Japs Threaten To Close "Open Door" In China

U. S. Is Signatory To 1922 Treaty Guaranteeing Integrity Of Sino Territory

British King Wants Peace

Praises Roosevelt For Timely Action In Czech Crisis

King George's prayer for "new era" of peace in Europe rang down the curtain on this session of Britain's Parliament today as a serious new international issue arose over the war in China and the civil war armies fought a vital battle in Spain.

Japan's threat to denounce the 1922 Five-Power Treaty pledging respect for the principles of Chinese territorial integrity and the "open door" clouded the horizon for western nations in the Orient.

The United States, which demanded in a sharp protest on Oct. 6 that Japan not slam shut China's open door, is a signatory of the treaty.

A Tokyo Foreign Office spokesman said Japan considered the pact obsolete and was studying a substitute pact among herself, her protectorate, Manchuria, and the prospective Japanese-dominated regime in China.

Exhibition Of Arts And Crafts To Be Given Here Nov. 9

Organizations and individuals in Sanford, taking an active interest in bringing to the attention of the public the talent and artistic enterprise displayed by the people of this locality, have planned an exhibition of arts and crafts to be held at the Woman's Club Wednesday, Nov. 9. It will come as a climax to the local recognition of National Art Week, which is now being observed.

Members of the Sanford Art Club will exhibit pictures in oil and water color. Photographers will be represented professionally by group exhibits from the Wiesbold and the Essex studios. Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Dingfelder will exhibit a collection of photographs representing the rank of the amateurs. Local groups will exhibit various examples of craftsmanship in the way of needlework, design and decoration of household items, and other crafts. The exhibition will be under the supervision of Mrs. W. M. Scott, president of the Sanford Art Club. The exhibits will be open to the public at 8 A. M., and members of the art club will serve as hosts.

The exhibition is not limited to the organized groups mentioned, but all who produce creative art are invited to exhibit their work.

In bringing to the public the best representative examples of artistic talent it is hoped creative desire and a better appreciation of cultural activities will be stimulated.

Murder Charges To Be Pressed Against Suspects

Members Of "Kidnap Syndicate" Confess Their Crimes

NEW YORK, Nov. 4 (AP)—The district attorney's office today announced that murder charges would be pressed against alleged members of the "kidnap syndicate" accused of slaying Arthur Fred, a White Plains business man, and the kidnaping of two Brooklyn residents who were released after ransom payments.

At the same time, officials announced that a part of a human jawbone with several teeth still intact had been found by police digging in the basement of the Ukrainian Hall where one of the kidnapers said Fred's body was cremated in a furnace.

Assistant District Attorney Joseph Rosenblatt, after all night questioning, announced the four confessions, he said, were obtained from Demetrius Gula, 30, William Jacknis, 27, and John Virga, 34, arrested Tuesday by federal agents, and Joseph Stephen Scola, 28, who recently was sent to prison for a parole violation.

14 Killed In Crash Of British Airliner

ST. HELIER, Island of Jersey, Nov. 4.—(AP)—Fourteen persons were killed today in one of Britain's worst airplane disasters when a full-loaded passenger airplane crashed in a field just after taking off for Southampton, England.

The victims were nine men, four women and one child, and included the pilot, Capt. A. G. M. Cary, the wireless operator, 11 passengers, and a man working on the field where the plane crashed.

The plane was on a regular run between the island of Jersey, in the English Channel, and Southampton. The plane was seen to circle several times in the channel island fog before falling into the field about 800 yards from the take-off.

$42,000 Set Up For Labor In Hospital Plan

Contractor Must Use All Local Workmen Available In Constructing Building

Seminole County laborers will benefit in the amount of $42,000, according to the specifications of the project application which was sent to the PWA divisional office in Atlanta several months ago at last Tuesday's recent open call.

While the laborers would be in the employ of the contractor to whom the construction is awarded and not in the employ of the government, PWA regulations require that local help must be exhausted before any workers can be brought from out of town.

