N. Y. Officials Appeal For More Money To Curb Student Lawlessness

NEW YORK (UP)—School and city officials, faced with fresh teenage violence and parent-teacher criticism of a new school anti-crime program, appealed to the state today for more money to help curb student lawlessness.

Pupils beat or stabbed two student monitors in schools in Manhattan last Wednesday, and at another school detectives arrested a 19-year-old youth who admitted, they said, that he had robbed two pupils in the school to get money for narcotics.

Dr. William Jansen, superintendent of schools, and Charles H. Silver, Board of Education president, will ask state officials and legislators in Albany today for more state aid for the schools.

Mayor Robert F. Wagner also planned to confer there with Gov. Averell Harriman on ways to improve New York City's violence-beset schools.

Critics of the budget program hit the Board's $30-million-dollar budget for 1958-59 when it was submitted formally to the city budget director Wednesday.

The budget includes funds for adding six new schools in which youthful trouble makers and delinquents would be segregated from other pupils, as part of an anti-crime program adopted by the Board Tuesday.

Organizations called the program "warmer-over", "supersocial", "benighted" and "inadequate."

The United Parents Assn. asked the Board to seek new money and charged that the "new" program actually contained nothing new. The Teachers Union said "there is no cheap way out of this school crisis" and the Citizens' Committee for the Children of New York, Inc. said the plan was "doomed to fail" unless it became part of a "realistic" state and local program.

Monitor Stubbins in the latest outbreak of violence that in recent weeks has included two rapes and several beatings and robberies, a 14-year-old Negro student stabbed monitor Philip Romano, 15, when the monitor stopped him from entering Henry Hudson Junior High School before the opening bell rang. Romano was hospitalized with two stab wounds near the abdomen.

Later, three students at George Washington High School beat 16-year-old Frank Moran so severely he was taken to a hospital with a brain contusion.

At the High School of Music and Arts in Manhattan, detectives arrested Robert Asby, 19, who said he was recently released from seven months of hospital treatment for drug addiction. They said he confessed robbing two students of wristwatches and money Jan. 31 and last Tuesday.

Weather
Warmer tonight; low 38 to 42. Friday cloudy with showers and turning cooler.

Big Drive To Explore Space Taking Shape

WASHINGTON (UP)—A mammoth drive to explore space began to take shape today.

It was learned that half a dozen concrete projects are now under study in the Defense Department. They are forerunners of a vast new program that eventually may take man to the moon and planets.

Providing the impetus and early knowledge for future plans is America's Explorer satellite, now whirling around earth in an egg-shaped orbit calculated as ranging from 219 to 1,578 miles out in space.

Exact nature of the half-dozen projects was not disclosed. High defense officials said after Russia's Sputnik I was launched that a survey was made of the armed services to see what they could do in satellite and space development.

Half-Dozen Plans
A group of scientists and industry experts comprising the Pentagon's Special Capabilities Panel analyzed the various proposals and winnowed out "half a dozen" projects that are now under intensive study. No go-ahead has been given on any as yet.

Meantime plans are already set for a second Explorer, the Navy Vanguard satellite program and development of the Air Force "Pied Piper" television reconnaissance satellite.

High officials disclosed that the spacemen are now casting about for another launching site capable of shooting moons into a northern orbit. The Cape Canaveral, Fla., range is reported unsuitable for launches other than in a general east-west direction.

President Eisenhower indicated the American space program is fairly soon to be a huge 20-ton satellite—presumably manned—perhaps 10 years from now.

Dr. Alan T. Waterman, director of the National Science Foundation, told the United States today most government scientists believe a space program should be based on a "thorough scientific study of outer space." This would be accomplished with the date radioed back by Explorer and other satellites scheduled for launching this year.

Neither Waterman nor the President would hazard a guess on when sufficient knowledge will be gained to lay out a step-by-step program for sending a space ship to the moon. However Dr. Werner Von Braun, head of research at the Army's Huntsville, Ala., ballistic missile agency and "father" of the Explorer, has suggested a manned U. S. rocket may make a moon round trip in 10 years.

Underlining the administration's space exploration effort Maj. Gen. John B. Medaris said Wednesday night it is imperative for the United States to achieve the earliest manned control of space. The commander of the ballistic missile agency said the "universe could become the battlefield of the future" barring some "unexpected success" in international relations.

Farmers Count Losses In Wake Of 3rd Freeze

By UNITED PRESS
Florida farmers today counted their heavy losses in the wake of the season's third, and worst, freeze. Heavy rains, meanwhile, drenched the nation's midsection.

Winter vegetable crops which escaped the frosty touch of two earlier freezes were just about destroyed in the cold snap that clung to the sunshine state since Monday night and relaxed its grip late Wednesday.

Officials reported extensive damage to the huge citrus industry and big losses in the billion-dollar tourist trade. Hundreds of cattle have died on blackened pastures, while thousands of migrant workers, living with their hungry families in shantytowns, were forced out of work.

Agricultural agents estimated that a fourth of the state's 600,000 acres of citrus trees may have been seriously damaged and many young trees possibly killed by the latest cold wave. Gov. LeRoy Collins said last week that the season's estimate for citrus shipments already had been cut about 15 per cent.

John B. Campbell, Dade County agricultural agent, said Wednesday's freeze may have dealt a death blow to rich winter vegetable regions in the southern part of the state. In his own county alone, he said 40 to 50 million dollars damage was done.

Hard Work, 'Cold Cash' Needed To Enter FSL

A group of baseball fans met at the City Hall here last night to hear various plans and offers to return baseball to Sanford once again. Baseball has been missing from the local scene for 23 years and it was the opinion of most who were present that everyone is ready to talk business and prepare to enter the Class-D Florida State league once again. All it will take is hard work, much interest, and above all, "Cold Cash" they were told.

Peter Schaal, President of the league opened the meeting by going over the financial statements of various clubs in the league and he showed how teams working under much weaker conditions were able to come out in the black, some by a very wide margin for class D ball. As Schaal stated, "the only club in the league to lose money was Leesburg and that was because of details of Yemen's entry.

Yemen To Be Added To New United Arab Republic

By WALTER LOGAN
United Press Staff Correspondent
The Syro-Egyptian union moved today to add Yemen to the new United Arab Republic in a development that could affect the balance of power in the oil-rich Arabian peninsula.

Egyptian President Gamal Abdel Nasser began formal talks in Cairo with Yemeni Crown Prince Self el Islam el Badr to work out details of Yemen's entry.

The Egyptian and Syrian parliaments unanimously approved plans for the new republic Wednesday, while other Arab states looked on with mingled interest and apprehension.

Nasser would become president of the joint state in what Middle East observers said was furtherance of his ambition to become head of a state that would include all Arab nations.

Dispatches from Beirut and Amman indicated strong fears the new Arab republic would try to swallow Lebanon and Jordan. Israel, already having new border crises with Syria and Jordan, was nervous but silent. Officially the situation for Israel was not changed.

Employment Office To Open Here Soon

The Florida State Employment Service will open a Sanford office "sometime during this month", it was announced yesterday.

"As soon as office equipment and supplies are set up," John Krider, Manager of the Seminole County Chamber of Commerce, said "the office will be opened."

