

State Negro Group Supports Truman

CLEARWATER, Nov. 1. (AP)—Milton P. Rookshorn, president of the state Progressive Voters League of Florida, said today this negro group would support President Truman and Fuller Warren at the polls tomorrow.

Chinese Bomb

(Continued From Page One) There was no hint of surrender from the weary Chinese leader, whose government has been shaken to its foundation by the wholesale defeat of his troops in the last three weeks.

In his first official appearance since his return from two weeks in the north where the cream of his armies were destroyed or went over to the Reds, Chiang declared:

"We have had reverses in the northeast (Manchuria) but the Communists are not yet in position to directly menace North China."

American authorities meanwhile instructed U.S. citizens to prepare to leave North China.

Authoritative sources here said the Communists had occupied Mukden completely at 3 P.M. and that the last government officials fled from there three days ago.

The government has had no radio contact with Mukden since 6 P.M. Sunday but the American consulate radio there is still functioning and in communication with American authorities here and in Shanghai.

The Chinese navy, backed by the six inch guns of its former British Cruiser, Chungking, is guarding the ports of Yingkiw and Huliatou as possible escape avenues for whatever national troops managed to get out of Mukden.

Chiang praised both the bravery and skill of his North China commander, General Fu Tao-Yi at Peiping. He said Fu "has made ample preparations and been sufficiently reinforced" to handle Red threats to that area.

The president insisted the "overall war situation does not give cause for worry."

His speech obviously was designed to encourage Kuomintang leaders who were stunned by the news of the wholesale defeat.

Neutral observers recalled that Fu was in a precarious position in North China since the Communists had cut the corridor to Buliyau and interrupted the main supply route through which came the bulk of the food for his troops.

They estimated that only the prompt transfer of the 12 government divisions now "sitting" on the Huliatou Beach to Fu's command plus a rapid flow of war supplies would permit the north-ern general to hold his own with the Reds even temporarily.

"Bonifay State Farmers' Market reported its first sale of pecans as 12,056 pounds bringing a revenue of $1,861.31. Prices reported steady with expected increase in volume during the next few weeks.

"The second peanut auction of the season in the Bradford County area will be held Nov. 4 on the Starke State Farmers' Market. A good volume of better quality nuts is expected.

"Fort Pierce State Farmers' Market reports a light volume of about 800 field crates of tomatoes moving through that market with prices ranging from $1.00 to $4.00 per bushel. An increase is expected this week with the auction sale beginning today. Volume will increase slowly until the latter part of the month when the volume is expected to be good.

"Flood conditions are still hampering the planting in the vicinity of the Florida City State Farmers' Market. A good bit of ground is still under water but farmers are planting as fast as the water recedes. Tomatoes, pole beans, squash appear to be the major crops being planted. If good weather prevails, they expect to harvest tomatoes by the middle of January.

States Rights Demos

That has happened. In 1888 Democrat Grover Cleveland got a bigger popular vote than Republican Benjamin Harrison. But Harrison carried the states with the bigger electoral vote and won.

This year Truman, or Dewey, could make a sweep of 36 states and yet lose if his opponent carried only these 12 states:

California, New York, Pennsylvania, Illinois, Missouri, Kentucky, Indiana, New Jersey, Massachusetts, Ohio, Texas and Wisconsin.

Why? Because those 12 states have 269 electoral votes, or three more than the 260 majority needed to win.

But suppose it happened that no single candidate got a majority of the electoral votes. What then? The newly elected House of Representatives would choose the President from the three candidates receiving the greatest number of electoral votes.

In that case the total house vote would be 48, with each state—no matter how many members it has in the House—entitled to only one vote.

So far in this story the electoral votes has been explained as it usually happens. But this is an unusual election. A little different from those in the past.

The Democratic Party this year is split because of Truman's stand on greater civil rights for negroes in the South.

Many Southern Democrats, who otherwise might have voted solidly for him, are angry at Truman. They have set up an organization of their own called the "States Rights Democrats."