Although no figures were available on the total number that will be employed, the list includes rough carpenters, finish carpenters, masons, cement finishers, lathers, plasterers, sheet metal workers, plumbers, electricians, etc. In addition to the regular, subsisting, time keepers and book keepers. All of these will be paid the prevailing scale for their particular trade.

The total cost of the project is $125,000 and Seminole County freeholds will decide at the poll next Tuesday whether the County Commission may float a bond issue of $70,000 to pay the county's share of the cost which is 56 percent of the total. The Public Works Administration will make an outright grant of 15 percent in $35,000.

The bonds will be sold to the Reconstruction Finance Corporation at par value, and will be repaid over a period of 20 years, bearing interest at the rate of 4 percent per annum. A levy which cannot exceed two mills will be made to pay the interest. Homesteads are exempt from this levy up to $5,000 assessed valuation.

The site will be furnished by the City at no cost whatsoever in location. Although no decision upon the City Commission has been definitely decided upon, the City Commissioners have acquired title to a square block at the corner of Mellonville Avenue and East Street as a payment on delinquent taxes on other real estate, and it is understood that this location will be offered as a site for the proposed hospital.

There will be no preliminary cost to the project other than the bond issue. The present project has been prepared for the (Continued on page six)

Brother Of Local Man Is Pushed For Governor In 1940

Fred L. Touchton, who is being pushed as a candidate for Governor by doctors, dentists, druggists and allied medical professions, is the brother of H. Quinn Touchton, filling station operator across from Municipal Athletic Field, it was learned today.

A "Touchton For Governor Club" has been organized with Lester F. O'Quinn, Miami druggist, as president. The brother of the local man is a druggist in Avon Park and is a former State Senator from Dade City. He was unanimously endorsed at a caucus of the medical professions as their candidate for 1940.

The Avon Park meeting at which the club was organized, was in furtherance of a movement started several months ago by representatives of these groups to select and give solid backing to a gubernatorial candidate for 1940.

Major M. E. Covington of Avon Park greeted the group and the response was made by Dr. Russ A. Williams, a dentist of Miami, who has also been mentioned as a possible candidate, but withdrew in favor of Mr. Touchton.

Tentatively accepting the nomination, Mr. Touchton stated that while he felt sure of the support of the majority of the four groups represented, he was not asking for the endorsement of any specialized group but would run as a business man's candidate.

Canada's Lack Of Defenses Is Problem For U.S.

Unarmed Boundary Of Nation On North Is Vulnerable Spot

WASHINGTON, Nov. 4.—(AP)—With so much dread over what will happen when Japan completes its conquest of China and when German trade pressure moves in on South America, it should be interesting to remember that the United States has one vitally vulnerable spot which for one reason or another it cannot arm. That is Canada.

Canada is a sovereign (almost) independent (almost) member of the British Commonwealth of Nations and as such might be expected, in a sense, to look out for its own defense. But Canadian officials are not coy about these things. They frankly recognize that the Dominion has only 11,000,000 population and cannot afford to build up a defense sufficient to keep out a first class invader.

For the United States, however, the condition is a source of another color. Canada's lack of serious coast defense leaves a door wide open into the Yankee interior, either by way of Vancouver on the west or St. Lawrence ports on the east.

What defense, then, has Canada?

Ion Mackenzie, Canadian defense minister, discussing the 1933 military budget in the last Canadian Parliament in May, explained it.

"I think it might be reasonable to assume," he said, "that in a major confrontation we should have friendly fleets upon the Pacific Ocean. There is no commitment or understanding in regard to these matters, but at this same time I think reasonable assumptions are possible."

As to the Atlantic side, he said the "main deterrent to attack from Europe is the British fleet in North Atlantic waters." Just how happy Canada is now about the security offered by the North Atlantic fleet is another question since the British "captulation" to German demands at Munich.

But three months after Mackenzie publicly recognized the United States as one of its defenders, President Roosevelt similarly recognized the situation publicly. In a speech on his visit to Canada in August in connection with dedication of an international bridge at Thousand Islands he said the U. S. "will not stand idly by if domination of Canadian soil is threatened by any other empire."

