

Cabinet Okays New Hirings

TALLAHASSEE (UPI) — The cabinet agreed Tuesday to hire 176 new employes in the state public welfare department to meet federal government requirements in two new programs.

The new employes will work in the department's public assistance program. Also approved was the hiring of 10 workers for the department's medical assistance for the aged program.

The new employes will reduce the case load within the state department to 90 to one. The department has until 1967 to lower its case load to a 60 to one ratio to assure continued federal matching funds.

The bulk of the new employes would be social workers and transfer operators. The salaries ranged from 2,928 for the operators to a high of $8,200 for a social worker supervisor.

The cabinet also approved transfer of $810,001 from the reserve to implement the public assistance program and $108,105 to implement the medical assistance for aged program.

Jackie Debates Convention Visit

HYANNIS PORT, Mass. (UPI) — Mrs. John F. Kennedy, widow of the President, is debating whether to attend the Democratic National Convention, a source close to the Kennedy family said today.

The source said that Mrs. Kennedy is "highly interested" in the possible candidacy of her brother-in-law, Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy, for the vice presidential nomination.

Mrs. Kennedy flies to New York today, her 25th birthday, to attend a meeting of the trustees of the John F. Kennedy Memorial Library.

Then she planned to go to Newport, R. I., to join her children, before a flight to Greece Aug. 5. She will cruise the Greek islands aboard a yacht chartered by Mr. and Mrs. Charles Wrightman of Palm Beach, longtime friends of the late President and his widow.

Gator Loose In New York Lake

NEW YORK (UPI) — Visitors to the World's Fair Monday received a strange warning: Don't swim in Meadow Lake adjacent to the Fair's amusement area—there's an alligator loose in it.

The reptile slipped out of the alligator pool at the Florida Pavilion and set off for the wider spaces of the lake. Only two and a half feet long, the baby gator eluded pursuers all day long and frolicked in the cold water.

In the evening, a posse from the ASPCA, agents of the Florida Fish and Game Commission and fair policemen managed to retrieve the animal. It was returned to its much smaller pool.

Sanford Pictured As Booming Port With Canal

By Dottie Austin
City Editor

Sanford, Palatka and Titusville will all be booming port cities when the Cross-Florida Barge Canal and the St. Johns-Indian River Canals are completed. This was the prediction of Edgar Johnson, executive secretary of the Florida Waterways Assn., when he spoke to members of the Kiwanis Club Wednesday.

Johnson projected the completion dates to 1972, but said that it could be sooner, or later.

"The benefits of these canals to the cities along its route is inestimable. These communities will find themselves on the mainstream of Florida's inland waterway system," Johnson said.

"A new era in Florida will begin with the opening of these canals," he emphasized.

One of the phases of industry that Johnson noted will come is the impact on the stabilization and development of Florida's mineral resources.

"The mineral mining industry in Florida has hardly been scratched. There are vast supplies of limestone, dolomite, phosphate, zircon, titanium, silica sand and kaolite which cannot now be mined profitably because of shipping costs. Barging will cut these costs by one half or three-fourths," he pointed out.

"The cattle and livestock industry will benefit when corn and grains from the Middle West can be shipped by barge for about 30 cents a hundredweight, as compared to the present cost of more than one dollar," Johnson noted.

On flood control, which will be greatly helped by the canal systems, Johnson said the $8 million in flood damages caused by Hurricane Donna could have been averted if the canals had then been in operation.

New wildlife and fish refuges, camping and recreational areas will be created in the pooling areas and along the nearly 250 miles of new waterfront, in seven counties.

On recreational growth and pleasure boating, Johnson noted that there are at the present more than 500,000 registered pleasure craft (over 14 feet long) in Florida, with this number increasing by leaps and bounds every year.

"When these two canals are completed, barges and pleasure craft will be able to travel over 29,000 miles in 20 states on protected inland waterways," Johnson noted.

He pointed to the tremendous growth of the marine business, which has helped to make Broward County (Fort Lauderdale) the fastest growing county in the state, with the highest per capita income in the state and a $62 million pleasure boat business alone.

He also pointed out that it is impossible to make an accurate estimate of the phenomenal growth of waterways, citing the Houston-New Orleans barge canal as an example of under-estimation.

When the canal was opened, engineers estimated that there would be five million ton miles per year of barge traffic.

"Instead, the barge traffic mounted to an unbelievable 62 million tons in 1962 and jump to 70 million ton miles in 1963," Johnson declared.

One of the prime uses of the inland waterways barge canals will be to transport the giant space boosters to Cape Kennedy.

"Barges are the only means by which these huge boosters can be shipped," he noted.

Steel and forestry products can also be shipped for one-fourth the cost of other transportation.

Despite some opposition from railroads and other forms of transportation, Johnson declared that these carriers would benefit from the increased flow of products.

He said that barges are cheaper to build, operate and maintain, cost less to maintain than highways, and "water never wears out like roads do."

No, there was no distress yesterday morning at the Police Benevolent Association Building on the lakefront. But it looked like it. An attendant had hoisted the American Flag with the star field down — a distress signal.

A 30-minute color film on nursing homes is available for showing to local civic organizations and other groups at no charge. Those interested in this subject are invited to contact Donald R. Graham of the Seminole Nursing Home, Post Office Box 1450, Sanford.

Army Pvt. George R. Anderson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas C. Anderson of Route 1, Sanford, has been assigned to the Atlantic Area Installation Command at Fort Davis in the Canal Zone. He entered the Army last October and prior to that attended Seminole High School.

At the request of the County Commission, Engineer William Bush presented to the board at Tuesday's meeting a projected road program for the forthcoming year. Commissioners decided to study the proposed program individually and at the next meeting set a date for general discussion and action.

Need a dressograph frames? Seminole County has about 2,000 of them and they are no longer necessary to the operation of the Registrar's Office. The County Commission has authorized the courthouse custodian to sell them.

"I don't give a damn," wrote Ernest L. Hubbard, "what other people in the Bear Lake area say about the new Bear Lake Road. I, for one, want to thank the County Commission." Said Commission Chairman James P. Avery to Clerk Arthur H. Beck with: "Make be a copy of that letter. I want to frame it and hang it in my office."

Well, it looks like you Clock Watchers are going to have to either start smoking more cigarettes or pay more taxes. City financial receipts show cigarette tax income is down a good bit, making receipts about $10,000 short of anticipated revenue. Commissioners are going to have to do some budget juggling. First budget presentation is due Aug. 1.