And they will vote for Governor J. Strom Thurmond of South Carolina, who is the States' Rights candidate for President. The result:

In Alabama Truman is not on the ballot at all. There the State Democratic Committee has pledged the Democratic electors to Thurmond.

In Florida the electors are split up among Truman electors and Thurmond electors and some electors who are not designated at all.

But the southern mix-up in electors won't be important in tomorrow's election results unless:

1. Only the loss of electoral votes in the south were to cost Truman the election, since ordinarily the south votes solidly Democratic.

2. The whole election is so close that no one candidate gets a majority of the electoral votes. That would throw the election into the House.

Final Pleas

Governor J. Strom Thurmond lined up a final (ABC) broadcast for the States' Rights ticket from Columbia, S. C., at 8:45 P.M.

Election eve, as usual, finds the major presidential candidates confident of victory.

President Truman, speaking in St. Louis Saturday night, said the people, through the Democratic Party, "are going to win this election."

Governor Thomas E. Dewey, the Republican nominee, told a New York City audience it was the "eve of victory" for the GOP.

Truman has predicted a vote of 60,000,000. He says a heavy vote "is always good news for the Democratic Party."

Herbert Brownell, Jr., GOP campaign manager, looks for a 52,000,000 turnout with a margin of at least 3,000,000 for Dewey.

Governor J. Strom Thurmond, States' Rights Candidate, predicted his ticket will receive "millions of votes" and prevent either Truman or Dewey from enacting an anti-job discrimination law.

Henry Wallace, describing the 1948 campaign as only one battle in a long war, says that regardless of the outcome his Progressive Party will fight on.

Officials Remind

Voting may take place only in the precincts in which persons are registered. Seminole County has 9,444 registrants of which 7,676 are white and 1,768 are colored. Sanford has 2,901 voters.

All election clerks have been urgently requested to telephone The Sanford Herald the presidential, Congressional and gubernatorial races first, and as promptly as possible, in order that The Herald may be able to supply to Associated Press, United Press, International News Service, Radio Station WTRR and the Orlando Sentinel the complete Seminole County returns.

Election returns, registration books and ballots are to be returned as promptly as possible by election clerks to the office of County Judge R. W. Ware.

"PLEASE do NOT lock registration books and tally sheets in the boxes," urged Judge Ware this morning. "No ballots are to be left in the boxes."

Voters in outlying precincts will vote at the following polls: No. 2, at Lake Monroe School House; No. 4 at Paola School House; No. 5 at Ovidio Town Hall; No. 6 at Geneva Community Center; No. 7, Chuluota store room; No. 8, Gledendro Community House; No. 9, Longwood Town Hall; No. 10, Gleason's Store at Lake Mary; No. 11, Altamonte Community Center; No. 12, Forest City, usual poll place; No. 13, Slavin School House; No. 14 Barnett's office at Fern Park; No. 16, Ketchum's Garage at Bear Lake.

Negro Kills Youth

The negro ordered the young woman to remove her shoes and then forced the couple to leave the car and walk across a field into a cluster of bushes about the rim of a small swamp.

There the negro sought to rape the young woman, who broke from his grasp and fled, and soon thereafter heard several shots. She finally made her way to the home of George Syme, executive director of the Carroll Service Council, a group welfare organization, and Syme notified police.

Kilgore said the young woman, suffering with shock and in a highly hysterical state, nevertheless led officers to the scene, where Stevens' body was found.

The sheriff said the young student, son of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Stevens, Sr., had been shot in the chest and left arm and had been bludgeoned on the head. He said Stevens' companion was unable to give a description of the slayer, but that authorities theorize he was the same person who had been involved in several other attempted rapes here.

In each of these instances, Kilgore added, the young women had been made to remove their shoes. Blood hounds were taken to the scene, but heavy rains made it difficult for them to establish a scent, the sheriff related.

He added that a posse had completed plans for a widespread search for the slayer today.