Manager of the local office has not yet been named, Tom Lawson, manager of the Central Florida office, said yesterday.

The office will be located at 110 West Second St., and the space has been made available through the courtesy of the Florida State Bank, Krider said.

"The need has been so great for such an office," Krider said yesterday afternoon, "I am exceptionally happy that the service of such an office will be made available."

The office will handle registration for employment and will make these registrations available to local industry, commercial houses, and home owners.

Also, to be handled through the new office to be opened here, will be unemployment claims. (Continued on Page 8)

14-Year-Old Boy Hurt As Scooter Crashes Into Car

A Seminole High School student was seriously injured shortly after noon yesterday when his motor scooter crashed into the rear of an automobile attempting a left turn on French Ave.

Gary Swaim, 14-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Swaim, 2108 Amelia Drive, is in Seminole Memorial Hospital with a fractured leg as a result of the smash-up.

Mrs. Swaim said today that her son seemingly "is in better spirits this morning."

Sgt. Ben Butler, of the Sanford Police Department, who investigated the accident, said that the youngster was traveling north on French Ave. "when his attention was distracted" and he crashed into the rear end of an automobile which had come to a stop in the Fire Dept. Stops Blaze Threatening Populated Area

Firemen fought a stubborn blaze that threatened to spread through a heavily populated Goldsboro area this morning shortly after 8 o'clock.

Chief Mack N. Cleveland, heading the Sanford Fire Department, however, brought the flames under control about 8:30 and kept the fire from spreading to other frame dwellings in the area.

The frame dwelling at 1204 Lincoln Court, owned by Chief Roy F. Williams, was destroyed as the result of the flash fire that Bill Williams, 74-year-old Negro man who occupied the dwelling said "went everywhere like a shot out of a rifle."

The Negro man said a heater exploded and before he could get out of the house the hair was singed from his head.

"I lost everything but what I've got on," Bill Williams said as he sat across the street watching his house go up in smoke.

Gerintology Kiwanis Speaker's Subject

"Pinellas County has become a mecca for old people," Dr. C. W. Carter told the Sanford Kiwanis Club yesterday at its noon luncheon meeting.

Dr. Carter said the national average of people over 65 is 8.7 per cent; the Florida average is 10.3 per cent; but the Pinellas County average is over 20 per cent.

St. Petersburg, the geriatrics specialist said, has gone "all out" to be nice to old people and in the last election in May of 1957, 34 per cent of the 130,000 registered voters were over 65.

Gerintology, said Dr. Carter, is the study of aging and includes all ages. You start aging the minute you're born, he said and gerintology is the study of psychological and mental changes as you get older.

"We place certain values on money, political position and economy—the same as we do on aging," Dr. Carter told Kiwanists. Then, recreation, housing, education, religion and many other orders of life have influence on aging, he said.

"But you string health across the whole list," Dr. Carter emphasized, "matters not what your economical situation might be."

The great danger and fear of getting older is illness and becoming dependent, he explained.

Describing the effect of "aging" on people in their 40's, Dr. Carter, who is Assistant Public Health Director in Pinellas said "Gerintology is as broad as life itself and time is an important thing."

"Routine to the older person," the doctor said, "provides a framework in which to live and it is important from a psychological point of view."

"I think this is a community problem," Dr. Carter told the Kiwanis Club, "a community problem which acutely affects each area today."

Dr. Carter was introduced by Ed Leigon, a member of the Kiwanis Club's UPC committee and program chairman for the day.

Slavia Resident Dies Last Night

Mrs. Joe Mikler Sr., one of the pioneer settlers of Slavia, died last night at Orange Memorial Hospital.

Mrs. Mikler is the mother of eight children: Paul Mikler, Stephen Mikler, Joe L. Mikler Jr., Andrew Mikler, Mrs. John Duda Sr., Mrs. Ferdinand Duda, and Mrs. Jim Colbert, all of Slavia, and Mrs. Betty Penny of Orlando.

Mrs. Mikler was a member of St. Luke's Lutheran Church of Slavia.

Funeral arrangements are incomplete.

Special Group May Form On Space Invasion

WASHINGTON (UP)—The Senate may vote today to set up a special committee to decide whether the government's invasion of space should be directed by military men or civilians.

A resolution to establish such a panel was introduced Wednesday under the powerful sponsorship of Senate Democratic Leader Lyndon B. Johnson (Tex.). It cleared the Rules Committee and rocketed to the Senate floor within five hours.

It appeared likely Johnson would himself become chairman of the new committee. Under his resolution the other members must be chosen from among the men who serve on a half-dozen of the upper chamber's most important permanent committees.

Sen. Clinton P. Anderson (D-N. M.), chairman of the space subcommittee of the Joint Congressional Atomic Energy Committee, was considered a sure selection for the new group. His subcommittee planned to question Chairman Lewis L. Strauss of the Atomic Energy Commission today on how the AEC would handle the space program if given that responsibility.

Sen. John F. Kennedy (D-Mass.) introduced a bill to liberalize the size of unemployment benefit payments to meet the threat of recession. The measure—co-sponsored by nine other northern and western Democrats—would set up federal standards states would be required to meet by July 1, 1959.

Delayed publication of Labor Department testimony in the House showed that a new record number of jobless—an estimated 2,719,000 persons—were drawing unemployment insurance as of the week ended Jan. 4.

Editor Testifies
An editor told Congress that "many small slits" have appeared in the curtain of secrecy surrounding much federal government activity. But he said there are still too many "all-wise officesholders" with the idea that the people can't "endure reality."

James S. Pope, executive editor of the Louisville, Ky., Courier Journal and Times commented in testimony prepared for the House government information subcommittee. Pope represented the Southern Newspaper Publishers Assn. The subcommittee today began two days of hearings on a bill to prohibit use of a 169-year-old law to keep non-security information secret.

Other major developments in Congress:
A House commerce subcommittee wound up three days of questioning Chairman John C. Duerfer of the Federal Communications Commission on trips he made and fees he has collected. Duerfer and four other FCC commissioners have been charged in a subcommittee staff report with "official misconduct." The subcommittee scheduled a secret meeting Friday and a public hearing next Monday to continue the FCC testimony.

Public Works: Sen. Albert Gore (D-Tenn.) introduced a bill to authorize a $500-million dollar public works program as a backfire against a depression. The legislation would set up a "public works administration" reminiscent of the agency of the New Deal days to put up 90 per cent of the cost of public works projects proposed by state and local governments.