The Florida Tuberculosis and Health Association annual report, just out, shows 1963 receipts increased by $22,000 over 1962, for a total of $933,208. Florida ranked second nationally in the highest gross increase, the report says. Seminole County's executive secretary of the FTHA is Mrs. Lorraine Graham.

Waterfront Development:

A Success Story

Discussing the proposed marina project, one City Commissioner declared:

"I want to know if we're going to make any money out of this."

If he is talking about the economic life of the community, the answer is yes.

In Wednesday's front page editorial, The Herald referred to Fort Lauderdale.

A Florida guide book, published in the 1930's, listed the Florida east coast city in this fashion:

"Altitude 10 feet, population 8, 666."

Today a guide book would list it this way:

"Altitude 10 feet, population, 115,000."

It would also list Broward County's population at 430,000, and there is nothing in the future to indicate a let up.

"Next to its sunshine," says the city's mayor, M. R. Young, "Fort Lauderdale's beach is its most valuable possession."

The mayor, by the way, first went to Fort Lauderdale on his boat. He liked the place so much he returned to Baltimore and sold his auto agency. He moved to Fort Lauderdale.

"Mayor Young," says Miami Herald staff writer Nixon Smiley, "is one of thousands who have made Fort Lauderdale their home because of its boating facilities."

Because of these facilities, Broward County's marine business — as we reported Wednesday — reached an unbelievable peak of $63.4 million in 1963.

But to emphasize how fast the marine recreation industry is growing, the year before the same county's marine business was $42.99 million. One year's increase in the county's marine business was $19.41 million. Think of it!

And this — again, we emphasize, — is a salt water situation. Why don't they utilize fresh water accommodations? Because there aren't any major fresh water marinas in Florida.

This same City Commissioner also declared: "I want to know who's going to come here and use these facilities."

The Miami Herald says:

"Boating developments in Fort Lauderdale have reached a level difficult for an outsider to believe."

The center of attraction is a marina called "Pier 66."

From this beginning there are now more than 150 firms engaged in the marine business in addition to the hotels, motels and others. It has become the nation's leading marina city.

What makes Fort Lauderdale and Broward County so attractive to boatmen?

One boating writer says, "Facilities."

Now, let us drive home this point! Early this year the Seminole County Chamber of Commerce placed an advertisement in the national magazine, "Field and Stream."

To date 2,227 inquiries have been received. "What facilities do you have?" they asked. Now, there's a question.

Look at it this way. If only 290 of these inquiries resulted in boats coming to Sanford the proposed marina would be filled to capacity — just slightly more than 10 per cent.

If the City of Sanford will put in the piers, the bulkheads and the land fill, the rest of the facilities will come — just as sure as night follows day.

Who will they be?

They will be a percentage of the people who last year alone in the United States spent over $2 billion but $2 billion on marine recreation!

The Herald will share Friday more of its information with you on utilization of the marinas.

Mize Asks More Court Help

By Julian Stenstrom
Associate Editor

Seminole County Juvenile Judge C. Vernon Mize says it is becoming so increasingly difficult to properly process and make disposition of juvenile court cases that he has proposed to the County Commission that it consider providing the court with additional personnel.

Mize made his recommendations to the Board of Commissioners as he presented his juvenile case report on the first six months of 1964.

The report indicates that the situation in this county is not improving. For example, he pointed out that during the first half of 1964 his court had committed 20 youngsters to state industrial schools. This is the number committed during all of 1963.

Last year the number of court dispositions was 399. All ready for 1964 217 cases have been brought to the court's attention.

If the present rate continues, Judge Mize said, it is obvious that 1964's total will surpass that of 1963.

Of the 217 cases processed by the court for the first six months, 107 were dependency cases, 72 were delinquencies and 38 were traffic.

Eighty-two cases involved children under 10 years of age, 15 were in the 11-12 bracket, 35 were aged 13-14, and 85 in the 15-16 year age group.

Grouped by county areas, there were 133 cases in greater Sanford, nine in the Oviedo-Geneva-Chulabota section, and 75 in South Seminole.

Mize said that 102 children were placed in detention and no official action was taken on 108 other youngsters.

Of the 110 delinquency cases, 38 were for traffic violations, 20 for petit larceny, 16 breaking and entering, eight for auto theft, six for habitual truancy, four runaways, four for unauthorized use of motor vehicles, three for being unmanageable, three for vandalism and the rest for miscellaneous violations.

'Middies' Visit

Throughout the summer, Midshipmen of the U. S. Naval Academy Class of 1966 have been arriving via air transport in groups of 45 to 50, at the Sanford Naval Air Station to receive their annual Reconnaissance Attack (formerly Heavy Attack) orientation.

In the schedule of itinerary and events, planned by Reconnaissance Attack Wing One, prior to briefings in the various phases of armament and intelligence by RVAH-3 officers, the "Middies" are given a complete description of the history and missions of Reconnaissance Attack. Later in the tour, the groups are also given a first-hand opportunity to view the RA6C aircraft, the fleets newest, fastest and most expensive of Reconnaissance bombers, mission that it consider providing the court with additional personnel.

Can All Life Be Traced To Same Ancestor?

NEW YORK (UPI) — In a protein molecule much too small to see scientists found persuasive reasons for supposing all living things from a man to a vegetable have a common ancestor.

The molecule is indispensably involved in the process of body chemistry which uses oxygen to "burn" food and create life's energy. Without it there could be no life — of the kinds that now exist or have existed on earth.

Scientists have taken this molecule out of the chemistry of human beings, tuna fish, monkeys, moths, birds and other animals, and out of Baker's yeast which is a living thing, too.

In all these forms of life the molecule which serves the specific chemical function had so many points of identicalness or similarity it seemed apparent all had evolved from a single beginning.

Dr. Emanuel Margolin, who is part of the long-term scientific enterprise of many scientists, reported all this today to the sixth International Congress of Biochemistry.

Work To Beat Barry, Negroes Urge People

NEW YORK (UPI) — The Negro leaders of four civil rights groups have called on America's Negroes to forego further racial demonstrations until after the Nov. 3 presidential election.

Instead, the nation's Negroes were asked to work for the defeat of Republican presidential candidate Barry M. Goldwater.