Fighters Make Mass Flight To Florida

Ninth Air Force headquarters said the flight of F-82 fighters was to give 27th Fighter Group pilots training in long-range fighter operations. Wednesday they will join 600 service school students in witnessing a demonstration in air-group cooperation tactics here.

Over 200 Air Force, Navy and Marine combat planes will pound simulated "enemy" targets with 65 tons of live bombs and rockets Wednesday in the next-to-last week of a six-week exercise, Operation Combine III.

SEOUL, Nov. 2, (AP)—A second Communist uprising in South Korea has been thwarted, an informed official said today.

The official said that Communists in the Korean army stationed at Taegu, in southeast Korea, had planned to revolt and seize police stations tomorrow after the pattern of the recent Yosu uprising.

The plan was upset, the source said, when Korean military police attempted to arrest a sergeant major of the army and firing broke out between the military police and the sergeant's comrades.

The source said that the Taegu garrison, reduced to 200 men by the previous revolt, had apparently been controlled by Communists, but that Loyalist troops moving into the area had taken over and practically all of the leftists had surrendered.

It was reported that one military policeman was killed.

Training Program Eases Tension, Reduces Pain In Natural Births

By ALTON L. BEARSELEY, Associated Press Science Reporter

NEW HAVEN, Oct. 31. (AP) Most women could have their babies with little or no anesthetic and still not have unbearable pain, a study here finds.

The secret lies in a training program in which breathing fear is a major point. In a case, tension, and reason for the chief cause of pain in natural labor.

The report is made by Dr. Fred W. Goodrich and Dr. Herbert Thomas of Yale University, medical school in the Department of Obstetrics and Gynecology.

They said a special kind of natural childbirth, recommended recently by a Yale physician, Dr. Grantley J. Lee, is the Yale study started in August 1945 and reported on Oct. 26.

They said that had it been the usual method, the women would have had a more difficult time. The study was not a test of the method, but a study of the method.

Every third woman entering the clinic was chosen to try the method. Other women in the program who were not chosen to try the method were used as a control group.

The study was conducted in the Yale Hospital, where the women were trained in a special program. The program was designed to help women understand the process of childbirth.

Behind The Curtain
 How are things managed under a totalitarian dictatorship? An answer is supplied by Max Ascoli a refugee from Fascism who has been living in the United States and who has now published a book, "The Fall of Mussolini".
 When everything is contained in the state, says Ascoli, "the relationships between the various things become secret, at the mercy of the supreme manipulator. The gap between highly proclaimed standards and actual performances left large room to the private initiative of alert operators. Grafting and fixing were tolerated."
 This is probably a good description of what is going on in Russia behind the wall of secrecy. There is pulling and hauling between various higher-ups, and continual tale-bearing to the supreme autocrat, Stalin. And, as in Hitlerite Germany, powerful leaders ensure their own safety by building up secret files of documents which may be useful, and have private bodyguards, just like our own gangsters whom they so closely resemble.

Financial Security
 Poll-taker Elmo Roper recently delved into the question of whether the government should provide for persons who are not able to earn their own living, and found that about three-quarters of the people now believe that it should be done. This indicates a considerable development of thought from the early days of the late depression, when there was a strong body of opinion opposing extensive relief programs.
 The change is not a retreat from the idea that every individual holds his own welfare in his hands, and should rise or fall according to his own ability and efforts. But it is a recognition of the fact that circumstances sometimes get beyond the control of the individual.
 The present idea is that the government should stand ready to assist those who find themselves helpless before the trend of economic circumstances, that the government, in other words, should assure last-resort financial security for the individual. That, according to Roper's finding, is the view of seventy-three per cent of the people. Such a preponderant opinion is bound to affect the future activities of the government with respect to the problems of individual financial relief.