It is a safe enough guess that regardless of any lack of "understanding" as mentioned by Mackenzie there is sub-rosa co-operation between U. S. and Canadian military and naval experts, particularly with regard to exchange of information which would be useful when any fighting begins.

Beyond that the situation may never be improved. There was a time when the United States looked upon Canada as its next territorial conquest. It was the big prize of the war of 1812—

if we had won the war decisively again we looked longingly upon Canada after the Civil war as a recompense from England for her careless neutrality. Probably not until the time of the World War did Canadians give up a real fear that the United States intended some time to "take over."

QUILT WAR RECORD . . .
The only World War record of Yanby County, North Carolina, strange as it seems, is that stitched into a bed quilt by Mrs. W. B. Robertson of Burnsville. For four years Mrs. Robertson made frequent excursions into the hills of Yanby County, compiling a complete list of World War veterans who served their country two decades ago. These names she stitched into her odd quilt of a beautiful geometric pattern, and today her handwork stands as the only complete and authentic record of its kind.

SIGN LANGUAGE . . .
Strange as it seems, although there were 59 different language families among the Indians of the United States, and hundreds of different dialects, all the Indians of North America were able to converse with each other by means of a common gesture speech, or sign language. Signs were made with one or both hands; ideas were conveyed with rapid gestures which often implied whole sentences. The sign language was usually much quicker and more effective than spoken words. In the presence of enemies the method was silent and sure.

Strange as it seems, there were 18,000 combination gestures used in the sign language, experts aver. While most Indians were able to speak at best only a few hundred words, the sign language contained no less than 85,000 distinct signs.

Farmer Obtains Benefits From AAA Co-Operation

By PRESTON GROVER
WASHINGTON, Nov. 4.—(AP)—This story comes under the head of fun in the farm belt.

Farmer Joe Doakes of Iowa, an AAA Co-operator, had 1,000 bushels of surplus corn in 1937 which he could not feed to his hogs nor sell for what he considered a good price. So he locked it up in storage bins on his farm. Because he co-operated in the crop control plan, the government lent him 50 cents a bushel on the corn, which was the security. The loan was more than the corn would bring on the farm in 1937; it is more than it will bring even now. The present price at the farm is about 40 cents a bushel.

Well, Joe's loan on the 1937 crop becomes due Nov. 1, so soon after that Doakes will go to the local loan agency of the department and say:

"I can't pay the loan, so the corn belongs to the government."

"All right," says the agency. "Lots of farmers are doing it that way."

In turn, the agency is not surprised when Doakes says:

"By the way, I can use 1,000 bushels of corn to feed my hogs so if you want to sell that corn to me at the market price, I'll be glad to take it off your hands, right where it lies, in the bins on my place."

"Fine," says the government loan agency. So Joe Doakes has in effect sold the corn to the government for 50 cents a bushel and bought it back for 40 cents.

But that is not all. Joe Doakes raised another crop of corn this year and pretty soon the government will offer to lend him 57 cents or maybe 60 cents a bushel on it. He is to store the corn on his farm as he did before. And what then? Instead of feeding part of his corn to the hogs as he did last year he will borrow 57 to 60 cents a bushel for his whole crop. He will only use 2,000 bushels to feed his pigs. Out Doakes is no fool. He isn't feeding his own corn to the hogs when he can "sell" it to the government for 57 cents, and with the money buy corn at 40 cents from a farmer who didn't co-operate in the AAA control plan.

$42,000 Set Up For Labor In Hospital Plan

County without cost, whether or not the bond issue carries.

The specifications of the project application provide $112,701 for constructing the building, nurses home, walks, driveways, and toilet equipment. The cost also includes expenditures for workmen's compensation insurance, liability, and all other insurance, construction bond, and a contingent allowance for price variations.

The architect's fee will be 5 percent of the construction costs. This fee covers general plans and specifications, all necessary structural, heating, plumbing, electrical, and communications plans and specifications as well as superintendence of construction. It also covers all preliminary work, correspondence, and all other office work in connection with the project. On the basis of 5 percent of construction costs, the architect's fee would be $5,782.

