARY ROWELL

It was a first for Lakeview Village. A block party to give thanks. The party was sponsored by the Lakeview Village Gladiators. The Gladiators are children in the neighborhood. The Gladiators have made it a practice to help out one of their neighbors. Ruth Harris. Ruth has health problems and the children have dusted, vacuumed, washed windows, planted flowers and trimmed shrubs for Ruth when her husband was out of town. They have also helped out the neighborhood association by passing out the neighborhood newsletters.

The Gladiators helped with all aspects of the party planning. They helped plan the games that were played and had a say in the types of prizes that were given away to the winners. Despite rain, the party went well. Guests at the party included the Seminole County Sheriff and a couple of U.S. Marines. The Marines were there, of course, to collect toys for Toys For Tots. The Gladiators hope to make this an annual event.

Restrictions on cell phones bring responses pro and con

DEAR ABBY: This is a response to your answer to Carol Rushing of Omaha, in which you said there should be a law restricting the use of cell phones while driving.

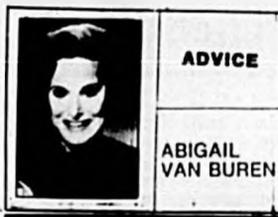

Your knee-jerk reaction harms all of our freedoms. Perhaps you will next suggest we pass laws that state:

- No tuning the radio while driving.
- No looking at your passenger during conversation while driving.
- No adjusting the temperature while driving.
- No driving without eight hours of sleep.

I could go on and on. We'll always have tragic accidents no matter how many laws you try to pass. This potential loss of freedom is more tragic.

The marketplace can address these issues without requiring more laws. For example, the radio and heat controls could be located on the steering wheel for ease of use while driving. And there's no reason the cell phone can't be integrated into the car to allow hands-free use. Remember the CB radio? Truck drivers have used them for more than 20 years while driving. You just have to give people the time to adjust to new technology, not attach restrictive laws with each new development.

TOM LYNCH, CEDAR RAPIDS, IOWA

ADVICE

ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR TOM: As someone who has seen drivers holding cell phones in one hand and gear shifting with the other while driving, I must disagree. A study in 1987 by the University of Toronto researchers Donald Redelmeier and Robert Tibshirani concluded that drivers talking on cell phones are four times as likely to have an accident as those who do not use cell phones while behind the wheel. The communications director of the AAA Foundation for Traffic Safety was recently quoted as saying, "There's no question they (cell phones) contribute to crashes." Read on:

DEAR ABBY: Your suggestion of a law requiring people to pull over to use car phones is a good one. I have read that statistically, talking on the phone while driving is as dangerous as drunk driving. Why isn't this publicized more? My husband commutes, and almost daily must act fast to dodge drivers who are talking on their cell phones while zooming along at 85 mph and darting in and out of freeway traffic. I think phoning and driving should be as illegal as drinking and driving.

How about a campaign, Abby, with slogans and posters: "It was the last call he ever made," or, "There are no phones in coffins," or a picture of a mom in a hospital bed, with the words: "She can't come to the phone right now - she's in a coma." It could save as many lives as Mothers Against Drunk Driving.

MARY SUE PLANCK, SAN FRANCISCO (CALL ME WHATEVER YOU WANT, BUT DON'T DO IT FROM YOUR CAR)

DEAR MARY SUE: Thank you for a letter that's sure to be thought-provoking for many people with cell phones. If it makes just one person pull over and stop before making a call, it will have been worth the space in my column.

Everybody has a problem. What's yours? Get it off your chest by writing to Dear Abby, P.O. Box 89440, Los Angeles, Calif. 90089. For a personal reply, please enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

According to Elisabeth Boyd, "Her talk was entertaining and enlightening."

In addition to famous festivals such as Mardi Gras, Betty described mid-winter thorn festivals in Ireland, the tomato festival in Spain, a monkey festival in Thailand and a beauty pageant for burros in Colombia. Other festivals mentioned were those honoring roosters in Japan, stilts in Belgium and roaches in Australia and food festivals such as the Zellwood Corn festival and the Strawberry Festival in Plant City. The speaker also told about the Hobo Festival in Iowa, Cowboy Poetry Festivals in Nevada and other Western states and a Moose Droppings Festival in Alaska.

A lively discussion followed the commentary as well as a discussion of books read by members.

BSP MARKS SEASON

Laureate Alpha Tau Chapter of Beta Sigma Phi sorority and their guests recently met for a Thanksgiving social at the Cuttle Ranch Restaurant. Those attending took something for the grill and a covered dish. The hosts provided sodas and tea. Several tables, filled with culinary specialties, were set up on the lawn and the name of the game was to eat, drink and be merry. Chapter members and spouses attending were: June and Carl Helms, Pamela and Buddy Hawkins, Patricia and Kenneth Johnson, Laurel and Bobby Tromblay, Maureen and Don Haig, Kathleen and Ed Golden, Amoret LaRosa, Phyllis Hodge, Kathryn Carlson and Grace Marie Stinecoper.

'NEIGHBOR DAY'

While many families gathered during Thanksgiving, so did a group of neighbors to celebrate "Neighbor Day" the Friday after Thanksgiving. Sue and Bill Horn and Sandy Swain hosted a get together for their Ravenna Park neighbors at the Horn home on Tangerine Drive.

Those attending took something for the grill and a covered dish. The hosts provided sodas and tea. Several tables, filled with culinary specialties, were set up on the lawn and the name of the game was to eat, drink and be merry.

As it turned out, many of the guests met neighbors they didn't know and all seemed to enjoy themselves.

While Bill was happily grilling hot-dogs, he said the gathering was long overdue and promised to keep up the tradition.

Planetarium host holidays from out of this world

SPECIAL TO THE HERALD

DAYTONA BEACH - Find out what the stars hold for this holiday season by seeing Season of Light, showing in the Planetarium of The Museum of Arts Sciences through Jan. 3. The show is about the coldest and darkest of seasons—a season that holds some of the warmest and brightest celebrations of the year.