Proof Of Birth
 Have you ever felt the need of a birth certificate, and had trouble in getting it? To qualify for a pension or to prove citizenship a certificate is needed, and often is hard to find. Many large cities did not keep record of births till lately sometimes those which did exist have been destroyed by fire.
 Now it appears that the Census Bureau can help out. A branch in New York City has been getting hundreds of calls a month, and furnishing the information. For most purposes the 1940 listing is sufficient. The age given by an individual to a census-taker is accepted as legal evidence, says Melville J. Welles, supervisor of the New York City unit, if a birth certificate is unavailable.
 This is one case where a government bureau is found useful by the man in the street.

Average Life Span Of U. S. Citizen Is More Than 66 Years
 WASHINGTON—Babies born in 1948 can expect to live an average of more than 17 years longer than babies born in 1900.
 In the past seven years about 22,000,000 babies have been born. Their increased life span means ultimately enough people to nearly fill three cities the size of New York for 17 years. In 1900 the average span of life was about 49. Now it is more than 66.
 This is raising some big problems among the people who have to think about their future population. Besides the fact that the length of life has been extended, the U. S. birth rate has gone up. Within a few years there will be a still greater increase in the number of older people.
 The latest census forecast is that by 1975 we will have about 20,000,000 people over 65—about double the number today. The Census Bureau forecasts that from then on the proportion of older people should continue to increase until science can't extend the life span any more.
 Up to now there has been a lot of emphasis on youth in the United States, and opportunities for young people. In the depression some of the oldersters became a problem. Industry could get, and frequently seemed to prefer, younger workers. But old people had to live too, and they competed with the youngsters for jobs.
 The social security program was worked out as one answer to the problem. But government officials say that to date no well-rounded plan has been devised for meeting all the problems of an aging population.
 Here are some of the things government officials and others are thinking about as they keep an eye on our vital statistics:
 1. If older people have to continue to compete with the younger ones for jobs, it may mean a great reduction in working hours. One authority says it may mean a work week of around 80 hours or possibly less. (He estimates that unless a great change occurs in conditions there may be a surplus of more than 80,000,000 workers by 1980. But he adds that conditions are almost certain to change, either for better or worse.)
 2. If social security rules are not liberalized, some experts say, the present social security plan probably wouldn't solve the labor situation of 1980 if there is a great amount of unemployment. This is because the present law requires a worker to be more than 65 to obtain old age assistance. But by 1980 there will be a great increase in able-bodied workers between the ages of 60 and 65, not now eligible for pensions.
 3. The growing number of older people is important politically. The older people and their families will vote in elections. If they could hold any gains they made in social security,

THE WORLD TODAY

By DEWITT MACKENZIE
 AP Foreign Affairs Analyst
 The great military victory of the Chinese Communists in Manchuria represents a disaster for Nationalist China, and by that same token strengthens the hand of Moscow in its world revolution for the spread of the Red lam.
 This means that America, because of her special interest in maintaining the independence of China, is faced with another major crisis in the Orient.
 He who is chosen for the presidency of the United States in today's election will, it strikes me, find this one of the gravest of his early problems in the foreign field.
 Observers in China say that the Chinese Communists, with the great city of Mukden in their hands, may be expected to overrun the rest of Manchuria in the immediate future. This would intensify the threat against Nationalist China, and the possibility of a Red victory sweeping the nation.
 A Communist China would give Russia a base which might dominate the Orient, with its population of more than half the people and the globe. China alone has within its borders some 500,000,000.
 "But," protests someone, "the Chinese Communists are not the Russian brand of Reds. They are 'Agrarians.' Don't let anybody tell you that I had this 'Agrarian' story handed me by one of the top Chinese Communists in Chungking in 1943. A thorough investigation convinced me that the Chinese Reds are a piece off the Moscow cloth. If the Chinese Communists take over in China, that will mean Russia has taken over."
 Small wonder that my colleague John M. Highower reports from Washington: "Officials show deep concern over military, political, economic reports from the embattled land (China). They no longer appear so confident as they once were that Generalissimo Chiang Kai-Shek's government can resist its powers of leadership and put an end to the disastrous civil war with the Communists."
 Over the past weekend the United States approved $5,000,000 worth of arms purchases by Nationalist China. Shipment of ammunition and equipment of many kinds has been speeded up because of the collapse in Manchuria. Some Washington officials believe that American help will be important in the defense of North China, which is expected to come under heavy attack by next spring from the Communists installed in Manchuria.
 President Chiang Kai-Shek, tired and harassed but still full of determination, yesterday declared in Nanking that China must "fight on." Said he: "We have had reverses in the northeast (Manchuria) but the Communists are not yet in a position to directly menace North China."
 Whether Chiang has real grounds for any optimism is a matter of doubt. In any event the position is precarious. American authorities in China have ordered all U. S. nationals in North China to get ready to evacuate their homes.
 There has been some speculation whether a coalition government of Nationalists and Communists could succeed. As a matter of fact the Reds themselves were debating this before their success in Manchuria. However, one suspects that they will have lost their interest in the subject, in view of their latest military victory.