The statement, issued after a "summit conference" of the heads of six civil rights organizations, did not say so, but its implication was clear that the leaders felt further demonstrations could enhance Goldwater's chances of winning the White House.

A second statement was issued strongly denouncing rioting and looting by Negroes in recent weeks and rejecting the support of "extremist groups such as Communists."

The call for a "broad curtailment, if not total moratorium, of all mass marches, mass picketing and mass demonstrations" was signed by Roy Wilkins, executive secretary of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People (NAACP); the Rev. Martin Luther King, president of the Southern Christian Leadership Conference; Whitney M. Young Jr., executive director of the National Urban League, and A. Philip Randolph, chairman of the Negro American Labor Council.

The statement was not signed by James Farmer, national director of the Congress of Racial Equality, and John Lewis, chairman of the Student Nonviolent Coordinating Committee. Wilkins said both agreed personally with the statement, but postponed signing it until after they meet with their steering committees next month.

Gusty Squalls Heading Far Out To Sea

MIAMI (UPI) — A disturbance that threatened to become the season's first tropical storm struck off north-northwestward far at sea today, still just a line of gusty squalls with nothing in its path.

The Miami weather bureau said a reconnaissance plane flew into the area and found highest winds at 40 to 50 miles per hour in the stronger squalls, but no winds of high enough sustained strength to rate being called tropical storm Abby.

The weather bureau located the center of the squally weather at mid-morning about 300 statute miles south-southeast of Bermuda, and about 1,100 miles due east of Miami.

The weather bureau said the squalls probably would pass slightly east of Bermuda late tonight or early Friday, giving the British resort little more than a brushing.

New Blast Aimed At TV Shows

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Sen. Thomas J. Dodd, D-Conn., charged today that prime television time is still "permeated with programs featuring excessive crime violence, and debased moral standards."

Dodd, chairman of the Senate subcommittee on juvenile delinquency, said there was no appreciable reduction of action-adventure shows pervading in new shows and usually to assure the main that the most violent shows these programs.

Dodd summoned executives of the three networks, American Broadcasting Co. (ABC), National Broadcasting Co. (NBC) and Columbia Broadcasting System (CBS), to explain why there has been no appreciable reduction in violent shows despite their pledges two years ago.

The senator said that of the three networks, only CBS showed an improvement.

"Not only did we fail to see an appreciable reduction of violence in new shows but we also found that the most violent shows of 1961-62 season have been syndicated and are now being rebroadcast on independent networks and stations," Dodd said.

ment prepared for delivery as the subcommittee resumed its hearings into crime and violence on television.

The subcommittee held hearings in 1961-62 which, according to Dodd, showed that "network executives consciously fostered a trend toward violence by ordering no appreciable reduction of action-adventure shows pervading in new shows and usually to assure the main that the most violent shows these programs."

Lake Monroe Jottings

By Mrs. H. L. Johnson

Well what do you know. Another month has come and gone. And just a few short weeks and those school bells will ring and all the kiddies will be back in school. In a way it seems like it has been a real short summer, but I guess I noticed it more because I was "on the go" all the time. . . . I would like to tell you a little more about some of the beautiful places I had the pleasure of visiting. We planned to pay a return visit to the Wax Museum in Washington. On the day we were to go, about every Boy Scout in the U. S. A. was in town. There have been some new things added at the museum and I was anxious to see them. And, too, I am still trying to figure out how to get that life-like figure of Alan Shepherd to move in some way. That is the most realistic one there. Every one there is so good but there is something about the famous astronaut's features that he should at least say "Hi" to you. Mark Twain is still "rocking" back and forth in his rocking chair on the porch and Captain John Smith's heart is still "thumping" hard as he lays on the ground. The boat scene of the four famous chaplains is very touching. . . . On a visit to the beautiful Ft. Lincoln Cemetery as you enter the grounds you see an enormous clock. The hands of the clock are moving. The numbers on the dial are real flowers. I took a picture of it and the time was twenty minutes to three. This cemetery was the battleground of Lincoln for about four months. The cannon his company used is still there. As you go further back into the cemetery (it takes in hundreds of acres) you see a statue of the open Bible, then one of Jesus on the Cross, then you walk up to the Garden of the 12 Apostles. Around the Garden are marble statues of the 12 Apostles. This garden is raised up on a level of about three feet. Inside the garden are flower beds that are weedless. Under the beautiful solid lawn grass are vaults already placed there. Every plot in the garden has been sold. Each plot has two, three and four places for each owner. Across from this garden, you can walk up a beautiful path to a large marble slab on which the famous sculptor Enrico Cerrachio has carved the unusual feature of the Head of Jesus. If you walk across the arm of the cross formed by the walking you will observe the eyes and head turn and look at you. And as you turn and cross to the other side of the walk it will do the same. A new addition is being erected at the present time and it is called "The Garden of the Crucifixion." . . . Another day we drove over to Lake Fairfax, between Alexandria and Fairfax, Va. This is a new resort where you can camp out, swim, boat and fish. There is a miniature train that will take you all around the resort. While there we noticed an Orange County family in the camping site. On this trip we took a lady from Argentina who was here on a visit to see her granddaughter for the first time. Although she could not speak a word of English, we became fast friends with the help of her daughter-in-law who served as our interpreter. I invited her to visit me before returning to Buenos Aires, to which she answered "SI." . . .

We are very proud to welcome to the neighborhood Mr. and Mrs. Jon Zabel. They are occupying a home at 2515 Narcissus Ave. Mr. Zabel is the new credit manager of the Firestone Store here. They formally resided in Orlando. And by the way they are newlyweds as of June 1st, last. Congratulations and welcome again. We know you will like it here. . . . Charles and Gladys Carlson has returned from Duke University Hospital in N. C. where Gladys underwent several observation tests. Very glad to have her back. . . . Little Elizabeth Warren, daughter of Doc and Frances Warren, accompanied her grandmother Benton home to Wauchula after a pleasant visit here with the Warren family. . . . So very glad to hear that John and Ann Woody and wee daughter are here on a visit from Puerto Rico. They are here with Ann's parents Gert and Urban Lee. They all went up to Tennessee to see Johnny's parents and then John has a report back to Navy duty and Ann will stay on for a longer visit. . . . Mr. and Mrs. John Cogburn and children were weekend visitors at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Kennedy on Jewetta Lane. They reside in Columbus, Ga. . . . Titus and Edna Keller of Maryville, Tenn. and Mrs. Al Johnson and son Jim of Monticello were overnight guests last Thursday with relatives here. . . .