Season of Light traces the development of many of the world's endearing holiday customs, and how they involve lighting up the winter season—from burning the Yule log and sparking Christmas lights to the lighting of the Menorah and luminaries. The show also recounts the historical, religious and cultural rituals practiced during the time of winter solstice—not only Christian and Jewish rituals, but also Celtic, Pagan, Nordic, Roman, Egyptian, and Hopt. It also looked at some of the more lighthearted songs about lords a leaping and ladies dancing; and the custom of decking the halls with greenery and candles. St. Nicholas, Sinterklaas, Kris Kringle, Father Christmas and Santa Claus all drop by as well.

Astronomy isn't left out. Catch a few northern winter constellations and track the sun across the sky throughout the year. And, an explanation for the "Star Over Bethlehem" is offered.

Join the Museum of Arts and Sciences for a holiday tradition that is out of this world. The Museum of Arts and Sciences, 1040 Museum Blvd., Daytona Beach, is open Tuesday through Friday, 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. and Saturday and Sunday, noon to 5 p.m. Admission is $5 for adults and $1 for children and students. Children under 6 years are admitted free. Volusia County residents are admitted free after 12 p.m. on Tuesdays and special after-hours programs are offered the first Tuesday of each month.

Ballet. Among Riggins' students is fifth grader Priscilla Ratanvong. Priscilla, 10, has been at Midway since kindergarten and will be the Sugar Plum Fairy in the upcoming Midway production. Though this is not Priscilla's first dance experience, she is happy to have the opportunity to work with Riggins.

This is ballerina Beth Voss's first opportunity to dance. Beth, 9, is in fourth grade and this is her first year at Midway. She is pleased with the chance to study dance as a part of her regular school day. Beth will perform in Oriental costume carrying the head of the ceremonial dragon.

The lineup for the program will showcase the wide assortment of talent being developed through Midway's Magnet program. In addition to the ballet performance, audience members will be delighted by a seasonal drama performed by the Theatre Arts group, serenaded by the Show and Gospel Choirs, entertained by the Recorder and Percussion Ensembles, amazed by the juggling finesse of the Creative Movement group, impressed by the award winning step team and dazzled by the American Street Dancers. Two dimensional and three dimensional works by the Visual Arts students will be on display.

The Holiday Program will be held at Midway, 2251 Jitway, Sanford, on Thursday, at 6:30 p.m. There is no admittance charge. For more information call the school at (407) 322-1791.

Da' Bomb!

of Seminole County

Da' Bomb bears all...

The bomb says to look for some really great writing here next week. It's the kids at Lake Brantley Elementary. Special thanks also go out to the kids that have been doing up the bomb for the past few months. Hope you're having fun.

Also, check out Da Bomb for some interesting pictures of the teachers at Lawton Elementary next week. Some of them all were pagamas to work last week and we should have some pretty neat pics.

It was mentioned in the sports page last week, but Da Bomb says those new white, padded walls behind the baskets at Seminole High would look really great if the volleyball and basketball players could sign them after their senior years.

Here's a hint from Da Bomb: Don't get stuck in the Oviedo High parking lot when school lets out, at least if you're in a hurry. It's a nightmare and Da Bomb never remembers.

It's Christmas time. Da Bomb wants to know what your school is doing to celebrate the holidays. Give us a call at 322-2611.

Speaking of the holidays, check out Da Bomb in two weeks. And if you have any special presents you'd like to send out in this section, give us a yell.

Da Bomb says it isn't often you find a bunch of kids who have the kid of rapport the Wilson students do with their principal Suzie Crook.

Wilson Elementary students Meagan Moore, Amanda Bennett, Kristina Forde, Bradley Lightbourne and Jeffrey Hunter are some of the kids working on the school's first newspaper.

Wilson kids in the news

By Jeff Berlinaichs
ASSISTANT SPORTS EDITOR

It just sounded like a neat idea.

So, the kids at Wilson Elementary School started their own newspaper last year, and the budding journalists are having a great time.

Wilson decided to start a school newspaper last year and calls it "Cool News for Cool Kids." When the idea came up, the response was strong and Wilson went to work looking for its first Pulitzer Prize.

"I thought it was a great idea and it sounded like fun," said fourth-grader Jeffrey Hunter who wants to be an author one day. "We all voted for the name and this is what we came up with."

At first, Wilson teachers sent the names of those who had special writing skills and then the kids auditioned. The best writers were selected to be the journalists while others were chosen to be editors, salespersons and photographers.

Each writer was given a "beat" based on what they enjoy writing about, then they went to work, putting out the first edition at the end of last school year.

Advertising Coordinator Meagan Moore said she has enjoyed the experience.

"We can do almost anything we want to do," Meagan said. "We choose what we write about. I call businesses and ask them if they want to place business cards in the newspaper."

The kids aren't looking to bring down a government. Instead, they write about what interests them and their fellow students. Amanda Bennett is writing about the school's K-1 classes and its computer labs. The kids also do teachers spotlights.

Jeffrey Hunter said he knows the experience will be valuable to him in the future.

"If I want to write a book I can say I have writing experience," he said. "This can really help my future."

Kristina Forde has already been published, two years ago when she wrote an essay about why her mom was the best in Seminole County.

Fourth-grader Bradley Lightbourne wrote a story in Houston a few years ago about his basketball team, but he said his dad got all the attention. He said things should be different now that he's writing at Wilson.

Meagan has even written her first book, "Harmony in the Forest."

The kids at Wilson have responded well to their newspaper. Last year, the first issue came off the press and the first 100 copies sold out immediately. Another 100 was ordered and they went fast also.

"We love to write and everyone wants to know how to get the paper," Amanda said. "It's our favorite thing to do."

Bradley added, "It keeps me awake when I'm doing my homework. Sometimes I get tired, then I just start writing before I finish the rest of my homework."

One thing you won't read about in the Wilson paper is politics.

"We're all tired of reading about politics," Bradley said. "We don't want to read any more about Republicans and Democrats."

Sounds like some pretty cool stuff for some pretty cool kids.

The picks here are Hawks, Lady Rams

By Jeff Berlinicke

Predictions have never been a strong suit in this column. So, this time, let's try again.

Seminole County basketball teams will be the pick for their district titles and the Seminoles will be considered a growth-ready district contender, except that it represents only one flight.