 In any event, the cold fact is that Communism cannot be made to mix with any other ideology.

FLIER KILLED
 BAKER, Ore., Nov. 2.—(AP)—Two fliers escaped injuries in the crash of their light plane, but a jump to the ground caused the pilot's death.
 The plane, piloted by Arnold Luidiker, crashed into a tall pine tree and caught in the branches 80 feet above the ground. Luidiker and his companion, Leon Bendixen, 38, Halfway, Ore., then were forced to jump when the plane caught fire.

ROMANIANS SENTENCED
 BUCHAREST, Romania, Nov. 2.—A military tribunal sentenced 42 Romanians today to prison terms ranging from 15 years to life on charges of plotting with American and British representatives to overthrow the Romanian government.
 All sentences but one called for hard labor. All involve confiscation of property, loss of civil rights and military degradation. The defendants all are reserve officers.

Von Rundstedt Sent U. S. Men To Gestapo
 LONDON, Nov. 2.—(AP)—Lord Jowitt told the House of Lords today Field Marshal Gerd Von Rundstedt, awaiting trial on war crimes charges, once ordered Allied commandos turned over to the Nazi Gestapo.
 Lord Jowitt, Lord Chancellor and Labor Government leader in the upper chamber, said the British intend to start his trial in March. He defended the government's decision to bring Von Rundstedt, Field Marshal Erich Von Manstein and Col. General Georg Strasser to trial. A fourth defendant, Field Marshal Walter Von Brauchitsch, died in prison last month.

The Herald regrets as much as anyone the resurrection of the Ku Klux Klan in Florida on election eve. But we knew it was coming when outside interests began trying to mold southern customs to conform with northern political opportunism. Worse than this current display of sheets and pillow cases will be the outbreaks which will follow if northern force proposals are enacted into law. We may deplore the Ku Klux Klan, but the things it stands for and the things it does, but there won't be anything we can do about it if northern agitators continue to fan the flames of racial prejudice.
 Most of us like to believe that we are law-abiding citizens. That means we believe in obeying the laws whether we like them or not. Now to see if you really are a law-abiding citizen try this simple little test on yourself. Do you always obey the law that says you should give a hand signal before turning in any intersection? Do you always obey the law which prohibits driving while under the influence of liquor? Do you play slot machines, buy Cuba tickets, or participate in horse races which are prohibited by law? Do you get mad when you are arrested for parking over the white line?

Men Who Never Flew Planes Bring Them In With Ground Control Radar

By RICHARD O'MALLEY

BERLIN, Nov. 2. (AP)—A quiet-spoken young Missourian at Berlin's big Tempelhof Airport lands airplanes at the rate of one every three or four minutes, but he has never flown an aircraft.

Master Sgt. Richard O. Wilson of Kansas City is in charge of one of the radar-controlled approach crews—the men who "talk" the airlift planes down to the landing field when weather makes visibility impossible.