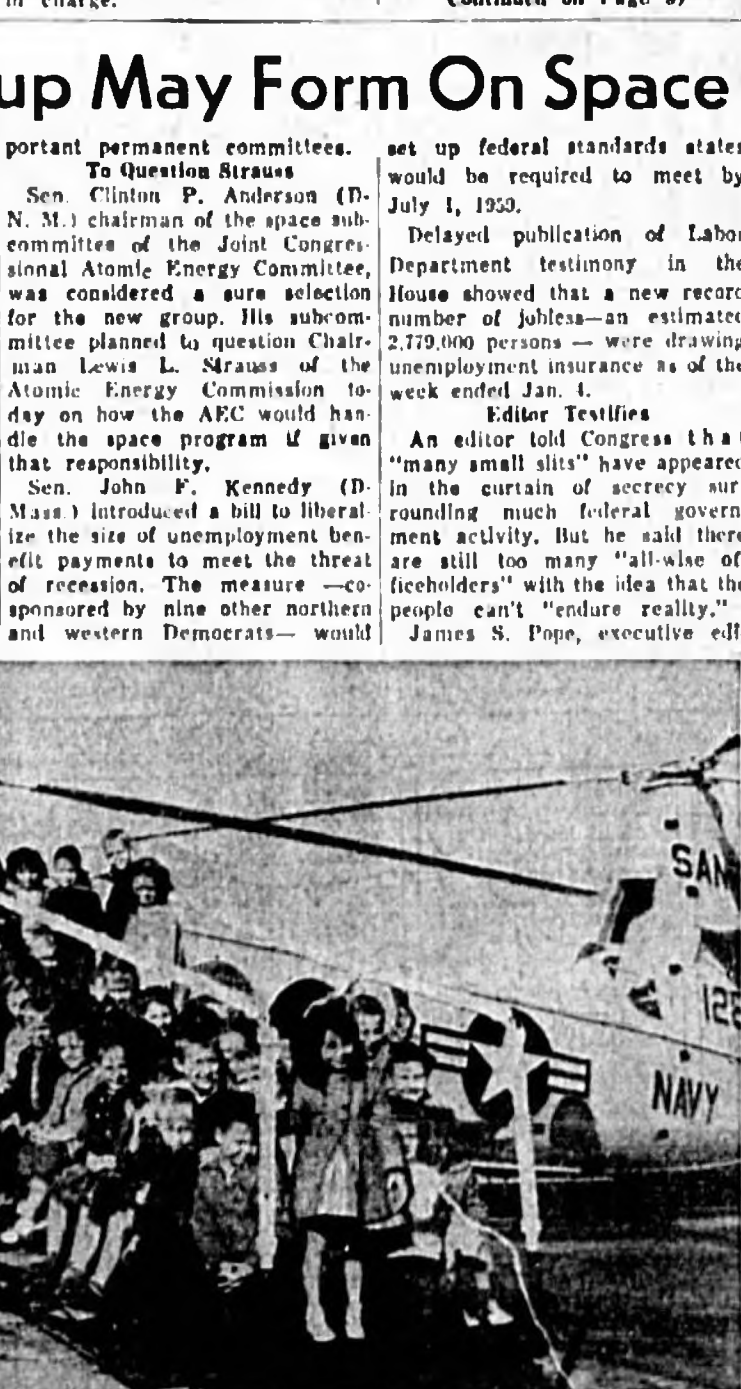

Defense: Gen. Nathan F. Twining, chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, told the "senate preparedness subcommittee it would be a "wonderful incentive for smart boys" if the United States, like Russia, exempted students in higher education from the draft.

Farms: The Senate Agriculture Committee agreed informally to try to draft an omnibus farm bill by March 1. However, Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey (D-Minn.), a committee member, said it would be the "eighth wonder of the world" if a bill was ready by April 1.

Have you ever seen a more persistent person than I? I'm determined to inform you about the latest news and happenings around Seminole High School. This column was previously called gossip but for obvious reasons the title had to be changed. (Someone asked me about that.)

By now I'm sure everyone has seen Janie Brown's engagement ring. Isn't it huge? Congratulations, Janie. It's a wonderful guy. The most lovely-dovey couple in school now is Linda Cannon and Jack Urig. Now there are two ever-faithful steadies. Isn't it awful, they've never been alone together? Well, who has to be? If you want to see a beaming, smiling gal, just look at Kathleen Woods. Robert sees it that she is as content as she can possibly be. There is nothing like happiness.

This is a personal welcome to all of the new students at Seminole Hill. We're mighty glad to have you here.

We want to hear your opinion of the Teen-Guide. Please put a copy of your opinion or suggestions on this subject in the orange box in the upstairs hall.

If you ever get up to cloud nine, be sure to say hello to Faye Noell and Harold Stone. They're sublimely happy there, aren't they?

Quoted from the student handbook, "Students are not permitted in classrooms before school unless permission has been given by the teacher." "Gum chewing is prohibited in classrooms and auditorium."

Carol Fleming is going steady with Frank Noble. We are all glad to hear this. These are two kids who are well suited for each other. Congratulations. Representing the band is Pele Rans and Tommy Brown. Now there is one cute couple on cloud nine. Radiant beams are shining from them when they are together. Has everyone seen that luscious diamond Kathleen Wood is wearing now? Well, I have. It is lovely. Congratulations, Kathy. That man of yours is a wonderful guy. I know you will be happy.

Until, be good and let me know any "talk" you would like to have printed in the paper. I'll be only too glad to type up your article for you. Bye, bye.

The following masterpieces were written by a Senior boy who's identity we will conceal. "Do things look bad and gruesome? Cheer up, they'll get worse." Signed, the Loser! Very good philosophy!

Tell us gang—what has happened to our fabulous Cavaliers? You guys were sensational. We sure would like to see more of you.

Someone tell us who Duke Schirard likes now. Where are you hiding her, Duke?

Have you heard? Marian Routh and Rlek Erickson aren't going steady anymore. Could Suzanne Waters be the reason for this? Don't worry, Marian, there are lots more men around.

The next time you see Claude Mitchell, ask him to let you see his wonderful back action. That's really a sight to behold. Just watch him.

Is it true that Linda Yeackle is dating Terry Smith now? What happened to that sweet, cute Johnny Barley? He sure is a nice guy, Linda.

Be sure to listen to the Student Club tonight at 7:15 over Station WTRR for a really enjoyable program.

What's this? Rob Reedy has been holding hands with Carolyn Hall in the lunchroom. Finally! Good boy, Rob. I thought you would never find a girl that pleased you.

Shirley Jones and Terry Trosper are going steady. Fast work. That's a pretty ring, Shirley, pretty and big.

Senior Class

Play Cast

"Old Doc" has been chosen for the Senior Class Play to be presented in May. The tryouts for cast parts were held last week.

Dr. John Hillary, "Old Doc", is exactly as stated, an old country doctor, the main character in the play. The part is portrayed by Wayne Johnson.

Dr. Robert Hillary, "Bob", is the son of "Old Doc". Perry St. John was presented the part. Bob is uncertain whether to take over his father's place or go to Boston to be a city doctor.

Pa Brown, played by Bill Bernovsky, is a jolly old man in his seventies. "Uncle Jim" is an old country hoper who is managed by his wife.

Ellen Whilen will act the part of Ma Brown who is a lady in her seventies. She is quiet and matter-of-fact.

Margaret Burns is Bob's fiancée with a gentle tenderness. Carol McNeill represents this character.

Dick Burns is portrayed by Roger King. Dick is very breezy and a little tentative about his love-making.

Janet Martin, played by Sandy Lee, is Old Doc's niece and secretary, and she is Dick's true love.

Mr. Hepple is a small-town lawyer. Roger Jimenez plays this part. "No man can say he has ever been swindled by Hepple."

Dr. Brand with his "matinee idol" voice and charming bedside manner is portrayed by Angelo Campaign. Dr. Brand is from Boston.