The specifications also provide for a $1,400 to defray the cost of bond issue work, legal services, and other similar overhead expenses. The cost of the bonds, which includes printing and validation, is $500. The interest on the loan during the construction period will amount to $1,500, and a total of $4,117 will remain from the loan and grant for the purchase of new equipment.

The actual amount of the new equipment will be about $12,000 and this amount will be obtained as heretofore mentioned through sale of the existing hospital buildings. The Public Works Administration requires that arrangements be made for fully equipping a proposed hospital before approval is given the project.

Commissioner of Agriculture Nathan Mayo will be host to the Agricultural Commissioners of other states next month when the National Association of Agricultural Commissioners hold their annual convention in this state.

HOSPITAL ARGUMENTS

AGAINST FOR

We do not need a new hospital.

The present hospital has been refused loans for repairs or additions by the PWA on the grounds that it is a "non-fireproof building," and it has been called a "fire trap" by the local Fire Chief.

We do not need as large a hospital as the one planned.

The present hospital is frequently forced to turn patients away because of insufficient accommodations in spite of the fact that many Seminole County citizens go out of town for hospitalization because of antiquated facilities here. The new hospital will have only 47 beds as compared with 25 in the present hospital.

We are going into debt in order to build the hospital.

The plans are drawn particularly to provide for economical operation. It is expected that the increased cost will be more than offset by the increased patronage. It is so designed that if all of it is not being used, part of it can be shut off and the expense of upkeep reduced.

It will increase our taxes.

We do have to borrow $70,000 from the government, but never before have we borrowed money at such low interest rates or under such favorable terms. For every dollar which Seminole County borrows, the government makes us an outright gift of 83 cents.

Only those taxes on real estate, not otherwise exempt, will be increased by not more than 2 mills. Thus, if a person's taxable real estate were assessed at $10,000, his tax increase for the hospital would be $20 a year, or about 5 cents a day.

Taxes are levied unfairly. Homesteads are exempt.

The place to equalize taxes is in the legislature, not in a hospital referendum. Homesteads are also exempt from levies to operate schools, but home owners send their children to school.

Weigh These Questions And Answers Carefully. Give The Hospital Referendum Your Serious Thought. And Vote "Yes" In Next Tuesday's Election.

Candidates Over Nation Press To Campaign Climax

Great Popular Interest Reflected In Predictions Of Unprecedented Vote

FDR Brings Demo Drive To Peak

Leaders Plan Final Efforts To Turn Tides Of Victory

Candidates throughout the nation today pressed toward a thunderous climax to the most intense and voter-rousing off year election campaign in national history.

Great popular interest reflected in predictions of an unprecedented ballot total Tuesday, spurred Republican and Democratic leaders in their efforts to turn the tides of victory in scores of apparently close races.

President Roosevelt brought the national campaign of Democrats to peak last night by broadcasting an appeal for continued "liberal government."

Former President Hoover and National Chairman John Hamilton will speak for the Republicans tonight.

Roosevelt endorsed Democratic candidates in his home state of New York, praised Gov. Frank Murphy of Michigan and made plans for election of Democratic candidates everywhere.

In Washington the Senate Campaign Committee warned that its investigators would keep a vigilant watch on voting in Pennsylvania.

EMDEN, Germany, Nov. 5.—The second attack within a week of a Spanish insurgent warship on a Spanish government mercantile in the North Sea was reported authoritatively here today. The government freighter Rio Mira was said to have been captured by an insurgent auxiliary cruiser Ciudad de Avance and brought to port here with her crew imprisoned.

Last Wednesday the Spanish insurgent auxiliary cruiser Nador boarded and sunk the Spanish government freighter Cantabria off Cromer within sight of England's east coast.

The Cantabria was under charter to British operator.

Mayor Goes To Washington To Push Project

Higgins Is Advised $60,000 Water Pipe Plan Hits Obstacle

Mayor Edward Higgins has gone to Washington in the interest of the PWA project the city is seeking for construction of a water line from the wells to the water plant and also the erection of power transmission lines from the water plant to Fort Mellon Park, which were reported turned down earlier this week.