So far, the Lake Mary and the Seminoles have made the title. The Lake Mary has the extra team that will be the county champion.

The Hawks will be the pick to win the district title. The Hawks will be the pick to win the district title. The Hawks will be the pick to win the district title.

but there may be some cracks in the armor.

When the Lake Mary is picked, the most likely candidate is the Hawks.

For those who are looking for a surprise, the Hawks are the pick to win the district title. The Hawks are the pick to win the district title.

Johnston, one of the best point guards in Seminole County, transferred in from Oneida along with former Lake Brantley rebounder Daren Beck. They'll join the Lake Mary center Kris and Bell to form one of the state's best Cross-Country teams. Don't be surprised to see the Lake Mary take Mary at the Final Four in Lake Land. Also, look for Seminole County's Walker Wynn, always in some of the hands at work, to make the area and to make the state. The Hawks are the pick to win the district title.

The Hawks are the pick to win the district title. The Hawks are the pick to win the district title. The Hawks are the pick to win the district title.

The county boys' basketball title is up for grabs, but Lake Howell should be the team to beat as it returns to defend its district title.

Carl Brown and his Rams have four returning starters to the team that ended up ranked in the USA Today top-20 last season.

Rams

tributes his success to things other than himself, refusing to take credit.

He realizes that he has a lot of talent and heart on his team. Starting at Greenwood Lakes Middle School, the girls learn what will be expected of them at the high school level and in Brown's program specifically. That "feeder" program has had a lot to do with the level of talent that Brown has had to work with.

He also attributes his success to a little bit of luck. Every coach will admit that the most talented team cannot be successful without a small dose of luck, and Brown is no exception.

What he leaves out of the equation, however, is himself. The small boy who was quickly doing chores on a farm, wanting to get time to play basketball, is now the coach of the state champions after only three seasons.

That isn't all the players doing but don't ask Brown to tell you what part his coaching plays in all of this. He is much too humble to ever take credit.

What he brings to the game is quite simple: the quest for perfection. He takes good players, gives them the basics, and shares his knowledge of the finer points of the game with them. Out of that comes an undefeated team which hasn't lost a game at home in two years and is considered a near lock for a repeat of the state title.

The only things that Brown would concede concerning his coaching ability was that he's a good listener, a risk taker, and prides himself on sportsmanship. In fact, even more important to him than the state trophy is the sportsmanship trophy that his team was awarded last year.

"I strive to keep learning about the game," Brown said. "I am always listening because I believe you can learn something everywhere you go. Character and sportsmanship are of the utmost importance to me as a coach, so I guess that's a strong point about me. I would rather have a team that is classy than a state championship team full of bad sports any day. I won't have any players on my team who don't have character."

"I am here to teach basketball to students. They are students first and basketball is something that they can look back on fondly or helps get them to college. As long as I'm teaching basketball to them, however, they will learn sportsmanship, team work and that it's not a crime to take risks."

Off the court, Brown is the same kind of person. He strives everyday to treat people like he wants to be treated and no matter what what you see is what you get. Brown is an honest person who honestly cares about his students, both in the classroom and on the basketball court.

Brown summed up how he feels about his students in this way:

"I bust my butt to help them, because that's my job and I have chosen this job for myself."

Frustration does occasionally set in, as it does for any coach. Brown finds ways to handle these problems without yelling or chastising the girls.

He said he doesn't like to be embarrassed so he doesn't embarrass his players by yelling at them. Instead, he finds that extra conditioning at practice or heart-to-heart talks tend to be good motivators. Besides, his feeling is that if he has to yell at them in a game then it's too late; the mistakes should have been found in practice. If they were prepared for the game, he doesn't feel he should have anything to get upset about anyway.

These things don't seem like much to others, the sportsmanship, the alternative motivators, the drive for perfection. And in the big picture they aren't if taken one at a time.

What makes them so special is the combination. The strict but loving upbringing and life lessons that were taught to Brown by his mother paved the way for a boy who loved a sport and was determined to dedicate his life to it while helping others at the same time.

That's Carl Brown.

A dedicated teacher, a top notch basketball coach and a good person.

That line up would succeed anywhere.

Winter Springs center returns for junior season

 Herald Staff Writer

Winter Springs center Winston James returned to his hometown of Winter Springs for his junior season. James, who played at Lake Howell for his freshman and sophomore seasons, decided to stay at Winter Springs High School for his junior season. James, who is 6-foot-7 and weighs 210 pounds, averaged 13.2 points per game for the Bears last year in 18 games.

As a senior, James led the scoreboard with 20 points and 11 rebounds in a game against the Bears.

Winston James decided to stay at Winter Springs High School where he hopes to lead the Bears to its first state Final Four.

He had never touched a basketball, but once he got his hands on one he hasn't let go.

It hasn't hurt that he's grown to almost 6-7 making him one of the county's tallest players. James said he wants about 20 more pounds of muscle, but he's made it a year-round game and expects to peak by next season.

James said he's also trying to improve aspects of his game off the court, namely being a team leader.

"I try to yell sometimes," James said. "But I also try to lead by experience. I need to be a leader for us to win."

He also said he wants to improve to 24 points per game while racking up more assists. Oh, he also wants first-team all-state, Seminole County Player of the Year and a trip to the state Final Four.

"We've got the group to do it," he said. "We just have to learn how to win."

With that, James was back off to class. He looked right at home.

'Nole has opponents feeling Blue

By Jeff Berlinicke
ASSISTANT SPORTS
EDITOR

The Seminole boys basketball team only has two returning players who saw significant time last season.

Then why is everyone saying the Noles might be the team to beat in Seminole County?

The answer is Cornelius Blue.

Blue is the forward who is being wooed by major college programs from all over the country and holds the key to the success of Arrow Four VII this season. He averaged just over 12 points per game last season, but besides rebounding, passing and scoring, he has taken on a new position this year.

Team leader "I'm the speaking captain for the team," Blue said. "They respect me and I respect them. I try to lead by experience but I know I have to take charge."

He also said he needs to make a major jump in scoring. Blue said he knows he has to score at least 20 per game for Seminole to challenge for statewide success, a strong possibility for a team that won the Seminole Athletic Conference title last season before an early loss in the playoffs.