Helen Brand is from Boston. Definitely a snob, it is a question whether her eyelashes are a national gift or an addition. Yes, I'm proud to play this character.

Mary Selby is a friend of Doc who is frightened to mousedom by her mother. Jackie Senkarik characterizes this person.

Mrs. Ross is a young patient of Old Doc who has acads of kids but little monies. Helen Adams plays this part.

Judy Clark plays the part of Mrs. Cronin, an Irish woman, whose husband goes on "rare and magnificent" tears."

Mr. Mellon, portrayed by Agnes Stansfield, is a patient of Doc who has nothing to occupy herself with but her nervous ailments.

Lola Warner, which is very patly portrayed by Linda Cannon, is a flirt, but one who has brains.

I know everyone will enjoy this play when it is presented. "Old Doc", I predict, will be a success.

Doubtlessly in next week's edition Mr. Miller will have accused me of usurping or limiting his traditional column, but since patent is still pending of John Millers and copyright has not yet been issued for the Kiddie Korner, I have no legal worries.

Heading the High's headlines this week is Career Day, and that's mostly what I'll be writing about today. I have heard that all the kids—and kiddies—really enjoyed the speeches last Friday. I know I did.

And you'd never believe what some of the students picked as prospective occupations. As John would say, how does Dr. Cindy May, Brain Surgeon, sound? For that matter, John, too, signed up for physicians and surgeons, but he was absent—had to go to a doctor, I think.

Wally Pope looked pretty shocked when Chris Carter, director of "Blitz Fever Follies" and speaker for actors and showmen, told us we had to take a course in ballet to pass drama school. Which reminds me, Mr. Carter was quite outspoken, right Jack? I guess he used to be a critic. Anyway, he said Presley and Mansfield (the actress, not the poet) should both go down the drainage pipe, in more or less words, I'm glad he said something nice about Brando; it would have caused Agnes Stansfield to erupt if he hadn't.

Then, of course, I don't know what Randall Priest took, but a couple of years ago he was interested in being a mortician. It's a likeable profession; no complaints.

They tell me Lane Warner decided upon photography after seeing Miss Sweden on the Bob Cummings Show. Along went Martin Ceresoli, too, but he's not interested in girls—except Ruby, that is. (She's taking up Italian, listening to records like "When the SWALLOWs Come Back to Capistrano".)

I think Pat Donahoe decided to take up interior decorating at the last moment. You're too young for her, Pat.

Being that I am editor of Smoke Signals, which is intended to inform, let me announce that Mr. Ray, our sponsor, wants us to be especially careful with what we say. That means you'll be reading very little about, well, for instance, take the Teen Code—and keep it.

Back to Career Day, I understand that Mr. Don McAllister gave a very humorous talk. I don't doubt it; he's one of the tops at WTRR. Sort of like a TV version of WTRR's Nick Heifaut, another good speaker, I'm told.

Of course, Linda Cannon didn't want to sit up front for the religious education hour. Her excuse to Dr. Root was, "I can't talk up front, Dr. Root." Candid, I must say.

So many girls sat in on home-making that I wonder how in the world a bachelor can exist. Oh, incidentally, I did NOT attend; Sara Lou Thigpen told me about it. She says she's interested in making whoop! Don't look my way, Sara; Robert might get jealous!

I can't imagine Cindy Roumillat as a physicist, can you? After all, she just ISN'T the Einstein type. I met a lot of freshmen for the first time, and now I don't wonder that John Miller doesn't run out of material. Boy, are they a mess! And that reminds me, John does-

Will 'Guide' Be Accepted?

By Delores Bailey

A Teen Guide for Good Living was presented to the students and teachers last Tuesday morning in assembly by Coach Figgott. If the guide is accepted there will be a special article in the paper, notes sent to the parents, and a list of the rules put in the Seminole Handbook next year.

Along with other points, driving laws were emphasized. On Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday nights students are to remain at home unless going to a school activity or Church program. When going out a student must tell his parents where he's going, what he'll be doing, who he's to be with, and when he'll return home. A time will be stated as to when a student must be at home. A parent should meet and know your friends. "You're judged by the company you keep."

When entertaining at home, parents must be present. Smoke only with your parent's approval. Do all studying before anything else. Go to Church regularly. Respect the property of others. Be a gracious loser. And parents, do trust your child. We need trust now.

This is the way I understood the Teen Guide. As a student and teenager who has to obey this code, I hope I understand correctly. In my opinion this guide could and will be effective if enforced and carried out. I know but a few of the other students' opinions, but I'm sure if the Teen Guide is passed and accepted everyone will follow the laws.

Downtown Problems Here Same As Hundreds Of Others In U. S.

Sanford's downtown merchants aren't the only ones worrying about an actual or potential loss of business to outlying shopping centers.

Cities large and small, throughout the nation, are facing the same situation. All are worried. Many are attempting to do something about it, with varying degrees of success.

Downtown merchants in Hollywood, Miami, West Palm Beach, Orlando, Jacksonville, Tampa—all over the state as well as in other states spread over the entire country are feeling the same reaction and are confronting the same problems.

However, the latest efforts along those lines to me tour attention were in the city of Springfield, Oregon — population 18,500.

So important is the battle to hold business in the downtown area that the Wall Street Journal sent a staff reporter three thousand miles across the country to find out what happened in the Oregon city.

Autos were barred from the main shopping center for a ten-day period last fall. Results have been tabulated and included in a 32-page report made public last week.

Some of the results were:

Retail sales in the area were 14 per cent above the corresponding period a year previous.

Five per cent more autos than normal entered the city.

Our System Best In The World

The atmosphere of jovial, back-thumping good will which marked the opening of the new session of Congress is fading. And, as the political warfare warms up, tempers and tongues will sharpen and old divisions will reappear.

But we wonder whether Americans realize how fortunate we are that politicians in this country tend to regard their calling as a rather pleasant profession in which men can hold differing political philosophies and still be good friends. While there are extremists on both sides of the political fence, the majority of Republicans and democrats are not so far apart in their views that political differences lead to permanent bitterness.

For a sharp contrast, we need only look at France, where one new government follows another in seemingly endless procession. There the divisions are so deep, so numerous, and so bitter that an effective government is possible. There is little room

Look Ahead At Top World News

NEWS OUTLOOK
By United Press
United Press Correspondents around the world look ahead at the news that will make the headlines.
—Arab Pressure
Middle East observers think one of the first results of the Egyptian-Syrian merger will be demands from other Middle East countries for greatly increased aid from the United States. Such demands may come from King Saud of Saudi Arabia, King Faisal of Iraq, King Hussein of Jordan and President Camille Chamoun of Lebanon. Each could lose his job if pan-

Arabism spreads. Par Arabism has a powerful appeal to a new class of educated Arabs throughout the Middle East.
It Floats On Oil
Speaking of the Middle East, look for the new chief of Army research and development, T. Gen. Arthur G. Trudeau, to push for stronger and stronger U. S. measures to combat Soviet penetration in that strategic area. As long ago as 1952, he is known to have warned that the biggest single danger to the free world would be the loss of Middle East oil. He feels the U. S. must take the offensive, even if it means austerity never known on the home front.