The Mayor left for the Capital City immediately after receiving advice from Washington PWA officials that the project had struck a snag.

Application for PWA assistance in construction of the pipeline was made several months ago when it was found that the condition of the present wood line made replacement mandatory. The wood mains laid during the boom are said to have disintegrated to such an extent as to be irreparable.

Rains Check Fires In Some Sections

Forest fires today consumed timber on additional thousands of acres but rains checked the spread of flames in many sections of the nation's 16-state fire area.

Drenching rains in the South broke a prolonged drought and helped to control hundreds of blazes but permanent relief depended on continued precipitation.

Damage to timber stands and farm crops was estimated in hundreds of thousands of dollars.

The fire area extended from Michigan to the Gulf and from the Atlantic to the Mississippi watershed.

Townsend Endorses Republican Candidate

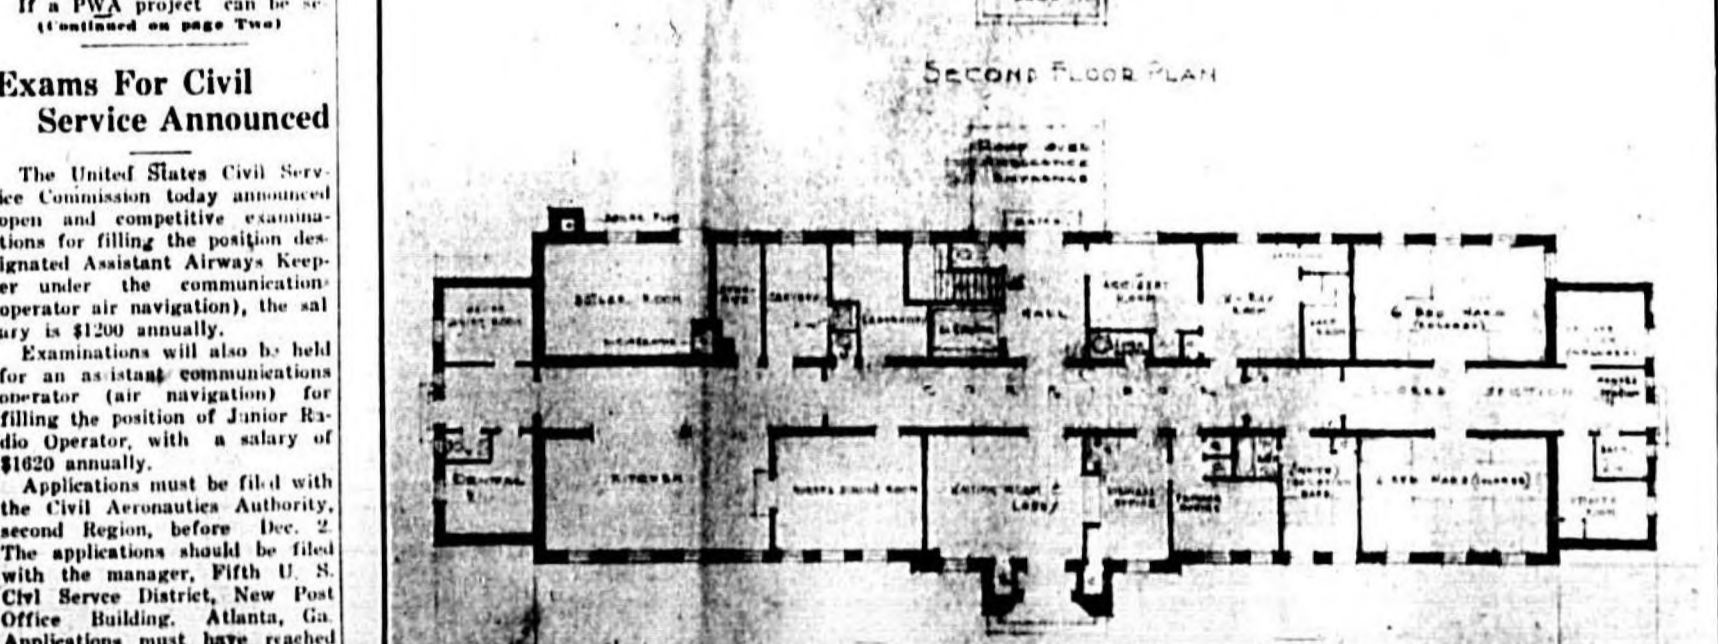

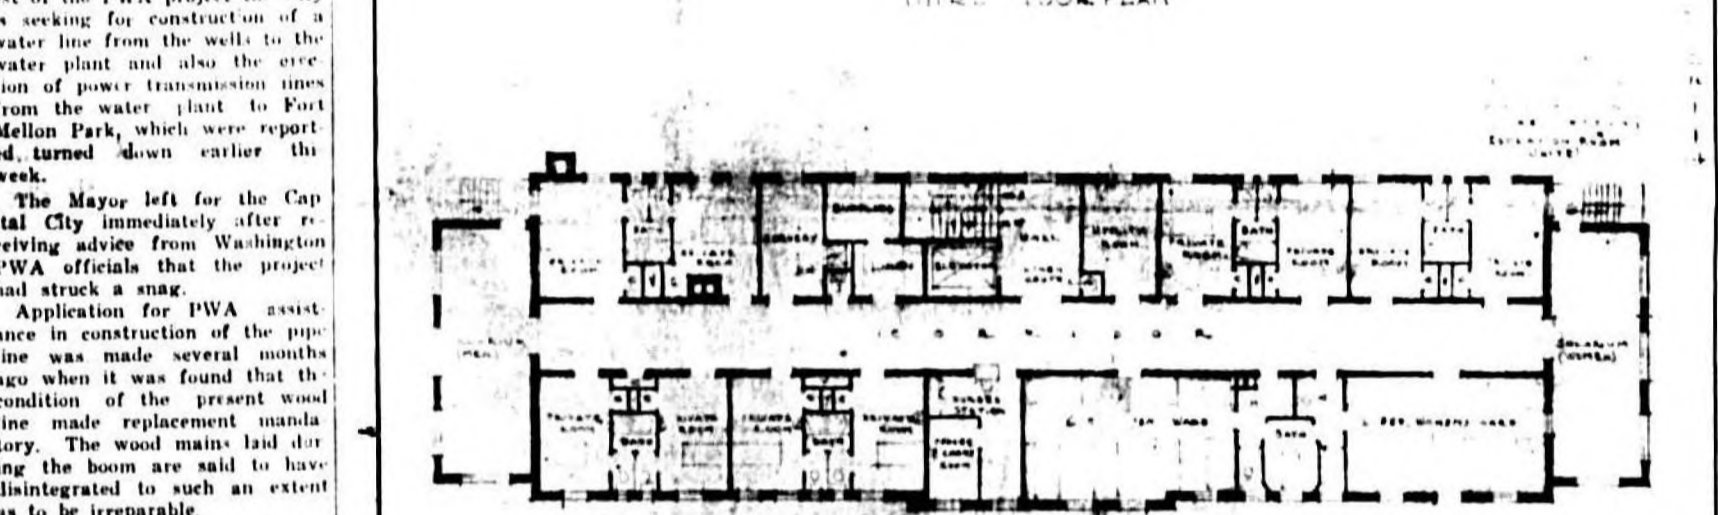

WASHINGTON, Nov. 5.—(AP)—Dr. Francis E. Townsend said yesterday that "either there will be Republican success at the polls next week or we'll have a new party this fall." The pension advocate, endorsing the Republican candidate for governor in Massachusetts, Leverett Saltonstall, added that "unless the Republican party functions as a party at the polls this year, we'll have a steam roller in government."

In announcing his "personal" endorsement of Saltonstall, Townsend said the government is too one-sided and we can't expect any opposition as it is now constituted.