Blue, along with Lake Howell's Reggie Kohn and Winter Springs' Winston James, are considered the three top players returning in the county. Blue said he ignores the comparisons.

"I give them a lot of credit," Blue said. "I don't really care about what other people expect because they can always say what they want, but I know what I can do."

There isn't much he can't do on a basketball court. At 6'6" he runs the floor well, has an accurate shot and can rebound. Last year, he was a key part of a talented puzzle, but this year, with only teammate B.J. Pratt returning with him, he knows he has to take more of his share of the load.

Seminole has a strong crop of youngsters moving up from junior varsity and should seriously challenge for the district title.

The season didn't get off to a strong start, however, as the Noles dropped their first two games to county foes Lake Brantley and Oviedo in their own tournament.

The team is loaded with seniors, but few have much varsity experience. Only one non-senior is in the rotation and the team has a tough early season schedule.

When Blue was suspended for two games following a flagrant foul in the loss to Lake Brantley, the team looked lost on offense. Clearly, the team needs Blue to contend.

"We can be really good if we don't worry about a lot of little things and just play our own game," Blue said. "We were quicker last year but we have a lot of skills this year."

Blue is a four-year varsity member of the Seminole team and has been with coach Bob Trama the whole time.

"Coach has proven himself," Blue said. "He is a great coach and we know he knows how to win."

So does Seminole.

All Kershner does is win games

Oviedo coach Ed Kershner has a state title and the second most victories among active coaches in the state of Florida.

By Jeff Bertincke
ASSISTANT SPORTS
EDITOR

He doesn't have a team full of superstars. All he does is win and win, game after game, year after year.

Oviedo boys basketball coach Ed Kershner isn't a screamer, but neither was the great John Wooden, a fellow Indiana native who just happened to be a leader in the coaching profession.

Obviously, there's no sense comparing Kershner to the greatest college coach of all time, but their styles are somewhat similar. Besides being from Indiana, they are quiet teachers in a game where the philosophy seems to be that the loudest coach wins some of the time and loses to the Kershners of the profession.

This year, Kershner is suiting up a typical Oviedo team: no real superstars, but a lot of players who fit well into a system that has been a long time in the making. It's a system that own Kershner a state championship at Kissimmee-Osceola in 1983 and a system that took the Lions to the state championship game two years ago before running into a buzzsaw from Miami Senior, a school since placed on probation.

Kershner has won 517 games coming into the season, the second most of any active coach in the state. He doesn't have any superstars this season, but don't be surprised if he gets 550 by next year.

Like Wooden, Kershner doesn't brag. He gives the players all of the credit.

"You can't measure longevity or stupidity," Kershner, a coach since 1971 said. "I just love being around this game and these kids. I think I've stood the test of time and I've been able to change with the game. We don't have any stars, just a team concept."

He got that as a young point guard growing up in Indiana where high school basketball is a religion. Schools play in large arenas as thousands of fans drive through the snow to see the games. That's the atmosphere in which Kershner learned the game and, if his team reminds you of the guys in Hoosiers, it makes sense.

"There was nothing else to do in Indiana," Kershner said. "I looked up to guys like Jerry West and Oscar Robertson and we'd drive to wherever the next game was."

After a successful high school career, Kershner moved on to the CIA, a feeding ground for the NBA. He played there for a brief time and decided that driving hundreds of miles with a family wasn't the way he wanted to go, so he became a coach.

After three years as an assistant, Kershner got his first head job and the colleges started checking his players out immediately. He had two go off to Big 10 schools and another to Kentucky, but he wanted to return to Florida where he went to college at Florida Southern.

That led to the job at Kissimmee-Osceola and a state title with a 37-0 record.

Life was great. Then, he moved to Port St. Lucie to take on a new program.

After four years there and three more at Fort Pierce, Wayne Epps, then principal at Oviedo, gave him a call.

"I wouldn't have moved for any place except Oviedo," Kershner said. "I enjoyed the competition in Central Florida and wanted to come back."

It didn't take long for Kershner to get the Lions to Lakeland, but there was a little bit of trouble during his return to the Final Four, late in the semi-final game, Kershner was bumped by an opposing player and fell to the ground. For a few scary moments, Kershner lay motionlessly as his team looked on.

He was okay, but wasn't around the next night when Oviedo lost See Kershner, Page 9

New man in town at Oviedo

By Alex Kane
HERALD STAFF
WRITER

There are a new set of shoes pacing alongside the Oviedo girls' varsity basketball games.

Brian Wilson moves up from two years as the girls' junior varsity coach to take the spot left vacant by the retirement of former coach Tom Bieri.

Wilson not only faces the challenge of leading the team in a time when it is short of experienced players, but also of stepping out of Bieri's shadow. Bieri took the struggling program of years previous, and elevate it to a perennial contender.

Wilson should make a stark contrast to Bieri, who always appeared animated during games.

Brian Wilson is coaching his first varsity team this season after taking over for retired Tom Bieri at Oviedo.

"I prefer to do my coaching during practice," said Wilson of his style.

This year, Wilson will see if he can continue Bieri's work, and lead the team even further.

Kershner-

Continued from Page 8 in the championship game. Still, it didn't take long to take Oviedo back to the championship where it hadn't been in 30 years.

The key to the Oviedo success is that he spreads the wealth. No one is going to lead Seminole County in scoring but, last year with a team loaded with talent like Seth Fowler, Brad Combes, John Harper, Brian Register and Scott Moore, the team had a different leader every night, only to suffer an upset loss to Lake Mary in the district semi-finals.

Kershner takes none of the credit.

"My humble opinion is that I have never won a game," he said. "My players win the games. I don't get too high or too low. Some coaches act mad all of the time and the players don't listen to them. I've learned to pick and choose my battles."

should be in place for awhile because Kershner said he's not ready to go anywhere.

"I will coach until I just don't enjoy it anymore," he said. "I love coaching, especially when I see kids learn to do something they couldn't do last week."

Winning isn't one of those things. The Lions were winning last week and they'll probably be winning next week too.

Lake Mary promises to be one of the hardest-working teams in Seminole County this season as it looks to overcome serious graduation losses.