The Russian Tangle
Free Asian diplomats fear Russia soon will have Ceylon right in the Soviet's hip pocket. Russia has granted Ceylon $10 million for industrial and agricultural projects and is moving in on the propaganda front. Latest move is an agreement to make Russian theatrical talent available to establish a national theater in Colombo. Russian books are being translated into Sinhalese, a five man team of Ceylonese doctors will visit Russia and a Russian football team will visit Ceylon this year.

CANT GIVE YOU ANYTHING BUT LOVE, BABY

Letters To The Editor

The Editor, Sanford Herald, Sanford, Fla.
Dear Editor:
I am wondering how many people of Sanford can visualize what it would be like to live in a community where a maniac was allowed to wander free who loved to place booby traps around where the curious fingers of little children could innocently find and trigger the deadly things. This would be a deplorable situation and many of you think that this could not happen in such a lovely city as Sanford, and may consequently refuse to let your mind be led into thinking of such a revolting thing. If you happen to be one of these you should take a good look around you because there are booby traps in this fair city of ours in large numbers which are pleasingly beautiful, quite innocent looking and every bit as deadly as the explosive booby traps which killed and maimed so many young men in the recent war.
Folks, my purpose in writing to you is to tell you what these dangerous things are, how they work, why they work on the little tots and how we can disarm them and render them harmless.
Not long ago I saw a man riding a bicycle at a reasonable clip down one of our residential streets. All of a sudden a small kid loving boy about 10 years old stepped out from behind a property line hedge row which grew even with the curb. The boy collided with the bicycle and went tumbling. In this case no one was hurt and each went on his way after the exchange of a few words of caution and apology. Later that day the hedge was trimmed back a safe distance from the curb by the property owner who saw the incident.
Another incident happened a week or so before Christmas while I was driving along a street in one of the lovely residential communities. I was moving along at a legal 15-20 mph as another auto passed on my left traveling about 35 mph. As the passing car moved up to about 2 car lengths ahead of me I was almost petrified to see a small 4 or 5 year old boy dart from the driveway where he had been hidden from the oncoming drivers view by a small clump of shrubs. The timing in this case was just a split second in favor of the boy. His momentum carried him well through the left traffic lane and toward the center of the street. Even though I later discussed the situation with both the driver and the boy's father, I still have night terrors about it.
Sanford has been my home for only 6 months but I can honestly say that driving in Sanford is anything but enjoyable for me because each time it becomes necessary for me to drive near a bush or hedge growing close to or over the curb I feel that I am potentially the active ingredients of a very deadly booby trap, and that a small fun loving child may be in the blind spot behind it all ready to innocently trigger this deadly device. Personally, I could never forgive myself if my automobile or my shrubs were to play a part in snuffing out the life of an innocent child.
Recently I checked three different residential areas totaling 100 square blocks and counted 53 of

Herlong Report

Right now, some people are saying that we can't afford to cut taxes because we need all the money possible to finance our defense effort. We do need the revenue, and I expect to vote to provide the necessary money.
But the paradoxical thing about it is that we will come nearer to getting more income by voting a reduction of taxes than we will be continuing the present unrealistic high rates.
You may ask why this is. The answer is that this country is going through a mild recession and federal revenue is dropping off. We are not taking in as much money as the Bureau of the Budget last year estimated we could.
When a merchant finds his gross revenue dropping off, he doesn't raise prices in order to get more money, he has a sale and reduces his prices in order to give more incentive to the buyer. Our economy needs a similar stimulant. We need to do something to encourage expansion and growth.
If we tried to jack up the economy with pump priming or further government spending at present tax rates, that would result in further inflation. Our people who have to live on fixed incomes would be hurt worse than they are now.
As I see it, the only other stimulant we can give to our economy is to reduce taxes.
As you know, I have introduced a bill calling for gradual decrease in income tax rates until we get them down to what I believe would be a more realistic level. A formula is set up for these reductions, and while I am not wedded to the formula, I believe the principle behind the bill is sound.
The House Ways and Means Committee of which I am a member has been holding general tax revision hearings for nearly a month, mainly on my bill. There have been hundreds of witnesses. My legislation has the support of thousands of small business firms in Florida and the nation as a whole.
One economist who testified before my committee said that while we had a recession now, we should not reduce tax rates at this time, but that if the recession continued into a real depression, then the rates should be lowered.

I told him that he sounded like a man who was mildly sick and knew what it took to cure him but would not take the medicine until he became critically ill. I don't agree with that kind of philosophy.
We have had tax reductions before, since I have been in Congress. We were having a recession in 1934 and the Congress voted a cut which amounted to some $4 billion dollars, effective the following year. In 1955, despite the reduction, the revenue showed a gain. So instead of saying we cannot afford a reduction at this time because we need revenue for defense purposes, actually we can't afford not to reduce taxes, if we want to get in the necessary defense dollars.

I don't say that a reduction of taxes now will make people work any harder because I haven't found people quitting jobs just because taxes were too high. However, I know that small businesses have found it completely impossible to expand and grow out of their own earnings, if they have to give virtually all their earnings back to the government. If they keep part of their earnings and expand, the result will be that they actually will be paying in more dollars to the government at a lower rate. Small businesses then could provide more and better jobs—and everyone would enjoy a higher standard of living. Yet the result will not be inflationary because there is nothing in this picture that will cause an increase in the price of consumer goods.

Inside Washington

EVERYBODY HATES TAXES
Last week, Hollywood celebrity Ronald Reagan testified in favor of Congressman Syd Herlong's tax reduction bill before the House Ways and Means Committee. Reagan claimed that because of the high income tax brackets that most Hollywood stars lose their incentive to work. They see no need to work when they can't keep the money they earn, so they make fewer pictures. This is hurting the business, Reagan said, because it puts bit players and extra out of work. This accounts for the upsurge in foreign moving picture production, he said.
According to his testimony, 16 per cent of all pictures are now being made overseas. Hollywood's production is falling off. Herlong's bill would knock down the top 90 per cent income bracket to something like 42 per cent. (That's one worry we don't have.)
WOMEN'S LUNCHEON—Highlight of the social schedule last week was the annual Florida-Georgia-South Carolina Dinner staged by the Woman's National Democratic Club. Senator Spenser Holland, principal speaker, introduced by South Carolina's Congressman W. J. Bryan Dorn. Mrs. Aubrey Haley, wife of Congressman Jim Haley, was program chairman.
This affair worked out for Mrs. Haley better than two recent events. They were the RCA ball and the Florida State Society reception. At the time, Mrs. Haley was very happy, but later, when she went to her clothes closet to wear "those same comfortable shoes" to the Holland dinner, she discovered that for the previous functions she had worn one blue shoe and one black shoe. "I still don't know whether anyone noticed it," she said. "At least if they did, they were too polite to say anything to me about it."
Rotary in Congress—The famous Rotary International "4-way test" of business ethics now rests on the desk of every Congressman and Senator, thanks to J. Arnold Carter, president of the Del Ray Beach Rotary Club. Carter traveled to Washington last week with 531 round glass paper weights which enclose the words of the

What to do! When to do! Where to do! Why to do! These exclaimations are from each and every one of us Floridians today.