The operation, known as Ground Controlled Approach, has made it possible for thousands of planes to land on a field all but blanketed by fog, rain or low-hanging clouds.

Wilson, who says there's nothing really difficult about his job "except that I get tired of talking sometimes," sits with his crew in a little closed truck in the center of Tempelhof. Before him, and each of the other crewmen in black draped radar screens.

A plane, loaded with supplies, approaches the blacked-out city. When it gets within seven miles of the airport, the pilot hears Wilson's calm, reassuring voice take over.

Keeping his eyes on the screen and with mathematical advice from his assistants, Wilson begins to fly the plane. In a constant flow of words he tells the pilot which compass heading to follow, which of his altitude is too high or too low, whether his speed is too fast or too slow. He gives him the wind direction.

Wilson watches the radar screen intently for he must tell by the cloudy little "blip" on it how the incoming plane is doing. As it approaches, he checks its altitude, speed and direction. He even tells the pilot when to let down his wing flaps and landing gear.

Then, as the plane gets to the edge of the runway, he tells the pilot his exact position and turns it back to him. Sometimes, however, when the field is totally blacked out, he brings the plane on down to the runway and lands it completely.

"A tough job?" he says. "No, not if you stay on the ball. It's interesting work, and it actually is not so difficult when you work with pilots like the men flying the airlift. They are extremely cooperative, and obey instructions."

Working with Wilson in the newest of two radar outfits which handle ground controlled approach are such men as Master Sgt. Wilfred G. Kraus of Harbor Beach, Mich.; Staff Sgt. Alvin Doyle, of Cleveland, Ohio; Sgt. Charles E. Smith of Crestline, Ohio; and Pfc. Roger Sommer of Manhattan, Kansas.

Wilson, a 24-year-old who left high school to join the Army in the latter days of the war, already has landed more than 1,400 aircraft and doesn't think the nervous strain affects him very much.

During one day in September he landed 94 airplanes. The average during a tough day is a plane every three minutes.

Ground Controlled Approach mechanism was installed at Tempelhof shortly after the American occupation, but recently a newer and more modern version of the old GCA was installed.

To a layman the GCA truck is a weird mystery of gabled radio nozzles, three screens swept by an air line light, and tiny blinks which indicate where aircraft and installations are.

One screen gives altitude, another direction, and another the heading which a plane is taking. Tempelhof's newest GCA equipment was installed by Gilmore Albrecht of Milwaukee, Wis., a technician for the company which manufactures the radar devices.

except to enforce a rule against obscene pictures. Dr. Samuel Green of Atlanta, Klan Grand Dragon, was scheduled to speak at the barbecue but illness prevented his attendance. W. E. Reinecker of Orlando, who said he spoke for Green, spoke against all "harm," especially Communism.

"We have no quarrel with negroes," he said, "unless they are tied up with the Communist Party. We want our negroes to vote tomorrow but we are out to stop the Communist movement in Florida and that applies to white and black."

Democratic ticket in the state, "but whether it will be far enough I don't know," he added. The Republican said Governor Dwight Green will be reelected.

Michigan: Both sides gave Republican Governor Kim Sigler the edge over Lt. Governor William, the 37-year-old Democratic candidate.

Washington: The Democrat said that Governor Mon C. Wallgren, a close friend of President Truman, is gaining strength and "getting a lot of support he never had before." The Republican said its party's Arthur R. Langlie will win.

Montana: The Republican predicted victory for Sam C. Ford, GOP incumbent, in a close race. The Democrat said John W. Bonner will triumph.

Tennessee: Gordon Browning, Democrat incumbent, will win by "quite a high majority," said the Democrat. The Republican gave Browning's GOP opponent, Bill Billy Singer Roy Acuff, a "real fighting chance."

The Democrat predicted victories in Colorado, New Mexico and Missouri. On these races the Republican declined comment other than to say GOP reports from Missouri, the President's home state, have been encouraging.