Rams look to win

By Kelle Werner
HERALD STAFF
WRITER

Lake Mary has suffered a terrible loss.

Make that nine losses.

This year, the boys' team will be minus nine seniors who graduated last year.

There are four seniors returning who will be heavily relied upon to lead the team. Mack Hoffman, Adonis Smith, Matt Farkash and Darius Wells are all returning and should be enough to help this team to become just that...a team.

"We have a really good group this year but it is going to take them awhile to gel," said third-year coach Mike Gaudreau. "They just haven't played that much together and will need to learn how to play as a team."

The strong-point for Lake Mary hasn't changed. Gaudreau has always had his share of shooters and this year is no different. There is no true post position this year and no strong rebounder. Those positions are interchangeable which will give them more flexibility. Expect a little weakness in rebounding because of this team's lack of size. They are a little small and might be bullied a little in this area.

This team has the best chance to sneak up on its opponents and surprise them, however. Don't think that a lack of size means a lack of talent. That isn't the case here.

Pressure? What pressure?

By Kelle Werner
ASSISTANT SPORTS
EDITOR

Pressure.

That's nothing new to the Lake Mary girls' basketball team.

They have been feeling it for two years and now the pressure is even greater for the state champions who everyone expects will repeat.

Everyone is back on this team, with the exception of Stephanie Dale who graduated last year.

The core of Mary Leah Sutton, Ashlee Ballance, Lauren Bradley and Becky Pedro is in tact, though a little bumped and bruised.

Off season injuries have plagued the Lady Rams and coach Carl Brown is optimistic about the team's chances at a repeat barring any further injuries.

"We have been bit by the injury bug," Brown said. "First Ashlee's ankle, then Lauren's knee. If I can just keep the team healthy, we should be all right."

Brown has a bench full of potential candidates for Dale's vacant position and will use his bench often to try new lineups and change the mix.

It's never easy for the defending state chamption...they always seem to have a target on their backs. However, basically the entire team is back and they have two to three years of experience under their belts in Brown's program.

Predictions are always a scary thing, but this one is a gimme. Lake Mary should get the repeat everyone is expecting.

Lake Brantley wants to take next step

Don't be surprised if Pats sneak to states

By Jeff Berlinicke
ASSISTANT SPORTS EDITOR

Last year was almost a dream season at Lake Brantley.

The Patriots emerged from the Seminole Athletic Conference pack and almost won their first district in years.

A late season slump foiled their plans, but the Patriots still ended up with a 19-8 record and the third best record in the district.

The Patriots will be without their best all-around player last season, Drew Morgan, but the closet for coach Steve Jucker isn't quite empty.

Miguel Malcolm, one of the county's leading returning scorers and the player that paced the Patriots last year, is returning, but it might be a little while before he's available. Malcolm broke his arm before the season started and won't be ready until after Christmas. Until then, Lake Brantley still has one of the more experienced teams in the county with seniors Mike Assent, Tom O'Brien - the county's tallest player at 6-7, Gene Willis, Brian Recchi and James Iannotti.

The Patriots looked strong in an early-season tournament win over Seminole and could prove to be the county's surprise team. Jucker, in his 12th year at Lake Brantley, is the leading coach in the county in terms of longevity and can make something out of this team if it can weather the storm until Malcolm comes back after Christmas.

Plus, his team knows how to win after last season's surprise. If Lake Howell doesn't take the district, don't be surprised if Lake Brantley steps in. The Hawks ended Lake Brantley's season early last year, but the Patriots might be the biggest threat in the county to Lake Howell's hopes of repeating.

Lake Brantley's girls basketball team is looking to move into contention this season after several years of early exits in district play.

Never count out Lyman

By Jeff Berlinicke
ASSISTANT SPORTS EDITOR

They aren't the area's most talented team, but somehow, the Lyman Greyhounds girls basketball teams find a way to win.

They never have a leading scorer; in fact, the Hickey twins and Lisa Berganske are among the girls lost to graduation and, despite leading Lyman to two straight state regional, never posted incredible scoring numbers.

But the Greyhounds under coach Bruce

Bonaventure always find a way to win.

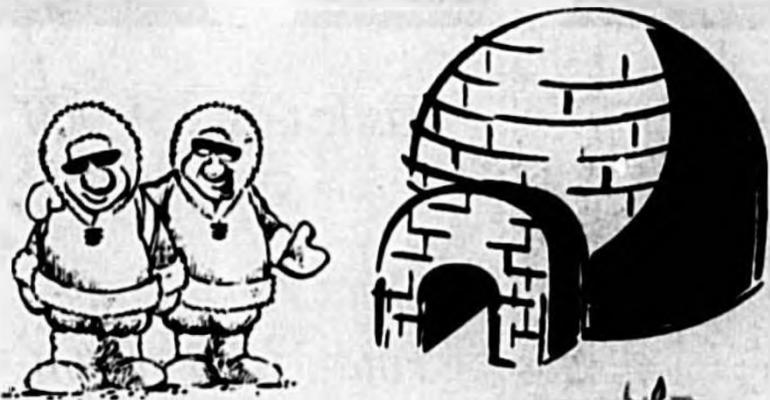

Last year, the Greyhounds were a slow team that played its heart out almost every night. The regular season wasn't anything special but, when districts came around, Lyman was ready.

First, the Greyhounds downed Oviedo to earn a spot in regional and a meeting in the finals against undefeated Lake Mary.

Lyman came up short, but not before

SANFORD - It's being called 'A NEW BEGINNING' and that is exactly what it is.

The Seminole Community College men's basketball program has risen from the ashes under new head coach Stan Cromartie and assistant's Shane Huygens, who come to the Raiders from Valencia Community College, and Greg Kite (the former Orlando Magic center) and the future of the Raiders appears to be very bright indeed.

The college has put a lot of effort into rebuilding the program, including new uniforms and refurbishing the gymnasium and locker rooms.

SCC opened the season with a 2-3 record and could easily be 4-1 as the team, despite counting freshman among its 14 player roster has been in every game to the final horn.

The Raiders have been led by freshman guard Evin Ellison from Washington, D.C. and sophomore center Terrance Fudge from Orlando in the early going.