Some time back we read Bartram's book written in the seventeenth century. At that time he said snow stayed on the streets of Bartram, or how, he experimented with trees, shrubbery and so forth.

Following pruning new growth is forced out and not enough time elapses to harden and mature wood. This can injure the plant, many times killing it outright.

Most common trees and shrubbery are protected on the outside of their woody parts by bark. The outer parts are dead, crack and drop off as growth comes back.

Bridesmaid's Luncheon Given

Miss Sandra Monforton was honored recently with a bridesmaid's luncheon at the home of Mrs. R. T. Cowan Sr., Summerlin Ave.

The luncheon tables were beautifully overlaid with white linen cloths and centered with arrangements of white chrysanthemums and pink carnations.

Miss Margaret Morrison won the game prize. Others attending were Mrs. E. A. Monforton, Miss Sonja Monforton, Mrs. A. L. Wilson, Mrs. Walter A. Cook, Mrs. Flora Spurling, Miss Harriet Redding, Miss Martha Stemper and Miss Marianne Strickland.

Of course we seem to have to study the habit of each shrub. If our shrubbery is naturally prone to sending up new growth from the base then cut away old wood from the ground line.

As to the wounded edges with a woody tissue covered with bark grows out, coat the edge of the wound, coat bark and wood meet, with shellac.

Any gardener wants more flowers and fruit. Root pruning makes more nourishment. Be sure the root system stands beyond your type of plant.

NEW YORK—In an era where good boxers are few and far between, young Frankie Ryfi stood out today as a brow-beaten tragedy.

Frankie, handsome and well built, is a classic boxer and a sharp puncher. With his ring talents he would be the lightweight champion of the world.

But Frankie, a man with tissue paper skin, is what is known in the boxing world as a "bleeder."

"He'd tear if you hit him with a pillow," granted one member of the fight mob after Ryfi's winning—but facially losing—fight against Tony DeCola. "He ought to do his boxing at the blood bank."

Like Nickel Racket

A marvellous evaluation. But it is Frankie who has won 24 bouts against a mere five defeats. But it is significant that boxing's rock is of the year in 1953 has been to the post only 20 times in an eight-year professional career. The rest of the time the "Hemstitch Kid," who has been sewed up more often than a nickel racket, sits impatiently by while his brows heal.

Boxing was Frankie's road from numbers and he started up it flamboyantly. At the end of 1954 he had won 15 in a row when they put him against Orlando Zulueta. The winner had it "made." Frankie won—but suffered gashes which required 22 stitches, and it was four backsliding months before he could fight again.

The skin they love to touch—and cut—has held him back ever since. Coming back, he won another bout and then was cut up so badly by Ralph Dupas that he was out four months. Frankie returned to win three and then had a brow operation which put him on the sidelines six months. Coming back rusty, he was flattened and chopped up so badly he was inactive another four months.

He's Out Again

The last time he went so far as to have the sharp bones in his brows pared in a painful operation. He waited another four months for that to heal, won two comeback bouts—and Monday night won his third but suffered gashes which required 14 stitches and will sideline him another three or four months.

At 25, he may disgustedly toss in the sponge. Because Frankie knows that the long layoffs constantly keep him from getting to the top and the "big bleeders" never make it.

Over 100 People Feed Continuing Info On Car Race

SEBRING—More than 100 people are pressed into service to feed the continuing information to the press corps at the Florida International grand prix of endurance for sports cars at Sebring. The 12-hour race, to be held Saturday, March 22, climaxes a week of activity in the central Florida resort area.

Preparations for the big event started March 24, the day after the 1957 race. It is the only event in the United States that counts toward the world sports car championship, sanctioned by the Federation Internationale de l'Automobile (FIA) in Paris, France. Drivers from the United States, Europe and South America will compete for $13,000 in cash prizes and the huge Amoco trophy.

To handle the press arrangements, Race Director Alex Ullmann, aircraft import-export industrialist, signed Don O'Reilly as the press relations director.

O'Reilly, who writes the twice-weekly syndicated newspaper column inside Auto Racing, is a veteran newspaperman and motor sports authority.

The Sebring race is one of the most widely covered sports events in the United States, with many foreign publications and news services sending their own staffers here from their overseas bases.

Gators To Meet Alabama, Auburn

GAINESVILLE—That loud roar echoing back and forth around the Southeastern Conference is coming from the Alabama and Auburn campuses as a result of recent basketball victories, and now Florida's Gators must march directly into the den of these lions.

Despite recent wins on their own home court against both Alabama (66 to 52) and Auburn (90 to 69), Florida undoubtedly will draw the underdog role on the basis of court results by both The Crimson Tide and Tigers since that time.

Alabama, Saturday night's Florida opponent in Tuscaloosa, remains very much in contention for the conference title, boasting a 5-2 League Mark, including wins last Saturday and Monday against Georgia Tech, 74-72, and Vanderbilt, 63-60.

Auburn, whom the Gators meet Monday there, shakkled Vandy 77 to 69 on Saturday, walloped Tech on Monday, 99 to 78, and now stands 4-3 in the SEC.

Florida meanwhile is still trying to shake the mid-year doldrums, figured to be the result of a two-weeks layoff to final examinations. The Gators lost to Kentucky, 78-56, last Friday and to Tennessee, 100-91, on Monday.

The old saw which states it's an 11-wind that blows no good was never truer on Monday, however, when starting forward Jerry Henderson was bid ridden with intestinal flu, reserve center, Bobby Sherwood, a six-five sophomore, moved into that position for part of the Tennessee game. He became the night's leading scorer with 21 points and was effective on rebounds, claiming 11.

Guard Joe Hobbs, the nation's leading free thrower with 67 of 75 and a .893 percentage, got only 18 points but remains among the leaders in points with 23.5 average per game.

Center Jim Zinn, tallest man on the Florida squad at six feet seven, moved up to the number two scoring spot on the team with an 18 point performance against the Vols and an 11.6 average for the season.

Guard Charlie Pike, 20 point producer in that high scoring Vol game is right behind Zinn with 11.5 average. Forward Dick Hobbs has 10.6 per game and Henderson 10.7.

The overall Florida record is 11 victories and four defeats, with the SEC mark at three and four.

NASCAR Safety Award Announced Stetson Hatters Have 9-6 Record

Not Enough Votes Polled To Place Player In Hall

By BOB SALMON
United Press Sports Writer

BOSTON—Baseball immortality will have to wait at least another year for some of the game's greatest stars.

The nation's baseball writers announced Tuesday that no former diamond luminary had polled enough votes to join the 88 players already enshrined at Cooperstown, N. Y.

It was the fourth time in the Hall of Fame's 23-year history that no one had polled the necessary three-fourths vote and the first such occurrence since 1950.

Carey Comes Closest

Closest to baseball's greatest honor was former Pittsburgh Pirate and Brooklyn Dodger Max Carey, one of the game's most amazing base-runners and base stealers. But Carey, now 68, only polled 186 votes, 68 shy of the 192 needed this year.

A total of 235 members of the Baseball Writers' Assn. of America voted—an unusually high 80 per cent of the eligible, 10-year members. The results were announced by Hy Hurwitz of the Boston Globe, head of the writers' balloting committee.