Here's our thought this week. The BEST of Everything.

The Best philosophy, a contented mind;
The Best law, the Golden Rule.
The Best education, self knowledge.
The Best science, extracting sunshine from a cloudy day.
The Best music, the laughter of an innocent child.
The Best journalism, printing only the true and beautiful on Memory's tablet.

Social Security Procedure Told

Throughout the nation nearly 19 million persons draw over one billion dollars in Social Security benefit payments, according to Byron R. Patton, Orlando district manager. Many of them, he says, filed claims because they understood what the Social Security officials call "Four Times in Action."

Sooner or later, Patton said, "you or someone in your family will need to act in one of these situations." The four times for action are:

1. If a worker in your family dies. Some member of his family should contact the office to see if survivor benefits are payable.
2. If you are disabled. You should get in touch with the office if you worked on jobs covered by Social Security.
3. When you near retirement. Application for payments may be filed three months in advance of retirement age. Even if the person does not plan immediate retirement, he should get information.
4. When you are 72. The person who is not already drawing benefits may draw even though he is still employed.

The office serving the Sanford area is at 2520 N. Orange Ave., Orlando, and the phone number is 425-2581.

Dear Abby:

By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: About a year ago I went to a hospital and stayed there for six weeks. Last week I had to go back to the same hospital for a little corrective surgery, and what do you think the head nurse greeted me with? "Oh, no, not YOU again, Mrs. So-and-So! When the nurses hear you're back they'll shoot themselves!" Then she laughed. I talked to see anything funny in her remark. When I saw my doctor I reported the incident to him, and he laughed, too. Then he patted me on the shoulder and said, "Oh, don't pay any attention to her. She's a little screwy." Why would a hospital hire a "screwy" head nurse?

The late Leo Langdon had an interesting theory about competitive part-score bidding. It was to bid one more than you really should and then double your opponent to make sure that your partner wouldn't bid any more.

DEAR ABBY:

I am 16 and baby-sit to earn money for clothes. About once a week I sit for a lady who is getting a divorce. She has two small children. She has all her bureau drawers and her desk drawers "scattered" with big wide strips of adhesive tape. Every closet in her house is locked, and she even keeps a padlock on her refrigerator. She told me that she trusted me, but in case I got bored or curious she didn't want me going through her things.

DEAR ABBY: I have been employed in this office only a short time, but it is an ideal place to work and I would like to remain here. I am not the kind of person who indulges in gossip, but the telephone operator here told me that the boss, a family man, is carrying on an affair with a woman who calls him at the office and uses a phony name.

The telephone operator listens in on all his calls, so she is not guessing. The boss is a fine man, and seems so proud of his family that it is hard to believe that he is leading a double life. I am afraid his wife will find out

Milady's Jewels Status Symbol In Bath Fixtures

NEW YORK (UPI) — Bathroom fixtures that vie with milady's jewelry are the newest status symbol. Sherie Wagner, New York designer of custom bathrooms, is sinking semi-precious stones into plumbing hardware that is gold-plated or of some other expensive metal. He said the current taste for opulent bathrooms led to the development.

Homemakers

Well, I guess my summer vacation traveling days are over for another year and I can now stay home and try out a lot of recipes I have received. While on my last trip to Washington, D. C., I had the pleasure of meeting several famous chefs there. From one of them Emile Croci, I got his recipe for making his famous French Dressing. Also how he prepares his potato salad for his restaurant. His brother, who also is a chef, told me how to fix a sauce for putting over baked ham. From a Chinese chef, Cecilio Tadde, I have a dessert dish. From a native of Buenos Aires, Argentina, Mrs. DeBroun, who was there visiting her chef son, Salvador, we have an Egg Pudding. As she could not speak English, her daughter-in-law had to translate. From a man who was in Fairbanks, Alaska, we got a Bar-B-Que sauce for putting over venison.

Emile's French Dressing recipe is very popular in the nation's capital. Now he will share it with restaurant owners here. It will make 10 gallons. I have not broken it down into small amounts. But if individuals want to try it, it can be done.

3 doz. egg yolks
3 lbs. sugar
1/4 lb. white pepper
1 lb. paprika
8 tbs. dry mustard
Juice from 1 doz. lemons
Combine above ingredients in very large cooking pot. Add 2 cups white vinegar and 8 gallons of Wesson Oil. Whip very well and heat thoroughly. Be sure to watch that it doesn't curdle by stirring constantly. Store in gallon jars.

I was enjoying eating some of Emile's potato salad one day while there and I asked him just what ingredients he used. To the chopped up potatoes, he adds chopped green pepper, onions, celery and sweet pickle relish. Hard boiled eggs are optional. For the dressing he says "to every cup of mayonnaise add 1/2 level teaspoon of mustard, a little oil and vinegar.

For dressings for other salads he adds to a gallon of mayonnaise one bottle of A.I. Sauce and a little salad oil.

His brother, John, was preparing baked ham for a big wedding dinner there one day. He prepared a white sauce to pour over the ham when served. To this sauce he always adds a half envelope of unflavored gelatin. And let me say that this really gave it a double-delicious flavor. Try it real soon when you are baking ham and then let me know how you liked it.

Now I want to tell you about a brand new cookbook from the State Agriculture office. It is called Florida Fruit and Vegetable Recipes. It is in color and what wonderful recipes it has in it. I think it is the best one yet. You can get your copy by writing to Doyle Conner, commissioner of agriculture, Tallahassee, and ask for it.

Here is one from it that I am trying now.

SNAP BEANS SWISS STYLE
2 tbsps butter
2 tbsps flour
1 tsp. salt
1/2 tsp. pepper
1 tsp. sugar
1/2 tbsps. grated onion
1 cup sour cream
4 cups drained snap beans
1/2 lb. swiss cheese
2 cups corn flakes
3 tbsps. melted butter
almonds if desired.

Melt 2 tbsps. butter, stir in flour, salt, pepper, sugar and onion. Add sour cream gradually, stirring constantly. Cook until thickened, stirring often. Fold in snap beans, beat thoroughly. Turn into greased casserole. Grate cheese and sprinkle over beans. Crush corn flakes into fine crumbs, mix with melted butter and sprinkle over cheese. Bake in moderate oven 400 degrees about 20 minutes. Serves 6.