Other top players have been sophomores Chris Gureckis from Daytona Beach and Corey Matthews from Orlando and freshmen Lonnie Battle from Jacksonville, Eric Walker from Quincy, Kaseem Penn from Kissimmee and Daryl Dingle from Miami.

SCC has also got good play off the bench from a pair of local freshmen, point guard Mequal Bush from Seminole High School and 6-foot-11 center Robbie Shapiro from Lake Mary High School.

Also seeing playing time is 6-foot-8 freshman Joseph Edwards from Pensacola and 6-foot-3 Chad Marshall from Quincy.

SCC women want a title

SANFORD - This could be the year that the Seminole Community College women's basketball team finally brings a National Championship back to Sanford.

The Raiders, who were 7-0 heading into a home game with Broward Community College on Wednesday, appear to have everything it takes to win it all.

SCC, ranked No. 4 in the state pre-season poll, has been outstanding in rolling to the undefeated start, including wins over state-ranked teams Okaloosa-Walton Community College, Pensacola Community College and Indian River Community College (twice).

The Raiders really showed their prowess in the Miami NIKE Classic two weeks ago, knocking off Palm Beach Community College, Broward Community College and Indian River Community College by 21 points each.

SCC head coach Ken Patrick and assistant Tony Mandeville, a defensive specialist, have done a super job of meshing four returnees from last year's 21-8 club with nine newcomers (eight freshmen) to form a very strong and deep team.

With stars like 7-foot Jaana Kotova, a pre-season All-America selection, and All-Conference guard Daria Kudruytseva returning you would think they would do the bulk of the scoring.

But the Finland freshman duo of 6-foot-4 Kausi Tuure and 6-foot-1 Satu Ramesalo

Reggie Kohn returns for his senior year and can break many of his school's records as he looks for another district championship.

Hawks want another title

Repeat after Kohn: 1 more title

By Jeff Berlinicke
ASSISTANT SPORTS EDITOR

Last season was the year in which everything came together at Lake Howell.

For the first time in school history, the Hawks won the district title as coach Steve Kohn and his veteran team beat Oviedo at home in the final game of the regular season to advance to their first home playoff game.

Eventual state-runners up Edgewater ended the season early leaving a sour taste in some mouths. The Hawks expected to go farther after leaving one of the state's strongest districts with a title.

Now Kohn and the Hawks have to put the pieces back together. Gone are Ryan Smith and Brad LeCore who gave Lake Howell one of the strongest front courts in Central Florida.

But returning is team leader Reggie Kohn, one of the county's best players since he started playing varsity basketball as a freshman.

Reggie Kohn was recruited by national powers such as Xavier and Purdue before signing with South Florida last month. He's a crowd favorite all over the county, whether the fans are cheering or making him the target of good-natured abuse. With his notoriety, he'll take a lot of the attention off of an otherwise young team.

The strong points for the Hawks last year may be their weakness this season. Steve Kohn's team was able to pull down every rebound in the building last year until running into Edgewater, but the height along the frontcourt is gone. Instead, the Hawks will have to rely on their shooting game to contend for another title.

Most coaches in the county think Lake Howell can repeat, but there are a lot of question marks for a team coming off a 25-7 season.

Kohn is the only starter returning from last year's team, but he has some help from last year's bench and a strong group moving up from junior varsity.

Guards Jamaal Turner and Justin Kane will help out in the backcourt and the guys banging the boards should start with Chad Parsons and Brad Hoffer.

But make no mistake, Seminole County coaches may not see a lot of rebounding answers at Lake Howell, but they do see Reggie and that's enough for most people. The senior, who comes from a basketball family, can pass, shoot and is excellent under pressure. Every gym in the county may chant "Reggie" when Kohn has the ball and the game is on the line, but Kohn admits he loves to perform. He got the chance over the summer when he played in several national camps before some of the most famous coaches in the country.

He didn't always stand out. In all-star games, players tend to score first and look for assists later. Kohn isn't a dunker, but he still turned some heads with his passing and leadership abilities.

Don't be surprised to see a repeat in Lake Howell.

Transfers have Bears looking strong

By Jeff Berlinicke
ASSISTANT SPORTS
EDITOR

The losses mounted week after week, game after game but there was always a light at the end of the tunnel.

The light is shining brightly now for the Winter Springs girls basketball team which has gone from being the county pushover to a serious state championship contender.

For starters, go back to last year when Kris and Bev Dedelow, transfers from the successful Oviedo program, and a bunch of ninth- and 10-graders took the court for the school's inaugural season.

It wasn't always pretty. Betsy Hughes, coaching her first varsity team, watched the losses pile up despite having one of the hardest working teams in the county.

It wouldn't stay that way for long.

Guard Mary Lou Johnston transferred to Winter Springs over the summer, along with Lake Brantley forward Dana Hicks and the two transfers, along with a group that had a year of experience under their belts suddenly looked like a strong team capable of winning every night.

Johnston has been one of the county's brightest stars since she started for Oviedo and led the team in scoring as a freshman. Despite her efforts, the Lions never reached states, losing to Lyman in the semi-finals of districts both seasons.

Now she joins Kris and Bev Dedelow who she has played with for years. Hughes is a former assistant from Oviedo, so despite the infancy of Winter Springs High School, it's a group that knows each other well.

The Bears will also benefit from playing in Class 3A. It will be their final year there since next year, the Bears are expected to move up at least a level as it hosts its inaugural senior class.

Bears' hopes higher

By Jeff Berlinicke
ASSISTANT SPORTS
EDITOR

Coach Jim Hogan was told flat out as soon as he took the Winter Springs boys job last season.

His team would be baptised by fire.

When the Bears played their inaugural season at the new school last season, they consisted of only ninth- and 10-th graders.

Instead of taking on a junior varsity schedule, Winter Springs opted to start playing the big boys right away.

It led to a 5-17 season that would be considered a disaster for some, but there's also a bright side.

After looking like they might never get that elusive first win, the Bears finally won a game. Then a couple more.

They also threw some serious scare into some of the county's established programs in a season in which Seminole County was one of the best in the state.