Second highest vote-getter this year was heavy-hitting outfielder Ed Roush, who played with the Cincinnati Redlegs and New York Giants in the 20's. Roush received 112 votes. Other great DAYTONA BEACH, The first NASCAR safety award, given for outstanding development in the field of safety design and performance of standard American cars, goes to Buick Motor Division of General Motors Corporation for its development of improved brake drums now in use on most 1958 models.

The new air-cooled aluminum brake drums introduced by Buick on its 1958 models," said France in his announcement, "represent a major step forward in automotive safety development. We put these brakes through as difficult a test as we could devise on the courses here at Daytona Beach, and they were outstanding."

"We drove the cars from a stand-still to 60 mph, slammed on the brakes in a 'panic stop' then drove on again, getting up to 60 miles an hour as quickly as possible so there was no chance of the brakes cooling off. The Buick equipped with the new flamed aluminum drums were able to repeat this tough maneuver 176 times—and still had safe brakes. Three cars of comparable weight of different manufacturers were used in succession in comparative tests. Brakes faded badly and drum temperatures were higher on the other cars at the completion of the test."

The new NASCAR Safety Award, symbolized by a silver trophy, is to be given only on the occasion of a major contribution to safety design and performance of American stock cars, France revealed.

NASCAR is an independent body which sanctions stock car events throughout the country and which provides supervision of tests for automotive manufacturers and allied industries.

The announcement of the award was made today by Bill France, president of the National Association for Stock Car Advancement and Research in Daytona Beach, where NASCAR headquarters are located.

The Stetson Hatters, with a 9-6 record for the season which is good enough to give them first place in the Florida Intercollegiate Basketball Conference have made a resolution for the Spring Semester—to win the remaining eight games on the season's schedule.

"This is a large order," Head Coach Glenn Wilkes admitted, "but if we can get by this week end, we should be well along to making this a reality."

The Hatters meet Jacksonville University in an important conference game in Swisher Gymnasium on the Arlington campus Friday night. JU is third in conference play and has been very tough on their home court. This Wilkes and the Hatters know, but they believe it can be done.

On Saturday the Hatters have a return game with Mercer and will attempt to even out the record for the season with the Bears. Mercer came from behind Saturday night to squeeze out a win over the Hatters in Macon.

Other games this season at home are with Erskine, Miami, Florida Southern and Jacksonville U. Road games after this week are with Rollins and Tampa.

The Jaycees will accompany the varsity to Jacksonville Friday and will play the JU Juniors varsity group. On Saturday, they will meet Florida Southern Freshmen in the Armory before the Mercer game. The Jaycees play Patrick Air Force Base at Patrick Field on Thursday.

Moving up from the Jaycees to the varsity team is John Domepe, Crescent City freshman who has made rapid strides this season.

"We are counting on him as a starter next year," Wilkes said, "and we want him to get varsity experience."

Domepe is 6-8 and weighs 185. He works at forward or center and can get rebounds.

Joining the junior varsity are Russell Kirk, Brooklyn, N. Y., 6-5 forward who was a member of the Jaycees squad last year. Another newcomer, who will not be eligible until he has completed two semesters at Stetson is Jerry Drew of Cincinnati, 5-11 guard and leading scorer for the Xavier Frosh this year. He also was pitcher and second baseman for the National Championship American Legion Baseball team last year.

Editor Says Government Secrecy 'Suffocatingly' Widespread

WASHINGTON (UP) — A prominent editor hit at government secrecy today as "suffocatingly" widespread.

J. Russell Higgins, vice-president and executive editor of The Washington Post and Times-Herald, called for legislation to shield the people's "right to know." He supported a measure requiring government agencies to give out information unless empowered legally to withhold it. The bill would prevent agencies from using the so-called government "housekeeping" law as justification for denying information to the public. Passed by the First Congress in 1789, the law provides for maintenance and use of government documents.

A spokesman for the American Civil Liberties Union, Irving Ferman, in more testimony prepared for the opening of hearings on the bill said it was "almost shocking" that all 10 government departments have opposed the bill. The hearings are being conducted by a House government information subcommittee.

Space flights been Senate Democratic Leader Lyndon B. Johnson said the United States is on the threshold of more "exciting developments" in space. He said there were "practical" plans on drawing boards for reconnaissance satellites, manned satellites and eventually space ships.

Johnson is expected to head a 13-member special Senate Committee on Outer Space to determine whether a civilian or military agency should plan the nation's drive to explore the unknown to the moon and planets.

Sen. Albert Gore (D-Tenn.) said it is "high time" the government takes note of danger signals in the economy and acts to prevent a "serious" depression. He said the nation has the "strength, resources, programs and experience to prevent such a catastrophe."

Tax Cut Urged

At the same time, 20 state chambers of commerce urged Congress to chop income and corporate taxes to lift the economy out of its slump. A spokesman, Clarence D. Laylin of Columbus, Ohio, recommended cutting back the rates 1 to 9 per cent immediately and eventually scaling back the maximum income tax from the present 91 per cent to 60 per cent.

Romance rang through Capitol Hill corridors. Rep. Usher L. Burdick (R-N.D.) said he has two new girls on the string if his plans don't materialize to marry a Chile blonde divorcee who is in her 30s.

Burdick, who is going on 70, said "I'd almost get married to anyone. I've been alone long enough."

Other congressional news:

Speaker Chairman Lewis L. Strauss of the Atomic Energy Commission told the Joint Atomic Energy Committee a National outer space program was a "must." But he declined to say whether his agency should direct the nation's non-military space travel planning.

Defeat: The House completed deliberations on an emergency bill providing $1,600,000,000 in extra funds for missiles and other space-age defense projects.

Both houses also approved a compromise companion measure authorizing expenditure of $540,000,000 of the funds contained in the money bill.

Dulles: Sen. Styles Bridges (R-N.H.) made a rare foreign policy speech defending Secretary of State John Foster Dulles against a

Chairman Needed For Local Jaycee Safety Committee

We are searching for a chairman for the Safety Committee, M. L. Raborn Jr., president of the Sanford-Seminole County Junior Chamber of Commerce, told Jaycee members yesterday at the weekly luncheon meeting.

"As soon as we find a chairman for the committee," Raborn said, "we will be ready to set a date for the first meeting."

The local Jaycees are planning to head up, as a club project, the organization of a safety committee to study traffic and highway problems existing now.

Members of the committee will be chosen from the various civic clubs and other interested organizations of the community.

Interest was aroused among members of the local Jaycee organization when Sgt. Ben Butler of the Sanford Police Department recently spoke to the members and demonstrated some of the police department's equipment. "We really need an effective safety committee," Butler told the Jaycees and "I know of no better organization than the Jaycees to create such a group."

GOP Club Lincoln Day Supper Set Wednesday Night

The DeBary Republican Club's second annual Lincoln Day covered dish supper will take place in the DeBary Civic Building at 6 p. m., Wednesday, Feb. 12.

Members are requested to bring their own place settings and one covered dish per couple, but no desserts.

The Rev. A. C. Summers will give the invocation. The speaker of the evening is Anthony J. Greco, Justice of the Peace from Daytona Beach, the only elected Republican official in Volusia County.