Also this
CUCUMBER CHEESE SALAD
1 pkg. lemon jello
1 tsp. unflavored gelatin
1 cup hot water

Corner

By Mrs. H. L. Johnson

Cook until it starts to thicken. You can add coloring if you wish. Pour over the potatoes when ready to serve. These can be prepared ahead of time and placed in the refrigerator or can be fixed at mealtime.

Mrs. DeBroun's EGG PUDDING from Argentina looked very pretty. She had made some to show me. She put hers in molds that can be placed in the oven. If you do not wish to make individual ones use a large size mold. It has to be placed in a pan of water in the oven.

Into a saucepan put:
1 pt. sweet milk
1/2 cup sugar
1 tsp. vanilla

Boil together.

Beat 4 eggs and 2 egg yolks together. Add to other mixture. Pour into molds and place in pan of water. Bake in 400 degree oven for 1 1/2 hours. Test with a toothpick. Make a caramel syrup of 5 tbsps. sugar, 1 tbsps. water. Boil until it caramelizes and pour over pudding when ready to serve. Can be served hot or cold.

The one that I tested was cold and it was really delicious.

• • • • •
Now Larry Elder's VENISON BAR-B-QUE SAUCE from Alaska.
1 can tomato soup
1 small onion
1 soup can of water
1 can of juice from peaches, pineapple to thin soup
1/2 cup brown sugar
dash of salt and pepper or celery salt
10 drops of tobasco
1 tbsps. lemon juice or vinegar

Combine all ingredients and cook over slow heat until thick, or about 20 minutes.

Mrs. Harry Robson and daughter, Miss Jean Robson, were recent co-hostesses to a bridal luncheon at the Capri Restaurant complementing Miss Judy Ludwig, bride-elect of Glynn Hodges.

Centering the table was a classic floral arrangement of daisies, delphinium and dahlias, accented by white tapers in crystal candle holders. Miniature wedding bells marked the guests' places and they enjoyed delectable steak with all the trimmings.

The hostesses presented Judy with a lovely corsage of white roses to enhance her soft pastel print frock.

Luncheon guests were Mrs. M. G. Hodges, mother of the future bridegroom, Miss Rose Kratzert, Mrs. Mary Ann Jones, Miss Gwynne Williams and Mrs. Cynthia Johnson.

70 Youngsters Enjoy Annual Peanut Hunt

By Donna Estes
Three pounds of peanuts were hidden by Coaches Walt Drurus and Rodney Umberger and Mrs. Nell Drueding on the grounds of Longwood Elementary School to be found during the Peanut Hunt held last Friday at the school as part of the summer recreation program.

Approximately 70 students participated in the hunt searching in every tree and under every rock. Two special peanuts, decorated with blue and white ribbons, were found planted on a bush by Gina Chenet and Gary Pugh which entitled the finders to a treat of free cookies and soft drinks.

Preceding the hunt, enthusiastic games of dodge-ball, keep away and five of a kind were played and square dancing, musical chairs and arts and crafts work were enjoyed.

Committeeman Election Near

August will be election time to choose ASC farmer-committeemen who will serve for the next year as local administrators of national farm-aid programs. These programs include the Agricultural Conservation Program, Acreage Allotment, Commodity Loans, Feed Grain Program and others.

A farmer eligible to vote in committee elections is generally a farmer who is taking part in, or is eligible to take part in one or more of the programs which ASC committees help to administer.

Farmers, who are eligible to vote, also have the right to nominate other farmers for committee membership by petition, providing they are eligible and willing to serve. Such petition, signed by 6 or more eligible voters may be filed at the County ASCS office, County Agricultural Center, Route 2, Sanford, Florida, before August 12th. Additional nominations may also be made by the present County Committee.

The election will again be carried on by mail and ballots will be mailed August 21st to all farmers listed on our records.

Student Tests Set Tuesday

By Jane Casselberry
Pre-school testing for students who were not enrolled in Seminole County schools last year but plan to attend Lyman High School this coming school year will be held Tuesday at 9 a.m. in the school cafeteria. Tests will be completed around 11 or 11:30 a.m. and James Bowers, guidance counselor, cautions the students that no one will be admitted to the testing room after 9 a.m.

Purpose of the testing is to give school officials an idea of the student's ability level and test scores will be used as an aid in preparing the schedule of subjects to be carried during this school year.

Registration will take place a few days after testing and students will be informed of the date Tuesday morning.

Plumbing Code Is Questioned

A possibility that either the county's plumbing code is inadequate or that it is not being enforced was brought out during Tuesday's meeting of the Board of County Commissioners.

Commission Chairman Avery announced he had received a request from M. Al Turner asking for a joint meeting of all plumbers licensed in Seminole County and the Commission.

Avery said Turner had indicated in his request that a number of plumbers are of the opinion that the current plumbing code is not being enforced. Turner also requested that the Commission also discuss the possibility of establishing a "fairer" system relating members of the plumbing board.

County Zoning Director Robert Brown advised the Commission that he had looked at photographs which indicated "some practices are not good." But Brown added, "Right now the code permits it and, naturally, it has to be acceptable."

The Commission agreed to meet at 7:30 p.m., Aug. 10, to confer with the plumbers.

Look for lots of locally produced summer vegetables, especially tomatoes, green beans and lettuce.

Let's Meet Responsibility

During a meeting of the Seminole County Board of Public Instruction, held for the purpose of a public hearing on the proposed budget for the forthcoming school year, an interesting fact was revealed. Here in Seminole the school system spends an average of $285 per child per year to educate the county's children. It was also pointed out that only two counties in the entire state of Florida spend less per year per child. This means that 64 of Florida's 67 counties spend more per year per child than Seminole County. This could mean one of several things. Perhaps our school system is not spending what it should to provide all that our youngsters need to assure them the best possible education. Maybe it means that by astute and careful management Seminole County's school authorities are getting more out of the tax dollar earmarked for education than nearly all of the other counties of Florida. We know of one situation that existed last year where a school in Seminole County operated on a budget of $X-number per child. This amount was exactly one-half of the $X-number per child for a school of identical grades and nearly identical size as the Seminole County school. This gives rise to the idea that our administrators are getting the most out of every dollar. On the other hand, when a county school system ranks 64th in a state of 67 county school systems it seems obvious that something, somewhere must be lacking. Trying to pinpoint the area in need might be like trying to find a needle in a haystack.