The Republican said GOP candidates will win in Massachusetts and Connecticut. The Democrat disputed the Massachusetts prediction, but described the Connecticut race as "confused."

In Wyoming, if Democratic Governor Lester C. Hunt wins over Senator E. V. Robertson in the Senate race, the governorship will pass to Secretary of State A. C. Flinn, a Republican.

Of the 100 gubernatorial candidates, 37 are running on non-party tickets, including 12 representing Henry Wallace's Progressives. None is expected to upset a major party candidate in the states where they are on the ballot.

Indiana, Iowa, Minnesota, Missouri, New Hampshire, North Carolina, North Dakota, Rhode Island, Texas, Washington West Virginia and Wisconsin.

Actually, 33 gubernatorial seats are at stake this year. But Maine's was filled by Republican Frederick G. Payne. In Georgia, Herman Talmadge, Democratic "white supremacy" advocate, is opposed. There are 10 Democratic and five Republican holdovers.

BERLIN, Nov. 2. (AP)—The Russians announced today they intended to conduct air-to-air firing practice at two points in lanes traversed by planes of the airlift supplying blockaded western Berlin.

The notification was given the four-power Berlin Air Safety Center. American authorities said the practice, to be conducted at about 2,600 feet, would be no hazard to U.S. and British cargo carriers, which fly at higher levels.

The airlift operations were stopped yesterday after a reduction caused by fog and a low ceiling.

At Bordeaux, dock workers walked out in protest the use of troops to unload coal ships. Sailors from 58 ships went on strike in Marseille. Both walkouts were led by the pro-Communist General Labor Federation, but the Marseille demonstration was not linked directly to the coal strike.

Work in the big Mediterranean port of Sete also was halted by a sailors' strike. Their union is demanding a cost of living bonus of 1,000 francs ($10) a month pending wage adjustments.

Rotary Meet

(Continued From Page One) He compared the formation of a world government to the organization of the United States of America in which each state had given up certain of its powers to the federal government and the government in turn had undertaken to guarantee each state against encroachment by any other state.

The idea of World Government is rapidly gaining strength not only in this country but throughout the world, Mr. Ratigan said, pointing out that the people of Massachusetts had voted 9 to 1 in favor of strengthening the United Nations to the point of World Federation so as to enable it to prevent war, and that the Gallup Poll had shown that 85 percent of the people favored the United Nations while fewer than one-third of them expressed satisfaction with its progress.

"The prevention of war is the chief aim of the World Federalists," said Mr. Ratigan. At the same time, he pointed out, they have gone on record against unilateral disarmament, against a preventive war against Russia, and against a policy of military and economic containment.

"If Russia or any other nation rejects the idea of a World Government we should proceed to organize without them," he said, always leaving the door open for them to come in later on.

"It would be necessary to amend the Constitution of the United States for this country to participate in a World Government," Mr. Ratigan said, and he urged his audience to use their influence with their legislators to work for an amendment to give up the right of this government to wage war provided all other nations in like-wise.

one largest item among city expenditures, Bayless said, was for bonded indebtedness. Cities participating in the survey reported they paid $6,181,934 in principal and interest on outstanding bonds compared to $5,654,477 for maintenance.

Jacksonville led the state in expenditures with $11,420,367. Miami was second with $1,801,865 and Tampa third with $1,178,395. St. Peterburg, the only city between the $500,000 and 1,000,000 population bracket, reported expenditures of $1,064,059.

The participating cities also reported a total bonded indebtedness of $109,631,295 or street improvements with all present bonds to be retired by 1984.

St. Petersburg's outstanding debt of $17,533,000 was the largest in the state. Miami was next with $11,420,367. Tampa with $4,520,200 and Jacksonville with $3,572,200 followed.

ISRAELI CRISIS

PARIS, Nov. 2. (AP)—The Security Council will meet Thursday to consider a proposed Anglo-American resolution on Egyptian sanctions if Israel or Egypt or the United Nations order.