Mrs. George M. Percy is chairman of the affair and Mrs. Adam Muller is in charge of the entertainment program. Albert D. Williams is president of the club and Everett L. Swift is secretary.

Krider Going To D. C. In Behalf Of County

MIAMI (UP) — Dade County Commissioner John Krider said today he is "deadly serious" about his campaign to split Florida in half and make south Florida a 49th state.

And the peppery commissioner says he will call a convention in the near future of officials from 36 south and central Florida counties to work out the details. The new state would include the bulk of the state's wealth and population.

McLeod raised eyebrows recently when he proposed that south Florida "secede" from north Florida because of unfair representation in the Legislature and a tax setup which sends much of the

Freeze To Hit State Tomorrow

MIAMI (UP)— Chilly rains and hail hit Florida today in advance of another freeze expected to sweep over north and central portions of the state Saturday.

The Weather Bureau warned that the northern two-thirds of the peninsula would get below freezing over the weekend and that the cold wave would send the thermometer down to 60 degrees or lower in the tourist populated lower east coast.

"It's just a continuation of the lousy weather we have been having," Chief Forecaster Gordon Dunn said. "There is no relief in sight for some time except for an occasional day or two of nice warm sunshine in between the cold waves."

Male Chorus Will Rehearse Monday At Elk's Club

Sanford's Male Chorus will take part in a regular weekly rehearsal Monday night at 8:09 o'clock in the lodge room of Sanford Lodge No. 1241, 11 P. O. E. It was announced this morning by Harry M. Weir, chorus director.

In the absence of Weir who is flying to Chicago Sunday to attend a meeting of hospital administrators, J. Martin Stinephor will conduct the rehearsal Weir said.

Wave Of Vandalism Sweeping County

A wave of breaking and entering, stealing and vandalism is sweeping Seminole County, Sheriff J. L. Hobby revealed this morning.

Seven cases were reported this morning and have either been solved or under investigation, he said. "It's really getting bad," the Sheriff said.

In Lake Mary last night, the Sheriff said the barber-shop was broken into. However, the only thing missing was two one dollar bills which had been posted on the wall.

Apparently the same culprits attempted to break into Spaldon's Grocery Store but were unsuccessful, he said.

In Chuluota, the grocery store next to the Post Office was broken into and an undetermined amount of money and goods taken.

Rotarians To See Film Monday

In conjunction with the observance of the 33rd anniversary of Rotary International which occurs during the month of February, the Sanford Rotary Club will witness the showing of the film "The Great Adventure" starting Edward Arnold with a large cast of capable actors and actresses interpreting the various roles, at their regular weekly meeting scheduled for Monday noon at the Yacht Club.

Arrangements for the showing of the "Golden Anniversary Film" were made through the office of District Governor J. R. (Jim) Keith by Charlie Morrison, well-known local Rotarian and "good will ambassador." Club president Myron A. (Mike) Rock will preside and call attention to the Club Assembly to be held at his home Thursday night, starting at 7:30 o'clock.

Pioneer Night Slated Feb. 22

The 33rd Annual Pioneer Night will be held on Feb. 22 at 7:30 p. m. Frank Evans, Lake Mary pioneer, announced late yesterday afternoon.

"We're expecting a bigger crowd than ever before," Evans said as he made public the date of the forthcoming event. "I've been getting letters every day asking me when this year's Pioneer Night would be held," he revealed.

The Pioneer Night event is especially for the "old folks" and there will be many prizes awarded and every person registering for Pioneer Night will receive a badge, said Evans, that will entitle them to attend a free movie at the Rita Theatre.

"This year we're looking for old folks to come from every direction to enjoy an evening of entertainment," said Evans. "We've got the young ladies and men of the Seminole High School Glee Club coming out to entertain us,"

Stassen's Future Discussed

WASHINGTON (UP)— President Eisenhower meets with Harold E. Stassen today with reports persisting the presidential disarmament advisor is about to quit to enter Pennsylvania's race for governor.

But Stassen, when asked in advance of the conference if he already had submitted his resignation, replied:

"No, I haven't."

However, Stassen declined to comment whether he might resign at the meeting with the President or whether this was the subject the two would confer about.

President Eisenhower indicated it was. He told a news conference Wednesday the meeting would be "to see exactly what we believe should be done" about Stassen's future.

At Odds With Dulles

Of late Stassen has been reported at odds with Secretary of State John Foster Dulles on the U. S. approach to the disarmament problem with Russia. Some of the conflict between the two has spilled out in the open.

The now 50-year-old former "boy wonder" governor of Minnesota also antagonized a number of high administration officials in his abortive campaign to "dump" Vice President Richard M. Nixon in the 1956 election.

Stassen has been making overtures to Pennsylvania's Republicans for some time. He has until March 17 to file, but if he decided to run for governor, blessings already have been conferred by the President.

Any resignation from his disarmament post presumably would be disclosed in an exchange of letters between Stassen and his President.

Education Stumbling Block Of Electronics

The executive vice president of a Seminole County electronics firm appealed to the local Jaycee organization yesterday to help solve the problem of properly educating children today for scientific futures.

"The only hope we have is to talk with people like you," Ralph Weber, executive vice president of Johnson Electronics, Inc. in Casselberry, said.

Speaking on the future of electronic firms, he said "The biggest stumbling block is education."

"We are going to have to find a way to support the children in our schools other than with the limited aid being furnished — and we haven't got a lot of time left," he said.

Weber said "I don't know the answer — our only hope is through people like you."

Weber, accompanied by the Chief Engineer of Johnson Electronics, John Barrett, was guest of the Sanford-Seminole County Junior Chamber of Commerce.

Speaking on the firm itself, Weber gave a thumbnail sketch of the Johnson Electronic's operation. "We make something people can use," he said as he gave a brief history of the firm and described the apparatus used for

Jaycee Info Booth Groundbreaking Set

Groundbreaking for the new Jaycee Information Booth, to be located on park property provided by the City of Sanford, will be held on Tuesday, Feb. 19 at 4 p. m. Art Harris, chairman of the Information Booth Building Committee revealed yesterday.

Harris told Jaycees, at their noon luncheon meeting, that much work is yet to be done before construction of the building gets underway.

"We will need Jaycees to help us dig the foundation and do some of the preliminary work," he said.

Members of the committee are tackling the problems of securing material for the start of construction, Harris said yesterday as he explained how the building will get underway.

Plans for the proposed building were completed by John Burton IV, Sanford architect "and we are now ready to start the building program," M. L. Raborn Jr., president of the Jaycees said.

"We're going to need a lot of help," he explained, and called on the membership of the organization to turn out and volunteer their services.

"Details of the groundbreaking ceremony will be released at the next meeting," Harris told Jaycee members yesterday. "We hope that every member of the Jaycees will pitch in and help make our building program a huge success," he added.

The Board of Sanford City Commissioners okayed the proposed building plans at a meeting last in December.

The Sanford park, in which the building is to be located, is between 4th and 5th Streets on the East side of French Ave. It is the property where a trailer park was ordered vacated a number of months ago.

Jaycees say that the park area will be improved so that it can be used as a picnic and parking area for tourists and visitors. Buildings now on the property are to be removed before the Jaycee Information Booth building program gets underway.