So, the chances are that here in Seminole the fact that we are spending an average of $285 per year per child for education is a result of a combination of both factors. While we compliment our elected school officials we continue to charge them to display sufficient courage to see to it that enough funds are budgeted each year to assure our children the best possible instruction, supplies, equipment and facilities. There is considerable discussion in these days and times concerning federal aid to education. If federal aid does become a reality we might as well give consideration to the possibility that the federal government stepped in — not to usurp authority — but to walk where school districts feared to tread. In other words, if we fail to provide sufficient funds in this area the federal government will. History records many instances in which the central government became involved in various areas of progress because more localized governing bodies did not meet squarely their respective responsibilities.

Thought For Today

Let love be genuine; hate what is evil, hold fast to what is good.—Romans 12:9.

I desire so to conduct the affairs of this administration that if at the end, when I come to lay down the reins of power, I have lost every other friend on earth, I shall at least have one friend left, and that friend shall be down inside of me. — Abraham Lincoln.

Political Notebook

WASHINGTON (NFA) — An unpublished study made at the National Institute of Mental Health finds: —Almost a third of a million youngsters 17 and below are now under care in outpatient psychiatric clinics in the United States. —Two-thirds of these are 14 and under. —Compared with a decade ago, three times as many children 14 and under are being admitted to mental hospitals annually. —The suicide rate among teenagers is up sharply. —Though a drop in the number of total patients in mental institutions is expected by 1970, patients in the 10-24 age range are expected to increase.

Concerned with this trend, research men at the National Institute of Mental Health have been analyzing new investigations on how "disturbed" mentally ill and delinquent teenagers get that way. This research has turned up these tentative findings on teenagers by individual investigators: (A good deal of this work has not yet been fully verified by backup research). —Moving from poor to good housing does not, on the average, result in measurable emotional improvement of the teenager and his family. In fact, the neuroses of teenagers may increase with improved housing. —High school boys who later became schizophrenic were found to have less interest in girls than the average teenager. —Parents of teenagers tend to over-interfere with their teenage children on those teenage problems which the parents themselves failed to solve when they were youngsters. This prevents the teenager from developing his ability to think and act independently. —Numbers of adolescents are being hospitalized because of severe emotional problems in the period of their first separation from their parents during the freshman year of college. Studies indicate the parents of many of these disturbed young people are themselves highly anxious persons deeply concerned about their own ability to cope with life's problems. A good many researchers are coming to believe increasingly in the importance of fathers to teenagers. One investigator finds the problems of teenage girls in "identifying themselves" as women are greatly increased when there is no father in the home. Another group of investigators finds that a high frequency of theft and personal crime tends to occur in those societies where the young boy is limited in forming a close relationship with his father. There are indications, some researchers believe, that it is better for a boy to admire something in even a bad father than not to admire him at all.

As one investigator puts it "If the father is a bank president, he's the best bank president. If he's a mechanic, he's the best. If he's a thief, he's the best thief in town. He's the strongest man in the block or he's the best fisherman or the best whittler or something. Investigators have been working with monkeys to better understand why teenagers and their parents act the way they do. Some have found that how teenagers turn out is strongly affected by the relationship they had with their mothers during babyhood. One investigator reports that female monkeys who as infants received no mother love "become helpless, hopeless, heartless mothers, devoid, or almost totally devoid, of any maternal feeling."

Dr. Crane's Worry Clinic

Notice Colleen's excitement at the supermarket. She is a keener observer of her surroundings because of the reading games her daddy has used with her at home. He has her wild blue yonder card, she lays it on the floor, etc. At the outset, of course, she reacts to the total word image and knows nothing about the names of the internal letters. But the second step in this early training of children involves showing them the difference between "A" versus "H," etc. And that is why Colleen grew so excited at the supermarket where she spotted the letter "A" in "Apples." "Dr. Crane," you may protest, "is it wise to prod a child so early?" "May he not become bored when he finally enters kindergarten at the age of 5, if he is far advanced in reading skill?" Those are legitimate questions that are challenging educators. But as long as reading is presented as a game so that toddlers regard it as great fun, that eliminates the prodding or coercive element. Reading is the motor of the entire educational machinery and thousands of students fail to finish high school or flunk out of college the first term largely due to poor reading ability. Besides, a toddler's mind is eager for new ideas so there is no medical or psychological harm in adapting reading games to toddlers if you don't force them or try to keep them too long on any one game. Several of the great geniuses in both science as well as music were child prodigies at reading and piano playing. So we may have allowed the most fertile period in our children's lives to remain relatively fallow by failure to stimulate their reading ability till the age of 5 or 6 years. This use of cards with printed words thereon, has long been employed with grade schoolers who are poor at reading or arithmetic or spelling. And it can zoom such a child's grades rapidly. So send for my booklet "How to Tutor Your Child at Home," enclosing a long stamped, return envelope, plus 20 cents. It makes education fun!

Dick West's The Lighter Side

WASHINGTON (UPI) — You know this television commercial where this spectral knight on a white charger pounces his lance at this bunch of grubby little kids and instantly knocks their grime off, thereby proving that a certain cleansing preparation is "stronger than dirt?" Well, that is really not as ridiculous as it looks. If the knight had his lance wired up in such a way that it would give off an ultrasonic beam, it might actually be possible to clean a kid that way. You think I'm kidding? May the National Institute of Drycleaning cut me off their mailing list if I'm not giving it to you straight. "Ultrasonic sound waves to remove spots and stains are services your drycleaner will be providing in the future," the institute said in a recent publication. Quoting Albert R. Martin, its director of research, the institute prophesied that "ultrasonic beams or high frequency sound waves will some day literally shake loose most spots and stains." The U.S. Agriculture Department also is interested in sonic cleaning. Only last week it gave a contract to a New Jersey firm "for exploratory research on the behavior of cotton when subjected to high-intensity sound waves." The department said sound waves "may prove capable of removing trash from lint cotton before it is processed into yarn and fabric." What amazes me about all of this is not the fact that sound waves have a cleaning potential. I've known that for years, I'm just surprised that it took the drycleaning institute and the Agriculture Department so long to discover it. My first experience with high frequency sound waves came when I was a child. Every Saturday night my mother would beam a high intensity order in my direction regarding the removal of spots and stains. The institute believes that the high cost of drycleaning by ultrasonic beam will be a problem. I think that can easily be solved, however. When jet planes break the sound barrier they create a sonic boom that rattles windows, dishes and dentures down below. It seems only a question of time before those booms are powerful enough to shake the dirt out of our clothing as well. The fortune teller who guesses right most of the time is a happy medium.