Behind the turnaround was center Winston James. He's the marquee player coming back this season with his 19 point scoring average and lots of potential colleges playing attention.

But he's not the only piece to a Winter Springs puzzle that most coaches in Seminole County consider the area's dark horse.

Brian Brown may be the best returning 3-point shooter in Seminole County and Marcus Wiggins is one of the best athletes.

Winter Springs has also benefitted from transfers, but experience is the key. The Bears were known for never giving up last season even as the losses mounted.

Kurt Blane, Charles Kirby, Andre Mitchell and Terrell Morris are a few more players in Hogan's arsenal and, with a year of experience under their belt, the Bears are acting like they can not only reach the Class 3A finals, but also sneak their way to a conference title.

Lions expect return to regionals

By Jeff Berlinicke
ASSISTANT SPORTS
EDITOR

Last season, the Oviedo Lions finished at 21-7 and had nowhere near what fans of the team have come to expect.

Normally, Oviedo expects to make it districts and make a run at a state title like the Lions did in 1997 when they lost in the state finals.

Instead, the Lions, after a strong start, faded down the stretch before losing to Lake Mary in the district semi-finals.

That's not what they are used to at Oviedo and the sad thing, for Oviedo fans is, it could happen again.

The Lions lost a load of talent including Division I college players Seth Fowler and Scott Moore along with Brad Combes, Brian Register and John Harper off last year's team. The Lions beat district champion Lake Howell in a thriller at home, but also fell behind Seminole, 23-0 in a SAC game a week later.

This year, Oviedo coach Ed Kershner doesn't have a lot of returning talent, but neither does anyone in Seminole County. Three weapons he does have are defensive specialist Danny Lebo, center Askia Howell, and Larry Wharton who can light it up from anywhere. Wharton should be the team's leading scorer this year, but, typically, a Kershner team doesn't have any particular player carry the load. In a pair of romps over Crooms and Seminole last week, guard Mark Bierkan was on target from 3-point land and the whole team contributed. None of the current Lions started last season, but Wharton and Lebo got plenty of playing time off the bench. Kershner admits his kids need some time to grow, but that was before the Lions got off to a strong start. They might not have the talent of Lake Howell or the height of Lake Brantley, but the Lions have the kind of team that will be in every game.

and the team's leader, Katie McCown has graduated. The losses have affected Oviedo since the start of the season two weeks ago, but there is still a nucleus of talent. Shannon Cotton and Kelly Brock lead the Lions this season as they try to regain the magic of the Bier years. The Lions may not win often this season, but Wilson can coach and his team should improve as the season goes on.

Things are looking awfully different around the Oviedo girls basketball team. No longer is Tom Bier coaching and entertaining on the sidelines. After his retirement, he's been replaced by former assistant Brian Wilson. The team's best player, Mary Lou Johnston, has transferred to Winter Springs

Inexperienced 'Noles want repeat

By Kellie Werner
HERALD STAFF

Every team in the county, with the exception of one, has lost a lot to graduation.

Seminole is that exception.

This year, the make up of the Seminole High School's boys team is quite unique...all seniors and one freshman.

That can be a little deceiving, however, as all of those seniors were not on the varsity squad last year.

There is a lot of experience, though, as all of the upperclassmen have come through coach Bob Trautna's system and should have no problem getting as a team. Shooting and rebounding have never been a problem for a Seminole team and although the Tribe has had a few early dismissals from the playoffs, this year could be quite different.

Cornelius Blue will be the leader of the team, in more ways than just rebounding. If the others can follow his lead, Arrow Force VII should be in good shape to repeat its Seminole Athletic Conference title.

Lady 'Noles young, talented

should challenge for a Class 3A title with center Winston James, Marcus Wiggins and Brian Brown leading the way. The Bears won just five games last year, but improved steadily in a year when most of the Bears would have been playing junior varsity anywhere else.

Also, keep an eye on everyone else, including Lake Mary, Lake Brantley, Lyman and Oviedo. It's been only two years since the Lions made it to the state finals and the entire county is up for grabs, much like last year when unheralded Lake Mary made it to the district finals.

By Kellie Werner
HERALD STAFF
WRITER

There is only one senior on the Seminole girls team this year.

However, there is a lot of talent.

Five players are returning for another year and they are joined by two transfers who are fitting in quite well.

This year's team is much faster than in the past and that added to the usually potent defense at Seminole should help the team to shake the early dismissals from the playoffs that they have experienced in the past two years.

"This year we are pretty balanced on offense and defense which gives us an edge over the past couple of years," said coach Sylvester Wynn. "It may take a little time for the chemistry to come around, but all of the girls have experience of some type and know how to play the game. Even the girls are a little young, they have a lot of fight."

Amanda Cook, the senior of the group, is expected to take a big leadership role this season. She will be joined by Barbara Grey and Natasha Fisher as the returnees in the starting lineup and should help to maintain the teamwork and communication.

If that can be achieved, Seminole should go further than their first round loss last year to Satellite in the first round of the playoffs.

Freshman Robby Dupre is the only Force VII this season. He had an outstanding middle school career.

Lyman

Bonaventure took the air out of the basketball and played a slowdown game that had the Greyhounds in it late.

Lyman went in its first regional game, but came back to throw another scare into the Rams in the opening game of the 1998-99 season last week.

Xiomara Cruz is one of the few returning players, but look for Lyman to contend again.

SCC

have made a tremendous impact as the starting forwards and jet-quick point guard Crystal Tanner, while not a big scoring threat, is a terror on defense and does a good job of distributing the ball.