Cyclone Death

JEANERETT, La.—(AP)—One woman was killed and two others injured yesterday when a cyclone struck a farm downy, Democratic nominee for governor, near Charenton, near the coast.

PROPOSED SEMINOLE COUNTY HOSPITAL

Description Of New Hospital Is Released

Three Story, Fire-proof Building To Be Built Of Concrete And Brick

Operating Room Air-Conditioned

Project, If Approved, Affords County Adequate Facilities

Plans of reinforced concrete and brick, insulated with French rock wool for moderating extremes in temperature, the proposed Seminole County Hospital, on which the people will vote in a referendum next Tuesday, is a three-story fire-proof structure with a clay tile roof and stone trim.

In the interior the walls will be of expansion brick and masonry with concrete floors covered with clay asphalt and rubber tile. The office building is terrazzo and rubber proof, equipped with complete electrical wiring for light, telephone and signal system and will be heated by a forced circulating hot water system.

In other columns on this page appears a section half tone reproduction of the architect's sketch of the front elevation and the floor plans. At the top is the front elevation. Underneath it is the third floor plan, beneath that the second floor plan, and at the bottom is the first floor plan.

With reference to the front elevation, the first story will be of brown face brick, while the two upper stories will be of light gray painted brick, both of which will harmonize with a mottled red clay tile roof. The front entrance will be of architectural cast concrete.

On the third floor the operating suite is on the right side and is shut off from the rest of the building to provide for air-conditioning and the elimination of other odors. The suite consists of a doctors' dressing room containing shower, toilet, and lockers.

The major operating room is for abdominal and the more serious operative cases. There is a sterilizing room for the preparation of gauze bandages, sheets, instruments for operations, and for the sterilizing of water.

There is also a minor operating room where operations on tonsils, adenoids, skin diseases, and similar ailments can be performed. The nurses work room serves as a store room for bandages and surgical dressings and is used by the nurses in the preparation of materials used in operations. The nurses dressing room contains a shower, toilet, and lockers.

Also in the operating suite is the delivery room for the delivery of babies. Next to the delivery room is the babies' bath which contains a special thermostat for regulating and sterilizing the water for washing infants. The nursery, which admits and has a glass front so that visitors may see the babies without actually coming into the room.

Next is a five-bed maternity ward with special maternity ward beds, for mothers not in private rooms. A bath and toilet for patients is placed between the maternity ward and a semi-private men's ward with two beds. And next to that is a semi-private women's ward with two beds.

Directly across the hall from the semi-private women's ward are two private rooms with bath. Next is the servery which has a small elevator service to the ground floor on which meals are brought up from the kitchen. The servery is also used for the preparation of special foods and diets for the patients.

The chart room is where the case records of the various patients are kept and the nurses' (Continued on page six)

Rev. Redfean Is Given Transfer To Parkersburg Post

The Rev. Paul Redfean, pastor of the First Methodist Church here, has been transferred to the St. Paul's Methodist Church in Parkersburg, W. Va., the Herald was informed today.

The Rev. Redfean was transferred by the Florida conference to the church here from Live Oak in June 1937 and he had just begun his second year's work when he was advised of his transfer to the West Virginia conference where he will assume duties in a larger church.

M. E. Strickland, who is chairman of the Board of Stewards of the local church, said that he had not been advised as to the pastor's successor. A new pastor will be appointed in the near future by the bishop for this conference, however, he said.

The Rev. Redfean will conduct the regular services at the church tomorrow and will leave the first of the week for his new post.

R. J. Dill Allots Funds For Two WPA Projects In Seminole County

Funds have been allotted for two WPA projects in Seminole County, by State Administrator R. J. Dill, according to information received today from the state headquarters in Jacksonville.

Approximately $20,000 in federal work relief funds was released for the improvement of Sipes Avenue between Celtry and Geneva Avenues. The total amount of this project is $27,979 and is sponsored by the County Commission.

The WPA state Administrator previously announced the approval of a project which will give work to 20 persons for nine months in preparation of hot lunches for school children. The total of this project is set at $10,864 and $6,989 of the amount will be allotted by the WPA.