Horoscope Forecast

FRIDAY, JULY 31, 1964

GENERAL TENDENCIES:

Today's activities combine both policies and decisions it is necessary for you to make. Make a determined effort to translate such ideas to workable success so that you will have more money in the bank, cash in hand or property in your name. Consult with business experts.

ARIES (March 21 to April 19) Handling all small items in connection with your business affairs is wise today. See experts who can help. Set up a budget that is more workable, easy to follow.

TAURUS (April 20 to May 20) If you want to achieve the goals you have in mind, you must get out of comfortable rut and go - go! Make sure of health and appearance. Then show good sense in dealings.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) Don't jump into new outlets now because you are bored, but hold to present set-up which can soon be successful. Have faith in your partner. You are not thinking too clearly.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to July 21) Quickly handle those important family affairs that bring harmony and prosperity for some time to come. Good pals are loyal. They give you support you need at this hour.

CEO (July 22 to August 21) You are highly magnetic now and should contact high-ups to achieve particular aims. Show that you are highly talented, too. Don't be timid, afraid of others.

VIRGO (August 22 to September 22) By changing your attitude, new avenues of expression open up to you that will be very profitable. Contact those out-of-town for best results. Be on the qui vive.

LIBRA (September 23 to October 22) You are able to impress usual allies more favorably now if you are particular and neat, proud of work you do. Be adroit about money. Much happiness possible now.

SCORPIO (October 23 to November 21) By going along with the ideas of your partners and using special charm, you make big headway now. Get about in public, improve image. Others will be drawn to you.

SAGITTARIUS (November 22 to December 21) Are you pleased with your surroundings? Now is the time to make improvements of value. Utilize all that energy in practical way. Don't fritter time away.

CAPRICORN (December 22 to January 20) If you have not been with persons you admire of late, this is good day for so doing. You are imaginative - use creative qualities in wise directions. GROW.

AQUARIUS (January 21 to February 19) You must be the one to get wheels rolling at home and do the important work that makes it a haven of rest, comfort. Clear out the obsolete. Replace with the new.

PISCES (February 20 to March 20) Make it a point to reach more harmonious relations with kin and all others close to you. Much must be done if life is to be happier, more prosperous. Get busy!

IF YOUR CHILD IS BORN TODAY, there is a tendency in this nature to be overly-analytical to the point of losing out in life because a decision cannot be reached at the right psychological time. Be very careful of the diet and give good physical exercise early. This is an adventurous spirit but needs prodding for best results, nonetheless.

CHALLENGE MONGO NEW YORK (UPI)—Owner Harry Albert and trainer Eddy Neley said they would send Gun Bow, record breaking winner of last Saturday's $100,000 Added Brooklyn Handicap, against Mongo in a match race.

LBJ Chances In South Rest On Choice Of Running Mate

ATLANTA (UPI)—Southern leaders indicated today that President Johnson's chances in Dixie in November hinge on his choice of a running mate. These politicians agree that the presidential race probably will be very close in the South but that the "right" vice presidential candidate could give the edge to the Democrats in some states.

Realizing that the choice was strictly up to the President, they offered some suggestions for "Mr. Right" and a unanimous nomination for "Mr. Wrong."

Without exception, Southern politicians polled by United Press International voiced objection to, or were cool toward, Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy because of his stand and views on civil rights.

Peace Corps Director Sargent Shriver was the man most frequently mentioned as a vice presidential candidate acceptable in the South, followed, with almost equal sentiment, by Sens. Eugene McCarthy of Wisconsin and Hubert Humphrey of Minnesota and Franklin D. Roosevelt Jr.

Ruby Defense Beats Deadline

DALLAS (UPI) — Jack Ruby's attorneys took the first step Tuesday in their appeals battle to save him from the electric chair, claiming the prosecution's chief witness lied. The claim was the main point in a bill of exceptions filed in the court of Dist.

Judge Joe B. Brown, who presided at the murder trial that convicted Ruby of slaying Lee Harvey Oswald.

Deadline for filing the documents was Tuesday at court closing and the lawyers beat it by only half an hour.

Ranger Seems Certain To Get Pictures

PASADENA, Calif. (UPI) — America's Ranger-7 spacecraft was racing for the moon today with scientists saying "there is no question" its television cameras will take the first close-up pictures of the lunar surface before collision Friday.

A successful collision landing and relay of 4,000 televised pictures back to earth from Ranger 7's six "space eyes" would mark an historic first for American space scientists: The first closeup photographs of the moon's face.

The photographs could spell success or failure to this country's hopes of landing astronauts on the moon by 1970.

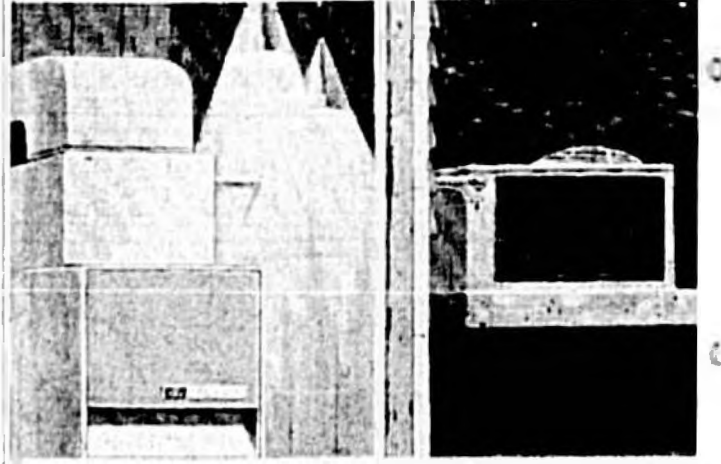

Ranger 7 thundered skyward on its 228,000-mile mission Tuesday from Cape Kennedy.

Ranger 7 was expected to collide with the moon at a speed of 4,668 miles an hour at 8:25 a. m. EST, Friday.

About 13½ minutes before impact, television cameras will be activated and the spacecraft's six cameras should transmit back to earth the historic photos.

Waterfront Development:

Our Opportunity

"Who will come here and use these facilities?" asked one City Commissioner concerning the proposed marina project.