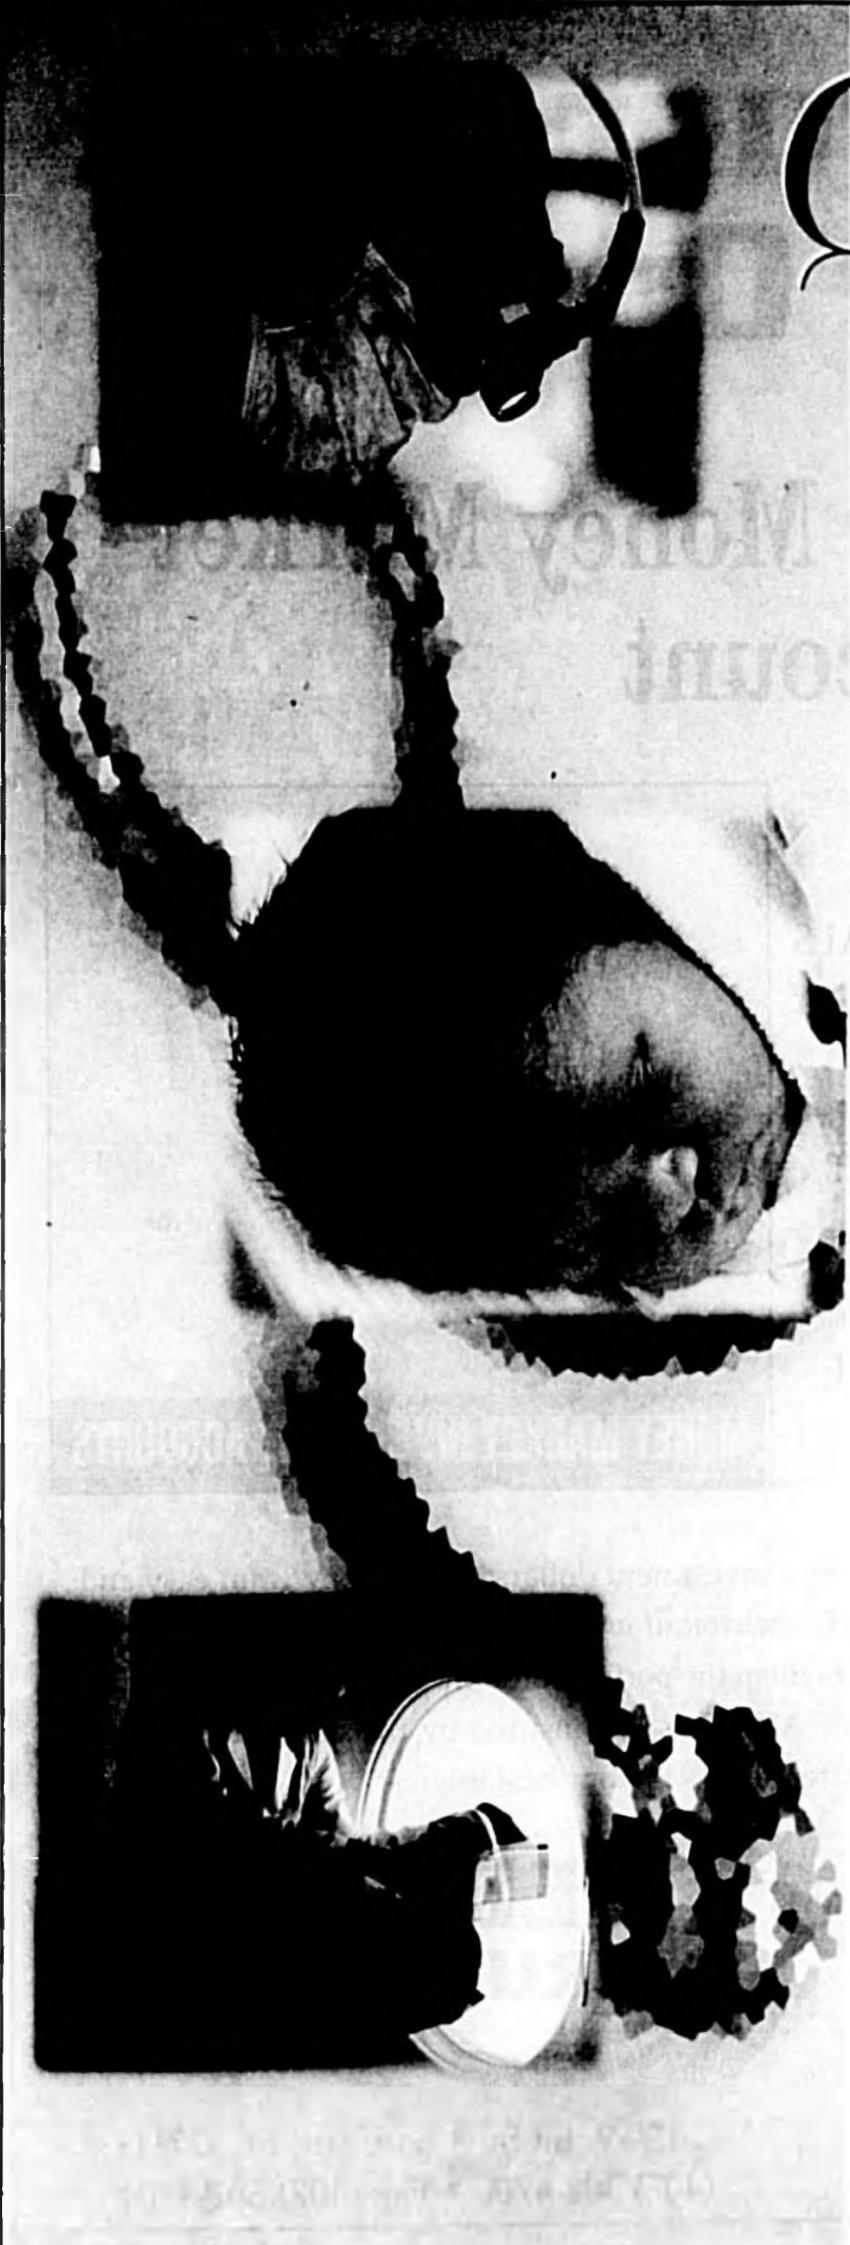

Another thing that has made this team so strong is its bench, as the guard tandem of Mevett Wooley from Carbondale, Illinois and Keica Smith from Ocala and the 6-foot-1 frontcourt pair of Sanford's Shemeika Stokes and Orlando's Shernel Donovan have all had their turn at scoring in double figures for the Raiders.

Lake Mary's Maggie Reedy, Christine Bruning from Winter Park and Kristen Smithers of Sarasota have also made an impact off the bench and Sanford's Tamara Gilchrist figures to be a factor after she recovers from injuries in the pre-season.