Thursday The Herald said it would answer the Commissioner's question. Here it is.

A Broward County (Fort Lauderdale) executive has declared:

"Millions of people facing retirement are better off financially than any people of a similar group in history. These people generally are conservative economically as well as in taste."

What about the 2,227 inquiries the Seminole County Chamber of Commerce has received?

What about the thousands upon thousands who now go to the Florida east coast and other salt water marina locations because there are no major fresh water marina facilities in Florida?

What about the 30,000 pleasure craft officials estimate will utilize the Sanford-Titusville canal when it becomes a reality?

What about the other thousands upon thousands of pleasure boats which will use the cross-state canal facility and visit Sanford or at least stop en route?

Everybody with whom The Herald has discussed utilization has said this:

"If the City of Sanford will provide the marina, private enterprise will follow with the rest of the facilities and the boatmen will utilize it."

Is private enterprise really interested?

A local realtor the other day wrote the president of National Associates, Inc., a firm which constructs and operates a large chain of hotels and motels.

He was told about the proposed marina complex in Sanford. With nothing more than that, the president—not a flunky, but the president—of this corporation flew to Sanford and met with City Manager Pete Knowles.

Following his conference this executive wrote Knowles, and The Herald quotes, in part, as follows:

"We would be interested in participation in ownership, management, financing and/or obtaining leases for food and motel operation."

"We feel that a complete feasibility report should be run to ascertain the size motel and food operation to start with; also, of course, with plans for the maximum addition."

Upon receipt of this report we shall then have our architect department make preliminary plans for the approval of all concerned, and at that time will decide as to the ownership and operation of this project."

Please notice:

The head of National Associates, Inc., did not say that a report was necessary to determine whether they would build a motel and restaurant here. This executive, we point out, is interested in how big an operation is needed.

The local group that proposed the marina complex, did not do it without a study. They employed a representative who went to the big motel and hotel operators, the big restaurant system owners and the major oil companies. He didn't even have photographs of architectural renderings.

But the response he received was highly favorable. Every single firm indicated an interest. It was upon this basis that the marina proposers decided that this was the answer to Sanford's downtown problems as well as the general economy of the entire area.

Sanford has the greatest opportunity in its long history to utilize its waterfront property. Opportunity, The Herald is confident, is knocking at the door.

An investment of an estimated $500,000—just a little more than was required to build the Civic Center—will open that door.

Through that door will come a pleasure craft and marine business that may not ever equal that of Fort Lauderdale but Sanford could become known throughout the country for its major fresh water marina facilities. Sanford itself can become a major attraction to boatmen.

There are nearly 500,000 boatmen in Florida alone, and they need facilities! Did you know that hundreds of pleasure craft are parked right now in Orlando dry storage facilities because of the need for marinas?

If the City of Sanford doesn't answer opportunity's knock, what will happen to the downtown area? The Herald will answer this Monday when it explains why the marina complex was proposed in the first place.

Ranger Gets 'Excellent' Pictures Before Hitting Moon Bull's-Eye

Shot Hailed As 'Complete Success'

PASADENA, Calif. (UPI)—Ranger 7 paved the way for America to land a man on the moon today by sending back thousands of "excellent" closeup pictures before a bullseye strike on the lunar surface.

"The whole mission was a complete success, it hit right on target," said a jubilant scientist at the flight's control center here. The mission ended years of frustrating failures in the Ranger program to find out what sort of surface would greet man when he reaches earth's satellite, possibly in 1969 or 1970.

Ranger 7 "struck only 9 or 10 miles from dead center," said project manager H. M. Schurmeier.

The up to 4,000 pictures transmitted across a quarter million miles of space in the dozen minutes before impact were described as "excellent . . . not interrupted" by the Goldstone tracking station on California's Mojave Desert.

At the control center, elated scientists, technicians and newsmen yelled in glee over the success of the mission. It followed nearly 70 hours of flight from Cape Kennedy.

President Johnson personally congratulated laboratory director Dr. William Pickering by telephone.

"We are proud of the tremendous technical achievement which this successful flight represents," Johnson said. "This is a basic step forward in our orderly program to assemble the scientific knowledge necessary for man's trip to the moon."

"I recognize that this great success has come only after a number of failures and partial failures in our efforts to send probes to the moon," the President said. "This success should spur us on to added effort in the future."

The President said "our Soviet competitors have had many unpublicized failures to Soviet failures, he added, confirmed the complexity of the American success today which he called a "magnificent achievement" in the "peaceful exploration of space."

Pickering told a news conference "It's been a long road, but this shot was a textbook operation . . . everything went the way it should."

A BOLT OF LIGHTNING set off this fire at the Enterprise Elementary School Thursday night and when it was over the entire structure was destroyed. The blaze started in the top of the two-story structure and volunteers hurriedly removed large amounts of equipment, books and records before being driven off by the flames and heat. Top photo shows the school at the height of the fire while in the bottom picture some of the salvaged equipment can be seen in the foreground. (Herald Photos)

Enterprise Elementary School Building Burns

By Mrs. Ritchie Harris Thursday after the building was struck by lightning during a brief electrical storm. Most residents of the area, many of whom had attended the school, turned out to assist volunteer firemen from DelBarry, Lake Mary, Sanford

Naval Air Station and Florida Forestry Service. The pump crew from Volusia County District Five Road Department and a crew from Pell's Grove Service, Osteen, also were on hand.

Since the fire broke out in top of the building, many of the books and records and pieces of office and library equipment were saved.

This part of the school plant was built in 1917 on the site of the former Volusia County Courthouse which was located there when Enterprise was in the early 1900's.

Fire was confined to the loss of the one building.

Oviedo Delays Board Meeting

Oviedo City Council has postponed its Board of Equalization meeting originally scheduled for Monday evening until Monday, Aug. 31, at 8 p.m. at City Hall.

Any person having a tax complaint will be heard by council at this time.

Written complaints in advance of the meeting may be filed at any time with City Clerk Mrs. Dot Courier.

The regular business meeting of the council will be held at 8 p.m. Monday as scheduled.

WHAT DID THE cameras on Ranger 7 say to the moon? "Say (green) cheese, please." The moon did and Ranger's cameras got "excellent" pictures. The chart shows the various maneuvers and positions of Ranger on the way to meet the moon, which also was on the move and the chart also shows these stages.
